WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Brigadier General Fires, chief of the army chemical warfare service, said in his annual report today that the chemical branch of the service should be developed to a point "where it would be impossible for any nation to go further." It would do much toward deterring other nations from forcing hostilities against the United States, he said.

Older Days in Florida

REMINISCENCES OF YEARS AGO IN OLD ORANGE COUNTY

C. E. Howard, a well known newspaper man of Orlando and the state of Florida, is writing a series of letters of the early days in Florida for the Orlando Reporter-Star. The following letter will be of interest to the older citizens of Volusia county:

Among the earliest records to be found of the first settlers of Orange county, when the county embraced what is now known as Ocoola, Lake and Seminole, and was thus a state within itself, there appears the name of Captain Aaron Jernigan. In the year 1843 this rough and ready pathfinder started from a point north of St. Marys, Fla., and with his family traveled in a small boat up the St. Johns river to Mellonville, near the present site of the city of Sanford, taking four days and nights in what he considered rather rapid transit to make the trip.

The party was "loaded for bear" in grim reality, as well as Redskins and other "varmints," for in those days it required courage and fortitude to dare to penetrate the almost uncharted wilderness of South Florida, especially along the densely wooded banks of the St. Johns river, behind which lurked all sorts of dangers. Men might dare to make such a trip but women, at that time considered "the weaker vessel," and children scarcely dared to dream of so dreadful a trip.

Besides the river and its many lagoons teeming with monster alligators, which were actually seen swimming just beneath the surface, sticking their breathing apparatus and film covered eyes just above the water, their dreadful jaws sometimes reaching up threateningly, there was known to be bear, panthers, wildcats and supposed to be dangerous lizards, snakes and indescribable monsters every foot of the way.

Of course it was not known in those days that many of the supposed (Continued on page 3)

DADE COUNTY MOB HANGS NEGRO WHO ATTEMPTED ASSAULT ON A WOMAN

MIAMI, Nov. 30.—J. B. Harris, a negro, was lynched by a mob of white men near Princeton, twenty-five miles south of Miami yesterday afternoon, after being identified by the white woman he attacked during the forenoon.

Harris admitted he entered the woman's house to attack her. The woman had lain down to sleep and was awakened by Harris at 10:30 a. m. Although knowing her husband absent, she called to him to come quick and bring his gun.

Harris ran from the house, mounted his bicycle, and fled. The mob found Harris at a sawmill near Naranja, and at once took him to the woman's residence. She identified him positively as her assailant.

The mob then quietly led Harris to a thicket a quarter of a mile off, placed a rope around his neck and strung him up. No shots were fired and Harris was not tortured. Soon afterward the mob dispersed.

Many Sales Being Inaugurated Now

WATCH THE PAPER

AND DON'T SEND YOUR MONEY OUT OF THE CITY FOR ANYTHING.

Sanford is the trading center for this part of Florida and the live merchants here are putting on some big sales this week and next week that will startle the buyers of this and adjoining counties. Sanford being the logical trading center is also the logical city for this influx of buyers for they get good treatment here and are made to feel at home all the time. The merchants here recognizing this fact are making strong bids for the people to come here from this time forward and long before Christmas are putting on these big sales to induce the new people to come here where their dollars will go the farthest. Sanford is gaining a great name among the people of adjoining counties and they are making the trip here for a radius of fifty miles to take advantage of these big sales. Almost every store in Sanford is putting on record breaking sales just now and a perusal of the Daily and Weekly Herald will convince the buyers that these are real sales and that the best of the seasonable goods are going at unheard of prices. Now is the time to move the goods and now is the time for the people to come here and get the guaranteed brands of merchandise at very reasonable prices.

Sanford is attracting the people and they are being treated square when they come here and with the prices and the goods and the real treatment they are coming here all the time.

The city is filled with people all during the day and it is a great surprise to many to see so many people coming from the neighboring cities and they are surprised when they get here to see so many real bargains.

You are saving money by shopping these days through the Daily Herald.

OPPOSE SPLITTING UP MEAT TRUST—IT CAN BE HANDLED BETTER AS IS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Opposition to any plan for divorcing the big five meat packers from their stockyard properties by court decree, as tending to interfere with enactment of the controlling legislation, was expressed in a joint statement issued here today by Chas. A. Lyman, secretary of the National Board of Farm Organizations; Mrs. Florence Kelley, secretary of the National Consumers' League, and Mrs. Maud Wood Park, president of the National League of Women Voters. The statement, also signed by representatives of the Farmers' National Council and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, declared the modified plan for divorcement of their stockyard interests submitted to the District of Columbia supreme court by the Armour and the Swift companies, would, if carried out, "only complicate the situation," and make more difficult the enactment of controlling legislation.

"Control of the meat packing industry must be exercised as a whole," the statement said, adding that "congress could and should" promptly enact legislation to that end when it convenes next week.

Carnival Opens In This City

Notwithstanding the heavy downpour of rain Saturday afternoon, the workmen and employees of the World Famous Shows which are exhibiting on the "13" Club Park Grounds until Saturday, December 4th, worked without interruption thru the continuous drizzle until each big tent and the riding devices were assembled and at seven o'clock everything was in readiness.

Great crowds attended the opening, which was indeed a surprise to the management, as under ordinary circumstances a steady downpour of rain leaves an evening's business with but a small attendance.

On entering the midway the first thing brought to our notice is the booth of the "hot dog" man, with fried onions sizzling in the pan, which seemed very appetizing, and we witnessed some of our prominent youngsters partaking of a short lunch—and as we strolled along by the various booths of various descriptions the candy lady reminded us that Sunday was coming. Next we see the kiddies joy, a mammoth merry-go-round, with its hundreds of brilliant lights, and its ruby-studded horses, with its smiling youngsters having the time of their lives. This machine, the management states, cost $10,000. To the right you will see the grown-up folks delight, the big Ferris wheel and from appearances and the line in waiting, the writer imagines it must be a delightful ride.

Walking along we were ushered into the show zone, where many attractions were striving to outpoint each other with their leather-tongued talkers. At the old-fashioned plantation show and Dixie Minstrels, quite a show in front, with its colored comedians and dancers accompanied by jazz musicians. The young man addressing his audience with his hi, hi, brings forth many laughs.

Following this attraction great excitement seems to prevail, Young Aborg a veteran and A. E. F. instructor, has just received a challenge from a local boy, whose name we could not just make out, but seemed to be very popular, accepting a challenge to wrestle at one dollar per minute. Sanford surely comes back to its own, no challenge too big for our sons.

On the other side of the midway we have the monkey man, known as Tarzan of the Apes, and from the strange looking expressions on the faces of the people as they stand there gazing at the so-called monkey man we imagine he must be a freak indeed.

Next we behold Dean's "Temple of Mystery." Two young men dressed in evening clothes and an Indian fire eater blowing fire to attract spectators attention, rhymes very well with an attraction of this kind.

Conjuring, magic and illusions seem to comprise this attraction, finishing their performance with "Azra" the lady that floats in mid-air—a pleasant attraction for both children and grown ups.

Birdland and circus side show seems to be very popular, with its educated cockatoos, parrots, pheasants and other birds of different species. This show features the 6 1-2 year old wonder, Samuel Harrison, the boy with the brains of Solomon. This is undoubtedly a wonderful feature, to hear him rattle off questions propounded by him makes one store in amazement.

Figures in billions, ancient history, biblical and otherwise. Chemistry, physics, all are alike to him. His pronunciation is perfect and his knowledge seems to be unlimited. In conjunction with this feature attraction, the writer truly acclaims this one well worth seeing.

NEED OF AUTO CAMPS OF THE RIGHT KIND IS APPARENT TO OFFICIALS

the gateway into South Florida and Orlando should keep the people and their money here. Is it not good business to plan for the future? Ask your manufacturer, your merchant or your banker. He will tell you yes in no uncertain tones.

Now as to the manner in raising the amount needed. Not a step should be taken or an effort made until positive system is arrived at. This hit or miss solicitation is the wrong way. Why not tabulate every business man in Orlando in the order, in which he would profit most from a free camp site.

Who gets the money? The grocery stores, the meat shops, the garages, the dry goods stores, the general merchants, the shoe stores, the restaurants, cafes and cafeterias, the theatres, the newspapers, the real estate dealers, the doctors, the lawyers, the bankers. In fact every business or professional man whether a dentist or a fruit vender shares in the money spent by Orlando people and in proportionate degree they will share in the money spent by campers whether it is $10,000 or $100,000.

It is nonsense to say that campers are all "cheap skates." Every city has a few cheap skates and if a city has why hasn't a camping city? We have interviewed some of the men who are camping at the Fair Grounds. They have money. They are spending it here and there thru-out Orlando. They enjoy the camping life because it is a true democracy if there ever was one, and the lure of a free life is appealing with a certain and unmistakable romance about it. You ask them why they don't buy a home here, or build one. They could do it if they wished, many of them, yet you can't bull a camper into doing just what you demand. They say they will buy a home or build one if they like the town or city and the people. In appraising an individual or a class remember: "Judge not lest ye be judged."

Another argument for a good camp site is that Orlando signs pointed the way to Florida and a motorist has the right to expect that when he reaches a city capable of conducting a nation-wide highway posting campaign that it is able to afford a camp site.

Answering the question propounded in the early portion of this editorial we do not believe that Orlando will allow campers to live in filth, that they will not bar them, that the Chamber of Commerce will see this through, that the business men will co-operate with the committee. As to the present Chamber of Commerce camp site committee it has given evidence that it is energetic, but no committee can direct any kind of a campaign without help. As to the amount of money necessary to secure a tract of land, clean and equip it in keeping with the City Beautiful would depend upon the question of lease or ownership.

Something must be accomplished immediately. Orlando, the most prosperous and beautiful city in Florida, can not afford to suffer longer from the stories which have been carried broadcast throughout the state over the unsightly appearance of the Lake Ivanhoe spectacle, can not afford to be outranked by rival cities fighting for supremacy and above all else can not afford to shoot so much hot air about various questions, continually bring up matters of vital importance, discuss them with millions of words, shell them with orator yand bombast, and then "like a joyless eye that finds no object worth its constancy," roll over and let the God of Morpheus fan the fevered brow of perpetual slumber.

The women are not ready for jury duty, Mr. Sheriff. It may be legal to summon them but not exactly right, don't you know?

Despatches say that a quick change has been made in the government of the state of Tobacco, Mexico. We suppose it was also a hot one.

The wise merchants are having sales and advertising and making the goods move while the moving is good. And they are also using the Daily Herald.

We believe the majority of the thinking men of this community are agreed that the auto camp on Sanford Heights should be moved and also that there should be a camp on the lake front with all the modern improvements. Get to it.

A lady recently told us that the Daily Herald was the best daily she had seen in the South for the size of the town and that she wanted it every day sure. Well, we are certainly trying to make it a real paper and our greatest trouble is in getting it to the city subscribers. Everybody wants it.

Osceola county went Republican so far as the national electoral college candidate is concerned. Now we will hear this cited as another proof that the "Solid South has been broken."

And that is Congressman Sears' home county, too.

There are all kinds of people in this world and they want all kinds of amusements. Not all of them want pictures and not all of them want carnivals and not all of them want chautauquas—therefore it behooves this city to get them all kinds in order that they will not be compelled to go elsewhere for any kind of amusement.

HARRY BROWN BUYS LAKE-LAND TELEGRAM.

Among the surprises of the Florida press gang is the announcement that Harry L. Brown, editor of the St. Augustine Record, had purchased the Lakeland Telegram. Mr. Brown is one of the foremost and one of the best newspaper men in the state and his advent into the social and business life of Lakeland will be a big boost for that community. The Lakeland Telegram announces the change as follows:

"Mr. M. F. Hetherington announces the sale of the Lakeland Evening Telegram to Mr. Harry L. Brown, of St. Augustine. The sale is sweeping, including everything connected with the business except the Evening Telegram building and the accounts of the business to December 1st. Mr. Brown goes back to St. Augustine today to close up his affairs there, and will arrive here the first of next week to become a permanent citizen of Lakeland and to take charge of his property.

"Mr. M. F. Hetherington will retire from newspaper work but will continue his residence in Lakeland where he has property and other interests.

tain his connection with the business management of the paper.

"Mr. Harry L. Brown has been for the past sixteen years editor of the St. Augustine Record, and general manager of the great plant of the Record Printing Company. He will bring to his new field ripe experience, demonstrated ability, the prime of virility, and a forceful and magnetic personality. He is enthusiastic over the future of Lakeland and this section, and comes, full of energy and enthusiasm, to be a booster and a builder. He is a man who would be a magnificent asset to any community, and we feel that we have done this city a great benefit in bringing him here. We are proud to present him to the people of this section as our successor, believing that the connection will be of very great advantage both to him and to them."

WORK AND THE BOY

"How a Boy of Eleven May Earn Money," is the title of an article recently appearing in a newspaper and the story goes on to explain just how a boy may add to the family income by utilizing his every spare moment outside of school hours. A number of plans are mapped out by which the boy of eleven may earn something to help pay for his upkeep, as it were.

While there may be isolated cases in which a boy so young may be compelled to help his parents in the expense of his education, surely they are not so very numerous. If it is necessary, it is regrettable. If a boy of eleven wishes to earn a little spending money occasionally, he might be able to do so without injury to himself for the very simple reason that a small boy will not of his own volition do enough work to injure himself, and to him money is a small consideration. A boy of eleven does sufficient work when he attends school, and possibly performs little duties about the home, that will be of assistance to his mother, and which will also be sufficient to teach him that there is work to be done in the world, and that he in time must do his share. But aside from this, the boy surely should not be required to work unless it is absolutely necessary. For the boy of eleven, any year younger and several years older, there should be much play, and little work. The sunshine is never so bright, the sky never so blue, the woods and streams never so wonderful in after life as they are in early youth. The need for the physical exercise which romping and playing gives is never so great. The boy should be encouraged in his love of sports and games. An interest in these things will keep him out of mischief in his early boyhood and later. If he lives in the country or a small town, where the vast majority of people live, he will find unending joy in the haunts which he can easily reach where he may study nature at her best. If he is so unfortunate as to live where he can not have these things, there are still many means by which he can indulge in games and thus fill up his measure of spare time pleasantly and profitably. The small boy, and the small girl, as well, should not be tied down to hard labor. Theirs is the time of golden dreams, of perfect earth. The present, as well as the future, lies before their eyes, and they see nothing but happiness in all of it. They will awaken to the stern reality, of toil and dullness, disappointment and struggle, soon enough. Surely in this wonderful country with all its opportunities and its wealth, we should not have to outline plans by which our children shall be compelled to earn their daily bread.

Did Whiskey Cause Death Of Shepard?

MACON, Ga., Nov. 30.—Officials of the Solicitor General's office, while yesterday morning admitting that they are investigating charges that Frederick Crandall, nephew of Fred D. Shepard, was poisoned by drinking whiskey found in the automobile in which Shepard was brought to the local hospital where he died last June, declining to discuss this or any other phase of the case for the present.

Young Crandall, in a statement made public here yesterday, said "he felt peculiar" immediately after drinking whiskey in the bottle which Shepard brought here and that he was ill five days after.

He said he did not know where the liquor came from or who put it into the car.

Solicitor Garrett said he did not care to discuss the statement.

No further arrests have been made this morning in the unsolved death mystery of Fred Shepard, millionaire peach grower. Mrs. F. E. Elmer, wife of a Jacksonville physician, and former wife of the late peach king; Mrs. Ione Henry, a sister of Mrs. Elmer, and Ernest Hopson, Mrs. Elmer's son by a former marriage, were under arrest, the former being in jail here and the latter two under detention at Perry.

Attorney Charles W. Durrance, of Jacksonville, counsel for Mrs. Elmer, at a conference yesterday with Solicitor General Charles R. Garrett, explained, it was announced today by the commissioner, "some of the features pertaining to the property interests," involved in the case, and gave other information which is expected to have some bearing in ascertaining the truth in the case.

The truth "is all we are trying to get," Mr. Garrett stated. "The state is not trying to persecute anyone." Developments today were expected to bring out the fixing of a date for preliminary hearing of the defendants. At a late hour last night no attempt had been made to obtain bail for them.

SEE FINISH WINTER LEAGUE

Winter baseball in Florida is reeling around on its last legs, from the "technical knockout" received at the hands of the fans who have not rallied to its support.

Dr. J. L. Moorfield, St. Petersburg's high mogul, and one of the foremost figures in the movement, announced Friday that he had about learned his lesson, and was willing to surrender his park, and contracts, lock, stock and barrel to anyone who would take the burden off his hands. It is understood that a round dozen of St. Petersburg business men have undertaken to make a go of the venture but the prospect is muddy.

Bobby LaMotte and his "Orphans"—so called since Tampa disowned them—played a good consistent brand of ball at Sarasota Friday, losing to the Sarasota outfit by a 5 to 2 count. LaMotte bowled for the Orphans, but had difficulty with Sarasota bats in the sixth and seventh frames, finishing by allowing the locals 12 hits to account for five runs. Carter, for Tampa, did the prodigal son act in the fifth, his home run scoring a runner ahead of him. But the two runs finished Tampa's scoring.

LaMotte will lead his forlorn hopes to St. Petersburg for a four game series starting Monday. Later if Palmetto decides in favor of a ball club they will carry that city's colors into the fray against the Saints on December 8.

Even the most hopeful of cold weather fans do not dare to predict the survival of the league through the month of December. "Off the diamond by Christmas seems as safe a bet as one would want."—Tampa Times.

DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT AT VALDEZ HOTEL

The "13" Club will have their regular dance at the Valdez Hotel next Friday night. Bushnell's famous orchestra from DeLand will furnish the music and the affair will be an informal one to which everyone is invited. The floor is good, the music is excellent and there is nothing more to be desired. The proceeds of these dances go to the building of a fine structure on the lake front for the Rod and Gun Club. Enjoy an evening and help your city at the same time. Get your tickets from the man who will pass among you.

Older Days in Florida

(Continued from page one) monsters were miniature in size and that many really did not exist, but they were real to them, nevertheless. But there loomed up a danger much greater than any of these, of which the first settlers thought they had good reason to be afraid, and indeed they had, in the Seminole Indians, who still roamed the woods and sometimes gave considerable trouble.

There was a certain fascination, however, in the stores of game worth the hunting, countless birds, quail, wild turkey, deer and sometimes bear, which were true stories, every one of them, as the hunter knows extend down to this very day in some sections of the state.

As late as 1840 the Seminole Indians were molesting and sometimes killing the settlers and at that time for an entire year the Jernigan family barricaded themselves behind the strong fence of the fort, fearing attack.

Considerable corn and other crops were grown, as the farmer was used to in the upper states, and at night he would steal out and secure a supply for the family, while late in the afternoon, before the sun would set, the men would stalk out behind the trees hunting turkey, quail, etc., to replenish the family larder.

While on these trips sometimes Indians would appear and take a shot at them and on one occasion Jernigan, who was armed with a single-barrel gun, was attacked by several Indians and, disposing of his one shot, he ran for cover, to save his life.

The Indians were at once pursued by the entire posse and no stop was made until the savages were lost in the fastnesses of Shingle Creek, just about where now Kissimmee stands. Jernigan and sons attempting to return home found they had lost their way and finally reached home by following the stars as a guide.

They were very hungry, for in the pursuit they had nothing to eat and now it was night. Of course, there were any number of guava bushes loaded with fruit and several places they saw tomato vines clinging even to the very tree tops and little red and yellow tomatoes hanging from the vines, but the fruit of both was considered poisonous and not fit to eat, what a lot they had to learn, to be sure, both now among the very finest of Florida summer fruits.

During those days court was held at Enterprise, now in Volusia county, and any business of that kind required the family to travel down to the St. Johns river and across it, just as in later years the people of the river country had to travel to Orlando in the opposite direction.

Cattle seem to have been the chief money crop at that early date. Jernigan had soon running over the range from six to seven hundred Florida cattle, sometimes selling as much as two thousand dollars worth at a time.

The family had plenty of home butter and cheese, grew sufficient corn for bread and cakes and an abundance of sugar cane for "sweetening." These and sweet potatoes, with plenty of game and fish, made up the staple articles of daily living.

"The Hunters' paradise" and "The fisherman's joy"—work when one pleased and just live—that was all there was to it.

Many a man indulges in just such dreams in this day, and if he looks around he can find something akin to it right now, since the birds are still here, the deer may be found in season, and even bear may be had, though not as plentiful as in the days of yore.

The lawless days are past and gone now; must hunt according to law and in some instances fish by law, but this is merely to preserve the game for the next generation, for man is a destructive creature; many of the old-time hunting and fishing places will know it no more, likewise the stately long-leaved pines and the magnificent cedars and other noble trees of the native forest have been destroyed with ruthless hand, though it is true oaks and orange groves have taken their place in many instances.

The Indian grandchildren and great-grandchildren of those that remained after the dispersing of the tribe westward, are still living around the edges of the Everglades, a simple, harmless folk, now under the federal oversight of our friend, Commissioner A. L. Spencer, formerly of Orlando, and occasionally, as in the case of a venturesome deer, one of them will wander near to the habitat of the "pale face" and mayhap he will even stop to look it over and grunt, whether with satisfaction or disgust—who knows?

DeSoto County: Cucumbers, beans and citrus fruits are being shipped in large amounts from this county. All kinds of vegetables can be found on the local markets.

PICNIC AT WEKIVA SPRINGS.

On Thanksgiving day Wekiva Springs was the scene of a most enjoyable family gathering of the Welch, Sheperd, Berry families. This picnic was enjoyed by about forty of the relatives. A bountiful dinner was served in the pavilion. The table, which was filled with good things to eat was very attractive with a display of fruit on a background of moss. Some of the ladies amused themselves boating on the river while the men went hunting.

FLAG DAY.

One of the photographs above shows the American ensign flown above the German battle flag on one of the submarines delivered to us by that government.

Since the day when Betsy Ross, one hundred and forty-four years ago, sewed upon a flag symbolic of our union, the United States Navy with its ships and its men, has always upheld the best traditions of our flag.

The call of the Flag all down thru our history has been answered by the even tread of our manhood, coming from the work-bench, the field and the desk.

determined men who were the first tap of the mighty hammer which was to sound the doom of the hope of Germany for world domination.

"Colors," at sea, on board our warships, is an impressive ceremony. At sunrise the flag is hoisted and at sunset it is lowered while the crews of the various ships stand at attention and salute until it is finally folded carefully and put away for the night.

FRIDAY NIGHT DANCE.

The "13" Club will hold their monthly dance at the Valdez Hotel next Friday night. Bushnell's orchestra will furnish the music and the floor is fine and everyone is assured of a good time for the "13" Club does nothing by halves.

HOGS PAY BIG MONEY

Mr. Pete Wing of Hawk Point, Mo., made a lot of money out of his hogs. He says: "I fed them Dr. LeGear's Hog Prescription. It has given wonderful results in putting gains on them with less feed."

Mr. Wing profited by the advice of Dr. LeGear, Graduate Veterinarian and Expert Poultry Breeder of 28 years' standing.

Dr. LeGear's Hog Prescription will put weight on your hogs also, because it expels worms, purifies the blood and conditions them so that they gain flesh on less feed.

It makes no difference what ailment is prevalent among your stock or poultry, it is money in your pocket to get the proper Dr. LeGear Remedy from your dealer, on a satisfaction or money back offer.

At last! Mars has spoken!

YOUNG HIRAM Jinks. HAD TRIED for weeks. TO TALK to Mars. BY WIRELESS. HE'D POUNDED his key. CALLING "MARS. Hello, Mars." UNTIL HIS right biceps. WAS THE village pride. HE HARDLY dared to sleep. LEST HE miss the call. AND SAY! One evening. HE GOT an answering buzz. "YEP, THIS is Mars." AND HIRAM shook all over. AND STUTTERED back in Morse. "HAVE YOU any word. FOR US on Earth?" QUICK CAME the answer. "YOU CAN tell the world. THEY SATISFY!" Then silence. HIRAM RAN to the corner store. AND SHOUTED in triumph. "A MESSAGE from Mars! YOU CAN tell the world. THEY SATISFY." BUT THE village elders. MERELY SNORTED "Shucks. KNOWN THAT for years." WHILE OUT in the army camp. THE RADIO man. WHO'D BEEN kidding Hiram. THREW AWAY his butt. AND LAUGHED himself to sleep.

B-U-Z-Z-Z. Listen to this one! Chesterfields "satisfy," and yet they're mild. With body enough to "satisfy" even a cigar smoker, Chesterfields are mild enough to suit even the most finicky cigarette smoker. That's some combination!—and this unique blend can't be copied.

The attendance at the Suwannee County Fair was a record breaker. The big free barbecue was a drawing card and the fact that a circus was scheduled for a day, helped to swell the attendance at the fair. Fully three thousand persons were guests at the fair association at the noon hour.

ODD FELLOWS ENTERTAINED LAST NIGHT

SANFORD LODGE GAVE FINE PROGRAM OF MUSIC AND SERVED REFRESHMENTS

Sanford Lodge No. 27, I. O. O. F., has gained a wide reputation for doing big things and last night when the members and their friends were invited to an entertainment in the Masonic Hall everyone knew that with the refreshment committee composed of Messrs. Walthall, Dossey, Clause and George Huff there would be something to eat and under the able management of Homer Clause there would be a fine program of music and entertainment and they were not disappointed.

Al Witherington and his sister, Mrs. Berry, furnished the orchestra music and after several fine numbers Dr. George Hyman gave a most interesting talk on the duties and the beauties of Odd Fellowship and fraternalism and was followed by a violin solo by Miss Ruby Roy that was greatly enjoyed. Messrs. Clause and Robinson surprised the audience by putting on a dialogue that was a whole show by itself, Robinson being in black face and they brought down the house. Homer Clause rendered several fine solos in truly artistic manner and his voice was never better.

Dainty little Mary Nixon gave a reading in her usual able manner and this little lady is one of Sanford's future celebrities in the electionary field and her reading was greatly enjoyed. The accordion numbers by August Krusee were the surprise of the evening and Mr. Krusee demonstrated that there is more music in the accordion than most people think. The duett by Mrs. Frances Woodruff and Miss Gussie Frank, accompanied by Miss Thelma Hupp, was enjoyed by the music lovers most of all for these ladies have most excellent voices and their numbers are always very popular.

After the entertainment delicious sandwiches and coffee were served and oranges for desert rounded out a most perfect evening and the Sanford lodge has been importuned to try this entertainment affair at least once each month during the winter season. Aside from the home members there were many visiting Odd Fellows present and Sanford was boosted some more by the fraternal spirit that permeated the entertainment and Odd Fellowship gained another point.

A GOOD CIRCUS COMING.

Rhoda Royal's Circus Billed for Sanford.

The advent of the Rhoda Royal's greatest shows on December 10th, will, it is said, mark an epoch in the matter of tented amusements in Sanford. That this show will present the biggest and finest street pageant Sanford has yet witnessed, is asserted without qualification. That the circus company numbers more circus performers and of a better order of merit than have heretofore been gathered together under any one management, is also stated positively. Thousands of dollars cash were expended last winter in accumulating new features to add to the glories of the "Rhoda Royal Greatest Shows."

The menagerie is said to be a very complete one, containing the finest collection of rare wild beasts ever on the coast. The newspapers all along the line speak highly of this huge entertainment, and the "small boy," as well as those older folks who will be delighted again with the feats of the many male and female performers, the handsome horses, the wonderful exhibition of wild beasts in the circular steel cage, the marvelous aerial acts, and the exciting races on the hippodrome track. Exchanges are all unanimous in praising the courtesy of Royal's employes while handling the immense crowds and finding seats for late comers.

The lack of "surething" men and fakery also adds materially to the enjoyment of the spectator.

The reputation of Rhoda Royal for faithfully carrying out all his advance promises and for dealing fairly with the public in all things, affords positive assurance that his show will eclipse anything of a like nature seen here before.

The paving of the National Highway between Crystal Springs and Knights is rapidly nearing completion much to the joy of the traveling public. The pavement is now laid to within a mile of the Pasco-Hillsborough county line.
