Bolivia Government Set

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI)- The Bolivian armed forces and congress ended the bloody 2-week-old military rule of Col. Alberto Natusch Busch and agreed to name a new government today.

Natusch, 52, who ousted the civilian government of interim President Walter Guevara Arze in a military coup Nov. 1, was secluded in the Quemado presidential palace and there was no indication of his reaction. A new government is expected to be announced at a news conference this afternoon. The abrupt end of Natusch's regime came after four days of exhaustive secret negotiations among congressional leaders, the armed forces and representatives of the powerful Bolivian Central Workers Union.

Lake Mary Council: Light District Out

Herald Staff Writer

The majority of Lake Mary city councilmen turned thumbs down on a proposal Thursday night to create a street lighting district in the city. A second proposal to create a fire line district, however, was held over for further discussion at a Nov. 29 workshop. Councilman Harry Terry proposed both measures as ways of increasing city revenues by an estimated $15,000 annually. Two residents of the city, Bill Brown of Short Street and Harriet Mixon of Lakeview told the council to take their street ights out if plans are to charge them a fee. Mrs. Mixon said the light on her street was installed for the benefit of a nearby church and its membership. "I don't feel I should pay for it. You can move it," she said.

Meanwhile, Councilman Cliff Nelson, the major opponent on council to both proposals, insisted levying the special fees "If we had only one street light in the city, everyone would benefit from it," he said. Nelson said street lights were ap-

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Retiring AFL-CIO President much of the time since he took office, and the ailing labor leader still criticizes White House economic policies. But Meany is four-square behind the president in his stand

Carter was already shaking hands with others on the podium

after his speech to the AFL-CIO convention Thursday when Meany, seated in a wheelchair, grabbed a microphone and pulled it close. Carter had issued his strongest statement yet on the Iranian crisis to the 2,800 delegates, alternates and guests. Although they applauded politely when Carter was introduced, they were enthusiastic when he denounced the holding of American hostages in Iran. Meany agreed.

"Every step you have taken on this deserves the support of the American people," Meany told the president. Before Carter left, he praised Meany, 85, for his devotion to economic justice and human dignity, and said: "Mr. Meany, on behalf of the American people, thank you." They embraced briefly and those on the podium said tears welled in their eyes.

Nevertheless, in a keynote speech earlier in the day, Meany assailed the administration's economic policies as "ill advised, economy is a mess. His voice lacked the fire of his healthy days. And his famed cigar was missing, but the union leaders at the convention stood on their chairs to applaud and cheer. Carter tried to heal some wounds that have developed between the White House and organized labor, acknowledging some mistakes but saying the administration and labor have worked together well and accomplished a lot.

"It's a great record," he said. "It's a record we have made together. It's one we can improve in the months ahead." He got a laugh when he pointed to a lesson the AFL-CIO had taught him: "You have certainly learned the advantages of reelecting your president -- and I hope you'll remember this." "I'll buy that," Meany smiled. Incapacitated since a golf cart accident in California last

Misunderstanding of OSHA rules and

Not too long ago, an older friend called about a name appearing in The Herald — Jane Doc. The news item said call Jane Doe, Longwood. "I wish these young married women would use their husband's names in public announcements," she said, "or have a telephone listing in their names." And now it is the time to think about holiday greeting cards. People are searching through albums selecting personalised cards.

Many are in the dark about having names imprinted on the cards. Some think the printed name is a social cachet while others prefer a personal note with a signature.

The following guidelines may be helpful: When titles are used, they are spelled out, with the husband's name first: Mr. and Mrs. John Doe: Doctor and Mrs. John Doe; Judge and Mrs. John Doe; or General and Mrs. John Doe.

Without titles, either name may be used first. but it may make more sense to use the woman's name first so the husband's name can stand alone such as Jane and John Doe.

In listing the family, the father's name comes first: The Does (use of apostrophe is incorrect) - John, Jane, Mary and Jim.

Informality is the rule for single persons. However, a widow may use her late husband's name or her own. A divorcee never uses the name of her ex-husband.

For the sake of etiquette, please use the correct name. If you are not up on the proper use of names — then try common sense. Ask somebody.

Livesay, a former World War II Air Force navigator and now a resident of Riverside, Calif., had his cancerous larynx The very day of the operation, however — thanks to a voice box made from transplanted tendons by Dr. James O. Stallings - Livesay could talk with about 75 percent of his normal During an interview Wednesday, Livesay put his index finger against a pencil-thin, inch-long hollow tube protruding from the Adam's apple region of his neck and said: "Dr. Stallings was a ray of sunshine in a garden of despair."

It was pretty close to normal speech and very distant from esophageal speech — a kind of speaking made by belching. His speech also was more natural and normal compared to electronic voice boxes that make patients sound like robots. "I say Stallings is a lifesaver," said Livesay's wife, Ann, "because Wayne said he had decided he wouldn't have any surgery if he couldn't talk nearly normal. I guess if that happened the cancer would have killed him."

Livesay, prison watch commander at the California Institute for Men in Chino, said 95 percent of his job is speaking. "If I had had to take time to learn esophageal speech I would have had to retire." he said.

Livesay, who stopped smoking in 1951, has had voice problems on and off over the years. After removing Livesay's larynx, Stallings made substitute vocal cords out of transplanted tendons, then made tiny slits in

Bronco's Preston And Jackson Out For San Francisco Game

DENVER (UPI) — Denver Broncos' running back Dave Preston and safety Bernard Jackson will not play in Sunday's game at San Francisco against the 49ers because of injuries, Coach Red Miller said Thursday.

The Bronco coach also said linebacker Joe Rizzo, who had been sidelined with a knee injury, participated in practice drills but remained questionable for the game.

Pacers Ink Free Agent Carter

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — The Indiana Pacers Thursday signed free-agent guard Ron Carter, who play tonight in San Diego.

To make room on the roster for Carter, the Pacers have requested waivers on rookie forward Tony Zeno. The Pacers also announced starting guard Billy Knight will miss at least the next two games because of a sprained thumb suffered in Wednesday's game against Phoenix.

Garcia 'Man Of The Year'

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Manager Dave Garcia has been chosen as the Cleveland Indians' 1979 Man of the Year by the Cleveland Chapter of the Baseball Writers of America. He is the second Tribe manager to receive the award from the Baseball Writers. Lou Boudreau won it in 1947. The "Good Guy" award, given in memory of former Cleveland Press baseball writer Frank Gibbons, went to relief pitcher Sid Monge. Both men will be honored by the Baseball Writers at a Jan. 28 banquet.

As the S.C.C. Raider-Alumni game draws closer and closer, coach Joe Sterling reports even more former cage stars from days gone by are popping out of the woodwork and into the alumni line up for Saturday night's pre-season feature.

Late reporters for the alumni squad include Bob Jacobs from Lake Mary. The 6-7 ex-Raider great went on to play at the Citadel after finishing two years under Sterling's tutorage and now coaches and teaches at Eustis High School.

Another of Sterling's proteges who went on to play four year ball and then return locally to both teach and coach is Earl Stokes.

Yet another alumni who will be in the line up adds even more of a local touch. Six-five Bill Corso, a Seminole High roundball ace of yesteryeer went on to play at S.C.C. and then U.C.F.

"We want to show the public different varieties of pure-bred dogs," said Pat Beede. "And to show that pure-bred and show dogs make excellent pets."

Mrs. Beede is a board member of the newly formed Seminole Dog Fanciers Association and she was talking about the dog show the Association held last Sunday at the Central Florida Zoo. The show was an informal way to show off some 80 different breeds to the public.

Demonstrations were held to show a dog's tracking ability and also obedience training. The dogs were then shown in a ring according to different classes, along with an explanation of the dog's origins and characteristics.

Mrs. Beede said dogs were invited from all over central Florida in order to show as many different AKC breeds as possible.

The club, which is only 5 months old, hopes to hold similar shows in the area and to perhaps become an annual event.

The club was formed to "promote interest in pure-bred dogs and to educate the public about pure-breds," said member Carolyn Servis. "We also hold classes on how to handle dogs at shows and classes on obedience."

For those interested in joining the association or learning more about pure-bred dogs, meetings are held in the Longwood Recreation Center at 8 p.m. on the first Wednesday of the month. More information can be obtained by calling the Seminole Dog Fancier's president, Eva Matheny, at $31-0717.

Joe Don Baker is a paradoz. On-ocreen critics have described him as a "Wean" and "over-bow ering." Off-screen, colleagues know him as a softwaken, earrygeing man of few words and no proteomion.

"The acting bug stack with Baker through a two-year Army sint. Baker says, "I headed straight for two proteomion."

"The not the guy you see in the movies," explains Baker, who stars as New York (Bry's chief of detectives Earl Eischied. "When I first came to Hollywood all the steady work was in series like 'Bonnas' or 'The FBI.' The regulars were always the good guy, so I ended up playing a lot of villains. And I played them the best I could because I want to keep gesting jobs."

ABC To Show 'Birth Of The Beatles'

Approves TV Bio

John Wayne Family

They were dancing to the music on the soundtrack of a new movie called "Birth of the Beatles," which will have its world premiere on ABC Nov. 23. Their enthusiasm was so far beyond the call of duty that years fell many and the call of duty that years fell music on the soundtrack of a new movie called "Birth of the Beatles walked through."

"Elvis opened the door that he seems to feel an additional excitement in this story. "It matters to me because it tells you that you can actually succeed through bloody hard work, and no one would ever get old, and the world believed in magic. And bringing those days back was, well, fun.

Ratings Determine TV Re-Runs, Too

DEAR DICK: I am 15 but when I was younger I watched a TV show called "Hobo Kelly." I read that TV stations don't like to put black and white programs on. Why do they keep "Gilligan's Island" and "I Love Lucy" on — these shows have been on so long that people are sick of them. And what about other shows, like "Lost In Space" and "The Munsters"? JIM MARCHAND, Vancouver, Wash.

As you get older, you'll realize that economics governs almost everything, including what programs get re-runs. It isn't whether or not it's black and white or color that matters, it's whether your local channel thinks it will get a high rating. If people really become sick of watching Gilligan and Lucy, the rating will go down and the show will go off. If they felt "Hobo Kelly" would attract a lot of viewers, they'd put it on.

DEAR DICK : In the program, "Laverne and Shirley," what year is it supposed to be in — the '50s or '60s? DEBBIE, LaPerte, Ind.

The official word is : "the early '60s." DEAR DICK : I heard a rumor about the Village People. My cousin said that right before they started their movie, Victor, the lead singer, quit. Please tell me if it is true or not. A.F., Richburg, S.C. True - more or less. Victor Willis, the Vill

Opening day ceremonies for Sanford's Heart Park, sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Sanford and the Kiwanis Club of Sanford Inc., will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the

At about 2 p.m., Eve Crabtree, president of the junior women, and Dr. Earl Weldon, president of Seminole Community College, will break the ribbon to open the Heart Park exercise course of 20 obstacles and exercise programs.

The junior women kicked off the drive to raise funds for the park on April 1. Major contributors have been: the Kiwanis Club, co-sponsor of the project, with an initial contribution of $2,000; Flagship Bank of Seminole and its branches; Seminole Memorial Hospital employees, $1,200 raised through a walkathon; American Heart Association, Orlando chapter, $500; Dr. Richard Dunn, $500; American Association of Retired Persons, $100; Jim Crowe, $100; John R. Smith, $100; Dr. James Hirsch, $100; Dr. Roger Stewart, $100; Women's Club of Sanford, $50; Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, $50; Dr. George W. Edwards, $25; Dr. Randall C. Brown,

Along the course are numbered signs and directions for each calisthenic-type exercise to be done. The signs at some of the 20 stations give directions on how to use equipment there. One of the main reasons the specific project was undertaken was to give attention to the development of good cardiac health, said Mrs. Sue Cann, chairman of the opening day

The equipment for the "Fit-Trail Parcours" was purchased from Recreational Development Corp. of Charlotte, N.C. Mrs. Julian, co-chairman of the project, said Don Hughes of the Kiwanis Club has worked with the junior women on the project. Mrs. Gail Stewart is chairman of the project. Mrs. Julian said an additional sign will be installed and anchor equipment is yet to be delivered.

Invocation at the opening day ceremonies is to be given by Dr. Ted Cosmato of First Baptist Church of Sanford, while Dr. Weldon will lead the salute to the flag.

'America the Beautiful" will be presented by Dave and Pam Hannah. An explanation of the use of exercise in development and promoting good cardiac health will be given by Dr. H. Garrett Dotson of Seminole Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Crabtree will recognize contributors and the dedication speech will be given by Dr. Weldon, president of the Kiwanis Club.
