

SUB-TROPICAL FAIR HELD AT ORLANDO GREATEST IN HISTORY

SEMINOLE COUNTY AS USUAL WILL CARRY OFF THE PRIZE

Orlando, Feb. 14.—(Special).—The Sub-Tropical Mid-Winter Fair opened at Orlando on the 12th, last Tuesday, is by far the greatest success of the kind ever attempted, this being the general opinion and conceded by the very able directors at the head of the fair association.

Aside from the agricultural exhibits, those holding the greatest general attention are the stock and poultry shows. The greatest Barred Rock show ever gotten together in the southeast is to be seen this week in Orlando and, among the fancy birds are those of the Nunever Farm of Longwood.

The Berkshire Congress of the United States is well represented at the Sub-Tropical Fair, something like 300 Red Berkshire breeders being present and through the courtesy of the fair association and the progressive Orlando Board of Trade these gentlemen have been shown over the five counties represented at the fair.

The grand display assembled for Seminole is the direct personal effort of Director F. L. Miller and superintendent Tilden Jacobs. Without doubt Mr. Jacobs has excelled all previous exhibits and this season the tact he has employed in the display has been marveled at by the thousands who daily throng the building.

Among the many individual exhibits scoring high is the beets from T. J. Miller's farm, the crate of romaine sent in by Mr. R. L. Grier. This class of vegetable is a wonder to the tourists and already many have found out exactly who produced the crate and where his farm is.

At the extreme end of the Seminole county booth, the ever progressive Wakefields of Geneva are there—there with the goods. There is nothing on the grounds to even compare with their wonderful preserves, jams and jellies and they now concede that larger quarters and extensive additions to their manufacturing plant is the only means by which their increasing business can be accommodated.

Orange county, true to custom is not offering a combined exhibit and is not competing for prizes, except as individuals enter various things, but the various Orange county towns have done themselves proud among these being Winter Park, Oakland and Ocoee.

Johnny J. Jones, king of carnivals is decidedly on the job. Johnny still maintains and carries out his idea of high class carnivals. He runs a square game and throws his energies into the various local interests that in turn are glad to help and boost Johnny Jones.

AMERICA GETS DOWN TO REAL BUSINESS IN FIGHT

Washington, Feb. 12.—Many new construction projects for the army, including munition plants, ordnance depots, storage plants, port terminals, hospitals, aviation works, cantonments and housing were disclosed by a statement given the senate military committee today by the war department.

A port terminal costing $10,000,000 will be built at Charleston, S. C., and at Boston $8,000,000 will be spent for a similar terminal. Two millions are provided for three powder bag loading points at sites not yet selected.

Hospitals for soldiers suffering with tuberculosis are to be built at Asheville, N. C., and Denver, Col., at a cost of $500,000 each and $12,800,000 is to be spent on hospitals at 32 army training camps.

A division cantonment for the regular army is to cost $8,000,000, but its location was not given. It may take the place of the regular army training camp at Charlotte, N. C., which soon is to be abandoned because of the unsuitability of the ground on which it is located.

Forty interior storage depots to cost an aggregate of $30,000,000 are to be erected at unnamed points. On aviation work, including a new cantonment, the location of which was not given, $16,000,144 will be expended.

Ordnance depots are to be built on the South Atlantic coast and at "some seaport" at a cost of $1,700,000 each, and one on the middle Atlantic coast at a cost of $6,000,000. An ammunition depot at "some seaport" is to cost $7,500,000, and a like sum is to be expended for an ordnance depot in central Pennsylvania.

For housing for the shipping board to relieve congestion in shipyard communities the department plans to $35,000,000. This will represent a part of the $50,000,000 for this purpose provided in a bill which passed the house today.

Another item is that of $250,000 for a highly explosive plant at Sandy Hook, L. I. The statement shows that $37,000,000 will be spent in building a gas making plant at Edgewood, N. J.

Brigadier General Little, in charge of cantonment division, and other construction jobs, also submitted statements to the committee, showing that in addition to the new work, his bureau has charge of construction now in progress calling for an expenditure of $135,900,000, making the total for present and future work $494,550,000.

Card of Thanks To all those who so kindly assisted us in our hour of sorrow in the loss of wife and mother and in many ways alleviated our suffering and to those who sent floral offerings we wish to tender our heartfelt thanks and gratitude.

Wet and Dry Figures Washington, Feb. 13.—The board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church announced today that a survey it has just completed shows that there are 2,374 "dry" counties and 615 "wet" counties in the United States, a "dry" gain for the year 1917 of 88 counties.

RAILWAY WORKERS TO RAISE

INCREASE WOULD MEAN 82 MILLION MORE WAGES

Washington, Feb. 13.—The first official indication of what proposed railroad wage increases would cost was given at today's hearing before the railroad wage commission when J. A. Franklin presented the claims of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

Figuring an average of 33 1/3 per cent increase on the flat increase asked, the additional cost would be $82,000,000 annually. Secretary Lane, chairman of the commission computed.

Mr. Franklin said the estimate seemed correctly based upon increases for 250,000 organized men. He also had suggested that any increases should apply to unorganized workers of the same trades, numbering about 260,000, who were not figured in the rough calculation.

Low wages have been blamed by the witnesses for the exodus of railway workers to other industries. Mr. Franklin said the various shop unions he represented had lost 15 per cent of their membership to shipyards and still others to munitions factories.

Stone Says Equipment "Rotten" Warren S. Stone of the engineers told the commission that never before this winter have the railroads entered the bad weather season with equipment in such "rotten" condition and said that lack of skilled men in shops was responsible for curtailment there of output to 60 per cent of normal.

A. E. Barker, speaking for the Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employees, said his men were on the verge of quitting because they saw living costs mounting steadily without advance in wages.

J. D. Parsons and F. R. Weller of the American Association of Engineers, said the roads were handicapped for professionally trained engineers, who were offered jobs at $40 to $50 a month after spending four years in college and perhaps going in debt several thousand dollars for a technical education.

May Mean Rise in Freight Rates Mr. Franklin's representations to the commission, brought in the first mention of increased freight rates as a means of providing the revenue necessary to meet the new expense.

Comparison of railroad wages with the pay in other industries brought suggestions from the commissioners that the large wages in shipyards and munition factories were due to abnormal conditions and were temporary.

Increases suggested today were 40 per cent for mechanical employees and bridge builders; $3.25 to $3.50 a day for section men, who are now paid $2.10; section foremen $110 to $140 a month instead of $85 to $90; masons $5.60 a day; mason foremen $160 per month; interlocking signal-builders $5 a day; carmen, blacksmiths, machinists, etc., minimum of 75 cents an hour and helpers 65 1/4 cents an hour, no increase to be less than 25 cents an hour; enginemen a minimum of $6 a day. All urged time and a half for overtime.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church announced today that a survey it has just completed shows that there are 2,374 "dry" counties and 615 "wet" counties in the United States, a "dry" gain for the year 1917 of 88 counties.

ENGLAND IS READY FOR THE BIG DRIVE THAT THE HUNS MAY MAKE

HOOVER IS THE BOY SAVES UP FOOD FOR THE ALLIED ARMIES

London, England, Feb. 13.—Sir William Good, who occupies the important post of go-between of the British food administration and that of the United States, discussed the present food situation in an address today to the London Rotary Club.

"Few people," said Sir William "have yet grasped the fundamental fact that Great Britain still relies on the United States and Canada for 65 per cent of her essential foodstuffs. Unless we can get this food, or nearly all of it, we shall peter out. What I want you to realize is the amazing way in which the energies and sentiment of the American people have been harnessed to a great national movement of organized self sacrifice so that the allies can have food enough to carry on."

"The cynic will tell you," he said, "that it is ridiculous to imagine that the American people, living in the midst of plenty, will make such sacrifices as these for the sake of their allies thousands of miles away. The cynic will relegate President Wilson and Herbert C. Hoover to the realm of well meaning idealists, but this can be tested by results."

Early last month we received from Mr. Hoover a cablegram saying that he found that as a result of the American conservation campaign he had 150,000,000 pounds of bacon and 25,000,000 pounds of frozen meat more than the British representatives in the United States had represented as likely to be available.

His statement was so unexpected that we had to hustle to get the finance and shipping for this windfall. Later on it turned out that the amount of frozen meat available was thousands of tons above the Hoover estimate. Except for the hold-up of shipping in American ports due to congestion on the railroads and blizzards our bacon and meat shortage would long since have been eased by these shipments which represent only a small percentage of the total sacrifices of the American people.

"It is lucky for us that a man like Hoover is at the helm of the allied food supply and that behind him is a people willing to deny themselves so we may live to fight."

Huff Is Food Director

T. S. Huff has been appointed Food Administrator for Seminole county by State Director B. Beacham. Mr. Huff is a native of Georgia but for the past ten years has been with the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., of New York and on account of a nervous breakdown was forced to leave the busy marts of trade and came to Sanford to recuperate, settling upon a farm south of the city where he has erected a beautiful bungalow and will make Sanford his future home.

Having been active all his life Mr. Huff was anxious to do his bit for the country and expressed his desire to take part in some way with the result that he was chosen for administrator of Seminole county. That he will make good goes without saying, for he believes in giving every one a square deal and expects the same treatment for himself. His many friends are congratulating him upon his taking this responsible position and accepting his part in the great war.

Lake City Gets Hospital

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—Surg. Gen. Gorgas has recommended the establishment of working general hospitals as follows: Asheville, N. C., Augusta, Ga., Lake City, Fla., Walter Reed, Wash., Ft. McHenry, Maryland, Fort Des Moines, Iowa, Cape May, N. J., Dansville, N. J., Weyersville, Pa., Swampscott, Mass., Cincinnati, Ohio, Chicago and Columbia, N. J.

Palm Beach P. O. Robbed Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 13.—Robbers looted the postoffice here on the night of Monday-Tuesday. It is estimated that between $5,000 and $10,000 was stolen. Several thousand dollars worth of stamps were left. There is no clue to the robbery.

HAS RECENTLY ADDED MEN AND GUNS TO ARMY

England is coming in for a share of unjust criticism as well as America regarding her part in the great war. It seems that the civilian experts on the war question have been criticizing the policy of England and calling for a more speedy action that seems to be warranted in view of the fact that England has been doing all in her power and working wonders in making preparations to put her whole fighting power into the field this spring.

Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer and government leader in the house of commons, replying to criticisms of the government with respect to its home policy, today said that in 1917 the national service department had put into the army 820,615 additional men and placed in employment at home 731,000 men and 801,000 women.

British guns available in France, said Mr. Bonar Law had increased by 30 per cent and airplanes had multiplied two and one half times in 1917, as compared with 1916.

Referring to the food production, he said that the cereals produced in England in 1917 amounted to 850,000 tons, and in addition the country had produced an extra 3,000,000 tons of potatoes.

England, said the chancellor was the only country in the war where there had been a diminution in food production. A million additional acres were being plowed under the plow. This year 800,000 acres more had been cultivated in England and 400,000 more in Scotland and Ireland.

The total stocks of wheat in Great Britain at the end of December, 1917, exceeded those at the end of December, 1916, by one million quarters (8,400,000 bushels). In 1917 there was built in Great Britain 1,167,471 tons of shipping, and 170,000 tons were obtained from abroad. The chancellor explained that the premier's estimate of ship construction was not realized because the government had arranged to have a large quantity of tonnage built in America, but when America came into the war she preferred, as the British would have preferred, to take the tonnage herself. But the tonnage was there.

Emphasizing the value of shipping controller's work, Mr. Bonar Law said that in spite of the diminution of ships and in spite of the fact that Great Britain had lost 1,500,000 gross tons for the use of her allies in September, October and November, the nation had actually imported the same amount as had been imported from February to April.

Although under the good weather the terrain in France and Belgium is fast drying out and the Teutonic allies are continuing to pour thousands of troops to positions behind the battle line, there still has been no indication that the enemy is ready to begin his much advertised offensive. Bombardments and patrol encounters along the entire front are still taking place as for many days past, but the roar of the big guns nowhere has reached that volume of drumfire which always in the past has heralded an infantry attack of great proportions.

While the German reinforcements have been coming up the entente commanders have not been idle and waiting for the offensive to begin. On the other hand they everywhere have strengthened their positions to meet any emergency, and optimism is expressed from both British and French sources that should the Germans strike—no matter how early the moment—they will meet with stubborn resistance.

The Associated Press correspondent with the French headquarters says the French authorities consider that the total number of the enemy now facing the French, British, American and Belgian troops, or held in reserve, aggregate 2,340,000 men. Biddle Burdick is visiting friends in Sanford.

A SCENE IN "THE MILLION DOLLAR DOLL" A MUSICAL COMEDY AT THE LYRIC FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15th

AMUSEMENT

"The Million Dollar Doll" which will be the offering at the Lyric next Friday has already proven that it is the one big "hit" of all the season's musical offerings. The book, lyrics and music were written by Louis Wesley of New York City, who is the successful writer for such well known artists as Rock & Fulton, Lulu Glaser, Marion Bent, Pat Rooney and many others. The work is original and far above the general run of musical comedies. Mr. Wesley considers this his best work. The production is staged by Harvey D. Orr Producing Co., who are well known to the theatre going public. They have given this attraction the most elaborate production ever seen on our stage. The costumes, stage settings and light effects are beautiful and enchanting. The attraction is one of the largest and best on the road this season and is well worthy of the large patronage which has been accorded it by the theatre going public.

handled by Griffith and his effort has measured up in every respect to the stupendous historical story that was his subject. There is no one who will not declare that this Griffith spectacle is the greatest yet made known to the stage. Actual participation in a battle on a European field would give the onlooker no more complete idea of the conflict of armies than may be had in viewing contending Union Confederate troops in "The Birth of a Nation." In this spectacle he sees the south of ante-bellum days, of the War and of the Reconstruction period. Through all Abraham Lincoln is the central figure. Remarkably true to life is the impersonation given of that great emancipator and it is a moment of poignant tragedy when he is seen to fall a victim to an assassin's bullet.

The stirring scenes depicting the night rides of the Ku Klux Klan are deeply impressed upon each beholder and there is by the same token, an lasting an impression made by the romantic tale which ornaments this historical creation.

Optimistic Thought.
We seldom do a kindness which, if we consider it rightly, is not abundantly repaid.

Give Credit to Chinese.
The earliest designs used for china at Worcester, England, are believed to have been copied from the Chinese.

Ingalls' Theory Wrong.
Some years ago Senator John James Ingalls of Kansas wrote a poem called "Opportunity." His theory was that Opportunity knocked at your door but once. His poem was one of the most beautiful in the English language, but his theory was all wrong. The persons who have the microbes of ambition and industry do not wait for Opportunity to knock at the door, but have the door wide open and are out on the sidewalk or in the street hunting for Opportunity, and it is not difficult to find it. Do not wait for Opportunity to knock if you wish for success.

Valuable Japanese Plant.
A plant grows in Japan which furnishes a sort of vegetable leather. It is a pretty shrub called the mitsumata, and its inner bark, after going through certain processes, is converted into a substance as tough as French kid, so translucent that one can almost see through it and as pliable and soft as calfskin.

Why is a Yawn?
"Mamma, what is a yawn?" asked Vivien of her mamma, who was discussing this favorite of all face exercises. "Why, a yawn, baby—well—why, a yawn is a yawn," she explained. Silence for five minutes. "Mamma," asked Vivien, "can you yawn without gaping?"

Harsh Moorish Custom.
Among the Moors, if a wife does not become the mother of a boy, she may be divorced with the consent of the tribe.

How Europe Was Made Safe for Royalty

By OSCAR COX

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

There was once a principality somewhere in Europe—the censor has taken the principal points out of this story—whose territory consists of only a few square miles. The prince being of the blood royal and an associate on equal terms with the other sovereigns of Europe, was required to keep up their style though he did it on an infinitely small scale. He had one general, one judge, one executioner. His army consisted of a hundred men divided into ten companies consisting of ten men to a company. Everything else was on a proportionate scale. But the general, except when on duty, was a butcher; the judge the only policeman in the principality, and the soldiers were laborers. The executioner was the parson officiating over the little church 20 by 30 feet in area, one-third of which is taken up by the royal pew. The parson was a meek little man incompetent to decapitate a chicken.

All worked well in the principality for many years. There were no criminals to try, or to punish, the prince spent his time visiting his royal relatives, so that his living was provided for, and the people, who were taxed only to provide for the royal pocket money, were happy.

Then suddenly came trouble. The general of the army was caught in the act of treason. A neighboring king, whose territory consisted of many millions of square miles, wanted the principality for a pasture for his cows, and bribed the general of the prince for a consideration, to let down the bars of the fence inclosing the principality territory, and admit the king's army without resistance on the part of the prince's forces. The plot being discovered in time, the other European sovereigns frowned upon it, and stopped it. Had it been carried through they would have held a conference and in order that the peace of Europe might not be disturbed would have winked at it. As it was, the only action required was to try the general for high treason and cut off his head.

But the judge, who, it has been said, was only a policeman, knew nothing about law and was incapable of conducting a trial. The prince, at over the difficulty by ordering a trial behind closed doors; and when they were opened a warrant was produced by which the general was condemned to death. It was taken to the prince, who signed it, and the pen with which he affixed his royal signature was sent to the sovereign of the most powerful empire as a token that imperialism was absolute in the principality.

It remained now only to carry out the sentence by beheading the general. A meeting of the privy council was held, at which it was unanimously agreed that the executioner could not be relied upon to carry out the sentence and the members deliberated what was to be done in the premises. One suggested that the general, being a butcher, was far better fitted to cut off his own head than the executioner, who was a parson. Whereupon another member suggested that the two be surreptitiously made to change places and the butcher be made to cut off the head of the parson. This would satisfy the powers.

But the prince, who was a just sovereign would not hear of such a nefarious deed, and dismissed the council, saying that he would lay a plan for carrying out the sentence himself. Until such time as he could find an executioner he would take the general's parole and release him from confinement. The general willingly gave his word not to leave the principality and the next morning was to be seen peacefully swinging his cleaver in his butcher shop.

Now the king of that country who desired the principality for his cow pasture—remember that this story has been censored and all names have been deleted—hearing that the general was engaged at his usual business, sent a deputation to the prince to protest against such a flagrant omission of a royal duty to punish treason, representing that if such leniency were practiced by the crowned heads of Europe the world would at last be cursed with all the horrors of democracy.

To this the prince replied that rather than see this he would consent to the massacre of every one of his subjects. The leader of the deputation replied to this that if the prince so desired his royal master would send his own executioner—to decapitate the general.

A few days later the king's executioner arrived. His guard of honor numbered five hundred men, armed with the most deadly implements of modern warfare. They took the general from his shop and the king's executioner dispatched him. Then the prince was shot down, and when the executioners were finished there was not a human being left in the principality.

The executioner, attended by his guard, went back to the king, who asked him if he had accepted the request of his royal cousin, and the executioner assured him that he had done his work so well that the principality was now ready for his majesty's cow pasture.

This is an instance of how the blessings of royalty have been saved to the world by one royal cousin assisting another in repressing treason. The principality is now a cow pasture. Who knows but that it might have been a vast plant for the manufacture of comforts for the people?

Two little pie-crust secrets

1. Be sure Cottolene is well chilled.

2. Sift flour, salt and baking powder.

3. Chop the chilled Cottolene into the flour with knives.

Here are two practical pie-crust hints. They were given to us by a cook whose wholesome Cottolene pie-crust was a tender and flaky treat.

Hint No. 1. Always chop your shortening into the flour with knives. Don't mix it in with your hands.

Hint No. 2. Always keep your shortening and your dough as cold as possible.

Just forgetting the money-saving in using Cottolene, why don't you compare your economical Cottolene pie-crust with your very best pie-crust made with "half of butter?"

If you follow your own recipe, be sure to use one-third less of Cottolene than you ordinarily use of other shortening. Cottolene goes farther—because it is richer.

A great many particular women who used to use part butter are now using wholesome Cottolene alone to make tender, flaky pie-crust. But perhaps you would like to try the recipe below. You'll need:

1 1/2 cups flour 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt Ice water 1/4 cup Cottolene

4. Mix in cold water gradually taking care not to use too much.

5. After chilling the dough for about half an hour, roll.

6. Bake about 30 minutes.

Whether the castor bean is a money crop or not every one who has a piece of ground should plant some castor beans from a patriotic desire to help the government. THE SOUTH'S TRIBUTE TO ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Throughout Dixieland, from Virginia to Texas, southerners gathered in many titles and towns Tuesday to pay tribute to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, the martyred President.

These celebrations in honor of the Great Emancipator follow somewhat similar ones held by northern people, including soldiers of the sixties and the present, in honor of Gen. Robert E. Lee, grand Christian and great soldier, and these deserve to cement the bonds of nationhood and brotherhood in which all sections of the union are now held.

The Civil War is no longer held as a cause for sectional and individual antagonism, instead, the bravery shown during that period of strife serves to increase the admiration of northerner for southerner and southerner for northerner—to cause all to glory in the privilege of being American citizens.

Since the days of Jesus of Nazareth the world has known no finer character than that of Abraham Lincoln, whose greatness, like that of the Nazarene's, was based on the grandest of all sources of inspiration—love for humanity.

In his speech in the senate Sen. James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, a transplanted Georgian, voiced the sentiment of all true southerners when he scathingly denounced the German war lords and urged all Americans to fight "for the democracy implanted by Lincoln and advanced by Wilson"—for the ideals which have been so ably championed by two southern born men—the wood-chopper and the educator.

AND THE WOMEN ARE WORKING

Ah, yes, the men are finding, everywhere, in all kinds of work to help on the government, that there is joy and satisfaction unrealized in helping to do really big things that are worth while. But it is not the men alone.

The women of the country are sharing in the same glorious experience.

Thousands of women who have heretofore spent their afternoons and evenings—at least many of them—in playing bridge whist, attending some frivolous entertainment or party where the chief motive was to excel your neighbor in some shrewd manipulation of pasteboards or to display superiority of grace, wit, or clothes, are today to be found "somewhere" busily employed in doing hard practical work for the Red Cross, preparing bandages, knitting, or directing classes in cooking or in other ways demonstrating their desire today what they can to help in any way to save the waste and win the war.

especially among the wealthy and well-to-do classes were to a large extent horribly indifferent to the call of humanity about them because they had become so self complacent and wrapped up in their own petty selfishness. But now it is different. It's a fad—a splendid one, and here's hoping it may long continue in peace or in war—to be generous and self sacrificing now. The women of the country are seeing things, they have caught the vision of a sacrificial America.

What work they have done for the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. and other institutions that bring relief and joy to the boys. How it has ennobled them.

FLORIDA FISH

Mr. Hoover has requested that all restrictions on fishing be set aside until after the war.

Presumably, and as a matter of course, his purpose in this is to add to the food supply.

But in reality that would result in defeating the very purposes for which he was given his appointment, namely to conserve our resources of food, so that after the war is over we shall not be left destitute.

Mr. Hoover has doubtless been told by some that Florida's fish law is standing in the way of feeding thousands on one of the finest and most nutritious and palatable foods. Mr. Hoover does not probably know that the reason the hundreds of thousands of pounds of Florida fish taken every day are not more earnestly sought by Floridians is because of the outrageous prices charged for fish in many places where the fishermen bring in their catches.

Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. McKee opposes himself and the state of Florida to Mr. Hoover's request, and while we are as patriotically built and are doing as much as we can with others for the government, we are convinced that Mr. McKee has the right view of the matter. In a letter sent out to many Florida men of learning and intelligence, as well as common sense on the matter he says:

"For many years prior to 1913 the oyster and fish industries of this state were depleted almost to the point of destruction. In 1913 it was recognized that the fish and oyster industries would soon become extinct without immediate and positive protection. The state legislature of that year also realized the true condition and promptly enacted adequate legislation affording the necessary protection to the oyster industry. In 1915 the state legislature enacted similar protective laws relating to the fish industry.

"The effect of these laws has been to rehabilitate an industry practically destroyed. This work on the part of the state has cost many thousands of dollars, and has been the means of livelihood to thousands of fishermen and others who would have had to look elsewhere for support. To turn this industry back to former conditions without adequate control will amount to ruin of both the state's and nation's resources."

As well stop the fight on citrus canker because it requires the destruction of trees affected, as well take restrictions from the game law that all may shoot our game birds ad libitum, as well declare that Florida oysters shall not be protected during the period of the war, as to take the just and needful restrictions from the fish of the southern waters.

The country will need the fish industry after the war is over; and those now interested in having the restrictions removed have not considered what no restriction will do for the industry.

SAVE THE HENS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—Over 150,000,000 eggs will be lost to the food supply of the United States if the old practice of sending hens to market at this season is continued. Figures compiled by the poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture show that more than 5,000,000 laying hens, each capable of producing 30 eggs, are sent to market from the southern states in the winter and early spring.

Every effort, therefore, is being made to encourage farmers to keep their hens until after the spring laying season, thereby getting a dividend for keeping the hen through the winter. The specialists point out that when a hen is sold for meat early in the spring, the farmer gets no egg return for feeding and keeping her through the worst months of the year.

Moreover, the hen is market as poultry after she has produced her spring eggs. Poultry in May may bring 2 cents a pound less than it does in February, but, they point out, the 30 eggs produced by the hen, largely from wastes, more than offset any reduction in the price offered for live poultry.

An energetic egg-saving campaign to prevent early slaughter of the hen that "lays the golden egg" is now being conducted through the southern states. North of the Ohio river, farmers have long appreciated the advantage of getting the spring crop of eggs and marketing their hens after the laying season or in the fall. They believe that adoption of this plan by southern chicken raisers will be profitable and will materially add to the food supply of the nation.

In accordance with the above Braxton Beacham, Food Administrator for Florida has issued the following order:

Dealers in poultry and eggs shall not, between February 11 and April 30, 1918, purchase, ship, sell or negotiate the sale of any live or freshly killed hens or pullets provided, however, that this shall not prevent the purchase, shipment or sale between the days mentioned of hens or pullets which were either killed or shipped prior to February 11, 1918, to markets for sale as food. Provided, further that nothing in this rule shall prevent the purchase or shipment or sale of live hens or pullets for egg production purposes. This order becomes effective February 11.

Note: The interpretation of this rule is that the restrictions are to enhance production during the period mentioned. No restrictions are placed on the sale of roosters or poultry other than hens or pullets as mentioned. The ruling becomes effective in all wholesale and retail transactions.

Letter From France The following letter from Lieut. Radford who is in France to his sister, Miss Rosemond Radford in the city will be interesting:

A. E. F., France, Jan. 15, 1918 Dear Sis: How in the world are you? I am sorry I haven't written more letters to you personally but I have to work so hard and so long that I have opportunity to write only a few letters, so I have to make 'em a sort of family affair: I am sure you understand and won't feel badly if I seem to neglect you, because whenever I do have a chance to write I have to write Mother first and then often I haven't the time to write another letter. Tell Mother that she need not worry about me wearing her sweater because the Red Cross does not furnish anything to officers and besides here would probably be the best. The wristlets she sent me were the best I've seen. I have had them a long time now but the sweater hasn't come yet. It has heretofore been delayed, however, and will roll in soon.

This is a very quaint part of the country, kiddo, and the people dress very quaintly. Their costumes are old and very antiquated and their railroads look like toys, the tracks are very narrow and the engine and coaches are so tiny I believe a good strong American could carry either on his shoulder. For speed they sometimes manage to make eight or nine miles an hour, though usually they don't travel at such a reckless rate. I am going to try and buy you a pair of carved wooden shoes such as the village belles around here wear. I bought a tres petite inkstand the other day which is an exact reproduction of the French steel helmet, color and design. Of course it isn't a very good one, rather flimsy but it looks like one so maybe you will like it. I am going to try to have my picture made with my gas mask on to send you. I look like a great overgrown frog with it on. There is no funnier sight than a crowd of men wearing the blooming things and walking around.

Have been feeling very well though the weather has been freezing and the ground is always covered with snow or ice, except where there is a great deal of traffic and then it is awfully muddy. I have a cough but it isn't very bad and I'll be rid of it pretty soon.

Write to me often and don't forget Buddydub

City's One Big Campaign Aids All War Causes

The "War Chest" campaign recently held in Rome, N. Y., was so successful in its methods that a number of towns over the country are considering the plan for use in their "drives" for war causes, says the March Popular Mechanics Magazine. Not one but all war benevolences were included in the effort. The pledges were taken, not merely for the present but, at so much per annum, for the duration of the war. While this idea did not originate in Rome that city has perhaps worked it out more extensively than any other, and its gifts, averaging $15 per capita are far in excess of those made in most communities whose per capita wealth exceeds that of Rome. The outstanding fact that has impressed the neighborhood towns is that this manufacturing town with a population of only 22,000, has been able to secure pledges for $346,000 per year, for the period of the war.

The promoters point out that the War Chest plan prevents repeated solicitations and consequently effects a big saving of time and money.

Great Barred Rock Show

"The Greatest Barred Plymouth Rock Show ever held in the United States," declared T. J. Neimeyer of the Keystone Poultry Yards of Longwood yesterday, in commenting upon the splendid showing of birds which is housed in the big hall just west of the main exposition building. Here row after row of wire coops greet the eye and the visitor is permitted to see some of the handsomest Barred Rocks in America. In all there are some three hundred Rocks—each a beauty. The Keystone Poultry Yards, located at Longwood, is the largest single exhibitor, but is run a close second by Chas. Francis of Putnam county, who is one of the states most successful poultrymen.

Dozens of exhibitors from all portions of America have entered their birds, and the competition in the various classes promises to keep the judges on the jump until the last ribbon is placed.—Reporter-Star.

Best Kind of Play is Work.

One of the best kinds of play is work. Many of the elements of play enter into work if it is performed in the right spirit. The most satisfying forms of play are those in which interest is excited; competition, with desire to succeed and accomplish some definite end, makes the game worth playing. Work is fatiguing and distasteful when it is lacking in these elements.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred King surprised the editor with a basket of fresh lettuce and celery that was greatly enjoyed. These good people have a farm on the west side and they are making good every season. This year they sold their lettuce at a good figure and now they have celery that Mr. King is getting good returns from and they will soon be driving to town and back with an auto. They deserve all the success that they are sure to have for they work toward the end of growing the stuff and then selling it. Farming on a small scale has demonstrated the wisdom of Mr. King's efforts to grow the best and sell it here.

In Luxury Now The present generation of folks are living in clover as compared with those who experienced the privations of the 60's, during the four years, unpleasantness between the states. When we get to using parched okra, potatoes and corn meal for coffee, with syrup for sweetening, and minus flour for bread and enduring a scarcity of rations withal, we may then begin to suspect that we are approaching real war time privations.—St. Augustine Meteor.

TO THE PUBLIC

There appeared in this paper under date of January 29th, an announcement regarding the famous Riverview Property, and Good Hope Mineral Springs at Jacksonville, Fla., stating that Mr. Nate Anderson would be in Sanford for a few weeks in the interest of Riverview. Mr. Anderson was in Sanford only a few days, made several good sales, and interested a number of people. He was suddenly called north, and as I have received a number of letters regarding Riverview as an investment, I am sending Mr. Frank S. Tousey to look after my interests in Sanford and Seminole county. Mr. Tousey has been associated with me for nearly two years. He is general manager of the Riverview estates and the Good Hope Water Company, and also secretary and treasurer of the Jacksonville Tourist Club. He will be in Sanford next week at the Hotel Carnes. I will consider it a personal favor if my Sanford friends, as well as those interested in Riverview will give Mr. Tousey a welcome.

Very truly yours, Signed: Dr. E. H. Armstrong, Owner Riverview Estates and Good Hope Mineral Springs. 51-1c

At Lyric Tonight

One of the features of "The Million Dollar Doll," which will appear at the Lyric tonight will be the illuminated "Runaway" on which a number of the songs and dances will be given over the heads of the audience. "The Runaway" is one of the latest novelties and brings the company and audience in close touch with each other, breaking down that barrier, known as "behind the footlights." This novelty has proved a veritable sensation in many of the cities, and some of the "Runaway Numbers" have received as many as 8 and 10 encores a night. This is only one of the many new and novel features presented in this new musical comedy, which has been heralded as the most pretentious musical offering of the day.

FLORIDA A MANUFACTURING STATE

Florida is going to be a manufacturing state. Don't say it is not, because it is. Take sugar for example: "Even the island of Cuba could not compete with Florida in the production of sugar."—U. S. Year Book, 1891, page 170. Farmers Bulletin No. 79 declares that by developing the starch and sugar industries, including table syrups, "untold wealth can be made to roll into Florida."

Write to Dr. R. E. Rose, State Chemist, Tallahassee, for his bulletin descriptive of the chances to make sugar in Florida. Our state too can turn out many things other than sugar. Its timbers can be put to a myriad uses. Its many cultivated products can be made up in a thousand forms. Its beds of phosphates are the largest in America, and can be put to profitable use at home instead of being shipped away to be put up into manufactured forms. Florida is a large producer of long staple cotton, the most valuable in the market, the kind to make thread and lace material. It grows fibre for cordage. The opportunity to make fruit extracts, jams, jellies, preserves and oils from cotton seed, peanuts, castor beans, soy beans and other vegetable products is very great. Here mills and factories can stand next to the fields of production. Again, don't say that Florida has no manufacturing possibilities.

Besides, says the State Marketing Bureau, Florida has shipping facilities not equalled in the Union. It is nearest to the West Indies, South America and the Panama Canal—thence to the Orient. It is more than a half nearer by rail to the great consuming centers than the Pacific coast states, whence vast shipments of fresh and canned goods are constantly coming to nearby Florida markets.

THE SUGAR INDUSTRY

Capt. R. E. Rose, our state chemist, in a recent issue of the Times-Union, recited some of the profits of producing sugar in Louisiana, says the State Marketing Bureau.

In this connection it may be of interest to note some of the data pointed out by the Planter's Record, printed in Honolulu, as to the value of by-products of the sugar industry. That paper says: "It is claimed that the potash in the molasses of Hawaii produced in one year is 5,100 tons. The value of this output would be $2,550,000. Under normal conditions Hawaii imports 4,800 tons of potash annually. One ton of molasses will produce 60 gallons of alcohol and at 60 cents a gallon would mean $3600. Under normal conditions the alcohol would be worth 33 cents a gallon. As a substitute for gasoline it would be worth $12 or 20 cents a gallon. The residual potash left after making the alcohol would be 80 pounds per ton, value at $20 now, $1 in normal times. Thus the fuel value of Hawaiian molasses would be equivalent to 25,500 tons of coal. The fuel value of one ton of molasses is 4,950 calories. This is equivalent to one ton of bagasse or one-fifth of a ton of coal. That would mean that one ton of molasses is worth from $60 to $80 a ton at stock feed."

Sugar cane can be raised in all parts of Florida, and there should be a sugar making industry here. The Japanese, by the help of the government are pushing the business in the far east. The attention of American capital should be drawn to Florida's advantages in this respect, and a start inaugurated to make sugar.

He Didn't Know. In a murder trial six experts were examined. Most of them had a national reputation. A hypothetical question of 20,000 words, which it required two hours to read, was asked of Doctor Jelley, a Boston expert on insanity. The learned doctor answered the question in three words: "I don't know." A frank answer, but rather perplexing to counsel.—Case and Comment.

CASTOR BEAN PLANTING IS DISCUSSED

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING WAS WELL ATTENDED

The meeting of the Sanford Board of Trade at the court house last Tuesday night was well attended, members from many of the country precincts being present and many who were not members also being present to hear about the growing of castor beans.

President Holly called the meeting to order promptly at eight o'clock and after the reading of the minutes and several communications called for short talks by the following gentlemen:

F. P. Forster and J. J. Dickinson of Sanford, Messrs. Barrs, Swope and Marshall of Oviedo, Dooley and Rehlinger of Geneva and several others who made enthusiastic talks about the progress of the Board of Trade and the great work of development that has been done, as well as much that remains to be accomplished. Dr. Marshall, chairman of the Oviedo auxiliary reported 23 members enrolled from that city.

Mr. O'Kelly, immigration and agricultural agent for the A. C. L. Ry., being present was called upon for a few remarks and responded by giving facts and figures on staple farming and hog raising demonstrating the benefits of real farming and also assured the people present of the cooperation and help of the railroads in the farming game.

Messrs. Williams and Brokaw, representing the Buckeye Nurseries and also the government regarding the planting of castor beans were then called upon to discuss this important and patriotic duty and gave the audience many important facts regarding the obtaining of seed, the planting, the cultivation and harvesting of the castor bean. The government is very anxious that Florida should raise its quota of these beans from which the oil is made for the lubrication of the aeroplanes and while it was brought out in discussion that maybe some of the lower lands of the cetry delta would not be suitable on account of the fertilizers that are used in growing early vegetables that there were many acres in the county that were suitable and Mr. Brokaw signed up many of the farmers present for a certain acreage that will be planted at once to the castor beans.

The meeting adjourned at a late hour to give way to a meeting of the farmers of this section who wanted to discuss many matters of

WOMAN'S CLUB

Fair of face, gracious in manner, Intellectual; a surplus of humor, ever ready to lend a helping hand to the public good; the courage of her convictions, honest to a fault, constant in purpose, a loyal friend. Mrs. J. W. Dickins.

The Welfare Department will observe Patriotic Day on Wednesday, February 20th, at the Club House. Not only are all Club members invited but visitors are urged to attend.

The primary school children are to have charge of the entire afternoon and a good program is assured. So let us put everything aside on Wednesday, Feb. 20th and let the little children inspire us with their patriotism. Let the children know we are interested in what they do and feel for America.

An Epitaph
She is the president's right bower, small of stature but of great capabilities. Very stylish, very neat, socially popular. She always stands at attention when the subject of Club finances is mentioned, for she is the queen of the little band of women who are always engaged in the maddening business of raising funds whereby the load of debt may be lifted from the Club.

Band Concert Good
A large and appreciative audience greeted the Sanford City Band at the pavilion Monday night. Every number of the excellent program was given hearty applause to which the band generously responded with encores.

The next concert will be Tuesday, February 19th. Program will appear in The Herald on that date.

Red Cross Benefit
The Music Department of the Woman's Club announces that the "Artists' Exchange" program to be given Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 19th at 3:30 o'clock will be a public day for the benefit of the Red Cross. The usual admission fee of ten cents will be asked at the door but larger sums will be gladly accepted.

The program will be furnished by the Woman's Club of DeLand in exchange for the one furnished by the Music Department to them in DeLand, Jan. 22nd. The public is cordially invited and every club member is urged to attend.

Music Department members are requested to be at the club house at 3 o'clock to meet the guests.

Master Mason's Degree
At the next regular communication of Sanford Lodge No. 62 F. & A. M., which will be held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 19th at 7 p. m. the Master Mason's Degree will be conferred. Arrangements will be made at this meeting to hold a Lodge of Sorrow on Sunday, March 10th at 3 p. m. to honor the memory of that noble man and Mason, Brother C. R. Walker. All Master Masons are cordially invited to attend.

At the last meeting the "Visitors' Book" recorded the names of brethren from several states, even Kipling's "Lady of the Snows" (Canada) gave a representative. "I called my chiefs to council, In the din of a troubled year, For the sake of a sign ye would not see And a word ye would not hear. This is our message and answer This is the path we chose, For we be also a people, Said our Lady of the Snows."

STATE ADMINISTRATOR
Gives Latest Orders About Sale of Foods

Following are the latest rulings from the office of State Food Administrator, B. Beacham:

Dealers in Poultry and Eggs
Dealers in poultry and eggs shall not, between February 11 and April 30, 1918, purchase, ship, sell or negotiate the sale of any live or freshly killed hens or pullets provided, however, that this shall not prevent the purchase, shipment or sale between the days mentioned of hens or pullets which were either killed or shipped prior to February 11, 1918, to markets for sale as food. Provided further, that nothing in this rule shall prevent the purchase, shipment or sale of live hens or pullets for egg production purposes. This order becomes effective February 11.

Note:—The interpretation of this rule is that the restrictions are to enhance production during the period mentioned. No restrictions are placed on the sale of roosters or poultry other than hens or pullets as mentioned. The ruling becomes effective in all wholesale and retail transactions.

Peanut Flour
Peanut flour is hereby authorized as a substitute for wheat flour by bakers in making bread. This substitute is not an addition to the list of substitutes to be used by private homes or consumers.

Cheese
All cheese held in cold storage must be disposed of before the new production season. No dealers will be allowed to carry cheese into the new season, without special permission in writing from the Federal Food Administrator. This permission will only be granted on special cases after due consideration of the facts as presented to the Federal Food Administrator.

All dealers in green coffee must obtain a license under the United States Food Administration.

All dealers in groceries who sell hotels, restaurants, ships, or public institutions must secure a license under the United States Food Administration. Any retailer who sells in wholesale quantities any of the foods or commodities known as "licensed commodities" must have a license.

A sharp investigation of all business houses will shortly be made, and all dealers in food or "licensed commodities" will do well to ascertain whether or not they should have a license.

Applications for licenses should be made direct to the License Division, United States Food Administration, Washington, D. C.

County Food Administrators of Florida should see that the public is fully acquainted with the above rulings, and publication in the newspapers of Florida, of the above or any other rulings will be considered official notice to all dealers.

Pies and doughnuts may be reinstated on menus of wheatless days in hotels, restaurants and all public eating places, provided that such pies, doughnuts and other pastry contains no less than one-third wheat substitutes. Such foods may then be sold as "Victory Pies" or "Victory Doughnuts." Strict compliance with the new wheat saving regulations will not work a hardship on public eating places.

Braxton Beacham, Federal Food Administrator, Fla.

WHEATLESS AND MEATLESS DAYS

To eliminate any discrepancies in the observance of Wheatless and Meatless Days in the state of Florida and for the purpose of securing uniform observance of those days to correspond with the announcements of the Food Administration from Washington I hereby direct that the following days are to be observed in the state of Florida, this order superseding others of previous date:

- Monday—Wheatless Day
- Wednesday—Wheatless Day
- Saturday—Porkless Day

One Wheatless Meal each day of the week.

One Meatless Meal each day of the week.

Explanation:
On wheatless days and in wheatless meals use no crackers, pastry, macaroni, breakfast food or other cereal containing wheat flour in any form except the small amount that may be needed for thickening soups or gravies, or for a binder in corn bread and other cereal breads. If you bake bread at home, use other cereals than wheat. If you buy bread be sure to buy WAR BREAD.

Explanation:
Meatless means without any cattle, hog or sheep products. On other days use mutton and lamb in preference to beef or pork. Porkless means without pork, bacon, ham, lard or pork products fresh or preserved.

Moss is Valuable.
"Moss" is the popular name for several kinds of small flowerless plants which flourish in damp places. In mountainous and wet districts tracts of moss are of great service in retaining the water and preventing sudden floods.

PROTECT THE TOMATO CROP

Precautions Must Begin Before Planting and Continue All Season.

Knowledge of precautionary measures to avoid crop diseases is highly important to tomato growers. Tomatoes are subject to many diseases, any one of which may be sufficiently serious to ruin the entire crop, or at least to preclude the possibility of making a profit on the season's work. These few measures as set briefly by C. D. Sherbakoff of the University of Florida experiment station should be observed by all growers.

Use the best seed obtainable; free from disease, if possible.

Choose a seed-bed soil not previously used for growing tomatoes or related crops; or, better still, a soil sterilized with steam or formalin.

Spray plants in the seed bed and in the field with a good fungicide, such as bordeaux mixture. Apply thoroughly about every ten days. For spraying in the seed bed use the 3-4-50 bordeaux formula, increasing the strength to 4-4-50 or 5-5-50 for field spraying. The stronger field concentration is preferable only in controlling early blight or rust. Spraying in the field may not be necessary during periods of drouth.

Keep in check the various insects at work on the plants. This may be done by adding to every 50 gallons of bordeaux mixture a half pint of Black Leaf "40" and one pound of zinc arsenate or lead arsenate. If spraying is not practiced, dust the plants with a mixture of tobacco dust, zinc arsenite or lead arsenate, and flowers of sulphur.

Where plants are likely to suffer by drouth, some means for irrigating should be provided. If this is impracticable, plant and cultivate in the best way to conserve soil moisture.

On low lands the plants should be staked.

Nitrate of soda is preferable to other forms of nitrogen (ammonia) for fertilizing tomatoes. Avoid a heavy application of stable manure. Do not use potassium chlorida, nor manure or compost containing old tomato vines.

Keep the field in a sanitary condition. Examine it regularly and remove all rotted fruit and sickly plants and destroy them by burning or burying. If buried, they should be covered with a disinfectant, such as lime.

Practice crop rotation. The less often tomatoes follow tomatoes or related crops, the less likely is the crop to become diseased.

While the observance of these precautions will not guarantee a crop free from disease, it will go far in that direction. A knowledge of the diseases so that they can be identified at once will be of value. They are described in Florida Bulletin No. 139, which may be had free by addressing the Experiment Station, Gainesville.

Canada's Wealth in Maple Sap.
Canada has a vast reserve of sugar in the sap of the sugar maple.

CELERY LOWER

The trade in northern celery showed a little activity in the producing sections, storage stock is being cleaned up in the Rochester, N. Y. district, but is shipped nearly all on commission. Florida Golden celery was in heavy supply at shipping points and lower at $1.35 f. o. b. Sanford, in 10 inch crates, and at $1.00-1.25 f. o. b. Palmetto in 10 inch crates. Twelve inch crates sold at 25c above the smaller sizes. The Florida celery movement for the week was 191 cars, California shipped 172 cars and New York 46 cars. Sales to the jobbing trade in northern markets ruled lower this week at $2.25-3.15 in 12 inch crates, in the rough, with fair demand. California Golden Heart, declined 50c in leading markets, selling at $3.75-4.25 per crate in the rough. New York celery was weak, best available stock selling at $1.25-1.50 in New York, and $2.50-3.00 in various smaller eastern markets, with demand generally slow.

"TEMPTATION"

The Eternal Combat

A picture akin to a filmed production of the dramatic play, "Experience." It is built around the truth of eugenics, the right of a child to be well born. It is not similar to any of the so-called birth-control pictures, which have argued that question pro and con. It deals with the temptations which beset the path of a youth and a maiden, and is told in allegorical fashion, so that the beaties of life are shown and none of the evils are revealed.

Half Your Living Without Money Cost
The use of good common sense in our 1937 farm and garden operations, the good proportion of high prices to one can plant all or nearly all cotton, buy food and fruit at present prices from the market. Food and fruit is higher in proportion than are present cotton prices. To produce all possible food, fruit and garden products from one acre of land, it is essential to have a good piece of garden ground, richly planted, richly tended and not to pay money for your living. It will save you more money than you could ever expect to receive from cotton.

YOU COOK YOUR FOOD—WHY NOT YOUR TOBACCO?
YOU know what broiling does to steak, baking to a potato—and toasting to bread. In each case flavor is brought out by cooking—by "toasting." So you can imagine how toasting improves the flavor of the Bunley tobacco used in the Lucky Strike Cigarette.
