

SANFORD 4, ORLANDO 3

Tuesday's Base Ball Game Ended in Unpleasant Manner

The game Tuesday between Sanford and Orlando ended in a most disgraceful manner, and if the Orlando management does not take drastic measures to stop such conduct the game will receive a black eye from which it will never recover.

After a comedy of errors on the part of the Orlando team that allowed Sanford to score three runs and after Orlando had made three home runs the winning run for Sanford was made on a very close decision.

With men on bases and one out, Chittendon came in on a wild throw to the catcher and Umpire Chittendon called the runner safe. Beardall, catcher for Orlando, became enraged at the decision and accused the umpire of stealing the game. From then on the accounts vary as to the blows struck, but it is certain that Beardall struck the umpire with his mask, cutting his scalp. The fight was stopped at once and Beardall was placed under arrest, afterward being released on a cash bond. There will never be any more games played if the umpire can be jumped on at the pleasure of every player, and the fact that the umpires of the Sandspur League are doing their work from the laudable desire to have good ball is good and sufficient reason for every lover of clean ball to help protect them. The decisions of the umpire go regardless of whether the individual players like it or not, and the captain and manager of the team can settle any difficulty that may occur in regard to adverse decisions. Both Orlando and Sanford teams have a hard struggle each year to get donations from people who are sore on the quarrelsome disposition of some of the players and do not want the spirit of animus to prevail between the two cities. If we can't play a friendly series of games without having such disgraceful scenes enacted then it would be better to call the series off at once and forever taboo the subject of base ball. The feeling about ball is none too secure at the present and many people who desire a peaceful summer season are forced to stay away from the park because they do not care to attend a ball game and be compelled to witness a common street brawl. The management of both teams and the good people of both cities deplore the trouble of Tuesday and there is no doubt but what some strenuous measure will be adopted to prevent a recurrence of such child's play in the future.

Let us have good clean ball or else close up the ball park for all time. We are all friends and neighbors and the absurdity of these petty quarrels make us look very small in the eyes of visitors to the ball games who cannot understand how grown men can indulge in such horse play and so far forget their manhood as to imitate little boys on the back lot.

The Herald is glad to note that the other players did not take any part in the affair, and Beardall's own team mates condemn him hasty action in assaulting the umpire.

Later.—As we go to press we are informed by Manager Stevens that the game on Tuesday, which was contested on account of the decision of Umpire Chittendon, was, at a meeting of the directors in Orlando yesterday, allowed to stand. Orlando players will have to try some other method. Thus as it stands now, Orlando has won two games while Sanford has four, and still going.

The Same Sad Story

Considering the inclemency of the weather, a fairly representative crowd of Sanfordites journeyed to Orlando yesterday, in various ways, to witness the killing. The game, accompanied by a steady drizzle, was slow, although there were several brilliant plays. Pounds and Lee starring for Orlando. Sanford had no chance to star, as Lee had things his way from first to last, fanning nine men in seven innings. It is wonderful how much fuss Orlando can make when they have one or two runs to the good, and how quiet they can get when they get one or two to the bad, but then, well, that's human nature. Wallace went in in the sixth to bat for Chittendon, and, with a man on second, got a two-bagger which was just the proper caper. That boy Farmer was all to the good yesterday getting two 2-baggers and a single out of four times up. All right boys, keep it up and anything in Sanford is yours—even money.

Billy Beardall's Story

Billy Beardall was up Wednesday and said that the people who said he cursed the umpire certainly had him in wrong, as the only remark he made was that the umpire had robbed them of the game and that afterward the umpire came back at him and struck at him. That he only defended himself and struck Mr. Chittendon with his mask. Billy also stated that no one deplored the affair any more than he did as he considered Sanford his old home and he was genuinely sorry that he had allowed his anger to get the better of him. There is no doubt but what all parties concerned are sorry about the affair, but that does not change the act and the one at fault should be made to suffer.

Seventeen Years of Good Road Building in Orange County vice—as to the disposition of such funds that we deem we are able to pay toward building permanent brick roads. Just why this sense of paternalism is manifested in our behalf is unknown to the residents of this section.

From the canvass we have so far made, we find that not one man in fifty is adverse to the proposition of the road and bridge district, and it is believed that when the votes are counted the result will be as near unanimous in favor of, than any proposition that has ever been placed before our residents.

This proposition has evolved in Sanford for the purpose of giving the tax payers of the four precincts (which are virtually integral parts of Sanford) the full right to spend their road money in just the way they care to spend it. These precincts will show conclusively that they want good roads and when we have established the precedent then the other sections of the county will in all probability organize in a similar manner and begin to devise ways and means to relegate the sink holes, depressions and soft places in their roads to the bowwows and follow the example of the Special Road and Bridge District and construct roads of a permanent nature.

This is the second of a series of articles which will appear in this paper each issue until the day of election. Information relating to the proposition may be had of the official committee by application to its secretary.

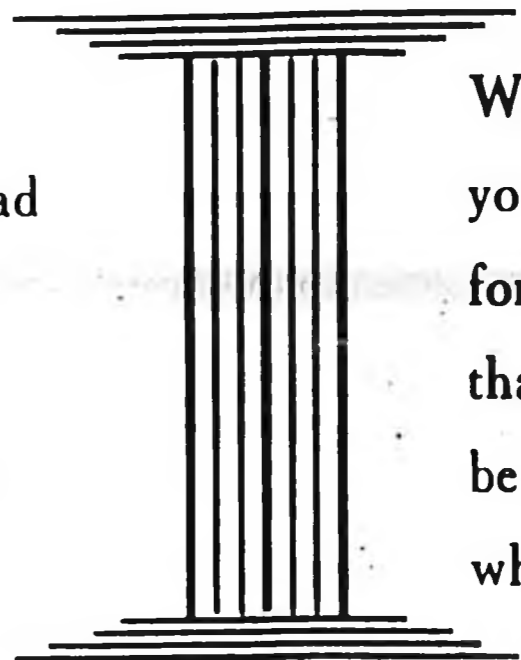

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A Chiel Is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em"—So Says Saunterer.

I wish a law could be passed prohibiting the barbaric custom of opening the caskets in public at church funerals. It is a relic of dark ages and has no place in a civilized community. It jars on the sensibility of every tender chord and is something that the churches and undertakers ought to combine and put to an end. In nine-tenths of the cases it is merely a pandering to a ghoulish curiosity. People who never spoke to the deceased in their life parade around the church, gaze at the form of the deceased, then go out of the presence of death, not to talk of the good deeds done in life, but to criticize the appearance of the poor clay that death has left for once at their mercy. Death is a sacred thing. If we are going on a long journey we do not make our adieus before a gaping crowd; we ought not to be expected to bid our dead a last good-bye while curious eyes fatten on our grief; we ought not to be expected to sit in the house of mourning while people we never speak to, who have no claim on our loved one, jostle each other in their desire to view the remains and then get together and gossip over what they saw or failed to see. We believe that a majority of the people detest the painful funeral scene as much as we do and would be more than glad to see them ended, but are afraid to break a "custom." But it is a duty the minister and undertaker owe to themselves and the long-suffering public to put a stop to the exhibition, and they will find the public only too glad to uphold them with a hearty amen.

It gives me a pain to go down the street and meeting one of these old fossils who have helped to hold Sanford back so long hear the same old story of hard times and the whole country going to the bowwows. I met one the other day and he spun me the same old yarn of how the Sanford people were trying to build a hotel and that they would never accomplish their object because they "just couldn't" and that was his only reason, and that is the only reason these old stage coaches give you about everything in the way of improvements. They do not want Sanford to grow because some other than themselves will profit by it, and in the early days when there was no such development these old codgers could make more money by trading on the disappointment of the other fellow, and every failure made old calamity howler richer. This old pessimistic spirit never built up any community and it does me good to see these old landmarks disappearing from this city and going where they belong. A few first class funerals in Sanford would be a great help to progress.

That good roads movement is sweeping the Sanford section and I understand that the election for bonds is bound to go for good roads and ere long the boats will be coming to our city laden with the brick and the good work will be started before another year. Sanford has already acquired name and fame for the splendid spirit of progression so plainly shown in every way. Our people believe in good roads and the best that can be built. We are thoroughly convinced that no other material than brick will stand the heavy traffic to which our roads are subjected. We must have brick and we will have it and the people are becoming thoroughly imbued with the idea that if Sanford does not get this great improvement now the time will never come again when our section will have the same opportunity. We are simply able to take care of ourselves without any good advice from Orlando or other seaports. We know what we want and how we want it and we will get just that thing. The county of Orange has been an experimental station for different kinds of roads for years, and the subject of material has been thoroughly demonstrated to our entire satisfaction. This might cost of brick over the clay roads that we have been April fooling ourselves with before is not enough to count when you come to figure the lasting qualities of the brick and the fact that our children will not only get the benefit of the roads but can help pay for them. The clay roads were good enough in their day, but the day has passed and for this part of Florida where lasting material cannot be found the brick has been proven the cheapest. The people who are the greatest movers in the campaign are the ones who will pay the bulk of the taxes and they are well satisfied to vote for the bonds.

Sanford Swells In Summer

Sweltering Solstice Suns Sanford's Salubrity

The word has gone out and the impression has become general that the summer months in Florida are times of dulness in commercial circles of whatever degree, but the facts as furnished by Sanford at this time does not bear out the statement. This community has just about completed its farm operations for the season 1911-1912 and the results show shipments amounting to 870,000 packages of vegetables which is equal to 2,610 solid car lots, the valuation being $1,540,000. This for one season.

But the city of Sanford is not satisfied to be the greatest vegetable producing center in all of Florida. It wants to do things in other lines and to show the faith the citizens of this place have in their own town the following lines of improvements are being planned, some of which are actually being worked out at this time, with a fair chance for the fulfilling of the entire schedule within a short period.

Good roads of brick	$200,000
Tourist hotel	125,000
Union depot	50,000
Post Office building	75,000
Business blocks	22,500
Residential buildings	37,500
Telephone building	10,000
Telephone improvements	4,200
Farm buildings	27,000
Total development work	$551,200

Over a half million dollars for improvements in and around Sanford should instill confidence in the summer situation and especially when it is known that seventy-five per cent of the money comes from the local residents.

The movement for the bonding of the Sanford section for $200,000 for the purpose of building brick roads is one of the greatest movements that has ever been launched here. From the interest manifested in the project there is little doubt but what the proposition will carry by a good big majority, as the committee on publicity in favor of this project has a thorough canvass of the situation and finds that every property holder is heartily co-operating with the movement and doing everything possible to make the project a success. It is proposed to build twenty-two miles of brick roads as trunk lines and place in a good condition all other roads in the district leading to the trunk lines, thus making all portions of the district accessible to the brick roads.

The movement for the erection of the tourist hotel is taking shape and our citizens have signified their approval of the proposition by subscribing liberally to the stock of the company. Plans and drafts, as well as crayon drawings of the buildings and grounds have been secured and are now on exhibition and it is believed that the new hotel will be an actuality by this time next year. This will bring Sanford more vividly to the notice of the traveling public than it has been before and will in many ways conduce to the success and prosperity of our community.

The new union station is taking shape and will be completed in ample time to take care of the heavy tourist travel usual to Sanford on account of its many lines of railways, steamboat lines and geographical location. The express company will also erect commodious buildings and sheds to care for their ever increasing business here. It may not be generally known, but the fact is there just the same, and that is that more vegetables are shipped from Sanford by express than leaves any other station in all of Florida.

The Commercial Club has received assurance from officials at Washington that we are not only to have an appropriation for a lot upon which will rest a government building, but we are to immediately have the building as well. Free delivery of the mails was recently established in Sanford, and our greatness is to be further recognized by the erection of a Federal building here commensurate with the volume of business handled through our postoffice, one which will be a credit to our city and its environs.

There is now one fine business house in process of construction and word comes that another commodious building will be erected in time to take care of its portion of the fall trade. The razing of the old hotel building will throw on the market some very fine business sites right in the heart of the business district. It is rumored that a magnificent grade will be erected on the present site of the hotel which will extend north from First street through to Commercial avenue and that there will be many nice office and store apartments on either side of the structure. This will be a feature of great importance to our community, for at this time it is almost impossible for a new comer who wants to enter the Sanford commercial arena to secure a building suitably located for commercial purposes.

In addition to the above there are now in process of construction several very fine residences and some less pretentious cottages, as well as several large rooming houses. Sanford has been handicapped from season to season on account of not having sufficient rooming accommodation to take care of the visitors who want to take their meals at the restaurants, but now we are in a fair way to circumvent this trouble and we are doing it by the erection of suitable buildings to take care of our guests.

The developments of the farm sections contiguous to Sanford goes merrily on and one can see in most any direction traveled signs of success and progress in the new residences, barns and out buildings being erected. There are also new farms now being cleared and gotten in shape for fall planting, all of which conduces to the general uplift of the community and has that tendency to instill confidence in the new corner that will make of him also an uplifting factor for Sanford.

The Sanford Telephone Company is now placing its wires underground by the installation of a system of the latest approved cables. In addition to the removal of a disfiguring element in the general contour of the perspective this improvement will also be one of great utility to the patrons of the company, in that it will subserve the service in such way as to give better satisfaction to those who support the company.

So it will be seen that now, while we have time to look about us, we are getting our house in shape to better entertain our visitors when they come down next fall and are not allowing the usual lethargies of summer to settle over our community.

THE COUNTRY WEEKLY

Joe Hugh Reese has written his salutatory whatever that means in last week's Kissimmee Gazette and says he is there because he is there and he is darned glad of it or words to that effect. In substance Jayhew echoes our sentiments and all the old boys who have hit the grit of the daily grind will eventually find that there is nothing quite so restful as the green shades of the country lanes where the perspective is enlarged by the milk maid behind the red sunset as she wends her way to the dewy meadow to extract the lacteal fluid from the brindle bovine. We all come to it and the boys who follow the lifeless round of the city daily never know the real joy of living. A cog in the great machine they follow the treadmill, unknown, unhonored and unsung and for the profit of their brain the mere pittance each week and at the end the pink alip.

Some of us have been there. Some are there yet but take it from one who knows that the only real place to get the best there is in life, the best there is in yourself and the best there is in friendship, take the little, old despised country weekly and stay by it.

Joe Hugh Reese is right. If he can forget past history long enough to get the wanderlust out of his system and be satisfied to lead the simple life for six months the daily papers will know him no more. If he can convince himself that he has arrived he will do more good for himself and for the world in general on the Kissimmee Gazette than he has ever accomplished before and if he doubts this statement we can show him facts and figures from all angles in the game for our career has taken us to Paradise and other places, the newspaper business being a thermos bottle that gives the hot or cold as the public chooses to hand it to you.

We welcome Joe to the ranks of weekly journals. We do not expect him to rejuvenate the game or make it any more metropolitan than it is now, and we neither expect him to come down to our level or get up higher to his.

We just accept you Joe, just as you are without one flea.

Welcome to the bucolic and gambol on the verdant green.

It is announced that there will be a republican county ticket at the fall election this year in the county of Osceola. It has been many a year since there has been a county ticket of that party put forth in south Florida; and it is being placed in rather a barren field for republicans—in the staunch old county of Osceola. Perhaps the St. Cloud colony is responsible for this political venture. Because the republicans constitute a majority of the population there they lose sight of the big world outside. They are like those who thought "the clatter of their little burg the murmur of the world." —Tampa Times.

IN THE ARMS OF MORPHEUS

Several times The Herald has mentioned in these columns the good results that would accrue to the city if a Business Man's League could be formed in this city with a nice club room where we could meet at least an hour each day and discuss among friends the vital questions that affect the welfare of our city and of ourselves. As yet there has not been a citizen of Sanford who has aroused himself sufficiently from his summer siesta to come around and discuss the question or to suggest that the idea might have some good points. The Herald has always advocated joining the Commercial Club and the editor has been an active member since its inception. The other one active member has been the secretary, T. K. Bates, who has given his time and money toward keeping it alive. But the trouble with the Commercial Club was that so many business men of the city called it a real estate man's organization and refused to affiliate with it because it did not altogether represent the other business organizations or at least that was the excuse. Now that The Herald has called for a Business Man's League that would more fully come up to the expectation of every merchant in Sanford and now that each business man in Sanford recognizes the need of such a "get-together" club and now that the time has come for the parting of the ways in this city when we must either get together on these great questions that effect our future the editor of The Herald wishes to ask each and every business man if he is satisfied to sleep on in fancied security and let things take their course or if he really wishes to build a bigger and better city and appoint the architects now through the formation of the business man's club or something of a similar nature or else everybody join the present Commercial Club which is composed of the grandest set of boosters that ever gave money toward developing the Sanford section.

We are indeed coming to the parting of the ways! The time was when a few men could meet on the street corner and discuss ways and means, get up an advertising fund and move the wheels of progress. Times were different then. Such means are no longer available and now that there is so much in store for our city and so much to be gained by concerted effort and so much to be lost if we do not stand united that it would seem mere fallacy on the part of the Herald to be obliged to call attention to the fact at all. Why should the business men of this city need to be driven into an organization by the lash of public criticism when they are aware of their great need and realize the importance of it! Why should a paper need to play alarm clock every week and arouse the people to their greatest need! Why can other even smaller towns and villages have commercial organizations that are alive to their opportunities and are heralding them to the world! Why are you asleep when your duty is so apparent and the crisis is at hand!

WITH THE PRESS GANG

The editor of the Herald spent several days of last week with the Florida Press Association at their annual meeting and together with the splendid hospitality of the people of Palatka and Crescent City and the Association local members the "press gang" had a most pleasant outing. The meeting was one of the most instructive that has ever been held and the most important question of cost was explained and thoroughly digested by the members.

These meetings are not only instructive, but they are most helpful in every way, bringing as they do the best people on earth together for the nonce where they can meet and get acquainted and study each other at close range. A better feeling will permeate the bosom of every editor who attended the meeting and exchanged views and friendly greetings. Freed from the care of the editorial sanctum these young men and old enjoyed themselves like a crowd of school boys and they can attack the daily routine now with more vigor after their vacation and relaxation.

Questions were solved at the meeting that are of vital interest to the craft in Florida and those who failed to attend lost the benefit of much practical experience. There is not a bunch of bigger hearted, broader minded men in the world today than the newspaper men and the country editors are the backbone of the fraternity. Among all the editors there was not a representative from the big dailies of either Tampa or Jacksonville, a cause for adverse criticism from visitors present. The impending convention at Baltimore was responsible for a falling off in the attendance, but these meetings should receive a much larger attendance every year and the Association should become stronger and better and become a power for the upbuilding of the press and allied trades. The meeting next year promises to be more largely attended and will be an exposition of the art preservative if the plans of Secretary Powell of the Tampa Board of Trade do not miscarry. At this meeting all of the printing machinery and printers' supplies will be on exhibition for prizes and will do much toward bringing the allied trades to a higher plane. A side trip to the Panama Canal is also promised and the "gang" is already salting away cigar money in anticipation.

But no matter how lavish the entertainment the members who attended the meeting at Palatka will always cherish the memory of the trip to Crescent City and the good times at the Putnam House.

May all of the same old gang and many new ones meet next year for the annual meeting. They come like a ray of sunshine to lighten the dark places in our none too cheerful sanctums. For the whole year while reading the exchanges we can feel that those same old boys are with us in spirit and that we are banded together in the common cause of uplifting and bettering the small world in which we live and in all the world there is not the same touch of sympathy or friendship as among the members of the Florida Press Association.

FLORIDA PRESS ASSOCIATION

Editors And Their Wives Enjoyed A Pleasant Outing

Having been watered and ice tead and dined and feted in royal style it would be base ingratitude in the editor of the Herald not to attempt to describe the trip to Palatka and the meeting of the Florida Press Association last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. However, it is not our privilege to take up the space in the Herald for a description of this event such as it deserves, such space being limited and to do the matter justice the good people of Palatka and Crescent City should have a page. The editors and their wives made the Putnam House headquarters and all the meetings were held in the spacious parlors of this fine old hostelry, a relic of bygone days but soon to be rehabilitated and made new.

The meeting started on Thursday night with the annual address of the President and response by the mayor of Palatka and the usual bouquets were passed. Some very choice musical numbers followed and a general love feast and introductions made every one feel at home in the Gem City. The next morning the whole bunch was routed out early and marching down to the dock by hands embarked on the steamer Crescent of the Beach & Miller line for the trip to Crescent City. The ladies were allowed the run of the upper deck and all the men were herded below where they listened to a most instructive talk on the cost system as expounded by Mr. Flagg of the United Typothetae of America and at present of Chicago. If any of the Press Gang that listened to this able exposition of the cost system fail to carry out the idea now they will have only themselves to blame for the hard times that are sure to overtake them under present conditions. After a most delightful ride through one of Nature's beauty spots the steamer reached Crescent City, and the party was met at the dock and given the glad hand by the mayor, board of trade, the fire department and police force and escorted up town to the club rooms of the Village Improvement Association, a name by the way that is well earned, for of all the improvement societies in Florida or any other state, the ladies of Crescent City have the world at their feet. Their spacious club house is in the center of the town and is owned by the society, being remodeled from a former residence and made into a most attractive place with plenty of room, and having a nice stage erected for entertainment purposes. The ladies met the delegation at the entrance to the club house and upon the wide porches serve cool frappe to the thirsty, after which the call for luncheon invited them to the inside, where a long table stretched the entire length of the rooms fairly groaning beneath the burden of good things to eat. There was fried chicken and oceans of it, cold ham, devilled eggs, baked beans, sliced tomatoes with salad dressing and other delicacies, and then ice cream and cake and for the men cigars. Beautiful girls, such as only Crescent City can boast waited on the tables and the guests wanted for nothing. After the feast, speeches followed by the mayor, President Mayes, members of the board of trade and several others and then the visitors were taken in automobiles over the city and of all the beautiful little cities in the great state of Florida, Crescent City is certainly one of the finest. Perched upon a high hill, between two beautiful lakes and fanned from the breezes of both, shaded with magnificent oaks and garnished with the orange groves Crescent City lies waiting for the magic hand of the promoter to make it one of the greatest tourist resorts of the state. Our hosts informed us that Crescent City shipped more oranges than any other one point in the state, and one could easily believe it from a ride over the city. Reluctantly tearing ourselves away from these good people who wanted the crowd to stay for another lunch the return trip was taken up for Palatka. The men were driven below decks again for a boatload of Crescent City hours had followed our steamer and our wives were afraid these woodland nymphs would cause some of the men to jump overboard. We were regaled on the return trip by a good talk on advertising, by Clyde Glenn of the Glenn-Reagin Co., of Tampa and Palatka was finally reached. Here the men were obliged to go into executive session and were kept busy until the time for the banquet arrived, and despite the fact that every one had eaten about five times that day they all filed in and took their places around the festal board as though they meant it.

Miss Julia V. Anson, who runs a printing establishment in Detroit, Mich. was a caller at the Herald office to-day. She was highly pleased with Sanford and The Herald's "Print shop" and volunteered the information that it was the best of its size in the state.

The funds will be deposited with a Board of Bond Trustees whose function will be to honor such drafts as are made upon it by the County Commissioners.

The proposed district now has an income of $13,000 per annum. The expense of the Bond issue will be an interest account of $10,000 and an amount equal to $5,000 which will be passed each year to the sinking fund, with which to pay off the principle of the Bonds. We are now paying eight mills on the dollar to the General Road fund. This amount will be enhanced by possibly five mills making the total assessment 13 mills on the dollar for road purposes in this district and this amount will bring in $21,320 per annum leaving $6,320 per annum to be used in taking care of present roads and construction laterals to connect with the Trunk Lines of Brick. The amount of $5,000 placed in the sinking fund will also bring in its earnings in the way of interest. If it is paid on the original each year, it will stop that amount from drawing interest and if it is to be kept interest until all the bonds become due, it will in the mean time be invested in securities or placed where it will draw, at least, an amount equal to the amount of interest that is being on the original bonds by the tax payers. The funds will be collected in the same manner as all county taxes are paid at this time.

As the development of the roads in the district progresses and things are gotten in shape, the County Commissioners have the power to increase the millage in such proportions as will only keep sufficient funds on hand to defray the actual expenses of the District, and it is believed that with the expenditure of the $6,320 per annum over and above the amount needed to take care of the bonds, the District will in a few years have one of the finest systems of roads in any section of the same sized area in the entire South.

The Executive Committee is desirous of having every voter in the District thoroughly understand the proposition. A voter must be registered in the usual way and have his poll tax paid up to date, and at the same time be a freeholder in his own name and right. We are gathering all information possible relative to the present issue and the durability of brick as a permanent road building material. We will be glad to answer any questions relating to the situation and will be pleased to receive suggestions from any one that will in any way further the interests of the Brick Road movement.

This is the third article relating to this proposition, issued by the Executive Committee. Further information may be had by personal visit to the office of the Committee in the Ensminger Building or by letter.

President Mayes occupied the seat of honor at the head of the table, flanked by Tom Appleyard and Mrs. Willie Powell. The menu was an epicure's dream and interspersed with the many courses were flashes of wit from the speakers, who were called upon from time to time by Toastmaster Appleyard. It was midnight before the crowd started to leave and the next morning a business meeting, election of officers, auto rides around the city and over to Hastings and San Mateo occupied the time. Good byes were said and new friends that had become personal ones during the short time made their adieus and farewells to the good people of Palatka and another meeting of the "press gang" was recorded in the memory of the members—memory that will be cherished for the many pleasant associations, generous treatment and good time generally. We hope to meet again next year and take the trip to the Panama Canal and that meeting promises to make history among the pencil pushers of Florida.

Defender of Florida Comes To Rescue of Sanford

Birmingham, Alabama, June 3, 1912 (To the Florida Grower)—I usually read all the articles in the Weekly Grower and have at various times noticed things, to which I should like to have taken exception, but as magazines and newspapers cannot be run to please all people, I refrain from voicing my just criticism.

However, the number of May 25th, contains such flagrant misrepresentations that I feel impelled to call attention to a few. On page 8 there is an article entitled "Florida and Florida Soils," which, while it does not wilfully misrepresents, "damns with faint praise" the very locality that should be a headliner. In mentioning truck gardens the writer of the article mentions Orlando, Oakland and several other towns as being truck-growing centers. Then he mentions Sanford along with Pine Castle. Now, what I wish to call attention to is, that Sanford alone raises and ships more truck from its gardens than all the rest of Orange county put together. One single acre in Sanford produced seventy tons of vegetables in nine months, for which the grower received $4,064, and another grower received $32,000 for his crop of lettuce and cucumbers off of 22 acres, still leaving him six months to raise other crops on the same land. "I have been on land for which the present owner paid $1,750 per acre. This is not city property, but farm land, and the purchase was made by a native Floridian, who has been producing crops on his land ever since he bought it, and he made a good investment, too. Yet Sanford is practically ignored by the men who write for the papers.

Another piece of injustice to Sanford is an inquiry from Delphos, Ohio, in regard to flowing wells. In describing the flowing well district the Grower writer says: "It follows the ridge (backbone of the state) mostly along the East Coast and turns west around Orlando to as far as near Tampa," etc. This is not an exact literal quotation, but it gives the context. Now, what would have been to the point, would have been something including Sanford, the great flowing well district Sanford has nearly four thousand flowing wells, and, Mr. Grower, are there that many flowing wells in the state of Florida outside of the Sanford district? Some representatives of the Grower must surely have been in Sanford. Yet Sanford is continually ignored, where if equal justice were done, Sanford would often be mentioned, because it is undoubtedly the greatest trucking center in Florida, and in fact there is no other locality in the whole south that can compare with Sanford in the diversity of winter vegetables, and money-making crops. Moreover, Sanford is one of the most hustling little cities anywhere in the south, and it can be compared only to Fort Myers and Miami in that respect, with due respect to all the other small cities in Florida, Bradentown and its environs following closely.

No; I am not a Sanfordite! I am not even a Floridian, though I have traveled all over Florida, having used ten thousand miles of mileage, not counting the hundreds of miles made by boats and automobiles and teams. I spent the better part of four years in Florida, and having spent days and weeks in the groves and gardens in all seasons of the year, so I am not a car-window expert. I have done scarcely anything else but travel the past fifteen years, and my travels covered everything practically in all the cities and country from the Canada line to the Gulf, and from the Mississippi River to the Atlantic. But in all that vast territory there is no place that can be compared to the state of Florida. Its climate is a wonderful revelation and its soil, in places, cannot be surpassed or even equaled in fertility and productiveness.

Florida is the most misrepresented and abused of all the states, yet it has most of the advantages of all the other states, and scarcely any of their disadvantages. The state is maligned from within and from without. Section is arraigned against section, and city against city. That sectionalism will soon die out, however, as the state is rapidly being populated by people from the north, who bring their schools and ideas of thrift with them, and the Florida progressive soon catches the contagion and becomes a booster. With such up-to-date and thriving towns as Miami, Sanford, Fort Myers, Manatee, (Bradentown), Lakeland, Kissimmee, Fort Pierce and Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach, Arcadia, Ocala, and even stately old St. Augustine, the trend is upward and onward, and with the dozens of smaller towns, all boosting themselves individually and all the state as a whole, Florida will soon double in population and wealth. The good part of the matter is that most of the people who are filling up Florida are the cream of the country, going to Florida first to spend a few months in Florida for the winter, then liking it so well that they become permanent residents.

Of all the states in these United States, I do not believe that any other state offers half the opportunities offered by Florida. There are hundreds of things, besides tilling the soil, that can be done with profit and satisfaction by any man with a little money and a whole lot of gumption. It would take a whole issue of the Grower to tell of the enterprises that Florida needs and will eventually have. I have heard it said that Florida was the state of lost opportunities. It is rather the State of wasted opportunities, but I will henceforth call it the State of Dormant Opportunities.

J. W. GOSSMAN.

Note: The Grower has never done any injustice to Sanford. The Stroller has written account of two different traps to Sanford, and has been there many times. The article you criticized was written by an Orange county man. You find no fault with the correctness of our answer to the question regarding flowing wells, except to say that we should have specially mentioned Sanford. We are not here to boom any town, but to tell the truth about all in answer to questions asked. If the man had wanted to know about Sanford he would probably have asked, and we would have answered.

New Hotel at Winter Park. Ground was broken yesterday and a large force of men began work on the new Seminole hotel of Winter Park, which is to be built and completed for the winter season of the current year.

The new structure will contain 150 rooms and will be one of the most complete and attractive tourist hotels in the state. Back of the new enterprise are Mr. R. P. Foley, proprietor of the Belvidere hotel, of Charlevoix, Michigan, as president; Mr. W. L. Osborne, vice-president; and Mr. W. R. O'Neal, secretary and treasurer.

The new Seminole will be located on a site which was selected thirty years ago by Messrs. Chapman and Chase, the Winter Park pioneers, who made the original plat of the town. This site is on the northwest side of Lake Oseola, facing both arms of the lake.

The structure will be four stories high and 180 feet long, built of brick and concrete, and will be elegant in appointment. The building will face east and west, and every room will be open from the outside. There will be a vast sun parlor and an elaborate dining room.—Reporter-Star.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads 'round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Various Sources

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

The Cuban government expresses confidence that the insurrection is fast approaching collapse, and now is considering withdrawing a portion of the regular troops, thus in spite of the fact that Col. Piedra, who returned from Oriente yesterday reported 2,000 insurgents in arms. Other estimates place the rebel strength as high as 4,000.

All members of the Florida delegation reported well and in the best of spirits when seen at their hotel here late this afternoon. Tomorrow will be a big day for everybody. While there is a big fight on by friends of the various candidates trying to pull everything their way there seems to be no doubt that the Floridians will stand solidly for Underwood as long as there is a chance for him to win.

The issue upon which Col. Roosevelt is to make his campaign for the presidency was indicated by him today. He purposes to base his appeal upon the assertion that what he has termed the "big sinister influences" have determined to eliminate him from public life because he is the one man whom they really fear. To accomplish this purpose he believes, they are willing to take up any man whom they think can win the presidency over him.

The Pathfinder of Washington, D. C., remarks that if the cold weather up north keeps on people will soon be going to Florida for the summer. The fact is that summer has not yet arrived in the north. A severe frost in Western New York and Pennsylvania did many thousands of dollars' worth of damage to vegetable crops in Aroostook county, Maine, snow fell week before last, while the temperature was near freezing, destroying hundreds of acres of the potatoes which are the main crop of that county.

Celery Cures Rheumatism

Celery is the latest cure for rheumatism. It is asserted that the disease is impossible if the vegetable be eaten freely. The fact that it is so generally put on the table raw prevents its therapeutic powers from being known. The celery should be cut into bits, boiled in water until hot and the water drunk by the patient. Put new milk, with a little flour and nutmeg into a saucepan with the boiled celery, serve warm with pieces of toast, eat it with potatoes and the painful ailment will soon yield. Such is the declaration of a physician who has again and again tried the experiment with uniform success. Manatee Record.

Bledsoe Hixon

A quiet wedding that came as a surprise to their many friends was that of Miss Eva Bledsoe and Mr. Richard Hixon, that occurred at Enterprise on Tuesday evening. With a party of friends the young couple had been at the beach for several days and on the return trip they decided to surprise their friends by getting married. Rev. Adams of Enterprise performed the ceremony and on the arrival at Sanford their parents and friends were apprised of the event and the young couple as promptly forgiven.

Mr. and Mrs. Hixon are residents of the Sanford section and have lived on Celery avenue for several years, where their friendship ripened into love and the marriage at Enterprise was the result. They are receiving the congratulations of their friends this week, in which the Herald joins. May they continue to live on Celery avenue forever and may the price of celery be $3 per crate next year just for their sake.

NEW DEPOT PROGRESSING

Work is Being Rushed and Structure is Assuming Shape

The busiest part of Sanford right now is in the vicinity of the new depot on Ninth street. Not only are the foundations up for this magnificent structure but on all sides there are new buildings going up and a small army of workmen are encamped near in tents and the place looks like a siege was in progress. This section of Sanford will soon assume an altogether different shape, and in a few years there will be a small city built within the environs of the station. While the work on the new depot is naturally slow at first on account of delay in materials and the making of new side tracks for better transportation facilities the contractors are hoping to hit their stride this week and the work will be pushed to completion very rapidly. In the immediate vicinity of the depot there are numerous buildings being erected, being small cottages and one hotel building. While not in the limits of the better class of buildings these should be built with some reference to the rapid growth of the city that way and the aim of the builders should be to improve the property as much as possible and the city should not be confronted with a row of shabby buildings when the new depot is ready. There will be thousands of visitors this winter passing through Sanford who will never see any part of the city proper but the depot quarter, and if the buildings are erected for revenue only the tourists will have anything but a good impression of our city. Naturally this quick growth is of the mushroom type, and for the most part is only temporary, but the city council having jurisdiction over this part of the city should see that the buildings are half way commensurate with the beautiful new building that will be our depot for all time to come.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Almost Drowned

Last Tuesday as Mrs. Alex. Vaughn and daughter, Abbie, were driving to this city from Geneva with a mule team and wagon the embankment leading to the drawbridge gave way with them and they were precipitated into the river, together with the negro driver of the team. Fortunately all of them could swim and they were able to gain the bank and crawl out to safety, but all their clothes and trunk were lost. Mrs. Vaughn and daughter were on their way to Sanford to take the train to Tallahassee, where Mrs. Vaughn's mother had just died and where they expected to attend the funeral. The mules were drowned and the contents of the wagon a total loss. Mrs. Vaughn being forced to walk several miles back to the nearest habitation, the accident happening on the Geneva side of the river where there are no houses for many miles.

Their escape from death was miraculous as the team and wagon rushed down the steep embankment and into the water almost before the occupants were aware of their danger.

The heavy rains of the past month have loosened up the filling at the approaches to the drawbridge, and being very narrow this causeway is rather dangerous. The county is now contemplating widening this fill and such accidents will then be impossible. Mrs. Vaughn's many friends will sympathize with her and are glad to know that she escaped from what would seem at first to be certain death.

NO CONVENTION NEWS

Names of Candidates Placed in Order Today

BRYAN STILL DOMINANT FACTOR

Wilson, Clark, Underwood And Harman Are The Ratio Of Present Standing

Baltimore, Md., June 28.—(2:20 a. m.)—At an early hour this morning the national convention was in session endeavoring to reach a first ballot on the fight to nominate a candidate.

The names of Oscar W. Underwood, Champ Clark and Simeon E. Baldwin were before the convention at that time.

At 9:10 New Jersey was recognized to nominate Woodrow Wilson and a wild demonstration began. Indications were at that time that a first ballot would not be reached before daylight.

Despite the heat and the length of the session the galleries were still crowded with men and women.

Both the Underwood and Clark nominations called out prolonged demonstrations among their enthusiastic followers.

A fight by William Jennings Bryan "to rid the Democratic party of the Ryan, Belmont and Morgan interests," delayed the beginning of nominating speeches at night from 8 o'clock until nearly 11. Mr. Bryan at first proposed by resolution to throw Thomas F. Ryan, of the Virginia delegation, and August Belmont, of the New York delegation, out of the convention, but he abandoned this plan in the face of a storm of protest from those states. His modified resolution declaring against any candidate under the influence of those interests carried overwhelmingly.

W. J. Bryan easily carried the Democratic convention into a declaration of progressive unbelief in political expediency introduced by him was passed by a two-thirds majority, and declared the convention opposed to the nomination of any candidate for president under obligation to J. P. Morgan, Thomas F. Ryan, August Belmont, or any "privilege seeking class."

The convention was thrown into a furor by the proposition which, as originally introduced, called for the withdrawal of Ryan and Belmont, delegates from Virginia and New York respectively. This part of the resolution was presented as invading the rights of sovereign states and when its full import became known boos and cat calls, jeers and hisses were mingled with hand-clapping, cheers and stamping of feet in the galleries and on the floors.

Representative H. D. Flood, of Virginia, dramatically characterized the proposition as insolent and said it came from the "only man who wished to destroy the Democratic party."

Auction Bridge

Mrs. B. F. Whitner was the pleasing hostess at the auction bridge Monday afternoon. The usual two tables of cards were played and much enjoyed. Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin made the high score and won an Irish crochet neck bow and belt buckle. Mrs. O. W. Brady won an Irish crochet hat pin for making the low score. After the game was over a most appetizing yellow tomato salad was served with sandwiches, olives and iced coffee. Mrs. Whitner's guests were Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. S. O. Chase, Mrs. O. W. Brady, Mrs. Frank Gonzales, Mrs. B. W. Herndon, Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Mrs. Frank Miller.

Postal Reduces Rates

The Postal Telegraph Company has notified Mr. E. C. Moore, its local manager that effective July 1st telegraph rates from Sanford, Fla., to a number of points will be reduced from forty cents for ten words to thirty cents. The rates for all words in excess of ten has been reduced from three to two cents.

These rates cover a number of the principal cities of Florida and Georgia.

Mrs. H. B. Connelly and daughter, Miss Linda, left Wednesday night for Washington, D. C., where they will visit relatives before joining Mrs. A. P. Connelly and the boys at Restortown, in the mountains of Virginia for the summer. They will also visit New York and other eastern cities before returning home.

STRANGER DIES IN SANFORD

Unknown Man Passes Away In Lodging House Wednesday

An unknown will be interred in an unknown's grave at Lakeview today unless some of his relatives come forward to obtain the body. For several days a man about five feet tall, bald headed, stubby beard and Jewish cast of features was noticed about the depot. At first he appeared to be waiting for a train or for some of his relatives. Being approached on Wednesday by Marshal Tillis he said he was very ill and wanted a doctor. Marshal Tillis summoned City Physician Robson, who removed the man to the DeMont building and engaged a room for him, leaving medicine for him. Late yesterday evening the stranger must have suffered another attack, and getting as far as the toilet expired there, being found by one of the lodgers.

All marks of identification seemed to have been eradicated from his person and not a scratch of a pen could be found to give any clue to his identity other than the fact that he told Dr. Robson that his name was Peter Stroger. A small booklet in his pocket bore the name of Wauchulla and gave rise to the rumor that he may have been in that city and the postmaster was wired for further information. Up to today there has been no identification of the dead man and his name and former history will be buried with him in Lakeview cemetery.

Shot by Assassin

Ocala, Fla., June 27. H. J. Proctor, a merchant of Ft. McCoy, a small town near the Oklawaha river, about twenty miles from here, was murdered at his home by an unknown assassin.

The assassin fired at Mr. Proctor as the latter was seated by an open window. The community is very much excited over the affair. Proctor was a young married man of excellent character.

EDWARDS HAS ACCIDENT

Crack Second Baseman Fractures His Ankle in Game

Sanford team will be crippled for today's game and for the big series on the Fourth unless new men can get here in time to fill in. Our team suffered a loss yesterday when Edwards, the crack second sacker fractured a bone in his ankle, sliding into a base feet foremost. The accident put a damper on the rest of the game and the fans were very blue as the games on the Fourth are looming up big at this particular moment and the enrapturing presence of Edwards and his spectacular playing will be missed. Meantime Edwards is resting easing at his room in the Herald building and the enforced stay indoors does not fit with his naturally buoyant nature. The physicians think he will be out of the game for the rest of the season and will not offer any hope of his getting back this year. The fracture is just severe enough to keep him from using the limb for several weeks and will be tender for several months, although his many friends are hoping he will get about in a few days.
