COMMISSION GOVERNMENT PROVES GOOD

HAS PASSED EXPERIMENTAL STAGE AND IS NOW FACT INSTEAD OF A THEORY

The following paper on Commission Government prepared by a Sanford lady for the Woman's Club is reproduced below:

It is safe to assert that the commission form of government has passed the experimental stage, and may be regarded as a substantial improvement in the forms of administration, we are told, if one may judge from its adoption by three hundred cities in the United States.

Waste and extravagance, it is declared, have been replaced by care and economy; financial methods have been wonderfully improved; property and life have been safeguarded; laws have been enforced; streets cleaned and paved; health and sanitation promoted; better lighting and water furnished more cheaply.

By the commission form of government officials are chosen directly, free from outside considerations. It organizes the administration simply, making the means by which the city affairs are made subject at any time to the will of the voters, when expressed clearly after due deliberation. Because there are few to be elected and public attention is focussed upon these few, the selection of competent officials is rendered comparatively easy. All the voters of the city nominate and elect all of the governing body, thus presumably insuring the choice of more capable men—state and national politics not being allowed to interfere with local issues.

"People choose their candidates directly. As a rule the names of no political party is allowed on election ballots.

"A commission of five or three is given authority to pass ordinances—subject to publicity checks and constitutional limitations—to appoint officials and enforce ordinances."

It is said that this exercise of legislative and executive power is the very essence of the commission form.

Officials are held constantly responsible to the people by virtue of the fact that they are few in number, that each is head of a department and known as such to his fellow citizens. The best charters provide fully for publicity of the acts of the commissioners. In most instances, it is said, ordinances are subject to a vote of approval under the referendum, or initiative, and officials themselves may be removed by the recall. It is claimed that the men chosen under this form of government are of a higher type, on the whole, than under the aldermanic system.

Notable concrete examples of effective city government may be found in Galveston, Texas, and Des Moines, Iowa.

In an excellent article by Charles Edward Russell in Everybody's Magazine we are told that in 1900 Galveston, Texas, was almost destroyed by a flood. Chaotic conditions followed. With characteristic courage the people undertook to rebuild their city. In a situation so abnormal some latitude of authority had to be granted. The city council ere long began to carry things with a high hand. As a consequence graft was in evidence. At last the citizens understood that if the new Galveston was to be anything like their desire, they must have a form of government strong enough to cope with the situation, some form of dictatorship—if necessary an arbitrary power—but in any case a power strong and prompt. Therefore they got from the legislature a charter for a form of government quite new to American soil, as near a dictatorship as is conceivable under our general polity.

The city council was abolished. All power and authority were vested in five commissioners almost autocratic and irresponsible. They were at once legislative, executive, and all other branches of municipal government. Five men were hired to manage the city as they might be hired to manage a great factory. The people hired them, turned over the whole management to them, and if, at the end of a commissioner's term he was unsatisfactory they could "turn the rascal out!" Results: The five commissioners seemed to develop the sense of service. It was a new departure in the history of American municipalities. There followed a great increase in efficiency, and assuredly a great decrease in official dishonesty. In one year of this novel experiment notable economies had been made. The city had never been so well governed; the city had never been so safe; the city had never looked so well. In five years the normal expenses of the city government had been reduced nearly one-third. The city had saved one million dollars! Both the tax rate and the city debt had been reduced, a new system of sewers had been installed, a new and efficient Health Department had been created; the area of paved streets had been greatly extended; there had been no speculation, no fraud, no boss system, and in every way Galveston had become a better city to live in.

In Des Moines the general disgust with the old method of government was so great that when the question of adopting the new was being agitated, the streets bearing only these words: "IT CAN'T BE ANY WORSE THAN THIS!" and all men knew what was meant.

We are told that the old city government had left affairs in such a tangle that an issue of $150,000 of bonds to provide for the floating indebtedness was necessarily the first step.

PRICES DOWN ANOTHER SALE IS PREDICTION OF SANFORD ALL SOURCES REAL ESTATE

FROM EVERY PART OF U. S. COMES WORD OF DROP IN PRICES OF ALL GOODS

Washington, Sept. 2.—From every part of the United States the evidence is pouring in that the cost of necessities has reached its high limit and that from now on the decline is to be expected.

All authorities, save a few doubtful publicists of Wall street are agreed that the end is in sight. A gradual return of normal is hoped for, since anything abrupt would carry the menace of panic. Prices may not return to where they were five years ago, but the disheartening upward trend is done with, experts say.

Credit for bringing about this hopeful condition is widely distributed. Official agitation has had much to do with the average buyer at retail. The public's disposition to combat high prices and not to be intimidated by threats of further increases has had its sure effect. And the fight is not finished!

"The reports we receive from all parts of the country are that prices are beginning to decline," said Attorney General Palmer. "Probably the decline is not sufficient yet to be appreciable to the average consumer, but I believe it soon will be."

Here are some of the signs of marked improvement:

Chicago reports a drop in wholesale prices which began with pork, affected other meats and spread to grains, vegetables and fruits.

Shoe manufacturers announce that the prices of shoes will not advance and that by 1920 or earlier the decline will begin.

Wholesale dealers in shoes and clothing in New York are cooperating with the fair price committee to reduce to its minimum the margin of profit on these necessities.

Holdings of dry goods are being released and wholesale prices are already affected.

Pig iron, the price of which is especially significant is $4.80 cheaper per ton than a year ago.

Investigation everywhere has frightened speculators, and hoarding on a large scale has sharply fallen off.

The turn of affairs abroad, where declines in prices are already well established will have an increasing effect on American markets.

The Guaranty Trust Company of New York issues a statement in which it says:

"Accumulated evidence gathered by competent observers leaves now little room for doubt that the lowest point in the economic state of the world was passed some time back and that whatever may be the temper of the present moment, from this time forth progress must ever be more rapid toward stability and prosperity."

It must be remembered that high prices mean a bull market in stocks and that a bull market means rich pickings for speculators. Therefore Wall street is extremely reluctant to admit that the turning point has been reached. Yet the curve of stock market averages, including railroads and the principal industries, shows the high water mark was touched in July and that there has been a steady falling off since.

Attorney General Palmer recognizes the importance of the public state of mind in relation to the cost of living. He warns against the alarmist propaganda intended to keep prices up by encouraging purchases at this time for future needs.

Never were caution and frugality more necessary than today.

Economists are united in the opinion that much depends on what the people at large feel and do. Curtailment of luxuries, a return to the spirit of conservation that prevailed during the war, will encourage the price decline.

R. S. French, representing the International Apple Shippers' Association, while not opposed to the suggested limit of twelve months for storage of foodstuffs said production would be stifled if fruits and vegetables could not be returned to storage if they became a drug on the market.

The testimony regarding profiteering and hoarding in many of the basic industries was given to the house appropriations committee, which was considering appropriations for the Federal trade commission.

Commissioners Wm. B. Colver and Victor Murdock were witnesses. Mr. Colver told of numerous re-sales of the 1919 vegetable pack which is not yet complete and said many of these were made for speculative purposes. He suggested that this condition be corrected by enactment of appropriate legislation.

A WORD TO THE WISE

From the Home Service Section of the Red Cross

The article in last week's Herald concerning War Risk insurance should be of very great interest to every returned soldier. "I'm hanging to my war insurance," said a returned soldier the other day. "Two reasons—I can't get any other for a little money, and as a matter of fact, I can't get any other at all. Can't stand the physical examination now."

The soldier now discharged and back at his old work in civil life showed plainly that he had the idea. War insurance is good business. It is a good investment. It is the cheapest insurance that ever was. And the discharged soldier has five years in which to convert it into any one or half a dozen or more different types.

There is no hurry—just keep up the payments and consult the nearest Red Cross Chapter or Branch. There you can learn all about war risk insurance and its conversion into the best possible investment of civil life.

The Kissimmee Valley Gazette claims the largest fig tree in the state is growing in the yard of J. McPhatter. This tree is ten years old and measures nearly thirty-five feet in height and forty feet in breadth. The matured crop of fruit this year measured 250 quarts.

LAKE MONROE

The opening exercises of the Lake Monroe school were held Monday morning, and the outlook for a more successful term of school has never been better. Mr. and Mrs. Tilden Jacobs, who taught here last year are employed again, assisted by Miss Lottie Mathers of Maitland. Mr. Jacobs will have charge of the higher grades, Miss Mathers the intermediate and Mrs. Jacobs will be primary teacher. All of these teachers are highly efficient and fully qualified to fill their positions. By 9 o'clock the many little boys and girls books under arm and with beaming countenances wended their way, not to the humble little school by the roadside as of old, but all eagerly directed their footsteps across the street to the handsome new $10,000 edifice, which only last school term was reared so substantially and fashioned so carefully for Monroe's most splendid product, the little children of our community. Surely no school district of this size in Florida can boast of such a handsome school building and the patriotic citizens of Lake Monroe are to be congratulated upon their enterprise. Some of those whom we were pleased to see at our opening exercises Monday were Mr. J. D. Jenkins and Rev. George Hyman of the Baptist church of Sanford. Messrs. Albert Hawkins and Jim Johnson, trustees were also present and made nice talks to the children. Mr. Johnson will soon resign the position as trustee and leave for Cincinnati, Ohio, where he will enter a Methodist Seminary. He expressed his regret at leaving Monroe and spoke of his affection for the people of his old home. Mr. Jenkins, who was called to the floor stated among his remarks that the people of this school district were paying more taxes than any other district in Florida, and were doing so very cheerfully and without a murmur. This speaks well for Monroe as the people of this school are willing to pay for it. Mr. Jenkins also entertained the children by comparing the old fashioned school methods of his day to the greater opportunities and better advantages of the present time. Rev. George Hyman, who has returned from a stay of thirteen months in France where he spoke to the soldiers told the children of this and chose for his subject a quotation from Shakespeare, "Be true to thyself and it will follow as the day follows the night thou will be true to all men." Under this heading he pointed out in a very beautiful but simple manner, so that the smallest child could grasp his meaning the idea of being true to the body, mind, heart and soul. He also gave to the children of each classroom a French coin. Mrs. Jacobs pointed out a pretty story to emphasize the importance of education and Mr. Jacobs made a few remarks and reminded them of the fundamental principles of school life to study hard and keep good order. After the calling of the roll and the classification of the grades the singing of the Star Spangled Banner closed the exercises. It is to be hoped that the parents and patrons of the school will cooperate with the children and teachers in their work this year and keep our school, as it already is, upon a high standard and one of the best in the state.

In Tailor-Made Clothes

IT is getting the time of the year that you need a new suit. Why not have it tailor-made. It costs no more, and besides you can have your suit made up like you want it.

You can find your choice here; and every sample is worthy to be chosen; beautiful, all-wool fabrics, expert workmanship, authentic style.

You're not satisfied unless you have style in your clothes; and you're entirely right. Then you want quality; for without quality in materials and make-up, the best of style will not last.

Tailor-made clothes fit you better, wear better, look better. Nothing else can give the satisfaction, and the wear you are so fully entitled to as a tailor-made suit.

Your figure may be a little different from the regular man, and that is where you get more satisfaction out of tailor-made clothes. Have them made to fit you, and you will be better satisfied than to wear clothes that are made to fit the regular man.

We would be glad to have you call at our store and see what we have, whether you have bought your Fall suit or not, we want to show you our line of woollens. And we want to get acquainted with you.

MIAMI OPEN SHOP CITY

Strike In Building Trades Brings On Condition

Miami, Sept. 2.—Announcement by local business men and building supply dealers that they favored making Miami an "open shop" town; was the startling development today in the local labor situation. Organized labor is standing pat and Organizer Pete Smith, Southern representative of the American Federation of Labor has been summoned to Miami.

Business men, contractors and supply dealers in mass meeting today organized a body to be known as the Greater Miami Association and declared for an "open shop" town, with no change in existing wage scale. It is reported that the membership in this organization is increasing.

Miami has had many labor disputes in its history, but the present trouble is the most serious one that has developed for several years. Miami has been a 100 per cent union town with every trade fully organized. The present trouble is calling for a showdown as to whether union men will remain in control of the labor situation or whether union and non-union men both will be employed.

Two business men whose firms had been placed on "unfair lists" by labor, were assaulted by workmen today, these being the first physical clashes of the labor war.

Union men declare that the present trouble may be settled by having one lumber yard discharge colored chauffeurs, refusal of which demand precipitated the struggle which has tied up all building operations. The leaders expressed willingness to confer with contractors and supply men to discuss a settlement, but their offer has not been accepted. At the present time from 600 to 800 of the 2,500 union workmen in the city are affected by the trouble. Practically every plasterer in the city is locked out today. The situation is a lock-out of colored chauffeurs. Some unioning chauffeurs have been placed on the "unfair list," by labor unions which refuse to work with materials supplies by "unfair" dealers.

Pickets have been placed to watch all deliveries of building materials by dealers on the "unfair list," it is reported.

Some Fishing Trip

Last Thursday afternoon a few of Sanford's folks decided to try their luck fishing on Lake Apopka. Leaving here at 8 o'clock, driving through Winter Garden by auto where Mr. Hunt was waiting for the party with his nice launch and tackle, leaving the docks at Winter Garden enjoying one of the most delightful launch rides up to the west end of the lake, there to catch the fish, and in less than thirty moments of fishing the party had twenty-two trout to their credit. Miss Susie Brown having the honor of landing the most in number, though Miss Bobby Buras captured the prize with one 7-pounder, along with others not quite so large. Miss Russell had several to her credit, while Miss Bryan not landing quite so many proved to be the best cook ever for the pleasure wasn't ended by the wonderful catch. The party landed at Collier Park Grove. There Mr. and Mrs. Collier extended to the party a hearty welcome to the beautiful camp grounds and pavilions and opened the doors to their cozy country home. The fish and coffee was prepared, along with some good sandwiches and a couple of fried chickens, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Collier are some entertainers and extend a hearty welcome to any Sanford people wishing to spend awhile camping and fishing.

Those enjoying the trip were Misses Gladys Bryan, Susie Brown, Bobby Burns, Leone Russell and Messrs. Bogard, Tanner and L. F. and T. R. Roper.

Lake Monroe School Opens

The fine new school house at Lake Monroe was filled last Monday on opening day by visitors and children and the first day was a most auspicious one. Many from Sanford were present at the opening and appropriate exercises were held.

J. Tilden Jacobs will have charge of the higher grades, Mrs. Tilden Jacobs will be primary teacher and Miss Lottie Mathers of Maitland will have charge of the intermediate grades, making a most efficient staff of teachers. The Lake Monroe school promises to be one of the best in the county. An account of the opening is found in the Lake Monroe items in another part of this issue.

BALL GAMES FOR THE WEEK

BOX SCORES OF ALL GAMES PLAYED BY SANFORD TEAM

We feel it our duty to bring to the attention of the public the fact that a goodly number of our most energetic and public spirited business and professional men have at considerable expense and trouble to themselves brought together a good ball club and have been for the past two months furnishing us a fine exhibition of good base ball, which has served to afford a healthy pastime and much amusement to the many at home who were unable to get away to the mountains or seaside resorts for their vacation, and have further served in keeping our little city alive, active and forward looking during these strenuous times when we are all inclined to be pessimistic and disgruntled over the disturbed condition of the whole world. Hence it seems opportune to remind the public that they should prove and show their appreciation of things by turning out en masse to witness the games and thereby make their just contribution to the cause.

Base ball is recognized as our national game and has the hearty approval of all religious and Governmental agencies and there is no one thing in all the world that affords more wholesome amusement and recreation to the entire people, therefore let us act upon this simple suggestion and show to our men who have assumed the financial responsibility for this matter that we appreciate their efforts in our behalf and we will see to it that they lose nothing thereby.

Lost Friday at Bartow
 Bartow, Aug. 30.—Bartow out-gamed the Celery Feds here this afternoon, bunting a pass, a single, a sacrifice and a bunch hit to shove Art Phelan around for the lone tally of the game. The two hits were half of Bartow's collection, and while Sanford touched Haynes for nine safeties, the local finger was strong with men on bases and received flawless support.

Sanford protested the game in the third inning when Umpire Knowlton sent Inman to the club house for talking to players from the infield. Rain halted the game for awhile in the second inning. Score:

Whether its hardware, shoes, hats or groceries, there is always some brand of every commodity that is known to everyone as the very best of its kind. In the tire world KELLY-SPRINGFIELD has had this position thrust upon it, not through publicity gained by advertising, but through the unusual mileage they give the user. This is why no one questions the quality of a KELLY, this is also why a man who once uses them, always uses them.

MORE ON CATTLE DIPPING

Cattle Man Thinks Too Much Dipping Kills Cattle

Christmar, Fla.
Editor Sanford Herald:

It was with a good deal of pleasure that I read your article in your paper of Aug. 22nd. We cattlemen have felt that the press of the state is against us, therefore we appreciate one editor, at least, being willing to take both sides into consideration.

To begin with, the majority of the cattlemen in this section of the country voted against the compulsory dipping of their cattle, because they felt that it would be more injurious than beneficial to them. After having dipped now from six months to two years, the cattlemen, almost to a man, are willing to dip their cattle under certain conditions. The first of these conditions is that the law be made state wide. We ask this because we have found that the Sanitary Board cannot maintain a quarantine on the county lines, which results in our cattle becoming re-infected, thereby making an endless chain, so to speak, of ticks. We can see but one solution to this, namely, a state wide law.

Sanitary Board be re-organized (by legislation), and some one put thereon who is familiar, in a practical working way, with Florida range cattle and ranges, or that the present Sanitary Board agrees for a committee of cattlemen to work in cooperation with them in directing the dipping of our cattle.

We name these conditions only after finding by practical experience that our cattle are not doing well, in fact, are doing very badly, under the system of dipping now being used, and, as stated before, after having found the said Board could not maintain a quarantine on the county lines.

We have asked the Sanitary Board to allow us to stop systematic dipping until a state wide law could be

Simon's Worldbeater Pepper

Has Made Good in Florida and Texas for the Past Four Years.

A prominent grower of Sanford, Florida, whose name we can furnish on application, purchased 20 pounds of our Worldbeater Pepper in December 1918. He reports that many of the plants bore as high as 9 marketable peppers the first picking. The average was 4 peppers per plant for the entire acreage the first picking, or a total of 400 crates per acre, which were marketed at $4.00 per crate. We cannot recommend too highly our Worldbeater Pepper to all southern growers who desire to grow a money-making crop.

adopted, and pledged ourselves to spend both money and time working toward its passage. The said Boards answer in substance is, We have the law, now do as we say or suffer. We ask for cooperation, believing that we who spend our time with our cattle know something about what is good for them, and get referred to by the esteemed editor of the Farmer and Stockman as "A bunch of disgruntled politicians and selfish cattlemen."

The Sanitary Board says we must dip our cattle under the present law, while the cattlemen as a body want to wait until a state wide law is passed or some other practical solution of the problems can be reached. We are willing to dip, but want to do so in a way which will not be ruinous to our interests, and in a way which will eradicate the ticks.

In regard to the time between dippings, allow me to say that I think the cattle should be dipped every 14 days during the summer, both spring and fall, but every 21 days during the winter months is most probably sufficient.

Thanking you for opening your columns to us, I am,

Very truly yours,
Signed, C. G. Smith.

They say that rents are so high in Jacksonville that even the rats and reaches are moving out.

The buildings in Sanford are going merrily forward and every issue of the Herald carries stories of new deals and new buildings. Keep up the good work.

The city commission of Jacksonville is going after the rent profiteers and unless they can show cause for the present raise in rents they will be forced to lower the rent.

Governor Catts has given Sheriff Logan of Polk county a year's vacation with full pay. His salary will be paid as soon as the senate meets.
Well, Sheriff Logan is a good man and no doubt will enjoy his vacation to the fullest. And why should Catt worry? He does not pay any taxes.

The press of Florida will extend sympathy to Editor R. O. Meek of the Ft. Meade Leader in the death of his son who was killed by falling under a phosphate train in the mining region. Young Meek was just eighteen years old and was soon to

Even though Governor Catts shows nepotism in appointing his son as Adjutant General we will say that the young man made good in the army and he will undoubtedly make a good state official. The criticism is only levelled at his father for his selfish spirit in appointing his relatives to govern the state.

With the finest start toward building up a big city here at the head of navigation upon the St. Johns river the people of Sanford should keep pushing and boosting. Don't let the ship of state stop in the eddies or run upon the snags of pessimism or tie up at the banks of procrastination. This is the time to load the old boat for all she is worth and bring her to the shore of prosperity.

Sanford needs a pavilion and community building on the lake front and the united efforts of the various clubs and the business men of Sanford should be directed toward this much needed building. Tourists want a boat landing, an amusement building and golf links and just giving them a good hotel will not hold them in Sanford. It is not too early to be figuring on these amusements now.

It is a sorry specimen of a man who does not enjoy a good game of base ball, the great American game, the squarest game in the world and Sanford has given the people some of the finest quality of ball this season that we have ever had. Keep up the interest by attending every game and giving your money for the team. Keep young by being in the young boy's class. The ball games keep our people at home.

If the men who have the money here for investments would only invest it here in Sanford instead of chasing after foreign rainbows this city would prosper beyond the fondest dreams of the greatest optimist in our citizenship. The man who has money and invests it here in Sanford is the man who should receive all our encouragement and should be assisted in all his enterprises. Having faith in your hometown is the greatest asset that any city can have.

The Seminole Hotel in Sanford has given an elaborate dinner to the base ball team of that city. From the published menu it is apparent that the boys must have known what was coming, which partially accounts for their marvelous success this season. Incidentally, the boys are certain now that their efforts are appreciated, and appreciation goes a long way in this world. There is too much taken for granted. When the individual or organization does good work the full measure of praise should be meted out.—Kissimmee Gazette.

From all reports coming from the north and east and west Florida will have more tourists this year than ever before. Coal is up and going higher and with the prospect of a bad winter in the north there are thousands who will seek the balmy climate of Florida to get away from the inconveniences of the winter up there. This item in the newspapers has an added attraction to Sanford this year as we have the hotel accommodations for the people now and everyone who has a room to let should get ready for the winter season. Sanford can and will accommodate many hundreds of tourists this season and our future is assured once they get coming this way.

A Parisian dancer created quite a stir on Broadway, says a New York dispatch, "when upon her arrival she announced that she had the most beautiful legs in the world." The Pittsburgh Post carried a double column picture of the new arrival with "her claim to beauty well displayed," just to convince doubting Thomases. Pahaw, a more beautiful display of feminine extremities can be seen any day in the week and particularly on Sundays at Palm Springs. We'll appoint Bob Holly, Herb. Felkel and "Last Night" the Reporter-Star is right, quite right.

LET THE SON CHOOSE
Along about this period of the year a good many fathers are concerned in the matter of what their boys are to become in the way of a business or profession.

The fathers usually are more concerned than the boys.

A father should not discourage a boy in becoming what he wants to become.

We, as fathers, cannot take out of our sons' minds what the Creator has put into them.

Up to a certain point of development a child is a sealed package—sealed by nature—as to taste and talent for a life occupation, and the package may not contain the father's desires.

The life histories of the world's leaders in every field of endeavor are filled with denials of what their fathers wanted.

For instance, a father of a father of a great poet designing his son's education for the law; or the head of an international industry for the ministry, or a famous musician being brought up by his father to enter trade.

A father's desires and ambitions for his son either have the effect of failure in his whole career, or else the son's will and ambitions is fired by parental opposition to a realization of success in his own life's ambition.

But the risk of failure is always too great for a father to assert his ambition in what his son is to become.

Our first duty as a father is in seeing to it that our sons have healthy bodies.

After that it is a matter of general education, and then special education for the son's self chosen career, or education that will enable him to search for and find himself.

The whole basis of our future progress, as individuals and as a society is in good health and education.

As our reforms have their basis in good health and education.

A boy's first ambition may be only a stepping stone to a final attainment.

In the matter of choosing a business or profession for our sons, there need be but one self imposed injunction.

Let nature alone.

A boy with a healthy body, the honest desire to serve and the power of thought and mental discipline which general education will give—his parents will need have no anxiety for his career.

His success is assured and the process by which he finally attains it are as natural as unknowable and strange as how bones form in the egg.—Tampa Tribune.

DO IT YOURSELF
The Herald is in receipt of an unsigned communication calling attention to the idea that the prices on all commodities in Sanford are too high. This is a matter for the people of Sanford to solve for themselves.
The Herald has been comparing the prices here with the prices of other places and they compare favorably price for price. There are times when you can find certain articles cheaper especially where they are making a run on this article for a leader but taking them all around Sanford can sell as cheaply as any other place in Florida. For one thing the merchants here are inclined to keep their light hidden under a bushel and do not feel disposed to quote prices as freely as other places but this does not rub out the fact that our merchants carry a large line of all kinds of goods, we have the stores and they have the prices and if our home people would get around to the various stores and compare the prices they would find that trading at home would always save them money. And then the people themselves are to blame for the high cost of living, for they require more in these days of inflated values and high living. The housewife who goes to market can save money by shopping, buying the cheaper cuts of meats, buying bargains in dry goods, in groceries, in clothing, in everything.

We are apt to spend our money on joy rides and other amusements and at the end of the month charge up the high cost of living to the merchants instead of charging up the cost of high living to ourselves.
This is a mighty good time to keep up the thrift plan that was started during the war and if we cannot afford certain pleasures cut out the pleasures. If we cannot afford the better cuts of meat try something cheaper. If we cannot afford the fine clothes that we used to wear get something cheaper and perhaps the auto trip to other cities to buy goods if summed up would find that more money had been spent than if we had stayed at home and patronized our home merchants.

Sending your money out of town never built up a city and if we will all get together and ponder over this so-called high cost of living, stay more at home and leave our money at home we will find at the end of the year that we have better stores here, that we have better times here, that we have the best city in the United States and better still that we will all have more confidence in our own city and the spirit of boost that makes for a better city.

PLUMB PLAN PUNCTURED

Senator Smith Says Socialistic Slush
Washington, Sept. 2.—The Plumb plan for tripartite control of railroads was opposed in the senate Thursday by Sen. Smith, democrat, Georgia, who declared it is "unreasonable" and socialistic. Sen.
Smith read a letter which he wrote to J. C. Tyson, secretary of the chamber of industry, at Savannah, Ga., in response to a communication asking his support of the plan.

"I am opposed to it," Senator Smith wrote, "and if it ever becomes live enough in the senate to require it, I shall freely expose its indefensible features.

"This proposition is so unreasonable that its unfairness should be clear to the operators of the railroads. It is worse than socialism.
The socialists' plan is to have all the people own and all the people operate the industries for the benefit of all the people. The 'Plumb' plan is to have all the people own the railroads, and one-eleventh of the people, operate them for their own benefit burden the balance of the people to any extent they may see fit.

"Railroad employees ought not to support it. They cannot afford to put themselves in the position of seeking unfair advantage over the balance of their fellow citizens. Justice and right should control all, and it would be unjust for one-eleventh of the people to take the railroads and use them for their own benefit to burden the balance of their fellow citizens."

BAPTIST-METHODIST GAME

Methodist and Baptist Sunday Schools Will Have Big Game
Thursday

Thursday afternoon, September 11 is the date set for the much talked of ball game between the Methodist and Baptist Sunday schools of Sanford. Considerable interest is being taken in this game and both sides are already claiming an easy victory. Messrs. Chittenden and Wallace have been chosen to be the official "Umps" and all other arrangements are being made for the big game.

mediate grades and younger who at-city next Sunday will be given a free ticket. Others will be charged an admission of 15c and automobiles 10c. This money will be used for the expenses of the game.

It is expected that a good crowd will be in attendance as some spectacular playing is anticipated by the fans from Rev. Geo. Hyman and Rev. C. W. White for their respective churches. No one is allowed to play on either team except regular Sunday school attendants.

THE PET DOGS.

"There were five dogs," said Daddy,
"who belonged to a boy named Jack."
"What were their names?" asked Nancy.

"How could he have ever thought of so many names?" asked Nick.

"They were all named," said Daddy, "and I will tell you their names in the order in which their sizes ran.

"Brutus was the largest of all. He was a big Newfoundland dog. Next came Bogl, another Newfoundland dog, but not so large as Brutus.

"Third came Patty, an Irish terrier.
Then came Oujl, a cocker spaniel, and last came Susy, a little hunting dog.

When they all stood together they looked like a flight of stairs, and just as though one could walk from Susy right up to Brutus.

"Ah," said Patty, "I see something coming my way."

"All the other dogs looked and Patty said, "There is a bug and I'm going to catch it. I'm going to snap it up and swallow it down and enjoy it thoroughly."

"But the bug said to itself, "I'll play a joke on that dog." And the bug did play a joke, a very mean joke.

"Patty snapped at the bug and then was about to swallow it when she had gotten the bug on her tongue, when what should that mean bug do

Jack Quickly Took the Bug Off.

but turn itself over so it attached itself to Patty's tongue, and so Patty couldn't swallow it or eat it or anything!

"Poor Patty! And the bug hurt!"
"Ooh, what shall we do?" Brutus said, as he looked at Patty out of his kind eyes, for Brutus was very kind even though he was such a great big dog and so strong.

"Then Brutus had a fine idea. He ran for Jack, for he had seen Jack go to a nearby field to play baseball.

"He ran just as hard as he could and when he reached the field he didn't even notice the baseball which had just been hit with the bat.

"The boys were awfully frightened for a moment as they thought Brutus might get hit by accident with the base ball, and they called out to him, but Brutus wasn't thinking of being afraid of anything.

"But luckily the ball didn't hit Brutus, and Brutus went right on up to his master, barking, and showing by his eyes that he wanted to have Jack follow him.

"I guess Brutus wants me for something," said Jack, "for he wouldn't come to the baseball field if it weren't for something important."

"So Jack ran quickly home, following Brutus. There he found Patty with the bug on her tongue and feeling most uncomfortable.

"Jack quickly took the bug off and then Patty no longer looked sick and miserable.

"She jumped up on Jack and wagged her tail and her eyes looked very kind and happy as she tried to thank her master. And then she did quite the sweetest thing ever a dog did. She suddenly seemed to know that Brutus was the one who had done everything.

"Jack had come quickly when Brutus had called him, for Jack was always so good to his pets, and Jack had been able to take the bug off her tongue because he had nice useful hands.

"But Patty knew that it was Brutus who had gone for Jack, and Brutus had brought him back so quickly.

"And Patty went over to Brutus, breaking so small beside the great big Newfoundland dog and she licked Brutus' jaws and she licked his ears and rolled over on the grass, saying to Brutus that she was a very grateful happy, little dog.

"Brutus licked her, too, to show he was glad he had been able to help her, and all the other dogs played around so joyfully.

"And then, for a special treat, every one of them had a bone, and Jack gave himself a piece of cake," ended Daddy.

Soapy Pear.

Little Jeanne was tremendously interested in the patriotic songs she heard at the community singing to which her mother had taken her.

A few evenings later she was playing close by as her mother practiced at the piano. "Mother," she asked,
"can you play that piece about the 'soapy pear'?" I like that one best of all."

Her mother, knowing the child had confused some words, played various melodies she remembered hearing at the community singing and finally discovered, through this method, that it was the song "Over There" Jeanne referred to. The refrain, "So prepare, so prepare," was the one which to her ears, had sounded like "soapy pear."

Rubber-Seed Oil.

The Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry calls attention to a report of the agriculture department of the Federated Malay states on the oil from the seeds of rubber trees as a substitute for linseed oil. The oil is of high quality, but little refining and comes from a waste product that is available in great quantity, and that is easy to collect, transport and store and easy to crush. Experiments with a consignment of 31 tons of seeds sent to England resulted in a yield of 2700 a ton for the oil and 410 a ton for the residual cake. Linseed oil at that time was selling at $200 a ton.

Equal Southern Rates
Washington, Sept. 3.—Preparation of class and commodity rates upon export traffic from the middle west to south Atlantic and Gulf ports was ordered today by Director General Hines. The rates to be established will be substantially the same as rates to New York on domestic freight, and will equalize charges so that southern gateways to South and Central America can compete on equal terms with the east.

Decision to establish the rates is the successful outcome of a long fight carried on by southern interests for a fair share of the nation's commerce. The matter was brought to the serious attention of the government by conditions arising during the war, when eastern ports were congested with export shipping while South Atlantic and Gulf ports had less than they were able to accommodate.

Representations were subsequently made to the shipping board to obtain sufficient cargo space sailing from those ports to take care of outgoing traffic and to the railroad administration to establish equitable rates.

Show Volcanic Formation.
The whole of the west of Scotland and northeast Ireland are of volcanic formation. Look at the Giant's Causeway, with its queer pipes of basalt, and the Isle of Skye, which is simply made of lava. Staffa consists of sheets of bedded basaltic lava, and the famous Fingall's cave is excavated from pure lava.

Rusty Steel.
To clean rusty steel, oil well the rusty parts and set aside in this state for two or three days. Then wipe dry with clean rags and polish with emery or pumice stone. When very rusty and a high polish is desired rub the article with a little slack lime.

First Aero Mail Service.
The first regular aero mail service in the world was started by the United States government, May 15, 1918, between New York and Washington. The actual flying time made was three hours and twenty minutes, including six minutes' stop for refueling at Philadelphia. At that time the fastest railroad train record between the two cities was five hours. The airship time has since been reduced to two hours and thirty minutes.

All persons desiring to attend Sunday school will phone No. 19, 306 or 90-J not later than a Saturday noon. Free transportation will be furnished them to and from it within a radius of three miles of the Methodist church.

ELDER SPRINGS WATER

THOMAS D. BAKER, Ph. D.
 Analytical and Consulting Chemist - Professor of Natural Science Emeritus, Rollins College, Florida

Private Laboratory of Rollins College
 Winter Park, Fla., Nov. 5th, 1918

Mr. T. O. Charles
 Sanford, Fla.

Dear Sir:

I have completed careful chemical analysis of the sample of water that you brought me early last week, and have obtained the following results:

Calcium	Clear	Chloride	1.75 parts per million
Magnesium	Sulfate	Hardness	21.01 parts per million
Free Ammonia	0.05 parts per million	Aluminum Ammonia	Trace
Aluminum Ammonia	Trace	Nitrate	Trace

The absence practically of free and albuminoid ammonia in this water and its very small amount of chlorine indicates its excellent quality for household purposes. In addition to the good quality characteristic of superior household water, it possesses special features of much value, especially those of excellent natural aeration and L.T.W. degree of hardness.

The bacteriological analysis, resulting in an average total count, in four samples of the water, of 2 bacteria per cubic centimeter, and the absence of harmful bacteria, fully confirm its good quality indicated by the CHEMICAL analysis.

Of the many waters of this and other regions that I have analyzed, I have found none superior in all good qualities to that of the "Elder Springs Water."

Yours very respectfully,

Know What You Buy

No housewife should make her purchases blindly, especially those for the table. The efficient purchasing of all food products requires study and investigation.

Always read labels very carefully and always BEWARE when no label is given, showing the formula or composition of the product.

It always takes intelligent buying to purchase economically.

Using self rising flour has always been false economy. Many self rising flour manufacturers have never even put the formula of their product on their packages. It doesn't even show on the sack what the product contains. In this day and age most housewives want to know just what they are buying and they should know. Few domestic science teachers, few investigating housewives and practically no grocers' wives are now using self rising flour.

It is hoped that the increased use of pure plain flours and the use of a good grade baking powder in connection, will result in many other housewives, discontinuing altogether the use of questionable grades of prepared flour.

Many people do not know that self rising flour is not used generally over the country, but in a comparatively few sections only. It has sometimes been said that it was popular only in that section of the country where housewives were lazy. I have always maintained that such was not the case but that the housewives in that section had been told and therefore could not be expected to know.

If this article prompts one housewife to investigate, my work will not have been in vain.

Now investigate? Ask your doctor! Ask your grocer!

Trouble and Envy
 Trouble comes to every man
 Though he live the best he can.
 None so good but now and then He must bear the cares of men.
 None so rich that he can pay Grief and pain to stay away;
 None so strong but he must know
 All a weaker brother's woe.

Glory gives no guarantee That you shall be trouble free,
 And the gold you strive to keep.
 Cannot say you shall not weep.
 He that walks the ways of earth
 Must at times be lost to mirth;
 Each must have his share of rain
 And it's useless to complain.

Envy no man's costlier dress
 It may cover keen distress;
 In the rich man's home may be Loneliness and misery.
 And the great man, brave and good,
 If we only understand,
 May be suffering bitter woes
 Than his humble brother knows.

Each must feel the hurt of pain,
 Each must take his share of rain, None can go through life without Coming face to face with doubt,
 And the price of fame and gold

UNREASONABLE FEELING

Head of Tuskegee Institute Seeks a Solution

Tuskegee, Ala., Sept. 3.—J. T. Moton, Booker T. Washington's successor as principal of Tuskegee Institute, declared in a statement today regarding the recent race riots in several cities in the north and south that it was difficult to understand why there should be so much apparent suspicion and bitterness on the part of both the white and negro races.

"I have never known the colored people to have more intense feeling towards the white people than at the present," Dr. Moton said, "and I have never known a time when there was less reason.

I never knew a time when the white people of the south not only the leading white people, but the average white man, was more anxious than at present to be absolutely fair and just to the negro; to see to it that the colored race in the south had better school facilities, better railroad accommodations, and adequate protection under the law. This is also true of the north.

"There was never a time when the south and the north too, saw more clearly the value of the negro as an economic factor in industrial operations. I never knew a time when southern white people felt more chagrined and humiliated at the awful crime of lynching than they do today, and I never knew a time when they were more determined to put down mob rule, whether aimed at black or white, than now. Many of the leading papers of the south are speaking out as never before against all forms of injustice and unfairness to the colored race.

"We, north and south, should make up our minds that there is room enough; there is opportunity enough for colored and white to work peacefully and harmoniously here in America, each living his life unhampered by any act or any untoward attitude of the other, and I hope that our leaders in every community, white and black, will get together and smooth out matters that are misunderstood, so that America can teach the world that black people and white people can live peacefully and harmoniously in this great country."

Dr. J. C. Davis Enthusiastic About Southermost State

Dr. J. C. Davis of Sanford, Florida is visiting his brother, E. B. Davis, 817 S. Main Street, City. Dr. Davis has been in central Florida for the last fourteen years. He talks most interestingly of the agriculture wonders of Florida. One of his stories concerning a celery crop off of 8 acres of land which sold this season for $15,000.

Another story concerns a pepper crop off of 40 acres which sold for $50,000. While not discounting his enthusiastic report it is fair to state that Dr. Davis admits that last year was a most favorable one for crops in Florida.—Wichita Eagle.

step of the new managers. Under the old regime there had been an annual deficit of from $25,000.00 to $50,000.00! Under the new form of government this had been converted into a surplus; and none of the funds reported a deficit. Every department showed increased efficiency. Public improvements had cost less and been pushed further.

Under the old government the city paid the Gas Company $24,278.66 for 1,113 street lamps; under the new $19,478.33 for 1,119 lamps—a saving of over $4,800.00. The city lived within its income. Not one appropriation had been exceeded! Police and Fire Departments had taken on a new efficiency. No boss, no machine, no scandal marred the situation; and, in the words of a leading daily: "Des Moines is declared to be in fact the most economically and most honestly managed city of its size in the Middle West."

We are assured the change from the machine rule to the people's rule under properly selected agents has produced excellent results—results that are phenomenal. John L. Hamilton in a recent work entitled "De-thronement of the City Boss" is quoted as saying, "Every city where the system is installed has its own story of deficits wiped out, floating debts taken up, bonds retired, business methods introduced, long standing nuisances abated, laws enforced, books better kept, streets kept cleaner, public works more honestly constructed, public buildings erected, additional parks and playgrounds acquired, economies enforced and taxes reduced. All report a revival of public spirit and improvement in business resulting from better civic conditions."

There is no variation in the character of the reports—everywhere it is leaks stopped, system taking the place of chaos, efficiency substituted for poor service, promptness for hopeless procrastination, lower for higher tax levies, or better values received for the public outlays."

"But," Mr. Hamilton insists, back of all these causes for congratulation and rising above every other consideration, the student of the new charter discovers that which explains the wonderful vigor and vitality of the whole movement and accounts for a popular favor out of all proportion to any financial results recorded at Galveston or Des Moines or in any other city operating under the new plan, or all of them combined. It is the reconciliation of the citizen and his city; the new birth of his faith in its public life; the revival of his hopes for the Republic as a thing that is not to languish and die from absorption of the toxins involved within itself, but is to go on for unreckoned ages, playing a good part in the drama of national life."

Thus, that which most commends the commission plan of municipal government in general and the Des Moines plan in particular is optimism it brings back into our municipal politics, the new anchorage it affords for the democracy which is conquering the world, but can rule it only as long as it believes in itself.

In Honor of Bride To Be

Many social affairs have been given this week in honor of Miss Alice Whitner, soon to become the bride of Dr. Herbert McCaslin. Miss Alice is one of the most popular young ladies in this city and her friends are showering her with the many articles so dear to the heart of the new brides to be.

Wednesday night Mrs. W. M. McKinnon entertained in honor of Miss Whitner with a luncheon. The collation was served on the table before the entrance of the guests, adding much to the beauty of the color scheme. Each course was outlined with tiny wreaths of pink and green. The dessert course of custard and daintily tinted whipped cream served in compotes placed in hand painted plates of pink and green with an accompanying pink heart completed the center piece.

The decorations were draperies of pink crepe paper and pink vines. The crepe paper was also draped from the pink shaded ceiling shower lights ending in butterfly bows of paper at each corner of the table. The pink vines were festooned around hanging corners of linen covers and the center piece was composed of pink Madame Cochet roses.

The guests were Misses Alice and Annie Whitner, Dr. McCaslin and Mr. Hutchinson and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McKinnon.

Thursday night Mrs. Henry McLaughlin entertained Miss Whitner and Dr. McCaslin with a dinner party. The center table was decorated with red roses in the shape of a heart with a little Cupid in the middle of the roses. At each plate was a card in which a red rose bud was fastened and a pin with which to pin the rose on the wearer. On the cards were maxims and as the guests pinned on the rose they were called upon to read the maxims. They were good ones and brought forth much merriment especially the good advice given the prospective bride and groom.

The menu consisted of fried chicken, hominy, hot beaten biscuits, asparagus, scalloped potatoes, grated cheese, grape jelly, sweet peach pickles, vanilla ice cream and cakes and iced tea. The cakes were heart shaped with red cherries in the center and the ice cream also had the red cherries.

Those present were Miss Alice Whitner, Dr. Herbert McCaslin, Miss Annie Whitner and Mr. Hutchinson, Mrs. J. E. Pace, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McLaughlin and Henry Jr. and Victor McLaughlin.

This afternoon Mrs. H. C. DuBose and Mrs. E. D. Brownlee will give a shower at the home of Mrs. DuBose in honor of Miss Whitner.

ing increased generally, and some fields of upland cotton have been cleaned of cotton. There will be no top nor middle crop in some localities, the result of excessive rains and weevil activity. The rather sudden change from cloudy, rainy weather to hot dry weather resulted in much rust and shedding. The weather of the week was most favorable for the harvesting of corn and haying; much of the hay crop was lost by previous unfavorable weather. Cane, sweet potatoes, field peas, peanuts, velvet beans, citrus fruits, seed beds and recently planted truck did well as a rule. There was somewhat too much rain in portions of the central peninsula, and the weather was rather dry, locally, in the north and west; otherwise the week was most favorable.

The Royal Arch Degree

The next regular convocation of Monroe Chapter No. 15 R. A. M. will be held on Tuesday evening, Sept. 9th, when the Royal Arch Degree will be conferred.

At our last convocation, our Chaplain, Dr. George Hyman gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the Mark Master's Degree, treating of the historical importance of the Marks on the various ancient buildings of Europe and Asia.

Each Operative Mason was known and distinguished by his Mark, it was a recognition of individual work, and teaching that we should so guide our lives and actions that the thoughts of our hearts and the works of our hands should be good and true, judiciously employed for our own honor and the profit of others.

"To him that overcometh will I give a white stone, and in it a new name written which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it."

The subject for this meeting will be "The Past Master's Degree in Capitular Masonry."

Every Companion of Monroe Chapter and all visiting Royal Arch Masons are cordially invited to attend.

When Virginia Seceded.

On April 17 in 1861 the secession convention, composed of the members of the legislature of Virginia, passed the "ordinance of secession" by a vote of 88 to 55. Virginia, 11 days prior to this, had refused to join the states of America; but the decision of the Confederate leaders to fire upon Sumter and Lincoln's call for 75,000 volunteers on April 15 turned the scale and Virginia threw in her lot with the South.
