

Washington Defeats Nashville 2-1 In Exhibition Tilt

Sid Hudson And Diz Dean Show To Advantage For Washington Team

Gilbert To Pitch Twardy, Hatten, And Harris Against Minneapolis In Daytona Beach Today

Nashville displayed plenty of power here yesterday in their first game of the exhibition season, defeating Washington's Yankees 3-1, but lost the game 2-1.

A disappointingly small crowd of less than 1,000 fans turned out although the day was beautifully clear and warm.

Sid Hudson and Diz Dean showed to advantage for the Washington team and did a fine job at far as the home town fans are concerned, permitting a run-inning permitted two hits in four innings and Dean, who pitched the game and seven innings, completed one inning.

Washington left fielder, Tommie Brown, traveled into a pinch frame and caught the sphere over the right field fence for a homer. That was Washington's second and last run of the contest.

Into the last half of the sixth inning with the score 2-1 against the Vols, young Tommie Brown caught one of Monte Pearson's tosses on the fat of his hand and it rolled over the left field fence. Hudson had wings.

However, in spite of Tommie's homer, the following Vol homer could do nothing against the proper Cuban's offering.

At the 10th inning recorded by the Washington team came at the expense of Adams in the last three innings. Following the homer, Hudson was Children's Club pitcher of whom held the record for longest spot as far as

Elimination Race For Central Florida Derby Slated Friday

ORLANDO, Mar. 25.—The season rapidly drawing to a close, Racing Secretary Pat Meets of the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club announced yesterday that the first elimination race for the annual running of the Central Florida Derby would be staged Friday night, Mar. 29.

This elimination heat will be the first of a series of four such races to be held at intervals of every other night beginning Friday at the Longwood track.

According to Meets' plans, the top 16 dogs of the 400-odd dogs now at the track will be eligible for the first night's eliminations. The last two finishers in the two eight-dog races will be knocked from the running. The eliminations will continue at that tempo the following night with eight dogs remain in the running.

The eliminations will be staged over the 5-16's mile distance, with the Derby finals slated for the 3-8th's mile route.

In the feature race tonight, Lucky Dot makes her first start since she was returned from Miami's Flagler Futurity elimination in an effort to regain the spotlight now held by other young hounds.

The other entrants this night race heat, a 5-16's mile trek, are Symrna Boy, Enid Rex, Extra Blue, Lucky Hog, Smoky Ranger, Merry Ida and Chief Cutlet—a real all-star field.

'Build-Up' for Women

Periodic distress, such as headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain, may be symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, so often helped by CARDUI. By increasing appetite, stimulating flow of gastric juices and so assisting digestion, it helps build physical resistance to periodic discomfort. It also helps reduce periodic distress for many who take it a few days before and during "the time." Try CARDUI. Used 50 years. Adv.

Bagwell Resigns

Ralph Bagwell, who has guided the destinies of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce for the past five years and who was connected with it for two years before that, has resigned as secretary of the commercial organization. He has accepted a position with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and will henceforth make his home in Orlando.

Coming to the Chamber of Commerce from the Atlantic Coast Line in 1933, Mr. Bagwell was efficiently schooled in Chamber of Commerce work under Karl Lehmann. He could have had no better teacher, for Mr. Lehmann is recognized as the Chamber of Commerce secretary par excellence throughout Florida. And Mr. Bagwell profited well from his experience.

Handicapped in many ways by circumstances over which he had no control, including a limited budget which was the natural consequence of hard times, he has nevertheless carried on to the best of his ability with remarkably successful results. While there were naturally many things he would like to have done if the money had been available, he retires from office leaving the Chamber of Commerce out of debt and in good financial condition.

His efforts in behalf of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal have been untiring and such as to evoke the unqualified praise of all who have followed his work closely. It has succeeded in bringing this project the nearest to actual fulfillment it has ever been, though the campaign for its construction has been going on for over a generation.

His activities in behalf of tourists have been most meritorious. He has been instrumental in finding accommodations for many visitors who have called at his offices. He organized the Tourist Club which has helped greatly to entertain our visitors. And he succeeded in locating here the Armitage Cabin Court which has proved an invaluable addition to our rapidly growing tourist business.

But it is in his conscientiousness, his loyalty to the organization and his devotion to duty, that Mr. Bagwell will always be remembered most by his associates in the Chamber of Commerce. There was no hour too late, no task too difficult, for him to put forth his best efforts in trying to accomplish something for Seminole County. Whether it was a committee meeting late at night or a long drive before breakfast to a Central Florida Council meeting, he was always on the job.

His presence here will long be missed and his place will be hard to fill.

Holland And Whitelair

Florida's gubernatorial campaign seems definitely to be warming up with its two leading candidates, Spessard Holland and Francis Whitelair, speaking in Tampa and Orlando simultaneously and evoking words of lavish praise from two of Florida's leading journals.

The Orlando Sentinel says, "By his speech yesterday in Orlando we were confirmed in our belief that Francis P. Whitelair is unusually fit for the position of Governor and that Florida at this time really needs him." While the Tampa Tribune declares, "His (Spessard Holland's) first speech in Tampa was a marvel both of condensation and comprehensiveness."

"Senator Holland's record in public office," the Tribune continues, "is clean, straightforward, consistent, courageous. He fairly faces such criticisms as have been whispered by the opposition. He gives unanswerable reasons for his opposition to the 'recovery act,' which he was instrumental in defeating in two sessions of the Legislature, so completely burying it that it was not introduced in 1939."

"He fought that drastic, destructive measure because, as he says, it sought, not to make chain stores pay a larger share of taxation, but to drive them entirely out of the state, and because it ignored the consumer, the farmer, legitimate investment and the right to do business. He believes in and has supported a tax differential, but not extermination."

"On both record and platform, Senator Holland admirably meets the requirements of the gubernatorial office. His position on state issues stands the test of integrity and good sense. He has served the people of his county and of all Florida ably and honestly; he will continue to serve them ably and honestly in the higher place we believe he will occupy for four years beginning next January," concludes the Tribune.

While over in Orlando the Sentinel was outlining and explaining the various planks in Whitelair's platform. It was saying that he wants a united Florida, that he is concerned for the welfare of the old folks and dependent children, that the government should stay out of business, that he is in favor of better and more adequate highways, and better pay for school teachers and that he believes these objectives can be financed out of present revenues of the state government.

"We believe," concludes the Sentinel, "the people of Florida will respond to intelligent discussion and planning of this high type and will choose as their leader a man who is capable of seeing what should be done and how to do it. Whitelair engages to do this not for the sake of political advancement, but in order to serve the people and render back their tax payments in the form of better service from Tallahassee, its public officials and all who are paid with public money."

"This is a return to which the people are entitled and they now have an opportunity to get it."

GIRDING FOR BATTLE?

DISPELLING THE FOG

By CHARLES MICHELSON, Director Of Publicity, Democratic National Committee

Every Republican spokesman barn-storming through rural America, becomes excited by the plight of the American farmer. He is particularly worried by the regimentation of the tillers of the soil.

Senator Taft, speaking in Illinois, admitted that there might be some good in the Democratic way of handling the farm program, but added: "Whatever good might be done is more than balanced by the deprivation of liberty and freedom, which is the very cornerstone of our republic."

That is pretty bad, but, according to the Republican Senator who is running for the Presidency of the United States there is worse behind, for he dwells at length on the futility of having the farmers vote on the various projects offered by the Department of Agriculture. Said Senator Taft: "The ordinary farmer has no practical alternative except to cast an affirmative vote. It is extraordinary that under such circumstances any production control vote has ever failed to carry."

Well, the tobacco growers voted on the question of a marketing quota on tobacco for 1939. The growers turned it down. Then the British Imperial Tobacco Co. withdrew from the purchasing and, faced with this loss, the producers of "finest cured" voted nearly 90 percent for a marketing quota for 1940. Nearly 300,000 participated in this democratic election. Under the law unless two-thirds of the voters favor it, marketing quotas cannot be invoked.

It was on this basis that the 1939 quota was rejected for 101,000 were opposed, so there was no quota imposed.

Concerning Regimentation Regimentation, though a favorite score ward with the candidate for the U. S. P. nomination, fails to frighten the grain belt. Recently Congressman Francis Case, Republican from South Dakota, delivered a speech in the House of Representatives on the well conservation program. He feared at the time that the farmers were going stepping at the order of the Agricultural Department and told that the growers themselves first voted whether they wanted the plan and then went ahead themselves organizing the work.

Said this Republican Congressman: "It is working in almost 300 different areas across the country on more than 200,000,000 acres. It is controlling erosion. By the way it is working is the important thing. Instead of walking on to a farmer's land and telling him that he will have to do this and so, the farmer himself is enlisted to do the biggest part of the job himself."

Presumably Senator Taft, and the others who are keeping up the cry of dictatorship and coercion of the farmer are as conversant with the rules and regulations of the agricultural plans as is the Congressman from South Dakota, but does that make any difference in their clamor? Not a bit. That is their story and they will stick to it.

So from now on until the votes in November are recorded we will continue to hear that the farmer is being regimented; his liberties interfered with and his management of his lands taken out of his hands.

The genesis of the farm plan tells the real story. Seven years ago President Roosevelt called the farm leaders together at Washington. Out of the session came the bill subsequently enacted by Congress. As experience revealed defects or inadequacies in the measures it was modified to meet new conditions and to correct those defects and inadequacies. Every change was after consultation with the agricultural groups. The Republican spokesmen have failed to offer any concrete substitute program while never ceasing to gird at the one under which we are now operating.

President Roosevelt defined this in his recent address to the A. A. A. anniversary farm dinners: He said: "The national farm program is American democracy's response to agricultural distress. And any unprejudiced person who knows anything about the subject not only admits but proclaims the fact that our national farm program was democratically conceived and is being democratically conducted with the active help of our farmers themselves."

But Senator Taft insists on his story of despotism over the farmer.

That story will go down in history as being comparable with the suggestion from the Finance Director of the Republican National Committee that the New Deal's treatment of business was "the threat of a purge of property which is not far removed in principle from human purges of the German and Russian type."

It might be worth considering that Mr. Weir is still very much alive; that he still draws his salary of from $150,000 to $200,000 a year and that the net annual incomes of the Weir corporations for the past five years ranged from six and a half million to nearly eighteen million. Last year they amounted to more than twelve and a half million dollars.

That's something of a purge, isn't it?

Watch Bush-Leaguer Hudson, Says Dillon Graham

Harris Says Class D Recruit To Be Pitcher For Washington

Associated Press Sports Editor Gives Sidney Charles Hudson Fine Chance To Succeed

By DILLON GRAHAM
Sports Editor, AP Feature Service

ORLANDO, Mar. 24.—(AP)—It's hard to believe but you can take Bucky Harris' word for it that a bush leaguer from Sanford will pitch for Washington this year.

Sanford is in the Florida state league, a class D circuit that is one of baseball's kinder-gartens. And jumping from Sanford to Washington in the American league is equivalent to moving right out of the kindergarten into college.

But Harris, the one-time boy wonder and pretty smart and honest baseball man, tells me without batting a guilty eye that Sidney Charles Hudson will make the grade.

"He looks like a pitcher," says Harris, and that is the manner of expressing high praise. Most pitchers are not built to handle the big league.

Hudson is a double-A leaguer, International American Association and Pacific, are just a few notches below the majors come up and fall to make the grade to get too excited over a Class D busher.

But Harris says he isn't kidding. Of course, the Washington pitching staff is so feeble that Bucky may be willing to take a gamble on any young fellow who doesn't lurch around.

Anyway, this Hudson was a ball of fire with Sanford. He won 24 games and lost only four.

"Honestly," says Bucky, "I don't see a pitcher on our club, except possible Dutch Leonard.

NOTES FROM THE PRESS BOX

—by— CHARLIE CHALKER

Dillon Graham, associated press sports feature editor, gives Sid Hudson quite a play in the current release of the AP feature sports news. Of course, Graham had little to say about Hudson himself. He was making no predictions. As any good reporter, Graham was telling what he had heard and perhaps a little of what he had seen. But the important thing is that Graham saw fit to give Hudson the feature spot on the news release, which means that he thinks that Bucky Harris talked so convincingly of Hudson that Graham figured to come through. Word from Orlando is that James Harris, "I'd Die" Dean made such an impression on Clark Griffith against Nashville here Sunday that he will take the bill against the Giants Friday. If he shows any stuff, it seems likely that the Senators will have two Sanford hurling acts of 1939 on the squad this year.

Apparently, the field for the University of Florida football coach has narrowed to George Trogen of London High School in Jacksonville, and Bob Y. Dodd of Georgia Tech. Either of these would be a good bet for turning out great teams at the University. Peter Norton in the Tampa Tribune reports that Dodd has the inside track. It's hard to say who has the inside track. You never can tell what the committee at the University will recommend, nor who the board of control will appoint. For instance, a few years ago everybody was all set to get a coach of national reputation. Let's hope either Trogen or Dodd will be selected.

Recently there came to the desk a letter announcing the holding of a U. S. Tennis Open in West Virginia. Not a bad idea,

American Legion Night To Be Held Tomorrow At Kennel Club

ORLANDO, Mar. 24.—Tomorrow night will be Sanford Legion Night, sponsored by the Sanford American Legion Post, at the Sanford-Kennel Club. It was announced yesterday when plans for making the event a banner attraction were formulated.

The feature event of the racing program tomorrow night will be the Sanford Legion Handicap, the ninth race in which an all-star field of contestants will compete. With the Sanford Legionnaires planning to turn out en masse for the event, track officials are making plans to handle one of the late season's largest crowds.

The Sanford American Legion organization will receive all the proceeds derived from ticket sales, futurity spots, Big Lek goes up against another field of potential in an effort to establish himself as one of the leading Derby contenders.

The winner of the inaugural, after a long slump, has returned to old racing form during the past fortnight to regain ground lost in the early season.

Entered along with Big Lek tonight are Cracker Lad, Help-Y-Yourself, Dark Romance, Fair Speed, Lady-Al-Arms, Ripper Corn and Lamp Light and from the sale of box seats, General Manager Walter Connolly of the Longwood track said yesterday.

In the ninth race tonight, a

WINTER GARDEN, Mar. 24.—Coach Bill Dill's Winter Garden diamond squad will meet Oviedo High School here this afternoon at Walker Field in a Central Florida Conference baseball contest.

Robert Kennington, regarded as one of the best high school hurlers in this section of the State, will toe the rubber for the local Red Devils line.

Tomorrow afternoon, Coach Dill and his squad travel to St. Cloud for another conference engagement with Tom Gannarelli's Bulldog Club.

but the U. S. L. T. A. never has thought so. The dear old association is so worried lest some of the almon purses become pro-moslem, thereby diverting some of their "hired" hands as well as the much desired greenbacks to the pros.
