

BANKERS' ASSOCIATION HAD A GREAT PROGRAM ---BIG MEETING FRIDAY

Number of Prominent Business Men Attended the Session

GROUP THREE HERE

LOCAL BANKERS AND BUSINESS
MEN MADE STAY OF VISITORS
MOST PLEASANT

Officials of banks in Group Three of the Florida Bankers Association held their annual meeting in Sanford, on Wednesday, March 15th. Representative bankers from six of the counties comprising this group were present and in addition a number of locally prominent business men attended the session. Welcoming addresses were delivered by Col. Geo. W. Knight, president of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, and Hon. Forest Lake, president of the Seminole County Bank. B. F. Whitner, cashier of the First National Bank of Sanford, presided as chairman and in opening the deliberations called the attention of the delegates to the necessity of their considering the two most essential factors entering into the economic development of their respective sections, namely, more efficient and economical transportation facilities and a more careful scrutiny of agricultural possibilities. Mr. Whitner ably pointed out that modern banking required its executives to keep constantly in close touch with other problems than those to which they had heretofore considered themselves restricted.

An address on "Inland Waterways and Transportation" was delivered by W. T. Donnelly, prominent marine engineer of New York. Donnelly has recently perfected a new method for water propulsion and which has since been endorsed by a special committee of the New York State Barge Canal Conference. He has been active for a number of years on matters effecting national water highways and is recognized as an eminent authority on this subject. The address contained many valuable suggestions for the solution of Florida's vexing transportation problem, Mr. Donnelly recommending the use of water transportation whenever possible.

C. D. Gunn, agricultural agent for Alachua county, delivered a very interesting address on the agricultural possibilities of the county and the accomplishments to date in the development of those possibilities in which the bankers of the section had contributed no small amount of their financial and moral support.

Representatives from other sections, in the general discussion that followed, spoke at some length on the important subject of transportation and agriculture and their bearing on the future prosperity of the state.

An invitation was extended to the Association by Col. Knight to attend a meeting of the Central Florida Water Traffic League to be held in Orlando, Friday evening, March 24th, at which time a number of prominent business men would devise plans to further water transportation.

Upon advices from C. G. Ware, president of the First National Bank of Leesburg, that no provision had been made in the new by-laws of the State Association for the continuance of Group meetings, those presented voted that a resolution be drawn to have an article incorporated in the by-laws whereby these Group meetings would be continued. It was the sense of those present that greater individual benefits were derived from these group meetings than at the annual meeting of the State Association as it afforded the opportunity for a closer personal contact and a more general discussion of matters affecting local conditions.

The members of Group Three recommended to the State Association that it investigate the possibilities for having legislation enacted making district road and school bonds acceptable to the State Treasurer as security for state funds as are county bonds at present. The meeting also went on record as unqualifiedly opposing any bonus legislation and a resolution to this effect was drawn to be forwarded to the State Association.

Upon an invitation from William Talton, cashier of the State Bank of Apopka, Apopka was selected as the next meeting place of Group Number Three and the new officers selected for the ensuing year were as follows: For president, William Edwards, president of the State Bank of Apopka, and Fred C. Allen, president of the Orlando Bank and Trust Company, as secretary.

Before adjourning to luncheon the members passed a resolution expressing their deepest sympathy to Senator Park Trammell on the great loss he has sustained from the death of Mrs. Trammell.

The management of the Valdez Hotel served the visitors a very elaborate luncheon after which Mr. Whitner introduced Geo. R. DeSaussure, manager of the Jacksonville branch of the Federal Reserve Bank, who eloquently defended the system against the attacks made upon the policy it pursued during the period of deflation. He cited figures proving that the actual financial benefits accruing to the South through the Federal Reserve since the beginning of its operations were of such magnitude as to overshadow whatever losses its critics charged to it. Mr. DeSaussure launched into the realms of international finance when discussing foreign indebtedness to the United States.

J. R. Slattery, secretary of the Federal Reserve Bank at Atlanta, in a short address, spoke of the workings of the system and asked that each banker assist in educating the people in his locality to a full meaning of what the Federal Reserve System meant to the business interests of the nation.

The members spent the remainder of the day as guests of Mr. Donnelly on his yachts and autos carried them on trips through the celery delta. The convention at Sanford was the largest from point of attendance and those who guide the financial destinies of the sections represented in Group Number Three, were agreed that it was the most profitable of any they had attended.

The following were the delegates and visitors present:

H. R. Stevens, president of the Peoples Bank, Sanford, Seminole county.

J. E. Noble, cashier Bank of Titusville, Brevard county.

E. L. Nickle, ass't cashier, Volusia County, Bank, DeLand, Volusia county.

G. Courier, president Bank of Winter Park, Winter Park, Orange county.

ONE FIREMAN KILLED, ANOTHER SERIOUSLY INJURED AND TEN OR MORE WERE SLIGHTLY INJURED

Fire Started in Center of Block Bounded by Van-Buren, Canal and Clinton Streets and Leaped Across to Jackson, Catching the Twenty-one Story Chicago, Burlington and Quincy General Office Bulding, Destroying it.

CHICAGO, March 15.—(By the Associated Press).—A spectacular early morning fire today destroyed a full square of business buildings just out of Chicago's loop, or down-town district, with a loss estimated at from ten to fifteen million dollars. The fire started in the center of the block bounded by Van Buren, Canal and Clinton streets and West Jackson Boulevard, or undetermined origin, and burned every structure in that area, leaped north across Jackson and wrecked the twenty-one story Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad's general office building which also houses the Mercantile Trust & Savings Bank, and under a strong wind dipped over Van Buren street Southward and burned nearly through to Harrison street. The fire was not brought under control until nearly five o'clock and even then firemen were fighting a dozen different fires and others broke out intermittently as the wind wafted the sparks about. One fireman was killed, another seriously injured, ten or more slightly hurt and an unknown number of the hundred thousand spectators who thronged the burning district were slightly hurt by falling bricks, burning timbers or sparks. City Fire Attorney High said the original blaze from which the conflagration grew was possibly of incendiary origin. High announced the arrest of an unnamed man on information supplied by the president of the concern where the fire started.

CHICAGO, March 16.—Several separate investigations into yesterday's eight million dollar fire are under way today. City Fire Attorney High expressed the belief that the fire was incendiary. The police are seeking a negro employee of a concern among the first to go up in the flames.

CHICAGO, March 16.—Investigation of the cause of the fire which destroyed a block of thickly tenanted office buildings, caused a loss of more than $8,000,000, resulted in the death of one man and rendered 20,000 others idle was begun last night by the state, city and insurance officials.

The manner in which the flames flared out in several places at the same moment, the almost incredible rapidity with which they spread until nothing but smoldering ruins was left of the block bounded by South Canal, West Vanburen and South Clinton streets and West Jackson Boulevard caused Shirley T. High, fire attorney to announce that "everything pointed to incendiarism."

The first "still" alarm was turned in at 12:50 a. m. This was followed by other alarms at 3 and 4 minute intervals until nearly every piece of Chicago fire fighting apparatus was at the scene. But even with 52 companies playing more than a hundred lines of hose on the flames, it was not until four hours after the first alarm that the fire was brought under control.

NEW EFFORT TO HOLD BRITISH RUM-RUNNER

(By The Associated Press)
BOSTON, March 15.—Proceedings against the British schooner Grace and Ruby and the half-million dollar cargo of liquor she carried when captured off this port as a rum-runner recently, will take the form of a civil libel, Assistant United States Attorney Charles P. Curtis, Jr., said yesterday. In making this announcement under instructions from Attorney-General Daugherty, he said the schooner would be prosecuted on the ground that she had violated the customs laws in landing merchandise illegally. This form of procedure in such cases was said to be new.

Two questions were to be determined by the case, which the government regards as a test, Mr. Curtis said. The first was whether a vessel of foreign registry, outside the three-mile line, assuming that she had violated the United States laws, could be seized and put under the jurisdiction of the federal court. The second question was whether liquor constituted merchandise. If not, Mr. Curtis said, the government had no case.

The decision of the attorney-general to file the libel surprised federal officials here, who were understood to be making preparations to return the Grace and Ruby to her owners. The crew of the schooner, arrested on charges of conspiracy to smuggle liquor, had a hearing before a federal commissioner but a ruling was withheld until the official attitude toward the schooner was disclosed.

MINERS STRIKE IN S. AFRICA IS CALLED OFF

LEADERS SAY REVOLUTION OF PAST WEEK HAD NO CON-NECTION WITH MINERS

(By The Associated Press)
JOHANNESBURG, Wednesday.

The strike of miners which has held South Africa in its grip for more than two months has been called off. The decision was taken by the Old South African Industrial Federation as distinct from federations augmented executive. Complicity in revolution against government repudiated by the federation.

Order has been completely restored. Police declare they have evidence showing Bolshevik plot responsible for revolution. Revelations will be astonishing, they assert.

SKIPPER'S NEW COMPANY TO CONSTRUCT ABATTOIR

$40,000 Plant To Be in Operation At Fort Lauderdale Within Next
90 Days—Deal All Set For Big Business.

G. B. Skipper, of Bartow, has just completed the organization of a company formed for the purpose of putting in an abattoir at Fort Lauderdale capable of handling all the territory along the east coast from Palm Beach to Key West, the first unit of which, will be able to handle 100 cattle a day. According to Mr. Skipper, work on the first unit should commence shortly, probably this month, and should be completed and the plant in operation within ninety days. He will have the active management of the concern, and will be kept constantly in touch with its activities.

Incorporation papers were issued to his company last December, when the Southeastern Packing Co., came into existence. The stock is owned by the Southern Cattle Ranch, Inc., and the Kissimmee River Cattle Co., both of which concerns have large cattle interests in Florida. J. S. Gosden, big oil man of Tulsa, Okla., and millionaire developer, heads the Southern Cattle Ranch, Inc., together with Lytle Hull, of Okeechobee. The Kissimmee River Cattle Co., as is generally known in Bartow, was incorporated in the name of E. E. Skipper and Sons. Gosden, Mr. Skipper states, has invested about $2,000,000 in the cattle industry in Florida during the past two years, and proposes to do big things in the future.

The plant which they propose to erect at Ft. Lauderdale will be located on a 55 acre site purchased by them recently, and located on Cypress Creek, about two miles west of the city. It will be of concrete construction, and the first unit will be put up at a cost of about $40,000.

A rival concern is also erecting a plant at Ft. Lauderdale, and these two will be the only abattoirs in the state. Two such plants have been erected at Jacksonville—the Armour plant and an independent concern, neither of which are in operation. The Tampa plant promises little competition in the territory which will be covered in the Southeastern Cattle Co.'s service.

In addition to the building they will put up, they have leased cold storage space in Miami and Palm Beach to make sure of their ability to handle the local situation.—Bartow Record.

DOUBLE FUNERAL SERVICE FOR JUDGE McCROY AND WIFE AT DELAND

(By The Associated Press)
DELAND, March 16.—A double funeral service was held at the Methodist church here today for County Judge McCrory and wife, after which the bodies will be shipped to Ellaville, Ga., for interment.

McCrory was seventy-three years old and was County Judge of Volusia for twenty-three years, died yesterday of pneumonia. His wife died of the same malady two weeks ago. The family came to Florida 30 years ago.

Opponents of the Treaty
Finally Agree to Limit

COMES OUT FRIDAY

LEADERS BELIEVE CERTAIN INDI-
CATION THAT RATIFICATION OF TREATY IS ASSURED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 16.—Opponents of the four power Pacific treaty in the senate yesterday abandoned all plans for a prolonged fight against ratification and accepted a unanimous consent agreement to limit debate and to take a final vote on Friday, March 24th.

The agreement, which was hailed by administration leaders as a certain indication that ratification is assured, was proposed on the senate floor after a series of conferences among the various senate elements and was accepted virtually without debate.

No further reservations or amendments shall be voted on until next Tuesday, that speeches on the treaty shall be limited to one hour and those on reservations to thirty minutes each beginning on Wednesday and that final vote shall be taken without debate as soon as the senate convenes on the following Friday.

Negotiations to bring the ratification fight to an end began after the senate had refused for the third time to amend the treaty so that outside powers would be called into consultation when any Pacific controversy touches their interests. And amendment for that purpose in a form differing slightly from the two voted down Monday was presented by Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, and was defeated 28 to 50 with the division of strength virtually coinciding with party lines.

Little running debate developed over the amendment or the treaty generally, although late in the day Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, a treaty supporter, stirred up a cross-fire of discussion by assailing the "no alliance" reservation of the foreign relations committee. He declared the treaty did create "an alliance for conference" and that the reservation constituted a "ridiculous absurdity." In the course of the day ratification was urged by Senator Ransdell, Democrat, Louisiana, a charge of "propaganda" in favor of the treaty was made by Senator Pittman, and an attack on "Irish-American influence against the four power pact" was made by Senator Williams, Democrat, Missouri.

Meantime, also, two new reservations and one more amendment were offered for later consideration. One of the reservations was put in by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, and embodied the language of the reservation which had been presented by Senator Brandegee, Republican, Connecticut, in the foreign relations committee but abandoned by him after a conference with President Harding. The other reservation was by Senator Shields, Democrat, Tennessee, and would declare the treaty meant no interference in foreign quarrels. The amendment, offered by Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, would pledge the four powers against secret treaties or understandings.

It was Senator Brandegee who laid the unanimous consent agreement before the senate with a statement that he had been prompted to prepare it because several Democratic senators had come to him with the suggestion that a time be fixed so they would be free to attend to other duties away from Washington.

The opposition leaders would not discuss what bearing the agreement might have on their hopes of defeating ratification but they conceded privately that they saw little to be gained by delaying a vote. This admission in itself was accepted by those in charge of the treaty as virtually meaning the collapse of any real effort to beat the pact, for which enough pledged votes are claimed to insure ratification.

Pay your poll tax before Saturday night if you want to vote in the Bond election for county roads and the Os-teen bridge.

UPSALA AND GRAPEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bertleson and little daughter motored over to DeLand last Sunday spending the day with Mr. and Mrs. Adam Karr.

G. Hirschi has been erecting a small barn for Niel Swanson and wife to replace the one recently destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Anna DeForrest is looking forward to a visit from her son's wife, Mrs. Norman DeForrest and little daughter of New York for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest West are the proud parents of a fine ten pound boy born March 7th. Both mother and babe are doing fine under the care of Dr. Puleston and Mrs. A. S. Swanson.

Mrs. Pritchard has been the guest of Mrs. Westerdick and Mrs. Beck for a few days while her husband was at Tavares and the ladies all called in to see Mrs. V. C. Collier in Sanford on Monday.

Mrs. Pritchard left Wednesday to spend a few days on the East Coast with her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Sparrowhawk.

Alfred Ericson took his little son Gilbert to see the doctor on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Niel Swanson were Sunday afternoon guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Carlson on the West Side, taking supper with them.

Jesse Lee was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stedt Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cramer and children went over Sunday to Coronado Beach and returned with a party of Sanford friends consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Green, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Collier and daughter, Miss Walker and her sister, of Comfort Cottage, and on the way picked up Mr. and Mrs. Don Douglas, of New Smyrna, taking them along.

Mrs. Edwin Lundquist was a caller at the home of Mrs. Ballinger Wednesday afternoon.

August Swanson and Archie took dinner Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. F. Lundquist.

Lillian Glidewell was a caller at the West home, coming out on the school bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, of Paola, brought over the pastor Sunday who gave us a good service and we were pleased to have with us Mr. and Mrs. Dunn and children and Goodhart Sjoblom and wife of Lake Mary. Mrs. DeForrest, who is a loyal helper in this mission work, was also present.

There was also a good little meeting Tuesday evening, the pastor, Rev. Clark, got over after the rain and on Wednesday they met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, we hear. Just at present the great need is for some way to get back and forth and meet his appointments.

Sunday school was well attended, a round dozen in the junior class to which we were glad to welcome two more, George Vihlen and John Andes, the latter coming over to visit Mr. Henderson's boys.

Mrs. Ballinger worked on the old organ, trying to stop some of the squeaks, but not with very much success. She took dinner with Mrs. N. Swanson.

LONGWOOD

C. H. Corn and Miss Ruth returned Thursday from a week's visit to Cuba.

Mrs. Jim Martin and two boys returned to her home in Oklahoma after an extended visit with her mother, Mrs. Geo. Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Wilson, of Edinburg, Va., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dinkel Tuesday. Mr. Wilson is an old schoolmate of Mr. Dinkel's.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson returned to their home in Memphis, Tenn., after spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Tullis.

The library building is being completed inside and when finished the Longwood dramatic club will stage a play, "The Wild Man from Barneo."

OVIEDO

Mrs. J. K. Hardee and two children of Fernandina are visiting her sister Mrs. W. B. Engletts.

The Radcliffe Chautauqua under the efficient management of Dr. Domer, are entertaining large crowds at the Chautauqua tent this week. Both afternoon and evening entertainments have been splendid and have been well attended by the people from Geneva, Chuluota, Golden Rod and Wegner, as well as by the Oviedo people. The general aim of the programs this year has been not only to entertain the people but to arouse in them patriotism of the right kind for America and true Americanism. The first days' program was lectures, afternoon and evening by Dr. Terry with music by the Palge Trio, second day lectures by Dr. Domer and music by the Swiss Yodlers, while on the third day, Dr. Hyde, who was with us last year as director, was the lecturer and Mr. and Mrs. Hendry, musicians and impersonators, the entertainers. The program as a whole was better than last years program, according to the opinion of many.

Mrs. H. B. McCall returned Sunday from Lakeland.

Miss Christine Nelson of Mt. Verde Institute and her mother of Tampa, are visiting friends in Oviedo this week.

Miss Ruth Young entertained a few friends Tuesday night in honor of Miss Mable Swope.

J. R. Hardee of Fernandina joined his family here Friday night as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Englett.

F. T. Lingley of Canada is spending a few dadas in Oviedo this week.

The organization of a ball team for Oviedo is under way and much pleasure is anticipated therefrom both by the players and the spectators. Not having had a ball team in several years, it is hoped that the people will rally to the support of the boys and help them sustain a team that the town will not only take pride in but derive much pleasure from, as there is nothing that can take the place of the American base ball game.

Mrs. O. G. Wolcott has had as her guest, her brother, Mr. F. H. Anderson of Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McCall spent Monday afternoon in Sanford.

EAST SANFORD

One morning last week two trucks owned by Fruit Growers Inc., being driven on Beardall about 7 o'clock in the morning had the rear of the truck to collide with one another, both trucks were loaded with colored people on the way to fields. Several girls and women were thrown off. Three women received broken legs and one woman badly bruised about the head and internally. They were all taken into Dr. Marshall's office and later the one injured the worse was taken to the hospital. She still lives. The others were taken home. A colored boy driver of one truck was said to be the blame for the accident as there was plenty of room for passing as the accident occurred at the intersection of the Moore's Station road.

Mrs. Morgan Marshall has greatly improved the appearance of her store at Cameron City with new paint with white and green trimmings.

There is said to be several cases of chicken pox about East Sanford. Old dame Nature is busy getting her new spring mantle of many and varied shades of green, all of two weeks earlier than usual. Don't blame the dame for her haste as its all very beautiful to behold now. The job is about finished.

The birthday club of which Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth is a member gave her a very pleasant party Friday evening at the Ellsworth home. Lovely cake coffee and orangeade was served. Some very pretty gifts were received.

All East Sanford was grieved at the death of Will Q. Raynor and express great sorrow for his wife and little son. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Raynor and sister, Mrs. Will Rowe, another sister, lives in Good Ground, Long Island.

Mrs. M. A. Jackson was taken to the hospital Monday for treatment as a result of an accident received the week of the Knights of Columbus

Carnival. Mr. Jackson helped with it and he with Mrs. Jackson and three little girls were returning home late at night and a car ran into their car head on and the whole family was thrown out, no injuries to mention except to Mrs. Jackson, who is suffering from spinal and internal injuries. Dr. Marshall is caring for her.

Fred Cowan, Sr., has bought 5 acres of land on Beardall ave., near Cameron City and is building a home.

There was a light frost here on the night of March 4. Beans were about the only thing hurt. Alex Foster had a fine field damaged from frost.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Saraf at their home on Richmond Avenue recently.

Charles King arrived here this week from Moiena, Mo., with a car of household goods and seven mules. Mr. King bought the J. R. Hayden property on Beardall avenue last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Zernoveau had as guests last week Dr. and Mrs. D. Albu and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Neighbor, all of Cleveland, Ohio. Dr. Albu is returning from a trip to Cuba and the others met him in Jacksonville. The doctor and Mr. Zernoveau were boyhood friends in their country Roumania and had not met for many years. It is needless to say they had a fine visit.

Captain Joe Randall of Paduca, Ky., has been calling on friends about here for the past week.

Horace Chorpene left Wednesday for Cleveland via Washington.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Dresser were over from Lake Helen calling on their nephew and the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dresser on Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Charlie Merriwether is at home from the hospital after remaining there some time for treatment for a fall for internal injuries.

Miss Alice E. Hanscom and Doctor Phrenia Chisbro went to Crescent City Saturday after three weeks visit to the J. C. Ellsworth home. They are in route to their home in Willoughby, Ohio. Miss Hanscom and Mr. Ellsworth are cousins.

Fatty Arbuckle is convinced that life is just one doggone trial after another.

Senator Pepper's maiden speech was not made in the Senate chamber, though 'twas echoed there.

WAKEFIELD PRESERVING CO., DOING BIG BUSINESS

The Wakefield Preserving Company is doing a great business now in the preserving of fruits and marmalades and making up and shipping a car load of products every ten days. When they get into the new factory at Lake Jem they expect to put out two car loads every ten days. At the Lake Jem factory the new machinery is being placed and it is thought they will be ready for the early fall business. It is also rumored that a branch factory will be located in Sanford, as all of the supplies and the finished products are now shipped into Geneva via Clyde Line and Sanford. It may be possible that the main factory will eventually be located here as this is centrally located on the river and the main lines of the A. C. I. Ry., and the freight rates are so much cheaper than any other part of Central Florida. Even if the main factory is located at Lake Jem the bulk of the shipments will still go through this city to take advantage of the water rates to eastern and northern markets.

EARLY VOTE OR LATE HOUSE IS LODGE'S TERMS

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 13.—Senate consideration of the four power pacific treaty is expected to reach the stage of action during the coming week. Believing that virtually every senator has made up his mind how he will vote, those in charge of the treaty will begin today an aggressive effort to bring the debate to a conclusion. Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, hopes to secure a unanimous agreement setting a time to begin roll calls on the proposed reservations and if he fails he is prepared to hold the senate in session until late hours so that the storm of oratory over the treaty may spend itself as soon as possible. The opponents of ratification are not expected to assent readily to such unanimous consent agreement as Mr. Lodge suggests, although they declare they have no intention of unduly prolonging the debate. They have given notice that any attempt to "force" results will be followed by the adoption of vigorous measures by the "irreconcilable bloc," which for the past week has kept at least one of its members on the senate floor constantly to observe developments and shut off any move for premature action. In spite of this situation the administration senators are hopeful that voting on reservations will begin within a few days, and some of the more optimistic even believe that a final roll call on ratification may be possible by the end of the week. They assert that the pledges given them make it certain that more than the necessary two-thirds have decided to vote for ratification with the "no alliance" reservation of the foreign relations committee and they declare that a majority would like to clear the way for the other arms conference treaties and general legislation. Senator Pomerene, Democrat, Ohio, who favors ratification with reservations and Senator Shields, Democrat, Tennessee, an opponent of the treaty, may also address the senate today or tomorrow. Over Sunday conferences served to stiffen the lines on both sides but apparently effected little change in the general situation. The group of Republicans who would like to see unqualified ratification were said to be still reluctant to follow Mr. Lodge in his support of the "no alliance" reservation, although there appeared to be little doubt in the minds of the administration leaders that in the end a solid Republican vote, exclusive of the "irreconcilable" would support the committee program.

CONTROL CHICKEN LICE FOR SETTING HENS SEVERAL GOOD REMEDIES

(By The Associated Press) GAINESVILLE, March 14.—The question of whether a setting hen should be criticized for leaving a lice infested nest, is pointedly put to poultry raisers by the Agricultural News Service of the University of Florida. Answering its question in the negative, the publication quotes Professor J. R. Watson, of the Florida Experiment Station, as to how lice can be eradicated. Sordium flouride is probably the best remedy, according to Professor Watson, who continues: "It is most economically applied to fowls by the pinch method; that is, a pinch of the powder is dusted on the head, one under each wing, one on each thigh, one around the vent, one around the breast, and two on the back." Another excellent remedy, the professor says, is one part of mercurial ointment and one or two parts of vaseline. These should be mixed thoroughly and a bit the size of a pearl, rubbed on the fowl under the wings and about the vent. It is not necessary, or even desirable the professor states, to rub the entire body of the fowl. Lice are of a roving disposition and in their search of new fields to conquer, they will sooner or later, come to the poison, according to the professor. Professor Watson says further: "One important condition in controlling chicken lice is to give the fowls abundant opportunity to dust themselves. For this purpose, dust, air-slack lime, ashes, or any light, dusty material is suitable. Fresh, very slightly damp earth in which to scratch or dust should always be available." "Of the several kinds of lice that commonly attack chickens, one crawls over the skin, especially under the wings and on the posterior part of the body, but seldom gets onto the feathers. Another is particularly a feather mite and is somewhat smaller than the body louse. Another common louse that is very injurious to young chickens, attacks the head and is called the head louse. It is best controlled, perhaps, by liberally greasing the head with lard. "Chicken mites, sucking parasites, may be killed by applying plenty of flowers of sulphur on the fowls and about the house. Mites bite and suck blood, while lice crawl and annoy. The Herald has said that speedsters should be taken in hand. They need a lesson and a good one to make them realize that Sanford's streets are not speedways. This sort of weather makes the celery growers think they are having their prayers answered—that is those that do not pray much.

PAOLA POINTS

There is to be a supper, sale and fish-pond at the Paola school grounds next Friday night, March 17th, from 6:30 to 8:30. Adult supper, 35c; children's supper, 25c. Cream and cake, 15c. Everyone will get something in the fish pond and the ladies will find fancy work and aprons and the children will find dolls in the sale. This is to be given by the Ladies' Aid of Paola and the proceeds of the supper will be given to the church and the proceeds from the sale will be for the Ladies' Aid. Please come out as the ladies are working hard to give you your moneys worth and the grounds are fine for the young folks to play games if they wish. Bible class was held last night at the home of Mrs. Burnett. We are glad to report a good crowd present. Mr. Clark announced church for the first Sunday in next month. There is also to be a baptizing on that day. Mr. Jones has returned to his home in New York after a very pleasant visit with his sister, Mrs. Cooke. The school children are selling pencils to get themselves a basket ball. I hear that they have most of them sold. Good luck to you, children, that's the spirit that everyone likes to see. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hicks were calling on Mrs. B. W. Smith on Wednesday afternoon. A jolly crowd gathered at the home of C. C. Pearson last Thursday evening for a surprise party on his daughter, Frances. It was a complete surprise and a fine time was enjoyed by all. THAT COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT Last week a correspondent in the Gazette, in a negligible endorsement of the commission-manager form of government for Kissimmee said: "Meantime it is well to reflect that neither council nor manager can create income." While this may sound well from an argumentative point of view it must be conceded to be radically wrong—because that is one of the chief duties of the councilmanic body; and it would be one of the duties of the commission and the manager, in collusion, to continue the practice. Doubtless what the writer intended to convey to the people was that neither body could create the impossible—or the inordinate; that the people governed would stand only for a certain amount of what might be termed by radicals as oppression. If Kissimmee can devise a good charter—one which from its very fairness and straightforwardness will merit the approval of the majority of the people—there is not the slightest doubt the measure would carry—PROVIDED that three commissioners could be selected who would be broad above all personalities; who would not presume to get work thru that was especially valuable to them, and of but little benefit to the masses; who would have the temerity to stand up against friend and foe alike, look them square in the eye and declare that the movement was good for all and not for a select few. If Kissimmee is to grow as it should; as have grown other communities with far less advantages; it will have to get out of the class that is wholly for itself. It will have to adopt the Rotary spirit. It will have to do away with electing men to certain offices because they have merely a "personal axe to grind"—and after that is ground to a fine edge the city may go to the devil for all he cares. New blood needs to be added in a fair ratio to those who have been striving to "run the city." Some avow that it is useless for the comparatively new-comer to try to get into office; that the older heads know the better what is needed; and that everything will be the better to make no radical change; but those who study the matter with care will admit that only by blood-infusion can oftentimes the life of the patient be preserved. The older the generality of people become the more solidly do they become "set in their ways" and the more difficult it becomes to introduce new plans. There is a constant necessity for change in the management of a city—until such a time as the best shall have been found and proven; and it is for this reason alone, if for no other, that newer and more up-to-date plans should be tried. Not only is it possible for a commission of three working in accord, and having the experience of a manager who is an expert in his lines, to "create income"—but it is possible to expend that income with greater effect; and that is an item of no small value. Right there is where the manager comes into play. Under a careful and able manager each one hundred cents may be made to do more than a dollar's worth of betterment. Cases have been known where on certain jobs fifty cents have done one hundred cents' worth improvement. Let there be some steps taken, soon to select a committee to take charge of such a matter—and have it done soon enough that none shall remain ignorant of what the bill may call for.—Kissimmee Gazette. WASTEFUL POLICY. The American people in the prodigality of their natural resources have, during the last half century, committed more and bigger economic crimes than any other people on earth. And even now while the country stands half naked, stupidly and ruthlessly stripped of so large a part of its native assets, we don't seem to have sense enough to realize our almost irreparable loss, or if we have we are without the needed energy and decisiveness of character to set about the work of reparation on or of even savings what we have left. We all know what has happened to our once glorious forests, with no effort worth the name of reforestation, and now we are destroying our great game and fish resources at such a rate that here in Florida, in which we are immediately vitally interested, it is estimated that ten years more will see us without game in our forests and nearly the same condition as to fish in our lakes and rivers. It takes no lively imagination to realize what this would mean to our state. The dullest clodhopper can see the magnitude of the calamity. Think of Florida; still in the youth of her development with her vast fields and forests once so amazingly rich in every kind of wild game, and her rivers and lakes heavily stocked with fine fish of all kinds, soon to be practically without either because her own glutinous hunters hunters and fishermen, regardless of law, right or reason, have depleted these splendid resources almost to exhaustion. Something must be done and done quickly to avert this threatened calamity, and we are glad to see the Rotary club at Sanford has taken the initiative in the movement by passing vigorous resolutions on the subject and urging the co-operation of every club in the state. Our game laws are practically dead on the statute books. Little or no effort is made to enforce them, and because no such effort is made good citizens otherwise law-abiding, yield to the bad example of others and hunt and kill out of season in such quantities as they desire. And so the vast slaughter goes merrily on all over the state, with no thought of the evil day not distant when there will be no game left to slaughter. Here is the most important of the resolutions passed by the Sanford club and every newspaper in Florida should join in the work of stirring every other club in the state to action, and legislature also. "Resolved, by the Rotary club of Sanford, Fla., first, that it here and now goes on record as favoring the enactment of state-wide game and fish laws which will adequately meet the present need; second that this Rotary club individually and collectively dedicate to this cause its energy, intellect and influence and promises to this and its hearty, loyal co-operation to the representative and senator of Seminole county in drafting and passing at the next term of the legislature suitably protective fish and game laws." The sheriff's office should be relieved of all responsibility in the enforcement of the game laws and the office of the state game warden created with deputies in all the counties. Such an office is as logical a measure as that of state shell fish commissioner. — Gadsden County Times. REACHED THE AGE OF TWENTY-ONE. Our old friend George Goolaby is celebrating the twenty-first birthday of his excellent paper the Wauchulla Advocate. It is worth something to an editor to know that he has been twenty-one years in one place, that has watched the city grow from a wide place in the road to a thriving city that has grown and prospered with the city. We remember that twenty years ago George Goolaby had just started his excellent paper and together with his good wife was working hard to put it over. We also remember when he put in the two revolution press in his shop as it was one of the first to be placed in a print shop in that part of the state. Since that time twenty-one years ago George has edited and printed one of the best weekly papers in the state and we can reach it farther and say that it is one of the best weekly papers in the United States. Success to you, old friend and to your good wife who has stood by your side and to all your excellent office force in which you have always been fortunate in securing and keeping the best—all girls, we believe. May you all live another twenty-one years and keep the Advocate up to the same high standards and long before another twenty-one years it will be a daily and a good daily at that. Wauchulla owes much to the Advocate and the Goolabys. A friend said today that the Congress should take the "B" out of bonus and put the "B" where it belongs and take the "onus" which in Latin means burden off the people and let the corporations carry it. This in a few words is the best thing we have heard about the bonus bill.

Our great celery crop is being harvested now.

And the jingle of the real coin sounds good in the ears of growers, merchants and even to the newspaper man.

With the lowering of the freight rates which is bound to come by the taking up of water transportation the Sanford section will indeed be the greatest section in the world.

The bankers of Group No. 3, enjoyed their visit to Sanford yesterday and they will go home with the feeling that they have seen one of the greatest parts of Florida—their own state. And we opine they found a live set of men in the banking business in Sanford as well.

The Methodists of Orlando built a church in one day and this gives them two Methodist churches in that growing city. Looking over the congregation of the Methodist church this week we believe that another one will have to be built here in the near future or the present one enlarged, if Dr. Walker and his co-worker, Mr. Boyd keep up their gait.

Papers may come, and papers may go, but you will always find the little Daily Herald boosting your own home town early and late with never a let-up and usually on the right side of every question giving the people the news without causing any sorrow or grief in the family of people already bowed down with troubles. It is your home paper that is your friend every day in the year and not now and then.

TAKES LIFE IN HIS HANDS

The man, who dares to drink the present-day moonshine is in danger at any time of turning his toes to the stars, according to the people who have given it a thorough test. The state director for Colorado says it is true that a man can still get a drink in Colorado, "but he takes his life in his hands when he swallows that white lightning stuff. I figure that very time we put a still out of business we have saved a few lives. A man had better increase his life insurance and bid goodbye to his family before he takes a drink of the stuff that is made in unsanitary cellars and dirty attics and in all kinds of vessels from foot tub to a tin boiler.

"Bonded liquor was made by experts. Only copper vessels were used in making liquor, and charred oak barrels in storing it. Only sanitary methods were used. It was aged before sold. But all these safeguards are cast to the winds by the illicit hooch manufacturer, and anything but safe and sanitary methods are used. Hooch is sold a few hours after it is made. It is a risky thing to drink the stuff, so while we enforce the law we save lives in dumping the concoction into the sewers."

FOR WILD LIFE PROTECTION

In making the announcement that the National Audubon societies had just received a cash contribution of $200,000, T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the association stated that this was the largest of numerous donations which through the years have been received from the same source.

"This friend began making modest gifts to our work," said Mr. Pearson, "and his interest has increased as time has gone by."

"It is an interesting and encouraging fact," he continued, "that the best supporters of the national Audubon work for the protection of wild birds and animals are those who have had opportunity longest to watch its activities. The present gift was made upon condition that the donor's name should remain anonymous. This sum will be added to our permanent endowment fund and will enable the association to enlarge its activities along the lines specified by the giver, which are as follows:

"1. For the education of the general public in the knowledge and value of useful, beautiful and interesting forms of wild life, especially birds.

"2. For the actual protection and perpetuation of such forms of wild life on suitable breeding and other reservations.

"3. For protecting and maintaining adequate protection for such forms of wild life in all parts of the western hemisphere.

"4. Or for any one of these purposes." Mr. Pearson added that the society was already making arrangements to enlarge its bird and game reservation activities, especially in the southern states and to increase its educational work among children.

"HARD TIMES" HOLD LITTLE TERROR FOR FLORIDA.

Strawberry shipments from Plant City have passed well over the half million dollar mark, and the season is far from over yet. We have no figures from the Starke and Lawley sections which are noted growers and shippers of strawberries, nor from the Manatee section which is said to have had an "enormous" acreage this year. It is safe to assume that the luscious red berries, which began going North soon after Thanksgiving and will continue going until they are crowded off the market by berries nearer the market will have brought into the state something like three-quarters of a million dollars.

Sanford brags of its celery and lettuce, and justly so for it has shipped 1,250 cars this season. The Manatee country will duplicate that or more, besides which there has been a steady stream of cars rolling northward ever since the beginning of winter, carrying to those benighted inhabitants up there cucumbers, tomatoes, peppers, beans, peas, egg plant and other vegetables. Who can estimate the wonderful advantages which we enjoy in our splendid climate. It is not merely an attraction to tourists who come here by thousands every winter, to enjoy it, but it is a genuine money-maker, enabling us to produce and ship all kinds of vegetables, in advance of any other section. We have said nothing of the oranges and grapefruit of which we ship annually 12 or 13 million boxes, which we shall double in five years. We have an admitted monopoly of grapefruit, for there is none grown in this country which can compare in flavor and juiciness with the Florida product.

When you consider all this activity which is going on in Florida throughout the winter when all the northland is locked in bonds of ice and snow, you will see why it is that Florida has felt so little of the sting of hard times and why it is the most favored of all the southern states.—Tampa Times.

THE TRUTH IS GOOD ENOUGH

A gentleman in the Herald office yesterday said that he was on his first visit to Florida and to Sanford and that he had seen so many wonders of nature and climate and growing things that all he had ever heard or read of Florida were as nothing compared to the real thing—seeing it yourself. He was an elderly gentleman and one who had seen much of the world; he was a successful business man and one not given to flattery. He meant just what he said and he continued by saying that the Florida people could always confine themselves to the truth and still say more than the inhabitants of any other section of the world. The Times-Union in an editorial yesterday under the above caption tells the same story about three sections of Florida and leaving out Sanford altogether:

"Persons, however alert and strong their minds may be, frequently are unable to grasp the truth concerning Florida. This is particularly true of those persons whose eyes have not seen and conveyed to their brains the convincing evidence to be found in Florida production from the soil. Skeptics have been created by the tales that have been told with reference to some things in Florida, things that are commonplace here, but marvelous elsewhere.

"For instance, Plant City, which in older communities would be classed as a village, and the country round about as strictly rural, has thus far this season shipped, to Northern and Western markets, strawberries that have brought the growers, in actual cash over half a million dollars. The season began only a week or so before Christmas, so that within three months a single and comparatively small community in Florida has had added to its collective bank account over $537,000, all from one single crop in a short single season. And the end is not yet.

Around Hastings, in St. Johns county, the harvesting of the 1922 spring crop of Irish potatoes is about beginning and when it is ended, in May at least $4,000,000 of good, 100-cent dollars will be added to the bank accounts of the potato growers in that single district. And on that same land two or three additional staple crops are likely to be grown and harvested before the end of the year.

Of course, as is generally known, Florida's big money crop is citrus fruit, which, this season, is likely to bring over $20,000,000 into the pockets of the growers, who are in no way greatly extended area of the state.

"These three items alone indicate the wealth that annually comes out of the soil of Florida. The truth concerning Florida strawberry, potato, orange and grapefruit production is easily ascertainable. It is a matter of government report and data. It needs not be exaggerated. It is good enough as it is. It may be believed or not, as is the pleasure of those to whom it is imparted. But it "listens good" to Florida people. They like to hear the jingle of the coin or to see the fluttering of the bank notes that come to them as the results of their crops of fruits and vegetables. It's music to their ears and joy compelling as their eyes behold the dollars rolling in. Their toils are lightened and their tribulations are forgotten as they realize and appreciate how generously good to them is the soil of Florida, and its sunshine.

"Isn't the truth about Florida good enough? Sure thing, those who will not believe it are sorry who do not want to hear the truth. This may sound like 'rubbing it in' but it isn't. It is only the result of feeling slightly elated over the fact that Florida 'has the laugh on' those who will not credit Florida's wealth that is in the production from the soil of this state."

MRS. VIRGINIA DARBY TRAMMELL RESTS

(By Dr. J. D. Adcock)
The wife of United States Senator Park Trammell, from Florida, passed peacefully to rest at Orange General Hospital last night at 11 o'clock. As the Apostle Paul, Acts 17:26 said of David, so I can truly say of this most highly honored daughter of Orange county. Namely "after serving her own generation by the will of God fell on sleep."

Service was the keynote of her beautiful life. She lived in the present and for her own generation. She tried as faithfully as any one I ever knew to live within God's will. Her's was a life of unselfish service. How beautifully this was manifest towards her own, her loved ones, and her friends. Not being blessed with children of her own, she loved and cared almost continuously for children of others. She loved and served her friends who were unlimited by any class or creed, or conditions of circumstances. She loved and served as a patriot the people and the interests of her great and wonderful native state. When her noble and brilliant husband entered politics she took charge of his campaign headquarters. When he made the race for Attorney General, as also in his contest for governor and United States Senator, she managed his campaign headquarters in such a manner as to become a champion among the most astute politicians of the state. Her husband always contending that he had the best campaign manager of any man in politics. While in the mansion she was always just the same in her attitude toward the people as the day before the election when her husband was a candidate. Never was a time while there that the interests of the people from the poorest and the most unfortunate criminal to those representing most important matters before this board of state institutions, was just as safe in her hands as in the vault of a national bank.

But while she was with her husband in politics, she was always faithful to her church as she was also consistent in her Christian life. For the entire eight years of her residence in Tallahassee, she was directress of the choir, special soloist, and teacher of a large class of young ladies in the Sunday School of the First Baptist church and during her six years' residence in Washington City she with her husband, had been faithful in her attendance upon the services at the Calvary Baptist church. Also a worker in the Sunday school. During the period while the writer was her pastor he was never denied by her a request for a solo or special service of any sort whatsoever, which was possible for her to render. He has known her to leave the mansion with a number of house guests who did not care to attend church in order to attend prayer meeting. During her four years as the first lady of the state, she never allowed cards, or dancing, or any kind of amusements in the mansion which were questionable to the consistency of a Christian home.

Her's was not only a life of service but also a life of faith. She lived in the conscious presence of her Savior. She never doubted that "All things work together for good to the children of God who are called according to His purpose." Her favorite song was "I love to think my Father knows, Why I have missed the path I chose, And that I soon shall clearly see, The way He led was best for me."

Better still, better than her life of service, better than her faith, was her life of prayer. The first words that she ever spoke to me, I was in the church in Tallahassee. She said "We are glad to welcome you as our new pastor. Be assured I will pray for you." The last words she spoke to me, it was just a few hours before her beautiful spirit passed to be with God. She said, "Don't forget to pray." When her husband was elected governor, she said to me the first time I saw her thereafter, "Pray for him that he may be true. Pray for me that I may be faithful." The last word she spoke to her dear husband before her final sleep was concerning her last prayer and her blessed assurance. "When life's little day is over. And on us the shadows fall, Hear our prayer our Heavenly Father Keeping vigil o'er us all. Guard us through the vale of shadows, When the night is dark and deep, Grant us calm and peaceful slumber, When thy children fall asleep."

VOTING MORE THAN CASTING BALLOT.

Almost any one, privileged under the law to do so, can cast a ballot at a polling place in a national, state, or local election. But it requires brains to vote intelligently. Voting is more than casting a ballot, expressing a choice for this or that candidate. It begins before the election. It means particularly in the choosing of candidates. This applies to all voters, and not to only those who make a profession of politics, those who do the thinking for others entitled to vote, which includes the choosing of candidates, or nominees, and some portion of the work necessary for the nomination of the most promising, in point of capability and efficiency, from among those who "announce" for office.

The farmers' vote is regarded of immense importance throughout the country. Its importance ought to be realized by the farmers themselves. The most important feature is the degree of intelligence that accompanies the farmers' vote. To that is added more general appreciation of the need for careful choosing of those who are to hold public offices, make the laws and administer them and to attend to the thousand and one duties pertaining to official positions.

Quite recently the Pennsylvania Farmer—which, as its name indicates, is a journal devoted to agricultural industry and the well-being of those engaged therein—had this to say with reference to "Farmers in Politics":
It will be the duty of the voters this year to select many state and national officials. The importance of choosing the right people is probably greater this year than ever before. Voters should take a personal and collective interest in the nomination of men and women upon whom they can rely to carry forward the developments of our institutions and at the same time practice the utmost economy. The question of heavy taxes is one which must be considered as of foremost importance in these days of lessened income. However, the primary institutions of rural life—the highways, the public schools and other necessary institutions—should not be made less effective nor their development retarded. Progress can continue without an increase of taxes if a more rigid economy is practiced through the elimination of unnecessary expense.

What is said in the foregoing paragraph applies equally in Florida as in Pennsylvania. Here, as in the Keystone state, we have our cherished, our invaluable institutions, all of which need careful attention no less than the purely public business. It goes without need of cited proof to say that incompetent men or women can not efficiently represent the people and transact their public business as it should be transacted. Then it follows that the selection of those to perform public duties needs to be made with the utmost of care in order that only those best qualified are nominated for and elected to office.

The time to choose the right people for official places is now and not a day or two before election. It is too late then to make more than a choice between those who have been placed in nomination, with or without the consent of the voters generally. This work of choosing candidates cannot with safety be delegated to the few or even be permitted to be done without individual concern and participation. It is a favorite expression that "the people are supreme," but they are not when they fall in doing their whole duty and doing it well. Choosing the right people for public offices is one of the most important of the duties of citizenship.—Times-Union.

CONTEMPTIBLE NEWS METHODS

If Henry Peavy's story of the third degree through which certain newspaper men put him in an attempt to find out whether he was the murderer of William Desmond Taylor is true, then it is a bad business and official investigation and punishment should not be lacking. If the story is not true, then the telling of it is bad business and due to be dealt with accordingly.

The news-gathering business is difficult enough at best. It has been hard enough for newspaper men to make people see that their profession is an honorable and necessary one, that getting the truth and telling it even when it is unpleasant is essential to the public well-being. Such methods as those said to be employed in the attempt to get Peavy's story are beneath the dignity of any decent newspaper or news-gathering agency. Every straight newspaper in the country will want to see this matter thoroughly investigated.—St. Augustine Record.

PRIVATE OFFICES ARE PASSING INTO HISTORY

The private office is becoming a thing of the past. It used to be the sign "Private" on a man's door meant he was more or less protected from the disturbing influences of the world; he could lean back in his chair, smoke a companionable pipe and really think about the problems of his business. But those good old days are passing along with the Virginia reel and the old black mammy—and indeed, "We remember with a sigh the days that are no more!"

The office of today is the loafing place of your friends, and the more private the office the better your friends like it. Book agents take special delight in invading it. Salesmen glide past its portals with a cleverness that is developed only after years of practice. Even beggars have learned the secrets of entrance.

Speaking of the poor workingman, the day laborer who goes out with pick and shovel and digs ditches is in luck! Passersby never think of stopping and firing a barrage of questions at him; he can figure what he is going to be doing two or three or four hours hence; the suspense of labor is one of the last of his troubles. When the whistle blows, even though the ditch is not completed, the day laborer forgets his worries and marches off home to enjoy a well-earned meal.

The real poor working man is the business man who has to always figure on how much time he is going to be forced to waste in his office on his friends and others—not in a business way, but in this modern curse called "dropping in."

The droppers-in are millionaires about the economic neck of the country! The office man doesn't know what the next minute holds; there may be business and a dropper-in—and it is nerve wrecking trying to attend to one and be hospitable to the other at the same time.

It is the rankest form of selfishness that will cause a person to take slices of another person's time, especially in a business way, without giving something worth while in return. After all, the only incomparable asset we have is time, for once passed it is gone forever, and it would be a happier world all the way 'round if the private office staged a comeback and slammed its door in the face of that growing herd of nuisances who "just dropped in"—Jacksonville Metropolis.

So Jacksonville is not to have an automobile factory after all and the building will be used merely as a Florida distributing warehouse for the Hanson car. We looked at the "sample innos" displayed at the State fair by the company that plastered stock all over the state on the grounds of establishing a new manufacturing industry in Florida, and the stock salesman in attendance came over, looked lovingly at the sample car and asked:—"Ain't she a dream?" It develops now that "she" was exactly that—a dream.—Leesburg Commercial.

Unless the railroad rates are lowered before another shipping season the growers of the Sanford section can make up their minds that they will not get the money for their celery that they have this season. If there happened to be a drop in the market now which is not probable but is possible, there would be but very little profit in celery now. The answer is ship by water, joining the Water Traffic League, buy a boat and have your own transportation. It is the only answer. You can't put it off any longer.

Looks like Bob Holly is overlooking a bet in not claiming the Sanford school girl who answered correctly the 100 questions on current topics propounded by the Literary Digest, got her information from the Sanford Herald.—Tampa Tribune.

Couldn't claim it altogether, Jaw, since the young lady reads the Herald and the Tampa Tribune and we now advise the school boards of the different counties to subscribe for the Sanford Herald and the Tampa Tribune.

That ideal government of Russia wants American radicals to go over there and work the iron and coal mines. Each worker is to supply his own tools and all he gets is his board and lodging. We can see any of the American workmen going to Russia under those terms and yet that is the sort of stuff the "Parlor Bolsheviks" are preaching in America. They should all be sentenced to ten years in Russia.

To Whom It May Concern: That I, Edward M. Gallagher, a local blacksmith who has four boys in the orphanage in Burlington, a baby with my sister, Mrs. Charles Center, in Rutledge, and four other boys in different places and my wife in a hospital, is not the same Edward Gallagher who was arrested for stealing a suit case a couple of weeks ago.—Edward M. Gallagher, Rutland (Vt.) Herald.

Saw a mut on a motorcycle the other day that looked like it came from Noah's Ark. It had everything on it for noise making that could possibly hang on and rattle and with the exhaust wide open and every one of his two cylinders working he rushed down the street making a noise like a locomotive stalled on the Mt. Dora hill. He should "get the hook."

George Won't Do It

"George Goolsby says he would just as soon kiss his job press with the red ink fountain as some of the carmened lips the flappers wear," whereat the Leesburg Commercial stated that it "knew poor Goolsby well when he would no more have stopped because lips were like red cherries than he would pass a bird fancier's window without stopping," and advises George that "if you have to turn down any, just put them on ice until we get down there next time." Whereupon the Florida Chief comments: "Huh! Gilbert, don't you know left hand advertising pays these days. He is simply bidding, the old scamp." Well, the days of promiscuous osculations have past for us, but in order to help out one of the fraternity who appears to have gotten in hot water, we suggest that if Editor Goolsby gets any bidders that he please do not "put them on ice," but send them over here and, in due season, we will return 'em as they were—minus the carmine. Now, don't breathe a word of this outside the sanctum—there are those who might place a wrong construction on our offer. It's only in a pinch, that we thus over-ride our scruples, believe US!

Thought for the Day
Error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it.—Thomas Jefferson.

Editor Bob Holly of the Sanford Herald, gives his ideas on the bonus question "because everybody else is doing it." However, Commander MacNider of the American Legion, claims the country already has too many bonus ideas and not enough bonus dollars.—Florida Metropolis.

It is really amusing about some of those ponderous editorials some of the newspapers are ready to fling at the Republicans about their laxity and their shortcomings. Why say anything about the Republican party and what they have not done? Every school boy knows it. There is no room for any argument, the truth is so plain.

The government seems to be putting every obstacle in Henry Ford's way to prevent his taking over Muscle Shoals. We said it all along. The Republican trust lovers and corporation "buddies" will never let that big proposition get to a man who might be interested in doing something for the people.

Remember that on Friday night, March 24th, the Central Florida Water Traffic League will meet in Orlando at 7:30 and something will be done about establishing a boat line on the St. Johns river. Every shipper and grower in the Sanford section and in the county of Seminole should be there.

A floating liquor palace will be anchored outside the three mile limit at New York and then there will be something doing unless new laws can be passed giving the United States prohibition forces the dominion of the seven seas, the earth and the sky.

Pay your poll tax before Saturday if you want to vote in the bond election for improvement of roads.

The many friends of Dr. Nolle Tolar will be glad to learn that he is improving at the hospital in Memphis where he was forced to go several days ago on account of a serious illness that forced him to leave his practice for several weeks.

COL. A. M. THRASHER TELLS ABOUT THE G. O. P. FAILURES AND ANCIENT HISTORY

Paris, France, Feb. 23, 1922.
To the Editor of the Sanford Herald: Solomon, Josh Billings or Josh Chase, it don't matter which—said: "When a man starts down hill everything seems to be greased for the occasion." The writer believes it and he believes it applies to a political party and now that we think there are signs of a nearly down hill move by the G. O. P. the writer is moved to make it known that he is anxious, willing and waiting to contribute some lubricating oil and a push and a kick to accelerate the down hill and out movement.

The sooner the start, so much the better. Listen, now and then an irresistible impulse, or it may be a slight touch of incipient lunacy grips me hard and fast, and I become obsessed with the idea and firm conviction that it is absolutely necessary that I should put in my oar and try to aid the U. S. and the balance of the world in pulling through the Gulf of Chaos, in which the Germans in Europe and the G. O. P. in America, have left the whole business floating aimlessly at the mercy of the waves, without rudder, chart or compass, and the work of rescue should begin at once and in the United States to avoid complete wreck.

As a starter and lest it forgets, the writer wishes to remind the G. O. P. of a few sins, memorable and unpardonable it has committed and for which it has not been properly punished.

First—The memorable and famous presidential election: R. B. Hays vs. S. J. Tilden, when the vote was very close, and so close, that a commission composed of fifteen members and known as the electoral commission, was created and authorized to investigate the facts, count the votes, ascertain which of the two candidates had been elected and make a report to the congress.

The G. O. P. was in the saddle, and EIGHT G. O. P. men and SEVEN Democrats were named and they composed the Electoral Commission.

From the hour of creation of that historic and now famous, or rather infamous commission every G. O. P. man knew what the result would be—because, and simply because, the G. O. P. had a majority of one on the commission. And, of course, the verdict was in favor of R. B. Hays.

As a matter of fact the whole matter had been thoroughly sifted and investigated and the people of the United States know that the finding in favor of Hays was absolutely false. They knew that Samuel J. Tilden had been elected president.

The report of that commission placed upon America the blackest stain since the birth of the nation.

The G. O. P. smiled, Jas. G. Blaine was the only one of the whole gang who blushed!

We label that INFAMY NO. ONE.

Second—Then came the actual grab and appropriation of the Panama Canal strip in a time of profound peace from our little neighbor and friend, Colombia, when it was well known that they had no army, no navy and no money and that she would have to submit tamely, and in silence to the monstrous outrage.

When criticised for that foul crime, the reply that came was the reply of an egotistical and boasting braggart, and in these words: "YES, I TOOK PANAMA." That is historic truth,

WEAK, NERVOUS, ALL RUN-DOWN

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. I saw after taking some Cardui... that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me... My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere.

and that is a very brief little story of a crime that will long blister the pages of history. The G. O. P. was responsible, and the G. O. P. smiled.

We label that INFAMY NO. TWO.

Third—Then came the Newberry vs. Ford senatorial election, the foul odors of which still infect the air we breathe.

Newberry was declared to be elected and took his seat in the senate.

But he was arrested, indicted, tried, convicted, and sentenced by a federal judge to serve a term of years in the penitentiary.

Newberry appealed and there was a reversal on a slight technical point.

But that didn't remove the black stain from Newberry's name. Just here comes in one of the saddest and among the most regrettable incidents in the history of America.

The question as to whether Newberry should be allowed to retain his seat in the senate, was about to be voted on, and at the crucial moment just before the voting, President Harding openly and in a conspicuous manner, espoused Newberry's cause, and praised and eulogized the name and character of Newberry to the limit. In the circumstances it was certainly unseemly or worse. It was the act of a lobbyist of a ward politician and not of a statesman.

It was plainly for political purposes and for the purpose of swaying and swinging the votes of the senate to and in favor of Newberry.

He accomplished his purpose, and Newberry won "by the skin of his teeth." But millions of American citizens hung their heads in shame.

The fact was developed however, that the senators not only did not believe Newberry on oath but really believed that he was guilty of fraud, bribery and other high crimes, and that one thing and that only saved Newberry, viz: the admitted fact that he had bought his senatorial seat, and had paid cash for it, and ought to have it.

Newberry paid a high price for his senatorial togs—a pile of money and his once good name, which is blasted and blighted, forever. The president, Newberry and the G. O. P. smiled.

We label that INFAMY NO. 3.

Yes, the G. O. P. is responsible for the three infamies that it stamped upon the Escutcheon of the United States that are BLACKER than the famous MacBeth blood stains are red, and the damned spots will not out. No "all the waters of the incarnadin seas" nor all the rains that fall from heaven's blue and blending dame can never wash them out.

If the G. O. P. remains in power what may we not expect next? Echo answers what?

The G. O. P. failed to grasp or comprehend the world conditions of today and for the little it has done, and "such as it is" and as far as it goes along the road marked out by Woodrow Wilson it deserves only scant praise.

As one result we seriously doubt whether the United States has one true and loyal friend on earth today.

The above are three short and abbreviated little stories of three tragic events in the life of the G. O. P. verified by personal recollections. And yet, and nevertheless, from rostrum and stump and soap boxes on street corners everywhere, the G. O. P. will continue to boast, and brag of its grand achievements.

There should be, there must be a change. Let the work begin at once—TODAY—and with this motto inscribed upon our banners: "TURN THE RASCALS OUT."

A. M. THRASHER.

EGGS ARE DROPPING IN NESTS AND PRICE PRESERVE THEM NOW

GAINESVILLE, March 15.—Poultry raisers are urged by Dr. N. W. Sanborn, poultry specialist of the University of Florida, to take advantage of the present low prices for eggs and the large supply, to raise chickens and preserve surplus eggs.

"This is a period of low prices of eggs" Dr. Sanborn wrote recently to an interested poultry raiser. "Every hen is on her job. Local markets are overflowing with eggs and prices are dropping. Do not rush your eggs into an already crowded market. Get busy with your years hatching. Use part of this full supply of eggs to produce chicks for eating and for laying. Then put down in water glass your surplus eggs or sell them to people you may be able to interest in this method of preserving eggs. Printed instructions for preserving eggs in water glass, instructions which you may use and pass on to your neighbor, can be had for the asking of the College of Agriculture, or by calling upon your county or home demonstration agent."

Again we say that the establishment of a cold storage and abattoir in Sanford where cattle could be butchered and kept on storage and distributed from this point would be a good thing for the cattlemen and for the consumer.

Deep Reduction in Overland and Willys-Knight

Overland at $550 and Willys-Knight at $1375 f. o. b. Toledo

A deep reduction in prices of Overland and Willys-Knight cars, was announced today by officials of the Willys-Overland Company. The new prices are effective immediately.

The new price of the powerful, easy-riding Overland touring car, which by sheer merit of economy, quality and comfort has attained a dominant place in the light car field, is $550. One year ago, this car sold for $1035.

This is an additional reduction since the reduction of 42% recorded from September, 1920, to September, 1921, a total reduction of 47% in a year and a half, the most radical reduction in motor car prices in the history of the automobile industry.

In 1918, the Overland sold for $615, a price that was though could never be bettered. Today it is $115 lower.

The Willys-Knight touring car is now listed at $1375 a further reduction of $150 since the startling reduction of 34% made last September, a total reduction of 40% in a year and a half.

These new prices were made possible by remarkable economies in manufacturing methods, the consumption of high priced material inventories, the practical total elimination of obligations for high-priced materials, the operation of a new, more progressive and more economical marketing plan, and lastly, the hearty co-operation in the plan to build more cars per man each day, by every employee in the four plants the company operates.

These new prices place Overland and Willys-Knight cars in the front price rank in their classes. For the past year and a half, the records of these cars have proved their economy, quality, performance and comfort.

The new prices and those of September, 1920, follow:

Overland chassis $450, formerly $885; touring $550, formerly $1035; roadster $550, formerly $1035; coupe $850, formerly $1525; sedan $895, formerly $1675.

Willys-Knight roadster $1350, formerly $2300; touring $1375, formerly $2300; coupe $1875, formerly $2950; sedan $2095, formerly $3050; chassis $1100. All prices are f. o. b. Toledo.

The powerful, easy-riding Overland offers many advantages; economy of operation; triplex springs, insuring easy riding; three speed and reverse selective transmission of heat treated nickel-alloy steel gears; Timken bearings; all-steel body, baked-enamel finish; spring base of 130 inches as against wheel-base of 100 inches; 34 foot turning radius; 27 brake horse power motor; electric started, lights and horn, etc.

The Willys-Knight car, built of the highest grade materials, stands apart from the great majority of cars, chiefly because it is motored by the Willys-Knight sleeve-valve engine. This engine has given to the Willys-Knight car the slogan, "Its Motor Improves with Use."

It is because of the sleeve-valve of the Knight type motor that the automobile world in general concedes these seven advantages to this Willys-Knight motor—

First, it improves with use; second, it requires no adjustments; third, it is more powerful; fourth, it is more flexible; fifth, it is silent in operation and remains so; sixth, it is simple, being free from complicated parts; seventh, it is economical.

POLL TAXES MUST BE PAID IF YOU VOTE

IN THE BOND ELECTION THAT HAS BEEN CALLED FOR APRIL 11TH

Property owners in Seminole county are urgently reminded of the necessity of paying poll taxes in order to permit them to vote on the one hundred thousand dollar bond issue, a special election for which has been called for April 11th in Sanford. All taxes must be paid by Saturday, March the 18th, and the County Commissioners are anxious to have as large a vote as possible polled at the election. The 1921 law also requires that women free holders must pay poll tax. This county bond issue is a most important one and will afford those who are interested in good roads in Seminole county the opportunity to secure them. The details for improvement as provided for in the bond issue have been carefully planned by the County Commissioners and subsequently endorsed by all the civic organizations of Sanford. They provide for a great many improvements to Seminole county's highway system. Resurfacing the brick roads with tar via and granite chips on the following avenues: Beardall, Geneva, Celery east of Beardall, Gertrude avenue west of Monroe road. The commissioners have also provided for resurfacing 33 miles of macadam roads with tar via or asphalt mixed with granite chips. In addition to these road improvements the commissioners have included the sum of $15,000.00 in this issue for the construction of a bridge at Osteen Ferry. With the approval of this is-lected being considered the best possible to obtain, according to Major Charles A. Browne, the county engineer.

Arthur Schults, chairman of the board of county commissioners and other members of the board expressed the belief that the county had got a bargain. They were highly pleased with the result of the bidding.

The Lasley Brothers and Harvey Company bid $157,495 on Jug brick with cement grout filler; $152,995 on plain wire cut brick, smaller size; and $160,495 on the third specification, which was the bid accepted. On the third class of material the James Y. Wilson Company, of Jacksonville bid $170,790; the Georgia Engineering Company, of Augusta, $174,985; W. H. Kendrick, of Tampa, $178,550; James G. Yeats Company of Port Tampa, $180,000; F. W. Long and Company, of Jacksonville, $186,095 and Fish Brothers, of Tampa, $187,620.—Orlando Sentinel.

WINTER PARK HIGHWAY TO SEMINOLE LINE WILL BE WIDENED

The contract for widening the Winter Park highway from Orlando to the Seminole county line was awarded yesterday by the county commissioners to Lasley Brothers and Harvey, of Chattanooga, Tenn., who bid $160,495 which was $10,000 lower than the nearest competitor, the James Wilson Construction Company of Jacksonville.

Under the terms of the contract the company will give its bond in the full amount involved within ten days and work on the road will begin within fifteen days after the bond is posted. The project will be completed in 100 days.

The road from this city to the Seminole county line, just beyond Maitland, is at present nine feet wide. It will be widened to twenty-four feet between Orlando and Winter Park and sixteen feet from that city to the Seminole border.

The paving will be of plain wire cut brick, 3 1-2x4x8 1-2 inches, with asphalt filler. Bids were asked on three classes of material, the kind se-

REVIVAL OF DISCUSSION ON STATE DIVISION IN COMING CAMPAIGN

Legal Authorities Say There Are Few Precedents to Go By

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, March 13.—Revival of discussion in Central and South Florida of a proposal to divide the state, which arose recently with the renewal of the capital removal campaign, has prompted an emanation of legal records and an inquiry here as to just what steps would be necessary to create another state from a part of one already in existence.

Legal authorities declare that inasmuch as the division of states has been little indulged in there exists very scant precedent upon which to base an opinion as to the proper course to be pursued should such a step be undertaken. Section 3 of Article 2, of the Constitution of the United States provides that "New states may be admitted by the Congress into this Union, but no new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state; nor any state be formed by the junction of two or more states or parts of states without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned, as well as the Congress."

The exact meaning of the language contained in this section, it is said, never has been judicially determined, although the Supreme Court of the United States did uphold the validity of the statehood of West Virginia, (Virginia vs. West Virginia, 78 United States Reports; 11 Wall page 39.) Legal opinion, holds, therefore, that it may be assumed it is possible for a new state to be established, comprised of territory which theretofore has been entirely a part of the territorial jurisdiction of one state. It also may be assumed, it is said, that in the event the proposed new state bordered upon the high seas that it might be found possible to include within the proposed new state territory adjacent to the seashore, which was not included within and did not form a part of the original state. Assuming then that conditions are such that a new state might be formed without conflicting with the Federal constitution and that only one existing state would be affected by the creation of such new state, it is the opinion of legal authorities that the following course of procedure would be correct:

1. The Legislature of the parent state would pass an act consenting to the creation and admission of the new state; designating its boundaries, and in the same act provide for a Constitutional Convention to be held within the jurisdiction of the proposed new state; provide for an election to be held for the purpose of submitting the proposed Constitution to the qualified voters of the proposed new state; and, providing further, for the proposed Constitution, together with the report of the result of the election thereof, to be transmitted to the Congress of the United States and to the President, together with the original act by which the consent of the parent state is given to the creation of the new state.

2. The Congress of the United States upon receiving the records would be called upon to pass an act admitting the proposed new state under its proposed constitution as a state into the Union of the United States of America, to take effect upon the proclamation of the President.

Authorities declare it is impossible to say what period of time would be consumed in the process outlined but it is held in several quarters that such a matter could be so managed as to create a new state within a few months, after the initiative action of the Legislature of the parent state. It also is conceded that it would be possible for unlimited delays to occur after the process had passed beyond the control of the territory affected.

It is held that a different course could lawfully be pursued in that the whole question could be submitted first to the vote of the entire state and should the vote be favorable than the course outlined above could be followed to the same end. Or, it is said an act consenting to the creation of the proposed new state, and its necessary provisions, could be passed with a referendum clause submitting it to the people of the whole state, to become effective after being ratified by a majority vote.

IN MEMORIAM

R. T. Wynne died February 21st at Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital in Sanford, after a short illness. Mr. Wynne was 72 years old, and came to Florida from Alabama 34 years ago. He had lived in Sanford and Lake Monroe for the last 23 years and was known as one of Lake Monroe's best farmers. He leaves to mourn his loss, two sons and two daughters, R. T. Wynne, Jr., and John L. Wynne, of Lake Monroe and Mrs. A. G. Purdon of Jacksonville and Mrs. W. E. Hawkins of Sanford, also a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren. The funeral was held at Lake Monroe Baptist Church at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with Rev. R. L. Smith officiating.—Contributed.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all those who extended their kindness and sympathy to us during the sickness and death of our father, R. T. Wynne, also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. W. Edward Argo and family wish to express their thanks to their many friends in Oviedo, Sanford, Orlando and throughout the state for their thoughtful attentions, and for the beautiful floral offerings and expressions of kindness during their recent bereavement.

BRICK ROADS LAST ACTUAL FIGURES SHOW LOW MAINTENANCE COST

With Florida on the eve of an expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars for the improvement of city streets and rural highways, it is only natural that taxpayers should become interested in the most economical expenditure of this money.

Economy in highway expenditures results when a highway type is built which will last longest, cost the least for repair, not necessitate frequent closing of the road to traffic to accomplish such repair, and will furnish a hard, smooth, sanitary and durable surface for all kinds of traffic, light, medium and heavy.

The following low maintenance costs on Florida brick roads are revealed from figures in the public records:

Seminole County Road No. 3; laid on natural soil, 7,000 yards, built in 1917, no maintenance to date.

Volusia County Road; built in 1917, adjacent to DeLand, 14 miles brick laid on natural soil, maintenance $6.93 per mile per year.

Seminole County Road No. 1, between Orange County line and Robinson Springs, brick on natural soil, 8 miles built in 1916, maintenance $5.60 per mile per year.

Orange County Road No. 3, in Orange County between north city limits of Orlando and Seminole County line, 7 miles, built in 1915, maintenance cost $4.08 per mile per year or 3-4 of a cent per square yard for seven years.

HERE'S A DEMOCRAT AS OCALA STAR SEES IT.

Some time ago The News, very innocently, asked several gentlemen of the press supposed to be versed in political doctrines of all parties, what, to their mind, constituted the principles which the state executive committee adjured electors to cuddle before they pushed a ballot in the box. After some fencing Editor Benjamin, of The Ocala Star, has come out into the open. He says:

"We suppose the state committee meant what it said by its resolution. We don't pay much attention to the state committee's resolutions. The last honest and courageous resolution we remember its making was the one repudiated by the combination of socialists, prohibitionists, Republicans, bigots and misguided Democrats who elected Catts in 1910. Since then the state committee has had better sense than to make a resolution with any character in it. The principles of democracy as we understand them are representative government and government for government only, white supremacy, state rights, total separation of church and state, always support the nominee and to the victor belongs the spoils. Now, then, will you be good?"—Ocala Star.

On to Palm Beach and no quarter asked and none given—there will be nothing less than a dollar asked or given.

The cattlemen of Seminole county should consider their own cold storage plant in connection with a slaughter pen and the cheaper price of meat. The home boys ought to be getting what is coming to them.

and purebred calf and purebred colt and purebred "biddle" from the time when we went barefooted and ate out of a spoon, but, how often have we heard about purebred corn or purebred other kinds of seed?

May it be said that it is just as important that the farmer secure the best seed to be had as it is for him to secure the best livestock. "Purebreds eventually, why not now," applied as properly to the seed of farm crops as it does to farm animals.

The planting time, for general field crops, is near. Seed should be on hand or readily available. But it is not too late to get purebred seed—the best seed. If you didn't save your own purebred seed or haven't them already, there are many reputable seed houses throughout the country, and the nearest one to you can be reached in a few days by mail.

However, in buying seed, it is just as necessary that you make sure of the reputation of the dealer and of the quality of the seed as you do when you buy purebred livestock. First, make sure that the seedman makes it his strong point not to sell poor seed. Second, be sure he makes no mistake in the seed he sells you—make him make sure of it.

Plant only sound purebred seed—start the crop right—and make bigger yields.

PRODUCER MEETS CONSUMER.

Housewives in many towns in Florida are finding it possible to buy fresh vegetables, fruits and other farm products directly from the farmer and at modest, reasonable prices. Various agencies throughout the state, particularly home demonstration agents, have been laboring to this end for several years—striving to institute "curb markets," places where the farmer may directly meet the consumer and on terms which are fair and satisfactory to both.

Last August a number of women belonging to the county council of home demonstration work in Ft. Meyers started to work to establish a curb market in that city. This market opened January 7. Miss Sarah W. Partridge, state home demonstration agent, reports that most encouraging and satisfactory results are being met by this curb market. The beginning was somewhat slow, the sales the first week amounting to only $40. But, as soon as the farmers learned that the housewives really would come out and buy their products, the sales took a sudden, upward trend and for the first week in February amounted to $370. "Before this curb market came I tried to sell a load of vegetables by driving from house to house. I lost a day and took in $19. Now, that the market is here, I have sold for $24 the same load which formerly brought me only $19. Formerly I lost a day; now I sell out in an hour," so spoke one farmer of the Ft. Meyers section. Miss Partridge states that curb markets will be started soon in several other cities in the state.

SOUTH FLORIDA REPRESENTATIVES KILLED THE REAPPORTIONMENT BILL

The press of the Southern part of Florida seems bent on attributing to the representatives and senators from West Florida, in the Florida legislature unjust and unfair legislation as to re-apportionment, claiming that West Florida will never give South Florida a square deal in the legislature.

In order that the public may know that these charges are made by these papers without the knowledge of the facts the writer has looked into the re-apportionment question and has followed house bill No. 1 of the 1921 session of the legislature until same was indefinitely postponed on the motion of a South Florida representative. This house bill No. 1 was a bill to be entitled an Act to apportion the representation of the state of Florida in the senate of the state of Florida, and to apportion the representation of the state of Florida in the house of representatives of the state of Florida. It will be recognized as one on which Attorney General Rivers H. Buford, before the legislature convened, prepared and which was endorsed by the press of the state as being fair, and was recognized as a good reapportionment measure.

This bill was introduced in the house of representatives by Mr. Ellis of Alachua county on April 7, the first bill introduced in the house. The bill was referred to the committee on re-apportionment. On April 8th the measure was reported favorably by a unanimous vote of the committee. This report was made by S. D. Harris of Pinellas and recommended that the bill be passed. On the same day, Mr. Harris moved that 200 copies of this bill be printed, which was agreed to.

The measure rested until April 16th when Mr. Harris, of Pinellas, moved that house bill No. 1 be made a special order for the following Monday at 4:15 p. m. A roll call being demanded there were 29 yeas and 30 nays. The motion being lost nothing more was heard of the bill until Wednesday, April 20th, when the measure was taken up and read a second time in full. Mr. Futch of Lako, moved that this bill be made a continuing order for Friday morning, April 20th. Pending consideration of this motion the house adjourned. When this order was reached the following morning, Mr. Perry, of Leo, moved as a substitute that the further consideration of house bill No. 1 be indefinitely postponed, which substitute was accepted by Mr. Futch. The question then recurred on the motion to indefinitely postpone consideration of house bill No. 1. Pending action on this motion the house recessed until 3 o'clock that afternoon.

At three o'clock the house was called to order by the speaker, and upon roll call 78 members answered to their names. The consideration of house bill No. 1 to be indefinitely postponed was resumed. The speaker ruled that the substitute offered by Mr. Perry to the original motion of Mr. Futch and which substitute was accepted by Mr. Futch and became his motion, was not a proper substitute, and accordingly the question before the house at the time was the original motion of Mr. Futch, namely, that said house bill No. 1 be made a continuing order for Friday, April 20th at 10 o'clock a. m. Whereupon Mr. Futch withdrew that motion and made a motion that the measure be indefinitely postponed, be now put, which was agreed to.

A roll call being demanded the vote on the motion to indefinitely postpone resulted in 41 yeas and 34 nays. Among those voting to indefinitely postpone which always means death these nine South Florida representatives recognized as being from South Florida. Had these nine voted against the postponement of the measure the vote would have been 43 against and 33 for. The names of these nine South Florida representatives can be found recorded on page 633 of the house Journal of the 1921 session of the legislature.—Tallahassee Democrat.

DEATH OF FRED DORNER'S SON

The eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dorner died last night after a short illness of pneumonia. The little boy had been sick only a few days when death called him to the realms above and his parents are left desolate and the many friends of the little fellow are sorrowing with them today. The funeral will occur today at four o'clock from the residence on Calvary avenue, interment being made in Lakeview cemetery. They have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

STATE PARDON BOARD MEETS TODAY AT CAPITOL

TALLAHASSEE, March 14.—The State Pardon Board met today. It had one hundred and three applications for clemency before it.

CAPITAL REMOVAL MEETING AT OCALA WELL ATTENDED

NEXT MEETING WILL BE AT ORLANDO ON APRIL 5TH

OCALA, Fla., March 14.—Several hundred delegates from throughout Peninsula Florida at a meeting here yesterday took the initial step towards concerted efforts for the removal of the state capitol by effecting a temporary organization and appointing committees to work out a permanent organization which will be effected at a meeting to be held in Orlando on April 5.

The meeting here yesterday, called by the Palatka chamber of commerce, was characterized by the business-like manner in which it was conducted and the lack of oratory. The session lasted only three hours.

A committee on committees was named and charged with the task of delegating to other committees the work incident to the organization. The various committees, it was announced, will be announced at a meeting of the committee on committees at Lakeland, March 18.

The majority of the meeting supported a declaration by Circuit Judge W. S. Bullock, one of the speakers, that capitol removal was sought rather than state division.

The meeting was called to order at 2 p. m., and after the opening preliminaries R. F. Rogers, of Ocala, was elected chairman. Judge Bullock, in the opening address, declared Peninsula Florida is not being given its right by the legislature. The law making body, he said, in effect, imposes taxation without giving in return representation.

Mr. Rogers followed Judge Bullock and urged that the first work of the association to be obtained fair apportionment. In his opinion it was not just for small counties like "Madison, Jefferson, and Leon," to have representation in the legislature equal with Duval, Hillsborough and Orange. Less than 300,000 people west of the Suwanee river, he asserted, have more influence at Tallahassee than more than 700,000 east and south. Mr. Rogers recited what he described as the constant refusal of the legislature to reapportion the state.

Secretary Hart, of the Palatka Chamber of Commerce, declared his city wanted an organization absolutely free of sectionalism, one that will work for the good not only of Peninsula Florida but the entire state. Mr. Hart suggested the organization of a permanent association.

Goode M. Guerry, publisher of the Palatka News, at this juncture urged that the matter of a new site for the capitol be made secondary to the major question of capitol removal. It would be best to secure a change, he asserted, and then select the new location.

The question of a temporary organization was then put to the meeting and was carried unanimously.

R. F. Rogers, of Ocala, was named temporary chairman, and J. W. Hart, of Palatka, temporary secretary.

The committee on committees which will have the task of the apportioning the organization work was named as follows: T. J. Appleyard, Jr., chairman; R. B. Atkinson, Miami; N. P. Yowell, Orlando; W. T. Gary, Ocala, and J. W. Walton, Palatka.

The Lakeland delegation also sought the next meeting of the embryo association, but when the matter was put to a vote Orlando was chosen.

Senator W. A. Russell, in a brief talk, discussed the reapportionment amendment to be voted on next November.

The meeting extended its thanks to the Palatka civic body for taking the step which has thus far gone farther than any capitol removal agitation since the question first became a bone of contention.

Outstanding in the enthusiasm displayed at the meeting was that of the Orlando delegation. Headed by a brass band they appeared more than one hundred strong.

Coal Miners' Strike Is Almost Certain, Arbitration Failed

Miners Hold Out For Existing Wage Scale and Nothing Less

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Little hope for the averting of a strike in the unionized bituminous coal fields on April 1 was held out yesterday in those official circles which are most concerned with the repeated government attempts to bring about an adjustment of wage agreement differences. Mine operators it was declared, were continuing in their refusal to enter conferences with the United Mine Workers looking to the creation of a new wage contract for the central competitive field, notwithstanding representations made to them by Secretary of Labor Davis, who holds that existing contracts require them at least to enter negotiations regardless of whether such negotiations are carried to completion.

The United Mine Workers of America, the general union organization, was declared to be entirely willing to enter a conference, although insisting upon maintenance of existing wage scales, which were adopted in 1920. The employers are demanding reductions amounting to 20 per cent or more.

It was indicated in official circles yesterday that the government would go further at present but would await the development of the threatened strike. The decree of possible government intervention later, it was said by high officials, would be determined by the degree to which the strike, if it developed might affect adversely the public welfare.

Statistics assembled for the labor department indicate that 65,000,000 tons of coal are now in storage, approximately a ten weeks' supply for the entire country, that this amount is rapidly being augmented and that non-union production is tending to increase. Local agreements between the union and operators are also expected to go into effect on or before April 1, which would insure maintenance of further operations.

Secretary Davis was said to be maintaining a policy of hands off with reference to the anthracite situation, on the ground that operators and miners were now conferring, and that prospects were at least hopeful that wage contracts would be made. Officials declared there was no reason to believe that a coal strike would spread to other industries.

Palatka Now Owns Two Water Plants; Will Merge Them

PALATKA, March 14.—By a deal just consummated here the city of Palatka has acquired the water plant, good will, mains and all real estate of the Palatka Waterworks Co., owned by a syndicate of Boston capitalists. This makes two water plants that the city now has.

The two plants will be merged with one pumping station to furnish two kinds of water to the people of Palatka, one soft water from a spring and the other hard water, or strongly mineral, from deep wells. Two stand pipes will be maintained just as they are now, but connections will be made between the mains so that in the event of fire emergencies both supplies can be used.

The purchase of the old plant which was constructed here something over thirty years ago, ends a fight that has extended over a period of nearly a quarter of a century. The fight began long before the city's plant was constructed ten or twelve years ago. Dr. E. S. Crill, at that time a leading Palatka and former state treasurer, led the fight and was largely instrumental in building the city's independent plant. Several times efforts have been made to get together with the owners of the plant for the purpose of acquiring for the city, but each time the negotiations fell through, until about eighteen months ago when another campaign was started and a price of $85,000, plus the inventory of supplies on hand was agreed upon and the deal went through. Bonds were voted to pay the purchase price.

There will be no change in the rates charged for the two waters. The old, or soft water, is slightly higher in cost than the city water and both have their preferences. At the earliest possible moment the city's plant will be moved to the site of the old water company's plant so that there will be but one overhead in operation.
