City checks fuel leak at Farmers' Market

By Jamie J. Anderson-Potter
Staff Writer

City officials are eyeing property located directly behind the Farmers' Market as the site for a future public safety complex, but environmental issues may cause a re-direction.

The 7.9-acre, located at the corner of 13th Street and Lake Avenue in Sanford, is the former site of two gas stations that closed their doors in the 1960s and 70s.

Since going out of business, the gas tanks were removed from the site and the contaminated soil was extracted. However, when city staff began researching the property as the possible location of the public safety complex, a prior environmental study showing contamination as a result of fuel was discovered.

In fact, Seminole County refused the property in 1992 because of the contamination. This discovery left city officials wondering if — more than a decade later — the problem has been corrected.

"We want some insurance so we can judge the risk," said Al Grieshaber, Sanford city manager.

Currently, the 7.9-acre is owned by the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (FDOACS). The state agency is willing to donate the majority of the property, worth an estimated $390,000, and the city would need to purchase a remaining four out-parcels at an estimated $134,000.

In order to confirm the property is environmentally sound, a Level I environmental assessment is needed at an estimated cost of $4,500. Since the complex will be primarily used by the Sanford police and fire departments, the two groups are willing to fund the testing and have allocated the necessary funds.

However, according to Grieshaber, the city could spend upward of $50,000 conducting Level 1 and 2

Internet-arranged blind date ends badly for woman

A south Seminole County man is under arrest, and in jail, for allegedly attacking a female, whom he met over the Internet.

The attack was reported to the Seminole County Sheriff's Office Wednesday at about 9:30 p.m. The victim had allegedly gone to the suspect's home at 5471 Bracken Court, Winter Park, for an arranged meeting that was set-up via the Internet. The victim alleges that the suspect, who is identified as 27-year-old Lester Joseph Nunez III would not let her leave and attacked her with a hammer when she turned down his advances. She alleges Nunez also attempted to sexually batter her. The victim says she managed to break away from Nunez, run out of the house and solicit help from a neighbor.

Deputies responded and Nunez was detained at the scene. He alleges the victim fell to the floor on her own, started screaming, and that he was holding her, trying to get her to calm down. Nunez was arrested. He is accused of aggravated battery, false imprisonment and sexual assault with a weapon.

The victim declined treatment of her injuries at the scene, but later reportedly sought treatment at a hospital in Volusia County.

Deputies will be serving a warrant to recover computer equipment at Nunez's residence, according to authorities.

Crooms students experience 'real life' voting process

By Jamie J. Anderson-Potter
Staff Writer

Employees of the Supervisor of Elections Office were on hand during student council elections at Crooms Academy of Information Technology Wednesday.

Members of the election staff assisted students through a "real-life" election process as part of a Seminole County voter education pilot program. The student election process was complete with official Seminole County equipment, including ballots printed by the elections office, voting booths used during county elections, optical scan ballot machines and poll inspectors.

According to Sandra "Sandy" Goard, supervisor of the Seminole County elections office, the students were able to learn the election process and about the equipment used in a true election.

"Any time you can make learning relevant to everyday life and the real world it is just all the more special," said Chris Spiliotis, sponsor of student council and a teacher at Crooms. "When instruction can be transferred to the real world it makes it more worthwhile."

Lake Mary residents see 10 percent tax increase

By Jamie J. Anderson-Potter
Staff Writer

Lake Mary commissioners approved a hike in the city's property taxes for the first time in more than a decade Thursday.

The millage rate, which determines the tax rate, will rise to an all-time high of 3.998 mills. This is an increase from last year's 3.7648 mills and the first rate hike in 15 years. Under Florida law this constitutes a 10.42 percent tax increase, as stated in a direct mail piece to Lake Mary residents in August.

"Our rates are low, relative to our sister cities," said Commissioner Michael McLean.

In fact, for the third consecutive year, residents of Lake Mary are blessed with the lowest millage rate in Seminole County.

The 2004 tax increase was spurred solely by the city's need for a fire substation in Downtown Lake Mary.

"The citizens have demanded a first-class fire and rescue,"

Iraqi Diary: Keystone Kops, Baghdad style

from the towers. They are investigating it, but so much of these things happen that it gets difficult to check each one out.

I know that many innocent people get caught up in this mess. We have no choice but to try to take care of ourselves first, like when I thwarted a recent ambush then went back looking for the attackers. If we let them get away they will just hit us again or some other patrol. But it is too easy for them to disappear into the crowds or buildings.

As a squad leader, I do not roll my patrol through the streets of Baghdad and let someone shoot at us! I have to do something. Now we recite a phrase before we go out, "Yea though I walk through the Valley of the Shadow of Death, I shall fear no evil because we are the meanest SOB's in this valley." I know it sounds crude, but you have to get a little psyched up to do this work. My feeling is, if you

To symbolize his fight with neighbors, Alan Davis attached a statue of his rear end on the back of his mini-van. That fight has now come to an end.

Since as early as 1998, Davis has led a battle against Seminole County, his neighbors, the sheriff's office and about anyone else who objects to his Alpine Street property, located near the Altamonte Springs city limits.

Sitting on his property is a home, but passerbys may not see it as a mound of assorted metal parts, artwork and other items clutter its view. His neighbors refer to it as 'trash' and six jury members in Circuit Judge Gene Stephenson's courtroom agreed.

The weeklong criminal trial wrapped up Thursday with closing arguments presented at about 10:30 a.m. With time still to spare before lunch, the jury returned with its verdict of guilty on all five charges of maintenance of nuisance, creation of nuisance, nuisance injurious to health, maintenance of a public nuisance and the third-degree felony of illegal dumping of litter.

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Comparisons: Redneck comedian Jeff Foxworthy does a bit recalling the outlandish deeds of various family members. No matter what dumb stunt his family may pull, however, Foxworthy says a trip to a state fair quickly reminds him that there's a whole world of people more screwed up than his next of kin.

Around the Clock

by Dan Ping

My hometown, Knoxville, Tenn., is kind of like that state fair. No town I've ever lived in can match the dysfunction of Knoxville, though Sanford at times gives K-town a run for its money. Knoxville is the city, after all, where the mayor, Cas Walker, gained international fame in the 1950s by getting in a fist fight with another councilman during a city meeting. A picture of that fight graced (or disgraced, depending on your point of view) the cover of Life magazine. Ol' Cas also blocked the city from putting fluoride in the city's drinking water because he claimed it was a communist conspiracy. Just how dysfunctional is Knoxville? Consider the conference center. Sanford has bounced the idea around for about seven years now. There have been several proposals, with each new one offering a better solution than the previous either in location or business plan. Currently, the project is mothballed — maybe for good, maybe not — because commissioners made the prudent decision to wait until the economics are stronger. There may be yet another proposal coming down the pipeline that could be meet the all the city's criteria.

Knoxville's conference center experience, on the other hand, has produced nothing but acrimony. Since the World's Fair closed in 1982, city planners have wondered how to redevelop the site that attracted travelers from across the globe. Believing that lightning can strike twice, city leaders five years ago decided Knoxville was destined to be the next tourist hot-spot and began laying plans for a $160 million conference center, or about eight times what Sanford considered spending.

For their money, Knoxville taxpayers got a fancy new meeting hall that has yet to meet projections for attendance. To boost attendance, Knoxville leaders are proposing the city subsidize a private hotel. They've hired Don Hunter (anybody in Sanford remember that name?) to perform a two-part contract: determine whether the Knoxville conference center needs a hotel, and if so, find developers to build it. Guess what? Dandy Don determined Knoxville did in fact need a new hotel and trotted out a list of hoteliers (again several familiar names pop up on that list) willing to take tax money to build a shiny new facility.

Big deal, you say. Hunter did the same thing here and even concocted a fancy funding scheme to pay for the hotel. The difference is Knoxville already has a multi-story Holiday Inn adjacent to its conference center. It was built 20 years ago prior to the World's Fair.

Why doesn't the Holiday Inn renovate and become the official hotel? Because the hotel's owner can't add rooms without city approval because part of the Holiday Inn is on city property. And Knoxville being Knoxville, that's no easy deal. The current mayor, Victor Ashe, and the hotel owner, Franklin Haney are longtime adversaries. Ashe would run over his own mother before he capitulates to a sworn enemy, and Haney's not about to sell his property to the city for less than three times the national debt. (Because of his numerous political dust-ups, Ashe was referred to by one Knoxville columnist as the "perennial pugilist," so the city's mayoral tradition of bloodying opponents' noses — literally and figuratively — continues in grand style.)

What does any of this have to do with Sanford? Well, nothing I suppose, except to serve as a comparison. This was an issue the city needed to debate, and Sanford is better for the experience regardless of whether the center is built or not. The process hasn't always been pretty and there have been plenty of harsh words from those who support the project and those that don't. Still, our city leaders have been prudent in their decisions on the conference center, unlike leaders in Knoxville.

And, our mayor doesn't believe a swift punch in the nose is a proper debating technique.

OPINION

Celebrate Autumn

Cooler weather, friendlier faces are just a few bonuses of season

The first day of Autumn this year is Tuesday, Sept. 23. It will be with us until Dec. 21, just a few days before Christmas. For many folks, it's the best of our four seasons. It has more holidays than any other season. We have Halloween,

Nick Pfeifauf

Thanksgiving, Columbus Day, Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur, Veteran's Day, Chanukah and if we really push it, Elephant Appreciation Day, (Sept. 22).

It's the beginning of football season, the end of hot weather and beginning of cooler days and nights. Even the air smells sweeter. If you travel up north, the leaves are changing color, offering one of nature's most beautiful sights.

Yes, there is less sunlight each day — but who really cares except golfers who want to get in 18 holes after work.

Looking at it from a personal standpoint, with the cooler weather, many folks believe people have a better outlook on life, are friendlier, less apt to blow off the handle, and more tolerant. (We'll discuss holiday shopping, which often changes that attitude, in a later column).

As we get closer and closer to the Christmas season, and with Thanksgiving included in the Autumn events, I believe people have a tendency to be more caring and will donate more of their time, effort and financial resources to helping those who are classed as the less fortunate.

Something I found out while digging up stuff for this is that on the first day of Autumn, in most of the United States, daylight hours are about equal to the number of hours in darkness. Well, almost, there are 12 minutes more of darkness.

Why do people refer to Autumn as Fall? I don't have the slightest idea. Is it because the leaves fall from the trees? Could it be that snow begins to fall up north toward the end of this season? I just don't know. Perhaps you know and would write to the Herald and they would forward it to me.

Whatever — it's time to begin putting away those summer clothes and getting the duds out for cooler weather. It's time to watch football rather than golf on a weekend. It's time to enjoy plenty of holidays and get prepared for those in late December.

There's a lot to do during Autumn. Have fun doing it.

Dear Congressman Feeney, I believe the entire letter I gave you at the Homeland Security meeting at UCF is still relevant and spot on. I hope you saw the piece on shipping containers on an ABC special report (on Sept. 11, 2003). There is no security! It is a joke; a sick, sorry, bad joke. The only reason this issue is being pursued is for the government to have control over the citizens of this country. After ABC News showed what a joke "Homeland Security" is, the Feds went after them for doing the story rather than addressing the problem.

In regards to Larry Dale and his Good Ol' Boys having control over the Sanford airport, that airport is in the wrong place to be used for anything other than general aviation. Congressman Mica gives them money in return for campaign donations. It seems to be nothing less than money laundering to me.

Federal Aviation Administration personnel have admitted to an acquaintance of mine that they are being pressured to approve the new north-south runway. Impact statements and studies are not relevant under such conditions. When the worn-out, noisy jets (aircraft that should have remained in mothballs in some desert) leave that southbound runway, they are entering your district and will be going over our heads. Mica's aide, Gary Burns, lied to me when he said Orlando's international airport was over capacity and Sanford's airport is needed to handle the commercial scheduled air traffic. When I brought up noise thresholds and stages of noise not allowed at Orlando International Airport, but ignored at Sanford International, he brushed it off. We are being screwed! An airport in a strongly conservation-oriented area is being used to allow substandard planes, often operated by second-rate companies operating on shoe-string budgets, to put money into the pockets of Larry Dale and his friends.

On another front, the space shuttle's flight path is going to be altered so as to put re-entry over the Pacific Ocean, so as to protect the citizens of the United States from potentially being in harms way from falling debris. When the space program is involved, we are talking massive volumes of cubic money, and eliminating any chance of collecting the debris after the next failure. This is being done despite the fact that there were no casualties last time. I expect the possibility of an aged 747-200 falling from the sky into Oviedo or Winter Springs, as they arrive or depart a north-south runway in Sanford, is 100 fold as compared to a shuttle accident, and a commercial jet is a lot more debris. I am asking for the facts and truth to have primary consideration, and that Congressman Mica's office be made aware that we suspect what the facts are.

School fine arts nonexistent, except in the city of lakes

To the editor:

The slogan says "Arts Alive In Seminole," but are they? I ask you where is the continuing fine arts in the high schools? It's non-existent except for Lake Mary.

Here's the problem: my daughter attends Seminole High with a minimal drama program. There is no continuing education in this field. I would like to transfer her to Lake Mary because of their excellent drama program. The doors keep slamming in my face! Surely, you who advocate the fine arts can understand my frustration.

My daughter attended Millennium Middle for three fine arts programs, but to our dismay this doesn't flow naturally to Seminole High. Why are just the chosen few who attend Lake Mary able to reap the benefits? Arts are truly alive in Seminole, but only in Lake Mary! I am not asking for much, I am just asking that my child too be able to enjoy the benefits of theater that are not available at Seminole High.

My voice will be heard, I will not be silenced! I want what is in the best interest of my child and that is to be able to attend Lake Mary High School in their program.

Please don't let my plea fall on deaf ears. We should embrace and encourage all of our children to love the arts, anything that enables them to enjoy school should be a wonderful thing.

The school board should consider out of zone transfers on a case by case basis. The school board wants to make this a racial issue. I was quoted the 1968 segregation act. Does that act state that any student who is not of color does not deserve equal rights also? Where are my daughter's equal rights? Who will fight for her?

Again, I beseech you, help in any way you can. Help my daughter be able to reach her full potential!

City manager to the rescue on precarious project

To the editor:

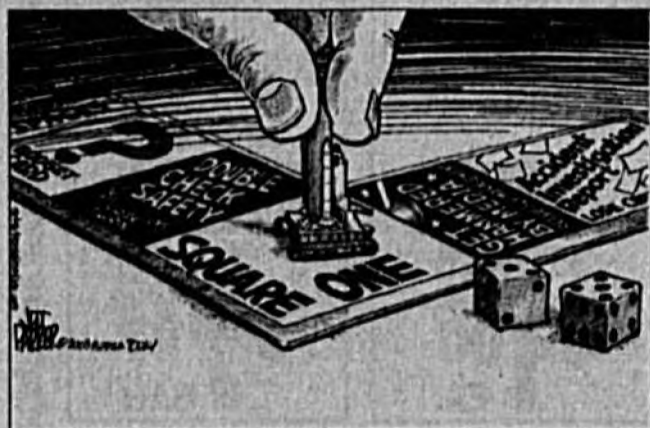

I spoke with the City Manager, left a message for the mayor, and e-mailed Commissioner Art Woodruff. I was concerned about a sidewalk project on 7th Street south between Mellonville and San Marcos.

In this one block area, the elementary school children would have to cross the street twice due to the design on the project. This was totally unnecessary as there is city easement property available to avoid this detour for the children. I can't believe that anyone looked at the safety issue of this project.

The sidewalk project has been corrected and the children have a direct route home without having to cross 7th Street twice unnecessarily. I can only give thanks to two people. The first is Phillip the project manager. He spoke with me personally on several occasions and observed the hazard in the making. Second is the city manager, I think. I never had a return call from him, but I do believe he demonstrated true concern for the issue.

I never heard from our mayor, who I left a message for on the city liaison answering line. I never heard from my district commissioner, so I e-mailed through the city system. So I was either ignored, or the systems do not work. I am extremely thankful that I had the city manager system to listen to my concerns. I am also thankful that the strong mayor agenda failed!

Clark's candidacy changes campaign's calculus

What happens to President Bush's pseudo-machismo now that a general has entered the race?

For months now, the prospect of running against Gen. Wesley Clark has been gnawing at GOP strategists, haunting their otherwise pleasant reveries about a roll-over-em-with-a-bulldozer re-election campaign. They know it took a marketing genius like Karl Rove to sell President Bush as a commanding military leader. Without Rove's Madison Avenue strategy (and the cooperation of a fawning press), Bush, who neglected his fighter-pilot duty when he was in the National Guard, would be less Top Gun and more Stop! Run! Already, Bush's borrowed flight suit has been sullied by the increasingly hazardous situation in Iraq. Now, he'll find himself compared to a West Point graduate who not only was decorated in Vietnam, but who also led a successful military campaign in Kosovo with the cooperation of international allies. When Clark announced his candidacy on Wednesday, the calculus of the presidential campaign changed instantly.

No matter how many phony Top Gun photo-ops Rove gins up, Bush can no longer count on easily persuading voters that he is the right man for these dangerous times. Clark brings much better military credentials to the campaign. While Bush's gimmick has been to continually remind audiences of 9/11, his heroic hour, Clark's staff has an answer to that: They always refer to their guy as "the general," constantly reminding voters of his lifetime of military service.

Clark could yet turn out to be a poor presidential candidate. He is good-looking, accomplished and razor-sharp. But he has a reputation as arrogant and aloof. If he comes across that way on the campaign trail, he'll sink like an old shoe. Bush won, after all, not because of his accomplishments (they were thin) or his policies (voters rejected most of them) but because of his personality. People liked him.

And, to advance against the platoon of veteran legislators already in the Democratic field, Clark will have to hone his resume on domestic issues, with which he has little or no experience. His political instincts put him squarely in the mainstream of the Democratic Party: He says he is pro-choice on abortion; he favors affirmative action; he supports environmental protections.

His greatest challenge on the domestic front, however, will be persuading voters that he has a plan to create jobs. (On that subject, though, the president presents no great challenge. Bush has presided over the loss of 2.5 million jobs, a record that rivals Herbert Hoover.)

Still, a Clark campaign — even if it is short-lived — comes at a propitious time because it cuts against the stereotype of Democrats as wimps. Though it's hard to say just how that notion took hold — a host of well-known Democrats, including Al Gore, John Kerry, Bob Kerrey and Max Cleland, served in Vietnam — it has hardened as conventional wisdom.

(Perhaps some enterprising academic will write an essay explaining how stereotype so easily overwhelms substance on this subject. Cleland, a former U.S. senator, lost three limbs to a grenade in Vietnam; yet he was defeated by Saxby Chambliss, a draft dodger who labeled Cleland unpatriotic. Chambliss claims a bad knee kept him out of Vietnam.)

(Similarly, the elder President Bush is a bona fide war hero, a torpedo bomber pilot who was shot down in the Pacific in 1944. Yet hard-right Republicans dismiss the elder Bush as a gutless wonder and hail Junior, who never got within 5,000 miles of the enemy, as a daring flyboy. Go figure.)

That may help explain why thoughtful Democrats in the Senate — notably, John Kerry — talked last winter to articulate a rational objection to President Bush's rush to invade Iraq. As a decorated Vietnam vet, Kerry had the credentials to point out the flaws in Bush's reckless crusade to remake the Middle East. Instead — perhaps fearing a backlash — he voted to support the war. So now he seems the hypocrite when he tries to criticize Bush's occupation.

Clark doesn't have Kerry's problem: no peppy pro-war vote to explain. Nor does he have Bush's problem: When he goes to a campaign photo-op, he doesn't have to borrow a uniform.

Voting

As part of the realistic process, student council candidates were required to fill out nominating petitions and the student body registered for the right to vote. The freshmen, sophomores and seniors were then divided into precincts. With 243 registered voters, an 89.3 percent turnout was recorded in the precincts on Election Day.

Current student council members were trained by the Supervisor of Elections staff to serve as poll inspectors during the election, welcoming voters at the "precinct" entrance and insuring the ballots were properly inserted into the optical scanner.

"If you have never voted before, the first time at a poll can make you a little nervous," said Goard. "By having events such as this, it increases the individuals comfort level. The students will know how easy it is to vote and how important it is. So, they will be more likely to become registered voters."

Taxes

said Mayor Thomas Greene. "It's expensive to do that."

The funds generated from the tax increase will be used to hire additional personnel to man the substation in hopes of enhancing the fire and emergency medical services in Lake Mary.

City officials plan to open the substation next year with seven full-time firefighter/paramedics on hand to staff the new rescue unit. In addition, 11 full-time employees will be hired in 2005 when a second fire engine goes into service, making the substation fully operational.

This scenario will allow the Lake Mary Fire Department to be the "first-in" to nearly all of the city's residents and businesses instead of the current plan in which Seminole County handles the southeast portion of the city.

According to City Manager John Litton, a total of 18 full-time employees will be hired to provide around-the-clock coverage at the substation, which will be built at an undetermined location near city hall. The money from the tax increase will not, however, fund the construction of the building. These funds will be allocated through budget surpluses of recent years.

According to Litton, city officials researched other possibilities including turning the responsibilities of the city's fire department over to Seminole County through a merger.

"People constantly want to have control over their own environment," said Commissioner George Duryea, who announced his re-election through an uncontested race Thursday. "That is why the city started because of a fear of another city taking over control. We have demonstrated year after year that we would rather have control then give it over to someone else. There is a cost involved with that."

"I know, personally, I would rather depend on someone I know, and that I know how was trained, the equipment being used and what their capabilities are," he added. "Even if it costs a little more than to wait for the county to come a week from Tuesday."

According to Litton, not only would a merger have relinquished city officials' rights regarding the new fire substation, but it would have cost taxpayers more money in the long run.

Along with the millage rate, commissioners also approved the city's 2004 budget of approximately $15 million. Among other items, the budget has allocated funds for two motorcycles for the Lake Mary Police Department, the replacement of several vehicles in the city's fleet, and plans for sidewalk and beautification projects.

According to Litton, the city should see a 7.2 percent increase in revenues in 2004 due to a rise in ad valorem taxes and franchise fees. However, this will be offset by low interest rates and a slowdown in new construction projects.

As with other cities throughout Seminole County, Lake Mary officials

Once the voting process was complete, the students received "I voted" stickers, a flag, pre-registration information and literature to take home to parents in an effort to get them involved in the voting process as well.

The use of optical scanners, made it possible for results to be tallied within five minutes of the polls closing. An analytical breakdown of voters was also provided to students by the elections office.

"This event is important because it teaches civic responsibility," said Dr. Connie Collins, principal of Crooms. "It's a real life experience for our students. More important-

"Next year, we're hoping for 100 percent participation," she added. "This year the majority of students were registered, but we want to improve on that because this is such a good opportunity."

"The turnout has been wonderful and the students are doing a great job," she said. "In fact, they've done so well I might recruit some to work the polls when they get older."

ambush our patrol we will move through your area and sneak up behind you and catch you off guard. We will get you some how, even if somebody gets hurt, which could include a bystander.

As for those ambushers that we went looking for, we captured only four of them and took them into custody. We did it with no shots fired and no casualties on either side. That was a good day, nobody got hurt.

14 Aug. 2004 We are still living in that cigarette factory, Camp Marlboro, but a few things are better. We now have a Quartermaster laundry, which is free, and our supply sergeant takes our bags there for us. But some of our clothes come back dirtier than when we sent them.

Brown and Root, part of Haliburton's contract, was contracted to get a laundry up and running, also to feed us, but we are still waiting on them to do something. We have some small washing machines that run on electricity, of course, since electric is always out. You have to add five gallons of water to each machine to use it and water isn't that plentiful. We can also pay $2 to send our laundry to an Iraqi cleaners, but we are limited as to what we can send.

We still eat mainly T-rations because good food is still very scarce to come by. We pay $4 an hour for Internet service which is run by two Iraqi nationals, one named Dani, who lives and sleeps here with us and runs the internet service. He is a pretty good guy. Always offers me a cigarette and I always have to tell him I don't smoke.

Last night, I had to threaten an Iraqi male that was trespassing at a power plant, and I caught myself blaming him for me being stuck here. I think that's a problem with a lot of the troops, they take their frustrations out on Iraqis. Although it is usual verbal, it's not right, and I guess we all are looking for a scapegoat to throw our anger at. I have to keep reminding myself that the Iraqis did not invite us here so I can't really blame them.

The Iraqi police that we try so hard to train, are slow about doing things and often remind me of the Keystone Kops. One of them left all the keys to the police vehicles at his house. I guess it is the culture, but it is hard to get any initiative out of them. It takes them almost an hour to get ready to roll out to a crime in progress. They fumble around, lose track of who is going, about 10 of them pile into a single van, then realize that keys have been left at someone's house. Then about half of them get out of the van and a whole new bunch gets in and we go through the same routine again.

Once we do get going, we get half-way down the road and they have to stop to ask for directions or, in some instances, return to the police station to look at a map. Then we are off again with half as many packed into the van. I ran out of rubber clown noses or I would issue one to each of them. Then when we get to the crime scene, if there is the slightest gun fire, they will jump in the nearest cab or car and either go home or back to the station and leave us M.P.s stranded.

You can't conduct police business on the street here because a billion kids start crowding around you giving thumbs up signs. I'm sick of thumbs up signs. We've been here since May and they still see us as either novelties or occupiers. Then you have the ones that steal wire from the power plant and sell it, then complain that we haven't restored the electricity. Half claim to love America while the other half are in the process of blowing us up while giving us the thumbs up sign.

What a crazy place.

Golfers can drive like 'Tiger' next weekend

On Saturday, Sept. 27 at the Timacuan Golf and Country Club golfers will be looking to be like Tiger Woods. For a minimum donation of $10 every golfer has a chance to become the proud owner of a 2004 Buick Rendezvous, courtesy of Ray El-Hosn at Courtesy Buick, the event sponsor.

The hole-in-one fund-raiser benefits the Kids House of Seminole. Each par three will have a great prize for a hole-in-one. At the 16th hole, which is about 165 yards for men and 150 yards for women, the prize is a 2004 Buick Rendezvous. The new car will be parked near the tee box.

At the 7th hole, the prize for a hole-in-one is a set of Nike pro combo irons. The distance of the hole is 158 yards for men and 135 yards for women. At the 4th hole, the prize is 36 dozen Nike golf balls. The distance is 184 yards for men and 135 yards for women. And, at the 13th hole the prize, 156 yards for men and 135 yards for women, is a Nike 350cc Titanium driver.

Golfers must make their donation before teeing off, and no mulligans are allowed. For questions, call Shirley Gray at 407-322-0842 or Jeanette Field at 407-330-3828.

Sanford police picks up new D.A.R.E. car

Bill Heard Chevrolet in Sanford donated a vehicle to the Sanford Police Department Drug Abuse Resistance Education Program (D.A.R.E.) Tuesday.

The fully equipped Chevy Trail Blazer is the second vehicle donated by Bill Heard and will immediately join the department's fleet.

"This establishes a partnership between business, education and law enforcement," said Captain Jerry Hargrett of the Sanford Police Department. "The success of the D.A.R.E. Program goes beyond the police department. We are all working for the same cause, and law enforcement can't do it by themselves."

"We want to keep kids off drugs, so then they will go to work and buy a Chevy," he added with a smile. "Everybody wins."

According to Officer Jane McLaughlin, a school resource officer at Wicklow Elementary

School, D.A.R.E. teaches children to recognize and resist the direct and subtle pressures that influence them to experiment with alcohol, tobacco, marijuana and other drugs.

"It is important for businesses to have community involvement in programs such as this," said Todd Heitz, general manager of Bill Heard Chevrolet, located off State Road 46A in Sanford. "We try to stay involved in the community any way we can and we all have kids so this is a good program for us to be involved with."

Since 1983, the D.A.R.E. Program has been introduced to fifth grade students in Sanford.

The 17-week program is taught once a week by school resource officers as part of the Sanford Police Department Youth Services Team. Student participation in the D.A.R.E. program is also incorporated into the school's curriculum in health, science, social studies and language arts.

"The question is not whether the gun will actually explode, the question is when," he said.

The same could be said of an appeal of last week's ruling; it's not a matter of if, but when, according to his wife Aileen Davis. Davis' attorney has 30 days to appeal the "judicious" decision, she added.

"It was real evident that the judge had determined that he was already guilty," she said Thursday evening.

The judge did hint that there may be some leniency granted at Davis' sentencing if the property was cleaned up, however, that might not occur.

"I believe that is an alternative," Aileen Davis said, "but I will tell you this much that also means all my neighbors that have (code) violations damn well better clean up all their violations.

"I'm talking about the boats, the (abandoned) cars and properties that have vegetation (growing) up to 24 inches."

Although, her husband is in jail, she said she doesn't fear him losing his job.

"There are very few people in the country that can work on WWII airplanes," she said.

environmental assessments. If contamination is found, and the city owns the property, they would be responsible for a full contamination assessment report and a remedial action plan.

"It could eat up any saving we would see on this property," said Grieshaber.

Earlier this month, Sanford commissioners directed Grieshaber to request that the state partner with the city to determine the level of contamination on the site, if in fact there is contamination, and assist with funding the tests.

According to Grieshaber, a letter was e-mailed to the state earlier this week regarding this matter. The e-mail was followed by a hard-copy letter.

"We have to know the level of risk or the level of potential liability that we may incur by accepting the property," said Grieshaber. "We certainly don't want to sound like we are ungrateful when they offer to donate, or convey, a piece of property that has a lot of value."

According to Grieshaber, the city is looking at building the public safety complex as soon as possible.

"The planning process is intense and right now we are just in the start of it, looking for a parcel," he said. "Once we get the parcel, then we can start the planning process because the size of the parcel has a lot to do with it."

The city has also considered two other parcels as a possible site of the complex, including a location on Holly Street and a parcel across from Sanford Middle School. The city's first choice, however, remains the Farmer's Market location.

"What is important about this site is that it is a viable part of our community and we would like to see it stay a part of our community and we will do whatever we can in partnership, we hope, with the state government to eradicate any contamination on the site if it exists," he said. "It's for the good of the community. Certainly, we don't want any contaminated property within our community and here is an opportunity, where working together, we have a chance to make a transition from what is now an unused piece of property to a very viable part of our community with a new public safety complex."

The Way We Were: A peek at an early 'Sally'

Dorothy Gachel recently presented a copy of the 1911 Salmagundi to the Sanford Museum; this is only the second issue to this Sanford (later Seminole) High School yearbook.

These early books are different from today's Sallys. There are very few pictures but lots of text. The pictures that are there are not identified. The information included is really more like a newspaper than what we know as a yearbook.

Grace Marie Stinecpher

I'll give you some of the information included in two columns.

The book was issued by the Irving Literary Society of Sanford High School and cost 15 cents. Officers of the Society were Carrie Lovell, editor-in-chief (remember that it was she who named the book "Salmagundi"); Ernest Betts, business manager; and Ernest Housholder, assistant business manager. Ruth Stewart and Essie Purdon were associate editors.

The students had moved from the school on West Seventh Street to the handsome new building on Palmetto Avenue at Ninth Street on Monday, Nov. 14, 1910. This new building was up-to-date in all respects with all the modern conveniences.

The students were proud of their school. An essay entitled "School Spirit" elaborates on this.

Recently purchased were 100 new books using funds raised from the previous month's entertainment.

Purchased from the proceeds from the art exhibit were four beautiful pictures, which decorated the walls of the school. The Wednesday Club had presented the school a set of Guizot's France and Thomas J. Miller and son had donated a completed set of John Fenimore Cooper's works.

The senior class gave as their farewell gift to the school a slab representing a part of the northern frieze of the Parthenon. It was a beautiful piece of work and if the succeeding classes followed the seniors in leaving such mementos, the school would be decorated with works of art.

Members of the senior class

There is a group picture of the class of 1911 seated on the steps of the school, but they are not identified. Some of the later Salmagundis list the alumni along with what they were doing at the present. This is what I found in the 1922 Salmagundi about the class of 1911, 11 years later: Ruth Mettinger, nurse, Philadelphia; Saidee Williams, deceased; Carrie Lovell, Mrs. P.C. Marlow, Sanford; Martha Fox, at home, Sanford; Eugenia Pope, stenographer, Jacksonville; Mabel Cowan, Mrs. R.H. Monroe, Sanford; Gussie Tillis, Mrs. Ray Maxwell, Alexandria, Va.; Mary Chappell, Mrs. William Coulborn, Charlotte, N.C.; Willie Singletary, Mrs. Mimms, Mims, Fla.; Ernest Housholder, Seminole County judge, Sanford; Ernest Betts, farmer, Sanford; Harry Carlson, aviator, Pensacola; Abbie Kanner, lawyer, Jacksonville; Vail Lovell, consulting engineer, New York.

Alumni Notes
Graduates of the class of 1910, Evva Frenger, Edith Stewart and Myrtle Nipe had taught school this year while Annie Higgins had finished a course at Stetson University. Eugene Roumillat had part interest in the drugstore of Weddings, engagement proposals an every cruise occurrence for Sanford's 'love boat'

By Christopher Patton
Managing Editor

Love comes in many shapes and sizes, but in Sanford it's exactly 97 feet long and 37 feet wide.

Marking its 750,000th passenger last weekend, the Rivership Romance crew celebrated with a couple not-so-unfamiliar occasions: a wedding and a proposal for marriage. Cruise after cruise, passengers aboard the ship find more than just alligators and manatees floating along the St. Johns River, but often hope that their special partner will say 'yes' to a lifelong commitment.

Even a young, strapping boy who came wandering off the north end of Palmetto Avenue to Sanford's Marina Island in 1983 found his true love via the 'love boat.' That seafaring lad, of course, was none other than Capt. Shawn McLain.

In search of a deckhand job, McLain met Robin on the gangway and the rest is history as the couple has been happily married for 12 years.

"I fell in love right there, honest to God," he said pointing to the docked ship on Monroe Harbor.

It's now McLain and his first mate wife, Robin, that play matchmakers. Ask McLain how many weddings he's officiated, and it's a tough call because it is "at least a couple thousand.

"This weekend I'm doing three," he said.

Last Saturday was no different for McLain as Lynda Shays and Rick Barnes, of Orlando, tied the knot in a sunset ceremony at the bow of the ship. It was about the same spot that Lynda said 'yes' when Rick popped the question aboard the Rivership Romance last spring.

"I didn't know where we were going — it was all a surprise," Shays said about the magical April evening.

While McLain performs the weddings, it's often cruise director Jean Barfield who is asked to set the mood for nerve-wrecked gentlemen that use the quaint setting of the Rivership Romance to present an engagement ring to their special ladies.

"I'll start crying I know I will. Every time someone proposes I do," she said anticipating a private engagement proposal Saturday night.

The bad thing for her tear ducts are proposals "happen a lot," she admits.

Started in 1982, the Rivership Romance company has been a mainstay of historic downtown Sanford.

Through a series of different vessels, including the Star of Sanford, the Romance Catamaran and the Grand Romance, the company, now owned by Bob Hopkins, may have saved the best for last.

The Rivership Romance can carry about 400 passengers and offers live entertainment, a lounge, fine dining and some of the most spectacular views of the St. Johns River and Lake Monroe from its shaded outdoor decks. The ship sets sail daily with three-hour luncheon cruises on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m.-2 p.m.; four-hour luncheon cruises on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 11 a.m.-3 p.m.; and the moonlight and dancing cruises on Friday and Saturday from 7:30-11 p.m.

Rick Barnes and Lynda Shays (above) made the trip from Orlando to Sanford twice this year for the Rivership Romance; once for the proposal and again to get married last Saturday.

Capt. Shawn McLain (above) has officiated thousands of wedding ceremonies aboard the Rivership Romance, including three last weekend.

Sanfordite receives President's 'thanks' for 22 years of service

Betty Miller Washington, a former native of Sanford and a graduate of dear 'ol Crooms High School class of 1962, recently received congratulations from President George W. Bush on her retirement from the federal government.

She has worked 22 years of federal service with the last 12 years spent working for the White House Military Office/Special Programs Office.

Washington's federal career began in 1979 where she worked as a telephone operator for Joint United States Military in Ankara, Turkey.

Her husband, Hillary Washington, was on assignment with the United States Air Force. After returning to the U.S., she worked at the Pentagon in 1982.

In 1991 she was appointed to office manager for the Special Program Office where she retired after 22 years of service.

Washington received numerous awards, special presentations and gifts, including a letter of commendation from President Bush.

The Washingtons reside in Clinton, Md., with their four children and grands.

She is the daughter of the late Meddle and

The goal of Title I Harbor project is to provide a safe place for students to learn and acquire a joy for reading.

Students are continually supported by volunteers and business partners in the community as well as law enforcement agencies. Through services rendered by these volunteers, the program has thrived since 1998, Graham said.

The program benefits kindergarteners through high school seniors, which receive

The Geneva B's: Bluegrass, bargains, banter and boats

When this column began ... appearing in the paper it was with the agreement that if there simply was not enough happening in Geneva any given week, Stetson's Corner would lay low and run the next. That simply hasn't happened yet.

It seems there is always a story, always news to report and always something happening. This week is no different. As I went about my business the past few days or so someone was always calling, stopping me to talk, or emailing something my way that needed to be included in the paper.

As I was hanging out with ... 'The Banjo Ladies' (a group which also now includes several men — and whom you will read about soon in this column) the upcoming Bluegrass Night at the Geneva Community Center was of course a topic of conversation. Happening Saturday Sept. 20, this evening of music will be especially rewarding this month, as the much-anticipated new sound system will be in use. Although minus a mixer, the equipment will greatly enhance everyone's enjoyment of the talent always there. As an added bonus, my sources tell me (always wanted to say that) that there will also be a raffle that evening to give away a handmade dulcimer! The night of music and fun always begins at 6 with food available and the instruments strike up at 7. This is the one not to miss! The monthly (third Saturday) Bluegrass Jams are sponsored by the

Daria Kinney Scoles

Geneva Citizens Association. For more details contact Dana Myers at 407-349-1191. Winning the dulcimer ... would mean having to make a new space in the house for it to rest. Of course, this might involve cleaning out some of the other items we'll call 'seldom used.' Does this sound familiar? If so, clean away and donate those seldom used items to the Annual Geneva FCE Garage Sale. The sale will be held Saturday, Oct. 4 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., with item drop off on Friday, Oct. 3 from 9 a.m. to noon. As always, the Geneva Community Center will be filled with a large assortment of bargains. To inquire further, contact Geneva FCE President Robin Griffith at 407-349-0040.

If you have questions ... or comments for the Seminole County Planning Department concerning current and future developments in the Geneva area, plan to attend a town meeting to be held Monday, Oct. 20 at the Geneva Community Center. Put on by the Geneva Citizens Association, the Planning Department presentation will begin at 7 p.m. and is open to the public.

Look back instead of ahead ... by attending 'The Steamboat Days of Geneva, Florida" presentation Friday, Oct. 24 at 7 p.m. The evening's historic photos and details will be narrated by none other than the "Geneva Bus Tour" guide Mal Martin. Martin will cover traveling on the St. Johns River with special emphasis on the Upper St. Johns from Lake Monroe to Lake Washington. This interesting and fact-filled event is free from the Geneva Historical & Genealogical Society and will take place at the Geneva Community Center. Contact the historical society at 407-349-5697.

Although it wasn't around ... during the steamboat days, the old Geneva School House has recently been in a sad state of repair. It's nice to see that the 'powers that be' have taken steps to do a bit of refurbishing there. So far, the work includes stripping and repainting the outside windowpanes and building new railings for the outside steps. Thanks to whoever got this project in motion!

Another project of concern ... to some Geneva residents was reducing the large truck traffic on the newly paved section of First Street/Geneva Heights that travels through a residential area. Since the road became more 'user friendly' it seems that trucks traveling mainly from Chuluota to the Seminole County Landfill were using First Street more and more. Residents there asked for help and were happy to see the installation of new signage for truck traffic that moves large vehicles through

Geneva via State Road 46 to Avenue 'C' to Old Geneva and out to Osceola. First Street boasts its own new signs, which read "Local Deliveries Only."

Soon there will also be new signs ... for Mullet Lake Park, which was duly approved for renaming at the Sept. 9 Seminole County Board of County Commissioners meeting. The popular park will now be known as Henry Levy Mullet Lake Park — as it was Henry Levy who originally donated the land for the park years ago.

A new Web site boasting the name ... www.AllGeneva.com is up and running and offers much information for new and old residents alike. Visit the site and click on the following options to find out more about what they call "That Lost World": Local things, local people, churches, schools, phone numbers, things to do, the landfill, Geneva history, events, emergency information, lost and found, local businesses, real estate, weather and 'Ouch! Don't touch' (all about our resident critters) plus much more. (Because there is so much more out here!) ... See you next week.

We need you to tell us what you know that is good about Geneva! Please share your information, ideas and comments by calling 407-349-2140, writing to Stetson's Corner c/o The Seminole Herald, via e-mail at darlas@mpinet.net, (please put 'Stetson's Corner' in the subject line), or with a fax to 407-323-9408. Thanks!

Robares celebrate 50th anniversary

Photos submitted

Bob and Betty Robare, of Sanford, are celebrating their golden 50th wedding anniversary Sept. 19, 2003. They were married in Milwaukee, Wis., in 1953.

Born in Marquette, Mich., Mr. Robare served in the U.S. Navy for 20 years and retired from McDonnell Douglas after 25 years. Mrs. Robare, born in Negaunee, Mich., was a devoted housewife and mother. The Robares have six children: Bobby Robare, Tommy Robare, Laurie LaWall, all of Sanford, Debbie German, Lake Mary, Lisa Sorg, Oviedo, and Barbara "Bear" Beatty, DeBary. The couple also has 11 grandchildren: Justin, Kelly Lynn, Nicole, Andrew, Robbie, Heather, Kelly, Kimmy, Christopher, Ty and Tabor, and one great-grandchild, Kody.

They will celebrate their special day at a dinner with family and friends at the home of their daughter, Bear, and son-in-law, Wayne, followed by a surprise trip back "home" to Michigan. Happy anniversary.

Sanford married couple mark 50 years

Leonard James and Willie Mae Anderson, of Bell Street, Sanford, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sept. 13, 2003.

They were married in Sanford in 1953, at Macedonia P.B. Church, by Pastor Michael Imparato. The couple has six children, Samuel Anderson, Apopka, Barbara Anderson, Deltona, Lenon Anderson, James Anderson, Marilyn Anderson and Patricia Tillman, all of Sanford.

They are also the proud grandparents of 15 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The couple celebrated their anniversary at Sylvan Lake Park Reception Hall in Sanford. The hall was decorated in pink and white, and more than 80 of their closest family and friends attended from Florida and Georgia.

They were presented with a memory album and a solo performance by their oldest granddaughter, Gail Anderson, with piano accompaniment by their grandson Dwayne Tillman.

The couple believes the secret of their marriage has been seeking God for answers and having patience with Him.

L.A. Phillips and Co. Athletics

The following officers of the SHS Athletic Association were elected during the second week of the school term: Osborne P. Herndon, president; Ernest Housholder, vice president; Abbie Kanner, secretary; and Henry Moor, treasurer. The executive committee consisted of Professor Perkins as chairman, Ernest Betts and Randall Chase.

The members of the association were interested in establishing a fair foundation of clean athletics for the school.

The boys formed a football team, having from 10 to 15 boys out to practice each day. Betts was elected manager of the team by the association. They tried to find a coach, but had little success. Mr. Clyde Pounds, one of the best football players in the state, was employed as coach by the team, but he only lasted a few days.

The first game of the season was in Orlando on Nov. 8, with neither side scoring. The second game was in Sanford with Orlando winning 35-0. The third game was played in DeLand on Nov. 18, with DeLand winning 10-6.

The two games scheduled for the last week of November were canceled by the manager. The Sanford team was later disbanded due to a measles epidemic.

The team members were pleased with the showing they had made considering this was their first year and that they didn't have a coach.

The girls organized three basketball teams, but since their equipment didn't arrive in time, they were unable to play teams outside. They enthusiastically played well among themselves.

On a Friday night, the baseball team met the DeLand Nine of the Diamond at Holden Park. Our boys easily won the game 7-3. "It would have been much better if more of the school pupils had been present to show their interest in the game, also it would have shown our school spirit." Historical Society Calendars are here

The Sanford Historical Society's 2004 calendars are now available. They can be purchased at the Sanford Museum, The Seminole Herald office, Knights Shoe Store or from society members. The cost is still only $5. The dozen images include the Municipal Zoo, the Pig 'n Whistle, the municipal pool, a "mule train," an orange packing house, an A3J Vigilante, the first bridge across Lake Monroe and St. James AME Church. On the cover is a color picture of the Clyde Line Dock.

Correction
In my column of Aug. 31, I identified the man standing in front of the Pig 'n Whistle incorrectly. The man's name is Clarence Ford. I had named correctly in the society calendar so I don't know where my mind was when writing the column. I apologize, Mr. Ford.

Greyhounds do it again

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

Lyman wins first three games for first times since 1994

Who are these guys? The Lyman football team continues to prove that the week one upset of Lake Mary may not have been such an upset after all. Friday night at the Carlton D. Henley Sports Complex, the Greyhounds improved to 3-0 with a 17-14 victory over Oak Ridge in the district opener for both teams. The trio of C.J. Williams, J.J. Bass and Kyle Harris did the damage again, combining to rush for 324 yards. Williams carried the ball 17 times for 160 yards and Bass ran for another 112. Harris only had 52 yards rushing, but he scored both of Lyman's touchdowns. In a schedule change, the game will be seen this morning (Saturday) at 9 a.m. and again on Sunday at 1 p.m. on Bright House Networks' Channel 98. It was decided to carry the game instead of the Oviedo-Lake Mary game because of a scheduling problem. In another Class 5A game, Winter Springs got its first win in style, winning its home opener, 47-0, over Freedom High School at the A.W. Epps Sports Complex.

Next week will see the teams take a break from district play and most of the games will be on Thursday (Sept. 25) because of the Rosh Hashanah holiday. While the games won't mean anything as far as the postseason goes, the matchups are important as all of the Thursday games will be Seminole Athletic Conference contests. Winter Springs will host Oviedo at The A.W. Epps Sports Complex, Lake Brantley will face Lyman at the See Football, Page 3B

Lions outscore Rams

Oviedo hangs onto big district victory

By Tony DeSormier
Special to the Herald

OVIDEO — Oviedo High School quarterback Lee Sloan's game is taking on a new dimension. In his third year as the starting signal caller for the Lions, Sloan has developed a reputation of being a strong passer when the situation calls for it as well as having uncanny instincts for checking off plays and calling audibles. If head coach Greg Register has his way, Sloan will be just as dangerous with his feet as well as his arm and mind this season. "I told him I wanted him to rush for 500 yards this season," said Register. "We want him to add another dimension to his game."

On Friday night against Lake Mary, Sloan took the first few dozen steps toward that 500-yard goal when he turned a possible sack into a 26-yard run to keep alive a drive. Two plays later, he connected with Will Harrison on a 25-yard touchdown pass play that broke a 21-21 tie and boosted Oviedo to a 33-27 win over the visiting Rams. See Lions, Page 3B

Oviedo quarterback Lee Sloan (No. 3, left) completed eight of 15 passes for 104 yards and two touchdowns and Brice Patrick (No. 34, above) scored an insurance touchdown for the Lions on a 48-yard dive through the center of the Lake Mary defense as host Oviedo outscored the Rams, 33-27, in the district opener for both teams at John Courier Field. Oviedo (2-0) will be at Winter Springs at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday and Lake Mary (1-2) will travel to Gainesville on Friday to take on Buchholz.

Jacks are wild

Special to the Herald

If you want to have a wild time, try some Jack Crevalle on for size. These fish will break your wrists if you catch several. There are times when you will see schools the size of a football field. Jacks will violently crash bait pods and just about anything you cast their way. When you are having a slow day with redfish and trout, Jacks can save the day. Usually the schools in the river are fish that weigh between four and 10 pounds. When you are rigged with light tackle it is a blast. Top water plugs are destroyed when tossed into a school of Jacks. Just about any bait will do when they are schooling. These fish are tremendous fighters and will definitely bend your rod. They are not hard to find when they are schooling. All one has to do is follow the violent splashing and watch for the bait running away. If you are interested in catching some really big Jacks, just go out of Port Canaveral and look for them crashing mullet pods. These Jacks are what many call "Hour Jacks", because they can take an hour to land. These fish can reach the 30 lb. mark. If you choose to go for "Hour Jacks" make sure you use heavier gear. A tarpon rig is better suited for these bruisers. Although Jacks are not good to eat, they are well worth the fight. If you want to have a blast, play "Jacks See Outdoors, Page 3B

Patriots' perfect half tames Tribe

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — A near perfect first half proved to be more than enough as visiting Lake Brantley downed Seminole, 21-3, in a Class 6A-District 2 football game on Thomas E. Whigham Stadium at the Tim Raines Athletic Park. Behind the running of quarterback Brett Smith and fullback Deon Casey and the daring play-calling of head coach George Clayton, the Patriots scored on three straight possessions over the end of the first quarter and start of the second period and a stifling defense kept Seminole out of the end zone all night as Lake Brantley won its second straight Seminole Athletic Conference game after a season-opening loss to Apopka. The game did start a little slow as both teams went three-and-out on their first possessions and then the teams traded turnovers. The Fighting Seminoles' turnover, an interception and 10 yard return by Lammar Guy off a Mike McKenzie pass, turned the game around as it gave Lake Brantley a first and goal at the Seminole four after a face mask penalty. After a three-yard run by Casey, who led the Tribe in rushing last year before transferring back to Lake Brantley for his senior season, Smith dove in from the one and after the extra point by Miguel Santos, the Patriots led 7-0 with 2:42 remaining in the first quarter. Lammar Guy did a little bit of everything in all phases of the game to help Lake Brantley ease past Seminole, 21-3 at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium Friday night.

PennySaver Night to feature TBARA, Super Stocks

Special to the Herald

Although the Late Models and Open Wheel Modifieds are off tonight (Saturday), New Smyrna Speedway will see plenty of side-by-side action as the TBARA Winged Sprints try on the high banks with some hot racing action.

It is also Volusia PennySaver Night Saturday and you will find "two for one" coupons in this week's PennySaver. Be sure to pick one up and bring a friend to see some of the best Saturday Night racing in Central Florida.

The TBARA Winged Sprints are one of the hottest traveling series in Florida and always draw a big crowd no matter where they go. Fans sit in amazement as they "fly" around the one-half mile New Smyrna Speedway. Drivers like Keith and Shane Butler, Stan Butler, Dave Steele, Dude Teate, Wayne Reutimann and Wayne Reutimann, Jr. and Wendy Mathis are just a few of the Sprint car drivers expected.

If you really like Sprint action, arrive early and watch the Sprints as they hot lap around New Smyrna Speedway.

Also on the program is a 50 lap Super Stock feature. Charlie Collins holds a 24 point lead over Ron Whaley in this ever-growing class. These guys go door-to-door every week, bumping, grinding and a big fan pleaser. Jeff Colburn stands third in points with 412 points followed by Josh Wronkowski and Mike Amato. Butch Pierce, Todd Driscoll, Bob Trombley, Ted Head and Nick Vogler round out the top ten. Qualifying for the 50 lapper is 6:30 p.m. depending on car count could be earlier.

David Rogers leads the Super Late Model points with 584 points followed by B.J. McLeod with 455. Although absent last week, Wayne Parker still sits third in points with 352 followed by Guy Thomas with 284 and David Frohlich with 176. Joe Fitos, Brent Hobbs, Mark Vandevender, Mike Finn, and Chris Fontaine round out the top ten.

The Late Model division is off but when they return, it is Brian Bellaw with the Jolly Roger's/Blackie Saloons Chevy leading the points with 472. Last week's winner Tim Clark sits second with 384 followed by Mark Smith with 288. Bobby Orr and Don Hess round out the top five.

The Open Wheel Modifieds are also off but when they return it is Bobby Blake leading the way for the Modified points with 520. Mark Vandevender stands second with 412 points followed by Matt Wheeler, Brad May and Jim "Hoot" Flynn. David Castello stands sixth with Rob Underwood, David Hite and Jerry Symons tied for seventh, eighth, and ninth. Justin Henderson stands tenth.

Billy Spade leads the way for the Sportsman division with 536 points followed by Ron Lufcy with 406 points. Dale Clouser moved into third last week with his win at 388 points. Bill Love and Jim Snyder are tied at 292 points each for fourth and fifth.

With points this close and with the competition of this class, it will be a fight down to the wire for points. This is one that could go anyway for sure.

A very emotional win took place in the Mini Stock division last Saturday night as Tim "Missileman" McPhail won the race for his friend Ray, the gas man. Crews who passed away on Sunday. Not only did McPhail take the win but he also took the points lead with the win leading Ted "Mr Mini Stock" Vulpius by 24 points. McPhail stands at 656 points to Vulpius's 632 points.

Rex Christensen is finally seeing his hard work pay off as he stands third in the Mini Stock points with 544 points. David Castello has moved up quickly and now stands fourth with 284 points followed by Ben Hutto with 240 points. Wayne Clark, Bob Delmastro, Rex "Boneman" Hollinger, Ron Dubau and Troy Kruse fill out the top ten.

Gates open at 5 p.m. and qualifying for the Super Stock 50 Lap feature will be at 6:30 p.m. with racing action at 7:30 p.m. every Saturday night at the track located at the corner of SR. 44 and CR 415, between New Smyrna, DeLand and Daytona.

Brewers recall Weeks

From Staff Reports

It's been quite a ride for Altamonte Springs' Rickie Weeks since he signed his contract in early August.

The Milwaukee Brewers recalled the second baseman from Class A Beloit and he joined the club in San Francisco last week.

The announcement was made by Executive Vice President and General Manager, Doug Melvin.

Weeks, who celebrated his 21st birthday on September 13th, was the second choice overall in the June First-Year Player Draft from Southern University. This season, he played with Class A Beloit of the Midwest League and the Brewers rookie league team in the Arizona Rookie League, combining to hit .358 with one home run and 20 RBI in 21 games. With Beloit, he batted .349 with a .556 slugging percentage and a .449 on base percentage.

He helped lead Beloit into the Midwest League finals, where the Snappers were swept by the Lansing Lugnuts, a Chicago Cubs affiliate, three games to none.

All three of the games were close, however, as Lansing won 7-6, 4-2 and 4-2.

Weeks was 3-for-11 (.273) with a run scored and an RBI in the three games. He was also hit by a pitch twice, walked once and stole two bases in three attempts in the series.

Since the draft, Weeks has earned numerous accolades including the prestigious Golden Spikes Award as the best amateur player in the United States. He was also named the Baseball America College Player of the Year and earned the Dick Howser Trophy from the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association.

In their rankings of the top 100 draft prospects, Baseball America ranked him first among college players as the best athlete, best five-tool talent and best pure hitter, and he ranked second as the best power hitter and fastest baserunner.

"Since Rickie is on the 40-man roster and possibly may play in the Arizona Fall League, we wanted to get him to stay in baseball shape with the big club and receive the instruction and experience at this level," said

Lake Brantley graduate Rickie Weeks, who hit .358 with one home run and 20 RBI in 21 games in the minors, was promoted from Class A Beloit to the Major Leagues last week when he was recalled by the Milwaukee Brewers.

Melvin. "He has a very bright future and we believe that this opportunity will be invaluable for him in his development as a player."

Weeks led all college hitters with a .479 average in 2003 for Southern University in Louisiana. It was the second consecutive season that he led the country in hitting. Weeks added 16 home runs and 66 RBI. He set a NCAA Division I mark with a career .473 average. The two-time All-American second baseman was successful in all 31 of his stolen base attempts this season and was 68-for-69 in his career.

He was named the Southwestern Athletic Conference's (SWAC) Most Outstanding Hitter and was the unanimous selection for the conference Player of the Year for the second consecutive season.

Weeks is wearing uniform number 23 for the Brewers and is the first position player from this year's draft to make it to the Major Leagues.

As might be expected, the Lake Brantley graduate has been a little behind Major League pitching, going 0-for-3 with two strike outs in three games against the St. Louis Cardinals this week. But his defense has been perfect, getting an assist and a put out in two chances in four innings of play.

In other Brewers' news, former Lake Mary Little League player Prince Fielder had quite a season at Beloit also.

In Thursday's editions of USA TODAY, Fielder was recognized as the paper's 16th annual Minor League Player of the Year, an award based on this season's performance as well as Major League potential.

Now 19, Fielder, a left-handed hitting first baseman and the son of former Major League slugger Cecil Fielder, made a run at the Single-A Midwest League Triple Crown. He batted .313 (third in the league) with 27 home runs (second) and a league-best 112 RBIs. His on-base percentage was .409, a key stat in the new regime headed by general manager Doug Melvin and farm director Reid Nichols, and he slugged .526.

Fielder, the seventh overall pick in the 2001 First-Year Player Draft out of Melbourne's Florida Air Academy, was joined in mid-season by Weeks and Tony Gwynn, Jr., two more touted picks from the 2002 draft. The trio led the Beloit Snappers all the way to the Midwest League Championship Series, where they lost to Lansing. With Brewers slugger Richie Sexson nearing the end of a four-year contract, Fielder might be close to figuring in Milwaukee's plans.

UCF set to face Syracuse

Special to the Herald

After an exciting 33-29 win against in-state foe Florida Atlantic, the Golden Knights travel to Syracuse today (Saturday) to take on the Orangemen. Game time is scheduled for noon.

Coverage will be provided by the UCF ISP Sports Network starting with the pre-game show at 10 a.m. In Orlando, the game can be heard on 740 - The Team (WQTM), with Marc Dantels, Garry Parris and Jerry O'Neill calling the action.

The matchup will also be televised. Locally, the game will appear on Sunshine Network (in the Orlando area only) and on ESPN+ and ESPN Game Plan.

UCF (1-1) faces its second BIG EAST team of the season when meet Syracuse (1-1) in the Carrier Dome. The Golden Knights opened the season with a 49-28 defeat at the hands of then-No. 9 Virginia Tech.

The strength of the Orangemen resides on offense.

Head coach Paul Pasqualoni has many weapons, beginning with senior wide out Johnnie Morant. Morant leads the nation in all-purpose yards per game (265.0) and ranks second in the country in receiving yards per game (150.5). Adding to the talent on offense is junior tailback Walter Reyes, who is tenth in the nation in rushing with 139.0 yards per game. Experienced quarterback R.J. Anderson directs Syracuse's offense, which is 12th in the nation in total offense at 482.0 yards per game.

Through two games, the Orangemen defense has struggled. Syracuse allowed 47 points in a triple overtime win against North Carolina, and surrendered 30 points in a loss to Louisville. Senior defensive tackle Louis Gachelin anchors an experienced defensive line that boasts three seniors. Linebacker Rich Scanlon has recorded 31 tackles in two games and free safety Diamond Ferri has added 18 tackles from his position in the secondary. Expect a young secondary to be tested by the UCF passing attack.

Quarterback Ryan Schneider leads head coach Mike Kruczek's nationally-ranked offense.

The senior signal caller set four UCF records in last week's win over FAU: total passing yards (497), yards gained passing and rushing (501), completions (37) and consecutive games with a touchdown pass (23).

Helping Schneider shatter the records were wide receivers Brandon Marshall, the former Lake Howell star, and Mike Walker. Sophomore Marshall (5 rec., 104 yards, 1 TD) and true freshman Walker (4 rec., 104 yards) set career-bests in yardage and receptions in the victory. Adding to the deep and talented wide receiver corps are Tavaris Capers and Luther Huggins.

The Golden Knights will also look to run the ball with tailback Alex Haynes, who has 145 yards and two touchdowns on the year.

After surrendering 49 points and 29 points in their first two games of the season, the young UCF defense must step up and limit Syracuse's offensive chances. Veteran linebacker Stanford Rhule will return to the starting lineup after sitting out the first game of the 2003 season due to injury and appearing in a reserve role last week against FAU. The strength of the Golden Knight defense lies in the secondary. Safeties Atari Bigby and Peter Sands pace a talented squad that covers receivers and steps up to defend the run.

Additionally, defensive linemen Paul Carrington and Larry Brown will attempt to limit Syracuse's ground game. Look for the Orangemen to bring a balanced attack at the UCF. See UCF, Page 3B

Former Lake Howell star Brandon Marshall (No. 81, right) sets up to make a block for Alex Haynes (No. 4) during UCF's 33-29 victory over FAU last Saturday. Marshall, who had a career-high 104 receiving yards, and Haynes, who led the Golden Knights with 74 yards on 20 carries, will be counted on heavily when UCF takes on Syracuse today.

"Lee is our leader," said Register. "He's always calm. On that play, he just brought the ball back down, tucked it under his arm, and headed up field."

Sloan also completed eight of 15 passes for 104 yards and two touchdowns.

All but overshadowed in Sloan's fourth-quarter heroics was an epic rally by the Rams, who trailed Oviedo 21-0 in the first quarter. Not only did Lake Mary fall behind early, Oviedo exploited three interceptions to build the early advantage.

"The kids busted a gut out there," said Lake Mary head coach Mike Stanton. "A little bit of you dies when you see the kids work so hard and not come away with a better result than this. But everything we want is still right there in front of us. We'll be back to work Saturday morning."

Jason Raulerson gave the Lions an early lead when he returned an interception 39 yards for a score.

Interceptions by Shamus Wright and Willice Daniels set up Oviedo's other touchdowns in the first quarter. Sloan tossed a 31-yard pass to Charlie Parker to cash in on Wright's pick while a 17-yard touchdown run by Will Harrison converted Daniels' interception.

The Rams pulled even with a couple of two-play drives of their own.

The first came in the second quarter after Lake Mary recovered an Oviedo fumble. Two plays later, Carl Buford scored on a 19-yard run. The Rams evened the score on Cameron Bateman's four-yard run two plays after Justin Scott blocked an Oviedo punt early in the fourth quarter.

The Rams had cut the deficit to seven points on Keith Rivers' two-yard touchdown run in the third quarter.

Shortly after Sloan and Harrison connected to put the Lions back in front, Brice Patrick scored an insurance touchdown for the Lions on a 48-yard dive through the center of the Lake Mary defense.

Jon Clark scrambled three yards for a touchdown as time expired for the Rams.

Harrison finished with 77 yards rushing on 16 carries for the Lions. He also three catches for 34 yards. Patrick carried the ball four times for 52 yards.

Bateman rushed for a game-high 97 yards on 23 carries for Lake Mary.

Oviedo (2-0 and 1-0 in 6A-District 2) travels to Winter Springs for a Seminole Athletic Conference game next Thursday night. Lake Mary (1-2 and 0-1 in 6A-2) will be in Gainesville next week to take on Buchholz.

Cameron Bateman (No. 5) rushed for a game-high 97 yards on 23 carries and kept Lake Mary in the game for much of the contest.

Seminole again failed to move the ball on its next series and Lake Brantley took over on its own 36 and needed just three plays to get into the end zone.

Smith gained four on a busted play, then Clayton called his first creative play of the evening.

Going back for his first pass attempt of the game, Smith lobbed the ball down the middle of the field. Suddenly, Guy came out of nowhere to catch the ball and run 36 yards down to the Seminole 24.

Casey then broke a couple of tackle attempts at the line and burst through for the 24-yard score.

Santos' extra point made the score 14-0 with 2:9 seconds left in the first quarter.

Clayton, evidently sensing he could put the game out of reach, then went to his Bobby Bowden bag of tricks, calling an on-side squib kick, which Santos performed to perfection.

The jet-quick Guy, who grew up in Sanford and is the son of former Seminole High star athlete and current Lake Brantley teacher Toni Hardy, scooped up the ball on the first bounce, giving the Patriots the ball on the Tribe 43 with 1:2 seconds on the first period clock.

Except for an incomplete pass, Casey, Smith and Guy carried the ball 11 times for 43 yards on the drive, eating up 5:22 of the second quarter clock. Casey went the final three yards to give Lake Brantley a 20-0 lead. Santos' third extra point made the score 21-0 with 6:38 remaining in the half.

Seminole, meanwhile, was getting nothing done on offense, not getting a first down until the Patriots were called for jumping offside on a punt play with five minutes left in the half.

To that point, the Tribe's longest play from scrimmage was a six-yard pass from McKenzie to Daniel Lingard.

Seminole looked like it finally had something going on its last possession of the half, getting its first "real" first down on a 10-yard run by McKenzie. McKenzie then hit Chris Mooring with an 16-yard pass for another first down.

But the drive went for naught as an 18-yard illegal crack-back block moved the ball back to the Tribe 35 and an incomplete pass closed out the half.

The statistics told the tale as well as the scoreboard as the Seminole offense only gained 37 yards on 20 first half plays, while Lake Brantley rang up 189 yards on 33 plays.

Casey carried the ball 13 times for 81 yards and scored the two touchdowns, while Smith carried 14 times for 53 yards and a touchdown and also had 36 yards in passing.

Guy did a "little bit" of everything, running for 17 yards on three carries, catching a 36-yard pass, returning a kickoff for 43 yards, recovering a pass and breaking up two more.

The second half pretty much saw Lake Brantley running the ball out of its potent wish-bone set and Seminole trying to throw its way back into the game.

Both offense were able to move the ball some, but penalties kept both teams out of the end zone.

The Patriots were hit with eight second half penalties for 70 yards and the Tribe was flagged five times, all major penalties, for 68 yards.

Seminole finally got something going late in the third period when Jamal Tennon returned a punt 43 yards down to the Lake Brantley 14. But three plays only netted two yards and Paul McKinney came on to kick a 30-yard field goal with 2:16 left on the third quarter clock.

The Tribe had excellent field position on their final three possessions of the game, but failed to get into the end zone.

Seminole got the ball at the Lake Brantley 49 after fumble recovery by Kerry Sims, but immediately turned the ball right back over to the Patriots.

A partially blocked punt by Aaron Williams gave the Tribe the ball at the Lake Brantley 45.

But three holding penalties, including one that came on a 26-yard touchdown pass from McKenzie to Tennon, and a 10-yard loss on a sack, killed the drive and Seminole gave the Patriots the ball back on the Lake Brantley 40.

Three penalties on the Patriots' next drive also ended with the ball being turned over on downs to Seminole at the Lake Brantley 41. But with less than minute left, there was not much the Tribe could do, as the clock ran out.

Casey finished the game with 145 yards on 22 carries, while Smith had 48 on 20 attempts and Guy 24 yards on five carries.

McKenzie finished the night 12-for-23 with two interceptions for 103 yards. Mooring caught three passes for 40 yards and Tennon also had three grabs for 37 yards.

Both teams will play Seminole Athletic Conference games next Thursday, because of the Rosh Hashanah holiday, with Seminole going to Lake Howell to take on the Silver Hawks at Richard L. Evans Field and Lake Brantley going to Lyman to take on the unbeaten Greyhounds at the Caltron D. Henley Sports Complex. Both games will begin at 7:30 p.m.

announced on Tuesday.

Frost comes to UCF with a wealth of experience in the sport. She served as assistant coach under Crain at the University of San Diego for two years, training the novice women's squad and acting as primary recruiter.

Prior to her stint at USD, she was the men's novice crew coach at Notre Dame for a year, while she also worked as an intern with the university's RecServices. In 1999, she was a master's rowing coach at the prestigious Mount Baker Rowing and Sailing Center in Seattle, Wash.
