Former Sanford Ballplayer Writes

People who visit Sanford once just never forget it. Example: A card received from a baseball player who played for the Sanford team in 1946 and 1947. Jerry Silverman wrote The Sanford Herald yesterday "Just a line to let you and all the wonderful people of Sanford know that I am one of the playground directors in the St. Petersburg Recreation Department."

This is one of probably hundreds of cards and letters from those who have been to Sanford and never forget it.

Li. E. H. Dohne Promoted To Lcdr.

In a short but impressive ceremony on October 4, the Commanding Officer of NAS Sanford, Captain Lionel A. Arthur, delivered the official notification from the Secretary of the Navy, promoting Lieutenant Ernest H. Dohne to Lieutenant Commander, U. S. Naval Reserve.

The new Lieutenant Commander will now exchange the two silver bars on his collar for the gold oak leaves of his new rank.

Lcdr. Dohne's letter of promotion set his date of rank retroactive to the first of July 1957.

Lcdr. Dohne reported to NAS Sanford on July 1, 1955 from the Ground Control School at NAS Olathe, Kansas. Mr. Dohne is now serving as the GCA Controller for NAS Sanford's GCA Unit No. 45.

He enlisted in the Navy in Nov. 1943 and was accepted for aviation cadet training. He was commissioned an Ensign in the Naval Reserve in Oct. 1944 and received his wings and designation as a Naval Aviator in Nov. 1944.

Lcdr. Dohne reported to NAS Miami in Dec. 1944 for Operational Flight Training and upon completion of training and carrier qualifications in Feb. 1945, he was assigned to Torpedo Squadron Twenty, Air Group Twenty, Air Force Atlantic Fleet. During his tour with Torpron 20, they were deployed to NAF Lewiston, Maine; NAS Key West; NAS Edenton, N. C. and aboard the Escort Aircraft Carriers USS Seolsons and USS Charger. During this tour he served as Squadron Safety Officer.

He was released to inactive duty in Oct. 1945 and remained inactive until August 1947 when he joined AVUA No. 2 which had been activated at New Bedford, Mass.

Dohne remained with this squadron as a Volunteer Reserve until July 1951 at which time he joined the Organized Reserve and was assigned to Air Anti-Submarine Squadron 913 at NAS Squantum, Mass. During this tour with these two squadrons he served in the capacity of Flight Officer.

In Feb. 1952 he voluntarily returned to active duty and after a short refresher course at NAS Squantum, Mass., he was assigned to Air Anti-Submarine Squadron 913, later designated VS-39. He transferred to GCA School at NAS Olathe, Kansas from where he reported to Sanford.

Lcdr. Dohne is married to the former Miss Dorothy M. Stone of New Bedford, Mass. They have two children, Tommy 11 years old, and Joan 9 years old. They are residing at 114 S. Pinecrest Dr., Sanford.

Collins Declares Oct. P.T.A. Membership Month In Florida

This is National P. T. A. Month. All over the United States parents and teachers are getting together to plan their programs for the coming year. These programs create a better understanding of all three parties involved, parents, teachers and children.

Here in Florida, Governor Collins has proclaimed October as P.T.A. Membership Month. Local P. T. A.'s are having drives, stressing that membership in the Parent-Teacher Association is a privilege, not a duty.

There are 42,183 P. T. A.'s in membership with the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, which has its home office in Chicago, Ill.

As a member of the local P. T. A., the individual belongs to a nationwide, democratic, volunteer organization that centers its whole interest on the welfare and education of children and youth. He has an opportunity to give every child in the community a chance to achieve a life that is satisfying to himself and useful to others.

A member in the U. T. A. will meet the teachers, principal and school officials, who, through the P. T. A. programs, keep the parents up to date on the objectives, curriculums and achievements of the schools.

A member may join study discussion groups in the field of parent and family life education. These groups are concerned with the physical, mental, emotional and spiritual development of all children. The national organization provides a wealth of interesting, up-to-date and authentic materials for P. T. A. study-discussion groups.

Members will learn how the P. T. A. cooperates with other community organizations and agencies for the welfare of children and youth. In an all inclusive membership, the individual will be doing his share in strengthening the entire organization and its program. This will increase the educational opportunities and community resources for all children.

More than ten million adults belong to the P. T. A.'s all over the country. Through these citizens and their efforts, the schools have been able to secure more funds for teacher's salaries, for improved school equipment, construction and the general enrichment of the school programs.

It is hoped that all responsible citizens in Florida, and especially in Seminole County will join their local P. T. A. this month. A hearty welcome awaits them.

Brandies, John Bair, W. H. Young, J. Earl Evans, E. C. Dobson, Chandler Vail and H. H. Osborne.

Test Satellite Firing In Line With GOP Political Necessities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States plan to begin next December the firing of test satellites into outer space is in line with urgent Republican political necessities.

If it is a successful firing—and it better be—the U. S. Sputnik will be in outer space when Congress reassembles here in the first week of January.

Anything short of the successful launching of a space satellite by the United States before Congress reconvenes would leave the Eisenhower administration in a bad spot.

Next year is an election year in which the foreseeable trouble for the Republican Party and the Eisenhower administration already is sufficient to give party men the gollywobles.

On the record of the current fiscal year to date, the Eisenhower administration is unable to hold the spending line at the point where the President insisted that his department heads hold it. Neither the President nor the Budget Bureau offers more than faint hope and good intentions toward reducing spending and taxes in the immediate years to come.

Eisenhower must come up with new budget figures next January.

Another spending program of 70 billion dollars or more with no tax relief seems to be in the works. It will invite all over again next year the high tax, high spending rebellion of 1957.

That would be trouble enough for any lot of politicians but there is more. Inflation is still with us making the high cost of living higher month by month. Elements of the U. S. Army remain on duty in Little Rock, Ark., and none knows how they may, finally, be got out of there.

Moreover, the most severe test of the Supreme Court's order for the racial integration of public schools still is to come in the Deep South. In those states the people appear to be solidly behind the determination of their state officials to undertake massive resistance.

There may be some political comfort for Republicans in the possibility that the dispute over racial integration of public schools goes into the Republican Party. Aside from that, the Republican prospect in next year's congressional election is grimly unpleasant.

Eisenhower achieved two personal triumphs in the presidential elections of 1952 and 1956. The Republicans won a scratch decision in the 1952 congressional election but were voted out of congressional power in 1954 and even last year, when Eisenhower was piling up his presidential points in 1956, Eisenhower's personal popularity has slipped. Democrats no longer fear to make personal political attacks on him. Republican politicians are critical and the word in Washington is that the party organization, coast to coast, is in disrepair.

The Republicans are the congressional outcasts and should be the political offensive as the off-year campaign approaches. But that is not the way the clock crumbles. What used to be regarded widely as the Grand Old Party is back to the wall in defense of the modern Republican administration and of its minority position in Congress.

Harold Briggs Will Head Oviedo CofC

The Oviedo Chamber of Commerce, at its second meeting since the organizational session was held, elected permanent officers for the first year.

Harold C. Briggs, who accepted the post as acting president of the new Chamber of Commerce group, was elected the permanent president.

However none of the remaining temporary officers are serving permanently.

Others elected at last night's meeting were Ben Ward Jr., vice president; Mrs. Roy Weisenberger Sr., secretary; and T. L. Ling Sr., treasurer.

Ben Jones, acting treasurer of the Oviedo Chamber of Commerce reported there were 125 members as of last night. "These will be considered the charter members," he said.

Meetings were set for the first and third Tuesday nights of each month. However, it was decided that in the event these meeting dates fall on basketball nights a substitute date will be set.

It was discussed and tentatively agreed that the name of the group would be "Greater Oviedo Chamber of Commerce" in that the organization took in the communities of Slavia, Chulota, Geneva and other surrounding areas.

About 75 members attended last night's meeting.

French Government Suffering Crisis

PARIS (AP)—Jacques Soustelle, wartime aide to General Charles de Gaulle, said today he doubts the National Assembly will call de Gaulle to help solve the current French government crisis—the gravest since the war.

Soustelle, a former French general-governor of Algeria who took the lead in defeating the "Franco-work law" for limited Algerian home rule and thus helped plunge France into its latest crisis, said that nevertheless de Gaulle should have a part in any French constitutional reform.

"I do believe that General de Gaulle should be instrumental in bringing about a change in constitutional law because he has been advocating such a trend for the past 12 years," said Soustelle, 45, in an exclusive televised interview with United Press Movietone News.

He was asked if the French National Assembly, many of whose present leaders opposed de Gaulle when he quit the premiership 11 years ago, would accord him a role in constitutional reform.

"I don't know," Soustelle said, "but just for the moment I'm afraid not."

Charge Favored

Soustelle said he, as does de Gaulle, favors changing the French constitution in order to stop the overthrow of governments on an average of once every six months.

"There is a provision in the constitution that when a bill is rejected the government falls," Soustelle said. "What I propose is

United Fund Contributors' List Growing

Contributions of $25 or more to the United Fund, as reported to campaign treasurer Roy Mann, through Thursday night, are: Roy Jay, $100; Sanford Auto Parts, $100; Wight Grocery Co., $50; Bill Implement Co., $35; Dr. Charles L. Persons, $30; Family Finance Co., $25; GAC Finance Co., $25; Seaboard Finance Co., $25; Eva Bea Beauty Shop, $25; City Transfer & Storage Co., $25; Progressive Printing Co., $25; and Seminale Venetian Blind Co., $25.

No report, as yet, has been tabulated of the house-to-house solicitation of the group headed by Ralph A. Smith and his workers of the ladies' organizations, since many "call backs" will have to be made. It is expected, however, that the fund will see an appreciable boost over the weekend, Mann said.

Methodist Ladies' Night Is Oct. 17

Turkey Accused Of Massing Troops On Syrian Border

By United Press Staff Correspondent

Syria disclosed today it had formally accused Turkey of new provocations along the border and of interfering in the internal affairs of Syria.

The danger of a flareup in the Middle East led the U.S. State Department Thursday to warn Russia that the United States will honor its defense commitments to Turkey.

Communist diplomatic sources in London made it clear the Kremlin expects the Middle East to blow up somewhere near the Turkish border, and the sources repeated Moscow's warning that Russia would assist Syria.

Border Battled

Both Syria and Russia have accused Turkey in recent weeks of massing troops near the border and Monday there was a 45-minute and potentially dangerous border skirmish between Syrian and Turkish troops.

Official sources in Damascus disclosed today Syria sent a stern note to Ankara Wednesday accusing Turkey of "unjustified provocative actions" along the border.

These included the old charges of massing troops and added allegations that Turkey had flown planes over Syrian territory and that Turkish soldiers fired at Syrian border residents.

The Syrian press said a helicopter believed to be American "isolated" Syrian air space over the border district of Midan Ikhis Thursday.

Syrian security forces also reported the discovery of "several hundreds of modern individual weapons" in a crackdown on the banned Socialist Nationalist Party. A military spokesman said they were hidden to "kindle a civil war designed to topple the current Syrian regime."

Syria had outlawed the party before it accused the United States recently of plotting to overthrow its pro-Communist government.

The State Department warning to Russia followed a statement in Moscow by Communist leader Nikita Khrushchev that the United States is trying to incite Turkey into war with Russian-backed Syria.

Salvation Army Advisors Discuss New Building, Lodge

The possibilities of a new Salvation Army building and lodge were discussed at a meeting held yesterday at the Salvation Army head quarters on East Second St.

"A new building is the most important thing we can do now," Lt. Marcelle Reynolds, officer in charge here, told the board.

"Our present quarters are much too small to take care of the numbers attending our services," she said as she pointed out that more than 50 are attending Sunday services and Sunday school alone.

Lt. Reynolds explained to the Board of Advisors that one of the great needs right now is a lodge for both men and women. "We have no place to house these needy people when they come in to us except at a local hotel," she said.

"Just last week," said the Salvation Army Officer, "we had a woman with nine children come in. They needed both lodging and food."

The spiritual and material program of the Salvation Army is conducted by Lt. Reynolds and Lt. Virginia Kellner and they report their activities to the Board of Advisors at quarterly meetings.

In her quarterly report, for the nine months of this year, Lt. Reynolds said that the local Salvation Army has already exceeded last year's program in both the spiritual and material assistance.

She pointed out in her report that 54 grocery orders have been given, 8903 garments of clothing given, 660 pairs of shoes and 368 other aids which include medicine and furniture.

"In our program we have supplied 133 lodgings, 336 meals, transportation for 10, 117 garments given, 183 men assisted, 13 women and 17 children," she said.

In spiritual guidance, Lt. Reynolds pointed out, "we have conducted 49 street meetings with 576 people attending; 78 indoor meetings were held with 2116 attending; 37 ladies meetings with 72 attending, and 72 weekday meetings with 1355 attending."

Youth meetings, she said, have been well attended. There were 39 Sunday School meetings with 1591 attending; 32 Junior League meetings attracting 411; 39 Young Peoples Legion meetings with 825 taking advantage of the lessons; 31 Corps Cadet meetings with 93 attending and 49 band practices with 491 attending.

A highlight of this year's program, she said, was the Daily Salvation Bible School with 531 attending the sessions.

Ganas To Head Boys Camp Here

A camp for boys will begin in Sanford during the summer of 1958 it was announced yesterday by the New York Giants through Mayor Jim General Manager Frank McMane Jr.

"Fred Ganas has been named director of the New York Giants Camp for Boys," McMane said yesterday.

The camp will begin operation during the latter part of June next year and continue through the middle of August, Ganas said in an interview when his appointment to head the camp was announced.

"With the facilities of the New York Giants training center here we will have one of the finest camps in the country," Ganas said.

"We will stress golf, baseball, tennis and swimming," it was stated yesterday as plans for the huge camp were announced.

"It will be a little different than most camps," said Frank McMane

Jr., "for we will be able to offer more of a variety of activities including trips of interest to various places in Florida from the camp."

Mario Carfagno, McMane said, will serve as golf counselor and the camp will have such baseball leaders as Hans Lobert and Carl Hubbell here to teach and instruct in baseball.

"It will be a character building physical building camp" said Ganas, "along with the teaching of moral training and responsibility."

Ganas explained that "we have facilities to take care of 300 boys all under the guidance of personnel trained in youth building."

"We will use the same facilities used by the New York Giants in their training program which has seen many go up through the leagues."

Fred Ganas, the Athletic Director of Seminole High School, received his masters degree at New York University and returned to Sanford where he has directed the Citywide program, has served as football coach, and has become intimately associated with many youth building programs.

Ganas actually started his youth leadership experience with the Boys Club in New York.

"We expect to have one of the finest boys camps in the country," Ganas said as he outlined many

THE BLACK SHEEP OF OUR FAMILY

When Johnny started Sunday School . . . the Devil thought he had his foot in the door.

The teachers must have been at their wit's end—but they never showed it. The Superintendent faced many a crisis—but always he was patient. The Pastor even smiled as he returned the confiscated pea-shooter. "You're not a bad shot, Johnny," he said!

Claire and I soon began to realize that Christians do turn the other cheek . . . in the Junior Department it's standard operating procedure. TODAY, Johnny is a freshman in college. Every Sunday he attends the church of our faith near the campus. And, recently, he confided to me his ambitions:

He wants to become an engineer. Then, he wants to marry his childhood sweetheart, Jane. And as soon as they're settled, he wants to teach a class of "real gone" kids in the Junior Department.

Now Claire and I realize what the Church means in the life of the "black sheep"—of your family or ours!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hobo Party Given By S.W.C. In Webber Home Thursday

A Hobo party was held by the Station Wives Club Thursday. Hostesses were Mrs. Will Webber and Mrs. Robert Williams. The scene was the Webber home in Little Venice.

The ragged guests were served a luncheon of mulligan stew, which they ate from pie plates and pans. The stew was offered them in a tremendous pot, which was placed on a table decorated with a salt shaker, on a cloth of old newspapers.

Appropriate costumes were worn by the guests. A prize of a hobo traveling kit went to Mrs. Ernest Dohne, who spent the afternoon in a period costume, a striking tee shirt. In the kit was a road map, a can opener, the time table and comic book. Since it was the first time Mrs. Dohne has ever won a prize, she was most thrilled with these useful items.

Menus For Queen Will Be Simple During U. S. Visit

NEW YORK Oct. 7 (AP) — Queen Elizabeth, whose parents once ate hot dogs with a President, also will dine on some typically U. S. dishes on her forthcoming tour.

The people planning the menu for the final feast on the royal splendor have included foods from Long Island to California. But the menu will hardly be as "American as apple pie." No pie. Also, no ice cream. But not because the Queen has been dieting to drop about 10 pounds.

"It is just that she loathes ice cream," said a British Information Services source.

The 31-year-old Queen and Prince Philip will be dined and wined from the time they reach Ottawa Oct. 12 until they depart from New York for London in the wee small hours of Oct. 22. In that 10-day period, there are enough lunches, teas, receptions and dinners for the final feast on the state to put a bulge on any royal waistline.

Unless that is, the menus are kept short.

Want Simple Meals

"We've been told that the Queen and Philip both want simple meals," said Claude C. Philippe, vice president and executive catering manager of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. The hotel is an old hand at feeding royalty. Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, the Shah of Iran, Queen Mother Elizabeth of Britain, Halle Selassie of Ethiopia, the King of Sweden, all have been guests.

The hotel will cater Mayor Robert Wagner's lunch for the royal couple some 2,000 guests expected, the tea served when the pair visits the Empire State Building, and the last feast of the tour—a dinner given by the English Speaking Union and Pilgrims 3,000 guests.

"We have not been told to watch calorie count on the menus," said Philippe. "But the Queen let us know she wanted only three courses for lunch. 'Dinner will be four courses,' hardly the royal banquets of other days. But royalty has to work harder now, more

Hints On Packing Good Lunches

When it's time to pack lunches for school or for the working mother of the house, every mother (or sister) who packs those lunches is often wishing for ideas that will add eating pleasure to the day for its carrier, says Myrtle Wilson Home Demonstration Agent.

Here are a few general suggestions to make lunches taste better and have more food value, too. Use a different bread each day—enriched white today, whole wheat tomorrow and rye or other type the next. This helps avoid monotony. Make sandwiches from day old bread and wrap well to keep from drying out. Work fast, too, so that drying out doesn't happen while you are making them. Include a raw fruit a raw fruit of some sort daily. Use raw vegetables like carrot sticks, celery and cucumbers. They keep crisp, and everyone usually enjoys them.

Include one meat, cheese or egg sandwich each day. Let the second sandwich be a "meat" sandwich like peanut butter-jelly, pineapple or cream cheese and nut. Cut sandwiches in half for bigger folks, but for small fry cut in fourths for easy handling. Lettuce goes limp between bread, but when wrapped alone in wax paper or plastic it stays crisp and can be put in the sandwich when lunch time comes.

Include a piece of shelf paper (a wax paper) daily to spread on the desk as place mat. This is especially nice for younger children. As a special treat once a week include a "surprise" like baked beans in a paper cup with paper spoon or fruit cup.

In cool weather soup in a thermos is always popular. Include cold milk daily in a thermos if it can't be bought at school or work. Milk is our chief source of calcium and provides protein, too, as well as the important B vitamin group for looking and feeling younger! Use ideas for lunch as Christmas, Halloween and Easter appeals to children and adults, too.

Nutritious lunches should include: For the working man and older boys: 2 meat, cheese or egg sandwiches 1 sweet sandwich (if desired) 1 pt. thermos of cold milk or a hot soup made with milk 1 fresh fruit (any in season) 1 serving of raw vegetables 1 serving of cookies or cake (if desired)

For the young school child: 1 meat, cheese or egg sandwich 1/2 sweet sandwich (if desired) 1/2 pint milk or soup made with milk 1 piece fruit (as banana, orange, tangerine)

A few carrot sticks or other raw vegetables For older girls and working mothers: 1 meat, cheese or egg sandwich 1 pint milk 1 serving raw vegetables 1 piece fruit (fresh or canned as desired)

Remember, the packed lunch is just as important as any other meal in the day, so put thought and planning into it.

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN, Society Editor

The Braves won, and now things will quiet down—at least until Saturday when the first of the big football games will start. We were pleased as punch down here at the Herald because we had not the paper out at 2:30 P. M. (heavens!), and then the World Series is over and won and that is the end of an almost story. Too late to stop the presses.

Wednesday afternoon is tournament day at the Mayfair Country Club and irrelatable because one may see so many people. It was rather quiet yesterday as I was late, but there were a few nice people sitting around. Lucille Heard, Vern Smith, Myrtle Adams and Jesse Hayman were immersed in a bridge game.

Cle Heard was playing Miss Muffet, but looking very well, as usual and full of praise for the local hospital, where she recently spent so much time. Cle had attempted some exercises as she walked around the course with Helen Caraway. I'd like a chance to play with Cle before she feels human again.

Helen Andrew played four holes of golf the other day, and came up with a pretty good score. After she has taken a few lessons the local braggers will have to watch their tongues.

Also saw Shirley Perkins, Dot Powell and Marge Bacash. Dot had just shot an 80, which is doubtless her low gross score for the day.

Ruth Herron hopes to leave Saturday for the frozen north where she will spend two weeks with her family.

Hear that Art McCarthy (VAH-3) is engaged, and will be married February 8.

The Location Is As Important As The Contents Of A Building

The location of a school is an important factor that creates peace and contentment in the hearts and minds of parents.

Our school leaders are choosing wisely when they select school sites off and away from busy thoroughfares where danger lurks during every second of the school day.

The crisp serenity of sites chosen in the center of a quiet and peaceful neighborhood parallels the atmosphere of the "halls of learning."

Somewhat, the loud and noisy atmosphere of busy roads and highways recreates the same spectacle within the corridors of school buildings.

Only Wednesday — in one of the Sanford schools — youngsters were engaged in a game of football. They were having a wonderful time as trucks, automobiles and other vehicles of a noisy nature sped back and forth. It was a bolt out of the sky when the football landed in the center of the paved street and behind it streaked a youngster intent on but one thing — retrieving that football. He did not notice — and probably does not know to this very minute — that a truck came within inches of striking the youngster as he reached down and raced back onto the school yard.

The truck driver could not be blamed for he was obeying traffic regulations and traveling at just 15 miles per hour. But it took all of his might and strength slamming brakes to the floorboard in order not to strike and kill the young boy.

Such an incident cannot be blamed on the youngster — neither can blame be placed on the truck driver. It was the location of the school. Too many of our schools are located in just such areas of the city and county. Every effort should be made by our civic and educational leaders to place schools on sites as far away from these busy highways as possible.

It stands to reason that school buses can operate to a better advantage around such school sites as those away from the highways and traffic arteries. Children are protected on every side because there is more area in which to play.

We believe that our school authorities should take a close look at the existing facilities and those facilities where schools might be located — analyze the possibilities of death and damage from the highway and traffic congestion.

Schools are our great protection for our future citizens and they must be guarded with every precaution — regardless of what those outside of the county community might say about the value or need in certain specific spots.

We are proud of the fact that our citizens in Seminole County are to be given an opportunity to approve $2½ million for new school construction — to bring Seminole County Schools up to par with all others — anywhere.

In our schools, the heritage of a free and democratic nation can be and will be endured.

With wonderful schools, excellent teachers and leaders, the finest students in the world and a program of education that will create character and fortitude — then sites should add another sense of security and climate to make Seminole County Schools the most attractive in the nation.

There Is A Difference—Watch!

Castigating teen-age drivers has become a favorite indoor sport. The young whippersnappers are charged with going too fast, roaring around corners, jackrabbiting away from traffic lights, passing when it's not safe to pass, and in general driving like irresponsible maniacs.

Much of this censure has a sound basis in fact. Most of those who voice it, however, tend to forget that what they are opposed to is not teen-age drivers, but teen-age driving. There are some rather good, law-abiding teen-age drivers around. By the same token, quite a lot of the teen-age driving — by which is meant the irresponsible zooming about that lacerates the nerves of other drivers and often leads to accidents — is indulged in by persons old enough to be parents, or even the grandparents, of teenagers.

The other day, a man pulled up at a stop light. The driver behind him yanked his car over to the right at the last moment and alid in beside him, even though there was really only one lane there and even though a car was parked close to the intersection across the street. When the light began to change, the eager beaver gunned his motor, cut sharply in front of our friend (barely missing the parked car in the process) and went hot-rodding off down the street.

The striking thing about it is that this "teen-age driver" happened to be a man of about 70 who could have learned better back in the days when a horseless chariot was a rarity. So let us underscore the point: Not all teen-age driving is perpetrated by teen-age drivers.

Defense Secretary Wilson has retired. As a souvenir of his Washington stay he should have one of his shoes he wore to press conferences plated with bronze — as a memento of the exciting times when he put his foot in his mouth.

Many Americans do not know what makes our economic system work. When a person is free to dream dreams, and free to make his dreams come true, he encounters in America a stimulating factor: competition.

U. S. Flu Outbreak Spreads Westward

The nation's flu outbreak, which has infected more than one million Americans so far, spread westward into Nebraska, Kansas and Iowa.

In the East, epidemic-stricken New York reported one flu suspected death to bring total of 100 deaths to date since the beginning of the month.

The latest outbreak of the ailment was at Omaha where 1,200 high school children were absent with flu-like illnesses Thursday.

Douglas County Health Director Edwin Lyman of Omaha said he "wonderfully" surprised if some of the illness is Asian flu. He said it would take two or three weeks to make a definite diagnosis.

A flareup at the Olathe, Kan., naval air station forced cancellation of today's scheduled annual Marine aerial squadron. Fifty military aviators of the Navy's seven squadrons at the base were down.

New York reported another increase in the number of upper respiratory infections with 5,139 by midnight Wednesday as compared with 4,731 during the previous 24 hours. That brought the total since Sept. 27 to 67,803. However, New York health officials were encouraged by a decline in school absenteeism in the hard-hit upper Manhattan section for the first time since the epidemic began.

Preserve Hunter's Triumphs For Gourmet Dinners

The hunter home from the hills has long been revered in poetry; but actually a sportsman's "bag" or "catch" can create a problem if he or his wife doesn't know how to preserve it properly. With a home freezer, they can keep them from going to waste or ending up in giveaways. Properly handled and frozen, game and fish are a fine source of good eating and long after the hunting season is over.

Last year, over 14 million Americans bought hunting licenses and brought home a variety of game. How much was wasted is unknown. Game is delicious when correctly stored and cooked. It's only too many if mishandled or hung too long. Here are some tips from the Consumer Institute of General Electric on how to make the most of a hunter's triumphs.

First, check on your state law to find out how long game can be held in storage. Then consider these pointers: Game should be promptly cleaned, dressed, and cooled. Big and some small game, and some game birds should be hung in a dry, cool place, well protected from flies. To freeze, they should be wrapped in moisture-resistant wrappings in amounts to be used for one meal. Be sure to label each package well.

It's a good idea to soak the game birds and small game in a mild salt water solution for a few hours. This is a good "first step" in order to make sure that the meat will be tender and tasty after it has been cooked.

When cooking, remember that wild meats, being leaner than domestic, need to be larded or basted with fat—lard or salt pork or bacon. Like all meats, the tender steaks and chops may be broiled or roasted; the less tender braised or marinated in wine for 2 or 3 days and used in stews and casserole dishes.

Game birds should be promptly dressed after being brought down. If a thorough cleaning isn't possible at the field, at least remove craw and intestines to prevent flesh from taking on too strong a flavor. Then scald, pick, draw, and wash. Freeze as for poultry.

Roast or braise in a tart wine, in a sour cream sauce, or cook with sauerkraut.

Small game should be cleaned and cooled as soon as killed or brought in. Skin, behead, eviscerate and carefully wash. Cut in pieces for cooking. Package and freeze. Use for casseroles, dishes, stew in stock, wine or vinegar.

Venison and other large game, the General Electric Consumer Service advises, should be cut into steaks, chops, roasts, stew meat, and ground meat. You may prefer to let your butcher do this for you to get the most value.

Then package and freeze in the same way as beef. Steaks and chops can be broiled, roasted, or fried. Marinate the less tender parts and braise for stews, ragouts, gulyas, and meat pies. Barbecue or braise swiss steaks. Use the ground meat for meat loaf, chili con carne, burgers, and even mincemeat.

We're off—rather the Broadway season is off—and to a good start. Two plays which opened last week augur well for an exciting year. In the straight play category is Thomas Phipps' new offering starring Ann Todd and Peter Cookson, called "Four Winds" at the Cort Theater, which tells of the search for happiness by a poor little rich girl.

In the musical field, there is the new smash hit, "West Side Story," at the Winter Garden, a thrilling Romeo and Juliet tale, told in terms of juvenile gang-land, plus wonderful music and dancing.

With a cast of young people, among whom Chita Rivera is a stand out, this unusual musical is a real spell binder.

Here's some more recognition for the weaker sex. Justice of the Court Birdie Amsterdam of New York has been given the Democratic nomination to the Supreme Court which means that she'll be the first lady ever to be elected to this august body.

Do you know a "wow" from a "flutter"? If you don't, you will not appreciate the fact that October has been designated as National Hi-Fi Month. Sponsored by the Walco Diamond Needle Council, there are thousands and thousands of hi-fis.

Edie will appear on TV with Jack Benny, Rosemary Clooney and Dinah Shore between now and December.

Lindy, of cheesecake and sturgeon fame is dead. Broadway will miss him. Louis Nizer will know movie attorney, author and after dinner speaker, will be honored at a testimonial dinner at the Sheraton Astor on October 24th.

CHAPTER 21
TAKING BURGESS MULVANE and Randall was certainly that... Colonel Randall said to Chad. "Take Cubberly, too. He may prove useful."

Chad Endicott jerked his head at Zack and left the blockhouse, Mulvane following. Chad led his men out of the stockade, the navy gals swinging shut behind them. They moved downstate toward the river, crouching low behind a small ridge that lay to their right.

One of the men said, "That coral was gettin' mighty treasome, but by gum, she sure looks good to me right now."

There was a ripple of nervous laughter, then young Saunders said, "Me too, Schultz. Last night I dreamt my scalp was floating over Chad. Although the Indians were out of Randall's range, he was able to throw enough lead to keep the Sioux in the timber."

The two-pounders, one in each tower, mournfully banged away, sending shot moaning through the air.

When Chad and his men reached the slay bank of the river, they dropped onto the ice and moved upstream, protected now by the cutbank and brush.

Chad strung his men out along the bank, then clambered up, wallowing through the deep snow. He reached the slight slope that led to the sawmill. Here the ground was nearly bare, the snow carried on downstream by the wind to drift against the first barrier that lay in its path.

Zack, catching up with Chad, said, "Ain't bad drillin', if that's what the Cunnel wants, but you sure ain't surprisin' nobody."

Chad said nothing. He deployed his men into a line of battle, and moved cautiously toward the sawmill, which now lay between them and the fort.

Television Stars Entertain Muscular Dystrophy Victim

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer
Hollywood (UP) Movieland was at its shining best when Jerry Lewis rounded up a group of TV stars to help celebrate the ninth birthday of "Little Boy Blue," who is dying of muscular dystrophy in a Massachusetts sanitarium. But the story behind Lewis' attempt to cheer the stricken youngster on his last birthday is heartwarming as the show he put on.

He asked Sarnoff for another half-hour of time — and got it. Then Hugh O'Brian (TV's Wyatt half-hour of time — and got it. Then Hugh O'Brian (TV's Wyatt Earp) agreed to say hello to Francis and demonstrate his fancy gun twirling.

money to the "party." And it was a pip. After it was over Lewis, perspiring from his efforts, thanked his co-workers. He said "It's awfully difficult to be funny with a lump in your throat. But it's a birthday party none of us will ever forget."

REDS SENTENCE FIVE
VIENNA — A Czech Communist court has sentenced five alleged "American spies" to prison terms ranging from seven to 15 years at Prague, Radio Prague said today. The broadcast heard here said the condemned persons were members of an "American spy ring" which was smashed by the Czech police last May.

COLLECTORS TOO EAGER
FREMONT, Ohio — Fremont's trash collectors make a clean sweep of things, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Binkley discovered. A basket of groceries, clothing and a purse the Binkleys left out near their car for a moment, were thrown on the trash truck when they returned. All was recovered except the groceries, and the city agreed to pay for them.

FREE PARTY FOR FANS
NEW YORK — Producer Mike Todd says he will invite 1,000 movie fans to his mammoth "Around the World" party in Madison Square Garden, Todd said one couple will be picked in 10-1 drawings in each of the 87 American and Canadian theaters where "Around the World in 80 Days" is playing. They will be given all-expense trips to New York for the Oct. 17 party. The rest of the 1,000 will be chosen in a drawing in New York.

It goes like this:
UP Story Has Reaction
United Press set of a chain reaction when it ran a story from Boston last week telling about the lonesome boy who, for four months, had no visitors or mail. "Francis X," as he is called by the nurses, was alone in the world. His father is in prison for killing his mother.

Gets More Time
He asked Sarnoff for another half-hour of time — and got it. Then Hugh O'Brian (TV's Wyatt half-hour of time — and got it. Then Hugh O'Brian (TV's Wyatt Earp) agreed to say hello to Francis and demonstrate his fancy gun twirling.

Tabullah Bankhead, sophisticated and blase, asked if she could help, too. Jerry thanked her, but said Francis was a little young for her brand of entertaining. Tabullah, near tears, departed.

EVERY MAN IS IMPORTANT, BUT THE FACT THAT THE BOMBER WING LOST BOTH ITS COMMANDING OFFICER AND ITS OPERATIONS OFFICER MAKES IT A DOUBLE BLOW. An important follow-up on the information I gave you about the steak dinner at the Chief's Club... planning to be there, you MUST bring your own steak knife and fork! (Two of each, naturally, if it's a couple!) No silverware will be provided, so this is essential. And remember, if your reservation wasn't in by noon yesterday, you're out of luck!

The Chief's Wives that got together Wednesday morning to honor Dorothy Cotter with the baby shower, all had a good time and the variety of dishes they brought made a delicious luncheon. There was sliced ham and salmon, as well as sliced tomatoes; plus potato salad, baked beans, hot rolls, pickles, olives, cookies, and a variety of beverages. Those attending were Dorothy Cotter, Vera Greene, Marie Hippe, Betty Brinn, Marie Sundvall, Connie Stepphanson, Marie Boynton, Mary Rogers, Helen Smith, Ruby Hotchecker, and Esther Walton. The tables were decorated with hibiscus for the luncheon which followed the presentation of a gift certificate to Mrs. Cotter. It was for the baby portrait. The money left after the purchase of the certificate was used to buy several small toys for the baby.

The E. M. Club will be having a Halloween Costume Party on Nov. 1. A day late, we know, but the most satisfactory to all concerned. There will be three prizes awarded to the wearers of the best costumes. One for the best male... and one for the best female. More about this later when final plans are completed next week. Things seem to be "rolling" now towards our goal of having a P. O. Club aboard the Naval Air Station. The committee will hold its first meeting next week, though what the exact purpose of it is I'm not sure. I do know

 They also are more likely to have peptic ulcer, ulcerative colitis or chronic skin ailments.

However, they don't have to worry much about becoming mentally deficient or turning to a life of crime.

A thorough check of inmates of a large state penitentiary disclosed that an extremely small number had rheumatoid arthritis. And a similar study of 20,470 mental patients revealed only 30 who had the disease.

Not everyone who has the personality patterns I have listed above will develop rheumatoid arthritis. Far from it! But Dr. Rothermich says that rheumatoid arthritis develops largely in such persons.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
 M. T.: I have a severe case of rheumatic heart disease. I have been advised surgery on one of the valves of my heart may help me. Do you think it can be of any help?
 Answer: The operation known as commissurotomy, for treatment of severe cases of valvular heart disease due to rheumatic fever, has proved of value in certain cases. It would be advisable for you to follow your physician's advice.

A thorough check of inmates of a large state penitentiary disclosed that an extremely small number had rheumatoid arthritis. And a similar study of 20,470 mental patients revealed only 30 who had the disease.

Not everyone who has the personality patterns I have listed above will develop rheumatoid arthritis. Far from it! But Dr. Rothermich says that rheumatoid arthritis develops largely in such persons.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
 M. T.: I have a severe case of rheumatic heart disease. I have been advised surgery on one of the valves of my heart may help me. Do you think it can be of any help?
 Answer: The operation known as commissurotomy, for treatment of severe cases of valvular heart disease due to rheumatic fever, has proved of value in certain cases. It would be advisable for you to follow your physician's advice.

THE CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald needs a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also a courteous acknowledgment of the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.

Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.

There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.

THE "IN MEMORIAM" NOTICE

It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memoriam" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation or selection of a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:

"How cruelly sweet are the echoes that start
What memory plays an old tune
Most frequently an In Memoriam is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.

If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heartstrings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

THE RATE

Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

First Lesson: 'C' Is for Citrus

School days mean more lunch boxes to pack and more lunches eaten away from the careful supervision of Mother, which behooves her to remember how important a well-balanced mid-day meal is to the welfare of youngsters.

A sturdy squat thermos jug filled with flavorful Florida orange juice is a good and universally popular first course for a lunch box meal. Most schools have milk available, some have orange juice, but if your child's does not, practice this easy health insurance. Chill the small thermos, then fill with fresh, frozen or canned Florida orange juice, full of vitamin C. Canned frozen citrus juices are economical, new, ideal for daily serving. Later on in the season you can enjoy the fresh fruit.

Finish out the lunch box menu with a protein sandwich, such as chopped ham, egg or cheese combination, carrot sticks for a crunchily yellow vegetable, and molasses cookies to satisfy the little sweet-tooth.

Russian Scientific Advancements Demand Congress' Attention

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (UP)—
An hour before President Eisenhower may be talking about the mere symptoms rather than the cause of the Soviet Union's triumph in launching an earth satellite.

The President struck close to basic causes in his latest news conference when he mentioned the 1948 Russian capture of German scientists at the Peenemunde missile laboratory in northern Prussia. Captives know-how and native Russian scientific scholarship combined to put Sputnik in the secrets and years away from the Kremlin. Lax security enabled spies to give the Communists real aid on those.

Have Jet Airline
Over the years the Reds have followed up with a jet-powered airplane well ahead of any U.S. schedule for such. And their continental ballistic missile generally is accepted now since they hoisted a 184-pound earth satellite into orbit.

All of this adds up to a series of scientific triumphs from which the Soviet Union is squeezing the last bit of prestige, propaganda and diplomatic pressure. Fabled U.S. senators and congressmen are demanding a special session of Congress, investigations, more advice and complaint by mighty bear everyone in a population which was shocked to its heels by the Soviet Union's satellite first.

"Suddenly," he told his news conference, "all America seems to have become scientists."

Affects School System
That would be excellent if true, but it is not. For what may all the U.S. satellites and missile programs, if anything, is something that affects the school system science departments. The teaching of science in the schools also is especially sick. The fault does not lie with President Eisenhower.

What's wrong is at the grass roots where mama and papa do not insist that high schools adequately offer nor that their kids take the basic courses such as mathematics, chemistry and physics. There is a developing disaster in the shortage of science students, science teachers and scientists in the United States. Meantime, the Russians are graduating two engineers for every one graduated in the United States. Good ones, too, Russian education emphasizes quality. United States emphasis is on quantity. If the Russians are

Just about to this: Checks, it isn't so much and, anyway, we could have done it too.

SHS Student Finds Stamp In Attic Worth $7,500

By John Miller
Would you like to know a rich boy? Then make friends with Eddie Fuhrmann, a Freshman at SHS. Eddie really is rich, for he has recently found a stamp that has been found to be worth somewhere between seven to eight thousand dollars! Here is the way it happened.
Eddie was visiting a relative in New York State last summer. He was up in the attic, looking at a dictionary his uncle had given him. He rifled through it for a while and suddenly came upon a group of old stamps. Since Eddie is a collector of stamps and has been for one and one-half years now, he looked at these. Of course, as soon as he saw the "$7,500" stamp, he knew that it was valuable. His uncle had given the book to him, so he figured that what was in the book was his too.
Well, he took the stamp home with him. He and his father took it to Orlando, but they couldn't tell him what the value of the stamp was. The reason was that they didn't deal with such old stamps!
Fuhrmann was in our school library one day, and was looking at a U.S. Postage Stamp Catalog, published by the Post Office. Here he identified the stamp. The old Catalog, that the library had own-

Russia's Naval Fleet Rapidly Increasing

TOKYO 13 — Adm. Arleigh A. Burke said today Soviet naval forces are becoming increasingly bold in the Western Pacific, the English Channel and the Mediterranean.
Burke, chief of U.S. naval operations, said these included hundreds of submarines with an ultimate potential of launching nuclear missiles.
Burke, who is commander of Far Eastern naval installations and units of the 7th Fleet, addressed top ranking U.S. naval officers and the top command of the Japanese maritime self defense forces.
Earlier today at a news conference Burke praised the Russian earth satellite as "most important" scientific development, but he said it had little value as a weapon.
Red Fleet Grows
He told the naval commanders that the Russians "naval building program continues undiminished" and "they are building a navy to prevent free nations from using the sea."
"The modern Soviet fleet includes hundreds of submarines," he said. "More are being added to their huge fleet every year. Eventually they will have submarines capable of launching missiles with nuclear warheads."
"They have built more cruisers and destroyers in the last decade than the rest of the world combined. They have developed a long-range, shore-based naval air arm to support their submarines and task forces at sea."

The 36-year-old admiral refused to be drawn into a discussion on the psychological impact and the propaganda value of Russia's jump on the Western world in being first to launch a satellite.
Satellite Impact
"It didn't make a great impact on me," he admitted, "but I don't know what makes impact on you news people. I, for one, didn't perceive the impact you say the Russian satellite has had in this part of the world."
Burke confirmed his statements of Saturday that the United States, by hooking a number of rockets together, could launch a satellite the size of Russia's 184 pounder.
"But is it worth the money?" he asked.

Road Program Set Up By Commission At Special Meet

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners this morning, at a special meeting, set up a road program to keep equipment constantly at work.
However, because of limited funds, the program does not meet the expectations of commissioners.
In the program for the current fiscal year are: Lake Mary Road completion; one mile of road to be designated by Commissioner John Krider; the Burnell Road in Commissioner Lawrence Swoford's district; 2 1/2 miles of Red Dog Lane in Commissioner B. C. Dodd's District; a mile of road to be designated by Commissioner Krider; and the Longwood-Markham Road in Commissioner Homer Little's district.
The roads to be completed this year are in order of priority.
Commissioner Krider, at the outset stated "We need to figure out a road program to spend the money we have—where there is it."
"We don't have enough money to do very much of anything," said Chairman Fred Dyson and added "Looks like we'll do the most essential."
The total road miles to be built this year is estimated at approximately ten as commissioners listed projects that are being asked for by citizens in every county area.
Krider insisted that roads should be built "where the greatest need and the heaviest traffic exists."
Commissioner Dodd told the board of Commissioners that city tax has been paying for the pavement.

Big Crowd Attends Pinecrest Church Dedication Sunday

Fair weather brought out huge crowds to see the new Pinecrest Baptist Church dedicated yesterday at 11 o'clock morning services. Dr. John Maguire, Executive Secretary of the Florida Baptist Convention was the speaker for dedication services.
"Open House" was held from 2:30 to 4:30 yesterday afternoon with hundreds going through the $125,000 church, educational, and Sunday school structures.
A special attraction of the new church was the Nursery Building which houses four departments, a reception room, kitchenette and rest room.
Another unusual feature of the church is the Baptistery. Located to the rear of the pulpit and platform, it is lighted so that no shadows can be seen. It has a partial glass front and is enclosed in draped walls around it, the rail-

where between seven to eight thousand dollars! Here is the way it happened.
Eddie was visiting a relative in New York State last summer. He was up in the attic, looking at a dictionary his uncle had given him. He rifled through it for a while and suddenly came upon a group of old stamps. Since Eddie is a collector of stamps and has been for one and one-half years now, he looked at these. Of course, as soon as he saw the "$7,500" stamp, he knew that it was valuable. His uncle had given the book to him, so he figured that what was in the book was his too.
Well, he took the stamp home with him. He and his father took it to Orlando, but they couldn't tell him what the value of the stamp was. The reason was that they didn't deal with such old stamps!
Fuhrmann was in our school library one day, and was looking at a U.S. Postage Stamp Catalog, published by the Post Office. Here he identified the stamp. The old Catalog, that the library had own-

Sales tax collections in Seminole County in September, based on August sales, soared to a new high, according to State Comptroller Ray E. Green.
The collections in Seminole County, percentage-wise are far above the overall state average increase. In comparison with the collections one year ago, during the same period, the increase was approximately 35 percent. The state increase over the comparable period was 24.34 per cent.
The increase over last month's collection, countywide, was more than 10 per cent. However the state increase over last month was only 2.7 per cent.

Egyptian Troops Moving To Turkish Border

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Some of the Egyptian troops and tanks which landed in Syria were reported moving up to the tense Turkish border today in a development that heightened fears of an explosion in the Middle East.
Egyptian sources in Cairo warned that Egypt "will take military action if necessary to defend Arab nationalism against big power moves"—a warning that caused new uneasiness in Israel and Jordan. Cairo newspaper pictures showed tanks accompanying the troops.
King Faisal of Iraq met with King Hussein of Jordan Sunday, and there were reports in Amman that Iraq, a Baghdad Pact ally of Turkey, might send troops into Jordan to defend it against any threat.
Danger Termed Serious
Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir said in New York the Syrian build-up a "serious and grave danger to Israel." And official sources in Jerusalem said the Egyptian "publicity stunt" could provoke the Arab states into some new action.
But Israeli sources said the Egyptian move may alert the United States and NATO once more to the military threat to Turkey.
The Egyptian troop movement came against a background of Syrian and Soviet charges that Turkey and the United States planned aggression against Syria, and a solemn warning by the United States that it stood by its commitments to help defend Turkey.
Jets Fly Overhead
The initial group of Egyptians landed in Syria at Port Latakia, only 20 miles from the Turkish border, while Syrian and Egyptian Soviet-made jets flew overhead. One battalion was reported to have landed for immediate deployment.
Damascus Radio disclosed that some Egyptian troops were being deployed along the Turkish border when it said "the arrival of Egyptian troops bolsters Syria's defenses in both the north (Turkey) and the south (Israel)."
Informed sources in Cairo said the Egyptian troops would be deployed along the Turkish border where the Syrians are undermanned. Most of the Syrian army is concentrated against Israel.

Donor Is Most Important Factor In Blood Banking

By J. MARION HARMAN SR.
Five area blood banks were established in each of the Congressional Districts during the period of 1940-1942 with funds provided by Civilian Defense Office, the U.S. Public Health Service and the citizens. These banks were set up primarily to create a reserve of liquid plasma, a treatment for burns developed at just about that time; since these pre-war victims observed by the citizens of Florida were burn cases from sunken oil tankers, in most instances, and the very air carried the foreboding of disaster, the need for the blood or plasma banks was readily accepted. It was also known, as is true today, that plasma is emergency treatment for any sort of shock and is at the top of the list for items to stockpile for disaster. Considering today's warfare, the chief treatment for radiation sickness—the term used to describe the illness following exposure to "fall-out," the result of nuclear attack—is whole blood and plasma, thus the blood services of Florida remain of significant importance for the original reasons they were developed, that is, if defense planning is considered necessary at all. But better known to most people is the use and need for whole blood rather than that for plasma. Having blood to study resulted in a demand for quantities unheard of until the present decade thus making possible the salvage of untold lives—lives that a generation (or even a decade ago) would have been lost. This would have been true had blood been available—which of course it was not—since hospitals situated some distance from the central bank. This means greater safety for the patient and by the doctors themselves.
The Florida district blood banks function under government supervision and are periodically inspected. Several of these banks, including Central Florida, also serve branch banks or substations in order to keep a supply of blood in hospitals situated some distance from the central bank. This means greater safety for the patient and by the doctors themselves.
