JUGHEAD, WHAT ARE YOU DOING UP IN THE MIDDLE OF THE NIGHT? IT'S THE LEFTOVER PIZZA IN THE FRIDGE, MA? I COULD HEAR IT CALLING ME TO COME AND EAT IT! SORRY, SON! I HEARD IT CALLING FIRST!

EEK & MEEK by Howie Schneider

BOY, I'LL TELL YA... THINGS ARE SO BAD THESE DAYS I DON'T EVEN GET TO SEE MY MONEY ANMORE IT GOES SO FAST. THAT'S WHY I STARTED CARRYING AROUND SLAP SHOTS OF CASH IN MY WALLET. HERE'S A GOOD SHOT OF A TEN DOLLAR BILL. REMEMBER THOSE? HERES A NICE SHOT OF A TWENTY... IT'S A BEAUTY...

PRISCILLA'S POP by Ed Sullivan

I'VE ALWAYS HEARD THAT CATS KNOW WHEN YOU DON'T LIKE THEM... AND THEY'LL PESTER YOU UNTIL YOU COME AROUND! UP TILL NOW, I NEVER THOUGHT THERE WAS MUCH TRUTH TO IT. I must be getting old.

BUGS BUNNY by Stufel & Heilmahl

GUESS WHICH SHELL THE PEA IS UNDER AND WIN TEN BUCKS. IT BETTER BE THE ONE OR I'LL... THIS IS OUR LUCKY DAY, DOC.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Wednesday, February 11, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY February 11, 1981

Don't be afraid to become involved in projects this coming year that are a bit grander and larger in scope than those which you've tackled in the past. You're lucky with big ideas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 19) Be cognizant of the wishes of others today, but don't let them pressure you into doing anything against your better judgment. Think for yourself. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Keeping secrets may not be one of your strong points today. You could talk about things which are best kept to yourself. Listen more, speak less.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19) Persons who have real reasons for being there could disrupt things today which affect your self-interests. Don't let them but in.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20) This is one of those days when you could be a trifle out of step with your associates and create opposition, when you should be pulling together.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20) Tasks left to the last minute today could cause you unnecessary complications.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

West had been under considerable pressure on discarding and had let go of three spades and the six of clubs. Dummy had the jack of two spades and East had dropped the seven spot of that suit.

Now Stone led a spade to dummy's ace, noted the fall of West's queen and East's deuce and decided that he held the king. So Stone led a club from dummy.

The play had been fast. Tobias is a fast player and East had not been thinking. He could beat the contract by playing his 10 of spades and the king of clubs, but he played the seven. Stone played low and West was helpless. If he played his ace of clubs and led back the 10, Stone's queen would become a winner. So he played his 10 of spades and his ace, then had to lead a heart. Dummy's 10 spot now became the trick.

Albumin Protein Essential To Body

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — Our 15-year-old son just had a medical examination and the doctor said he has albumin in his urine. Is that dangerous? He didn't say if he had kidney disease or not and I'm worried about it. Our son seems healthy and is active in sports. He had the examination because he is writing on the high school team. The doctor didn't say what to do about it either. Can you shed some light on this for a worried mom?

DEAR READER — Since your doctor did not suggest anything to be done, I infer that he didn't think it was really important in your son's case. If he had thought it was serious, he would have asked for additional tests, if he had not already done them in the course of his examination and found the results normal. Albumin is a blood protein. We all have it; it is essential in helping control the flow of fluid into and out of our circulation into the tissues. The kidneys are filters. A small amount of albumin leaks through the kidney mechanism in everyone. The amount can be increased in some diseases. It can also occur in some people from just standing, as discussed in The Health Letter number 12-12, Your Kidneys and How They Work, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 151, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

If there is more than a trace of albumin present the urine can be collected for 24 hours and the amount eliminated over a 24-hour period can be measured. If that shows there is really an increased amount, then a sample can be collected after being in bed several hours and compared to a sample obtained after standing. If the standing sample has a lot of albumin in it and the resting one does not, then it is probably a postural effect without any medical significance.

Congratulations on losing your excess pounds.

At Largest U.S. Hotel At Least 8 Dead In Las Vegas Fire

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The second deadly fire to strike a crowded Nevada gambling resort in less than three months blazed Tuesday night through the Las Vegas Hilton, largest hotel in the United States, killing at least eight persons and injuring about 300.

Police suspected arson and questioned four persons, but no charges were filed as they were released.

"At this time we think someone other than the persons questioned started the fire," a police spokesman said. "We have no leads on other suspects. We have determined that there is definitely evidence of arson."

Trapped guests screamed from broken windows, made makeshift escape routes of torn sheets, scrambled for helicopters on the smoke-shrouded roof and plunged to their deaths from upper floors.

Helicopters circled the smoke-shrouded roof. A spokesman for Valley Hospital said its helicopter ambulance took off 20 persons and the fire department airlifted firefighters to the roof.

The 30-story hotel — second largest in the world after the Rostaya in Moscow — is only about two miles from the MGM Grand Hotel, where 84 persons died in a blaze Nov. 21. The Hilton blaze was a nighttime sequel to the MGM fire, which broke out during the day.

"You couldn't help but think of the MGM fire," said singer Andy Williams, appearing at the Hilton with dancer Juliet Prowse, who was getting dressed for his show when he was told to leave the building.

Florida's Atlantic Banks To Merge

By DONNA ESTES

The Atlantic National Bank of Seminole, Sanford's oldest bank, will become a branch of Atlantic National Bank of Florida in Jacksonville if the merger is approved by the U.S. Comptroller of the Currency.

Howard Hodges, president of the Sanford bank, said today the merger of the 16 Atlantic banks in Florida into one unit will make the local bank more efficient and economical.

"We've been limited to a certain extent on the amount of loans we could handle here," he said. "When the merger is completed we will have a very large supply of money as a branch of a larger bank."

Senate Committee Set To Examine Hostage Pact

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One month after the release of the U.S. hostages, the Senate will undertake an examination of the $12 billion agreement with Iran that led to the end of the Americans' 44-day captivity.

The Senate Banking Committee said it will begin public hearings Feb. 19. The 52 American hostages were released just minutes after President Reagan was sworn into office Jan. 20.

The hearings were announced jointly by Sens. Jake Garn, R-Utah, chairman of the Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee, and John Heinz, R-Pa., chairman of its international finance subcommittee.

"There are many lessons to be learned from our conflict with the Iranian government and many pieces of information which heretofore have been suppressed to ensure the safety of the hostages," they said in a joint statement.

Under terms of the agreement, Iran received about $2.5 billion in previously frozen assets immediately. Most of the remaining funds were used to repay U.S. banks for outstanding loans to Iran or were put into escrow to cover claims against Iran that must be settled by international arbitration.

Black Child Murders At 18

ATLANTA (UPI)—The string of missing or murdered black children in Atlanta climbed to 18 amid reports a special police task force investigating the cases compiled hard evidence linking as many as five of the victims' deaths to a single person.

Patrick Baltazar, an 11-year-old who vanished last weekend while wandering downtown streets alone at midnight, was listed Tuesday as the 18th case being investigated by the special task force.

"After an exhaustive and thorough investigation by the missing persons unit of the Bureau Police Services, Patrick Baltazar has not been located," Public Safety Commissioner Lee P. Brown said.

Billy's Repaying Libyan 'Loan'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Billy Carter has started repaying the Libyan government the controversial $220,000 "loan" that made him the target of a federal investigation and deeply embarrassed his brother.

All Haddad, head of Libya's diplomatic mission in Washington, told United Press International the mission received a $1,000 check from the former president's brother last month.

Haddad said his government expects Carter to repay the entire $220,000. "But at this time I can't say when the rest of the amount will be paid," he said.

Carter could not be reached for comment. But NBC News quoted a spokesman for him as saying the payment was made to demonstrate to the public he will repay the money.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Sadat Calls On Europe For 'Ambitious New Partnership'

LUXEMBURG (UPI)—President Anwar Sadat called on Europe to establish an "ambitious new partnership" with the Third World and help persuade Israel and the Palestinians to accept one another.

But Sadat did not come out specifically for a Palestinian state in a landmark speech to the European Parliament Tuesday. He called instead for "a Palestinian entity."

After a two-day visit to Luxembourg which was highlighted by his one-hour speech to the Common Market Parliament, Sadat was flying on to Paris today for a private visit with French President Valéry Giscard d'Estaing.

Sadat's address to the Parliament included a call for an ambitious "new partnership between Europe and out part of the world... based on sharing together whatever we possess of resources, technology and know-how."

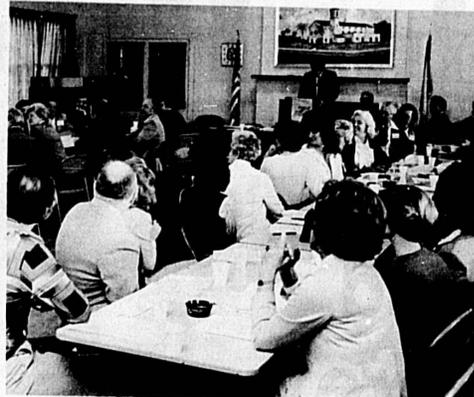

Polish Rule Change Seen

WARSAW, Poland (UPI)—Poland's Parliament, meeting amid appeals from both government and union officials for labor calm, opens a three-day session today that is expected to make sweeping changes in the nation's administration.

The meeting, which will formalize the replacement of Prime Minister Jozef Pankowski by defense Minister Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, will make several other government changes, the official news agency PAP said.

Iran Advised On Economy

By United Press International

Two 19-year-old men, one from Miami, the other from New York, were being held in the Seminole County Jail today following Tuesday's burglary rampage through the Interstate Mall in Altamonte Springs.

Anthony Mark Lopez of Miami, and Christopher Joseph Nasazi, of New York City, were also charged with armed burglary and grand theft in connection with the Jan. 20 break-in at the Royal AMC dealership, 555 State Road 436 in Casselberry. The pair are accused of cracking a safe and taking more than $100 in cash and a 9mm automatic pistol from the car lot.

That was a minor infraction, however, compared to Tuesday's escapade. Police say Lopez and Nasazi broke into the mall in the early morning, ripping a lock off a door to gain entry.

Police said the men then ransacked seven stores — Bryant's Restaurant, Apogee Books, Kar-Lin Gardens, the Interstate Beauty Salon, Fanny Farmer Candy Shop, Central Florida Sporting Goods, and the Seminole County driver's license office. The total haul was about $1,000 in cash, police said.

Lopez and Nasazi were charged with eight counts of burglary, two counts of grand theft, two counts of petty theft, and possession of burglary tools. Each was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Altamonte Hires Finance Director

Blizzards, Tornadoes And Rain Leave 16 Dead Across Nation

By MICHELLE MUNDTH
United Press International
The season's worst storm so far dumped up to a foot of snow from Colorado to Michigan in near-blizzard conditions and spawned tornadoes and torrential rains in the South and rumbled towards the drought-stricken Northeast today.

At least 16 deaths were blamed on the storm, described as the most dangerous of the winter by the National Weather Service.

Reagan Says Cuts Spare 'Truly Needy'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An administration decision to spare seven key social programs from the budget-cutter's knife is consistent with President Reagan's commitment to keep sacrifices by the "truly needy" to a minimum, officials say.

As one official at the Office of Management and Budget put it Tuesday, the "truly needy" are those who, without government benefits, "would probably not survive."

That definition leaves Reagan plenty of leeway as he pencils in the last austerity recommendations he will send to Capitol Hill next week.

Reagan scheduled a meeting with his budget-working group today to review the comments of special-interest groups he has invited to the White House in recent days. This weekend he is expected to mull over the cuts at Camp David.

"He's down to making the big decisions," said White House press secretary Jim Brady, adding there now is Cabinet consensus on 90 percent of the cuts proposed by OMB.

Tuesday, Brady identified seven programs, totaling $10 billion in the fiscal 1982 budget proposed by the Carter administration, that Budget Director David Stockman feels cannot be reduced. They are: —The $10 billion Social Security System's basic retirement program, with its 32 million recipients, and no change in the formula used to compute cost-of-living increases.

—The Veterans Administration's $8.7 billion compensation for service disabilities, serving 2.3 million recipients, and the companion $4.1 billion program for 1.8 million non-service disabled pensioners.

—The $2.1 billion free school lunch and breakfast programs for 9.5 million low-income students.

—The $4.5 billion Medicare program, with 28.6 million mostly elderly beneficiaries.

—The $500 million Head Start program for 374,000 poor preschoolers.

—The $7.9 billion Supplemental Security Income fund for 4.2 million people, most of them blind, elderly, poor or disabled.

—The $870 million summer youth jobs program affecting 665,000 mostly poor teenagers.

He said there was no doubt Reagan would heed recommendations to keep those programs intact.

Tools Stolen

Seminole County Sheriff's deputies are continuing their investigation into the weekend theft of more than $5,000 worth of tools from the Miller Trucking Co., 1910 County Road 477, Longwood.

Deputies said thieves cut a hole in a chain link fence surrounding the shop, removed a door from the garage and made off with several drills, wrenches, saws, a spray gun, lawn torch and other tools.

It's bad enough dealing with ordinary killers and robbers, but a runaway bulldozer, now that's something they don't teach at the police academy.

Sheriff's deputy H.R. Lewis found that out the hard way Tuesday night. About 11:41 p.m., Lewis responded to a construction site near Lake Howell Creek where vandals had cranked up a bulldozer, run it through a creek, up the north bank and into a stout oak tree limb.

Uncertain that the limb would hold and fearing what might happen to the homes in the dozer's path should it snap, Lewis climbed aboard and shut off the engine.

The brake wouldn't hold and the bulldozer began rolling backwards down the bank, lurching from side to side. Alford the heavy machine would flip over, and discretion being the better part of valor, Lewis dove into the creek.

He was a little slow, however, and the dozer blade caught him on the leg. He was not seriously hurt.

NOW, IF THEY JUST HAVE A HORSE
All the thieves who recently broke into a Longwood home now have a new horse. They have everything else required of the well-equipped equestrian.

Peggy Sullivan, 37, of 910 Parson Brown Way, Longwood, reported to sheriff's deputies that when she went to the home of her estranged husband, 1999 Lake Emma Road, she found nearly $1,000 worth of tack equipment had been removed from the garage.

Amnesiac's Plight: She's Still Jane Doe

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—A young amnesiac's quiet, nationally televised plea for clues to her past swamped police switchboards with hundreds of calls from as far away as London — but a police spokesman says, "She's still Jane Doe."

"We've had calls all day. It's in the hundreds," said spokeswoman Barbara Moore Tuesday. "But there's no positive identification. She's still Jane Doe."

"Jane Doe," a young woman found naked, filthy and dehydrated in a shallow grave in a state park in September, went on ABC's "Good Morning America" show Tuesday morning to ask for help in finding the past that has slipped from her memory.

"I try to remember and I can't," she told a national audience. "I try to recall if I went to school, if I had any friends. I don't seem to form a pattern. I have a feeling of being left alone in the world."

For the first 10 minutes after her television appearance, Fort Lauderdale police received calls at a rate of more than one a minute, spokesman said. They tapered off during the day but officer Arthur Masters, who came on duty in late afternoon, said the phone was still ringing into the night.

"We got them from Nome, Alaska, and London, England, and every place in between," said Masters.

"We read them a description and one point or another through most of them," he said. "One I talked to was looking for a woman in her 60s. I'd say about 10 percent sound halfway good."

Callers not deterred by a point of Jane Doe's description are asked to send a photograph and dental records if possible, Masters said. Police, Broward County Sheriff's detectives and officials of Florida State Hospital, the mental hospital where Jane Doe is staying, are conducting the investigation, he said.

Jane Doe, who appeared on the show with her psychiatrist, Dr. Jesse Kaye, and Fort Lauderdale Police Chief Leo Callahan, flew back to Florida immediately after the program.

She was taken back to the mental hospital in Pembroke Pines, a suburb of Fort Lauderdale. Hospital officials indicated they will keep her in seclusion.

If Jane Doe's memory doesn't return, a hospital spokesman said, she will be cared for until she's able to fend for herself.

Kaye suggested that a massive stress may have triggered her "global" — nearly total — amnesia, and her memory might return if she understood what happened to her.

"It doesn't happen," he said. "There is the potential for the development of a totally new personality." What path into the future the new personality will lead her is unknown.

Kaye said her memory of events since Sept. 19, when she was found in the park, is normal. She has "day-to-day recollection," he said.

Kaye said Jane was very sick when found "which suggests she was not well cared for, not well nourished, and may have been running in the woods for a long time."

Jane is vague on the park experience. "I try to think of the park, try to focus on that," she said. "I can't say how I got into the park. I don't have any thought pattern of that at all."

Callahan said missing persons reports have been checked with the FBI but police have no clues to her identity.

"One thing that is unique about her is that there are no scars, no marks, no tattoos, with the exception of a mole on her face," said Callahan.

Collective Bargaining OK For Public Staff: Court

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—The First District Court of Appeals has ruled that public employees have the right to collectively bargain for retirement benefits.

In a seven-page opinion made public Tuesday, the court ruled that a state law excluding pension systems from the bargaining table is unconstitutional.

The court, ruling on an appeal by the City of Tallahassee, struck down two sections of law eliminating retirement from the statute establishing the right of public employees to unionize and bargain for pay and other benefits.

The state Division of Retirement said the Legislature eliminated retirement in order to protect the actuarial soundness of public pension funds.

But the court said a public employer does not have to fund a union's proposed retirement benefit. In fact, it said, another state law prohibits a city, county or state unit from agreeing to a benefit that would render the retirement fund unsound — unless it makes provision for funding the benefit on a sound basis.

expansion of farm operations. "Interest still is beyond the ability of most of our people to cope with," Conner said. "The cost of borrowing money has doubled since 1975 and risen to five times what it was in the base year of 1967."

On another matter, Trask predicted a "We've got a problem with the gas tax because it is tied to the gallon," Trask said. "When usage drops off, the revenues drop off."

"I predict we probably will see some existing tax removed and a percentage tax added," he said.

Trask said for example, four cents of the state's per-gallon tax could be dropped and be replaced with a four percent tax. As long as the gasoline remains above $1 a gallon, the state would receive more tax per gallon under the percentage tax than it would on the straight four-cents-per-gallon levy.

"Something like that will have been done," Trask said.

He said he also hopes the Legislature will come through with tough laws to protect agricultural interests from theft.

"This is really an acute problem down in South Florida, particularly in Dade and Broward counties," he said.

PEOPLE IN BRIEF

Reed Prefers Broadway Over Classroom, TV

United Press International
TV'S CHALLENGE: Actor Robert Reed had a grand time in Chicago working with some of his now-famous former classmates at Northwestern University on the TV production of "The Way They Were," a tribute to the school's drama department. But after only one day on campus "peering in through doors to look for a familiar face at the front of a classroom," it was back to Broadway where he's starring in "Death Trap," and that's where he'd probably rather be. "If I had my druthers, I don't know that I'd do a whole lot more TV," said the former father of TV's "The Brady Bunch." "But one does not always have one's choice." Reed doesn't knock work on TV though — "It takes a better actor. In movies you have the best producers, best directors, lots of time ... in TV it's six or seven shows and no help at all to make drive look good."

Texas Honors A Sissy

TEXAS HONORS A SISSY: The Texas Senate unanimously approved a resolution honoring actress Sissy Spacek and proclaiming Monday "Sissy Spacek Day" in Texas. Miss Spacek was greeted by Gov. Bill Clements and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby on the Senate podium, and told senators, "I think sometimes you have to be away from a place for a while before you appreciate it. I left Texas in 1967 but I left my heart here. Today I feel like a born-again Texan." The resolution honoring Miss Spacek, star of the movie "Coal Miner's Daughter," was sponsored by Sen. Peyton McKnight, D-Tyler, whose daughter once played in a musical group with the actress.

Fairways Not For Frolicking

FAIRWAYS AREN'T FOR FROLICKING: Golf pro Jose Blalock is tired of seeing promoters use sex to sell golf. Her criticism was sparked by a pictorial spread in a magazine distributed last weekend at a $125,000 tournament at Turnberry Isle won by Sally Little. The feature shows several of the tour's better-looking players dressed in lingerie. Blalock admits she had no objections a decade ago "when fashion and sex were used to sell women's apparel." It was needed for attention. But now, with the high quality of play and the various elements such as the charisma of Nancy Lopez-Melton, the color of JoAnne Carner and the ability of Beth Daniel, sex is no longer the answer.

Glimpses:

GLIMPSES: Polly Bergen is in Hollywood doing on-location work in Paramount's 16-hour, TV mini-series of Herman Wouk's "The Winds of War." In which he co-stars with Robert Mitchum ... Margot Kidder is back in Hollywood from London where she was doing promotional appearances for Warner Bros. "Superman II" ... Maureen Reagan is scheduled to be guest of honor today at the Parsons School of Design rally promoting New York fashion ...

Dan Rather Vs. Taxi Driver

RATHER SUE'D: CBS newsman Dan Rather has been counter-sued by a taxi driver who was charged with disorderly conduct for refusing to let him out of his car last year. The Chicago cable says Rather cheated him out of his $12.50 cab fare. Theft of services is a misdemeanor with a maximum penalty of one year in jail. Rather, co-host of "60 Minutes" and heir to Walter Cronkite's anchorman job, claimed taxi driver Eugene Phillips tried to kidnap him 10 min when Rather sought a ride to the home of author Studs Terkel. He refused to pay up, Rather said, when Phillips had trouble finding Terkel's home on a hard to find street. Phillips said he was merely keeping Rather locked inside the cab until he could find a policeman.

Poet Ex-Con Wants To Teach Creative Writing To Inmates

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Calvin Murry says poetry and creative writing helped him survive 13 1/2 years in prison. Now he wants to share what he's learned with other inmates — free of charge.

The 31-year-old convicted armed robber says he's undergone a complete metamorphosis since "creative energy gone awry" sent him to Fort Pillow State Prison. Now he's a freelance writer, making what money he can from articles published in local periodicals.

Murry said he and 11 other poets want to teach creative writing and poetry to inmates across Tennessee. He said he expects to receive formal permission from the Corrections Department. But there is still one roadblock.

"They (prison officials) expressed a desire to do it if I can find a way to finance gas and supplies," he said. "But one foundation has already turned me down.

"We're not asking for salaries to do it, we're volunteering," he said of the 11, who have pledged to keep looking until they find the necessary backing.

Murry said his first article to be in a magazine in 1974. It was the turning point of his life.

Soon, he said, other inmates came to him, wanting help with their writing. Creative writing is not typical in prisons, Murry concedes, but "it is taught in some states.

"The prison officials don't think the prisoners are interested in anything that cerebral," he said. "But they are."

Murry — who was granted executive clemency by Gov. Lamar Alexander in August — can't cite any telling statistics, but he said he's never heard of an inmate interested in writing who returned to prison.

Tips On Valentines

Are you an intrepid writer of love letters, or do you approach Valentine's Day quaking in your boots? Susan Pappi Schutz has probably written more Valentine's Day cards than anyone alive. She's sold more than 70 million greeting cards with her love poetry (and her husband's illustrations) and three million copies of her books of poetry.

"The most important rules in love-letter writing," advises Mrs. Schutz, "are: Think before you write, so you'll have something meaningful to say; be honest, or you'll end up hurting yourself and probably others; be yourself and write in a style you are comfortable with.

"Your first step should be to buy the card onto which you are going to copy the love letter. Let's face it, cards are more appealing than typing paper.

"To create the right atmosphere put a feminine flower like a rose or a masculine flower like a mother-in-law tongue on your desk. Certainly your favorite music should be one, except if it's disco or loud rock — that could be distracting. Take your phone off the hook."

Mrs. Schutz suggests looking over old love poems, verses from the Bible or visualizing something the couple enjoyed looking at, feeling or tasting together. "If you can't think of anything pleasurable that you've shared," she says, "maybe you shouldn't be writing a love letter."

In East Berlin 'You Must Adapt To Everything'

BERLIN (UPI) — Like most East Germans in their early 20s, the seaman wore dark cords, a dark sweater and an army-type parka like those sported by rebellious Western students in the 1960s.

In East Germany, the outfit is just another uniform mingling with those of the many soldiers and police.

Like most of his contemporaries, the seaman was absorbed by Western music blaring from his cassette recorder. It got us talking.

The seaman complained about the economy and restrictions on travel but boasted that voyages had taken him to South America, the Mediterranean and "over there" to West Germany.

He wasn't all that keen on West Germans — arrogant and loud, he said — but he was certain they lived better. They were freer, they had more.

"I've thought about leaving several times," he said, "but there's my family."

"My father isn't in the (Communist) party. But he has an NSW — a paper that allows him to travel to non-socialist countries. If I left, they'd get him into the office and put a stamp on the paper." He gestured.

Payne, Lemon Square Off After Game

Tempers Misfire As Lyman Tips Tribe

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Free throws weren't the only thing miffing Tuesday night in the Seminole-Lyman basketball matchup in the Lyman High School gym.

A few tempers misfired too.

Lyman finally outlasted Sanford 48-47 in overtime when Tribe guard Mike Gaudreau mistimed on two free throws with no time remaining.

But the real fireworks came moments later as both squads were leaving the floor. Tribe Coach Bill Payne and Greyhound guard Antoine Lemon squared off, ironically, underneath the basket where Gaudreau missed his two chances for headlines.

At this point, Solomon Lemon, Antoine's father rushed in and restrained his son. "Payne took a swing at him (Antoine) and I just tried to break it up," said the older Lemon.

"I don't really think any punches were landed, but I had to really hurry to get in there."

"I've always had great respect for Payne, I don't know what happened," S. Lemon told the Herald Wednesday morning.

Lemon and Payne were separated as county principals Carlton Henley (Lyman), Don Reynolds (Lake Mary), William P. "Bud" Nye (Seminole) and two Lyman assistant principals Marshall Moser and Leroy Brown restrained each other.

Both teams then filed to the locker room.

A composed Payne later sitting on the bleachers said, "Nothing happened." Lyman's Tom Lawrence said, "I don't want to say anything."

Neal Gillis, Lyman's senior star forward, explained it this way. "Payne was getting after Beanie (William Scott) and 'Pop' took up for him and starting pointing his finger at Payne's chest," said Gillis about the near fracas.

Following the trouble, there was some jostling among the crowd, but no fights as the principals dispersed the fans.

Payne was upset with Scott earlier in the game when the junior guard was detected elbowing for the second time and ejected from the game with 5:53 left to play and the Greyhounds holding a 37-31 advantage.

And after the ejection, Scott couldn't play at Lyman—at least for the rest of the night.

The Scott ejection seemed to light a fire under the Tribe. Sippo converted the second change of the flagrant foul to pull Sanford within 37-32.

Moments later Gaudreau connected on one-of-two for a 37-33 game with 5:13 remaining on the clock.

At which point, Lawrence changed his offensive strategy due to lack of bodies.

"We've got to go four corners, we haven't got anybody left," Scott was gone and center Eric French was saddled with four fouls.

The four corners paid dividends right away as Gillis drew a foul on 6-foot-7

BILL PAYNE ...During Calmer Days

Steve Grace, his fourth, then hit his free throw for a 38-33 edge.

Gaudreau, though, brought Seminole within three with two clutch free tosses at 38-35. This seemed to unravel Lyman as they turned the ball over three times in a row.

Senior Tribe forward Clarence Sippo threw in a rebound bucket to draw Seminole within 38-37 with 2:50 to go, but French returned to hit two free throws for a 40-37 lead with just 58 seconds left.

On Sanford's possession Richard Grey missed twice and strong forward Lenny Sutton was caught hacking Lemon. The smooth junior, however, missed his free throw with 42 ticks left.

Gaudreau, who had a superb second half until his time ran out, pumped in a jump shot to make it 40-39 Lyman. Only 33 seconds remained.

Eleven seconds later Sutton picked up foul number five, but Gillis could only hit one-of-two for a 41-39 Greyhound advantage.

Payne signaled a time out and the Tribe ran down the clock to 13 seconds before Grey missed a jumper. In the resulting scramble, though, forward Bernard Merthie grabbed the loose ball and threw in an incredible bank shot to tie the game at 49 with nine seconds to go.

The stunned Greyhounds failed to call a time out until less than a second remained and never did get off a shot as the buzzer sounded with Gillis taking aim from midcourt.

In the overtime, French scored immediately for Lyman, but backup center Stuart Smith converted two big free throws to tie the game with just 1:17 left.

French had a chance to break the tie with 49 seconds to go, but missed the free throw. "Hound seventh man Tommy Evans, though, snatched the rebound and laid it back in for a 45-43 Lyman edge.

After Sippo missed a shot, Kevin Hillman added a free toss to push Lyman's advantage to 46-43. The Tribe's irrepressible Grey, though, banked in a long jumper for a 46-45 game.

With just 20 seconds left, Lemon swished two clutch tosses for a 48-45 advantage to seemingly put Lyman out of danger.

But the Tribe wouldn't quit. With just eight seconds remaining, Grey dropped another jumper. Four seconds later, the inbounds pass bounced off Hillman and back out of bounds giving the Tribe a shot for glory.

Gaudreau expertly maneuvered underneath Hillman and released his jumper just prior to the buzzer. The ball banked high off the board into a gleeful Gillis' waiting hands, but Hillman was whistled for the infraction.

The Tribe's best free throw shooter (73 percent) was at the line. But as great as Gaudreau was in quarter four his time ran out with the clock.

He back-rimmed the first one. The second hit the side of the rim, then the backboard and rolled off as an uneasy Lyman team exploded with joy.

Gaudreau dejectedly walked away to Payne's consoling grasp.

"I was glad it was him up there and not me," Payne said of Gaudreau's do or die situation. "I feel real bad for Mike. He had such a great second half."

Lyman improved to 10-3 in the conference and 18-7 overall. Seminole is 7-7 in the Five Star and 12-14 for the season.

The victory coupled with Spruce Creek's 6-6-1 upset off DeLand moved the Creek Hawks and Lyman into first place in the Five Star with 10-3 records.

DeLand is second with a 10-4 mark.

SCC 8th, Hosts Lake City Tonight

Boasting the 8th best junior college team in the nation, Seminole Community College returns to action tonight at 7:30 by hosting tough Lake City.

SCC is 10-0 in Division II play while Lake City is 7-3. LCCC is coming off a 64-83 blasting of Daytona Beach CC which just about knocked the Scots from the race at 6-4. Santa Fe is second at 6-2. Only four games remain.

The Raiders, meanwhile, are in the midst of a 16-game winning streak and an exciting 25-1 season log. Former Sanford All Star Bruce McCreary is still leading the scoring parade with 21.6 a game.

Forward Lonnie Jones with 17.8 a game is next, while Largo's Travis Frier (15.0) and Mt. Dora's Mike Hyals (11.1) complete the scoring attack.

Guard Eric Ervin from Seabreeze is second in the state in assists with 6.5 per outing. The Raiders average 92.1 per game while Yielding just 78.7. They have been number one in the state most of the year.

Raiders Win Opener

Seminole Community College opened regular season Tuesday in exciting fashion coming from behind to edge Florida College 9-8.

Pinch hitter Tony Sowers ended the high scoring game when he hit a shallow screener fly into right field allowing former Lyman star Bob Parker to beat the throw home and score the winning run.

SCC trailed 5-1 going into the bottom half of the third. Orlando's Brian Philpott led off with a single, then moved to third on a line-hugging double by Tony Beal. Both men scored when Falcon pitcher Jamie Roses' pick-off throw to third went astray.

The Raiders moved within one after designated hitter Jeff Blanton led off the Seminoles fourth with a homer.

The Falcons picked up one in the seventh giving them a two run lead until Beal again delivered a two-out homer in the seventh bringing them within one.

McCullough dropped a sacrifice bunt with a 2-2 count leaving men on second and third. Riva was then intentionally walked.

Sowers hit what seemed too short for Parker to tag, but coach Panella gambled, the ball and Parker arrived at the same time, but the ball shorted the catcher making it too difficult to handle.

"If we play them all like this we'll be in trouble," said a relieved Panella. — SCOTT SMITH

Howell Blasts Brantley

By BENTON WOOD

A race between the tortoise and the hare was staged in the Lake Brantley gym Tuesday night.

Lake Howell played the role of the hare and streaked out of the starting blocks.

However when the Patriots thought about making a stretch drive, Howell had already boarded the Silver Hawk express past the finish line for a 70-51 Five Star conference victory.

"Defensively we were a step slower than they were," moaned losing Pat Boss Bob Peterson, "and offensively we were a step slower than they were."

The Hawks' quickness paid off early as they cashed in on six layups for a 14-6 advantage.

With Howell guards Bruce Brightman and Tim O'Shaughnessy along with Mark Layton on the loose, the Silver Hawks plowed to a 34-22 halftime edge.

"We didn't have any intensity in the first half," Peterson moaned about his club's slow start. "It looked like we all had the flu tonight."

With Howell guards Bruce Brightman and Tim O'Shaughnessy along with Mark Layton on the loose, the Silver Hawks plowed to a 34-22 halftime edge.

Lions Back In First Place
Murphy's 33 Lifts Oviedo

Oviedo's Ronnie Murphy, playing with four fouls, turned in a 33-point performance Tuesday night at Osceola as the Lions stunned the Kowboys 78-68. The victory throws the Orange Belt Conference into a two-way deadlock between the two rivals, each with a 5-2 record. Oviedo plays its last conference game at home Friday against Leesburg, while Osceola must entertain Bishop Moore's tough Hornets. The Kowboys jumped to a 19-12 bulge Tuesday and then maintained a 43-36 advantage after one half of action. In the third period, though, Osceola's 6-foot-8 center Raphael Phillips picked up his fourth foul. At this juncture Lion Coach Dale Phillip's switch to a man-to-man defense to evict a 10-point deficit. Phillips, who was troubled by 6-foot-4 senior Terry Jones as well as his fouls,

Cook Of The Week

Microwaving: A Way Of Saving

While microwave ovens may have first been used as a quick and a novel method for heating a hotdog, it was during the 1970s that the electronic cookers came into their own. It has been estimated that by 1983, one out of every two American homes will have a microwave oven, according to Midge Mycoff, microwave cooking instructor at Seminole Community College. Mrs. Mycoff said microwave ovens came out in 1947 and she tried her first one in 1952. They were used primarily in commercial establishments, had low power, few options, and a $1,300 price tag. It was not until 1969 that the ovens started gaining public acceptance, she said. This was due, in part, to the fact that more women were working outside the home and needed something to help them prepare quick and nutritious meals when they came home in the evening. With the increased sales, more competitors entered the market which helped drive down the prices, bringing microwaves into the reach of more consumers. Energy costs were another factor. A microwave oven can cook a meal in one-third to one-fourth of the time it takes a conventional oven and it does not heat the kitchen either. This helps reduce the load on air conditioners during warm weather which results in an indirect savings. The microwaves cook by agitating the molecules of food and water, and not by the use of hot air. Units range in varying degrees of sophistication from simple on-off units to those that are computer controlled, said Mrs. Mycoff. Some have browning elements, carousels, timers, and clocks. Mrs. Mycoff urges the prospective owner to consider the needs and desires of the family before purchasing one. Make certain the capacity of the oven will be large enough to fill family needs. Mrs. Mycoff, who is also a home service instructor at the college and coordinator for the handicapped program, has been teaching the eight-week microwave cooking course at a waiting list which indicates the popularity of microwave cooking. The course can be taken by anyone who is interested in learning more about the subject, and is not restricted to fulltime students in the vocational program. CHURCHY LEMON CHICKEN 1/2 pounds (whole) chicken, cut up 1 cup seasoned bread crumbs 1 teaspoon oregano 1/2 teaspoon pepper 1 tablespoon sesame seeds 1 teaspoon lemon herb seasoning 1/2 teaspoon paprika 1 tablespoon vegetable oil Combine bread crumbs and spices in a small bowl, stir in vegetable oil with a fork until well blended. Place mixture in a plastic bag. Moisten chicken with water and shake in the bag, a few pieces at a time. Arrange coated chicken pieces, skin side up, on a non-stick baking sheet, surface for the conventional oven. For microwave use, use a paper towel-covered oblong glass baking dish. Do not add any additional oils. The coating you make yourself will be crispy at the end of the baking time. Cook in a microwave oven set at full power for 25 to 30 minutes. For a conventional oven, 350 degrees for 45 minutes to one hour. Garnish with decorative lemon slices. Serves four. Calories: 175 per quarter chicken. CHICKEN PAN DANDY 1/2 cup of vegetable oil (conventional oven only) 1 whole chicken

Grace Nelson, left, will host three tours of the nation's capital for interested Women.

Women in Central Florida have been offered an unusual tour of Washington, D.C. Grace Nelson, the wife of Congressman Bill Nelson, D-9th District, has arranged three tours, called "Women in Washington," to take place the weekends of March 26-29, April 2-5, and April 9-12. Those who attend will also be invited to visit Bill and Grace Nelson in their home for an informal coffee. Each tour can accommodate 50 women. Cost of the tour includes airfare, meals and hotel accommodations at the Fairfax Hotel, home of the world renowned Jockey Club. "I want to make this clear," she said, "this is not a financial endeavor for me. I have no financial interest in this at all." Travel arrangements are being handled by Donna Gammage, (305) 422-3939, Orlando.

'Expecting' Bridal Attendants No Business Of Groom's Mother

DEAR ABBY: Our son is being married at a formal church wedding in May, and I am very nervous about the bride's selection of bridesmaids. Five out of her six bridesmaids are already visibly pregnant! By May, one will be six months along, two will be in their eighth month, and the other two had better have their overnight cases packed and in their cars! The bridesmaids' gowns are the maternity type, but Abby, I wonder what the reaction will be when they all walk down the aisle in various stages of pregnancy? (They're all married, so there's nothing wrong with it, but the coincidence might cause people to snicker.) Is there some tactful way I can get my future daughter-in-law to reconsider her choices? NERVOUS IN NEVADA DEAR NERVOUS: No. It's the bride's prerogative to be

FRITTATAS Super In Any Language

What's a frittata? Frittata is Italian for omelet while in Spanish an omelet is a tortilla (not to be confused with the Mexican pancake which is similar to a cornmeal crepe). This type of unfolded omelet is also sometimes called a pancake or open-faced omelet.

In any language, frittatas are fun! They're fast to fix, a real flash-in-the-pan main dish for a super supper, better breakfast, nutritious anytime meal or satisfying snack. Since a frittata is just as good cold as hot, you can even pack one along in your cooler for a tailgate party or wrap up a wedge for a take-along lunch.

Some people find frittatas easier to make than French omelets since you cook a frittata's filling right along with the eggs. And, frittatas are inexpensive, too! Eggs, the main ingredient, are one of today's best food buys. If you use leftovers for the filling, a frittata can be one of the most economical entrees you've ever served.

Check the tips that follow and try one of the recipes shown or use the basic recipe to create your own fantastic frittata. Either way, you'll find frittatas are incredibly easy and economical to make, and a lot of fun to eat!

some eggs, put the skillet on the range and the main dish is practically finished. Add a salad, some Italian or French bread and you're done!

1 to 2 tablespoons butter
4 eggs
1 can (7 to 8 oz.) whole kernel corn, wax or green beans or mixed vegetables, undrained
2 teaspoons instant minced onion
1 teaspoon freeze-dried chives
1/4 teaspoon seasoned salt
Dash pepper

Melt butter in two 5- to 6-inch or one 8-inch omelet pan(s) or skillet(s) with ovenproof handle(s) over medium heat. Beat together remaining ingredients. Pour into pan(s). Cover and cook over low to medium heat and let stand 5 minutes. Either slide individual frittatas from pans or invert onto serving plates. Cut double frittata into halves and serve from pan or other slide from pan or invert onto serving plate.

TIPS FOR MAKING FRITTATA OR TORTILLAS (Italian or Spanish Omelets)

You might find it easier to slide a frittata onto a serving platter if you use a slope-sided pan. A vertical-sided pan will work well if you serve a frittata right from the pan or invert it onto a serving platter. A well-seasoned pan or one with a non-stick finish helps prevent sticking. If you finish a frittata under the broiler, a pan with an ovenproof handle is a MUST. You can make a frittata several different sizes depending on how many people you wish to serve. The chart in the following basic frittata recipe suggests pan sizes for various frittata sizes.

One difference between a French omelet and a frittata is that you put all the frittata's filling ingredients into the pan with the egg mixture. Since a frittata's cooking time is too short to cook raw foods, saute or fully cook them before you add them to the egg mixture. The total cooking time depends on the frittata's size. Because a frittata cooks from the outside in, you can hasten a large frittata's cooking time by gently stirring the mixture to move the hotter outer portions towards the center. Try not to disturb the bottom or sides of the mixture while stirring. Use low to medium heat to avoid overbrowning the sides and bottom before the frittata's center sets.

Another difference between a French omelet and a frittata is that a frittata is cooked on both sides. You can invert a small frittata onto a plate and then slip it back into the pan to cook the other side. You might find it easier, though, to cover the pan and let it stand off the heat for 3 to 10 minutes while steam cooks the top OR to broil the frittata about 6 inches from the heat for 2 to 3 minutes. Broiling is especially nice when you top a frittata with shredded cheese.

There are three ways to serve a frittata. You can cut it into wedges (like a pie) and serve it right from the pan or slide an uncut frittata top-side up onto a platter. Either method is good for a cheese-topped frittata. You can also invert a frittata onto a platter and serve it browned-side up.

CARROT FRITTATA (4 servings)

Lunch, supper, late evening snack—this easy skillet meal is great anywhere. Let it star at a brunch next weekend.

1 cup shredded carrots
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup water
8 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon powdered mustard
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 teaspoon thyme or marjoram leaves, crushed, optional
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons butter
Carrot slices, optional
Parsley sprigs, optional

Combine carrot, onion and water in 10-inch omelet pan or skillet with ovenproof handle. Cover and cook over medium-high heat until carrots are cooked, about 5 minutes. Drain. Heat together eggs, milk and seasonings. Stir in carrot-onion mixture. Melt butter in same pan over medium heat. Pour egg-carrot mixture into pan. Cook over low to medium heat until eggs are almost set, 9 to 10 minutes. Broil about 6 inches from heat until eggs are completely set, 3 to 4 minutes. OR, cover pan. Remove from heat and let stand 5 to 7 minutes. Cut into wedges and serve from pan, or either slide from pan or invert onto serving platter. Garnish with carrot slices and parsley sprigs, if desired.

ZIPPY MUSHROOM FRITTATA (2 servings)

Both salad dressing mixes and bottled dressings are convenient ways to season a frittata. Try this recipe when you're in a hurry.

2 tablespoons butter
1/4 to 1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced
4 eggs
1/2 cup bottled creamy cucumber salad dressing
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/4 cup (1 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese
Watercrest, optional

In 10-inch omelet pan or skillet with ovenproof handle over medium heat, cook mushrooms in butter until tender but not brown. Beat together eggs, salad dressing and onion salt. Pour into pan over mushrooms. Cook over low to medium heat until eggs are almost set, 8 to 10 minutes. Sprinkle with cheese. Broil about 6 inches from heat until eggs are completely set and cheese melts, about 2 minutes. Cut into halves and serve from pan or either slide from pan or invert onto serving platter. Garnish with watercrest, if desired.

MACARONI AND CHEESE FRITTATA (4 servings)

Simply delicious! This hearty main dish could hardly be easier, and it will appeal to 'most everyone around your dinner table.

2 tablespoons butter
8 eggs
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup cooked elbow macaroni (about 1/2 cup uncooked)
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
Cherry tomato slices, optional
Parsley sprigs, optional

Melt butter in 10-inch omelet pan or skillet with ovenproof handle over medium heat. Beat together eggs, milk and pepper. Stir in macaroni and cheese. Pour into pan. Cook over low to medium heat until eggs are almost set, 8 to 10 minutes. Broil about 6 inches from heat until eggs are completely set and top is golden brown, 3 to 4 minutes. Cut into wedges and serve from pan or either slide from pan or invert onto serving platter. Garnish with cherry tomato slices and parsley sprigs, if desired.

Beans Beat Budget Blahs Beautifully

Is the crunch on our food budgets threatening our health? Yes, more than most realize.

A nutritionist recently commented that as people cut down on the amount of food they buy each week to save money, they do not seem to look for highly nutritious items that are economical buys in the supermarket.

For those who insist on beef regularly, buy ground chuck rather than club steaks or sirloins to make meatloaf, meatballs and spaghetti sauce.

However, major sources of high protein that can be prepared in myriad ways are mostly overlooked. These are all legumes, such as peas and beans. Lentils and soy beans are also versatile, good-eating and economical items to help stretch the family food dollar. Using a variety of nuts in cooking adds more nutrition, taste and texture to soups, salads, breads and even meat and poultry dishes.

But back to the beans, the basis of more than 100 dishes from around the world. Although most of the dishes stem from peasant cooking, such as the French cassoulet, they're considered "gourmet" treats in restaurants today and cost accordingly.

Melt beans and rice, for example, are family meal staples in Latin American countries.

Red beans and rice are a Creole combination as essential to dining in New Orleans as grits are in other parts of the South. Help your budget while eating well—use more legumes this year.

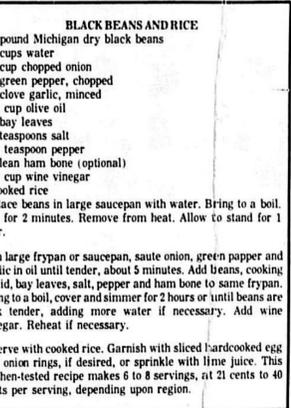

BLACK BEANS AND RICE

1 pound Michigan dry black beans
6 cups water
1 cup chopped onion
1 green pepper, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 cup olive oil
2 bay leaves
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 lean ham bone (optional)
1/4 cup wine vinegar
Cooked rice

Place beans in large saucenpan with water. Bring to a boil. Boil for 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Allow to stand for 1 hour.

In large frypan or saucenpan, saute onion, green pepper and garlic in oil until tender, about 5 minutes. Add beans, cooking liquid, bay leaves, salt, pepper and ham bone to same frypan. Bring to a boil, cover and simmer for 2 hours or until beans are fork tender, adding more water if necessary. Add wine vinegar. Reheat if necessary.

Serve with cooked rice. Garnish with sliced hardcooked egg and onion rings, if desired, or sprinkle with lime juice. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 to 8 servings, at 21 cents to 40 cents per serving, depending upon region.

Hearty Lamb Vegetable Soup, made from the leftover bone of roast leg of lamb, is a thrifty way to extend your roast for another night's dinner.

Savory Soup Follows Up Leg Of Lamb

One of the most delightful consequences of roasting any bone-in meat or poultry is the aromatic, savory soup that can be made the next day. This is really a most thrifty way of cooking, because you are actually getting two entirely different meals from a single meat purchase.

Start with a 5 or 6 pound leg of frozen New Zealand Genuine Spring Lamb. Succulent Leg of Lamb with Vegetables provides a very special meal for eight if you are serving fewer guests. Letovers make a fine addition to your favorite rice or noodle casserole. Sliced garlic inserted into the flesh adds a subtle taste to the already flavorful meat; and wine, tomato paste and oregano, used for basting the roast, lend yet further appeal to the dish.

When you're roasting lamb, one thing to remember is that the meat thermometer should register only 160 degrees for medium, very slightly pink meat. Many meat thermometers indicate cooking lamb to a much higher temperature, but this will produce a roast that may be drier than you desire.

Also, as lamb continues to cook beyond the point of perfect doneness, a stronger flavor may develop.

After you've enjoyed your spectacular lamb roast, make economical Lamb Vegetable Soup from the bone, which will lend plenty of hearty good flavor to the broth. Mixed vegetables, along with nourishing barley, make for a deliciously thick soup that forms a pleasing, winter night's meal when accompanied by a wedge of cheese, crusty bread and tossed salad.

When you want to serve a special roast to guests, spring lamb from New Zealand is always a fine choice. The lamb is available year-round in your supermarket's freezer case. And because it's quick frozen, the meat is dependably tender and flavorful. As an added plus, it's also usually lower in price than a comparable domestic cut, and it's available all year-round.

Proper Cooking Destroys Bacteria

DEAR DR. LAMB - I dread the holidays because I know I am going to get sick. The problem is my mother-in-law. She is a dear, sweet woman but a disaster in the kitchen. We have to have our holiday dinners at her house and she does all the cooking and doesn't like suggestions, at least from me. This is why I need your help.

Internal temperature of poultry should be at least 175 F (80 C) for at least 30 minutes and the peak internal temperature of turkey should be 190 F (87.8 C).

Making Strides Toward Leprosy Cure

MELBOURNE, Fla. (UPI) — What began as a scientific shot in the dark may someday provide a vaccination and cure for leprosy, the dreaded disease of pre-Biblical times that affects millions of people around the world.

Laboratories at Florida Institute of Technology, researchers led by Dr. Eleanor Storrs are injecting armadillos with leprosy to study the disease's progression and provide a store of infected tissue for future work.

Dr. Storrs admits the dullwitted, hard-shelled armadillos are unlikely subjects for such experiments, but says they are the only animals scientists have found that contract the disease.

One of the problems with leprosy is it cannot be cultivated in a test tube, she said, adding that scientists have failed repeatedly to infect rats, mice and other laboratory animals with the disease and thus never had a good way to study it.

That changed a decade ago when Dr. Storrs and her husband, Dr. Harry Burchfield, put two-and-two together while working near the U.S. Public Health Service leprosy hospital in Carville, La. Armed with a grant to develop the armadillo as a laboratory animal, they suspected it might contract leprosy since its body temperature is low — about 92 degrees — and the disease is known to affect the colder parts of the human body like the feet, the back and the legs.

After two years, their work paid off and Dr. Storrs began the research that's going on now at FIT's Medical Research Institute in conjunction with the National Institute of Health and the World Health Organization.

Widely misunderstood, leprosy is a skin disease that today affects some 10 million people in the third world countries of Africa, India, China and southeast Asia.

About 2,000 people in the United States suffer from it — mostly in Louisiana, where it apparently was passed in generations of backwoods swamp families. Other cases have been reported in Florida, Texas and Southern California.

About 500 people are permanently hospitalized at Carville. Dr. Storrs said. Leprosy patients suffer from the dulling of the nerve endings that after years can cause bone deterioration and occasionally the loss of fingers and toes.

"You don't actually find fingers falling off," she says, referring to the more gruesome movie scenes of leprosy victims thrown together in colonies on remote islands. "That's a fallacy. What you have is a long, long period of regression."

Dr. Arvind Dhole, a coresearcher with Dr. Storrs, says a major focus at FIT, where some 400 armadillos have been culminated with leprosy, is to determine the effectiveness of drugs used to combat the disease.

"At present there are no appropriate methods to see if a patient is responding to treatment or not," says Dhole, a native of India, who is concerned about the toll the disease has taken in his homeland. "By studying the growth of the bacteria in the tissue we can see what affect treatment has."

The researchers also are trying to breed armadillo families in the lab to see how the disease is passed to the young. This, hopefully, will give them an understanding of how the disease is transmitted among human families.

Dr. Storrs and Dhole say susceptibility to leprosy is not a genetic or inherited trait, but appears to be passed in families from parents to children over a period of years.

While encouraged by their early results, the researchers say it will be decades before the disease is wiped out.

"Leprosy has been with us a long time," says Dhole. "The problem will still be here 50 years from now."

Bradley Celebrates Birthday

EL PASO, Texas (UPI) — Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley, the nation's only five-star general and the first chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, celebrates his 88th birthday Thursday.

Bradley, who never retired and after 69 years in the military is still considered on active duty, will be honored Saturday with a party at his adopted home of Fort Bliss.

Former president Dwight D. Eisenhower, in his recently published diary, said of Bradley, "This officer is about the best-rounded, well-balanced senior officer that we have in the service."

"His judgments are always sound, and everything he does is accomplished in such a manner as to fit in well with all other operations. I have not a single word of criticism of his actions ..."

Confined to a wheelchair because of knee problems stemming from his days as a member of the West Point football team, Bradley's last public appearance was as President Reagan's inauguration, where he served as grand marshal of the inaugural parade.

He spent two days last week hospitalized at Beaumont Army Medical Center in El Paso because of a viral infection, but said he intended to attend the party in his honor at the Army post.

In 8 Fire Deaths
Vegas Hilton Busboy
Charged With Murder

Jane Carpenter of Deltona examines Valentine chocolates on display at Touchton's Drug Store in Sanford.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — A Las Vegas Hilton room service busboy was held today on charges of setting the hotel casino's $10 million killer blaze he reportedly watched burn for "sexual gratification" as eight people died.
Police arrested Philip Bruce Cline, 23, of Las Vegas, late Wednesday and charged him with eight counts of murder and one of arson in connection with Tuesday night's fire. He was held in solitary confinement at the Clark County jail pending today's arraignment.

What Are You Doing For Valentines Day?

By BRITT SMITH
Herald Staff Writer
Attention lovers! Valentine's Day is almost upon us. As is customary on Feb. 14, Cupid will run amok, flinging his amorous arrows hither and yon. So what are you going to do about it? At this late date, what can you do about it?
Lucky you. The Evening Herald took a poll earlier this week.
"Are you asking me?" a disenchanted young woman yelled. "The person who had one hour alone without the children last weekend and that was in the laundromat!"

Retail Sales Up Despite Economy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumers are surprising financial experts by significantly increasing retail purchases despite high interest rates and uncertainty about President Reagan's still-secret economic plan.
A Commerce Department report released Wednesday showed retail sales for goods ranging from cars to garden supplies rose to $84 billion in January, a 2 percent increase over December.

Longwood Seeking Shopping Van Grant

The City of Longwood has asked the state for a grant to supply it with a van for transporting senior citizens to major shopping centers three days a week.
Fuel, maintenance and a driver would be supplied by the city for a minimum of one year.
City Administrator David Chacey proposed the plan saying he had received requests for such a service from older residents who could no longer drive themselves.

Cupid Vs. Inflation

By United Press International
Love — in the form of longstemmed red roses — won't come cheap this Valentine's Day.
Florists from the "City of Roses" at Portland, Ore., to the "Rose Capital of the World" at Tyler, Texas, are complaining about inflation in the rose industry.
A nationwide UPI survey showed florists generally are charging between $35 and $45 a dozen for varieties. But the price tag in some areas has hit $65 a dozen, including packaging and delivery.

SCC Nation's 8th Best

Seminole Community College Guard Travis Filer (white jersey) is fouled by Lake City's James Dick in the Raiders' 86-66 victory Wednesday evening. SCC has won 17 in a row for a 26-1 season record and a number eight ranking nationally. The Raiders have been ranked first in the Florida Junior College poll most of the year. See story Page 6A.
