Nine killed in guerrilla attack

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador - Leftist guerrillas firing mortars overran a key army outpost, killing nine soldiers and wounding 15 others.

The army said six guerrillas were killed in the attack early Tuesday morning at El Paraiso, a garrison where an American military adviser was killed in a similar rebel attack in March 1987.

FBI chief to testify in probe

WASHINGTON - FBI Director William Sessions was summoned to Capitol Hill today to disclose the results of an internal review of a spy operation on critics of President Reagan's policies toward Central America.

Sessions was asked to speak to the Senate Intelligence Committee about the secret internal report, which sources said might recommend disciplinary action against FBI agents in the Dallas field office and supervisors at the Washington headquarters.

The sources, speaking on the condition of anonymity before today's hearing, said the report also was likely to criticize the breadth of the domestic spy operation.

Shuttle in final pre-launch test

CAPE CANAVERAL - The shuttle Discovery's flight readiness review moved into its final session today.

A handful of open items remained to be resolved, including yet another small hydrogen leak, this one in the shuttle's engine compartment, along with work to install and test three key valves.

Engineers worked Tuesday to pinpoint the source of the leak, which was detected in two recent tests. It was not known what impact, if any, the problem might have on the launch processing schedule.

Bosox stretch AL East lead

Of all the teams that have helped the Detroit Tigers plummet from the top of the American League East, none has more reason to enjoy the task than the Toronto Blue Jays.

Last season, the Tigers swept the final three games of the regular season from the Blue Jays to claim the East title Tuesday night. Toronto handed Detroit its 18th loss in its last 22 games, a 9-1 thrashing. The Tigers, who a month ago appeared secure in first place, dropped percentage points behind New York into third place, 4 1/2 games behind the Boston Red Sox.

SHA hit by accusations

Some citizens say board violated law

By WAYNE MIZE Herald staff writer

SANFORD - The Sanford Housing Authority (SHA) Board of Commissioners continues to be bombarded by accusations of improper conduct.

Commissioners Bob Ball Sr., Teri Buratti and Alberta Detreville were accused of violations of the Sunshine Law by resolutions presented by two citizens during Monday night's Sanford City Commission meeting. All three commissioners deny any violations.

The Sunshine Law prohibits elected or appointed public officials from meeting in private to discuss business which may determine a decision at a called or scheduled meeting.

Also, SHA commissioner Robert Frazier and chairman Alexander Wynn have recently accused the three commissioners of forming a conspiracy.

The city commission decided Monday night to hold a workshop session, open to the public, in the commission chambers at 4 p.m. Sept. 26 to discuss the problems and allegations surrounding the SHA and its commissioners.

Most of the recent controversy centers around the SHA commissioners' sudden firing of Executive Director Elliot Smith and the forced resignation of SHA attorney Ned Julian, Jr.

Ball, Buratti and Detreville formed the majority in the 3-2 vote to fire Smith and to accept Julian's resignation.

Smith was immediately replaced on an interim basis by Linda Williams, who is currently involved in a law suit against the SHA. It was Smith who had replaced Williams in 1982 after she served on an interim basis as executive director for approximately 15 months.

Williams then filed suit against the SHA claiming sexual discrimination under Title VII. A federal court has ruled against her twice, but she continues to appeal, currently to the federal 11th Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta.

Julian was replaced on an interim basis by Sanford attorney James Sweeting of the firm Perry & Lamb, P.A. Julian was attorney for the SHA for more than 15 years.

"I would say that I always enjoyed my experience with the housing authority," said Julian. "My legal opinions have always been directed to the best interest of the housing authority as a whole. When questioned, I always gave an opinion that was objective and based upon the law."

Sweeting recently announced his candidacy for the District 1 city commission seat.

Perry & Lamb, P.A., represented Williams in her initial suit against the SHA, which began in 1982. She is now represented by a Miami firm.

Sweeting is aware of a possible conflict of

Hurricane Gilbert rips into Cozumel

United Press International

MERIDA, Mexico - The most powerful Atlantic hurricane ever recorded smashed into the Mexican resort island of Cozumel with 175 mph winds and 15-foot waves today as it howled along a track that could carry it into Texas by week's end.

At 9 a.m. EDT today, the center of Hurricane Gilbert was located near latitude 20.4 north and longitude 86.6 west, or over the island of Cozumel, off the eastern coast of the Yucatan Peninsula.

Forecasters at the National Hurricane Center in Miami said maximum sustained winds were 175 miles an hour. Gilbert was moving to the west-northwest at 16 mph.

Bob Sheets, director of the hurricane center, said Gilbert was causing tides of 10 to 15 feet along the Yucatan coast.

Gilbert, which killed at least 14 people and caused millions of dollars in damage in its trek across the Caribbean, began pounding the posh beach resorts and 1,000-year-old Mayan ruins of the Yucatan Peninsula early today. Mexico placed its armed forces on "red alert," and 100,000 people fled the hurricane's burgeoning fury.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami predicted Gilbert would shriek across the peninsula around midday with 15-foot waves, raking Cuba's west coast along the way, then plow into the Gulf of Mexico and hit Texas slightly south of Galveston by Local officials keeping close watch, just in case

SANFORD - It's 2 p.m. Saturday and the Central Florida skies would have you believe it's evening. Trees are bent by angry winds, and downtown city streets look more like canals. Businesses are closed, windows boarded and workers home with families. There is only one topic of conversation, only one concern - the hurricane that many fear is overdue to strike Florida.

"We've been lucky for too long," is a common sentiment shared by longtime residents.

In a purely hypothetical scenario, Seminole County residents huddle around battery-powered radios awaiting storm updates and possible evacuation advisories. Meanwhile a group of approximately 20 decision-makers - county commissioners, firefighters, police, highway patrol, emergency medical, American Red Cross, sanitation, military and others - gather around a large table on the bottom floor of Seminole County's Emergency Operation Center at Five Points south of Sanford. Surrounded by telephones and radio equipment, they coordinate the county's response to a major storm threatening

Homeowners upset with tax proposals

By J. MARK BARFIELD Herald staff writer

SANFORD - Faced with property assessment increases of 100 percent or more, Sanford residents protested proposed county taxes at Tuesday's hearing on the next fiscal year's county budget.

The proposed budget decreases tax rates for city residents and increases rates for county residents. However reassessment of some homes raised assessed property values and the owners' proposed tax bills.

Seminole County commissioners told the property owners that the commission has no control over property appraisals which are regulated by state laws, and tentatively voted to approve the county's $121.8 million budget for the next fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, and a tax rate of about $4.56 per $1,000 of taxable property value.

Commissioner Barbara Christensen voted against the measure. She said the county CASSELBERRY - An accused robber who reportedly convinced his victims he was a police officer is jailed today, charged in four cases. After his capture by Casselberry police on Sept. 7, the suspect was hospitalized for treatment of injuries suffered in the crash of a stolen car. He was transferred from the hospital to the Seminole County jail on Sept. 10.

Kenny Williams, 29, of Orlando, is charged with two counts of impersonating a policeman in addition to burglary, trespassing, three counts of armed robbery, armed burglary, two counts of auto theft, two counts of petty theft, and two counts of aggravated battery. William's bond totals $25,000.

In the first case, Williams is accused of robbing a Yellow Cab driver at gunpoint. On Aug. 29, the victim transported the suspect from Fern Park to Summit Village apartments at 1001 Esplanade Way in Casselberry, a center for most of the robber's activity.

Driver Tom Blair of Altamonte Springs told Casselberry police he was forced out of his cab at gunpoint by the rider. Blair was forced to lie on the ground and said the robber hit him on the back of the head with his gun. About $50 was stolen from Blair.

On Sept. 2, Williams allegedly took another Yellow Cab ride from the area of State Road 436 and U.S. Highway 17-92, to Summit Village. There driver Thomas Janicus of Winter Park said the rider pulled a gun and put it to his head. The robber grabbed Janicus' money bag and told him, "You're under arrest."

Janicus was ordered out of the cab and told to put his hands on the car, as the suspect walked away. The robber took $75 from Janicus and left a cassette radio in the cab, police said. Fingerprints, believed to be the robber's, were lifted from the door of the cab.

At about 3:28 a.m. on Sept. 7 as Fernando Zarraga entered his house at Apt. 63-E, Summit Village, he was followed in by a man who said he was a policeman and had been following Zarraga for some time. The intruder dialed the 911 emergency number and hung up. When police called back, the intruder picked up the phone and said everything was okay.

He demanded to see Zarraga and his wife's identification and wallets and allegedly took $70 from one of the wallets. He accompanied Zarraga to Zarraga's car and allegedly stole the vehicle.

Police entered the area and one officer talked to Zarraga, while a second pursued the fleeing car, which crashed on State Road 436 at Casselberry Boulevard. The robber fled on foot and eluded police.

At about 10 a.m. on Sept. 7, a worker for Summit Village entered vacant apartment 3-D after discovering the door was deadbolted from the inside. The worker found a man asleep on the floor of a closet. The workman left, alerted police and described the sleeper. He reportedly identified the intruder in a police photo lineup. LONGWOOD — Longwood police harvested a marijuana crop of 35 plants at a Longwood house and arrested the accused grower at home Monday.

Robert Ray Beseker, 26, of 683 Highland St., Longwood, is accused of possession and cultivation of more than 20 grams of marijuana, possession of marijuana plants and on a warrant for failure to appear on a traffic charge.

There was a wire alarm system attached to a bell surrounding the crop, police said. They said Beseker told them he stole the plants from a vacant field behind his house and cultivated them so he wouldn't have to deal with drug dealers. He is free on bond and scheduled to appear in court Oct. 10.

Sanford businessman faces federal charges in drug case

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — A former candidate for the Sanford City Commission and local Realtor is charged in federal court in Orlando of possession of cocaine with intent to distribute.

He was arrested last month as part of the federal "Muscle Beach Gym" cocaine ring.

Auguste Bartholdi "Bar" Peterson III, 33, 420 S. Virginia Ave., was arrested on Aug. 19 as one of 19 people the U.S. Attorney's Office says bought large quantities of cocaine in South Florida and sold it in the Daytona Beach area and in Maryland, West Virginia and South Carolina.

Peterson was an unsuccessful candidate for the 1986 District 3 city commission race. A.A. Me-

Clanahan prevailed in the race to oust incumbent Milton Smith.

When asked about the charges, Peterson had no comment. When asked for the name of his attorney, Peterson said "I don't know anything about it."

Peterson's attorney, Kirk Kirkconnell, could not be reached.

The case is called the Muscle Beach Gym case because a defendant identified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as one of the ringleaders of the group is the owner of the Daytona Beach gym and many of the illegal transactions reportedly took place at the gym.

FBI Agent Charles Boling, in a July statement, said Peterson had made "repeated contacts" with several of the Daytona Beach distributors to arrange cocaine purchases. The case was built largely on telephone wiretaps of the gym and though one telephone call between two other defendants, Boling refused to say how Peterson was identified as a defendant.

Peterson is charged with conspiracy to possess with the intent to distribute cocaine, federal officials said. He faces a sentence of 10 years to life and a $4 million fine if convicted of the charges.

Peterson is vice president of his father's business, St. John's Realty, on Park Avenue. Peterson's father, A.B. Peterson, Jr., was appointed by the court as personal assurance that his son will appear in court in lieu of Peterson posting $20,000 bond on Aug. 22. Peterson was held for about four days in the Seminole County Jail before being released by the U.S. District Court in Orlando.

Webster endorses Etchberger

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Unsuccessful District 3 Republican candidate Bob Webster endorsed former Joe Etchberger Thursday in a joint effort to oust incumbent Fred Streetman.

"I have had discussions in great detail with both Mr. Streetman and Mr. Etchberger," Webster said Thursday. "I am convinced Streetman is no different than he was in the past. And I am convinced he has no intention of changing."

Webster, most known for his criticism of county charter government in Seminole and Orange Counties, raised 2,687 votes in Tuesday's primary. Etchberger received 5,796 votes and Streetman received the largest number, 7,664 votes.

Etchberger and Streetman will face each other again Oct. 4 in the District 3 Republican runoff.

Although Streetman had the most votes, he failed to get the needed 50-plus percent needed to win the primary. But Etchberger and Webster received a combined 52.5 percent of the vote, more than enough to elect a single candidate.

Streetman was unconcerned about the coalition.

"I've found that Bob Webster is pretty much hung up on one issue, the charter, and I don't think he would support anybody who didn't go along with his view."

Etchberger said a coalition could be good for Seminole County, but not in its present proposed form.

Although Webster and Etchberger waged similar campaigns, attacking Streetman for his 2 a.m. vote on the $7.5 million purchase of the Yankee Lake property, his support of the controversial expressway routing and other positions, they differ on their analysis of Tuesday's District 3 voting.

"I believe positive votes went for me and I want very much to support Etchberger and urge those people to vote for him,"

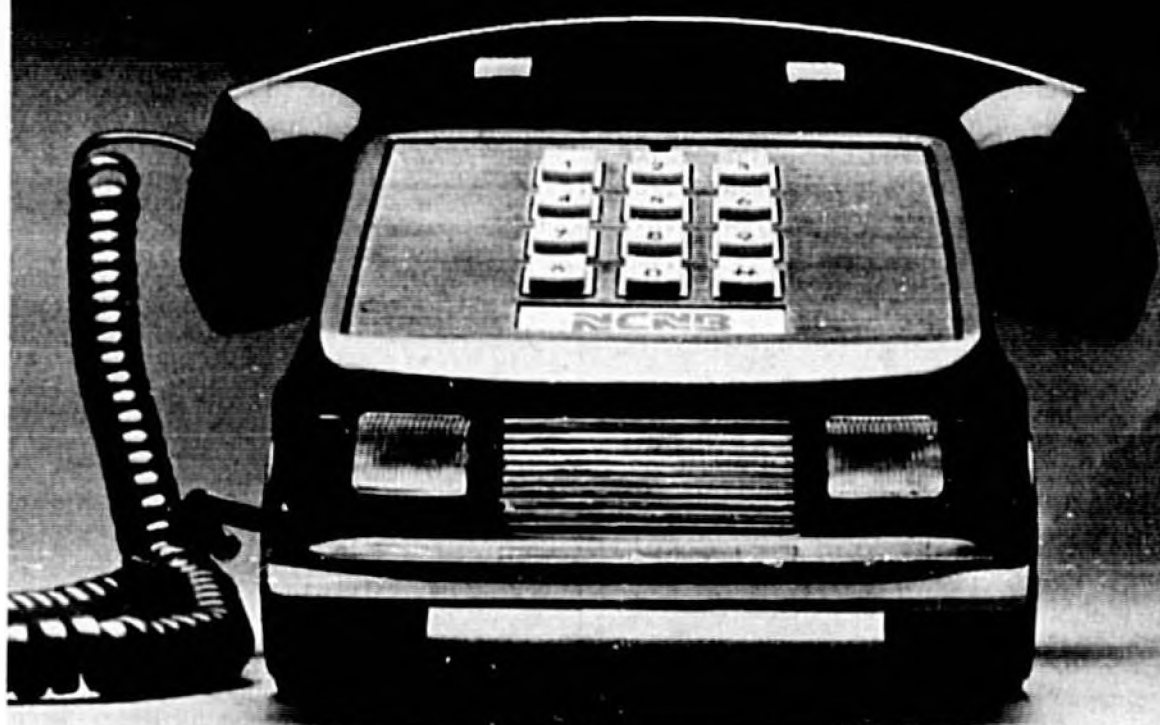

Webster said.

"Voters of Seminole County have indicated their lack of support for Fred Streetman," Etchberger said. "Those were negative Fred Streetman votes."

Streetman disagrees.

"Those (Webster) votes were anti-Streetman votes and anti-Etchberger votes," Streetman said. "I think they'll split be-

Afghan rebels take three towns, road

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan — Afghan guerrillas now control three towns along the main Soviet withdrawal route north of Kabul, have stepped up an offensive west of the capital and are making gains in southwestern Kandahar Province, Western diplomats said.

One diplomat said Tuesday the Soviet pullout from Afghanistan remained on hold. The same diplomat said last month that Moscow had decided to delay further troop withdrawals until November because of alleged violations of the Geneva accords by Pakistan.

South Africans to remain in U.S. mission

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — U.S. officials say three prominent political detainees seeking refuge in the American consulate after escaping police custody will not be forced to leave the mission against their will.

The three detainees, including two senior leaders of the anti-apartheid umbrella organization United Democratic Front, escaped Tuesday and were granted indefinite sanctuary at the consulate by the U.S. government.

Church officials said the detainees had not stated any specific demands.

Arafat recognizes U.N. resolutions

STRASBOURG, France — Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat has issued his most unequivocal statement yet on PLO acceptance of U.N. resolutions that include recognition of Israel's right to exist, Middle East experts say.

In a speech Tuesday to European parliamentarians, Arafat reiterated his support for mutual recognition by the Palestine Liberation Organization and Israel on the basis of the United Nations resolutions, but stopped far short of announcing a provisional Palestinian government for the Israeli-occupied territories.

In Israel, a Foreign Ministry spokesman said there was "nothing new" in Arafat's address. "The speech is not something we will take as a decision of the PLO," said a Foreign Ministry official, contending that contradictory declarations were being made "every day" by Palestinian moderates and hard-liners.

Censorship condemned by Chileans

SANTIAGO, Chile — The opposition to Gen. Augusto Pinochet, the 1973 coup leader seeking eight more years as president, condemned censorship a night after the government banned television footage alleging torture by the secret police.

The opposition's television campaign reappeared Tuesday night after being censored the night before by the government. In the face of internal and international pressure, daily access to television after 15 years of military government was granted the opposition by the ruling junta in the month leading to the Oct. 5 plebiscite in which Pinochet, 72, is the only candidate.

U.S., Syrian talks on Lebanon set

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Members of a Christian militia group held Lebanon's pro-Syrian defense minister for three hours on the eve of U.S. Syrian talks on resolving the strife-torn nation's political crisis.

At least one person was killed and five others wounded in fighting triggered by the kidnapping Tuesday of Defense Minister Adel Ossseiran, a Shiite Muslim who was freed unharmed after his Christian abductors demanded the release of a legislator under house arrest.

The abduction occurred on the eve of talks today in Damascus, Syria, between Assistant Secretary of State Richard Murphy and Syrian officials on ending a political crisis in Lebanon triggered by Parliament's failure last month to elect a new president.

Gunmen hijack bus carrying people to see Pope

United Press International

MASERU, Lesotho — Unidentified gunmen hijacked a bus carrying about 60 people, including eight nuns and several schoolgirls, traveling to Maseru to see Pope John Paul II today, British officials and radio reports said.

British High Commissioner John Edwards and Lesotho Radio said the bus was being held outside the high commission — Britain's embassy — early today but the hijackers' demands were not immediately known.

Edwards said that he had denied sanctuary to the gunmen, described by the radio as "armed imposters."

"The hijackers wanted to go into the high commission and I refused them permission," Edwards said. "As far as I am concerned, it is a matter for the Lesotho authorities now."

The commission is located a few hundred yards from police headquarters. The area was cordoned off and nearby roads were sealed.

The bus, which was parked on Parliament Street, was not in the immediate vicinity of any scheduled event for the pontiff.

Soldiers with automatic rifles turned people away from the area. Reports of the hijackers' identities remained unconfirmed.

In Johannesburg, the state-run South African Broadcasting Corp. said the hijackers may be members of the outlawed Lesotho Liberation Army. The unit was formed to fight the former government of Prime Minister Chief Leabua Jonathan, who was toppled in a military coup in January 1986.

A Catholic Church official said the bus carried 60 people, including eight nuns, seven teenage schoolgirls and six teachers.

The bus, hijacked Tuesday, had come to Maseru from the border town of Quagga's Neck in the remote southern region of the landlocked nation.

The pope was expected to arrive mid-morning today in Lesotho, where he was scheduled to spend two days in the black enclave within South Africa on the third stop of his five-country tour of southern Africa.

Because the pope, on the advice of South Africa's bishops, excluded the white minority, ruled country from his program, hundreds of thousands of South African Catholics were expected to cross the border into Lesotho for papal masses today and Thursday.

But reports from Lesotho said there was far less traffic over the border Tuesday than predicted.

The Vatican considers the mass Thursday in Lesotho's capital of Maseru, where the pope will beatify the Rev. Joseph Gerard, a 19th century French missionary, the religious high point of John Paul's 10-day trip.

Opponents of apartheid look to the pope to make a strong statement against the Apartheid government's white supremacist policies from the altar within sight of the South African border.

Although Lesotho is politically opposed to the government of Prime Minister P.W. Botha, the country of 1.6 million people is closely tied to South Africa economically. Almost 150,000 men, half of Lesotho's male population, work in South Africa in gold and diamond mines, on farms and in factories, sending their earnings to their families at home.

Burma's splintered opposition uniting

United Press International

BANGKOK, Thailand — Burma's once-fragmented opposition has begun work on a joint alternative to the one-party regime and today launched new large-scale demonstrations and a general strike, Rangoon residents, official radio and diplomats said.

"The streets are full of people carrying banners and chanting for democracy," said a Rangoon resident reached by telex from Bangkok.

The resident in downtown Rangoon said she could see tens of thousands of marchers but there were no reports of violence or military attempts to stop the anti-government demonstrations.

She said an opposition call for a general strike had closed down most shops, government offices and markets.

Food has become scarce and increasingly expensive, with the price of rice soaring more than 1,000 percent.

The top protest leaders held their first direct meeting with the government Tuesday to inform the new election commission that the opposition rejects any elections held by the current regime.

The leaders then began meetings among themselves, promising to put forward a joint proposal for an interim government to end 26 years of one-party rule, diplomats said. A proposal was expected within two days.

"Since the country and the people have completely lost confidence in the government, they can neither accept nor trust a commission formed by the government," the radio quoted the opposition leaders as saying. The radio, in a highly unusual report on anti-government activities, said the meeting with the five-man commission was attended by three of the best-known opposition leaders — retired Brig. Gen. Aung Gyi, who was jailed earlier this year for his criticism of the government; former defense minister and armed forces chief Gen. Tin U; and Aung San Suu Kyi, daughter of Burma's independence hero, Gen. Aung San.

Drug dealer pleads guilty to free wife

United Press International

NEW YORK — The man described as the "last living guy who could solve the French Connection theft" pleaded guilty to drug trafficking charges so the woman he married in prison could go free.

Anthony Dominick Passero, 54, admitted Tuesday to importing and selling narcotics with Marie Barbieri during the late 1960s and early 1970s and to laundering more than $100,000 in cash through banks in Albuquerque, N.M., and New York City.

Passero and Barbieri married in July while both were in custody at the Metropolitan Correctional Center in Manhattan.

Under the plea agreement worked out with U.S. Attorney Andrew Maloney of Brooklyn, Passero is expected to be sentenced to 15 years in federal prison and his wife will receive probation.

"He did it for love," Barbieri said of the guilty plea as her brown eyes filled with tears.

"Her sentence is one of the major reasons why we are able to come to these agreements," Passero's lawyer, Richard Rehbock, told U.S. District Judge Thomas Platt in Brooklyn.

Maloney described Passero as "the last living guy who could solve the French Connection theft."

But Assistant U.S. Attorney Thomas Roche quickly noted, "Cooperation (in the French Connection case) is not part of this agreement."

The French Connection case began in 1958, when two narcotics detectives declared war against heroin pushers. It ended four years later with the seizure of 120 pounds of heroin processed in Marseilles, France.

Detectives Eddie Egan and Sonny Grasso, long since retired, became heroes and film consultants who played bit parts in the 1971 movie about the case, which starred Gene Hackman and Roy Scheider.

IN BRIEF

FOOTBALL

Two more players suspended

NEW YORK — Defensive back Antonio Gibson of New Orleans and Atlanta's Leonard Mitchell Tuesday became the 18th and 19th players suspended by the NFL this season for substance abuse and will each miss 30 days.

The two were placed on their teams' non-football illness list for 30 days, the league's penalty when a player fails a second drug test. They are barred from their teams training facilities.

Several of the league's top players have been suspended since the start of training camp, most notably, linebacker Lawrence Taylor of the Giants, the 1986 league MVP; defensive end Dexter Manley of the Redskins; and running back Charles White of the Los Angeles Rams.

Gibson, in his third season, started 10 games last season, his second with New Orleans. Mitchell, a starting tackle last year, in his eighth pro season.

BASKETBALL

Jacksonville signs Gaines

JACKSONVILLE — Tommy Gaines, a 6-foot-5 guard-forward from Bainbridge, Ga., has been awarded a scholarship to play basketball for Jacksonville University. It was announced Tuesday.

Gaines originally signed with the University of Georgia, but he was not accepted by the school at the start of the academic year. He is eligible to play this season for the Dolphins.

Gaines was named Mr. Basketball in Georgia after averaging 29.5 points and 13.5 rebounds in his senior season.

"I'm delighted to add Tommy to our basketball team at the beginning of the school year," Jacksonville Coach Rich Haddad said. "He is a tremendous offensive player who will add an outside punch to our team. A highly touted young man like Tommy should have a great impact upon our program."

BASEBALL

Raines surgery successful

Raines probably will rejoin the team in Montreal for the last week of the season. He won't be able to start an exercise program for two months and is expected to be ready for spring training.

In other news, the Expos have named scout Ed Creech and Triple-A Indianapolis Manager Joe Sparks co-winners of the first annual John McHale Man of the Year Award.

The award is designed to honor the top performer of the Montreal organization in the area of scouting and player development.

Connors upends Agassi

AUBURN HILLS, Mich. — Jimmy Connors, gaining a measure of revenge for his U.S. Open quarterfinal loss, defeated Andre Agassi 7-6 (8-6), 6-3 Tuesday night in the Kings of Tennis Classic.

Connors lost to Agassi at the Grand Slam Event at Flushing Meadow, N.Y. last Thursday 6-2, 7-6 (8-6), 6-1. Upon hearing that Agassi had forecast a straight-sets victory, Connors said Agassi had made a mistake in boasting publicly.

A record crowd of 16,011 for the Classic was on hand at the Auburn Hills Palace. The previous mark was 15,125, set Nov. 15, 1985 at the Met Center in Bloomington, Minn., when Bjorn Borg faced John McEnroe.

Lady Patriots crush Howell

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald sports writer

ALTAMONTE — Construction is prevalent at Lake Brantley High School these days.

On the outside, the new additions to the school are beginning to take shape nicely. On the inside, the Lady Patriot volleyball team is building a state powerhouse.

Lake Brantley, second in the state in Class 4A in 1987, picked up where it left off a year ago Tuesday night as it opened the 1988 season with an impressive 15-2, 15-8 Seminole Athletic Conference victory over Lake Howell before a nice opening-night crowd of 401.

"The girls looked really sharp for the opening match," Lake Brantley coach Wolfgang Halbig said. "We planned to get everyone into the match and we were able to do so and I was pleased with the play of everyone on the team."

The Lady Patriots return to action Thursday night at DeLand, then go to Tampa Prep on Friday for a makeup of last week's postponed match. Lake Howell, 2-5 overall, dropped to 0-2 in the SAC. The inexperienced Lady Silver Hawks return to SAC play Tuesday at DeLand.

Right from the start Tuesday night, the Lady Patriots displayed the same powerful attack and superb teamwork that a year ago carried them farther than any Seminole County team had ever gone.

Gretchen Mull got the attack cranked up with a kill off a nice set by Marianne Rodriguez and Pam Wittig then served Brantley to a 6-0 lead. Wittig had one ace during the rally while Dawn Gebhart provided the sixth point as she blasted a spike past the Lake Howell defense.

Lake Howell got its first point on Debbie McDonough's serve, but Gebhart then served two points for an 8-1 lead. After Lake Howell made it 8-2, Mull's spike gave the Lady Patriots a sideout and Chris Rabaja came on to serve out the game. Rabaja's seven-point string was highlighted by a nice kill by Dana Bush off a set by Barb Billmyer.

"The girls played that first game like they never missed a beat," Halbig said. "Marianne (Rodriguez) does a great job setting up the offense and our hitters came through with a great game."

Since the first game went by so fast, Halbig used the second game to give every player a chance to get in. Tracy Finley, Jeana Chun and Kimi Kurz all looked good off the bench for the Lady Patriots, who jumped off to a 7-0 lead.

Lake Howell then came up with its best play of the game as it started digging up Brantley's hits and closed within 8-4 on the serve of Raquel Ortiz. Mull then put down another kill of a Rodriguez set for a

Unbeaten Lady 'Noles drill DeLand

By CHUCK BURGESS
Special to the Herald

SANFORD — Seminole High's Lady 'Noles spiked their way to a 15-8, 15-13 victory over DeLand's Lady Bulldogs Tuesday night before 101 fans at Bill Fleming Gymnasium.

The Lady Seminoles improved their unblemished record to 1-0 overall and remain at 2-0 in the Seminole Athletic Conference. They resume play tonight at home against the Kissimmee Osceola Kowgirls at 7 p.m.

The first game wasn't easy for the Lady 'Noles as DeLand's Melissa Sing served five straight points until the Lady Tribe could get a sideout. After the two teams battled to a 5-5 deadlock, junior setter Heather Brown served two points, the second being a blistering ace.

After Brown's ace it was all Seminole. The Lady Tribe, with the serving of Yolanda Baker, Adrian Hillsman, and Cricket Snow, paced their way to a four-point lead. With the score 12-8 in favor of the Lady 'Noles, Snow closed the door on the Lady Bulldogs with three straight points to give the Seminoles the first game.

"We played well tonight," Seminole coach Beth Corso said. "We made a few little mental errors that we shouldn't have made, but overall we looked good."

The Lady Seminoles came out in the second game much more aggressive than in the first as senior spiker Liz Long blocked a DeLand spike for Seminole's first point of the second game. After a DeLand point by Mary Ford, Long served four straight points for a 5-1 lead.

With the game on the line, it was Long and Hillsman who provided much needed Seminole leadership. With Baker serving, Long scorched two powerful kills and then showed she could play the finesse game by adding a dink to put Seminole ahead 10-7.

"Liz has only missed five spikes all year long," Corso said. "Her passing percentage has been up and her spiking is improving every game."

Being down, DeLand's Sing once again showed her serving prowess by knotting things up at 11 apiece. But it was Long's serving and Hillsman's power that moved the Lady Tribe to a 14-11 lead. DeLand managed to scrap their way back for two more points, but Seminole setter Osborne stopped the comeback on her serve.

The Seminole High junior varsity netters were also in action as they heated up the court with a 15-13, 15-9 drubbing of the JV Lady Dogs. Highlighting the evening for the Seminoles was the serving of Kelly Epps and Deanne Rathbun and the overall hustle of Jennifer Benge.

A lot of cross country coaches worry about depth, not Tom Hammontree.

Strength in numbers

Lady Hawks hope to continue prosperity

By MARK BLYTHE
Herald sports writer

CASSELBERRY — The Lake Howell High girls cross country team is proof positive that there is strength in numbers.

Coach Tom Hammontree has built a program that has been Seminole County's and one of the state's most consistent the past six years. The key has been getting the young runners out every year and continuing to build interest in the program.

Hammontree will have a young team this season but hopes to be competitive with the area's top teams as the Lady Hawks have some of the best young talent in Seminole County.

"I have 40 girls out for the team this year and we're looking to turn that quantity into some quality," Hammontree. "We're very young, we have 13 freshman and 14 sophomores, but we have a good team attitude and have been looking good in practice so far."

Lake Howell will get its first taste of big meet action this week in the Edgewater Invitational. The Lady Silver Hawks ran in the pre-season jamboree and won the meet but elected not to participate in the Astronaut Invitational.

"Everyone ranked in the top ten was at Astronaut," Hammontree said.

Red Sox up lead to 4 1/2

United Press International

Of all the teams that have helped the Detroit Tigers plummet from the top of the American League East, none has more reason to enjoy the task than the Toronto Blue Jays.

Last season, the Tigers swept the final three games of the regular season from the Blue Jays to claim the East title. Tuesday night, Toronto handed Detroit its 18th loss in its last 22 games, a 9-1 thrashing. The Tigers, who a month ago appeared secure in first place, dropped percentage points behind New York into third place, 4 1/2 games behind the Boston Red Sox.

Not only did Dave Stieb stifle the Tigers, he knocked Alan Trammell from the game in the first inning with a fastball to the forearm. Trammell suffered no broken bones, but his status is in doubt.

"He was lucky," Tigers Manager Sparky Anderson said of Trammell. "Usually, when you get hit right there it breaks a bone."

Toronto, which broke a three-game losing streak but remained 8 1/2 games behind Boston with 17 games remaining, refused to concede elimination from contention.

"Nobody on this team is going to say we're out of it until we see that X (signifying elimination) beside our name," said Jesse Barfield, whose second grand slam of the season concluded the Blue Jays attack in the seventh inning.

"I stayed on top of it," he said of his 17th homer of the year and third career slam. "You don't hit them too often, so it's something you always cherish."

Stieb, 13-8, allowed six hits over

Dodgers stretch NL West lead

United Press International

The Dodgers are in a great situation with the Braves in town. What makes it better is having the Astros and Reds go head-to-head.

While first-place Los Angeles moves closer to a National League West title, Houston, in second, and Cincinnati, in third, are busy trying to knock each other off the pace.

The scenario worked to perfection for the Dodgers Tuesday night: They blanked last-place Atlanta 2-0 and the Reds stopped the Astros, 5-2, allowing Los Angeles to gain a game in the standings.

At Los Angeles, John Tudor allowed only two hits over five innings, and Ramon Martinez and Jay Howell surrendered none over the final four.

Reds 5, Astros 1
At Cincinnati, Jose Rijo continued his mastery of Houston, scattering three singles over seven innings. Rijo, 13-8, won his second game since coming off the disabled list Thursday.

Giants 4, Padres 1
At San Diego, Rick Reuschel, 18-8, scattered seven hits and walked none over seven innings. Robbie Thompson and Candy Maldonado homered off Ed Whitsun, 12-10.

Pirates 1, Mets 0
At New York, Bob Walk, 12-10, threw a five-hitter over eight innings. Jim Gott worked out of bases-loaded jam in the ninth to earn his 29th save, and Bobby Bonilla hit an RBI double in the fourth off Dwight Gooden, 17-7.

Cubs 9, Phillies 2
At Philadelphia, Greg Maddux, 17-7, allowed six hits over seven innings to defeat Philadelphia.

the only National League opponent he hadn't beaten this season. Damon Berryhill hit a grand slam and Andre Dawson drilled a bases-empty homer.

Expos 7, Cardinals 1
At Montreal, Hubie Brooks clubbed a grand slam off Larry McWilliams, 5-7, to help Pascual Perez, 11-6, who fired a seven-hitter. Brooks' fifth career slam gave him a personal-high 17 home runs.

Longshots just happy to be in Olympic Games

United Press International

SEOUL, South Korea — Archers from the Himalayan monarchy of Bhutan were so steeped in traditional hunting techniques they enlisted the help of a South Korean coach for their sole Olympic event. Sprinters from the Maldives regard their country's debut in the Summer Games as an opportunity to launch the Indian Ocean islands into the international arena. While athletes from the world's sports powers speculate about how many medals they will win, many of the smaller countries regard participation as a feat in itself. "We're not thinking much about gold, silver or bronze," said Suk-Hoo Yoon, Olympic attache for the Maldives. "The most important thing is taking part for the first time." With the size of delegations ranging from 639 for the United States to only two from Burma, the smaller and poorer entries acknowledge most of the gold medals will be monopolized by a handful of sports giants. But that hasn't discouraged them a bit. Bhutan is entered in only one event, along with other single-sport countries like Afghanistan, Burma, the Congo, Chad, Guinea, Grenada, Liberia, Mali, Rwanda and Somalia. Thirty-six nations are sending 10 athletes or less, but among them are top competitors. Somalia has 10 male athletes, all competing in track and field, including Abdi Bile, a national hero and the 1987 world champion at 1,500 meters. Particularly zealous is Indonesia, with 29 athletes competing in fencing, shooting, wrestling, track, weightlifting, archery, swimming, table tennis, boxing and sailing. "Let's be realistic," said

Mohammad Sarengat, secretary of the National Sports Committee. "Our medal prospects at Seoul are very slim against the world's best. "All I want is to see our athletes improve. The Games offer a chance to improve on personal bests and to break national or even Asian records." Likewise with Malaysia. It is fielding a team of nine and banking on swimming as its strongest sport along with Southeast Asian neighbors Singapore and Hong Kong.

NBC prepares to air greatest show on earth

United Press International

SEOUL, South Korea — NBC wants to make the summer Olympics the greatest TV show on earth. Presenting nearly 180 hours of the 24th Olympic games - 75 percent of it live - to an expected 180 million viewers in the United States is a Herculean task that requires 1,200 employees, 100 television cameras, 154 tape machines, 7,500 reels of tape, and 17 mobile camera units. NBC says there are loads of "firsts" and "biggests": the biggest sports event in stereo, the first cameras balanced on the pole-vault and high-jump bars, the biggest on-location TV facility, the first compact discs used for music in a TV broadcast, the most sophisticated graphics in the world.

though, NBC has 1,200 people and some of them are here to make sure I don't do anything stupid." Some 25 profiles will be aired, including segments on mixed marriages, the 98 percent literacy rate and misconceptions the television show "M A S H" has spawned about South Korea. Under NBC's bigtop, its crew is camped out over 60,000 square feet. Some 48,000 meals will be served in the employee cafeteria, including thousands of bagels, but there is no Korean food. Kimchi, the spicy pickled vegetable legendary for its garlic content, is a banned substance on the premises, "because there are so many of us working so close together in here," said Kevin Monaghan, an NBC publicist. But Gumbel said he took a liking to the Korean staple food during several preparatory trips to Seoul. "I love the stuff. I'm one of the few people who buy it in New York."

NBC has a staff of 12 public relations people to assist the world media in covering its coverage of the Games. The network paid $300 million for exclusive U.S. broadcast rights and $125 million for production. Estimates are that NBC, which has cut 1,500 employees since 1986, will reap $45 million to $55 million in profits. Michael Eskridge, NBC executive vice president for the Olympics, said only the network expects a "reasonable financial return."

'94 Winter Olympics site selected today

United Press International

SEOUL, South Korea — Swedish candidate Oestersund Wednesday asked Olympic officials to select the host city of the 1994 Winter Games on merit and not be influenced by political pressure. The Swedes voiced a fear shared by rivals Lillehammer, Norway, and Anchorage, Alaska, that International Olympic Committee members will select the Bulgarian capital of Sofia as the 1994 host in order to repay it for influencing the East Bloc nations not to boycott the Seoul Summer Olympics. Oestersund's appeal came during its presentation before the 87 IOC members. The IOC heard the presentations of all four cities and will cast their votes Thursday. Oestersund's marketing chairman Leif Forsberg, speaking at a news conference, said he made a point of telling the IOC that Sweden had taken part in every Olympics. "We have never boycotted and even stepped in to help out in 1956 with the equestrian events when Melbourne could not stage them," Forsberg said. "If you should thank people for participating here (Seoul), you should also thank those people who had always taken part. When people talk about getting something back for competing, I think it is unfair. I think it should be something everyone should do in full heart and spirit." With IOC president Juan Antonio Samaranch suspending his voting powers, the final nod will go to the city obtaining a simple majority of 44 votes. After each round of voting, the city in last place is dropped until a decisive score is reached. Anchorage is counting on the lure of lucrative American television dollars to influence the voters. Rick Nerland, executive vice president of the Anchorage Organizing Committee, stressed the attraction of a much bigger revenue for the IOC from U.S. television rights if the Games were staged in Anchorage. "A North American candidacy will be much more attractive, with most of the events ready-made for prime time slots," Nerland said. The organizers project a $311 million budget to stage the Games, with TV revenues providing more than two-thirds of the outlay. Anchorage's rivals are not slow to point out that awarding the event to Europe would still bring in a healthy TV bonanza

Messes, yes, but she's head chef at home now

Her relatives cooked with dash of patience

By JANE HALE
Herald correspondent

SANFORD — Our Cook of the Week must have picked up some of her relatives' patience. Pam Dunn of Sanford runs her own business, takes her children to all their activities and still finds time to cook.

Dunn was born and raised in Sanford, where she attended the local schools and graduated from Seminole High School.

Her father, now deceased, was a wonderful fellow who Dunn says she misses terribly. Her mother retired four years ago from Southern Bell Telephone, where she worked as a supervisor. "She now enjoys just being a grandmother and working in her garden," Dunn said.

Dunn was an only child and often wished for a brother or a sister, but she still has many fond memories of her childhood. "Every weekend we would go camping either at our hunting camp, which is located on the St. Johns River, or at the beach," Dunn said. "I really enjoyed hunting and fishing with my dad because he was fun to be with." Dunn also took dance lessons and enjoyed horseback riding with her friends.

"My mother and both my grandmothers taught me how to cook," Dunn said. All three of them were wonderful cooks, with a lot of patience, and cooked Southern style, she said. "My mother's mom lived in Sebring, Florida, and had an enormous garden that had just about every type of vegetable you could name in it. When we would visit, she would fix a little bit of everything from the garden for dinner."

As a child whose parents both worked, Dunn excitedly visited her grandmother. Each day, her grandmother would let Dunn sit on the counter and help with fixing dinner. "I'll never forget one time when I was there helping her fix cornbread for my grandfather's dinner and we both left the room and when we came back into the kitchen, Granny's old tomato had jumped up on the counter and was sitting in the middle of the bowl of cornbread batter!" Dunn laughed. "Granny Galloway just laughed about it, because she was such a good-natured person."

They did, however, throw out the batter and start again. "My grandfather was the constable here in Sanford and he would have to have cornbread with every meal," Dunn said.

She described her mother as a "super cook who likes to try all types of recipes and after she has tried them out several times, she will give them to me to try on my family."

Besides the cornbread, Dunn does not remember any of the first dishes that she cooked on her own. "I do remember the first Thanksgiving after John and I were married because I was the hostess," she said. "It was a fiasco. Finally my grandmother came and helped me because she got tired of me calling and asking her how to fix this dish or that dish."

Her bowl of Thanksgiving cauliflower stands out in her memory. "I thought to make cheese sauce you just put slices of cheese over the top of the cauliflower and it melts, making the sauce. Well, my cheese ran right down into the bottom of the bowl," Dunn said. "My cauliflower did not have any sauce on it at all. I didn't know that you had to make a special sauce." Looking back on the meal, Dunn can smile. "Nobody in my family said anything and they ate everything just like it was the best meal they had ever eaten."

Dunn met her future husband, John, about one week after she entered Seminole High School. With John a grade ahead of her, they dated all the way through high school and were married at the First Presbyterian Church in Sanford after their graduations.

John works for the CSX Railroad as an engineer. He also helps his wife run their business called Monkey Business, which is located in the Wal-Mart Center in Sanford.

The Duns have three children. Their son, Jeffrey, age 12, attends Sanford Middle School. He enjoys racing his go-cart that he and his father built. He is active in the youth activities at the First Presbyterian Church.

Elisa, 10, goes to Wilson Elementary School. She enjoys dancing and takes all kinds of dance including ballet, tap and jazz. She too enjoys school activities as well as church activities.

Katie, 6, like her sister, attends Wilson Elementary and is involved in dance and the family's church. This year she became involved in the Brownies.

Dunn takes a mother-daughter tap dance class with Elisa. She enjoys looking and shopping for antiques and old country things. She also has been president of the PTA and an elder at the First Presbyterian Church.

Dunn enjoys people and really likes meeting new people. Before opening Monkey Business, Dunn said she was just content staying home and being a housewife and mother. She has also taught Sunday school and enjoys doing this. "One day I would like to go to Seminole Community College and get my degree in business," she said.

Her philosophy on life is "Get out and enjoy life because life is too short not to get the most out of it as you can."

Listed below are some of the Dunn family favorite recipes.

Delicious snacks can be prepared in a matter of seconds. This is a quick way to have a favorite hot snack that is far less expensive because you do it yourself.

15 mini-marshmallows
1/2 teaspoon margarine
1 teaspoon semi-sweet chocolate pieces

MICRO DATE BARS

1 1/2 cups chopped dates
3/4 cup water

Press in lightly. Microwave on 100 percent power uncovered, 3-4 minutes or until bubbly throughout. Cool completely and cut into squares. Makes 20 bars.

Handful of this munchy can be eaten on the run. This cereal snack will keep the kids coming back for more. It's easy enough for them to make it, too!

MEXICAN MUNCHIE

seasoning mix

Fresh fruits and vegetables are the most wholesome snack for anyone, and young people need to be encouraged to have those as their first choice everyday. A potato would be a good choice when they want something hot and filling.

CHEESY POTATO SLICES

1 medium baking potato
Seasoning salt
1/4 cup shredded cheddar cheese

Scrub potato; prick with fork in several places. Place on paper towel in microwave oven. Microwave on 100 percent power for 3 1/2-4 minutes, or until potato is just about tender; turning potato over halfway through cooking time. Let stand 5 minutes. Behavior modification may stop nail biting

DEAR DR. GOTT: Our son has a problem biting his nails and hands. He has bitten the insides of his hands and knuckles for so long that there are big calluses and some raw places that just won't heal. Now he's a teenager and is very conscious of his hands. He'd like to quit the habit. What sort of doctor should he see?

I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report on "Ear Disorders." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

(C)1988, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

DEAR READER: Habits such as this are hard to break. Your son would probably be best helped by behavioral modification. Many large hospitals have these programs, which are designed to help people alter habits and regain control of their lives. Behavioral modification involves a system of aversion therapy and reward. Inappropriate behavior is "punished" and suitable behavior is supported. If no behavioral modification programs are available in or near your community, your son might consider hypnosis. This sometimes helps adult nail biters.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've had a dull earache for six months. Two ENTs have found nothing wrong. Is it worth getting an X-ray?

DEAR DR. GOTT: If qualified otolaryngologists have failed to find a cause for your ear pain, the pain is probably coming from tissues other than the ear. For example, you may have a dental problem, such as a bad tooth or temporomandibular joint dysfunction, an abnormality of the jaw joint that can cause ear pain. Check with a dentist.

Another cause of ear pain is the nerve disorder, neuralgia. This diagnosis may require special testing by a neurologist. Start with a dentist, then work through your doctor to find what other specialists can help you. In the process, X-rays of your jaw may be appropriate.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
Casual players may never learn to recognize situations that call for unusual plays, but experts are supposed to be alert to them. Today's deal presents just such a situation. Would you be surprised to know that two of our best young experts flunked the test? Anyway, cover the East and West hands and see how you would do in four spades. The opening lead is the nine of diamonds. East wins the ace and leads a low club. You will either play the king or play low. Either way, West will take the ace and queen in some order depending upon what you play, and will continue with a third club. So plan the play. Did you discard a heart? And then did you play dummy's AK of spades and a spade back to your queen to take a heart finesse? That would win, but you are now in trouble. If you play the heart ace, East shows out, so you can no longer ruff out the king. If you return to your hand with the spade 10 to take another heart finesse, once again the bad heart split defeats you. And the winning play? Ruff the third club in your hand and take an immediate heart finesse. Then play three rounds of spades ending in your hand and take another heart finesse. Then play a spade back to your 10 and take one more heart finesse. Voila, you are home!

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" written with his father the late Oswald Jacoby are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books. (C) 1986, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

What the day will bring...

By Bernice Bede Osol
YOUR BIRTHDAY

Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This should be a profitable day where things of a material nature are concerned. Your possibilities for gain are more encouraging than usual.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Hopeful conditions continue to prevail in a broad range of matters today. Keep your expectancy level high in all involvements.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You should be rather fortunate today in any dealings you have with authority. Favors apt to be denied others could be granted to you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Problems can either be circumvented or erased today if you utilize your imagination. Don't be fearful about testing out bold new ideas or concepts.
