Triple-Play By Visitors In Third Is Feature Of Game

Adz, Sanford Catcher, Is Hit On Head By Pitched Ball And Is Replaced By Allen

Outhitting Sanford 13 to 6, the Gainesville G-Men scored a 9 to 6 victory over the Lookouts Sunday afternoon at the Municipal ball park.

Gainesville scored first in the second inning when Sparkman sacrificed to bring DeVincenti across the plate. McMullen scored in the same inning on Bray's single to center. Gallagher's clean single in the third added two more to the G-Men's total when Sparkman and McMullen tagged the home sack.

In the second Sanford's third baseman, Hudson, singled high to left field, scoring Atwater and Moore, to tie the count temporarily.

Rogers gave the G-Men another marker in the sixth on errors by Allen and Pitman.

Tallying four runs off four hits and a pair of errors by Sanford, the G-Men practically put the game on ice in the seventh.

Sanford scored twice in the seventh on an error by Gallagher and a single by Verner.

The Lookouts' last two markers were scored in the eighth when Hudson singled and came in on Pitman's triple to be followed by the other scorers when Allen's long fly to left permitted the Sanford shortstop time enough to tag-up and make home.

The third inning saw the G-Men pined a triple play when Pitman lined to Rogino who nailed Schmidt off second and Rodgers caught Hudson off first to complete the play.

Rain threatened constantly throughout the afternoon and in the sixth time out had to be taken for a light shower.

In the second inning Adz, the Sanford catcher, was hit on the head on a pitch from Sparkman,

G-men Gain Close Win Over Sanford Outfit Saturday

Stolen Base Allows Gainesville 1-Run Margin Over Locals

With two away in the 11th inning, Street Gallagher stole home to give the Gainesville G-Men the winning margin in a 5-4 victory over the Sanford Lookouts Saturday night in Gainesville.

After Hudson retired the first two batters to face him, Gallagher lashed one down the first base line for a double, advanced to third on a balk and sneaked home as Hudson took his wind-up.

Gainesville tied the count in the ninth inning when they scored three times after two were away.

Taking the lead in the fourth inning when three hits brought in two runs, Sanford added two more in the eighth on three more hits.

Helms, Gainesville pitcher, was relieved by Larry Weldon at the end of the eighth but received credit for the win. Helms was taken out for a pinch hitter.

Lookouts To Face Azaleas Tonight On Local Diamond

Rogers' Men Will Seek To Jump Back Into Their Winning Ways

The Lookouts meet the Palatka Azaleas here tonight at the Municipal ball park in an effort to get back into their winning ways.

Losing Friday night to the DeLand Reds by the narrow margin of 3-2, and again Saturday night to the Gainesville G-Men by 5-4, the Lookouts' defense hit up in the tight spots yesterday against the G-Men but tonight Manager Bill (Raw Meat) Rodgers will put a team on the field that will be hard to beat.

The loss of Mayo Langston, stellar fielder, who had an appendectomy performed last week, has hurt the Sanford club no little. The hard-hitting ball hawk was a source of strength and when lost to the team he had a batting average of .308.

Although losing Langston, several new players have been added to the team recently and it is expected that they will do much to bolster the Sanford nine.

Following the game with the Azaleas tonight, a return engagement will take the Lookouts to Palatka where they will conclude the two game series with the sixth place outfit.

Starting batteries for the game tonight have not been announced.

Practically one-tenth of the jobless women in 1930 were heads of families.

In 1890 only 21,270 women were reported in the stenographic group of the census—forty years later more than three quarters of a million were reported.

Cone Gaining Ground, Says His Physician

Doctor Erwin Insists All Governor Needs To Obtain Recovery Is Complete Quiet

Sees Patient At Daily Intervals

Says All Body Functions Are Operating In Normal Manner

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Dr. Stanley Erwin said today that Gov. Cone, ill in a hospital here with a heart ailment, "is slowly and steadily improving" and "should get" well in the usual time provided another attack does not occur.

The physician declared he was seeing the patient several times a day and always found the Governor cheerful and anxious to return to his office at Tallahassee.

"The Governor" Dr. Erwin said, "is slowly and steadily improving. His temperature is normal. His pulse rate is 78. His respiration is 18 and blood pressure 112 over 78.

He is eating a normal amount of food and all functions of the body are operating in a normal manner. A cardiographic study made this morning is satisfactory. His improvement is definite and steady. He is progressing in the usual manner in which improvement occurs in this type of condition.

"It is necessary for the Governor to remain quiet for some weeks and not be annoyed with visitors. The Governor has been ill but at the present moment is in no danger and if possible to follow out the usual method of treatment without any interference that will make absolute rest an impossibility, the Governor should get well in the usual time, provided another attack does not occur. This is the rule in circulatory disturbances."

Jackson Locates Fishing Paradise On Coastal Area

Declaring he had discovered a fisherman's paradise, Jack Jackson of Monk's Place today related stories about his experience last week at Bayport on the Gulf that would tickle the fancy of the most ardent angler.

Mr. Jackson reported that during his week's stay at Bayport he caught a total of 18 sea bass, (9 on one day) and innumerable speckled sea trout and other types of fish.

Using a rod and reel which he operated from his rowboat, Mr. Jackson both still fished and cast. On the incoming tide, the fishing was particularly good and he landed aboard one fish after another, the bass weighing between 7 and 10 pounds and the trout averaging between 2 1/2 and 4 pounds.

Bayport, according to Mr. Jackson, boasts a simple hotel as its only attraction besides the fishing. "You can't even buy a pie or a gallon of gasoline from a filling station in the place," he said. The town is 50 miles west of Brooksville, 60 miles north of Tampa and 100 miles from Sanford.

Mr. Jackson, who is widely experienced as a fisherman, said the Bayport fishing was the best he had ever experienced.

He is making the most craft which at San Francisco, California, was used by the U. S. Navy in the war.

First Honors In Jaycee Contest Given Local Pair

Dick Aiken And Doris Jackson In Finals For Central Area

Dick Aiken, baritone, and Miss Doris Jackson, novelty dancer carried away first honors Monday in the fourth series of Orlando Jaycee Amateur Contests.

The pair will see with others in the final elimination contest to be staged at the Beacham Theatre later in the season after all Central Florida counties have had their talent before the Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon meetings.

Winner of the finals will receive a free trip to New York with all expenses paid.

The choice of Dick Aiken was made over Gladys Ferguson, 15-year old Sanford miss, only after each had been called back for an encore. Although Mr. Aiken was adjudged the winner, Orlando Jaycees complimented Miss Ferguson highly and invited her to come back next year for the annual contest.

The Sanford amateurs were led by Miss Eloise Winn, who was the prize winner two years ago in the first annual Jaycee contest. Included on the program were songs, dances, instrument numbers and a duo black-face act.

As an added attraction Mrs. Elvira Garner, author of the prize novel, "Karkiel," was present. Mrs. Garner spoke briefly on the background of her well-known book.

Other amateurs included on the program were Dorothy Clause, Douglas Garner, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McStarrow.

Fireman R. T. Thomas left this morning on a vacation trip through several Southern states but did not intimate where he would go.

Judge Sharon will deliver a talk before the Junior Chamber of Commerce tonight at 7:00 o'clock at the Mayfair Hotel, E. E. Laney announced.

Thomas E. Thomason, pastor of the South Baptist Church has moved from his former home at Lake Mary to 230 West Nineteenth Street in Sanford.

The tall grass and weeds on the section between the Court House and Seminole Boulevard was cut this morning, a tractor being utilized for the purpose.

The Kiwanis Club will hold its regular weekly luncheon tomorrow at the Valera Hotel at 12:15. The luncheon was dispensed with last week due to the barbecue held at Sanlando on Thursday.

Detour signs have been placed out on Thirteenth Street, and also at the Triangle on Seminole Boulevard directing traffic to DeLand over the bridge near Ocala. Road construction is taking place south of the bridge on the highway.

Primary Wins Expected By New Dealers

Administration Sees Victory For Clark Of Missouri And For McGill Of Kansas

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The Roosevelt Administration hoped today to balance the expected renomination of Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri with an overwhelming primary victory for Senator George McGill of Kansas.

Clark was the only Democratic senatorial candidate in four statewide primary elections today which provided few and indirect tests of the president's policies.

Clark opposed the court bill and various other White House measures but Administrative advisers took for granted his defeat of his two New Deal supporters because he had the backing of both Democratic factions in his state.

In Kansas Senator McGill had only nominal opposition and principal interest centered in the selection of his Republican opponent. Voters also cast ballots in Virginia and West Virginia. The New Deal was an issue in some Democratic contests for House seats.

A primary sweep for Senator Clark, the son of the famous Democratic house leader, who came near winning the presidential nomination from Woodrow Wilson in 1912, would increase talk among anti-Roosevelt Democrats of putting him forward in '40 as a "compromise" candidate to stop the New Deal's man, whoever he may be.

That makes the size of Clark's vote a matter of widespread interest in today's numerous elections, which include primary voting in Kansas, Virginia and West Virginia, as well as in Missouri.

President Roosevelt has not entered the Missouri campaign, and Clark has the support of both Democratic factions which are fighting in the state for control of the party. Joseph T. Davis of St. Louis and William H. Merdith of Poplar Bluff are running against him as "100 percent New Dealers."

In the neighborhood state of Kansas, Senator George McGill, a full-fledged New Dealer, and Gov. W. A. Huxman have had no organized opposition in their campaigns for Democratic nomination. There has been a bitter campaign for the Republican senatorial nomination, however, in which one of the candidates, the Rev. Gerald B. Winrod, has been opposed by National Chairman Hamilton and other party leaders. Winrod, an evangelist, has been accused of religious intolerance and in turn has charged his accusers with spreading half-truths about him.

The only contest involving direct intervention by an Administration official is that in Virginia between Representative Howard W. Smith, four-term veteran of the House, and William E. Dodd, Jr., son of the former ambassador to Germany.

They are contesting for the Democratic nomination to Smith's seat in the House—a nomination which, in Democratic Virginia, is tantamount to election.

Many Fish Reported Dead In Gulf Stream

STUART, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Commercial fishermen and charter boat operators reported yesterday an unexplained drop in temperature of the Gulf Stream has killed thousands of tropical fish in the Atlantic Ocean off Stuart.

They said many species of fish—particularly trigger fish and porcupine fish, both unable to survive chilled water—have been seen floating on the Gulf Stream current.

Surf bathers reported the ocean was "too cold for comfort" yesterday and commercial fishermen who go overboard to work their nets said they had been thoroughly chilled when the tide was high.

Bilfish, usually caught in the Gulf Stream which is seven miles offshore here, were landed yesterday a quarter mile from land and charter boat captains said the schools of game fish were seeking the warmer inshore waters.

The Gulf Stream skirts the southern coast of Florida before veering to the northeast. The usually warm current flows across the ocean and is credited with moderating the climate of the British Isles.

Chief Cleveland Perkins Returns On Return Home Palmyra, Virginia

Sees Superior Equipment In Towns Of Comparable Size

Returning from a two weeks' vacation tour of Georgia and the Carolinas, Fire Chief Mack Cleveland declared that he visited several fire stations in the various towns and cities he touched on his trip in order to compare their records and equipment with the Sanford Fire Department.

Chief Cleveland, who made the trip accompanied by Mrs. Cleveland and his young son, declared that he had the opportunity of witnessing a large fire in Atlanta and observing the methods used by the Atlanta firemen in fighting the blaze.

In comparing the Sanford Fire Department with others in towns of this size, he found that most of them had far better and more modern equipment as well as a much larger staff.

The greater part of them, he added, had from 10 to 15 men staffs. He continued on Page Three.

Dean Matherly Is Main Speaker At University Session

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 2.—Speaking before the University of Florida summer session student body Monday morning, Dean Walter J. Matherly said that "it is easier to earn money affirmatively than it is to save it consistently; it is easier to save it consistently than it is to invest it wisely; and it is easier to invest it wisely than it is to spend it intelligently."

The speaker, who since 1924 has developed an outstanding college of business administration at the University of Florida, declared that "the economy of consuming wealth is just as important in our American way of life as the economy of producing wealth. Wealth is not an end, but a means to an end. We earn to live; we do not live to earn. We produce to consume, we do not consume to produce."

Dean Matherly stressed that it is not enough to know how to produce wealth, but people must know how to consume it, to use it, and to get the most from it.

"The economy of spending—the use of wealth—is just as important as, and in many ways more important than, the economy of earning—the getting of wealth," Dean Matherly said.

Monday morning's address was the fifth in a special series of lectures scheduled for the University of Florida's 1938 summer session. Earlier speakers in the series were President C. S. Boucher, University of West Virginia; Dr. Edgar W. Knight, University of North Carolina; Supt. W. A. Sutton of the public schools, Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. Clifford Lyons, head of the English department, University of Florida.

Sixth and final speaker in the series will be Dr. S. R. Powers, Columbia University, who will be based in five addresses Aug. 15-18.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

FAITH IS A FORM OF COURAGE: By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should not see, received for an inheritance, obeying; and he went out, not knowing whither he went.—Hebrews 11:8

Tobacco is bringing such a fancy price in Live Oak, it makes one wonder if some of our "wax" land could be utilized for tobacco culture.

Of course everyone in Sanford is against child labor, but it's funny how many parents bring their ten year old sons in to see if they can get jobs as carrier boys.

There seems to be plenty of money in tobacco, reports from Lake City and Live Oak would indicate. Some day Seminole County may be producing tobacco on a big scale.

That fellow who jumped off the 17th floor of a New York hotel last week figured life wasn't worth living. He never had eaten any hog jowls and spiced bread.

If John Garner should be nominated for the presidency in 1940 that sure would be a case of a person being precipitated from obscurity into the limelight overnight.

When Corrigan gets back President Roosevelt wants to see him. They can compare notes on getting there by flying the wrong way.—Fort Meyers News Press. The President should appoint him Budget Director.

They say that President Roosevelt is going to throw the books into Senator George of Georgia when he gets back from his fishing trip. Well, he's getting a lot of good practice gaffing all those amberjacks and barracudas.

Germany is practicing launching fully equipped soldiers from airplanes as a part of her war maneuvers. Pictures of the jump reaching this country, however, do not show what would happen to the soldiers immediately upon landing in enemy territory.

Hilber takes credit for having avoided a European war last May when Czechoslovakia mobilized her troops. Hilber deserves credit, like the man who saved his friend's life by not killing him after he had stolen his best girl.

The old saying that there was nothing left but a grease spot when an added meaning in view of the finding of a small gasoline and oil covered area in the middle of the Pacific following the disappearance of the Hawaii Clipper.

Two valued members of The Herald staff are participating this week in the Second Battle of New Orleans so if the paper appears somewhat less complete than usual we hope our readers will bear with us. It's all in the interest of patriotism and national defense. And we feel sure that our contributions to the cause will return better able to ever to carry on the battle.

It is a great week of Democratic primaries throughout the state. The biggest one of all, however, is the "last" of New Orleans where Senator Charles McNary is being defeated by Senator Charles McNary.

A Missing Comma

The World War began with a comparatively insignificant incident at Sarajevo and millions of young men went to their deaths while billions of dollars worth of property was blasted into bits, all because a little group of fanatical radicals managed to assassinate the Austrian Archduke during a visit to Serbia.

Last Sunday thousands of Japanese and Russian soldiers were locked in deadly combat in which several hundred were killed all because of a dispute revolving around an uninhabited hill located on the boundary between Siberia and Manchukuo. The Russians had taken possession of the hill. The Japs drove them away, and then the Russians took it back from the Japs in a battle which lasted for several hours.

As a result of this incident relations between the two countries, which have never been good, have been strained as they have not been before since the great Russo-Japanese war in 1905. Since that time more than a hundred bloody incidents have occurred, but none of them have brought the countries so close to war as they now find themselves. All because of the disputed ownership of a little hill.

The dispute arises out of a treaty signed between China and Russia away back in 1869 after a great war between these two countries, when Russia was trying to find an eastern outlet to the sea, and the greater part of Siberia was given to her by China. At that time this northern territory was not regarded as any too valuable and the boundary was not defined with rigid exactitude.

Furthermore, there were necessarily two different texts of the treaty, one in Chinese and one in Russian, two languages which are as far apart as the poles. The text of the Chinese treaty contains a comma, missing in the Russian text, which the Japanese declare gives them the right to the disputed hill. Naturally they assert that the Chinese treaty shall be recognized by both parties.

Long after the signing of this treaty, the Japanese conquered Manchuria and set up the puppet state of Manchukuo, and the Chinese by force of circumstances have become aligned with the Russians, and would undoubtedly insist that the Russian text is the correct one. But however this may be, the Japs, this time, insist the original Chinese treaty is the proper one.

So, while the World War was caused by the death of a single archduke, it appears possible that a war today may be caused by a comma, or a missing comma. It isn't much to fight about, but when there are no better issues at stake, it may have to do.

Your Child's Home

If your child does not get along well in school and appears to be falling behind in his studies, the trouble is more likely to be found among conditions at home than at school. If he has a strong healthy body and a sound mind, there is no reason why he should lag behind his playmates in his studies unless he does not have the right environment at home.

Dr. Frank O'Brien, director of the Board of Education's child guidance bureau in New York state, declared recently that unhappy home relationships are one of the paramount causes of failure in school. A child whose parents are always at cross purposes with one another, or whose home has been turned into a nightmare by other relatives residing with the family, hasn't a chance to compete with children who come from well ordered homes.

Parental harshness is another reason given as a handicap which many children undergo. Such children, repressed in their own homes, are apt to seek emotional release in school; and accustomed to severe treatment from their parents, are apt to ignore the comparatively mild admonitions of their teachers. In many instances where children failing in their studies have been investigated, Dr. O'Brien reports, they have been found to have an unfortunate home life.

Reporting on the results of physical defects in school work, Dr. O'Brien says that of 1,417 children given complete physical examinations, nearly 80 percent were found to be suffering from one or more ailments of various kinds. Twenty-seven percent had trouble with their eyes. Twenty-five percent had some kind of nose or throat trouble. Malnutrition was affecting unfavorably more than 19 percent of them. And 15 percent had diseased tonsils.

It goes without saying that a child with defective vision is not likely to be one of the "brightest" pupils in the class. Many a dumb student, however, has been turned into one of the best merely by the proper fitting of glasses. Neither can a child who starts the day with a harsh word from the folks at home and who expects to return to an atmosphere of rancor and discord in the evening, be expected to do his best work at school.

Give the child a chance by seeing that such physical defects as he may have are corrected and by providing him with cheerful pleasant surroundings at home. Then your child will make you as proud of him as you should want to be.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By JOHN HIX

8-2-38... DEEPEST DIVE... THE WORLD'S DEEPEST DIVE WAS MADE IN A LAKE! MIX BEBE NOHL DESCENDED 114 FEET IN LAKE MICHIGAN, DECEMBER 1937, BETTERING BY 114 FEET THE FORMER RECORD OF FRANK CRILEY SET IN PEARL HARBOR, HONOLULU, IN 1915.

DEEPEST DIVE... Four hundred and twenty feet below the waves of Lake Michigan a shadowy figure moved slowly over a muddy bottom. Max Gene Nohl, deep-sea diver, had made a new world's record descent—in a lake!

The day was December 1, 1937, and cold. There was nothing to see, so Nohl quickly rose to the surface. He was prevented from getting the "bread" because of a helium-oxygen mixture that eliminated nitrogen. A former student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Nohl had himself designed this self-contained suit for deep-water work. "When I was walking on a 420-foot bottom," Nohl says, "my body was submitted to a pressure of approximately 190 pounds per square inch. The surface of my body was actually supporting a weight of over 600,000 pounds of water. This pressure it transmitted to every point in the body. It is because of this that we are free to work, use tools, walk, etc., we are under the same pressure as the water we are in."

BLEEDING THE COW

TOWNSEND WEEKLY

In the interior of darkest Africa there lives a tribe of people who, according to explorers, depend on cows for a large part of their food. Although milk from the cow is highly valued, they bleed the animals regularly also, the blood furnishing another important item in the diet.

Civilized Americans regard this not only as a curious and sort of savage custom, but as poor business also, as it puts too heavy a burden on the cow—a double burden which Nature did not intend it to bear. It is interesting to note, therefore, that we highly civilized Americans are now doing about the same thing to the great American industrial cow, which is supposed to give milk freely in the form of dividends and employment to our people.

The extent to which it is being bled out with the greatly restricted flow of dividends and wages. Since 1932, bleeding of industry by taxes has increased until at present the toll is more than twice what it was then. To be more specific: in 1932, 156 large companies paid $681,648,286 in state and federal taxes. In 1937 these same companies paid $1,631,284,094, an increase of nearly 200 per cent.

To many of us, large sums like this means little, but when we find on further investigation that these companies pay $514 in taxes for every employee they have on their pay rolls, it does mean something. Another striking example of the effect of this bleeding on the "milk production" of these industries is found in the fact that they have to pay $2.62 in taxes in terms of every share of common stock, whereas the dividends averaged but $1.95.

We might dismiss all this with a shrug by saying that this bleeding on the industrial cow affects only the wealthy if we were not confronted with the fact that there are five thousand million stockholders and that three-fourths of these are folk who are in the big battle and just returned from a nine days' stay in the front line trenches where he narrowly escaped a big shell that dropped near enough to scatter stones and dirt all over his head.

That of Frank Criley made off Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, in 1915, which stood for 22 years as the world's record descent at 306 feet. "Two men have gone deeper than I," Nohl explains. "Dr. William Beebe descended 3,028 feet in a steel ball, the 'Bathysphere,' and recently an Italian diver in a steel shell went down 800 feet. These men, however, were not under the pressure of the water, and could do nothing but look out of a window."

The Sanford Forum

Editor Sanford Herald:

How long will we commit legalized murder? The taking of human life doesn't stop crime and is no punishment. Soon the dead are forgotten. It has been my unfortunate duty to have five hung by order of the court while acting as Sheriff and I watched closely the effect.

Women committing a crime now punishable by death should be sterilized and placed in these reformatory or training schools to cook, keep house and do sewing making clothes for the needy women and undernourished children. For over forty years I have given a great deal of thought to this subject and should be very happy if I could see the above suggestions put into law in every state in the union.

Our doctors I hope will give some thought to these suggestions. Our doctors do more work than they ever get pay for than any class of people and still we have more boys and girls suffering from under-nourishment and want of proper medical attention. It is not right for our young children to suffer for proper medical attention for I am sure here is where most of our criminals are made. A boy or girl that doesn't have proper medical attention and nourishment feel they are not getting a fair chance in life and they are not.

If our Chambers of Commerce, county officers, especially our judges and county commissioners and our representatives in Congress would ask the assistance of government in building more homes and training schools and hospitals where the unfortunate could be treated and each county have an emergency hospital where men, women or children could be treated until well, what a blessing it would be to humanity, and I am sure every dollar judicially spent in this way would pay ten-fold in better women and men.

With all the money being spent for relief it could keep up these institutions and the money being spent now as it is does so little good. For the sake of humanity let's take better care of our boys and girls; let our county lead off by getting the Government to build a home here in Sanford for the raising and training of our under-nourished and diseased boys and girls—and build a good one—and an emergency hospital where people can be treated whether they have money or not. I am tended to pay $15 or spend 40 days in jail. Anderson Bradley, charged with disorderly conduct, was sentenced to spend 30 days in jail. Pierce Cooper, charged with drunkenness, was sentenced to pay $10 or spend 20 days in jail. Sherman Brown, charged with drunkenness, was sentenced to spend 30 days in jail.

O. J. Miller Is Found Dead On Oviedo Road

Dr. Miller, Retired Physician, Was Son Of T. J. Miller, Pioneer Resident

Owened Seminole Pharmacal Co.

Justice Roberts Reports Death Due To Monoxide Poisoning

Dr. O. J. Miller of this city was found dead at 11:30 o'clock this morning in his car on the Oviedo road about one mile from the Orlando highway by Deputy Sheriff Jack Hickson, Sheriff C. M. Hand announced today.

Dr. Miller's body was lying on the seat of his car. A section of garden hose had been attached to the exhaust of the car and led into the interior. All the windows had been closed. Justice of the Peace J. A. Roberts said death was due to inhalation of carbon monoxide gas. Sheriff Hand said the motor had been left on and had run down. He added that the parking lights were on, which indicated the car had been stopped there Tuesday night.

Dr. Miller, owner of the Seminole Pharmacal Company, was a retired physician and surgeon. He had resided in Sanford many years, coming here when a young boy.

He was the son of the late T. J. Miller, long identified with the early development of Sanford and as a legislator. He is a brother of Frank L. Miller, former city commissioner and present City Judge, and is also survived by his wife, Mrs. Miller, two daughters, Mrs. Harold Powers and Mrs. Sidney Wilen, both of Sanford, and a son, O. J. Miller, Jr. who is in the Navy.

The body was placed in the care of the Erickson funeral home. Services will be conducted tomorrow by Rev. J. B. Root, pastor of the Congregational Church, at the Erickson Funeral Home at 4:00 o'clock.

Masons were requested to meet at the Lodge Hall preparatory to holding services at the grave in Lakeview Cemetery where interment will be made.

Mather Relates Experiences In His Air Travels

Colton Mather, in Sanford on a business misadventure, took time out long enough in the Herald Office Tuesday afternoon to recount an experience among the many he has had in his extensive air travels.

Mr. Mather, in speaking of the disaster which befell the Hawaii Clipper, said he flew from Alameda, California to Honolulu Jan. 7 on the China Clipper with K. W. Kennedy, traffic manager of the Pan American Airways, who was aboard the ill-fated Hawaii Clipper when that craft disappeared in the Pacific a few days ago.

On the January trip two other passengers included the President of the Lions Club and Mrs. Fred Noonan, whose husband, a member of the China Clipper crew, was lost when that airplane fell in the Pacific several months ago. Also aboard the China Clipper on its fateful last flight, was Captain Ed Musick, who Mr. Mather met in the Moana Hotel in Honolulu the night before the famous pilot took off on his final flight.

Mr. Mather said he didn't like to think of himself as a seaman, but concluded by stating that he was aboard the Hindenburg on her next to last flight from Germany.

Sewing Room Is Given $32,115 In Additional Funds

Continuing Employment Is Provided For 89 Individuals

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Administrator Robert J. Dill announced today the final approval of a WPA project calling for the employment of 89 persons in the Sanford sewing room. He said the government would contribute $32,115 and local sponsors $8,100.

Administrator Dill also announced authorization of funds for a number of other Florida projects designed to provide employment for nearly 1,000 persons.

Dill said 1,681 persons would be given jobs immediately on five continuing projects previously in operation but temporarily closed, awaiting new funds for which the Federal Appropriations total is $487,900. Approximately 200 men will be employed on five new projects costing $55,713.

The continuing projects placed in operation again were listed as: Sanford, sewing room employing 89 persons; Federal funds $32,115, sponsors $8,100.

Orlando, mattress factory supplying jobs to 172 persons; Federal funds $74,866, sponsors $1,490.

Tampa, sewing room giving work to 108 persons; Federal funds $312,558, sponsors $71,490.

Key West, sewing room employing 114 persons; Federal funds $61,826, sponsors $14,663.

Fort Taylor (Key West) road improvements, 107 workers, Federal funds $6,535.

The new projects given final approval yesterday, included one for study of recreational areas and facilities in Florida. Twenty workers will be employed on the survey costing $19,572 with the WPA contributing $15,216.

Toledo Newspaper Is Wrecked By Slump

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The Toledo News Bee, a Scripps-Howard newspaper, announced yesterday with its final edition yesterday it was suspending publication. The announcement said:

"The News Bee for several years has been published at a loss. So long as it appeared there was a place in the Toledo field for the News Bee, its owners have been willing to sustain these losses and make further investments on the chance the News Bee would in time become a reasonably profitable institution. This was done in the face of greatly increased production costs, due to mounting labor costs and rising newspaper prices.

The decision to retire from the field was based on the conviction finally that two afternoon papers cannot be published with fair profit for both in Toledo."

HOPE IS GONE

MANILA, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The chance of finding the Hawaii Clipper and the 18 men she carried when she vanished last Friday appeared hopeless to most observers as a fleet of 13 naval ships completed the fifth day of a fruitless search.

Honors Split In Balloting Over Country

Anti-Roosevelt And New Deal Backers Both Get Victories In Primary Voting

Roosevelt backers and anti-administration candidates divided Democratic honors in four primary elections yesterday. In Missouri Senator Bennett Clark, frequent Roosevelt critic, won the Democratic nomination by a landslide. Former Governor Henry S. Caulfield was chosen the Republican nominee.

In Kansas Senator George McGee, a Roosevelt follower, easily won the Democratic renomination. Former Governor Clyde M. Red captured the Republican nomination. Rev. Gerald Winrod, called a pro-Nazi by his opponents, ran third.

Governor Hixman, Democrat, was renominated and will be opposed by state Senator Payne Ratner, Republican.

In Virginia two Roosevelt supporters lost House races. Representative Howard Smith defeated William E. Dodd, Jr., three to one. Former representative George Darden unseated Representative Norman Hamilton.

In West Virginia Representatives Ramsey, Edmonson and Johnson, all Roosevelt backers, won Democratic renomination.

Tactics used in the hot Kentucky primary struggle between Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley and Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler were denounced by the Senate Campaign Investigating Committee as "deplorable" and as a threat to the "free and impartial ballot."

The committee did not mention either Barkley or Chandler by name but condemned by name the methods used by each to control the electorate. Evidence gathered by H. Ralph Burton, a committee agent, and two or three assistants, disclosed widespread attempts to control the vote of relief workers, heavy contributions from Federal employers and a generally bad situation, Chairman Morris D. Shepherd (D Texas), said.

National Guard troops which had been expected to march into Memphis for Election Day on trained last night for South Mississippi in engage in war game maneuvers.

Simultaneously, John R. Neal, one of the candidates for the Democratic senatorial nomination, charged that Federal Judge John D. Martin exhibited "bias and prejudice" in issuing an injunction to prevent use of the troops here and suggested impeachment proceedings against the judge.

Sen. J. Hamilton Lewis (D Ill.), dapper, bewhiskered Senate whip, announced his plans to resign from the Upper House next year.

Lewis, whose term expires in 1943, said that by retiring in 1939 his successor could be chosen in the 1940 election and that the State would be saved the cost of a special election. He said he would have resigned this year but for the fact that he felt he should "continue my support of President Roosevelt in his great work."

Baby Skunks Given Zoo By W. A. Adams

Four baby skunks, that released an aroma which could be detected for blocks around, were presented to the Sanford Zoo Tuesday by W. A. Adams, local farmer, who found the "kitties" with their mother on a highway outside of Sanford.

Mr. Adams drove the mother away and gathered up her offspring and came to town. It was only after his arrival within the city limits that one of the "children" became aroused and assumed an unattractive attitude resulting in a hurried call to the fumigating department.

The baby skunks will be on display at the local zoo after they have been trained in better manners, a process which is not difficult to perform, attendants at the zoo declared.

Rebecca Stevens Praises Florida School Session

Returns From 3-Week Term Of Teaching At Daytona Beach

Miss Rebecca Stevens has just returned to Sanford after spending seven weeks at the University of Florida School of Education, Daytona Beach, Fla. She returned from a three-week term of teaching at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Miss Stevens, who is principal of the Sanford school, pointed out that it is doing an excellent work in teacher training.

Robert D. Bolley, state advisor of trade and industrial education in Florida, and C. F. E. Straw, southern regional agent of the United States office of education in charge of vocational education, were largely responsible for the establishment of the school.

The school was planned primarily for the purpose of offering training that would meet the needs of teachers in trade and industrial education in the South. Dr. W. J. Norman, dean of the college of education at the University of Florida, and director of the university's summer activities, was a frequent visitor to the school.

Sponsored jointly by the state department of public instruction and the University of Florida, the school was organized under the guidance and control of the advisory board of state supervisors of trade and industrial education in the southern states, and a number of these state supervisors have assisted the school further by conducting courses in the curricula offered.

More than 110 people were enrolled for the two three-week terms of the school, and approximately 100 were present.

Sharon Calls For Trailer Camp In Talk To Jaycees

Points Out Sanford's Need For Facilities To Handle Tourists

Sharon called for a trailer camp here, J. G. Sharon, president of the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday night at the meeting here.

Mr. Sharon, speaking at the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting, pointed out that it is doing an excellent work in teacher training.

He asked the Jaycees to support a movement for such a camp in the city, declaring that until proper arrangements are made to handle tourists, Sanford will not have the influx of visitors that should spur here in the winter months.

F. F. Lewis proposed that the Jaycees should sponsor the development of a one-acre site during August, explaining that he was in touch with the publicity manager of a circus willing to come to the city. The plan would be to give the Jaycees 25 percent of the gate receipts with the circus taking 75 percent. The proposition was taken over but no action was taken.

Bob Holly made a motion that the club place an advertisement in the travel magazine, "Go," which is published here in Sanford. The advertisement would point out the advantages of Sanford for tourists. It was decided to investigate the advertising rates before taking action on the motion.
