

Martin Forges Ahead For Governor Judge Smith And Boyle Are Leading

Hardee, Sholtz, Caldwell Are Trailing; Nathan Mayo Tops F.O. King Of Orlando Wilcox Is Leading Ruth Bryan Owen

Amos Is Ahead Of Lee And Swearingen In Comptroller Race

JACKSONVILLE, June 8. (A.P.)—Showing strength in every section of the state, former Governor John Martin today stood in the lead of seven other candidates as returns poured in from yesterday's primary for the Democratic nomination.

Returns from 886 precincts of the 1283 in the state gave Martin 22,022, Cary Hardee, also a former governor, 17,791, David Sholtz, Daytona Beach lawyer, 16,544, Stafford Caldwell, Jacksonville attorney, 14,423, Charles Durrance, Jacksonville state's attorney, 12,308, Tom Hart, Jacksonville furniture dealer, 3523, Arthur Gomez, Key West state senator, 3478, and Tom Watson, Tampa legislator, 1801.

Governor Franklin Roosevelt, New York, was forecast sweeping the state in the presidential preferential race against Governor William Murray, Oklahoma, and L. J. Chassee, of Wisconsin, far behind.

Interest centered in the Fourth District of Congress where Mark Wilcox, West Palm Beach city attorney, was running 8000 ahead of Ruth Bryan Owen, incumbent. Out of about a third of the votes in the district, Wilcox had 17,392 in 180 precincts and Owen had 14,422.

Nathan Mayo was leading Franklin King, Orlando, nearly two to one with approximately a third of the returns in for the commissioners of agriculture.

Ernest Amos appeared to face a runoff with one of his two opponents for the comptroller race, the district, Wilcox had 17,345 in 183 precincts and Owen had 14,574.

In 349 precincts Amos had 14,482, Lee 12,896, and Swearingen 10,199. A place on the railroad commission was still in doubt with Hudson Burr, Tallahassee, and Olden Byrd, Jacksonville, leading scattering returns in a field of seven.

Herbert Drane, seeking renomination for Congress in the First District nearly doubled the vote of his two opponents in 139 precincts out of 373, with 7,726 to 3,148 for Sumner Lowry, Sr., and 4,911 for Hardin Peterson. Tom Yon, of the Third District of Congress, pulled out a lead over Millard Caldwell, leaving R. G. Patterson in third place. With 1534 precincts out of 863 Yon had 4510, Caldwell, 4528, Patterson, 2411.

HOUSE PASSES BONUS ARMY GARNER RELIEF BILL 216 TO 182

Program Provides Immediate Aid To Unemployed By Means Of Big Construction

WASHINGTON, June 8. (A.P.)—The Democratic unemployment relief bill, providing a half billion dollars for a public works bond issue was approved today by the Senate Banking Committee. The bill also provides for borrowing of paper of the Reconstruction Corporation by one and a half billion dollars for loans on self liquidating construction projects. The committee voted, however, to eliminate provisions for loans to competing rivals.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The House smashed through bitter Republican opposition yesterday to pass the $2,300,000,000 Garner relief program providing immediate aid to the distressed and designed to reduce unemployment through construction of public works and self-liquidating projects.

The vote was 216 to 182. The Garner bill, passed under the most drastic "gag rule" during this session of Congress, provides for a billion dollar increase in the funds of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation "to broaden the base for loans"; more than a billion dollars expenditure on a public works program and a fund of $100,000,000 to be administered by President Hoover for immediate relief of distress.

Shortly before the vote on the Garner bill the House rejected 218 to 183 President Hoover's relief plan which was offered by Representative Willis C. Hawley. (R. Ore.), as a substitute for the Speaker's program.

The administration proposal contained provisions for increasing the capital of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation $1,500,000,000 to finance self-liquidating projects, a fund of $300,000,000 for direct relief to unemployed and money to finance agricultural projects.

The Garner plan, bitterly attacked by President Hoover as "pork barrel" legislation because of the public works provision, is the first giant relief proposal backed by party leaders to be voted on during this session.

An earlier attempt to provide relief to unemployed through the LaFollette-Costigan bill failed. It was vigorously opposed by the administration, despite testimony of leading relief workers of the country that local funds were inadequate to combat distress.

Democrats in the House voted solidly for the Speaker's bill today. They had pledged to this action in a caucus last week. However, even the most optimistic of party leaders did not appear hopeful that the measure would become law. They anticipated it would merely serve as the basis for a compromise with the Senate which is expected to pass its own relief bill before adjournment.

BONUS ARMY HOLDS PARADE IN U. S. CAPITAL

Finely-Disciplined Force Led By Fifteen Drum Corps As Spectators Cheer

WASHINGTON, June 8. (A.P.)—The bonus expeditionary force, 6000 to 10,000 strong, marched last night to emphasize with tramping feet and solid columns its demand for immediate payment of the soldiers' compensation certificates.

Recruited from all sections of the nation, the veterans, attired in soiled khaki, overalls or unpressed civvies, swung down historic Pennsylvania, with military step and quick execution of the commands of company leaders, barked as in the days of the A. E. F.

Crowds along the line of march cheered the ragged army. A throng in front of the fashionable Willard Hotel burst into repeated applause, and one woman excitedly waved a flag and shouted her approval.

A large detail of motorcycle police headed the procession and ran back and forth along the column. Other officers were stationed in profusion along the line of march, ready to deal quickly with any manifestation of radical zeal.

The army of veterans was led by a local American Legion post (five and drum corps). America's most historic parade ground was lined off by police, and behind the stout steel cables crowds of curious Washingtonians gathered some time before the generally well-disciplined former service men began their march.

The veterans gathered around Washington's monument. From there the line of march was down Constitution Avenue to Fifteenth Street to Pennsylvania Avenue and the peace monument at the foot of the capitol. There they disbanded and returned to their temporary billets.

Just before the long lines in military formation stepped into the street, a band of music (Continued On Page Four)

Mississippi Goes For Roosevelt In Primary Election

JACKSON, Miss., June 8. (A.P.)—Mississippi Democrats, in convention here yesterday, approved the presidential candidacy of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, elected an unopposed delegation to the Chicago convention and turned thumbs down on a proposal urging inscription of a "dry" plank in the national Democratic platform.

Huge Throng Is Present At Herald's Election Party; Returns Slow Coming In

Another large and good-natured crowd of politically minded residents of Seminole County last night and until early this morning helped The Sanford Herald to bring to an official end one of the most unique political campaigns in years by attending The Herald's election-night party.

The weather was ideal; the throng of approximately 4000 persons came early and stayed late and the candidates milled through the crowd, some claiming victory, others carrying a far-away look which indicated that they early saw the hand-writing on the wall.

A hitch in an otherwise well-presented program was the usual delay in hearing reports from Seminole County precincts, and those from the state. As early as 9:00 o'clock, The Herald's Associated Press wire correspondent in Jacksonville made a prediction that it would be nearly midnight before any valuable returns would come in, and his prediction came true almost to the hour, for it was not until then that many of this county's precincts began to arrive at The Herald office.

The reason for this delay may be apparent to every voter, for the ballot was one of the largest ever to be handed Florida voters, and almost without exception election clerks all over Florida counted local races first.

Another reason for the delay lies in the fact that the record-breaking vote which was cast in precincts one and three, Sanford, must have surely been duplicated throughout Florida. All primary election records for this county were shattered yesterday when 1215 of the 1248 qualified voters in Precinct No. 3 Sanford cast ballots, and 1104 of the 1131 qualified voters in Precinct No. 1 Sanford cast ballots. In other words, less than 60 persons who still have voted, failed to do so.

AL'S BACKERS PLACE HOPES ON STIFF FIGHT

Plan Furious Contest Over Selection Of Permanent Chairman Of Convention

NEW YORK, June 8. (A.P.)—Alfred E. Smith's political allies debated yesterday to name their hopes of nominating the "Happy Warrior" on a furious fight over the selection of a permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention.

This was learned at the conclusion of a strategy meeting of Smith's "war board," which spent four hours behind closed doors in a skyscraper office.

"It will be a fight to the last ditch," said the spokesman of the group, Thomas F. Spellacy, Smith leader in Connecticut, as he outlined plans for a united battle to elect Joseph Shivers, executive chairman of the Democratic national committee, as presiding officer of the convention.

He inferred the meeting had dealt with little else, except a decision that Gov. Joseph R. Ely, of Massachusetts, would be nominated by Smith, and that Representative Mary E. Norton, of New Jersey, would be among the second choices.

It thus appeared the first test of strength between Roosevelt would come on the question of the Smith forces, who were represented as feeling the issue would give them an ideal ground on which to coordinate and solidify the opposition to the New York governor and prevent loss from dominating the convention.

Shivers already has questioned Roosevelt's "good faith" in the decision of the New York voters to fight for the election of Senator Walsh, of Montana, as permanent chairman.

Senator Wheeler, of Montana yesterday withdrew by assuming Shivers of using a national in (Continued on Page Three)

U. S. Gunboat Goes To Aid Of Stranded English Steamers

SHANGHAI, June 8. (A.P.)—A dispatch telling of heavy casualties inflicted by the U. S. gunboat Oahu on Chinese soldiers who were attacking two British steamers in the upper Yangtze River, was published yesterday by the Exchange Telegraph agency.

Officers Scouring Negotiations Are Alabama Hills In Afted At Erasing Quest Of Bandits Erin, British Row

GADSDEN, Ala., June 8. (A.P.)—The hill country north of here was scoured yesterday for a roving bandit gang believed to be responsible for a murder and a series of daring holdups.

While the search was on, a boy, his mother and two other women, were questioned in an effort to throw some light on the slaying of T. M. Lambert, photographer, in his Lookout mountain studio Saturday night.

Officers said they believed the men who killed Lambert and held up several persons Saturday night were the same who held up a bridge game at the mountain home of E. J. Lewis, and a country store, near Leeds, several days ago.

Similarity of the manner in which the bridge game and store were held up led officers theorize the same bandits participated in both robberies. In each instance the victims were lined up facing the wall while their pockets were rifled.

A youth who said he was accosted by five men Saturday night near Lambert's studio, told officers one of them guarded him while the others entered the place. A moment later he said a shot rang out and they all fled.

Four occupants of an automobile were halted shortly afterward by men carrying pistols and shot guns, but were permitted to continue when they were told their automobile was "too small." The driver of another car failed to heed their command to halt and a rain of bullets followed him as he sped away.

It was considered certain that the oath question had been touched upon. The official statement recorded a preliminary exchange of views which will be followed by a discussion in London Friday as already arranged. The Irish president will go to London for the next conference.

In addition to the oath question, Anglo-Irish relations have been disturbed by Mr. de Valera's plan to discontinue payment of land annuities to the British.

The delegation of 20, which will be headed by the state's two U. S. Senators, Pat Harrison and Hubert D. Stephens, Gov. Bennett Conner and Attorney General Greek L. Rice, are openly "friendly" to the New Yorker. Members of the delegation last night indicated that a statement setting out the attitude of the delegates probably would be used before they leave for Chicago late this month.

Party leaders last night expressed satisfaction with the work of the convention, declaring that while the state delegation "decidedly" overwhelmingly favored the nomination of Governor Roosevelt, "it is not bound by any convention restrictions and is in a position to swing to any candidate should the lineup change between now and the time the Chicago convention gets under way."

When local voters went to the polls yesterday, they established what is probably an all time record in primary elections. There were 3468 qualified voters, 3277 of whom cast ballots, and leaving only 191 not voting.

Unofficial count of various races in both Seminole and Brevard counties produced the following results at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon:

In Seminole County for circuit judge, Millard Smith, of Titusville, had a total of 1348 votes as against 998 votes for George A. DeCottles and 505 votes for W. S. Collins. Incomplete returns from Brevard county gave Smith, 1392; DeCottles, 611, and Collins, 2740. DeCottles, 1609 and Collins 660.

In Seminole County, for state's attorney, Lloyd F. Boyle had a total of 2469 votes as against 2110 polled by E. F. Housholder. Brevard county gave Boyle 1170 votes and Housholder 1052 votes, making the total vote, Boyle, 2459; Housholder, 2110.

In Seminole County, Frank L. Woodruff, running for the state senate had 1192 votes as against 689 polled by Senator J. J. Parrish, of Titusville, and 469 polled by Clyde G. Trammell, of Mellebourne. Brevard county gave Woodruff, 370 votes; Parrish, 1330 votes; and Trammell, 821 votes, making the total vote, Parrish, 2019; Woodruff, 1502; and Trammell, 1290.

H. S. White, running for representative in the state legislature, Group No. 1, had 1280 votes as against 916 polled by Frank Kay Anderson. White carried the county precincts by 19 votes, polling 434 as against 415 by Anderson.

Big Crowd Present At Election Party Staged By Herald

When the final return was flashed on the screen, at 8:45 o'clock this morning, there were still about 200 persons on hand. Among those who gave valuable assistance in making the party a success were: The Melbourne Times and the Titusville Star-Advocate who were constantly in communication by telephone with The Herald office; D. C. Howard who operated the stereopticon machine; Roy Williams, the cartoonist whose caricatures drew loud applause on several occasions; Homer, Claude and his Cole spectral truck; several Sanford boys who entertained the audience with guitar and vocal selections; members of election boards in every precinct in the county; Chief of Police Roy G. Williams and his staff who cleared the streets and brought city benches for use by the people; George Schaal, veteran railroad and radio operator who handled the AP wire; and the scores of persons who volunteered checking duty at various county and city precincts, reporting as often as they could get away from the polls.

AL'S BACKERS PLACE HOPE ON STIFF FIGHT

Political observers saw in the extensive plans for the fight being made in both camps, a possibility that the outcome will have a considerable effect on the strength of the candidates appearing when the balloting for a presidential candidate begins.

"Our purpose is to nominate Alfred E. Smith for president," Spillacy said, "and we will not stop until that goal is reached." "We believe Smith will be nominated because he is the one man in the country who stands with a program that has been approved by the Democrats of the nation."

"We believe that for this reason he should be nominated, and also because of his splendid record as a public official, and because of the 15 or 16 million votes cast for him in 1928."

"It will be the desire of the convention to nominate a winner and what we need in the White House is a fighter. That man is Smith."

In indicating the Smith drive would be hinged on the attempt to win the chairmanship, Spillacy said there had been no discussion of attempts to line up favorite son states for the "Happy Warrior."

Neither had the conferees concerned themselves with "figures or delegates."

Prohibition likewise was not discussed, he said.

Formula Is Sought For Dry Law Plank By Party Leaders

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(A.P.)—Republican leaders sought the formula of their intended prohibition resubmission plank yesterday while the Democratic party forces of Roosevelt and his opposition over control of their convention.

Republican congressional leaders are definitely committed to the resubmission plank but a battle between the wets and drys on whether to submit the issue to state legislatures or state conventions may have to be settled on the floor of the convention.

The prohibitionist leaders who have agreed to the resubmission plank rather than take a chance on a straight-up repeal declaration by the convention are insisting that the question be left with the state legislatures.

The anti-prohibitionists are demanding the terms of the tentative plank already agreed upon providing that the question be submitted to non-partisan state conventions elected solely for the purpose of considering the proposition of "retention, revision or repeal."

James R. Garfield, the chairman of the Republican resolutions committee, argued for the latter proposition. He wanted to see President Hoover before departing for Chicago.

While the Republican leaders are carefully guarding the President in their discussions over prohibition issues, the presence of Postmaster General Brown of Hoover's official family in all of the conference has led to the general conclusion that the resubmission proposal is in harmony with Hoover's views.

Monday night's unexpected declaration from John D. Rockefeller, Jr., long a prohibitionist champion, in favor of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment re-energized through the Capitol yesterday.

At the head of the column were 18 former soldiers who received high honors for their services. Strict orders had been given that there should be no demonstrations.

Just before the parade started two communists, Herman Levine, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Leon Odlin, of Camden, N. J., and Philadelphia, arrested for communist agitation, were released by the police but were told not to participate in the parade.

Swinging down Pennsylvania Avenue, the veterans of '17 '18 now nearing middle age showed a snap of the marching step that carried them towards the fields of France more than a decade ago. The American flag was much in evidence.

Police, prepared for any possible trouble, had little to do other than assist the fluttering flags as they passed by. The crowd was orderly and generous towards the veterans.

Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, estimated 5000 veterans took part. He set the number of spectators at about 150,000.

The march lasted for an hour and a half, beginning at twilight and continuing until well after dark.

A huge detail of police patrolled the grounds of the White House, supplementing the usual corps assigned permanently to the reservation. Their watch was without incident.

Police patrols were held in contiguous side streets for use in case of emergency.

Brigadier General Glassford, who has been trying to feed and house the mounting numbers with the facilities at his disposal, was warned yesterday by Police Commissioner Herbert B. Crosby, a retired major general, that continued coddling of the veterans might result in his preemptory dismissal by the White House.

The warning followed criticism of Glassford's feeding of the veterans voiced by the district commissioners by members of Congress and Washington officials.

The Republican national committee, told newspapermen he considered the Rockefeller letter a "significant document" which will have "great influence."

Silver "Mine" in Movies

Popular Mechanics Magazine

That "thar's silver in them films," to vary the old prospector's saying a bit, is absolutely true. A silver "mine" has been found in the heart of the movie world, Hollywood. It has been found that a low voltage current will remove silver from the hypo solution in which movie films are washed. The metal is of high purity, ninety-five per cent, so it can be sold directly to the mint. Sixty-five pounds of silver have been recovered from the 100 miles of film developed in one day, a quantity equal to that in 800 silver dollars. Above is some of the recovered silver, while at right is the apparatus used in "mining" the metal.
