Those who are accustomed to conneet the name of Mary Pickford with delicate comedy and real pathos will not be disappointed when the popular favorite appears in "Hulda From Holland," for this delightful romantic comedy drama embodies all the heart appeal for which Miss Pickford is celebrated. Besides the humorous side of "The Purple Lady" there are many thrills in this feature, for there is a strong and absorbing mystery and a love story told in a new and novel manner. The scenes are laid in and around New York, including scor3es of interesting glimpses of Coney Island, on shipboard in the harbor, and the interior of one of the most famous restaurants on Broadway. George Lessey produced "The Purple Lady."

Mr. Herz, in the part of Silas Gilworthy, the reformer, which is the part he portrayed in the original stage production, repeats his former success with many added laughs. When he succumbs to the advance of the dazzling Fift Melotte, the part played by Miss Howley, situations are developed which, for high drama and big laughs have rarely been equalled on the screen.

FLORIDA TROOPS WILL MOVE WITH OTHER UNITS

A Washington dispatch, under date of Sunday says:

All the National Guard units included in President Wilson's call of June 18, not yet on the Mexican border, were ordered there today by fore if you would be with the people son. the War Department.

Between 20,000 and 25,000 additional troops will thus be added to the border forces. National guard troops there will number approximately 125,000 and the total of all troops on the border or in Mexico. will be 175,000.

Secretary of War Baker made a formal announcement that the troop movement had nothing whatever to do with the Mexican situation as such and was solely to relieve thousands of troops now held in mobilization camps only because they lack a few recruits to bring units up to fixed minimum strength.

War Department officials decided on their action because the troops are restive in camp and there seemed to be no stimulus to recruiting while there was no prospect of movement to the border. As we speed out of life's sunny station

The track seems to shine in the light,

But it suddenly shoots over chasms Or sinks into tunnels of night, And the hearts that were brave in the night

Are filled with repining and fears, As they pause at the city of sorrow Or pass through the valley of tears.

But the road of this perilous journey You shall sail with old friends on The hand of the Master has made: With all its discomforts and dangers We need not be sad or afraid. Paths leading from light into dark-

Ways plunging from gloom to despair.

Wind out through the tunnels of midnight

To fields that are blooming and

WILL ADVERTISE CLIMATE

Florida First Commission Will Play Summer Weather

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 14 - The Florida First Commission, in session at the Hotel Seminole today approved advertising copy for its fall campaign and arranged for the appearance of this in a list of news-papers and periodicals that will reach from one third to one half of the people in the United States.

to the summer climate of Florida will be run in the leading newspapers of the country Sunday, August 27. Members of the commission feel that its appearance immediately following periods of unprecedented heat throughout the north will be particularly appropriate and bring home to the people of the United States the fact that Florida is scarcely less delightful in summer than in winter_

During September, October, Novemler and December the commission will advertise Florida from all the standpoints which emphasize its | 1 agricultural resources. One month's advertising will feature grains and grasses, that of the next month will stress the livestock possibilities of the state, still another month's advertising will dwell especially on the fruit and vegetable industries and the advertisipg will conclude with copy explaining the healthfulness and other advantages of the commonwealth,

It is the purpose of the commission to conduct a special campaign for tourists on the line of that which was so successfully handled last season. This advertising will not be begun until about Christmas and definite arrangements for it will be

Board of Trade meets next Friday night. Every member is expected to be present.

Orlando lost a good man in the death of Mayor Sperry. The editor of The Herald counted him as one of his best friends.

Sanford is one of the healthiest, coolest and most progressive cities in the state. If you do not believe It come over and see it at first hand.

> THE FARM LOAN ACT One of the greatest and best acts of the present administration is the creation of the Farm Loan Act and it was fostered and made possible by our own Senator Fletcher. The Farm Loan Act is given in full in another part of this issue and we want every reader of The Herald to clip the article and preserve it for future reference. Especially should the farmers read and digest this article for it was prepared and published for the benefit of the Seminole county farmers by The Herald. Be sure and read it today and if you do not subscribe for The Herald send in and get a copy. --0-

Orange county is also getting busy

"The Orange County Strawberry Association held a meeting at the Board of Trade this morning. There were a number of members present from all sections of the county. Indications point to 100 acres being set this season.

The association was addressed by Dr. Featherstone, who has had nine years' experience growing berries near Plant City. His talk included methods of planting, how to protect plants in the event of a cold wave and how to keep the berries from sanding during a rain."

Whenever Sanford starts raising strawberries for the market there will be no talk about anything class in the way of money crops for this land here will raise them better than any lands anywhere.

They put a coupon in every package and each coupon was marked with a letter of the alphabet. All you had to do, for instance, was to acquire the letters composing the word "watch" and the Yu-Shor-Ta-Likit people straightway sent you a beautifully chased, 18-carat, filled, guaranteed movemented timepiece, calculated to win the admiration of all beholders. Mrs. Gatterley allowed her opportunity to go unimproved for several packages. She had an idea that the coupons were just for decorated china or a silver-plated fork with every hundred, but one morning she picked one of the little lettered slips from the table and her curiosity being aroused, she read the munificent offer to the last word. Her curiosity became interest. The plano fetched her, Decorated china and silver-plated ware she had in profusion, being a bride of less than a year's standing, but the plane in her little flat was a rented one. The coupon, too, was lettlered P. Fortunate omen!

"How perfectly lovely it will be," said little Mrs. Gatterley. "I'll just keep it a secret and surprise Harry. Then he won't have that horrid old plano rent to pay."

"My dear," said Mr. Catterleys a morning or two later, "aren't you rathor lavish with your breakfast food? I'm afraid that I can't manage all this."

"Try to eat it, darling," urged Mrs. Gatterley . "You know it's very nourishing. I forget how many pounds of beefsteak it's equal to, but quite a

Provides System For Lending Money on Farm Lands at Rea-Relatively Long Pe-Plan For Easy Repay-

THE federal farm loan act, popularly called the "rural credits law," was signed by the president and became a law on July The primary purpose of this act is to promote agricultural prosperity by enabling farmers to borrow money on farm mortgage security at a reasonable rate of interest and for relatively long periods of time. To attain this object two farm mortgage systems are provided-first, a system operating through regional land banks and, second, a system operating through joint stock land banks.

To attract money to the farm loan field the act provides a method whereby those who have money to lend can find safe investments in the form of debentures or bonds of small and large denominations issued by the banks and based on the security of mortgages on farm lands.

These two systems are to be under the general supervision of a federal farm loan board in the treasury department, composed of the secretary of the treasury as chairman ex officio and four members appointed by the president. This board has authority to appoint appraisers, examiners and registrars, who will be public officials.

The Federal Land Bank System.

Under the federal land bank system the act provides for federal land banks, which make loans for the first twelve menths exclusively through local national farm loan associations composed of borrowers. These associations shall be shareholders in the banks, and in that way members who are borrowers will there in the profits of the bank. The money for the loans is to come partly from the capital of the banks and part ly from the sale by the banks of bonds secured by first mortgages on farm lands. The act defines strictly the pur leses for and the conditions under which loans are to be made and requires that the rate of interest charged on farm loans shall not exceed 6 per

The United States shall be divided late twelve farm loan districts, and a federal land bank with a subscribed capital stock of not less than $750,000. each share $5, shall be established in each district. Each federal land bank may establish branches in its district. Within thirty days after the capital stock is offered for sale it may be purclased at par by any one. Thereafter the stock remaining unsold shall be bought by the secretary of the treasury for the United States. It is provided, however, that the government shall not receive any dividends on its stock. Ultimately it is intended that all the stock in the banks shall be owned by the associations of borrowers, and provision therefor is made in the law for transferring the original stock at par to these associations.

National Farm Loan Associations. The act provides for the creation of local national farm loan associations. through which it is contemplated that the federal land banks shall make their loans. In the event that a local loan association is not found in any locality within a year, the federal farm loan board may authorize a federal land bank to make loans on farm land through approved agents. Ten or more persons who own and cultivate farm land qualified as security for a mortgage loan under the act or who are about to own and cultivate such land may form such an association, provided the aggregate of the loans desired by the membership is not less than $20,000. Each member must take stock in his association to an amount equivalent to per cent of the amount he wishes to borrow. This stock the association holds in trust as security for the member's individual loan. The association in turn, when applying for money from the bank, must subscribe for stock in the bank to an amount equivalent to 5 tor its members. This stock is held in calculated as to extinguish the debt in other illegal practices.

trust by the bank as security for the loans it makes through the association-If a prospective borrower has no money with which to pay for his assoclation stock he may borrow the price of that stock as a part of the loan on his farm land.

Under this plan, then, every borrower must be a stockholder in his local assoclation and every association a stock holder in its district bank. Each stockholder in an association is liable for the acts of that association up to twice the amount of his stock.

How Loans Are Obtained.

A member of a national farm loan association before obtaining a loan must first fill out an application blank supplied to the loan association by the federal farm loan board. This application blank and other nece sary papers will then be referred to a loan commit tee of the association, which must ap praise the property offered as security Such application as is approved by the loan committee is then forwarded to the federal hand bank and must be in vestigated and reported on by a salarfed appraiser of the bank before the loan is granted. This appraiser is required to investigate the solvency and character of the prospective borrower as well as the value of his land. When warded to the borrower through the loan association.

next farm loans it makes. Out of this margin of not to exceed 1 per cent, together with such amounts as it can earn on its paid in cash capital, the bank must set aside certain reuted as dividends to the loan associations or other stockholders. The loan associations from their bank dividends, after setting aside the required reserves and meeting expenses, can declare association dividends to their members. In this way the profits, if any, will be distributed among the borrowers and will to that extent reduce the amount of interest actually paid by

The federal land banks are specifically prohibited from charging in connection with making a loan any fees or commissions which are not authorized by the farm loan board. The authorized fees need not be paid in advance. but may be made part of the loan, Amortization Plan of Repaying Loans. It has been said that all loans are to be repaid on the amortization plan. This plan calls for a number of fixed annual or semiannual payments, which include not only all interest and charges due the bank, but the prinfor cent of the sum it wants to obtain cleal as well. These payments are so a given number of years. After five years the borrower has the right on any interest date to make additional payments on the principal in sums of $25 or any multiple thereof, thus discharging the debt more quickly.

Funds Available For Loans.

After a federal land bank has loaned to first mortgage $50,000 it can obtain permission from the farm loan board to issue $50,000 in farm loan bonds based on these mortgages, sell such bonds in the open market and use the money thus obtained to lend on other mortgages.

This process of lending on mortgages and selling bonds in issues of $50,000 may be repeated until bonds to the amount of twenty times the bank's paid up capital are outstanding. If each bank should have only its required minimum paid up capital of $750,000 this plan will provide eventually, if all the authorized bonds of the twelve banks are sold, over $180,-000,000 to lend on first mortgages on farm land. The banks, however, can increase their capital stock above the required minimum and so increase the amount of bonds they can sell and thus increase the total amount of money available for loans on farm mortgages.

To make these bonds attractive to investors the bonds, together with the mortgages upon which they are based, are exempted from federal, state, municipal and local taxation and are made legal investments for fiductary and trust funds. The capital steck of the federal land banks is also exempt from taxation. Federal reserve banks and member banks of that system are empowered to buy and sell these bonds. They are to be issued in denominations of $20, $50, $100, $500 and $1,000.

Organization of Banks.

The temporary management of the federal land banks is to be in the hands of five directors appointed by the federal farm loan board. As soon, however, as the subscriptions from the loan associations total $100,000 regular. a loan is granted the amount is for directors are to be appointed as follows: Three district directors, resident in the district, shall be appointed by the federal farm loan board to represent the public interest, and six local directors, resident in the district, shall be elected by the farm loan associations, who must be stockholders in the bank. These agents are to be banks, trust companies, mortgage companles or savings institutions chartered by the state. They may receive as compensation the actual expense involved in transacting the loan and in addition thereto a sum not to exceed the unpaid principal of the loans made through them. When the farm loan board decides that a locality is adequately served by farm loan associations no further loans are to be made through agents.

In addition to the system of twelve federal land banks and the national farm loan associations of borrowers the act permits the establishment of joint stock land banks and authorizes serves and meet all its expenses. These banks must have a capital of not less than $250,000. They are under the supervision of the federal farm loan board, but the government does not lend them any financial assistance.

General Provisions.

The law, through the farm loan board, provides the necessary machinery for frequent examinations of the banks and the associations, for the proper cancellation of mortgages and for the safe custody of mortgages offered as security for bonds. When any mortgage offered as security for bonds is withdrawn the bank is required to replace the security with other mortgages or with other satisfactory collateral.

Heavy penalties of fine or imprisonment or both are imposed for violations of the act, malfeasance in office, fraud, embezzlement, defalcation or
