Sunday Affair Brings Out Troops As Mob Threatens To Lynch Slayers Of Officers

LAKELAND, Mar. 28. — (A.P.)—Under a heavy guard, Perry Acree and Joseph Johnston, charged with the murder of two policemen in a Sunday shooting affray that resulted in the killing of four companies of the national guard to prevent threatened mob violence, were transferred to the Polk county jail at Bartow today for safekeeping. Sam Acree and his wife, parents of Perry, are held as material witnesses, and were taken to Bartow.

The transfer was made by train for Bartow and received reports that scores of armed men on the highway planned to overpower guards if the prisoners were transferred by automobile. Circuit Judge Petteway convened a grand jury in special session at Bartow to investigate the shooting and said that if indictments are returned the prisoners will be tried immediately.

Troops of four national guard companies guarded the city jail here last night with machine guns to protect four prisoners, arrested in the killing of two policemen yesterday afternoon, from threats of mob violence.

Officers T. A. Nicholson and W. T. Barnett were killed on North Gilmore Avenue as they went to quell a disturbance at the home of Perry Acree, dismissed last fall in the murder of Buckley Walden.

Perry Acree, his father, Sam Acree, his mother, and Joseph E. Johnston were arrested a few minutes later and after they were taken to jail a crowd estimated at 1500 to 2500 formed outside.

Fearing mob violence, Sheriff James A. Johnson of Bartow requested military aid, and Governor Carlton called out national guardsmen from Bartow, Plant City and Lakeland.

The first troops arrived here shortly after 8 o'clock and augmented a civilian guard that had been thrown around the jail on Massachusetts Avenue.

The crowd at the jail was orderly, but officers took no chances of attempting to move the prisoners.

Dry Group To Fight Entry Of Wet Plank

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28. — (A.P.)—Edwin C. Dinwiddie, secretary of the National Prohibition Board of Strategy told Democratic and Republican party leaders today his organization "will fight to finish any attempt to write wet planks in platform next June, even when camouflaged under the term, referendum." Dinwiddie said there are millions of drys all over the country who believe in prohibition and insist that it be given fair chance, who will refuse to support party leaders if wet planks are adopted.

NEW SOURCES OF REVENUE SOUGHT BY HOUSE HEADS

Strained Situation Is Developed In Democratic Leadership

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28. — (A.P.)—A disrupted House continued yesterday to cast about in its efforts to find new sources of revenue while a strained situation developed in the Democratic leadership.

A Ways and Means sub-committee struggled through Sunday with the problem of finding substitutes for the defeated $200,000,000 sales tax plan. Its chairman, Representative Ragon (Democrat, Arkansas), said he expected to be able to submit a substitute plan to the full group Tuesday morning before the budget balancing measure again comes before the House.

Close friends of Speaker Garner have insisted he take a firm hand in the writing of the tax bill. They have indicated, however, that the Texas Democrat expects the result in the House to run its course within a few more days and predicted that then his influence to put a bill through the House to balance the budget will be exerted. There is considerable dissatisfaction among the leaders as to the method in which the measure has been handled.

Representative Smith of New York, the Republican leader, declared a majority of the minority still was willing to support the Democrats in passing a just and equitable billion dollar bill on a non-partisan basis. However, since so many Democrats turned against fight and left the Republicans who voted for it in somewhat of an embarrassing position, Smith indicated he felt the majority should get together before it can expect whole-hearted support of his party.

That the Democratic leadership will at least have an understanding on its future tax plans is certain. Spokesmen for the party's insurgents, Representative Deaton (Democrat, North Carolina) and Rankin (Democrat, Mississippi) (Continued on Page Three)

GREAT BRITAIN DENOUNCED BY IRISH REBELS

Republican Strength Is Demonstrated In Parades Throughout Ireland Yesterday

DUBLIN, Mar. 28. — (A.P.)—The strength of Irish republicanism was demonstrated yesterday in meetings and processions in commemoration of the Easter uprising of 1916 throughout the length and breadth of Ireland.

Members of the Irish republican army and other technically illegal organizations denounced Great Britain from a hundred platforms.

They informed Eamon de Valera, new president of the Irish Free State, either directly or by implication, that even abolishing the oath of allegiance to the British King would not satisfy their demand for complete severance from England and the British Empire.

Those who took part in the demonstrations were unarmed and no disorders were reported. The regular uniformed army of the Free State was confined to barracks.

The men of the Irish republican army marched steadily with set faces and very much on their best behavior in a great Dublin demonstration.

About 1916 he moved to Lehigh to become connected with the Overstreet Lumber Co., until the mill was destroyed by fire.

Eyes Of Christianity, Tired Of Wars, Strife, Disasters, Raised Upward Yesterday

Domination Of Pacific Seen As Cause For Strife Coming Out Of Manchurian Fuss

(By The Associated Press) The eyes of Christianity that for a 12-month have looked upon international dissension, economic tradition, crime, strife, and political bitterness, were raised aloft yesterday as a promise of happier events, as symbolized by the resurrection of the Redeemer. Jerusalem presented a picture of abject despair as to the state of pilgrims, and with the native Christians in a joyful Easter celebration.

This was in contrast with the tense situation of last year when the rites were conducted under the protection of British machine guns because of religious friction between Muslims and Christians.

Long before dawn the city which witnessed the passion and triumph of Christ was alive for the sacred occasion, which concluded with the Jewish passover and an important Mohammedan feast.

Bells from Rome's 400 churches rang out joyfully as churchgoers of the city with "MAD" in Cardinal Pacelli, high priest, presided over the service in the Basilica of St. Peter's, largest church in Christendom. The procession of the cross, Mary, the Virgin, Magdalene and the mother of James, to the Calvary, Christ, crowned the services.

At Washington, President and Mrs. Hoover were early for the service at the Arlington National Cemetery, one of many a single thought of the Christian world.

Nearly a quarter of a million persons attended early morning services in San Francisco. The huge Hollywood bowl at Mount Redoubt near Riverside (Continued on Page Two)

Recently, it was asserted that Japan's domination of the Pacific would cause the war, the newspaper said. It was stated that America would not permit a complete domination of the Pacific by Japan, and that the United States would not permit a complete domination of the Pacific by Japan.

White House Fete Halted By Weather

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28. — (A.P.)—A chilly, misty wind across the White House lawn today kept all save a few sturdy youngsters from the traditional Easter Monday egg-rolling fete here. The weather caused Mrs. Hoover to curtail all folk dancing on the lawn for she was restless over the migration to about 150 children as officials. Almost in the manner of formal state receptions, and surrounded by Easter baskets, he handed each child a colored egg. Many stopped to chat with her, and one brought a city of homemade candy. Egg-rolling was held here with officially colored eggs.

Final Settlement On Muscle Shoals Believed Nearing

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—The troublesome Muscle Shoals problem moved a bit nearer President Hoover's desk yesterday, when the House Military Affairs Committee approved a measure providing liberal leasing of the nitrate facilities of the great plant but retaining government control of the power generated.

Facilities for generating power specifically would remain in the hands of the government. While the organization leasing the shoals would have first call upon power needed for fertilizer production, the bill provides that the remainder must be sold at the switch-board.

In this way, states, municipalities and other local government bodies would be able to obtain the surplus electric power.

Under the terms of the measure the President would select a board charged with the duty of leasing the nitrate facilities. If this is not accomplished within 18 months, then the government would operate them.

solves in difficulties. Speaking of the broadening of the eligibility provisions of the bill which permits banks in difficulties to get funds from federal reserve banks on sound assets not eligible heretofore the board said:

"Provisions in the new bill, however, do not deal with the question of eligibility under ordinary circumstances and do not contemplate any enlargement to provide for unusual and temporary conditions where an individual member bank, for example, because of 100% of deposits either through a partial withdrawal or through a 20% (bank) withdrawal or necessity of liquidating some of its sound but unliquidable assets or else closing its doors and going into the hands of a receiver, with the subsequent loss to its depositors and bad effect on the banking situation.

"Under the new law the federal reserve banks in such circumstances are in a position to make it possible for the bank to continue in operation if it has a sufficient amount of good assets to justify the desired credit accommodations."

The board also hailed the provisions of the law broadening the securities which may be used to guarantee circulation as an aid to Sanford City Bowling League closed its 18-week schedule this week and the Pezold Farmers team of five men was awarded winner, having led the league from the start, and winning 23 games and losing but five.

Bender Boys finished second, and the Heller Specials, Habes Outfit, and Witte's Five were tied for third place. In a special match, rolled last night, the Habes Outfit won third place 8-7, with Jake Bolly and Warren Tyler of that team starting by rolling a total of 548 points each for three games.

Cash prizes, posted by each team at the beginning of the tournament, were awarded on the following basis: Pezold Farmers, first; Bender Boys, second, and Habes Outfit, third.

Scores recorded during the tournament are as follows: Bender Boys made high three game total. Habes Outfit had high single game total. Paul Pezold had high individual score, three games. Peter Thurston had high single game score. Paul Pezold and Roy Heller were tied for second high single game score.

The following had highest increased averages in order: J. G. Sharon, Jr., first; Paul Pezold, George Thurston, John Bolly, Elmer Toll, Henry Zurichelds, Henry Witte, and L. A. Rensd.

A new five man team tournament starts Monday with a 20-game schedule, with the Habes Bunch opening the season with a match against the Heller Specials Monday night. All bowlers wishing to enter this tournament are urged to register by Monday night.

With Eugene Terwilliger bowling a 226 score this week, it appears that he will win honors for high score. New members of the "200 Honor Roll" are: H. Mabry, H. Medlin, E. Terwilliger, Fred Bolly, and L. U. May.

In the head pin tournament, Eddie Bender and Paul Pezold still hold first place with 113 points, Fred Bolly is second with 110, and George Habes third with 109.

Sino-Japanese Peace Parley Nears Failure

SHANGHAI, Mar. 25.—(A.P.)—Negotiations for a Sino-Japanese armistice were near a breakdown today as delegates of the two countries adjourned until Monday to refer controversial issues to their respective governments.

The meeting today, ended with a dead lock on the issue of the withdrawal of Japanese troops, and only the possibility of substantial concessions on both sides offered any hope of saving the conference.

Beer Bill Is Defeated In House Friday

bringing oil could be taken.

Crisp proposed an amendment that allowed Representatives Collier, Democrat, New York, to submit a proposal of a three-cent a pint tax on beer of 2.75 percent alcoholic content, estimated to return $350,000,000 in revenue. It immediately opened a wet and dry fight. After three hours of acrimonious debate it was defeated.

Representatives from states in the great mid-continent oil field and the Ohio Valley coal producing areas supported the oil import tax. The Treasury estimates the levy would yield $5,000,000. Opponents contended it would boost the price of crude and fuel oil as that it would cost the industrial East $100,000,000 more a year, while advocates said that on the basis of importations in the last three years it would put $43,000,000 in the Treasury.

The victory was made possible by the support of the bi-partisan group that defeated the sales tax. It came after three years of effort by the oil producing state to obtain a tariff, and its proponents argued it would resuscitate the domestic petroleum industry and protect the independent producer.

Although the vote was overwhelming the Crisp Amendment to which it is attached still is pending and a vote today on it will definitely settle the issue. It is virtually certain to remain in the bill.

The sub-committee was empowered to bring in any recommendations it might see fit. It is considering excise levies on jewelry, electric refrigerators, electricity, gas, gasoline, automobiles, radios, phonographs, an increase in the tobacco tax, increased postage and a stamp tax on bank checks.

Congress was urged today in a resolution by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to balance the budget.

Shanghai Hears Roar Of Guns Near Gates

SHANGHAI, Mar. 25.—(A.P.)—The rumble of gunfire was heard yesterday a few miles outside Shanghai where two restless armies are lined up awaiting the outcome of the peace negotiations.

It was only a minor skirmish and the Japanese and Chinese each blamed the other for starting it, but the incident increased the general uneasiness in the city.

The peace parley lagged. The principal point at issue seemed to be the method of troop withdrawal and the policing of the evacuated zone.

Mamru Shigemitsu, the Japanese minister to China, said last night the meetings must go on at least for another week before any agreement can be reached. Quo Tai-Chi, the Chinese spokesman, was seen more pessimistic. Instead of coming together, he said, the conferences are drifting further apart.

Both spokesmen, however, agreed several minor points had been settled, showing a way to the disposition of the broader issues.

Hoover Endorses Plan To Bring Out Voters

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—(A.P.)—President Hoover today formally endorsed a movement to bring out a record vote at the polls in the coming presidential election when he issued a statement expressing approval of a campaign started by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce to increase by 14,000,000 the number of voters compared with those in the 1928 election. The Chamber hopes for a total vote of 90,000,000.

"I do warmly approve this undertaking," the President said, "and it can function effectively only when the will of the people is clearly expressed at the polls."

Baseball Interest Mounts Locally As Season Approaches

play for the season will be outlined to them. A manager will also be appointed, and first practice will be held on Tuesday afternoon at the Municipal Ball Park.

The Sanford entry gets underway in rather, fortunate circumstances for last year's franchise deposit is still in the hands of the league treasurer, and there are 12 new uniforms which can be used by the new club. The municipal park is at the disposal of the group, and Superintendent of Parks James Moughton will have a crew of workers at the field tomorrow, cutting grass and repairing dressing rooms and grandstands.

From all indications, Sanford's team will be composed of a group of young men of college and high school experience. A former minor league player or two may be seen in action from the start. Red Martin, sensational outfielder, Bob Perrens, crack infielder, Bill Ripplert, one of the league's best hitters, Cal Dennis, John Edwards Hiepkins, Roy Harrison, Ed Tefeletti, lanky hurler, have all indicated that they wish to be members of the Sanford team, and with that group as a basis, there is no reason to believe that with proper coaching, this group cannot be at the front of the league all the way.

There are many other players in this city, newcomers, it is believed who will add power and punch to the club, and they are extended a special invitation to attend the meeting on Monday afternoon.

There'll be baseball this summer for Sanford. Speaker Garner's sun sank with the sales tax.

And those who can't work can't see baseball and go fishing. Ruder has it that the House- holder for governor club held its first meeting Saturday night.

It's a poor week that sees anything but political news in the James News. The late... it doesn't happen to him.

Judging from the way the country falls are subscribing to The Herald these days, they must be getting interested in politics.

If reports be correct Franklin

D. Roosevelt will have practically every county in Florida. Marjorie Florida. Well, we dunno. If he has to pay the taxes on 'em while he's got 'em, he'll be out of luck.

The United States Congress

seems to be in about the same boat that our Florida legislature was 6 years ago. Unable to cut and afraid to tax it don't know what to do. Look out for some double X sessions.

Lloyd Boyle must have got away with the grand jury over in Broward county. In their official report published in the Star-Advocate, they said of him: "We wish to express to the Honorable L. P. Boyle, state's attorney, our appreciation of the patient, efficient and cautious manner in which he co-operated with the jury in the discharge of its duties."

The Mellon fortune, according to recent newspaper dispatches, is estimated at $7,000,000,000, or nearly twice the amount of money in the U. S. treasury, a most high amount of the entire national debt of the federal government. Will Mellon used to say that the Mellon fortune would down to Washington from Pittsburg banks to take over the federal treasury, he felt like he was going stammering.

It is interesting to note, when considering our own tax problems, that the cost of government elsewhere is also going up. For instance, in Great Britain the year before the war, the budget called for $61,000,000; for the year of 1930 it for $4,100,000,000. Even in Italy, where the able dictator, Benito Mussolini, before the war the government cost the people $200,000,000 last year it cost $2,000,000,000. And even in the United States the cost has risen from $2,000,000,000 to $100,000,000,000.

Good Publicity For Florida

The value of publicity is well illustrated by the immediate results obtained recently when Arthur Brisbane, now vacationing at Miami Beach, wrote glowingly of the charms of Florida. The ink had scarcely had time to dry on his column which is published in hundreds of newspapers and read by millions of people throughout the country, before many of them were turning their eyes longingly Florida-ward.

That actual results were obtained which reacted financially in Florida's favor was proved a day or two later when Mr. Brisbane received the following telegram from New York:

"Arthur Brisbane, Flamingo Hotel, Miami Beach, Fla.

"After enjoying the Florida sunshine for about three months this winter we find that we left it too soon. Your wonderful description of the climate as compared with climates elsewhere this time of the year has made us all realize our mistake in leaving Florida too early. In other words, your Today column has enticed us all to return again. Joseph Bannon, myself and party will arrive Miami Thursday afternoon. With kindest regards from all and hoping you are getting a full measure of what you need most, sunshine and recreation, we are, sincerely,

"M. L. Anenberg and Joseph Bannon."

While there was only one instance where readers took enough trouble to wire Mr. Brisbane of their interest in his article, there were doubtless scores of others who were also moved to visit Florida because of Brisbane's wonderful description. And while there may have been only a few score who actually came to Florida this Spring as a result of the article, there were probably thousands who read it and made up their minds to come next winter, or at least at the first opportunity.

Such publicity is a great help to this state and leaves a lasting effect.

Bill Murray In Florida

Many Floridians have had the opportunity during the past week of hearing the spectacular and somewhat eccentric "Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma speak in behalf of his candidacy for Democratic presidential nomination. In view of the fact that Gov. Murray will probably be the only one pitted against Franklin Roosevelt in the "stop Roosevelt" movement in Florida, his tour of this state should be of particular interest. Commenting on the impression which he made in Tampa, the Tribune says:

"Governor Murray, to one who had heard him speak when he wasn't thinking of the White House, gave the impression that the assumed dignity of a presidential candidate is 'cramping his style.' Not that he isn't entertaining and informative—but he lacked the flame and force that are inherently and naturally his. Maybe the microphone had something to do with it. One accustomed to the full range of the 'stump' just can't do himself justice when he has to keep close to a post and talk into a mic. The Governor, however, had a big crowd—and he held it completely and attentively until he was through.

"The weak point in the speech was the evasion of the prohibition question. It isn't a presidential issue, he said, because the President can't change it—yet the average American has the idea that a man asking the highest job in the nation ought to have views on the most agitated and most discussed issue in the nation, and the courage to declare those views to the people. Yet, while avoiding any declaration himself, the Governor told a story emphasizing Mr. Hoover's policy of dodging the question.

"The noted Oklahoman was severely critical of a number of public men and officials, but chary in his commitments. He spoke approvingly of only four—himself, Andrew Jackson, James G. Blaine and the President of Uruguay. Much of his speech was, of course, a recital of his spectacular but successful exploits as Governor and some of it a travelogue of his years in South America. That, if elected President, he would do things to Wall Street, the capitalists, the trusts and malefactors generally, and save the farmer and the great middle class, was positively pledged—but he didn't explain, probably for lack of time, just how."

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Philip S. Hibborn, a young lawyer and son of the late Rear Admiral Hibborn, killed himself at Washington in dependency and humiliation over the elopement and humiliation over the elopement of his wife, Eleanor Hoyt Hibborn, with Horace L. Wylie, a prominent Washington attorney. He shot himself in the head with an automatic revolver and died almost instantly.

M. S. Nelson and daughter, of Lanark, Ill., have arrived in the city to select a residence. The rest of the family will arrive later and another good family will be added to Sanford's rapidly growing list. Mr. Nelson has a fine tract of land in Eureka Hammock and put in a crop.

Two years ago there were 300 voters in Sanford, at least that was the amount of votes cast. This year there are over 700 and many to register, yet in other words, in less than two years the voting strength of Sanford has more than doubled and a better indication of rapid growth is necessary.

Miss Vivian Yeiser's kindergarten closed today after a most successful term of six months duration. There were 17 pupils who took the entire course and the progress made by the little ones is nothing short of marvelous. The one regret of the children and parents is that Miss Yeiser will not be with them next year.

On Tuesday the Welaka Club gave a most delightful bridge party. Miss Laura Fish was hostess assisted by Mrs. E. N. Morrow and Miss Nell Whitner. It was a grand pleasure to the club to have Mrs. E. N. Whitner, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs to be with them for the social hour. These special were: Mrs. Forrest Lake, Mrs. Vance, Mrs. O. W. Brady, Mrs. W. D. Holden, Mrs. Marie,

LAKELAND PAIR WHO KILLED 2 IN SAFER JAIL

Nicholson, a call officer, and Barnett, a plain clothes detective, went to Acree's house and were killed as they alighted from their car. Nicholson was shot once in the head and Barnett in the abdomen.

A few minutes after the officers were detailed on the call, another anonymous call went into headquarters that they had been killed.

Detective Frank S. Wood, Capt. Roy Hutchinson and Detective Paul Jennings went to the scene and found the bodies in the street and gutter.

The suspects were in the house and denied knowledge of the slaying.

Half an hour after they were placed in jail a crowd of several hundred gathered and increased hourly until the first troops arrived.

Plans had been made to transfer the prisoners to Bartow or another jail for safekeeping but these were abandoned when people began to congregate about the jail.

Except for the prisoner there were no eye-witnesses to the shooting, but both officers were killed with a .32 pistol.

The officers had battled with their assailants. Nicholson apparently was shot first because Barnett died with his pistol, containing three empty cartridges, in his hand, indicating he had fired at their assailants.

Johnston told officers he shot Nicholson as Nicholson was scuffling with Perry Acree and Perry's mother, who was trying to prevent officers from taking her son to jail. Johnston said he dropped the gun then and does not know who killed Barnett.

Barnett and Nicholson were among the most popular men on the force. Both have resided here a number of years and are survived by families. Barnett came here from Sheffield, Ala., and Nicholson from East Bend, North Carolina.

Although not called in the case, officers from Plant City, Bartow and other cities came here early last night to assist Lakeland police.

The jail is a three-story stucco structure, situated back from the street with a yard surrounded by a wire fence in front.

About 8 o'clock the crowd, which was unorganized, swept through the wire fence to the jail walls. An unidentified member of the mob hurled several bricks at the door of the jail, but this was stopped by a plea from Chief of Police Guy Arendell who had been inside talking to the prisoners.

SOVIET PAPER SEES JAPAN IN WAR WITH U. S.

It published a Washington dispatch which said a "Government committee" had recommended to President Hoover laws empow-ing Congress to stabilize prices in war time and authorizing the government to take over private property necessary for the conducting of war.

"America is planning to mobilize the various material as well as human resources in armed conflict," the newspaper concluded.

NANKING, China, Mar. 28.—(A.P.)—China's capital turned out yesterday in holiday fashion to welcome the League of Nations Commission sent to inquire into the troublesome dispute between China and Japan.

For the first time since the Japanese attacked the Chapel nadre section of Shanghai two months ago, Nanking this Easter, breathed a sigh of relief with the commission's arrival.

Preparations to strengthen the capital's defenses, which had been going on for two months, slackened.

Thousands of coolies who had been working on sandbag barricades, along with flag-waving civilians, lined five miles of streets to greet the first of the delegation—Lord Lytton of Britain and Count Luigi Aldrovandi Marrocotti of Italy—who arrived this morning from Shanghai by steamer.

The restored mission of San Diego de Alcalá observed its first Easter service in nine decades.

The 100-year-old Easter sunrise service in historic Moravian graveyard at Winston-Salem, N. C., attracted many visitors. The Passion Play was enacted for its sixth year atop a mountain in the heart of the Wichitas at Medicine Park, Okla., and the ninth presentation of the Passion Play at Bloomington, Ill., was given by the consistory players in the afternoon.

Weather over the nation was favorable except for sections of Texas and Alabama, where lives were lost and property destroyed by tornadoes.

The parade of spring finery on New York's Fifth Avenue and on the fashionable promenades of other cities was a brilliant feature of the day.

NEW YORK, Mar. 28.—(A.P.)—Gardenias sold for 25 cents. Orchids were rare, but the Easter parade yesterday was as generally topped with sleek silk hats and new bonnets as ever.

Overcast skies carrying a threat of rain and below 50 temperatures did not dent the throng of fashionables strutting in spring finery along Park and Fifth Avenues.

Long before the 11 o'clock services, Easter morning worshippers stood in long lines before the portals of St. Bartholomew's in Park Avenue and St. Thomas's and St. Patrick's in Fifth.

Expensive motor cars were left at home as society folk joined the thousands of promenaders. Flower peddlers did a sell-out business.

He recommended the use of white labor on state roads and the return of convict labor to prison camps where they might be put to gainful occupations such as farming or manufacturing.

He said he is opposed to letting huge trucks of 30 and 35 tons operate on roads built to handle only five ton trucks, and urged that common sense should be used in the general solution of the road problem.

He charged that a capsule group had deliberately set out to ruin the banking system of Florida and declared that he intended to introduce sound banking laws, "with teeth in them" which will permit home-owned banks to operate.

He charged that the monetary policy of government in Florida since Gilchrist's administration were due mainly to the paper-money scheme which finds white families and near-relatives on the state payroll for years.

Artiss Triumphs In Newest Movie Seen At Milane Tonight

If there is one actor on stage and screen today to whom the adjective "distinguished" belongs as if by right, that actor is George Artiss. A new Artiss play or picture is an event; and "The Man Who Played God," the Warner Brothers-Vitaphone production playing tonight at the Milane Theatre, is an event both fortunate and important.
As the attention-arresting title implies, "The Man Who Played God" is one of those plays which only Mr. Artiss could do. It is impossible to imagine any other actor in the role. But then, can you imagine anyone else as "Disraeli" or as the Rajah in "The Green Goddess"? There are certain roles which are, for good and all, stamped with the inimitable Artiss personality. And what roles they are—what extraordinary talents they demand! As a wag said of this new picture, "First he plays 'the Devil' and now he plays 'Providence!'"
But "The Man Who Played God" did not play God in a theatrical sense, or even in a supernatural sense, and there is nothing irreligious about the picture. Those who know Mr. Artiss personally, and the many readers of his entertaining autobiography "Up From Bloomington," know without being told that this star picks his plays carefully, considering not only dramatic values but the real significance of his roles. Never has Mr. Artiss found it necessary to gain attention by cheapening his own standards. Thus "The Man Who Played God" is a deeply moving drama of the lost and regained, a story of adjustment and final joyous acceptance of life's problems which will prove more convincing than many sermons because it is, at the same time, a cleverly-played and emotionally exciting romance. More like that recent Artiss triumph "The Millionaire," "The Man Who Played God" is a story of present-day American life.
Violet Heming and Louise Cloosen Hale, both well-known stage players, head the distinguished supporting cast. Betta Davis is fetching in an ingenue role, and there is excellent character acting by Ivan Simpson.

Miss Penny Is Wed To Eustis Peaks At Methodist Church

Attractive in its simplicity was the wedding Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the First Methodist Church of Miss Lucy Annette Penny, daughter of Mrs. Lucy G. Penny, of Florence, S. C., to Donald Eustis Peaks, son of Mrs. Alice Mann Peaks, of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Carroll Varner in the presence of a large group of friends and relatives of the couple.
White snap dragons, white gladioli and quantities of asparagus fern were used to decorate the church for the occasion. The fern was banked at the altar railing while tall floor baskets contained the flowers.
Following the ceremony Mrs. A. M. Phillips, soprano, rendered "Requiem" and "At Dawning," with Miss Margaret Davis as accompanist. The wedding party entered the church to the strains of Lehengrin's Wedding March and left as Miss Davis played Mendelssohn's Wedding March.
The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, W. T. Jackson, was attended by Miss Lola Peaks as bridesmaid, and by her cousin, Miss Doris Jackson, who carried the marriage book. The bridegroom had Merlin Barnes, of Frostproof, as best man, and Russell Mitchell and Berner Winn as ushers.
Salmon colored satin was used for the gown worn by Miss Peaks for the occasion. It was fashioned along fitted lines to the knees where the skirt flared and fell in soft folds to the floor. She wore a large picture hat of the same pink gladioli. Her hair was trimmed shade and carried a bouquet of white blue flowers and she wore blue lace mits to complete the costume.
Point lace was used as trimming for the white satin wedding gown worn by the bride. Fashioned along princess lines, it was worn with a white net veil which was fashioned with a cap of duchesse lace made by the bride's grandmother. She carried a large bouquet of white lilies.
Miss Doris Jackson, who brought in the white leather wedding book wore a white net frock complete with a full ruffled skirt. Complementing the costume was a white net hat.
After the ceremony the couple left in their car for a short wedding trip to points in the northern part of the state. They will be at home to their friends after Wednesday at the Monterey Hotel.
The bride was born in Florence, S. C. and has lived there all her life. She was graduated from the Florence High School. Mr. Peaks has lived here for the past nine years and is at present connected with the Peaks Ice Company.

With the amendments inserted on income, surtax and estate taxes and the excise levies on imported and domestic lubricating oil, wheat, malt, grape concentrates, and the remaining provisions in the bill it is estimated by the drafters that a little more than $250,000,000 is in sight.
Representative LaGuardia (Republican, New York), independent leader, said yesterday he expected his proposal of a one-fourth of one percent tax on short sales to yield between $150,000,000 to $200,000,000. In addition, he is sponsoring amendments for levies on jewelry, cosmetics, and various other luxuries and said efforts would be made to increase the gift tax from 30 to a 45 percent maximum to yield about $15,000,000.

Crisp said they would go along with Garner and Acting Chairman Crisp on a suitable program of excise taxes on various industries that will not place too heavy a burden on the people generally.
Crisp and Ragon have expressed to Speaker Garner their desire that he back them up in the substitute program. This, they expect him to do. However, Garner let it be known that the revenue bill will not be finally written until it has passed the Senate and been sent to conference. This will be the logical time for the Texas to dictate what form the legislation shall take to carry out his desire to balance the budget. After it comes from the conference, no amendments are permitted.
The Ragon committee is expected to recommend an increase from 2 to 3 cents in first-class postage to yield about $150,000,000, levies on automobiles, trucks and accessories to produce $100,000,000, an increase of one-sixth in the present tax on tobacco to yield $60,000,000, a one cent a gallon tax on gasoline, $165,000,000, and taxes on radios, phonographs,

The tornado at Pleasant Grove came near catching hundreds of sight-seers in its fury and that many abandoned their automobiles to seek safety in ditches beside the highway.
Mr. Smith said he was in the Junction area when the storm struck and only escaped being in its path by driving rapidly for several minutes.
"We saw it coming for three or four miles," Mr. Smith said, "and recognized it for a tornado from descriptions and pictures."
"The wind became almost gale force, causing us to look up and in the southwest this great black cloud, shaped like a gigantic funnel, was moving down on us."
"Debris was constantly being whipped out from the tall as it boiled along in our direction. The funnel was fringed with boiling white steamers."
"Hundreds of motorists were along the highway which is the Birmingham-Montgomery road, looking at the ruins of last week.
"Everyone seemed aware that a tornado was bearing down upon them and sought safety wherever they could. Many abandoned their cars in the road and crouched in ditches and after the tornado passed were drenched in the dr-ing rain that followed.

"I have often heard of tornadoes, but this one is my first to witness, no one who has not seen such a twister can comprehend its destructive force."
Mr. Smith said so far as he could learn there were no casualties among the sightseers who came from Montgomery, Birmingham and other nearby cities.
I. C. Watts, of Montgomery, was fishing in Jordan Lake, Elmore county, with two companions when the storm struck his boat, throwing him overboard. Watts swam to safety, but had a struggle with high waves the storm caused in the lake as it passed. Mrs. Watts and some companions further up the lake took refuge under a bridge.
Anxiety was felt here for the safety of scores of fishermen known to be in the vicinity of the tornado in Elmore county.
The first check up by the Alabama Power Company from its Jordan dam showed the tornado struck several fishing camps above the dam and moved into Jordan Lake where a geyser-like spray of water spouted into the air and showered over an area of about 100 yards.
The Jordan plant foreman said he could not say whether anyone was killed or whether any fishermen had been caught on the lake and drowned.
Immediately on receipt of reports of other tornadoes ambulances were dispatched from Birmingham to Thorby, 40 miles south of that city. Red Cross central headquarters, which had been established at Birmingham for relief work in Alabama, Tennessee, and Georgia as the result of last week's storms, sought to get in touch with workers in the field and obtained data on the extent of yesterday's damage.

Airlanes carrying newspapermen took off from Birmingham for the storm area in a wind of near gale force.
H. T. Johnson of Georgia, nine miles from Cordova, reported hailstones the size of baseballs fell over a three-mile area and literally covered the ground. Cordova is in the northwestern section of Alabama.
Eugene Adams, his wife and two children, James and Vera, and Emmett Lawrence were injured seriously at Lawley and carried to hospital at Selma. Clanton and Montgomery. Ten others were less seriously hurt.
A. G. Latham, describing the tornado, said the storm came out of the west and struck a mile from Lawley, bowling over houses and trees before continuing on to Thorby.
The death toll would have been larger in that vicinity, Latham said, but for the fact that many families whose homes were struck last week were doing relief work in the other sections.

Kodak films should be developed and printed by one who's used more than 25 years experience making pictures.
