

Mock Fashion Show Proves To Be Hilarious

AN HILARIOUS mock fashion show was presented by the Longwood Civic League.

Models, all wearing "original" creations, as they paraded across the stage which was decorated with potted palms. Mrs. Lillian Richards provided narration for the event.

Mrs. Geneva Stant modeled the very latest fashion from Harper's Bazaar, a unique box jacket. The delicately loose and delightfully cool number, an original by the Longwood Container Company, was in pink and featured the new style belt in back. Particular attention was called to her rubber earrings and pillow hat.

Mrs. Vesta Payne appeared in a lovely pastel multi-color tulle dress by Waldorf. The dress, fashioned to be worn for any occasion, featured long flowing 1,000 foot sleeves. Her hat was the newest designer box type and her hand muff was especially delicate to the skin.

A candy-strips dress (permitted) with multi-color buttons was worn by Mrs. Agnes Weber. It featured beautiful striping on a white background and also wore a matching hat.

Vivacious and bouncy Becky Dunning modeled an elegant spring coat which defied description. Her matching hat, handbag, and shoes, were also "sprightly."

Ms. Stewart modeled a lovely tea gown original by Arthur Godfrey. The Lorton theme prevailed throughout the gown as well as in costume jewelry adorning her "tenderloin" neck. Her ravishing hat was a teapot, while her hair sparkled with shiny tinsel.

Mary Boone was gowned in a late evening dress of white damask. The functional area, which was noted as "especially appropriate for dining after the kitchen is closed." Her champagne bouquet dinner hat was a subdued tarnished gold.

Becky Young's original combined variety and color in a "faded" gown, featuring a wrap-around skirt and matching blouse. Her hat was of printed silk, while her handbag was the latest edition.

Gail Hammond stole the show with her creation of the "slip-over-sweater." The very practical fashion may also be worn as a sweater over slip. Her goal was to stun because of a threatened invasion by Tutu warriors.

A bridal (bride) outfit was modeled by Charlotte Maxine. Her chastity lace fingertip veil was to remind "it's not to be a rag."

Last, but not least, Janet Fox appeared in modish night-gown. The dreamy flange creation accented contours of the feminine figure and her naturally curly hair, which she assists by rolling every night, was covered in a nightclub and functional candle holder and tire.

Following the show, refreshments of coffee, tea, and assorted cakes were served. Chairman of the event was Mrs. Loraine Dunning.

FOOD ON CAMPUS: Not Exactly Home Cooking

By Meredith Moss

NEW YORK (NEA) — College students are acknowledged complainers, and food usually ranks No. 1 on their list of pet grievances.

According to a recent survey by Moderator magazine, today's objectors are men of letters, power, ideas, and even the most sophisticated of the world's intelligentsia.

At another school, students are allegedly not only unfit for human consumption but even a status symbol on his campus.

Other complaints cover food preparation and service. Frequent cases of food poisoning assure him that objectors are not just a complainer but a consumer.

Many prefer to purchase their food by the meal. Many desire additional snack bars and vending machines. "How often do you eat from the regular dining facilities?" the respondents were asked. "Every day," he noted. "I feel like chewing on the leg of my chair sometimes."

You can't refer to the "experience" as dining, according to many. "Throwing the slop" or "feeding" is a more accurate description, reported one male student at the University of Illinois.

A common complaint is the attitude on the part of those in charge of eating facilities. "Our manager's name is Mr. Grimm," states a Brandeis grad, "and it's a perfect description of the whole mess hall situation."

The fight for cleanliness has been waged. One pharmacy student ran a bacterial count on the floorware from his cafeteria and was floored by the results. Health inspectors found a cat sleeping on the most chopping board and reported the water "grossly polluted."

$5 Billion Tax Hike Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson says he may have to ask Congress to raise taxes $5 billion if the way they did last month.

Johnson's warning came at an impromptu news conference after the Labor Department had announced what housewives already knew — the cost of living rose sharply in February.

Johnson emphasized that he had made no decision yet whether to go to Congress for a tax hike that would take the form of a surcharge on income tax, particularly in the case of high-income earners.

He concluded it's not his recommendation to raise taxes, but the fact that inflation and the value of the dollar go down.

It was the strongest indication Johnson has given that he might have to ask for a tax hike to take some stress out of the booming U.S. economy.

He said that most of his advisers had come to the conclusion that the higher Social Security and Medicare taxes that took hold Jan. 1 and the higher excise taxes on new cars and telephone calls, just enacted by Congress, would not dampen down the boom enough to prevent inflation.

Support for labor was forthcoming from Labor Department officials who said increases "appear to be over."

The shortages of fresh vegetables that have helped drive up prices should ease as the weather gets better, officials said. The Agriculture Department predicted lower meat and poultry prices later this year.

Park Pact Signing Due Soon

A lease is expected to be signed next week between Florida Power and Light Company and Volusia and Seminole Counties for the joint development and operation of an area park at Monte Harbord.

The Seminole County Board of Commissioners authorized chairman, John R. Alexander, to execute the lease providing Volusia County also executes the lease.

Volusia County Board of Commissioners is expected to authorize its chairman to execute the document at its Thursday meeting in Deland.

Florida Power and Light Company will lease approximately 40 acres to the two counties for 10 years for $1 a year.

The commissioners are expected to meet soon to determine how the park will be developed and used.

It is located across the St. Johns River bridge in Volusia County.

In other action at Tuesday's Seminole County Board of Commissioners meeting, County Engineer Jim Goodin was appointed co-ordinator of all federal programs.

The commissioners also viewed microfilm readers and printers with an eye to possible microfilming of old deed books at the courthouse. A decision may be made next week on microfilming or rebounding the old books.

State To Foot Medicare Bill For Qualified

TAMPA (UPI) — The State Welfare Board said the $3 per month premium on the voluntary insurance portion of Medicare will be paid for all qualified citizens who are on state welfare.

Board Chairman J. Hal Stalings said about 34,100 people would be taken care of. The state will pay $12 of the premium and the federal government will add $18.

Stalings said the state board had agreed on the action some time ago, but he made week on microfilming or rebounding the old books.

Sanford Center Sale Set

A foreclosure sale of Sanford Shopping Center, also known as Sanford Plaza, will be held at the courthouse April 4 between the hours of 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The foreclosure sale was initiated by Chase Manhattan Bank after a suit for lien foreclosure was filed in circuit court by J. M. Montgomery of Hoagland Company, Inc., against Patrick Zulli and others.

Montgomery died the roofing work on the shopping center. Chase Manhattan Bank is holder of the mortgage on the shopping center which is now in default, according to Attorney Paul E. Raymond, representing the bank as a defendant in the action.

Raymond said there are about 80 defendants in the litigation.

The Daytona Beach attorney said the foreclosure sale is what amounts to the filing of a counterclaim in the Montgomery vs. Zulli action.

The shopping center will be sold to the highest bidder at the front of the courthouse on April 3.

Suspects Jailed In Oviedo Theft

Constable George Kelley has arrested three men and charged them with breaking and entering, and grand larceny in the March 13 theft of the Oviedo High School in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

Clinton Almon Fulton Jr. and Roy Brown Clinton Jr. all are in their early 20s and all are from the Longwood area.

Kelley recovered the safe about one-quarter mile from the school, where it had been broken in high weeds after being hidden upon the premises.

About $25 still remained in the safe, but school officials say about $25 was missing, according to Kelley.

Also shown in the burglary were two walk-talkers. Parts of those were recovered by Kelley when he arrested the trio.

'Great Society' Clears Hurdle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House passed a $2.5 billion categorical money bill which also included $10 million for Johnson's teachers corps.

Republicans attacked the bill, but the House passed it 350-77.

Most of the remaining money in the categorical bill was for non-controversial government functions.

In the Senate, the bill passed 69-31.

After approving the $12 billion needed to start the program, the House passed a bill to fund the program for the next two years.

The bill provides that non-beneficiaries could construct homes, row houses, or apartments with special government-licensed financing, and the government would help pay tenants rent.

Light casualties resulted in the American phase of a U.S. military spokesman said, and both helicopters were lifted out today.

Sunland Lights Topic Of Meet

County are urged to attend a community meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Garden Club center for a discussion of what can be done about street lighting in the subdivision.

Cost of the lights was paid by the developer, Brantley Odam. When Odam sold the Sunland water system to the City of Sanford recently, maintenance of the street lights was not included.

Tentative plans are to form some kind of community association with residents of the area deciding whether they wish to continue the lighting by assessment of homeowners.

Lake Mary Club Plans Treasure Hunt

Rep. Robert Elrod of Orlando, speaking on Foreign Aid, presented a very thought-provoking program to the members and guests of the Lake Mary Women's Club at the International A.T.A.'s meeting at the Mayfair Country Club.

He suggested that we need a careful and precise audit to show where the $120 BILLION has been spent and what it has accomplished. This audit can do the most good if used for self help and education—"to help them to help themselves with tools and guidance and receive in return good will and devotion" on an individual basis.

Beth Gregory, club president, announced that the State Convention will be held April 12-15, in Sarasota. Winning entries from the district Fine Arts Festival will be entered and Elaine Poor, fine arts chairman, congratulated the club ribbon winners.

Plans for the Treasure Hunt and Bake Sale set for April 12 at the Sears Store were discussed by Jerri Keeth, ways and means chairman. Anyone with merchandise to contribute please contact Mrs. Keeth or Kat Noel.

The by-law revision committee report was given by Claire Evans. The recommendations will be read again before action can be taken. Martha Kilpatrick and Letha Fowler are the other members of the committee.

Key Bartholomew was congratulated for winning the Sky Anchors Toastmistress

A TREASURE HUNT featuring a pot-pourri of items including new and used clothing, household goods, jewelry, home-baked goodies and even Easter bonnets for milady, is being staged this Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2 at the old Sears Store on First Street. The Hunt is sponsored by the Lake Mary Women's Club with proceeds to benefit the Lake Mary Community Library. Finalizing plans for the show are, from left, Mrs. Frank Evans, Jerri Keeth, Martha Kilpatrick and Jean Bryant. (Herald staff photo by Doris Williams)

Theta Epsilon Entertains Rushees

Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held their Model Meeting on Tuesday, March 15. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Pat Helms and Mrs. Jan Cahill. The meeting was held at the Cahill home.

The Model Meeting, the last official gathering of Spring Rush Season, was designed to inform the rushees and guests of the aims and purposes of Beta Sigma Phi and the accomplishments of Theta Epsilon in particular. This was accomplished through reports from the various committees in the Chapter. Those reporting were Jo Kuhke, chairman of social committee; Jo Gardner, chairman of ways and means; and Betty Lewis, acting chairman of the service committee.

The program for the evening was presented by Pat Largent. This program, especially prepared for the Rush Season, explained to the rushees the different degrees of Beta Sigma Phi and the program books designed for each degree.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses. The theme of Spring Rush, "Crown Every Moment" was carried out in the decorations of refreshments. Each serving of cake was topped with a small crown.

CARS AND COLOR

Research shows that the color of your automobile affects safety.

Studies conducted at the University of California indicate the color of an approaching auto has a definite influence on a driver's judgment of its existence. Some colors make a car seem closer, while others make it appear further away.

Blue and yellow make distant objects seem nearer, under both daytime and nighttime conditions. Gray shades make objects appear to be furthest away.

Mr. Bumble Rides Again For Veteran

RICHMOND, Pa. (UPI)—"Mr. Bumble rides again," the editorial page headline proclaimed. The Richmond News Leader was firing at another target, this time "to thumb the nose of Mr. Bumble in the VA's (Veterans Administration's) direction."

The latest crusade cost the Herald Bumble Fund run by Editor James Jackson Kilpatrick $78.75. It will go to Charles Cole, 74, a disabled war veteran now living in Miami.

Kilpatrick said that in 1957, when Cole was a 23-year-old sailor on the battleship Pennsylvania, his back was hurt by a flying anchor chain and Cole was mustered out as a cripple. Cole was still able to drive a car, Kilpatrick related, and later became a chauffeur to President Calvin Coolidge. But now Cole's sole income is $100 a month in veterans pension, the editorial said.

Five years ago the VA sent a check for $78.75 to Cole but last week the federal agency said that 1961 check was an erroneous payment and the money would have to be paid back. "In the particular case of Mr. Cole, we do not doubt that the law supposes him liable for some bureaucrat's mistake five years ago," the editorial said.

"But as Mr. Bumble said in the famous line from Oliver Twist, 'If the law supposes that, the law is a ass, a idiot.' Thus the check to Cole from the fund which has 'the sole purpose... occasionally to redress the little people of this world who fall victim to the blind arrogance of judges or the maddening officiousness of bureaucracy.'"

Pay Increase Near For Aides In Government

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House subcommittee members have given to a bill which would give 1.8 million federal employees a 2.4 per cent increase in wages and fringe benefits. The bill was a bit more generous than the administration proposal. President Johnson had asked for a 3.2 per cent jump, the maximum for non-inflationary increases under administration wage-price guidelines.

Aviation Menace Of Fire May Be Conquered

By Robert J. Sterling
UPI Aviation Editor
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Science may be on the verge of conquering aviation's greatest menace—fire on impact.

The most promising tool appears to be a means of "emulsifying" fuel—adding a chemical substance that keeps it flameproof until it is sent through the engine.

The subject was discussed, both publicly and privately, at a Federal Aviation Agency conference on means of increasing survival chances in an air crash.

Prevention of fire on impact—by far the leading cause of airliner fatalities—was a prime topic.

Fuel emulsification was mentioned only as a possibility during the actual discussions. But several airlines and government safety experts said later that this approach could be the answer to reducing crash fatalities by as much as 75 per cent.

Most of the emulsification experiments are being conducted by the Flight Safety Foundation under an Army contract. No results have been published, but airline and FAA officials hinted that tests thus far have been dramatically encouraging. They have heard reports that emulsified fuel, which resembles the lather from a pressurized can of shaving cream, is not only flameproof but would add only one per cent of additional weight.

Fuel emulsification would have the major advantage of being readily adaptable to present airliners as well as future ones. All other means of containing fuel (keeping it from spraying if a tank or wing cell ruptures) would involve extensive structural modifications or intricate fire-extinguishing systems.

FAA officials conducting the "crashworthiness" experiments mentioned fuel containment as only one of the techniques being plugged in the search for increased crash survivability.

Various government-industry research projects also are in progress in such areas as improving the intensity of cabin lights to pierce blinding smoke, installing smoke masks for passengers, using explosive charges to open escape areas, putting speaker systems in airliner cabins, and developing ways to evacuate the monster jets of the future which may carry as many as 700 passengers.

McLean Had Premonition Says Widow

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UPI)—Mrs. Bob McLean, widow of the Canadian driver killed in a fiery crash last Saturday in the Sebring, Fla., endurance race, believes her husband had a premonition of his death.

"I'm sure that within himself, although he may not have been conscious of it, he knew what was going to happen and planned ahead," she said Monday.

"Last week he made a will. He had never intended on this before," said Mrs. McLean. "He left me money, and told me to buy the children clothing for a year."

She added, "He called me from the track every day, even though he had been told not to because of the cost. He had never called like that before."

McLean, who will be buried Wednesday, was not especially superstitious, but he never wanted to have his car painted green. His car at Sebring was a Ford GT-40, painted white and green.

Texas Is Preparing For A HemisFair In 1968

space center, the Louvre and the anthropology museum at Mexico City. Apparently the state legislature will go along.

Gaines says what Connally has in mind is a colossal combination of "the Smithsonian Institution, the NASA

Decision Soon On Ford Engine

ATLANTA (UPI)—NASCAR officials are expected to reach a decision Wednesday in Daytona Beach, Fla., on whether to approve the Ford overhead cam engine for racing competition.

Robert Anderson, Chrysler vice president, said here Monday that Chrysler cars probably would not compete if the Ford engine is accepted for future races. Anderson made the statement during a victory celebration for driver Jim Hurtubise of North Tonawanda, N. Y., who won the Atlanta 500 stock car race Sunday in a 1966 Plymouth.

A top-level meeting was held following the 500 between NASCAR President Bill France and several track promoters. They reportedly discussed Ford's engine and but no decision was reached.

COLLISION

Lavonia Lucindy Henry, 41, of 210 N. Avenue, was charged with careless and negligent driving Monday following a collision between her car and one driven by Lois Beckhorn Jackson, of Lake Mary, at 12th Street and Cedar Avenue. There was $275 total damage to the two vehicles.

Century-Old Orphanage To Close Doors

Over the years, thousands of young girls of all races and creeds were helped at St. Vincent's Home for Girls in Santa Fe. For a century it was operated by the Sisters of Charity of Cincinnati, Ohio.

"Emotionally, it is very difficult to close the home," Sister James Marie, the present superior, said. "But intellectually, it is the only thing to do."

The driving force behind the home in its beginning was Archbishop James Plafieffe Lamy. In August, 1865, he wrote a letter to the Sisters of Charity in Cincinnati requesting aid in establishing an orphanage and hospital in Santa Fe. The letter brought the three nuns to the state over the 2,000-mile journey to the frontier territory of New Mexico.

Because of the distance from the mother house in Cincinnati, St. Vincent's in Santa Fe was considered a "child" orphanage by the Sisters of Charity.

Their first building was made of adobe mud, and it leaked in wet weather. Later the home was moved to a larger building near the hospital and was home to orphans and sisters for 90 years. That building was condemned 10 years ago, and the orphanage was moved to a converted residence.

An early benefactor of the home was Gen. James H. Carlton, who brought in the first orphan — an Indian girl he found on a battlefield. The girl later was named Mary Carlton. The general also helped by sending wood, coal and flour to the orphanage.

Initial financing for the home and hospital came from a $5,000 grant from a Rev. Stephen Avel. In the early years the sisters made do with whatever they could get, but later the New Mexico Territorial Legislature authorized the territory to pay $10,000 per year to St. Vincent's orphanage.

Today the home also receives funds from the State Welfare Department for each child's care. Additional money comes for school supplies and clothing.

Sister James Marie has only been at the orphanage since last summer. She was sent to supervise the closing of the home because it was felt the closing would give too much of an emotional tug on the sisters who had worked there for so many years.

Only six girls live at the home now, compared with nearly 200 who lived there at times in the past.

Thrasher Object Floats Ashore

— KILMER, Irv. (UPI)—Police said a three-foot metal object washed up on the beach here apparently came from the ill-fated U. S. nuclear submarine Thrasher which sank in the Atlantic in 1963 with the loss of 129 men.

The cylindrical-shaped object carried the stamp, "U.S. Navy, Radioactive — Danger — The Thrasher — Property of U. S. government."

Thirty-six per cent of all cars registered in the United States are in five states — California, New York, Pennsylvania, Texas and Ohio.

Computers Now Turn To Playing Cupid

NEW YORK (NEA) — Cupid-playing computers are now taking match-making and jittery nerves out of blind dating on the campus.

The machines are busy matching heights, interests and personalities in time for all the big spring formal.

It all began with the computerized dances on campuses throughout the country. It is becoming the most popular "crazy" method going.

Students are asked to fill out questionnaires detailing particulars. For example, "What is your taste in music? Or, would you prefer a home-type or a sophisticated?"

The computer does the rest. One question at the University of Missouri asked for a 25-word essay on what was expected from a date. A freshman male asked for "someone who will help me to overcome my inferiority complex."

A senior responded, simply, "sex."

One fraternity man filled out a questionnaire for his German shepherd mascot. But the dog got stuck on party day and a student was forced to escort the date.

Mechanized match-making hit the Ivy League when Dartmouth students were paired with Boston University coeds for a Dartmouth football game and a rock 'n' roll party. At Iowa State, love marriages and several pairings resulted from the data-filled evening.

But one girl's next morning "if that's my ideal, I'm going to commit suicide."

St. Johns River Estates' popularity on the agenda of the Board of County Commissioners is giving way to Sand Lake Road and Wilson Drive—both have the earmarks of long run attractions.

Earl Higginbotham says he has the solution to the stray dog and cat problem—"put birds control pills in all dog and cat food." Might sprinkle a few in the garbage cans, too.

The city is going to buy an eight-year-old mandrill for the zoo who will be "in full color" in case you didn't know, the mandrill is a baboon that has bright blue and red patches on his nose and posterior. The city hasn't had a mandrill since the famous "Jiggs" died several years ago. The mandrill is a ferocious animal, probably because people are always laughing at him. The new beast will cost $500.

Estimated cost of installing a fountain with six foot jets of water, plus colored lights, in the old fountain at the foot of the baseball park, is from $900 to $1200. City commissioners were cool on the idea. One commissioner who suggested facetiously that each commissioner contribute a "couple hundred" dollars to the cost of the fountain was told he was "out of order."

A suggestion to sell city dog licenses at the offices of veterinarians has been dropped. Too much paper work. Back to City Hall.

Political banners hung over the street will be allowed to stay, but passing of signs and bumper stickers on buildings, posts, street signs and other city property is being declared.

At long last, the city library is going to get that air-conditioning library users have been waiting for so long. The many years. Look for a big increase in library use this summer.

Books Close Saturday

Voter Registrations Far Less Than 1965

Registration books in Seminole County will close at 5 p.m. Saturday and it looked today as if the number of eligible voters will fall some 300,000 below 1965. "Unless there is a last minute avalanche of new registrations and a return of the re-registered cars we will fall below our last year's figures," Mrs. Camilla Bruce, supervisor of elections, said today. Mrs. Bruce said that every one returns their white renewal cards to her office by the deadline.

There were 22,737 eligible voters in the county last year as of that date there were only 20,150 registered. Mrs. Bruce said the number of new registrations hasn't been enough to account for the lack of renewals this year. Since Jan. 1 only 100 new voters have been signed up. Renewals have totaled 19,140, bringing the figure to 20,150. The registration office in the ground floor of the Seminole County courthouse will be open all day Saturday to accommodate "late registrations." The office in Seminole Plaza also will be open the same hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

There will be at least three elections in Seminole County this year. The May 2 primary and subsequent runoff, plus the November election.

The first treatment should be completed within 90 days and will be followed by a second application sometime within the following 150 days. The $400,000 project, continued from last year, is financed by matching state and federal funds.

Mirex pellets are dropped from the aircraft and insecticides are spread by insecticides. The Mirex is mixed with nitrogen oil and ground up corn cob.

"Mirex can be used safely anywhere," said Halwin Jones, director of the Florida Department of Agriculture's division of plant industry. "It poses no threat to humans, farm and domestic animals, fish, fowl, wildlife or crops."

Two more days to register to vote. While registration renewal cards must be in the office of the supervisor of elections by 6 p.m. Saturday.

The Democratic Women's Club of Seminole County will aid in the registering of voters Friday and Saturday—the last day to register for the May primaries. The club will be open from 9 to 12 and 2 to 5 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday to carry people to register at the courthouse. Phone number is 322-0070.

Fire And Drive Scheduled To Open Next Week

The rear of low-flying aircraft will come to Seminole County once again next week as the eradication campaign against the imported fire ant gets under way.

Aircraft shipping along at low level will drop the mirex insecticide in an effort to reduce the death toll for fire ants in 400,000 acre areas in Seminole, Orange, Lake and Volusia Counties. Two Lockheed P2V aircraft assigned to the project will have their spreading equipment calibrated at Herndon Airport in Orlando early Friday. Actual treatment begins early Monday, weather permitting and providing the necessary permission by the Federal Aviation Agency.

Two reasons why boys grow hair these days has been given by W. P. Laver, biology teacher at Sanford Junior High School. Long hair will bring out the mother instinct in girls. If you can't grow a beard, you can grow long hair.

Johnson Warns Of Inflation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson said today if existing measures to curb inflation fail, he will not hesitate to seek "further fiscal restraint." He did not specifically mention a tax increase although this would be an obvious alternative.

Asserting that "the amber light is on," Johnson said he would do whatever is necessary to keep the economy from mushrooming too far. And he said he would do so "election year notwithstanding." Although he denied that the economy was presently "shooting off into outer space," the President did say that "some factors... are beginning to become apparent," including the fact that "prices are moving in much too fast for comfort."

In a speech before a National League of Cities conference, Johnson said: "We are proceeding cautiously, with common sense. Some careful restraint has been applied. We are touching the brakes, not clamping them on, not risking a slide into recession or depression."

"We have learned that less-son to decide on a $3 billion tax boost to counter inflation."

The President is mounting a campaign, including his celebrated telephone technique, to stem what the administration considers the single most serious inflationary pressure—rising plant investment.

Plant investment is booming at a pace 16 per cent greater than last year's record level—a pace that caught the administration by surprise and was promptly labeled inflationary by many economists.

What are the general education requirements? "All members of the senior class are responsible for selling tickets," Dodson said.

The movie to be shown at the Hitz Theater April 7 through April 13 will be a Walt Disney program, featuring "The Ugly Duckling" and "Winnie the Pooh."

Because of the limited seating capacity at the school auditorium, Dr. Weidman said he plans to conduct similar conferences at other high schools in the county, if necessary.

Pitman, Francis W. Smathers Investigator. He was then released and booked at city jail, but later his injuries began bleeding again and he was returned to the hospital for admission.
