MANCHURIA IS IN SERIOUS SPOT AS REDS ADVANCE

By JOHN RODERICK
PEIPING, June 20, (AP)—Chinese Communists smashed into Szepingkai today, increasing the gravity of the situation of Nationalist forces battling to hold on Manchuria, which some observers feared might be completely lost by the government.

Chinese dispatches said about 6000 Red Army troops had surrounded the battered rail center, 70 miles southwest of Changchun, Manchurian capital. Advance Communist units engaged in street fighting with garrison defenders.

Pushing into the western sector of the downtown area, the attackers wrested control of the Central Bank Building — provincial government headquarters — but Nationalists succeeded in recapturing it after bitter fighting, the press accounts said.

The Szepingkai garrison was reported in a desperate plight, consuming ammunition faster than it could be dropped from planes and shelled by Red artillery set up inside the outskirts of the city.

Reports from Manchuria reflected on halt in the Red army's progressive attacks against vital communications lines linking China, proper with partially encircled Mukden.

General Sun Li-Jen, deputy commander in Manchuria and former commandant of the new first army, now encircled inside Changchun, was ordered to terminate his Nanking visit and return to Mukden immediately.

The recall of this Virginia Military Institute graduate, observers emphasized, was more evidence of the government's predicament in Manchuria. Military strategists viewed the Communist drive against Fushan — site of huge coal mines — as the most immediate threat to Mukden's safety.

Field reports placed advance Red units within 15 miles of Fushan. In North China, the government Central News Agency acknowledged the fall of Tsanghsien on the Tientsin-Pukow line which has been under siege more than a week. Tsanghsien also is an important loading point for UNRRA's movement of relief supplies to Communist areas via the Grand Canal.

Through traffic on the Peiping-Mukden rail line again was halted as the Reds blew up a stretch near Peitaiho, 18 miles south of Shannaiwan. Other press reports said government troops were

Apologies Sought For "Mocking" Wallace

LONDON, June 20, (AP)—The New Statesman and Nation, sponsor of Henry A. Wallace's recent tour of Britain, wants apologies from Britons and Americans who "mocked him as a man who represented nobody and nothing."

"We await their apologies as they watch the spectacular success of Mr. Wallace's journey across the U. S.," the weekly said today. It declared the Marshall aid-for-Europe proposals were borrowed from Wallace's preachings.

withdrawn from points only 11 miles from Yingkow, the government's main sea gateway to Manchuria.

Earlier today, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek told his state council in Nanking he had every confidence in the government's ability to hold two Manchurian strongpoints—Mukden and Changchun—against the spreading offensive of the Communists.

"When these are secure," he told his state council, "the outlook in the north is not pessimistic."

The state council, after hearing the Generalissimo's review approved Premier Chang Chun's new economic plan and emergency economic regulations, recommending their merger into a single, workable program. Chang's plan, council members said later, was expressed in broad, general terms and called for stabilization of currency, reduction of expenditures and increases in production.

Cigarettes In Britain Now Cost 68 Cents

LONDON, June 20, (AP)—The British smoker is fighting six cigarettes nowadays for every 10 he smoked before the price shot upward April 15, the National Association of Retail Tobacconists reported today.

Popular brands now cost 68 cents per package of 20, compared with 48 cents before the government, to cut dollar spending for tobacco, increased the cost. Some people have stopped smoking altogether and others smoke only during their leisure hours.

16,000 Germans Are Out On Food-Strike

COLOGNE, Germany, June 20, (AP)—This city's "too hungry to work" strike spread today until it included 16,000 workers in 21 factories.

The workers presented no formal demands but simply said they lacked the strength to do their jobs since the bread ration was halved this week to two pounds. British officials said they were hopeful that food conditions could be improved so that the workers would return to their jobs Monday.

MEMBERS OF THE CREW of the S.S. America are pictured leaving their ship in New York, some with baggage, just "in case" their vessel does not sail as scheduled. The men had signed up for just one trip. Meanwhile, Joseph Curran, leader of the CIO's National Maritime Union, has demanded that unless decent proposals are made "we'll pull out everything on the waterfront." Over 700 vessels are already tied up. (International)

Hollywood By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 20 (AP)—In the past few months, observers have suspected that something new was happening in the movie industry and Tyrone Power thinks he can put his finger on it.

"The studios have discovered that they can no longer dictate to the public," he said.

The Cincinnati-born actor viewed the matter economically, pointing out that during the war people planned to pay $100 for needed items, such as refrigerators.

Studios cannot force a second-rate picture on the public, said Tyrone, a second-rate star.

When the people whom we'd like to see more of and so on. There is no more impatience of the critical ability of the public, he said.

He said that a million dollars, he said, as a 20th-Fox representative.

Wedding Coiffure Should Be Simple

By BETTY CLARKE

When planning your bridal hair, try to pick a romantic coiffure. Sets if you can persuade your hairdresser to leave the hair and face hair as somebody else's.

Attractive hair arrangement that will not need lacquer to keep it in place.

Stiffly lacquered-updos are definitely out, says New York hairdresser John Hall.

With this in mind Mr. Hall has designed for the young bride a "waterfall coiffure" which can be a beautiful complement to her bridal veil.

The hair is parted in the center, gathered either at the back of the head or at the nape of the neck.

An elastic band or a bit of string is used to anchor it in place. Two curls are formed out of the back hair. On the length of the hair, of course, depends the length of the curl.

The important thing about this hairdo, says Mr. Hall, is that it will be a nuisance to care for just before you go to bed at night.

Just before you go to bed at night, the hair ends into one large curl and you won't need lots of pins to keep it in shape until you recomb.

CELERY FEDS TO MEET SENATORS THERE TONIGHT

Bill Stanton Slated To Hurl; Teams Return Here To Play Tomorrow Evening

Herald Sports Editor The Sanford Celery Feds motor to Tinker Field in Orlando tonight to meet the Orlando Senators in a scheduled nine-inning affair.

The Feds, as well as the Seis, have been suffering from rained-out tilts. Orlando has not played a contest on their home field in six days and the locals have appeared on the Municipal Park but once since Tuesday a week ago.

Manager Don Murray will likely send big Bill Stanton to the hill to face the Senators, who will have right handed Gene Major slanting the balls across the plate.

Last night the Sanford-Leeburg Pirate contest, scheduled to be played at the Municipal Park, was rained out. Just prior to game time a deluge descended upon the field and at 6:30 o'clock the diamond was practically covered with water.

Tomorrow night the Feds are slated to play host to the Orlando Senators and Sunday afternoon the locals play St. Augustine in the Ancient City.

Top Golfers Remain In Dixie Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 20. (AP) George Hamer, the defending champion from Columbus, Ga., carried the banner for the (form strikers in the Southern Amateur Golf tournament today, but he had for company in the quarter-finals some of Dixie's foremost fairway artists.

Hamer, the National Intercollegiate Champ, refused to fall to the down wind that yesterday caught record-breaking medalist Charley Harper of Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla., and the campaigner who conquered him, Bill Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C. Patton, after outlasting Harper, bowed to Hunter Weddington of Meridian, Miss.

Challenging Hamer's efforts to repeat in the 41st annual championship meet of the Southern Golf Association over the 3,531-yard, 72-par Audubon Country Club course, were such sturdy strikers as Jim Ryan, Rome, Ga., and Tommy Darnes, Atlanta, winner of every major dixie crown except the Southern Amateur.

Soldiers Overseas Suggest Hurlers For All-Star Combines

CHICAGO, June 20. (AP)—Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals and Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox, as managers of the National and American League all-star teams which meet here July 8, will pick their own pitching staffs, but soldiers overseas have made some suggestions.

In the stars and stripes, collecting ballots in the Army's European Command, the soldiers nominated Warren Spahn, of Boston, Schoolboy Rowe, of Philadelphia, Harry Brecheen of St. Louis and Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati in the National League.

The top pitchers in the American League, as named by the soldiers, were Bob Feller of Cleveland, Hal Newhouser of Detroit, Spud Chandler of New York and Dave Ferriss of Boston.

Joe Magglio was the top individual vote-getter in the latest compilation of votes from the entire network of polls. Di Magglio had been named in 17,251 of the 419,889 ballots tabulated.

NEW FOUND POWER NEW YORK—(AP)—Among the oddities in the National League this season is the home run hitting of two former Coast League players, Earl Torgerson, Boston Braves' first baseman, and Bill Rigney, the New York Giants' third sacker. Both wear glasses and this year they have hit more home runs than any one season in their baseball careers. Before this season, Torgerson's top was five and Rigney's three.

Red Hats Attacked For Player Classification By A's

SILVER SPRINGS, June 20. (Special)—Florida State League President Al Combs, plagued throughout the season by charges and counter-charges, had a new one before him tonight, this one lodged against the Deland Red Hats by the Palatka Azaleas.

In a formal telegram to league headquarters here this morning, Jeff Emerson, director of the Palatka club, charging that Combs have definite proof that Ted Ross is a veteran instead of a limited service man, demanded action against Deland for carrying more than the maximum number of veterans allowed each club.

Under league rules each club is allowed but three veterans on its active roster. Ross has been carried as a limited service player since the season's opening, while for several weeks at the same time the Deland roster listed Bill Steinecke, Chuck Aleno and Eugene Ciolek as veterans. More recently Jim Schaaf, Harold Stewart, and Bud Wampler were carried as veterans. Combs had the charges under consideration tonight.

'RETONGA IS GRAND,' SAYS MRS. JERNIGAN

Suffered From Nervous Indigestion No Matter What Or How Little She Ate, She States. Eats Anything Now And Feels So Much Better Her Work Is A Pleasure

Among the finest, well-known Florida men and women to come forward with a grateful public endorsement of Retonga after trying this famous gastric tonic in their own cases, is Mrs. O. L. Jernigan, well-known home maker of 221 West Alfred St., Tampa, Fla.

"It seemed to me that no matter what I ate, or how little, I suffered continually from nervous indigestion," declares Mrs. Jernigan. "My appetite, dwindled away to where I seldom could get my meal time enjoyment."

I lost weight and slept so poorly that I never seemed to get rested. My elimination was very sluggish, and it seemed to me I hardly had half the strength and pep a person of my age should have.

"I tried so many medicines that I was beginning to feel discouraged, but Retonga gave me both prompt and splendid relief. My appetite was never better. I eat anything I want, and I sleep soundly and restfully. I've regained my lost weight, and I feel so good again that my work is a pleasure. Retonga is grand."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Touchtons. — Adv.

General Bradley Disparages Talk Of Another War

MILWAUKEE, June 20 (AP)—General Omar Bradley said today that "if we once again risk disaster by turning our backs on the world, we shall not be given another chance." "There is not enough room in the world for both civilization and atomic conflict," he said.

"Twice the United States has snatched victory out of defeat as the arsenal of democracy. In the event of another war, we shall become the target."

The Veterans Administration disparaged talk of "another and inevitable war," however. People who follow this line display a lack of faith in America, he said in an address prepared for the national convention of the American Veterans Committee.

"Democracy," Bradley asserted, "can lose through the fears of its people, through their failure to trust in its strength, through timidity in meeting problems at home and confusion in solving problems abroad."

He said American people must:

1. Be prepared to sustain a bold foreign policy.
2. Strive for economic security which will give other nations confidence in the wealth and productivity of the American system.
3. Contribute willingly to maintenance of armed strength "essential to the security and stability of the world."

Bradley advised the AVC to oppose additional benefits and special privileges for veterans. "There is no such thing as a free ride on the government for any deserving citizen," he said.

"Veterans who demand unwarranted expenditures now are saddling themselves with an unreasonable tax burden in future years."

velop this quality more. People would often not have such a hard time in finding out a person's best qualities if that person would develop a more friendly spirit in meeting people and smile, he pointed out.

He told of a survey made of stations by an oil company, the officials of which, when they received the reports, were impressed with the number of instances where employees had failed to greet customers with a smile, thanked them and asked them to come back.

Render a little more service than you are called upon to do, he told the Lions. Don't be a clock watcher. The man whose interest in his work is only for a monetary purpose has completely failed to realize the purpose of his life, he asserted.

"I presume that fear causes more people in the world to fail to accomplish than any other thing," said Mr. Housholder. Other things are afraid to make a step forward due to the fear of not accomplishing some new project. He cited Abraham Lincoln as one who faced almost continual defeat yet forged ahead to become president, and stressed the value of faith in self as a good recipe for accomplishment.

Truman Veto

might occur before the board of inquiry could make its report or perhaps even before the board could be appointed," Mr. Truman said.

The measure was sent to the House where Republican leaders already had marshaled their forces for a quick vote to override the veto and pass the measure over Mr. Truman's disapproval.

Here are the major provisions of the bill:

1. Let the government get court orders to block "national calamity" strikes, as in the coal or steel industries, during 90 days of mediation.
2. Forbid the closed shop, in which the boss can hire only union help.
3. Ban various kinds of special strikes and boycotts.
4. Permit court suits against unions that break contracts.
5. Deny collective bargaining rights to any union having an officer or anyone who could "reasonably be regarded as one."
6. Make it an unfair labor practice, which could be stopped by a court order, for a union to keep non-striking workers from their jobs by mass or violent picketing.
7. Forbid "excessive or discriminatory" union dues and initiation fees.

In a 5,600 word message, the President told the Congress members that the legislation is a "clear threat to the successful working of our democratic society."

"The bill would go far toward weakening our trade union movement, and it would go far toward destroying our national unity."

"By raising barriers between labor and management and by injecting political considerations into normal economic decisions, it would invite them to gain their ends through direct political action."

"I think it would be exceedingly dangerous to our country to develop a class basis for political action."

The President said there still is a genuine opportunity for enactment of this session of appropriate labor legislation, and added:

"I still feel that the recommendations which I expressed in the State of the Union message constitute an adequate basis for legislation which is moderate in spirit and which relates to known abuses."

In that message in January, the President said he recommended "a step-by-step approach" and indicated specifically problems which should be handled immediately.

He also proposed a non-partisan investigation covering the entire field of labor-management relations. He said he was "fairly convinced" that such a measure would weaken the economy and weaken the unity of the people.

The President's veto was the second one slapped on legislation developed by the Republican-dominated Congress in line with pledges made by party speakers in last year's political campaigns which gave it control of the national legislature.

Two big GOP campaign promises were:

1. A reduction in taxes.
2. Revision of the labor laws.

Mr. Truman vetoed their cutting bill last Monday and the House upheld his action by a two vote margin. Today's action swept away any remnants of White House-Congress cooperation in the domestic field that had survived last Monday's veto.

Disagreeing with the whole philosophy of the labor measure, the President declared it would be "a dangerous strike in the direction of a totally managed economy" and said "it contains seeds of discord which would plague this nation for years to come."

In an analysis of the legislation, the President declared he had put it to four tests. He said:

1. That he had considered whether it would result in more or less government intervention in our economic life and concluded it would "inject the government deeply into the process by which employers and workers reach agreement" and "superimpose bureaucratic procedures on the free decisions of local employers and employees."
2. That in a second basic test as to whether it would improve

State Control Board Holds Orlando Meet

DAYTONA BEACH, June (AP)—Hal Davis, 17, Quincy, was elected state president of the Florida Association of Future Farmers at the association's final meeting here this morning.

The Quincy future farmer, choice of the nominating committee, was elected on the first ballot, defeating Green Mc Cornick, Sumnerfield, and William Moore, Pompano, for the top office.

Davis is a twelfth grade student at Quincy High School and president of the Quincy FFA chapter. He holds the state farmer degree and has received a $100 scholarship to the University of Florida for having the best all-around exhibit at the Quincy stock show.

put failed to satisfy union demands for job reclassification.

Several hundred automobile workers marched on the National Assembly to demand the pay. Police dispersed the 50 to reach the square behind the assembly building, the Place du Palais Bourbon, and a second and bigger crowd broke up peacefully after sending a delegation inside.

Police guards around the building had been doubled when word came that some 2,000 workers had gathered in front of the suburban Hispano-Suiza automobile factory and were planning the march.

Some marchers in the first group were taken to a nearby police station for verification of their identity papers. This group carried a Red flag labeled "CGT," initials of the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor.

Communist deputies in the assembly received the workers' delegates and listened to their demands. Socialist and peasant republicans were also present.

It would deprive workers of the power to meet the competition of goods produced under sweat shop conditions by permitting employers to halt every type of secondary boycott, not merely those for unjustifiable purposes.

Mr. Truman also contended the legislation would "strait jacket" the National Labor Relations Board's operations by a "series of special restrictions unknown to any other quasi-judicial agency."

The procedure provided for dealing with major strikes affecting the public health or safety, the President argued, would "do more harm than good" and "increase rather than diminish widespread industrial disturbances."

On that, he said:

"I am convinced that the country would be in for a bitter disappointment if these provisions of the bill became law."

Repair Bids Asked On County Roads

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., June 20 (AP)—The State Road Department today asked contractors to submit bids July 15 on 70 miles of road and bridge work in 12 counties.

The proposed projects are located in Dade, Nassau, Duval, Gadsden, Citrus, Taylor, Madison, Dixie, Seminole, Volusia, Hendry and Polk counties.

The project includes resurfacing four sections totaling 13 miles of roads 15, 46, 415 and 600 in Volusia and Seminole counties.

Flood

undated and all 600 residents have left. Canton, Mo., was half under water from earlier floods, but its levees are well sandbagged and new damage was expected unless the river rises higher than predicted.

At Hannibal the Red Cross made preparations for caring for 1,000 persons expected to be made homeless. The Mississippi levee reached a stage of 22.9 feet last night, a foot under its high mark of the previous flood.

In interior Missouri, the Missouri River was overflowing more lowlands between Lexington and Booneville.

Water was receding at Oakville and Wapello, on the Iowa River. Oakville Mayor O. D. Johnson said the crest there of 18.6 feet, was more than two feet higher than the 1929 previous record. Oakville was completely evacuated but life water got into the town of 440 population as voluntary workers managed to hold the levee.

At Ottumwa, water was receding slowly, but still was four feet above flood stage.

The Mississippi continued to rise at Keokuk and A. A. Kowert, chief engineer for Quincy, Ill., said the great would reach Keokuk about noon.

At Hamburg, Ia., on the Nishabota River near the Missouri River, about half the town was still flooded, and 300 families were being cared for in Red Cross centers.

vided with a ramp for easy loading.

A 20-by-101 concrete platform separate from the building and about 75 feet of it will be built to unload automobiles; it was announced by O. H. Page, supervisor of transfer of the ACL at Savannah, who on a visit here this morning predicted that the new fireproof terminal building would be of fine advantage to Sanford.

Sanford is not considered a transfer point now as during the war when it "saved the day" by serving as a statewide transfer point to relieve the overcrowded facilities at Waycross, Ga., he said. The new freight terminal is designed to give service to Sanford and Seminole County.

"I am a great believer in Sanford," declared Mr. Page. "It has wonderful, natural advantages with its lake and river location and its vegetable section. He praised the work of the freight terminal men here who, he said, did a great wartime job during the emergency.

Waycross now has fine mechanized loading equipment and two thousand foot platforms, and can accommodate 125 cars at a time on the eight tracks, he revealed. This will handle "all normal transfer traffic for Florida, but in an emergency Sanford facilities could again be used, he said.

Veto Reaction

adoption of a new measure to the President's recommendations. He said the things Mr. Truman proposes already are in the Taft-Hartley bill and that Congress would make it "law, veto or no veto."

Halleck noted that 103 House Democrats voted for the bill when the case passed it while 60 Democrats opposed it. In this minority, Halleck said, were "radical New Dealers."

"Henry Wallace need not worry any more about forming a third party," Halleck added. "In his veto message Mr. Truman practically turned the Democratic party over to Wallace and his gang."

While Republican party leaders denounced it, AFL President William Green praised President Truman's veto. Green said it was "a masterpiece of statesmanship" and that the President "has stately upheld the fundamental principles of freedom and fair dealing in industrial relations which the Taft-Hartley bill set out to wreck."

The veto of the Taft-Hartley labor bill was described today by President Walter P. Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers as "an act of courage and wise statesmanship."

Reuther added, "His action calls for the same kind of courage and statesmanship on the part of all congressmen in both parties who believe in progress." He urged Congress to uphold the veto.

In the late afternoon, the prospects as to the time for a Senate vote were uncertain. It was clear that Democrats would want to, and could by talking, force a delay until after the President's speech.

One Republican leader said efforts were underway to get an informal agreement fixing a time for a Senate vote tomorrow.

He said this hinged on whether the Republicans would provide a "pat" parliamentary device by which senators register their views when they are absent, for Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) who is in Geneva attending the World Trade Conference.

Democrats were reported willing to vote tomorrow if Thomas' absence could be matched by two absentees on the side of those supporting the bill. It requires two-thirds of those voting to override a veto.

The House acted on the bill swiftly and with little demonstration. A bellow of boos came from the Republican side when reading of the President's message was ended. Some applause came from the Democratic side.
