missing left arm, was found when Huron Touchton Jr., landfill doser driver, began leveling compacted trash transported to the landfill from the Sanlando transfer station off Douglas Road near Altamonte Springs.

An autopsy performed Thursday afternoon at Seminole Memorial Hospital revealed the fractures, but failed to yield a cause of death, according to Dr. G. V. Garay, county medical Tests being conducted now may reveal the cause of death, according to Dr. Garay. Those tests should be concluded sometime Monday. he said today.

The body's left arm was probably severed after it had been placed in the trash either at the compactor in Altamonte Springs or at the landfill, according to Dr. Garay.

"The arm could have been severed during compacting at Sanlando or during transportation to the landfill or at the landfill, when the dozer began spreading the rubbish," said Sheriffs's spokesman John Spolski.

At the transfer station, the trash is compacted by being pushed together with a large piston-like device. The trash is then loaded on a tractor-trailer unit and taken to the landfill. The tractor-trailer unit employs a large plunger device to push compacted trash out to the ground where it is spread out by dozers,

Ear Took Two Weeks To Arrive Italy's Chaotic Mail Service Spurned By Abductors

By ARTURO GONZALEZ JR.

ROME (NEA) — Several years ago, Italian hideappers seatched the grandsen of hillionaire Jean-Paul Getty, and spirited the unfertunate youth off to a secret hideaway. When reasons negotiations began to drag, they cruelly sliced off the lad's ear and mailed the gristy piece of flesh across Rome to the boy's mether. That was a very hig mistake. The ear took almost two weeks to arrive. The moral (as any Ralian can

A food vending machine business card and • venues's identification card were found strong the times in the deal man's wellet, according to Spolski, along with a small amount of money.

Spolski declined to reveal the identity of the woman or the vending machine company. However, he said both are located in central Florida. "We're in the process of trying to talk with those people," Spolski said of the woman and the vending machine firm. "The business card was the type that might be given to you or me if we made an inquiry about the business or had been called on by a salesman," Spolski commented. In addition to trying to contact the vending machine company and the woman, Spolski said bulletins have been sent to all law enforcement agencies throughout the state. The bulletins are efforts to determine if it is someone reported missing from another area. The money found in the wallet was enough to pay for a motel room, according to Spolaki

He said he did not feel the man died under similar circumstances as a transient - who was crushed to death in Orange County last week when he climbed into a garbage dumpster to sleep. The man is described in the bulletin sent out by the sheriff's department as being five feet five inches; 150 pounds; dark complexioned with brown hair and eyes; having a small acar on the left cheek and a medium mustache.

Love In The Marines

Inflation — education — procrastination — all kept a young couple from the altar until they discovered the fringe benefits offered couples by the U.S. Marine Corps. See OURSELVES Sunday.

"Nobody in Italy sends anything important in the mail these days, anyway," sighs a past office of-ficial watching several hundred thousande unopened envelopes curl in the flames. "There's nothing in that blase except silly love letters and advertising " notices of at least 60 days old. "I had bit the jackpet. Some worker in the bowels of the Rome central past office had just hangened to open a anck of mail from the U.S. that contained a ellection of post for me. But I probably won't not tocky again for another ten weeks or so." Since the Ralian post office also controls telegraphic services, Raly's current paralysis in written communication is almost total. It takes an average of 96 hours - four days - for a telegram to reach its recipient within Italy; longer if the cable has to cross borders.

Says one frustrated expetriate now living Rome: "The history books tell us it took Michaelangelo's letters to the Pope, sent from Florence to Rome, less than four days to arrive and that was when the mail went by horseback."

The biggest problem is manpower, or more precisely, lack of it. Ironically, in a country where more than 2 million people are unemployed, there just aren't enough mail sorters working in the backrooms of the country's past offices to get letters classified and out into the hands of their impatiently waiting addresses. When asked point-blank about the levels of ab enteelam in the Roman General Past Office, the Ministry spokesman nervously admits that the "average" of staff not reporting for work on any given day is "approximately 32 percent." He menths in Raly, or on Mondays, Fridays and days adjoining holidays, this absorbasism figure rises to around 60 percent.

These who do show up for work sort the mail very showly. They are "warbing to rule," a slow-motion way to express their indigestion at the fact that they receive the same basic wages as letter-carriers See ITALY MAIL, Page 14

Rampaging In Shanghai

TOKYO (UPI) - Chinese intellectuals demanding jobs have gone on a rampage in Shanghai, disrupting vital transportation lines in several days of rioting, the Japanese Kyodo News Service reported today from Peking.

Kyodo said the demonstrations were staged by young intellectuals who had been trained in Shanghai, the world's largest city, then assigned to work in other Chinese regions. The disorders have been going on for several days, the Japanese agency reported. "The demonstrators stopped trains, cut power to trolleybuses, damaged public facilities and held officials of the Shanghai labor bureau hostage," Kyodo said, quoting Radio Peking and the Pekingbased People's Daily

Chinese Kill Viets On Border

HONG KONG (UPI) - More than 100 Chinese soldiers stormed across the Vietnamese frontier, killed three border guards and seized four others, sparking "great tension" between the two nations, Vietnam charged today. There was no Chinese reply to the blast by the Vietnam News Agency, nor was there any independent confirmation of the incident.

Begin Blasts Torture Report

JERUSALEM (UPI) - Prime Minister Menachem Begin has described U.S. newspaper reports that Palestinian political prisoners are tortured in Israeli jails as 'baseless accusations." Other Israeli officials said the reports were designed to embarrass Israel prior to resumption of peace talks with Egypt. "I don't know how it came, suddenly, that these completely false, absolutely baseless accusations are now printed in the 'American press," Begin told newsmen Thursday after a Cabinet meeting to consider the 1979-80 budget.

"You cannot get more out of the bank than is in it," Callaghan said in a television interview Thursday night, with his Labor government buffeted by strikes by 1.5 million public employees seeking pay hikes up to 40

Computer Sale To Russia?

WASHINGTON (UPI) - In a move apparently heralding an easing of U.S.-Sovie relations, the administration has agreed to reconsider its ban on a sophisticated computer sale to the Soviet Union. Administration officials confirmed that Sperry-Univac officials propose selling a slightly less sophisticated computer than the $6 million 1100 series originally ordered by the Russians. The export license was refused last year, on orders of the White House, in protest of Soviet treatment of its dissidents.

When the late Aldo Moro was grabbed by the Red Brigade, the terrorists quickly realized that the antiquated Italian mails were much too inefficient for their needs.

So they set up their own primitive mail deliver; system to send more than 30 of the ill-fated More letters to relatives and friends. They would call each recipient and tell him precisely where each piece of mail would be waiting: in a pay telephone

Many Italians seek alternate methods of mail. Private courier services have flourished, rushing important business mail like bank checks and documents across the Alps to Switzerland on a regular schedule for injection into the Swias postal system, which is very expensive, but which works. Other letter writers head for the Vatican. Not out of pious religious conviction, but because this tiny city-state in the middle of Rome has its own, in-

Police Strike Could Mar New Orleans Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) - Attorneys for the city and disgruntled policemen today asked a federal judge to decide whether nearly half the police force can remain on strike in a dispute over union representation.

Nearly half the city's 1,460 officers walked off their jobs Thursday night, just two days after Mayor Ernest Morial unexpectedly announced he would not recognize their Teamsters union.

The strike could shorten and curb the annual street madness associated with the twoweeklong Mardi Gras season which opens next Friday.

Flu Shot Plan Scrutinized

WASHINGTON (UPI) - With memories of the abortive swine flu immunization effort still in mind, a Senate subcommittee is taking a close look at the administration's proposal for an annual flu shot program for high-risk persons. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the committee chairman Thursday cautioned against comparisons between the new plan and the 1976 program, in which the entire U.S. population was to receive shots. But he noted the previous experience threatened to "undermine the faith of Americans in immunization itself."

ABA: No Advertising Abuses

ATLANTA (UPI) - A special American Bar Association commission says it will recommend model regulations for lawyer advertising later this year, but the abuses feared by so many have failed to materialize. Commission Chairman Roger P. Brosnahan reported on the status of lawyer advertising while the ANBA Board of Governors opened the association's 41st midyear meeting with its first public session.

Carter Warns Aides Of Leaks

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Facing the problem of news leaks that upset many of his predecessors, President Carter is urging top administration advisers to support his policies more and talk about them less - at least in the formative stages. Carter, in the last few days, has held three meeting with diplomatic and White House advisers to express his chagrin over published reports of policy options he faces in making decisions in the foreign policy and domestic fields.

The price of beef and veal jumped by more than 13 percent last nonth, the Labor Department said.

Although food prices were the main culprit, all other categories of wholesale goods also registered sizeable gains in January. Such varied products as gasoline, home heating oil, new cars and tobacco rose at annual double-digit levels.

If overall wholesale prices increased at the same level during each month of 1979 as they did in January, the annual rate of increase would be more than 16 percent. The 1978 retail inflation rate was 9.0 percent, the second highest level in three decades.

The 1.3 percent rise last month was considerably above the 0.8 percent increases recorded in both November and December. It was the worst one-month performance since the 1.8 percent gain of November 1974, the department said.

The Labor Department's Wholesale Price Index gauges costs paid for products ready for sale to retailers. Increases in wholesale prices do not translate directly into higher prices at groceries and department stores, but they do serve as an advance indicator of future consumer costs.

The government's chief inflation fighter, Alfred Kahn, has warned Americans to brace themselves for discouraging inflation news during the early months of this year.

Predicting "some bad news ahead," Kahn said he did not expect to see evidence of deceleration of prices resulting from President Carter's voluntary wage-price program until "late spring or summer." This assessment was strongly supported by the new government inflation barometer. The department said its Wholesale Price Index stood at 205.3

last month. That means goods and services which cost $100 at the wholesale level in 1967 were prices at $205.30 last month. The index is now 9.8 percent higher it was in January 1978.

Wholesale food prices are 12.9 percent above a year ago. The department said for the first time in more than four years, all major components of its index - finished goods, intermediate goods and crude goods - rose by at least 1 percent.

Committee Of 200'

The more the merrier. The more effort expended on pushing and promoting Seminole County as an ideal location for new industry the better. That's why we were heartened and pleased to learn of the newest effort down this road.

Board members of the Seminole County Industrial Development Authority have approved the formation of a "Committee of 200" composed of representatives of industry, business and county and city governments to encourage industrial development in and for the county of Seminole,

We praise County Commissioner Robert Sturm. commission liaison to SCIDA, for the idea. Its key, according to the plan's advocates, would be the ensuring of orderly, economic growth. The idea and concept are sound. We urge cooperation by other, self-styled industry-seeking groups in individual parts of the county. Too frequently in the past, as we all know, petty, parochial, geographical differences and jealousies have impeded a cohesive, coordinated effort to entice industry to join our community. Specifically, that is why - more than once - we have urged a consolidation of SCIDA and SCOPA (Seminole County Port Authority). We have yet to see such a marriage. That's why we concur with John Krider, former manager of the Seminole County Chamber and Greater Sanford Chambers of Commerce, who complains of past unsuccessful efforts. Mr. Krider decries the "stacking of one committee upon another. . . not accomplishing anything." His suggestion of a countywide group is worth pursuing.

It is obvious to us that any growth within Seminole County must be thought of on a countywide basis, not on the basis of individual communities.

Only in this way can we make meaningful progress toward the development and transplanting of the kinds of industry we need here in Seminole County.

The benefits accruing from such industry and activity will be countywide.

Fear Of The Bomb

Displacement, in psychiatry, is a defense mechanism by which an emotion is transferred to another, more acceptable

We see something of this defense mechanism in the motional campaign against nuclear power. Its leaders say they oppose the use of nuclear weapons is war and equally oppose the use of nuclear energy for the generation of electricity. Much of the emotional strength of their fear of nuclear war is transferred by displacement to the fear of nuclear power. Fear of nuclear war is reasonable and rational. The nuclear war threat is an unprecedented threat to the future of civilization.

Unfortunately, there seems to be no practical way to limit the threat except through maintaining the destructive forces in balance between the two great superpowers. The Pentagon calls that Mutual Assured Deterrence (MAD) and it seems to require constant modernization and strengthening of the nuclear forces on both sides, despite our best efforts at strategic arms limitation.

Fear of nuclear bombs is something the human race is likely to have to live with for generations to come. At this time, it does not seem politically feasible to halt the development of nuclear weapons. Fear of nuclear power plants is easier to handle because it has been demonstrated that it is politically feasible to stop the development of nuclear power. In the process of displacement, the fear of nuclear power acomes irrational and unreasonable Its emotional strength is derived from the bomb and nothing that can be done by the developers of nuclear power plants will ever satisfy the opponents of nuclear power so long as they are beesed by the danger of the bomb.

A demonstration of the strength of the emotional argument is give by Daniel Ellaberg and others who preach the antinuclear gospel. Man is rational and reasonable. In the end, unreasoning fears will be conquered. But by that time it may be too late to save our economy from a major setback due to stunting our nuclear energy development.

The Fever Hits D.C.

WASHINGTON (NEA) - An armada of trucks, vans and campers lines the curb for an entire city block on a downtown street here. The legends on the trucks' cabs identify their owners as "Cinema Art Transportation" or "B & A Studio Rentals."

All of the vehicles bear California license plates. Signs identify their homes as "Burbank, Calif." or "Hollywood." In a massive "Eleganza II" camper, film star Peter Sellers hides from autograph seekers behind drawn curtains.

On the sidewalk across the street from the headquarters of the federal Drug Enforcement Administration, dozens of electricians, grips, sound men and other technicians bustle around cameras mounted on massive dollies.

On this chilly February afternoon, Hollywood has come to Washington. Lorimar International is filming a major motion picture, "Being There," to be distributed by United Artists.

That street scene has been duplicated dozens of times in recent years, with this capital serving as a setting for films ranging from "Topaz" and "Vanished" to "Billy Jack Goes to Washington."

Much of "The Exorcist" was filmed in fashionable Georgetown. Parts of "The President's Analyst," "Black Sunday," "Airport." Sylvester Stallone's "F.I.S.T." and a host of others also were shot here.

The Watergate scandal spawned "All the President's Men," the saga of two Washington journalists, as well as two films adapted from books written by former White House aides - LIGHTER SIDE John Ehrlichman's "The Company" (filmed as Closed Doors") and Charles Colson's "Born

The world premier of this seeson'd most highly promoted new release, "Supermise," Was held not in Los Angeles or New York but at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts on the banks of the Potomac River.

Gossip columns once devoted exclusively to the antics of "Hollywood stars" now have been expanded to chronicle the private lives of this city's politicians.

Shirley Mac Laine, Sellers' co-star in "Being There," was a delegate to the 1972 Democratic National Convention. Stars such as John Wayne (on the right) and Jane Fonda (on the left) have become highly visible participants in national debates on major political issues ranging from the war in Vietnam to the Panama Canal reaties

If you have about five acres of land you want to part with the members of the Kathleen-Anderson Comprehensive Workshop wants to hear from you. The group is attempting to open a sheltered workshop in Seminole County for mentally retarded

It had originally been hoped the workshop could be located at the old Lake Monroe School west of Sanford, but because of the extensive renovation which would be required to the school the idea had to be shelved.

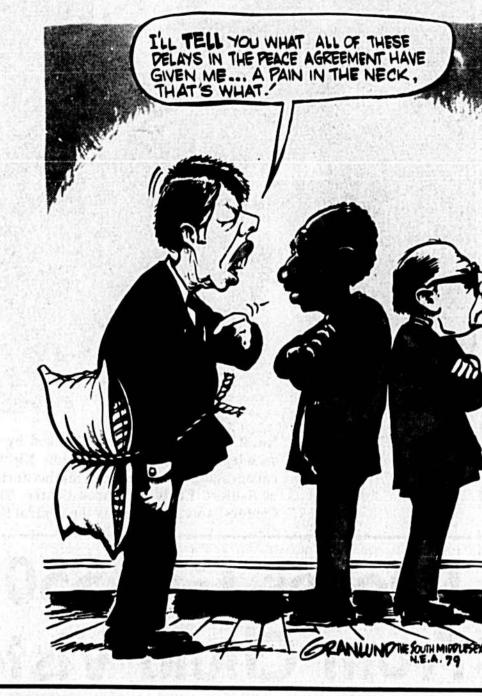

Work required at the school would cost about $10,000 and included the adding of an air conditioner and heating system, ramps for the handicapped and the changing of bathrooms to make them accessible to the handicapped, according to Mary Witengier, a member of the group. Because of that the organization has decided to build a portable classroom at a cost of about $10,000 so they would own it themselves, instead of leasing the school from the school district. However, the group still needs some property to place the portable on. "If we could get someone to donate some property it would really be helpful," she said in noting the ideal area would be someplace in the middle of the county.

"We really can't buy any land because we are almost penniless but are hoping someone may have some they could donate to us." she said. The purpose of the sheltered workshop would be

Cry Strikes Terror

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI) - Nothing is so calculated to strike terror into the hearts of commuters as the dread cry - "THE TRACTORS ARE COMING!"

Suburbanites leaving for work clasp their ouses as though in last embrace. Little children quail at their parents' knees. Dogs whine and birds hush their singing.

This is not to suggest that the American Agriculture Movement "tractorcade" here this week was an alien force. America had farmers long before it had commuters, suburbanites, ureaucrats or even journalists. But when you take them out of context - i.e., plunk them and their mighty machines down in e middle of rush hour traffic — they are almost visitors from another planet.

I've been thinking what a pity it was that the arm demonstration wasn't timed to coincide rith last week's visit by Chinese Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping. It probably would have been he highlight of Teng's visit, even surpassing his opearance on the same stage with the Harlam

VIEWPOINT

There's Mutliple Choice

By DON GRAFF An easing of the nation's crime problem may be just a few new years away. Somewhere in the early 1960's, as one expert on the subject sees it, a reduction in crime rates should become apparent. The reason, according to John Manson, Connecticut's corrections commissioner, is that by then the bulk of Americans born during the postwar baby boom will be in their 30s. Statistics indicate that most crimes are committed by individuals under 30. With the lower birth rates of the '60s, the age groups reaching maturity in the wake of the baby boomers are much smaller and there will simply be fewer people around to commit crimes. The ebb and flow of population growth should thus accomplish what has been beyond the powers of law enforcement officers, the courts, social scientists and politicians. Neat. huh?

Manson, whose views were circulated in a recent wire report, isn't the only one who thinks so. So does the U.S. Bureau of the Budget. In a surprisingly contemplative segment of the overpoweringly statistical fiscal forecast for 1960 dropped on Congress by President Carter, the budget-makers saw the coming decline of the 'high crime age group"-13 to 29 years old - as one of the significant consequences for the U.S. conomy and society of the aging baby boom.

Not so beneficial, however, is the effect of this -in an unusually poetic phrase for a budgetentry of so many new job seekers into the market at one time is a probable major factor in stubbornly high unemployment statistics and the economy's low productivity growth in recent

Tito Split? Reports Called

'Absurd, Uncouth, Immoral'

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) - A rare government statement on President Josip Broz Tito's private life has blasted as "absurd" reports that the 86-year-old leader has divorced his wife and married a 35-year-old opera singer.

Foreign ministry spokesman Mirko Kalezic said in a statement Thursday reports that Tito had divorced Jovanka, his wife of more than 25 years, and married singer Gertrude Minutic were "uncouth, distasteful and essentially immoral speculations devoid of any foundation."

Talk Show Host Bankrupt

MIAMI (UPI)- Larry King, all-night talk show host on the Mutual Network, has filed for bankruptcy, listing $352,246 in debts and no attachable assets. A 20-year veteran talk show host from Miami, King moved to Washington, D.C., nearly a year ago to originate the Larry King Show, which airs on 120 Mutual stations from coast to coast. He listed his salary in the brankruptcy petition as $43,000.

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL There are some who will go into April's Academy Award show with serene confidence. Sir Laurence Oliver, pioneer director King Vidor and animator Walter Lantz know in advance they'll be coming home with an Oscar. The Motion Picture Academy announced the special awards in Hollywood Thursday - the 85th birthday of Vidor, who collected five Oscar nominations since his directing debut in 1919, but never won. He'll be honored "for his incomparable achievements as a cinematic creator and innovator." Oliver, who already has two Oscars, gets his for a "lifetime of contribution to the art of film." A similar lifetime award goes to Lantz, creator of Woody Woodpecker.

Skyjacker Tried As Juvenile

BENTON, Ill. (UPI)- A federal judge has ruled Robyn Oswald, 17, will be tried as a juvenile on charges of hijacking a TWA jet with 87 persons on board in an effort to free her mother's lover from federal prison. Miss Oswald is charged with hijacking the plane last Dec. 21 as it was on its final approach to Kansas City. She allegedly ordered the crew to fly the plane to Williamson County Airport in Marion, Ill., near the southern Illinois prison where Garrett Trapnell, her late mother's lover, was held.

But Still Devout Born-Again President Less Vocal Now

By WESLEY G. PIPPER' WASHINGTON (UPI) - Few persons believe that President Carter has become less devout but these days the demands o his office probably have led him to be less vocal about his Christian experience.

"I wish, in a way, that I were free to do more." Carter, noting the strictures of the presidency, once told the Southern Baptist Missionery Service Corps. "After my service in my present office... I intend to do more.'

The fact that every word he speaks is analyzed by every segment of the population, both in this country and abroad, probably has caused him to be the Baptist churches in Plains reporters they may no longer fasts, the event which more again" and his commitment to more reticent.

Hypnotized Lobster Comatose Chinese

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI) -

SinoAmerican relations, so recently put on the high road by the visit of Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping, were subjected to severe strain on Capitol Hill Thursday.

At a farewell lunch for Han Hsu, head of the Chinese mission here during the period before full diplomatic relations were restored, the following

-Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, hypnotized two lobsters and left them standing on their made on the table directly in front of the honoree.

-Mike Oksenberg of the National Security Council, a former college cheerleader, led the guests in a "Gimme an H. gimme an A, etc." yell.

ed the departing diplomat, who is returning to China, with as props, he stroked their tails, "Don't go near the Gang of folded their claws and stood s Four."

Ill., in what he described as the that position, but Muskie beginning of increased cultural warned Han that "like voters. countries, read an unrhyming short time." And "like conended with. "Do not remove a fly from a friend's head with a hatchet."

-Rep. Paul Findley, R-III., co-host with Stevenson and reportedly the producer of the program, presided at the lunch in what was either a Mao jacket or one of his boyhood tennis warm-up garments.

The extent to which these atrocities might have poisoned Han's memories of America could not immediately be determined.

Some of the more than 50 members of Congress, administration officials and Chinese diplomats who witnessed them reported that Han's face at times bore a look of extreme

When it came time for the speeches, new Chinese Ambasador Chai Zeemin rose to introduce Han, and said: cannot hypnotize lobsters, can't sing, I have no sense what am I doing humor -

Lions Of The Links In Weekend Deltona Invasion

DELTONA- Don't bother checking to see if azaleas are in bloom. No mint juleps, either,

It is the weekend of the Deltona Open, and in these parts, partner, that makes it the biggest weekend of the year.

The fresh smell of pine trees and a plentiful supply of bourbon and water is enough to make these golf fans forget about Augusta.

The Deltona Country Club, one of the finest courses in the Sunshine State, opens its arms wide to those lions of the links - young and old.

The community itself is in a virtual trance about the golf tournament. It is a rallying point for those 18,000 Deltona residents who live in this retirement center built 16 years ago by Robert Mackle.

Tucked away in the southwestern corner of Volusia County, Deltona has been growing at the rate of about 2,000 residents annually over the last few years.

Dick Hintermeier, executive director of the Deltona Chamber of Commerce, points out that Deltona isn't strictly a retirement center.

Swimmer Tracy Caulkins

"It's 60 percent retirees," he says, "but we have a lot of young people living here, too. In fact, our elementary school is the largest in Volusia County. And our junior high has 1,000 students."

Thus, the weekend tournament is scheduled sans aspirants." rocking chairs.

Mayfair pro Mike Mollis had to terminate entries in the Open last Monday. He drew the line at 174. Most of them teed off this morning at 11 in the proam, a fun event with pros playing for the week's expenses, including a few losing quiniela tickets at the nearby Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

There will be 188 in the pro-am field, with the weekend tourney showing 184. Those 10 amateurs include last year's club champ at Deltona, Roger Spiwk, a six-handicapper. "The tourney just seems to keep getting bigger and better every year," says Mollis. "We have a nice array of veterans plus a number of strong tour 15 200

He referred to the likes of Bob Erickson, Doug Ford and Jim Dent as veterans. "Larry Mowry and Denny Lyons have been up there, too," he added. "We have so many young players - you can pick your own. There are better than a hundred of them. and they all came to play."

Erickson, who calls Winter Park home, is Deltona's defending champion. And, he has been playing the Florida PGA circuit well, so look for another superb challenge this weekend.

91 Under Par In Hawaii

As 65 Is Hardly Alone

HONOLULU (UPI) - Ben Crenshaw won the 1976 Hawaiian Open with a record score of 18under-par 270 - but this year a score like that might not make the first five, and maybe not the first 10 if the weather holds for the last three rounds.

In the opening round of the $300,000 event Thursday, played in perfect calm, 91 players shot under par, led by Lenny Wadkins, Jay Haas and Lindy Miller who had 65s.

As good as Wadkins, Haas and Miller shot they were lucky to be in front because 11 players shot 66 to lie only a stroke off the lead. And there were seven with 67s, 15 at 68, 13 at 69, 19 at 70 and 23 at 71.

The 66 group was made up of Kermit Zarley, Charles Coody, Mark Lye, Wayne Levi, Bob Gilder, Larry Nelson, Wally Armstrong, Gil Morgan, Andy Bean, San Diego Open winner Fuzzy Zoeller and J.C. Snead.

FREEPORT, Bahamas (UPI) - Greg Pruitt. the speedy AllPro running back from the Cleveland Browns, demonstrated his athletic versatility in winning the seventh annual men's finals title in the Superstars series.

Pruitt, with 35 points, won the weight-lifting competition and the 100-yard dash and placed second in the bike race and obstacle course. In addition to $10,500 won in competition, Pruitt won the $25,000 firstplace prize, a $5,000 check awarded to charity in his behalf, and a pickup truck.

Pruitt has won close to $100,000 in two years of Superstars' competition, and his latest performance will be telecast on ABC over two successive Sundays, Feb. 11 and 18.

Water skiing champion Wayne Grinditch, the previous Superstars' champion, finished with 39 points worth $9,000, in addition to $15,000 secondplace money.

Washington Redskin quarterback Joe Theismann finished third ($27,000) and former Green Bay running back Jim Taylor was fourth ($10,050).

Morand Joins Gators

GAINESVILLE (UPI) - The Florida Gators new head football coach, Charley Pell, hired the final assistant for his staff Thursday, choosing Elroy Morand to coach Florida's running backs.

Morand served last year as a receivers coach on the University of Miami staff of Lou Saban, now coach at Army. He is a graduate of Ocala's Howard High, where he was a star quarterback; played quarterback and defensive back for Florida A&M and in the BlueGray all-star game.

THE OFFICIAL AWAITS THE START OF THE NIGHT'S GAME

WHO GETS JUMP BALL?

Bill Moore: A 'Whistling Teacher'

Monday through Friday he can be found teaching social studies in his classroom at yman High School.

From there he spends an average of 25 hours a week as the unpaid president of the Seminole Education Association(SEA).

If that isn't rigorous and challenging enough, Bill Moore, 35, whistle clenched between his teeth and wearing a black-andwhite striped shirt, spends two to three nights a week running up and down gym floors as a basketball official.

"I have always liked basketball and enjoy being close to the game because of the benefit to young people, especially in teaching discipline," said Moore, reflecting on how he switched to officiating after six years as a basketball coach in Fort Myers, at Valencia Community College and at Lyman.

As a member of the Central Florida Officials Association, Moore officiates mostly high school games with the rate of pay depending on the size of the school enrollment.

To be eligible, a person has to register with the Florida High School Activities Association, pay a registration fee and take a rules test, said Moore, the father of three, and teacher for 14 years, nine of them in Seminole County.

Because of the nature of their job, officials with their calls, sometimes raise the ire of the fans, coach or the players.

"When I'm at the game, it's important that I stay intense and keep everything else in the background," said the 6'1", 177-pound Moore, "like the fans yelling or trying to figure out the coaches strategies," Moore said He has never been hit or threatened by anyone.

Supertrain Stavs On lts Track

NEW YORK (UPI) -Early reports on how many viewers hopped aboard NBC's "Supertrain" indicate the show chugged along without being derailed - but without attracting a superaudience, either.

The show went on the air Feb. 7 in a special two-hour premiere without benefit of reviews. Maybe that was because the network had trouble with the production right down to the wire, as it said. Or perhaps Fred Silverman and Co., decided to skip the advance press and depend on ads and curiosity to draw viewers, as many critics suspect.

The main opposition was a special two-hour "Charlie's Angels" on ABC. According to the Nielsen "overnight" rating reports from New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, "Supertrain" beat the opposition in New York, but in Chicago and Los Angeles the audience was on the side of the "Angels."

CBS, which ran "Spider-Man," "One Day at a Time' and "The Jeffersons," came in a poor third.

For those who missed the train, the machinery is the real star of the show - a gleaming silver atomicpowered vehicle that - like an automobile ad of some years ago - looks smaller on the outside, bigger on the inside. Much bigger. Running that train on Amtrak tracks would be like shooting a cannon ball from a .22.

OH, BROTHER

Big brother might not be watching when Billy Carter makes his dramatic debut as a deputy sheriff in an upcoming CBS movie. Actually. there was some question that anyone might get to see his performance in "Flatbed Annie & Sweetiepie: Lady Truckers." Following the splattering of Billy's good-ol'-boy image by his repeatedly controversial remarks, "The Hollywood Squares" cancelled a series of TVepisodes that the president's brother had fluenced by the initial lack of taped. It was suspected the same might happen to "Flatbed Annie." But, bad news or not. CBS is sticking with brother Billy. Viewers can catch his latest act Saturday.

'Fever' Burns Up And Out NEW YORK (UPI) - The

CBS answer to "Animal House" has become a dropout before it ever really entered the television schedule. That's "Co-Ed Fever."

The announcement the show was expelled before it ever went into its scheduled Monday night slot came after the sitcom ranked in the top 20 in the Nielsen ratings for the week ending Feb. 4 in a special preview presentation.

"Co-Ed Fever" ranked 19th in the Nielsens, but that's deceiving. It was assured a good rating because it was slipped into the half-hour shirttail following the Sunday movie "Rocky," top-rated show of the week.

More significant, perhaps, is the fact that while 52 percent of the people viewing television were tuned in to "Rocky," only 36 percent watched "Co-Ed Fever."

CBS may have been inresponse to NBC's "Brothers & Sisters" and the tailing off. after an auspicious start, of ABC's "Delta House."

The network didn't flatly cancel the show, but there currently are no plans to air

CBS announced two new shows. One is "Billy," which may remind you of the movie "Billy Liar." It's a half hour sitcom about a 19-year-old boy whose Walter-Mitty style dreams can make reality a nightmare. The show goes on Monday, Feb. 26, 8-8:30 p.m. (Eastern time) to be followed by the previously announced "Flathush."

DEAR DICK: Is Micky Mouse really 50? I think he's 52. Happy birthday, Micky. SARAH KUIPERS, Schoolcraft,

It depends on when you're counting from. The Disney people have decided that Micky was born the day that his first short was first shown publicly. And "Steamboat Willie" made its debut at the Colony Theater. in New York, on Nov. 18, 1928. So they figure Micky had his 50th birthday this past Nov. 18. Of course, Walt Disney created Micky some time before that - but people count birthdays from the day the baby makes his first public appearance, not from the moment of conception.

DEAR DICK: Please give me all the information you can on Katherine McGregor, who plays Mrs. Oison on "Little House On the Prairie." What other pictures has she played in? How old is she, is she married or sinale?

She is a very good actress, but I have never seen her before this show. OREE BEASLEY, Athens, Ga.

This is her first major exposure as an actress, although she has been on many soap operas and spent some years working in regional theater, all over the country. She was born in Glendale, Calif., but raised in Wyoming and Colorado. Her mother, an ex-vaudevillian, put her in dance class when she was 3, and she's been performing ever since. Her age is top secret, and she is currently a divorcee - she says, "I had two bad marriages and almost ruined my health with all that fun. Thank God that I found my religion and Alcoholics Anonymous. Life has been better since."

DEAR DICK : Could you please give me the name of the song they sang AT THE WEDDING IN "Superdad"? It went something like: "These are the best times, the moments we can't let slip away." Could you please tell me who wrote it and where I could get a copy? TERRY THOMAS, Hurley, Mo.

"These Are the Best Times" is the exact title, and it was written by Shane Tatum. Write to the Disneyland Music Company in Burbank, Calif., and they can tell you about getting a copy.

DEAR DICK: Can you settle an argument - was Vincent Price born in America or England? J.F.C., Tucson, Ariz.

He was born in St. Louis, Mo. I think that's America. DEAR DICK: How can you get on "The Newlywed Game?" ANNA KROM, Roseburg, Ore.

Frist , get married. Then apply to the game, in care of Chuck Barris Productions, 1313 North Vine St., Los Angeles, Calif., 90028, and they will send you the information

DEAR DICK : I have heard that they are going to take "Battlestar Galactia" off the air becuase they have a low rating. If this is true, I want to know it. And I would like to know someting about Richard Hatch - is he married, and How old is he? DEANNA HUFF, Whitesville, Ky.

No, they're not going to pull the plug on that show - yet. The ratings are not as high as they had hoped, but they have too big an investment in it to kill it so soon. Hatch is not married and he's somewhere in his late 20s.

DEAR DICK: I heard that Jimmy McNichol was going to have his own talk show called "Hollywood Teen." Was this a rumor or is it true? If it's true, when will it start? W.S., Port Moody, B.C., Can.

It's not only true, it's been on the air since July. It is a syndicated show, and that means local stations have to buy it before they can show it. Apparently no station in your area bought it yet. It does have 90 markets, however.

DEAR DICK: Please settle a bet for me. It seems to me that I once read in your column that Robert Blake of "Baretta" also played Alfalfa in "The Little Rascals." My friend says I am wrong. R.L. ANDREWS, Lynchburg,

You're wrong, but only in detail. Blake was one of that scroungy group for a while, but as Mickey (his real name); not as Alfalfa. Alfalfa was another guy, who grew up to be Oats. Danno savor commercially zoned areas in downtown Sanford has stimulated a proposal to seek up to $4 million in federal funds to renovate uildings and boost business activities. The plan will be formally proposed at the p.m. Monday Sanford City Commission meeting at city hall. The proposal authored by Tom Wilson, anford Housing Authority Director, calls for seeking up to $2.5 million in U.S. Department of Commerce Economic Development Administration (DEA) funds and $1.5 million in Urban Development Action Grants UDAG) from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for rehabilitation and business loan funds

The program would call for the co mnation of deficient structures and ers of the properties at the time of con demnation would be given first opportunity to urchase the rehabilitated structures, according to Wilson. Prior to condemnation, the make an appraisal of the property and offer to buy it at the appraised value, according to Wilson's plan. If that effort fails, the city nplement eminent domain proceedings to condemn and take possession of the property in question; he added.

vilson explained it would work this way If the property owners at the time of acquisition do not wish to re-purchase the rehabilitated property, it would be resold to any business entity wishing to take possession, according to Wilson.

The city would aid a small business wanting to purchase one of the rehabilitated structures through technical expertise for the preparation of Small Business dministration (SBA) loans or through an equity fund.

The equity loan would assist the business roviding a low interest loan at a rate of ent per annum. Funds for the equity some from the EDA.
