South started right when he won the first heart in his own hand and showed play three rounds of trumps, stopping in dummy. Then he should lead a club. East would play low and South should discard a heart. West would be in and lead a red card. South would win in dummy and lead a second club. If East ducked South would ruff, get back to dummy with whichever red king was left there and discard his losing diamonds.

Doctors don't like to take out a woman's uterus unless there is a good medical indication for it. If a doctor takes out a normal uterus, even to prevent cancer, he ends up in the position of doing unnecessary surgery because he removed a normal uterus.

Your letter suggests to me that the doctors who have examined you don't feel that your history of an infection or an ulcer is sufficient indication of a disease of the uterus to justify a major operation. A tubal ligation is a minor operation in comparison to a hysterectomy.

South let the heart lead come around to his ace. Then he ran off five rounds of trumps while discarding a heart and a diamond from dummy. He hoped for some sort of a pseudo-squeeze, but it did not materialize and since East hung on to all his diamonds South wound up going down two.

"Sorry partner, I bid too much," apologized South.

"Not exactly," replied North. "People who bid stunts should learn how to play the dummy. You should have made the slam."

North was right. South had 10 tricks outside the club suit. If he could score two

Harbor Project Closer

By MAX ENKLETTAN
Herald Staff Writer

The stage has been set for development of Lake Monroe with plans for a yacht club and five shops finalized and developers of the project preparing to enter into a 60-year lease of the beach area at the rear of Lake Monroe Marina near Holiday Inn.

Chuck Volk and Joe Malino, owners of Lake Monroe Harbour Inc., have received approval from the Sanford City Commission to enter into the lease for the land and carry out their $550,000 development.

The development will be 20,000 sq. feet in size with five shops, a yacht club and a 9,000-square-foot boat showroom. The yacht club will include an indoor swimming pool and restaurant, according to Volk.

Under terms of the lease, which will not be entered into until financing for the project has been secured, Volk and Malino will form a corporation to develop the area.

The corporation will lease the land from the city at an annual rate of five percent of all profits from rents up to $100,000 over $200,000.

For profits between $100,000 and $200,000, the city will receive two percent, with a minimum guaranteed payment of $5,000 annually.

David Lanier, certified public accountant for the project, has estimated the net development will raise $4,734,800 annually in tax revenue for the city on land that is not now producing taxable revenue.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles, who was designated by the commission to negotiate an agreement for the lease with Jack Bridges, attorney for Volk and Malino, opposed the lease approved by the commission on Monday. Mayor Lee P. Moore also opposed it and was the only member of the commission who voted against the lease terms.

Both Moore and Knowles said they felt the project should be extended a 60-year lease rather than the 60-year lease to make a profit on the project. Moore and Knowles said they could begin making a profit much sooner and a 60-year lease would allow the city to renegotiate terms of the lease sooner.

So far arrangements have not been made with prospective leasees, according to Volk.

Memo Defines HRS, County Health Duties

By DONNA ERTES
Herald Staff Writer

County Commission Chairman Robert French and Lucy Hunt, district administrator of the state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services (HRS), signed a memorandum of understanding during a special ceremony at the courthouse this morning setting the role of the two agencies in the management and operation of the county health department.

While the resignation of former Health Director Dr. Hamid Battia and the controversy surrounding that resignation may have led to the formal agreement which is "subject to further review and modification at anytime upon request of either" the county or HRS, little has really been changed, said Troy Todd, county director of Human Services today.

Todd said the memo, a "first of its kind" simply "recognizes that supervision of the health department and its programs is a joint venture between HRS and the county."

Under the agreement, said Todd, the department will "operate exactly as it was supposed to have operated previously. The county commission will have the lead role in supervision of management and administration and HRS will supervise the professional and technical operations."

Saying he was not referring to Mrs. Hall, Todd said some

It Was A-OK For Some

Students in Dr. Paul Bordenkircher's engineering technology class at Seminole Community College undertook a project: they built individual rockets with payloads of eggs and sent them shooting — hopefully — for the skies. Some made it — with a parachute bringing them down without breaking the egg — and some didn't, as we see here in these photos by Tom Nelsel.

Jim Doyle's egg-stromat goes up A-OK — and it was later recovered intact.

School Holds Back More Kids, But...

By LEONARD BRANSDORF
Herald Staff Writer

More students were held back in Seminole County schools last year than the previous year, but a close look at statistics will show that in all cases it isn't necessarily because students are doing poorer academically.

One main reason more students did not progress in because teachers apparently are getting back to teaching basics, and in line with new county policies, the teachers are more reluctant to give away "social" promotions, school officials say.

The increased failures occurred in the elementary and middle schools while four of the county's five high schools showed decreases in failures with one, Oviedo High School, showing no change.

The total number of students held back increased from 2,388 for the 1976-77 school year to 2,510 for the 1977-78 school year, up 1,144.

A large increase from 49 to 122 was registered at South Seminole Middle School. That school's principal, Sid Boyette, cited several factors for the increase.

"We ran across a number of students who just didn't have any interest in school and were not applying themselves," Boyette said.

In addition to poor student attitude, was parental apathy, according to Boyette. "Many times when we contacted parents to let them know their children were not doing well, they would tell us there was nothing they could do," he said.

Many of the students who failed also were absent a lot, he said. "It obviously brings up the question of how can a child pass if he's not in school," he said.

Another reason cited by Boyette as well as other middle school principals is a new district policy regarding failures.

Before last year, if a student failed on a subject he was still promoted to the next grade, and made up the credit later. If he failed two or more subjects he could attend summer school.

Under the new policy if a child fails one subject he can attend summer school but if two or more subjects are failed the student automatically is held back.

Many of the increases in failures are at the elementary school level.

One main reason cited by those principals is another new policy.

At that level, first through fifth grade, students are now assessed differently. It used to be if a student in that grade level failed overall, the following school year he or she would be held back — kept in the same grade.

Now, however, students in those grades are put into one of four different levels in each subject they learn, depending upon how well they do in any of them. That is, a first-year student may be at level one in reading, level two in math and level two in language.

At the end of the school year, that first-year student moves to the second-year (grade) but other continues at the same level of learning in which any of the subjects he or she did poorly, or advance to a higher level for those subjects the student mastered.

In that sense, those students are advanced to a higher school year, but can be considered retained or held back in any of those subjects. The student remains at the same level as the previous year.

Lake Mary Elementary school principal Jack Frost noted most of the 189 students at his school were retained because the stan-

Death Row Escapee Nabbed in S.C.

SANTKE, S. C. (UPI) — Robert Lewis, the first prisoner to escape Florida's death row, was captured by FBI agents in a South Carolina motel room today.

Florida Corrections Department spokesman Al Lee said the 39-year-old convicted killer, who strayed out of Florida State Prison dressed in a prison guard Nov. 15, returned in a car had been injured in a car wreck. When asked to identify himself, Lewis brazenly gave his own name.

A Jacksonville, Fla., man identified as Nelson Silver was with him, Lee said, in a Ramada Inn motel at Santos, located halfway between Columbia and Charleston on Interstate 95. Lewis was taken to a Charleston jail pending extradition.

The Jacksonville fugitive became the object of a nationwide manhunt after he strayed out the northwest gate of Florida State Prison, saying he was going to see his wife who had been injured in a car wreck. When asked to identify himself, Lewis brazenly gave his own name.

Lee said Louis Ayden was carried out of the prison by one of two escapees and was taken to a home three miles west of Union Correctional Institution at Railford.

Dollar Rallies In Tokyo

The dollar rallied sharply in Tokyo today and opened firmer in Europe in anticipation of a drop in the balance of trade figures.

...Held Back

...dards are getting together at each level.
"We have state, county and school standards and because of these higher standards the children are finding it's a little harder to pass the levels," Frost said.
Frost said most of the problems encountered at his school were in the reading and math areas.
County Elementary School principal C.M. Harty Jr. said much of his retention was due to "the kids initially coming to school not really prepared."
"It's not really something you can entirely blame on the parents though, because many parents work and don't have time and that's where the school comes in and it becomes our responsibility to help the particular student," he added.
While there were increases in elementary and middle school retention, high school retention dropped.
Lanier High School showed a decrease from 131 two years ago to 82 last school year.
"We found students coming back to school this year here down here and were more serious minded about learning," according to principal Carlton Henley.
He noted this was caused by more awareness of the state student assessment test. If a student does not pass the test he is awarded a certificate of completion instead of a diploma.
Like Brantley principal David Bosche agreed with Henley and had some additional thoughts:
"I think the kids were more serious about learning but also the teachers were more concerned about teaching individual objectives and giving individual attention to students who needed extra help," he said.
Like Brantley's retention rate fell from 107 to 67.

Carnival Equipment Worth $15,000 Taken

Someone has all the makings for a great carnival.
A total of $15,000 in carnival equipment was reported stolen from a trailer parked at the Village Truck Stop, 1500 E. French Ave., Sanford.
The equipment belongs to James Richard Cassidy, 35, of Cocoa Beach, records indicate. He said entry was gained to the trailer by prying open a door sometime between Saturday and Tuesday.
Blue and orange stands, 30-feet by 16-feet, were among the merchandise reported stolen. Also reported stolen were: 14 canvas tops; 12 canvas sidewalls; 14 sets of wiring; 30 iron stakes and 30 pieces of rope.
MAN HIT, ROBBED
A service station attendant was hit on the head and robbed Tuesday evening.
The incident occurred at the Eastern Gas Station at Highway 68 and Lake Howell Road near Altamonte Springs.
Sherman Morse, 31, of Altamonte Springs told sheriff's deputies a man spoke to him for about 15 minutes until the station was empty before announcing a holding.
The man forced Morse into the station's office where he tried to get him to open a safe, however Morse couldn't do it. Morse reported the man said he had a gun, but Morse said he never saw a weapon.
The attendant was hit on the head with a blunt instrument and the man ran away, records indicate. An employee of the service station said the robber got about $100.
Records indicate Morse did not require medical treatment.
MORE CHARGES
Two Sanford men, reported earlier to be suspects in a Sanford convenience store robbery, have been charged in that robbery by Sanford police.

Neighbor Does It To 'Fanatic'

Do-It-Yourselfer

YORK, England (UPI) — It was the drills, Mrs. Edith Holmes told a court Monday. And the saws, and the hammers, and the polishers, and "every other piece of equipment you would expect a do-it-yourself fanatic to use."
"The fanatic," she said, lived next door. That's why she was in court. She threw a brick through his window. Attorney Peter Gidder acting for his widow, 63, said David Thornley — he called him "The Menace of Meadowfield Drive" — lived in the next town house and "was doing repairs and renovations from 7:30 to 11:30 every single evening."
Mrs. Holmes went to the police, the local government, even the Citizens' Advice Bureau. All said Thornley had every right to do things himself.
Late one night, "driven to the limit," Mrs. Holmes went out in her nightdress to demand that Thornley stop the noise. She tripped over a pile of bricks. In fury she picked one up and heaved it through Thornley's newly installed picture window.
Mrs. Holmes pleaded guilty to malicious damage, but Judge Lord Martin Fitzalan-Howard set her free, but cut Thornley's claim for damages down to $70 because "he is a do-it-yourself expert and would do most of the work himself."

Hoople Still Picking Upsets!

End Of The Line For Collegiate Season

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE, Peoria Propagator

Egad, friends, quicker than a wink, lo — half-buff — a coin a phrase, here we are at the final week of the collegiate season! Where oh, where, did the time go?

It seems like only yesterday we were giving you Alabama to trip Nebraska in the season opener for both clubs. A game, which incidentally, the Crimson Tide won rather handsily — 20-3 — ha-rumph!

That, my friends, was just one of many starting and starting weeks you Peoria Propagator gave you this fall.

Moody — ahem — inherent modesty doesn't permit me to recount all of my colossal predictions, but just to name a few to refresh your memory:

Early on, we picked Penn State to defeat favored Ohio State, which it did 14-10 — um-pleased! And then we gave you little-regarded Miami of Florida to knock off the then-unbeaten Auburn Tigers.

And we followed those with Purdue's stunning victory over Ohio State; and Notre Dame's conquest of Navy, 27-7, after the Midlanders had run up a seven-game win streak.

Later on, we correctly forecast the amazing victory of underdog Nebraska over mighty Oklahoma for the Big 8 title, and Houston's thrilling triumph over Texas for the SWC crown.

And, for a little frosting on the cake — ha-ha — we gave you Clemson's upset of odd-man-out Maryland for the Atlantic Coast championship — ha-rumph!

Yes, dear readers, your Hoople System in enjoying another sensational forecasting season — ha-ha —

Now, for the closing matchup. And that is exactly what the Hoople System will make it a contest, but Alabama will prevail — 27-18.

There are many traditional classics on tap this week, highlighted by the rivalry between Texas and Texas A.M.; the 7th year of the famed Army-Navy classic at Philadelphia; the 7th meeting of Georgia and Wake Forest; and the 10th meeting of Michigan and Ohio State.

And, for a little frosting on the cake — ha-ha — we gave you Clemson's upset of odd-man-out Maryland for the Atlantic Coast championship — ha-rumph!

Major Hoople's Football Forecast

There are several prime attractions on the abbreviated schedule but none more important than the Alabama-Auburn clash in the SEC.

A win for Bear Bryant's team will send them into the Sugar Bowl as the league representative against the No. 1 club in the nation: Penn State. And that's exactly what Alabama wants.

Coach Out, Bullets Win, Anyway

By United Press International

On most club's it's the players who suffer knee injuries. On Washington Bullets, it's the coach.

"I just hope he's back Friday," acting Coach Bernie Bierman said Tuesday night after presiding over a 130-104 thrashing of the New York Knicks in the absence of Dick Motta. "I've lived in before when Dick was thrown out of a game. That's been quite a bit recently."

This time Motta was out with surgery on torn ligaments. He was supposed to be back Sunday. Anyway, it was the first time he's missed in 30 years and he should be back soon.

Elvin Hayes scored 30 points, but he didn't have the shot he'd been looking for. Dandridge (23), and Mitch Kupchak (16). It was the eighth straight victory for Washington as an impressive demonstration of team beginning to realize it in the NBA championship.

"Every night is like the seventh game," said Hayes. "Every team wants to beat you."

"It was definitely a game we wanted to win," said Jim Clendon of the Knicks, who got 18 points from Spencer Haywood and 17 from Toby Kimble.

"Washington played very well and took advantage of the breaks," said New York Coach Red Holman. "They're the good basketball team. They're the NBA champions."

Chicago's Steve Nisely, who was stopped Phoenix, 116-112, Cleveland defeated Atlanta, 119-98, Detroit surprised Los Angeles, 108-105, and Portland downed Boston, 108-97.

Artis Gilmore scored 23 points and Mickey Johnson and Reggie Miller added 27 each to help Chicago win streak.

Brian Winters scored 27 points and Margaux Johnson 27 for Milwaukee.

Norm Van Lier, Maurice Lucas and Jeff Mullins of the Los Angeles Lakers, scored 20 points each.

There are many traditional classics on tap this week, highlighted by the rivalry between Texas and Texas A.M.; the 7th year of the famed Army-Navy classic at Philadelphia; the 7th meeting of Georgia and Wake Forest; and the 10th meeting of Michigan and Ohio State.

Montreal Learns Lesson

By United Press International

The Montreal Canadiens, in addition to being the best team in the National Hockey League, apparently also are good learners.

"Tuesday night was a good lesson for us," Montreal coach Claude Joliat said after turning aside 21 shots in blanking the Philadelphia Flyers, 5-0. "We reacted to each Montreal line. Whether we continue to play the same manner we'll just have to see."

The Canadiens came out locally for an 8-3 drubbing they suffered at the hands of the Chicago Black Hawks at home last Saturday night. Scotty Bowman, the only coach in sports who has to worry about his job every time his team loses, made no changes — and they worked.

Gay LaFleur scored two goals for the Canadiens, which took the job every time his team loses, made no changes — and they worked.

She Helps Low-Incomers Survive Inflation Pressure

By JANE CABELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

In a period when prices are rising steadily, it is more important than ever that families effectively manage their money. Some families instinctively seem to know how to manage even on a limited income, while many others need help in organizing their finances.

VIRGINIA DENNIS

Financial problems are one of the main reasons for tensions and disputes within the family

One of three paraprofessionals with the Florida Consumer Education Program Assistance in Seminole County, Virginia Dennis, helps low-income families with financial problems. Working under a one-year federal grant which expires next February, she teaches money management, how to budget, how to shop wisely and even how to clean their home if necessary. The paraprofessionals work under supervision of County Home Economics Agent Louise Poole.

"In these days of inflation when just everyone is having trouble making ends meet, Mrs. Dennis has some advice that might prove helpful.

Her first rule is "stay away from charge plates and credit cards," because they are temptation to spend beyond one's ability to repay and the interest on the unpaid balance is usually quite high.

"Financial problems are one of the main reasons for tensions and disputes within the family," she said. "Young married couples in particular often go over their heads trying to acquire everything they were accustomed to at home all at once. When the bills start coming in and there isn't money to pay them it causes friction between the husband and wife."

"They don't realize most and dad didn't have all those luxuries and conveniences when they started out, but took many years to get to where they are now," said Mrs. Dennis.

"They should keep major purchases, such as automobiles, stereo, refrigerators, washers and dryers to a minimum," she said, even if they have to buy used or rebuilt furniture at first. There are too many cars littered around for them to go out and pay $400 for a washer and dryer."

"I think it is important for boys and girls to be taught money management in high school," Mrs. Dennis said. "We conducted a workshop for boys and girls, 8-14, last summer in which they learned money management, home improvement, sewing and woodworking and how to make useful items out of inexpensive or scrap materials."

"There were 20 in the class and we could have handled twice that many," she added. "They need to learn sewing and cooking and home economics in school."

"The 'war babies' were spoiled by their parents, who had lived through the depression and wanted to give their children all of the things which they could not have had when they were growing up, and that's what is wrong with them," declared Mrs. Dennis. "They don't know how to manage their money and live within a budget. When they get in a bind they don't know which way to turn."

"It is necessary to borrow money you should look for the lowest interest rate," she said. "Banks, credit unions and savings and loan institutions usually have better rates than the finance companies."

"The cheaper furniture companies often charge higher interest rates and poor people lured by the bargain often pay more in the end through carrying charges," said Mrs. Dennis.

Free Investment Seminar How to Earn Over 9% Government Guaranteed With A Check Every Month.

At our free seminar you'll learn all about GNMA (Government National Mortgage Association) securities that offer very attractive advantages for an increasing number of individual investors. Among them: high yields (currently over 9%) monthly income, and interest and principal payments fully guaranteed by the U.S. Government. This seminar will show you how GNMA's give you a guaranteed high monthly return, and the possibility of a substantial increase in cash flow. You'll also learn how easy they are to buy and sell, how they can often be purchased at considerably less than the usual minimum investment, how their yields and safety compare with other securities, and more.

Refreshments will be served and there will be ample time for questions. This timely seminar is free, but reservations are essential. Please call or mail the coupon today.

The new tax law and how it affects investors...plus important "tax-reducing techniques"

This big event is actually two Seminars in one. It takes a close look at virtually every factor that can affect your current income tax situation—including the provisions of the new tax law. It suggests practical ways to take advantage of or cope with them.

The 2-in-1 Seminars feature an exclusive slide show on "Tax-Saving Opportunities," and a presentation on videotape by Bernard Hughes, noted theater and television personality, discusses and analyzes the new tax bill's provisions. The Seminars give you an ideal opportunity to get briefing on such subjects as:

- How the new tax bill provisions will affect capital gains taxes.
- What the new law's impact will be on corporate taxes.
- How the law's "structure" will affect home sales.
- What the new tax law means to those inheriting property.

• How the new tax law could affect your retirement.

• What its impact will be on deferred pay and stock options.

• How it will affect tax shelters.

• How to get "tax-free income"—with municipal bonds, bond funds and investment trusts.

If you want to know where you stand with regard to the new tax law—if you want to know where and how to gain increased tax advantages on your investments—you have an excellent opportunity to find out by attending one of these exclusive free 2-in-1 Seminars.

Cook Of The Week

She Simplifies Recipes From USAF Travels

By ELDA NICHOLS
Herald Correspondent

Janet Holland had lived in many different places when her husband, Paul, was in the Air Force. Now that they make their home in Lake Mary, she still uses recipes that she accumulated in her travels.

"For instance, the Broiled Beef Teriyaki is my own version of the original Hawaiian recipe. I try to do things in the simplest way," she said. "Recipes that are easy to prepare suit Janet. 'I enjoy cooking, but don't like to spend all my time in the kitchen. Right now, I'm just learning microwave oven cooking. On most of my regular recipes, I change them around some, but on the microwave recipes, I find that I have to follow the directions very carefully,' she said.

Laughing, she added she learned to follow the directions the hard way! The first scrambled eggs I made were the green color you've ever seen! But for a heated bagel, with butter and honey, or a baked potato in just minutes, well, the microwave is really worth it then!"

Explaining the sugar cookie recipe listed below, Janet suggested making them now and freezing them for the Christmas Holidays. "They can be decorated with an icing brush and the bell-shaped ones may be used for New Year's."

Janet learned to cook when her mother turned her loose in the kitchen and let her try her hand at it. "My daughters are both good cooks and I did them the same way," she said. Living in Florida is exciting, according to Janet. "There's so much to do here and we like to meet different people. Right now, we're enjoying our youngest son, Mark's senior year at Seminole High School. He's very active at school and also loves flying. His father's a pilot, and Mark already has his pilot's license."

Janet's hobbies include handcrafts and sewing. "I make a lot of my clothes, as well as a lot of my quilts, and I find it hard to find things in my size," she said. She is also in the process of making a quilt with all the states represented. Janet is a member of the Lake Mary Woman's Club and the Christian Sharing Center, Sanford. Smiling, she said, "Even though I take a lot of short cuts in cooking, I enjoy it because it's part of being a housewife, and I enjoy being a housewife."

AAUW Seeking New Members

"All this, and we are still four members short of being recognized as an active, official branch of the AAUW" was the cry of Denver Reid, president of the Seminole County Branch of the American Association of University Women, as the club reviewed highlights of their very active first year.

The club really would like to be officially recognized, and Denver encourages anyone who has been thinking about joining to come to their next meeting, which will be a Christmas Luncheon at 11:30 a.m., on Dec. 14, at the Lake Destiny Apartment Clubhouse on Wynore Road.

Each person should bring a salad and a place setting, plus something to share—a favorite poem, a meaningful quotation or a personal experience. Entertainment is scheduled—but that's going to be a surprise.

The AAUW is an international organization which provides scholarships to women to assist in obtaining advanced degrees, and affords an opportunity for discussion with graduates.

And a sad farewell to Elmer and Jan Rall who are moving from Spring Valley to San Fernando, Ca. They will be missed by their many friends in the area.

'Was Flabbergasted' Over Job Interview

DEAR ABBY: I am a young married woman. During a job interview today I was asked, "Do you plan to start a family in the near future?" I was flabbergasted. I never dreamed that such an inquiry would be made in this day of equal rights, working women, postponed parenthood, etc.

Abby, my husband and I are a family. And besides, I invested a great deal of time and effort in earning a college degree and, right now, my career is of paramount importance to me. I am certain that a male applicant would not have been asked a question like that. In your opinion, is that a proper question to ask a female applicant? Or am I getting all shook up about a legitimate request for information?

DEAR K: When a new employer hires a woman, the employer makes an investment in time and training. He therefore has a right to know if the applicant plans to have a family or not—and if so, when. Some women take a leave of absence from their jobs to have children and raise them. Men do not.

DEAR ABBY: No names please. If anyone knew I wrote this I'd die of embarrassment. What is the difference between a male, donkey and a jackass? I have heard that males are sterile. So if a male can't reproduce how come we still have males? Thank you.

DEAR OLD ENOUGH: I am the offspring of a jackass and a mare. When a male horse mates with a female donkey, the offspring is known as a "hinny." A hinny is capable of reproducing, but the male is almost always sterile. An ass is simply a donkey and a jackass is specifically a male donkey.

DEAR C.R. DEER: Like people, can have a nasal obstruction which causes them to snore, so do yourself (and your pouch) a favor and take him to the vet. I wonder whether this man complied with all the federal and state laws regarding employment.

Did he get the Social Security number of all four boys? Did he pay them, with four personal checks? He must have those records for Social Security reports on withholdings if he pays more than $50 per quarter for domestic help. In fact, he should be able to verify or prove that he did not pay more than $50 per quarter in wages. Did he pay the four boys all at the same rate of $2.00 per hour to comply with the federal minimum wage law? Then, too, I wonder whether he was adequately covered by accident liability with a private insurance policy or by a state operated insurance plan. If the latter, this would involve more record keeping.

I am all in favor of employing teenagers. But it is not as simple as it sounds if you comply with all the laws, keep all the necessary records, and are adequately covered by liability insurance.

DEAR R.L.S. MARYSVILLE, OHIO: You sound like a very competent accountant. Or a man who's been educated by a man.

DEAR OLD ENOUGH: A male is the offspring of a jackass and a mare. When a male horse mates with a female donkey, the offspring is known as a "hinny." A hinny is capable of reproducing, but the male is almost always sterile. An ass is simply a donkey and a jackass is specifically a male donkey.

INCREASE YOUR INTEREST IN YOUR CHECKING ACCOUNT.

Introducing the ZERO BALANCE overdraft plan that lets all your money check out.

Atlantic Bank brings you Interest Plus Checking. It combines the advantages of a zero balance checking account with an interest-earning savings account. Zero balance checking means every dollar you deposit goes directly into a 5% per annum savings account where it will earn interest from day of deposit to day of withdrawal.

Then, whenever you write a check, Atlantic Bank transfers the necessary amount from your savings account into your checking account. But the rest of your money stays in savings, where it continues to draw interest. You receive a single monthly statement showing all your transactions.

All the while you are automatically protected against overdrafts by the automatic transfer procedure. And the extra money you used to keep in checking to guard against overdraft is earning 5% per annum interest from day of deposit to day of withdrawal.

Your savings might earn a fraction of a percent more interest somewhere else, but with Interest Plus Checking, all your money is in your savings account, earning a full 5% annually. That can mean a big difference to you every day.

So stop by any Atlantic Bank and ask about Interest Plus Checking for yourself. It will be well worth your interest.

the dummy like a bridge player, not a rummy-type expert. Five hearts was lay down.

South had won the first club with dummy's ace, led a diamond toward his hand with the hope of letting West win the trick, but East held all the high diamonds and South would gain nothing by playing his king. East then led a club to give his partner two club tricks.

South should have let West hold that first club. Had he made that play West would have been helpless.

A club continuation would be allowed to run around to the jack; any other lead would give South time to set up dummy's fifth diamond for a club discard.

Incidentally the play of ducking the king when you hold the ace and jack of the suit is one of the bridge plays that go back to the game of whist. The play is called the Bath coup after the English town of Bath, which was a most popular resort town in the 18th century.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

"Couldn't you have doubled four spades?" asked South. "Why take a loss when we had a sure profit?"

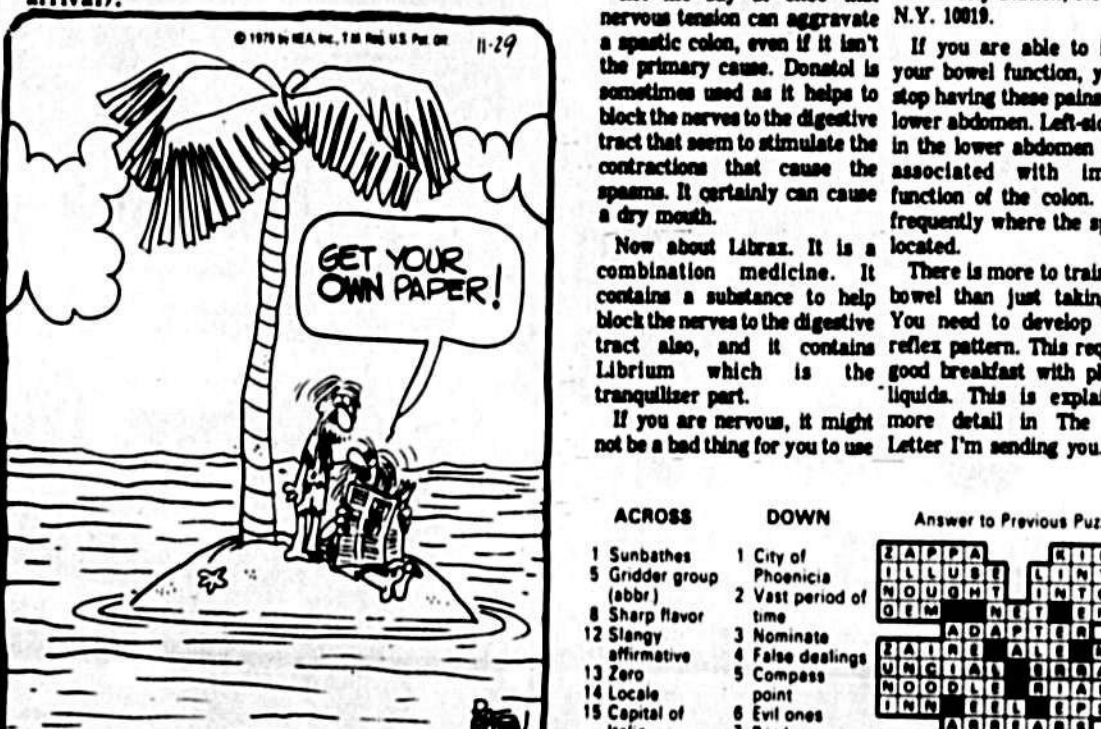

"Your spades would only have been one down," replied North. "Why not play a club?"

Let me say at once that nervous tension can aggravate a spastic colon, even if it isn't the primary cause. Donatol is sometimes used as it helps to block the nerves to the digestive tract that seem to stimulate the contractions that cause the spasms. It certainly can cause a dry mouth.

Now about Libras. It is a combination medicine. It contains a substance that blocks the nerves to the digestive tract also, and it contains Librium which is the tranquilizer part.

If you are nervous, it might not be a bad thing for you to use

Pork Pie Is Holiday Gift From Canada

Holiday dishes often become part of the regular family menu after passing the tough tests of guests. One such favorite is the pork pie that is a holiday treat in French Canadian homes.

Like many traditional dishes, the tourtiere has many variations. Some cooks add vegetables, such as celery or carrots. Others make it spicier with robust herbs. Still others use tart apples, onion and sage, as in this special recipe.

The secret is a fine pastry that browns readily. This pie is topped with a cream cheese pie crust.

You can eat tourtiere cold or hot. It makes good party fare since you can prepare it ahead of time and freeze. The pie will keep up to two months in the freezer when properly wrapped.

APPLE-PORK FILLING
 3-1/2 pounds lean ground pork
 4 tart apples, peeled, cored and thinly sliced
 2 medium onions, finely chopped

1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
 2 teaspoons dried sage leaves or 1 teaspoon ground sage
 1/4 cup apple cider concentrate
 1 egg
 Cream cheese pie crust

Combine all ingredients in a large bowl or mix on a large bread board until apples and onions are well distributed

CREAM CHEESE PIE CRUST
 2 cups flour
 1/2 pound cream cheese, or 1 8-ounce package
 1/2 pound (sticks) butter
 Work all ingredients together in a mixing bowl, preferably with a pastry blender. Form into a ball. Wrap in plastic wrap and chill several hours or overnight. If chilled overnight, let stand a few minutes before rolling out.

Apple Pork Pie is topped with a delicate cream cheese pie crust.

Potpourri..

ORANGE-PUMPKIN CHIFFON
 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 1/4 cup packed dark brown sugar, divided
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon ginger
 2 eggs, separated
 1 cup water
 two-thirds cup orange juice
 1 cup canned pumpkin
 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
 8 Orange shells

In medium saucepan, mix gelatin, 1/4 cup brown sugar, milk, nutmeg, cinnamon and ginger. Beat egg yolks and water. Stir into gelatin mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat.

Stir in orange juice, pumpkin and orange rind. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon.

Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually add remaining 1/4 cup brown sugar. Beat until stiff peaks form. Fold into pumpkin mixture.

Turn into prepared orange shells. Chill until set. Serve garnished with a small dollop of whipped topping, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

CREAMY CHOCOLATE-PECAN PIE
 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 one-third cup dark brown sugar
 2 eggs, separated
 1 cup milk
 1/4 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
 one-third cup dark corn syrup
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1 cup (1/2 pint) heavy cream, whipped
 1 cup coarsely chopped pecans
 Vanilla crumb crust

In a medium saucepan, mix gelatin with brown sugar. Beat egg yolks with milk. Blend into gelatin mixture. Stir over low heat until gelatin is dissolved, 5 to 8 minutes.

Add chocolate pieces, corn syrup, butter and vanilla. Stir over low heat until chocolate is completely melted, about 5 minutes. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon.

In a large bowl, beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Beat until stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture, whipped cream and pecans. Turn into prepared vanilla crumb crust. Chill until firm, about 3 hours. Makes 8 servings.

*Vanilla Crumb Crust
 1 1/2-cups vanilla wafer crumbs (about 30 1 1/4-inch wafers)
 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
 In a small bowl, combine crumbs and butter. Press into 9-inch pie plate. Chill.

Papaya With Roast Makes A Wow Of A Little Luau

Papaya is a tropical treat still relatively new to most of us on the mainland. Because of jet transport, though, this versatile fruit is available in many markets throughout the country year round.

A mainstay of Hawaiian cookery, the papaya is often eaten raw with a squeeze of lime or lemon juice. But it is also tasty poached and served hot or cold. And papaya makes a wow of a little luau when cooked with pork.

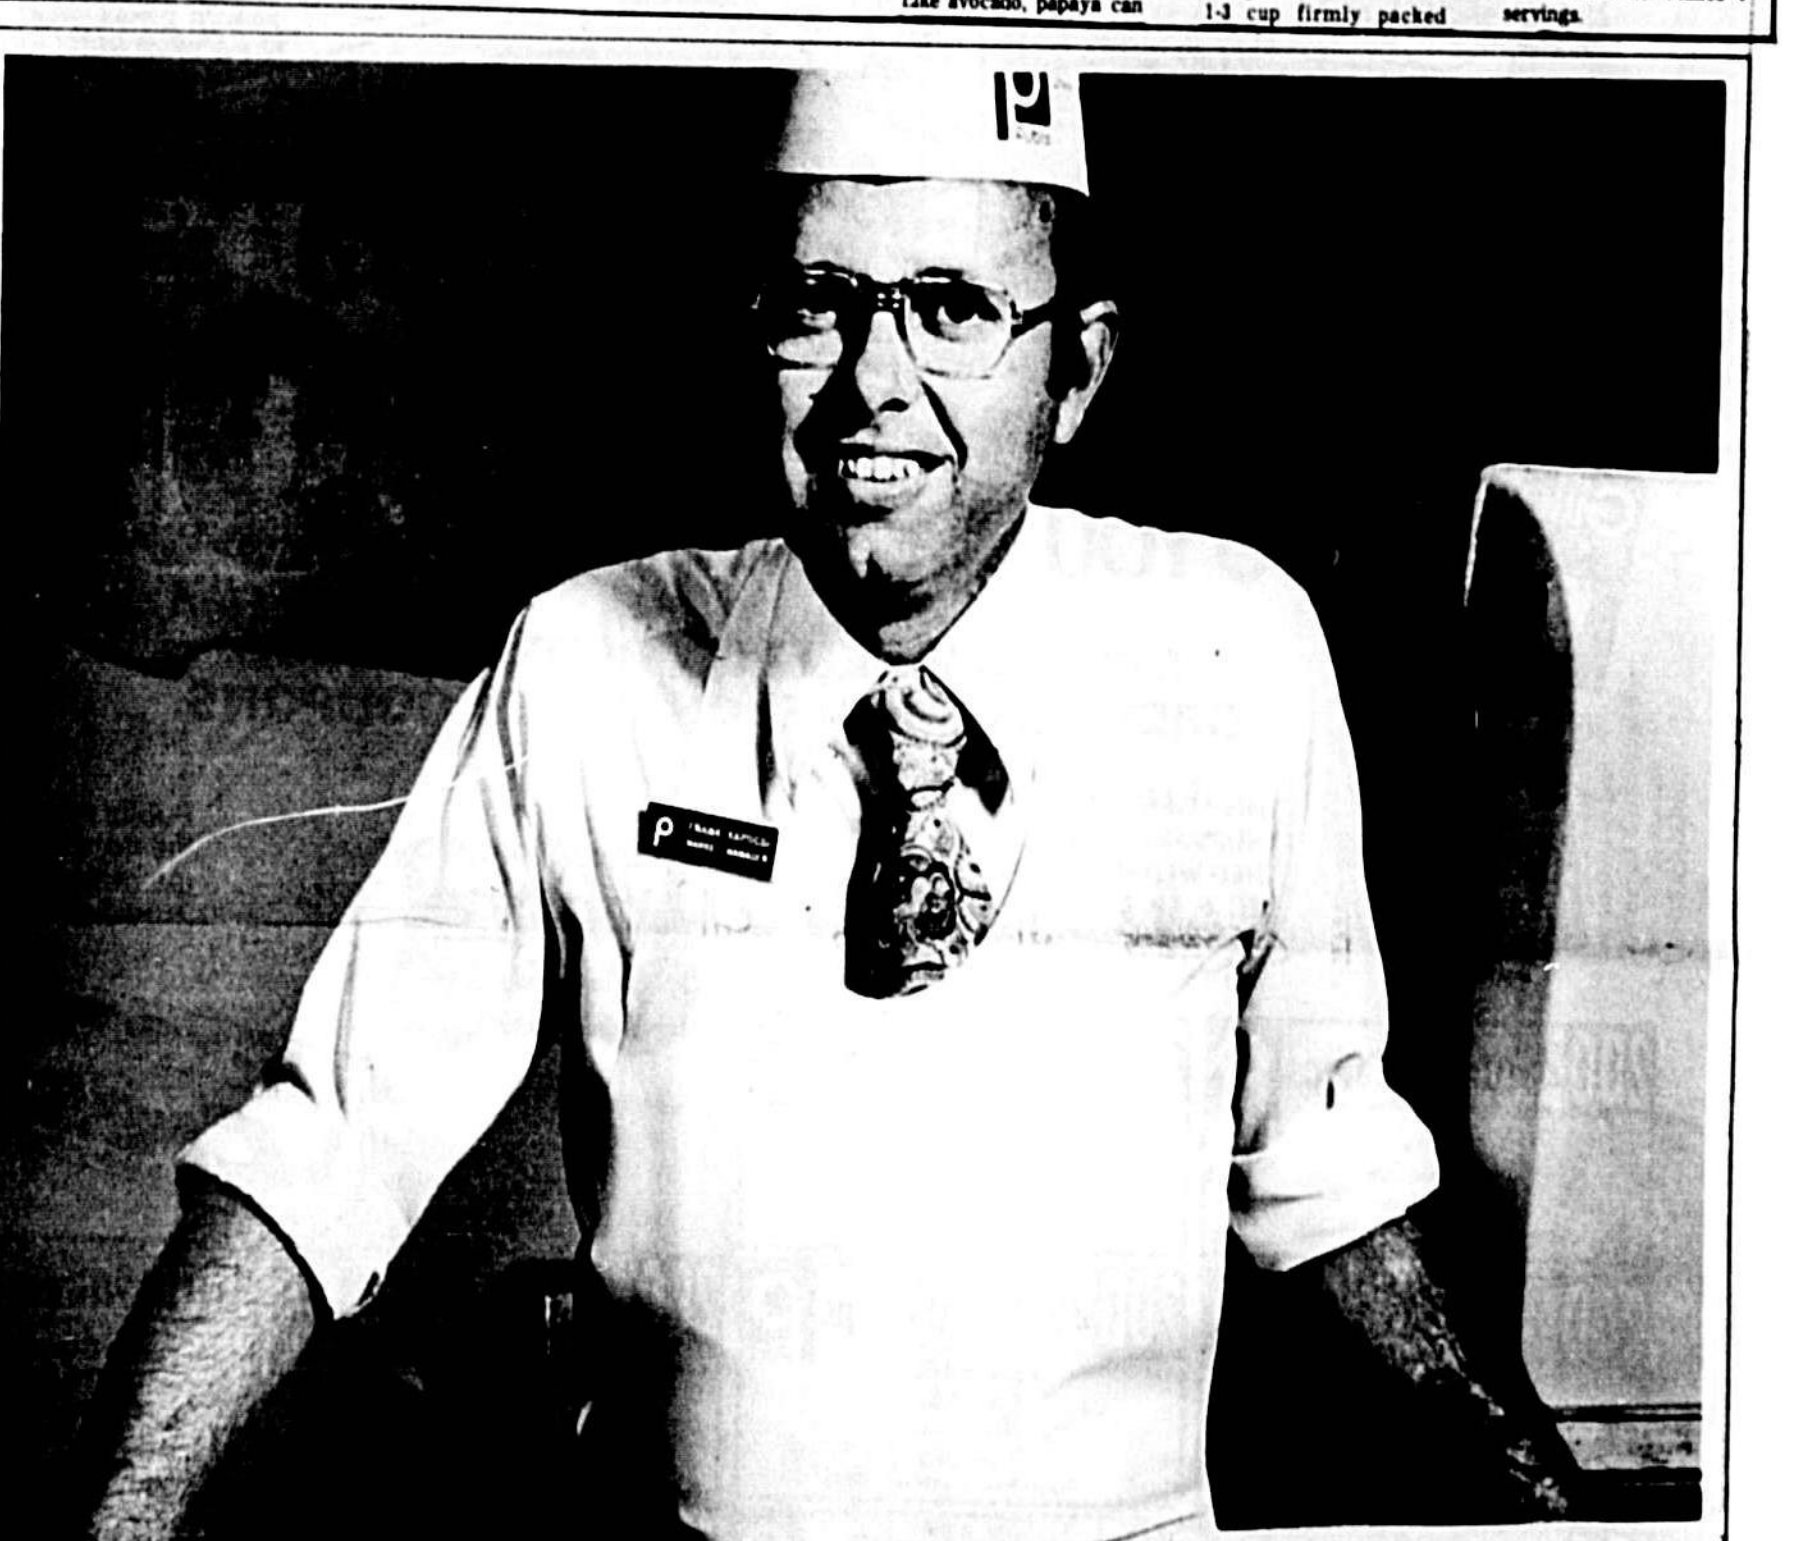

Next time you see a papaya at the market, take it home for a special treat. Like avocado, papaya can be bought green and ripened at room temperature. When ripe, the fruit will be yellow-green to yellow-orange in color.

PAPAYA PORK
 3 pounds pork loin roast

Have A 'Sweet' Holiday Season

Try Tiny Tim's Pudding...

Christmas is a time for tradition. So what could be more fitting than to take a leaf from Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" and serve a glorious steamed pudding? As you may recall, the climax of the Cratchit family's Christmas meal was such a pudding, a symbol of opulence and good will.

This updated version is lighter in texture than the English classic. But it is just as rich in flavor. Serve the pudding with a hot brandy sauce, another Christmas tradition.

BANANA-APRICOT STEAMED PUDDING

2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 1/2 cups sugar
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

1/4 cup cut, dried apricots
1/4 cup chopped nuts
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup molasses
2 cups mashed ripe bananas (6 medium)

Sift together dry ingredients. Add apricots and nuts. Mix to coat. Stir in milk, molasses and mashed bananas. Pour into a well-greased, floured 8-cup mold.

Cover lightly and place on rack in kettle. Add water to come 1/4-way up the side of the mold. Cover kettle and simmer for 3 1/2 hours over medium heat, until cake tester inserted in pudding comes out clean.

Remove top of mold and let stand for 5 minutes. Turn out onto platter and serve warm with Hot Brandy Sauce. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

HOT BRANDY SAUCE:

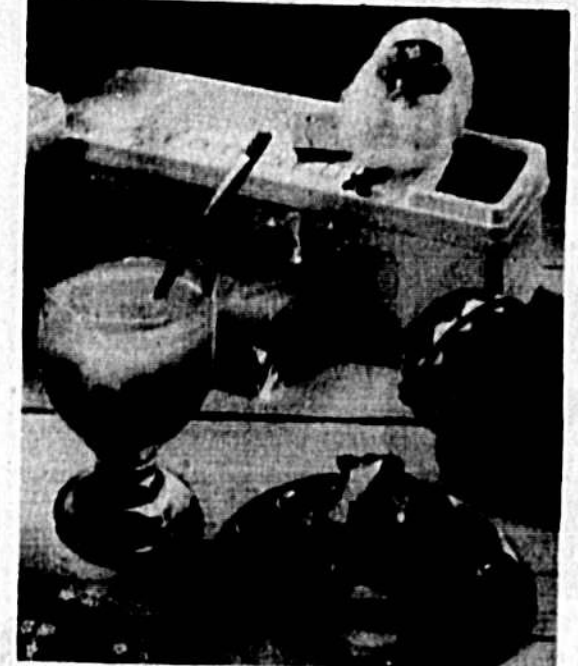

1 cup butter or margarine, softened
2 cups sifted con-

fectioner's sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon lemon juice,
2 tablespoons brandy
With electric mixer, beat butter until creamy. Gradually add sugar and beat until fluffy. Add eggs and beat until smooth. Refrigerate overnight or for several hours.

To serve, place mixture in top of double boiler over simmering water. Add lemon juice and brandy. Stir occasionally until hot.

Remember the Cratchit family from Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol!" The glorious steamed pudding served to Tiny Tim and the family has been updated—combining bananas, apricots, nuts and spices.

Make individual Christmas puddings and seal for freezing—a gift idea for sharing the season.

...Or Serve Individual Puddings

A few organized souls already have their Christmas shopping done and their gifts neatly wrapped and ready for the big day. For everyone else, however, it is still a rush to the ho-ho-ho hour.

For family eating and gift giving, we made an evening for making a special Christmas pudding that can be divided into individual servings. By making the puddings early and freezing them, you will be ahead of the game.

Prepare the sauce at the same time and freeze it, too. This job and other treatable food projects are made easier with the use of a sealing appliance. In fact, that might make a good holiday gift item to add to your list, especially if there are small children in the family, since it allows for more economical preparation of soups, stews and desserts in large batches to freeze in one- or two-portion quantities for later use.

CHRISTMAS PUDDING

1 1/4 cups dark seedless raisins
1 and one-third cup chopped pitted dates
Two-thirds cup diced candied pineapple
1/4 cup dried candied lemon peel
1/4 cup stout or ale
1/4 cup dark rum (not Jamaica rum)
1/4 cup butter
1 1/2 cup dark brown sugar, packed
4 eggs
2 tart apples, peeled, cored and chopped
1/4 cup chopped almonds, toasted
1/4 cup dry bread crumbs
1/4 cup all-purpose flour
1 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1 1/4 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
Grated rind of 2 lemons

In a large bowl, combine dried and candied fruits with stout and rum. Marinate 3 hours or longer, if desired.

In a mixing bowl, cream butter with sugar. Beat in eggs. Stir butter mixture into fruit mixture. Stir in apples, almonds and bread crumbs. Sift together dry ingredients. Stir into mixture along with rind. Mix thoroughly.

Place batter into 18 buttered custard cups (allow two-thirds to 3/4 cup for each), filling them

CUBAN PREMIER FIDEL CASTRO

SANFORD'S DR. LUIS PEREZ AND STAMPS

Sanford's Castro Opponent: Open-Refugee Rule An Error

By TOM GIORDANO
Herald Staff Writer

The announcement by U.S. Attorney General Griffin Bell that the United States will accept 1,500 prisoners jailed in Cuba has evoked sharp criticism from Sanford physician Dr. Luis Perez, a longtime anti-Castroite.

Bell made the U.S. position clear Tuesday when he told a House Judiciary Committee the jailed Cubans would get first priority for immigration and hopes to process them at the rate of 400 a month.

"That will open the door to admitting pro-Castro agents and propagandists who will infiltrate the Cuban population in the United States to improve Castro's image," warned Dr. Perez on learning of the screening of those prisoners to be released by Castro will be less stringent than usual.

Dr. Perez, himself condemned to death by Castro and unable to return to Cuba even if the United States develops a tourism relationship with that country, labeled the Cuban doctor's actions a three-pronged political ploy.

Castro announced last week he would release the prisoners if the United States would accept them.

In addition to 1,000 past and present prisoners earlier permitted to emigrate to the United States.

The move is the latest in a recent series of Castro acts to improve Cuban-U.S. relations, but Dr. Perez views them with a cautious eye.

"In the first place, the announced release of those prisoners has divided the exiled Cuban community in Miami. On the one hand there are those excited in Miami who will encourage the United States to expedite accepting the prisoners, while on the other side will be those ideologically opposed to freedom for those who will say they prefer all of Cuba be free. This will put those factions at odds," Dr. Perez pointed out.

"Number two, Castro's efforts to improve Cuba's ties with the United States by releasing these prisoners at 400 or so a month is 'Machavillian.' You know, if you're going to do something bad, do it quickly, but if it's good, do it piece at a time and reap the benefits of the 'good' publicity.

"That's what Castro's doing here. If he wanted to, he could release the 3,000 prisoners all at once, but I doubt he will," Dr. Perez continued.

The Sanford physician, chief of staff at Seminole Memorial Hospital, said in his opinion the third prong in Castro's efforts is the attempt to normalize relations with the United States and in turn changeled by the federation into Project OASIS.

But, whatever the federation's problem, "Project OASIS has no problem, certainly none that I know of," said Dr. James Mowbray, director of the Areawide Agency on the Aging (AAA) of the East Florida Regional Planning Council.

If the federal programs appear to be in jeopardy because of the federation's problem with IRS, an alternative being considered, said Knight, is vacating the federation charter and creating a newly chartered organization to receive the federal funding.

AAA in recent months has been serving by SCA, Project OASIS dropped 13 from the program, rejecting a bid from Seminole Community Action (SCA) to continue the funding in that day Project OASIS took over agency for its MOW program.

$3,590 IRS Bill Jeopardizing Seniors Club

If the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) "downs" waive the penalty, we'll have to go out of business," said Sam Kaminsky, president of the Federation of Senior Citizens Clubs of Seminole County, today confirming that the organization is having problems with IRS.

The problem came about because a federal form "990" which tax-exempt, non-profit corporations are required to file was "not done in a timely fashion in 1977," according to Andy Knight, director of congregational meals for Project OASIS, an offshoot of the federation.

Project OASIS also sponsors a federally funded congregate meals program.

The SCA board of directors at a meeting two weeks ago voted to take whatever action necessary to recover the federal money for MOW, saying Project OASIS renewed on its promise to continue feeding the one but could daily in the elderly poor who had been served by SCA. SCA executive director Rev. Arnos Jones told the board that of the 30 clients who had been served by SCA, Project OASIS dropped 13 from the project, despite its promise. He said the 13 were told they could participate in congregate meals and would be based to congregate meals sites, but that slots were not available for those meals for the clients dropped from MOW Oct. 1, the day Project OASIS took over agency for its MOW program.

Seek Changes In Testing

Teachers Meet To Oppose Kids Doing 'Level Best'

By LEONARD KRANSDORF
Herald Staff Writer

This is the second year Seminole County elementary school pupils are being tested on a countywide "leveling" basis and at least 100 teachers say they would like to see that changed.

The "leveling" system, used to determine how first through fifth grade students are progressing in any subject—math, language, reading—was started last year in Seminole County on a pilot school basis, and this year went countywide.

The test is issued every nine weeks to those first through fifth grade students in each of the subjects taught to determine if the student has mastered one level, say of math, so he or she can progress to the next level in that subject.

Those teachers opposed to the test are scheduled to meet today with school administrators and ask the test be eliminated or some changes be made.

The teachers are claiming the tests are unfair to students because while the test is the same for all students in those grades throughout the county, there are sufficient socio-economic differences between the students making it difficult for some, say for others to pass.

Moreover, the teachers, who met Tuesday at Winter Springs Elementary School to discuss what they said are common problems with the leveling tests, also said they want more individual control over those tests.

The teachers said at present students are tested soon after tests are received, but that teachers should have access to the tests in ample time to assess them and properly prepare their students.

The teachers also said they feel they themselves should be permitted to use independent judgment to determine whether the student will advance to the next level, instead of relying only on the leveling test.

The teachers pointed out they are able to observe students on a daily basis and recognize many student abilities the tests do not assess. The 100 teachers dealing with the issue represent about 13 percent of the 811 elementary teachers.

There are some 11,700 elementary school students given the leveling test.

One of the school officials expected at today's meeting will be Mary Grooms, director of elementary education for the county schools.

"I think the leveling test is a tool that gives people an opportunity to see the youngsters in school meet the district standards in the various areas," Mrs. Grooms said.

She noted there have been certain recent changes which have been made on the test since it was last given.

"Several areas have been deleted or testing of the items has been delayed a year or so depending on the particular item," she said.

Oxford Greeting To Ex-President: 'No More Nixon'

'We'll take it as it comes'

RICHARD MILHOUS NIXON

'Nixon crawl back to your hole'

OXFORD, England (UPI)—More than 100 American and British students, waving placards and shouting "No more Nixon," demonstrated outside the Oxford Union debating society building today while awaiting the arrival of former President Richard M. Nixon.

The students started assembling and blocking traffic on the main Cornmarket shopping street more than 90 minutes before Nixon was due to start addressing the society at 2 p.m. (9 a.m. EST). About 30 uniformed policemen stood by and tried to keep traffic moving.

The demonstrators were mainly from a group formed by American students of Oxford's Pembroke college to try to disrupt the Nixon visit. The organization was called CREEP, an acronym for Campaign to Resist the Efforts of the Ex-president.

Some of the placards they waved bore the slogans: "Nixon crawl back to your hole" and "Where is Lee Harvey Oswald now that we need him?"

Mark Hulbert, 22, from Manhattan, Kan., and one of the CREEP organizers, told reporters: "The protest movement started with the American Union debating society while more than 100 U.S. and British students outside the hall chanted 'No more Nixon.'"

"We plan to make as much noise as possible during Nixon's speech and to make things as uncomfortable as possible without getting into a punch-up (row),"

Only Life Members of the Oxford Union were eligible for seats in the auditorium where Nixon was to speak. Long lines of them formed in near-freezing temperatures hours before Nixon's scheduled arrival in the hope of obtaining seats to not.

Nixon, on his first visit to Britain since resigning as president, was scheduled to deliver a half-hour address on foreign affairs followed by an hour of questions to 800 students jammed into the Union debating hall on Oxford's medieval, spired campus.

A group of American and British students, protesting Nixon's visit to the city, said they would

Nixon: Nuclear Gap

OXFORD, England (UPI)—Former President Richard M. Nixon, speaking through the chants of angry demonstrators, today said the Soviet Union was closing any remaining nuclear weapons gap and warned that "we are going to lose unless the trend is changed."

Nixon spoke to 700 life members of the Oxford Union debating society while more than 100 U.S. and British students outside the hall chanted "No more Nixon."

"I want to express my appreciation to those inside for their warm welcome and to those outside who have made me feel very much at home," Nixon said.

disrupt the meeting and seek to prevent him speaking at all. Another group, this one all Americans, said they would stand on the street in front of the union and pass out a statement they had signed denouncing the visit.

Security precautions were tough. More than 100 extra police were drafted into Oxford to bolster its normal 100-man police force.

Because of a lack of space, the British commercial television companies on the condition it would feed the coverage to other companies and the three American networks.

Nixon, on what he himself described as the "public, but not political" comeback trail in Europe, arrived in Britain Wednesday after a Paris stopover whose highlight was a 3-hour, 15-minute talkback question-and-answer show on state-run French TV.

Told on his arrival at London's Heathrow airport that students were threatening to disrupt the Oxford meeting, Nixon said "We'll take it as it comes. I appreciate the invitation and I look forward to fulfilling it."

Although the visit was billed as a "private," British officials were humbled to see Nixon step off the plane from Paris with a squad of aides and several security men. He was greeted by U.S. Ambassador to Britain Kingman Brewster.

The Foreign Office merely sent out one of its group of "official greeters."
