Fire claims life of mom saving tots

By VICKI DeSORMIER Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD - Early Saturday morning, fire crupted at the home of Chris and Amber Burnsed on 4th Street in Sanford.

Started by a cigarette left burning on a sola, the flames engulted the house quickly and demolished the structure.

Chris. 26. and Amber. 20. Burnsed escaped quickly from the house, but went back in to try to save their children Laney, 5, and Cindy Lou. 2.

While Chris was able to get out rapidly with both girls, his wife was overcome by smoke and pronounced dead at the scene.

Paramedics were able to revive her and transported her to Columbia Medical Center-Sanford and she was put on life support systems. It was determined, however, that she had received irreversible brain damage when she was overgome by carbon monovide in the house

Both children were relatively unharmed and Chris had first and second degree burns on hisface and hands. The children were released from the hospital on Saturday evening, their father was released on Sunday.

Amber was still in a coma on Monday evening when doctors told family members there was nothing they could do for her and the decisionwas made to remove her from the life support systems.

She died a short while later and her organis were donated to those who needed them.

Funeral arrangements for Amber have not vetbeen finalized

Meanwhile the father and children are living with relatives until they are able to find a new home

A trust fund has been set up at Barnett Bank on Airport Boulevard in Saidord in the name of Chris Burnsed, Anyone who is interested in contributing to that fund should go to the bank and speak with any representative

An auto-theft awareness program is putting a dent the number of cars stolen. Last year auto thefts dropped 35 percent in Sanford, and police are crediting the Sanford BAAT program.

Sponsored by the Florida Motor Vehicle Theft Prevention Authority, this program is educating the police and the community on preventing autothefts.

Police Investigator Mike Horan credited the success of the program with increasing awareness and reducing stolen "We've had good vehicles. response," he said. "Since this program has been in place, people have become more nware and there has been a significant reduction as a result."

He said auto thefts from 1992-94 went up 75 percent. Last year, however, the number of auto thefts dropped to 193 despite an increase in vehicle traffic associated with county growth and development.

The Sanford Police Department began the program in 1995 with a vehicle filen-

Presidential matters loom large today

Presidential matters seem to . dominate the historical significance of today. As we believe several are noteworthy. let's launch into a mini-history lesson.

On March 4, 1830, former President John Quincy Adams became the first and only U.S. president to be elected to congress after serving as president. He served for eight consecutive terms in the U.S. House of Representatives. representing the Plymouth. Mass. district.

Periage the reason why this has never been done since that they is because it was discrity after that when congrues approved paying former providiants a penaton. I guess John Quincy found it necessary to return to the political arena because he needed the steady income. Prior to that time, it was on March 4, 1789 when the first March 4, 1780 when the first official U.S. Congress met in New York City. It was that group which, through an electoral vote, declared George Wash-ington as President, (60 votes) and John Adams (John Guincy's dad) as Vice President (34 votes). Moving right along now, it was March 4, 1895 when Grover Cleveland was insuturated for Cleveland was inaugurated for the second time. He was the only man to serve as President twice, but not consecutively. Some history books say he was the 22nd and 24th President of the United States. Others say he was only the 22nd, as no one person can be two separate presidents. at time, there has been a over what number a calculd be listed as.

This has nothing to do with being President, but R was on March 4, 1962 that Ronald Reagan married Nancy Davis at Little Brown Church in the San Fernando Valley of California. It was Reagen's second marriage. (Actor William Holden was best man). Oh, now that I think of it, here's a first. Ronald Reagan was the first divorced man elected as President. March 4th used to be the day the U.S. formally swore in presidents. It started during George Washington's term in office and continued until Franklin D. Roosevelt was sworn in for his second term in office. Since then the terms have begun on Jan. 20.

Today is the only calendar day which is a military command: "March fourth." As a result, in honor of all the men and women who served in all branches of the military, today has been declared (by a little known organization in Chicago) as "HugaG.E. Day."

Moving along to matters about which few people care: Today is the anniversary of the first Dick Cavett Show on TV, considered the forerunner to the piethora of inte might talk shows. It started in 1968. American Revolutionary war hero General Kasimiers Pulsaki was born in 1747. The first inductees to the Television Academy Hall of Fame were announced in 1984. They were Lucille Ball, Milton Berle, Paddy Chayefaky, Normal Lear, Edward R. Murrow, William S. Paley and David Sarnoff.

Fifty years ago, Jack Roosevelt Robinson was rudely ejected from a baseball game at the old Sanford ballpark. The scenario goes like this...Robinson had reached first base and had stolen second when former Police Chief Roy Williams told Jack, in some very unkind words that "Niggahs and Whites don't play ball together in Sanford." When Raiph Russell took office, he also faced problems. There were those who found it difficult to adjust to Russell's leadership. Dillard's presence is met with even more rejection, and it's simply because he is an African American.

Why did this surface on Dillard's very short watch? To entertain the idea of Sheriff Don Eal-inger taking over the Sanford Police Department is ludicrous. Don has problems of his own.

suggesting a consensus from the commission to send out an RFP (request for proposal) to obtain a consultant group which would specialize in determining the best way to manage the department. "The consultants would have two purposes," Dale said. "One, they would do an initial evaluation on how best to obtain maximum efficiency from the department. And two, they would help us bring the department up to where it would meet state and national accreditation standards." He also suggested the same consultant firm be called back in six to nine months to re-evaluate the operation and see if progress and been made. "I believe it's important that we make clear to the public that in order to resolve problems, we have to make sure we know what the problems are." com-mented Commissioner Brady Lessard.

commission needs to formalize a list of concerns from the police officers and the chief. "But I want to know what these concerns are." she said.

At that point, it was revealed that union attorney Head had submitted a list of problems and concerns to the commissioners prior to the meeting. The list was not made public. "I would have appreciated it much more if these complaints had come directly from the of-ficers as I had asked." and Mayor Dale. I don't want this to be a communication between the city and labor. I would rather talk head-to-head with the gays who are out there getting their shoes dirty."

Sgt. Daryl Presley, the police representative of the union responded. "Bone-ways to fan-of repercussion. Many officers have said they personally fear this administration may try to come down on them." he said. "This is preventing anyone from addressing you one-on-one."

three members, and we will come up with ours. Let's try to do this by the end of this week. and I will set up the first meeting as soon as possible. Maybe this as soon as possible. Maybe this is how we'll start getting this resolved." "But regarding the communications matter." Dale continued. "I can't function without being able to com-municate with my individual employees." "Under the law," responded Head. "the union speaks as one vote, and as their atterney. I represent that vote." "I den't want to have to hear from that votes every time we meet," Date responded. "Then we are going to have to hear di the state. I water to here all the state. I water to here all the state. I water the here all the state. I water the here all the state.

"But I guarantee you." he continued. "you guys (officers) are not going to best the chief down, and the chief is not going to best the union down." "The reason I brought up the concept of consolidation of the police with the sheriff's department at our last meeting. said Commissioner Eckstein. "I to get your attention, and I certainly did that. Now we want this adversarial relationship to end, with both parties living by the contract and pulling together." Commissioner Lessard offered another point. "I've been meeting with two of our local banks," he said, "with the idea that they may be willing to offer members of our police force reduced interest loans, possibly one percent financing, to persuade them to move into the city." nder Bill Ha soon spoke from the audience. "I'm in my 34th year on the force." he said. "During that time I've seen plenty of problems, and we have always resolved them. We have always survived. When you say you want to have a good police department, let me say that we already have a good police department. You don't need to threaten us with bringing in the green uniforms." "Management doesn't really have a choice," Chief Dillard observed. "We are willing to work with everyone over resolving our small differences. We have overcome problems before and we can do it now. Hopefully, we will soon have all our problems taken care of."

Kudos to Judge Stephenson, others helping kids learn right from wrong

No doubt there was more than one household in Sanford last Thursday night where family discussions about juvenile crime took place. We suspect however, that it was the youngsters rather than the parents who were leading the conversations.

who were leading the convertations. Last Thursday, a group of fifth-graders from Goldsbere Elementary School were allowed to sit in as Circuit Judge Gene R. Stephenson conducted actual court hearings on juveniles charged with origins. This could have been an outing Witherem. I accurate the sould have been an outing Witherem of could have been an outing the court of the second have been an led into the courtroom in handcuffs by law enforcement officers gave the fifth-graders something to really think about. Add to that the emotion of tears coming from family d for len into what life is really like. As a result of hearing each case, some of the teenagers were punished, others were let off with a severe warning. But the spectators however, may never forget what they saw. what they heard.

As Bruce McCray, the Behavior Specialist at Goldsboro Elementary said, "If we had more tours like this, there would have been fewer lems, fewer young lives needlessly

We highly commend Judge Stephenson, Bruce McCray, and everyone else who was on the court hearings. Of the 21 youngsters involved in this project, we expect the percentage who will get involved in criminal activities in years ahead will be extremely low compared to any other group of 21.

It is unfortunate that our courts here in cy as their Seminole County have limited a ice and such child stood trial, and we have a real adventure outings are difficult to arrange. But if we could do this to more youngsters, especially in their formative years, we would probably . go a long way in preventing them from taking the wrong direction as they enter into teenage and adult years. It is also unfortunate that we couldn't have such cases televised and transmitted into our school classrooms. When you think about anti-crime or anti-drug courses offered in our schools, we can't imagine anything which may do more good. Sometimes it takes a shock to bring a point across. We believe this is what happened last Thursday in Judge Stephenson's court. It's unfortunate that these fifth graders had to go through such a trauma, but if it did some good, we are glad it happened.

City manager Bill Simmons met with those who will help set off Sanford's Independence Day celebration. During the recent meeting, Simmons met with Jennifer Singelsen of Sanford Main said she also supported the consulting firm concept. "but it should be pointed out that problems existed before Joe Dillard became police chief," she added. "so this is not a crisis caused by Mr. Dillard becomming chief. Chief Dillard told the commission he would be willing to work with the mayor and oth law enforcement efficers on the matter. "I would take their recommendations, review them, and get back to the commission on these matters," he said.

After further discussion. commission members indicated they had no objection to the RFP which would be brought back to a formal commission meeting once received.

Commissioner Kerry Lyons brought up the suggestion of obtaining an assistant city manager to help oversee the police operations. The idea was quashed however, when it was pointed out that voters, just last year, nixed turning supervision of the police and fire departments over to the city manager. Commissioner Whitey Ecks-tein, silent up to this point, took the microphone to express his feelings. "I assure you." he said. "my first commitment in July. when we begin working on the when we begin working on the next budget, will be to address the salary issue. it may mean an increase in ad valorem taxes, which may cost me an election. But this is needed," he said.

"We need to get this backstabbing and bickering resolved," he told the audience. "And if you guys will buy into this and support the chief with us, you may find an increase in raises. If we make that a priority. we may not even need consultanta.

Eckstein also suggested it may be advantageous to look into changing the work hours. "These 12 hour shifts may need looking at." he said. "Maybe we need to look at eight hour shifts. But right now, my commitment is to increase the salary." "I'll also see to it that salaris are high on my printity list." commented Commignioner Williams. She suggested the

"It's not our job to undertake police bashing," Dale said. "We have got to get communications more open. I'm here to find middle ground in which both of us can start working as a team."

"We want this to be a premier we want this to be a premier police department like it used to be," Presley added. "Pay is not the issue. We just want to be treated like professionals. All we ask is that police administration meet us halfway. down the road." Presley's comments were met with a large round of ap-plause by the audience. "On October 29, 1996, after two and a half years of negotiations." said Chief Dillard. "the union and city agreed to the terms of a contract. Now, they need to adhere to it.

"When we agreed to this contract," Dillard continued, "there was a Labor/Management committee article that said. "There shall be a Labor/Man-agement Commission function-ing, consisting of three members of the union and three appointed by the city. They were to meet every quarter, but to my knowledge, since October, they have never met."

"Why wasn't such a committee formed?" questioned Dele.

"Because we never set up any rules and procedures," Head responded.

Then I will volunteer to chair such a committee," Dale said. "You give us, in writing, your

"Our citizens are happy with the service they're getting - we have very few complaints," said Commission Chairman Randy Morris.

A comprehenatve report by

Pam Hastings, Administrative Assistant in Public Works. enabled the board to act quickly Tuesday morning, arriving at its decision in less than an hour of a work session.

Maloy, who said he has heard complaints, was in favor of having a competitive bidding package (including input from the collection industry) with an initial bid framework provided for commission policy in August.

The other commissioners agreed with Oscar the Grouch from "Sesame Street" vouching they love trash removal just the way it is.

clunteer of the Week Busy lady volunteers her

time to many worthy projects

By SUGAN V rieraid Blatt Willier

SANFORD -- Three year resident Manaret Jackson is a very busy indy. She is active in several different volunteer efforts as she says, "I like peopie, and I like helping people." Not only does she have time to extend to others, but she is a member of New Mt. Calvary Church and serves on the number one usher board. She also is in the Crooms Academy Alumni Association."

She lived here and graduated from Crooms Academy before her recent three year residency but moved out of state for some - time initially after her move back ahe became a member of RSVP and has labored, for two years in the Christman store project and also gift wrapped at the mall. Later she began attending Better Living for Seniors.

Next came her involvement with the Salvation Army. "Last year I came in third place for raising the most money at Christmas time when I was ringing the bell." she said. "I do a lot of plastic canvas with them in a craft class. I help with the class weekly."

Jackson added that she also "goes on Tuesday nights for a women's home league where there is Bible study, singing. crafts and play some games."

Among one of her volunteer efforts that keepss her most active is her work for the past two years with Seminole Volunteer Enterprises, Inc. She noted that her work with this organization spanned several days each month. "On the last Saturday of the month I work with the SHARE program from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.," she said. "I put in two hours of community work, and I help distribute the packages. The people that come are given things like chicken, turkey sausage, celery, carrots, pancake mix, granola, apples, potatoes, onions, cantaloupes and a newspaper come with it. They were treated recently to Italian ice." Jackson added that on the workshops and visits to historical sites.

more efficiently Water your plants

The demands for water in Florida always is increasing due to steady population growth. We must learn how to make better use of the limited water resources available by practicing water conservation.

Rainfall in Florida is about 52 inches of water per year. which could be considered adequate if we think that one inch of rain per week is sufficient to cover the needs of most plans. But, most of the rainfall occurs during the months of June through September, with little rain occuring the rest of the year. During this period of low rainfall, supplemental irrigation is necessary to maintain good growth for rule that never fails, most browning of leap tips or leaf margins will appear.

New much Water: As general rule, plants in full sunlight will need watering every three to five days. Most Florida's soils require about 3/4 inches of water per trrigation period. Irrigation of landscape plans usually is done with sprinklers, which must be calibrated to deliver the 3/4 inches of water required for most plans.

A simple method used is to place containers in the area covered by the sprinklers to determine how much time it takes for the sprunkles to deliver 3/4 inches of water. Simply, measure the depth of water level in the the containers until it reaches the destred amount of water, and determine how much time it takes -to reach-that -level. Adjust your timer accordingly if you have an automatic watering system or if you do it manually, remember to turn on the aprinklers for just that of time.

With a hose, water usually is applied faster than the soil can absorb it, resulting in soil erosion and exposing plant roots to direct sunlight.

Time of Watering: The simplest rule is to water early in the morning. In the mornings, there is minimal evaporation, since wind and temperature are alow, and the time that the above ground plant tissues remain wet also is minimal. Watering during the day is inefficient and will result in the greatest water loss due to evaporation.

Watering late in the ev increases the amount of th that the plant remains wet. creating a good environa for the development ment of fungal

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to DEAR ABBY: Your answer to the woman whose live-in boyfriend would rather have his ex-girlfriend hem his pants then pay a measily 80 was lousy. You told her to take them to the seamstress when they arrived and pay the measy to hesp the peace. He's a cheep jerk who cares more about saving a buck than his girlfriend's fielings.

Why should she be the one to do anything differently? He should stop being helpless and self-cen-tered. They both work and neither news, so let him take care of his own pants. If he runs to his ex-girifriend for something this trivial, be assured he'll start doing it every time his current girlfriend disappoints him. Peace schmeace! Tell him to grow up!

SELF-RELIANT

DEAR SELF-RELIANT: I'll tell him, but I doubt if he will change his manipulative ways. Why should he? He has two women bending over backward to accommodate him. Live Ways recommended that if you have an automatic watering system you should install a shutoff device when it rains. Watering Methods:

Sprinklers are one of the most popular method of watering landscape your plants. Sprinkler systems are versatile and can be operated automatically or manually to deliver the necessary a of water. A hose-end sprinkler can be used in small areas to cover the water needs of your landscape plants. This meth-od requires more labor to move the sprinkler around, but it is very economical.

Micro-irrigation is a very efficient method of delivering a small amount of water to the root system of the plants. By wetting only the root sone, the amount of water used is minimal, and it also limits weed growth. Micro-sprinklers can cover areas of three to twenty feet in diameter and are an excellent way to deliver water to specific areas in your landscape. Watering plants with a hose is not an efficient way to deliver water to plants.

 Drought Tolerant Plants: By landscaping with plants adapted to low soil water levels, you can conserve water because these plants require less water for maintaining a good growth.

· Windbroaks: Windbreaks. by cutting wind velocity. decrease evaporation. Trees, fences, hedges and scrub beds wil function as windbreakers in the landscape.

Watch out for Patriots bearing arms

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - Their names are Brock, Child, Signorelli and Sitz. Law firm? No. better than that. Pitching staff. Four of the best young arms in America. And they're all on the name Lake Brantley High School baseball team.

These fellows began the 1997 season with three no-hitters, a one-hitter and a two-hitter in Lake Brantley's first seven games - which may be the most incredible opening of all time by a high school team. Absolutely, mind-boggling.

You forget about ERAs (earned run averages) and begin to think EHAs (earned hit averages). said Carl Krot, who has had three sons play baseball at Lake Brantley and rarely misses a game (his son, Matt is the team's second baseman this year. "Each game presents another pitching gem - a possible no-hitter," Krot said. "These kids are amazing."

To be sure, coach Mike Smith is no stranger to success in his 12 years at Brantley - the 1990 Patriots (30-4) won the National Championship. Brad Rigby, 13-0 that year, is expected to be a starter this season for the Oakland Athletics - the first Lake Brantley grad in the Big-Leagues.

It is too early for Smith or anyone else to know if Lake Brantley's current team can be as good as the 1990 champions. "The pitchers are way ahead of the hitters right now," Smith asid. "If we were getting these no-hitters in April, I'd be very ex-cited...it's too early for that. We've got a way to Brantley's players are good athletes and good students, and obviously they have outstanding tutors. Smith said he relies big time on 52-year-old Bob Peterson, the schools athletic director who is also the varsity baseball team's pitching coach.

Talk about a man for all seasons - Peterson's own children are accompliahed swimmers. Two girls became Notre Dame swimmers, and his son swims at Fordham. From the looks of things. Peterson knows as much about sinkers as ewimmersi His Brantley pitchers are well-schooled. "He hammers on mechanics," Smith said. "He's constantly sitting down with the kids to watch pitching videos.

"We don't have a lot of sore arms here," Smith

Prom Staff Reports

LAKE MARY - Late inning heroics spelled the difference Saturday as Daytona Beach-Seabreese and Lyman claimed first and fifth place on the final day of the Raminole Invitational.

A hit batter and back-to-back doubles plated a pair of runs for the Sandcrache in the top of the seventh inning to crase a 2-1 New Smynra Beach lead as Seabreeze (5-2) edged the Barracudas (6-1) 3-2 in the Championship game at Lake Mary High School.

In the fifth place game on Alumni Field at the Seminole High School Baseball Complex, the Greyhounds (4-4) broke a 2-2 tie with two runs in the top of the sixth inning, then added an insurance run in the top of LAKE MARY — in the ongoing diamond debate of how good pitching beats good hitting and vice-versa, the deciding factor invariably comes down to who makes the lewest mistakes. In Saturday's third-place game of the Raminole Invitational at Lake Mary High School, Oviedo High School senior Mike Halaychick dirin't make many mistakes. And of the few he made, only one really hurt him, as he tossed a complete game in leading the Lions to an 8-2 win over the

"Mike doesn't have the best stuff, but he's competitive." said Oviedo coach Kenne Brown. "He has to stay ahead of the hitters and keep the ball down. When he does, he can be effective.

said. "Right now there's a 75-pitch limit for each of the boys. Tanner Brock had a no-hitter for six innings but had shrown 71 pitches. He came out."

As the season progresses, the limit will increase to 90 and as high as 120. If Mike Smith has a problem - one other coaches would envy - it would be in keeping the starting rotation even so each of the pitchers feels he's No. 1. Lake Brantley, it is obvious, has four No. 1's. Two more lade - Scott Kane and Greg Lee - are right behind them.

Consider too that once a game begins, Smith and Peterson allow their kids to make their own decisions, their own strategy. Unlike most coaches who call each pitch. Lake Brantley's calls come from catcher Justin Smith (no relation to the coach). Sometimes, one of the pitchers will shake him off - believing in another pitch in the situation which is good baseball.

On many occasions there are as many majorleague scouts and college recruiters as their are parents and friends at Lake Brantley's games. Brock and Shaun Child have signed letters of intent to attent Mississippi State. Jay Signarelli would like to attend Manatee Junior College. Left-hander Robert Sitz is only a high school junior, whose name is well-known by every scout and birddog in the country. He has plenty of savvy and a golden arm.

The three seniors surely will be drafted by Big-League teams, perhaps in the first or second rounds. That presents an opportunity to make some very big dollars. Smith said. "Each case is different, each boy is different but it is tough for a kid to turn down the money that teams are willing to give those chosen in the first and second rounds. Third-round and on, and the kide definitely ought to go on to college."

Lake Brantley has a couple of interesting games this week - at Lyman and at Oviedo. Expect a bevy of onlookers, some with speed guns and scorebooks. And don't be surprised to hear more about EHAs - carned hit averages. The Patriots are extremely well-armed. You have to come see them.

Winter Springs Harris has plan for successful program at

By KELLIE WERK Herald Staff Writer

WINTER SPRINGS - When Winter Springs High School opene its doors in August, the halls will be jees than croweded.

Classrooms will be less than full.

Athletic programs will have less bodies on the field and in the gym.

The newset high school in the county will begin classes with only ninth and 10th graders in attendance. As each of those classes move up, a new freshman class will enter to fill the void and in three years, all grades will be represented.

This will have a profound impact for the athletic programs in particular.

With no varsity level players, only the freshman and junior varsity clubs will be manned. Therefore, for at least the first year, there will be no post senson activity, especially for the football program.

This is fine with the new head coach for Winter Springs, Mike Harris.

"There is a three year process that we will go through to get established." Harris explained. "We will be building for success, however, not only athletically but academically as well. That just gives us the opportunity to build a top shelf pro

All of the coaching staff is not in place yet, as the number of teachers that will be hired is de-poendent on enrollment. Those numbers are not yet available and therefore, interviewing is continuing but the actual number of available positions is not known.

Harris still has a plan for his program, and that includes working closely with his assistants. He anid that he is a strong believer in the fact that a successful program is built only when the entire coaching staff is on the same page. "I feel confident in my abilities. But I cannot coach alone." said Harris. "I need a good staff around me so I can do my tob correctly. We will all learn from each other and grow together."

Support from the community, in a ddition to other coaches on staff, is the other ingredient for

"We will need the cooperation of everyone, from the coaches, to the students, to the parents, to get the program where it needs to be. Positive feedback from everyone will make all the difference. We want to reassure the parents that our main concern is the weifare of the student athlete." commented Harris.

No one likes to lose, and that might happen along the way as we're building, but we didn't just walk into this without knowing that we would need a solid five year plan to be competitive."

The first stpe in that plan is to find out who will be on the field next year.

Once the actual list of students who will be attending is started. Harris and his staff will begin to contact all of the prospective players. He hopes to hold a non-contact spring camp just to get the kide familiar with each other and the coaches to wase the anxiety.

The first two seasons will have an eight game schedule for both the freshman and jayvee teams. The following year they hope to have a varsity schedule, mostly out of fairness to then thenjunior players.

Harris says, though, that none of this is carved in stone. The determining factor in every deci-Dee Harris, Page 28
