

Greece, Turkey Are Expected In Alliance

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
OTTAWA, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The last obstacle to an Atlantic Council recommendation that Greece and Turkey be brought into the North Atlantic Treaty apparently was swept today by a Danish government decision to vote for such action.

Military leaders of the Atlantic Alliance were reported already at work on plans to set up a new NATO Middle East Command centered on Turkey but designed to create a common strategy for Communist forces throughout that area of the world.

These plans, it was learned, were tentatively shaped up by the top-level standing group of the NATO military committee. The central idea of a Middle East Command, separate from General Dwight D. Eisenhower's Western European defense structure, is understood to have gotten the backing of the United States joint chiefs of staff.

Of the 12 nations in the Atlantic Alliance, 10 had declared Monday and Tuesday their support for an American proposal to extend the alliance into the Middle East, although there were various criticisms of the project. An 11th country, Norway, is expected but not clear that it alone would not stand in the way of the required unanimous vote.

That left Foreign Minister Ole Bjorn Kraff of Denmark in the position of blocking final action, since his government was opposed to the proposition. In the light of the overwhelming majority lineup, he asked new instructions.

Press dispatches from Copenhagen said today the Danish government has decided to accept Greek-Turkish membership. Up to noon Kraff had not received his formal cabinet instructions but expected he probably would get them in time for action of the membership question at this afternoon's council session.

The expansion of the former was completed early this year when the new building was occupied and present spacious and beautiful quarters at 119 West First Street in Sanford. We are now matching this expansion of facilities by expansion of personnel at the top level.

"We feel that we are extremely fortunate to obtain the services of Mr. Touhy for this position. He has been a resident of Sanford for the past seven years and during the last four years of that time has served as a director of the Association. He therefore brings to his new position an experience of both the community and the Association. He has been active in civic affairs, having served as Director of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Director and President of the Local Tuberculosis Association, Finance Chairman for Boy Scouts, Mr. Touhy was President of the Sanford Rotary Club during the year 1949-50. boiler, Willett said. He was not asked immediately for further details, but Senator Nixon (R-Calif.), a subcommittee member, demanded a check on whether either Boyle or Max Skind, Boyle's former law partner, represent any of these firms now.

The Senate investigation already has churned up a grade-A political fire. Republican members of a subcommittee conducting the inquiry protested that Senator McFarland, Democratic floor leader, was trying to "hamstring" their work.

Next in the witness line is Merl Young, one-time White House frequenter, whom a Senate Banking Committee named last spring as a key figure in "a web of influence" extending from the White House to the RFC. Young may not get to the stand today.

An $8,450 pastel milk coat worn by Mrs. Young, until recently a White House stenographer, became an issue in the prior inquiry. Testimony was that a Washington lawyer for RFC borrowers had loaned Young the money to be used in the Nationalist government in the way of "corruption and maladministration."

Gov. Warren

line traced by the master pen. To Pearce it was a new experience.

But for Governor Warren and Keyes the old story. Last year they had signed some 28,000 bonds in similar fashion in connection with some other bridge bond issues. At that time, however, they could sign only 12 bonds at one time. Now it was 18.

"Wouldn't it be wonderful if someone would invent a similar gadget whereby one person could shake 18 pens simultaneously?" the Governor said. "It would make campaigning easy."

At first the state officials found the "writing without writing" a bit unusual but soon they swung into the "feel of things" and proceeded at a merry pace. As soon as one batch left the Governor's table it went to Keyes and then to Pearce. At the end of a half hour they had signed about 5,000 bonds.

They did not plan to complete the task today. They have until Friday when the formal delivery and payment of money actually will take place.

The Governor said he hoped to attend a session of the American Bar Association meeting here and talk with interested people about promotion of Florida tourist trade.

British Election

margin now is six votes in the 625-member House of Commons. It was a tough job to turn back the concerted attack of 77-year-old Churchill.

Attlee, now 68, decided it would be better to risk an election now than later, with the prospects that conditions in Britain might get worse instead of better. Moreover he has a split in his Labor party led by left-winger Aneurin Bevan who has resigned as Labor Minister, charging that the Socialist program of which he was one of the chief architects was being wrecked by Attlee's rearmament policies.

In his address, Attlee told the nation tonight: "For 18 months the government has carried on the affairs of the country with a very small majority in the House of Commons. I consider that the time has now come to ask the electors for a renewal of confidence in the government and to give it adequate parliamentary support in order to deal with the important issues with which the country is faced at home and abroad."

Immediately on hearing the news, Churchill prepared to call his "shadow cabinet" into session to chart his campaign. There are the men who would be his cabinet in the event of a Conservative victory at the polls.

Leaders of the Liberal Party also prepared for meetings. With the worst winter since 1917 in prospect for Britain, the Attlee decision appeared to be a difficult one, particularly in view of recent public opinion polls showing the Conservatives gaining in popularity. But some Labor party leaders believe living costs and conditions generally will be eased this fall than next spring.

Gross Protests

today. If you don't answer those questions, I warn you I will sentence you to the limit of the law. If you do it you have to get in jail. Alternately shouting and out-berating, Gross accused the judge of having kept him in "solitary confinement as a material witness."

"You're sure a very honorable man," Gross sneered at the judge. "Trash—trash," Lellowitz shouted back. "This man is spilling nothing but trash. If he hadn't been pampered so much, this wouldn't have happened." The judge added that he had nothing to do with police guards that have kept Gross in restrictive custody.

"It took 20 months to build this case," the judge said, "and I'm not going to see it go to in smoke now." "It's taken 20 years off my life," Gross snarled.

The snarling, perfume-loving gambler claimed he had been kept by police in rooms with lights on 23 out of 24 hours a day, that he had not been supplied with adequate toilet articles.

Gross, whose arrest halt in testimony yesterday, threatened to wreck the trial of 18 present or former police officers, had released after a recess, and agreed to resume his testimony today.

The convention met at Independence Hall, Philadelphia, May 25, 1787. Among those present was Benjamin Franklin, 81, James Madison, 35 and Alexander-Hamilton, 30.

Some delegates were indifferent, some enthusiastic, said Mr. Miller. Out of 72 delegates invited to attend only 39 were present when the document was finished. Rhode Island did not send a delegate and any family as soon as the President George Washington, sick and broke, hesitated about attending the convention and when he did it took him four days to go from Mt. Vernon to Philadelphia. He was elected the presiding officer, and at the opening of the convention only nine states were represented.

The Constitution, in spite of close votes in many states, was ratified, June 21, 1788 and the government was organized Apr. 30, 1789. Mr. Miller stated that the U. S. Constitution is as near a perfect political document as possible and has been amended only 22 times since 1789.

He queried the late President Coolidge as saying, "To live under the American Constitution is the greatest privilege that was ever accorded any part of the human race."

The field commander of United Nations forces in Korea today pinned the silver star on AP War Correspondent John Randolph for heroic action. Randolph carried wounded to safety Apr. 23 during a wild, four-hour battle.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet bestowed the award on the 33-year-old newsmen in front of 100 correspondents. He told them: "The press is part of the United Nations army in Korea. Disalle said he made the statement to the President during a visit to the White House recently. Disalle told a reporter, "I'd like to get back there when the time is right."

Tennessee Fire Cost Is Set At $600,000

HUMPHREY, Tenn., Sept. 19.—(AP)—One of the worst fires in West Tennessee's history caused an estimated damage of more than $600,000 last night.

The spectacular blaze destroyed the Gulf, Mobilis and Ohio Railroad's fruit packing shed and damaged 12 other buildings, including a two-story warehouse.

Fire Chief Ivan Grace said the flames, raged out of control for more than two hours. His volunteer fire department was assisted by firefighters from Jackson, Milan, Trenton and Bell.

Grace said that the origin of the blaze was undetermined. But he reported that four small children had been playing under the shed shortly before the blaze was discovered.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet bestowed the award on the 33-year-old newsmen in front of 100 correspondents. He told them: "The press is part of the United Nations army in Korea. We are honored at having you as members of this command. I know that this gallant incident was one of many in which correspondents have distinguished themselves. The list is very long."

Randolph's action, in disregard of his own safety while with a cut-off American battalion, was first brought to public attention by the battalion commander, Randolph had passed over it lightly in his dispatch.

Today he was given, along with the medal, a citation photographed by President Truman concluding: "The courageous and aggressive action taken by Mr. Randolph reflects great credit upon himself and the United States army."

Committee Issues Tax Increase Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The Senate Finance Committee today reported its new tax increase bill which would yield an estimated $5,500,000,000 a year.

This estimate, prepared by the group's staff of experts, was well under the $6,000,000,000 estimate given earlier to newsmen by Chairman George D. Gal.

The $5,500,000,000 figure was contained in the committee's formal report distributed to Senators shortly before the Senate was scheduled to begin debate on the measure. Floor consideration may start late today or tomorrow.

The report said that the 13 members of the committee believe the limit has about been reached on increases in income taxes both from individuals and corporations.

It pointed out that a 1950 revenue set hiked rates on all taxpayers by $6,100,000,000 annually after the Korean War broke out. Then an excess profits tax boost was voted late in the year; this increased revenues by $3,900,000,000 annually.

These two measures, combined with the pending bill, would mean a hike in Federal revenues of more than $10,000,000,000 in a little more than a year.

"Never before has so much additional revenue been raised in so short a period of time," the report declared.

Despite this, Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today he and other Senators will try to raise the proposed tax hike to at least $7,000,000,000 a year.

Meat Packers Refuse To Bid On Army Beef

Only 190,000 Pounds Are Offered On Request For Thirteen Million Pounds

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—(AP)—The Army said today it got offers for only 190,000 pounds of beef in response to its request for bids on 13,000,000 pounds.

Only two of 112 packers solicited for bids made offers. This seemed to make certain that the Army now would turn to overseas markets to get the beef or carcass beef it needs for supplying the European command.

The Army announced yesterday that if domestic packers failed to provide the needed amount it would request authority from Army Secretary Pace to buy overseas.

The packers have given government price controls and a shortage of high quality beef as reasons for refusing to submit bids. Requests for bids were put out by the Chicago quartermaster office and results were sent on to the Pentagon during the night. An Army spokesman this morning told reporters:

"The Army requested 212 packers to submit bids on 13,000,000 pounds of beef meat needed. Of the 212 packers solicited, 83 replied to the Army's request.

"Of this number, only two made offers to supply beef. These two offered a total of 190,000 pounds. These were Kingman Co. of Indianapolis, which offered 100,000 pounds, and Dugdale Packing Co. of St. Joseph, Mo., which offered 90,000 pounds.

"Agriculture Department meat experts, however, predicted today beef supplies would increase within a few weeks and the Army should have less difficulty obtaining meat.

"For the country as a whole, slaughter of cattle and calves under federal inspection—the source of military supplies—has been about 16 per cent below a year ago during the past two years. However, during the past two weeks has been 28 per cent in midwater slaughter areas where the large packing plants operate and where the Army normally gets the bulk of its supplies. On the east and west coast, slaughter has been running above a year ago.

"Officials said there were considerably more cattle on farms than a year ago, but that fewer are coming to market now for two major reasons:

"(1) Pastures have been unusually favorable this year in midwestern and some range areas and stock men have been taking advantage of them to add more weight to their cattle.

"(2) Farmers are increasing cattle herds and in order to do this they must hold larger numbers for breeding purposes. In periods of (Continued On Page Six)

78 Red MIGs Engage Jets Over Korea

One Russian Plane Is Destroyed, Eight Are Damaged As Air Fighting Increases

By JOHN RANDOLPH
U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 20—(AP)—American warplanes today damaged three Russian-made MIG-15 jets in a series of dog-fights over northwest Korea. Altogether, 49 Allied and 78 Red planes were engaged.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said there were no Allied losses. Red losses for two days of dog-fights total one MIG destroyed and 8 damaged.

For the first time in history, giant helicopters ferried battle-ready troops into action. The helicopters delivered a reinforced company of Marines and their equipment to a rugged mountain summit in only four hours. By foot the same job would have taken two days.

Other United Nations troops faced withering Red mortar fire as they pushed off again in the bloody "battle of the hills" on the east-central front.

Clearing weather gave them badly needed air support.

Communist troops on commanding high ground rained artillery and mortar fire at the attacking Allied infantry.

Elsewhere on the east-central front, Eighth Army soldiers continued local attacks against Red dug-in on high ground.

U. S. advances also were reported on the western front. They were north of Yonchon and northwest of Chorwon.

The Fifth Air Force reported four swirling jet battles between Allied and Communist aircraft.

In the biggest, 32 F-86 Sabre Jets took on 50 MIGs and damaged two of them. The battle ranged down to tree-top level from 5,000 to 45,000 feet. Capt. Richard H. Johns of Napa, Calif., and Lt. John W. Honaker of Arlington, Va., were credited with the two (Continued On Page Six)

Senate Group Okeys Change In Price Bill

Truman Wins Round With Sen. Capehart; Conference Strikes Out Aid Limitation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—(AP)—The Senate Banking Committee today voted 9 to 4 to rewrite what President Truman has called "the terrible Capehart amendment."

Senator Moody (D-Mich.) told reporters that in his opinion the revised version meets Mr. Truman's needs.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) denounced the revision, accused Moody of misrepresenting it, and stalked angrily out of a news conference.

The committee also voted, by voice ballot, to repeal as Mr. Truman had asked another section of the law dealing with import duties, under certain conditions, on fats and oils, cheese, butter and other dairy products, and soups, rice and rice products.

Under the present law, the controls have to be imposed when the Agriculture Department determines that importation of such commodities would hamper domestic production.

In requesting that the provision be repealed, Mr. Truman said it runs counter to the principle of reciprocal trade agreements.

Before today's action, Capehart said he would "continue to fight" for the amendment bearing his name.

A Senate-Home conference took the bid off military aid available for non-European pact nations under the foreign aid bill.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) said the conferees agreed to strike out a Senate provision which would have limited to 10 per cent any transfer of the $5,000,000,000 in military funds authorized for European aid.

The effect, Connally said, would be to permit President Truman, under certain conditions, to transfer any amount he desires to countries not members (Continued On Page Six)

Agreements With Russia Will Be Sought But Armed Strength Will Be Increased

By HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—(AP)—President Truman said today the only way to deal with the present world emergency is to meet force with force. He added that he believes this necessity very much.

The President told a news conference the United States will continue to seek agreements with Russia, but will continue to build up its armed strength to see that these agreements are enforced.

He said the United Nations was organized to settle differences without the use of force. But, he added, Korea is one example of how the Communists have made this impossible.

He said there is a stronger possibility of peace now than ever before of the United States sticks to its knitting and goes ahead with its defense program.

The President also:

1. Said he has the word of Chairman William H. Clegg, Jr., of the Democratic National Committee that he took no fees in connection with RFP loans, and he believes him. He added that committee officials should do all that can be done to introduce prospective buyers to government agencies as long as they receive no fees for it.

2. Predicted a Democratic victory in the 1952 elections. He said the Republicans have no issues and have resorted to misrepresentation and smear. He expressed agreement with Democratic program director James A. Farley that no Administration can be thrown out when the country is prosperous.

3. Wrote Vice President Barkley renewing his plea for $10,000,000 in additional taxes and urging increases in the peacetime Social Security bill on individual and corporation incomes. He said the Senate bill now being debated (Continued On Page Six)

Gross's Parole Is Revoked And He Stays In Jail

Sentence Will Be Passed On Sept. 27 On Gambling Counts

By ROBERT FARRINGTON
NEW YORK, Sept. 20—(AP)—Gambling Harry Gross, whose brief refusal to testify shattered the state's bribery case against 18 police today lost his parole and must remain in jail.

A three-judge special sessions court revoked the parole, which had been granted six months ago while Gross awaited sentencing on gambling charges.

District Attorney Miles F. McDonough, whom the dapper gambler had double-crossed in backing down on his original agreement to talk at the trial, asked that "no parole be thrown out."

"I am no longer able to guarantee to produce this witness when he is wanted," McDonough said.

Justice William B. Northrop, presiding at the hearing, set Sept. 27 for sentencing Gross on 60 counts of gambling, for which he could draw up to 10 years in prison. The hearing was closed, guilty, and sentencing had been set for Oct. 8.

On top of this, the ex-husband of a $20,000,000-a-year bookmaking syndicate was given five years for contempt of court during yesterday's stormy courtroom wrangling.

Gross had truculently defied attempts of the court to get him to answer questions in the trial in which the policemen were accused of taking a million a year in bribes.

His defiance forced Judge Samuel S. Liebowitz to throw out the case which McDonough's staff had worked two years preparing, and free the defendants.

At the hearing today, McDonough said he would have asked immediate sentencing of Gross on the gambling counts, but he wanted the justice to have time to become "fully aware of the magnitude of his offense" by (Continued On Page Two)

Attlee Begins British Labor Party Campaign

Churchill's Conservative Mapping Victory Strategy

LONDON, Sept. 20—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee opened the British Labor Party's campaign for the Oct. 25 general election today by telling the nation it must choose whether it will "go backward with the Conservatives or forward with Labor."

At the same time Winston Churchill and his Conservatives, sensing victory for the Tories in the air, began shaping their election strategy.

Conservatives considered a good sign for them the developing boom in the London stock market in the wake of Attlee's broadcast announcement yesterday that the general election would be held.

Millions of pounds were added to the share values on the London exchange in a buying spree obviously touched off by the prospect that the Labor government may be ending six years of socialist rule.

Lt. Hudner Tells Jaycees Of Local Naval Air Group

Medal Of Honor Winner Finds Sanford Girls Look Best

"It's true that some of the best looking girls you ever saw around an air station are found in Sanford," Lt. Tom Hudner told the Jaycees in an informal talk following the regular Thursday meeting at the Yacht Club.

Hudner, a Congress Medal of Honor winner, gave his audience a history of Carrier Group Three, now based at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

He was on the program with Mack Cleveland, County Chairman of the Crusade for Freedom drive. Cleveland evoked the subscriptions to the Crusade supported the work of Radio Free Europe, the station that carries messages from the Western world behind the Iron Curtain of Communist domination.

The program also supports the campaign to buy U. S. Savings Bonds. Hudner said that the Crusade for Freedom had been successful in raising $1,500,000 and that there had been some talk of entering the budget even lower than last year.

Retiring President John Kuder was presented with a dress shirt by the group which he modestly referred to as his political attire. Kuder resigned the presidency to run for City Commissioner. Cleveland introduced Lt. Hudner, who told how Carrier Group Three while on operations in the Mediterranean was called to Korea. They made a quick trip to the S. Corbett and headed for Japan. From there the group went into battle operations over Korea. The plane flew strikes against enemy troops and strategic targets.

Hudner said about 600 of the (Continued On Page Six)

Five Men Indicted In Alien Chinese Smuggling Ring

Immigration Investigator Played Along With Ring 5 Months

MIAMI, Sept. 20—(AP)—A daring immigration investigator "played along" for five months with a Cuba-Miami Chinese alien smuggling ring, it was revealed today after the arrest of the alleged ring leader.

Walter H. Sahli, acting district director of the United States Immigration Service here said the man posed as one of the group in order to obtain the evidence he presented to the federal grand jury this week.

Sahli declined to reveal the name of the man, but said he had returned to Washington.

The ring never actually transported any aliens, Sahli said. Five men were indicted by the grand jury and two of them were arrested last night.

Edward William Murphy, a Miami flier who recently completed a two-year sentence on an alien smuggling conviction, was arrested while watching stock cars race at Opa-Locka.

Thomas Walker was picked up by U. S. Border Patrol officers in New York City last night and is being held by the U. S. Marshall there, Sahli said.

Others indicted by the federal grand jury were listed as William L. Harn, a Miami pilot, Gregory Simonovich, a Cuban smuggler already twice indicted by a Miami federal grand jury, and Raymond Godard, described as an (Continued On Page Six)

Atlantic Treaty Powers Promise Continued Unity

OTTAWA, Sept. 20—(AP)—The North Atlantic Council voted unanimously today for full membership of Greece and Turkey in the Atlantic defense alliance.

OTTAWA, Sept. 20—(AP)—The 12 Atlantic Treaty powers today asserted their solidarity against Russian efforts to split their alliance and called for measures to reinforce their cooperation in foreign policy and economic affairs.

"The persistent attempt which has been made and are being made to divide the members of the North Atlantic community will fail," the declaration said.

Obviously referring to recent Soviet threats, it added that a number of "vacant" and "obscure" so-called "peace noises" have been made and said the Atlantic nations are interested in deeds not words.

"They will never reject any genuine move for peace," said the 12-power statement, "but will not be deflected from building up their defensive strength by mere empty words about peace."

Higher Newspaper Rates Are Foreseen

By J. R. BUDNICK
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 20—(AP)—The prospect of increased newspaper subscription costs, if second class postage rates are raised, was outlined yesterday for Southern Circulation Directors.

R. J. Rudolph of the Chattanooga, Tenn. Times, estimated that newspapers would have to absorb or raise their prices $1.50 per year for dailies, and $1.00 for Sunday publications.

He spoke at a closing session of the annual convention of Southern Newspaper Circulation Men.

The House yesterday approved a 30 per cent increase in postal rates affecting newspapers.

Phil Turner, circulation director of the Jacksonville Fla. Times-Union, was elected president of the organization. He succeeded J. E. Walker, formerly of Knoxville, Tenn., and now of Cleveland, O.

HOLLYWOOD Sent 20 girls - New York fashion models need not apply to fill Hollywood's current shortage of dancing girls.
That's the blunt statement of LeRoy Prinz, in command of the beauty brigade at Warner Brothers. Gals who wear the latest clothes in the fashion magazines are not suitable for films, said the dance director.
'Why, the public would throw dunks of Hollywood if we put that kind of girl in our musicals,' said Prinz. 'They may look all right in fashion magazines, but when they look awful. With their long legs and flat chests, they look like bean poles.'

Rain Slows Down Orlando But Not Seminole Eleven

Celery Feeds Getting In Shape For Tilt While Tiger Squad Stays Inside Gym

By DEREK DUNN-RANKIN

Orlando's football hopefuls worked out in the gym yesterday for the third time this week while the Seminole High squad braved the rain to round into shape for their rugged opening game with the Tigers Friday night.

The lighter, less experienced Sanford eleven will need every bit of practice they can get under their belts when they play the bigger school in Orlando Municipal Stadium tomorrow.

Tiger head coach George Gilmarin said, "Sanford always gives us a good game." And the strapping charges of Bill Fleming and Fred Ganas will probably do just that.

Linebacker Fred Ganas denied a report that he had said, "We don't expect to beat the Tigers by any means."

"I didn't say we couldn't win," Ganas told the Herald. "I have the greatest confidence in these kids. We've been working hard with them all this week. I think we have a good chance," he said.

The Celery Feeds will have a tough battle on their hands.

Even in a signal session in the gym yesterday the Tigers looked good. They have a heavy fast backfield. They sport a good passer in Quarterback Gerald Rooks. Two brothers of Florida Gators, Bobby Flowers are making a bid for end on the squad. Dan Flowers is out on injuries but brother Bill, a tall rangy boy, will probably start at left end.

A newcomer to the Tiger varsity is Hobby Lane, a big fast fullback. He is not the passer to equal his teammate Rooks, but he can be expected to chunk a few.

Claude Hunter who was out most of last year with injuries and co-captain Carlton Burroughs are starting prospects for the halfback role. Neither of the lads are small.

Weakest spot on the Orlando eleven in this opening game may well be the ends. There are several good candidates but none with varsity experience.

From tackle to line the squad is more on a par with the Sanford eleven. Here a fast aggressive line can upset their rivals' T-formation players. The Orlando line is not inexperienced. There are few varsity players although most of the boys played JV ball and the Orlando JV's are used to meeting opponents like the Melbourne varsity.

One advantage riding with the local team may be the Orlando T-formation. None of the Tigers have played the T before and its tricky formation that requires practice, finesse and speed if you don't want to lose the ball on fumbles to a tough opposition line.

The Sanford coaches also have the advantage of those few extra days of contact work they got this week while the Tigers stayed in the gym. And although they are plagued by inexperience, Coaches Ganas and Fleming will have a bigger squad than last year to field against a possible two platoon system of Orlando coaches Gilmarin and Pott.

But an unknown element will tell what kind of showing the locals make. That is just how hard and determined a game will the Celery Feeds play against their old rivals.

William And Mary Is Getting Out Of Big-Time Football

By ED YOUNG

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Sept. 20.—William and Mary faculty members, reacting bitterly to a sports scandal which stunned the campus, have moved to take the college out of big-time football.

Sweeping reforms in athletic programs at W&M were deemed "a solemn duty" by the faculty last night in a statement which condemned the college's ambitious sports policy as a corrupting influence.

The "exaggerated athletic policy" is wrecking the academic standards of the college, the faculty charged, has ravaged the morale of the student body—and is a "disgrace to the college."

Dr. Nelson Marshall, dean of the college, said faculty control would, in effect, eliminate athletic scholarships at William and Mary. This, to all intents, would mean a sudden end to an era of football prosperity which has brought W&M a series of winning seasons against major-league opposition and two post-season bowl bids.

The faculty's statement came a week after a new football handbook issued at the college had predicted the current seasonal football season would be "one of the most successful in the institution's history."

"I am sorry, I have nothing to say," said Marvin Bass, the new head football coach.

"I think it best not to say anything," said Dr. George Oliver, who recently took over as director of athletics.

Neither Bass nor Oliver signed the faculty statement, adopted unanimously by 88 faculty members who attended a meeting here Sept. 17. The complete faculty roster numbers 112.

Oscar L. Shewmake, rector of the W&M Board of Visitors, said "I am not sure whether the faculty recommendations at our Oct. 6 session in Williamsburg. The statement charged that the athletic program "has usurped a dominating position in the college and has become a commercial enterprise demanding winning teams at any cost, even at the cost of dishonest academic practice."

They referred to the scandal in the department of athletics which already has resulted in the resignation of the college president, Dr. John E. Pomfret; Athletic Director and Head Football Coach R. N. McCray; and Basketball Coach and former William and Mary, and had given other athletes passing grades in physical education classes they did not even attend.

Cleveland Indians Think They Can Win American League Flag

By JOE KELLEY

BOSTON, Sept. 20.—None of them will say so flatly but the Cleveland Indians obviously think they can win the American League pennant.

Even Manager Al Lopez is beginning to hedge.

A few days ago he said, "If we can split two games with Boston we'll be in fair shape. If we sweep both games from the Red Sox we can win it all."

"Now he says, "After sweeping two games from the Red Sox we have an excellent chance to win."

Al refused to predict the American League champion, whether it would be his Indians or the New York Yankees who lead the American League, three percentage points ahead of Cleveland.

Neither would he say any of the Cleveland players, rule out the Red Sox who were trampled 15-2 yesterday.

Five Boston throwers were knocked out of the box as the managing Indians combined 11 hits with 14 walks and a hit batsman for their 15 runs.

The Sox never had a chance against the classy pitching of Early Wynn who breezed to his 20th triumph, the first time he ever won 20 in his 15 professional seasons.

Cleveland now has three 20 game winners, the first team able to point to such an achievement since the 1931 Philadelphia Athletics.

Cleveland missed having three shut pitchers by one game in 1944, when they won the World Championship. Bob Feller accounted for 19 that year, falling to John Gene Hearden and Bob Lemoine.

Wynn has 22 victories and Mike Garcia 20 each. Both Garcia and Wynn reached the charmed circle by defeating the Red Sox.

Felipe Garcia on Tuesday didn't walk a batter, it was the ninth victory in his last ten games. His most recent defeat was a 2-0 shutout by the Yankees in Cleveland.

Third baseman Al Rosen gave an indication of the Indians' confidence when he brushed off a suggestion the law of averages might catch up with Detroit which has lost all but one game to Cleveland.

"Nothing to that," said Rosen. "We have the Indian sign on 'em, that's all."

Some of the Indians think they have all the beat of it in the schedule since the Red Sox and Yankees play each other eight times. As one said "They'll be knocking each other off while we watch. I hope so."

Birdie Tebbets expressed the opinion the winning American League team would have 93 victories. The Indians have 92 now.

The Red Sox, who like the Indians have a day off today, sternly reject any suggestions they're out of the pennant fight.

"We're not out of it," said Manager Steve O'Neill. "Nobody likes to take a beating like that (yesterday's 15-2 affair) but it's better to be beaten that way than to lose a close one you think you should have won."

"We'll have to beat the Yankees to win."

That seemed the Red Sox

Big League Stars To Appear Before House Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Big league baseball players will get their innings before a Congressional committee investigating the sport next month.

Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.) of a house judiciary subcommittee announced yesterday the hearings will be resumed on Oct. 15. He plans to wind up the inquiry within ten days.

The probe was started last month and interrupted so as not to interfere with the stretch drive for the world series.

Rep. Millings (R-Calif.) told a reporter the staff has arranged for Fred Hutchinson of the Detroit Tigers and Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates to lead off the resumed hearings.

They are the official representatives elected by the players to represent them in grievance sessions with the owners. Hutchinson will speak for the American Leaguers and Kiner for the National Leaguers.

Millings said the staff also expected to have on hand Phil E. Wrigley, Jr., owner of the Chicago Cubs and the Hollywood club in the Pacific Coast League, and Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Another witness scheduled to be heard is Leslie O'Connor, treasurer of baseball during the commission's investigation of the late Kenesaw M. Landis and now counsel for the Pacific Coast League.

The committee already has heard from former Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, president Tom Y. Lutz, the National League and minor league boss before Trautman.

It is interested in obtaining additional testimony on baseball's use of the reserve clause in players' contracts and rules governing franchises.

TKO Winner Rocky Graziano Hunting Robinson Match

DETROIT, Sept. 20.—Rocky Graziano, whose blasting comeback in the last 20 seconds stunned Tony Janiro last night and gained Rocky a technical knockout, wants to get into the next business—a middleweight title fight with champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

This may be early next year.

Meanwhile the "wee was robbed" cry came from Janiro and Frankie Jacobs, his manager.

Until Rocky's crashing lefts and rights suddenly sprawled Tony on the canvas with the fight nearly over, Janiro appeared a sure winner in a wide-open slugfest. Referee Lou Handler halted the 10-round, televised fight just as Janiro hit the floor.

Janiro hopped right to his feet and joined Manager Frankie Jacobs in protesting Handler's decision. Many in the crowd of 8,086 booed.

Despite the knockdown, Janiro evidently would have won by decision if the fight had gone 14 more seconds to the conclusion.

"Handler should at least have let Tony take a nine count," said Jacobs.

Janiro kept repeating that he wasn't hurt and could have finished the round.

Graziano, 160 pounds to Tony's 154, exploded a left to Tony's face with 20 seconds left. Tony tried to back away but roughhouse Rocky rained rights and lefts at him.

Tony, a superior boxer, had danced and ducked out of range of Rocky's explosive rights most of the fifth and kept slamming his left into Rocky's face as the theme song, "we aren't out of it" but the odds were going sky-high against the hostons.

PITCHING: Early Wynn, Indians—joined teammates Bobby Feller and Mike Garcia in 20-win club with 15-2 triumph over Boston.

Outfielder Frank McCormick and Pitcher Joe Haynes of the Washington Senators both hit their first home runs of the season at Detroit, Aug. 24.

Nick Bassett, new end coach for the New York Yankees football team, is a former Washington State and San Francisco 49ers star.

Barons Beat Little Rock In 1st Playoff

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The finals of the Southern Association playoffs began last night just like the semi-finals—Birmingham won and Little Rock lost.

The Barons downed Mobile in the semi-final opener; Little Rock fell to Memphis.

Canny Mickey Haefner, Birmingham's 8-year-old left-hander, scattered nine traveler blows to notch last night's victory, 9 to 1, before more than 5,000 fans.

He had plenty of help at the plate from Dave Backley, former National League outfielder, and second baseman Dale Lynch. Each pounded out three blows and all of them figured in Birmingham's scoring. Backley blasted a two-run homer in the third to give Haefner enough runs to win.

All of the Barons' runs came as a pair of Traveler right-handers, Milo Johnson, the loser, and Backley. They scored a couple of outposts also took a hit for Little Rock, but they had Birmingham scorers.

Little Rock's big offensive gun, catcher Hal Simpson, fanned.

Haefner will take to the mound in the second game with Lefty Dutch Schaefer, pitcher.

Florida A & M Opens Season To Try For Eighth Championship

By HAROLD L. PARR
 TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Florida A. & M. College of Negroes opens its campaign to an eighth straight Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association football championship Saturday. The Hatters pry the lid off their 10th season against Texas College at Tyler, Tex.

Folks around here take it for granted that the Hatters are going to come up with the nation's top Negro gridiron outfit. After all, doesn't veteran coach Jake Gaither always turn out a winner?

But Gaither isn't so sure this year. He said today as he put his squad through its final punishing workout for Saturday's opener that he will be satisfied if he wins 50 percent of his games.

The Hatters play a nine-game schedule, climaxed by the annual Orange Blossom classic in the Orange Bowl at Miami Dec. 1.

Coach Gaither isn't cut in the traditional mold and doesn't drag out the crying towel unless he has reason to weep. His warning the Hatters may not be the powerhouses of the past seven years must be given credence.

"We lost 21 letters from last year's team and every one of them was a good football player. We've got 20 lettermen back, but we use up to 45 men in every game. That means we must find 20 replacements," Gaither said.

"This will be a good team this year. But we may lose a few game because we're playing some mighty good teams," he added.

Gaither is pointing toward Saturday's opener. Winning the first game of the year is vital, he said. It gives a team a lift that is necessary for success over the season.

A. & M. is well-titled. The regular offensive quartet of quarterback Alkin Hepburn of Miami, halfback Jasper Saunders, Perry, and Oscar Norman, Jacksonville, and fullback James Moore, Miami, has size, speed and the savvy that goes with experience. All are seasoned veterans.

Fullback Jackson Smith, Pensacola, halfback Bo Arnold, Clerdon, Pa., and quarterback Robert Mungton, Jacksonville, a converted end, also will see heavy duty on offense.

Gaither also thinks he may have a budding star in little Herman Pittman, Tampa, the Hatters' basketball ace who is taking his first crack at football. Pittman is a quarterback and his basketball experience makes him a natural at the slick ball handling required of T-quarterbacks.

He is a fair passer and a "take charge guy" who has hit the team well.

Although he isn't expected to heat out the veterans this year, Coach Gaither is enthusiastic about freshman quarterback Alvin Dean of Miami as a future great.

"He throws the ball just like Haywood Sullivan," Gaither said.

Little Claude Woodruff, Perrine, 100 pounds of ex-Marine again will be the number one line backer. He's tiny, but Gaither labels him the roughest, toughest tackler on the squad.

The Football Coaches Association will find this most interesting—Gaither admits to losing no sleep over his tactics.

"We got a pair of terrific tacklers in senior Alphonse Varner of West Palm Beach and sophomore Willie Lee from Phoenix, Ala.," he said.

The Rattler squad—45 strong—will leave for Tyler by bus early Thursday morning. Gaither plans an afternoon workout and overnight stop at Jackson, Miss. He expects to arrive in Tyler in time for a limbering up drill Friday.

"We beat Texas College 27-0 last year. We hope to do it again Saturday," he said.

Donk Walker, Detroit Lion halfback, won the 1950 National Football League individual scoring championship by scoring in all 12 Lions games.

PUZZLES and PASTIMES

MURDER CAN BE AMUSING GAME

By PHYLIS FRANKLIN and EDITH YOUNG

"MURDER" is a game for eight or more persons to play.

The most famous game of "Murder" was played on a week end party, when one of the guests was murdered on a Saturday morning, and had to play "dead" until the murderer was discovered late in the night. She has repeated the game for the game and was never over since.

The game begins with the hostess taking out as many cards from a deck as she has guests, but leaving one for herself, the queen of spades and the ten of diamonds—another ten of spades. The cards are shuffled and placed face down on a table. Each person draws a card and conceals it from the other players. Whoever draws the queen of spades has now become the murderer and whoever draws the ten of diamonds is the detective. The detective announces himself, then the murderer keeps an ominous silence.

A PUZZLING SHIP THAT FOLDS UP

THE seemingly disorderly array of splashes in the design above constitute a fascinating puzzle—a "Fobite".

To solve the puzzle, fold and refold the boxed area, until the ship silhouette at left is duplicated. In achieving this result, some portions of the splashes will become covered.

"Fobites" are a modern version of C. B. Colby of an old type of puzzle once very popular.

TYPE THEM OUT

THE letters in the top row of letter keys on a standard typewriter are:

Q W E R T Y U I O P

There are at least seven words of five or more letters that can be written with these keys. Can you find one?

Letters may be repeated.

Special notice: A special arrangement of the letters in the top row of letter keys on a standard typewriter is shown in the illustration above.

JUST VISUALIZE THIS

As a test of your visual judgment, take a glance at the figures above and say which is further apart—A or B?

Answers: A is further apart than B.

ENIGMA

My number, digits and known, In ten times ten add ten times over; One half of me remains alone, The other exact half count and score.

ANSWER: 1100000000

PHONETIC REBUS

THE verse provides a clue to the solution of the rebus formed by the letters below. The solution is, phonetically, the same as the missing words in the verse represented by TOTAL.

ANSWER: TOTAL

In TOTAL is this puzzling To the word, but need writing!

Hidden Adage

AN often-quoted adage of five words is concealed in this rebus. See how quickly you can discover what it is.

SQUARE IT UP

The solution of this problem is a magic square in which every row of seven figures, across and down, plus the two longest diagonals, contains all of the seven different figures shown, and all rows must add up to the same sum.

xxxxxxx
xxxxx2x
xxxx4xx
xxxx6xx
xx1xxxx
xx3xxxx
xxxxxxx

What the common sum must be, is made obvious by the diagonal row that is provided.

QUOTE-CRY ICY MAN

THEY are the words of the cry of a man who has been frozen to death. The words are: "I am an icy man." The words are arranged in a grid that can be read in a specific order to form the sentence.

The numbers are: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

Restore the "Lost" Children to Their Mother

JUDY and Mary have become separated from their mother and sister, Jane, while on an outing at a park, beside the water. So if you can remember the separated family without becoming "lost" yourself, start in one of the paths at the bottom of the picture and draw a pencilled line to the mother and sister at the top. If you run into any "dead ends," you're lost.

Feminine Brigade Flexing Political Campaign Muscles

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
When 50 million women get their dander up look out.

Some major fireworks may be expected from the U. S. petticoat brigade in the next presidential campaign.

It seems that the feminine half on the nation's population has been working up to a slow boil for several years, after a long period of ladylike lassitude.

Much of the new political awareness also seems to be a direct effect of the entry of television into national affairs.

The League of Women Voters reports a sharp increase in membership and a spectacular spurt in activity immediately following the Refresher hearings, which kept housewives glued to TV sets for days on end while the dishes stacked up in the sink.

Margot Gayle, of New York, an executive of the league, explains it this way: "We believe some things such as the Refresher hearings shocked women into realization that it's time they got out and got busy."

"We've been ladylike and intellectual long enough. Now I think women are ready to turn to the rip-roaring methods of the suffragettes."

"For the first time we've been able to get women in New York to walk up and down 42nd Street with sandwich boards urging women to register and vote. We had sound trucks out, too, before the last primary elections, and women seemed to catch the 'spirit of urgency' of our times."

near 500 men of the Naval Air group presently based in Sanford were in the Korean operation.

The low flying planes heard flying over homes in the early morning and evening are essential to Carrier training Huddle said.

"I urge all of you to join in the Crusade for Freedom drive; it is helping NAS Sanford to meet any aggressor and to throw them back as far as they can," the Navy pilot said in closing his talk.

After the formal program Cleveland asked the pilot to come back and tell how he won his Congressional Medal of Honor Huddle told of flying a mission over Chin Hwee-wei in support of retreating Marines shortly after the his Chinese breakthrough of last winter.

A follow pilot, Lt. Jessie Brown only seven in the air was hit by a small arms fire. His airplane went down with only 500 feet to make a crash landing in the enemy infested area. The plane hit and burst into flames "fire-works" way out to the men in the air but was apparently unable to get out. A call for a rescue helicopter was sent. And Huddle belatedly his forehead near the wreckage.

While the center took off Lt. Huddle, his buddies flew a protective cover over the area.

Next week the Jaycees will meet with the Business and Professional Women on Tuesday instead of holding their regular Thursday meeting.

Lottery Gambler Is Placed On Probation

DAWSON, Sept. 28—(AP)—Cecil McKown who pleaded guilty in August, 1950, to lottery violations was placed on 10 years probation yesterday by Judge Roy H. Amidon.

McKown, Winter Haven resident, now living at Wauchula, later asked to withdraw his guilty plea. When this was denied he appealed unsuccessfully to the State Supreme Court.

It was McKown's arrest that touched off an investigation leading to the conviction of ex-Sheriff Frank M. Williams and two others on charges of conspiring to take bribes from Polk county lottery operators.

NEW YORK—The leaves were sprinkled along the Fifth Avenue sidewalk shirking Central park this morning, yellow and dry and curled up at the corners and they were sad to see.

Not sad because autumn was coming. Autumn always comes and it always is sad—sadly, poignantly, intensely sad—and no one year is different from another. But and because the park they were strawn outside was getting ready to shake the crumbs of summer from its lap and bed down for the winter.

To feel a passion for Central park is slightly ridiculous. No playground in any city of the world is so beat-up, so tired, so scrawny a caricature of park.

When you think of a park, you think of the Bois de Boulogne in Paris, a lush fairland of trees and pine needles carpeting the paths and the world outside shut off from you completely, or the Tiergarten in Berlin that was, of the vast, sprawling grandeur of Hyde park in London.

The park that is Central is two and a half miles of dubious greenery, rolling meadows and grass that are scorched in the summer, brilliant and shiny little trees, ponds that are called lakes—and everywhere the buildings on all sides, pressing down on it, eyeing it coldly, wondering when the city fathers will get some sense and flatten out this nondescript wasteland so that more offices and apartments can be built.

However, the park spite in their eyes. The years go on and it stays as before, like a ragged little kid that I love it. For the park, of course, is my park. The city may lay official claim to it, but this is silly—every corner of Central park is mine.

I have slept in the sun on its rolling hills, I have skated its grove as before, like a ragged little kid that I love it. For the park, of course, is my park. The city may lay official claim to it, but this is silly—every corner of Central park is mine.

It's STRANGE, BUT CENTRAL PARK likely is the one place in New York where each man is the next man's equal and none is better than any other. Each can sit on a park bench, and on the next bench can be Joe Blow, who'll be hanged if he can figure out where his next meal will take place.

Bugs Baer, the amiable columnist whose name is a household word, used to run around the reservoir in the mornings, and, depending on the year and the season, the man running in front of or behind him sat on a bench alongside that from Harlem. You don't just check your fame or your infamy when you enter Central park; the park which fits from your shoulders and throws it away and you become a newborn babe.

Maybe the most wonderful thing about it is the way your fears and complexes and neuroses go away from you for a while. You can hate rats as if they were—on, people—but somehow in the park you are at one with the earth, the old skating lake, at the 90th street end, and watch the rats prowling along the shores and only feel mild interest, instead of hate.

You can be the world's greatest foe of baseball, and yet in the park you can roll back on the grass and watch the kids play it and be sleepily content. You can even be a soldier and hate sailors and then go into the park and see a sailor walking some dame obviously much too good for him—and you do, oddly, I wish him well.

The North Atlantic Treaty organization, such as Spain, Yugoslavia and Western Germany.

The conferees also agreed to limit to $10,000,000, instead of the $30,000,000 approved by the House, funds to aid Iron Curtain refugees in Europe.

The conferees approved a Senate provision under which the President may turn economic assistance in Asia over to the Army or some other agency other than the ECA, with minor amendments.

The committee agreed to a House requirement that any further authorizations of military and economic aid be obtained from Congress each year.

The House Judiciary Committee approved a bill to prohibit U. S. Supreme Court justices from testifying as to the character or reputation of any person or on matters of opinion.

The legislation, due for House consideration later this month, grew out of the first trial of Alger Hiss, former State Department employe, at which Justices Frankfurter and Reed testified as character witnesses.

Hiss was convicted on a charge of perjury at his second trial. President Truman told the Senate its tax increase bill would fall far short of balancing the budget and renewed his request for a $10,000,000,000 tax hike.

Mr. Truman sent a letter to Vice President Alben Barkley which was read to the Senate as it began its first full day of debate on the measure.

The bill, drafted by the Senate Finance Committee, would yield an estimated $3,500,000,000 a year in new revenue. A House passed bill would raise an estimated $7,500,000,000.

Mr. Truman said the federal government already is heavily in the red in this fiscal year and that personal and corporate incomes are running a such high rate they could stand still for tax boosts than the Senate bill proposes.

The President was highly critical of what he said were loopholes put into the bill by the finance committee and other provisions "for the benefit of special groups."

There was no immediate reaction in the Senate to the letter. Several members of the finance committee, including Chairman George (D-Ga.), were present but none rose to make any reference to Mr. Truman's criticism.

The Senate had met two hours early to speed debate on the tax bill which is already three months late by administration standards.

Resurgence Of Confederate Flag Begins With Fraternity Parade

By MIKE EDWARDS
IN THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

An Emory University fraternity probably helped ignite the torch that has inflamed the entire South—and much of the North, too—in a bumping, flag-waving resurgence of Confederate pride.

An oddly coherent chain of events, apparently beginning about the time Emory's Kappa Alpha fraternity held a dizzy, boisterous "Old South parade" here two springs ago, has erupted into a popular refurbishing of Southern honor.

Shortly after the parade (which included bearded officers in butternut gray, ladies in colorful spiketts, "Yankee prisoners" dressed in union suits, a cavalry regiment, and lots of rebel flags and rebel yell) had passed down Peachtree St., the whole city began buying Confederate banners.

Earlier, Confederate banners were confined largely to museums and to football stadiums, where spectators sometimes wore coveralls with a giddy desire to wave them.

The fed-head leveled off since that first parade. Instead it grows bigger every day.

Now you can win Confederate flags of all sizes. Confederate decorations for auto windshields, Confederate ties, Confederate scarves and—boom—a Confederate Charley McCarthy doll dressed in butternut gray.

An Atlanta novelty firm which sells through the South said the demand for Confederate ties alone has shot skyward—ever since the KA parade.

An Atlanta store has sold more than 100 dozen ties decorated with Confederate battle flags in the last few weeks.

The fever even has invaded the North—so much, in fact, that some Northern infantry units coming South for training are looting up large stocks of Confederate battle flags, and the flies are soon as they cross the Mason-Dixon line.

An Atlanta firm—owned by a Southerner—which manufactures Confederate banners reported huge orders were pouring in from all parts.

Maybe the parading Emory Kappa Alphas helped start it. Maybe they didn't. There's no way of saying for sure. The South said the demand for Confederate ties alone has shot skyward—ever since the KA parade.

Admittedly, Confederate flags have been the favorite emblem of Southern college students at football games for years.

The fever probably is some extent anyway. The South said the demand for Confederate ties alone has shot skyward—ever since the KA parade.

Southern delegates entered the convention hall—amidst general cheering—with Confederate banners mounted on cases and staffs.

This incensed the keen displeasure of a number of New Jersey and New York delegates, who offered a resolution that would have barred bringing the flag of a rebellion on the convention floor.

Southern delegates immediately retaliated. They put the convention on notice that if the South flag was barred, they would walk off the convention floor.

Maine, New Hampshire and several other Northern delegates called in the Southern delegates, the resolution was shouted down and the rebel flags were flown everywhere on the floor.

The New York Daily News, which boasts the largest circulation of any of the city's newspapers, hailed the coming of the "rebellion flag" and the Southerners' defiance.

The Confederate revival—it may have been helped by the song "Save Your Confederate Money, Boys, the South Ralls Rise Again"—has manifest itself just about everywhere.

When President Truman spoke in a dedication ceremony at Tusculum, Tenn., there was a smattering of Confederate flags in the audience.

Totals waved them at parading Southern boys when they passed along Peachtree St. Saturday a week ago.

When a group of University of Georgia ROTC students reported to Ft. Knox, Ky., this summer for training, they carried along a giant rebel banner and thousands of rebel yell.

And everywhere they marched, there were sure to sing "Dixie" and hoist the Southern emblem.

At Atlanta's Municipal Airport a rebel banner has hung on the wall beside Old Glory since the

Shortage Is Seen In Manufacturer, Not Buyer Goods

By SAN DAWSON
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Consumers have it much luckier today than many manufacturers when it comes to shopping.

If he has the money, a consumer can buy almost anything he wants in the stores. Supplies are ample and in most cases are backed up by large inventories in the warehouses. "Shortage" is just a word they used to scare people with.

But many a manufacturer finds "shortage" cropping up more and more in his vocabulary when he shops for raw materials. Sometimes it's a real shortage based on the supply being too small for the demand. And sometimes it's a made-up shortage.

There are no government regulations that keep raw materials from one manufacturer to give them to another in more essential work.

In today's news are tales of shortages hampering production or warnings of even worse shortages to come in such materials as copper, lead, sulphur, structural steel, steel scrap, nickel and electric power in the Northwest. All paradoxical positions. His sales department may be straining hard to sell the end products to a reluctant buying public. His purchasing agents are trying by every hook and crook to get raw materials to make more end products to sell.

The copper shortage is an acute one because of recent strikes both here and in Chile, that supplies which make things from copper are set for still further curtailment in the next few weeks in the amount of the metal they can have.

The government is reported considering opening up its own stockpile of the strategic war material to let copper users have the metal needed to keep defense production going.

But there isn't much relief in sight for the maker of civilian goods.

The Defense Mobilization Commission in Chicago, "I am sure you all realize that now when it is necessary to take copper from our stockpile, this is not the time that copper and copper base alloys should be used for decorative purposes."

Structural steel will stay short until a year from now in the most critical moments in the National Production Authority's subcommittee on construction. He tells the American Public Works Association, meeting in Detroit, that "the principal reason we are in this fix is because everybody wants to do everything all at once and nobody wants to wait for his construction."

A warning today that sulphur—one of the most widely used raw materials in industry—will be in much shorter supply the rest of this year. In the last three months industry will want 100,000 long tons more of sulphur than will be available, NPA says. New curbs on use are likely.

Lead is in such short supply that paint manufacturers and storage battery makers are worried. Most of them say their inventories are as low as they can get.

The power shortage in the Pacific Northwest is due to lack of water behind the big dams. Bonneville Power Administration has cut off 245,000 kilowatts of power from five aluminum plants. Some may turn to costlier steam-generated plants to keep operating.

In some of the cases of shortages of raw materials, better days are in sight, if not around the corner. Steel expansion plans are so well along that the trade weekly, "the Iron Age," predicts early that Defense Mobilization will get the extra million tons he wants in the first three months of 1954.

Rapid expansion of magnesium production plants holds out hope

LeRoy Collins Is Selected To Lead March Of Dimes

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Sept. 26 (Special).—Florida will join the 1953 March of Dimes under the leadership of LeRoy Collins, Tallahassee attorney, legislator and a director of the State Chamber of Commerce. It was announced here today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

As Florida chairman of the 1953 campaign, Mr. Collins will coordinate the activities of the county and city March of Dimes directors.

In announcing the appointment Mr. O'Connor said Mr. Collins was assumed his post as one of the most critical moments in the National Foundation's history. "The March of Dimes," declared Mr. O'Connor, "has not kept pace with the march of polio."

"During the last three years that polio has been on the rampage," he said, "the National Foundation has aided each year in debt. That is why we must launch the 1953 March of Dimes on Jan. 2 instead of on Jan. 15, doubling the usual two week period of the campaign."

"We must have unprecedented help in this next appeal of ours and we hope, therefore, that everyone in Florida who can contribute his time and effort will contact his local March of Dimes office and volunteer for the campaign drive. I know Mr. Collins will provide the kind of leadership desperately needed at this time."

The Florida State Chairman has practiced law in Tallahassee since 1931. He is a member of the Georgia Bar Association, the Florida Bar Association, the Florida State Bar Association, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce and of the Florida Children's Home Society. He is married and the father of four children.

He is a member of the Leon County, Florida State and American Bar Associations, the Exchange Club, P. O. F. and F. A. M. Mr. Collins also is a member of the Board of Directors of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce and of the Florida Children's Home Society. He is married and the father of four children.

Parents Wonder If Atom Bomb Should Be Used In Korea

By HAI ROYLE
NEW YORK.—(AP)—A number of American parents who have lost sons in Korea are giving consideration today to the problem of whether the atom bomb could be used advantageously in that theater.

Some have also wondered whether, if atom bombs had been employed some time ago, their sons might not have been spared death gallantly trying to take "rice paddy peak," just one of a thousand Korean hill points.

Current reports say that Americans are still trying to take those same old nameless hills in the same old infantry way. It's the walk-up-under-fire way.

I found an account of this action on page 16 of a leading American newspaper, and it was something of a shock to find it so near to the how-to-lose-his-and-gain-his-and-stay-beautiful copy.

The previous 11 pages hadn't mentioned Korea. The story on page 16 that did take up the situation on that forgotten peninsula had to do with a three-division Allied attack. That is roughly 80,000 men in combat, more than the famous "Omaha Beach" in Normandy.

And who cared? Only those who tried to take the hills, and the folks who work for them now will be notified of the casualties.

We talk of peace and build for peace, and yet at the same time we pause for thought to realize we won the enormous American West from the Indians without even a dream of a three-division attack. Did we then even have a three-division army? Who cares now?

The Indiana are calm. I spent six bitter months there and saw some of those men become casualties, from fighting and frostbite.

Some of the American deaths and maimings, I cannot but feel, came from the failure of the U. N. to use the weapon of decision that was available. I mean the atom bomb.

This week a U. S. senator said it was possible to mass produce atom bombs now at a price that would make a single atom bomb less expensive than a tank.

Atom bombs even a year ago were so plentiful they could have been invented in Korea. Certainly today they are available.

The moral arguments against the employment of them in combat are so popular throughout the world that no military authority has had the courage to defeat them.

Yet, President Truman, who ordered two atom bombs dropped on Japan in the last war, said his decision saved American lives—and Japanese lives. He said he would do it again to gain the same goal.

Naturally, some of the relatives of the 80,000 American casualties in Korea are wondering if a few more atom bombs among the bomb-baking might save a man

ONE MAN SAID: "One taste and a price comparison or two made me a confirmed Donald Duck Mayonnaise customer. It's hard to believe that this fine mayonnaise is 15c a quart cheaper than some other big name brands."

FROM A LADY: "Three growing children can eat an awful lot of sandwiches and use a lot of sandwich spread and salad dressing. Donald Duck makes it possible for them to eat the best while I save money on my weekly food bill. No more high priced salad items for me."

ANOTHER LADY SAYS: "Donald Duck is proof that truly fine salad products can be made and sold at reasonable prices. We enjoy all three Donald Duck Salad Products at our house."
