BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THERE IS FIRM GROUND FOR TRANQUILITY: Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me.—John 14:1.

WHITE MAGIC

(From the Christian Science Monitor) All day the snow clung thick against the face of our tall mountain, blurring every line...

Reports from Saratoga indicate that tourists have been pouring in down there during the past two weeks and that what started out a rather slow season has developed into a very satisfactory winter.

Senator Schwelienback has introduced a bill designed to prevent the sale of scrap-iron to Japan. It's about time that U. S. quit furnishing them tons of goods with the materials with which to slaughter the helpless Chinese.

Joe Willard, one time heavy-weight fight champion, is now working in a Miami night club for Joe Kempay, the man who once battered the helpless Willard almost to a pulp at Toledo. No doubt both of these men are finding their present occupations less strenuous than the fight racket.

The merchant who does not advertise or ceases to advertise pays for the advertisements of those merchants who do—in the loss of trade. Be wise, advertise!—Key West Citizen. Have you ever noticed that the merchants who complain the most about business are seldom the ones who advertise.

A California doctor says being killed by a lover and not paying your bills causes the same ailment, which he calls "alkalosis-heavy, sighs, over-breathing, followed by palpitation of the heart, trembling, dizziness, spasms, and pains. The only cure, he says, is to get a new girl, or pay your bills.

We wish that everyone in Sanford would make a pilgrimage to the Ravine Gardens at Sanford some time this winter while the azaleas are in full bloom. Then we believe they would understand what the Garden means when it says "Sanford should go in every way for beautification."

What Is Ickes' Alternative?

With further reference to the recent remarks of Secretary Ickes regarding the freedom of the press, it is not sufficient to condemn the present system under which the newspapers of this country are operated, even though they may be dominated by advertisers and controlled by financiers, without suggesting the alternative if it should be decided to abolish the present method of newspaper ownership and operation.

It must be admitted, it seems to us, that our modern civilization requires some means of disseminating the news of the world, and it goes without saying that whatever means might be adopted would cost money. The giant presses, necessary for printing newspapers, the expensive linotype machines and other equipment essential to their production, cannot be procured for a song, and neither will the men who operate them work for nothing.

Fortunately there are in the world at the present time three other types of newspapers besides that common in the United States. Here, as everyone knows, the expenses of newspaper publication are met through circulation and advertising receipts. If newspaper advertising is to be abolished as forming an unwholesome contribution to newspaper revenues, then some other means of meeting newspaper expenses will have to be devised.

In South America there are a number of large newspapers which are published without benefit of advertising. In Buenos Aires particularly is one very notable example of this type of newspaper which absolutely refuses to accept any advertising at all. Its revenues are derived exclusively from the sale of its papers to the public.

Then there is the type of newspaper which is common in France. That is where the expression "subsidized press" originates. They really do have a subsidized press in France. Although some advertising may be found in the French newspapers, it is extremely limited and constitutes but a negligible part of their revenues. The papers are sold cheaply and there is very little of what we would call "legitimate revenue" of any kind.

The French newspapers in general are frankly propaganda sheets financed almost exclusively by special interests. The munitions trust for instance, publishes its own newspaper, slants the news and formulates its editorial policies in strict accordance with the interests of the munition business. The expenses for the publication of this newspaper are met through the sale of guns, bombs and armaments.

The French Labor Party publishes its own newspaper and the expenses for its publication are met out of the party treasury filled by contributions from French workmen. The Socialists, the Communists, the French Fascists, the banking fraternity, all have their own newspapers, all directly subsidized, and all working openly in behalf of the organizations which support them.

And then there is the type of newspaper which is found in Germany and Russia. These newspapers are either owned outright by the government, or by high government officials, and are financed by the government, or are in any case completely dominated by the government. In Russia there is not a single privately owned newspaper in the whole country. In Germany there is not one which dares to open its mouth.

There may be some other method for financing the publication of newspapers besides these which we have mentioned, but we have not heard of it. It might be possible to invent some new method which would obviate the evils which Secretary Ickes complains of in our own system and at the same time get around the obvious evils of the systems in vogue in various other countries. But in any case, it must be clear that in doing away with newspaper advertising, some other method of meeting the costs of newspaper publication would have to be devised.

Preparing For Peace

Gen. Charles Gates Dawes, one time vice president of the United States, one time ambassador to Great Britain, one time chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, in spite of his Republicanism, in spite of his financial reverses as a bank president in Chicago, is still an optimist.

"Europe today is heading for peace", he is quoted as saying at a meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce. He is convinced of this, he says, because of the fear and hatred of war among the European peoples themselves, and because of the formation of the historic Munich pact.

"This agreement has demonstrated", he says, "that as a result of the World War the attitude of the peoples of Britain, France, Germany and Italy is such that when war is the probable alternative they will support the minor national concessions and sacrifices advocated in the interest of peace by courageous statesmen.

"It has made manifest that guarded by the collective force inherent in a pact between four great governments, which together are invincible, a permanent peace in Europe is on the way."

We hope the General is right, but if the nations of Europe are preparing for peace, they are certainly wasting a lot of money getting ready for war.

WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

By JOE HENDRICKS

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

What a master lawyer President Roosevelt would make. He is quite a humorist, too. I am sure that hundreds of my constituents heard his speech to the joint session of Congress and probably caught his humor in portion which follows. Speaking of Government expenditures the President said: "The whole subject of Government investing and Government income is one which may be approached in two different ways. The first calls for the elimination of enough activities of Government to bring the expenses of Government immediately into balance with income of Government. (Here the President paused for what appeared later to be an evident trap for the Republican members. At this pause the Republican side cheered and shouted and appeared to be ribbing the President. He smiled graciously and suddenly turned himself toward the Republican side and proceeded thus:) This school of thought maintains that because our national income this year is only sixty billion dollars, ours is only a sixty billion dollar country; (here the President paused and everybody in the House and gallery laughed and shouted) that Government must treat it as such and that without the help of Government, it may some day, somehow, happen to become an eighty billion dollar country." At the end there was another pause and another good laugh.

HERE'S HOPING—By the time you read this news I will have had an operation for appendicitis and I hope that I will also be back in the office again. I don't suppose that you have ever heard of an appendix on the brain but I have it, I had a number of attacks during last year and didn't realize what they were. Recently, after an examination I was informed that I had an acute appendix therefore, whether it bothers me or not, I must have it removed from the brain. Since it is a very simple operation I hope to be back in the office within a week.

HOW ABOUT OTHER COUNTRIES?—The people of the United States have numerous things to be thankful for. For instance, freedom of the press, equal rights under the Constitution, freedom of worship and guaranty of no persecution for individual or class. In addition to this, the material things for which we may be thankful, are business improvement, more jobs opening in industry, thousands of homes being built, the health of our people is the best in our history, national income is rising, more protection for the aged and infirm; more money in savings banks, fewer strikes, greater use of electricity, fewer deaths on the highways, a bountiful harvest, and innumerable other things. I wonder if the citizens of other nations were permitted to count their blessings would they have as many to count. We are all thankful that we live in a democracy.

RELIEF. FIRST PROBLEM—There is no question but what relief will be the first problem facing the first session of the 76th Congress. WPA officials have informed the President and the Congress that unless additional funds are forthcoming, WPA activities must be suspended after Feb. 7th. The estimate for the amount necessary to carry on until June ranges from five hundred million to seven hundred million. Cliff Woodrum, a prominent member of the Appropriations Committee says that he hopes to cut the relief appropriation to five hundred million dollars, and I too hope that this can be done. There is no definite plan as to the manner in which relief will be handled during the ensuing fiscal year. There have been many suggestions as to how the State would be called upon to cooperate, and judging from opinion around the Capitol some plan of this sort will be submitted to the Congress.

WPA PROJECTS—The following projects have been approved. Construct and improve road in Volusia County, near DeLand in the amount of $7,330; improve specified streets in Rockledge, $5,861; improve recreational facilities in St. Cloud by constructing an auditorium, etc., $32,515; construct auditorium, etc., at Groveland, $24,565; improve Community Center building at Center Hill, $3,933; construct sea level ditches in salt marshes in St. Johns County, $44,358; operate sewing rooms in Seminole County $42,160 and operate sewing rooms in Orange County $79,481.

German Preparedness Is Broadened By Hitler's Decree

To attain aims were served today by guns in Spain, by dismissals of conservative bankers in Germany, and by sharp words in Japan.

In Spain Generalissimo Franco's Insurgents were reported to have planned the government defenses at Vendrell and Igualada, opening two paths for the march on Barcelona.

Both towns were of great importance to the defense of the government capital, Vendrell, on the coastal highway 32 miles southwest of Barcelona, and Igualada, 25 miles due west on the Lerida-Barcelona highway, both centers on the government's fortified line.

But insurgents were said to have suffered their first serious setback when the government re-occupied Igualada in a violent surprise attack. Instead of trying to storm the town again, Franco's forces were reported fanning out to the north and south in an attempt to surround it, and force its garrison to surrender.

Informed sources in Paris said the Spanish government had made urgent appeals for French aid but had been rebuffed.

Co-Operative Is Favored In Court Ruling

Tribunal Affirms Order Of Lower Court In Dismissing Action Against SOIC

In a ruling which set a precedent in favor of the preservation of all farmers' co-operative marketing associations in Florida, the State Supreme Court yesterday upheld an order of Circuit Judge Wilbur D. Smith dismissing the bill of complaint filed by T. E. Adams against the State of Florida Truck Growers and the Sanford Growers' Credit Corporation, a king that they had to be valued for their stock.

Lloyd F. Boyle, attorney for Seminole County's largest cooperative association, was advised of the ruling of the high tribunal yesterday in a telegram from G. T. Whitfield, clerk of the Supreme Court.

The bill of complaint was filed on April 22, 1937 by Mr. Adams and others who claimed that as stockholders they were entitled to have their stock appraised and purchased by the co-operative at the book value at the time of their withdrawal. Other relief was requested in the bill of complaint including payment of "profits" which they alleged was due them from the growers' reserve fund.

A motion to dismiss the charges as set out was granted by Judge Smith and the counsel for the plaintiffs filed an amended bill on May 25, 1937 which was argued before the Circuit Judge on July 16, after the arguments he entered a new order dismissing the bill of complaint as amended. This ruling was appealed to the Supreme Court and upheld in the ruling of the high court.

Expressing himself as well pleased with the decision rendered by the high court, Boyle said: "I have held other wise would have been disastrous for all co-operative marketing associations in the State of Florida. To allow withdrawing and to receive book value for their interests in such associations would seriously injure the working capital and resources of such an enterprise and it might easily put the entire business out of business.

The real purpose of the first cooperative marketing Act is to protect the interest of the producer and to allow them to sell their products through these associations so they may gain the benefits of co-operative buying of supplies and the lower cost of marketing incident to efficient sales management," Mr. Boyle concluded.

The regular meeting of the City Commission will be held in the City Hall Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Burden Of State Falls Heaviest On Auto Owners

Nearly $30,000,000 Paid Into Public Coffers On Autos

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Florida's biggest single source of tax revenue is the automobile. Automobile owners as a group pay far ahead of all others with the $29,122,120.51 they paid into the public coffers during the 1938 fiscal year.

They brought 32,121,000 gallons of gasoline, and the tax of 9 cents a gallon produced $2,722,560.52. Then they paid $9,412,883.99 for license fees, to segregate their cars from the public highways and streets.

Three-sevenths of the volume collection is returned to counties for payment of their road bonds. It is apportioned 1 cent on the basis of a unit area to the total area of the state, 1 cent on population, and 1 cent on amount of tax by the county for road construction.

In this distribution, 18 counties received more than their part in the seven cents a gallon tax. These counties, totalling $1,000 in cash, and amount returned to each are: Charlotte $68,227.95 and $94,270.78; Clay $63,928.11 and $76,245.63; Collier $108,509.57 and $173,980.21; Gilchrist $39,175.41 and $44,755.96; Glades $27,551.37 and $34,804.68; Hendry $79,559.53 and $96,615.45; Jefferson $78,273.61 and $84,312.79; Lafayette $20,955.40 and $29,208.97; Levy $129,137.68 and $165,574.59; Liberty $33,919.27 and $38,580.55; Monroe $312,288.83 and $219,102.97; Okechobee $58,724.61 and $68,778.83; Osceola $128,084.85 and $166,234.96; Sumter $81,950.33 and $109,619.64; Union $37,000.27 and $47,671.35; Wakulla $42,602.98 and $52,012.91; Walton $105,509.58 and $123,133.24; and Washington $60,277.75 and $61,764.30.

Bank Night Is Ruled Out In Court Decision

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Theater land, night, operation in Florida is a matter which will be held to be a matter which is contrary to the public interest in the State of Florida by the State Supreme Court.

The court reported that a court decision was made which ruled out bank night as a matter of public interest in the State of Florida.

The court found that the increased attendance, estimated at two to seven times normal, was the theater's major business, making it each of these. The fact that a bank night would be held on a Friday night would not have to be in the theater and did not have to buy a ticket to claim his prize.

All officers of the Forman Lumbard Memorial Hospital Association were re-elected at the annual meeting of the officers and directors in the Court House Thursday afternoon when reports on 1938 activities were read showing a decline in the number of persons treated at the institution and also a reduction of nearly $3,000 in the revenues to the institution from patient.

Evidence Against Alleged Backers Is Gathered In Raids

Who was expected to be a death blow to the "Cuba" racket in Sanford and Seminole County was dealt by Assistant State Attorney Lloyd F. Boyle today when informations were filed against E. B. Smith and Harry Bradham, charging them with conducting lotteries.

The informations were filed by State Attorney Moore, Ocala, against Smith and Bradham, who were being held awaiting the setting of bonds by Judge Wilbur D. Smith who is in Tallahassee.

The next move of the prosecuting attorney directed against the alleged racketeers is to this County following advice on the part of his Supreme Court attorney, James A. Johnson, who was advised to seek a writ of habeas corpus for Smith and Bradham after having contacted a certain group of persons in Tallahassee who could possibly be of assistance in this matter.
