

Standard brings you the first new antiknock compound since Ethyl

Methyl

Our new refinery at Pascagoula, now producing the new Standard Methyl gasoline, is America's most modern refinery.

It's an important gasoline discovery! Methyl* steps up octane performance so effectively that it stops power-wasting knock better than any other antiknock compound. Methyl spreads more evenly throughout all cylinders of your engine, stands up under extreme temperatures. And it's in Standard gasolines (Crown and Crown Extra) . . . at no increase in price! Another way that we take better care of your car.

Wallace Makes Strong Showing In Wisconsin

Governor Claims Vote Victory

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace today claimed a major victory in his fight against the civil rights bill on northern battlegrounds by polling more than 20 per cent of the vote in the Wisconsin presidential primary.

Favorite son Gov. John W. Reynolds and other leaders of the Wisconsin Democratic party had estimated Wallace would get only 10 percent of the vote. And Reynolds had added that a substantial Wallace vote would mean Wisconsin would be "shamed in the eyes of the nation."

Today, he said he was "satisfied with the results."

Vocational Guidance In Schools Told

Vocational guidance and training as it is offered to Seminole County students was outlined Tuesday noon at the Sanford Lions Club meeting in the Capri Restaurant.

Speaker was E. S. Douglass, director of adult and vocational education in the county.

"Twenty-five per cent of Seminole County's high school graduates go on to college. But what will happen to the other 75 per cent without vocational guidance and training," Douglass said.

The 75 per cent would be without specialized training to make them employable, the director declared.

Douglass reviewed the history of vocational guidance from its start during the closing phases of World War I to its present, highly skilled field.

Such skill is required now for workers in the electronics industry, he said, and requirements have moved the class of students from the previous "low-level" group of a generation ago to a high level.

Douglass reviewed the vocational work at most county schools and emphasized the electronics courses now offered at Lyman School in Longwood. Although the course is only in its second year, he pointed to a number of students who have obtained work with specialized industries such as General Electric.

Some students, he added, are gainfully employed now even though they are still going to school. The need is readily apparent, he said.

Advisory committees from industries directly involved in such specialized training are contacted so that the schools can learn just what is needed for industry.

"We gear our courses to such need," Douglass said.

"Our primary concern in vocational training," the director emphasized, "is to train the students to earn a living. After the Russians launched their Sputnik, we changed our goals to include sciences, languages and technical fields."

In addition, Douglass said, the county is continuing to offer courses in agriculture, home economics and other fields where high technical abilities are less of a requirement.

The speaker was introduced by William Tanner Jr.

Bear Lake Cubs Have Mardi Gras

By Maryann Miles
Bear Lake Cub Scout Pack 230 held a Mardi Gras last Friday evening at the Elementary School under direction of Cubmaster Robert Bunnell and assistant Bruce Nelson.

The program was opened with the introduction of den mothers and group singing by the cubs of "Davy's Got a Head Like a Ping Pong Ball." Judges picked for the costume parade were Alfred Krenzer, D. W. Broadway, Robert Kowalski and John Hall. Winners among the cubs were Jeff Krenzer of den seven, dressed as a king; Gary Barrett of den one, a space man and Kevin Foist of den three, a hobo.

Winners of the cub group served as judges for the adult contest. Chosen were Mrs. Peggy Marles, a clown; Bill Smith, a barber shop singer and Tom Bowser, a pirate.

A skit, "The Mumbling Brothers Circus," was presented by Mrs. Evelyn Chapman and her two. Mrs. Chapman appeared as the fat lady, Charles Chapman as ringmaster, Bob Chapman as a hobo, Phillip and David Kelley as Siamese twins, Jerry Kowalski as the wild man, Larry Byrd as the strong man and John Chapman as the snake charmer.

Following the presentation those attending were invited to participate in games sponsored by each den.

During the evening Dennis Herota was inducted as a tenderfoot in the Boy Scouts and will be entitled to join in the Wekiva District Campore to be held this weekend in Casselberry.

Cavanaugh Tire Back In First

After a week's vacation from first place Cavanaugh Tire Service bounced back again last week at Jet Lanes in the Businessmen's League as they wrestled it away from Rex Liquor for the second time in as many weeks by sweeping all four points from Dick's Appliance while Rex split their match with Team No. 5. The Mason Brothers were the difference for Cavanaugh Tire Service as Steve bombed a 203/568 to take series honors while George backed him up with 205/514. Dick Schaffer was the "hero" for the Applianceemen with 201/542. Ron Mich took high game honors for the league with 221/560 in pacing team No. 5 to their split with Rex Liquors. Pete Duggan led Rex with 208/527 and Ray Robinson was close behind with 190/508.

Team No. 4 took three points from Kondracki and Cline's Sinclair as Verell Anderson rolled a 201/554, Curt Morrison a 181/502 and Dick Morrison a 178/510 to pace the Sinclairmen.

Faron Builders threw a "whitewash" at Smith's Amoco as Sam Faron churned 201/507 and Len Blondi rolled a steady 181/518 in the final match of the night.

Politically Speaking

This column has raised what should be an interesting question: Why does the law read that names of unopposed candidates need not appear on the primary ballots? And: Are these candidates legally nominated under this law? Their names appear only on the ballot in the general election in November.

Now comes another interesting question, proffered by a reader: What would happen if a write-in candidate received a half dozen votes in the primary election, since the qualified, unopposed candidate's name does not appear? Which one would be legally nominated?

These questions are proving so interesting The Herald will ask the attorney general for a legal opinion.

An intriguing comparison has been unearthed on voter registration. Pasco County has a population of 36,700; Seminole County has a population of 68,000. Yet Pasco County has a voter registration of 20,081 as of last March 28 and Seminole County has a voter registration of only 18,100 as of last Monday.

Political observers' only answer to the question of why the difference is that Seminole County's school population, what with the Navy base here, is much larger than Pasco County.

Dick McCanna says that if he is elected county tax assessor he will not install one-way windows around his private office.

Registrar Caml Bruce will have absentee ballots for the May 5 primary election ready for distribution next Monday.

Candidates for county offices are telling they will commence stepping up the tempo of their individual campaigns within the next 10 days, directing their efforts specifically toward the week of April 27. First primary day is May 5.

Bralley Odham, self-styled Kennedy-Johnson Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, is conducting an all-out campaign for the party nomination. The Herald has received a 10-page legal-sized handout

High Scoring Features Play

High scores and split converting were the feature of this weeks action in the Bill Hemphill Motorettes League at Jet Lanes.

Dot Johnson was the "shoot-in" Star" as she rolled 203/518 to pace all the girls this week. Betty Christlieb was next high in series with 462 followed by Elsie Oldham with 181/451. Liz Graham shot a 180 game while June Gassman also came through with 176/442. Tedi Marsh rolled a good 174 game and Marion Farcella hit 160/444.

Turkeys were rolled by June Gassman and Isabel Goshorn while Dot Johnson rolled a "goose," four strikes in a row.

Norma Schneider made the difficult 3-7-8 and Dot Johnson, Dee Rose, and Elaine Kostival all made the 3-10. The 3-10 was picked up by Nancy Meier, Lois Jackson and Betty Christlieb. Gert Parker made the 5-7 as did Mabel Duggan. Ruth Pettis picked up a real "toughie," the 5-6-10 and Barbara Kelley notched the 3-6-7 to round out the split shooting.

The Classics accomplished a real rarity in bowling by rolling identical team scores of 689 in all three of their games.

Thieves Get $50,000 In Gems; Overlook $125,000 Bracelet

MIAMI (UPI) — A fast-working thief broke into the apartment of tobacco heir Richard J. Reynolds III and his wife at an exclusive resort club Tuesday and grabbed more than $50,000 worth of jewels—but missed a $125,000 bracelet.

Police and FBI agents who quickly joined the investigation sought today to determine the amount of the theft. One investigator said the total loss would be around $50,000, but the Reynolds couple said it might reach $100,000.

The theft was in the Reynolds' apartment at the swank Racket Club on the 79th Street causeway between Miami and Miami Beach, a night club-dotted strip frequented by the after-hours playboy set.

Earlier during the booming winter tourist season, actress Eva Gabor was slugged in her Racket Club apartment by two jewel thieves who held her and her husband at gunpoint while they stripped a $25,000 ring from the blonde Hungarian's finger.

The thefts at the club were among several strikes at the wealthy winter residents or visitors this winter which have netted thieves better than $500,000 in jewel loot.

Troops Recalled

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI) — The Defense Ministry announced Tuesday night that Ethiopia has withdrawn all its troops from the disputed Somalia border area.

A government spokesman said a delegation of Ethiopian observers met with Somali officials at Ferfer Tuesday to start a peace-keeping operation.

Berlin Convoys

BERLIN (UPI)—The U. S. Army today sent convoys to and from Berlin in a new demonstration of its access rights.

The Reynolds were out of the apartment when the theft occurred, police said—and so was the couple's Doberman Pinscher dog Tojo, who had been taken to a veterinarian to have his tonsils out.

Reynolds is the grandson of the founder of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. of Winston-Salem, N.C., and the son of Richard J. Reynolds, former Winston-Salem mayor and industrialist.

Membership, which of necessity is limited to 100 active members, consists of men and women from Altamonte Springs and its surrounding areas who are interested in gardening and in the welfare of the community. Meetings are held once each month preceded by a covered dish supper and followed by a program.

Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Jutha and Mrs. Stanley Jutha are honorary lifetime members due to their outstanding contributions to the club. Associate membership is offered to those unable to serve in active capacities.

During its 10 years of organization, the club has spent approximately $3,000 on beautification projects in the town and in improving the Community House. The latest project, that of beautifying Hermit's Trill Park, has been halted temporarily due to lack of water. However, the town council has promised a sprinkler system and work on the park will resume immediately once this system is installed, club officials advise.

Outstanding speakers are secured for the monthly program which, at times, deviates from gardening and enables members to hear specialists on topics of local, state and national interest. Recently Dr. Four Douglas of Hollins College spoke on United Nations and Miss Alice Smart, author of a gardening column, came from Leesburg to show slides and talk on native plants.

Club officials feel that the true spirit of cooperation among members is reflected in its successful progress.

Lyman Course In Electronics Wins Acclaim

High praise for the electronics course offered at Lyman High School in Longwood has been given by the U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office in Orlando.

Five Lyman seniors took the Air Force aptitude test which covers areas of mechanical, administrative, general and electronics.

According to Technical Sgt. Joseph H. Blaxom, Air Force recruiter, "each of these young men qualified on the electronics area of the test. Three of them obtained very high scores in electronics."

The recruiter continued: "Through this is an aptitude test, factual knowledge, experience and training certainly are indicated in the results. The results, therefore, indicate that a very fine course in electronics is being conducted at Lyman High School."

The five taking the test were Thomas Trudeau, William Rodgers, Walter Sechrist, Reinia Fox and William Ingram.

Sgt. Blaxom commended the five youths in a letter to E. S. Douglas, director of adult and vocational education in the county.

Reports will be presented covering the period from June 1, 1963, to April 6, 1964. The committee on the church nomination board, Miss Virginia English, L. A. Salmi and Howard Wolking, also will make its report.

Foundation has been poured for the first unit of the church which will be named for the minister, Rev. William M. Irwin.

Stop Reading Word By Word

Get Ahead; Travel In Fast Company

Written for NEA
Time your reading of this column and compare your speed with that indicated at the end. The expected speed assumes a daily five per cent improvement.
When the editors of "Who's Who" one day consider you for their pages, don't worry that your awful secret of being a word-by-word reader will be revealed.
But read without understanding just one day this week, and everyone around you in class will know it and it will show up on your report card. However, don't make the mistake of thinking that all you need is understanding and that understanding means slowness. That's wrong. We'll show you in eight steps how to get speed into your reading and at the same time increase the amount and depth of your understanding.
There are eight simple steps, and each of the next eight columns will cover one of the steps fully.
1. Concentrate. It's not bad manners to stare at a page and get nothing, but it is a waste of time. The reader who keeps going back to the same old paragraph in English literature because he's afraid he missed something sure did. He missed concentration. Why? He's not personally involved with the reading; he doesn't know what is in it for him. No motivation, no concentration. How does one get motivation? We'll show you how in the next article.
2. Pre-Read. Take that assigned reading you hate most. Now try this out for a first test. Read the title page. The title tells you something; the sub-title tells you more; the author is probably identified, so you know more. Next read the table of contents. You're at least discovering where you're supposed to be going. Now read the first two paragraphs of the preface and the last two. Stop. If you've learned something (and you have because you've picked up a sense of direction), you're ahead. If you have some questions, you're ahead again because you have to have questions to get answers. In our fourth article, we'll develop this technique fully.
3. Quiz yourself. This naturally follows on pre-reading. You'll learn how to ask yourself and to bank the right questions so as to get the right answers.
4. Read in phrases. We're going to overcome word-by-word reading overnight. When we get to this article, we'll have drills, but you should be able to overcome plodding reading even before then. Make a hole through that circle above and have someone count the eye fixations as you read. Divide the number of words you've read by the number of fixations, and you know where you stand right now.
5. Drill for faster reading. Once you start to read in phrases, then we really move—not just across a line but down the page. We have some practice drills which are fun to work with as you really pick up speed—and understanding—from a larger eye span.
6. Skipping and skimming. One of the smartest things you'll learn is what NOT to read. We'll show you how to determine that; then we'll show you the best way of skimming through what you should read—and get all you want out of it.

7. Build word power. Besides your trusty dictionary, there are plenty of everyday ways of increasing your vocabulary. We'll take words you know, your daily contacts, this newspaper and show you the easy way to a rich vocabulary.
8. Pace yourself. By the time you get to the column on pacing, you'll be a veteran speedy reader who gets full understanding from reading. Pacing will show you how to regulate your speed for different kinds of reading.
(You should have completed this reading in 100 seconds.)
(NEXT: Get Lost!—in Yourself.)

Farm Brief

One way to improve income from laying hens is to use less feed to produce one dozen eggs. A feed conversion of four, instead of four-and-one-half, can result in a savings of as much as 30 to 40 cents per hen for the laying year.

Small Garden Kit Designed For Jrs. Abundant Energy

Junior's overabundant energy, usually bubbling over in balmy spring weather, can now be directed into healthful gardening activity. A new and smaller-sized set of garden tools designed to match the youngster's size has just been introduced which will enable him to let off steam constructively.

Called the Junior Green Thumb Garden Tool Set, it includes the 8 basic garden tools, a floral rake and a shovel each of which are 36 1/2" long, and a hoe 39" in length. Like the handles, the heads of these tools, too, are smaller, but each has the same sturdy construction for maximum efficiency as garden tools.

The well balanced, lightweight tools have long lasting solid one-piece metal forgings and extra select treated ash handles, weather-protected with a clear lacquer finish.

Beginners, as well as experienced gardeners will find the set ideal for use in home gardening. It is available at most hardware stores and garden centers as well as department stores throughout the United States.

Put sparkle in your stews and vegetable soups by adding a couple of parsnips and turnips. These white vegetables have a mild but special flavor if small to medium size roots are selected.

LOUELLA MAE STULTZ, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stultz of Enterprise, recently celebrated her sixth birthday with a party at the Florida Power Club. Instructions For Preparing Frozen
Meat Products

Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration agent, says that frozen meats may be cooked either with or without previous thawing. But do allow extra cooking time for meats not thawed first. Large frozen roasts may take as much as 1 1/2 times as long to cook as unfrozen cuts of the same weight and shape. The meat should be left in the refrigerator to thaw, and to prevent the meat from drying out it can be kept in its original wrapping. For best quality, cook thawed meat immediately.

Two impressive receptions followed the colorful change of command ceremonies Monday at SNAS with a host of guests attending. A hangar ornately decorated was the scene of the first reception, held for the enlisted personnel and their families. Cdr. John Barlow performed the cake cutting ceremonies with his sword.

Cdr. and Mrs. Barton Bartholomew and Cdr. and Mrs. John Barlow were hosts to the second reception at the Officer's Club. The squadron colors of blue, orange and yellow were carried out in the clever decorating scheme of the club. Hanging baskets of artistically arranged yellow gladioli were dispensed from the ceiling on each side of the tables. A unique covering of blue net overlaid the buffet table, centered with a yellow chrysanthemum floral arrangement, and silver candelabra bearing yellow candles were on either side. Assorted tempting buffet delicacies, relishes, punch and coffee completed the buffet fare. Guests included Capt. Gerald Miller, commanding officer of the USS Roosevelt, and also other dignitaries flew down for the ceremonies.

Mr. Barlow chose for her ensemble, a smart striped seersucker suit, elegant in design, and a white straw hat with accessories in accord. Cdr. Barlow will report for duty on the USS Independence in May, and Mrs. Barlow will remain in Sanford until after school terminates.

CHANGE OF COMMAND reception was held Monday inside one of the hangars for Enlisted personnel at SNAS VAIL-11. Enjoying the sword cake cutting festivities were Cdr. Barton Bartholomew, new squadron commander, and Mrs. Bartholomew, Mrs. John Barlow, and Cdr. Barlow, who is leaving the squadron command.

Mr. and Mrs. William Baumholzer, of Longwood, were pleasantly surprised last Friday when Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Miller from their hometown of Boonville, Ind., paid them a brief visit. The Baumholzers served their guests a delicious dinner of pot barbecue, and many delightful hours were spent in reminiscence. Mr. and Mrs. Martin revealed news and events of the Baumholzers' daughter and family, who now live in Booneville.

Tallahasseean, 'Dead' For 90 Minutes, Walks Out Of Hospital Thankful

TALLHASSEE, (UPI) — Ben Burch is back from the dead, and not complaining a bit about his financial problems.

Burch, 48, a machinist, was "dead" medically for 90 minutes three weeks ago while a team of four doctors worked over him at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital.

An electrical shock machine called a defibrillator was used to restart his heart pumping. Tuesday Burch walked out of the hospital.

"The Old Master must have had a purpose in bringing me back and wanting me to live. I am mighty thankful to him and those doctors who worked so hard on me," he said.

The defibrillator has been used on other patients but none of them lived for very long after being revived.

The leader of the doctors' team reported that Burch "is making a satisfactory recovery in all aspects. There had been concern that lack of normal circulation for a long period might cause brain damage, but there is no evidence of it. There were no complications from the cardiac arrest."

The doctors, who have declined use of their names, went to work on Burch when he was wheeled into the emergency room suffering from a massive heart attack. Before the electrical shocks revived his heart, doctors and nurses kept up external heart massage to keep blood circulating.

"I've been rushing around all my life. I guess I've got a full recovery. To make up my mind to just take it easy," said Burch, who was instructed by his doctors to take it easy for several months. The doctors said, however, he should make Burch says he probably will have to give up his job as a machinist and doesn't know how he will meet his family's financial needs.

"But right now I'm just thankful to be here. That's as much as any man can ask," Burch said.

"I thought about a lot of things in the hospital. Seems people are always too busy making a living and don't take time to look after their health.

"I'd never been sick. I always looked after my wife and children's health but just didn't think it could happen to me."

Dealing With The Devil

Nikita Khrushchev once defended the infamous Hitler-Stalin pact of 1940 by saying the Russians would have signed an agreement with the devil himself if it would have prevented or postponed war.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Studies of the scores drafted make on Army mental tests are causing growing concern over whether we are wasting sizeable amounts of money and effort and causing a considerable amount of unemployment by teaching the wrong things or teaching them the wrong way in our schools.

His score was not unusual. Considerable numbers of young men who take these tests have graduated from the 9th, 10th, 11th or 12th grades, yet fail to reach 5th, 6th, 7th or 8th grade standards on the tests.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Several days ago a letter came to our home addressed to a 15-year-old boy our daughter knows. It was sent in care of our daughter. My husband saw it and started to question her. He wanted to know what right the boy had to instruct someone to send him mail in her care. She said she didn't know anything about it, and didn't see where it was any of her father's business. I sided with my daughter. Her father allowed her to give the letter to the boy, but he instructed her to tell him that it was not to happen again. What is your opinion on this? We can't judge the boy as we hardly know him.

MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: I think your husband was right. But he didn't go far enough. He should have asked his daughter to bring the boy around so he could become acquainted with him, gain his confidence and learn why the boy can't receive mail at home. Fifteen-year-olds need all the help and understanding they can get. DEAR ABBY: Re the letter from the person asking what you thought about folks whose Christmas cards arrived after Christmas, I was pleased with your reply: "Better late than never. Who counts?" Bravo, Abby! What has happened to the spirit of Christmas? I shall never forget a Christmas gift I once received. It was a bottle of home-made perfume that smelled strangely like vanilla extract. It was crudely wrapped in Christmas paper that had obviously been used on another gift, and tied with a second hand red ribbon. But there was so much love in its manner of presentation I almost wept. It was from a ten-year-old girl whose family was on relief. How I cherished the thought!

A SCHOOL TEACHERS MEMORY DEAR ABBY: I want to get married. Should I ask the girl first, or should I ask her father? Some say

I should ask the girl first, and if she says yes, I should then ask her father. It seems to me that I should ask the father first, because if he says no, it wouldn't make any sense to ask the girl. Will you kindly advise me? I thank you. DEAR ABOUT: Ask the girl first. If she says no, you've had it, boy! CONFIDENTIAL TO "HER TEACHER": I want to write to the little blind girl who wrote me a sweet letter in Braille. Please send me her name and address.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Sometimes an apparently routine play is merely routine expert practice. Take a look at the East and North hands only. West opens the queen of spades after North has raised South from one to three no-trump. You, East, would like to return your partner's suit, but you have a mighty good reason not to. You just can't lead a suit when you don't have any of it. So you must shift and it takes only a little study to see that a diamond or club lead is hopeless. You have to lead a heart. Which heart are you going to lead? If you are an expert there is no problem at all. You lead the jack.

but you have no sequence at all. Nevertheless, the jack play has everything to gain and nothing to lose. This time it gives you four quick heart tricks. If South covers with the queen, your partner wins with the ace. A heart return gives you all your hearts. If South ducks, you continue with a low heart with the same happy result. This play would not have saved you had South held the ace and queen of hearts, but it would still have been a happier lead than fourth best. The jack lead would have held declarer to two heart tricks; the fourth best lead would have allowed him to make three tricks in the suit.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

—She thinks like a man. (Some men consider this a high compliment for a career woman, but the woman doesn't.) —She looks so much like some other woman. (Women don't want to be look-alikes, with the possible exception of a teen-ager when told she looks like a movie star.) Just how awful you thought she looked before she made the change.) Legal Notice IN THE COUNTY JUDGES COURT IN AND FOR SEMINOLE COUNTY, STATE OF FLORIDA. IN RE: ESTATE OF MONTES M. HARRIS, Deceased. You love her LITTLE house. (All she will hear is the word "little.") —You would do such-and-such if you were in her place. (Unless she asks for your advice—it's a safe bet she doesn't want it.) —You feel it is your duty to tell her something unpleasant. (She looks 100 per cent better with her new hairdo or hair color. She'll wonder why she didn't do something she has finally gotten around to doing. Why not make her feel smart for doing something not having done it sooner?) —You knew exactly what her reaction to something was going to be. (When a man tells a woman that, it always makes her furious. Don't ask me why—just take my word for it.)

TV Time She Started From Nothing...

By Harold Stern NEW YORK— Not having seen "Carny", the NBC-TV News Special slated for Sunday night (April 12, 10-11 p.m. EST), I don't know how successfully the show explores the world of the American carnival. But, sight unseen, you must give producer Chet Hagan at least two points for inspiration. It was his idea to use Sally Rand as both the on-and-off-camera hostess and narrator. Not that Miss Rand is qualified above all others to talk about carnivals. Since her smashing debut in the all-together at the 1933-34 Chicago's World's Fair, Miss Rand has spent most of her time playing theaters, clubs and fairs, occasionally hanging up her fans to do a play or a musical with her clothes on. She did not play her first carnival until 1946 and she hasn't appeared with many since that time. But, what does it matter? One assumes the show will have been carefully researched and Miss Rand will have pertinent things to say, whether she wrote them or not. More important than Sally Rand's qualifications as an expert on carnivals is the fact that the name Sally Rand is synonymous with a certain kind of flamboyant, free-wheeling show business, of which there is so little in evidence today. The mere mention of the name Sally Rand is evocative. It's enough for New York Commissioner Moses to refuse to consider any entertainment using her services as suitable for the World's Fair. It's enough to send indefinite thoughts about burlesque and strip (and sex, careening through your head. The truth of the matter is that what was called indecent exposure in 1933 is pretty much every-day stuff now. Sally has never been a stripper and the closest she's ever come to burlesque was her fine work as a temporary replacement for the then-ailing Ann Corio in New York's off-Broadway show, "This Was Burlesque," last spring. The high spot of her appearance was the fan dance, which doesn't seem to have varied at all in 30 years. I shouldn't say that. I first saw Sally 30 years ago and, when I saw her last year, the fan dance seemed exactly the same. Indecent exposure? Sally jokes about it. "I start where strippers leave off," she said. "If I were to strip, I'd have to get down to my bones. I was born in the Ozarks where they have to catch you to put your shoes on. I still go barefoot—up to my chin." "Lurid! Hardly. During her entire performance, in which she wears not a gitch, a combination of Sally's dexterity with her fans and the artistic, frustrating lighting exposes only the fact that, while she may be naked, you're not about to see anything." "My whole dance," she said, "is dedicated to proving that the Rand is quicker than the eye." That Sally at 30 has a better figure and is easier looking than many women a third to a half her age is a tribute both to her care of herself and her seat for living.

Cuban Guerrilla War Increasing, Refugees Say

MIAMI (UPI) — Cuban Refugees said today guerrilla activity against Premier Fidel Castro's government in Cuba is on the increase after an 18-month lull.

The refuge "Sentinels of Liberty" organization said incidents of guerrilla violence last month included an ambush south of Havana in which an army captain and his driver were killed and an attack on a militia barracks near Jaitonco in which a number of militiamen and their weapons were captured.

An undetermined number of militiamen were killed or wounded in a clash with guerrillas near Florencia, the refugees said.

Saboteurs started a fire at the Gustavo army camp outside LaColoma March 20 which exploded magazines at the camp, the "Sentinels" said. The Castro government announced this incident but described the fire as accidental.

Sabotage of electric transformers blacked out Havana for two hours of the night of March 17, the refugees group said. In Camaguey, saboteurs set fire to a slaughterhouse and several warehouses.

Beer Lapping

Dog Angers Bar Patron

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (UPI) — Bennie Marks didn't mind sharing the bar with a dog but when the pooch started to drink his glass of beer, that made him mad.

Marks complained to police after Richard Cunningham brought a dog into a local saloon, took a glass of beer away from him and gave it to the thirsty animal.

When Marks beefed, police said Cunningham knocked him off the bar stool. Cunningham was charged with assault.

Sea Cows Will Graze In Lake

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida Atlantic University agents have hit on a unique scientific and conservation plan to rid Florida's lakes and rivers of heavy vegetation—turn a herd of sea cows loose to graze on the greenery.

The plan will be tested in Broward County's Middle River.

Lyman Students Participate In Voting Poll

By Jane Caselberry
With all the political straw the wind these days it is only natural that the students at Lyman High School wanted to express their own Presidential preference in a national student poll being conducted by "Our Times," a national student publication.

Participating were the American History, World History, and Problems in American Democracy classes of Ralph Brewer and Ken Campbell.

Results were as follows: On the Democratic side President Lyndon B. Johnson drew the highest individual support and Governor George Wallace received three votes. High man on the list of Republicans was Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge with 111 votes. Others listed on the ballot were Richard M. Nixon, 63; Senator Barry Goldwater, 33; Governor Nelson Rockefeller, eight; Governor William Scranton, four; Governor George Romney, three; Senator Margaret Chase Smith, three and Harold Stassen, no votes.

Write-ins included Attorney General Robert Kennedy who received five votes; former President Dwight Eisenhower, two votes; Mrs. Jackie Kennedy, James Hoffa and Martin Luther King, one vote each.

The students were allowed to vote for only one candidate and the names were not listed by party. Although Johnson received the highest vote, it is interesting to note that the combined vote for the GOP outnumbered the Democratic vote.

Nation Braces For Tieup If Strike Comes

CHICAGO (UPI)—The nation braced today for a crippling rail strike that could paralyze countless industries, clog highways with commuters and put a serious dent in the country's economy.

The threatened strike was set for 12:01 a.m. (local time) Friday.

The day-old strike of the Illinois Central Railroad, which precipitated the latest crisis in a long-simmering dispute over work rules changes, already posed tremendous problems.

A nationwide walkout would pose more.

Service to more than 2,000 communities in the Midwest and South was cut off by the Illinois Central walkout.

The sudden strike sent thousands of commuters flocking to buses, car pools and taxi cabs in Chicago.

Burns Fires Heated Reply To Dickinson

By United Press International
Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns fired back angrily Wednesday at a charge of opposition by Fred O. Dickinson of West Palm Beach to cap a day of attacks and counter-attacks in the Democratic campaign for governor.

Also near the end of the day, candidate Fred Karl of Daytona Beach added his prediction for the May primaries to those advanced by some of the other candidates.

Mr. Dickinson is in the running with Sen. Scott Kelly of Lakeland.

In Orlando, Dickinson called Mathews "the new public defender of Jacksonville boss Burns"—referring to a demand earlier this week by Mathews that Dickinson prove his charges against Burns or get out of the governor's race.

'Next Step' In Gemini Program

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—America's Project Gemini I, fresh from proving it can launch a two-seater space capsule, now turns to the task of demonstrating it can recover one and to the selection of men to ride the craft into orbit.

The fiery ride of an unmanned 7,000-pound Gemini spacecraft into orbit aboard a Titan 2 rocket Wednesday "allows us to progress to the next step" in the nation's newest manned spaceflight program, said an exhilarated Charles A. Mathews, Gemini project manager.

The "next step" is twofold: —The launching of a similar space capsule on a sub-orbital up and down flight to try out re-entry techniques and recovery forces. That shot is planned for "this summer," probably August.

The selection of the first two men who will make a space voyage aboard the Gemini craft, which is more than twice as large as the bell-shaped Mercury capsule that took each of four astronauts into orbit. The pilots will be named "within a few weeks."
