3-County Transit System Proposed

By ANN SIECKOWSKI

Orange-Seminole-Osceola mass transit system was the subject of consideration at the weekly meeting of the Board of County Commissioners. David Farr, county planner and member of the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council, which is promoting the transit system program, introduced James Lee and John Glattig, of the Council, who offered arguments for the transit program.

Lee said they need an agreement between counties, state Department of Transportation and the Regional Planning Council on a revised scope of study, a study of major generators and a promotional campaign to advise the public of bus service. No signatures would be required from the counties, only from the Council. Lee said the Council needs the comments from the three counties for their final report. An effort is being made to come up with an equitable cost sharing plan.

Commission Chairman Greg Drummond said he believes if the authority is to be funded equitably, it should relate to use by population.

Commissioner Al Davis said he is not interested in committing Seminole tax money to help subsidize a bus system in other counties. "If we get service, I am willing to pay, but I have no interest in deficit operations."

Glattig said the only action sought at Tuesday's meeting was to proceed toward a local agreement. He said that is should be obvious in light of the tremendous growth of Seminole County, that some form of public transportation is necessary.

On motion of Commissioner Shiny Vihlen, the Commission voted to continue the efforts of the transit committee, with Davis opposed.

3 Men Arrested in Two Burglaries

Three men have been arrested by Sanford and Seminole authorities in two separate burglaries, one at a Sanford grocery store and the other at the county road department.

Det. Sgt. George Abby said today he has charged Albert Cecil Eilenburg, 37, and David Lee Basham, 22, both of 2913 Cedar Avenue, with grand larceny in the theft of a chain saw from the county road department.

Sgt. Roy Hughey arrested the suspects after he stopped a green van containing the two men and the chain saw, after receiving a radio report that a van was seen in the area where the saw was removed. Both men were jailed on $1,500 bond each.

Det. Sgt. William Lykens arrested Roosevelt W. Thomas, 19, of 912 West 11th Street on a breaking and entering charge after the Monday break-in of Penney's Grocery, 694 West 11th Street.

Lykens reported Thomas is being held in lieu of a $1,500 bond. He is accused of taking $50 in cash and merchandise from the neighborhood store.

Two Million Scan Draft Lottery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The draft lottery for two million men turning 19 this year began today with No. 29 being assigned to those born Sept. 26, 1953.

The second draw of capsules from two piggyback drums in this fourth draft lottery, perhaps the last in the Vietnam war era that will actually draft men, mated No. 319 to men born Oct. 11, 1953.

Nov. 24 was drawn from a red capsule and No. 180 from a blue capsule on the third match at a ceremony in the Commerce Department auditorium that is expected to last about two hours.

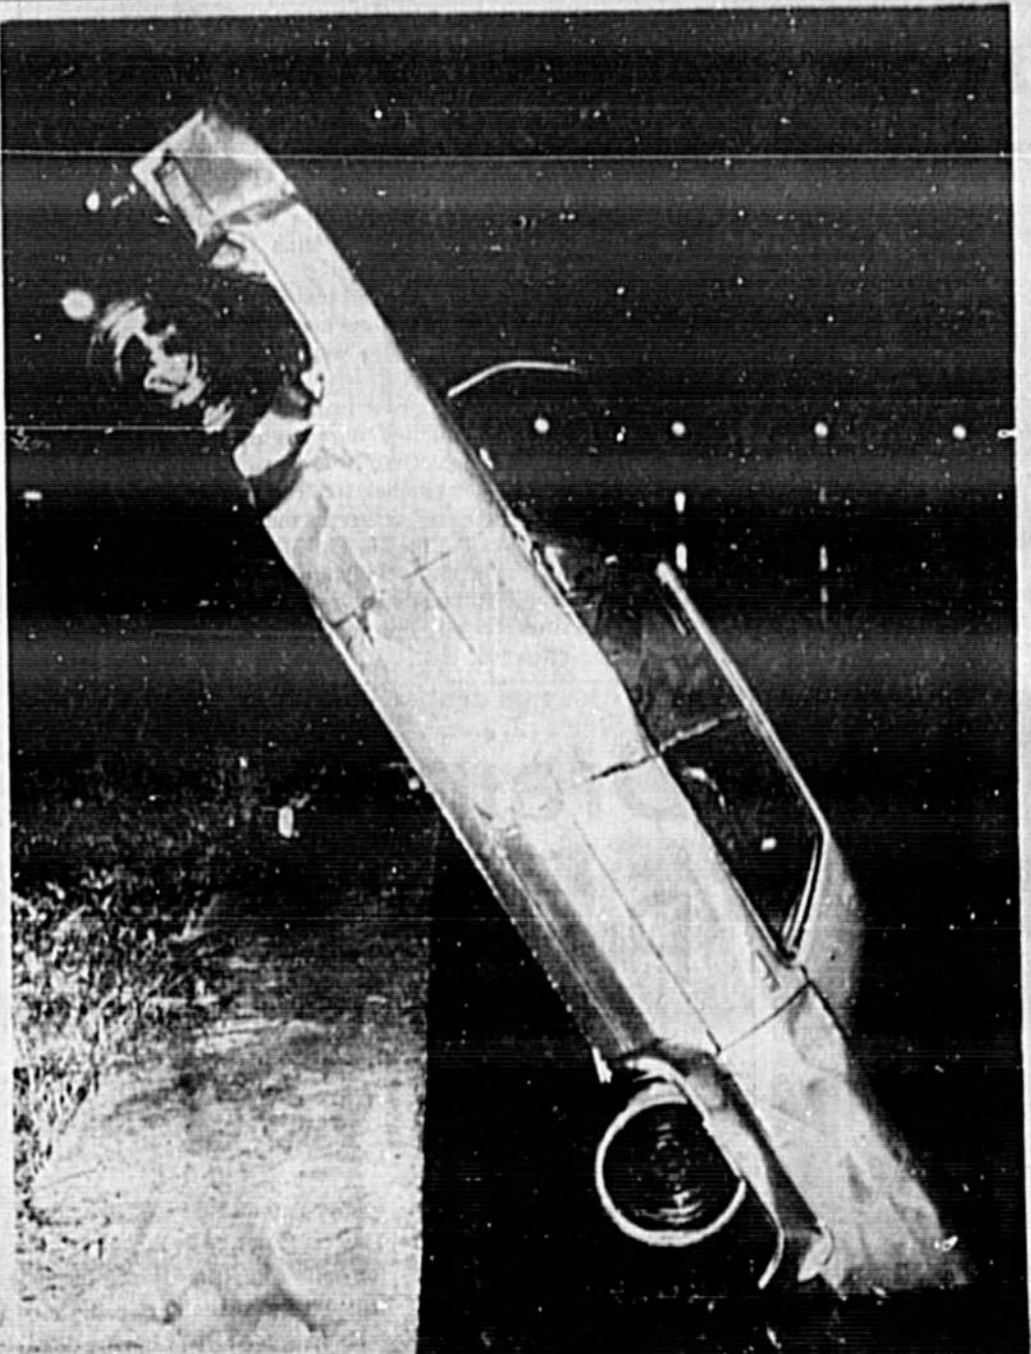

The lottery decides the sequence of the call to military service in 1973, at least until July 1 of the year when the current draft authority expires. President Nixon has pledged to achieve a zero draft by then and make another extension of the draft unnecessary.

Only those with very low numbers are expected to be called. The callup is expected to be far under the lottery No. 125 reached in 1971.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following are the birth dates and matching numbers in today's draft lottery in the order in which they were picked:

Two women escaped from this 1966 Cadillac which was submerged upside down in Lake Monroe last night after skidding off wet Highway 17-92 and over the seawall. The driver, Lorene J. Gerard, 50, of Georgia Street, Longwood, and passenger, Grace Eichhorn, of Frontenac, Kans., 59, received cuts and bruises. (P.S. It was reported there was a tubful of catfish in the car trunk.)

Culpepper Charges Answered By Angel

If the final report due in April on a study now underway of an extended school year (or 45-15 plan) shows it is not economically or educationally feasible, there is only one alternative—a bond issue or millage election to raise money to build new schools.

This was the gist of a reply Tuesday from School Supt. John Angel to questions posed to him in the aftermath of a statement issued to the press, civic leaders and South Seminole governmental leaders by School Board member Dr. Stuart Culpepper.

Culpepper, in a prepared statement, accused the school administration of mobilizing its forces to study the extended year plan as a means to solve the school overcrowding problems occurring mainly in the growing South Seminole area. "If after our study is completed in April, it is believed the 45-15 plan is reasonable, then all groups will be given complete information on what we determined," Angel said.

He said there is a possibility that a modified school calendar will meet the county needs but in the event it is not educationally and economically feasible there is only one alternative.

Longwood Hearing On Bobtail Sewer

LONGWOOD—Another work session of the City Council and land developers has been called for 7 p.m. Tuesday in an effort to determine if builders' demands can be pooled to construct a "bobtail" sewer system while federal funding is awaited for a permanent system.

Council had a similar work session a week ago that was not well attended and has instructed the city clerk to notify by mail all builders who have indicated a desire to develop land or annex to the city to be at next Tuesday's meeting.

At a work session of the Council last night discussion centered on the long-assailed city map improvements to the city limits and extension of water lines to a development.

City cartographer Bart-Ra Dampier was instructed to have sizes placed on the lots in the map she is preparing and to submit estimates of cost of having the map printed.

Estimates of cost of the improvement are to be submitted to Council.

Navy Vet Drowns In Little Econ

By BILL SCOTT

Drowning caused the death of a young Alabama Navy veteran, whose body was pulled Tuesday afternoon from the muddy Little Econlockhatchee River, just off SR 419 about halfway between Orlando and Chuluota.

Dr. G. V. Garay, Seminole Memorial Hospital pathologist, who performed an autopsy on the body of Clarence Bernard Doggett, 22, of Jackson, Ala., reported the man died by drowning. (Related Photos Page 2A.)

County Det. L. L. J. Kris said the full examination of blood, urine and other tests have not been completed and added, "These will take a few days."

There were no trousers on the body, which was found floating in the water approximately half mile south of the bridge, by Ronald James Bell and William Gary Harris, both of 5605 Susannah Boulevard, Orlando, friends of Doggett, who had been searching the area for approximately one hour.

Doggett came to the Orlando area two weeks ago after being discharged from the Navy and was camping out for the weekend at the river, according to Bell and Harris.

Doggett was last seen Friday evening when another friend, Carey Todd, also of 5605 Susannah Boulevard, left him at the bridge.

Sheriff John Polk said Doggett lived at the same address as Todd, Bell and Harris.

Regarding the autopsy, the sheriff stated, "There is no indication at this time that any foul play was involved, and no signs of a struggle was present."

A note found at the scene from Owee Bronson, a Sunday fisherman, Orlando, stated he took the camping supplies, including a sleeping bag, to his home after failing to locate the owner of the equipment.

Bronson was contacted by the sheriff's office and indicated he has the camping equipment to release.

The investigation is being conducted by William Hogan and Paul Legg, county detectives.

Wrecker Laid It To Them

By DONNA ESTES

ALTA MONTE SPRINGFIELD — Warning was issued by Councilman Dan Dorfman last night to citizens of Seminole County and Altamonte that they might find more than "sunshine and sand" if they go to New Smyrna Beach.

Dorfman told a story of a carload of city people who went to the beach last weekend, parked at the car key brake off in the ignition. Being one of the new model cars, Dorfman said, with the key in lock position the steering wheel would not move and the gear shift was also locked in place.

The Councilman continued that after fruitless efforts by the citizens, he did not identify, to move the vehicle as the tide came closer to the car, a wrecker was called.

And "the wrecker laid it to the people," Dorfman said and charged $15 to move the car about 100 yards. The Councilman said there are apparently no regulations by the state or the city on the amount that may be charged for such emergency assistance.

"The people should know that when they go to New Smyrna, they may get more than sun and sand."

It's Nixon By A Small Margin, According To Opinion Poll

Heavy Air Attacks Continued By Allied Jets In N. Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP)—U. S. fighter-bombers carried out a second day of heavy attacks inside North Vietnam, and a sharp upsurge in fighting was reported in the southern half of South Vietnam, military spokesmen said today.

The Saigon command claimed 129 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were killed in two actions.

A communication from Saigon headquarters said that in one action 400 enemy troops in daylight Tuesday along the border with Cambodia 65 miles northwest of Saigon. Aerial observers claimed 90 of the enemy were killed, but this was not substantiated by independent sources. The other 30 enemy dead were slain in the U. S. Mind forest, deep in the blocking Delta, Saigon headquarters said.

The U. S. Command reported five new "protective reaction" strikes Tuesday and said four were made by fighter escorts after North Vietnamese anti-aircraft artillery batteries opened fire on four unarmed reconnaissance planes.

None of the American aircraft was hit, the command said. In all, more than a dozen U. S. planes were involved, including bombers attacking the Ho Chi Minh trail in neighboring Laos.

The command also reported two "protective reaction" strikes in North Vietnam Tuesday morning, making a record total of seven in one day. There were five on Monday for a two-day record of 12.

The air action during the past two days has been the heaviest since five days of "limited duration protective reaction" strikes over North Vietnam Dec. 26-30 in which U. S. bombers mounted more than 1,000 combat strikes.

One source said the air action is the result of the U. S. bombing campaign against the Ho Chi Minh trail.

U. S. officials say a major buildup has occurred in the region bordering South Vietnam's central highlands, and additional North Vietnamese troops are en route southward to join an anticipated offensive.

DETECTIVE William Hogan (right) of the Seminole County Sheriff's office directed the field operations to recover the body of a 22-year-old Alabama youth which was found Tuesday by two of the youth's Orlando friends floating in Little Econohatchee River east of Ocojee. Hogan was assisted by Constable Chester Boyd.

Drainage Problem Is Solved

By KATHY NIMLACK
Gainesville City Council

GAINESVILLE—City Council finally has taken action on a problem which has existed for over two years in the drainage of the area around Ivy Road.

City Engineer E. C. Conklin was before the council to present some alternative answers to the problem. Conklin presented these alternatives to the council about a year ago, but no action was taken at that time. Due to problems with obtaining easements and necessary funds, Conklin presented the council with two alternatives. One was to go directly across Ivy with a pipe, and then to place an enlarged pipe in the canal under Seminola Boulevard and place a weir at one end of that canal.

The other alternative would be to go diagonally across Ivy with a pipe and then across Seminola. Council favored the latter alternative, since it would enable control of Secret Lake at a lower level than that of the Triplet chain of lakes, and since it would cost $2,000 less than the other alternative. Another possibility would be to place a bridge at the canal on Seminola.

This could not be done, however, for quite some time, since funds will not be available for it.

Council decided to opt for the first alternative and go directly across Ivy into the canal under Seminola. This would be the logical for the future construction of a bridge. Council authorized the mayor to obtain the needed rights-of-way and to authorize surveys for the project. Council will authorize the going out for bids on the project when these surveys are completed.

In further action at its regular meeting, council voted to have smoking in the council chambers; discussed changes in the medical insurance for city employees; authorized the city manager to go out for bids on paving, and authorized the preparation of a supplemental ordinance on street lighting control.

The question of the paving and drainage of Crystal Bowl Circle was also discussed by the council in their session last week.

Geo. Crossley Prexy In Jaycee's Shakeup

Sanford - Seminole Junior Chamber of Commerce (Jaycees) has elected new officers in a shake-up designed to "increase memberships and instill new life in the organization."

George Crossley, Jaycees publicity director, was elected to the presidency of the club, along with Victor Gishler and Emory Spier, elected to first vice presidency and second vice presidency, respectively, at a special meeting of the club membership and board of directors Tuesday night at the Jaycee building.

Crossley succeeds resigning president John Sheridan, whose term would have ended May 1.

In addition, Gishler, who was moved to the first vice presidency, replacing Jack Hunt, who was named treasurer, and Spier was moved into the second vice presidency slot.

The following resignation from Sheridan was read to the Jaycees executive board, "Due to reasons of business, I do not tender my resignation as president of the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees effective Feb. 3."

Crossley, Gishler and Spier will serve in their new posts until the end of May, at which time new elections will be held.

Crossley today announced that a drive by Jaycees to obtain additional memberships will commence in about 10 days. He said the drive would last approximately 30 days, and is being headed by Thomas Freeman and David Bertier, team captains.

We Have This Little Problem About Image

In western movies, the funeral director is a shifty-eyed, no-pod character who eyes with his tape-measure in hand to every shoot-out. In contemporary books and shows, he's the shrewd businessman who thrives on death.

How does a guy overcome an image like that?

Perhaps the best way is by setting an opposite example — by serving the living in a friendly, unselfish manner. We hope so, because that's what we've been doing all along.

Zone Changes Moratorium Is Considered

By DONNA ESTES

ALAMONTE SPRINGS—Moratorium on zoning changes an annexation until a land-use plan is completed in the city is and annexation until a land-use plan is completed in the city is expected following report next week from the city engineer on remaining capacity of the sewer plant.

Mayor Lawrence Swofford recommended the action to the board last night, stating while he has found in the past apartments are economical to serve, the question of what is good for the city as a whole has to be the prime consideration.

Swofford declared, "It is time to put a halt on zoning changes until we have a comprehensive land use plan."

Richard Wetherill of International Research and Development Corporation and formerly with the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council estimated a crash program to create such a land-use plan would take about 2 1/2 to three months and final adoption of a comprehensive zoning ordinance would take five to seven months.

Wetherill said annexation should be staged to make money for the city to permit further annexations. Included in the time frame quoted by the research planner would be numerous public hearings to inform the citizens of the reasoning effort during the drawing of the ordinance.

Councilman T. A. Radloff informed that County Planner David Farr has indicated he is willing to help the city, free of charge, in efforts following this line and that 60 per cent of the Council's work could be saved by channeling many zoning requests through the research planner.

Swofford said more and more requests, accompanied by checks, are being filed with the city for reservations of sewer capacity and he fears the capacity will soon be reached. He added that there is little hope state funds will be forthcoming in the new fiscal year (1972-73) for the extension of the sewer system. While the state has $18 million for such projects, requests throughout the state total $188 million, the mayor said. And even if some $50 million more is allocated to the state by Congress, there still will not be sufficient funds for Altononte's extension to be funded.

The mayor also pointed out 12 per cent of the plant's capacity is pledged to Eatonville and another 18 per cent should be set aside for the north side of the city. Some new development may have to wait for sewer service until the plant is expanded and that may not take place for three years, Swofford estimated.

Swofford said if a moratorium is called, the city could continue to annex lands not requiring water and sewer service and tracts not wishing zoning changes. He gave as examples the Letterfrower plot on Douglas Road, a tract on the corner of Montgomery Road and a spot at the intersection of SR 436 and 421 where gasoline station construction is planned.

Council generally agreed with the mayor's recommendation and indicated action will be taken following the report expected from City Engineer William Palm Tuesday on the relationship between requests for sewer service and the capacity of the plant.

Sunday Sales Losing Favor In Altamonte?

ALAMONTE SPRINGS—Consideration of an ordinance to permit Sunday sales of alcoholic beverages in restaurants able to seat and serve 200 or more persons was tabled by the City Council last night. And indication was that the idea has lost support and may not be adopted.

Councilman Keith Nixon publicly stated his opposition joining Councilman Helen Keyser in frowning on the measure.

Mayor Lawrence Swofford last week said he would vote for Sunday sales because "it is a coming thing," but added that he personally opposes the plan.

Councilman Dan Dorfman wondered if requiring the 200 limitation is not discriminatory. City Attorney S. Joseph Davis said in his view the ordinance patterned after state law is discriminatory. "One man might want to eat a hot dog and drink beer while another eats a steak and drinks beer. What is the difference?" Davis asked.

In other business, Council referred bids for the city's maintenance building to be built on a tract adjacent to Douglas Road to the city public works director and Councilman T. A. Radloff for study and recommendation. Apparent low bidder was Geiger-Jones Company at $7,965 with alternates.

Agreed to change zoning from R-1AA to commercial on two lots fronting on SR 428 and Lake Adalain and adjacent to the Wilson Knot professional center, to allow construction of a four-story office building containing 50,000 square feet. Two property owners on the lake agreed to oppose the rezoning due to the probable removal of large numbers of trees from the tract and resulting noise from the development.

Heard an offer from Logan Browning, former controller of the city, to "amaze and currently fiscal agent for North Orlando.

Free Taxis For Migrant Workers

By ANN SIECKOWSKI
PEP, or Public Employment Program, was extended to the Board of County Commissioners at Tuesday's meeting by Administrative Assistant Rodney Layer.

Layer reported that a meeting was held with Mrs. Patricia Finnegan, social educator program worker for the migrant project; S. Kienher, of the Department of Commerce division of labor from the local farm labor office; William Edwards, his assistant; Rev. Amos Jones, Seminole Community Action; William Gordon, of Seminole Junior College; Commission Chairman Greg Drummond and Vice Chairman Sidney Vihlen.

This meeting was called to determine ways and means of implementing the program which was made possible through the federal grant of $100,000 for the migrant program.

Layer said he is in the process of outlining the financial requirements for the program with the initial plans to include the following arrangements, subject to board approval:

a. Let Rev. Jones run PEP as a sub-agent, which will permit him to do the hiring and basic record maintenance and reports which are to be submitted to his (Layer's) office with payment for these services to be part of the 3.2 per cent or $3,200 as permitted by the program.

b. Gordon, from the Adult Education Program at SJCC, is preparing a program which will permit some education benefits which will complement the working program.

This report is being in Layer's office with a breakdown using the 6.8 per cent or $6,800 to be allocated for educational benefits.

Seminole County would be required to supply 10 per cent or $10,000 to the program, which could include supplying an already existing county vehicle to pick up the people and return them to their homes each day or to furnish some other form of transportation for this purpose.

In-kind services will consist of the County's contribution of four per cent retirement and 5.2 per cent Social Security in addition to the cost of transportation.

The balance of the $90,000 will be used in wages which should give employment to approximately 21 migrant workers.

To date, the participants in the program will be the arthropod control program, road department, maintenance department, parks program, Sheriff's department, Seminole Community Action and possibly Seminole Junior College.

Because of the reluctance of the participating agencies to become involved with the hiring process, Layer suggested Jones as the most logical one to handle it. The County Commission would handle the financing and checks would be sent from the same offices as are all other County employees.

Drummond insisted the county must have the right to the final interview of employees. He said that the primary reason for this program is to provide gainful employment to encourage the migrant workers to want to leave that type of existence to one of a more substantial nature with steady employment.

"We have a serious obligation to try to make this program work in Seminole County,"

On motion of Vihlen, the board voted to adopt the PEP program and to proceed with approval as required, designating SCA as the sub-agent, with the Board of Commissioners participating as required under the program with specific intent being that the board would have responsibility for final hiring and finances.

In Dean Rape Trial State Rests Its Case

By MARION BETHA

The state rested its case this morning in the trial of Joseph Dean, charged with the rape of a pregnant 16-year-old Orlando housewife in 1970.

The state presented testimony of other alleged rape victims of Dean with the same modus operandi employed in each case.

Robson Fire Flames Shed Light On Area Need

There can be nothing but praise for the Sanford fire fighters, regular and volunteer, and for the manner in which the conflagration in Robson's Sporting Goods store on First Street was controlled by Fire Chief G. Manning Harriet.

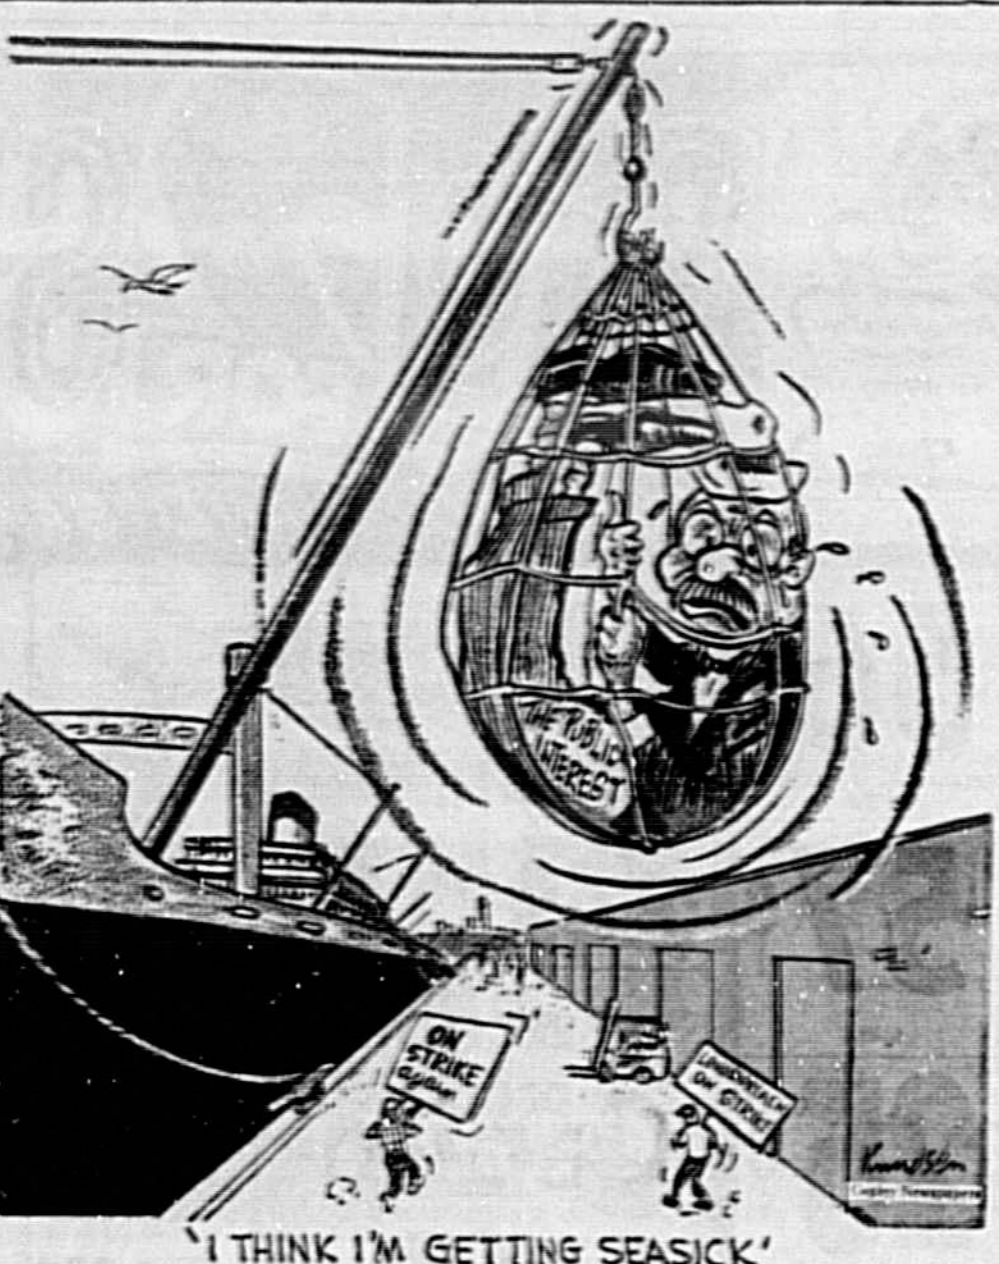

for adequate fire and police protection on the other. Neither can be properly met with the patchwork quilt which many municipalities, different areas with differing needs, and the continuance of political rivalries allow.

It is in no way the crying of "wolf, wolf" that now gives substance to the obvious necessity for every settled area, every municipality, every population heavy section of Seminole County to think specifically about the danger of uncontrollable fires that exist.

ing their effort prevented a block-wide fire disaster, be surveyed with the keenest eyes and the strictest of standards. Every fire chief has had to wrestle with the fact that the fire department must live with its skills rarely put to the test, that spending money for property training the firemen and keeping the equipment up to date gets very little support from the hard-pressed taxpayer or the tight-fisted public official who guards the public purse, until disaster strikes.

Don Oakley Says: School Rulings Face Snafus

By DON OAKLEY, Staff Editor: There has been a spate of landmark lower court rulings in the field of public education/civil rights lately. They will be landmarks, that is, if they are ultimately affirmed by the U. S. Supreme Court and made binding upon the nation as a whole.

Another possible result of the Kansas City ruling, having to do with the fear of many people that students will stage political "take-overs" in communities where the college population outnumbers the nonstudent population, is not so easy to foresee.

21-Gun Salute Will Open 1972 Olympics

By GEOFFREY MILLER

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — The 11th Winter Olympics, rocked by ill feeling over the expulsion of Austrian ski star Karl Schranz, opens Thursday with a 21-gun salute for Emperor Hirohito and all the traditional court and ceremony.

No Olympic meet has ever opened in such an air of bitterness. A walk-out by the entire Austrian ski team was narrowly averted after Schranz had been named from the Games because he sold his name and photograph for advertising.

Samaritan Carnival Saturday

By MARVA HAWKINS
222-3418

The Just Us Club invites all to an old fashioned carnival Saturday at the Good Samaritan Home grounds, 804 Mulberry Avenue. Proceeds will go toward the home building fund.

The home must be finished and livable by March 15.

In addition to a locomotive ride for the kids, there will be plenty of food, including fresh fish boiled in oil, chicken pilau, lemonade. There also will be a rummage sale.

Officers and members of Seminole chapter, Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University Alumni, met at Westside Community Center with the executive secretary of the General Alumni Association, George Conoly, and the alumni director, Al McCoy. Conoly gave chapter members a review of the General Alumni's activities in 1971 and plans for 1972.

The Seminoles chapter, guided by Earl Minott, will meet at the Community Center at 7 p. m. tomorrow. All members are asked to attend. Members will discuss plans for the "Founders' Day" dinner, scholarships and athletic awards for athletes of Seminole County schools who plan to attend Florida A. and M. University.

Leonard Smith, a former resident of this city and now of Philadelphia, was in the city visiting with his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Graham, and friends.

First anniversary of Rev. Joseph Smith was indeed a success. On Sunday afternoon Rev. Henry P. James and Mt. Ararat Baptist Church, with two choirs accompanying him, were in charge of the services.

Rev. James and his congregation have been in charge of all installations and anniversaries of pastors of Mt. Calvary for the past 15 years. Rev. James "was reared in this church and the city of Sanford. He is the son of Mrs. Pinkie James, of this city.

Rev. James spoke out from the topic: "I got a little help from God." Act. 26.

Ministers Day was observed by the Sanford Community Singers last Sunday at Allen Chapel A.M.E. Church. The Community Singers opened with a fellowship devotion. "I shall not be moved" was sung as the group began to meditate. Scripture 1 Coth. 13n chapter was read by Raymond Gaines and prayer was by Henry Debose.

The master of ceremonies for the occasion was Walter C. Cummings. The Sanford Community Singers, under the direction of Joseph Williams, with his wife at the console, Mrs. Gloria Wilist rendered fine selections with the audience participating in one of the selections.

Mrs. Hicks presented awards to various clubs and organizations who have helped to improve our community. These awards were presented by the Westside Improvement Association. Mrs. Rutha Higgins, president, and Mrs. Annie M. Hicks, secretary.

The home of Mrs. J. G. Harold was the setting of a surprise birthday party given by Charlie Turner and Walter Jones for their wives, Mrs. Annie Lois Turner and Mrs. Maybell Jones, last Friday night. These young women were really happy when they walked in to be greeted by many friends who had come to make the evening one to be remembered for quite a while.

Those joining in to have fun with the honorees were Mr. and Mrs. Cephus Fryer, Daytona; Robert White, Eatonville; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Scott, Mrs. Allie

Smith, Roger Brown, Miss Marvin Bates, Miss Wavie Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. E. McGuire and sister, Mrs. Clyde Walker; Mrs. James Abney, Mrs. Dorothy Brown, Henry Bryant, Oliver Harold, Mrs. Bessie Brooks, Mrs. Eartha Hudson, Mrs. Alzada Washington, Mrs. Nathaniel Bentley, Eddie Harden, Theodore Richard and Mrs. Ruth Hinch.

13 Riot Victims Mourned By Irish

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

LONDON, Derry, Northern Ireland (AP) — Thousands of grieving Irish gathered in this somber, silent city today to honor the dead of Londonderry's bloody Sunday. It was a day of bitter mourning for Roman Catholics throughout divided Ireland.

Throats of fresh violence prompted tight security in London, Dublin and in the embattled communities of British ruled Northern Ireland.

Thirteen coffins, each in a single casket, provided a focus of grief at St. Mary's Church in the Catholic Creggan district of Londonderry where a mass funeral was being held.

The soldier's death raised the side quarter where the 13 were killed Sunday in a battle with British paratroops.

Revenge-seeking gunmen of the Irish Republican Army, campaigning to end British rule of Northern Ireland, struck back Sunday night and killed an army sentry in Belfast, the provincial capital.

The soldier's death raised the fatality toll to 233 since communal violence erupted in Ulster 2 1/2 years ago.

With relations between the rival religious communities completely severed as a result of Sunday's bloodbath, Catholics were on strike everywhere in the North.

Shops were shuttered, factories closed and streets were empty in Londonderry and other predominantly Catholic communities. "We're living in ghost towns," said a local priest.

Anti-British feeling was boiling over in the southern Irish republic, where an official day of mourning was declared.

Force club and other British premises were smashed. Mail boat sailings between Dublin and the British mainland were halted.

And to preserve the solemnity of the mourning day, a soccer match between Irish and Italian teams was postponed until Thursday.

Festivity was the order of the day, Jan. 28, 1972, at Lakeview Nursing Center when the center honored a delightful resident, Mrs. Maggie Zachary, on her 100th birthday.

Over 200 friends called during an open house celebration between the appointed hours of 2-4 p.m.

Among the guests was a surprise visit from Gov. Reubin Askew and his lovely wife, Donna Lou. This was a thrill of a lifetime for Mrs. Zachary as well as other residents and the staff.

Mrs. Zachary greeted the guests wearing a blue robe and a huge carnation corsage, a gift from Lakeview staff.

Mrs. June Miller, activities director, greeted the guests at the door.

John Sauls, who hold services at the center and is dear to all residents, gave the invocation. Mrs. Jean McLean played "Happy Birthdays" with all joining in a sing-along.

To complete a wonderful party, a class from All Souls Parochial School, came bearing gifts and singing and playing "Happy Birthdays."

The honor guest received many gifts, floral arrangements and hundreds of cards.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe King, her nephew from Asheville, N.C., and Mr. and Mrs. Lew Kluegel, a granddaughter and her husband, from Cocoa.

The serving table were overlaid with white linen cloths and featured silver appointments. A huge cake, beautifully embossed and topped with the numeral "100" graced one table with another table holding two cut glass punch bowls. The table centerpieces were daisies and Iris, two gifts, with other floral tributes placed around the serving rooms.

Guests were served cake, pound cake, a gift from a niece, assorted butter mints, coffee and punch.

Serving were Mrs. Dot Wallace, coffee; Mrs. Louise Manning, punch; and Mrs. Sue Monti, Miss Gayle Phillips and Mrs. Debra Bowlin, cake.

Mrs. Zachary is a long time resident of Sanford, having moved here from North Carolina. She is the mother of two children, Arthur Zachary, deceased, and Mrs. Margaret Wright, a teacher at Westside Grammar School, Sanford.

She has six grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren. Her local relatives include (other than her daughter) Mrs. Joan Ludwig, granddaughter, and Mrs. Onie Byrd, a sister-in-law, who is also a resident of Lakeview.

Mrs. Zachary is a member of the First Methodist Church where she was very active until a few years ago.

She has been at Lakeview for two years where she is loved by the staff and residents for her kind words and smiles for all. Until a few months ago she took walks around the building. She is now in a wheel chair but still smiling.

Maggie Zachary has been an inspiration to many during a century of living and truly deserves life's best... so peace and happiness to a lovely lady.

Demo Race Picking Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sens. Hubert Humphrey and Edmund Muskie concerned themselves with drug problems Tuesday while a third Democratic Florida presidential primary hopeful, Sen. Henry Jackson, attacked a federal tax system "riddled with favoritism."

Humphrey said in speeches in Tampa and Miami that a federal "superagency" should be created to deal with the drug problem, using the Central Intelligence Agency to cut off supplies of incoming drugs.

"If the CIA can find our enemies abroad, it can effectively find the drug smugglers," the Minnesota Democrat said.

Humphrey said the anti-drug program should be two-fold to encompass enforcement and rehabilitation.

Muskie, a senator from Maine, visited a rehabilitation center in Fort Lauderdale where some 250 young drug users and former users told him marijuana should not be legalized.

During a visit to "The Seed," a privately-run rehabilitation center, Muskie mingled with the young people and listened as one after another told him they had started drinking liquor, progressed to glue sniffing and marijuana and then began using heroin and other hard drugs.

As Muskie stood on a stage, center director Art Baker asked how many of the young people wanted to see marijuana legalized. The audience sat in silence.

When Baker asked how many believed marijuana should be outlawed, every hand went up.

"This is convincing support for my own stand against easing the barriers on marijuana use," Muskie said.

Earlier, Muskie carried his campaign to Miami, where he spoke to a crowd of about 200 in the Liberty City black district.

Supreme Court Studies Important Labor Case

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the year's most important labor cases is ready for action in the Supreme Court.

It tests the right of unions to fine members who quit the union during a strike and return to their jobs.

The case comes from New Hampshire where 31 members of the Textile Workers Union, AFL-CIO, worked during a 1968-69 strike at the Nashua plant of the International Paper Box Machine Co.

The union tried to fine them a day's wages for each day they worked, but the National Labor Relations Board held the fines were not legal as defined by the Taft-Hartley law.

The U.S. Circuit Court in Boston backed the union. The NLRB then appealed to the Supreme Court through Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold.

Sen. after the justices returned from a recess later this month they are expected to announce whether they will hear the appeal. Similar cases are pending in other federal courts.

In 1967, the Supreme Court upheld fines levied by the United Automobile Workers against members who crossed picket lines during strikes at two Alfa-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. plants in 1959 and 1962.

Jane Muskie Considers Herself A Liberated Woman, Feminist

JANE GRAY MUSKIE

By DONNA ESTES

Jane Gray Muskie, a few days short of her 45th birthday, mother of five and grandmother of one, considers herself a "liberated" woman... a "feminist" she prefers to call herself.

Claiming to be a strong advocate of "women's rights," she winces slightly, however, at the words "women's lib." Perhaps her definite preference for one term over the other has something to do with a critical remark made by one leader in the movement which she considered uncalled for.

"I cannot go out and actively demonstrate. I am not an activist," she said. "I believe there is a better way of doing things. I consider myself a liberated woman. My husband's career has given me a career."

The dark eyes of the chestnut haired beauty flash as she answers the criticism made by the woman's libber leader concerning the fact that the Maine senator does not help with dishes.

"That's so silly," she said. "There is no need for my husband to help with dishes. When he was governor of Maine, it was not above him to change diapers, wash dishes, or any thing else that was needed. These things are no longer necessary for him to do."

The Muskies married when she was 19 and he was 13 years her senior on May 29, 1948. He was minority leader of the Maine legislature at the time and yes, she believed he would one day be governor of the state.

Seven years later she became the youngest "first lady" in the country at 26 when her husband was elected governor. In 1958, Muskie became the first popularly elected Democratic United States Senator in Maine's history.

During the unsuccessful campaign in 1968 when her husband was the Democratic vice-presidential running mate to Hubert Humphrey, Mrs. Muskie came to believe the nation's president was in her husband's future.

"Traveling in '68 and seeing the way his campaign could fire, the idea entered my mind that perhaps it would lead to something. When the campaign was lost, I sensed Ed would want to determine the feeling toward him in the country," she said.

The children — Stephen 22, married and a photographer for the Portland Herald Press; Edith Allen, married and mother of the only Muskie grandchild, Ethan; Melinda, 15; Martha, 13, and Edmund Jr. (Ned), 10, have not really talked about what it would be like to be the first family.

Ned, however, one evening as the family was driving past the White House suggested, Mrs. Muskie related that, "I bet the first thing Mummy will do if she is elected is to stand out in the crowd." And besides her husband likes bright colors.

For her conference with members of the Central Florida Press and later a personal interview with The Herald, she was attired in a coral sheath with high neckline and a matching pocket trimmed in gold rimmed black

Mr., Mrs. Theo Tice Wed 60 Years

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

Mr. and Mrs. Theo Tice of Longwood celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon with an open house at their Lake Street home.

Theo Tice married the former Carrie Chaffer in Jan. 29, 1912 at Lemon Bluff with the Rev. Thomas Adams officiating. They moved to Longwood in 1924, where they raised their three children.

Many friends and relatives were on hand to help celebrate the happy occasion. Among those present were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tice of Orlando and their children, Linda and Allen, their daughter, Mrs. Emily Warren of Orlando and daughter, Sarah, son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ellis of Longwood and son, James, and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Athow of Longwood. A telephone call from Oklahoma brought greetings from grandson George D. D. Holt of West Jefferson, in the Army.

Assisting with serving the tiered anniversary cake was Mrs. D. D. Holt of West Jefferson.

Miss Marsha Rodgers (who shall be 91 years young on July 10) and Mr. and Mrs. Orie Mathieux were guests of Maudie Baker at his Rock Lake home, "The Briar Patch" for a fish dinner prepared by none other than their genial host himself.

Mrs. Baker was away at the time because of the impending arrival of a grandchild, the daughter, who lives in Bolder, Colo. At last reports, no news as yet.

NY Plaza Has Face Lifting

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

New York's stately Plaza Hotel has had a face-lifting and many of its patrons seem delighted by the new look. The tempo is set by the Green Tulip, a sprightly restaurant featuring buffet dishes from breakfast through dinner.

Set on two levels, the dining room gives just about every diner a view of Central Park. And, attractively young ladies dressed in uniforms designed by American couturier Donald Brooks brighten up the indoor scene.

At the noonday meal, you can lead off with cold snails in a cream sauce flavored with pernod which I found delicious. Or you can try their terrine of duckling which is also superior. Among the offbeat specialties are dishes such as cold cream of pumpkin soup, mousse of carrot and avocado mousse, available as a dessert at luncheon and dinner.

For weight watchers and health addicts there is an organic lunch which includes tomato juice, cottage cheese and a huge salad of grated raw vegetables.

If you want to try your hand at one of the fun-out specialties, here is the Green Tulip's recipe for pumpkin soup, served cold 2 cups puree of pumpkin (canned)
2 cups light cream
1½ teaspoons worcestershire sauce
few drops tabasco
salt to taste
1 dash pepper
juice of a whole lemon
Mix all ingredients well in a blender, correct seasoning and chill. Fill cups ¾ full and place a slice of tomato on top. Top this with unsweetened whipped cream and decorate each with a slice of ripe olive. Serves 6.

Cured yams are excellent baked and make a change-of-pace taste with your favorite meats in winter. Yams may be topped with an interesting sauce, similar to sour cream or olive liverie but—3 normally thought of when serving baked potatoes. Surprise the family with the interesting combination of the sweet moistness of yams whipped and spooned back into shell, topped with a combination of mushrooms, onion, parsley, bacon.

BAKED YAMS
6 medium Louisiana yams
1 cup chopped mushrooms
about ¼-pound
½ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped parsley
6 slices crisp-cooked bacon, crumbled
Salt
Pepper
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
Hot milk (about ¼ cup)
Bake yams in 400-degree oven 15 minutes. Lower temperature to 375 degree and bake 45 minutes or until tender. Meanwhile, sauté mushrooms and onion in 2 tablespoons butter until onion is tender; stir in parsley, bacon, ¼-teaspoon salt and dash pepper. Scare baked yams lengthwise and crosswise and scoop out yam centers, leaving ¼-inch shells. Mash yams; add ¼-teaspoon salt, dash pepper, melted butter and hot milk. Whip well, adding as little more hot milk, if desired. Spoon whipped yams into shells and top each with some of mushroom-bacon mixture. Place on a baking sheet and heat in a 375-degree oven over 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

SUNDAY DINNER
Baked Ham Mustard
Honey-orange Yams
Chocolate Pie
HONEY ORANGE YAMS

The main ingredient is a pantry-staple item.
¼ cup butter
3 ½-cup honey
1 ½-cup, grated orange rind
¼ cup orange juice
½ teaspoon salt
2 cans (each 1 pound) whole yams, drained
In a 12-inch skillet heat the butter, honey, orange rind, orange juice and salt; boil gently for 10 minutes. Add yams; continue boiling gently, turning yams once midway, until most of the syrup is absorbed and the yams are hot—about 10 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Recipe From Scotland

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

DEAR CECILY: Have you a recipe for Scottish shortbread—the real thing?—MAN COOK.

DEAR MAN COOK: We confess we've always made Americanized shortbread until we got your letter. You pointed us to the real thing. "Highland Fling Cookbook" by Sara Walker (Athens) which celebrates the delightful cooking of Scotland. There we found "the real thing," a shortbread that is much less sweet than American versions and that has the proper rich and crumbly texture. Our admiration of Mrs. Walker's recipe follows.

Shortbread is a traditional accompaniment to freshly brewed tea. But do make the tea "hot and hearty" the way the Scots like it: Bring freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil. Rinse out your teapot with boiling water. Put one tea-bag or one teaspoonful of loose tea per cup in the pot. Pour the boiling water over the tea and let stand 5 minutes.—C.B.

HIGHLAND FLING SHORTBREAD

¾ cups sifted flour
¾ cup sifted rice flour
Pinch of salt
1 cup butter, at room temperature
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons light cream
¼ teaspoon vanilla or almond extract

On wax paper sift together the flour, rice flour and salt. In a large mixing cream butter and sugar; beat in egg yolk, cream and extract. Gradually blend in flour mixture; when dough becomes thick, knead with hands. When dough is smooth, divide in half and pat evenly over bottoms of two ungreased 8-inch cake pans. Press around edges with fork and prick well all over. Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven until lightly golden—about 35 minutes. While still hot, cut each round into wedges. Let cool on pans on wire racks. Remove carefully so wedges do not break. Store in a tightly covered tin box in a cool place.

NOTE: Rice flour is available in health food and specialty food shops.

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Chicken has had a special place on the American table from pre-Revolutionary days. It was a chief ingredient, too, for many favored dishes of George Washington. At lovely Mount Vernon in Virginia, chickens had their own house among the row of adjacent buildings called "dependencies." In those historic days tender, young broiler-fryers were available only in the spring when the flocks were culled.

At this time Martha Washington and her cooking staff turned out tender chicken treats such as Chicken with Winter Sauce and superb chicken pies. The appreciation of chicken dishes hasn't waned since Colonial days.

Sprinkle body cavity of whole 3½-pound broiler-fryer chicken with 1 teaspoon salt. Hook wing tips onto back to hold neck skin. Tie legs together and then to tail. If using rotisserie slide chicken onto rotisserie spit with legs downward. Brush chicken with melted butter or margarine. Roast 1 hour or according to manufacturer's instructions or roast in 375-degree oven 1 hour and 45 minutes in shallow pan. Chicken should be brown and drumstick should feel soft when pressed with fingers and test easily out of thigh joint. Remove chicken from spit or oven to heated platter. Serve with Winter Sauce. Makes 4 servings.

*WINTER SAUCE
1 can (1 pound) whole cranberry sauce
¼ cup raisins
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons water
¼ cup chopped hazelnuts or walnuts

Heat cranberry sauce in small saucepan until melted. Stir in raisins, salt, dry mustard, water and hazelnuts.

Cranberry Stars In This Pie

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Early American cooks liked to use cranberries for pies and tarts. Recipes directed that sugar be added to taste and as one long-ago cookbook suggested, "Add spices till grateful."

The following recipe for cranberry pie leaves nothing to the imagination because modern cooks like to use exact quantities. And another change has been made: apples are added because now that combination usually pleases.

CRANBERRY APPLE PIE
Pastry for 2 crusts
2½ cups fresh or frozen cranberries
1¼ cups sugar
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon butter

Prepare pastry for 2 crusts. Roll out 1 crust. Divide dough almost in half. Roll out larger half on a floured pastry cloth with floured stockinet-covered rolling pin to 1 inch larger around than an inverted 9-inch pie plate. Fill pastry into pie plate. Trim off overhanging edge. Roll out other part of dough for top crust. Roll enough to extend 1 inch beyond edge of pan.

Rinse and drain cranberries; coarsely chop and place in large bowl. Peel apples, cut into quarters, remove cores and slice ¼-inch thick—there should be 2 cups. Add apples to cranberries. Mix together the sugar, flour, salt and cinnamon and add; mix gently but well. Turn into pastry lined plate. Dot with butter.

Make several slits in top crust, near center, to allow steam to escape. Place top pastry over filling. Fold edge of top pastry under edge of bottom pastry; flute edge.

Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven until apples are tender and pastry is browned—40 to 45 minutes.

Cake bakers are an artful group and enjoy trying new recipes. Turning out a confection that is handsome to look at and that has a delicious flavor and interesting texture is of prime importance to these specialists. A different cake that is an eye-ful for either Washington's Birthday or Valentine's Day is a Cherry Cake Delight. It combines chopped nuts and enriched cornmeal with cherry pie filling and is topped with a frosting of whipped cream.

CHERRY CAKE DELIGHT
Cake
1 cup milk
½ cup enriched cornmeal
8 eggs
2 cups granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup finely chopped nuts
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
Cherry Filling
1 (1 lb. 5-oz.) can cherry pie filling
2 tablespoons Kirsch or cranberry juice
Whipped Cream Frosting
1 cup well-chilled whipping cream
¼ cup confectioners sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla
Peel and grate 1 cup butter.
Peel and grate 1 cup butter.
Scald milk; gradually add cornmeal, stirring constantly; set aside. Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly until light and fluffy. Add vanilla. Stir in nuts and salt together. Fold in baking powder and salt; stir into creamed mixture. Gradually stir in milk-cornmeal mixture.

Preheat oven at 350 degrees. Scald milk; gradually add cornmeal, stirring constantly; set aside. Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly until light and fluffy. Add vanilla. Stir in nuts and salt together. Fold in baking powder and salt; stir into creamed mixture. Gradually stir in milk-cornmeal mixture.

We The Women:

By Betty Canary

Today was my official last day of the Christmas season. I always make the nerve to check up on the wrapping paper from under the rug and pick the lot of the sequins and glue off the dining room table.

WHY DON'T YOU FIND A NICE FRIENDLY SUPER MARKET AND SETTLE DOWN?

PRICES EFFECTIVE FEB. 2-8, 1972

Everybody wants to save money... but let's face it. Trying to figure out the lowest food prices in Orlando area can be a full time job. By the time you drive in and out of half a dozen parking lots on a busy Saturday afternoon trucking every special in town, you begin to wonder if it's worth it. It isn't. Somebody has already made a full time job out of keeping track of every food price in town. We have. And here's the fact of the matter: Instead of going all over town for everyone's hottest specials, if you simply fill your list at Fairway, you'll be time and money ahead.

The total at the bottom of the tape will be the place to see your savings. Week in, week out shopping at Fairway for your GROCERIES, MEATS, BAKERY, PRODUCE AND DELICATESSEN will surely save you money. If you "GO STEADY" with us, you'll be pleased as punch with our cleaner stores, our friendly people and our personal service. We run our ads for a full week Wednesday through Tuesday (including Sunday), we do not demand "in-in" orders to purchase specials, there are no limits and no gimmicks. We think you should be ready to "settle down" with Fairway.

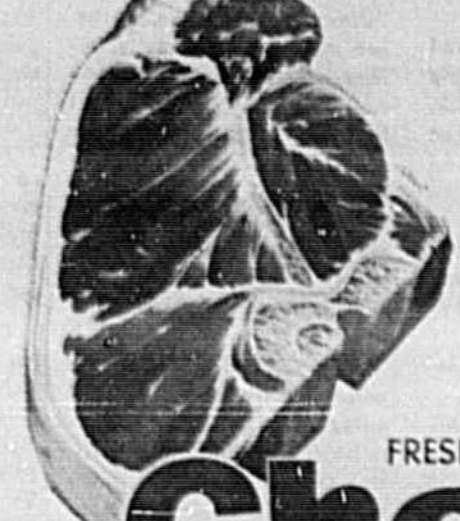

We don't think a nice girl like you be running around with every super market in town.

 64th Year, No. 119 Price 10 Cents

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

This one is going to be long... but, I wouldn't cut one word from this column which appeared in the SAN FRANCISCO SUNDAY EXAMINER & CHRONICLE on Dec. 26th. (That date is important in helping to establish the theme of writer Guy Wright's thoughts on the POW issue.)

Normally, I wouldn't spend too much time on a letter which the writer didn't have the courage to sign his name to it, but this one had the feminine touch to it, and if I'm not too badly mistaken, the Sanford postmark on the envelope would confirm my suspicions that it probably was mailed to me by a wife of a POW.

There's so much I'd like to say on this subject. Thankfully, reporter Wright has taken the words out of my mouth and created an excellent column on this matter.

Read it carefully, won't you? If our prisoners of war aren't home from Hanoi by next Christmas, I shall suggest that every house in America display a black wreath of mourning in instead of holly and mistletoe.

I mean that most sincerely and urge you to think on it.

As this Christmas season progresses I found myself thinking more and more about those men and finding it harder and harder to justify the limbo in which we have left them.

For their families this Christmas must be a wormwood time. Our festivity must strike them like an affront.

Lt. Everett Alvarez Jr. of Santa Clara has been held prisoner since Aug. 5, 1964. He and his wife had been married only two months when he was shot down on his first mission.

Major Robert L. Sturm of Foster City has four young children who haven't seen him for five Christmases.

The list is long.

To hope these men will be home next Christmas is to hope the war will be over by then. There is no other way to bring them back.

Appeals to Hanoi for mercy won't do it.

Pilgrimages to Paris won't do it.

Payment of ransom, a la Bob Hope's offer, won't set them free.

People who attempt to obtain their release in these ways simply don't understand what the men in Hanoi want, although they have told us clearly enough.

They want us to get out and let them take over.

And they won't settle for anything less.

People who try to bargain for release of the prisoners only confirm the wisdom of holding them hostage toward that goal.

Nor does it do any good to try to whip world opinion against Hanoi for refusing to release them.

Prisoners of war customarily are kept until the war ends. The rest of the world knows this, even though we may try to obscure it.

If we make a moral issue of the imprisonment of our men, the debate must be among ourselves, not with Hanoi.

The debt a nation owes its war prisoners is more complicated than its debt to its war dead.

Death is a random bullet. The Chairman Douglas Stenstrom said that State Secretary of Transportation Ed Mueller had accepted the invitation to the Feb. 16 luncheon meeting in Sanford, at which time support will be generated for Lake County in its quest to improve the "link" of SR 45 between Mt. Dora and Sanford. When this stretch of road is finally improved, it will provide a more preferable route connecting I-75 and I-95, a portion of the ultimate Atlantic-Gulf highway.

After hearing a presentation by Seminole County Engineer Bill Bush in regards to the problems the county is encountering in getting two "bottlenecks" resolved — the intersections of 14 and SR 436 (Priority No. 1) and SR 436 and U.S. 1792 (Priority No. 2), the Sanford Chamber passed a motion to direct its efforts to also aid in eliminating the traffic congestion at these two points.

State Registration Of Voters Is Urged By Seminole Council

By BILL SCOTT

Seminole Neighborhood United Council (SNUC), a predominantly black citizens group, today petitioned Florida Secretary of State Richard Stone to assign a state registrar to Seminole County to register voters.

In a telegram to Stone, SNUC accused Mrs. Camilla Bruce, county election supervisor, of contradicting state statute 98.031, covering voter registration as well as Gov. Reubin Askew's proclamation of voter registration month.

The telegram to Stone declared: "Seminole County election supervisor has refused requests or is unable to bring voter registration books to black communities of the county."

The communication continued: "Since only a small percentage of eligible Negro voters are presently registered, this is an urgent matter. We request you immediately assign a state registrar to register work in Seminole County during the evenings of Feb. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12; from 5 p.m. until 9 p.m.

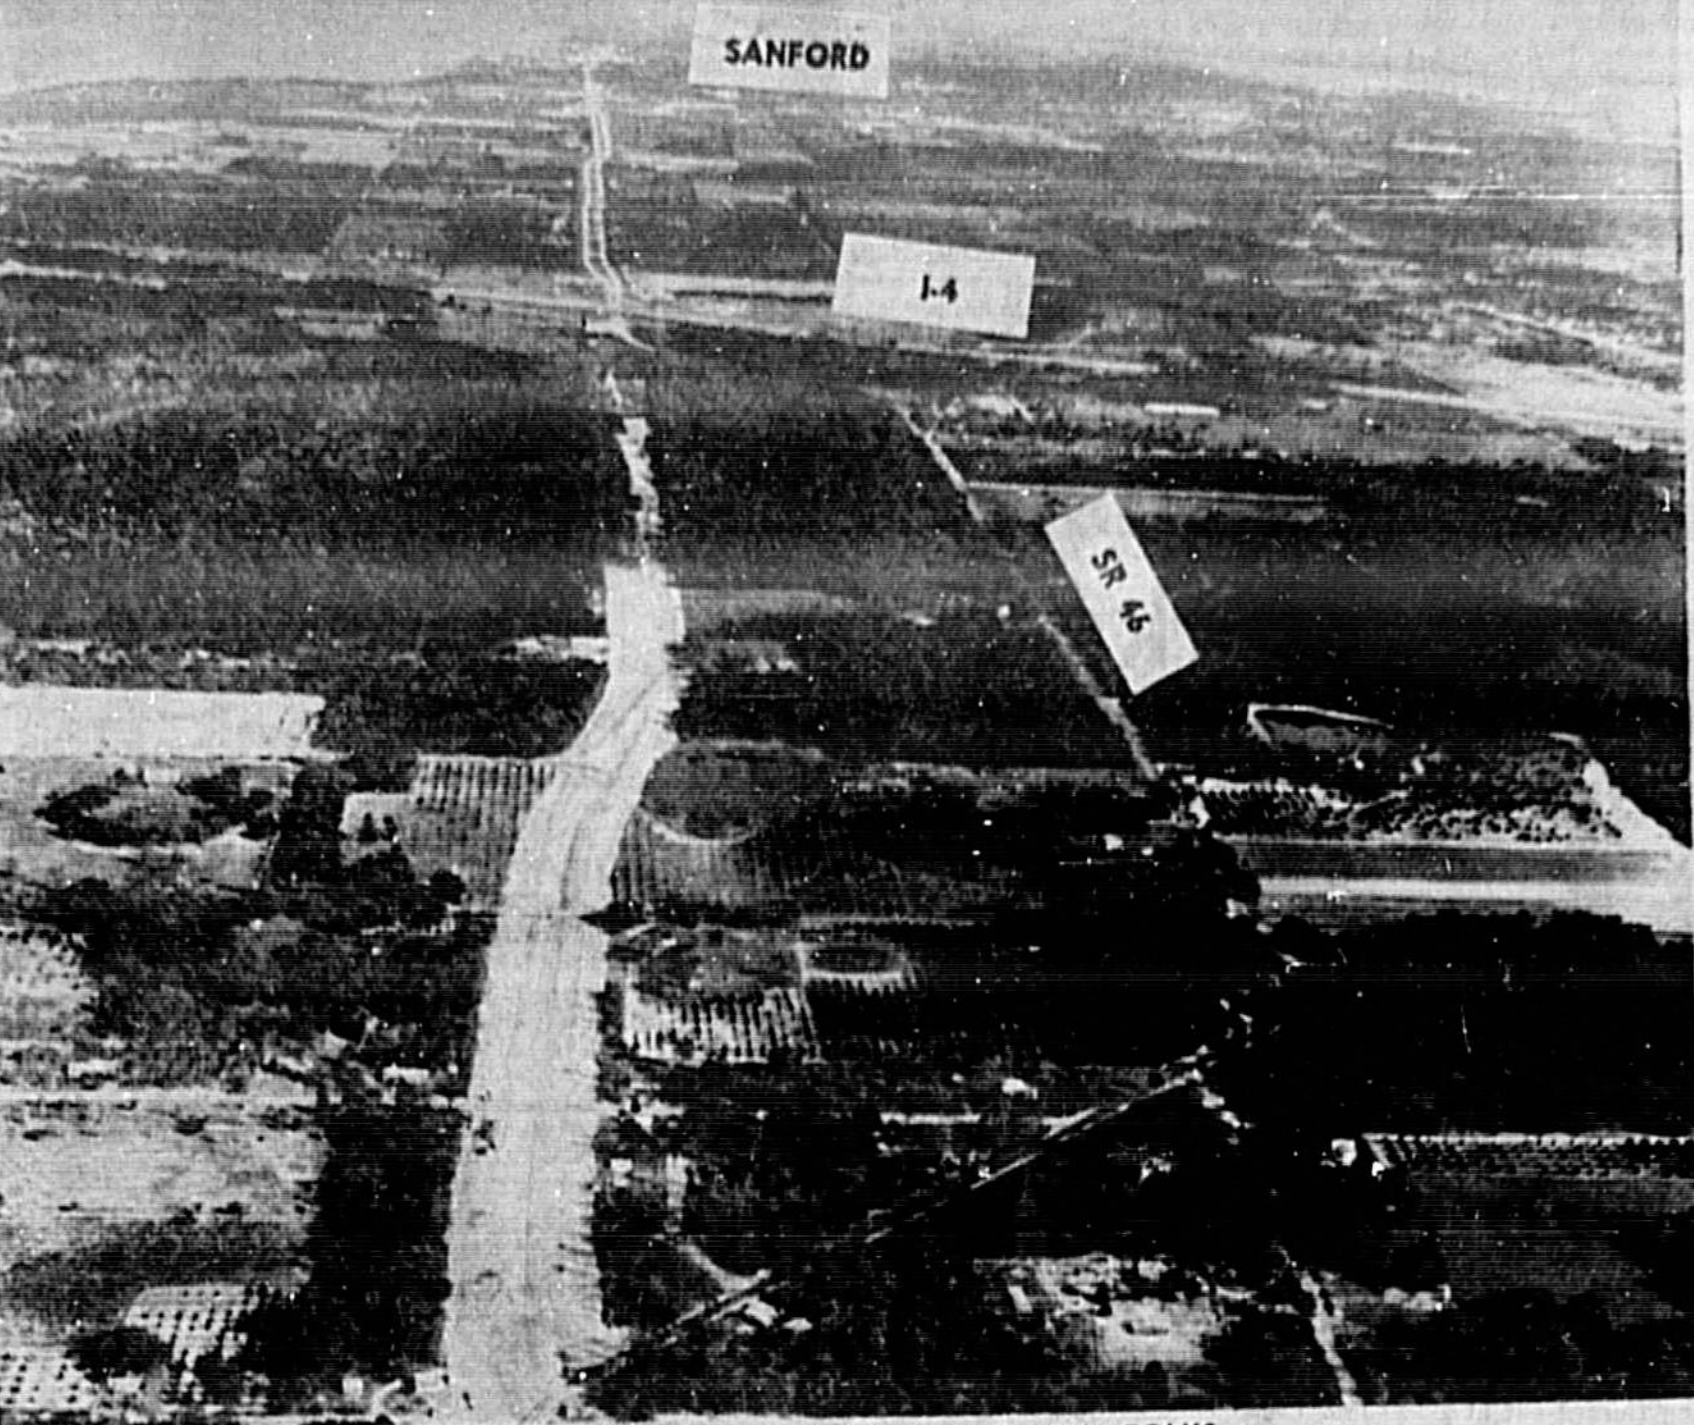

SNUC promised to provide deputy registrars as well as appropriate buildings for the registration drive.

The urgency of the receipt of the communication and anticipated action by Stone is borne out by the fact that registration books are scheduled to close Feb. 12, nine days from now, according to the Governor's voting proclamation, the county registrars are urged to "make efforts to register voters in the ghetto, nursing homes, colleges and wherever else the citizens of Florida may be reached."

Fred Mosley, SNUC political chairman, said his organization had been endeavoring to register Negro voters county-wide but quoted Mrs. Bruce there was so way the registration books could be brought out before the March 14 presidential preference primary.

Contacted this morning at her court house office, Mrs. Bruce said she did not refuse to register voters in black communities but could not do it before the March 14 primary.

Exceptional Child Program Is Slated

Mrs. Mary Wilsenker, co-ordinator of exceptional child education for Seminole County, will be the guest speaker at the Seminole Mental Health Association general meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday evening, Feb. 14, in the Mental Health Center 103 Robin Road Altamonte Springs.

Her topic: "The Emotionally Socially Maladjusted Child" will be followed by color film "Gateway To Tomorrow" which concerns the Gateway School in Orange County where many of the disturbed Seminole County children are being sent.

The program arranged by Mrs. Angeline Taylor SMHA program chairman and audio-visual aide supervisor for Seminole County will be brief timely and enlightening on some of the problems and remedies for the high percentage of disturbed children in the area. All interested persons are urged to attend and bring friends.

Mueller Accepts Bid To Meeting Here

 An Atlantic Gulf Highway, time-table of SR 46 from the Wekiva River to 14, endorsing priorities on traffic bottlenecks within the county, a public hearing on Feb. 29 in regards to the Sanford New Smyrna Bridge (Osten), a proposed meeting of Brevard, Lake and Seminole County officials for Wednesday, the 16th of this month... or of these items were touched upon this morning in an hour-long meeting of the Roads and Bridge Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Chairman Douglas Stenstrom said that State Secretary of Transportation Ed Mueller had accepted the invitation to the Feb. 16 luncheon meeting in Sanford, at which time support will be generated for Lake County in its quest to improve the "link" of SR 45 between Mt. Air Control Tower Need Discussed

Sanford Airport Authority this morning approved preliminary steps that may lead to the establishing of a control tower at Sanford Airport.

Authority approved a motion by Dr. Robert Rosemond, chairman of a three-man tower committee, to pursue certain phases that would ultimately lead to the revamping of the old Navy control tower to house the air control unit. Dr. Rosemond appointed John Fife, Patrick and Joe Baker, authority members, to explore financing the staffing and rehabilitating the old tower. Dr. Rosemond will examine costs of equipping the unit.

Authority attorney W. C. Hutchison cautioned that under the lease with Page Airways, Inc., airport's front base operator is committed to establishing the tower. "Page benefits from a tower more than the authority and documented to us when they came here what they would do," he continued. "It was documented in the lease that they would establish a tower when needed." He cautioned the three-man committee to explore more financial participation by Page.

The fixed base operator has agreed to increase its return from sales of aviation fuel by one cent a gallon to $1.00 to bring in an estimated $3,500 a year as its share toward the tower, according to J. S. Cleveland, airport manager.

Dr. Rosemond mentioned the overall costs of equipping, staffing and revamping the old tower for use would run at $25,000. After the initial investment for equipment and rehabilitation, the only costs would be for staffing.

Replying to Hutchison's comments on more participation by Page, Dr. Rosemond declared, "I don't want to see a hassle with Page delaying the airport getting a tower."

Hutchison replied, "But, that's what they said they would do," he added, "We already are in a hassle with Page over the interpretation of the fuel agreement."

The attorney concluded: "I don't believe the offer of a cent a gallon for fuel would fulfill Page's agreement."

Don Katsch, Page's air terminal manager, commented the lease paragraph is vague and referred more to a Union

Fulmer's Chart Confirmed

The jaw bone dug from the site of the Little Wekiva River just off SR 436 near Altamonte Springs located in October, 18, Michigan youth who came to Orlando in Karl and disappeared a few days later.

This was confirmed today by Sanford dentist Dr. John W. Epps, who compared the dental charts sent here by Dr. Paul Spoeler, Gross Point, Mich., for comparison with the jaw bones recovered by searchers, acting on a tip from a long-haired informant that Palmer was murdered and his body left in the undergrowth along the Little Wekiva.

Dr. Epps opinion was "the dental records and mandible (jaw bone) are on the same person."

While the state was giving final identification on Palmer's body the Seminole County Grand Jury today was in session to consider indicting Louis Gattis, former Winter Park man, for the youth's murder. Gattis was arrested Friday on first degree murder charges and is lodged in the county jail.
