Williams Hammock Plan May Replace Moratorium

Herald Staff Writer All plans to build on property in Seminole's Spring Hammock will require county commission perusal before any further building is done, if commissioners at next Tuesday's meeting approve a proposal by Commission Chairman Dick Williams.

On Tuesday, commissioners instructed the county's planning department to establish hammock boundaries, the first step toward requiring the commission stamp of approval for all building projects.

Williams said the new tactic is "in lieu" of a moratorium on all construction in the 330-acre Spring Hammock, something conservationists asked for until the county's comprehensive land plan is adopted in October. The controversy surfaced shortly after the commission on Dec. 14 rezoned four acres near the hammock to pave the way for construction of a Baird-Ray Datsun dealership fronting U.S. 17-92.

The Sierra Club and the League of Women voters protested the vote. claiming the hammock is too important to the county to take a chance of harming the area's natural water filtering system. Both groups asked for a moratorium But Williams said today his proposal is "faster" than a building ban because action can be taken by the commission at next Tuesday's meeting. Williams said it takes a "long hearing process" to establish a moratorium.

The chairman was acting on a memorandum from Asst. County Atty Gary Siegel. In the memo, Siegel said the county legally can declare a moratorium. But Siegel also pointed out eight months month moratorium because by October the county's comprehensive land plan is scheduled for adoption.

And, environmentalists say the plan will define the hammock as an environmentally sensitive area to Seminole. As such, they say it should be left undeveloped.

Commissioner John Kimbrough said Tuesday's instruction to planners was to "define what the hammock area is." No one actually decided the car lot was in the hammock. Some officials said it was, while others said the dealership which is near General Hutchison Park-

Wins Release Of Hostage

WARRENSVILLE HEIGHTS, Ohio (AP) -A black gunman released unharmed today the white policeman he had held hostage for 45 hours while complaining of oppression of blacks and demanding that whites leave the planet within seven days, police said.

The release came shortly after President Carter repeated during a nationally televised news conference his earlier promise to speak with gunman Cory Moore after the hostage, Capt. Leo Keglovic, was freed.

Moore gave his two handguns to Keglovic and the police captain then led him out of the city hall room where the siege had taken place and turned him over to police who waited in the corridor, Police Chief Craig Merchant

CAREY, Ohio (AP) - A dynamite blast felt 100 miles away in Michigan tore through a rock quarry in rural Wyandot County today, hurling debris for a mile and causing damage to homes in a five-mile radius. There were no reports of injuries.

Communication Gap Of Nations

It was regrettable that fewer than 150 of the 435 members of our House of Representatives were present in the Capitol in Washington to hear a talk by Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo. Congressional staff members and pages filled the empty seats. The speech came at the conclusion of Lopez Portillo's four-day state visit. He got a better reception in the White House than he did on Capitol

Senators did not hear the Mexican president's half-hour address because the U.S. Senate was in recess.

The few congressmen who did attend the session sat silent except for one burst of applause, which came when Lopez Portillo declared, "Mexico must solve its own problems. . ."

Such a reception for our President if he addressed the Mexican federal Congress in Mexico City would have given us cause for concern. It must be said that a certain communications gap appeared in reading the text of the Lopez Portillo speech as it was published in several

And the problem of illegal immigration by Mexican citizens into the United States was dismissed in a single sentence that expressed little understanding of the trouble that this problem is causing the U.S. "It is understandable," said the Mexican president, "that many of our men want to work in your country in order to improve their standard of living, as has been the case in other times and other places."

We do have common problems, shared across the border. We do want to be good neighbors. We must make a greater effort at understanding, on both sides of the border.

White Collar Abuse

A special drug enforcement unit operating in the San Francisco and Los Angeles areas last year bagged some unusual suspects. It arrested 48 physicians, six pharmacists, five registered nurses, two podiatrists, two veterinarians and

These defendants were charged with illegally dispensing drugs that are otherwise legal — mainly tranquilizers and painkillers. They were catering to a type of addict more numerous in our society than those hooked on illegal drugs and narcotics. And those 64 professional people arrested for willfully catering to drug abusers represent only a part of the problem. Many doctors and pharmacists are unwittingly involved by being careless in the way they prescribe drugs or fill prescriptions. The number of "white-collar addicts" turning up in hospital emergency rooms tells us that the drug problem in our society has a dimension greater than what might have been assumed. Some drugs considered to be harmless by doctors who prescribe them are turning out to be a pitfall for patients prone to abuse them, and it is apparent that the system for controlling their use and detecting their abuse needs tightening up. The health care professions should see the statistics on abuse of prescription drugs as a warning. This will become a growing law enforcement problem only to the extent that professional organizations and licensing boards fail to enforce standards of ethics and competence with the machinery they have at their disposal. It is preferable for professional boards to police the handling of prescription drugs, rather than to have outside enforcement agents seeking access to medical records that are supposed to be confidential. If there is a need for doctors and other professionals to be more cautious in dispensing tranquilizers, sedatives and pain remedies, there is just as much need for caution in the people

Now Tea Starts On Balloon Ride

LONDON (AP) - Coffee drinkers who switched to tea to save money will soon find the cost of the substitute rising.

London dealers said that the price of tea is about to soar all over the world, and a cup in Britain may cost twice as much this summer as it does now.

They said a key reason for booming prices is that many consumers are turning from increasingly expensive coffee to cheaper beverages, particularly tea.

London auction prices rose from $1.20 a kilogram (2.2 pounds) on Feb. 28, 1976, to $2.57 a kilo on the same day this year. At Monday's auction the price hit $2.90 a kilo.

security guards may be hired at Seminole County schools to combat a growing increase in locker thefts. The hiring of additional security personnel is one of many years, Layer said. The most recent theft case involves a Oviedo High School student whose parents claim items valued at $50 were removed from their son's locker during physical education class. Joe Nelson, whose son was a theft victim, told board members at their regular meeting Wednesday night that a wire-mesh fence

"amazed that we have the theirery we do in schools" and that his son had recently had a suit of clothes removed from his locker. He said, however, that the schools cannot be held responsible. Nelson complained that lockers at Oviedo High were poorly constructed and easily entered. Layer said money had been budgeted to replace the older lockers.

Legal Team Moving To Seminole

By JANE CASSELBERRY

Expanded legal services on a full-time basis will soon be available to the poor of Seminole County. Central Florida Legal Services, Inc. is moving into upstairs offices at 114 S. Park Ave., Sanford, and hopes to be open by the latter part of March or the first part of April.

Legal Services, moving here from its DeLand office, will be sharing the office space with the Seminole County Legal Aid Society office maintained by the Seminole County Bar Assn. The managing attorney for the Legal Services office will be Treena Kaye, a University of Florida College of Law graduate, who had been in legal services for two years in Augusta, Ga., before joining Central Florida Services. The multi-county program is federally funded through Legal Services Corp. of Daytona Beach. .

Also moving to the Sanford office will be staff attorney Tobe Lev, a Temple University law school graduate, and Evelyn Golden, a certified legal intern. There will be two secretaries and a receptionist. Miss Kaye hopes to be able to get college students in a para-legal program to intern in the office under the supervision of an attorney.

She said guidelines for eligibility for the free legal services are based on the financial situation, size of amily and type of case. A family of four earning $5,500 a year, for xample would probably qualify. Clients range from welfare mothers, the elderly living on Social Security, to farm workers and families in which the breadwinner has been laid off. The office will handle only civil matters, not criminal cases, which are handled by the public

Types of cases Legal Services will be handling include: domestic relations, such as divorce and custody; consumer, such as loans and repossessions; housing (evictions, and foreclosures) and administrative law dealing with problems with services such as food stamps, workman's compensation, Medicare, Medicaid, unemployment compensation, Social Security, and Aid For Dependent Children.

As a community education project, Ms. Kaye said they will welcome invitations to speak to clubs and churches in the area. She said the staff wants to have good relations with the local community. "We will not be taking business away from the attorneys, she explained. "It has been our experience that the people we serve would not see an attorney otherwise as they could not afford it," she Sharing the office suite with Legal Aid will mean savings and convenience for both, she said. Ms.

Kaye said Legal Aid has tighter eligibility requirements and Legal Services with its staff of full-time attorneys will serve many of those the Aid Society is unable to help. Those qualifying for assistance from the Legal Aid Society are referred to local attorneys, who may already have a heavy caseload in their private

Ms. Kaye said counties are funded on the basis of census figures. The board of directors of Legal Services Corp. applied for federal funding to open the Seminole County office essentially because there is a need to provide a greater range of services here and a full-time staff, she said.

Ms. Kaye said office hours will be Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Those with civil legal problems are invited to fill out an application. Phone number: 322-8983.

The Legal Aid Society, operated by Jan Hasson, will reopen Friday at the new Park Avenue location.
