House Probers Call FCC Boss 'On The Carpet'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House investigators called the boss of the Federal Communications Commission on the carpet today to explain why he downgraded their charges of broadcasting "payola."

FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer was summoned to an afternoon hearing as the subcommittee turned its attention to what agencies have done to stamp out payola and other radio-TV deception.

In response to questions about published reports, Doerfer said before the start of the inquiry that he was a guest last month on the luxury yacht of a broadcasting company president off the coast of Florida.

Doerfer told a reporter that he played bridge on the cabin cruiser of Lacy G. Storer, Storer's president of the Storer Broadcasting Co. He said that along with other guests he was invited on a 50 to 60-mile trip in the Gulf. The FCC chief said that it was purely social.

Two years ago Doerfer was questioned by House investigators about a free trip to Miami and the Bahamas in Storer's private plane.

Preliminary surveys for reappraisal and readjustment for the 1960 tax roll in the Bear Lake area have been completed, Tax Assessor Richard McCanna said today.

Comparative studies along with an analysis of recent sales indicates some substantial reduction of assessed valuation will be forthcoming for the 1960 roll, McCanna added.

The Bear Lake area, McCanna said, has been the first area studied under the new reappraisal and adjustment program due to the number of complaints received on the 1959 assessment roll.

McCanna also emphasized again today the need for all business persons to file personal property tax returns before March 31.

Rash Of Holdups Hit Dade County
MIAMI (UPI)—A night service station attendant was robbed and shot four times early today and another died from wounds suffered in an earlier attack, the second death in four filling station holdups in the area since Monday.

Sheriff Thomas J. Kelly immediately cancelled all vacations and days off for the detective division and ordered an "all out effort" to solve the cases.

Detectives said the four cases may be connected.

Jack Lincoln Beecher, 26, was shot three times in the head and once in the back at the rear of a southwest section station about 3 a. m. After the robber took an undetermined amount of money, Beecher crawled to a telephone and notified the operator who contacted police.

Beecher was hospitalized in critical condition, present prognosis is poor.

Kenneth Mezzarano, 21, shot down in the second of two service station holdups Monday, died in a hospital about five hours after Beecher had been shot.

GOP Rejects Move To Halt Rights Talkathon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said today a proposed Democratic civil rights compromise aimed at ending the Senate filibuster stalemate is unacceptable.

He announced he was turning down the proposal on a preliminary basis as Senate Republicans met to discuss the situation and the non-stop debate on civil rights reached the 72-hour stage.

The Illinois Republican told newsmen that while no formal compromise approach had been made to him, he "definitely" rejected a suggestion that the Republicans abandon the seven-point administration rights bill in favor of the watered down measure.

The compromise was shaped up by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, who said it is substantially the same as a voting rights bill offered in the House by a Republican member.

Dirksen said Johnson informally suggested at one point that he would draw the administration "backpack" and consider just one amendment to guarantee voting rights. The Republican said he "definitely could not" agree to that.

Dirksen said he would find out at the GOP lunch meeting how the Republicans feel about trying to invoke cloture—a seldom used gag rule to cut off debate.

One southern leader, who asked not to be identified, said he foresees no chance of a compromise jelling at least before the coming weekend.

Riot Mars Visit's End

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI)—American officials hailed today President Eisenhower's tour of South America as an unqualified personal success which had raised the stock of the United States in the area—at least for the time being.

They admitted, however, they were worried about what might happen when the rosy glow generated by the visit fades.

These officials face the task of finding some way of transplanting into specific action the generalised promises made by Eisenhower concerning intensified U. S. cooperation in the economic betterment of the hemisphere.

Eisenhower magnificently vast crowds in Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay with his personal appeal and appeared to have left citizens feeling that the United States was going to move quickly to do more for them in the future.

The American officials acknowledged that unless the warm feeling left in Eisenhower's wake is followed by definite actions, the good effects of his tour will not last long. Meanwhile a heavily guarded President Eisenhower left Uruguay today for home, ending the tour that was marred in Montevideo by student riots and a tear gas barrage that sent tears streaming down his face.

Eisenhower took off aboard the propeller-driven Columbia III for Buenos Aires today. He is expected to arrive in the Argentine capital at 10 a. m. local time. He will be met there by the Argentine president, Juan Peron.

President Peron, who was in Argentina greeted him at the Buenos Aires airport during the 30-minute visit. He had received another great welcome when he visited Buenos Aires last week, and an honor guard of Argentine troops was waiting today.

Unusually heavy security precautions were placed in effect at the U. S. embassy in Montevideo where he spent the night, at the helicopter pad where he took off for Carrasco airport and at the airport itself where he boarded the Columbia this cool, cloudy morning.

Escapee Nabbed By City Police

A city prisoner who took off from a work gang today didn't get far.

Entry was gained into the church by breaking open the front door. The theft was discovered early Wednesday.

Seminole Advised To Tell Story To Draw Industries

Seminole County has what industry wants but its citizens must sell Sanford and the county to get more industry to come here, Atlantic Coast Line industrial agent heard of Sanford, he added.

"You're going to have to tell the Sanford story. It's that simple," Warrell stressed.

He said it's sometimes hard to sell industrial development in Florida because so many tourists who pass through build industrial castles in the air, but never follow up. New industry near the railroad will benefit the train lines because of the added freight traffic, but it also will benefit the community, Warrell said.

The agent pointed out that more diversified industrial products have been added to the rail export of Florida agricultural goods during the past 10 years.

Warrell said that the ACL is anxious to help industries find locations near its rail lines. He said industrialists also look for good sanitary and industrial waste disposal systems, and good roads near their plants.

3 Cars Damaged In Road Mishap

Edith Dagle's car hit Goldfield's auto which was in front of her. Nadler, of New Rochelle, N. Y., was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control.

Elvis To Rock 'n' Roll Minus Sideburns

ST. DIX, N. J. (UPI)—Sgt. Elvis Presley, setting foot on American soil today for the first time in 18 months, promptly vowed to stand by rock 'n' roll music as long as the public wants it.

"I will never abandon it as long as people keep appreciating it," Presley told a Hollywood style news conference.

He arrived at this military base about 7:30 a. m. with 78 other GIs and their families after a flight from Frankfurt, Germany.

More than 200 persons, including screaming teenagers greeted Presley as he stepped off an Air Force transport.

Presley said he had been "too nervous to sleep" on the flight over.

His news conference in a service club on the post turned into a near-mob scene, with photographers pressing in for more and more pictures. He posed with several female admirers and kissed them at the demand of the cameramen.

Hollywood added a touch of glamour to the scene. Nancy Sinatra, daughter of singer Frank Sinatra, and flame-haired actress Tina Louise were on hand to greet the teenagers' idol.

Presley will appear on Sinatra's television show May 1.

Presley told newsmen his immediate plans were to visit his home in Memphis and then plunge into television and motion picture work.

He called his Army tour a "good experience," but said it left him little time for privacy.

Presley said he expected to do without the long sideburns of his pre-Army career.

Presley said he found German and American girls about the same and that he had met only one Russian female. He called her "pretty shapely."

Col. Tom Parker, Presley's manager, said Presley would get $125,000 for a guest appearance on Sinatra's show. He also said Elvis has seven pictures lined up over the next few years and will earn nearly three quarters of a million dollars, plus a percentage of the profits, on the first three.

It will take him nearly three days to get rid of his khaki knapsacks and Army boots and take his blue suede shoes and guitar.

Sitdown Demonstrations Spread To Daytona Beach

TAMPA (UPI)— Young Negroes planned more sitdowns at segregated eating facilities here today with a warning to "turn the other cheek" if confronted with violence. The sitdowns spread Wednesday from here to St. Petersburg, Sarasota, and Daytona Beach and more were expected.

State NAACP President A. Leon Lowry lectured some 50 members of the all-Negro Tampa Youth Council Wednesday night on the strategy of passive resistance. The council staged two sitdowns here Wednesday and one Monday.

Lowry, addressing the youths assembled at his church, said many white residents of Tampa were sympathetic with the cause. "Many (white) people are with you as long as you behave," he said.

The Negro minister urged the youths, many of them children, not to form gangs, carry weapons or provoke fights. "If a person calls you a nigger," Lowry said, "he's not referring to your color. Do not get angry. Remain respectful."

Lowry said it was easy to "take a pistol and settle something and hard to take the path of passive resistance and that is the way we want to go."

"By taking this path," he said, "we disturb the conscience of the people who mistreat us."

The NAACP - sponsored youth council, split into two groups, held sitdowns Wednesday at the P. W. Woolworth store and the S. H. Kress store.

At St. Petersburg, two Negroes sat down at the Kress lunch counter. Ten others did likewise at a Sarasota Woolworth store.

At Daytona Beach, about 30 Negro students staged a sitdown demonstration at the Woolworth store despite an earlier NAACP decision to protest segregated lunch counters with an economic boycott instead of sitdowns.

Threat Of Pestilence Hangs Over Quake-Hit City

AGADIR, Morocco (UPI)— Pestilence today threatened this devastated city where rescue teams of many nations picked through the ruins in search of the thousands feared buried in its rubble.

The national police head informed King Mohammed V the death toll may rise to 5,000 or 6,000—double the estimate of 3,000 fixed Wednesday by the International Red Cross. Disease could snuff out more.

Huge rats swarmed through the debris, occasionally brushing against the American, French and other rescue teams who with men from half a dozen other European nations tunneled cautiously under remaining ruins. Sewers ran open, contaminating even the sickly from the rubble by early today. The dead were buried in huge open trenches and quickly. The injured were being flown in a vast rescue operation to hospitals elsewhere in Morocco.

Drainage Project A Real Service

The first step in relieving the serious flooding conditions in the southeast end of the county may be undertaken soon thanks to a joint drainage improvement program of Seminole and Orange County and Winter Park.

Areas affected in Seminole are the Tanglewood and Temple Terrace sections which have been termed in "critical" need of drainage by county officials. These areas cover nearly 1,000 acres, according to County Engineer Robert Davis.

The plan would cost the three areas involved $872,060 and each would pay its own share of the project. Seminole would pay a little more than $160,000.

However, the plan provides that only those residents benefitting by it will be taxed and a drainage district set up.

The plan calls for a step by step program, with canals to be widened and dug in the areas involved as the first phase.

Davin said that once the overall plan is completed, flooding in the critical areas would be eliminated.

Control of the waters which plagued residents of these areas will be a real big accomplishment. It will take some time, but all those connected with planning the project have done a great service to homeowners who had the misfortune to locate on low lands.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Dolly's case is a classical example of the old adage that bad children usually have bad parents. But the parents may be guilty of sins of omission instead of commission.

Both types of adult sin can send a child straight from the high chair to the electric chair. Read yourselves by the tests below:

CASE D — 689; Dolly D., aged 7, is a brilliant girl.

"But, Dr. Crane," her teacher began, "Dolly seems to have absolutely no sense of property rights. 'If she were older, she'd be called a kleptomaniac. For she takes the toys and property of the other children whenever she wishes."

"It may be crayons and pencils or handkerchiefs and neckerchiefs of the time I try to correct her but five times this term I have had to send her to the principal because she has stolen property of other classmates."

"What is wrong with Dolly? Is she just a psychopathic personality in the making?"

Dickens describes the villain named Fagin who used to train youngsters to become pickpockets.

And every American parent would probably frown on such unscrupulous adult practices.

Yet Dolly's parents have deliberately taught her to steal not by any sin of commission but by their sin of omission!

Look at that word "omission" for it means she little babies straight to the electric chair.

For there is no such thing as inheriting criminality. But there is a direct road between the high chair and the electric chair.

Dolly's parents are certainly accessories to her crimes because of their "omission" of proper correction and even spankings:

For example, when she was a toddler, she'd grab the toys of other youngsters in the neighborhood. She'd bring home the tricycles or dolls or other prized possessions of her companions.

Daddy would smile indulgently and try to use the pun, "It just shows she has taking ways."

Or he would laughingly remark, "It just shows she takes things easy."

And mama thought it was rather cute that Dolly showed such possessive traits.

Besides, mama said she couldn't possibly punish Dolly, for her big tears just melted mama's resolution.

And daddy was equally lenient, so Dolly grew up with the tacit consent of her parents to her petty thievery.

Fences have no legal meaning to a dog, for he will leap over any fence within his jumping range and trespass on the owner's property.

The same holds true of a child until somebody erects MORAL FENCES in his conscience by teaching him THOU SHALT NOT STEAL.

For more than 2,000 years, good parents and teachers have been urging the 10 Commandments on children, as at Sunday School.

But Dolly's parents lastly stray home from church and don't even send their daughter to Sunday School where some other generous soul would donate time to help build moral fences in the minds of children.

"If the blind lead the blind, both will fall into the pit," states the Bible, and that includes Dolly as well as her parents.

Criminality and lawlessness are often taught by parental sin of omission just as effectively as by Fagin's sin of commission, so get help!

Send for the 300-page "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus fee (non-profit). Rates yourselves or let your older youngsters rate you parents thereof.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and $2 in cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

DEPTH BOMB, OR DUD?

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — In this age of nervous talk about 30-minute total wars, it was kind of restful to hear Dangerous Dan Flood (R., Pa.) wading up on some old-fashioned arguments about the foot soldier.

While Congress and the White House are cajoling and shouting in terms of instant superatomic warfare and 15,000-mile-an-hour missiles, there were these officers saying that their troops are training with equipment no better than what the Army used in World War II or the Korean conflict.

In fact, one general calmly conceded to Flood that in the event of sudden mobilization, our ready reserves would not be ready for four months.

Gen. Frederick M. Warren, chief of the Army Reserves, was on the stand before the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee.

"How long," asked Flood, "would it take you to put a good—not average, not the poorest, your best—reserve division in the line?"

Said the general, if he could get all the modern equipment he needed, it would be "M plus 18 to 20 weeks."

Testimony also indicated that some of our two million-plus reserves—those now in training—are not the physical specimen of our marching soldiers of the past.

The Congressman, who actually professes great respect for the reserves, especially his own "hot" 28th Division of Pennsylvania, shot this question at Warren:

"What about the physical condition of these people in the reserve? I see some pretty sad sacks and sometimes they go by with half of the platoon looking like Japanese wrestlers—both officers and men."

Said the general, fending off the accusation: "They must not be reservists."

And Flood grumbled: "I can tell them from across the street."

He put the same question to Gen. Donald McGowan, who heads the National Guard. The general

The Herald has championed the move for a new Seminole County Jail and a new wing to our hospital, and has recently reported progress toward achieving same. It is the matter of their architectural design that might now be profitably brought before the public.

Call it "erivative journalism" or "reporting in depth," your press can perhaps serve to enlighten us citizens as to the very best informed ideas on what such institutions should be.

Will we have utilitarian structures in keeping with our modern, noble Auditorium?

If a house is "a machine for (family) living," what is a 1960 jail meant to facilitate? Other than the obvious objective of physical restraint, what functional considerations should a 1960 jail design facilitate?

With the jail "going up," it seems to me an excellent opportunity for us all to think—with the experts—on these questions. Should a jail of the future be predominately punitive or therapeutic in tone? How can we create an atmosphere that elevates the human soul, yet deters social misconduct? Or, should a jail's facilities and administration indeed take any constructive cognizance of the failures of family, school, church, society, etc., that are manifest in its charges?

WASHINGTON SEE-SAW by Win Pendleton

Congressman Charlie Bennett this week introduced a bill that might well be the implementing move toward the construction of the Cross-Florida Barge Canal. For years, the canal has lacked the go-ahead of Congress because the proposal for it did not show a high enough "economic ratio." The "economic ratio" is the yard stick that Congress must use for determining which Public Works projects receive the appropriations.

It has long been recognized that the strongest reason for building the Cross-Florida Canal is for its possible role in national defense rather than its everyday economic value. But, under the present method of approving projects, there is no way for Congress to take into consideration the defense aspect of the canal—just its economic ratio.

Bennett's proposal would permit Congress to weigh the defense values along with the economic values when considering any Public Works project.

Bennett said that if his bill passes, the Florida Canal project should "sail through with flying colors" because it is a long established fact that it would be a life saver in the transportation of petroleum products from the Gulf to the East Coast.

"I think," Bennett said, "this one use of the canal would justify it ten times over from a National Defense point of view."

This is an item about how the U. S. Army is a bit too up-to-date. From all of the public debate now going on about our "defense posture" you might think the Army couldn't possibly be ahead of itself, but in this case it was—and it took Congressman Bob Sikes to set them back where they belonged.

Shrove Tuesday Tea Deemed Big Success

The annual Shrove Tuesday tea, sponsored by Holy Cross Church at the home of Mrs. S. O. Chase Jr. in Belair Groves was a huge success.

The Episcopal Churchwomen succeeded in giving the women of Sanford a delightful and entertaining afternoon. Guests followed the many signs through the winding grove to the Chase home, where they were greeted at the door by the white rabbit (Chrissy Shelden) and the dutchess (Mrs. W. E. Kirchhoff).

The receiving line stood in front of the large stone fireplace in the living room. Receiving here were the Queen of Hearts (Mrs. S. O. Chase) — Alice in Wonderland, (Mrs. Tom McDonald)—The Five of Hearts (Mrs. John Thomas) and the Mad Hatter, himself (The Rev. Father John Thomas).

Refreshments were served in the dining room by four gracious queens, Mrs. R. A. Key, Mrs. John Gulesian, Mrs. W. H. Stewart and Mrs. Randall Chase.

The Dormouse (Sally Peterson) dozed in one corner of the living room while other hostesses, dressed as playing cards, made the guests feel welcome.

All characters made the "March Hare Tea Party" really come to life. Many out of town guests also helped to make the event one of the highlights of the social season.

Good Nutrition Helps Keep People Healthy

By MYRTIE C. WILSON
Home Demonstration Agent

The season of sneezes and chills—companions of colds, viruses, and influenza—is well underway with all its aches and pains. Although these complaints call for sound medical advice, any doctor will be the first to say that good nutrition will help the body resist such diseases.

In fact, often even that tired, let-down feeling can be traced right back to food—or rather to what we don't eat of the needed foods. Each day the body needs ample amounts of milk, fruits and vegetables, meats and eggs, and bread and cereals—the old familiar basic seven.

Growing children need a quart of milk daily, either as a drink or used in their food. Adults should drink at least one pint; as they grow older, this should be increased to three glasses a day. Milk, chief source of calcium, helps build strong bones.

"Five servings of vegetables and fruits, including at least one citrus fruit, are needed each day. Citrus fruits are high in vitamin C, which helps build resistance and ward off infection. Other fruits can be served in snacks, or appetizers. Vegetables—green or yellow—are full of vitamin A, so essential for proper bodily functions," says Miss Bonnie B. McDonald, Assistant Economist in Food Conservation.

Meat and eggs fill that important protein and vitamin need. Both may be served many ways. But for best results, roast, broil, or bake rather than fry meat, particularly if any calorie-counters are to eat it.

Covington Covers Sports

By JERRY COVINGTON

The Seminoles hit the first mile of their long journey to the State Tournament tonight when they go into the second round of the Group B district tourney at Ft. Pierce.

They face DeLand and the tilt will get underway at 9:45 p. m. in the Ft. Pierce High School gym.

The locals, who finished the regular season with a great 18-2 record, are favored to take the game tonight and there is every indication that they will meet powerful Cocco in the semi-finals Friday night. Seabreeze is favored to take their bracket of the tourney without much difficulty and the final game for the championship and a trip to Gainesville next week will probably be between the Sandcrabs and Cocco, everyone figures that the best way for any team to beat them is with a full court press and everyone knows that the Seminoles have the best one in the business. Christensen and Lundquist, with their great ball hawking, can break any ball game wide open.

We would like to take this opportunity to wish Coach Bud Lauer and his fine ball team the best of luck.

'Angry' Welter Contender Demands Title Fight With Champion Jordan

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Top-ranked welterweight Luis Rodriguez, fresh from a convincing unanimous decision over middleweight Chico Vejar, today angrily demanded a title fight with reluctant welter champion Lon Jordan.

"Why can't I fight him, why?" said Rodriguez, who displayed excellent speed, stamina and punching power Wednesday night against the heavier Vejar in a nationally televised 10-rounder.

"They tell me Benny Faret and Frederic Thompson are to be matched with the winner to meet Jordan," the 22-year-old Rodriguez said.

"I can't understand it. Faret is ranked fourth, Thompson ninth, and I'm No. 1 and have whipped Faret twice. It's just not right. I'm willing to fight Jordan any place, any time and for any end of the purse," Rodriguez said. "He won't get in the ring with me."

Wilt Wins Duel With Russell

By United Press International

Wilt Chamberlain and Bill Russell, the two titans of pro basketball, wound up their much-heralded duel in regular season play Wednesday night with the Bulls grabbing off the individual honors but the Boston Celtics winning the ball game once again.

The Celtics all-star backcourt duo of Bob Cousy and Bob Sharman, however, stole the spotlight in the 123-119 victory over the Philadelphia Warriors. Sharman led Boston with 31 points, scoring 18 of them in the third period when the National Basketball Association champs broke the game wide open.

Bout Postponed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—The 10-round welterweight bout between Rudell Stitch and Randy Sandy, which was postponed Wednesday night, will be held March 30, promoter Bill King announced today. King said the fight was called off because of a snowstorm in the Louisville area which made driving extremely hazardous.

Trainer Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Walter (Whit) Ekwert, 63, trainer of world flyweight boxing champion Pancho Villa in the early 1920's, died Wednesday of an apparent heart ailment at his home. Cisco Andrade, a Los Angeles lightweight, was the last boxer of prominence trained by Ekwert.

Three Join NCAA Tourney Lineup; Nine Berths In Play Unfilled

United Press International

Western Kentucky, St. Joseph's (Pa.) and the Air Force Academy joined the lineup for the NCAA basketball tournament today, leaving nine berths in the 25-team field unfilled.

Western Kentucky clinched the Ohio Valley Conference title by whipping East Tennessee, 83-69, Wednesday night at Bowling Green, Ky. It earned the Hilltoppers an automatic berth in the NCAA Midwest regional opposite Miami (Fla.) at Lexington next week.

St. Joseph's, led by Jack Egan's 22 points, won the Middle-Atlantic Conference crown by outclassing Lafayette, 78-66, at Easton, Pa. This did not assure St. Joe's an automatic berth in the NCAA slugging, but conference officials are expected to name the Hawks as the league's representative today.

The Air Force Academy accepted an "at large" berth in the Midwest regional Wednesday night. The Falcons, who lost their first five games this season and then bounced back to win 11 of their next 15 outings, will meet DePaul in a first round game at a site and date to be announced later this week.

Regarding the nine open NCAA berths, six are reserved for the champions of undecided conference races. These include the Ivy League, Yankee, Big Eight, Missouri Valley, Skyline and West Coast conferences.

The Atlantic Coast Conference berth will be awarded to the winner of its annual post-season playoff tournament this weekend, while the two remaining "at large" teams in the Far West regional will be announced Sunday.

One of the Far West bids will go to either Oregon or Oregon State and the other will go either to Southern California or UCLA.

Utah State, although it still has a slim chance of overhauling Utah in the Skyline Conference race, virtually conceded the title to the Redskins Wednesday by accepting a conditional bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

The remaining two berths in the 1960-61 field are expected to be offered to LaSalle and Bradley.

Pairings for first round games in the NIT were announced Wednesday night. Villanova will meet Detroit and Providence faces Memphis State in the opening doubleheader next Thursday at Madison Square Garden.

Killebrew Out To Prove He's No Flash In Pan

United Press International

Harmon Killebrew set a 1960 goal of at least 45 home runs today to prove "I'm no flash in the pan."

"I just got into a slump," said the muscular Washington Senator third-baseman, explaining why he hit only 14 homers during the second half of the season after belting 28 in the first half. "I lost my strike zone and I did what I thought I should do when they're in a slump. I started pressing and I hit at bad pitches."

Killebrew, 32, stressed that he is looking forward with confidence to his second full year in the majors but said he isn't giving a thought to breaking Babe Ruth's record of 60 homers in one season. Some experts have predicted that Killebrew eventually will break the 33-year-old mark.

"No, I'm not thinking of that 60-record," said Killebrew after working out at Orlando, Wednesday. "But I really think I'll hit at least 45 homers because I'm anxious to prove I just wasn't a one-year wonder in '59."

Eager sluggers and reluctant slingers cornered most of the other headline space created by Wednesday's training camp workouts.

Frank Howard was the impressive slugger for the Los Angeles Dodgers at Vero Beach, while rookie George Coleman attracted most of the attention at the Cincinnati Reds' Tampa base. Howard, a 6-foot, 7-inch, 245-pounder, blasted numerous long drives in the Dodgers' morning and afternoon drills while Coleman, acquired from Cleveland during the winter, reached both the center and right field fences during Cincinnati's workout. Coleman is regarded as the "sleeper" in the Reds' Johnny Temple deal.

American League batting champion Harvey Kuenn and the Detroit Tigers were $7,500 apart after Kuenn cut his original demand of $30,000 to $47,500. The club has refused for weeks to budge from $40,000.

Pitcher Ryno Duren and infielder Andy Carey both balked at the New York Yankees' latest offers while Mickey Mantle sulked in Dallas, Tex., and said he planned to wait "for them to call me." Mantle and the Yankees are believed at least $8,000 apart.

In a television interview Wednesday night at Dallas, Mantle indicated he wouldn't mind being traded by the Yankees.

"I thought they (the Yankees) might have traded me last year to the Cleveland Indians," Mickey said. "I don't even know if I'd mind getting traded now or not, the way everything has been going."

Rocky Colavito showed up at the Cleveland Indians' camp Wednesday night at Tucson, Ariz., and "reluctantly" signed for a reported $35,000. The slugging outfielder, who hit 42 home runs last year, had been holding out for $37,500.

Bob Shaw, an 18-game winner in 1959, surprised the Chicago White Sox when he said he wanted to re-open negotiations on his contract while outfielder Gene Woodling and infielder Bill Klaus officially became Baltimore Orioles holdouts. White Sox Vice President Hank Greenberg said Shaw had agreed to terms but apparently thought it over and still wants another raise.

Manager Charlie Dressen said that both Red Schoendienst and Hal Rosch have looked so good at second base for the Milwaukee Braves that he might shift Rosch to left field. By coincidence, left-fielder Wes Covington is among the Braves' seven holdouts.

Other camp news: Willie Mays, Willie Kirkland and Bob Schmidt starred in the San Francisco Giants' batting drill at Phoenix, Ariz. The Philadelphia Phillies still are wondering when pitcher Ruben Gomez is going to show up from Puerto Rico. Manager Solly Horikawa said he will play the St. Louis Cardinal regulars together as much as possible during exhibitions. Gino Cimoli said he is determined to win a regular job with the Pittsburgh Pirates because he is "unhappy" sitting on the bench or platooning.

Pope Appoints 5 To Episcopal Dioceses In U. S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pope John XXIII has made five episcopal appointments affecting four U. S. dioceses, the apostolic delegation announced today.

The appointments were:

Bishop Leo F. Dworschak, titular bishop of Tium, to be bishop of Fargo, N. D.

Bishop Thomas J. McDonough, titular bishop of Thesene, to be bishop of Savannah, Ga.

Rt. Rev. McGr. William G. Conare, pastor of St. Richard's Parish in Pittsburgh, to be bishop of Greensburg, Pa.

Archbishop Edmond Fitzmaurice from bishop of Wilmington, Del., to the titular archbishopric of Tomi.

Bishop Michael Hyle, formerly coadjutor bishop, to succeed Archbishop Fitzmaurice as bishop of Wilmington.

Bishop McDonough, 48, succeeds Archbishop Gerald P. O'Hara who resigned last November.

He was born in Philadelphia on Dec. 2, 1911. He was ordained on May 28, 1938 after studies at St. Charles Seminary, Overbrook, Pa. He did graduate work at Catholic University of America, receiving a doctorate in canon law in 1941. He then went to the diocese of St. Augustine where he held various offices in the diocesan curia, before being named titular bishop of St. Augustine in March, 1947.

TIME FINALLY IS CATCHING up with a 90-year-old Enterprise landmark. Wrecking crews are razing the two-story structure known for the last twenty-odd years as the Braddock House but referred to by long-time residents as the Thayer House. The property on which the house stands, and which was bought by the Florida Methodist Children's Home in December, was a U. S. land grant to Charlotte Ayers on Nov. 12, 1849. Elijah Watson, who bought the property in 1867, built the house. In 1878 it passed into the hands of William Thayer whose family held control of it until the early 1920s. While no plans have been announced for future use of the property, its location makes it a valuable asset to the Children's Home.

Backers Of Demo Hopeful Concede Oregon Primary

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Backers of rival Democratic candidates conceded the front-runner position today to favorite son Sen. Wayne L. Morse in the Oregon Democratic presidential primary.

But unless he becomes a more serious candidate than he is now regarded, a Morse victory in the May 20 Oregon vote would minimize the importance of the prospective five-man contest.

Morse already had been entered in the Oregon primary by petition before Oregon Secretary of State Howell Appling entered six others under discretionary power granted by state law.

It was immediately announced that two of the six—Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential nominee, and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.)—would withdraw.

Appling also entered Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), two undeclared candidates, along with Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.).

Symington declined to comment except to say that he would not withdraw his name. Johnson also indicated he would leave his name on the ballot.

"My current responsibility is on the floor of the Senate," Johnson said. "I have no plans to act in any way on the action in Oregon."

Since neither Johnson nor Symington has any plans for entering other state primaries, the Oregon vote will provide the only pre-convention test of their vote-pulling power.

For the Republican presidential primary, Appling named Vice-President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. But he said Rockefeller, who decided in December against challenging Nixon, would withdraw.

With the presidential primaries now virtually set, Kennedy-Humphrey contests will come in Wisconsin on April 8 and in West Virginia on May 10 as well as in the five-man Oregon race.

Kennedy faces Morse in Maryland on May 11 and is unopposed in New Hampshire next Tuesday, Indiana on May 3 and Nebraska on May 10. He has a stand-in, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, running unopposed in Ohio on May 3.

Humphrey is pitted against Morse in the District of Columbia primary on May 3 and is unopposed in South Dakota on June 7.

Meg's Fiance Gives Up Job

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret's fiance discovered today the king-sized money problems of a commoner marrying into royalty.

Anthony Armstrong-Jones learned he must refuse a reported offer of $200,000 for a sampling of his pre-engagement photographic work. Since his new fame as Margaret's bridegroom-to-be, there's a great demand for his work.

While Armstrong-Jones studied his purse problems, he underwent royal schooling at Buckingham Palace in preparation for his marriage to the princess.

His teachers were reported to be Prince Philip, an almost penniless nobleman until he married Queen Elizabeth, and Billy Wallace, the millionaire commoner who picked up many a nightclub bill for Margaret over the past decade.

One thing Tony learned is that royal etiquette allows him the privilege of ignoring the waiter's bill when he takes Margaret out. But he must pay up. Such bills are mailed to Buckingham Palace.

Achievements Fall Short Of Goals As Nikita's Asian Tour Nears End

By PHIL NEWBOM

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev began beating back home-ward this week from his Southeast Asia tour which had netted some propaganda successes but whose overall achievements had fallen short of the goals.

His success had come in the field of disarmament and world peace wherein he was hailed as a leader both in India and Indonesia. The campaign to ease tensions between the two nations has an especially responsive chord in Southeast Asia, with the technicalities of achieving it frequently ignored.

But any hopes he might have had that his hosts would enter with him into a joint attack on Western "imperialism" conspicuously were dashed in the final communique which acknowledged Soviet economic aid but whose stress was upon neutrality.

In India the final communique called attention to the $75 million dollar credit granted to India by the Soviet Union last summer and said agreement had been reached on its use in "major projects" in Indonesia, Khrushchev signed an agreement to supply Indonesia with a 250 million dollar credit, bringing the total such since 1956 to 308 million.

The final statement stressed Indonesia's continuing neutrality. In Jakarta, it was reported the Indonesians had refused to include a renewed call for the seating of Red China in the United Nations and also had refused to condemn Western overseas military bases on the new U. S. defensive alliance with Japan.

There were a number of reasons why Khrushchev's drum-beating attacks on the West failed to have their desired effect.

One is that U. S. foreign aid program has continued long enough to convince Asians of the United States' good intent.

This attitude was cemented further by President Eisenhower's December visit to Asia.

A second one is that Asians are beginning to realize that U. S. aid has far outstripped anything done thus far by the Soviet Union.

There is in Asia the additional realization that the Soviets frequently drive a harder bargain than does the U. S. In both India and Indonesia, the Soviet grants are to be repaid in 12 years at an interest rate of two and a half per cent.

ICC Approves Time Zone Change

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today approved a plan to shift the Eastern time zone westward so as to include more of Kentucky and Tennessee.

The commission's order would place the 60 easternmost counties of Kentucky, including the entire Bluegrass section, on eastern standard time. It would add Scott, Morgan and Boone counties, Tennessee, to the area of that state on eastern time.

The time zone shift, which has been a matter of considerable controversy in the two states for several years, would go into effect at 12:01 a. m. on the standard time, March 12.

U. S. Hit Record Banned In England

LONDON (UPI)—The musical trade journal Melody Maker reported today that the American hit record "Teen Angel" has been banned in Britain for being in bad taste.

The newspaper said radio and television producers and disc jockeys have been "warned off" the record which was released here three weeks ago.

Disc jockeys polled by Melody Maker said "Teen Angel" was "in very bad taste." It dealt with a high school girl's death in a railroad crash.

Van Rie Freed In Ship Slaying

BOSTON (UPI)—A handsome Dutchman who admitted shipboard intimacies with a vivacious young divorcee has stepped from the shadow of death into the arms of his forgiving wife.

Willem and Nella Van Rie were in seclusion at a hotel today, alone for the first time since January, 1959 when as radio officer aboard the SS Utrecht he left his native Holland.

A statement from Radio Holland officials that a job would be waiting for him and his wife's forgiveness have apparently assured Van Rie's future.

But the death of pretty Lynn Kauffman, 23-year-old Chicago heiress remains a mystery.

A jury found Wednesday that Van Rie did not, as the state charged, beat the girl in a climax to their torrid love affair and hurl her body overboard.

After 15 hours of all night deliberation they found him innocent of first degree murder charges that carried a possible death penalty.

Biddy Basketball

SCRANTON, Pa. (UPI)—The International Biddy Basketball Tournament, the cage game's version of Little League baseball, will be held at Bridgeport, Conn., April 6-9, Jay Archer, its originator and national commissioner, announced Wednesday. About 15 teams, winners of state and regional playoffs, will take part.

Prosecutor In Finch Trial Set To Wind Up Final Arguments Today

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Prosecutor Fred N. Whichello today launches the last act of his dramatic final arguments in which he pictures Carole Tregoff as a Lady Whichello pictured the handsome surgeon, Miss Tregoff and Finch's slain wife as latter-day Shakespearean characters caught in a Macbeth-like tragedy.

Carole, 23, a beautiful young woman from modest beginnings, goaded the love-sick 32-year-old doctor into carrying out a brutal plan to kill his wife last July 18, Whichello said.

The motive? So that ambitious Carole could step up from being the receptionist at Finch's medical center to the lady of the house, Finch's wife, and therefore a woman of wealth, prestige and social position.

The picture Whichello painted as the drawn-out trial which started Dec. 8 drew to a close.

His usual soft-spoken, even kindly words, suddenly dropping with scorn, Whichello called Finch a liar, a illicit lover and a deliberate killer.

"I will do most of my talking about Dr. Finch," Whichello told the jury. "But I'm not forgetting this latter-day Lady Macbeth at the other end of the table (Carole). She is really the aggressor and instigator of this whole thing, but Dr. Finch acted as executor of the plan."

Small Car Club Conclave Planned

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The first national convention of the newly-formed Small Auto Club will be held in the greater Philadelphia area this autumn. Theme of the convention will be "safety and Fun in Small and Compact Cars."

The club, with headquarters in Philadelphia, has members in nearly every state in the union and Canada.

The nation's railroads are now losing money on their passenger service at the rate of 500 million dollars a year.

Navy Spent 'Huge' Sums On Faulty Planes, Government Auditors Charge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A congressional staff investigation was ordered today into charges by government auditors that the Navy spent $607,800,000 on faulty planes and radar equipment.

Chairman Chet Hollifield (D-Calif.) said he was directing House Military Operations subcommittee aides to launch an immediate study of the report filed with Congress by Comptroller General Joseph Campbell.

"The sums of money involved are certainly huge and this warrants a very careful staff examination," Hollifield told a reporter.

Campbell filed the report on procurement of F7U jet fighters, T2V jet training planes, and APS-4A radar sets to help F5M patrol planes track down submarines.

The auditors charged that even after testing uncovered "known serious deficiencies" in the planes and equipment, the Navy continued to place volume orders for them.

As a result, the report said, "aircraft incapable of performing the designated mission and unreliable and inferior equipment were produced in volume quantities costing over 600 million dollars."

The Navy replied that the report spoke "the truth but not the whole truth." For one thing, it said, it couldn't go along with the implication that every thing spent on equipment that doesn't measure up to initial hopes is wasted.

"The knowledge gained is utilized to advantage in latter procurements and the equipment itself may have a useful life even if it does not completely fulfill its early expectations," the Navy said.

Rights Filibuster Sets New Record

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate, struggling to hold its collective temper, neared the 100-hour mark today in a civil rights filibuster marked by a new endurance record for around-the-clock talking.

Noon signaled the passing of 98 consecutive hours in session since senators began meeting day and night in an effort by Democratic and Republican leaders to break southern filibusters against civil rights legislation.

Early-morning eruption of tempers involving two supporters of the bill was subdued over and southerners resumed their lengthy speeches.

The flare-up ended with handshakes, smiles and apparently no hurt feelings. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said afterward he preferred to wait at least until next week before trying to shut off the filibuster with a simple majority vote.

At one point in the early morning hours, attendance had to be checked on a spectator whose name could be heard all over the chamber.

Finch Case Goes To Jury Today

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The murder trial of Dr. E. Bernard Finch and Carol Trogan goes to the jury today.

The barristerless defense, the seven women and five men should start deliberating about 7 p.m. whether the surgeon and the red-head murdered Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch last July 18.

It has been a trial of melodrama. It reached the peak Thursday with the state's accusation that Finch was a "monstrous liar," a man who loved a "second rate soap opera" account of his wife's death; Carlo a surgical assistant who stood ready to pass the instruments of death to her lover.

Prosecutor Fred N. Whitehead expected to end his summation by noon. Judge Walter Evans then will instruct the jury and the trial that started Dec. 8 will reach its climax.

Orange Teacher Loses Fight On Loyalty Oath

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—An Orange County school teacher today lost his fight to stop the school board from firing him because he refused to take a required loyalty oath.

David Walton Cramp had challenged the Florida Statute which requires all public officials and employees, including school teachers, to take the noncommittal oath.

He lost his case in Orange Circuit Court, and took his plea to the Supreme Court, charging there was "reasonable probability" the statute was unconstitutional and Circuit Judge W. A. Pattishall was in error by not granting an injunction.

The high court upheld the lower court, but did not rule on the constitutional question. It said only that Cramp "has failed completely to demonstrate a clear abuse of discretion" by the lower court judge.

Council Meet

The North Orlando city council will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday in city hall.

Longwood Council Opens Road Bids

Orange Paving and Construction Co. submitted the apparent low bid on paving 8,000 feet of Longwood street area Thursday night.

Orange Paving's base bid was $37,371.50 for putting down a double surface pavement on Grant Ave. from Wilmore to Georgia Ave., Palmetto Ave. from Grant west to the railroad and on Wilma Ave. from Mohr Ave. to Church St.

The cost estimate for the project submitted to the town council Feb. 4 by A. E. O'Neal and Associates, consulting engineers, was slightly over $50,000.

The other base bids were from Dallas Asphalt Paving Co., $45,308.50; C. A. Meyer Paving and Construction Co., $45,902.10; Lloyd Construction Co., $49,711; and Hubbard Construction Co., $54,082.30.

Sano Co. Inc. was the apparent low bidder on extending Longwood's water lines. The company submitted a bid of $1,330, compared to $3,665 for O'Mara Inc. of Winter Park; and $4,165 for Utility Contractors Inc., of Winter Park.

The council decided to turn over bids on both projects to O'Neal and Associates for tabulation of the bids and alternate bids and recommendation of the best bid. A. E. O'Neal said he would make his recommendation to the council the first of next week. The paving and water line extension will be financed by Longwood's recently sold $70,000 bond issue.

Mayor Lormann told the council he has condemned a home on Markham Rd. because of the unhealthy conditions existing there. The plumbing is a complete failure, Lormann said. He has given the family until Saturday to move out. Lormann said he "couldn't see anything else to do," and that the county health officer had said he would "in" the home within the next few days. The mayor said the county will give the family money to get them back to Tennessee where they came from.

Longwood residents who are overdue on paying their water bills will have their water turned off Monday. Town Water Superintendent John Farina and Town Clerk Mrs. Onnie Hockett said several persons in Longwood are delinquent in paying their water bills. Mayor Lormann said he found one person who hadn't paid a water bill in two years.

Acting council chairman R. C. Carlson suggested the council not take any further action on getting water bills paid until the effect of the turn-off is ascertained.

Clark 'Involved' In Payola Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House payola investigators reported today that Dick Clark, teen-age idol and ABC television network disc jockey, formerly had an interest in 17 record and music publishing firms.

Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.), ranking GOP member of the subcommittee, said evidence showed Clark was "quite obviously involved in payola" and he should be summoned to testify as soon as possible.

Clark's name cropped up at the public hearing after the chairman of the Federal Trade Commission told the subcommittee that record companies had made payments to 25 disc jockeys and other broadcasting personnel in more than 26 cities.

Earl W. Kintner also said at least seven stations received payments. He reported the FTC has turned over this data to the Federal Communications Commission and the Internal Revenue Service. Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) said that hearings on Clark's operations are "contemplated." But he said staff investigators have not finished laying the groundwork yet.

Kintner was asked if Clark was under FTC investigation. He confirmed that some of Clark's activities were under scrutiny and added: "We fully intend to explore all those activities."
