

Munich Tries To Make Amends For Hitler

MUNICH (NEA)—Munich, the city where Adolf Hitler got his start, is atoning for the crimes which Hitler committed against the Jews.

For one thing, Munich is doing its best to make those Jews who have returned to live here feel at home. "We regard this as a challenge to the new German democracy," explains Dr. Anton Fingerle, superintendent of Munich's schools.

As early as 1948 Munich took the lead in forming the first Christian-Jewish association in West Germany. Since then, 36 chapters of the association have sprung up.

Munich has pioneered also in the establishment of cultural exchanges with Israel. Bubbled with enthusiasm the Lord Mayor of Munich, Dr. Vogel, has just returned from a tour of the Zionist state, and he has recommended that Munich send groups of teachers and students to Israel twice a year on an exchange basis.

This is in addition to the scholarships which Munich already offers to Israelis, particularly to those studying in social welfare fields.

There were half a million Jews in the German Reich in 1933. Some 270,000 emigrated; 180,000 were killed. Today only 30,000 are left in the Federal Republic.

Of this pitiful remnant, approximately one-sixth live in Munich, which thus has the largest Jewish population of any West German city.

In his office in Munich's pink, Gothic-style city hall, Fingerle explained what Munich is doing to combat the anti-Semitism which lingers as a hangover from the Nazi regime.

Early in March each year Munich sponsors a Brotherhood Week, during which the unity of all religious and racial groups is stressed by means of lectures, exhibits, public discussion.

The Christian-Jewish association, of which Fingerle is co-chairman, also sponsors a weekend conference on this subject in the autumn.

The teaching of contemporary history in the schools is one of the difficulties with which Fingerle has to contend. For one thing, the textbooks dealing with Hitler's regime are inadequate. Very few of them even mention the Nazi extermination of the Jews.

To compensate, Munich has invited Professor Werner J. Cahman of Rutgers University, to come here this summer to make a special study of anti-Semitism with the view of publishing his findings in book form.

The resettled Jews themselves present special problems, largely of a psychological nature.

Two-thirds of the resettlers are non-German Jews, mainly refugees from Eastern Europe who have been driven, ironically, to seek refuge in Germany by a new, postwar wave of anti-Semitism behind the Iron Curtain.

They do not feel at home here, their background and culture being utterly different from those of the former German Jewish community.

Of the 9,000 German Jews who have returned since the war, many feel just as uncomfortable. "Almost every returning Jew keeps his adopted nationality and owns two passports," wrote Der Spiegel, the German news weekly.

They are sensitive to the slightest manifestation of anti-Semitism. "Our bags are always packed," the returnees comment. The remark is borne out by the provisional nature of their homes.

As a result, the present Jewish contribution to national life is insignificant. Before Hitler, this contribution was rich and varied. For example before 1933 the Jewish community provided 11 out of 48 German Nobel prize winners.

Nor is the younger generation any better integrated in Germany than its elders. In a recent Frankfurt opinion poll more than 80 per cent of the young Jews expressed a desire to emigrate.

Many young Jews have refused to do their national service, which is their constitutional right. "How can I enlist as long as there are officers who served under the Nazis?" one of them is reported to have asked the selection board.

Sure enough, it is! A couple of Clock Watchers called this morning to say that Lake Monroe is "turning green."

Maybe its algae from Lake Jessup, or perhaps Lake Monroe is producing its own. We can only hope the algae doesn't affect Monroe like it has Jessup.

Maybe you can explain it, but Fred Readen, 2439 Poinsettia Avenue, Sanford, boiled an egg for breakfast not too long ago. When it was taken out of the shell there were eight numbers identifiable on the egg.

A short time later Readen, who has his own chickens, found an egg with the word "Go" appearing twice after the shell was removed. A third egg carried the words "admitting and."

Now, it's happened again. An egg, brought to The Herald for us to see, contains 10 numbers—all whole numbers plus fractions such as three eighths, one quarter, three quarters, etc. Readen says no newspapers or other printed matter was around to come into contact with the eggs. Besides, if the eggs had been in contact with printed materials the letters and figures would have been reversed.

As we said, maybe you can figure it out. It's not too frequent that a Boy Scout troop comes up with a Scout who earns the Eagle award. But the troop sponsored by Christ Methodist Church has come up with not only one but two. During the church's morning worship hour this Sunday an Eagle award will be presented to Ronald Berry Westbrook and Danny Richard Wireman.

The skipper of the aircraft carrier Champlain, involved in an early-morning collision in Chesapeake Bay, is listed by wire services as being from Sanford. The report identifies the man as Capt. Clarence Blouin. The carrier was groping through thick fog Wednesday morning when it was in collision with a Norwegian motor vessel called the Shaaraag. No one was injured in the crash.

Members of Seminole High School's Class of '39 are being reminded by Bud Moughton to make their reservations for the reunion banquet to be held Saturday night. Those wishing to make them are asked to contact Jack Bolt.

Bud reports that over 50 reservations from the 97 living members of the class which graduated 25 years ago have been made.

By the way, class officials know the whereabouts of all living members, except one. And it's of interest to note that only one member of the class is not living. That's Darrell Ferguson, a popular SHS athlete who was killed in an explosion of an Air Force plane shortly after World War II.

Members of Branch 1777, National Association of Letter Carriers, will meet Friday night at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association Conference rooms.

A thoroughly indoctrinated Florida Cracker of the pint-size variety tried out for Little League baseball the other day. When he returned home, his mother asked if he had made the team. "Yep," came the reply. "But I quit when they put me on the Yankees."

Breakfast At Rollins Friday WINTER PARK, The Rollins College Alumni-Senior Sunrise Breakfast, one of the oldest traditions at Rollins, will be held this Friday, at the Family Tree on the shore of Lake Virginia.

Sponsored by the Central Florida Rollins Alumni Club, the 8:30 a.m. breakfast will be attended by Rollins seniors—a tassel-turn-away from being alumni—faculty, staff, and alumni.

Rocky To Continue Nomination Efforts

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller stuck to the campaign trail today true to his promise of "staying to the end" in spite of Sen. Barry Goldwater's critical victory in the California Republican primary.

Rockefeller will speak tonight at a dinner of the Suffolk County Republican Committee on Long Island which will raise $150,000 for the fall election campaign.

The governor conceded the California presidential primary to Goldwater at a press conference Wednesday, 16 1/2 hours after the polls closed. He had postponed meeting the press for hours because of the see-saw vote count which ended in an eye-bash victory for the Arizona senator.

"I would not drop out of the fight because I have lost a primary," said Rockefeller. "There's a long time between now and the convention in San Francisco opening July 13 and it's hard to tell what is going to happen."

Rockefeller admitted that Goldwater's victory could mean the senator's early nomination at the convention, but he said he hoped public opinion would bring Goldwater "into the mainstream of American thinking."

No Sharp Turn Seen For GOP

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California Republicans doubted today that the narrow victory in Tuesday's primary for Arizona conservative Barry Goldwater represented a sharp turn to the right for the GOP in the nation's most populous state.

Most agreed it virtually assured Goldwater the party's presidential nomination at the Republican National Convention here in mid-July.

But they felt his 51-49 percentage win over New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for the state's 66 convention votes was far from a clear-cut victory.

Moscow Claims Support Of 52 Parties

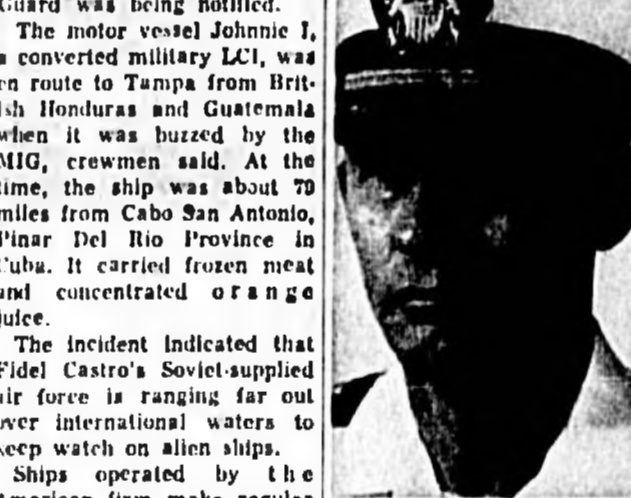

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today issued a new call for an immediate showdown conference of world Communist parties that is likely to result in the "re-communication" of Red China from the international movement.

Claiming the support of at least 52 Communist parties, the Kremlin charged that China was trying to put off such a conference to gain more time for "splitting" and "subversive" activities and to set up "puppet" parties around the world.

The official Communist party newspaper Pravda said, "A new international conference of Communists can become an important stage in the struggle for unity. The majority of the Communist parties of all areas of the world are coming out for its speediest convocation."

The new conference call, coming on the heels of accusations that China considered the 1950 Sino-Soviet alliance worthless and that it was not part of the world Communist movement, appeared to point in only one direction: An end once and for all to the once monolithic international Communist bloc.

The government newspaper Izvestia indicated the 14-year-old Sino-Soviet military and economic pact is finished.

JAMES deGANNAH, RVAH-9 To Get New Commander

Sanford Reconnaissance Attack Squadron 9, destined to become the first unit to operate the new RA-5C Vigilante with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean, will hold change-of-command ceremonies at 10 a.m. Friday at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Cdr. James L. Shipman will turn his command over to Cdr. James A. deGanahl, who has served as the squadron's executive officer for the past year.

The full dress ceremony will feature an inspection of RVAH-9's 300 officers and men and an address by Capt. James O. Mayo, commander of Heavy Attack Wing One.

Cdr. Shipman has been associated with Sanford heavy attack squadrons since January 1961. Under his leadership Heavy Attack Squadron 9 won the Douglas Bombing Trophy for the best overall bombing record during fiscal 1963, and the Wing Commander's Trophy for the highest state of operational readiness and overall excellence during calendar 1963.

Shipman will report to the Army War College at Carlisle, Pa., to prepare for higher command. Cdr. deGanahl, his successor, is also no stranger to Sanford. He began his tour in heavy attack in 1958 and served with VAH-5, VAH-3, HAW-1 before reporting to RVAH-9.

Boy Confesses Accidental Killing

AVON PARK (UPI)—A 15-year-old boy has admitted accidentally killing a youngster who disappeared May 22, Sheriff Broward Coker reported today.

An inquest into the death of seven-year-old Kenny Garren was scheduled today by coroner Mervin Rehr.

Garren disappeared from his home here May 22. Two fishermen found his remains Wednesday in some bushes near Lake Tulane, less than a mile from the boy's home.

The Highland County sheriff refused to identify the 15-year-old who said he accidentally shot Garren two weeks ago while hunting snakes along the edge of the lake.

The teenager said Garren walked out of the bushes into his line of fire without warning, Coker reported.

A bullet struck the schoolboy in the back and he fell to his knees, crying, according to the teenager's account to Coker.

Coker said the 15-year-old said he tried to help Garren to his feet but the younger boy collapsed. He put Garren under the bushes and fled, Coker said.

A large search party was organized when Garren disappeared. The lake and surrounding brush-forest area were searched for nearly two weeks without success before the fishermen stumbled onto the boy's remains.

Theft Losses In Citrus Cut In Half

LAKELAND (UPI)—The joint efforts of the Citrus Mutual's fruit protection division and law enforcement agencies cut the loss to citrus growers from theft, fraud and vandalism in half this season.

F. Leslie Besseger, director of the Mutual protection division, said Wednesday that teamwork between the fruit protection division and law officers also resulted in 211 arrests during the season.

Besseger said 115 of the arrests were for fruit stealing, a primary job of the Mutual Agency. Through the efforts of the Mutual Agency and the sheriffs in the state's 32 fruit-producing counties, the loss to growers was cut in half during the 1963-64 season, Besseger said.

Caribbean Tropical Depression Stalled

MIAMI (UPI)—A tropical depression stalled in the Caribbean today and forecasters said it was not expected to intensify for the next day or two, but would probably dump heavy showers on southern Florida.

Forecaster Paul Moore at the Hurricane Forecasting Center here said a Weather Bureau research plane would fly into the board band of showers today to gather more data on the disturbance.

A tropical depression contains closed circles of wind at the surface, but these winds do not exceed 39 miles an hour, forecasters said. Depressions sometimes—not always—develop into tropical storms with sustained winds of 39 m.p.h.

At last reports, the center of the depression was located about 600 miles south-southwest of Miami near latitude 19 north, longitude 86 west, the Weather Bureau said.

"The disturbance shows no signs of intensifying within the next day or two," Moore said, "and it appears to be rather stagnant." Moore said ships in the vicinity of the depression reported winds up to 25 mph and several islands in the area of the disturbance reported heavy rains.

A spokesman for the Army Corps of Engineers said the accident occurred at 7:40 a. m. EST when three men erecting steel on the third floor of the structure fell 28 feet to the first floor. The falling men and debris knocked two men working on the second floor 13 feet to freshly poured concrete on the first floor.

Three of the injured men were taken to a hospital in Titusville and two were rushed to Wuesthoff Memorial Hospital in Rockledge. The men were employed by the Mecklenburg Steel Co.

Two of the injured were identified as Maurice Dugan, of Edgewater, who had a fractured ankle and back; and William C. Langford of Tampa, who was in good condition.

Water System Plans Approved

Plans for construction of the proposed Lake Harney Water System were unanimously approved by more than 60 residents attending a meeting Tuesday night at Geneva Community Hall. Sieg Holmes, chairman of the planning committee, presided.

Consumer rates necessary to meet payments on the construction loan, which has been arranged through cooperation of Farmers Home Administration, were set at $10 per month for permanent residents and at $5 for weekend residents. Commercial rates also have been set.

Property owners at the meeting signed consumer agreements. Any resident not present who wishes to sign should contact any member of the planning committee. Those serving, other than Holmes, are Mrs. Elbert Cammack, Mrs. Donald Dunn, W. B. Heath and Roy Morgan.

Construction on the plant is expected to get underway in July.

Red Cross To Meet Wednesday

The annual meeting of the Seminole County Chapter of American Red Cross will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the First Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Officers will be elected and committee and executive board reports made.

The chapter is a participating agency of the United Fund and those contributing to the Fund are entitled to a voice in the voting.

Liberal Label Beats Lawmaker

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., (UPI) — Veteran Rep. Carl Elliott apparently was unseated yesterday in a low-man-out race among nine Democratic nominees for Alabama's eight congressional seats.

With nearly all of the state's approximately 8,150 precincts reported, Elliott was trailing state Sen. John Tyson of Mobile by around 5,000 votes for eighth place.

Elliott's apparent defeat means Alabama's second most populous congressional district, the first which includes Mobile, will regain direct representation in Congress and Elliott's 7th district loses out.

Girl Scout Unit Given Awards

Junior Girl Scout Troop 223 conducted a Court of Awards program last week at the Episcopal Parish House with their parents as guests. Refreshments were served.

Legion Barbecue In Chuluota Is Success

American Legion members of the Chuluota George M. Jacobs Memorial Post reported today that the Memorial Day barbecue and dance was a huge success with some 400 dinners served during the afternoon.

Committees in charge have expressed appreciation to all those who helped, whether by attendance or donation.

For one legionnaire the evening developed into one of the biggest and most memorable birthday parties he had ever had. W. M. Japson, post chaplain, was presented with a large cake, complete with candles, and a happy birthday greeting in song from the many people in attendance.

Friday night dances are sponsored each week starting at 8 p.m. with a live band for entertainment. All residents are invited to attend the affairs which are held at the Post Home, Chuluota and Christmas Roads.

LBJ Approves Stepped Up War Against South Viet Nam Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson has approved plans to intensify and streamline the military effort against Red guerrillas in South Viet Nam. He also is seeking a formula to block further Communist advances in neighboring Laos.

This was disclosed today by high officials following a White House session Wednesday night at which Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara reported on their Honolulu strategy talks with American military and diplomatic officials from Southeast Asia.

Rusk and McNamara returned Wednesday from the two-day conference in Hawaii with "a number of recommendations" for stemming the deterioration of the anti-Communist position in the critical area.

U.S. military action against Red North Viet Nam or direct intervention in turbulent Laos are not in the cards at present, officials said, although such steps could not be ruled out if the situation worsens.

A major problem facing the Johnson administration, they acknowledged, was how to convince Red China and North Viet Nam of the peril of their present course without resorting to steps which could embroil American forces in a mainland war.

In the past, U.S. military officials have strongly resisted any plans for sending American combat troops into action on the mainland unless they had advance authorization to use atomic weapons, if that became necessary.

The late President John F. Kennedy turned thumbs down on this condition when intervention in Laos was being considered in 1961, and there is no indication that Johnson would be willing to give the Pentagon such authorization.

Some officials appeared anxious today to tone down the crisis atmosphere built up in recent days by a series of U.S. warnings to the Reds. They apparently feel the American public is beginning to expect dramatic moves which are not contemplated unless the Laotian Communists resume their drive toward Thailand or the U.S.-supported South Vietnamese war effort begins to fall apart.

A White House spokesman said after Wednesday night's session that Johnson and his top aides "reviewed the situation in Southeast Asia in the light of the consultations" Rusk and McNamara had in Honolulu.

Others at the White House meeting were presidential adviser McGeorge Bundy; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency; Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, and William Bundy, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

Swim Classes To Register

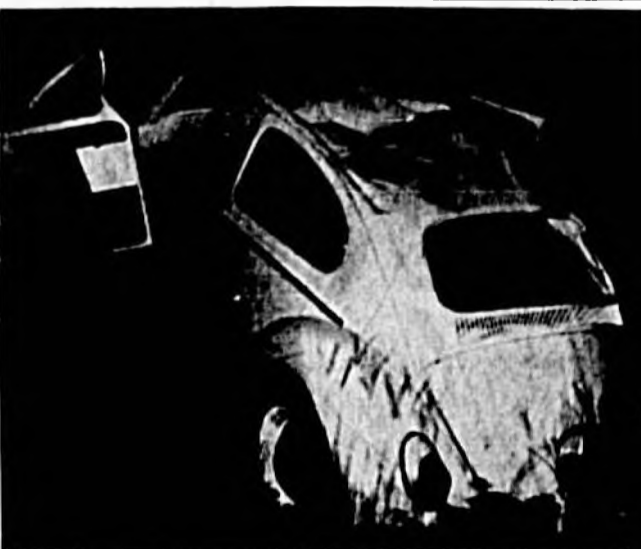

By Jane Casselberry

Registration for American Red Cross swimming classes for children and adults and a Junior life saving class for ages 12 through 15, will take place from 10 a.m. until noon on Saturday at the Casselberry Fire Station.

To take the course a child must have completed at least one year of schooling.

Qualified water safety instructors who will be teaching the course include Mrs. James Birkenmeyer, Mrs. William Eggers, Mrs. Tom Herald and Miss Eleanor Zukowski of Casselberry; Miss Betty Field of Forest City and Mrs. Handall Thompson, Mrs. Douglas Smith, and Mrs. Richard Cavill of Altamonte Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Birkenmeyer and Miss Field attended an aquatic workshop at Camp Ocala in the Ocala National Forest May 29-31. Orange County Red Cross instructors were host to water safety instructors from Seminole, Duval and Highland counties.

THIS VOLKSWAGEN ended up in a ditch the other night as the driver swerved to avoid hitting another car which had pulled out in front of him. Clyde Edward Wallace, 35, of New Smyrna Beach, suffered minor abrasions about the head. No charges were filed in the mishap investigated by Highway Patrol Trooper J. L. Sykes. (Herald Photo)

Homemakers

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

Elizabeth Sheaffer wanted a stuffing to use with pork chops. In our Florida Meat Recipe Book we found this one.

PORK CHOPS — MINCEMEAT STUFFING
6 rib pork chops, 1 inch thick
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/2 cup mincemeat
3 tbsps. chopped onion
1 tsp. lard or drippings
Make pocket in each chop by cutting into the chop along the bone. (Chops cut from the side hold the stuffing better). Combine crumbs, mincemeat and onion and stuff each chop with this mixture. Brown chops on both sides in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season. Cover tightly and simmer 45 minutes to 1 hour or until done. Serves 6.

POTATO CAPPED FRANKS
8 frankfurters
2 cups seasoned mashed potatoes
1/4 tsp. salt
1 cup dairy cream (sour)
1/2 cup chopped green onion
Cut frank lengthwise, being careful not to cut completely through. Place frank cut side up in an 8 by 12 baking dish. Spread each frank with 1/2 cup mashed potato, using about 2 1/2 tbsps. on each. Bake in a moderate oven, 450 degrees, for 12 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Sprinkle with paprika if desired. Serves 4. These can be broiled also. Broil 3 inches from the heat until browned.

Grace Vial Gray says that this cookie recipe is nice for the kiddies since they all seem to like popcorn.
She calls it POPCORN FRUIT COOKIES.
1 cup finely ground popcorn (popped)
1 cup sugar
1 cup finely cut dried fruit (any kind)
1/2 cup melted shortening
1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk
1 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
4 tbsps. baking powder
1/2 cup water
1 egg, beaten
1 cup flour

1 cup corn meal
1 tsp. salt
Sift flour, measure and sift with baking powder, nutmeg, salt and corn meal. Combine shortening and sugar. Add egg. Add milk and water. Mix thoroughly. Turn onto lightly floured board. Roll in sheet 1/4 inch thick. Cut with floured cutter. Place on slightly oiled baking sheet. Bake in 425 degree oven for 10-12 minutes. Serves 30.

Another summer cookie favorite of Mrs. E. M. Drake is COTTAGE CHEESE COOKIES.
1/2 cup butter or oleo
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 cup sugar
2 tbsps. baking powder
1/2 cup cottage cheese
1/4 tsp. salt
Cream butter or oleo and cheese until thoroughly blended. Sift flour, measure and sift with sugar, baking powder and salt. Add gradually to first mixture. Form into a loaf. Chill overnight. Slice thin. Place on slightly oiled baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven 400 degrees for 10 minutes or until delicate brown. Makes 40.

TUNA FISH WHIRLS
1 (7 oz.) can tuna fish
1 1/2 cups biscuit mix
1/2 cup grated cheese
1 tsp. milk
1/2 cup mayonnaise
Prepare biscuit dough according to directions on pkg. Divide dough in half. Roll 1/4 inch thick. Combine remaining ingredients, spread half the filling on each and roll up. Seal edges, cut into slices. Place cut side down in well greased pan. Bake in hot oven 400 degrees for 10 minutes. Serve hot or cold. Makes about 3 dozen whirls.

Corner

Someone requested a recipe for BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES. Here is Mrs. A. M. French's tried and true recipe.

3 medium cucumbers
3 medium onions
1/4 cup salt
1 cup vinegar
1/2 tsp. celery seed
1 cup water
1/2 tsp. mustard seed
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. ginger
1/4 tsp. turmeric

Wash cucumbers. Cut in thin slices. Peel and slice onions. Combine onions and cucumbers. Add salt. Let stand 2 hours. Drain. Heat vinegar, water, celery seed, mustard seed, sugar, ginger and turmeric to boiling. Add cucumbers and onions. Boil slowly until tender. Pack while hot in freshly sterilized jars.

Three Wise Old Hurlers Chalk Up Major Loop Wins

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

Plans by officials of the South Seminole Little League to sponsor summer league's for men from 21 to 30 (we wonder a bit about that 30 business) and another for boys from 16 through 19 who are not eligible for Legion baseball is—in our opinion—a great idea for the southern section of the county.

The South Seminole Little League plant at Casselberry—now called Cooper Park—is a top notch layout and it would be shameful to see the Park idle during the long summer evenings we face for the next several months—that is after the current Little and Senior leagues complete their seasons.

That lighting down there cost a pretty penny and the more the park is used the more funds will be derived from contributions and concession sales to pay for the system plus the expenditures made on so many other improvements. By the way, the several nights we attended competitions there the evenings' collections were sufficient to pay for the cost of electric power and perhaps a bit more to help pay for the system.

We'd still like to see a play-off between the winners of the South Seminole Senior League and the champions of the Junior League in Sanford, plus a playoff between the SS Little League titleholders and the crownholders of Sanford's Little League.

Of course, if this is not feasible, there's always the possibility of an all-star contest between the top boys in each of the senior leagues and each of the little loops. Now that'd be a crowd collector.

Not to be outdone by the Giants, the Philadelphia Phils have announced that they'll have a tryout school at Miami Stadium June 12-13. The Miami Marlins of the Florida State League will cooperate in the affair. Baseball minded youngsters between the ages of 15 and 21 are invited to attend and bring their own gloves, uniforms and spikes when reporting.

As in the case of the San Francisco Giants who will hold their tryout camp at Lake Wales' Legion Field on June 11-12, players who have signed to play Legion baseball must bring written permission from their coach or post commander.

Nick Shinkoff will direct the Giants' school and Dale Jones is the headmaster for the Phillies camp. Both are top flight scouts for their respective organizations.

To say the least, this is a real opportunity for local lads to spend two or three days getting some top notch instruction. Even if you're not signed to a contract you can't beat the tuition. Actually there's no charge, except for your own expenses. If you are signed your expenses are paid by the club.

And if you want to see one of the best horse shows of its kind in Central Florida this year you'll have your big opportunity this Saturday. The Inner Circle Horse Show will be presented at the Ride-A-White Stables in an all day affair. Over 200 horses were entered in the show's various categories last year and more are anticipated this time. The show grounds are located at the intersection of I-4 and SR 44.

Orioles Remain Ahead Of White Sox In AL Race

By Fred Down UPI Sports Writer Young pitchers with strong arms are wonderful but old pitchers with wise heads can be even better.

If you don't think so, just ask the Baltimore Orioles about Robin Roberts, the Chicago White Sox about Hoyt Wilhelm or the New York Yankees about Whitey Ford. Here is a trio of pitchers whose ages add up to 112 years but who still have the guile and pitching technique to be key men in these early stages of the American League pennant race.

Wednesday night all three turned in fine performances: Roberts, 27, pitched a six-hitter and struck out six to win his fourth game as the first-place Orioles beat the Kansas City Athletics, 5-1. Wilhelm, 40, ambled out of the bullpen to preserve the White Sox' 3-0 win over the Cleveland Indians and now has been the finishing pitcher in the White Sox' last four victories and five of their last six wins.

Ford, 35, hurled a four-hitter to notch his fourth shut-out of the season and give the Yankees a 3-0 triumph over the Minnesota Twins, who had beaten the AL champion four straight times. The win was Ford's sixth of the season and the 20th of his career.

The Orioles remained a game and a half ahead of the White Sox with their 21st victory in their last 27 games. The Washington Senators whipped the Detroit Tigers, 6-2, and the Los Angeles Angels beat the Boston Red Sox, 2-0 and 8-4, in other American League games.

In the National League, Philadelphia nipped Los Angeles, 1-0, San Francisco checked Pittsburgh, 2-0, St. Louis defeated Chicago, 7-5, and Milwaukee shaded Cincinnati 3-2.

Lary Apologizes To Dressen; Says He Didn't Make Remarks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Frank Lary figures he owes ex-manager Charlie Dressen an apology and promptly made it today. "The story simply is not true," Lary said, holding a copy of the wire service dispatch (not UPI) in his hand. "It gives the impression that I don't think Dressen is a good manager and that I don't like him."

"That's untrue, too," said the 33-year-old right-hander, who once was the ace of Detroit's pitching staff. "I think he's a darn good manager." Lary continued. "And I happen to think his rules are real good, too. Every manager has to have some rules. I agree with every one of Dressen's rules."

DeeTees Hold On To First Place In Ball & Chain

Marion Rankin still leads the men of the Mr. and Mrs. Ball and Chain League when he rolled a 213/613 series in loop play this week. Bill Meek had a high game of 236 in a 597 series and Everett Terry rolled a 208. Among the women keepers, Peggy Dooley lead the way with a 179, Ene Rogero had a 176 in a 477 series while Vera Bolton came up with a 174/472, Susy Reno a 170 and Dot Fox a 179.

Four girls came through with turkeys. They were Ene Rogero, Carol Rankin, Vera Bolton and Susy Reno. Among the men turkeys fell for Bill Fox, Marion Rankin with four strikes in a row, and Bill Meek with five in a row. Splits were converted by Susy Reno who got the 5-6-10. Carol Rankin knocked over the 6-7. Everett Terry the 4-5-7, Andy Siline the 5-6 and Andy Reno the baby 3-6.

Three Win Streaks Extended In Local Recreation Leagues

Three winning streaks were extended Wednesday in the City Recreation Department's summer baseball and softball program and Frank Williams, a hurler for the McRaney Painters in the Men's League became the first hurler to post 10 mound victories this season. Kingswood's Builders capped their eighth win in a row last night, bombarding Chase's Chaco nine, 13 to 3. The Builders Gerald Bowling, Don Carter, Bobby Johnson and Butch Cook all clouted home runs. Carter had four hits in four trips and Bowling and Cook each collected three hits apiece. Leroy Estridge won his ninth pitching performance in nine trips to the hill.

Helman, Estridge Lead Men's Loop

As of May 31, Larry Helman of the Wilson-Maler nine leads the City Recreation Department's Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League in the home run clouting department with a total of six for the current season. In the hurling department, Leroy Estridge, ace moundman for the Kingswood Builders, first half champs, has a record of seven wins against no losses. Behind Estridge is Bud Moncrief, also of Kingswood, with a record of seven victories in eight decisions. Otto Thomas of Longwood has a record of six and one and Frank Williams of McRaney has eight wins and six losses to lead the loop in capturing the Little American loop's championship. The Tara have a seven-game lead over the rest of the pack and the nearest competitor, George's have only seven hits remaining to play.

Behind Helman in the round-tripper category, Chase's Bill Behrens has clouted five, Mike Henry of Bobb's Construction four, Mike Woodruff of Florida State Bank has four, Danny Underwood of Kingswood has four, as does John Emerson of the Builders, Roy Lisk of Longwood and McRaney's Larry Watson.

Five Starters Now Slated For Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (UPI)—Saturday's $125,000 added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct will have at least five starters.

Louis Wolfson's Roman Brother and Paul Mellon's Quadrangle were added to the slim list of starters Wednesday and three more horses are considered possible entrants.

On Tuesday, Orientalist joined Northern Dancer and Hill Rise for the longest of the triple crown races in which the Dancer will attempt to become the ninth horse in history to take all the jewels in the crown.

The other possible starters for the 96th Belmont are Reginald N. Webster's National, and Herbert Allen's entry of Shook and Determined Man. Bill Hartack and Willie Shoemaker will again be on Northern Dancer and Hill Rise, respectively, and Braulio Baeza will be on Orientalist.

Private School Bills Studied In Mississippi

By United Press International
Mississippi moved on several fronts Wednesday to protect its segregated public school system.

Both Houses of the legislature met in secret sessions to discuss strategy on bills permitting the state to support private schools in the event of federal integration edicts. Gov. Paul Johnson was reported to have urged the meetings to determine if there was sentiment among lawmakers for immediate consideration of the bills.

The House earlier had approved a measure sources said was designed to prevent the admission of a Negro to the University of Mississippi next week. The bill would allow state officials to examine the secret juvenile court records of any individual.

Cleveland Donald, 16, a Negro tentatively accepted for the "Ole Miss" summer term, allegedly has a juvenile court record including several arrests for participating in racial demonstrations. Mississippi law provides that schools can reject any applicant with a criminal record.

At Jacksonville, Wednesday, federal Judge Bryan Simpson said he would rule within a week on a suit by Negroes to strike down a police ban on night marches at St. Augustine.

Negro leaders agreed to a racial truce in St. Augustine pending Simpson's decision.

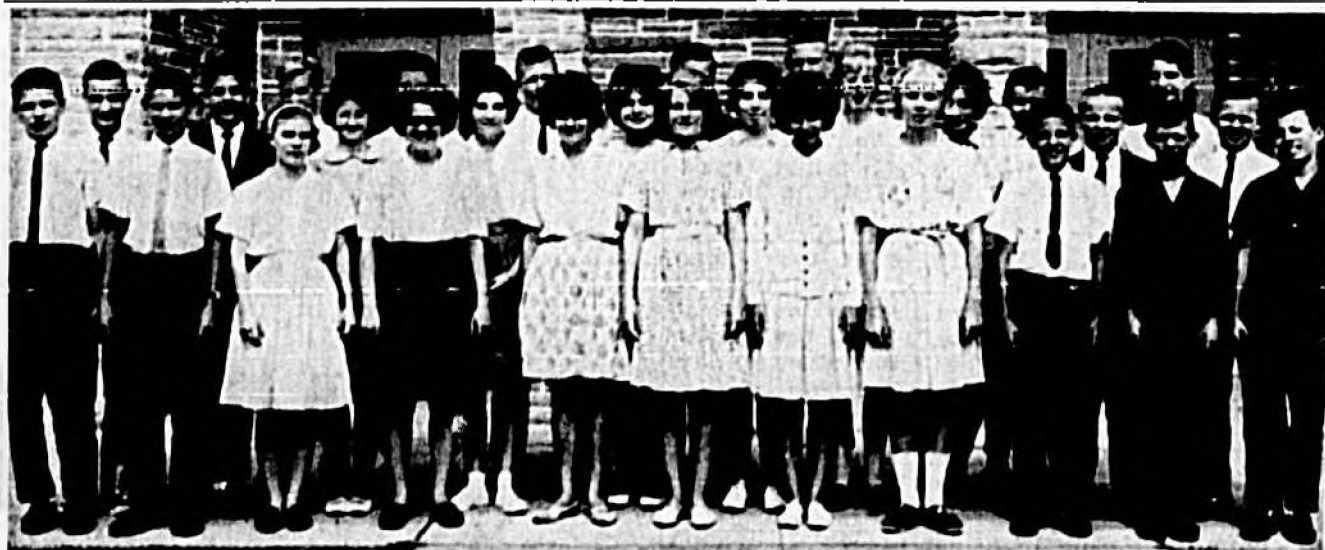

One in every three mothers with children under age 18 have jobs outside the home.

KINDERGARTEN GRADUATES from the Holy Cross Episcopal Church took time out to have their picture taken during graduation ceremonies at the Parish Day School. Behind the students are the Rev. L. D. Soper, the principal speaker; and Mrs. J. B. St. John who awarded the certificates.

MEMBERS OF THE 1964 GRADUATION Class of All Souls School in Sanford will receive Communion during a graduation Mass Friday morning at All Souls Catholic Church. Father Richard Lyons will celebrate the mass at 11 a.m. Graduation exercises will be held Friday night with the Rev. Ralph Kaiser, chaplain at the Sanford Naval Air Station, and Rev. James Honnen, pastor of the Church of the Nativity in Lake Mary, officiating. Twenty-eight students comprise the class.

Jap Toy Robot Winks At Girls

TOKYO (UPI)—A Japanese inventor has come up with a toy robot that's bigger than life.

And scarier. The robot is run by radio from a distance of up to 300 yards. But despite aerials on his shoulders, a radar screen on his head, electronic buttons on his back and volt and ampere meters on his vest, he doesn't frighten children away. They love holding his hand despite his iron grip.

The robot's name is Goro, which means "fifth child" in Japanese. Goro has four older brothers and one younger, all brought into the world by a 60-year-old inventor, Jiro Aizawa.

Goro stands five feet five and weighs 271 pounds. He can walk forward and backward, turn around, do his own shopping, talk through a built-in radio and even wink at the girls—or at least blink.

He has yet to carry bags for passengers at Tokyo International Airport, a feat accomplished by one of his brothers.

The only thing Japanese about Goro is that he does not shake hands when meeting friends; he bows.

The main problem in building Goro, his inventor says, was to find a way to keep him upright. The problem was solved by extra heavy feet, which are nearly 24 inches long.

Goro's inventor has a research institute in Hiyamachi, west of Tokyo, dedicated to the production of new toys. The institute receives an annual subsidy of 50 million yen ($138,500).

The institute provides 280 Japanese toy manufacturers with designs for toys sold in England, France, Germany, Italy, Monaco, Switzerland and the United States as well as Japan.

Aizawa's next project, now on the drawing boards, is an electronic robot that will respond to whistle signals.

Goro, however, is not for sale, probably because it cost $3,310 to build him.

BROWNIE SCOUT TROOP 562 held its "fly-up" ceremony last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Biggs, 1206 19th Court, Sanford. Star Of The Nile

Nikita Khrushchev has breezed through Egypt like President Johnson took Atlanta.

According to reports, not since Antony barged up the Nile to meet Cleo have the Egyptians given a foreign visitor such an enthusiastic welcome.

Small wonder, since Russian loans to Egypt, currently totalling $1.3 billion, are making possible the all-important Aswan High Dam, upon which the economic future of Egypt depends.

Add to this Khrushchev's vocal backing of President Nasser's grandiose pan-Arab, anti-Israel ambitions, and the success of the visit was assured.

Western, particularly U.S., prestige is at low ebb along the Nile. It was not helped any by the vote of a House committee the other day not to give any more money toward rescuing the ancient Abu Simbel temple, which would be submerged by the dam.

It could be argued that the United States is being penny-wise and ruble-foolish again, as we were when we fudged out of the Aswan project.

All is not black, however. We have learned through sad experience that money does not buy friends. Some of those we have helped the most seem to resent it the most.

Premier Khrushchev may someday find that out, if he ever makes the mistake of reminding the Egyptians how much they owe to him.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There's a lesson in the 11 years it took U. S. security men to discover the 40 Russian microphones hidden in the American embassy in Moscow.

This security failure could have been prevented, electronic engineers say. But we didn't have the proper detection equipment.

The value of billions of the $400 billion spent for national defense since 1952 could have been compromised for lack of $600,000 more a year for research and development on counterintelligence and security devices—including electronic and ultrasonic gadgets for detecting hidden microphones in U. S. embassies all over the world.

These funds could have been diverted from the over-production of some types of quickly obsolescent weapons.

The Soviet Union has not made that mistake. It has pushed hard the past 11 years on developing intelligence sensing devices far more sophisticated and difficult to detect than those discovered in the Moscow embassy.

It is believed here, for example, that the Russians have developed a thin invisible coating which can be put on window panes. These windows and this coating would vibrate, picking up the sounds of voices in a room. With a radar stationed on a nearby building, the Russians could pick up the conversations.

The Russians also are said to have devices they could place inside water and steam pipes. Because these would be protected by the surrounding pipe, they'd be almost impossible to detect.

Competent electronic engineers familiar with defense problems have suggested in private interviews a number of devices that could be used to detect or counter Russian microphones hidden in walls as were the 40 recently discovered. They include: —Sophisticated ultrasonic gadgets which would detect patterns in the structure of the walls in which the microphones are hidden. Engineers say they detect "discontinuities." That is, in this case, such instruments presumably could have discovered the 10-inch holes the Russians had inserted between the microphones and the wall surfaces.

Modern ultrasonic devices can be made precise enough to distinguish between such tubelike holes and ordinary cracks and other irregularities in the wall structure.

—For about $50 a room, engineers estimate, small vibrators could be installed in the walls of every office in an embassy. These small vibrators could send counter waves through the walls, garble whatever sounds hidden microphones picked up. These vibrators would not interfere with conversations. When tuned on, there'd be only a slight hum in the room.

The state department has started to rectify its problems.

Two and a half months ago it installed able, energetic G.

Martin Gentile, fresh from 11 years at the Central Intelligence Agency, as deputy assistant secretary of state for security.

It has been during his short tenure that the Moscow microphones were discovered by brute force—by tearing up the rooms.

A review of security and counterintelligence procedures has been started. The State Department probably will ask for a step-up in security research, development and production funds. Some $4 million has been spent all together in the past three years. The problem, government men say, is that "only a piddling amount" was spent during the previous decade to develop needed devices.

You have proved to your faithful readers that you will hang on to your convictions with bulldog tenacity. Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Molly wants to know the difference between a "sadist" vs. a "masochist." Read the harrowing account below for sadists still occur despite our modern civilized codes of conduct. But these extremes in personal behavior are also accentuated by faulty parental training.

CASE S-487: Molly M., aged 10, is a college coed.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "what is the difference between a sadist and a masochist?"

"And how does a sadist develop, anyway? Is he born that way or does he learn to be a sadist?"

During the hunting season last winter, the newspapers reported the case of a sailor who partially illustrates what we mean by a sadist.

This man caught wild rabbits; then cut off their feet. Next, he'd place rubber bands around the bleeding stumps to slow down the blood loss.

Then he'd toss the rabbits on the ground and let them try to run away on their stumpy, bleeding legs, while he turned loose his beagle pups behind them.

He said he was simply training his beagles to be good rabbit dogs!

But his wanton cruelty illustrates an extension of what we psychiatrists mean by sadism.

Originally, a sadist was defined as a sexual pervert who obtained his sexual excitement by inflicting extreme cruelty upon another.

But we now extend the term "sadism" to abnormal or pathological cruelty.

In civilized America, it seems almost impossible that such callous people still exist.

Children sometimes inflict cruelty on animals, more or less thoughtlessly, as by tying tin cans to a dog's tail to frighten him.

Another sadist in recent years was caught burying cats alive but with their tails above ground.

Apparently the sadist relished seeing the wild waving of the cat's tail as it was suffocating below ground.

Masochism is the opposite of sadism and pertains to sexual perversion that involves enjoyment in being treated with some cruelty.

The male sex differs from the female in the fact that males seem to be naturally a bit sadistic whereas females are imbued with a mild degree of masochism.

It is only when sadistic or masochistic tendencies reach extreme degrees that we consider them pathological.

But both of these natural sexual elements are influenced greatly by childhood training.

For example, if a youngster lives in a family that is quite callous towards animals, then his innate sadism is not curbed but may actually be stimulated.

Parents are supposed to teach their youngsters the Golden Rule.

This involves training them to project themselves into the position of other creatures, even including animals.

A partial degree of such projection is indicated by sympathy. But complete projection is called empathy.

In sympathy, we feel possibly 50 per cent like the other person, so we show kindness, as taught by the Golden Rule.

In empathy, however, we can infuse ourselves almost 100 per cent with the other person, which permits us to feel doubly sympathetic.

Send for my "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents and learn how to train your children correctly.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents in cost typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Doubling Of State Forest Industry Seen

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — Florida's forestry industry will double in the next 10 years, according to forestry economist T. E. Sullivan of the University of Florida.

Addressing Operation Dars, an organization to develop agriculture resources effectively, Dr. Sullivan predicted Tuesday the increase in the state's forestry industry will be 107 per cent of today's level and will amount to $309 million a year by 1975.

Sullivan expects a 63 per cent rise in the volume of roundwood harvests, despite the loss of about one million acres of forest land expected to be converted to other uses.

Dr. K. R. Swinford of the university said that Florida could expect a 72 per cent rise in the number of licensed hunters and a 124 per cent jump in the number of campers during the next decade.

The number of licensed fishermen will increase to 800,000 during the same period, Swinford said.

More than 100 of Florida's forestry and agriculture leaders attended the Operation Dars meeting at the university.

Graduates.
This year there are 571 of them in Seminole County's four high schools.

This is a record number. R. T. Milwee, superintendent of the county school system said this morning that the number represents an increase of 99 over 1963's total. There were 470 graduates in 1962.

Talking about years of service, we learned this morning that Principal H. L. Douglas of Crooms High has been with the school 34 years. After the late Professor Crooms retired in 1933, R. A. Allen became principal at Crooms. In 1959 Douglas was named principal of Goldsboro Elementary. He held the position only a couple of months for when Allen died during a Thanksgiving Day football game Douglas was recalled to Crooms and made principal. Except for those few weeks he's been there 34 years.

A meeting of the North Orlando Village Charter Board will be held at 7 p. m. Saturday in the Civic Building. At that meeting final recommendations for changes in the charter will be presented. Village stonery, Harold Johnson, and temporary clerk Mrs. Jane Pike, will be present for the meeting.

An Atlanta firm, identified as the Southern Classified Directory Co., is billing local merchants for advertising allegedly to be placed in a "directory," according to John Krider of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. He says it hints of identification with telephone book yellow pages and this is not so. The bill sent to local establishments says the firm "will publish a classified directory encompassing selected businesses throughout the southern states." They are asked to submit checks to the Atlanta firm. Krider says the Chamber has "no knowledge of the publication."

Casselberry Mayor Owen Anstey has issued a warning that a commercial trot line set in Lake Triplett poses a potential situation to water skiers and swimmers. They're urged to take caution while using the lake. Someone we don't know recently strung a trot line across Lake Kalthryn but another fellow we do know took care of that in a hurry.

Speaking of lakes, swim classes for Navy children at the Sanford Naval Air Station will be held this summer. Registration is scheduled next Wednesday between the hours of 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. Classes will get under way the following day and will be held from 8:30 until 11:30 a. m. Each class will last 30 minutes. There will be classes for beginners, advanced beginners and intermediates. To register a youngster must have completed the first grade.

Recently The Clock had an item about John M. Goerss graduating from Concordia Collegiate Institute. We now have word from the school that young Goerss is receiving two special awards. 2 Killed, 2 Hurt In Mobley's Corner Crash

INFANT JEFFREY Todd Lyons is facing an impossible task, it appears, of staying alive. He has severe heart trouble and medical experts see no hope, outside of a miracle, of prolonging his life. He's almost 10 months old and is shown above with his mother, Mrs. Loren Eugene Lyons. (Herald Photo)

Tot May Not See First Birthday

Little Jeffrey Todd Lyons has a poor chance of seeing his first birthday.

He's almost 10 months old—will be on June 23—but medical experts foresee an early death.

Jeff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Eugene Lyons of 122 Country Club Drive. And he's got heart trouble; had heart trouble.

Thomas W. Jones Dies Following Short Illness

Thomas W. Jones, 77, 2001 S. Sanford Avenue, died at 5:35 p. m. Thursday at Seminole Memorial Hospital following a short illness.

Born in Dartford, Kent, England, Feb. 17, 1884, he came to Sanford in 1908 and began employment with Chase and Company. An employee for 56 years and member of the board of directors, at the time of his death he was honorary chairman of the board.

He was a member of Holy Cross Episcopal Church of Sanford; of the Rotary Club; of Sanford Masonic Lodge 62; of Morocco Temple in Jacksonville and of BPOE Lodge 1241 of Sanford for 35 years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. G. W. Jones, a son, Donald R. Jones and three grandsons, Tom, Randy and Jimmy Jones, all of Sanford and two sisters, Mrs. R. S. Brown of Orlando and Mrs. Frank Crouch of Dartford, Kent.

Mrs. Lyons called The Herald Thursday, explaining the situation. "We had planned to have his picture in the paper when he had his first birthday," she said, "but doctors tell us he might not live until then."

She asked if his picture could be put in the paper, even though it wasn't his birthday. It could, she was told, and it is.

Resignation Of Layo Declined

By Donna Estes
Claude Layo submitted his written resignation as Longwood Fire Chief at the regular meeting of the Longwood City Council Thursday evening. Layo pointed out that his duties are police chief required 658 hours labor during the month of May, making it impossible to perform an adequate job as fire chief. Council declined to accept the resignation at this time.

The police department was authorized to hire an additional parttime patrolman to relieve Layo on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays from midnight to 8 a. m. Salary of the additional employe was set at $75 per month.

Rapid Growth Seen Around Port Site

"The minute you buy property and put a port on it you will have contiguous property growth."

Members of the Port Authority Committee of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce were given this advice Thursday afternoon in a series of interviews with heads of four engineering firms.

They were checking on the cost of a feasibility report to determine the steps to be taken in establishing a port authority along the St. Johns River.

The "contiguous growth" remark was in answer to a question on how much property the authority should acquire if the feasibility report is favorable.

The representative advised the committee to acquire enough property for immediate use, for almost immediate growth and for long-range planning.

He said the surrounding property will become extremely valuable once the port site is selected. Industry, warehouses, and other factors will move into the area "almost at once" when the port is set up, he said.

The committee, headed by Francis E. Roumillat, conferred with representatives from Howard, Needles, Tammen & Bergendoff, Lockwood & Greene Engineers Inc., Rader & Associates, and Reynolds, Smith & Hills.

Some submitted cost estimates for the project while others asked for additional time to analyze the exact requirements of the committee. Their estimates will be given the committee in a few days, according to Roumillat.

The Howard, Needles firm was represented by Pete Peterson of Orlando, the Lockwood firm by Tom Friday of Spartanburg, S. C., the Rader firm by General Robert G. Lovett of Miami, and the Reynolds firm by Norman Stryan of Orlando.

The representatives discussed all phases of the project and offered some tips not thought of by the committee. These included the use of the port facility to handle lime-rock now being mined in the Ocala area and which must be transported over land.

The cross state canal, one representative said, will slice right through the rich lime-rock area and thus could be hauled more cheaply by barges rather than other methods.

The completion of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal will give immediate access to ocean-going vessels and make the Sanford area a true inland seaport.

Included in the data sought in the feasibility report will be seven items posed to the firms by the port committee. These are:

1. A description and discussion of the tributary area to the port in Seminole County, including statistics pertaining to economics and population.
2. An analysis of the potential commercial traffic which could be expected to pass through a port in Seminole County, projected reasonably into the future. Such analysis would include the review of previous reports for such a port and a discussion of the relation of other waterways to the port; for instance, the Cross Florida Barge Canal and the St. Johns Indian River Canal.
3. An analysis of industrial operations in the tributary area and a discussion of those expected to use the port.
4. An analysis of the most practical location for a port, in relation to the overall economic, commercial and industrial potential of the area under consideration.
5. A preliminary site plan for the most practical location for a port, in relation to availability of highway and railroad transportation facilities, water access, soil conditions, utilities, etc.
6. A study of the need for facilities to be extended to the port site, such as electricity, gas, highways and railroads.
7. The development of estimated costs for the preparation of plans and specifications and for construction of the facilities recommended and the length of time for each.
8. Schematic drawings of the port site, showing highway and railroad access, bulkheads, slips and storage sheds which may be recommended for the port.

TWO PERSONS were killed and two others injured when the car shown above was crushed by the tractor-trailer shown at right. The accident occurred at about midnight last night on Highway 17-92 and SR 434. The 1950 sedan was demolished and total property damage was given as $9,600 by Highway Patrol Trooper Dan Oaks. Hams To Help In SOS Operation

Local amateur radio operators (hams) are being asked to set up emergency communications at the 12 Sabin Oral Sunday (SOS) feeding stations this Sunday from noon to 5 p. m.

Clyde Long, president of the Sanford-Seminole County Amateur Radio Club, reports he will have all areas covered with units and manned by licensed radio amateurs. Two operators will be women and they will be stationed at the Jui-Lai Fronton and Wund-Dixie on Highway 17-92 at Longwood, Case said.

According to the Federal Communication Commission's rules, Case said, the amateurs are the only ones authorized to provide this type of service to the public.

Local amateurs participating are Walt Long, Bill Henley, Damon Morrison, Horace Paul, James Long, Al Case, Jess Morefield, Gayle Morefield, Charlie Leffler, Charles Scudder and Claudine Case.

The radio operations will be coordinated with the Orange County amateurs who will have a station at the Allen Drug Company in Orlando where the vaccines will be stored.

Only radio communications will be allowed to the drug company, under instructions of the Central Florida Civil Defense radio officer, Wes Gardner of Winter Park.

The Sabin Oral Sunday project is for persons who took the first dose in April. Those who visited the second, or makeup clinic at that time, must wait until the makeup Sunday next week, officials report.

Schedules Set For Graduation

Some 571 Seminole County seniors and more than twice that many parents, teachers, school officials and friends are preparing for Baccalaureate services and graduation exercises Sunday and Monday.

Seminole High's 257 seniors will convene for their Baccalaureate services in Fleming Gymnasium at 8 p. m. Sunday. The principal speaker will be the Rev. Herbert W. Goerss, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer.

The Rev. Leonard Jones, pastor of the Prairie Lake Baptist Church, will address the 165 Lyman High graduates at 8 p. m. Sunday in the school auditorium.

An Oviedo High, the Baccalaureate speaker will be the Rev. Jack T. Bryant, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Oviedo. Twenty-eight seniors will participate in this service.

A Crooms High alumnus, the Rev. Z. L. Grady, will address the 121 members of Crooms' 1964 graduating class during Baccalaureate services to be held at 9 a. m. Sunday in the H. A. Allen Gymnasium. Rev. Grady is now the pastor of the Morris Brown AME Church of Charleston, S. C.

Commencement exercises are scheduled for 8 p. m. Monday in all four high schools. At Seminole High School the valedictorian will be Carol Oxford and Ronald Goerss will be the salutatorian. Diplomas will be awarded to the graduates by Principal Andrew Bracken in the gymnasium.

Principal Carlton Henley will award diplomas at Lyman High's commencement in the auditorium. No valedictorian or salutatorian were chosen this year.

Truck-Trailer Demolishes Speeding Car

Two lives were snuffed out at about midnight last night when the car in which the persons were riding collided with a tractor-trailer on Highway 17-92 and 434, known as Mobley's corner.

Two other persons were injured in the crash called by Highway Patrol Trooper Dan Oaks "one of the worst I've seen."

Dead on arrival at Seminole Memorial Hospital were Coy Seals, 22, of Plymouth; and Marie M. Vicks, 18, also of Plymouth. Being treated at the hospital are Elaine Joyce Parkhurst, 19, of Zellwood, and Romeo Estep Jr., 22, also of Zellwood.

The conditions and extent of injuries to the two could not be learned late this morning at the hospital.

Trooper Oaks credited the truck driver, Alvin Johns, 62, of Ft. Myers, with trigger-like action in trying to avoid the accident and with saving the lives of the two injured persons.

Oaks said Seals was driving west on 434 and attempting to make a left turn onto 17-92. He estimated the speed of the car at about 60 miles an hour.

The trooper said Johns was driving north on 17-92, saw the car in front of him and swerved sharply to the left in an effort to avoid the crash. Instead of striking the car in the middle, the heavy truck hit the front portion.

Seals was thrown out of the vehicle and crushed by the truck wheels, Oaks said. He added he was on patrol directly behind the truck and saw the accident.

When Johns swerved his truck to the left, it collided with a car stopped in the crossover. In that car, but not injured, were Marcella Tony Caro, 21, of 792 Cherokee Circle, Sanford, and Thomas E. Coker, 25, of 127 Lakeside Drive, Sanford.

Oral Sabin Doses To Be Offered Again Sunday

Approval of several outdoor signs to tell of the Sanford area attractions will be discussed Wednesday at 10 a. m. by the Seminole Chamber of Commerce's Promotions Committee.

Chiefford McKibbin Jr., committee chairman, says the meeting will be held at the Chamber's conference rooms.

During each of the four commencement exercises there will be no principal speaker. Instead, outstanding students have been selected to speak on a theme appropriate to the various schools.
