KU KLUX IN MEXICO CITY TAKE OUT NEWSPAPER MAN FOR DENYING EXISTENCE

OF KLAN IN MEXICO AND THEY PROVE IT BY KID- NAPPING

MANY ARE KILLED

In Carnegie When Klan Started To Parade Last Night

(By The Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 27.—Publication of articles denouncing the Klan and denying its existence in Mexico is believed to have been responsible for the kidnaping Saturday night of Jos. E. Campos, director of the newspaper, Excelsior. Campos was held captive for four hours by masked men in the suburbs. He was not harmed but was forced to promise to publish an article admitting the existence of the Klan in Mexico. He was told the organization was formed in that country for the purpose of enforcing justice since the government police were inactive.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 27.—One negro killed and another wounded when unidentified white men rode through east Savannah last night firing revolvers at random. Police believe it the work of drunken men, becoming irresponsible. No evidence of a race clash or the like.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 27.—One hundred members of the Ku Klux Klan Sunday night stood guard over the body of Thomas A. Abbott, Klansman, killed in Saturday night rioting in Carnegie at the home of B. M. McMillan in Atlasburg, where the body was removed from the Pittsburgh morgue. The plans of the Klansmen include a guard or honor until after the funeral.

The reward offered by Klansmen for the apprehension of Abbott's slayer was increased to $5,000 Sunday night when the Ku Klux Klan, caused a reward of $2,500. Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans, made an initial offer of $2,500. Pennsylvania Klansmen at a meeting here Sunday made provision for Abbott's widow and two children.

Dr. Evans characterized his statement, issued Sunday, as "an official statement to the people of the United States concerning the murder of Klansman Abbott during a riot, when parading Klansmen were attacked by residents of Carnegie, Penn., Saturday night.

"The action of the mob of Carnegie residents sense of anarchy. This Klansmen of Western Pennsylvania gathered on a hillside over looking Carnegie early in the evening, and after the intonation of one thousand men into the order, paraded in orderly manner in the direction of the town. They were halted at a bridge separating Glendale from Carnegie, with bricks and other weapons. Missiles of every description were thrown at the Klansmen. Fence pallings, bricks, stones, in fact every object that could possibly injure the law-abiding Klansmen were hurled at them."

"In an effort to prevent their constitutional right of peaceful assembly being abridged by an element of citizenry absolutely dangerous to the safety and cause of freedom, the Klansmen moved forward a square, where the attacking forces made ready for their coming with a bulwark of paving stones and brick. A shower of these missiles fell on the Klansmen. The civilians began firing from a dark side street and Klansman Abbott fell mortally wounded. The Klansmen in compliance with a request of assembled deputy sheriffs went back to the meeting place on the hillside, then returned to their homes. Klansman Abbott was killed because he exercised his constitutionally guaranteed right of peaceable assemblage, free speech and free movement over the highways of our country. We are determining that this and all other parts of our great land shall be made safe for native-born Americans and that every right given us in this constitution, made by our forefathers, shall be preserved to us and to our posterity."

The most seriously hurt of the many persons injured in the fighting was Stephen Zwombke of Carnegie,

The transaction removed last remaining independent company from the South Florida and west coast field, and gives the Peninsular Co. approximately thirty thousand telephones in South Florida. The company is now extending its lines to Arcadia and Punta Gorda, and plans are under way for connections with Fort Myers, Moore Haven, Bartow and LaBelle.

Dave Lockhart Died at Orlando Yesterday After'n

(By The Associated Press)
ORLANDO, Aug. 27.—David Lockhart, president of the Florida Grand Circuit Race Association, and prominent citizen, died yesterday.

Dave Lockhart was known and loved by a large circle of old friends in this city. Dave was one of those kindhearted, whole-souled men who love horses and men with that abounding love that makes real men. He was in the lumber business for many years in Orlando and was prominent in many of the affairs of the city and county. He will be missed in many circles but mostly in the Orlando Fair, where he has been one of the principal figures for many years. Orlando and Orange county lost a good man when Dave Lockhart died.

who was shot in the stomach. Physicians said he had a good chance to recover, however. A boy was sent to a hospital with a bullet in his foot and many other persons were attended by surgeons near the battleground. One Carnegie doctor said Sunday he had dressed no less than a dozen wounded persons in Heidelberg, as illness near Carnegie, while many Pittsburgh doctors reported similar cases, but said none of the cases was serious.

Ten men, arrested by Carnegie police before their flight started, were today fined $10 each under a borough law for having arms in their possession. They had stationed themselves along the principal streets and were directing automobiles bearing the Klan insignia to the meeting grounds on the hill. This action led the district attorney to declare that the county would direct its efforts to prosecuting those arrested in connection with the rioting, as there is no Pennsylvania law that prohibits such meetings as that held by the Klansmen he said.

He is still at large. Williams was also cut by glass.

KANSAS CITY IS SELECTED FOR MEETING

Headquarters of Veter- ans of Foreign Wars

(By The Associated Press)
NORFOLK, Aug. 27.—Selection of Kansas City as national headquarters of Veterans of Foreign Wars was the first work of annual convention organization, which convened today. Council of administration of organization in executive session adopted resolutions accepting the Kansas City offer of quarters comprising an entire wing of Memorial Building in that city.

NORFOLK, Aug. 27.—The supreme council of administration of the Veterans of Foreign Wars passed resolutions Sunday, urging the twenty-fourth annual convention of the order in session here to make Kansas City, Mo., the national headquarters of the organization instead of New York. The resolution will be presented to the encampment delegates today, together with a resolution calling for subscriptions among the members for expansion work, which was adopted at the same time. Commander-in-chief Tillinghast L. Huston started the donations with a $1,000 check.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are in joint session with the veterans of the Eightieth division, "the rock of the Marne" regiment of the Thirty-eighth infantry and the woman's auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Brigadier General Lloyd M. Brett, of Pittsburgh, president of the Eightieth division veteran's association, reached Norfolk Sunday morning, and was escorted promptly for commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, to succeed Colonel Huston. His name will be presented before the delegates Wednesday, when the national officers are elected.

The council of administration of the Coolies decided to suggest to the Military Order of the Centurions, a subsidiary organization of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, that an orphanage home be established at once. The resolution calls for the appointment of a committee to determine the feasibility of such a project. This will be decided at the meeting of the order tonight at midnight when the members go into a solemn convocation. It is believed there will be 10,000 visitors in the city today at the formal opening of the joint session.

GILDED YOUTH JUST ESCAPED CHICAGO MOB

Son of Sears-Roebuck Vice-President Attacks Young Girl

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Police guarded the home of Max Adler, vice-president of Sears-Roebuck Co., whose 24-year-old son, Cyrus, narrowly escaped harsh treatment at the hands of relatives of a 15-year-old girl with whom he charged with attacking. Reinforcements were called out when a threatening crowd gathered. Young Adler was taken to the police station. A few minutes before Adler had backed out of the home of the girl's aunt, who pointed a revolver against the relatives who had chased him several blocks. Last Wednesday the girl's aunt charged them on an automobile ride. A statement Adler and a companion picked up the girl and a friend and took tutory charge was filed against him, but dismissed when the relatives of the girl failed to appear.

CHARLES D. HAINES IS CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE OF GOVERNOR

(By The Associated Press)
ORLANDO, Aug. 27.—Charles D. Haines, of Altamonte Springs, former congressman from New York, and widely known as a manufacturer and philanthropist announced his candidacy for governor of Florida here Saturday.

Mr. Haines made his formal announcement to a reporter for the Orlando Morning Sentinel, declaring that he had decided to enter the race after a series of political conferences with Democratic leaders in various parts of the state. He did not indicate what kind of a campaign he plans to carry out, beyond saying he will not stamp the state.

Mr. Haines was a member of the fifty-third congress from New York, but has been chiefly known as a builder of railroads and a manufacturer. He constructed twenty-eight railroad lines, and operated mills and factories in many places in New England before coming to Florida to make his home, twelve years ago.

Everglades improvement, deepening of the state's waterways and return of the Bible to the public schools will be among the achievements he will seek if elected governor, he said.

IRISH BELIEVE IN HAVING SOME REAL POLITICS

FEW ARE INJURED

By Shots Fired in Crowd But No One is Killed as Yet

(By The Associated Press)
DUBLIN, Aug. 27.—A motor car carrying James Crowley, minister of fisheries, and Finian Lynch, both of whom are candidates of government party, were attacked by a crowd while passing through Lixnaw yesterday. Shots were fired and one man in the crowd was seriously injured. There were reports at Mountjoy prison and other places occupied by national troops had been attacked, but authorities professed to have no knowledge of such attacks. Balloting is brisk.

DUBLIN, Aug. 27.—A lively outbreak of rifle and machine gun fire occurred in Dublin early today. The shooting was not explained. Balloting in the Dail election is proceeding with national troops patrolling the streets.

DUBLIN, Aug. 27.—On the eve of polling, uncertainty as to the result of the Irish election, continues, but it is agreed in governmental circles that within the past week the prospects of the government party have grown brighter. This belief is due to the intensive campaign made by the ministers, who personally have addressed numerous meetings, and partly to the effect of the celebrations of the anniversary of the death of Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins.

President Cosgrave has covered more ground and addressed more meetings during the past week than any previous leader ever did. While he is confident of retaining office, his repeated appeals for a majority outnumbering that of all the other parties tends to show his unwillingness to govern by a coalition if he can help it.

The farmers are expected to return the next strongest party, while the split in the labor party probably will prevent much of an increase in the existing labor representation. The independents and business candidates hope to return to least twenty representatives.

The seats of the individual ministers are all considered safe. There have been numerous appeals to the electors to give their first preference in the voting so that their may head the polls and give them the first chance of securing election before the remaining votes are proportionately distributed.

The republicans, who started their campaign merely to make a demonstration, now say they can return more than half of the house of 163 members.

During the last three days the republicans have issued a daily paper criticizing the government's actions and checking reports in the newspapers, all of which support the Free State. The most prominent headline in the republican paper, is a statement attributed to Archbishop Mannix, of Australia, that every enemy of Ireland is supporting the government.

It is true that nearly all the old unionists have announced their intention to keep President Cosgrave in office; but there still are some unionists "die-hard" who will abstain from voting. They object to the oath of members of the ADL as implying an oath of loyalty to the Free State, holding this would bar them from advocating a return of British power.

It was conceded that Eamonn DeValera will be elected in county Clare and Mrs. Kathal Brugha (Mrs. Charles Burgess) widow of the noted Sinn Feiner who died of wounds received in the July 1922 fighting at Dublin, in Waterford.

The regular Sunday crowd went to the beach yesterday and to the springs and everywhere but at home. A swimming pool in Sanford would keep many of them here.

Well Known Jacksonville Firm Proud of Their Part in This Work

The Schell-Sasse Manufacturing Company is owned and operated by John D. Sasse, Vice-President and Treasurer, and Wilkie J. Schell, President. Mr. Sasse attained favorable recognition in the handling of credits and collections and large office forces while in the employ of others prior to the time he enlisted in the army. Mr. Schell, whose father spent his life in the millwork manufacturing business in North Carolina has consequently grown up in this line and knows it thoroughly. Like Mr. Sasse he was using his ability for others in a satisfactory way before he entered the army, and it was after Mr. Sasse and Mr. Schell returned to private life that they got together and established the Schell-Sasse Manufacturing Company. The combination is working out satisfactory to themselves and to the numerous customers whom they have served. They are both on the job every day and direct their own business first hand. Clients do not have to talk to a subordinate.

When quoting on the entire requirements of millwork, sash, doors, weights and cord, and glazing, for a particular job, according to specifications it is the practice of this concern to quote a figure embracing all requirements according to the plans and specifications that the general contractor would be responsible for under the terms of his contract, and such quotations carry a guarantee of the Schell-Sasse Manufacturing Company of their responsibility for anything in the nature of such work that may be called for or reasonably inferred to be a part of the said contractor's agreement with the owners. This policy, while it costs the Schell-Sasse Manufacturing Company some business, in view of the fact that numerous competitors choose to submit list bids which leave out numerous items which are not strictly interpreted as millwork, and are thus able to get out what appears to be a low price, is steadily gaining favor with the trade because it has been shown on job after job that in the ultimate and final cost Schell-Sasse Mfg. Company's figures were correct, and the other method is misleading, altho it sometimes forms a basis for trading.

In the matter of production, the Schell-Sasse Manufacturing Co. insist on the ultimate and absolute satisfaction of their customers. They have assured themselves by the selection of the personnel of their organization that their every client receives just the class of material he has contracted for, in the manner that he contracted to receive it, and at the time he needs it.

In the matter of credits, this firm is able to extend any reasonable credit or accommodations to those worthy of credit, bearing in mind the fact that all building material on account of competition is sold at the lowest possible price, and the well understood axiom that owners contemplating building should make their financial arrangements before hand with bankers and not afterwards with the material man.

It is a pleasure to have been identified with a contractor like the Geo. A. Fuller Company on this substantial and attractive office building in the fair city of Sanford. We predict for Sanford continued activity in construction lines and sincerely hope for repeat business. We are interested in business for tomorrow and next month as well as for today and this month. Our entire organization and every policy is working in accordance with that policy.

William A. Schell, brother of the president, is in charge of millwork estimates and contracts. The manner in which he transacts this business with customers has always reflected credit to this company and won for them with those who know, the reward they have so earnestly strived to obtain, that of good faith and honest trading.

Honor Awarded Scots.
The best English is spoken in Glasgow, or at least John Massfield says so. Mr. Massfield has given Englishmen a shock with this statement. While the Scots have consistently argued for decades past that the best English is to be found in Scotland, and especially in Edinburgh, it remained for Massfield, himself an Englishman, not only to accord the highest honors to Scotland but to hang them on Glasgow. English members of parliament, however, are not willing to accord any such distinction to the members of the Scottish labor party, as the latter are frequently hard to understand in debate. Massfield, who recently was judge at a Glasgow music festival, declared that the quality of speech of Glasgow children came as a revelation, and added that the children are frequently the best speakers of English. He even went farther and said he fancied there might be a time when the Scots would be the best singers of the musical world.

The Ku Klux Klan is having a hard time in many of the northern states and there is shooting and killing every time they parade. The Klansmen can probably take care of themselves even in the north and at least it will be up to them to take care of themselves since the laws do not protect them in any way.

The Federal Bureau of Fish Hatcheries, informed one of the Florida counties last week that no fish could be obtained for any Florida lakes as long as seining, shooting and dynamiting fish was allowed in the state. It seems to be up to the Florida legislature to get busy on the fish and game laws. None of the legislators know anything about them.

THE ANTI-THEFT LAW FOR AUTOS.

We received our certificate of ownership and the title tag today from the Comptroller's office and suppose the protection of the car is now in full force. We understand from officials in many of the various counties that the theft of automobiles has been cut down fifty per cent. If this is true the law has certainly accomplished wonders but the insurance on cars seems to go on the same basis—at least we have not had any rebate on our insurance for protection. We may be dense but it does seem that when your car is stolen the thief will take car, tag and all and anyone seeing him with the car and the identification tag would not know whether he was the owner of your car or not. At least the car would be searched by an officer if they are to be searched and the identification tag found on the car would it not be allowed to proceed and by the time the theft was discovered would the thief not be miles away just as he would be without the identification tag. In other words how can any officer know who is the owner of the car now any more than he could before we put the identification tag on the car. There is nothing on the tag that would indicate the owner to a strange officer. It may be all right and we hope it is for we have paid our extra dollar to prove our ownership and we are also reminded of the ownership the first of the month, yes.

FREE PUBLICITY.

The News, like other daily newspapers the world over, is repeatedly the victim of awful attacks in an effort to secure valuable space for the introduction of various schemes for private gain or moulding of public opinion toward "putting over" some sinister plot.

Some bureau or syndicate or manufacturer or politician will hit upon a happy idea, and some clever fellow will tell him just how he can work the newspapers for all the "stuff" needed; whereupon the "expert" is engaged or the advice is taken without the aid of the expert. He makes good at getting the stuff out—but publishers are too keen to allow the grafting game to go too far.

Invariably, when the scheme is found out in time, and the matter is refused, a threat is hurled at the publisher that the "story" will be given to another paper.

The plot works, occasionally, but not always. In the long run, the schemer usually loses out because never again can the paper be approached in the same way by the same schemer.

The fact must be considered, also that unless citizens can be depended upon at all times to furnish their local journal with live stories they can not expect to get away with sporadic attempts to put over propaganda. The editor is a hard man to fool.—DeLand News.

FILLING STATIONS.

Is not the gasoline and oil filling station business being overdone in Gainesville. About for or five good stations could perhaps make a decent living here but, we are told, there are eighteen. No matter which way you turn you are confronted with a gasoline station. It is true there is a great deal of gasoline and oil used here. There are many automobiles and the number is daily increasing. We have about a million and a half dollars invested in automobiles and trucks in this city alone and there are many cars here from surrounding towns or cars passing through every day. But even that does not justify eighteen filling stations. They cannot all hope to prosper. We have more filling stations than Jacksonville used to have barrooms in the "good old days."—Gainesville Sun.

RAILWAYS FAIL TO AID FLORIDA'S GROWTH.

Other countries and states have gained in population because of the frequent desire to "locate" somewhere else—and because the railways in those localities stand ever ready and willing to assist. Florida railways seem to take little interest in the growth of the state—although knowing full well that it is only through the growth of population that their increase may be derived. Some years ago when there was a boom in the Manitoba region, over the Canadian line, papers in the middle west were carrying large quotas of paid advertising from the Canadian line, papers in the middle west were carrying large quotas of paid advertising from the Canadian railways leading into that section of the country. These advertisements told of what had been done there, how easily land could be obtained, the profits to be made, the excellence of the climate, and all details tending to draw settlers. Then there was a half-rate made on the roads for those desiring to make a personal corroborative trip. More than that: the railways offered to carry, free of every charge, all farm implements and household goods from any point on their lines to the desired location.

It was through such offers that a large population went into that almost wild country. The larger portion of them remained there—but they have netted sufficient money that they can afford to spend their winters in Florida—those who do not season in California. Perhaps such bonuses could not be legally granted by the roads in the United States in these times; it might be adverse to the laws and regulations of the interstate commerce commission; but if such things were allowable, how many roads are sufficiently progressive to put such a piece of propaganda into action? How many heard of a half-rate home-seeker's ticket in Florida? Who ever heard of bringing free of charge the household goods and farm implements from the state line to any point in Florida?

Possibly there could be enough pressure brought to bear upon the roads in the state to have a concerted action along these lines—always provided the roads wished to take such action. It is possible that railroads might be made to lose a large portion of the traveling public's money if the public refused to travel. Of their own volition the roads should see that each family they locate in Florida would bring greater returns to them in the line of freight both incoming and outgoing, and of an invigorated passenger service. Such things are possible, once there is one solid movement in that direction.

From every section of the United States there should be ordered half-price tickets, limited to a short term, for those who desired to "spy out the land." Even at that rate the roads could lose nothing by the proffer, and the state directly and the railways indirectly would be heavy gainers.—Palatka News.

GET MORE ACCOMMODATIONS.

Unless all signs fail this will be a banner tourist season in Florida and Sanford should make her first start toward getting tourists by building more apartment houses and have plenty of accommodations for those who would come here if they had apartments. There are many wealthy people come to Florida who do not care to go to hotels. They are wealthy but they are also economical and want their own individual comforts. We had some of them here last winter and they wanted apartments so they could get up in the mornings when they wished and get their own breakfast without going down town. They wanted to take their lunch or maybe their six o'clock dinner at the hotels and restaurants but they wanted a place where they could cook a meal if they so desired and they were fine people at that. They told the Herald editor that they would come to Sanford this winter and bring others with them if we would find more accommodations for them. We have many more apartment houses this year than last but not sufficient yet for the demand that would be here all the time. Home money is building Sanford but we need something more than home money now if we intend to keep the city going as it should and all growing Florida cities are having the same problems. The Ft. Pierce Tribune says:

"Local capitalists have carried to a successful conclusion every project which they have undertaken in the city. While foreign capital is welcome at all times, the fact that the city has practically been built and developed by home people and funds is an argument as to the stability and character of the place.

"Just now a critical situation has arisen due to the wholly inadequate number of dwellings which must be provided if the city is to continue its growth and the people who desire to make this their home and to spend the winter season here are to be accommodated. In midsummer with an extraordinary demand there are no homes available. The many projects now under way here are daily bringing new people who are anxiously looking for a place to rent or buy. Strange as it may sound, with unprecedented development in the city and section, there is no financing company to assist those who desire to own a home. There is no company or association which recognizes the 'public' interest in building for sale or rent moderately priced dwellings.

"It is too late to attempt to provide residences and apartment houses for those who will assuredly come here to spend the winter. Hundreds applied last season for places and were virtually told to look elsewhere and they will probably be told the same thing again this winter. It is not too late though to construct a number of houses which might be available and accommodate at least the early arrivals.

"Making provision for those who are residents now and and those who will of necessity be here in the near future is of the greatest importance. Failure to do this is equivalent to putting brakes on the development of the city."

BEAUTY IN COUNTRY PLACES.

The United States Department of Agriculture, realizing the value that is in beauty in country places, has issued a bulletin, No. 1,325, entitled: Rural Planning; the Social Aspects, that is worth reading and the suggestions, or many of them, contained therein should be put into practical effect. This can be done because the purpose of the bulletin "is not to tell how things should be done but to show what has actually been done," to quote from the foreword, which is as follows:

"This bulletin is practically an exhibit of actual examples of rural planning by rural people. It shows their endeavor not only to create and improve their own institutions, such as recreation places, public grounds and public places, and trade and civic centers, but to conserve for the permanent use of rural people those institutions and auxiliaries of rural life, of proved value, that they already have. It shows especially that country people do believe in beauty in country places; that they appreciate it; and that they can and do afford civic beauty in their own environment. Its purpose is not to tell how things should be done but to show what has actually been done. It is hoped that the story of how these instances came about will encourage country people everywhere to plan for beautiful surroundings while planning for better farming."

All over Florida, at the present time more attention, than in any previous years, is being given to beautification, in the country as well as in cities and towns. In the past Florida people have been concerned mostly with providing the absolutely necessary things, buildings, roads and similar requirements. With many of these necessities provided there is time to be devoted to beautification, and it is being given, with good results. Orlando furnishes a conspicuous example of city beautification, and long ago earned the designation of The City Beautiful—an unquestioned asset for that municipality, as it is for others that similarly, or in original ways, make practical efforts in beautification.

The country, no less than the city, needs all of beauty, natural or hand-made, that can be preserved or acquired, natural or hand-made, that can be preserved or acquired. Lake county people have done a vast amount of commendably good work along this line. Aside from the pleasure of that beautification of landscape gives there is appreciable value. Of this fact there are many evidences. Lake county people have established parks, in county locations, have cleared and made beautiful many jungle places, have made attractive many spots that previously were eyesores, and have made unattractive roadsides attractive. Much of this work is the result of organized effort. But it has proved contagious, and individual property owners have caught the beautification spirit and are doing good work along the lines indicated. In other counties similar work is under way, and it altogether to be commended.

The department of agriculture bulletin, to which references has been made, has a number of illustrations from photographs of parks, public building grounds and the like, showing effective beautification work. But the pictures are of places in the East, North and West. It is to be hoped that when the next bulletin on this subject is issued it will contain some of the many available photographs of Florida scenes, and of others in the South generally, for they are numerous. They are as instructive as they are attractive.—Times-Union.

Use Rat Trap Key, Frees Alleged Car Thieves From Jail

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 25.—A key cut from a rat trap by a safety razor used by J. O. Sparkman and S. E. Murphy, held in the city jail here in connection with a number of automobile thefts to make their escape early yesterday morning. Policemen were within a few feet of the men they walked out by going through the city jail.

Julius Mathews, held in connection with the thefts, is said to have refused to accompany the fugitives. A missing rat trap late yesterday gave the police the first clue of how the escape had been managed. Pieces of the trap, some shavings and a tricked safety razor blade were found in a trash barrel with some broken pieces of wire.

J. G. Sparkman, brother of one of the fugitives, in an open letter to his brother, which will be published today in the Miami Herald, ask that Sparkman return and give himself up for the sake of his father and mother and wife and babies.
