Chameleon-Like Presidential Politics

Selection and probable election of Sargent Shriver as the vice-presidential nominee of the Democratic party is both an ending and a

It should quiet the unhappy furor which the Eagleton affair has had on this year's presidential election with its consequent

It should not , indeed cannot, end the sober and disturbing situation which the present method of selecting the vice-presidential candidate has exposed.

Even as Senator George McGovern, Democrat Presidential candidate, took to the air to announce that Mr. Shriver would be the vicepresidential nominee there was a sure sign that this was a beginning of the "issues" campaign.

For he went after the Nixon conduct of the national affairs with a sharpness and a force which testified to the change which the Shriver entrance had allowed him.

It was also evidenced when Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird was interviewed on a TV program the next day and so conducted his answers to proper and clear questions with a rudeness which could only be explained by his political fervor to avoid any answers on the conduct of the war which would harm the "reelection of the president

Both the McGovern and Laird performances were so much in the manner of usual presidential campaign styles that they were almost a relief and should be considered as getting the show back on the tracks.

There will be, to be sure, de-railments for both the Democratic and Republican campaign trains as they get steam up for the real race to the finish in November

The green light which seems so clear for the GOP right now, has some real and formidable mists to penetrate when the matter of campaign contributions, the sources and the uses, solidify. Democrats have in a McGovern-Shriver ticket a combination of a well-known political figure with a less well-known man who brings no commitments which has in itself, a sort of negative-positive character.

Yet Mr. Shriver has a record of public service which shows a devotion to the "people"

Threading your way through the thicket of educational jargon surrounding supposedly new, "innovative" school programs can give you a headache. One of the best remedies to date is "a Consumer's Guide to Educational Innovations," written by Mortimer Smith and George Weber of the Council for Basic Education and Richard Peck who worked for the council. It proably represents the firstmajor compendium for parents and laymen of current educational methods, curricula and terms including about 60 of them, from Accountability to Year-Round Schools. It is an outstanding example of lucidly written English well worth study by English instructors and pupils alike. It is witty, acerbic and WASHINGTON (NEA) As Sen. McGovern seems to be demonstrating with fresh force, candidates for the presidency evidently cannot handle long campaign summers very well. This one was supposed to be a luxurious period in which the Democrats could organize superbly and without haste. Simply as an extra, McGovern would throw in a few sneak-preview visits to vote-rich areas.

So far it hasn't worked out that way. With the dumping of vice presidential nominee Thomas Eagleton and the earlier backing and filling over what to do with Lawrence O'Brien, the McGovern organization quickly took on the tattered look of a weary stage show road

Maybe the senator's top cast of characters should have known they couldn't look good all summer. In the 1940s the meteoric Republican nominee, Wendel Willkie, was blazing a spectacular course in the days leading to his nomination in late June. Polls placed him close to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, but July and August dulled his magic. It was all over by Labor Day. Eight years later, the GOP made another early pick. York Gov. So Dewey spent the summer looking confident, while Truman churned up the dust. Dewey, of course, was a surprise second. In 1952, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower won election pretty andily. Still, he might have done even better. He never did figure out what to do with his summer. In August's dog days, the late publisher Roy Howard told him editorially to get moving, adding that he was "running like

John F. Kennedy's talented organizers were on top of the world when he won the 1960 Democratic nomination in mid-July. They made some key gains when they nagged Vice President Nixon into a series of fall debates But their summer was mostly bad news. An anti-Catholi crusade against Kennedy took the headlines, and lagged in polls. He barely sneaked across at the finish. Looking at all this, the wily Lyndon Johnson decided to veto summer. He scheduled the 1964 and 1968 conven tions for late August. He got away with it the first time because voters used the warm months to think back over what his rival, Barry Goldwater, had been saying But in 1968 the whole thing backfired when Johnson pulled out. One Man's Opinion Do Pro Athletes Need That Raise? By RALPH NOVAK

Those of you who have been thinking about taking up a collection for Wilt Chamberlain can relax. Chamberlain, as you'll recall, is the Los Angeles Lakers' 7-1 center who has been scraping along on a salary of a mere $250,000 a year, which is barely enough to keep a man his size in T-shirts let alone the timber wolf fur he needs to carpet his $1.5 million personal But now, thanks to the recent Cost of Living Council ruling that exempts professional athletes from the wage freeze, Chamberlain has told the Lakers he thinks his multi-year $250,000 contract ought to be more generous. This came not long after the Lakers' Jerry West signed a two-year contract at $300,000 a year. Nobody should be surprised if Chamberlain gets his raise. (After all, he was once described as "maybe the best all-around athlete in the world" by no less an authority than Wilt Chamberlain."

There are those, however, who may wonder why it is that Chamberlain should be permitted a raise of, say, $50,000 a year, when the average working person may well be refused a boost of $250 a year. The Cost of Living Council said that restricting athletes' wages would have involved too complex a system of accounting, that the athletes have such a short earning life that freezing their wages now would be unfair and that the economic impact of exempting them from controls would only be a trifle, anyhow

The answer to the first argument is easy: It is the Council's business to figure out a way to police wage increases and it seems unlikely that it could not have worked out a reasonably equitable plan if it had tried. Secondly, everyone has a relatively short earning life Given the progressive income tax and the fact that most athletes make ultracomfortable livings in the first place it is probable that the extra $10,000 or $25,000 or $50,000 they may receive does not mean any more to them than that $250 might to a less prosperous employe. Finally, the economic impact of controlling athletes' wages would be far less important than the symbolic Bream catches in Lake Jessup have been little short of fantastic for the past week according to Lowell Hiley, operator of the fish camp on the South side of the lake. Henry Ellis landed an even 100 in two days of fishing with both shellcrackers and bluegills included in his haul. Ellis makes his home in Sanford when he isn't dropping a line in the waters of Lake Jessup. Carlton Gregor and his grandson, Eddie Bradley, ourneyed over from Orlando Wednesday and strung up 89 bluegills. Another pair of Orlando anglers, Fred Kemp and Lucious Evans scored with a string of 90. John Hughley and nephew Lamar Hughley of Apopka, mixed the bluegills and chellcrackers, ending up with 65. The Gregor party fished three days in all, with good results each day The "Speck Man," Dorsey Bailey is still finding plenty of his favorite fish. Bailey is bringing in nice catches every time he goes but other anglers have not discovered his secret as yet. Most of them, trying the perch exclusively, are having to be content with four or five Bass fishing has slacked off to a faint trickle, the hot weather apparently discouraging most of the 'regulars.' Don Smith, Seminole Sporting Goods Store, had only one bass listed this week but it was a beauty - 8% pounds. Chuck Wade was the lucky man. He fished out of Marina Isle Camp using live shiners for bait.

Another Marina Isle regular, Don Bangs, located some speckled perch Sunday. Bangs took nine of them, then switched to bream fishing for a catch of 40. Perch are beginning to come into the deep water at this camp and bank anglers are getting them with live minnows fished near the bottom That was the word from Bob King, camp owner. He also noted that bass fishing had slowed down. "Some bass schooling early in the mornings, bottom fishing for bream and catfish fair," was the word from Lemon Bluff Camp. Cassie Risner, who looks after things when the owner, Pat Brooks is not around, said the school bass hit real well early Sunday, but not a fisherman was in sight. The few boats on the river were just out for a spin, trying to stir up a little breeze. On the Wekiva River, Ricky Wynn used his bow and arrow for some good sport this week end. Ricky hit the bullseye on 7 mullet up to four pounds, and helped clean out the rough fish by bagging 2 mudfish and a gar. This report came from George Cheney at Wekiva River Haven Camp. Cheney noted that most of the campers were content to catch a few cats and bream for supper and spend the rest of the time swimming, trying to beat the heat. "Everyone is having

Salt Water Report

The cold current continued to styrnie angling efforts the first part of the week but Wednesday saw a warming trend and trolling boats connected with some fair catches. Captain Fred Langendorf found a warm spot and his party aboard the "Angler" loaded 31 kings into the fish box. One bonita completed the catch. The "Black Duck" located 13 kings, five bonita, and a cobia. Bottom fishing boats have been faring poorly but the "Snow White 2" got back into the win column with 10 large amberjacks, four cobia, and a bushel of small snapper and black sea bass, also on a Wednesday trip. Weekend excursions showed the "Angler" with 10 kings. 14 bonita, and one barracuda. The "Miss Behavin", 14 bonita and two kings. The "Dandy'L" 13 bonita, one king, Captain Tad Grubbs on the "Finest Kind" steered his passengers to 12 bonita and five kings.

The second annual "Powder Puff" derby was held according to schedule Saturday and Sunday, with four out of the five winners confining their fishing to the blue water outside

In the girls division, Kathy Owens, 12, scored 136 points to nail first place while her sister Charlene, only nine-yearsold, copped the runner-up spot. The adult women's contest found Pat Lamee in third runner-up position, Mary Wright, second runner-up, Jenny Hazouri, first runner-up. Karen Moffatt emerged as the over-all winner with a point total of 170. A 59 pound wahoo was the top catch of the derby and was landed by the winner, Karen.

The awards party held at Bill Lynn's Smyrna Marina saw a switch in the usual order of things. The men had to do all the cooking and serving, the work gang being made up of presidents (both present and past) of the Halifax Sports FishingClub, sponsors of the event.

In other action on the East Coast, Sanford resident Leon Swain celebrated his 43rd birthday with a fishing trip to Ponce Deleon Inlet. Tom Cobb, another Sanfordite, accompanied him and assisted in landing a beautiful string of sheepshead.

The Halifax River is producing some good catches of big trout in the area inside the inlet, live shrimp doing the job. The Fishin' Hole Tackle Shop, Wayne Brady, manager, reports snook and tarpon around the bridges in the Daytona section of the river and sea bass, trout and weakfish further north in the Intra-coastal waterway.

Flagler Beach Pier fishermen have been having a run of spots mixed in with ball whiting, speckled trout and some weakfish. Donald Ashe, pier manager, told of some fine catches of snook in the waterway around Flagler Beach, many of them in the 8-10 class. Around High Bridge at Cobb's Corner, they have been running in the 12-15 pound range, with some sea bass of six pounds and over hitting also.

A shark fisherman on the beach near the pier Saturday landed a specimen measuring 8 feet 11 inches and weighing in at 450 pounds. The shark required two hours and 10 minutes to land.

George Sauer recently bought a new Penn 930 casting reel from the "Fishin' Hole." His first trip, using the new reel, Sauer landed a seven pound trout from the Ormond Bridge. Live shrimp was the bait.

Over on the West Coast, Gene and Sally Bevis of DeLand visited Chockoluskee Bay near Naples last week. Redfish were plentiful, Sally landing one of 12 pounds. In addition to the redfish. The Bevis family brought home 15 snook. -LET'S GO FISHING!

A dear old man becomes dirty old man

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 40-year-old married woman and have been told that I am reasonably attractive. I've always been able to handle men who have come on too strong, but

Would you believe that an 85-year-old man has been bugging me? He is well respected in this community, and always greets the women at church with a hug and kiss. I thought nothing of it as he seemed to love people so much. One day he telephoned me and asked me to come by his house to get some fresh vegetables from his garden. (He lives alone.) I went there, was given the vegetables, then he embraced me and tried to kiss me! I had to struggle hard to get away from him. He's surprisingly strong for his age. I left as tactfully and quickly as I could but that really shook me up. I almost told him off, then I considered that a man of 85 might not be as mentally responsible as a younger man, and I didn't want to hurt his

He keeps calling me to come back for more vegetables. and I am running out of excuses. He calls so often I hate to Should I keep making up excuses for not going back?

Or should I tell him the truth and ask him not to call me anymore? I don't know how to get out of this situation. Everyone thinks he is such a dear old man, but to me, he's

DEAR STUMPED: He could be a "sick" old man. Don't be cruel, but do put an end to his calling by telling him firmly, but tactfully that you have decided not to return to his home without your husband. He'll get the

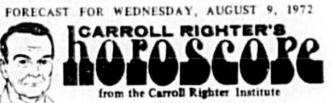

DEAR ABBY: This man II will call him Mr. Jones] runs a cement contracting business out of his home. I have telephoned him at least a half dozen times trying to give him some business, but each time I call, a child answers the phone, says, "Daddy isn't home," and I have no telephone in my home so I must make these calls at a pay station which costs me a dime every time I call. Do you think a man should allow his business phone to be answered by a child who can't take a message? And have you any suggestions for how to reach Mr. Jones?

DEAR FRUSTRATED: You could write him a letter. But unless you have a concrete reason for wanting to give Mr. Jones your business, why don't you try someone else? CONFIDENTIAL TO "BORN LOSER IN CARLSBAD": Think about the man who said, "I complained because I had no shoes . . . then I met a man who had no feet.". . .

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CONSERVATIVE": A woman in Cincinnati put it this way: "We teach communism without advocating it. We teach revolution without advocating it. Why not teach birth control without advocating it?"

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when you have considerable vitality. You are able to see conditions in their most comprehensive light and can make real progress toward attaining your most cherished objectives. Avoid being too forceful or demanding even though you may be tempted

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) It's all right to have a good time, but don't force others to go along with you. They may have more important things to do. Give others a compliment when merited. Pay your bills. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You can accomplish a great deal today at home, but do nothing that will irk anyone there. An unkind word could touch off a big argument. Make improvements to the property you own. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Engage in outside activities early and accomplish much whether of a business, cultural or artistic nature. A good time to engage in your favorite hobby. Show more devotion to family.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are thinking sensibly and can do much to add to your present abundance. Discuss your best ideas with experts so that you remove any doubts you may have. Relax tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) You can make your presence felt now where it counts the most, since the planets are most favorable. Contact valuable allies early and discuss the subjects that are closest to your heart. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have private aims that require more study now if you are to make a success of them. Reach right decisions early. Once arrangements are made for the future, go out for entertainment. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day to get together with friends you truly admire and who can help make your life happier. Stop closeting yourself in the home so much. Engage in group activities that please.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Show loyalty and admiration to superiors and public leaders. Forget a tendency to poke fun at them. Make sure you carry through with civic matters instead of running away from them. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to visit bigwigs who can help you advance in your line of endeavor. Anything of a scientific or educational nature is fine. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Find a better method of handling those responsibilities ahead of you. Show others that you are a conscientious person. Try not to be forceful with the one you love. Relax tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try not to act in such an uncontrollable way that you lose the support of a bigwig. Show that you are a reasonable person and add to prestige you now enjoy. Be poised. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have so much work ahead of you that you may neglect order and neatness around you, so give more attention to this and you can labor more efficiently. Get wardrobe fixed to suit your style. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those dynamic young people who has to be taught early to be careful and not act in an imperious fashion. There is much ability at organizing here and the education should be directed along such lines so that your progeny can be of greatest assistance to the multitudes. Give good ethical training early and teach love of family. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for September is now ready, For your copy send your buildale and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast (name of newspaper),

Dick Matz, representing the rehitectural firm working on he new courthouse, recommended to the Board of County Commissioners that it not move into the building until it is fully Earlier, the board had been instructed that moving in to different areas of the building would be possible by Sept. I. Matz said there are too many defects, readily seen by anyone walking through the building, for his inspectors to even conduct an inspection "punch" list." He said that in his opinion, the earliest date for occupancy would be Oct, 30. Ashby Jones, deputy clerk, said equipment and furnishings would not be in before Nov. 30. Rids will be accepted on furniture on Aug 11. Commission Chairman Greg Drummond was of the opinion that the landscaping also should be completed before total occupancy in order to alleviate the problems of dirt and debris being tracked in from the outside onto the carpeting. The problem of added personnel for the upkeep of the building already has caused an increase in budget for the maintenance department, Six sonnel for the new court house were allowed in the budget for the coming fiscal year.
