Cuban Exiles Out Of Jail In Orlando

ORLANDO (UPI) — Four Cuban exiles, including Dr. Orlando Bosch, head of the anti-Castro Revolutionary Insurreccional Recovery Movement, were freed on bond today and their four-day fast was ended.
 The four, charged with conspiring to illegally export weapons from the United States, were released on $100,000 recognizance bonds each Wednesday.
 The bonds were signed in the presence of federal Judge George C. Young, who granted the Cubans a two week continuance in their arraignment.
 Moments later, Bosch called a press conference from the Federal Office Building and was taken to the Grand Memorial Hospital emergency room by private car. He was treated for what hospital authorities called "simple malnutrition" and released.
 Bosch is reported to suffer from a stomach condition.
 The other Cubans, identified as Jose Diaz Morjon, Gerardo Gutierrez and Marcos Rodriguez Ramon, apparently were not affected by the lack of food.
 The four Cubans were arrested last Thursday night along with two Americans.

AROUND THE CLOCK
 The proposed new Optimist Club in South Seminole county is becoming a reality. Another preliminary meeting is scheduled tonight at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. W. L. Williams, 1418 S.W. 11th St. in Seminole Falls.
 Only a handful of people showed up last Wednesday to have their dogs inoculated against rabies at the booth set up behind City Hall. Another inoculation day is slated for June 23. Deadline for new tags and shots is July 1. Better plan to be in line on the next morning.
 Wildlife Officer R. E. Johnson answering complaints of residents of Lake Tony (east of Casselberry) dispatched the nearby eight foot alligator, which appeared in the lake about three weeks ago, with his 28 caliber magnum rifle.
 Johnson, who is back on the job wrestling gators after undergoing surgery recently was unable to get near the reptile. When he returned Thursday morning he found the alligator had taken the mallet and had been caught on the bank, which he had cut the night before.
 Many of the creatures were driven to the lakes in Central Florida, when ponds and swamps dried up during the recent drought, and found 'that they were unwise tenants.
 Not so long ago those who lived on lakes took the friendly neighborhood gator for granted, but in recent years they have become more scarce and their appearance triggers a wave of commotion to law enforcement officers.
 The Bogart and Brin Club of Sanford is now officially open at the Municipal Auditorium. Membership applications are being accepted. The club is open daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and features a week. Qualified instructors and a life guard are on duty.
 Councilors may look into the possibility of acquiring a lot of land on Lake Ocoee for a recreation and administration center. The first step will be to recon-

Commission Recommends Old Delinquent Taxes Be Struck From Records

Hundreds of tracts and bewildered Sanford citizens, tax bills in hand, advanced on mass on City Hall today after having received notices over the weekend that they owe the city money, some as back as far as 34 years.
 At a called meeting at 10 a. m. City Commissioners voted to recommend that all taxes except those delinquent since 1962 be struck from the records. Official action on the motion cannot be taken until the regular meeting of the commission on June 28. Present at the called meeting were Commissioners M. L. Raborn, A. L. Wilson and Mayor J. H. Crapps. The meeting was conducted by Acting Mayor Raborn.
 Approximately 800 delinquent tax bills, some for as little as $1.50 and some for as much as $850, were sent out Friday from the office of City Finance Director Howard Whitchell, on direction of the City Commission, on delinquent taxes back to 1931.
 Mayor Crapps, whose signature was on the notices, made his first public appearance in three months at a called City Commission meeting to "try to straighten out this mess."
 "I've been besieged with telephone calls and visitors all weekend, and I don't know what to tell these people," the Mayor said.
 (Whitchell commented to the press that the people who descended on City Hall today "looked like a Who's Who of Sanford.")
 Commissioners searched the minutes of past meetings and listened to a recording of the April 25 meeting to read exactly what their instructions to the finance office included. Verbal and written minutes revealed that Commissioner (and Acting Mayor) M. L. Raborn Jr. had made the motion to instruct the finance office to send out notices to all delinquent tax payers, signifying the amount due, plus not more than five years interest. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Joe Baker. Considerable discussion followed the motion, including advice from City Attorney W. E. Hutchison on the possibilities of being able to collect the back taxes.
 At today's meeting Mayor Crapps first made a motion to strike all the delinquent taxes but was informed by Hutchison that the city has no authority to do this, and state auditors would question the action.
 "You are dealing with public funds," Hutchison reminded commissioners. "The law does not contemplate a government body not collecting taxes owed them. It is possible that you could strike taxes before 1962 under the three year statute of limitations, but this is as far as you dare go without running into trouble from the auditors."
 "Everyone is required to keep their Federal income tax returns for three years and these give some indication of whether or not city taxes were paid, or claimed to be paid," Hutchison said.
 Mayor Crapps moved that the bills be struck from 1931 up to 1962 and itemized statements of delinquent taxes and interest due since 1962 be sent. All before that are to be cancelled. Motion was seconded by Commissioner Wilson. Commissioner Earl Higginbotham and Joe Baker were unable to be present at today's meeting. The motion was in the form of recommendation to be considered at the regular meeting of the commission on June 28. Persons who have received notices were instructed to check with the city finance office for a limited bill.

Homicide Suspected In Death

A "strong suspicion of homicide" surrounded the Saturday night death of Mrs. Rachael Wilson Moughton, 47, 806 W. 18th St.
 The "strong suspicion of homicide" was voiced this morning by Coroner W. Hugh Duncan and Sanford Police Chief Arnold Williams. Duncan has impounded the body and scheduled a hearing June 28 in the death.
 According to Chief Williams, Mrs. Moughton's body was found lying in her bedroom in the apartment above a printing company. The corpse was found by Chester Venable, listed as tenant of the apartment.
 Williams said Venable stated he returned home about 10:30 a.m. Sunday morning and found Mrs. Moughton lying on the bed, apparently seriously hurt. Venable said he then contacted Mrs. John Carson, who called the police. Police reports indicate the police were notified at 1:05 a.m.
 There were no signs of a struggle in the apartment, although there was evidence of heavy drinking had taken place during the day, Saturday, according to Williams. There were traces of blood in the bathroom of the apartment and on the bed on which Mrs. Moughton lay, but none between the two. Mrs. Moughton had no known visitors during the evening, according to Williams.
 An autopsy was performed, and according to Coroner Duncan preliminary reports indicate Mrs. Moughton died from loss of blood. The dead woman had several broken ribs and a deep gash on her forehead, but according to Williams most of the bleeding was apparently internal.
 Although the body was reportedly discovered about 10:30 a.m. and the coroner did not view the corpse until about 1:00 a.m., time of death was tentatively placed at 11:00 p.m. Saturday.
 Sanford police are investigating.

Burns May Call Another Session

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Harold Burns said today he will call another special session of the Legislature Friday if reappointment is not accomplished before and the leadership thinks there is the slightest chance of getting something done.
 Burns, back from a 10-day tuna fishing vacation in the Bahamas, said he was frankly disappointed that the lawmakers have not achieved anything more than they have since he convened the current 20-day session on June 5.
 Both houses are deadlocked on a bill passed by the House Thursday when the session expired.
 Burns said he'll counter with the leadership this afternoon to accelerate the prospects for accomplishment.
 "The Legislature must look at the July 1 deadline of the federal court with a full degree of realism that if it does not accomplish reappointment, it will be done by the courts," he said.
 But the governor quickly added that he still feels the court would extend the deadline if the lawmakers are working and there is a showing they intend to do the job.
 "The court prefers that the Legislature accomplish reappointment," he said.
 But, the governor said, "if the leadership feels there is no chance of doing the job, it would be foolish to continue the expense of a session."
 He would, however, make them stay in Tallahassee long enough to redraft congressional legislation to meet the court's population tests, he said.

New Viet Nam Administration To Seek Victory

SAIGON (UPI) — South Viet Nam's new military government formally took over today with a pledge to prosecute the war against Communism until victory is achieved.
 Nguyen Cao Ky, commander of the air force, was installed as president of the new government. He was sworn in as chairman of the military junta at a time of increased fighting on the ground and in the air.
 U. S. Navy planes tangled with Communist guerrillas over the sky. It was the third confirmed "kill" for American aviators in the air war against the Communist north.
 In ground fighting Sunday, Vietnamese troops killed 49 Communist guerrillas in a pre-dawn attack on a Viet Cong stronghold 10 miles north of the American air base at Da Nang. A spokesman said 36 Viet Cong were killed and seven captured in a clash in which 18 were wounded and 18 captured.

Linton Allen, Noted Orlando Banker, Dies

Linton E. Allen, 76, Orlando banker, philanthropist and civic leader, died Saturday morning in the apartment above a printing company.
 Mr. Allen, a native of Georgia, lived and worked in Sanford during the 20 years in which he owned the bank. He was a member of the Board of Directors of the bank and its affiliate, the Florida National Bank of Orlando, vice-president since 1958. In 1965 he became chairman emeritus of the bank and its affiliate.
 It was Mr. Allen who was credited with bringing the Martin Company to Orlando in 1925. He was a member of his monuments to the area in the large, illuminated fountain which graces Lake Eola in downtown Orlando. Mr. Allen conceived the idea for the fountain while on a tour of Europe and the United States. The fountain was dedicated in 1927.
 Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 11:00 a.m. in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church, with Dr. John Anderson officiating.

Early Monday Accident Seriously Injured a Sanford Naval Air Station Sailor

Sanford, Fla. (UPI) — An early Monday accident seriously injured a Sanford Naval Air Station sailor, James J. Maher, 21, of BVAH-7, was taken to Orlando Air Force Base Hospital with multiple injuries. Maher is suffering from a broken shoulder, three fractured ribs and multiple abrasions. State Trooper L. D. Harty said the Navy man was charged with failing to have his car under control. The accident occurred at 2:45 a.m. on U.S. 17-92 on the lakefront.
 The signing was scheduled for 4 p.m. EDT.

University Chancellor To Be Named By Regents

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Colpeter has gained an insight into Florida's education needs that is probably unequalled in Florida's higher education program, including naming a chancellor to oversee the university system.
 The meeting, first since the regular session of the Legislature adjourned, is expected to last two days.
 Also expected to be discussed are the reorganization of the self-same education program, a law school at Florida State University and progress being made on new universities at Pensacola and near Orlando.
 The job of university chancellor is already occupied by Dr. J. Howard Colpeter, the 56-year-old executive director of the system.
 Colpeter has been director of the reports and the predecessor Board of Control since 1964. He is Gov. Raymond Burns' choice for the job.

Presbyterians Vote To Build New Sanctuary

The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning authorized the Planning Committee to proceed with development of plans for a new sanctuary and expansion of the church's educational facilities. A ceiling was established under which the program was to be planned.
 The minister, the Rev. Grover C. Sewell Jr., pointed out that the building in which the service was being held had served a growing congregation well, but larger and more modern facilities would be in keeping with the expanding population and the opportunities and challenges of the future.
 It was brought out in the discussion that it would be over 20 years old, and because of its age, it would be in need of extensive repairs. Fingertip Information

More and more, people all over the world are literally living a penny life.

You can get almost any kind of information or service you want these days by simply dialing the phone and dialing a number. And unless your home is heaven forbid, underground, you don't even have to step, you merely reach.

The time, the weather, who's on the phone, even newspaper editions can dial the "Voice of Audubon" and learn what birds can be seen where and when.

And, we Americans aren't the only phone-advantaged ones.

In England little tykes or their parents can dial the "Voice of the Day." In West Germany housewives can dial the "recipe of the day."

In Switzerland there is dial help on crossword puzzles and train schedules. Parisians can dial for advice on romantic problems. If a Parisian ever needs such help.

These remarkable aids to better living encourage hope for the ultimate breakthrough in telephone service—the dream day when the subscriber picks up the phone, the operator answers, and SHE does all the dialing!

Quiet, old-timer, your memory is playing tricks on you.

He requires ample outdoor play room—and not just in your own back yard.

After his own college, he may be content to be occupied in his own room, surrounded by a bed and a book case.

But before that, early grade school children should have ample running space outdoors. They need leg room for their feet and their minds.

Gresham's Law

United Press International

Among Washington's latest explanations of the necessity to debase U.S. silver coins with copper and alloys there is a strong opinion with respect to one of the leading factors involved. It can be stated like this:

"When two coins are equal in face value but unequal in intrinsic value, the one having the lesser intrinsic value tends to remain in circulation and the other to be hoarded or exported as bullion."

To be sure, there has been a vast increase in the commercial use of silver. Equally certain is that production has fallen far behind consumption.

And vending machines have created in recent years a special demand for silver coins. The basic factor mentioned here by the politicians responsible probably is the fact that silver is a precious metal and its price is high. The Treasury management of the silver price has prevented, so far, the melting of coins for their silver content. But this cannot go on forever because the Treasury would shortly exhaust the silver coins already in circulation. The price of silver and into the melting pot would go the U.S. silver coins. Silver and other commodities become more valuable as the purchasing power of the dollar bill declines.

To prevent that, President Johnson asked Congress to authorize the debasement of the dime, quarter and half dollar. They want it to be a real dollar, not a copper penny.

The foregoing quotation about coins of lesser and greater intrinsic value is known in economics as Gresham's Law, having been stated in 1850 by an English financier, Sir Thomas Gresham. A lot of money has been abused and debased since Sir

Experiments Underway On New Celery Harvester

GAINESVILLE (Special)—There's a new machine working in South Florida which may ease the plight of the state's celery growers—that of inadequate labor supplies.

Experiments on a mechanical celery harvester are being conducted by researchers with Florida's Agricultural Experiment Station's Department of Agricultural Engineering.

Research from these tests should be available in several weeks, according to Prof. J. F. Beaman, assistant agricultural engineer with the Station.

"This study is to develop the functional requirements for a celery harvester. The experimental machine isn't meant as a prototype, but simply a field test machine for drawing up specifications from which manufacturers can design commercial harvesters," Prof. Beaman said.

The machine must be adjustable to handle plants which are transplanted both shallow and deep. This is done by controlling the cutting depth hydraulically, he added.

Preliminary results indicate that celery can be harvested with a root length suitable for market. Damage has been cut below standards set up by the inspection service.

There are still some problems, however. The research reports that "hand trimming" and "rooting" of diseased plants will still be needed.

Celery is one of the top crops in Florida, accounting for more than 11,000 acres. The Experiment Station researcher explains that, on the average, it takes 300 man-hours per acre for harvesting and trimming.

It's estimated that this figure can eventually be reduced by 50 percent because of a mechanical means of harvesting.

March Is Planned PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (UPI)—A National group of civil rights workers planned to march 18 miles through this rural east central Mississippi countryside today to commemorate the slayings of three workers a year ago.

Short Putts On 'Longest Open' Bring Playoff

BY GEORGE C. LANGRISH
UPI Sports Writer

The 28-year-old Player missed his hole on the 18th hole on the final round Sunday but when he looked back he had a lock on becoming the first foreign golfer to win the Open since 1929.

WIMBLEDON, England — Dennis Ralston, the top-ranked player in the United States, swatted the outcome of a workout this morning to determine whether he'd be fit to face Hamelin Richardson of Dallas, Tex., in an opening-round match of the Wimbledon tennis championship today.

Both Player and Nagle had 126 putts in the four rounds; both hit 54 of the 72 greens; and both thought they blew the title with double bogeys on the back nine.

Player's putt was a 10-foot putt for a birdie on the 17th and missed it. On the final hole, Nagle had a 10-foot putt for a birdie on the 18th and missed it. Player's putt was a 10-foot putt for a birdie on the 18th and missed it.
