Sheriff continues to investigate Oct. 5 murder

By Nick Pletta Staff Writer

Seminole County Sheriff's investigators are continuing to delve into the murder of Patricia Fritts Howard, 35, of Orlando. Her body was found October 5 on Painted Post Point, a dirt road just off West SR-46, west of Sanford, and just east of the Lake County line.

Not revealed at first, officers have now reported death was caused by multiple stab wounds. The body was partially clothed when it was found by a Florida Wildlife officer in an area near where another woman's body was found wrapped in a blanket on Jan. 16, 1991. There has been no indication of any connection between the two deaths.

Howard's identity was learned through fingerprints, which were matched by Orange County, indicating the woman had had an arrest in 1999 for a misdemeanor. Officers also found she had gone under the name of Patricia Ann Ferguson in the past.

Sheriff's Lieutenant Ed Allen said Howard was a known prostitute who frequented the area of South Orange Blossom Trail in Orlando. She was last seen at approximately 6:30 p.m. on Oct. 4, getting on a bus in the area of South Orange Blossom Trail and Central Boulevard.

Investigators are requesting that anyone with knowledge of the woman or this case contact the Seminole County Sheriff's Investigator Rob Hemmert at 407-665-6958 or Crimeline at 1-800-423-TIPS (8477).

Adult entertainment laws upheld

By Joe DeSantis Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County's Adult Entertainment Ordinance emerged a winner earlier this week, effectively ending a three-year old case against the VIP Gold Club.

Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 10, Seminole Circuit Judge O.H. Eaton, Jr., entered an Order granting Summary Judgment for Seminole County and upholding the validity of the county's ordinance regulating the licensing and zoning for adult entertainment establishments.

Judge Eaton validates county law; rules VIP Gold can't operate without license

Eaton also entered a permanent Injunction closing VIP Gold to prevent the strip club from operating an adult entertainment establishment without a valid license.

Rick Nelson of the American Liberties Institute in Orlando, retained by the county to handle the case, reacted favorably to Eaton's ruling.

"We are extremely pleased with Judge Eaton's careful review of this complex legal issue presented by this case," Nelson said. "The taxpayers of Seminole County can be assured that we will use our best efforts to protect Seminole County's reasonable regulation of strip clubs. Our goal merely is to lawfully regulate adult businesses within Seminole County while providing reasonable zoning distance requirements."

Dave Wasserman, a partner in the Winter Park law firm of Wasserman and Walters, which has represented other adult business such as Circus Circus, Club Juana and Rachel's, expressed mixed reaction to the ruling.

Trails project hinges on OK from voters

By Joe DeSantis Staff Writer

SANFORD — When Seminole County voters go to the polls Nov. 7, they will not only help decide who the nation's next president will be, but will also cast ballots that determine the future fate of outdoor recreation and Natural Lands preservation in their own back yards.

On the heels of a measure approved by a 4-1 County Commission vote in August, Seminole County voters will decide whether or not to authorize $25 million in general obligation bonds to support the construction and acquisition of additional trails, greenways and natural lands.

If approved, completion of Seminole County's Trails Connection Program for Safe

Neighborhoods and Natural Lands 2000 would cost each Seminole County household approximately $10 to $15 per year for the next 10 years. A decade ago, voters overwhelmingly approved a similar referendum that provided $20 million in bond money for the preservation of some 5,600 acres of county land to be set aside for the Natural Lands Program.

County staff and volunteer organizations are currently in the midst of putting the finishing touches on a home stretch public education campaign consisting of television public service announcements, a speaker's bureau, and a mass mail-out designed to hit voter mail boxes on Nov. 1 addressing the referendum issue.

"This is a referendum that benefits all county residents regardless of age. It ties in all seven cities within the county, and it focuses not only on recreation, but public safety as well."

Henley fumes over garbage service

County Chairman wants review of Florida Recycling Services contract

By Joe DeSantis Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County Commissioners this week voiced increasing displeasure with the level of service provided by Florida Recycling Services.

Commission chairman Carlton Henley referred to more than 300 customer complaints filed against the company in the past two months and offered up personal experience of poor service during the commissioner report phase of Tuesday's regular board meeting.

"Every company experiences problems from time to time," Henley said. "But I've received a number of complaints from customers, and I've called myself. There have been a number of times when my garbage has not been picked up on time and sat on the curb over a weekend."

Commissioner Randy Morris echoed Henley's negative experience with Florida Recycling

Henley

Services. "There have been times when entire streets and subdivisions along Markham Woods Road have been totally skipped," Morris said. "And Markham Woods Road is a pretty long road. We need to legally review our contract with them and perhaps invite them to explain why they should not be held in breach of contract."

Henley also pointed to staff memos which indicate county customers of Florida Recycling Services filed 174 complaints

Sanford educators named to All-USA team

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Two Millennium Middle School teachers joined the nation's teaching elite Friday when they were selected to USA Today's 3rd Annual All-USA Teacher Team.

Margaret Collier and Mary Cook were honored for their use of student-directed units approach to help spark student interest and self worth.

The Millennium duo, nicknamed the "Botticelli Blue Team," were among a handful of high school, middle school and elementary school teachers honored. They were the only two Florida teachers named to the prestigious teaching team comprised of 13 women and 11 male teachers who averaged 20 years' teaching experience.

Hotline offers help for students

Anonymous callers can leave tips about gangs, weapons, drugs, prostitution and other activities

By Michelle Jaria Managing Editor

SANFORD — Seminole County students have a new number to call if they want to stop something bad from happening.

Beginning Nov. 1, the SpeakOut Hotline is replacing the Save-A-Friend hotline as the school system's 24-hour anonymous tip service, said Bob DeVecchio, Seminole County Schools coordinator of security. The toll-free number, 1-800-226-7733, allows students, parents and community members to inform authorities of possible dangerous situations in the area.

"We are looking forward to rolling out the new program," DeVecchio said. "We have high hopes it will be as successful as it's been in the six other counties it currently serves."

According to SpeakOut Hotline Director Cheryl Catchings, the Orlando-based program was established several years ago after a tragic shooting occurred in a Lake County school. Since then, the hotline has received anonymous calls concerning gang activities, weapons, fights, counterfeiting, prostitution and other activity.

"The hotline encourages young people and parents to call if they are aware of any criminal activity in their schools or community," Catchings said. "Sometimes 911 can be a detriment to people because they know their information is going to appear on a screen."

"But, people know our service does not trace or record calls," she said. "The information is what we need, not necessarily their name. We want people to know if they have information, they must speak out."

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Wish your mom a happy student day

Back in the '30s, as long as a person could read and write, and at times even without those skills, people would quit school and get a job. By the '40s, they at least would finish the eighth grade. Then along came the '50s and '60s, and the expansion of industry. College education became more valuable.

Today, it's not easy to get a well-paying job without a degree or at least some college level education. As a result, people who may not have obtained higher education are returning to school.

It's not easy to return to school once a person is in his or her 30s, 40s or even beyond. There is the time element where one can't just quit a job and take time to go to school. There is still a need for an income. But colleges and universities are providing for that, and these days it is quite easy to attend at night or even weekends. Of course it will occupy one's time and take additional work, but it can be done.

Oct. 15 has been, for many years, "My Mom is a Student Day." I don't know off hand who sponsors it, but it really doesn't matter. The point is to obtain that higher education. Moms going back to school are clearly trying to better themselves to higher positions, better jobs, more income.

The same holds true for dads, and even grandparents. It's never too late to get more book-learnin'. For some, it may just be a few courses such as Computer operation for Seniors, or other classes to help in a particular field of interest.

But talk to people who went back to school and improved their education successfully. They will tell you that they didn't realize what a help that would be. I know first hand. I went back to school in my 50s, and upon receiving an associate degree (at SCC), I was promoted to vice president of the company at which I was employed. I didn't even ask for it. Management said they just wanted someone with a higher education at management level.

In connection with "My Mom is a Student Day" Oct. 15 also is the beginning of "Character Counts Week" and "Business Women's Week." Yes, education builds better character and improves the world of women in business. (The same holds true for men).

Regardless of what you are doing now, or how much time you may think you can't or can afford, contact a community college or university and find out what you might be able to do. Seminole Community College has a great many nighttime classes both credit and non-credit types. They offer times which will allow working people to attend school, and they won't cost you an arm and a leg.

Get that education. Get that degree. Then perhaps next Oct. 15, your children can officially observe, "My Mom (or Dad) is a Student Day."

If you object to this proposal, — Oct. 15th is also National Grouch Day.

Placid waters

A man fishes off his boat on anchored in Lake Monroe. The recent weather has allowed people in Seminole to enjoy outdoor activities

While the presidential race between Al Gore and George Bush is capturing most voter attention at present, the political winds surrounding Sanford's next mayor's race are beginning to stir. Incumbent Larry Dale has already publicly stated he wants to spend more time with his family, on his business, and won't be eligible thanks to news digs in unincorporated Seminole County. At least one sitting commissioner is considering tossing his hat into the "hizzoner" sweepstakes. District 1 commissioner Brady Lessard says he is giving serious consideration to running for Sanford's Oval Office. Lessard said he is concerned about qualified candidates stepping forward to serve the city and wishes more folks willing to serve Sanford would step forward. Other names currently bantered about in those cross winds include Sarah Jacobson, Helen Staire, and perhaps someone from Millard Hunt's camp.

And speaking of Mayor Larry Dale — has he been moonlighting lately for a barbecue sauce company? Next time you are in the meat section at Publix, check out the photo on Danny's Baldheaded Hot and Sweet Barbecue Sauce. Sure looks like the spitting image of the mayor.

What if they gave a party and nobody came? That might be the case in Longwood Wednesday night. City Commission challengers Craig Van Hooven, attempting to unseat mayor Paul Lovstrand, and political newcomer George McKenzie, chasing after incumbent Steve Miller's seat are expected to be on hand for a debate sponsored by the Lake Wayman Heights Residents under the auspices of the League of Women Voters. Word has it Lovstrand has declined, citing a previous obligation. There's no love lost between Lovstrand and Van Hooven, making his second attempt to unseat the mayor. As usual in Longwood around election time there's been no shortage of name calling, finger pointing, and parochial political sign stealing charges among the city's various political factions.

Railroad giant CSX has leased property to Conrad Yelvington for rock storage. That's not huge news until you consider the property is the site of the proposed Intermodal railyard station along Rand Yard Road in Sanford. Not to worry, though. According to sources within the city, the lease is a temporary one. In fact, funding for the new station, which would include new facilities for Amtrak Auto Train, should be available as soon as work is complete on the Auto Train's northern terminus near Washington, D.C. Congressman John Mica's office says that work could be done as early as March 2001.

If it weren't for bad luck, he'd have no luck at all. Seminole Herald Editor Dan Ping is giving serious consideration to hiring Sanford Police Chief Brian Tooley as a personal body guard. "Wheels" Ping had his car stolen for the second time in the past 12 months this week. Last October thieves stole his clunker and ditched it in a field in Enterprise. This week, rip-off artists deposited Ping's vintage Dodge Diplomat behind Goldsboro Elementary School with two flat tires and a broken steering column. The Herald scribe has been humming strains of Warren Zevon's "Money, Guns, and Lawyers" all week long.

GHB possession
Brian Scott Cserecvits, 26, of Winter Park, was arrested by Seminole County Sheriff's deputies Thursday. A 23-year old woman visiting his duplex in unincorporated Seminole County, reportedly overdosed on GHB (gammahydroxybutyric acid). Cserecvits has been charged with GHB Possession. Sheriff's deputies said the woman consumed water in which GHB was mixed. She apparently was aware the container had GHB. She was taken to Winter Park Hospital for treatment. While he name was not immediately released, her drivers' license lists Sanford as her home address.

attempt was made Thursday to steal a 1993 GMC S.U.V. from the 400 block of Colonial Way in Sanford. The steering column was broken and other damage reported but the vehicle could not be taken.

A white 1995 GMC Sierra truck, with power tools and a black bed cover, was reported stolen sometime Wednesday night, in the 300 block of Rachelle Drive in Sanford. The license number is listed as CO8FZY.

A 2000 Chevrolet Blazer was reported stolen on Oct. 6 from a car rental company at the Orlando-Sanford Airport. The vehicle was located Tuesday, Oct. 10, in the 900 block of East 10th Street in Sanford.

Stolen vehicles
Sanford police report an

A 1987 Dodge was reported stolen Thursday morning from a parking lot in the 2500 block of Oak Avenue. The vehicle was found later in the day at the dead end of West 17th Street, near Oleander, stuck in the dirt with a tire blown out.

A red 1975 Buick Skylark, license number FZ582Z was reported stolen Thursday from the 2000 block of Grandview Avenue in Sanford. In addition to the vehicular theft, a burglary was also reported at the residence of the car's owner. Stereo equipment, said to be valued at a total of $1,300 was reportedly taken.

Traffic stop
Dennis Baker, Jr., 24, of Dixie Drive, Sanford, was stopped by Sanford Police Tuesday on 20th Street. He was charged with driving while his license was suspended, and possession of under 20 grams of marijuana.

Drug arrest
Marie Annette Brooks, 36, East Fifth Street, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police early Friday morning. Officers went to her residence, after finding she was wanted on a warrant for violation of probation on a conviction of possession of cocaine. During the arrest, officers found evidence of drug use in her home, and arrested her on additional charges of having under 20 grams of marijuana, and possession/use of narcotics equipment.

Petty larceny
Angela Fleming, 35, of First Street, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Thursday, at a retail store in the 2900 block of Orlando Drive. Officers said she had attempted to take a number of items with a total value of $25 from the store without paying. She was charged with petty larceny (retail theft).

Issue No. 1: Protect White House

Watching "West Wing" last Wednesday night, it struck me what was wrong with the recent Bush-Gore debate of the night before.

Watching the fictional TV show, I was struck with the awe we feel for the office of the presidency, this personal emblem of our nationhood and the democratic values it upholds.

Why did the Gore-Bush debate fail to examine each candidate on how he views this sacred trust, how he would choose to honor it?

The questions dealt with issues of policy — prescription drugs, taxes, education, Yugoslavia. Overlooked was the issue of the presidency itself.

Let me put a sharper point on this: Neither the vice president nor the Texas governor were asked how they would guard the nation's highest office, and the White House itself, from the scandalous misconduct of the so-recent past.

Before this campaign is over, I would like to hear the two men's prescription on that sensitive matter of state.

Bush's timidity is most disturbing. As the challenger, he is the candidate best positioned to condemn what's gone wrong under Clinton, the freest to promise reform.

Given the chance, he did neither. Asked if there were "issues of character" at stake in this election, Governor Bush said that he was "disappointed" in how President Clinton and Vice President Gore conducted their "fund-raising affairs."

Is that all he has to say about the worst political scandals since Watergate?

To refresh memories, I am referring to the Clinton-Gore scheme of 1995-96 to evade the federal campaign-spending limits by exploiting the White House to raise tens of millions of dollars in "soft money." I'm talking about the scores of "coffees" Gore hosted personally in the White House and the Old Executive Office Building, the night-after-night use of the Lincoln Bedroom as a Motel 6 for millionaires ready to pay cash for the cachet of sleeping on the bed of the Great Emancipator.

I am referring to the vice president's conduct during those seven months in 1998, when the president lied to the country about his relations with a young White House intern. Why, during that long national purgatory, did Gore not confront Clinton? Why, once the truth of the charges were made manifest by the DNA on Monica's dress, did he drench Clinton in even higher praise?

Why, on the day of the president's impeachment, did he talk like a paid political hack, saying the man whose misconduct created the mess, deserved face space on Mount Rushmore?

Gore should be forced to choose: Either defend this desecration of the White House or vow to end it.

I would prefer, personally, that he did the latter.

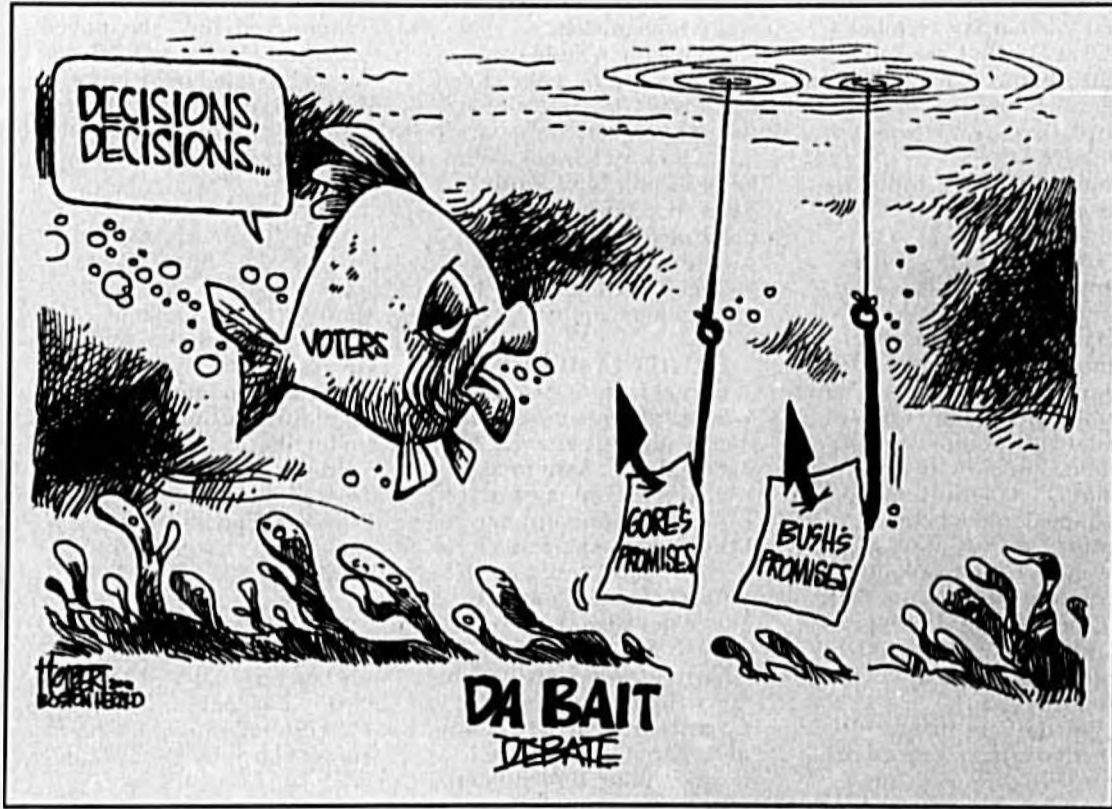

Better yet, he and Bush both should be asked to forswear the following:

- No "finance-related events" at the White House on their watch.
- No sleepovers in the Lincoln Bedroom for contributors.
- No fund-raising calls from the White House by the president, the vice president or anyone.
- No sexual exploitation of White House staffers.

If they both agree to these rules, we Americans will have reasserted our two-centuries-old reverence toward the president's house. If either or both refuse, we will know who we are dealing with.

Chris Matthews

Fossitt wants cat back from humane society

Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to Horneffer, president of the Seminole County Humane Society board of directors, on Oct. 12. It was also sent to the Seminole Herald as a letter to the editor.

Dear Mr. Horneffer;

During the month of June or July, 1999 I adopted a seven-week old male cat named Carnegie from the Seminole County Humane Society. I renamed the cat "Sweetie" and took him home to my family who immediately fell in love with him. Sweetie is treated like a human member of my family. He gets a special, healthy diet, given the treats that he likes, has toys, and bedding to make him comfortable. We truly love our cat.

Unfortunately, over the past few months, Sweetie started exhibiting erratic behavior. He was running uncontrollably through the house and destroying furniture and other objects in my home. I am a first time pet owner and I had no ideas why he was behaving in this way. It never occurred to me to call a veterinarian or the Humane Society regarding Sweetie's behavior. After he broke a very expensive vase, I made the painful decision to return Sweetie to the Humane Society. So, on Sunday Sept. 25, 2000, I took him back to the Humane Society.

My daughters and I cried all night because we really missed Sweetie. On Monday, Sept. 26, I spoke to a co-worker about my cat and she referred me to her friend who is a long-time pet owner. She informed me that animals usually act this way if they have not been neutered or spayed. That's when I remembered I did not have him neutered. That's also when I realized that I overreacted and wanted my cat back. I immediately contacted the Humane Society and asked for my cat back. I told them that I just learned that my cat was behaving this way because he had not been neutered. I asked the person at the Humane Society if they could have him neutered and that I would pay all the expenses. I was told that all I needed to do was call the center and they would make arrangements for me to receive the cat. They also said the cost would depend on how long the cat was at the center.

Tuesday, Sept. 27, I visited the center but could not retrieve the cat because the center was closed due to quarantine. I immediately called the center to find out the status of the cat. Barbara and Betty told me the cat would not be returned to me because I failed to neuter him. I pleaded with them to have him neutered and told them I would pay for all expenses to have the cat returned to me. I was told that the Board would have to make that decision.

I phoned the office several times during that week and even visited the center on Thursday, Oct. 5.

I was told there would be no way I could retrieve the cat, and that you, a President of the Board of Directors for the Humane Society, would have to change that decision. I asked for your phone number and was told by Betty that she did not have the number. The phone number listed in the phone book for you is inoperable.

My husband also visited the center on Oct. 5 and attempted to adopt Sweetie. He was told he could adopt any animal in the center except for Sweetie. The center denied his application stating they would have to have a Board meeting to determine its eligibility. He was told Sweetie could not return to the same household. My husband stated that his rights were being infringed upon. He was a customer who wanted to adopt an animal of his choice. He explained he had nothing to do with the previous contract.

I do not understand why I'm being treated like a criminal. I have not, nor was I accused by either of these women of abusing my cat. No one could live his or her pet more than I love my Sweetie. My failure to get him neutered was due to nothing more than my lack of knowledge about the importance of this procedure for pets. As I stated earlier, I am a first-time pet owner.

Betty and Barbara told me that I violated the contract and they have to uphold the law. However, it appears that they are violating their own policy. According to the policy and procedures of the Humane Society Association, once an animal is surrendered it is held five to seven days. Once that time expires, the animal is put up for adoption. My husband has tried to adopt Sweetie but was told he can adopt any other animal except Sweetie.

I am appalled at how I have been treated by Betty and Barbara. They have been rude, insensitive, uncooperative and unprofessional. They have ignored my calls, spoken to me in a harsh manner, and they have been untruthful about a contact number for you. I thought that the goal of the Humane Society is to find loving homes for animals. Sweetie has a loving home and we want him back. I would hope that another goal or practice is to treat people with dignity and respect.

When my daughter contacted the Humane Society today, she was told that Carnegie, a.k.a. Sweetie, is under protective custody. I could not believe my ears. I fail to understand why these women are going to such lengths to avoid returning my cat to me. Is it personal? This is absurd. This situation has been a source of many jokes on my job but this is a serious matter for me — I love my cat. Attempts by two Orange County Commissioners and Seminole County Commissioner Daryl McClain's office to assist me in getting my cat back have been ignored by these women.

The staff and management of the Seminole County Humane Society must realize that mistakes happen. All I ask for is another chance to take my cat home so that I may continue to love and take care of him.

Sincerely,
Valleta T. Fossitt

Lodge thanks city officials

To the editor:
We the members of Sanford Fraternal Order of Police Lodge

No. 140, would like to thank all of the following people for their support with the Sanford Police Department: Mayor Dale, Commissioner Eckstein, Commissioner Lessard, Commissioner Williams, Commissioner Jones, City Manager VanDerworp and Chief Tooley.

And without the support of the citizens of Sanford, this department could not progress into the new millennium.

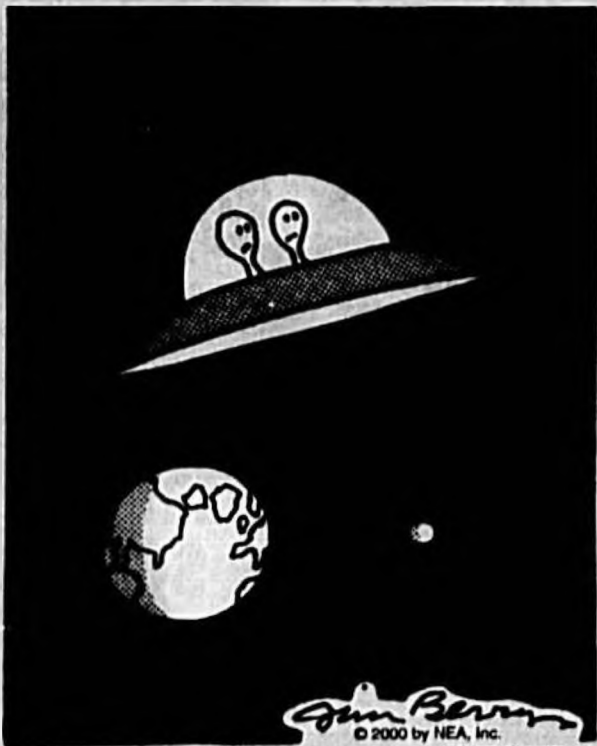

We give our promise that we will work towards a better and safer community, as well as make Sanford Police the best anywhere.

Again, we thank you for your support. We hope to continue to receive that support, as we build our team.

Art Zielinski asks people what they think ...

The Federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has recently approved the abortion pill RU-486 which has been used in France for a number of years.

According to the FDA the pill may be safe, but its use remains controversial. Our question this week is, "Do you think RU-486 should be made available to the public?"

I'm against abortion. However, I feel it's a woman's right to choose — if the FDA says it's safe. I don't feel I could decide for someone who has the need.

Audrey Luck
Sanford

No. Our church teaches it's not the moral thing to do. It's just not necessary. The question is does it promote life or hinder life — I believe it hinders life.

Father Richard Trout,
All Souls Catholic Church,
Sanford

No — Because I don't believe in abortion.

Miriam Jimenez,
Lakeland

If the FDA approved it and it's been used safely for 10 years in France, then you should make it available. If a woman wants to use it it's her right.

Patrick Smith,
Apopka

No I don't — because of integrity reasons. There are other ways to be responsible in making choices in your life without resorting to an "afterthought pill."

sorry to see the court uphold restrictions on issues of freedom of speech," Wasserman said.

"But under the circumstances I think Judge Eaton made the right decision."

"I respect the amount of time and thought he put into the decision and I'm sure many adult business owners won't be happy with it," Wasserman added. "You have to keep in mind that judges are elected officials and are aware of the political pressures of the position. The conservative composition of the Seminole County Commission at the time this ordinance was enacted played a role in the outcome."

Wasserman said he viewed Eaton's ruling as one of moderation. "I'm sure some extreme right-wingers and members of the Christian Coalition won't be totally satisfied with the ruling either."

In the case that dates back to May 1997, Seminole County sued to stop VIP Gold from illegally operating without an adult entertainment establishment license pursuant to Seminole County Ordinance 97-28. The ordinance mandates a minimum of 1,000 feet between any adult business and a residential zone and further requires a license to operate an adult business.

Adult businesses lawfully operating prior to June 25, 1997, the date Ordinance 97-28 was enacted, had the opportunity to be grandfathered in. All non-grandfathered adult businesses lawfully operating at the time of the enactment were amortized until September 30, 1999.

"Our goal merely is to lawfully regulate adult businesses within Seminole County while providing reasonable zoning distance requirements."

Rick Nelson
American Liberties Institute

Non-grandfathered establishments were required to either (1) relocate to property assigned the M-2 (Impact Industrial Zoning classification) and the Industrial Land Use designation, (2) conform the business operation located on the site to a non-adult business use, or (3) cease operations.

At the time Ordinance 97-28 was enacted, VIP Gold was not operating under a validly issued license and was not in compliance with the zoning requirements. On June 26, 1997, VIP Gold filed a counterclaim alleging Seminole County's repealed adult business ordinances were unconstitutional and did not allow for alternative avenues of communication.

On Nov. 20, 1997, the county Court dismissed VIP Gold's counterclaims. On the heels of that decision, VIP Gold on December 15, 1997, sued Seminole County, asking the federal Middle District of Florida Court to enter an injunction against Ordinance 97-28 and award damages to VIP Gold.

Nelson said in light of Eaton's ruling this week, VIP Gold can not obtain an injunction in the federal case and has no claim for damages against Seminole County. Estimated damages for attorneys fees and potential lost revenue from VIP Gold's closure during the past three years range from $200,000 to as high as half-a-million dollars.

Nelson added that Eaton's ruling should send a message to attorneys representing other Seminole County adult entertainment businesses.

"This is the first case of this kind to get to the final decision stage," Nelson said. "It should give a clear indication to other attorneys representing adult businesses that the court will uphold challenges to the county ordinance. Hopefully, other challenges will pass away."

Nelson added, "The federal court has been waiting to hear the circuit court's opinion. Now they have it. If they are wise they (adult businesses) will let this issue go. VIP Gold could appeal to the state appellate court, but given this ruling I don't think that would be wise."

Wasserman said he assumed VIP Gold would appeal Eaton's ruling because the business has previously appealed other issues associated with the case.

"From a constitutional perspective, I'm sorry to see the court uphold restrictions on issues of freedom of speech. But under the circumstances, I think Judge Eaton made the right decision."

Oviedo meeting

The Oviedo City Council will meet Monday, Oct. 16 beginning at 7 p.m. Among items on the agenda are consideration and/or discussion of backflow devices, a traffic signal study on West Mitchell Hammock and Lake Jessup intersection, a Northern Corridor Alignment re-study, a presentation by Florida Recycling, Inc., and other items.

Oviedo city hall is located at 400 Alexandria Boulevard. The meeting is open to the general public.

Special meeting

The City of Winter Springs Community Development Department has requested a special meeting of the city commission, Monday, Oct. 16 beginning at 6:30 p.m. The meeting will deal with requests that the city commission discuss a proposal to refine the SR-434 Village Walk concept plan and evaluate the traffic circulation in the area.

Following that meeting, a workshop is scheduled to discuss the need for changes to the code of ordinances related to wetlands, conservation areas and docks.

- Never trick-or-treat alone. Always go in groups with adult supervision.
- Don't wear costumes that are too confusing or could make you trip.
- If wearing face paint, read the label and be sure it clearly says "non-toxic."
- Don't eat any candy until you get home and have your parents inspect it.
- Throw away any unwrapped or suspicious-looking candy.
- Walk, don't run from house to house. Use the sidewalk as much as possible.
- Make sure you can see and breathe clearly through masks.
- Never go inside a stranger's house or car.
- Carry a flashlight and wear reflective strips on your costume.

Phuoc Nguyen has reportedly purchased a 1,500 square foot office building at 551 East SR-434 in Longwood for $195,000. Vincent Wolle of Duke Properties negotiated the transaction. Wolle said the purchaser plans to redevelop the building to establish an auto repair facility.

Warehouse Lease

Realvest Partners, Inc., of Maitland recently negotiated a new lease for 2,000 square feet of office-warehouse space in the Spring Hammock Industrial Park, 1685 Timacuan Way, Longwood. Classic Flooring Installation, Inc., is the new tenant. The lease includes 1,900 square feet of warehouse space and 100 square feet of office space.

New Sanford Store

HoneyBaked Ham Company has opened its first store in Sanford. The new store and Cafe is located in Seminole Towne Plaza, 318 North Entrance Road, adjacent to Seminole Towne Center. Different from other stores in the Orlando area, this HoneyBaked Ham Company will offer a dine-in cafe. Store hours are 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

New Sears Store

The newest Sears in Florida will open at Oviedo Marketplace in Oviedo this month. A ribbon-cutting ceremony is scheduled for 9:45 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 28, and will kick off weeks of grand-opening festivities. Located at Red Bug Lake Road and Oviedo Marketplace Boulevard, the new Sears at Oviedo Marketplace is nearly 110,000 square feet in size, with 80,000 square feet of selling space.

Tea room open for dinner

By Nick Pfeiffert
Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Rose Cottage Tea Room, 1301 Park Ave. in Sanford, is what owner Sica Nacu says will be "The classiest place in Sanford", offering full course gourmet dinners each evening.

"It's the kind of place you'll want to bring your out-of-town guests and special friends for dinner any night of the week," she said.

Among present uses for the Rose Cottage, Nacu points to wine tasting with four-course candle-light dinners, art shows, high-teas, poetry, showers, birthdays or other parties, educational programs and even cooking classes.

In the near future, she is planning an expansion of patio seating for cigar smoking and light entertainment, as well as a Champagne Sunday Brunch.

And looking even further down the road, Sica has applied for a permit to have a bed and breakfast establishment at the Rose Cottage. "We're looking for possibly as many as six rooms for guests," she said.

Techno Nerds

The Seminole County/Lake Mary Regional Chamber of Commerce recently held a ribbon cutting ceremony for Techno Nerds. The full-range computer service business is located at 270 Waymont Court in Lake Mary.

People on the Move

Stirling International Realty, Inc., in Heathrow, has appointed Jeanne Sebek as director of relocation services and leasing for the company's property management division. She has over 15 years experience as a real estate property manager and relocation specialist.

Florida Solar Technology, Inc.,

in Sanford, has appointed Mac McGowan as sales associate. He has over five years of experience in leisure product sales. Karolyne Manny Ellis was appointed to an administrative position, responsible for designing and developing Florida Solar's web site.

Peter Aquart, P.E., a project manager with CPH Engineers, Inc., Sanford, has been named president of the Florida Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Frank W. Herring, Jr., president of St. Joe Commercial has appointed Altamonte Springs resident Linda Hopkins as the company's new administrative assistant.

Bullet train approval could have impact on County road projects

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

SANFORD — A high-speed rail initiative, to be decided by Florida voters on Nov. 7, could potentially impact long-range transportation projects for Seminole County and counties throughout the state.

A Florida Supreme Court ruling last week paves the way for a high-speed rail initiative question to be placed on the November ballot. If the ballot issue is approved, the state would face paying for one of Florida's largest ever public works projects, with the bill coming due approximately four years from now.

Approval of the bullet train project could jeopardize Gov. Jeb Bush's 10-year, $2.5 billion spending plan for roads, bridges, and other transportation infrastructure around the state according to initial reaction by the Florida Department of Transportation.

Closer to home, county officials are also casting a wary eye on the ballot initiative outcome. The subject of potential local impact came up during this week's regular meeting of the Board of County Commissioners.

"Depending on the outcome of that ballot issue, there is the potential of money being siphoned off for high-speed rail," said board chairman Carlton Henley. "That could have a serious impact to the tune of millions of dollars for Seminole County."

"It's an issue that certainly bears watching," echoed commissioner Randy Morris. "The impact could be in the billions, not just the millions."

Orange County transportation officials have already labeled the initiative a red herring, saying the ballot question asks Florida voters if they want high-speed rail without telling them how it is going to be financed. Others say transportation projects that have been in the planning stages for years would likely get knocked off the board.

Trails

"There certainly are a lot of questions and they are good questions," said Colleen Rotella, administrative manager for Seminole County's Planning and Development Department. "People want to know precisely what the money is for, and they want to know that 100 percent of it will be dedicated to this program."

Rotella said the public education effort will be designed to provide voters with precise information about specific projects, their costs, and spending priorities and allocations to address four different aspects of the referendum: showcase trails, local/connector trails, city projects, and the acquisition and preservation of natural lands within the county's borders.

"This is a referendum that benefits all county residents regardless of age. It lies in all seven cities within the county, and it focuses not only on recreation, but public safety as well," Rotella said.

Staff at Seminole County Government Television (SGTV) this week completed 10 and 30 second television public service announcements that will air heavily over the next three weeks to inform voters about the referendum. County staff has also enlisted supporters of the referendum in developing a speaker's bureau to discuss the issue with homeowners associations, civic groups, and other interested parties. Seminole County's 150,000 registered voters can also expect a mail piece targeted for Nov. 1 delivery.

"So far our reaction from the public has been nothing but positive," Rotella said. "County residents are telling us the sooner the better — I'll put my 10 bucks in now."

She added that the goal of the public education program is to get the word out without being big advocates.

"One of the major goals of the entire trails program is to enable every county resident to step out of their homes and be within a quarter mile of a trail system that connects the entire county."

One hundred percent of the funds would go toward providing safe connections to 23 schools, 34 parks and neighborhoods, create paved trails, wilderness trails and natural lands preservation.

Five major trail projects would be funded to include:

- Cross Seminole Trail, with 20 kilometers running from Spring Hammock/Environmental Center, Winter Springs and Oviedo to Winter Park.

- Flagler Wilderness Trail, 30 miles of unpaved trails for hiking and horseback riding.

- Florida National Scenic Trail, extending the current trail through Longwood, Lake Mary, and Chuluota.

- Sanford Riverwalk, along Lake Monroe from downtown Sanford to the Central Florida Zoo.

- Seminole Wekiva Trail, construction of a State Road 434 overpass for safe trail connection from Altamonte Springs to Markham Woods.

Additionally, eight neighborhood trails would be constructed in Altamonte Springs, Casselberry, Citrus Trail, E.E. William Road, Kewance Trail in Fern Park, Longwood, and a Rhinehart Road trail connection. More acreage along the Econ River Basin, Lake Jesup area, St. Johns River Basin, and Wekiva River basin would be preserved.

Supporters of the referendum say approval of the Nov. 7th ballot question will benefit school children, families, outdoor enthusiasts and local businesses. The Seminole County Natural Lands and Trails referendum has received endorsements from the Sanford City Commission and the Sierra Club Central Florida Group.

Seminole County voters can take a virtual tour of the proposed trail system on the Internet at www.co.seminole.fl.us.

THE SEMINOLE HERALD

Hotline

Continued from Page 1A receives more than 300 calls per year, Catchings said. Many of the calls are made in the evening after the school day.

Someone is always on call at the 24-hour operator answered service, she said. Once the information is received, the appropriate authority, including law enforcement, school administration and the Office of District Security, is immediately notified.

The SpeakOut program also offers school systems safety videos and in-school presentations concerning various safety and security issues.

"We talk about such things as what a good secret is and what a bad secret is," Catchings said.

Funding for the SpeakOut program comes from the state and private donations, and there is minimal cost to the school system, she said.

Earlier this year, the school system was informed the Wakenhut Corporation was going to discontinue the use of the Save-A-Friend Hotline. However, if students dial the Save-A-Friend number, it will roll over to a SpeakOut Hotline operator.

Paul Gaipman, founder of the WISE (Weapons In School Eliminated) program, said he was disappointed when he first heard about the school system's change in hotline services.

"Nobody spent more time promoting the hotline number than I did," Gaipman said.

However, Gaipman said he plans to work with the SpeakOut organization in order to communicate his organization's message to students.

"All prevention programs, such as WISE, MADD or SADD, fall under the umbrella of SpeakOut," Gaipman said. "In retrospect, this is a wonderful tool to communicate our message to students."

Gaipman said the biggest challenge in initiating the SpeakOut program in Seminole County is awareness.

"Marketing is the key," he said.

Gaipman said he would like to see local businesses sponsor the program by helping fund laminated cards for all schools in Seminole County.

"There are 55 different schools in the school system, and I would like to see 55 different cards made with each school logo on it," he said.

Promotion of the hotline will include posters and cards in English and Spanish, DeVecchio said. Officials from SpeakOut will also distribute stickers and cards to schools, and information will be included in every school's announcements and newsletters.

Other highlights of Thursday's Seminole County School Board meeting include:

- The Board received a presentation regarding the Speak-Out Hotline which will replace the current Save-A-Friend Hotline.
- A visit to observe the operation of an "Alternative to Out-of-School Suspension" program in the Hillsborough County Public Schools has been scheduled for Nov. 2. A report of the observations made and impressions for-

- The School Board approved the resolution from the State of Florida and declare the week of October 15-21, as Exceptional Student Education Week.

- The School Board approved the Red Ribbon Week Proclamation and ordered that it be displayed in a prominent location during Red Ribbon Week, October 23-31.

- Staff proposes revising the Pupil Progression Plan to include courses recommended to receive honors weighting. The rigor in these courses parallel presently weighted honors courses and they have the recommendation of principals. The weight should encourage additional students to take these higher level courses. This list would be added to the designations presently in our Pupil Progression Plan. Staff will proceed with advertising the revisions to the Pupil Progression Plan.

"... This is a wonderful tool to communicate our message to students."

Paul Gaipman
Founder of Weapons In School Eliminated (WISE)

- The plans to implement the newly weighted courses and new weights will be done in a way that will not harm any student caught in the transition. Plans include adding a third GPA and rank in class based upon considering the four-year transcript under the new system as well as the old system. Students would have the GPA and rank that best serves their needs.

The next School Board Meeting is scheduled for Oct. 24, 2000 at 7 p.m. If necessary, the meeting will be called to order at 6:30 p.m. for Executive Session.

*October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month
Have you had your mammogram this year?*

This October, Central Florida Regional Hospital is recognizing Breast Cancer Awareness Month as part of our ongoing commitment to serving the healthcare needs of women in our community.

Florida ranks third highest of any state for breast cancer incidence and deaths - in fact, according to the American Cancer Society, one woman in Florida dies of breast cancer every three hours.

The best defense is early detection and that begins with a simple screening mammogram, available at Central Florida Regional Hospital. The hospital is conveniently located in Sanford, two miles East of I-4 on Highway 46.

Our special offer for Breast Cancer Awareness Month includes both the screening mammogram and the radiologist interpretation and is available for $55. Cash payment must be made at the time of service - insurance will not be accepted. Please present the coupon below along with your payment.

For appointments or additional information, please call 407/321-4500 extension 5961.

WINTER SPRINGS — Cinderella's ball is coming to Winter Springs High School.

The Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical is the school's first production of the 2000/01 academic year, and rehearsals are going well, drama teacher Chris Bredholt said.

"This is the strongest cast across the board we've worked with," Bredholt said about the cast of about 75 students. "Every single character is just perfection."

The fable Cinderella was written in China more than 1,000 years ago. In 1957, Julie Andrews brought the character to life when Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical aired on CBS.

Forty three years later, choral director Joe Ferrante decided to bring Cinderella to Winter Springs to highlight the school's singers.

"It was his turn to choose what we would do, and since he has so many wonderful female singers, he chose Cinderella," Bredholt said.

After more than nine weeks of rehearsing, Winter Springs High School will present "Cinderella" at 7 p.m. Oct. 19-21 in the school's auditorium. Tickets are $5. For more information, call 407-320-8729.

The musical is under the student direction of Andrew Mitzel.

Volleyfest hits court next week

By Dean Smith
 Sports Editor

SANFORD — With the fall prep sports season starting to wind down and the winter sports getting ready to begin practice, the first big championship will be decided next weekend at Lake Mary High School when the annual Volleyfest, the unofficial state championship for boys volleyball, is contested.

The host Rams of coach Jeannie Fisher will once again be the favorites, having won 29 straight matches since suffering a loss in its opening matchup of the season.

The tournament opens on Friday (October 20th) with games at 5 p.m., 6:30 p.m., and 8 p.m. and continues on Saturday.

Lake Mary improved its record to 29-1 with a tough, 15-11 and 15-10, victory over Winter Park (13-8) on Tuesday.

In another boys match from Tuesday, Bishop Moore (8-13) edged Lake Brantley (8-14), 15-13 and 15-12.

In girls volleyball action, Seminole bounced back from a tough, 15-8 and 15-8, loss to Oviedo (12-8) on Tuesday to whip district foe Deltona (10-7), 15-7 and 15-9, on the Wolves' home floor.

"We played a great game last night (Wednesday) after a bad night versus Oviedo on Tuesday," said Seminole head coach Beth Corso, who saw her team improve to 14-11 overall, 6-3 in the Seminole Athletic Conference, and 6-6 in district play. "Our match was late (not starting until 8:30 p.m.) because the freshman and junior varsity matches both went three games. But we got going and spanked the Wolves in their own gym."

"We played great together as a team. I'm very happy with the team play."

The victory also had to make Corso happy because the upcoming district tournament (Oct. 24-26) will be held at Deltona High School.

The Fighting Seminoles had 10 serving aces (four by Tara Wiggins, three by Kim Corso, three by Michelle Cardel), 20 kills (Wiggins 9, Cardel 5, Jessica Chick 4, Corso 1, Amanda Howard 1), 17 digs (Corso 5, Howard 4, Wiggins 2, Jennifer Grullon 2, Emily Keyser 2, Corso 1, Jessica Hermansen 1), 18 assists (split between Corso and Keyser), and two solo blocks (Chick).

The freshman team also won its match to improve to 12-4 on the season.

Winter Springs (15-6) also got back on the winning track after a rough weekend in Tampa, gaining revenge from a loss to Spruce Creek (14-6), 15-0, 9-15 and 15-8 on Tuesday and crushing Lyman (2-14), 15-0 and 15-2 on Thursday.

Lake Mary (14-9) got its week off to a good start by topping Lake Brantley, 15-7 and 15-7, but then suffered a 15-8 and 15-9 loss to DeLand (18-2), which clinched the Class 6A-District 2 regular season title with the win. The Bulldogs will also host the district tournament.

Oviedo (13-8) also had a good week winning a pair of SAC contests with Seminole on Tuesday and Lake Brantley (4-16), 15-8 and 15-6, on Thursday.

 Seminole defensive back Donnell Peterson (No. 21) eludes Pine Ridge

Senior fullback runs for 183, leads Tribe in 52-7 win

By Dean Smith

DELTONA — Last week was no fluke. The Seminole High School football team continued, improved on actually, its impressive performance against Lake Howell last week with a complete team destruction of Pine Ridge, 52-7, in a Class 5A-District 4 contest in Deltona Thursday night.

How bad was it for the host Panthers? They had more fumbles, eight, than points, seven. Seminole kicker Matt Groover, alone, scored more points, 12, and Fighting Seminoles fullback Willie Bennett had more rushing yards himself, 183, than Pine Ridge had in total offense, 145.

"Now that was domination," said Seminole head coach Jim Worthington. "I'm extremely proud of all of them (his team), it was a great, great, great effort." Things got off to an inauspicious start for the Panthers as they were flagged for a delay of game penalty before it even ran a play.

Quarterback Isaih Chavers ran 15 yards for a first down on the first play, but the hosts were held to six yards on the next three plays, forcing a punting situation.

The Pine Ridge punter fumbled the long snap from center and when he finally picked it up, he tossed it right into the hands of Seminole defender Donnell Peterson, who grabbed the ball and ran 25 yards untouched into the end zone.

Blue Darters escape with win

Lake Brantley misses scoring chances, loses to Apopka 8-6

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Maybe it was the full moon, or maybe it was because it was Friday 13th, but this was not what most people expected.

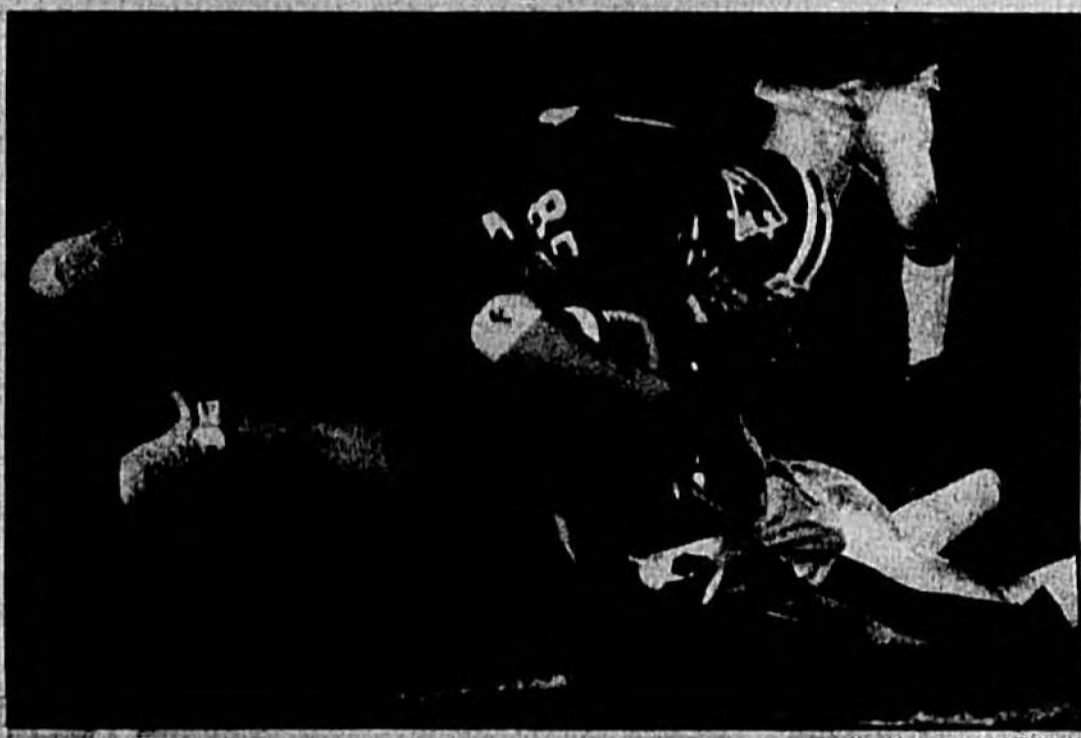

Two of the most explosive offensive teams in Central Florida held each other to a combined 14 points, 446 yards of total offense, 14 penalties for 126 yards, and turned the ball over six times, not including failed fourth down plays.

But despite the problems this was one of the most exciting, hard hitting defensive battles seen in this area in a long time as undefeated Apopka held off Lake Brantley, 8-6, in a Class 6A-District 2 battle before a standing room only crowd at Tom Story Field.

Both teams had numerous chances to score, but each time shot themselves in the foot.

Since it was a full moon, maybe we should say the teams were werewolf bitten instead of snakebit.

The Blue Darters hurt them selves on the opening kickoff as Ned Baldwin's 95-yard kickoff return was brought all the way back to the Apopka 43 by a clip.

After a punt, the Patriots advanced the ball to the 39, then threw an errant pitch that went for a 16-yard loss and a Blue Darter recovery.

But Apopka couldn't punch the ball in as Jonathan Shaw picked off a pass at the 12 and looked like he might return it all the way, but Baldwin made a touchdown saving tackle at the Blue Darter 40.

Lake Brantley marched the ball down to the eight before a fumble on an amazingly hard hit gave the ball back to Apopka.

The Patriots got the ball back on a partially blocked punt at the Apopka 37 and again got down to the 18 before fumbling the snap on fourth and one, turning the ball back over to the Blue Darters.

Apopka looked like they might take advantage this time, using runs of 38-, 15-, 7-, and 9-yards to get to the four, but an attempted field goal was blocked and the game went to the half tied at 0-0.

A beautiful punt by Lake Brantley's Ryan Berry turned into an error as he nailed a kick

PORT ORANGE — The road did not prove kind to the Lyman Greyhounds as they were blanked by a tough Spruce Creek Hawks squad, 41-0, in a Class 5A-District 4 game in Port Orange Thursday night.

Sean McHugh scored the first of his two touchdowns on the night on a 13-yard run and Derrick Means followed with an 11-yard run, his first of three touchdowns on the night, and added a 2-point conversion run as the Hawks took a 14-0 lead after one period.

Means also scored on a 9-yard run and added a 92-yard kickoff return to open the second half and McHugh scored on a 23-yard run as Spruce Creek improved to 5-1 overall and 3-0 in the district.

The Hawks outgained Lyman, 365-to-56, led by Means with 122 of the team's 244 rushing yards, as they tuned up for next Thursday's huge district game at Seminole.

Sophomore quarterback Victor Johnson led the way for the Greyhounds (0-6 overall, 0-

DAYTONA — Quarterback Walter Washington connected with Robert Smith on five passes for 200 yards, three for touchdowns, and ran for two more as Mainland remained undefeated in Class 5A-District 4 with a 50-24 victory over Lake Howell at the Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium Thursday night.

The Buccaneers (5-1 overall, 3-0 in 5A-4) showed what was to come as Washington hit Smith with a 47-yard touchdown strike early in the game.

The Silver Hawks (1-5 overall, 1-2 in district) answered right back with a 1-yard touchdown run by John Williams and when Andre Goree added the 2-point conversion run, Lake Howell actually led 8-7.

Mainland, however, would score two more touchdowns in the first period, on a 48-yard pass from Washington to Smith and a 1-yard Washington run, to take a 21-8 lead and would score the next 29 points and lead 50-8 in the third quarter before the Silver Hawks added a pair of late touchdowns, on a Richard Todd 8-yard run, followed by a Ivan Scott 2-point run, in the third quarter, and a 10-yard run by Aston Wilson, with Williams adding the 2-point run, in the fourth quarter.

Wilson ran for 100 yards and Williams added 84 as the Silver Hawks actually out-rushed the Buccaneers, 280-to-213, but they were unable to stop the big plays, that, in addition to the aforementioned passes, also included a 55-yard Washington to Smith pass and a 71-yard touchdown run by P.J. Smith.

Lake Howell will be at home for another Thursday game next week, hosting neighborhood rival Winter Springs in a 5A-4 game at Richard L. Evans Field starting at 7:30 p.m.

Rams drop Colonial to set up showdown with Apopka

By David Quinones
 Herald Correspondent

LAKE MARY — The Lake Mary Rams put their untainted district record on the line against the Colonial Grenadiers at Don T. Reynolds Stadium on a cool Friday night.

The Rams never trailed in the game and took home the win by an easy 36-24 margin.

Lake Mary wasted no time getting on the board as Reggie Campbell returned the opening kickoff 85 yards for a touchdown putting the Rams up 6-0. The point after was no good.

The Rams would tack on another 3 points on a Kris Kessler field goal after the Lake Mary defense intercepted Grenadiers quarterback Mike Melendez on just the fourth play of Colonials opening drive.

Colonial would make the score 9-6, when Grenadiers running back, Julius Lee, hauled in a 30-yard touchdown reception from Mike Melendez, capping a 5-play, 77-yard drive that took only 3:03 off the clock.

The Rams responded quickly on their ensuing drive when Rams quarterback Jason Hadley hooked up with Derrick Grayson for a 32-yard touchdown pitch-and-catch, making the score 16-6 with 10:05 remaining in the first half.

 The Ram defense swarms a Colonial runner early in the first half. Lake Mary's quick-hitting offense kept the Grenadiers off balance all night.

Neither team could score until 2.6 seconds remained in the half. Hadley threw a 30-yard touchdown pass to Anthony Ballerino to put the Rams on top 23-6.

The Rams were threatening to score again in the third quarter when Jamal Lewin intercepted Hadley and returned it for a 50-yard touchdown, making the score 23-12. The kick failed.

The Rams would respond on their next drive when with 17 seconds remaining in the third quarter Reggie Campbell ran for a 25-yard touchdown, capping a 11-play, 65-yard drive that took nearly 4 minutes off the clock. The point after failed and Lake Mary led 29-12.

The Grenadiers would not go away, however, as they would score on their next drive on a 7-yard touchdown catch by Mark Mitchell making the score 29-18. The 2-point conversion failed.

Less than 30 seconds later

57 yards near the end zone and Patriot appeared to have the ball killed on about the one or two yard line. But trying to grab the ball instead of just letting it lay, the ball was pushed into the end zone and brought out to the 20.

The Blue Darters then got a drive started when quarterback Brett Pensala hit Fernando Durden for 30 yards.

After two plays netted five yards, Baldwin went 36 yards on a reverse, making it first and goal at the 10.

The first play lost a yard, but Pensala threw a perfect slant to Baldwin in the end zone to finally break the scoring ice.

Apopka then set up for the extra point try, but jumped out of the set and Pensala hit Jeff Blackman for the 2-point conversion with 6:49 left in the third period.

Lake Brantley tried to answer right back with a drive of its own, moving from its own 21 to the Blue Darter 17 on the strength of a 39-yard run by quarterback Taylor Ramsur. But an unsportsmanlike penalty moved the ball back 15 yards and the Patriots could only get 13 yards back before a fourth down pass was knocked down.

Apopka was unable to much offensively the rest of the game, but Lake Brantley kept the pressure on with the help of a 62-yard punt by Berry that buried the Blue Darters at its own 8.

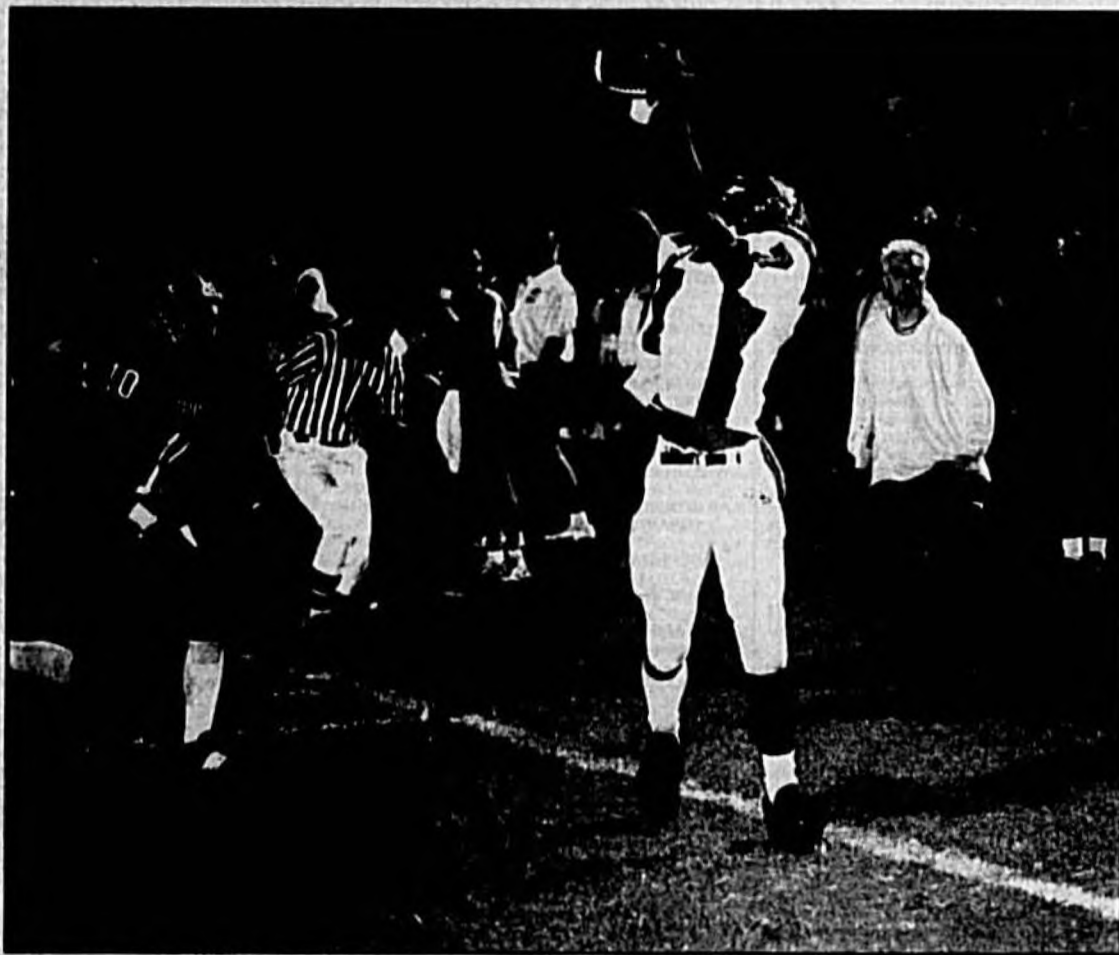

After a punt, the Patriots started at the Apopka 42 and got down to the 11 before again losing the ball on downs.

This time the Lake Brantley defense came through, as it caught Pensala in the end zone and in his haste to get rid of the ball, Corey Andrade, who had several hard tackles in the game, intercepted the flip in the end zone for a touchdown with 3:23 left.

The passing try for two and a tie game was dropped, leaving the score 8-6 Apopka.

The Patriots then got what appeared might be the break of the game when Brandon Grubbs caught Corey Kallah's onside bouncing ball, giving the home team a first down at the Blue Darter 43.

But a holding penalty and a Apopka's Ned Baldwin hauls in a pass from his quarterback for an apparent touchdown. However, referees declared that Baldwin went out of bounds before catching the ball, nullifying the score. Baldwin scored on the very next play.

four-yard loss on an attempted reverse was followed by three incomplete passes, giving the ball back to Apopka at the Lake Brantley 46.

But the Blue Darters also ran into penalty problems getting hit for 20 yards on three penalties and were forced to punt with 1:44 still left on the clock.

But in their haste to block the punt, the Patriots roughed the kicker, giving Apopka an automatic first down and the game.

Durden led the Blue Darters with 56 yards on eight carries and also caught two passes for 45 yards.

For Lake Brantley, Josh Demateis gained a game-high 114 yards rushing on 20 carries and Corey Dryden caught four passes for 32 yards.

With the victory Apopka improved to 6-0 overall and 3-0 in Class 6A-District 2.

The loss dropped the Patriots to 4-2 overall and 2-2 in the district race, and with a game in two weeks at Lake Mary, Lake Brantley may be on the verge of not returning to the playoffs this year.

Both teams will play the Rams in their next game, with Lake Mary travelling to Apopka next Friday for a 7:30 p.m. game and the Patriots taking next week off before heading to Don T. Reynolds Stadium on Friday, October 27.

Bubba Baker works on a customer's tattoo. Baker owns Tattoo This, located in the gold building at Flea World in Sanford. He started in the tattoo business in 1983.

Flea World home to Sanford tattoo artist

By Arthur Zielsnick
Staff Writer

The room is silent except for a steady buzzing sound from the electric needle. Dennis Gustafson, a member of the Army military police, stares straight ahead as he receives the second of two tattoos — the names of his two sons, Dustin, 2, and Dennis, 5, in "Kanji" (Japanese lettering) on the back of each arm.

The man with the needle is Bubba Baker. "I use to do leather work, and a friend said if I could carve dead cows, maybe I could carve live people," Bubba says with a laugh.

Baker, 44, owns Bubba Baker's Tattoo This, located in the gold building at Flea World in Sanford. He started in the tattoo business in 1983. He was injured while working in construction, and at the time there were only a few tattoo shops around town.

In the "old days," Baker says, you bought a tattoo kit and got started on your own. It was hard getting advice from the more experienced tattoo artist.

"The old-timers didn't like to give up the secrets of tattooing, but after you gained some proficiency, they would sit down and talk to you," he explains.

More important than the mechanics of tattooing, he points out, is the sterilization of your needles and the work area.

"You have to be very careful today that good stuff doesn't touch bad stuff," Baker is licensed by the State of Florida. Licensing, he said, requires being under the general supervision of someone who practices medicine.

"You have to get a medical doctor to inspect your shop — and risk his license — by giving you a letter for the board of occupational licensing saying you know what you're doing," Baker says.

The art of tattooing has changed during the past 20 years. The old style Navy anchor is still common tattoos, but a wider range of colors, better equipment, and more talented artists are bringing younger customers and more women into tattoo shops. That's a big change from the mid-'80s when Baker got out of the business for a short time.

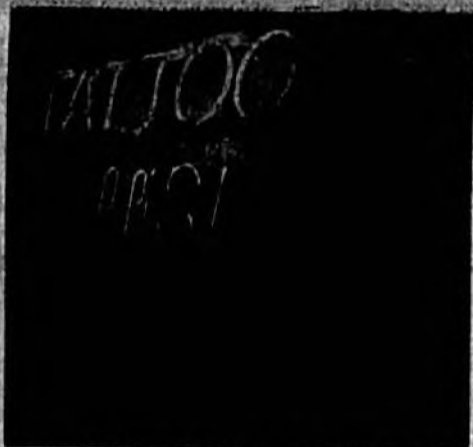

"People wanted to pay with cocaine, and I couldn't feed my kids with cocaine," he recalls.

The heavy black tribal designs and Japanese Kanji are currently the most fashionable. However, Baker says tattoos are as varied as the kinds of people who get them. To meet that demand for variety, Baker has more than 10,000 different designs to choose from, and he also does custom work.

His minimum price is $40. For larger tattoos, he charges $100 an hour. Baker's willing to make a deal, though, a free tattoo for a helicopter or a blimp ride.

"No medivac helicopters," he laughs.

According to Bubba Baker, heavy black tribal designs and Japanese Kanji are currently the most fashionable tattoos. However, he said tattoos are as varied as the kinds of people who get them. Pictured above are a number of the more than 10,000 different designs Baker offers. Pictured at right is a close up of one of the 10,000 designs. The cost of a tattoo varies depending on its size.

Life on the Force

After 21 years, Belfiore still enjoys working in law enforcement

Twenty-one years ago, Lake Mary Deputy Chief Sam Belfiore began his law enforcement career as an officer in the city's police department. After more than two decades, he has moved up in the ranks, and he currently serves as the department's interim chief while Richard Beary takes a leave of absence to campaign for Seminole County sheriff. The law enforcement business runs in the family. Belfiore's wife of almost 16 years, Linda, also is a member of the Lake Mary Police Department, and the couple have two sons, 14-year-old Sam III, and 11-year-old Michael. Herald Managing Editor Michelle Jara recently sat down with Belfiore and talked about his career with the Lake Mary Police Department.

Q: Have you ever wanted to do anything else besides work in law enforcement?
A: When I started college, I wanted to be a high school industrial engineering teacher.

Q: What changed your mind?
A: During my sophomore year, I realized I really didn't want to teach and that I always wanted to be in law enforcement. So, that's what I did.

Q: You've worked with the Lake Mary

Police Department for 21 years. What do you like most about working in this city?
A: It's been really fun watching it grow and seeing all the changes.

Q: Are there any changes you don't like?
A: I would have liked to see it stay a more rural community. Change came so rapidly. But, you can't stop growth. I just wish the pace of growth was a little bit slower.

Q: Is that why you live in Osteen?
A: I like to live out where there is land around the house. It gives my kids room to grow, and there is land for my horses.

Q: What do you do when you aren't at work?
A: I enjoy horseback riding, softball, wood work and fishing.

Q: Do you have any fishing stories?
A: No. I really don't catch a lot of fish. I usually tell people the only thing I caught was a cold.

Q: As for the Lake Mary Police Department. Do you still enjoy working there after 21 years?
A: Yes. I believe if you don't enjoy your work you should find something else to do.

Q: What's the oddest thing you have seen while working for the Department?
A: I stopped a vehicle for speeding, and inside the car was a man dressed up as a woman. Once I knew he was a male, he continued acting like a woman. He even told the person he was with that if he wasn't quiet, he was going to hit him with his purse. It was all I could do to keep a straight face. I gave him the ticket and got out of there.

Mother objects to husband No. 12

DEAR ABBY: Is there any kind of legal limit or restriction on the number of times a person can be married and divorced?

Dear Abby

I have three daughters, ages 30, 27 and 25. The oldest and youngest are both college graduates, have great careers and are still single. My middle daughter dropped out of high school when she was 16 to get married. We were opposed, but she was determined. "Lana" works as a waitress in a restaurant/bar. She has been married and divorced 11 times.

Lana and her newest boyfriend are going to get married. It has been only three months since she divorced her last husband. She has known this new boyfriend for only a few weeks. He is 38 years old and has a good business. This will be Lana's 12th marriage.

She says she wants all of our extended family to be invited, because it is her boyfriend's first wedding — and she claims it will be her last. (We've heard that several times before.) Her boyfriend is paying all the wedding expenses; however, neither I nor her sisters, who will have to travel a great distance, are eager to attend. I will — but I do not want to interrupt the lives of our extended family to have them attend another wedding that may end up in divorce sooner rather than later, as her 11 other marriages did. Your thoughts, please.

MOTHER OF THE "BRIDE"

PS. During a wedding, when the preacher asks if there is anyone present who knows why this man and woman should not be united in holy matrimony, what does that mean? Is someone actually expected to stand up and object? I object, but I doubt it will do any good.

DEAR MOTHER: Your daughter appears to be a super salesperson. It defies belief that someone with any degree of intelligence would marry a person with Lana's marital history after such a short engagement and no premarital counseling. There is either a sucker born every minute, or her fiancé is a terminal optimist.

Since your daughter's fiancé is paying for the wedding, they may invite whomever they wish. It's up to the relatives to decide whether or not to attend the 12th wedding. However, if they sent only their good wishes, I wouldn't blame them.

Unfortunately, there is no limit on the number of times a person can be married. Let's hope your daughter doesn't go for a baker's dozen.

To address the questions in your PS: Asking whether there is anyone present who knows why this man and woman should not be united in holy matrimony is a holdover from times when there were no phones, travel was difficult, and there was far less communication between communities than there has been in the last century. Its purpose was to reveal if there were any impediments to the union, such as the bride having been pledged to someone else, or the groom already being married. Another impediment might be that they were close blood relatives. Today, no one is expected to voice an objection.

Lake Mary Girl Scouts go for the gold

Ever see the Florida State of the Arts license plates? Wonder where the money goes? It is the responsibility of the Seminole Cultural Arts Council to put that money to good use. Once a year, they take in grant applications from non-profit organizations and educators.

Mary Rowell

Senior Girl Scout Troop 148 of Lake Mary was one of the recent recipients of an arts grant. The troop received the grant to help fund their Black Culture Festival. The festival, which is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 3, 2001, at Lake Mary City Hall, is the Gold Award Project for the troop. The Girl Scout Gold Award is the highest recognition a Girl Scout can achieve.

Ron Rose stopped by the troop's recent meeting to present them with a check. Ron is on the board of directors of the Seminole Cultural Arts Council as well as the director of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

The troop discussed several ideas for their Gold Award before deciding on the Black Cultural Festival. Avid history buffs, the troop has attended the Zora Neal Hurston Festival several times in the past. While doing a report on Zora, one of the girls discovered Zora's parents were buried in Seminole County. But none of them really knew anything about black history in Seminole County. The troop hopes that with their festival, they can increase Seminole County students' knowledge of black history in their county. The money provided by the Arts Council will help support some hands on activities that the Seniors have planned for the festival. Girl Scouts attending the festival will be able to earn their Black Culture Patch.

The troop has been hard at work planning the festival since receiving their approval from the Girl Scout Council. The troop spent this past weekend adapting an African folk tale into a play that will be performed for the festival. They have also applied to the Florida Humanities Council for two speakers for the festival.

Although the troop does have some experience with planning large events, this will be the biggest they've ever attempted. For their Silver Award, the troop held a Native American Camporee for 27 troops.

The arts grant will not cover the entire cost of the festival. So, the troop is doing some fund-raising of their own. On Saturday, Nov. 4, at 7 p.m., the troop will be hosting a talent show at Lake Mary Elementary. The cost of the show is $3 for adults and $2 for children. The troop will also be selling cookbooks at the talent show. They are also seeking donations for the silent auction which will be held during the event. If you or your business can help out with a donation, please call Peggy Wolfe at 407-327-8207.

AARP Meeting Tuesday

Don't miss the next meeting of the Lake Mary AARP. It will be 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Lake Mary Community Building. If you're not already a member, just by and join. There are many advantages to being a member of a local AARP. They keep you informed about benefits as well as changes in law and policy that affect seniors. They also have a lot of fun and it's a great way to make new friends.

Austins celebrate 50th anniversary with friends

By Grace Marie Stinecpher Herald Correspondent

On Saturday, Sept. 9, the Fellowship Hall at First Baptist Church was the scene of delightful celebration of the 50th anniversary of Louise and Benny Austin.

Their two children, Bonnie Balliet and Dale Austin hosted the event which was attended by approximately 225 friends and family who came from all over Central Florida.

Decorations included gold balloons and palms with the tables covered with red and white checked cloths. On the tables were lanterns and also mason jars filled with daisies and fern.

Louise received their guests dressed in a lovely two-piece outfit while Benny wore a long-sleeved blue shirt and navy trousers. Their gold and white rose corsages were made by Glenna Alderman Hood.

The menu included barbecue beef, green beans, parsley potatoes, carrots, stewed apples, fruit, cookies, and of course, wedding cake. The meal was prepared by Horace Austin and family and the cake was made by Glenna Hood.

Photographs of the honored couple were featured in the hallway and were also scattered on each table. A video of family pictures through the years was shown by Jeff Sillaway, and each attendee was given both a wedding and recent photograph of the couple.

Both Benny and Louise were born in Sanford, graduated from Seminole High School and are lifelong residents. Their parents were Edwin and Ruth Lundquist and Ben and Mamie (Steele) Austin.

They were married on Sept. 1, 1950, in First Methodist Church with the Rev. Ed McKinley officiating; reception was in McKinley Hall. Louise's attendants were Betty Rose Hoolehan, maid of honor; and Peggy Jane Lundquist, junior bridesmaid.

Walter Steele served Benny as best man with Harold Chapman as usher.

The couple honeymooned in an apartment in Cocoa Beach. A hurricane came through that Labor Day weekend which closed down almost everything on the beach, including all the restaurants, so Louise said that she had to start cooking on her honeymoon.

Benny has retired from working at Florida Power and Light for 33 years. He enjoys playing tennis at least once a week and camping. He serves as a deacon and usher at First Baptist Church and has voluntarily done most of the yard work around the church for several years.

Louise worked for about 20 years in the offices of both the tax assessor and county clerk. Her hobbies include sewing, handwork and camping. She also enjoys working in her yard. She is active at First Baptist Church, where she has served as a Sunday School teacher, director of the pre-school department and on various committees.

Their children are Bonnie Lynn (Austin) and Phillip Balliet of Dover and Dale and Ulene Austin of Sanford. Their grandchildren are Drew Austin Balliet, Britney Lynn Balliet, Dale Price Austin Jr., David Michael Austin and Kenneth Raymond Austin.

Tattoo

A woman walking by sees Baker's "free tattoo" sign and asks if he is interested in making a trade.

"What do you have to trade?" he asks.

"A lot of things," she replies. "Well if you own a helicopter, I'm interested," he laughs.

Baker said part of his job is being a watch dog — keeping people from doing something stupid they may regret later in life. If someone wants a tattoo on the face or neck, he tries to talk the person out of it. He even discourages parents who bring their teen-agers in for a tattoo that's inappropriate.

Being a tattoo artist isn't the extent of Baker's talent. His real passion, he says, is acting. He's appeared in Walker, Texas Ranger; the biker movie "Running Cool" and "Fair Game." He also was the original "roach man" at Universal Studios.

"I stood in a cage with live cockroaches crawling over me," Baker says. "The next year I was the 'snake man' with live snakes."

"The third year when they called, I told them Bubba died," he says grinning.

Adams celebrates 100th birthday

Mary Adams of Sanford celebrated her 100th birthday on Sept. 30. Adams was born Sept. 30, 1900, in Malatina, Eastern Slovakia. Her father was Andrew Kochalka and her mother was Mary Kulyna Yadmak.

Adams has a sister Antionette (Tony) who lives in Dearborn, Mich., and a brother Ladislav (Lasko) Paul, who is deceased.

Adams immigrated to the United States May 1910 and lived in St. Charles, Mich. She worked in Toledo, Ohio, at the Toledo train station as a waitress in the winter time. She saw General Pershing train his soldiers near the train station in Toledo. She also lived in Saginaw, Mich. She married Gazel Victor Adams on Oct. 20, 1921, in Saginaw, Mich.

Mary and Gazel had four children. Two are deceased, John M Adams and Francis Gazel Adams.

Helen Adams Moyer lives in Atlanta, Ga., and Joseph John Adams lives in Sanford.

Mary is a member of the All Souls Catholic church in Sanford. She has nine grandchildren, 19 great grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

This picture gives a good view of North Park Avenue as the Dusty Boots and Saddle Club rounds the corner onto First Street at the end of the parade. Several landmarks are seen, circa 1948, such as the clock/traffic light in the intersection, Roumillat and Anderson Drug Store, Eddie's Restaurant and the Valdez Hotel. The 2001 Historic Calendar, sponsored by the Sanford Historical Society, includes this photograph along with 11 other old Sanford scenes. They can be purchased at the Sanford Museum, Knights Shoe Store, Seminole Herald and from Society members.

Volunteers needed for schools' mentor program

Halloween was in the air when the Woman's Club of Sanford Inc. began the 2000-01 season at the October meeting. The hostesses used Halloween motifs and fall flowers to decorate the clubhouse and tables with a record attendance noted.

Guest speaker was Dede Schaffner of the Seminole County Schools Mentor program. She explained the program to the club and told of the need for volunteers. Interested volunteers may call 407-321-0184.

President Betty Jack conducted the business meeting and heard routine reports from officers and committee chairmen.

The following were inducted into the club membership: Dr. Beverly Boothe, Julie Wallace, Kathy Sutton, Sica Nacu, Debbie Low, Ginny Coombs and Marilyn Blythe. Other new members are: Nikki Clarke

Anna Sterkowiec, a scholarship recipient last year. She lauded the club for its generosity and enclosed photographs of her hard-working family in Poland. This year's scholarship benefit will be a fashion show and luncheon, Holiday Fashion Memories, on Oct. 25, at 11:30 a.m., at the clubhouse. For information and tickets, call Vivian Buck, 407-324-4899, or mail her a check by Oct. 20 payable to the Woman's Club of Sanford Inc., for $15 per person to 1401 Palmetto Ave., Sanford 32771. Fashions will be from Burdines and no tickets will be sold at the door, according to Phyllis Hodge, education chairman.

Carole Kirchhoff, chair of the arts department, reminded members of the club's arts and crafts show to be held at the November meeting. Bettye Smith, chair of the public affairs department, encouraged members to support the Helen Stairs Theatre.

Rose Jacobson is chair of the Golden Age Games Bridge Tournament which the club is sponsoring Nov. 3, at the clubhouse. Players are needed. For information, call Rose at 407-322-3849.

Lisa Finnerty was named rental chairman. Three birthdays announced were: Stella Oritt, 92; Wilma Heaton, 90; and Rose Jacobson, 87. The year's deceased members include: Toni Hopson, Vivienne Sweeney, Dorothy Karns, past president, and Gladys Wray. Anniversaries announced were: Polly and Ralph Pezold, 50th; and Mindy and Brian Tooley, 26th.

Hostesses were: Toby Truittman and Zelda Siskind, chairmen; Ann Brisson, Mary Boone, Neda Boykin, Bettye Smith, Doris Brinson, Dr. Charaline Luna and Ruth Stamm.

Battleship reunion
 Longtime Sanfordites will never forget the Navy days in our fair city. A lot of exciting sea stories are still floating around as well as Navy families who remained here when Sanford Naval Air Station closed.

Among the families settling here are the Michael Caolos who have really left their mark on Sanford. All of Mike's and Miss Jackie's children attended local schools and Jackie soared to national fame teaching hundreds and hundreds of kids (and adults) water safety and swimming. Although Jackie and Mike make their home part time in Dallas in the family restaurant business, they still maintain their Sanford home where she spends a lot of time.

The family, including Mike Sr. and Jackie and their children Bonnie Collins, her husband Carl, and the Caolo sons, Jack and Mike Jr., recently attended the reunion of the U.S.S. West Virginia battleship at Mobile, Ala. Also attending the reunion was Jim Foley, a former Sanford veterinarian who now lives at Daytona Beach. Jackie said Jim was aboard the ship when it was attacked at Pearl Harbor. Swapping sea stories was the order of the day for the long-retired sailors. Jackie said, sadly, Jim reported the death of his wife, Dorothy, about two months ago.

So long, Holland
 Speaking of the Caolo family, daughter Susan Boot has arrived back home to re-capture some of the nostalgic memories of her roots. Susan, her husband, Marco Boot, and their sons have lived in Holland for nearly 10 years where he helped operate the family business, an international packaging corporation.

Susan said her son, Michael, 18, was already in St. Louis where he is a student at Webster University, and incidentally, was one of the passengers on Pan Am's inaugural flight from Sanford to St. Louis.

The second annual Octoberfest brought out more than 400 people for a day of festive entertainment at the Coastline Park. The festival was a concerned citizens committee effort to benefit the Good Samaritan Home of Sanford.

Vendors from throughout Central Florida joined to help make it a full community fun, spiritual, old home spirit event, as many met and greeted old friends and made new ones as the community joined to help a worthy cause.

Plenty of food, crafts and information helped inform the people of the community. Elder Earl Roundtree was the announcer for the day with the opening welcome by Chairperson Sylvia Bodison, city officials, City Manager Tony VanDerwoorp, Under Sheriff Steve Harriett,

Under Construction

Herald photos by Tommy Vincent

Westview Baptist Church, located at 4100 County Road 48A, is going through major expansion renovations. Pictured above, the Rev. Dennis R. Littleton discusses the expansion of the church's fellowship hall. According to Littleton, once construction is complete, the building will be 22,000 square feet and have a capacity for 750 people. The expansion work began in November 1998, and Littleton said it should be finished in January 2001. The renovations were needed as a result of the church's growth, which has doubled during the past few years. The parking area has also expanded and now includes 212 spaces. At right, Littleton stands by the new drive-through area in front of the church. "Once finished, this church is going to be an awesome, awesome place," Littleton said. Church officials plan to host a three-or four-day open house once construction and renovations are complete.

Movie vulgarity needs its limits

Does anyone really believe that Hollywood and the entertainment industry are going to clean up their acts?

George Plagenz

The Federal Trade Commission, a government agency, is only the latest in a long line of critics to bring down a stinging indictment of today's TV shows and movies for the way they are demoralizing our society with sex and violence.

It makes great political fodder for the politicians, especially in an election year, but it ends there.

In the last presidential campaign, Bob Dole, making a bid for the White House, tried using shame as a tactic in a speech to entertainment industry executives.

In the words of one writer, "Dole spoke to these grown men like a high school principal dressing down a classroom of shiftless students who were frittering away their youth in banal pursuits."

Dole said to them, half reproachfully, half sadly, "Is this what you intended to accomplish with your careers?"

Dole's "shame on you" speech had no effect. It is now four years later, and the country's morals and taste have never been lower.

In the old days, we would be hearing the C-word banded about at this point. But because the First Amendment advocates are ready to do battle with anybody who even whispers the word "censorship," the toughest talk we hear today is a threat of government regulation — a scare so mild that it doesn't even make Hollywood break out in goose bumps, much less a sweat.

There was a day, of course, when the censors ruled the film industry. It was the Legion of Decency, the guardian of morals in the Catholic Church, that was primarily responsible for imposing censorship in Hollywood.

Sex on the screen and Hollywood sex scandals off the screen were destroying the film capital's public image in the '20s and '30s.

Mae West in particular was giving the bluesoes fits with her sinuous walk and talk. "Why doncha come up and see me sometime?" was her classic line. Double entendres such as, "I've found a new way to go to town" were also drawing deep frowns from the Legion of Decency.

When Catholic moviegoers threatened a boycott, the film bosses decided they had better police their own morals before somebody else stepped in and did it for them.

They organized the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America and named Will Hays as their president, with all the powers of a censor.

Vulgarity of every kind drew a no-no from the new guardians of the country's morals. When the script for the movie version of "Born Yesterday" called for Brock, the junk-dealer tycoon played by Broderick Crawford, to belch, the censors let out a loud noise of their own: Eliminate the burp from Brock. It was cut.

Hays had perfect credentials for the job of censor. An elder in the Presbyterian Church, teetotaler and nonsmoker who never swore, coming from small-town America (Sullivan, Ind.), Hays rose to become chairman of the Republican National Committee and a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination in 1920.

Looking for a few good seeds

DEAR ANNE AND NAN: I would like to know of a source for tomato seeds — the good, old-fashioned kind that haven't been genetically screwed up as so many are today.

I used to be able to grow big, flavorful, juicy tomatoes with tender skins. Now, they have tough skins and no taste — more like eating an orange, rubber ball.

My hope springs eternal each year that I can buy the right plants or seeds to replicate the tomatoes of old, but to no avail. You're my last hope!

JOHN POULOS,
Dunnellon, Fla.

DEAR JOHN: "Bountiful Gardens," a wonderful catalog that comes out of California, contains a large and varied selection of open-pollinated, untreated, genetically unaltered, heirloom vegetable and flower seeds. A project of Ecology Action, the catalog also offers books and pamphlets on biointensive farming, seed-saving techniques, composting and soil fertility.

There is an entire page devoted to different tomato varieties, both English and American. We'll bet you'll find one (or more) that suits you to a T. We usually plant at least four varieties of tomatoes: one that's best for canning and freezing, one for eating, one for making tomato sauces and finally, cherry tomatoes for salads and snacks.

To order your free catalog, write to Bountiful Gardens (18001 Shafer Ranch Road, Willits, CA 95490; (707) 459-6410).

DEAR ANNE AND NAN: I have a garden with a small variety of herbs. I also have a large amount of horseradish plants. The gentleman who gave me the start of the horseradish has since passed away. I was not able to get the information from him on how to process and utilize the plant. Do you have some advice for me?

JIM OWENS,
Marion, Va.

DEAR JIM: Dig up one (or more) of the roots. Wash and scrape it, and drop it into cold water to prevent discoloration. Drain and put through a food processor, or crush it in an electric blender. To preserve, fill clean, sterile, cold, pint jars about 2/3 full. Add 1 teaspoon salt to each jar, and top with white vinegar. Seal. You can make a variety of freshly grated horseradish sauces and dressings.

Fresh horseradish is much tastier than the preserved variety, as its volatile oils have not had a chance to dissipate. Here's one of our favorites.

Cold Horseradish Dressing
1/4 cup horseradish, finely grated
1 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon sugar
pinch of salt
pinch of freshly ground black pepper
1 teaspoon dill, finely chopped

Mix together all the ingredients except the dill. Chill. Before serving, garnish with the freshly chopped dill. Serve with smoked fish or cold meats.

Son Patrick, 14, was apprehensive, at first, about leaving Holland where he has spent most of his young life lapping up Dutch culture. This strange, new country was different, but it didn't take Patrick long to become as gung-ho over Sanford as his mom is. Susan said she wanted Patrick to attend Seminole High School, her alma mater. Although he never played football, he made the freshman football team. He has made other strides to fit into Sanford including being cast in the holiday production presented by Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole. And we hear Patrick is a knockout — very handsome with a charming Dutch accent.

Arriving from Holland to attend the SHS Homecoming festivities will be Marco with Michael and two friends coming in from St. Louis. It will be a hot time in the old hometown for the Caolo-Boot clan.

Susan is so excited to be home. She finds everything from a sunrise to a sunset absolutely fascinating. She raves about Sanford like a highly-paid, topnotch chamber ambassador. This family will surely be an asset to the Sanford community.
