Reagan's Budget Draft Cuts Several Programs Important To Cities

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some of President Reagan's fiscal 1986 budget proposals would slash programs important to cities, including revenue sharing, mass transit and the Small Business Administration, administration documents show.

In addition, the president is likely to propose in his budget an end to subsidized school lunches for children from families with incomes over 135 percent of the poverty line ($10,610 annually for a family of four), an end to loans for college students from families making more than $32,500 a year and elimination of all mass transit capital and operating subsidies.

Rep. Ted Weiss, chairman of the House subcommittee on intergovernmental relations and human resources, said Thursday he was advised of the proposal to eliminate general revenue sharing and called it "irresponsible federalism."

"The loss of general revenue sharing funds will deal a severe blow to local governments, which are already straining from the loss of billions of dollars of federal aid during Reagan's first term," Weiss, D-N.Y., said in a statement.

"Local services paid for by revenue sharing are not frills," Weiss said. "The revenue sharing program is crucial for enabling local governments to provide vital services such as education, police, fire, rescue, and health care."

The document was distributed Wednesday to some House members by budget director David Stockman, who cautioned that the numbers could change. But that seemed highly unlikely since the president's budget is already at the printer for distribution today and Saturday to members of Congress.

The budget is scheduled to be released officially Monday.

The document also proposed a 5 percent reduction in civilian federal workers' pay, elimination of Amtrak subsidies and takes credit for the anticipated sale of Conrail.

Together with others, the program eliminations would cut $14 billion.

Reagan's fiscal 1986 budget will still show a deficit of $175 billion, a House member's aide said, far short of his original goal of slicing the projected $230 billion deficit by nearly half.

The document shows freezes and reductions — but not eliminations — of programs like Medicare, veterans benefits and the rural electrification system and imposition of navigation user fees, for a savings of $25 billion next fiscal year.

Search Panel Asks Guidance

In Screening City Manager Applicants

A special citizens' advisory committee, appointed by the Sanford City Commission to review and screen applications of city manager hopefuls, is expected to ask the city commission Monday for direction.

Committee chairman Sara Jacobson said the group needs guidance from the commission on "in-depth criteria, specific field experience and talent" the board would like to see its new manager possess.

Secondly, the committee wants to know whether all 111 applications submitted should be considered in the review process, or only those 97 applications which arrived at city hall or were postmarked by the Jan. 11 deadline.

And thirdly, now that the committee has categorized each of the applications, does the city commission want the committee to start the narrowing process to come up with 10 recommendations.

The job fell solely to the advisory committee after the Florida Association of City and County Managers, which had been asked to go over the applications, pulled out of the process, apparently insulted that its work would be reviewed by the citizens' committee.

The original idea, proposed by Commissioner David Farr, was for the FACCM to narrow the 97 applications down to 10 with the citizens' group to screen the finalists.

Sara Jacobson and S. Joseph Davis Jr. go over some of the applications for the post of Sanford City Manager.

Knowles told commissioners earlier this week that the FACCM didn't want "to do the work of screening the 97 applications for the job, then have a citizens' committee review their screening."

So, that leaves the task to the advisory group, which is fine with Ms. Jacobson. She said as far as the 111 applications are concerned, it is the committee's "feeling we want the best person possible for city manager and it doesn't matter when or where we find him," Ms. Jacobson said. "However, it might be when we get to the commission Monday they will want to eliminate those who came in after the deadline."

And the committee is ready and willing to narrow the list and come up with the 10 best applicants, she said.

At a 4 p.m. city commission workshop meeting Monday at city hall, the committee will present the commission with all the resumes and applications, Ms. Jacobson said.

She said the committee has separated the resumes into two basic groups — those who most obviously match the criteria set out in the city advertisement for the city manager position (a master's degree in public administration or a related field and four years experience in top level city management) and those who do not.

Then each application was placed in one of five categories, she said.

The first includes those with a master's in public administration plus top level experience of at least four years.

Batten Down Your TV Dish Antenna

Fearing Potential Safety Hazards, Sanford Planning Tough Regulations Governing Installation Of Receivers

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Fearing one of those television dish antennas which have become so popular lately may fall through a roof or blow away in a heavy windstorm, the Sanford City Commission is considering adopting safety regulations on the installation of these space-age devices.

After a 7 p.m. public hearing Feb. 11, the commission is expected to give preliminary approval to a proposed ordinance setting rules for installation of the dishes and prohibiting their placement in parking lots at shopping centers or stores where they take up customer parking spots which required by city law.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles recommended the rules in November, noting that without tough installation standards, someone could be killed by a falling dish.

When improperly installed on residential rooftops, dish antennas develop a twisting top motion in heavy winds and could damage roofs, causing them to collapse, sag or even blow away, he said.

The installation on roofs, if properly done, "can withstand a 100-mile wind," Knowles said. If installed on separate poles or a tower, they also must be able to survive a 100-mile wind, the proposed rule states.

The regulations are an attempt "to protect the people," Knowles said.

The proposed law would also prevent homeowners from installing TV dishes in their front yards so "they won't be a bother to their neighbors," he said.

"Some people consider the dishes unsightly." One of the gimmicks being used by firms selling the dishes is to mount them on trailers in parking lots for display purposes, Knowles said.

Rooftop dish antennas have Sanford city commissioners worried. They're afraid the receivers may collapse or blow away in a storm.

Graham: Wildfires 'More Severe Than I Anticipated'

NAPLES, Fla. (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham stood in the charred and smoking rubble of a woodlands home and termed the wildfire situation in southwest Florida "more severe than I anticipated."

The governor's remark came during a 25-mile tour late Thursday of the area east of Naples where an arson-set wildfire has killed a state forest ranger, destroyed at least six homes and forced 200 people to evacuate their homes in the rural Golden Gate Estates subdivision.

Fire-related tragedy was not limited to the downstate area. Outside Orlando, a 29-year-old woman burned to death early today apparently because she was too afraid to jump from her blazing second-story apartment.

Dead in Karen Marie Clark, 29, of 12042 Tift Circle, Alafaya Trail, near the University of Central Florida.

According to Capt. John Guemple of the Orange County Sheriff's Department, Mrs. Clark died in a 2:45 a.m. fire from which her husband and brother escaped.

According to a preliminary report, Mrs. Clark's husband, Warren Clark, 30, woke at 2:45 a.m. and smelled smoke. He woke the victim and her brother, Jeff Purdue, 22.

They attempted to leave the two-story apartment down a staircase but were forced back into the apartment by flames and smoke, the report said.

They retreated to the couple's bedroom where the two men jumped from the bedroom window to safety.

They were not injured in the jump and thought Mrs. Clark had jumped also.

Firefighters found Mrs. Clark's body next to the bed in the couple's bedroom.

The Naples fire broke out Saturday in the freeze-dried brush and woods and later was rekindled by an arsonist, state fire investigator Ed Jones said. So far, the fire has raced through 15 square miles of brush and timber.

Forestry officials reported Thursday night the fire continued burning in 4,000 acres during the day but was being contained. It destroyed two of the total six homes it has claimed during the day.

SCC President Dr. Earl Weldon and fund-raising chairman Dede Schaffner check a list of items to be auctioned off to raise money for the scholarship fund.

Foundation Kicks Off Campaign

SCC Seeking $100,000 For Scholarships

With a goal of $100,000, the Seminole Community College Foundation kicked off its second annual fund-raising appeal today at a breakfast meeting on campus.

This year the money raised during the campaign along with matching funds from the state will be used to set up a continuing scholarship fund. For each $6 raised in the drive, the state will match it with $4. The money will be deposited in an interest-bearing account and only the interest will be used for scholarships, keeping the fund intact.

Heading up the drive are Dede Schaffner, an SCC alumna and director of the Dividends volunteer program with the Seminole County public school system, and her husband, Bill, a former member of the college's board of trustees.

Meanwhile, Grace Huskey, wife of developer Everett Huskey, will chair the campaign's invitation committee while Betty Duda of the farming/ranching Duda family is chairing the gifts committee.

One of the special events during the drive will be a "dream auction" scheduled for March 14 when various donated items will be auctioned off by state Rep. Art Grindle, R-Altamonte Springs. The campaign will end after the auction with the state continuing to match donations through June 30, a school spokesman said.

During last year's effort, SCC was able to raise $30,000 in contributions and received $20,000 in matching money from the state for the purchase of equipment, according to school president Dr. Earl Weldon.

On the SCC shopping list was a calorimeter, which determines the number of calories in a sample of food, for the chemistry department; a chromatograph for spectroscopic analysis, to determine the chemical composition of an object and to analyze liquids under high pressure. Also purchased were various pieces of computer equipment for the transfer department, adult continuing education and the occupational educational program, Weldon said.

Weldon said if someone is interested in making a donation to the foundation for a purpose other than the scholarship fund, the money will be accepted and channeled in that direction.

NATION IN BRIEF

Pentagon Denies Report Of Downed Soviet Missile

United Press International
Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger said an errant Soviet cruise missile that crashed in Finland late last month was shot down by a Soviet warplane.
Weinberger's remarks Thursday came a day after the British newspaper, Daily Express, reported the rocket was downed over Finland because it was heading toward West Germany.
The Pentagon and officials in Finland, Norway and West Germany denied Weinberger's statement before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Thursday. They said the missile was not shot down and had crashed.
"We know that it was not shot down," said Michael Burch, a Pentagon spokesman. "It apparently crashed. It either flew into the ground or it ran out of fuel."
In Finland, teams still searching for remains of the shattered Soviet cruise missile today also insisted it was not shot down.

Hodel's Critics: He's A Watt Man

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Energy Secretary Donald Hodel, poised to take over at the Interior Department if the Senate agrees, faces renewed criticism from environmentalists who remember him as the right-hand man for James Watt.
But even his critics expect Hodel to have no real difficulty winning approval Tuesday from the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee, which reviews his qualifications today, and later from the Senate.
Some of the same environmentalists who protested Hodel's nomination as energy secretary in 1982 were on the committee's witness list today as opponents of his move to the Interior Department job.
Charles Clusen, vice president of the Wilderness Society, said Hodel "represents no change whatsoever in the calamitous policies of the past four years — policies that have harmed our public lands, our wildlife and Americans who care about either."

Chemical Kills AIDS Virus

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Researchers say they have made a breakthrough in the deadly disease AIDS — discovery of a substance that could lead to "substantial" prevention of the illness but not a cure.
The announcement was made Thursday by the California-based Mariposa Foundation and confirmed by a spokesman for the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta, which collaborated on a four-year study.
Dr. Bruce Voeller, president of the Mariposa Foundation, said the substance, nonoxynol-9, kills the virus believed to cause acquired immune deficiency syndrome. He said the substance is found in most commercial spermicidal birth control creams.
As of November 1984, the CDC reported 8,067 cases of AIDS in the United States, resulting in 3,342 deaths.

Student Sues Schools Over Christmas Policy

The Seminole County School Board is being sued by two students and their mothers claiming the board violated the students' constitutional rights.
The teacher who stopped Olivia from distributing the cards, also lighted a menorah the same day to illustrate Hanukkah, a Jewish holiday. The teacher was, according to school system Superintendent Robert Hughes, acting within the board's guidelines.
The suit also claims a Winter Springs girl, Rebecca Reichert, 13, daughter of Jill Reichert, had her constitutional rights violated when her Christmas poster depicting a Nativity scene was taken from a classroom door because its content was against the school's policy.
The suit calls the board's policy, "... aggressive anti-religious censorship and anti-Christian hostility..." according to Farris.
Ned Julian Jr., attorney for the school board, said the intent of the policy is to include traditional elements in Christmas celebration, such as Christmas carols, but not to cross the line into observance and practice.
Farris expects the case to be heard in federal court in about six months.

The proposed elimination of the Job Corps would save $1.4 billion over three years. $100 million of it in fiscal 1986, the document showed. Scrapping the SBA would result in a $1.5 billion savings and the sale of Conrail would bring in another $1.2 billion.
Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger's proposal to slow the growth of defense spending only slightly, saving $6.7 billion, also is included in the document.

Weinberger and Reagan have been under considerable pressure, much of it from Senate Republicans, to cut more from defense spending.
Rep. Tom Pency, D-Minn., who attended the briefing with Stockman, said, "The administration is using its same old budget strategy. It comes in with a defense level way over our needs and then compromises to a level that's still above our needs."

Chernenko Attacks 'Star Wars' Program

Soviet Leader 'Back From Vacation'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a blistering attack on the "Star Wars" proposal, Soviet leader Konstantin Chernenko argues that research on space-based weapons could open up a new arms race the way research on the Manhattan Project ushered in the nuclear age.
But emphasizing that he foresaw a successful outcome to arms talks next month in Geneva, Switzerland, Chernenko warned that agreements on nuclear weaponry must include a consensus on weapons in space.
Responding to four written questions submitted by Cable News Network in Moscow, Chernenko stressed the "organic interrelationship" between success in talks on nuclear arms and those on weapons in space and rejected Reagan's attempts to minimize his "Star Wars" missile-defense plan as solely a research program.

CNN Bureau Chief Stuart Loory, who submitted the questions, reported from Moscow that Chernenko's responses were delivered Thursday by Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman Vladimir Lomeiko.
Lomeiko, taking issue with widespread speculation in the West that the Soviet leader was seriously ill and had possibly suffered a stroke, insisted Chernenko was taking an annual month-long winter vacation outside of Moscow.

Mother And Son Held On Theft Charges

A 54-year-old Forest City woman, accused of being part of a mother and son theft team, was being held in the Seminole County jail for North Carolina lawmen after her arrest today on six counts of breaking and entering and larceny.
The woman's arrest came at 7:10 a.m. at her home following a joint investigation between Seminole County sheriff's investigators and the Ashe County Sheriff's Department, that reportedly linked her to a stash of stolen goods recovered in North Carolina, Seminole County deputies reported.
Majorie Wain, 54, a real estate broker, of 6223 Linnell Beach Drive, has been charged in the case. She was being held without bond in the Seminole County jail and is expected to be returned to North Carolina to face charges, Hartley said.
Ashe County sheriff's deputies reported the arrest of two other suspects, David Wain, 27, Ma. Wain's son, on Dec. 27, and a 17-year-old boy, on Dec. 28. Both are from Orlando.
The arrests came after Wain allegedly stole a citizens band radio at a garage sale of a relative of an Ashe County sheriff's deputy in Jefferson, N. C.

The Jefferson County lawman went to Wain's home in a rural area and reported finding not only the radio, but that Wain's house was apparently furnished completely with stolen goods.
A motorcycle reportedly stolen in Seminole County was recovered and a Seminole County investigation continues into the reported link between the North Carolina find and Seminole County thefts, Seminole detective Herb Hartley said. But no Seminole County charges have been filed.
Wain and the boy, who is charged as an adult under North Carolina law, have been charged with multiple counts of breaking and entering, larceny and possession of stolen goods and charges continue to be added as items found in Wain's home are reportedly linked to thefts, Ashe County deputies reported.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

A boat and trailer with a combined value of $20,000 were stolen from the home of Theodore Burton, 32, of 1568 Sugarwood Circle, Winter Park, between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Wednesday, a sheriff's report said. The boat is a 1985 runabout and is valued at $17,500.
Robert Green, 24, of 1620 Robert St., Longwood, reported to deputies a thief stole a camera and other photo gear with a combined value of about $380 from a bag he left on his motorcycle while it was parked at his home Sunday or Monday.
The manager of Shop & Go, 1415 state Road 427, Longwood, reported to sheriff's deputies he discovered $324 missing from the store's till. The cash disappeared Sunday or Monday and deputies have the names of possible suspects in the case.
A $188 stereo and a $150 equalizer were stolen from the home of Dennis Keith Krupinski, 27, of 2615 Falmouth Drive, Maitland, Sunday, a sheriff's report said.

Officer With Cancer Returns To Police Force

CHICAGO (UPI) — A county judge scolded the Chicago Police Department for firing a veteran officer just because he had part of his tongue cut out in a cancer operation. The patrolman was ordered back on the force.
"I'd always thought that the police department stood by the men. I guess it isn't true," Patrolman Arthur Brown said Thursday after he was restored to duty by a Cook County Circuit Judge who called the department's actions "a disgrace."
Brown, an 18-year veteran, was kept from returning to work by a police department physician following surgery in which half of his tongue was amputated.
Police Dr. Larry Milner allegedly told Brown he would be "a disgrace to the uniform if civilians saw him," even though Brown's own doctor had certified him fit to work, attorneys said.
Brown, who speaks in a hoarse but intelligible voice, must wear a bandage around his neck.
In issuing a temporary restraining order allowing Brown to return to work, Cook County Circuit Judge Joseph Wolk called the action "a disgrace to the police department."
"In all the years I've been here I've never heard anything like this," Wolk said. "Just because a man is ill, the department wants to do away with him?"
Alderman Edward Burke, who represented Brown in his suit against Milner and police superintendent Fred Rice, said the case was "a question of human dignity and the dignity of the Chicago police department."
"This man gave 18 years of his life to the citizens of the city of Chicago," Burke said. "He deserves better treatment than he has gotten."

Barred Windows Hinder Rescue At Nursing Home; 2 Killed

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — Barred windows and locked doors hindered efforts by firefighters to enter a nursing home hit by a blaze that killed two residents.

An 80-year-old woman and a 64-year-old man died before firefighters could reach them in Thursday's blaze. They apparently were victims of smoke inhalation, said Fort Lauderdale Fire Department Battalion Chief Ron Robson.

The fire was reported at 9:15 a.m. and was extinguished within eight minutes of firefighters' arrival, but the barred windows and locked doors hampered their rescue efforts.

The adult congregate living facility houses 105 people, most of them elderly, but including some younger adults with physical and mental handicaps.

The fire began in a resident's room and spread quickly through a hallway, Robson said. The cause is still under investigation.

Spy Plane To Help Growers

PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE (UPI) — A retired spy plane will be used to photograph the state of Florida for a citrus "census" to help researchers in the battle against crop-damaging pests and disease, officials say.

Larry Lathrop, a remote sensing specialist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, said Thursday the inventory of state citrus crops will allow researchers to quickly identify areas of future outbreaks of plant disease or pests.

It is hoped the U-2 photo survey will help researchers evaluate where disease or pests might show up next once an outbreak has been reported.

In addition, it could provide valuable insights into environmental factors that might aid in the spread of diseases like citrus canker.

Eastern, Union Reach Bargain

MIAMI (UPI) — Eastern Airlines reached an apparent agreement with one of its unions on wage concessions after missing a midnight deadline, but there was no word today whether settlement was near in negotiations with the other two unions.

George Roberts, an official with the flight attendants' union, said they had "an agreement in principle." He gave no details.

Eastern was apparently in non-compliance on its loans after failing to agree with the three unions on concessions by a midnight deadline.

Eastern officials said despite failure to meet the deadline, its operations would not be affected.

Over $11,000 Available

Chamber, Businesses Offer Scholarships

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

A total of $11,850 in scholarships are available to qualified Seminole and Lake Mary high school seniors thanks to the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Business and Education Partners for Success Scholarship Program.

As a result of a drive to enlist local financial support from business and civic leaders, eight area firms are participating in the program by underwriting from 15 to 20 scholarships, according to Karen Coleman, spokeswoman for the Seminole County School Board and chairman of the chamber's education committee.

The drive has been extended to Feb. 13 so that any other business or individuals wishing to create a scholarship on a one-time or long-term basis may do so, Mrs. Coleman said. Scholarships may be set up in the name of a business or as a memorial or tribute in honor of someone who has contributed much to the community starting at $200 to as much as much as they would like to give. They can determine how it will be divided and the donor or someone he designates may serve on the selection committee along with the chamber education committee.

Students will be interviewed in early March and scholarships will be awarded March 22 at the annual banquet of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. While need and academic achievement are major factors in the selection of recipients, Mrs. Coleman said community involvement and business orientation are also taken into account.

The scholarship competition is open to all interested students. Vocational ed students, who may be working part-time with a definite leaning toward a particular career goal, and have excellent grades in that area, but maybe not as good in other areas, would still be excellent candidates," she said.

The scholarship must be used at a Florida college, university, or technical school.

Applications are available from guidance counselors at the two high schools, the chamber office or by mail by contacting Mrs. Coleman at the Seminole County School Board office, 322-1252. Applications must be postmarked by Feb. 24.

The project was created last year after the state Chamber of Commerce abandoned its long-running STAR Student scholarship program. Many Seminole students had applied, but none had every been awarded the STAR scholarship, Mrs. Coleman said. But in this local effort every scholarship will go toward helping a local student complete his or her education. In the first year with only W.E. "Duke" Adamson, president of Rich-United Corp., and Don Bauerle of CODISCO participating, 11 students received scholarships, she added, out of approximately 40 applicants.

Contributing businesses and individuals this year and the amounts of their scholarships include:

- Cavalier Inns, Inc., 3200 Orlando Drive, Sanford — a $200 scholarship.
- Douglas Stenstrom of Stenstrom, McIntosh, Julian, Colbert and Whigham, Sanford, — two scholarships at $200 each or one $400 scholarship.

- James A. Cabler Jr. of Altamonte Springs, attorney for CODISCO — $250 scholarship.
- Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., Orlando — two $500 scholarships.
- Schilke Enterprises, Sanford — four $500 scholarships.
- Harcar Aluminum, Sanford — four $500 scholarships.
- CODISCO, Sanford, $3,000

with number and amounts of scholarships to be determined.

• Rich-United Corp., Sanford is giving one $1,000 scholarship and four $500 scholarships. Plus as an outgrowth of this program, Rich-United Corp. has established a $3,000 scholarship fund for children of its customers statewide.

Longwood Man Pleads Guilty In Stereo Trafficking Case

An 18-year-old Longwood man charged with dealing in stolen property has pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of attempted trafficking of stolen property.

Edward Mitchell Bloom Jr., 18, of 704 Skylake Circle, could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced by Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. March 7.

Bloom was charged with taking two speakers and a video recorder which he told investigators had been stolen by two juveniles.

The items, worth a total of $1,000, were sold to J&B Sound of Sanford on Nov. 5 for $50, according to a sheriff's report.

Bloom reportedly told the lawmen he made the sale because the juveniles did not have driver licenses which the buyer asked to see before making the buy.

In other pleas: — Gary L. Hines, 29, of 521 Boxelder Ave., pleaded guilty as charged to possession of more than 20 grams of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia. He could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced by Davis March 7. Hines was arrested Nov. 27 on Cypress Street in Casselberry after an officer reportedly found 53 grams of marijuana and cigarette rolling papers in his possession.

—Theodius Williams, 44, of 2220 Church St., pleaded no contest to possession of a firearm by a convicted felon. He could receive up to a year in jail when sentenced April 3 by Davis. Williams was arrested Oct. 7 after he reportedly threatened to shoot his former roommate the day after he moved from her home. According to a sheriff's report, deputies found a 12-gauge shotgun with a live round in the chamber and the safety off in Williams' car after the incident.

State Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner, whose agency includes the Division of Forestry, was to tour the area today.

Earlier Thursday, the governor ordered the National Guard and Department of Transportation to provide firefighting equipment for the local and state crews on the scene.

National Guard helicopters were to patrol the fire lines today, spotting new outbreaks for the ground crew.

In Tallahassee, a three-man board was appointed to investigate the death of state forester Marco Miranda, 24, who died while operating a tractor at the heart of the blaze Wednesday.

Officials said the blaze just "rolled over" Miranda Wednesday as he tried to dig a fire line to cut off the fire.

The Golden Gate fire was just one of the 1,421 wildfires that have consumed a total of 81,124 acres that the forestry division has logged this year through Jan. 30. Those figures do not include a 500,000-acre fire raging through the sawgrass in the open Everglades of western Broward County, said Larry Amison, fire information coordinator for the forestry division.

"We're just keeping an eye on it. So far, it is not endangering anything," Amison said.

State officials are calling the outbreak of wildfires the worst Florida has suffered since 1981. In the more than three years since then, the underbrush flourished and then was reduced to fire-prone kindling by a record three-day freeze last week.

Most of the fires have erupted on Florida's lower west coast, from Lakeland southward, with Collier (Naples) and Lee (Fort Myers) counties hardest hit.

The second category includes assistant city managers with the required degrees and required experience or related experience.

The third category includes those who have bachelor's degrees, but do not have a master's or have not completed all work toward a masters but have one in progress, but whose experience is relative and impressive.

The fourth category includes those with the educational background but who do not have either the related top level experience or tenure.

In the fifth category are eight applications which indicate neither a degree nor "what we feel was high enough experience at a related level," she said.

After holding two meetings this week, the last Thursday afternoon, Ms. Jacobson said applications had been screened three times. Each of the committee members has evaluated each applicant according to a weighted measure based on the qualifications shown in resumes, starting with educational and job experience requirements.

"All the committee members have reviewed all the groups together, coding each application as we go along. Where we are not in agreement, we go through the resumes together and come into agreement," Ms. Jacobson said.

"What we will present to the commission Monday is the initial screening we have done," she said.

"I believe at that meeting the committee will be ready to make significant input."

Ms. Jacobson said the committee also needs direction from the city commission in the second phase of the selection process. "If the commission directs us to do so, the committee is prepared to narrow the applications first to 20 and then to 10 after getting some firsthand references from persons in position to give recommendations in the cities where the applicants have worked," she said.

"At no time does the committee intend or want to interview the applicants," Ms. Jacobson said.

She said the committee is prepared to submit to the commission a list of 10 applicants by the end of next week or the beginning of the following week.

"That will leave the commission three weeks to finish the process and do the interviewing and make their offer," she said.

The commissioners have indicated they would like the new city manager on board by March 30 to give him or her at least one month to work with City Maner W.E. "Pete" Knowles before his April 30 retirement.

Ms. Jacobson said counting backwards further, the person selected will likely wish to give 30 days notice to his or her present employer which means the selection process by the city commission should be completed by the end of February.

Knowles has pointed out that if the city is unable to have a new city manager on board before he retires, the city can always rely on Assistant City Manager Steve Harrett to serve as acting manager if more time is needed.

"I feel certain the city will take that option rather than make a bad decision because of a squeeze play," Ms. Jacobson said.

She said the profile of the advisory committee is excellent considering among the members are a former city commissioner (Eddie Keith), a judge (S. Joseph Davis Jr.), a businesswoman active in civic affairs (Shirley Schilke), and a school teacher active in civic affairs (Leonora Mobley). Ms. Jacobson is a businesswoman who is active in civic affairs.

When this is done the diabetics take up customers' parking space required by law. One of these was displayed in a French Avenue parking lot for several weeks in November, but it is not there now, he said.

If the ordinance is adopted, violators could be taken to court or to the city's code enforcement board which has the power to levy fines up to $250 for each day the violation occurs.

Those persons who have dish antennas prior to adoption of the law would "be grandfathered in" and would not be required to abide by the new law, Knowles said.

Suitable Challenge

The long-term prospects for eliminating global hunger were improved recently when Scripps Clinic and Research Foundation and PPG Industries agreed to a joint venture designed to increase the world's food supply.

The Pittsburgh-based chemical firm plans to spend $120 million during the next 15 years to develop a highly selective herbicide that will kill weeds without harming crops or wildlife. And the research for that ambitious undertaking will be conducted by Scripps scientists at the internationally renowned facility in La Jolla, Calif.

Although the project still is in the formative stages, it nonetheless has the potential to produce a biotechnical breakthrough that eventually could solve the problem of food shortages by allowing plants to survive in the world's harshest regions.

Specifically, Scripps' researchers will apply the technology that biomedical science uses to produce selective vaccines for humans in order to isolate proteins that are unique to yield-robbing weeds. PPG scientists will then try to transform this technology into a chemical compound that lacks the hazards found in many conventional herbicides.

That process is exciting because it could eliminate the risks associated with herbicides. Instead of producing a chemical compound that kills weeds and produces unsafe side effects, molecular biologists hope to create a compound that will merely interrupt the weed's natural development without endangering lives or the environment.

Such a breakthrough would revolutionize agricultural techniques and produce another "green revolution" that could wipe out world hunger. It also could pave the way for other dramatic developments such as new and effective drugs for people.

In announcing the project, PPG officials stressed that Scripps was chosen as a research partner because it is a world-class operation capable of achieving the most challenging objectives.

Chocolate Silliness

It's not enough that the raisin folks have to deal with crop surpluses and depressed prices — now come the scientists from Hershey Foods to tell the world that raisins cause a lot more cavities than chocolate and several other snack foods.

Never mind that the experiment was done with laboratory rats, which rarely floss.

Never mind that raisins are indisputably more nutritious than chocolate.

The Hershey people are sensitive about what they consider the myth that chocolate causes tooth decay. So they fed their rats all these goodies — not just raisins, but three kinds of granola bars and things like chocolate-covered cookies with caramel. And behold, raisins led all the rest in what was called the "mean caries induction potential."

Dentists were quick to point out that this finding doesn't have much significance as long as snackers keep their teeth clean.

A Hershey spokesman says the company didn't mean to single out raisins as a bad guy; only to make chocolate a good guy. He can believe that — after all, chocolate-covered raisins are part of most raisin gift packages. Surely, the chocolate makers don't want to bad-mouth a food their product wraps around.

Raisins will survive all this. We're more worried about those laboratory rats, and their decidedly non-rat diet. They'll probably be gumming around their cages soon unless Hershey also has dental hygienists on its staff.

Unauthorized Entry Prompts More Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Reporters and White House staffers are getting closer scrutiny when they enter the White House since the story was disclosed about a Denver man's unauthorized presence on the state floor.

Robert Latta, 45, wandered around for about 15 minutes in the area where President Reagan was to be sworn in on Jan. 20 before he was noticed.

As a result, red-faced White House police are even more vigilant with the regulars who come to the White House daily.

Deputy press secretary Larry Speakes told reporters:

"Almost on a daily basis, certainly on a weekly basis, some individual attempts to enter the White House grounds. There are many, many incidents of this type."

He said they penetrate the grounds of the White House "from time to time — try to make entry at the gate."

"There are many, many — there are thousands of threats that come in on a weekly and monthly basis to the president. The president is informed of none of these."

Some presidents and their families have been briefed on the threats from time to time, and have often guided their movements accordingly.

A president has the authority to overrule a Secret Service decision, but that does not happen often. Traditionally, a president defers to the judgment of his protectors.

Nancy Reagan has expressed her continuing fears since the attempt on the president's life on March 30, 1981.

President Reagan has two appointment schedules — one that is on the record and the other off the record with the callers often coming in the side door and the back door, not to be seen by the press.

But even the on-the-record appointments often are not open for any coverage. On such occasions, reporters can stand out in the cold and wait for the caller to come out and possibly make a statement.

On a recent day that typifies the lack of actual coverage of Reagan, the president had appointments with Israel Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin on military aid to Israel; a meeting with all the members of the House Appropriations Committee on the MX and Star Wars funding; a telephone call to the U.S. Savings Bond leadership; a meeting with retiring UN Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick in the Oval Office; and presentation of presidential awards for design excellence.

When deputy press secretary Larry Speakes is asked why none of these events is open for coverage, his stock reply is: "That is the way we want to do it."

Television correspondents, more than others, then appeal for a handout picture from the White House on the Rabin or Kirkpatrick meeting.

That is the way news is managed at the White House and reporters hope that when Treasury Secretary Donald Regan becomes White House chief of staff there may be a more open administration.

The president took a swipe at Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, at the exclusive all-male Alfalfa Club dinner recently, undoubtedly because Metzenbaum has been the chief critic of his nomination of counselor Edwin Meese to be attorney general.

Reagan said that his friends are leaving Washington so fast he and his wife had to resort to having dinner with Metzenbaum and his wife.

Dealing With 'Crazies'

While President Reagan has instituted necessary improvements in America's defense forces, which should deter the Soviet Union, an unsolved problem is that posed by what have been called the "crazy states."

The term "crazy states" was coined by Brian Crozier, the British author and writer on defense issues. Examples of this category are Libya under Khadafi and Iran under Khomeini. "These are by definition," Mr. Crozier wrote in Encounter magazine, "less predictable and therefore more difficult to guard against."

Americans need to be aware of the destabilizing potential of the "crazy states." The Soviet Union, for all its threatening might, is cautious. It responds to Western deterrent measures. Libya and Iran, however, aren't responsive to rational considerations.

The action of one "crazy state," Iran, brought down the Carter administration. The Reagan administration, for its part, has been on the alert to the "crazy states" menace. The bombings in Lebanon, which had their origins in fanatical movements in the Middle East, came close to rocking the Reagan administration.

The outbreak of religious and communal violence in India is another reminder of the power of fanatics in a world that is not truly modern. The enmity of India and Pakistan, of Hindu and Muslim, has an explosive potential. Both of these nations will have nuclear weapons in the not distant future. There appears no way to impose nuclear disarmament on these unstable powers in the Third World.

Most nations of the world lack the technological know-how and industrial resources for nuclear arms. The unstable states, of which there are many in the world, all have a potential for utilizing the weapon of terrorism. The danger in this regard is evidenced by the bomb campaigns employed by the criminal IRA organization in Ireland. The IRA recently came close to killing the British Prime Minister and her entire Cabinet.

This type of shadowy threat poses extreme difficulties for a responsible state. And even if we determine that Libya is behind some future outrage, how shall we respond? Madmen, including international madmen, create the worst crises.

Taiwan Admits Role In Murder

WASHINGTON — Last Oct. 13, a Chinese-American journalist named Henry Liu fired off a terse letter to me about the Taiwanese government's attempts to intimidate Chinese-language newspapers in this country. The China Times, he wrote, "was a victim of political interference which our laws prohibit." It was to be the last letter Liu was to write.

The next day, two assassins scouted Liu's suburban Daly City, Calif., neighborhood on bicycles. A day later, they returned, waylaid Liu in his garage, whipped out pistols and shot him three times. Then the killers pedaled off on their bikes, which police found abandoned.

The day after the tragedy, Liu's wife, Helen, wrote me an anguished letter. "I have terrible news to inform you," she began. After the shooting, the assassins fled, she reported, "before I caught sight of their faces." But she thought she knew who they were: hired assassins of the Taiwanese government.

"They were not interested in money," she noted. Valuables in the garage "were not touched at all." It was perfectly clear to her. "The assassination is politically motivated," she wrote bitterly.

Helen Liu was right. The Taiwanese authorities, after vehemently denying having any part in the assassination, have now reversed themselves. They have admitted that Taiwan's military intelligence agency was involved in the shooting and have arrested the official believed to be responsible.

Though the Taiwanese deserve credit for accepting responsibility, intelligence sources believe the Taiwanese decided to make a clean breast of the affair and claim it was an unauthorized, isolated incident. If they can make an arguable case that Liu's assassination was a regrettable aberration, they might avoid retaliation by Congress.

For an amendment to the Export

Control Act authorizes Congress to cut off weapons shipments to countries that engage in systematic harassment of their critics in the United States. Taiwan receives some $800 million a year in military aid that could be threatened by the Liu murder. Already, Rep. Tom Lantos, D-Calif., the Liu family's congressman, has asked for hearings on the case.

There is evidence of a pattern of harassment, which I have documented in the past. Here's the record:

— Five years ago, I reported that Taiwan had sent streams of agents into the United States to infiltrate Chinese-American groups that favored Communist China. This was confirmed by a secret 1979 Senate report, which also reported that the Taiwanese government had even considered sending letter bombs to prominent Americans who were pro-Peking.

— Three years ago, I reported that Chen Wen-cheng, a Carnegie-Mellon among conservatives — he had served as a deputy representative under Jeane Kirkpatrick at the United Nations.

Shultz accepted and fought for Adelman's contested confirmation, earning the gratitude of conservatives. But Shultz has essentially shut out Adelman as an inside player in the arms negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Securing an equitable and effective arms control agreement with the Kremlin is the chief foreign policy goal of the administration and Shultz is the lead figure. Edward Rowny knows it.

Rowny resigned from President Carter's negotiating team on the abortive SALT 2 arms treaty because he thought it was too favorable to the Soviets. He is highly regarded by conservatives but is perhaps too well known for his independence.

With secrecy and then swiftness that caught potential critics off-guard, Shultz dumped Rowny and replaced him with the recently retired Sen. John Tower.

George Shultz served in two Cabinet posts under Richard Nixon and avoided being mugged by the hard political operatives in the White House. He is no softy.

Now he has quietly attained the undraped foreign policy leadership role Haig so ambitiously and loudly sought.

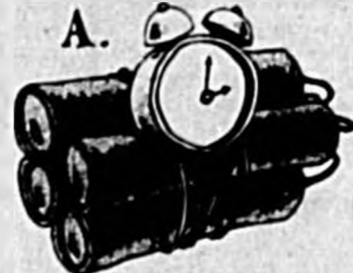

Shultz has the political scalps to prove it.

Making Speech Visible

By Jan Ziegler
UPI Science Writer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Twenty deaf people will field test a potentially revolutionary device this summer: computerized eyeglasses that enable the wearer to see speech.

The glasses, attached to a microprocessor that can be hung from a belt, translate sound from speech into symbols that are flashed using light-emitting devices onto one of the lenses.

Using a combination of the symbols and traditional lip-reading, the wearer can understand speech better than with lip-reading alone.

"We've tested deaf subjects" in controlled settings, said the device's co-inventor, Robert Beadies. "They showed a very large improvement in speech intelligibility."

The 20 or so field-testers, half men and women and half children, will undergo training in the spring and then, starting in the late summer, will wear the device for a year to see how it performs in day-to-day life. Beadies said.

If it does as well as its inventors hope, the device could liberate many of the nation's 2 million deaf people. In school, they often must attend special classes; out of school, many must rely on lip-reading.

Beadies, an electrical engineer with a computer science background and director of the center for biomedical engineering at Research Triangle Institute, developed the hardware for the device, dubbed the "autocuer."

The concept was developed by Orin Cornett, a physicist, specialist in communication engineering and former vice president of Gallaudet College, where most of autocuer testing has been done.

Cornett invented cued speech, from which the symbols for the autocuer were taken. In cued speech, the speaker translates words into sign language using eight hand symbols made in four locations near the mouth.

The glasses are attached by this wire to the battery-powered microprocessing unit, which weighs about a pound, Beadies said. The whole thing costs about $4,000.

The developers hope the device will be commercially available in 1987. They believe the microprocessor can be reduced chip-size to be mounted on the glasses, and that the cost can be dropped to $1,000 or $2,000.

Seminole Whitewash NSB — Hornets Trip Lake Mary

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

After a scoreless first half, Sanford's Fighting Seminoles exploded for six goals in the second half en route to a 6-0 whitewashing of New Smyrna Beach in prep soccer action Thursday at Seminole High.

"We dominated play in both halves but couldn't put the ball in the goal until the second," Seminole coach Logan Fleck said. "The guys were very patient and worked the ball around well."

Seminole broke the scoreless tied five minutes into the second half on a goal by Sidney Griggs. Tim Roberts scored five minutes later for a 2-0 lead.

J.J. Partlow scored the next two goals for the Tribe, the first with 20 minutes left in the match and the second with 15 minutes left. Mike Edwards scored the last two goals for the 'Noles and they were also the first two scores of the year for Edwards.

Seminole goalkeeper Jeff Wallace had nine saves in recording his first shutout of the season. The Seminoles outshot the Barracudas, 36-9. Fleck said Seminole's defense leaders Thursday included Richard Cole, Gary Barnett and Mike Cameron.

Soccer

Along with Griggs, Roberts, Partlow and Edwards on offense, Dave Sierputowski turned in a strong effort with two assists for Seminole which now stands at 2-15-2.

MAHONEY TIPS RAMS

ORLANDO — John Mahoney's header with six minutes left in the match lifted Bishop Moore's Hornets to a 1-0 blanking of Lake Mary's Rams Thursday night at Bishop Moore High.

"It was our best match of the season outside of the win over Lake Brantley," Lake Mary coach Larry McCorkle said. "I was real pleased with the effort. The defense didn't give up any garbage goals. All we need now is a little offensive punch and we're set."

Lake Mary now stands at 15-8 while Bishop Moore improved to 13-5-3.

Most of the game Thursday night was played at midfield as Bishop Moore took 18 shots on goal compared to 12 for the Rams. "Most of the shots were from far out," McCorkle said.

While most of the game was played at midfield there was one noticeable difference on the field for the Rams. Goalkeeper Greg Griffing was injured early in the first half and missed the rest of the game.

"He was fouled 11 minutes into the match and injured his wrist," McCorkle said of Griffing. "He had to be taken out of the game and to the hospital for x-rays."

Sophomore keeper Steve Kilpatrick came in for Griffing and did an outstanding job but Lake Mary had to put back an extra defender because of Kilpatrick's inexperience.

Bishop Moore broke the scoreless tie with six minutes remaining in the match when a corner kick was crossed to Mahoney, a Lake Mary resident, who headed it into the goal.

The Hornets had an opportunity for an insurance goal when Tim Fall, a Sanford resident, had a breakaway but Kilpatrick, who had 14 saves in the game, came up with the save. "He (Kilpatrick) made an outstanding save," McCorkle said. "He took it right off Fall's foot."

The breakaway was really the only good chance Fall had at a goal Thursday as he was marked hard by Louis Rosen the entire game. Fall is one of the most prolific goal scorers in the state this season as he had 38 goals going into Thursday's match.

"Louis (Rosen) did a tremendous job marking Fall," McCorkle said. "Overall, the whole team played well. These kind of games will help us down the road."

Lake Mary's junior varsity suffered its first defeat Thursday as it dropped a 2-1 decision to the JV Hornets. The JV Rams now stand at 12-1-2.

Lady Seminoles Draw Oviedo In District Opener

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole gave up an early goal after a defensive mistake but came back with five unanswered goals en route to a 5-1 victory over Oviedo's Lady Lions Thursday in prep soccer action at Seminole High.

Seminole, which improved to 12-8-3 with the win, ends the regular season Saturday morning at 10 at Trinity Prep. The Lady Tribe, the No. 4 seed, will host the first round of the district tournament Monday at 7 against Oviedo. Lyman, the No. 1 seed, entertains Lake Howell at 7 p.m. Lake Brantley, the No. 2 seed, welcomes Luther at 7 p.m. and Lake Mary, the No. 3 seed, entertains Trinity Prepat 8 p.m.

Oviedo, which was playing without scoring whiz Chris Geltz, took a 1-0 lead 12 minutes into the match Thursday when Tiffany King scored on a penalty kick. "We fouled Oviedo in the penalty area," Seminole coach Suzy Reno said. "It was a silly defensive mistake."

Seminole tied it at 1-1 five minutes later when Beth Nelson scored on an assist from Janet Hauk. Hauk returned to the lineup Thursday for the first time since the Burger King Christmas Tournament.

Vicky "Spuffy" Pakovic gave

Soccer

Seminole a 2-1 lead 23 minutes into the match when she fired in a shot from 30 yards out on an assist from Nelson. Pakovic now has 19 goals on the season.

The Lady Seminoles took a 3-0 lead with 10 minutes left in the first half when Hauk scored on a rebound of her own shot. It was Hauk's sixth goal of the season. "She sure didn't lose her form," Reno said of Hauk. "I'm glad we got her back in time for districts."

The Lady Tribe tacked on two more goals in the second half, the first by Rachelle Denmark on an assist from Nelson and the second by Nelson on Cindy Bengé's assist. Nelson, who has played just 11 games, now has 14 goals.

Reno said Thursday's defensive standouts included Bengé, Angela Freeman, Kim Walsh and Kim Machnik. The leaders at midfield were Denmark, Alicia Huaman and Tracey Farelly.

Seminole took 34 shots on goal compared to 12 for Oviedo. Walsh had four saves as goalkeeper in the first half and Sherri Rumlér had 16 saves in the second.

Tribe Routs Rams

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Monday's tossup turned into Thursday's rout at Lake Mary High.

Playing without senior forward Aileen Patterson, Lake Mary's Lady Rams were overwhelmed by Seminole's pressure defense as The Lady Seminoles bolted to a 29-6 lead after one quarter and never looked back en route to a 77-50 thrashing of the Lady Rams in Five Star Conference action at Lake Mary High.

Seminole took over sole possession of second place in the conference with a 10-2 record. The Lady Tribe stands at 17-5 overall. Lake Mary, which had a seven-game winning streak snapped, now stands at 13-7 overall and 9-3 in the Five Star. Lake Brantley leads the conference at 11-1.

Patterson, who averages 13 points and 11 rebounds per game, was out with the flu. She had a 104 temperature early in the week.

"The girls were mentally let down with Aileen (Patterson) out," Lake Mary coach Bill Moore said. "When everybody's healthy and we play well, we can beat anybody. But we're also fragile and we can't afford to lose any of our players."

"Aileen is so important to us," added Moore. "We lost a lot of our muscle with her out."

Seminole came out with pre-emptive right from the start and ran off the first eight points and eventually took a 23-2 lead in the opening quarter. Seminole took a 45-14 halftime lead.

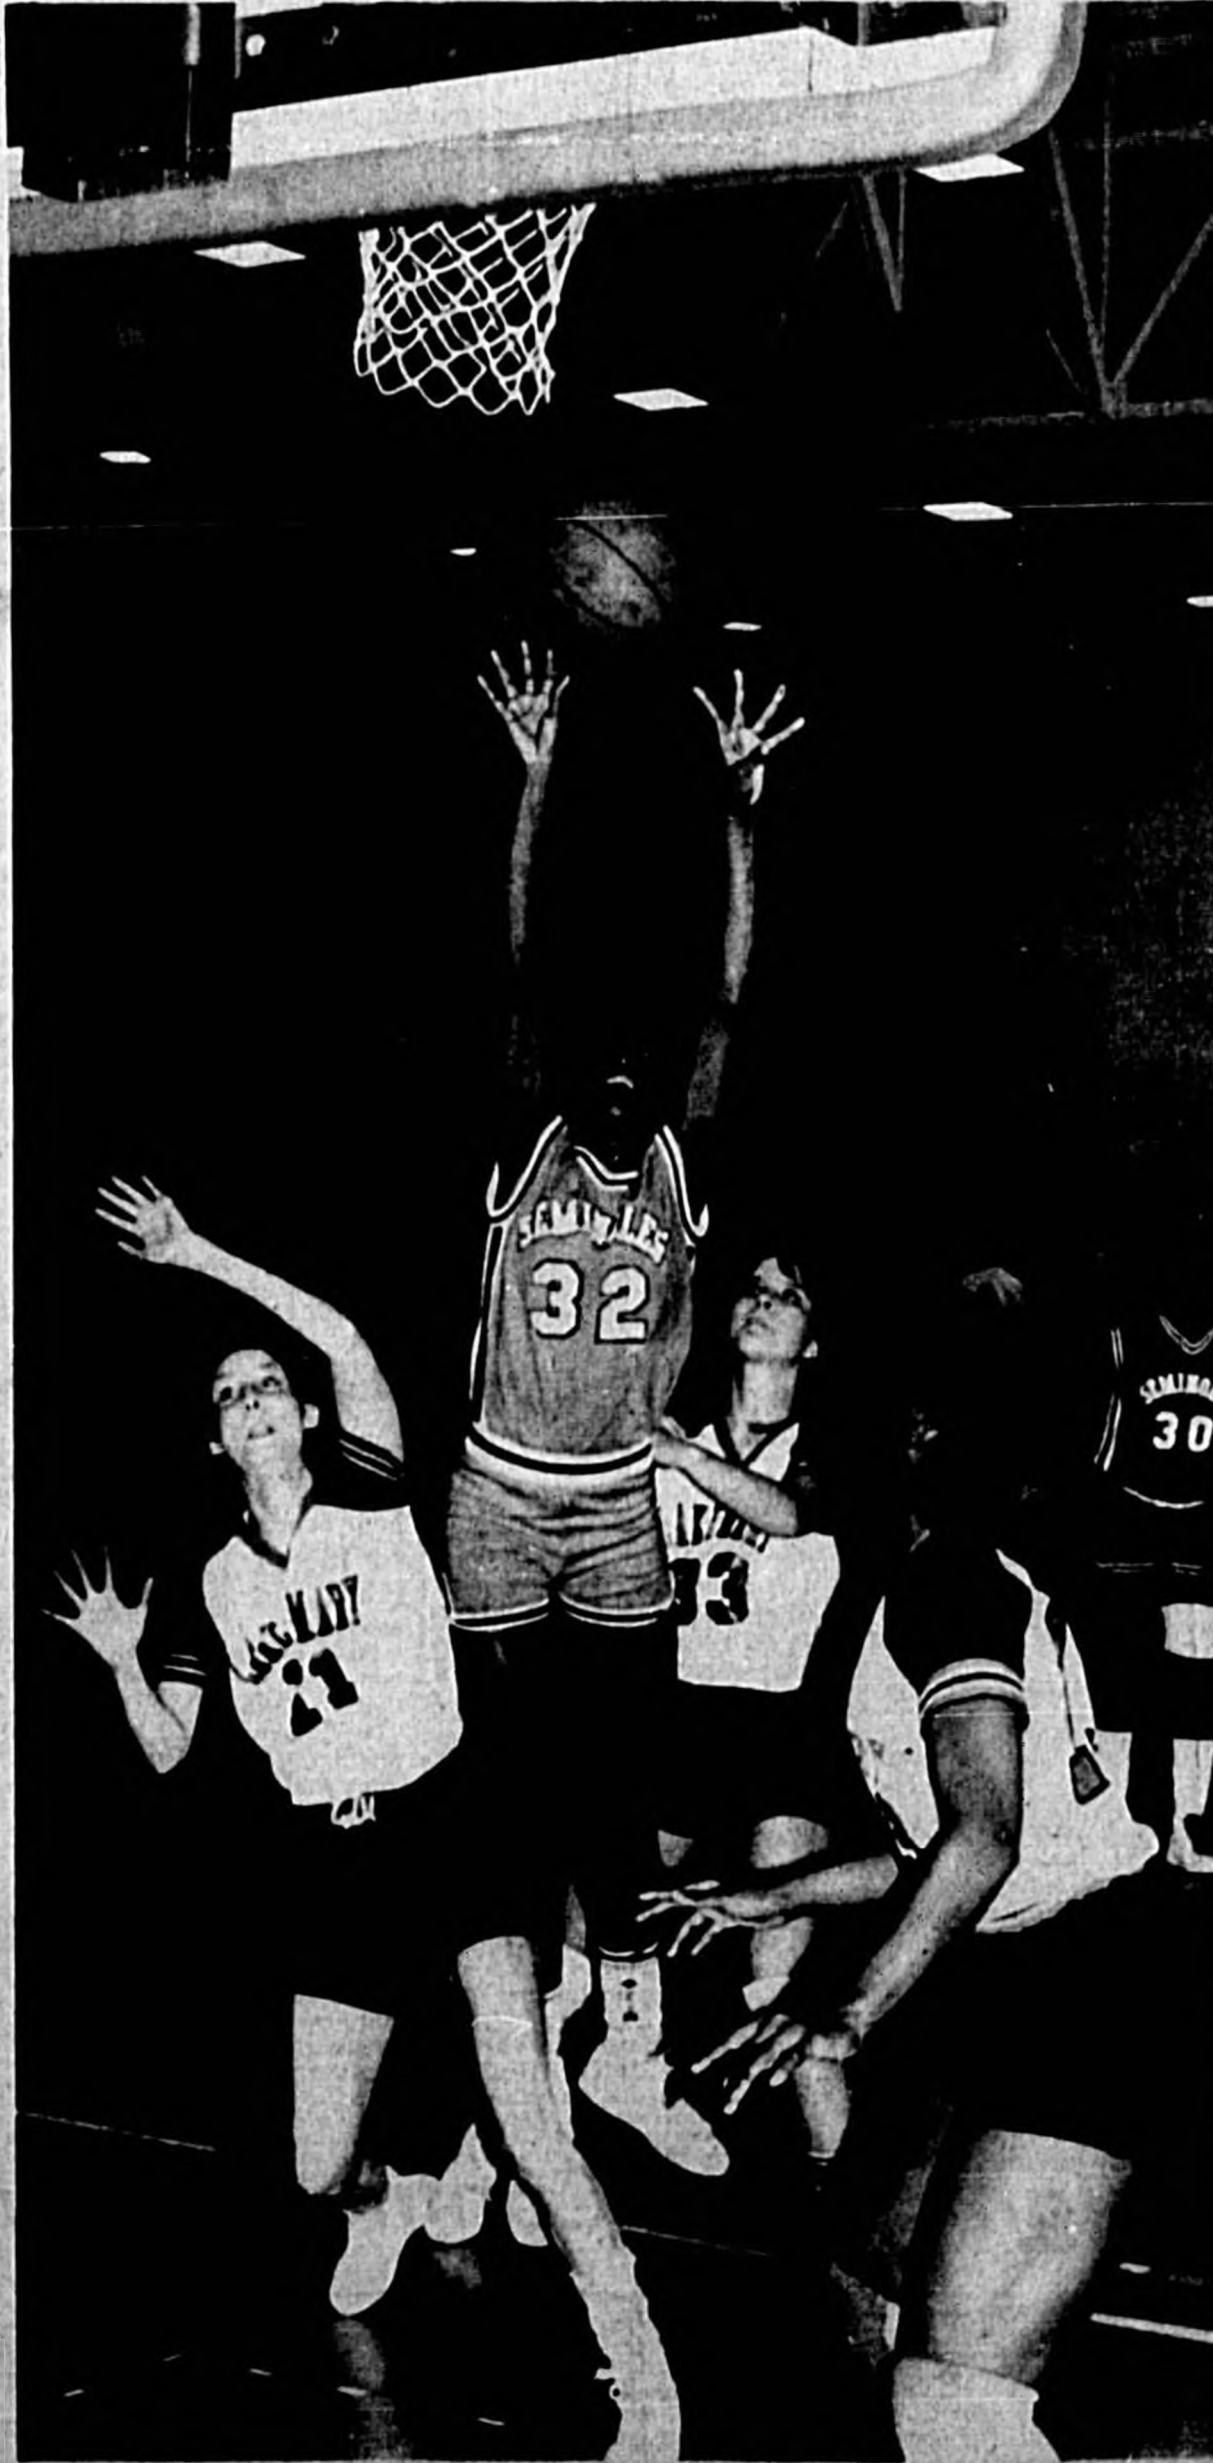

"We were ready for them," Seminole senior Mona Benton said. "Coach (Ron Merthie) said if we press and run we'll win."

Benton had another fine all-around game Thursday with 15 points, 17 rebounds, eight assists and six steals. The 5-8 guard-forward was one of four Seminole players in double figures.

Catherine "Kitty" Anderson was unstoppable inside in the early going as she scored 14 of her 18 points in the first half. Anderson also ripped down a game-high 20 rebounds and collected four steals. April Peterson combined with Anderson to dominate the inside as the senior forward pumped in 16 points to equal her season-high and pulled down a season-high 17 rebounds. Andell "Soul" Smith tossed in 17 points and came up with nine steals.

Kim "Big Wheel" Johnson, a 5-10 junior, continued to improve off the bench for the Lady Seminoles. Johnson scored eight points and displayed a nice turnaround jumper and she also pulled down six rebounds.

4 Buc Coaches Walk The Plank

Pro Football

TAMPA (UPI) — Tampa Bay Buccaneers Coach Leeman Bennett hired one assistant coach Thursday and gave walking papers to four assistant coaches and the trainer from the old staff.

Bennett said Doug Shively, who was the defensive line coach for the San Diego Chargers last year, will be his defensive coordinator and linebacker coach.

He is reported to have offered the job of offensive coordinator to Jimmy Raye, currently offensive coordinator of the Los Angeles Rams.

Both Shively and Raye were assistants to Bennett when he was head coach of the Atlanta Falcons.

Bennett had said earlier he would not retain Buc assistant coach Wayne Fontes, who was a finalist in the bid to succeed retiring coach John McKay, and Thursday added four more to the list — quarterback coach Boyd Dowler, receivers coach Chip Myers, defensive line coach Abe Gibron and kicking coach Bill Kollar.

Also released was trainer Tom Oxley, but retained was strength coach Joe Diang.

Three other assistant coaches remained in limbo, awaiting a decision by Bennett — linebacker coach Howard Tippitt, running back coach John Brunner and offensive line coach Kim Helton.

Shively, 46, and Bennett played collegiate football together at the University of Kentucky, and Shively was linebacker coach at Atlanta for Bennett from 1977-1982. He was head coach of the Arizona Wranglers of the USFL in 1982.

BASSETT, CHRIS CAN GO
CINCINNATI (UPI) — John Bassett, managing partner of the USFL's Tampa Bay Bandits, said he would not stand in wide receiver Cris Collinsworth's way if he wants to return to the NFL's Cincinnati Bengals.

Bassett told the Cincinnati Enquirer Thursday that, in return, the Bandits will not demand more than the $500,000 bonus the USFL paid Collinsworth.

Bassett said Collinsworth is "beat up" from the Bengals 1984 season, which ended in December, and added he probably will not be able to practice for 10 days to two weeks.

"If it's in his best interest to get back to Cincinnati, he can go back," said Bassett. "Our situation is very simple — If Collinsworth wants to go, he can go. If he goes back, I might take a little heat, but who cares?"

Collinsworth said Wednesday he felt loyal to the Bandits and added he would not leave the team unless Bassett said it did not need his services.

He said several times prior to going to Tampa Bay that he would miss Cincinnati but that he felt honor-bound to his agreement with Bassett.

BULLS, ROZIER CLOSE

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Former Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier and the Jacksonville Bulls are close to signing an agreement after a sudden reversal in negotiations for the second-year running back's contract, team officials say.

"The Bulls are very hopeful to have provisions for a final contract by this weekend," owner Fred Bullard said in a prepared statement Thursday.

USFL Owners Ante Up For Anemic Gamblers

Pro Football

NEW YORK (UPI) — With opening day in the United States Football League less than a month away, owners of 12 of the league teams have agreed to make monetary transfusions to the fiscally anemic Houston Gamblers and Los Angeles Express.

The Los Angeles franchise, which reportedly lost between $10 and $15 million last year, has again become a team without an owner, the league announced Thursday.

Denver real estate developer Jay Roulier, who said in October he was dissolving his one-third ownership of the Houston team to buy the Express, has decided to return to his partnership in Houston, said Harry Usher, who officially becomes USFL commissioner today.

The other team owners voted Wednesday at an 11-hour league meeting in New York to "dig deeper" to support the Express until a buyer for the club is found, Usher said.

Though declining to disclose how much each team would have to contribute, Usher said, "It is a substantial amount."

When league owners met in October at Amelia Island, Fla., they reportedly agreed to put $24 million into an emergency fund. It was not clear whether further contributions would be sought for the pool for the Express' operating expenses.

The two teams open the season Feb. 24 at Los Angeles, the second day of the upstart league's third season. The USFL plans to move to a fall schedule in 1986, and directly challenge the NFL.

Though Roulier is returning to the Gamblers, that team's financial problems will probably require an infusion of capital sometime during the season.

Freshmen

Another Whitney Debuts Tonight

It must be a good year for freshmen. Lake Mary's John Curry burst on the football scene with a 100-yard effort during his first varsity game against the Oviedo Lions last fall.

Curry spent the season tearing up the freshman opposition for coach Jim Hughes' Rams before Harry Nelson promoted him straight to the varsity for the season final.

Curry, who lives in Sanford, isn't one of those overgrown freshman either. He's normal size for his age, around 185 pounds. Look for him to be the main back in Nelson's offense next year.

Another freshman of equal talent debuts tonight. His name is Andre Whitney. Tonight when the Sanford Fighting Seminoles line up for their second brawl with the Lake Mary Rams at Lake Mary, Whitney will occupy a seat right next to Tribe basketball coach Chris Marlette.

But he won't be there for long. Marlette said he has no reservations about using his 5-7 guard as soon as possible. Some observers believe he is the best guard in the high school right now.

One look at the bloodlines might indicate he is. Another Whitney came through Seminole High School a few years back and all he did was direct coach Bill Payne's Seminoles to a spot in the final four at Lakeland.

His name was Keith and Andre's older brother is now doing the same for Chaminade University in Honolulu. The senior standout was recently pictured in Sports Illustrated after his jumper from the corner knocked off Southern Methodist, who is now the fourth-ranked team in the nation.

As good as Keith was, however, he didn't play varsity basketball as a freshman. And he wasn't ready either. But Andre is and Marlette said he'll show you how ready tonight when over 1,000 fans will pack Lake Mary's gym for the best basketball rivalry in Central Florida.

"I don't think it will be a great big adjustment for Andre," said Marlette. "He pushes the ball up the court as well as anybody I've ever seen. We might have trouble keeping up with him."

More than Andre's ability, Marlette is impressed his attitude. "He doesn't worry about looking cool out there," said Marlette. "He just gets the job done."

Marlette said Andre has been well received by his older teammates. "James Rouse and Kenny Gordon like it when he's in the game," said Marlette about his senior leaders. "They know Andre will get them the ball."

And did you ever see any hungry shooters that didn't want an assist man around to feed their appetites?

Marlette said Whitney will do that — and more. "Mickel Wright has been doing a great job at point," said Marlette. "But we can use Andre at No. 2 (shooting) guard or point. If we need to hold the ball, he'll be in there, too."

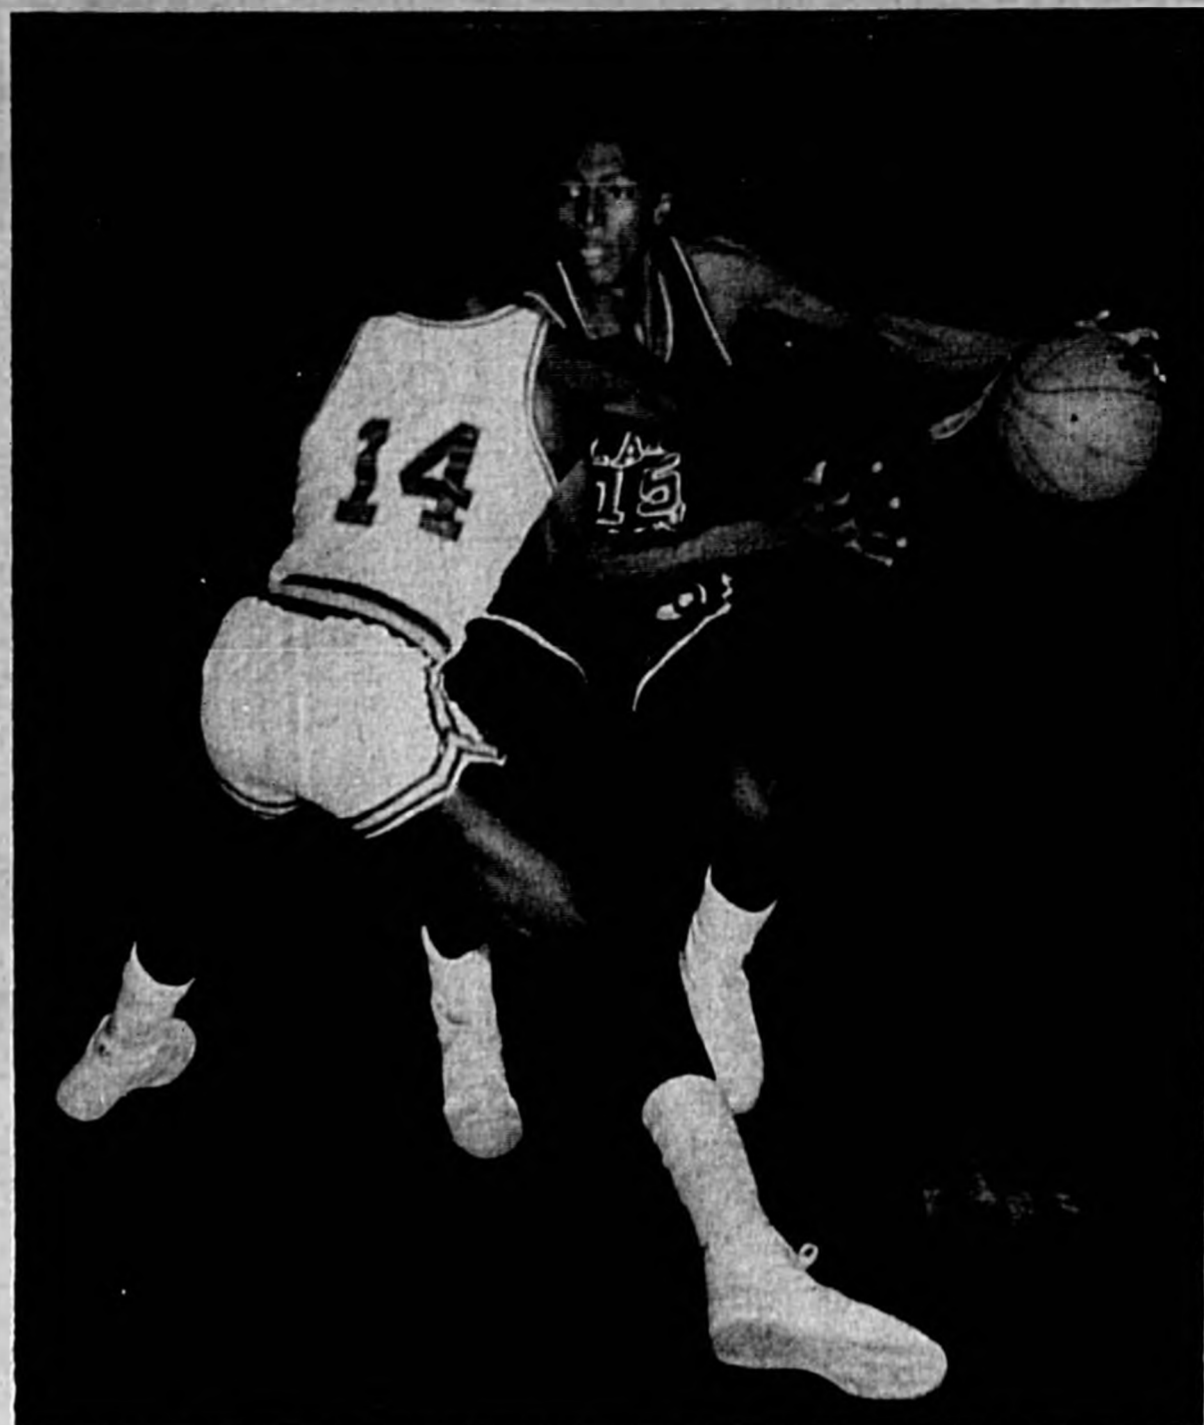

Whitney isn't the only freshman in a starting varsity line, however. Lyman's Craig Radzak was brought up to the varsity by coach Tom Lawrence after several stellar showings at the lower levels.

Radzak, a 6-2 forward, has flashed shades of brilliance at times but Lawrence still has the kid gloves on concerning his future standout. "Craig's done a good job for us," said Lawrence. "But there are just some situations which he isn't ready for, so he sits and learns."

Lawrence's Greyhounds, who have played well the past two weeks before faltering in the fourth quarter against Lake Mary and Seminole, travel to DeLand tonight to take on the Bulldogs.

Lawrence has been getting good performances from Ralph Philpott, T.J. Scaletta, Brett Marshall and Robert Thomas. All are underclassmen and will give the Greyhounds a good head start on next year. Thomas is just a sophomore while the others are juniors.

Elsewhere tonight, Oviedo, another good young team with just one senior starter, hosts Leesburg in a Parent's Night contest. Lake Howell hosts Lake Brantley in what is always a good shootout. These teams have met three times with the Hawks taking two. Brantley coach Bob Peterson would like to square the series tonight.

Lyman's Robert Thomas, left, gets his hand on the ball against Lake Mary's Byron Washington. Thomas and the Greyhounds go to DeLand tonight while Washington and the Rams host Seminole in a game which expects to draw 1,000 fans to Lake Mary.

IN BRIEF

Dawkins' Spine Chiller Supreme Revitalizes Nets For Easy Win

United Press International

Darryl Dawkins is back for the New Jersey Nets while the Los Angeles Clippers might have to foot the bill without their big guy.

Dawkins, whose recurring back problems have limited him to just two games since October, played 12 minutes Thursday night to spark the Nets to a 122-99 victory over the Bill Walton-less Clippers.

Walton sat out the game at East Rutherford, N.J., with an ankle and foot injury after playing in a career-high 40 straight games. The 6-foot-11 center has had trouble with the right foot before and the injury resurfaced Tuesday when the Clippers were playing Cleveland. Walton's current status is day-to-day.

Meanwhile, Dawkins has improved and that revitalizes the Nets hopes in the playoffs. The 6-11 master of the dunk had a splendid stretch run and post-season last year, but has been curtailed with the back injury in a season that was supposed to forever quiet his numerous critics.

Dawkins finished Thursday with 8 points, including 2 on a backboard-shaking third-quarter dunk.

Elsewhere, Denver downed Dallas 121-110, Seattle edged San Antonio 98-94 and Portland trounced Golden State 129-109.

Orlando Teams Subdue Lyman

After winning four straight wrestling matches, Lyman's Greyhounds ran into some tough company from Orlando the past two nights. The Greyhounds dropped a pair of heartbreakers — 31-27 to Bishop Moore Thursday and 36-35 to Evans Wednesday — to fall to 6-5 in dual meets.

Thursday, Andy Baber and Pat Perkins each picked up pins but the Greyhounds lost to a tough Bishop Moore squad. Perkins, a 223-pounder, pinned Robert Daigle to pull the Greyhounds within four but Jimbo Smith and Joe Jebally tied in the unlimited match to keep the difference at four points.

Chad Dubin (116), Pat Bell (123), Barry Forrest (159) and Greg Hartman (171) all were winners for Lyman. Greg Hunsiker (123) and P.J. Madraso (170) earned pins in the junior varsity match but Lyman lost it, too, 43-19.

The Greyhounds travel to Lake Mary next Wednesday. A junior varsity meet will be held Saturday at Apopka.

Curren Is Next For Connors

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Top seed Jimmy Connors, who beat Lelf Shiras 6-7, 6-2, 7-6 Thursday, faces Kevin Curren today in the quarterfinals of the $315,000 U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championships.

Connors, who was beaten by Curren at Wimbledon last year, didn't have an easy time of it against Shiras.

"It wasn't a very pretty match, but it was exciting and I was struggling all the way with my serve," said Connors, who lost the first point of his serve seven times.

Said Shiras: "This is the best match I have played in my career. But Jimmy probably was not at his best."

"I think the people got their money's worth. He seems to raise his level of play when the money's on the line."

Connors trailed 5-2 in the second set, but won 9 of the next 10 points to slave off elimination.

Renegades To Scrimmage Stars

DELAND — The Orlando Renegades will hold their first pre-season game against the Baltimore Stars Saturday at the Spec Martin Stadium. The kickoff is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

Admission to the game will be $4 for adults, $3 for senior citizens, and $2 for children age 17 and under.

Also known as the Municipal Stadium in DeLand, the complex is located across the street from 855 S. Alabama.

For further information contact the Renegades' office at (904) 843-8756 or the Spec Martin Stadium at (904) 794-8013.

Miller Solves Pebble For 68

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Lanny Wadkins shot a 73, his worst round of the year. Tom Watson and Lee Trevino had 75e. Jack Nicklaus had a 76. Hale Irwin needed 77 strokes to finish. And Ben Crenshaw shot a 79 in the opening round Thursday of the $500,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am.

If you think those were high scores, how about Hal Sutton? He shot an 87 and poor Bob Murphy had an 88.

The Crosby is a tournament known for unbelievable performances, but when the game's best can't break par, then you know something is wrong.

What went wrong was that a cold, bitter wind came up out of the Pacific to sweep the three seaside courses — Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and Spyglass Hill — and made playing conditions almost intolerable.

The negatives aside, Johnny Miller, a former Crosby champion who has played in the tournament ever since he joined the PGA Tour in 1970, negotiated Spyglass Hill, the most treacherous of the three courses under any conditions. In a neat 4-under-par 68 for a one stroke lead over Tze-Chung Chen, Willie Wood and George Archer.

Miller checked in with his 68 with about half the field of 168 still out hacking it around.

"I don't like to make predictions," said Miller "But I think 68 will hold up. The wind is really blowing out there and it's getting colder by the minute."

There was something a little unusual about Miller's play, too.

"Instead of going to the driving range," Miller said, "I drove over to Spyglass and sat in my car with the heater on as high as it would go. That made me real toasty and was a better way to get ready to play than hitting a few balls."

The second unusual thing about Miller's round was that he used a putter with a 46-inch shaft. That's about 10 inches longer than most shafts, but Miller has been having putting problems for a year and he was willing to try something new.

MORSE, BLALOCK LEAD WOMEN

MIAMI (UPI) — Although she bogeyed the final hole to tie Cathy Morse at 87 in the first round of a $200,000 LPGA tour event, Jane Blalock said it was probably "the most solid round" she's played in five years.

Blalock had taken a one-shot edge Thursday on the previous hole by sinking a 20-foot birdie putt.

But on her final hole, she drove into the right rough, pitched into more rough short of the green, then missed an 8-foot putt for a bogey 5.

The twin rounds of 5-under-par gave Blalock and Morse a two-shot lead over three golfers tied at 89 — defending champion Patty Sheehan, Janet Coles and Debbie Massey.

Broen's 4 Goals Rip St. Edwards

Kelley Broen couldn't have picked a better way to close the regular season for Lake Mary's Lady Rams' soccer team. Broen booted in four goals as the Lady Rams wrapped up their best season ever with a 4-1 victory over Vero Beach St. Edwards at Lake Mary High.

Coach Bill Eisele's girls finished the season with a 14-9-3 record, a marked improvement over last year's 7-10 mark. Eisele said his girls will now prepare for Monday's district opener against Trinity Prep. The game is set for Lake Mary High at 8 p.m.

Broen gave Lake Mary a 1-0 lead 27 minutes into the game when she took a chip pass from Debbie Winnie and beat the Vero goalie who came out to stop her.

After St. Edwards came back to tie the game on a score by Erin Papin, Broen struck again with the help of Kristen Jones. Jones chipped a similar pass over the defense to Broen who took the ball down the right side, swerved to the middle to lose her defender and booted the ball near the far post for a 2-0 lead 13 minutes into the second half.

Fifteen minutes later, Broen

Bill Eisele's Lady Rams closed the regular season on the upbeat Thursday with a 4-1 victory over St. Edwards. Eisele's girls finished with a 14-9-3 record, a marked improvement over last year's 7-10 ledger.

took a "wall" pass from Jodi Gall and scored from 10 yards out. Lake Mary's standout defender, Marianne DiTucci turned on a little offense with eight minutes to go as she stole a pass at midfield and cleared the ball on the right wing. Broen caught up, made a couple of moves and beat the goalie for her hat trick plus one.

Unbelievable

Oviedo Upsets Montverde

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

OVIEDO — Chris Hall just couldn't believe it. Not even five hours later. The Oviedo boys soccer coach had just witnessed a miracle — or so he thought.

Greg Brick kicked in four goals and Trevor Cox added the fifth as the Lions blanked previously unbeaten Montverde, 5-0, in prep soccer action Thursday afternoon at Oviedo High. It was the 10th-ranked AAA Verdeclean's first loss after 11 wins.

"It's unbelievable, just unbelievable," said Hall about Oviedo's fifth win in 12 tries. "They were unbeaten and one of the top teams in the state. I think that first goal we got in a hurry got us going."

Brick didn't waste any time. He took the first opportunity he had and went right down the middle for a 1-0 lead with just 45 seconds elapsed. The assist went to Jeremy Mason.

Cox picked up his goal 15 minutes later when he broke free on the right side and booted it into the upper left hand corner for a 2-0 lead. Brick then added his second goal on a breakaway as the Lions increased their lead to 3-0 at halftime.

Brick picked up where he left off in the second half, drilling his third goal into the net just 1:20 into the final half. Fifteen minutes later, Brick again took a feed from Mason and upped the count to 5-0.

Hall said keeper Gordon King, acknowledged as one of the best in Central Florida, fought off a painful hip pointer to turn in the shutout. King fended off 12 shots to preserve the blanking.

Hall, who said his team had been depleted by illness and ineligibility, was elated when it finally ended. "I was so worried about this game," he said. "I just told the few we had left, 'You guys are the ones that gutted it out and are still here. Just go out and do it again.'"

"I'm really proud of the effort. It's unbelievable."

'Nightmares' Continue For Hoosiers

United Press International
Maybe, as one sign suggested, Bobby Knight should have started the cheerleaders.

Because in the end it mattered not if Indiana's freshmen or upperclassmen took the court Thursday night against Iowa. The Hoosiers still lost — this time 72-59.

This was Indiana's first game since losing at Illinois Sunday with four freshmen starters. Among those benched all game for what Knight felt was undedicated play was Steve Alford, the scoring and floor leader.

Basketball

Warring camps have since formed around the Indiana coach. On one side, Knight is depicted as an irascible and egomaniacal bully. On the other, he is deemed the backbone of integrity and the best damn coach in the business.

Followers from both camps were at Alumni Hall in Bloomington, Ind., Thursday night, although the pro-Knight forces held sway. True, there were no audible boos when Knight took the floor, but the welcome was subdued. There was also one vendor selling "Knight-buster" T-shirts and the sign calling to enlist the cheerleaders.

But the spirit of the crowd of 17,056 probably was better reflected in the sign that read, with almost religious conviction: "Do not question Bobby."

Knight started five veterans, each receiving a hearty ovation. Still, Indiana lost its fourth straight Big Ten game.

Lawson, Dawson Lift Lake Mary JV To 11-0

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Lawson and Dawson may sound like a comedy team but Seminole definitely wasn't laughing after the Lake Mary duo's performance late in Thursday night's junior varsity game.

Dawson made a clutch free throw with 19 seconds left that gave Lake Mary a 37-35 lead and it turned out to save the game as Seminole's Rana Cash made a pair of free throws with three seconds left to send the game into overtime.

Lawson scored the first two points of overtime then came up with a steal and dished off to Marcie Dalziel for the clinching basket as Lake Mary's junior varsity kept its unbeaten record intact with a nailbiting 41-39 victory over the much improved Seminole JV Thursday night at Lake Mary High.

"She (Lawson) has the talent to do anything she wants to," Lake Mary coach Bob Wagner said. "She picked up three quick fouls and sat out most of the first half but she came through in the end."

Lake Mary improved to 11-0 with the win and it was the first time this year the JV Lady Rams made it go down to the wire to pull one out. Seminole, which lost its first six games of the year, now stands at 3-7.

Thursday night's game was close from the tipoff to the final buzzer. Seminole held a one-point lead, 11-10, after one quarter and led by two, 15-13, at halftime. The JV Tribe held on to a one-point lead, 24-23, after three quarters.

The two teams traded baskets throughout the fourth period but Lake Mary lost 6-3 center Terri Whyte to fouls. But the Lady Rams hung tough and came back to take a 36-35 lead with 35 seconds left. Lake Mary got the ball back after a Seminole turnover but instead of trying to run out the clock the Lady Rams took three shots. Finally, Wagner got their attention and implored his team. "Don't shoot."

Lake Mary still maintained control after the three misses and Gina Dawson was fouled with 19 seconds left. Dawson made the first free throw for a 37-35 lead but missed the second and Yolanda Robinson grabbed the rebound for Seminole which came downcourt and called timeout with nine seconds left.

Seminole inbounded the ball to Cash who made a move toward the basket but was fouled with three seconds left. Cash was the picture of concentration as she sank both free throws to send the game into overtime tied at 37-37.

Lake Mary took a 39-37 lead five seconds into the overtime period when Lawson got the ball after the tipoff and raced in for a layup. Lawson then stole the inbounds pass and Lake Mary then spread out its offense.

The Lady Rams ran the clock down 1:10 before Dedra Chavers came up with a steal for Seminole but she was called for traveling. Lake Mary turned the ball over again but another traveling violation on Seminole gave it right back to the Rams.

Lake Mary went back to the spread with Lawson handling the ball and she found Dalziel open going to the basket and hit her for a layup and a 41-37 lead with 18 seconds left.

Sharon Manley hit a layup with three seconds left to make it 41-39 and the Lady Rams ran out the clock and celebrated the victory.

"We had some lapses where we gave up some easy layups and Marcie (Dalziel) had an off night shooting (5 for 32)," Wagner said. "But I was proud of the way we hung in there, especially without Terri (Whyte)."

Dalziel's 10 points were high for the Lady Rams. Virene Chapman tossed in nine. Lawson added eight and Whyte contributed seven.

SEMINOLE JV (9) — Cash 7, Manley 4, Chavers 1, Robinson 2, Hartman 4. Totals: 34-39.

Dejection is written on the faces of Lake Mary's Lady Rams as they endure a lopsided loss to Seminole.

at it," Johnson said. "I wanted to get off that bench tonight and show how hard I've been working."

For Lake Mary, Courtney Hall poured in a career high and also set a new school record with 29 points. The 5-10 senior center also collected 11 rebounds. Senior point guard Kim Averill connected for 12 points and dished out 10 assists but only three other players scored for the Lady Rams.

Seminole turned on its engine and started running from the opening tipoff as Benton hit a layup to open the game. Anderson then banked in a short jumper and, after a Lake Mary turnover, Anderson came back for two more to make it 6-0. Seminole forced another turnover and it resulted in two points for Benton and an 8-0 lead.

Hall dropped in a layup to break the ice for the Lady Rams and make it 8-2, but Seminole took control at that point as it ran off 15 straight points to take a 23-2 lead with 2:16 left in the first quarter.

A three-point play by Anderson started off the scoring binge and Benton's three-pointer finished it off. Seminole took a 23-point lead, 29-6, after the first quarter.

The Lady Seminoles kept up their relentless defensive pressure in the second quarter and they led by as much as 35 points, 45-10, before Lake Mary scored the last four points of the half to make it 45-14.

"The girls really put out tonight," Merthle said. "We felt we could run on Lake Mary and the girls did a good job. We play well when we hustle like we did tonight."

Lake Mary came back to play well in the second half but the outcome had already been declined. That didn't stop Hall from having an excellent second half though as she scored 12 of the Rams' 16 points in the third quarter. Averill scored 10 of her 12 points in the fourth quarter.

"I liked the way we came back in the second half," Moore said. "We could have let down after the first half but didn't."

Brown, Dellinger Keep Lady Patriots On Top

Michelle Brown and Kirsten Dellinger poured in 20 points apiece Thursday to lead Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots to a 80-46 rout of Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks in Five Star Conference action at Lake Howell High.

Lake Brantley, the fifth-ranked team in the state (4A), ran its record to 19-3 overall and 11-1 in the conference. The Lady Patriots lead the Five Star by one game over Seminole (10-2) and two over Lake Mary (9-3). Lake Brantley also leads in the race for the top spot in the district tournament.

Brantley has a 10-1 district record (Seabreeze is not in district) compared to 9-2 for Lake Mary and 8-2 for Seminole.

Thursday night's game was a free-throw shooting marathon as Lake Brantley went to the line 50 times and made 24 and Lake Howell was 12 of 34.

"They (Lake Howell) just fouled and fouled and fouled," Lake Brantley coach Renny Betris said. "The fourth quarter lasted about 35 minutes."

Patriots, Kim Lubenow tossed in 10 points while Kim Wain and Cami Twaddell chipped in with eight each.

All You Need To Know About Cholesterol

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB—What does cholesterol do? All they say is that it is bad for your heart. What does it do to the heart and how does it affect it? Does it affect anything else in the body? What foods have the most cholesterol? I would appreciate any literature on cholesterol.

DEAR READER—Cholesterol is a water-insoluble substance. Since it cannot dissolve in water, it has to be combined with a blood protein to become soluble in the blood. A fat particle is also attached to the cholesterol and blood protein. The resultant fatty-cholesterol particle can be deposited in the walls of arteries, and as the deposits build up, they block the artery. This process is called atherosclerosis.

The tendency to develop deposits in the arteries depends on the number of larger fatty-cholesterol particles (LDL cholesterol). The smaller fatty-cholesterol particles (HDL cholesterol) actually may help to clear the blood of fatty-cholesterol particles. Therefore, the more cholesterol you have—and particularly the more LDL cholesterol—the more likely you are to develop fatty-cholesterol blockage of your arteries.

High blood pressure also increases the development of these deposits, as does injury to the wall of the artery.

Cholesterol really does not do anything to the heart. The disease caused by deposits is really a disease of the arteries, and it can affect any artery in the body. When it affects the arteries to the heart, it may block the arterial blood flow to a part of the heart muscle, which can lead to a heart attack.

Blockage in the arteries in the brain may cause a stroke. The basic arterial disease, atherosclerosis, causes both strokes and heart attacks.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Please tell women that mammograms are not infallible. A lot of women are walking around today with breast cancers because they had negative mammograms.

DEAR READER—You are absolutely right. Very few tests are right all of the time. The best way to make a diagnosis about any suspect area within the breast is to look at it under the microscope.

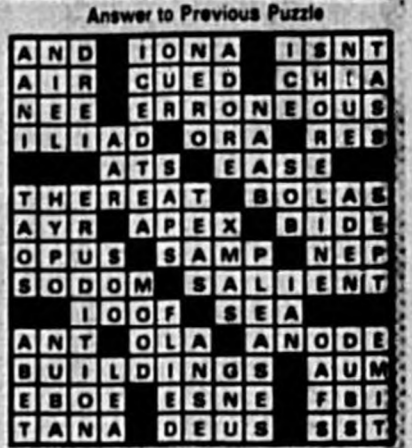

Mammograms are great for detecting many cancers of the breast that otherwise would be missed, but one should not assume that mammograms will detect all cancers. A mammogram certainly should not be the only means of diagnosis.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
Can I give you readers a little hint? Today's deal is the story of the seven of diamonds.

North and South were using two clubs as a strong artificial opening. The two-diamond response was temporizing. South then bid his natural suit, spades, and was supported by North. A round of cue-bidding was followed by Blackwood, and there they were in six spades.

The nine of diamonds is led, and what do you do? You are going to need the ace of clubs onside, and you are going to need to bring in the diamond suit without a loser.

What happens if that lead is a singleton? You must draw trumps, pick up the diamonds, and still be able to lead up to the club king. Here is what you must do.

Win the diamond queen in dummy, but be sure to play the seven from your hand. Return to hand with the ace of spades, cash the king and lead a low spade back to dummy's jack. Now lead the diamond eight. If East splits his honors, win the trick in the South hand, return to dummy's heart ace, and play another diamond.

If East now plays low, so can you, and the lead will still be in the North hand so that you can play a club. If East plays high, you can win the trick and still get back to dummy's diamond to play a club. But none of this could happen if you had not played the seven of diamonds at the first trick.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY FEBRUARY 2, 1985

It's imperative this coming year that you set loftier objectives for yourself than you have in the past. If your goals are worthy enough, you'll work out ways to achieve them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Major achievements are possible today, but they are not likely to come easily. If you truly want something, go after it and be prepared to pay the price. Your Astro-Graph predictions for the new year can help you make better choices that will make your tomorrows happier. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Sometimes we can tell little fibs and get away with them, but this won't be so in your case today. It's best that you tell the truth.

even if it hurts.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't hesitate to change direction today if your initial course of action appears to be unproductive. Success is likely if you're flexible.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Do not allow yourself to be overly influenced by what others think today. If you feel your judgment is better, follow through on your own reasoning.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) In commercial dealings today, don't jump at the first offer. If you play a little hard to get, there could be a substantial improvement in the terms.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) An associate who is jealous of your accomplishments might try to place roadblocks in your path today. However, this can be circumvented by sharing the limelight.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Co-workers may lack your enthusiasm and industriousness today so it's important you set a good example by being a doer, not one who merely issues directives.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Take time to analyze its worth, and content before reacting to hearsay today. Your source may be unreliable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Someone you're not overly fond of may be present at a social gathering today. Treat this individual courteously but keep him at arm's length.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today do not be so intent upon listening to what you have to say that you fail to hear the words of others. Closed ears could deprive you of valuable information.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be doubly alert in meaningful financial situations today. If your head is in the clouds, you might suffer a loss through carelessness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Focus your efforts on doing nice things for others today and forget about being self-serving. Joy and fulfillment come from giving, not from taking.

50th Anniversary Cruise, Luncheon Highlight Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. Milton (Florrie) Moore, longtime Sanford residents, were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary with a luncheon on Jan. 27. Hostesses for the golden celebration were the couple's two daughters, Jo Ann Sanders and Margaret Temple and was held at the home of Margaret and her husband Louis.

The Temple home featured photographs throughout of the honorees and their friends. Reminiscing over the good times in the past was the order of the day.

Floating hostesses were the couple's grandchildren, Gee Gee Tilson, Debbie Lykens, Judy Weltmer and Beth Sanders. LaVern Bass poured and served the coffee.

"It was a lovely party," Mrs. Moore said.

Among those attending were: Annabelle and Clarence Henderson, Pat Brooks, Janice, Wendell and Wen Springfield, Doris and Buddy Rivera, Henry and Eleanor Russell and Margaret and Donald Dunn.

Also: LaVern and Raymond Bass, Amelia LeFila, Isabel, Frank, Sam and Alice Dunn, Pat Brooks, Susy and John Dickey,

Mr. and Mrs. Milton (Florrie) Moore

Reva and Lyman Phillips, Lillian McCall and Thomas and Tad Sanders.

Also: Mattie Mae and Jack Dunn, Arlene and Ed Julian, Vincie McCabe, Earl Tilson, Sharon Wilson, Dan Lykens, Ron Weltmer, Betty and Jack Woodruff, Dot and Bucky Reel and Joe Peoples.

Several months prior to the luncheon the Moores, accompanied by their two daughters, embarked on a cruise to the Bahamas as a part of the 50th anniversary celebration. In addition to the daily feasts, the family visited an out island.

Florrie Duncan and J. Milton Moore were married in Sanford on Feb. 10, 1935. Their attendants were Sam and Alice Dunn who also attended the 50th wedding anniversary festivities.

Mrs. Moore spent her years as a homemaker and Mr. Moore, born on Celery Avenue in Sanford, retired from Deltona Construction Co. He was formerly employed by Burpee Seed Co., Sanford, St. Johns River Line and Sanford Auto Parts.

Today, the Moores say they enjoy camping and fishing. Mrs. Moore likes to cook and Mr. Moore, an avid outdoorsman, enjoys gardening.

The Bahamas cruise was so delightful, Mrs. Moore says, that they want to return this summer. — Doris Dietrich

The exotic cuisine was prepared by Carole Varga, food manager, and Delirda Beamon.

Surgery A Case Of Mere Sanity, Not Just Vanity

DEAR ABBY: Help me, please! My doctor has informed me that I have to have both breasts removed. He said a reconstructive plastic surgeon could give me implants that would make me look normal — even pretty!

My problem is my husband. He's against it. He says it's just for "looks," and I don't need breasts for him. Abby, I am not a vain woman, but I want breasts for myself. I've already seen the plastic surgeon, who explained the implant operation, and my hopes are so high. It would mean the world to me.

My husband is very tight with a dollar and says he's not going to waste his money on breasts I don't need, and for a woman my age it would be just that — a waste. (I'm 48 and he's 70.)

Abby, do you think I'm a terrible woman to want breasts? Please help me persuade my husband. I have no money of my own and I don't have much time. Thank you.

NEEDS YOUR HELP

DEAR NEEDS: You are not a "terrible woman" to want breasts; you're honest and courageous.

Some reconstructive plastic surgery can be classified as essential to one's mental health, in which case it's covered by insurance. (Your physician can attest to this.)

Enlist your doctor's help in explaining to your husband that the implants are not a waste — they are vital to your emotional well-being. They are! Good luck and God bless.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend and I have been in love for three years. We've talked about marriage, but there were always complications. I knew he had been married and divorced, but I recently found out that he married his second wife without having been divorced from his first. His first wife (whom I never knew about) came to town a month ago and now she wants him back. She claims she is still his legal wife because they never were divorced. She moved in with him and has threatened to send him to jail for bigamy if he doesn't plan her game.

We love each other very much, but it's beginning to look like our relationship is going down the drain.

Should I go on with my life and let my boyfriend deal with his? Or should I hang in there? I really want to marry him.

CRAZY IN LOVE

DEAR CRAZY: Don't plan on marrying him for a long time — if ever. He already has one wife too many. What he needs right now is a lawyer to straighten out this bigamy business.

You'd be wise to go on with your life, and let him deal with his.

DEAR ABBY: What advice have you for a lady when she is out to dinner in a top restaurant with an older gentleman she knows to be very well-to-do, and he leaves a very poor tip? The service on all these occasions was excellent. Abby, I'm talking about a "tip" of $1 for a dinner check in the neighborhood of $50.

This has occurred several times with the same gentleman. So far, I've pretended not to notice, but I've been so embarrassed that I've considered leaving a few dollars of my own money on the table. Of course, I'd do this subtly so he wouldn't see me.

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: (A) Tell him you'd be glad to "pitch in" for the tip if he's a little short. (B) Add enough of your own money to his to make it a respectable tip. But why be subtle? If he sees you, so what? It might help loosen the old tightwad up a bit.

Marriage Psychology Class

The Office of Community Instructional Services at Seminole Community College will offer a class, Marriage Psychology, to be held each Thursday from Feb. 7 through March 28 from 7-10 p.m. on the Adult Education campus, Bldg. #8, Psc. 915.

This course is designed to actively involve married couples in a learning process leading to more effective communication. Communication techniques are explored and practiced. Also included: a detailed examination of psychological needs in marriage and a study of how these needs can be met.

Register at the registrar's office at SCC. For further information please call the Office of Community Instructional Services at the College 323-1480, ext. 304 (from Orlando, 843-7001, ext. 304.)

Constance Reid

A Leader For 1980s

Constance Lark Reid, a counselor at Seminole Community College, is one of 160 top women in management chosen nationwide to participate in a leadership training program financed through a grant from the Fund for Improvement of Postsecondary Education. The program, "Leaders for the 80s," is designed to assist community college women to assume major policy-making positions during the decade.

During the 6-month project, participants will be paired with mentors at their colleges to work on a research project that will aid their institution, participate in special regional workshops and national conferences and become involved with other women in top-ranked administrative positions.

Designed to help women to improve the skills they will need to assume major decision-making roles, the program will include instruction and practice in supervisory and human relations skills, finance and budgeting, employee relations and labor management skills and discussions with national experts on the issues confronting community colleges during the 1980s.

The project is sponsored by the League for Innovation in Community Colleges, a consortium of 18 community college districts nationwide, and by the American Association of Women in Community and Junior Colleges. The program is being conducted by the Institute for Leadership Development at Rio Salado Community College in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. Reid has been employed at SCC for 12 years and has served on numerous committees there. She is currently a counselor in the Student Development Division.

She is married to Mr. Warner W. Reid, Jr. and has two daughters, Valora and Chancie.

She received her Bachelor's Degree from Fisk University in Nashville, Tennessee, and her Master's Degree from Rollins College in Winter Park.

Gardening

Seeds And Transplants Have Good, Bad Points

If you plan to have a spring vegetable garden, you have a very important decision to make. Are you going to plant seeds or set transplants? You can be successful with either. But, seeds and transplants both have their good points and bad points. Look at both sides before you make your decision.

One advantage of transplants is an early start. Transplants are grown in protected seed flats, or seed beds. These allow the seeds to germinate under the best possible conditions. And, seeds in flats can be started before the weather is really good for planting directly in the garden. Whether you grow your own transplants, or buy them at a garden center, you'll be several weeks ahead of gardeners who start with seeds.

Using transplants allows you to choose only the best plants. When you seed your own, you'll have many more plants than you need, so you can be choosy. Pick only the healthiest specimens. If you buy your transplants, pick from the best available.

It's easier to start from transplants, especially if you only need a few. This is much more practical than starting from seeds. By using transplants, you can minimize seedling decay problems.

The main disadvantage in using transplants is that the cost would mount up quickly if you have a large garden and, many crops are difficult to transplant successfully. Beans, corn, cucumbers, and turnips do better if started from seeds planted directly in the garden.

If you plan to raise your own transplants, they should be ready for the garden when they're four to six weeks old. Those you buy you can set out immediately. If the seedlings are in individual containers, moisten the soil before removing them. If they're growing in peat pellets, insert them directly into the soil. Don't try to remove them from the pellets.

The best times to transplant are: right after a rain, when it's

Alfred Bosseson
Urban Horticulturist
323-2500
Ext. 181

cloudy, or late in the afternoon. Handle the plants gently. Don't press the soil too tightly around the roots.

To give transplants a quick start, apply a "starter" solution. You can buy ready mixed, or mix your own. For best results, mix one or two tablespoons of a high phosphate fertilizer, like 10-50-10, in a gallon of water. Or, you can use an ordinary all-purpose fertilizer, such as 6-6-6. Just pour about a pint of the solution into each hole as you set the plants.

Don't sell seeds short, though. Especially if you're planning a large vegetable garden. Besides coating much less than transplants, a major advantage of starting your vegetable garden directly from seeds is that you can choose from a wider selection of varieties. Many crops do transplant well. They include tomatoes, broccoli, collards, and lettuce. If transplants are available, they're probably a better bet than starting them from seeds, unless you plan a very large garden.

While most vegetables can be grown from seeds, there are exceptions — sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, and strawberries. For specific recommendations on the crops you want to grow, check with your favorite garden supply store.

If you decide to start from seeds, get the best you can find. Seed quality could mean the difference between success and failure in your garden. Always buy good seeds from a reliable dealer. It isn't very practical to try to save seed from your own garden. Since most seeds are relatively inexpensive, you're better off buying those you need, if they're available.

You should buy tested seed varieties. Those recommended for planting in Florida. Of course, you can plant anything you like. But, many gardeners cheat themselves by continuing to plant inferior types, without even trying those that grow best in our area.

A note of caution to keep in mind when handling seeds. Most have been treated with chemicals to reduce injury and decay caused by insects and disease. Usually, you can tell when seeds have been treated, because they're coated with brightly colored dye.

It's a good idea to use treated seeds. In fact, you should always use them, when available. But, remember that the chemicals on such seeds are poisonous. Treated seeds should never be eaten by people or animals. Handle the seeds with care and keep out of reach of children and pets.

Follow the planting directions on the seed packets. If you plant too deep, the young plants may not be able to reach the soil surface after sprouting. And, if you plant too shallow, the seeds may be washed away by rain.

Whether you use seeds or transplants, or both, I wish you success with your spring vegetable garden.

Happy gardening!

Weaving A Sculpture

Formerly a folk craft, basketry gains art status.

Advanced Basket Weaving

What Was Once A Gut Course In Folk Craft Is Now A High Art

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Some Seminole County artists are upgrading basketry by making baskets that take the age-old craft into the realm of sculpture. But that doesn't mean they've forgotten the basics of basketry, which are simple enough for a child to learn.

Self-taught Oviedo basketry artist Susie Mable, who is passing the art along to others at Three Blind Mice, a craft studio in Oviedo, said interest in baskets has soared in the past couple of years as artists have strived to duplicate and surpass the functional, but beautiful reed-works found in Appalachian Mountain cabins.

Along with Mrs. Mable, other artists including Ann Meier of Longwood and Donna Dalley of Altamonte Springs have taken simple basket materials, added clay, feathers, copper, jute, fabric weavings and other materials, like driftwood and shells, to create large basket sculptures. With such additions, these weavers have designed exotic baskets in the form of sea shells, as well as others which are at home on a wall or are functional as catch-all containers.

"If you're at a certain level you can get very creative and try different things. I try to bring other things in to my basketry," Mrs. Mable said. "It's a textural art. You can feel it too. Mainly you look at the shape, the color and the feel of it — the combination. It can become a piece of sculpture."

With a little basic instruction and encouragement, in about six hours you could pick up the fundamentals of weaving water-soaked reeds onto reed ribs to form a fanny or melon basket, Mrs. Mable said.

The fanny basket takes its name from its shape. It looks like a fanny, Mrs. Mable said, and as all fannies look different, so do all fanny baskets. But that, she said, is part of the beauty of basketry.

"When you start, you know the basic structure you're going for, but no two baskets come out exactly alike unless you sit there and measure absolutely everything. Even then it may not, because the way you weave, the tightness or looseness may change slightly. That can change the structure," Mrs. Mable said.

And artists, she said, intentionally manipulate the materials by pulling reeds differently to create variations on the same shape, which may be based on a Appalachian or American Indian design intended to carry eggs, melons, potatoes, onions or other goods from which the baskets take their names. It seems most farm products have a basket styled just for them, Mrs. Mable said.

Once you learn the in and out techniques of basket weaving, it will take about a dozen hours of patient work with reeds, clippers and awl (to push the reeds through snug openings in the weave) before you have a 10-inch basket that represents your own style. That basket will cost about $8 to $15 to make, depending on the complexity of your design.

From that humble beginning you could follow the lead of other basket weavers and end up with works valued as high as $2,000, Mrs. Mable said. But to get that far with a few twisted twigs you will have to create a truly special work in which you've invested not only your time and materials, but also your natural and perhaps previously honored talent.

If you have made a name for yourself in basketry and have made a basket that is really so special to you that you don't want to get rid of it you may price it in a range where you think, "if it goes, it goes," Mrs. Mable said. And you may be surprised by a buyer who is attracted to the natural beauty of baskets and snaps it up, she said.

Traditionally basket weaving has been considered "good therapy" because of the repetition involved and the simplicity of the work, Mrs. Mable said. And another Oviedo basket maker, Carol Holten said, "It's not frustrating. It's a relaxing thing you can sit and do. You don't have to remember patterns and things like you do with knitting."

"You can change and work on your colors as you go along, Mrs. Mable said. "But if you want a nice basket you

'Honeymooners' Skits To Air This Summer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Some 75 skits from Jackie Gleason's classic comedy "The Honeymooners," locked in the star's vault for 30 years, have been bought by a cable television so they can be aired this summer.

Gleason says he never realized anyone would be interested in the old Honeymooners skits until Viacom International approached him.

Viacom announced Monday that it had bought 119½ hours of "The Honeymooners" that had been stored in cans in Gleason's vault in South Florida until last week when the deal was closed.

"The Honeymooners," starring Gleason, Art Carney, Audrey Meadows and Joyce Randolph, originally was featured on the "Jackie Gleason Show" between 1952 and 1957. Viacom spokeswoman Betsy Vorce said.

The skit became a regular half-hour program in 1955.

Milsap Flexes His Music Style

By Dick Kleiner

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Is it good for a singer to be flexible, to try different styles, experiment with new musical fashions?

Yes, says Ronnie Milsap. And no, says Ronnie Milsap.

He's flexible in his music, but obviously he has mixed feelings about the advantages of that.

"I'm primarily a country singer, of course," says Milsap. "I still love traditional country music, because that's what I grew up with, in the Smokies."

"But I have a wide musical interest. I studied the classics. I played jazz. I played rock. I've never been bored with music, and so I try a little of everything."

And so his fans never quite know what to expect when a new Ronnie Milsap album comes out, or when they attend a Ronnie Milsap concert — such as the recent series of Marlboro Country Music Concerts he gave, with Merle Haggard, Lee Greenwood and Janis Fricke.

"I think that's good," Milsap says. "But there is a down side to flexibility, too. Quite often, I hear some folks claim that I'm not a stylist, because I don't stay with the same style. They say that I try a little of everything."

So, depending on your point of view, the fact that Ronnie Milsap is game to try almost any kind of music is a plus or a minus. But that's the way he is, and that's the way he's going to stay.

Another aspect of being a country-music performer that has good and bad sides is touring. It's good, in that it takes the performer out to the people and helps boost his popularity — as well as bringing in a good deal of money at the box office.

But touring can be a drag. At the time Milsap hit Hollywood, he had been on tour for four straight months.

"If I sound squirrely," he said, "that's why."

And he had six more weeks to go before he could get home — Nashville — for any length of time. For most of the tour, his wife, Joyce, and his 15-year-old son, Todd, were with him.

"We try to make it as home-like as we can," Milsap says. "I help Todd with his algebra homework on the plane, when I can. But it's hard to find the time and then it's hard to concentrate, too. But we try."

A country musician's tour, if he's a star the magnitude of Milsap, is no simple thing. It's not like you might imagine, with the star and a couple of good old boys hopping into a station wagon and tooting off to the next stop.

"We have about 30 people on our team," says Milsap. "They all travel with me. They are all necessary, they make what I do a little easier."

"We travel with three buses, a tractor-trailer rig and often another truck. Sometimes, I'll fly while the others will go on the buses and in the trucks, with my equipment." Obviously, country music is still big business. But, Milsap says, it has cooled off some from the peak years.

Ronnie Milsap

"During the 'Urban Cowboy' movement," he says, "country music became a fad. It's not quite the fad it was during those days. It's always been strong and it's still strong, but it's not quite as strong."

He believes country music is in a period of transition, as older performers fade out and new performers fade in.

"The Acuff and the Tubbses are giving way to younger artists," he says. "I guess I'm in the younger-artist group, and I just hope we'll be able to handle it with as much dignity as the old-timers did."

'Ghostbuster,' Cher Take The Pudding

United Press International Ghostbuster Bill Murray and singer Cher, a perennial on the worst dressed lists, will be honored as the man and woman of the year by Harvard's Hasty Pudding Theatricals, the nation's oldest dramatic organization. Cher, a movie neophyte despite an Oscar nomination for her supporting role in "Silkwood" last year, will join such celebrated company as Ella Fitzgerald, Beryl Streep and Hepburn as winners of the club's award for "lasting and impressive contribution to the world of entertainment." Cher will be honored with a parade through Harvard Square and a ceremony Feb. 13 with Murray scheduled to accept his prize Feb. 10. The award precedes the premiere of the Hasty Pudding Theatrical's 137th annual musical show, which is titled "Witch and Famous" this year. (UPI)

British Awards Announced

Oscar winner Maggie Smith added a London theater "best actress" award to her shelf of honors Tuesday and actor Charlton Heston presented a "best musical" award to young American star Clare Leach for the Broadway import "42nd Street." The occasion was the annual awards presented by the London Standard newspaper, once the British theater's most important though now overtaken by the new Lancet, the Lawrence Olivier award.

Stars Will Reunite For 'Peyton Place' Movie

By Vernon Scott
 UPI Hollywood Reporter
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — For millions of Americans in the 1960s "Peyton Place," TV's first prime time soap opera, was a vicarious way of life.

In its own time and place, the hour-long drama based on Grace Metalious' novel of sex and intrigue in a small New England town, was bigger than "Dallas" and "Dynasty" together.

First telecast in September 1964 and concluded in June of 1969, "Peyton Place" ran as often as three times a week, enmeshing its cast of more than 100 (overall) in scores of plots and subplots.

The ABC series spawned two movie stars, Ryan O'Neal and Mia Farrow. During the course of its TV life "Peyton Place" also featured Mariette Hartley, Wilfred Hyde-White, Leslie Nielsen, Lee Grant, Susan Oliver, Leigh Taylor-Young, Gena Rowlands, Dan Duryea, Barbara Rush and the late Diana Hyland.

But O'Neal, Farrow, Dorothy Malone, Christopher Connelly, Ed Nelson, Pat Morrow, Barbara Parkins and Tim O'Connor were most closely associated with the Harrington and Mackenzie clans who were the backbone of the early episodes.

This May NBC-TV will telecast a two-hour movie, "Peyton Place: The Next Generation," with many of the stars of the original cast.

Executive producer Mike Fierman was a student at the University of Illinois during the show's heyday, but when he was handed the assignment by 20th Century Fox Television, he was delighted. He remembered watching the series off and on when he should have been studying.

"I think we're going to capture a big audience that fondly remembers the series and the excitement it created at the time," Fierman said. "Because the cast was so large, we couldn't begin to bring back everybody.

"We didn't even try to contact Farrow and O'Neal. We knew they wouldn't be interested in view of where their careers are now."

Casting director Marc Schwartz agreed. "Even if Mia and Ryan were interested, they would have cost too much."

Schwartz said rounding up most of the cast wasn't as difficult as anticipated. Malone, who played Constance Mackenzie, is now a society figure in Texas who works in movies and TV now and then. She was overjoyed at the prospect of rejoining her old friends and stepping back into her past.

Schwartz had talked last year to Parkins, who played the much-married Betty Anderson, about a role in another project. Parkins, who works regularly in London and Hollywood was quick to agree to the reunion show.

Ed Nelson, the suave Dr. Michael Rosal, was co-starring in the daytime soap "Capitol" and told Schwartz he would be thrilled to return to "Peyton Place." Nelson's son is an actor and will appear as Dr. Rosal's son, a young M.D.

Connelly, who played the younger Harrington brother, Norman, is one of the town's busiest actors, working in TV movies and episodic TV. He, too, loved the idea of playing Norman one more time.

"Peyton Place: The Next Generation" will deal with the return to the town of Allison Mackenzie's (Farrow) illegitimate daughter, Megan, and subsequent revelations that unravel TV soap mysteries two decades old.

Schwartz is jubilant that he has found the perfect young actress — he isn't free to announce her name as yet — to play Allison's offspring.

"She is an absolutely uncanny look-a-like for Mia," he said.

Baskets

Can't guess over mistakes. You have to have the basics there. If you drop a weave it's going to throw everything off, so you've got to go back, pull it out and start again.

"It has to be stable too," Mrs. Holton said. "That's what we found out when we learned. We would weave and then all of a sudden the basket would be sagging and we would have to figure out what went wrong.

"It's becoming very popular, the natural look with baskets," Mrs. Mable said. "Everybody can make a basket, but not everybody can make a basket work artistically either with the color combinations, or texture combinations, or balance. Craftsmanship is very important. The execution is craftsmanship.

"It's a matter of learning to do it correctly or neatly. Some people can do it a lot better, or a lot faster and some people can be more creative with putting a lot of texture into it," Mrs. Mable said.

If you're ready to test your creativity with basket weaving, lessons are available through Seminole Community College and at craft and hobby shops where materials for the craft can also be found.

Rifeman Miffed in Basketball

Before he was "The Rifleman," Chuck Connors was a professional baseball and basketball player, although he admits to being deficient in the latter sport. "I couldn't dunk the ball," the 6-foot-4 Connors said of his 53-game career with the Boston Celtics in the 1940s. He averaged only 4.5 points per game and hit only 25 percent of his shots from the field — not nearly as good as his shooting percentage on Louise McCade's television series.

Reagan May Be Getting Paid For Re-Runs

DEAR DICK — Just a small argument between friends. Does an actor or actress receive money for picture re-runs even though it might be 20 years after being filmed? We were especially thinking of President Ronald Reagan. Does he still receive money for the movies he made? Mrs. N.C., Santa Maria, Calif.

The Screen Actors Guild contract with the film producers entitles actors to money on any and every picture shot since 1960. The amount of money they get, a SAG official tells me, is determined by the amount of money the producer gets for the re-runs. So it is possible that President Reagan gets a few dollars since he made a few films — and some TV shows — after 1960.

DEAR DICK — I have enjoyed watching "Days of Our Lives" for a long time, but now they have ruined it with their madames and prostitutes. Why do they allow this? Doug or Julie would never have played such a part. F.W.,

Ask Dick Kleiner

Kendall, Mich.

I don't know what Doug or Julie might do, but I do know that Bill Hayes and Susan Seaforth Hayes, who were the actors who played Doug and Julie, are working professionals. If they had good parts as crooks or prostitutes they would play them. As for the show being "ruined" by all that, it's the old story — if people weren't watching, they wouldn't have that sort of character. It may not be uplifting and very nice, but it is commercial.

DEAR DICK — I know that most TV stars change their names for the screen. Could you tell me if Carl Lumbly of "Cagney & Lacey" is really Carl L. Brumby? B.R.,

Racine, Wis.

As a matter of fact, nowadays most actors keep their real names — Dzungza, DeVito, Feinstein, etc. Carl Lumbly tells me he has never heard of Carl L. Brumby. "If I did change my name," he says, "it'll be to Smith." He's always been Lumbly.

DEAR DICK — I've been watching the movie "The Caine Mutiny," with Humphrey Bogart and Van Johnson. My question is, how did Van Johnson get that huge scar across his forehead and down between his eyes? You can see it in his color movies real well. And how's he doing today? Mrs. P.D., West Reading, Pa.

In 1942, Johnson and his friend Keenan Wynn were driving to a screening. Their car was broadsided at a red light. Johnson's head smashed into the top of the car. He had a metal plate inserted in his skull and the scars resulted from that accident. He is doing fine these days. At the moment, he is appearing on Broadway in "La Cage aux Folles."

DEAR DICK — I have been watching all of Groucho Marx's game shows and would like to know what years the re-runs were taped. Also when did he pass away and how old was he? K.F., Amarillo, Texas.

"You Bet Your Life" was made in the years between 1950 and 1961. Groucho died in 1977, when he was 87.

DEAR DICK — A friend and I have been trying to figure out whether Jack is married on "Three's a Crowd." I think he is, as he went on a honeymoon as I remember. What's the deal? M.L.S., Watson-town, Pa.

The whole point of the show is that he is NOT married, that Jack (John Ritter) and Vicky (Mary Cadorette) are simply living together. They did talk about a honeymoon on one show, but they are definitely unmarried folks.

Super Sleuths

Helen Hayes, left, and Bette Davis star as super snooper Miss Jane Marple and a potential murder victim in Agatha Christie's "Murder With Mirrors," a new motion picture to be broadcast on CBS Feb. 20 at 9 p.m.

'Dukes' To Crash Last Car

NEW YORK (UPI) — "The Dukes of Hazzard" will screech its last tire and shout its final rebel yell on Feb. 8, after which Friday nights on CBS will be home to some unannounced special programming before settling down to suburban humor and crime with a smile on March 15.

That's when Judd Hirsch will take over the 8-9 p.m. slot formerly occupied by "The Dukes," starring in "Detective in the House." The show is billed as a "lighthearted detective series," a genre that has worked well for CBS on Sunday nights with "Murder, She Wrote" and "Crazy Like a Fox."

Hirsch plays Press Wyman, a happily married suburbanite with three kids who gives up a well-paying career in engineering to fulfill his lifelong dream of becoming a private detective.

His wife, played by Cassie Yates, returns to schoolteaching to help pay the bills.

Jack Elam co-stars as a cantankerous retired shamus who teaches Hirsch his trade. Hirsch also gets occasional help from his children. That should neatly fill in any generation gaps, doling out something for the kids who traditionally control the family TV set from 8-9 p.m., while also taking aim at the grownup audience that is just hanging out until "Dallas" shows up at 9 p.m.

On the new CBS late night action series "Night Heat," a frail oldster picks up a wicked-looking electric hedge-trimmer and attacks the punks like a character out of "The Texas Chain Saw Massacre."

While "Night Heat" offers no surprises as a detective story, it is unusual as a television programming first. The show debuts Jan. 31 in late night — 11:30 p.m. to 12:35 a.m., Eastern time.
