George McClelland, 165 senior fullback and Theodore "King Kong" Williams, 170 pound sophomore guard on the 1934 Seminole High School football squad were named on the All-Northwestern Conference squad for 1934. It was announced from Gainesville late Sunday.

The selections came as no surprise to the scores of fans who have followed the work of the conference since the season first opened, for most fans are agreed that if the team had two consistently good players all year they were McClelland and Williams.

McClelland not only placed two men on the first All-Conference team but had two given honorable mention. They are: Halfback Lester Harvage and lineman Pearce.

It is understood that Williams' work was generally recognized by the coaches selecting the team as sensational, especially when it was mentioned that he was playing football for the first time in his life.

McClelland was agreed upon as a stellar defensive player who proved his worth from the time he first was given a starting assignment.

Both players were members of a team which had an unusually poor season's record, winning only two games, losing four, and tying three. Selection of two players from a team with that kind of a record indicated clearly that they were outstanding in their positions.

Stewart said it was the hope of the aviation division to begin work on 60 additional airports once the present program is finished. He said the new plans were not entirely contingent upon the federal government's undertaking new works program this winter.

If cities will furnish materials and skilled labor, he added, the plans probably can be carried out even if the Federal Relief Administration does not provide funds for these items.

The aviation division, Stewart said, had not built airports in a haphazard manner, but had attempted to lay out several important routes and provide as many landing fields as possible along these.

Long hopes to attract the new voters, and he has made a start along this line at Louisiana State University. He spends much time in the presence of the student body, learning the college temperment and thought.

A border of hedge of beautiful plants surrounding each airport is the ambition of Stewart.

To make the state more "air conscious," some 1,600 signs pointing the way to airports have been put up along the streets of many cities.

Directional markers for aviators have been painted upon 312 roofs already, and 700 such pointers is the aim of the FERA. These tell the distance and direction of the nearest airport and further aid a flyer by pointing to the north.

Stewart said the CWA and FERA originally undertook 100 active airport projects, $7 for the construction of new fields and $3 for improvements to existing landing areas. Sixteen of these will be completed by Dec. 1, he added.

If cities will furnish materials and skilled labor, he added, the plans probably can be carried out even if the Federal Relief Administration does not provide funds for these items.

Military Training In Certain Colleges Held Compulsory

Supreme Court Rules
On Old Argument
Relating To Land
Grant Institutions

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The rule that every citizen must defend his government "against all enemies," was laid down yesterday by the Supreme Court in deciding that land grant colleges may compel their students to take military training.

The action of the high tribunal was unanimous in settling the old and troublesome controversy of military training in the land grant colleges. These schools are so called because the government gave them land formerly belonging to the public.

The decision sustained the action of the University of California in suspending last year Albert W. Hamilton and W. Alfonso Reynolds, Jr., who claimed exemption from drill on religious and conscientious grounds.

"Government, Federal and State," said the opinion, delivered by Justice Butler, "each in its own sphere, owes a duty to the people within its jurisdiction to preserve itself in adequate strength to maintain peace and order and to assure the just enforcement of law. And every citizen owes the reciprocal duty, according to his capacity, to support and defend government against all enemies."

"Plainly there is no ground for the contention that the regents, requiring able bodied male students under the age of 24, as a condition in their enrollment, to take the prescribed instructions in military science and tactics, transgress any constitutional right asserted by these appellants."

But the court made it plain also that the land grant colleges are not compelled by Federal law to offer compulsory military training courses.

Although no major dissent was expressed, Justice Cardozo delivered a supplementary opinion in which Justices Brandeis and Stone joined, indicating that he did not agree with all the conclusions of the majority.

"There is no occasion at this time," Cardozo said, "to mark

ACL POLICE SEEK CAUSE OF ACCIDENT

Leffler's Friends Breaking Records

Mayor W. A. Leffler's administration apparently is meeting with the unqualified approval of an unusually large number of the electorate of this city for early this afternoon it was indicated that a several year record would be broken when City Election clerks start counting ballots shortly after 8:27 o'clock.

At 8:30 o'clock, 82 persons had cast "courtesy" ballots for Mr. Leffler as the unopposed candidate for a three year term on the Commission. That number was nearly twice the total number of "courtesy" votes cast in City election here since 1929. P. Hayard Smith, E. F. Lane, W. E. Beets and Jay H. Beck were the clerks and inspectors.

Railroad officials today were investigating charges that a lock on the switch had been broken and the switch partially opened by some one.

Jammed against the firebox of the 460,000 pound locomotive, the body of the fireman, A. W. Irrometer, of Jacksonville, was found yesterday afternoon. His left leg had been severed at the hip.

Crew members here were Eugene H. Vanneter, of Lakeland; F. W. Hunt, of St. Petersburg and C. R. Wylie, of Tampa, mail clerks; T. W. Schuman, of Pelham, Ga., express agent, and Roy McKnight, of Thomasville, express handler.

It was the second week within two years for Vanneter, who climbed out of the smashed cab and was perched on the water tank of the tender when other trainmen reached him.

About a year and a half ago his train was derailed near Tampa and he received injuries that kept him in the railroad hospital at Waycross.

PEACE IN CITRUS INDUSTRY NEARS AS PAIR RESIGN

Storm Centers Of De- bate On Committee Seats Step Aside

STORM, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—A. Varnell of Lake Wales and H. J. McReynolds of Orlando, members of the Citrus Control Committee set up in the proposed new citrus marketing agreement, agreed yesterday to resign if the Associated Shippers and Growers of Florida will sign 60 percent of the state's citrus crop into the agreement by Dec. 10.

The two men, storm centers in the controversy raging about the agreement, made their offer in the interest of citrus peace in reply to an editorial in The Tribune suggesting that they step out.

The associated growers and shippers, opponents to the agreement in its present form, have announced that they object to the presence of Varnell and McReynolds on the control board, and if they would resign the way would be opened for present opponents to sign the agreement.

Both men, prominent in the industry, were named on the committee by Secretary Wallace after representatives of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration had made a thorough investigation of the citrus situation in Florida and after a public hearing on the agreement at Orlando.

Yarnell was chairman of the control board under the agreement operating last season which is generally agreed to have widely benefited the industry. He is chairman now of the liquidating committee winding up the affairs of the old agreement.

Yarnell and McReynolds made their move yesterday after hearing D. J. W. Tapp, assistant director of the Agricultural Adjustment.

Tampa Alderman In Jail As A Drunkard

TAMPA, Dec. 4.—E. L. Ragan, 3709 1-3 Nebraska Avenue, a member of the Tampa board of aldermen, was locked up at police headquarters last night on a charge of being drunk and carrying concealed weapons.

Ragan was taken to headquarters by Officers Stewart and Story after they had discovered him at the Ellis cafe, Tampa and Twigg Street. Witnesses in the case said Ragan first got into a row with Fred Tanner, headwaiter, who sought to quiet him and make him go home. But the alderman, they said, persisted and finally Tanner took a crack at him with his fist, after being slapped.

Irvin Cobb Gives "Expert" Testimony To U.S. Bureau In Describing Corn Whiskey

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Irvin S. Cobb of old Kentucky may have answered the efforts of the federal alcohol control administration to obtain a definition of "corn whiskey."

The Administration said yesterday in a formal statement that some authorities and distillers had been asked to submit evidence to be offered at a hearing called Wednesday to determine just what words best describe what Southeners call "rare."

"The distillers' code authority," the control administration said yesterday, "has submitted the following rather comprehensive definition by the outstanding authority, Mr. Irvin S. Cobb. Mr. Cobb is quoted as follows:

"This here fiery stuff called corn whiskey, whether white or red, is an unlawful off-shoot from the Bourbon tribe and among Kentuckians, at least, is regarded as but an illegitimate orphan of the royal line, born out of wedlock in the shade of the moon, left as a foundling on the doorstep of some convenient bootlegger and abounding in fuel oil."

"It was not this corn whiskey, 'ky or 'moonshine' but true and real Bourbon which averages 60 percent maize" that the late Will Lampton had reference to when he penned his inimitable verse with its fervently illiberal tag-line:

'DOC' KING TOLD TO LEAVE COUNTY IN ADJOURNMENT AFTER BEATING

Ex-Walkathon Agent Is Abducted From Shady Grove Camp

Unmasked night riders who, Sheriff J. F. McClelland stated this morning, apparently were out to break up the activities of a group of young men and women residing in cottages and apartments at the Shady Grove Camp near the Community Home, were active in that vicinity at about midnight last night, and a man known as "Doc" King, publicity agent for the Orlando Walkathon of last year, was then captured.

According to Sheriff McClelland, King was taken from the camp in an automobile to a point just off the Oviedo road, severely beaten with a strap or belt, and ordered to leave the vicinity before sun down tonight.

He was released by his captors whom he was unable to describe last night, and he walked back to the filling station camp a few miles away. Sheriff McClelland had been called by frightened friends of the man, and when King returned the sheriff had arrived.

However, according to Sheriff McClelland, King was reluctant to speak. "I had a hard time getting him to tell me what had happened," Sheriff McClelland said, adding that although he offered to press a search for the unknown persons, King shrugged his shoulders to say with some finality, "I can't tell you a thing about who" (Continued on page two).

FLETCHER CHALLENGES INSURGENTS

GOP Chairman Says He'll Not Resign; Calls For Show- down With Bolters

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican national committee last night challenged Senator William E. Borah and all other insurgent members of the party to a showdown and announced he would not resign.

He suggested that persons dissatisfied with his leadership summon a meeting of the Republican national committee, and explained that the signature of 16 committee men from each of a separate state, on a petition could bring about a meeting.

Borah is only one prominent Republican who has suggested that the party throw overboard the principles it followed during the Coolidge-Hoover period and reorganize along liberal lines.

"In the event the committee were called," Fletcher said, "there is not the slightest doubt that it would accord those back of the organization a full opportunity to present their case to the committee. If they were convincing, the committee would select a new set of officers who would assume the responsibility of paying off the existing deficit, financing the convention of 1936 and making arrangements for that convention."

The grand jury referred to its chambers in the hands of States Attorney Lloyd F. Boyle, who had gathered information through the assistance of Sheriff J. F. McClelland and his staff, in connection with 27 cases of alleged law violations.

Gainesville Man Confesses Murder

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 4.—(AP)—A thousand workmen massed in the snow before the Union House today awaiting a chance to view the body of Sargeant Knoff, an American soldier, which arrived from Germany this morning to lie in state.

The historic old building, formerly used as club for nobles, was almost entirely covered with red and black bunting.

Knoff's body arrived safely after the government announced the arrival of 71 "White Russians" who face a speedy trial for their lives on charges of preparing terrorist acts against Soviet officials.

THIRTY-nine were arrested in the Leningrad section and 32 in the Moscow area, but it was not announced whether they are accused of direct complicity with the slaying of Kirov, secretary of the Central Executive Committee at Leningrad on Saturday.

THEATERS AND AMUSEMENT PLACES ARE CLOSED IN MOSCOW. KIROV'S BODY WILL BE CREMATED TOMORROW.

Alabama Seeks Cash To Keep Schools Open

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 4.—Governor B. M. Miller yesterday made formal application to the Federal Emergency Relief Administration for $3,650,000 school aid funds.

Letters from the department of education certifying that this sum was needed to keep Alabama schools open for the normal 7-month term accompanied the application. It also was supported by an endorsement from the state relief administration.

Without the federal aid, officials said schools in 24 Alabama counties would close before Christmas.

Key's Liquor Store Proposal Defeated

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 4.—(AP)—A resolution that would have authorized Mayor James L. Key to operate a municipal liquor store in Atlanta was defeated overwhelmingly yesterday by city council.

The vote, coming after heated debate climaxed by a personal plea of the mayor for his passage, was 27 to 9. Mayor Key declined to give out a statement, saying the action of the council speaks for itself.

Three distinct romances, although woven together in the same place, unfold in the First National production, "Gentlemen Are Born," which comes to the Milane Theatre today.

The story, by Robert Lee Johnson, is a thrilling drama with plenty of lighter comedy touches and gay music, including familiar college songs and a new air written by the famous song team of Sammy Fain and Irving Kahal entitled, "When You Call the Roll, Alma Mater."

The picture treats of the adventures and love affairs of four college graduates who encounter tremendous difficulties that make for intensely dramatic situations in their lives.

There is an all star cast headed by Franchot Tone and three lead ladies, Jean Muir, Margaret Lindsay and Ann Dvorak. Miss Lindsay has the romantic lead opposite Tone in a love triangle that nearly ruins both their lives.

The two other romances are between Tone's pal, a part played by Ross Alexander, and Jean Muir, and Ann Dvorak and Nick the college quartet. The fourth member of the quartet is played by Robert Light.

BOARD WILL NOT U.S. EXPERTS SIGN NRA CODES SAY WHISKEY IS EXCELLENT

Company's Position Again Outlined By Its Health Officials

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Whiskey experts who have been testing repeat whiskey for nearly a year, raised their voices from the whiffing goblets tonight to pronounce today's whiskey excellent.

Some of the Bourbon and rye which they sampled in the half-moonshaped glasses, warmed in the palms of their hands and filled with sensitive nostrils, was better than any of those still pre-prohibition whiskey.

With the first anniversary of repeal only three days off, they had a blind want to say for practically every brand of legal liquor they have tried.

Their olfactory investigations have led them to these three major conclusions:

1. Pure grain blended whiskey is being bottled in increasing quantities.

2. Practically all well known brands of straight whiskey now being sold are one year or more old.

3. Blended whiskies, on the whole, contain more aged liquor than many an oldtime brand.

The government's whiskey experts labor in a laboratory behind the granite precipices on the fourth floor of the treasury building. They put each sample through exhaustive chemical analysis, with apparatus picture enough to please a博物学家.

They examine the liquor over Bunsen burners, send it shimmering through lengths of glass tubing and turn it from brown to pink to yellow. These tests reveal exactly how much of what is in every bottle, but they do not show the difference between a good drink and a bad.

Only a nose can tell, and an experienced nose at that. Whiskey is a very famous product and to the chemists, a commodity one.

Then comes George F. Heyer, chief nose of bureau, and the first expert to come in with his taste buds. He signs off on the quality of the new liquors and the reason why so many other must take the scientific handling of the liquor authorities in a much higher regard than that for the NRA.

As the science advances we believe the NRA people know the importance of the pre-prohibition laws. There is but one right for the Bureau to follow. Let us hope for better information in May.

The first test of the official authority thus far has been given by the National Resources Board, which has asked the Soil Conservation Service to inspect the River M-

Middle-Aged Women Passed Through Late Depression Better Than Younger Types

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Women over 40 weathered the economic depression better than their younger sisters.

That's the verdict of a survey of 4,000 business and professional women of New York recently by the American Woman's Association whose president is Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the widely known financier.

The findings of the survey, conducted under grants from the Carnegie Corporation of New York and the Daniel Florence Guggenheim Foundation, were based on answers 1,200 members of the American Woman's Association made in reply to a questionnaire.

They covered a five-year period from 1929 to 1934. They are founded on reports from women who work with their heads rather than their hands. They may dry a few of the tears shed in recent years over "the lot of the grey-haired white collar women workers."

Women over 40 made more money, lost fewer jobs and remained more stable during the depression than their younger sisters, the report says.

According to its figures on the women surveyed, the salaries of women over 40 average about $600 a year more than those of younger ones. Fifteen percent of those under 40 experienced unemployment during the five-year period, while only nine percent of those over 40 lost their jobs.

The older women kept their jobs more consistently, 80 percent of them making only one change of position during the survey time, while only half the younger women held to that record.

The women reporting the top salaries ($6,000 to $10,000) and lowest in the part of the survey conducted in 1932 recorded an average age of 50 years.

These facts, says the report, can be attributed partly to the tendency of responsibility for older employees not partly to the fact that the machine "is not replacing most workers in house and the professions in house as well as those who work chiefly with their hands."

"But most of all," it adds, "this advantage is due to the simple fact that where the work must be done with the head, the experience, sound judgment and knowledge and stability of the mature worker are of great value."

ROLLINS CERTAIN PER CAPITA DEBT TO PLEASE FANS IN U.S. REACHES IN SPARTAN TILT NEW HIGH MARK

Perfectly Executed Attack Expected By Next Saturday

WINTER PARK, Fla., Dec. 4.—Although it is unlikely that the Tax will spring anything new in offensive plays when they meet Tampa U. next Saturday afternoon at Tampa, the fans can expect Rollins to present an attack which will be pretty nearly letter perfect in execution.

This presupposes, of course, that the Tax forward wall will do its job as well as at least as it performed in the Eriskeine game last week. At that combat the fans were treated to some nicely executed plays which clicked about as well as one could hope to see.

The difference in the play against Eriskeine compared to that in the Cumberland game the preceding week was at once noticeable. Allowing for Cumberland's superior strength compared to Eriskeine's defense, it was apparent that the Tax had been working faithfully to correct some of the faults in the line play.

One reason for the slippage in the line against Cumberland was due to the loss of Chene Melone, and the necessary shifting of players to make up for his loss through everything out of gear. The result was that the Tax ball carriers got little assistance from the line and the defense of the forward wall was ragged from lack of time.

Coach Jack McDonald apparently has done wonders in the mean time to bolster the line and by the time the Tampa game comes around most of the difficulties in the line trenches, probably, will be solved.

The new season opens, Coach McDonald stated, with unusually good prospects. Four of the outstanding members of the 1934 squad are back, he said, in the persons of Earl Whitten, O. P. Horn, Jim Jack Hughes and Ralph Pearson.

In addition, the coach can select other players from the following list: Oliver Miller, Leslie Harnage, J. W. Altman, Bob Cornell, Jack Pearson, Elwyn Squires, Bob Williams, Ralph Stewart, Robert Quigley, John Morgan, Charles Robinson and Speck Colburn. Other boys also try out for the squad.

First practice begins tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, to be held every weekday except Saturday and holidays until the opening of the season on Jan. 11.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The heart of a little old woman in Leeds will gladness last night by word from the halls of Parliament that she was to get a reprieve from a sentence to hang for the "mercy murderer" of her infantile son.

The woman, Mrs. Ray Brownhill, 68-year-old mother convicted of killing her helpless son, Dennis, 30, was cheered by the news that high officials had taken a personal interest in her case, and were helping her to escape the noose.

Sam Kinlaw vs. Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, damages $25,000. This is to be a re-hearing of an original case in which a local jury found for Mr. Kinlaw but its decision was ruled against by the Florida Supreme Court which declared the $225,000 verdict "excessive" and ordered the case retried.

State Attorney Boyle indicated at noon today that the jury probably would present several indictments on Thursday morning. Judge Smith returned to his home late today, planning to return later this week.

SEARCH FOR HUNGING "No Admittance" Sign, Shultz Orders Troops Turned Back At State Line

Fear Expressed That
Trans-Pacific Flight
Has Stopped With Its
Three Occupants

HONOLULU, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Through the air and over the watery Atomy and private searchers widened their hunt today for Flight Lieutenant Charles T. P. Ulman and his two companions whose trans-Pacific plane was forced to an ocean landing.

Every hour brought the fear that the trim "Star of Australia," a land plane, had sunk beneath the surging Pacific with its three passengers when the gasoline gave out yesterday.

The men had virtually no chance of surviving their plane more than a hour or so as they were so confident of reaching Honolulu that they carried no life-saving equipment.

An all night cruise by 23 naval craft failed to locate a trace of the plane in which Ulman, co-pilot George Littlejohn and navigator radio operator J. L. Skilling took off from Oakland Monday for Honolulu on a contemplated Australia flight. The trio was attempting to chart a commercial trans-Pacific flying route.

Fix hours after Lieutenant Ulman's frantic message, "will land in the sea," the filters had not been found. Many planes and ships were participating in the hunt over the ocean.

The searchers did not know where the aviators had been forced down, but they believed Ulman and his companions, Co-Pilot George Littlejohn and Navigator-Radio Operator J. L. Skilling, had made it to the coast of Florida.

Shipboard members of the association designated Lt. C. Edwards, Tampa, and Harry L. Akers, Lakeland, to confer with A. W. McKinley, representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and authorized the directors to take "proper steps to settle the controversy."

Edwards conferred with McKinley last night and notified the directors to prepare for a meeting tomorrow afternoon at Lakeland.

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Florida hung out the "No Admittance" sign yesterday for transients without jobs or visible means of support.

"Florida will be no haven of refuge for indigent non-residents this winter," declared Governor Dixie Shultz, in a written statement. The state will be turned black at the state line.

Transients who come to the state line, the Governor warned, and "if they succeed in entering the state, they will be arrested for vagrancy, which would be unpleasant and unprofitable to all concerned."

He telegraphed the governors of all states east of the Mississippi River.

CITRUS MARKET MIGRAIL, ILLINOIS
PACT ENEMIES CONFRONTED AS
READY TO DICE IN MART ORCHARD

Yarnell, McReynolds
Resignations Are Basis For Action

TAMPA, Dec. 5.—The Association of Florida Growers and Shippers of this city last night were told by their opponents of the Florida confirmation of Market Master and Secretary-Treasurer, respectively, of the new State Farmers' Wholesale Citrus Marketing men being confirmed at Lakeland yesterday to submit their differences to arbitration with the hope that the agreement can be signed and put into effect immediately.

The action was taken on the off chance that the associates of the association had not been able to reach an agreement on the price to be paid for the 60 percent of the state's citrus volume in the agreement by Monday.

Shipper members of the association designated Lt. C. Edwards, Tampa, and Harry L. Akers, Lakeland, to confer with A. W. McKinley, representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and authorized the directors to take "proper steps to settle the controversy."

Edwards conferred with McKinley last night and notified the directors to prepare for a meeting tomorrow afternoon at Lakeland.

CHRISTMAS ROOSEVELT TRADING SEEN DELARAS FOR WEST IN YEARS LIBERAL COP

Expert Claims Public
In Better Spending
Model Than At Any Time In Four Years

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—The public is innately too spendy, government experts say. And so they expect Christmas trade to be the best in four years.

Their predictions that cash registers will jingle as they haven't done since 1930, John Dickinson, assistant secretary of commerce, added this note of cheer:

"Prospects for a big Christmas trade show very clearly the state of mind of satisfied and optimistic state of mind."

"All evidence indicates the people are in a greater spending mood, but not for recklessly spending such as we saw some years ago. This mood to buy can be directly attributable to more employment and more money in the people's pockets."

Government statisticians said: Estimates indicate farm income this year will be nearly as billion dollars greater than last year.

Ridgeons generally is running ahead of last year, according to trade reports.

October department store sales increased 7 percent over a year ago, retail general merchandise sales up 12 percent, variety store sales 5 percent, and new motor car sales 2 percent.

Labor reports indicate such heavy goods industries as locomotive equipment, machine tools, and cement improved, and industrial production improving better than seasonally.

Experts also pointed to increases in government emergency expenditures.

Morgenthau Plans Radio Appeal To Liquor Consumers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—On its 10th anniversary today, the bootlegger remains such an menace to government revenues and legal trade that Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau is reported to be preparing to radio appeal to consumers to buy only legitimate stuff.

Strong demands that taxes be raised are being prepared for the next Congress on the theory that this would hamper the bootleggers.

So far Secretary Morgenthau has preferred to give a legal campaign against illicit trade more or less before urging higher taxes.

Since repeal became effective Dec. 5, 1933, federal agents have seized $12,000,000, arrested 20,000 persons, and convicted about 12,000.

Mr. James M. Davis, head of the Distilled Spirits Code Administration, said the legal consumption of the same commodity was up 15 percent this year.

Ward! Line Official
Under Indictment

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Willful negligence was charged yesterday against the ranking officers of the Ward Line, Morris Ostler, its president, and one of its vice-presidents. A federal grand jury investigating the disaster that took 124 lives, handed up seven indictments.

The indictments named Acting Captain William S. Warner, Chief Engineer Eden S. Abbott, Henry E. Cahaud, executive vice-president of the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Co., and the company itself. The accused were expected to appear and provide bail yesterday. Early trial was promised.

No man was calling over table rock when the huge block broke and plunged into the gorge on the Chilkoot trail.

This man would have been the first to die if the trail had not been closed because of injuries sustained by other hikers on the trail.

From the surface comes word that fate of the trail will be uncertain because of injuries sustained by other hikers on the trail.

Edison College officials announced the date and hour of the game without knowing that the Crimson Academy negro team had refused to play the field. The Crimson Academy, however, agreed to play.

Despite the fact that the game in progress was weightless and the referee played along under the nose of the spectators, the Crimson Academy maintained its record.
