Warren Hurt In Pre-Dawn Miami Mishap

Former Governor, In Official Car, Is Hit By Another At Corner

MIAMI — Former Gov. Fuller Warren was severely shaken and believed possibly injured in a pre-dawn auto crash today in Miami while enroute to the funeral of a friend killed Wednesday in an auto accident here.

Warren was riding in a chauffeur-driven City of Miami Beach car which collided with another at 10 p.m. (EST) while on the way to Miami International Airport.

The former governor—now a member of a Miami Beach law firm—had planned to catch the 11:30 a.m. plane for Sarasota where it was scheduled to be a pallbearer at the funeral for M. A. Roun.

Miami Beach Mayor D. Lee Powell said he and Warren attended a dinner at the Biscayne Terrace Hotel last night and Warren mentioned he had to catch an early morning plane.

"I voted against the purchase of that 'VIP' car," Powell explained, "but since we have it and since it's in the garage most of the time I offered the use of it to Warren for the trip to the airport."

Pattrolmen C. R. Kemp and E. P. Ragan said the chauffeur, James Doonan, 48, was not injured.

The officers quoted Thomas Hodge, 58, Miami, driver of the other car, as saying Doonan went through a red light at N. W. 2nd Ave., while traveling west on 36th St.

Hodge's car, going south, ran into the front of a liquor store on the southwest corner of the intersection and was wrecked. Hodge was shaken up.

Warren was severely injured in 1947 and Charlie Small, state editor of the Jacksonville Journal, was killed when Small's car was struck by a head-on crash as the two drove from Jacksonville to Daytona Beach where Warren had a speaking engagement.

Officers Elected At Annual Meeting Of First Federal

Directors H. James Gut, A. Edwin Shinkholer and George Touhy were elected to the executive committee at the meeting of the shareholders of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association held here Wednesday at their offices at 119 W. First Street.

Following this meeting the directors met and elected the following officers for the current year: Howard Paville, President; George Touhy, Executive Vice-President; E. C. Harner, Jr., First Vice-President; E. F. Doudney, Second Vice-President; Raymond H. James, Secretary-Treasurer; H. James Gut, Assistant Secretary-Treasurer; and A. Edwin Shinkholer, attorney.

In the president's report for the past year's operation Mr. Paville outlined the program made by the association and pointed out that it was continuing to serve the community as an increasingly important savings center, and that thirty persons in larger numbers began before were availing themselves of the security and the three percent dividends paid on savings accounts. The payments to shareholders in 1952 was $74,202.45.

James Gut Speaks To Group On Birds Of Pleistocene

H. James Gut, who has studied vertebrate paleontology, study of fossils of animals which had back bones, gave an address before the Seminole County Audubon Society this week on the birds of Pleistocene birds of Florida.

Pleistocene is the name given to the geological epoch or age before the one in which we are living. Mr. Gut explained. It began some one million years ago and ended some 10,000 to 25,000 years ago. During the pleistocene, also known as the Ice Age, there were four separate glacial periods and three interglacial periods.

As a result of these glaciers, Mr. Gut said, animals were driven from the north down into this area. These glaciers, as much as 10 miles thick, went as far south as the Ohio River.

He said it is believed the climate here during the glacial periods was comparable to the climate in southern Canada. He also said it is believed we are now in a period between glaciers.

He listed six major Pleistocene fossil "birds" and told of the number of species of birds found in each.

These birds are located at "Seminole Field," near St. Petersburg; "Saber-tooth Cave," in Citrus county; Vero Beach, Melbourne; Marion county, 15 miles north of Ocala, and Manatee county, in various places.

Fifty-two different species of birds were found in Seminole Field, during 1926-27, he said and 81 species in Marion county, still being explored after being started in 1947. Mr. Gut said he does dinner there.

The site at Vero Beach was explored in 1916 and 1917 while the one at Melbourne, in 1928 and 1929.

Gut gave the names of birds found in the Florida Pleistocene and that now are extinct. He also gave the names of birds no longer known to Florida, not living here.

He included in his speech information on Pleistocene mammals, particularly the ones which he is studying, namely mastodons.

City Planners To Meet With Board On Monday Night

The City Planning Commission has been requested by the City Commission to attend their meeting Monday night at 8:00 o'clock at the City Hall, according to the agenda, regarding the zoning of several areas of the city and the annexing of additional area.

Marion Harrison, chairman of the Traffic Committee, is to present a report, including recommendations for improving local traffic conditions.

A request from the Disabled American Veterans chapter will also come before the Commission which asks for City-owned property at a nominal cost, to be used as the site for a DAV home.

According to a letter to the Commission from the chapter commander, G. L. Muffey, he recently looked up some City property with City Manager Tom Lemon and City Attorney A. E. Shinkholer. He states the chapter offers $100 as a purchase price for the property.

"We know that this is not the value of the property, but we thought perhaps this way the City would realize something from the property and we would feel the property would be ours as we fully intend to put up a DAV home.

"If this is not acceptable to the City, we should like to renew our request for a 99-year lease on the property."

Sanford Industrial Board Studies Method Of Accepting Contributions

By BOB SMITH
A meeting of the Sanford Industrial Board was held this morning at Chase & Co.'s office to determine the method by which contributions to or investments in the future development of new business in the city might be made.

It was attended by Mayor Randall Chase, Gordon Frederick, Herman Jacobson, Wally Dietrich, Forrest Breckenridge, Ralph Cowan, George Williams and Jack Greene.

Mr. Williams, local manager of Vineyard & Co.'s and Mr. Greene, of Potter, Gray, Loucks and Bower, both firms of accountants, were asked to attend the meeting in view with the board on matters of taxation.

It was the opinion of these consultants that contributions to a cause such as the one for which the Industrial Board is set up would be deductible on income reports. This in the minds of the members would make a decided difference in the attitude of many persons or business firms who would like to lend financial support to the movement to attract

McCarthy Indicates All Requests For Increased Funds To Be Scrutinized

TALLAHASSEE — (AP) — Gov. Dan McCarthy today indicated that, despite an anticipated 40 million dollar surplus in the state treasury and optimistic forecasts for future years, the Cabinet Budget Commission will scrutinize closely every request for increased appropriations.

At the budget commission resumed hearings on the requests for operating funds for the 1953-54 biennium, McCarthy asked representatives of agencies appearing before the commission to explain why they needed more tax money.

The budget commission, with members of the Senate and House Appropriations Committee again sitting in, heard a request from the Florida Council for the Blind for $538,684 in state funds to go with federal matching money and donations for a total budget of $951,828 for the two business years, starting July 1.

The council is asking $126,584 more from the state than it received from the Legislature for the 1951-53 biennium. Harry E. Simmons, executive director of the council, said the added funds would be used in part to create seven new jobs, including a home teacher to serve the blind who are housebound in their homes, a medical field consultant and a marketing director to help market products manufactured by blind persons, a bookkeeper and three stenographers.

The council also needs money to maintain its adult training center for the blind at Daytona Beach, to grant employees a one percent salary raise and to inaugurate a home industry program.

Pointing to the work the council has done in rehabilitating the blind Simmons said records of the State Welfare Department showed a drop of 200 in the number of persons receiving aid to the blind in the past two years. He said the council's program of helping the blind to sustain themselves for the drop from 3,400 in 1950 to 3,100 in 1952.

3 Persons Injured In Auto Accident Near Forest City

A 22-year-old citrus worker, driving a "goat" truck, turned left on State Road 436 one mile east of Forest City in front of an oncoming station wagon causing a collision, injuring three of the four occupants in the station wagon yesterday afternoon. The accident occurred at 4:05 p.m. when Carl Edward Long of Oakland, Fla., driving the truck going east, turned left across the highway to head into a field in front of the station wagon coming west. Mrs. John Ferns, Route 6 Orlando, accompanied by her husband and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tikkanen.

Ferns overturned her vehicle to the right to avoid the accident, running off on to the right shoulder of the road, but the left front end of the station wagon crashed into the right front steel bumper of the truck, causing $500 damage to the station wagon and an estimated $1,500 damage to the truck.

Mr. Ferns and Mr. and Mrs. Tikkanen were injured and rushed to the Orange Memorial Hospital in a Fairchild Ambulance. Both drivers escaped injury.

Long was arrested by State Trooper Harrison for reckless driving and turned over at the scene of the collision to Seminole County Sheriff J. L. Hobbly for a $100 appearance bond.

Extent of the injuries to the three victims is not known. Mr. Harrison stated.

National Guardsmen Stand By Waiting Orders For Use In Quelling Rebellion

BELLEFOUNTE, Pa. — (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. John S. Fine said today a portion of the Pennsylvania National Guard is "under alert" for possible use in ending a four-day revolt of prisoners at the Rockview State Penitentiary.

The governor told a news conference at Harrisburg that an emergency conference would be held tonight at Indiantown Gap by state officials who have been seeking to restore order at Rockview.

Some 325 rebel convicts have held six guards as hostages since Monday night in a barricaded cell block.

He said he did not know how many National Guardsmen were under the "stand by orders."

Fine renewed his previous assurance he opposed "any bargaining with riotous prisoners."

The governor made his statement as more than 100 heavily armed state policemen and 400 prison guards were massed at the prison awaiting orders. Five officers of the Pennsylvania National Guard were called into the meeting discussing means of ending the disorder.

Asked if the state was considering storming the "rebel" prisoners in cell block "A," it was reported, the governor replied:

"That is possible, if they don't become orderly and act in a lawful manner."

The rebels were sitting light in cell block "A," his five dogs barricaded from the inside, chained and locked from the outside. This morning they offered to exchange one of the six hostage guards for another, who has volunteered to make the switch, but there has been no indication of what action prison authorities will take on this.

New Cabinet Head Demands "Day's Work For Day's Pay"

Parleys Seeking Possible Way To Qualify Wilson

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles told Foreign Service employees today he will tolerate nothing less than "positive loyalty" to the nation's policies in this, its time of greatest peril.

As his first official act after being sworn in with other Eisenhower cabinet members yesterday, Dulles addressed a letter to some 10,000 Americans employed by the State Department at home and abroad.

He advised them to expect changes under the new Republican administration and said "The national welfare must be given priority over individual concerns."

"Dulles added:

"President Eisenhower recently stated, 'This nation stands in great peril that at any time in our history...'

"The period is of a kind which places a special responsibility on each and every member of the Department of State and the Foreign Service. It requires of us competence, discipline and positive loyalty to the policies that our President and the Congress may prescribe."

"Less than that is not tolerable at this time."

Dulles advised that loyalty does not require "intellectual dishonesty" or reports distorted to please superiors.

"Our foreign policies will prevail only if they are based on honest evaluations of the facts," he said. "This was an apparent reference to the contention of former Secretary of State Acheson and others that disloyalty charges against some State Department employees would discourage others from reporting facts and opinions which might prove unpopular."

On the point of prospective changes within the Department, Dulles said:

"It will be necessary from time to time to adjust our Department and Foreign Service so that we shall be best able to discharge our responsibilities and reach our chosen goals. This will be done with all due consideration which the situation warrants to permit that the national welfare must be given priority over individual concerns."

Dulles praised State Department and Foreign Service personnel as a group of loyal Americans dedicated to the preservation of American ideals.

"I am honored to be one of you," he said. "I am confident that under the leadership of President Eisenhower, we shall go on to do the best work of the nation we have and serve."

"The period is of a kind which places a special responsibility on each and every member of the Department of State and the Foreign Service. It requires of us competence, discipline and positive loyalty to the policies that our President and the Congress may prescribe."

"Less than that is not tolerable at this time."

Dulles advised that loyalty does not require "intellectual dishonesty" or reports distorted to please superiors.

"Our foreign policies will prevail only if they are based on honest evaluations of the facts," he said. "This was an apparent reference to the contention of former Secretary of State Acheson and others that disloyalty charges against some State Department employees would discourage others from reporting facts and opinions which might prove unpopular."

On the point of prospective changes within the Department, Dulles said:

"It will be necessary from time to time to adjust our Department and Foreign Service so that we shall be best able to discharge our responsibilities and reach our chosen goals. This will be done with all due consideration which the situation warrants to permit that the national welfare must be given priority over individual concerns."

Dulles praised State Department and Foreign Service personnel as a group of loyal Americans dedicated to the preservation of American ideals.

"I am honored to be one of you," he said. "I am confident that under the leadership of President Eisenhower, we shall go on to do the best work of the nation we have and serve."

New Cabinet Head Demands "Day's Work For Day's Pay"

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles told Foreign Service employees today he will tolerate nothing less than "positive loyalty" to the nation's policies in this, its time of greatest peril.

As his first official act after being sworn in with other Eisenhower cabinet members yesterday, Dulles addressed a letter to some 10,000 Americans employed by the State Department at home and abroad.

He advised them to expect changes under the new Republican administration and said "The national welfare must be given priority over individual concerns."

"Dear Sir:

"I am a young man who doesn't remember what it is like to live under a Republican administration.

"My problem is—what to expect? How should I act? Personally, I am a Democrat, but a number of my young Republican friends are in the same plight. They have no memory of what life is like under a GOP regime.

"Have you any etiquette tips for us?"

"Worried voter?"

Young man, you have hit upon the problem of the hour. Tens of millions of Americans are in your predicament, including many former Democrats who voted Republican for the first time.

Naturally, everybody feels a bit uncertain. This is even true of the new Republican officeholders who are taking over the ship of state.

Rural Common Sense
By SPUDS JOHNSON

Among busy public servants Florida's county and home demonstration agents stand out.

Because their duty is to work with rural people, they are identified with and usually play an important part in most county-wide movements. During a campaign for any worthy cause such as promoting public health, safety, beautification, and, yes, even rat-killing, the county and home demonstration agents are given a large part of the responsibility for making it succeed.

Such movements are highly important, but they are only one of many phases of the work done day in and day out by these representative workers of the counties, the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

(They are cooperative employees of the county, state, and federal governments.) Primarily, the county agent's duty is to help farmers and their sons succeed with their crops, while the home demonstration agent's duty is to help farm women and their daughters make a success of their homes.

Practically every farmer in the county knows the county agent, and nearly every rural woman knows the home demonstration agent. This friendly, close association is largely responsible for the great progress in rural living in Florida in recent years. The farmer seeks the advice of his county agent on crop varieties, fertilizers, insecticides, fungicides, breeds of livestock, pastures, poultry, farming methods, equipment, and a host of other subjects related to farming. The farm woman asks the help of the home demonstration agent on numerous problems of the home and also obtains from her the latest information on cooking, conserving, sewing, nutrition, health, and, in general, on keeping her family healthy and happy.

In performing their duties the county and home demonstration agents visit farm homes, hold meetings, put on demonstrations, write numerous letters, answer hundreds of questions by telephone, write pieces for papers, make radio talks, and use every other means available for advising and helping rural people. To do these things, they are busy nearly all the time (and frequently they attend night meetings), but they are happy because they love their work and they want to help.

So don't laugh—or try to rock the boat. Republicans at this period are peculiarly sensitive. No matter how ardent a Democrat you are, wait at least another week before jeering, or, "Granddad says we had it better under McKinley."

Remember, the millennium comes slowly. Patience does it. Don't throw away all the race-track the money you expect to save by having prices and taxes fall to the level they were at in the Harding administration. Franklin D. Roosevelt went into office promising to balance the budget, and Harry Truman went out of office 20 years later still searching for a way to do it.

Even under the thriftest of Republican regimes it may take days and days to find a solution. The main thing to keep in mind is that when a Democrat says, "After all, what's money? The Republican answer is, 'Well, it ought to be money.'"

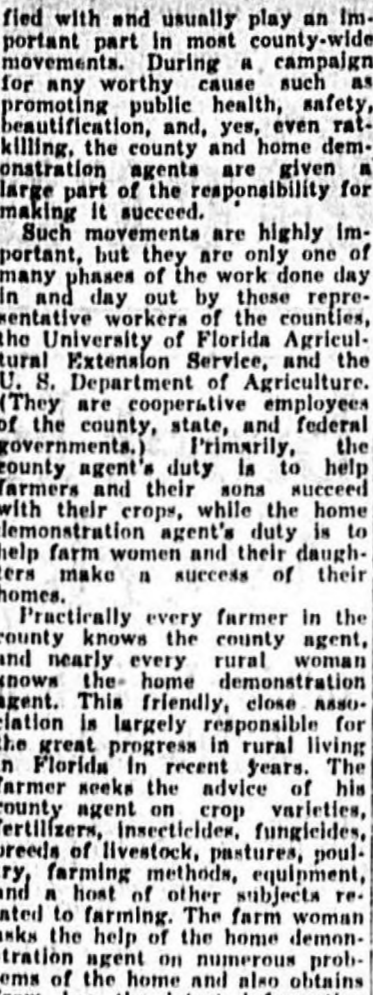

That is always a big aim of any Republican administration—trying to make money stay money. Some Democrats are afraid that life will be dull and over-serious under the Republicans.

Most Republicans just feel you can have fun without doing it in a way to get you arrested. They are merely a bit more restrained than the Democrats. They prefer the dry chuckle to the belly laugh.

The zoot suit, yo-yo and bubble gum all reached their peaks of popularity under Democratic presidents. Cloth of banker's gray, a thoughtful meln, and chess may now be more in keeping with the times. If you can't understand chess, you may keep some semblance of social standing by working crossword puzzles.

And if you hear an elderly Republican grumble, "Drat that man in the White House," don't leap to the conclusion he is criticizing Ike. It will probably be just a momentary memory lapse.

It is going to take time even for the Republicans to get used to the fact they're in power again.

CYPRESS GARDENS, FLA.—Round the clock construction is rushing the completion of the world's most unique swimming pool, being built out in one of Florida's lakes here, and is taking the shape of the map of Florida. The pool will be used for the Esther Williams Cypress Gardens story being filmed this month. Not only will Esther swim back and forth in this Hollywood Dream Pool, from Key West to Pensacola, but she will also perform in a water skiing extravaganza.

Morale At Giant African Airbase Seen Improving

Controversial Installation Is Now Nearing Final Touches

By JOHN RODERICK
 CASABLANCA—Morale is picking up at Nouasseur, the giant airbase being built by the U. S. Air Force 25 miles from here.

Low winter 2,300 American air men and several thousand Atlas Construction Company workers based here had a morale rating about as low as a snake's hips. There was mud everywhere. Living facilities were inadequate. There were no movies, no officers' or noncom clubs.

The winter things are different although the huge "mother base" of the five Air Force is building in French Morocco still is far from finished.

Tens of thousands of dollars worth of equipment and supplies lie in their packing cases exposed to North African weather because there are still no warehouses in which to store them. Hundreds of trucks and motor vehicles are being damaged by rain, sun and wind because there are no garages yet.

Nouasseur was started on a "crash basis" when ground was broken in April, 1951. The Department of Defense was jittery about the prospects of aggression in Europe. So were a lot of Europeans. Investigations later turned up the fact that haste makes waste. Millions of dollars were being spent with no very striking results.

Under the crash program, the base should have been built and in working condition by now. The easing of the war threat, congressional criticism and the indignant demands for greater economy slowed down the project.

Now Air Force planning officers say the base will be in good shape by July 1 and in full working order by the first of 1954. In the event of war, it could be pressed into service at once, though on a limited scale.

Nouasseur is being built for the 80th Air Depot Wing of the Air Force. Its mission is to overhaul re-oult and put back into living shape any of the Air Force's ships, up to B-36 strategic bombers. It occupies 7,000 acres in a sparsely settled region a half hour's auto mobile drive from Casablanca. It is 15 miles around at the perimeter.

C. A. Maddy And His Fellowship Group Sued By Residents

ORMOND BEACH—Four residents of the Casements in Ormond Beach have sued C. A. Maddy and Associates, operators of a Lifetime Rooms for the Elderly plan, asking for an accounting of funds and property and that a receiver be named to take over the place.

The suit parallels one brought against Maddy and the others last August when the Fellowship Center in the old Ormond Beach Hotel was placed in the hands of a receiver on order of Circuit Court.

The new suit, filed last Friday, is against the Fellowship Foundation, Inc. which has the same board of directors as Fellowship Center.

Bringing the suit were L. S. McConnell, Marjorie Benbow, James Lambert and C. C. Ehrhardt.

The Casements, formerly the home of the late John D. Rockefeller, was bought in November, 1951, by the foundation from Miss Maude Van Woy at a reported cost of $100,000.

The plaintiffs state that if an audit was made, the Casements would be found "hopelessly insolvent." They maintain more than 50 lifetime contract members would all become "subjects of charity" if the Casements project folded up.

The suit parallels one brought against Maddy and the others last August when the Fellowship Center in the old Ormond Beach Hotel was placed in the hands of a receiver on order of Circuit Court.

The De Bary home, top, right, is that of Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. Leonard from White Plains, N. Y. Mr. Leonard operated a gas and service station for 11 years. Mrs. Leonard says, "We make out better here financially. We save on heating, clothing and many other items." At top left are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor. Mr. Taylor, 47 years old, was a dairyman in Jackson, Mich. Mr. Taylor says, "I tired of Northern winters. I wanted a nice climate and this is it. I can fish from my own dock, practically on my own back yard. Two people can really enjoy life at Plantation Estates on an income as little as $125 a month if their home is free and clear." At left center are Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wakefield from Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Wakefield is a former manufacturer of coil springs in Cleveland. Living at Plantation Estates, De Bary, Fla., he says, "I save on taxes and we derive great enjoyment from our garden," says Mrs. Wakefield. Lower left corner, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Klepper of Jamaica, Long Island. Mr. Klepper, age 69, was formerly an assistant chief in the New York City Water Department. He asserts that active outdoor retired life has reduced his weight from 258 to 165 pounds. "Coming to Florida literally saved my life," says Mr. Klepper, who started last winter in the annual annual play at the De Bary Mansion Club House, the Community Center. Lower right picture is Miss Lois B. Campbell, formerly a Pittsburgh High School teacher. Watering her flowers in her lovely garden, she says, "The cost of living down here is very gratifying. Entertaining is simple and not a drain on finances." At the lower right corner are Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Potter formerly of Moscow, Pa. Mr. Potter, who is 65 years old, spent 13 years in the accounting department of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad in Scranton, Pa. The Potter's hobby is a small stream of citrus trees, but they also like to fish in the Plantation Estates lake and both enjoy community life centering around the Mansion Club House. Mr. Potter, stressing the low cost of living in Central Florida, said, "We have no taxes and with the low upkeep on our home, we save on fuel and clothing to."

Singer In Symphony Is Stabbed To Death

BALTIMORE—A woman on the way to sing in a chorus with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra was stabbed to death last night by a man who attacked her as she was leaving her car.

Miss Leonard, 60-year-old veteran librarian, gasped out her story to police from a hospital bed before she died.

She said she had parked her car three blocks away from the Lyric Theatre, where she was to have sung in the chorus of "Manfred." A Negro approached her, said Miss Naylor, and demanded, "Money and your keys."

"Don't scream," she quoted the man as saying. "I didn't, and then he stabbed me. Then I screamed."

Parley Seekings

 Eisenhower had changed his attitude toward Wilson.

Byrd has come into the center of the maneuvering about the proposed appointment because (1) he is one of the leaders of Southern Democrats, and (2) he has made considerable study of the laws bearing on the situation.

Some persons had suggested that Wilson might become defense secretary if he disqualified himself from acting on contracts with General Motors.

Byrd disagreed, saying "my belief is he (the secretary of defense) can't be divested of authority granted by law."

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

But we can be in partnership with the owner. The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof. —
Ps. 24:1.

Out in California a woman testified that her husband hit her in the eye in an argument over the broil-ing of their steaks. Well, if she cooked them too well done she oughta been hit in the eye.

Technically speaking the United States was without a president for 32 minutes Tuesday, the period of time between the official expiration of Mr. Truman's term and the oath taking of General Eisenhower.

It is interesting to note that when the President of the United States takes his oath of office, he says,
"I do solemnly swear or affirm that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Despite the soaring prices for Florida oranges the world production of citrus fruit is expected to reach a new high of 402,000,000 boxes this season, according to the Department of Agriculture. Annual production has been increasing at the rate of 10,000,000 boxes a year for the past 15 years.

The St. Regis Paper Company has announced the start of production at its new mill in Jacksonville to turn out 100,000 tons of paper annually. With amazing swiftness the manufacture of paper and paper products is becoming one of the big industries of the South and of Florida.

In the midst of trying to get the paper out Tuesday someone called us and wanted to know what would happen if an atomic bomb were dropped in the middle of the inauguration ceremonies with all the retiring heads of government and all the incoming heads of government present. Well, the answer was that there would be an explosion, but we have a hunch the caller wanted to know in detail about all the direful consequences that would result to the country from such a catastrophe. This is a question we couldn't answer, not having given the subject much thought, preferring instead to enjoy our sleep at night leaving such baleful matters to the solution of someone suffering from insomnia.

Judge Irving Kaufman who sentenced Julius and Ethel Rosenberg to death for transmitting atomic secrets to Russia has been ordered to Florida for a rest because of strain incident to a "mounting campaign of vilification, abuse and pressure" against him in the case.
If the case had been reversed and a couple of Americans had been caught in Russia stealing Soviet secrets they would have been shot without trial. But if by a stretch of the imagination the case ever got to the courts, the decision of the judge would be only a formal one and there would be even a chance of appeal.

World Famous Diamonds

Virginia-born Lady Nancy Astor received one of the world's most famous diamonds by the will of her husband, the late Viscount Astor. This is the Sancy, named for a former owner. It is said to have been snatched from the body of Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy, who was killed in battle in 1477. Later it belonged to Queen Elizabeth I of England and after to Charles I and James II of England, and Louis XIV of France.

Still later it traveled to Germany, India and France, finally coming into the possession of the Astors. American money paid for it, for the Astor fortune goes back to the American fur trader, John Jacob Astor.

The most famous diamond is undoubtedly the Koh-i-noor, which after a long series of owners in India was given to Queen Victoria. Other notable stones belong to Indian princes, royalty and Western millionaires. The best known in the United States is the Hope diamond, which is greenish-blue and is the world's largest colored diamond. It, too, once belonged to Louis XIV.

In this century the Hope was the property of Edward B. McLean, Washington, D. C., newspaper owner. His widow sold it not long ago to a New York jewelry firm, which has exhibited it in some of our large cities. It is popularly supposed to bring bad luck, but that may be due to the familiar fact that people remember the misfortunes that happen to them and pass over their lucky occasions.

Britain's Leader

Winston Churchill, who celebrated his 78th birthday on ship coming for his visit, must find the tasks of peace less satisfying than those of war. Evenly distributing the burden of taxation may be as important as winning a battle, but is not so soul-stirring. This explains why Churchill has figured less often in the news than in the heroic days of the war.

The winning of the war is the achievement for which he will be longest remembered. For generations to come, Englishmen will repeat of him in substance what the historian Macaulay said of the elder Pitt, who saved England in the 18th century:

"That the national spirit rose to the emergency, that the national resources were contributed with unexampled cheerfulness, this was undoubtedly his work. The ardor of his soul had set the whole kingdom on fire. It inflamed every soldier who dragged the cannon up the heights of Quebec and every sailor who boarded the French ships among the rocks of Brittany. The Minister, before he had been long in office, had imparted to the commanders his own impetuous, adventurous and defying character. They, like him, were disposed to risk everything, to play double or quits to the last, to think nothing done while anything remained undone, to fail rather than not to attempt."

Can this spirit of Pitt and Churchill avert another war?

Hittite Mystery Cleared

The late Bedrich Hrozy, professor at the University of Prague and perhaps the most distinguished Czech since President Eduard Benes, opened a new chapter in the study of ancient history. Hrozy, an authority on early western Asia, achieved a solution to the mysterious writing of the ancient Hittites.

The Hittites are mentioned casually in the Old Testament along with the Amalekites, the Jebusites and others that end in -ites. Nothing in the references to them would suggest that they were one of the great ancient peoples, comparable with the Egyptians and the Babylonians.

Their inscriptions could not be read before Hrozy. Some were written in the cuneiform or wedge-shaped characters used by the Babylonians, some in a picture writing. Hrozy unraveled the secrets of cuneiform Hittite, and discovered that the Hittites were Aryans, akin to the Persians, Hindus, Slavs and Germanic peoples. Their inscriptions tell us of great kings such as Mursilis or Subiliumma, who met on terms of equality with the strongest rulers of Babylon and Egypt. They finally succumbed to the Assyrian conquerors.

The picture writing proved harder to interpret, but Hrozy made a good start. With more time he might well have completed its interpretation. But opening the door to a previously unknown civilization is glory enough for one man.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

I doubt if there is anything more forlorn looking than a fair ground between fairs. Like a short town, the huge empty buildings stand silently as streams of traffic whiz by on all sides, and no one even looks in their direction.

No flags or bunting adorn them, no lights or streamers outline their architectural forms — only silence echoes through their dust-laden interiors. The grounds they inhabit are likewise neglected and overgrown with grass and weeds that came like squatters to take possession where they might live undisturbed.

But lazy summers pass and another winter season rolls around. Fair grounds, long ignored, begin to have visitors. Doors long closed are opened. Artisans with tools and brushes appear. The sound of the saw and hammer rings through the empty halls. Bumping trucks that long have passed the door now stop and unload a variety of materials.

An army of laborers arrive and the grass and weeds disappear. Grimy windows are washed and polished. Sealey walls are scrubbed and painted. Mops and brooms are busy and all traces of neglect are gone. The smell of fresh paint prevails where the musty odor of neglect held sway. Life, busy and toiling, occupies these halls that for months knew only silence.

Another fair is in the making and like magic will be presented in all its glory to a vast horde of visitors who, enjoying themselves, have little knowledge of the work and effort that brought about the transformation in so short a time.

Unlike most states, Florida's fair season occurs in the winter. These magnificent show windows of Florida's growth, progress and development are the only ones that have a chance to be seen by the masses. Starting in January these exhibitions through and through are the only ones that have a chance to be seen by the masses.

Tampa's Court House Square to its present extensive set-up of 25 modern exhibition buildings and record-breaking attendance of a million visitors each year, work closely with other fairs and expositions such as the Florida Citrus Exposition in Winter Haven and the Central Florida Exposition in Orlando.

All serve a useful purpose and all do a sell job for Florida. The Florida State Fair is unique among fairs of the nation. It is not a department of the State, and instead of costing the State money, it has built up a million dollar plant that is the property of the taxpayer.

The 1953 Florida State Fair promises to set an all-time record for quality and character of its exhibit presentations. From Florida's amazing story so impressively and vividly told, no one can attend without gaining knowledge of the State's advances and resources which they never dreamed of.

Dates of the Florida State Fair this year are Feb. 3 to 14. Every minute of this 11-day period will be packed and jammed with events that will interest, entertain and educate everyone, young and old.

Frankly, I don't know of any event in Florida that offers the visitor so much fun as the State Fair. I don't know where anyone could have so much fun as at the Florida State Fair.

No matter what your tastes may be, you will find something to interest and entertain you. Twenty-five huge exhibition buildings packed with exhibits of every kind and character. A grandstand hippodrome program that tops anything you will find anywhere in the world. Football games such as state soccer, field hockey, and American soccer and water polo.

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The announcement that President Eisenhower will hold regular news conferences, as Presidents Roosevelt and Truman did, settles the rumor that he'd hold few or none at all.

Like Truman, Eisenhower in the beginning may pull boners trying to answer too much too fast. In his early White House days Truman tried to answer everything yes or no. He had to learn to be careful.

One memorable mistake was when he told a news conference he had approved a speech by Henry Wallace, then his secretary of commerce. This caused international confusion when the speech turned out to be one criticizing Truman's foreign policy.

Later Truman explained he merely meant to say he had supported Wallace's right to make a speech, not the speech itself. Sometimes Truman got his facts mixed up, then had to issue corrections.

There was a time, right after he got into the Wallace jam, when it was thought here Truman might call off the news conferences. But as he became more cautious and sure of himself he seemed to enjoy them.

If Eisenhower should put his foot in his mouth, or if he thinks the reporters' questions are a little too rough on him, he may get an inclination to drop the conference idea.

He's shown small enthusiasm for news conferences. He held few during the presidential campaign and none since the election except for one in Korea where he wouldn't permit questions.

Overdone. "No comment" could make news conferences useless. It must be assumed any president who holds conferences at all will answer what he can within limits of courtesy and security.

A president isn't doing newsmen a favor by holding conferences. Without them, he could become isolated from, and insulated against, public thinking in a hurry.

News conferences let him pump his ideas out to the public regularly, and give him the benefit of public reaction. At the same time, through the newsmen, the public can quiz him on his decisions and intentions.

News conferences are the way to keep the President and the people from getting too far apart and out of step.

Eisenhower seems to realize, before holding even his first White House conference, that he can't be expected to know in detail the answer to all the questions flung at him.

His press secretary, James Hagerty, said yesterday Eisenhower may bring into the conference with him members of his Cabinet, the department heads, who can help answer questions.

In Britain the Prime Minister and his Cabinet have to answer questions put to them in Parliament by the members of the House of Commons.

From time to time it has been suggested here that the President and his Cabinet follow the British custom by appearing before Congress to answer questions from the floor.

Nothing like that is in sight here. The plan Hagerty mentioned would be the closest approach to it. But Cabinet members here usually have held their own news conferences, individually, although not regularly, except for the secretary of state. Dean Acheson had more news conferences than any other member of Truman's Cabinet.

Folk County Child Object Of Search

BRUNSWICK — Folk County officers continued today in their search for the 10-year-old boy who was last seen in the yard of the J. T. Patterson home here Monday.

Deputy Sheriff J. T. Fillyaw said the blond-eyed, blonde little boy went missing with a man who has been in an alley.

The only witness, a little girl, said she saw the boy and a man who looked like the man who had been brought here Monday.

Half Of States In Nation Are Feeling Influenza Effects

By The Associated Press

Flu—or what feels like flu—has spread into more than half the 48 states but the outbreaks so far generally have been mild.

The Army, a state university, a steel company and some local officials have taken steps to combat the infections with influenza vaccine.

A nationwide survey by the Associated Press showed that the bulk of the cases are out of the central part of the nation and that Texas, Tennessee and Arkansas have been particularly hard hit.

Texas reported from 200,000 to 250,000 flu cases. Arkansas had the greatest number of cases of upper respiratory infections in its history.

The Eastern and Western states were comparatively free of outbreaks, although Florida reported some schools closed to prevent the further spread of an influenza-like disease.

The Army is giving flu vaccine to the troops in Korea, Europe and at ports of embarkation for those countries. An outbreak of flu in Bavaria this week resulted in nine deaths at Munich, filled the city's hospitals and closed 27 school rooms.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. announced it is giving flu shots to its 44,000 employees in Pittsburgh, Allegheny, Pa., and Cleveland mills, at its New York and Michigan ore mines and at various fabricating plants throughout the country. The treatments are voluntary.

In Ohio, where the incidence so far is low, Ohio State University is planning a voluntary flu immunization program to run through next week.

Vaccine also was administered at the Syracuse (N. Y.) School for Mental Defectives and at the Cook County Jail in Chicago.

The reports indicate at least one type flu bug — A-prime — is responsible for some of the outbreaks. Some health authorities believe several types of minor virus infections are involved in school shutdowns or heavy absenteeism in several parts of the country.

Dr. A. M. Washburn, head of the Communicable Diseases Department of the Arkansas Board of Health, said the outbreak "definitely is an epidemic" in that state. He added it is difficult to determine which cases are true influenza.

George Cox, state health officer in Texas, said the flu outbreak in that state is the worst since World War I. He added that the disease is about at its peak and should

Inmates Of Mental Institution Escape

KINGS PARK, N. Y. — Seven-teen male patients early today escaped the way out of Kings Park State Hospital, a mental institution, and 11 were reported recaptured within a few hours.

A police alarm described the 17 "escapees." A staff physician at the hospital, Dr. Murray Rossman, classed them as "mentally disturbed" but he declined to state in what degree.

The holding patients wrecked all the furnishings of their second-floor ward. One chased a doctor with a broken piece of a bed. The fire attendants on duty in the ward escaped harm.

The patients, quartered in a room with barred windows, broke down the door to a corridor and ran out into a snow and sleet storm.

Two were caught on the hospital grounds, and nine others within a few miles from here — some at Long Island Rail Road stations. All submitted without a struggle.

Mrs. Louis Gaskins, Hamlet, N. Y., was visiting Patterson.

Mrs. Gaskins said the boy's father, James Patterson, brought home to play with the Gaskins family while he was working for Gaskins and left him there when he took another job three years ago.

Court Rules Eating Places May Refuse Service To Negroes

WASHINGTON — The U. S. Court of Appeals, dividing 3 to 4, ruled today that eating places in the capital may refuse service to Negroes.

The majority held that laws passed by the legislative assembly in 1872 and 1873 against racial discrimination cannot be enforced for these major reasons:

1. The anti-discrimination laws weren't valid in the first place.
2. Since they were so enforced for 78 years, they can only be put into execution now by legislative action.

The case grew out of the refusal of a John R. Thompson restaurant to serve Negroes. Municipal authorities argued that the 18th century law required that they be served.

The case is expected to reach the Supreme Court ultimately. If the Court of Appeals decision stands, the operators of Washington eating places may continue to serve or not serve Negroes as they choose.

Variety Of Weather Felt Over Country

By The Associated Press
There was a variety of weather, but no intense cold-across the nation today.

Snow, rain, sleet, and dust storms were reported in various parts of the country. But there also was mild weather in the far Southwest and South and a little colder air pushed across the Canadian border.

Light snow fell in the northern parts of the upper Mississippi Valley and southern parts of New England. Strong northerly winds whipped the snow in the northern Plains. But stronger northerly winds resulted in blowing dust in the Texas Panhandle with gusts to 75 miles an hour reducing visibility to a half mile at Dalhart, Tex.

There was considerable fog early today across the Great Lakes, the middle and upper Mississippi Valleys and the Ohio Valley. Drizzle western New York and the upper Mississippi Valley.

Warmer air from the western Gulf region extended to the Great Lakes area but colder weather was in prospect for most of the north central region.

Although the unaided eye can see only about 6,000 stars on a clear night, the largest telescopes aided by photography can identify hundreds of millions of stars.

'High Noon' Is Choice Of Movie Critic Poll

By GENE HANDBAKER
HOLLYWOOD'S "High Noon" was a nationwide Associated Press poll of movie critics to pick the best film released nationally in 1952.

"The Quiet Man" is a close second.

Other top winners in the second annual contest were "The Quiet Man," member newspapers and radio stations:

Best performance by an actress in a starring role—Miss Booth in "Come Back Little Sheba."

Best supporting-actor performance—Barry Fitzgerald in "The Quiet Man."

Best supporting-actress performance—Thelma Ritter in "With a Song in My Heart."

The poll, representing a cross-section of national opinion, brought 196 ballots from cities large and small.

The 47 votes for "High Noon" were closely followed by 40 for "The Quiet Man." Next came "The Greatest Show on Earth," 22; "The Snows of Kilimanjaro," 12; and "Quo Vadis" and "Ivanhoe," 7 each.

The top five winners in each of the other categories:

Starring actor—Cooper in "High Noon"; Gregory Peck in "The Snows of Kilimanjaro," 21; Marlon Brando in "Viva Zapata!"; Sir Laurence Olivier in "Carrie," 12; Ray Milland in "The Third Man."

Starring actress—Miss Booth in "Sheba," 38; Joan Crawford in "Sudden Fear," 28; Susan Hayward in "With a Song in My Heart," 27; Betty Hutton in "The Greatest Show on Earth," 9. Fifth place was a four-way tie, with 6 votes each, among Elizabeth Taylor in "Ivanhoe," Katharine Hepburn in "Pat and Mike," and Ava Gardner in "The Snows of Kilimanjaro."

Fitzgerald, as the quaint Irishman in "The Quiet Man," swept the supporting-actor field. His 58 votes matched Cooper's decisive total among male stars.

Runners-up among supporting actors were Peter Ustinov in "Quo Vadis," 15; Victor McLaglen in "The Quiet Man," 11; Arthur Hunnicutt in "The Big Sky" and Leo Gann in "Quo Vadis," 7 each; James Stewart in "The Greatest Show on Earth," 6; and William Powell in "My Six Convicts," 5 each.

Civic Department Sponsors Interesting Museum Tea And Elects Its Officers

One of the most outstanding exhibits was viewed yesterday afternoon by about 350 adults and school children when the Civic Department of the Sanford Woman's Club entertained with a museum tea. Most of the items displayed were collector's pieces including the beautiful Florentine furniture and wrought iron fixtures of the 1500s, 1600s, and 1700s of the General Sanford collection. Only a small part of the collection was displayed and these included the heavy walnut Italian furniture and hand wrought iron lighting fixtures with beautiful colored glass.

Forming another outstanding portion of the display were the collections of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Ness. Mrs. Van Ness was present to explain the beautiful pieces entered by her. She was a member of the Austrian royal household for many years and had on display many interesting keepsakes gathered during her stay with the Austrian royal family. They include long, white kid gloves worn by Princess Louise at King Edward's wedding and hairpins worn by her at the same event. She also displayed Handmade Italian lace sleeves, cushion lace, needle lace, authentic Hungarian caps and handkerchiefs.

Church Of Nazarene Plans Youth Week

In co-operation with the General Church, the Church of the Nazarene is planning a full an interesting program for the Youth of Sanford during Youth Week, which starts Jan. 25. The pastor from Orlando, the Rev. Don Irwin, who is a successful young preacher, will get things off to a good beginning.

Tuesday night the Rev. Robert Spear of Titusville, pastor of Nazarene Church there, will speak to the youth on a subject of great interest. Wednesday night a sing-along is well planned so that all will enjoy themselves. Thursday night the Rev. Veidon Dobbs of Daytona Beach who has just finished his preparation for the ministry, will be the guest speaker.

Then on Friday night an all out zone rally with all the churches on the Orlando Zone invited to join for a great Rally is planned ending with a social gathering with something to eat and a time of real Christian Fellowship.

Substantial gains in every phase of international work of the Church of the Nazarene were reflected in year-end statistics released today by Dr. S. F. Ludwig, general secretary of the denomination, which maintains its headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Setting the pace of progress was the amount given by members for all purposes—nearly $30 million, or $117.97 per capita. This is $6,000 more than the per capita donations of the previous year. During 1932 membership climbed to 250,000, a gain of 3.3 per cent. The report also lists 3,888 established churches in the U. S., Canada, and the British Isles, 151 of these being organized during the year.

The Sunday-School organization showed even larger gains, reporting 621,000 enrolled. This is an increase of 4.3 per cent over last year and more than twice as many as listed for church membership. The church now has 262 missionaries and 950 native workers on 25 foreign fields. Fifty-two of these missionaries were commissioned this past year, the largest number ever to be appointed in a single year.

The local Church is located on the corner of Maple Avenue and Second Street. The Pastor, the Rev. L. R. Rushton, has been the Pastor now for over seven years, during which time much progress has been made.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Park Avenue and Third Street Bernard Root, Minister 10:00 a. m. Sunday School 11:00 a. m. Morning Worship Sermon: "The Perplexing Christ." "What Shall We Do With Jesus?" Benjamin E. Mays "Approxima" and nine hundred years ago a Jew of Palestine hung on a cross, dying between two thieves, because He dreamed a dream—that all men are sons of God, and when we hurt man we hurt God. Some blind day a stupid world will rise to the divinity of God, and acknowledge Jesus as Lord. Then the nations of the earth will know that armies, navies, battlefleets and machine guns, air-planes and submarines will never bring peace to a suffering world. And that the acquisitions of political, material, and commercial powers are not permanent possessions but are as the vapors of night. They fade and die in the morning of reality."

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST Seventh Street and Elm Avenue K. E. Menzinger, Pastor Church Service 11:00 a.m. Saturday. Sabbath School 9:30 a.m. Mrs. H. Buckner, superintendent. Prayer Meeting Wednesday 8:00 p.m. Visitors are welcome.

Please bring sandwiches. 8:30 p.m. Senior High Fellowship. 7:30 p.m. Evening Worship. Sermon— Mr. Melville.

The whole world loves them—because they love each other. Their happiness is contagious; everyone rejoices with them. But, as the world gets used to their being engaged, folks will begin to take them for granted. Their months of planning and preparation will pass unnoticed until the invitations go out. Quietly, the bride-and-groom-to-be will be searching for a home, buying furniture, planning their wedding and honeymoon, making scores of important decisions together. One of those decisions is likely to concern the Church they will attend. More and more today, young couples recognize the importance of building religious convictions into their marriage. The adjustments which their new life will demand, and the problems they expect to face together point the value of a mutual faith in God, and a common devotion to Christian ideals.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH. The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Soldier's Life Is Better Protected In Korea Than In Any Other Conflict

BY SAM SUMMERLIN
TOKYO 23—The Army's top surgeon today said soldiers in Korea have a better chance of not being wounded—or of living if wounded—than fighters in any other comparable conflict.

Maj. Gen. George E. Armstrong in a news conference reviewed dramatic strides in research which are saving lives and limbs at the battlefield.

Armstrong, Army surgeon general, leaves Tokyo tomorrow for Washington after a tour of Korea, Japan and Okinawa.

The two-star general described new treatments for the wounded—radioactive iodine for transplanted arteries which may cut amputations by 70 per cent, an intricate artificial kidney to lessen dialysis from severe shock and a "most encouraging" trial substitute for blood plasma, dextran.

Armstrong expressed a belief that the new armament vest will affect for the first time in 20 years the 1 to 4 ratio between killed and wounded in battle.

The general also had good news for Korea's most fatal disease, hemorrhagic fever, sometimes called "Manchurian fever."

July and December, Armstrong said, are the peak periods. In the last month the rate was smaller, both in the number of cases—about 200—and percentage of deaths. He noted, however, that while the Army "knows something about treatment" of this fever, it still has not determined the agent for the disease or how it is transmitted.

Armstrong said the percentage of wounded who die after getting medical attention is a normal 25 per cent.

But "a remarkable number of men wounded are returned to duty—approximately 87 per cent."

The general also noted tremendous strides in combat fatality. In World War II, he said, psychiatric cases caused the most casualties. Korea, they are down in the bucket.

Armstrong reported "amazing advances" in research in the past year. "At one time," he said, "the severance of a major artery caused amputation if not loss of life."

But today, he went on, "it would appear" that these advances in research may prevent "70 per cent of the amputations of limbs previously required because of major blood vessel injury."

Armstrong said the new method involves clamping a piece of vein from a patient to link a badly severed artery. After many such operations, he said soldiers are returned to duty although not to combat.

Armstrong described a new device for fusing compound fractures. He explained that a long "intra-medullary pin" about half as thick as a person's little finger, is driven lengthwise inside a bone and gives a complete solution.

"This treatment," he said, "can make a wounded man mobile within a matter of hours."

President Eisenhower

"Don't do that to me," Secretary of Labor Durkin rushed by, declaring "I have nothing to tell you" in response to the same question.

When Nixon came along he was asked: Is the policy to be that no one who participates in Cabinet meetings is to discuss what goes on, even as to general subject matter?

"That's the understanding," the Vice President replied. Nixon said an understanding as to a rule of silence was reached when Eisenhower met with his Cabinet in New York before his inauguration.

To a "How did it go?" Mutual Security Administration Harold E. Stassen responded: "Fine."

Postmaster General Arthur E. Sommerfield told reporters to see Wilson after removing the apparent big obstacle to his becoming secretary of defense was nominated last night to fill that remaining post in the Eisenhower Cabinet.

The Senate promptly moved to give Wilson a hearing preparatory to White House approval predicted by a number of influential senators.

President Eisenhower formally named the former president of the defense industry as the new secretary of defense in the Truman administration, the White House said, Wilson volunteered to dispose of his GM stock.

Wilson's retention of a financial interest in the company had aroused strong opposition in the Senate. Eisenhower, however, left out the defense secretaryship when he submitted the names of his other Cabinet choices on Tuesday.

Eisenhower's formal nomination of Wilson, announced at 7:25 last night, at least brought to a head of the nominations of limbs previously required because of major blood vessel injury.

The brief announcement by White House Secretary James C. Haverly said: "The president has sent to the Senate the nomination of Charles Wilson, former president of General Motors, to be secretary of defense."

Wilson visited the President this evening and volunteered his intention to dispose of all his stock in General Motors.

Former Rep. Eaton Dies in Washington

WASHINGTON 23—Former Rep. Charles A. Eaton of New Jersey, one-time chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, died today. He was 81.

Eaton died at 2:30 a. m. at his Washington apartment. He had been in failing health for some time and chose not to run for reelection last year. He completed his 14th consecutive term in Congress Jan. 3.

Long a ranking figure in foreign affairs, Eaton was a delegate to the founding conference of the United Nations in 1945 and later served as a United States delegate to the U. N.

Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee in the Republican-controlled 80th Congress of 1947-48.

15 Year Old Boy Shoots Self For Girl

WASHINGTON 23—A 15-year-old high school freshman fatally shot himself yesterday after being jilted by his 13-year-old girl friend, Michael Eugene Adkins, sister Linda, 12, found him dying in the family apartment when she came home in the afternoon.

A pistol was on the floor nearby. One shot had been fired. Detective Sgt. Lionel Couture and Clarence R. Winemiller said Michael's girl friend had come to the apartment about 10 minutes before the shooting and told him all was off between them. She asked for the return of her photographs.

The officers said Michael showed the gun to the girl and told her she should shoot him if she broke with him, but she left believing he wouldn't do it. They did not identify the girl.

TAX EVASION

JACKSONVILLE 23—An audit of the books of Philip Berkovitz for 1946 is expected to be the center of attention today in his trial on charges of evading income taxes. The Bartow department store and citrus grove owner is accused of reporting only $5,000.00 income and paying $22.35 taxes for 1946 when his income, the government claims, was actually $101,841.34 and he owed $63,456.08 taxes.

The trial is expected to go to the 12-man Federal Court jury Monday.

Janet Gaynor and Dale Robertson are co-starring with Dennis Day and James Barton in the beautiful technical musical, "Golden Girl" showing at the Movieland Hide-In Theater Sunday and Monday.

Kirk Douglas and Lana Turner drink a toast in this scene from MGM's "The Band Wagon" showing at the Ritz Theater screen Sunday and Monday.

Sanford Industries

...and its leadership to make Sanford "industry conscious" and to bring new navvies to Sanford.

Judge Douglas Stenstrom, "President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce,"

General Hutchison's letter was as follows:

"I have been reading with considerable interest what the local papers have had to say regarding the Sanford Industrial Board."

"I think the idea of the Industrial Board is splendid and should have the whole-hearted cooperation of the people of this community."

"Our city is ideally located and an organization such as you visualize is needed to attract industry to Sanford."

"Sincerely,
"J. C. Hutchison"
Mr. Vaughan wrote Mr. Cowan as follows:

"I am dropping you a line to express my interest in the "Keep Sanford Growing" drive, and to congratulate the Industrial Committee for promoting the drive. We need industry in Sanford, and we believe that you are on the right track to obtain it. It is going to take real enthusiasm—hit hard, and hit every day, to get the best results!"

"The most important thing is for Sanford to have something to offer industry. Let me assure the Industrial Committee of our complete co-operation at all times."

"Yours very truly,
"Sherman Concrete Pipe Co.
"Thomas A. Vaughan, Mgr."

Plan Seeks To Avert Loss Of TV Channels

GAINESVILLE 23—A conference to discuss a plan to avert the loss by nine Florida cities of TV channels allocated to them for cultural and educational use has been called by Gov. McCarry.

The meeting will be held at the University of Florida, Feb. 15 and 16. TV leaders in the state, educators and interested citizens have been invited.

George L. Critcher, member of the extension division staff who will serve as conference co-ordinator, said the channels, set aside by the Federal Communications Commission for one year, will revert to commercial availability June 2 unless evidence of intention to use them is demonstrated.

Cities affected are Pensacola, Panama City, Tallahassee, Gainesville, Jacksonville, St. Petersburg, Orlando, West Palm Beach and Miami.

There are about 100 kinds of guns or all his citrus sales to his bookkeeper at that time, Walter G. Howard.

DEAD MAN KEY

WASHINGTON 23—The Interior Department is opposed to private leasing of Dead Man Key, a small island off the Gulf Coast of Florida.

The Fish and Wildlife Service, a branch of the department, has advised Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) of its opposition.

Smathers in December sent the service a communication he received from an individual who desired to lease the Key for fishing and other recreational purposes.

Dead Man Key is one of the islands of the Cedar Keys National Wildlife Refuge off Levy County and an "integral feature of the refuge."

Ancient healing rites often attempted to transfer disease from a man to a tree.

Ike To Make State Of Union Talk Monday

President Goes Over Subject Matter For Message With Congressional Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) announced to the Senate today that General Motors has agreed to make a cash settlement with Charles E. Wilson instead of selling him additional stock he is due to receive as a bonus for past services.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will deliver his State of the Union message before a joint session of Congress at 12:30 p. m. (EST) next Monday. House Speaker Joseph W. Martin announced the date after a conference of the President and his congressional leaders.

They were in session one hour and 55 minutes.

"We had a very interesting conference with the President," Martin said. "We went over all the matters he will treat in his State of the Union message."

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) observed "We can't say exactly what they were because that would be giving away the game."

Under the Eisenhower early-involvement plan, the White House will get under way promptly at 8:30 a. m.

Sitting in with the congressional leaders, Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon were Sherman Adams, top assistant to the President, and Maj. Gen. Wilton Persons, in charge of liaison with Congress in the new administration.

Series Of Traffic Accidents Result In Some Arrests

Trees and parked vehicles were involved in a series of traffic accidents in Sanford Friday night and Saturday, which resulted in injury to one driver and the arrest of four motorists.

At 12:30 a. m. on Friday night, a 1948 Buick Wildcat, driven by James J. Brown, 51, Sanford Naval Air Station, received a cut on the head and was arrested on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated as it struck a tree on Friday night at Mellonville Avenue and Twenty-fourth Street in which the car was driving struck two trees, according to a police report.

At 1:30 a. m. on Saturday, a 1948 Buick was going north on Mellonville Avenue, the report states, struck a tree on the east side of the street and veered across the street and struck a tree in the yard in front of 2518 Mellonville Avenue. Damage to the car, a 1934 Ford coupe, was set at $200.

The driver was taken to the Navy Station by the Navy shore patrol. Capt. Roy Tillis of the Sanford Police Department investigated the mishap.

Bobby Wright, 30, 1112 Maple Avenue, was arrested on a charge of careless and negligent driving after his car early Saturday morning struck a tree at French Avenue and Eighteenth Street, which was the result of a mishap in which the car was driving struck a parked truck on the east (opposite) side of French Avenue, veered across the street and hit a sign at the Maryland drive-in, and finally ended against another tree on the same (west) side of the street, after going a total of 210 feet from the point of original impact.

Damage to the 1948 Plymouth sedan he was driving was set at $400. The truck, which had been (Continued on Page Six)

Industrial Plan Is Told Rotarians By Milton Blanck

Central Florida Is Seen As Having Excellent Opportunity

Declaring that Orlando would back Sanford's proposed industrial park 100 percent, Milton Blanck, manager of the Orlando Industrial Board, told the Rotary Club today that if all Central Florida cities would establish similar boards, new industries could be brought to Central Florida that would be able to handle by itself.

Such industrial boards would give Central Florida a planned industrial economy, he said, and would result in full year-around employment, new money in each community, and invaluable training opportunities for young people seeking industrial skills.

Mr. Blanck was introduced by George Tandy who had charge of the Rotary program and who also introduced Ralph Cowan, chairman of the Sanford Industrial Committee, and head of the drive to raise funds for the purpose of bringing in new industries.

Mr. Blanck said that there has been a steady movement of industry to the south ever since the war ended, but that Florida has failed to get its fair share because it has not gone after them. He said that the other states of the South had put to work more (Continued on Page Six)

Final Efforts Are Made To Show Public Importance Of Industries

By HOH SMITH
This will be the last week of the intensive effort to create in Sanford an industrial board which may talk effectively with business prospects who want to settle in Sanford. This statement comes from none other than Ralph Cowan, chairman of the Sanford Industrial Committee, who has been conducting the campaign for funds.

It is Mr. Cowan's opinion that "business men and other citizens of the city will make up every effort by that time to give Sanford the big push it needs to put it over the top in this drive, or they will show that the majority required to make the committee effective will not develop and everyone can make up his mind to settle back on his hammock, realize that the city is doomed to watch the means of progress go by and be content to reside and do business in a city buried in the dust of inertia."

According to the chairman of the fund raising committee, every effort is being made to give citizens here all the information essential to their forming an opinion on the topic. "The press and the radio have been more than eager to tell the people all of the developments and even have editorialized on the importance of the matter so that the people may know," said the First Street merchant. "In addition we have invited to Sanford men who may speak with authority on the subject so that every one may have the benefit of their experience." Mr. Cowan continued.

Saturday night the chairman paced the floor at the Glory City Printing plant while the crew worked overtime to turn out handbills that point up to everyone in Sanford the importance of supporting this progressive effort. As they came off the press, the impatient Cowan scabbled a handbill, then and dashed to the First Street drug store with them and asked that no customer be allowed to leave the store without a chance to read one of them.

Back to the print shop he went to get a new supply of the handbills, the ink still wet, and out Sanford Avenue he went to the stores that were still open, and still busy with the night crowd, to get the message and prompted to "get on the band wagon for a real Sanford." Mr. Cowan did not get a new supply of handbills until after 11 p. m. (Continued on Page Six)

Troy Cribb Opens Driver Is Placed Under Arrest When Crash Victim Dies

A 27-year-old sailor has been placed under technical arrest on a charge of manslaughter as a result of the county's most held fatal day in the death of Louise Churchill, 18, Sanford Negroess.

The accused, James Bogatz, stationed at Cecil Field, Jacksonville, was to appear in Circuit Court today on an additional charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Police Chief Roy Williams said the manslaughter charge was brought against him in Circuit Court, W. Hugh Duncan, Justice of Peace, said.

The charged woman was fatal in a truck accident at Park Avenue and Thirteenth Street, in which five other persons also were injured.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the victim came to her death in an automobile accident through the "negligence" of Mr. Bogatz.

Other witnesses who testified were Joe Hickson, Sanford police patrolman; Henry Burton Jr., driver of the pick-up truck involved in the fatal accident; James A. Patton, sailor from BNAS involved in the mishap; Porter Chappell, 720 Pine Avenue, also involved in the accident; and J. O. "Bill" Galloway, constable. Lawrence M. Ormsby, BNAS sailor, also was to appear at a witness but his condition prohibited his appearance.

Reds Believed To Have Completed Bomber Buildup

Russians Now Speeding Work On Air Fields In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Nathan F. Twining, vice chief of staff of the Air Force, said today the Russians are believed to have completed the buildup of their long range bomber force and to be planning now to provide it with faster planes.

Twining said in an address prepared for the American Legion Security Commission that the Russian Air Force now contains about 1,000 long range medium bombers similar to the American B-29.

"This long range bomber force is now so big that we expect they will be able to supply it with fuel and other planes rather than to increase its size," Twining said. "In all other types the Russians are replacing their old piston engine combat aircraft with jets."

Further, the communists are building air fields as fast as they can and are now more than 100 in number. (Continued on Page Six)

Two U.S. Jet Aces Republicans Cast Do Their Job And Jaundiced Eye On Leave For Home Postmaster Jobs

Overton Makes New Record For Quick Downgrading Of MIGs

SEATTLE — Two American jet aces who shot down eight MIGs in four days are scheduled to start home tomorrow.

Capt. Cecil Foster, leading jet ace still in Korea, and Capt. Bud pine Overton III, who reached ace status in the shortest time on record, have completed their combat tour.

A normal tour of combat duty is 180 missions, after which a pilot is eligible for rotation home. Some fly on voluntarily, others return.

Foster and Overton are jet aces. Nov. 23 and 24 of the 26 pilots who have reached that status in Korea Overton had flown 115 missions in fighter-bomber and strike before scoring any MIGs. Then in four missions Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday he downed five MIGs and damaged another.

A pilot becomes an ace when he has destroyed five enemy planes. Foster destroyed nine MIGs and damaged two Thursday and downed two more Friday. Both pilots had scores with the MIGs before.

"I'm glad it's over," said Overton. "I want to go back home to Andrews, S. C." for a rest.

Overton has the honor of being the first American to shoot down a MIG in Korea. After home leave he will be assigned to Dow Air Force Base, Hanscom, Mass., where he will fly F-84 Thunderjets.

After downing his ninth MIG Friday, said he wanted to make "a little rest" but today he said "Ten kills would have made me feel good, but not as good as going home. I'm satisfied to leave it at nine and get back to my wife and kids."

Foster's wife Margaret and four children live at San Antonio, Tex. He is a son of C. L. Foster of Moultrie, Mich.

SEATTLE — Five North Korean war prisoners escaped from a POW camp in South Korea and were captured by Japanese police on Fushima Island yesterday, a spokesman for the U. S. POW command at Pusan said today.

The spokesman said he did not know how they escaped. But the commandant on Pusan said:

Question Of Repealing Civil Service Tenure Is Studied

WASHINGTON — House Republicans, shy on patronage for 20 years, are casting a jaundiced eye at a law which bars them from control of thousands of postmaster jobs.

The law, enacted 15 years ago when Democrats were calling the shots, had the effect of giving postmasters lifetime civil service tenure. It didn't bother the Republicans at the time because as the party out of power, they were not able to reward the politically faithful with patronage jobs.

But it's different now that a Republican occupies the White House and the GOP controls Congress.

Normally, postmaster appointments are the patronage of House members of the dominant party in control of the districts with no House members of the dominant party, senators of state political committees are considered.

Postmaster appointments about the only characteristically House members have, and many Republicans don't like the idea of being barred from controlling them.

"I don't think Republicans are saying what they intend to do about it. But privately they are considering repeal of the law."

"We are studying the situation," said Chairman Herschel Kaut of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee. He said he opposed the 1937 law blocking postmasters under Civil Service.

So did House Republican leader Hallett of Indiana, who claimed he opposed the law because it put the jobs on a merit basis. During 20 years of Democratic administration, he said, it had apparently been completely ignored.

Aged Midway Negro Dies In Hospital Following Beating

The death of a Negro was mourned in a condition of death after being in the hospital an estimated week. The death and he was taken to the Orange Memorial Hospital, Orlando, by Mrs. E. M. Anderson, who is a member of the Orange Memorial Hospital.

The death was reported by a neighbor on Saturday, Jan. 17, when he was returning from a store with a pack and the deputy related. The report was on the way along with some false rumors.

Neighbors became alarmed Friday and summoned the old man's daughter, Lucille Robinson, who lives on the west side of Sanford. The house was looted when the investigation was made. Deputy E. M. Anderson said the victim was lying on the floor against a door, with an open pocket knife in his hand. A local physician gave the opinion he had been severely beaten. The system was being on top of a room of outer measure. The deputy said about 412 were found.

Increase Of $51,000 Is Left To Stand; No Salaries Raised And Some Are Cut

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Dan McCarty today sliced $118,600 off the budget requests Fuller Warren made for him before the administration changed.

The new 1953 requests submitted to the State Budget Commission by McCarty call for an increase of $51,000 over the budget for running the governor's office and mansion for the current two-year period.

Warren had suggested an increase of $170,000 for the first biennium of the McCarty administration.

McCarty's administrative assistant, Warren Blackmon, said most of the increase requested by the new governor would result from bringing into the governor's regular office budget the salaries of all his employees. Some of Gov. Warren's employees draw pay from other state departments and appropriations and were not shown on his own budget.

"We have reduced certain salaries and we haven't increased any," Blackmon commented. He said the $25,000 annual contingent fund would be reserved for emergency and unusual expenditures. Gov. Warren had several employees who drew regular salaries from the contingent fund.

McCarty is asking a total appropriation of $45,000 for the two years. The current appropriation is $26,000 and Gov. Warren had suggested $32,000.

Warren also proposed salaries of $9,150 for two executive assistants, which is $4,200 less than in his office were getting although one of them got part of it from the State Road Department.

McCarty's request calls for two at the salary of $4,000 each. McCarty had suggested $3,600 for his personal secretary. Warren was paying $1,500 and had proposed that amount be budgeted for the next two years.

Warren budgeted pay raises for several employees of the office and asked funds for a new $3,600 secretary position. McCarty cut all the employees back to the great salaries and struck out the request for the new job.

McCarty asked for $35,800 to run the mansion, which is $2,000 more than the current appropriation. Blackmon said it includes small charges for mansion servants. Gov. Warren had suggested boosting the mansion allowance from $34,000 to $38,160.

Conference On Care Of Aged Is Begun At U. Of F.

GAINESVILLE — A conference from which the State of Florida hopes to learn more about taking care of the old folks who form nearly 10 per cent of its population, opened at the University of Florida today.

The third annual Southern Conference on Gerontology is devoted to exploring the medical needs of people over 65. Its theme, "Florida Plans for a Healthy Senior Citizen."

One of the major questions the conference will discuss is whether a medical student who plans to become a general practitioner should study geriatrics (medical care of the aged) or whether it should be a field for specialists.

The University, which hopes to have a state medical school some day, is particularly interested in finding out how much attention that school should give to geriatrics.

Previous conferences have made a general study of the problems which arise with age. They have emphasized the need of making oldsters feel they still are valuable members of society and the desirability of light occupations in which they can engage if they wish.

The conference, to which deans of all Southern medical schools have been invited, closes Tuesday after a luncheon session during which findings of the conferees will be summarized.
