

State Market Managers Hold Meeting Here

Continued From Page One... Strict inspection and grading with a state label to insure the quality of the product will help establish and maintain a higher and more stabilized price for farm products and assure the producer the greatest possible net returns, the Market Director asserted.

A more complete utilization of the facilities of the markets for the producers of various commodities over the state was urged. It was pointed out that many farm industries operated in a haphazard manner over the state, could be centralized through co-operation with the State Market system.

Mr. Wilson stated that the State Market system is in its infancy and that through the co-operation of the farmers with the market system great progress could be assured during the next few years.

Charles Korley, agriculture counsel for the Florida State Chain Store Association, stated that Florida raised 16 percent of the entire amount of produce marketed in the United States, and pointed out that a systematic marketing system is essential for the efficient marketing of this enormous amount of produce.

Julia Mae Sampley, assistant to Mr. Wilson, pointed out the value of marketing curios made from Florida's natural products. She displayed many articles made of shells, pine straw, palmetto, coconuts, and numerous other things found in Florida. She believes that there will be a ready market for these products for those who can make them.

JACK McDOWELL, HEAD COACH—ALEX WAITE, LINE COACH. If Coaches Jack McDowell and Alex Waite seem to be in a happy mood in this shot it is probably because of the rejuvenation which the Rollins Tars showed when they rode roughshod over Wolf College, an SIAA rival, with a 57 to 0 score last Saturday night.

YALE COMPLETES A PASS

Clint Frank Yale's star back (foreground) heaves a pass to End Miller who barely caught it on his fingertips as the New Haven battle between the Elis and Dartmouth progressed into the fourth quarter. But the completed pass failed to score, for MacLeod (53) Dartmouth back, drove Miller out of bounds three yards short of the goal line. The contest ended in a 9 to 9 tie.

Shells Burst Close To U. S. Ship Augusta

Thousands of Chinese students lined the cemetery walls during the burial service and later paraded Shinghai streets with banners, "Long live our British friends!"

The Japanese command's heavy expenditure of men to force the passage of Soochow creek was believed by military men to support reports that reinforcements are being rushed from Japan to the Shanghai battle area.

An American observer behind the Chinese lines reported several American and British homes had been hit in the heavy Japanese bombardments of the Hungjiao area. These homes were evacuated last week.

In north China the Japanese reported minor gains in the drive on Taiyuanfu, capital of Shensi, and renewed activity in north Honan province, where a Chinese assault was thrown back and 400 Chinese killed. The Japanese said they were ready to take Changtze, north Honan city, at any time.

At the edge of the new Chinese-Japanese battlefield west of the settlement big Union Jacks fluttered above a line of British outposts.

When Japanese commanders warned that they must bombard Chinese positions close to the British lines and urged the British to withdraw, the British commander, Maj. Gen. A. P. D. Telfer-Smollett, declined and ordered the flags raised.

Davis Refuses Presidency Of 9-Power Meet

Continued From Page One... A high authority told The Associated Press last night that Japan's official recommendation to the Brussels conference on the Far Eastern conflict would be to end the conference as quickly as possible and get Japan and China to begin direct peace negotiations.

The informed Japanese source described Japan as fearful of the conference, eager to find an amicable solution, might merely add to the bitterness of the oriental crisis.

PASS RECEIVER BITES THE TURF

This posture looks like a sitting-up exercise, but it is really a portrait of Maryland's pass receiver, Budkos, after he had snagg'd a particularly elusive toss in the first quarter of the Maryland-Florida game at College Park, Md. Maryland stopped Florida's powerful drive in the fourth quarter to win 13 to 7.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Informed officials at the agriculture department said today that the government will lend 50 cents a bushel on this year's corn crop. These informants said details of the loan program would be announced by Secretary Wallace within a few days.

American delegates made it clear that they would "not go out on a limb" to take greater responsibility than other powers in the effort to settle the Chinese-Japanese war.

Yesterday's Elections

The results of yesterday's elections in which a number of mayors, governors, and congressmen were named to office, will be searched for and wide by professional politicians and political analysts for indications of the trend in public thinking and for some bearing on the 1940 prospects of the Democratic and Republican parties.

It has been said that if LaGuardia were re-elected mayor of New York by a substantial majority, he would be the Republican nominee for president in 1940. Well, he was re-elected by nearly half a million votes which would seem to be a sufficient margin for anyone, and yet he still seems to mean to us to be any nearer the presidency than he was a week ago.

In Detroit the CIO's, in their first political skirmish, made a very poor impression. With the returns nearly in, the CIO candidates had scarcely half as many votes as their opponents. City Clerk Richard Reading was running for mayor with the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor. Pat O'Brien was the acknowledged candidate of the CIO and the campaign was fought out on that issue.

Other results of peculiar interest include the election of Bruce Barton in New York's "silk stockings" congressional district. Barton, an advertising man, is a Republican and a conservative. Thomas Dewey, New York's famed "racket buster" defeated a Tammany candidate for prosecutor, and in Massachusetts old time political boss, and former Governor James M. Curley lost out in his attempted comeback for mayor of Boston.

Wildlife Census

While the United States government undoubtedly is facing many difficult problems in its census of the unemployed, it is likely that none of them will be as nearly insurmountable as some of the difficulties which the American Wildlife Institute faces in its enumeration of ducks and other forms of wildlife. Imagine the problems involved in actually counting all the birds in the United States.

How does one go about taking a census of birds or animals? says the Wildlife Institute. "The personal approach system used on humans would not, of course, be effective in this instance. Imagine what would happen should a wildlife census taker approach a nest, dorf his hat and beam. 'Good morning, Mrs. Grouse, how are you and all the little Grouses and old man Grouse? I represent the American Wildlife Institute and various other organizations concerned with your welfare. How many are there in your family? Mrs. Grouse would probably push an egg in his face, or at least, fly away."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

On Tuesday Sanford will be flooded with undertakers and Mr. W. L. Miller, state secretary of the Undertakers Association in the county. On this date, the Osceola will bring fifty undertakers and their wives to Sanford. Messrs. Miller and Holly and Taylor will meet them at DeLand landing and continue the trip to Sanford.

Arriving at Sanford, the Board of Trade is arranging a forty mile automobile race for the guests. They will be carried over the farm district and will be shown the hundreds of acres now growing lettuce, celery and winter vegetables and will also be given a glimpse of tropical Florida on the shores of Lake Jessup. After lunch at the Carnage Hotel the guests will carry the guests through DeLand and on to catch the Coaches at the DeLand landing.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Miller and Mr. Yello Adkins Williams were married Sunday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. de Bar. Mr. Richard Williams is a resident of Sanford and Mrs. Williams is a resident of DeLand.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK BY PRENTON GROVER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—One of the things that make life interesting for school teachers in Alaska is that they have to supervise the reindeer. The department of education says the teachers sort of drifted into the job because they were in close touch with the Eskimos whose children they were teaching—and the Eskimos were in close touch with the reindeer they eat. Supervising the reindeer was a comparatively easy job for an experienced school teacher until congress last session appropriated $2,000,000 to buy up all the private herds and turn them over to Eskimos who were running short of reindeer of their own.

This wasn't a crazy communist idea of congress to buy out private industry and turn it over to the people. It was a means of settling a range dispute of long duration among the drifts and tundras of America's frosty provinces. Fifty years or more ago the government imported reindeer from Russia and Lapland, hiring some Lapps to herd them and to teach the Eskimos how to turn the Lapps were allowed shares of the herds for themselves. Later, men from the United States went to Alaska to raise reindeer for the American market.

The Yankees introduced low cost herding methods into the business, and from that and other reasons trouble arose. The Lapps had taught the Eskimos to herd their reindeer in closely held bands, moving from place to place for fresh supplies of moss, upon which the reindeer feed. Operations from the United States adopted the "joke herd" system in vogue on western plains, where the animals are allowed to roam at large, with few herders. It cut down the cost, and for a time the operators made fair money shipping reindeer meat to

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY" BY RUSSELL KAY

While Justices of the Federal Supreme Court are appointed by the President and serve for life or until retirement, such is not the case with Justices of the Florida Supreme Court, who are elected by the people and serve for terms of six years. Three Justices of the Florida high court, whose terms expire next year, must announce their candidacy for re-election not later than Jan. 1. If they desire to remain in office, they must appear in the Democratic primary May, their names will appear on the general election ballot next November.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Capt. Dan Gilbert of the state's attorney's police said last night that Arthur (Bumpy) Espinosa, 24, had confessed to the latefront park slaying of Herbert Lee, Evanston butcher, the morning of Aug. 22.

The old belief that farms "were out" because of the removal of plant food from the soil by growing crops, isn't even a half truth. Investigation has shown that erosion removes 21 times as much plant food as growing plants take from the soil. The plant food can be restored by the use of legumes and soil-builders, but once the soil has been lost, it cannot be restored.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN BY GEORGE FURBER

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—In the Times Square area are two vast news stands where are sold newspapers from every important city in the world. American cities and the European ones include all principal newspaper capitals, with special emphasis being placed on English language papers from Shanghai and other Oriental ports.

New York seems a cosmopolitan center, composed of people from every city, state, and nation in the world. It is an unadmitted fact that if you stand near these stands for any length of time you will see a cross-section of the world pass in review. Less publicized but equally true is the fact that plain-clothes men and detectives keep a watchful eye on these stands. They scrutinize closely anyone purchasing a paper there, and their logic is simple. Criminals frequently give away to impulse or curiosity to see how much ado the "local" press is making over their activities. A fugitive, say, from Minneapolis is likely to ask for his hometown paper, and when he does a copper usually is ready to slip the trousers on him.

Then again, spies are sometimes detected in this way. There is one case on record where a rather harmless looking fellow was in the habit of buying a large number of papers every second Monday at one of these stands. Finally it became noted that he purchased papers only—that is, he bought Savannah, Miami, New Orleans, Galveston, San Diego, San Francisco, and Seattle papers. This in effect drew a "ring" around the United States. Before making a move the authorities purchased these papers themselves, and, in time, succeeded in breaking down a code in the purchased advertisements. The purchaser was a spy and was receiving certain information in this way twice a month. This was shortly after the war, and so the fellow was as I recall, deported. Had he been captured during the war he would have been shot.

Another favorite ambush for detectives is the night clubs. Plainclothes men frequent the "jazz" late-hour places, aware that fugitives, with a lot of loose "change" tucked away in their pockets, are frequenting these places. More than one burglar's capture has been made in the dusky glow of a night club. I remember meeting a detective one night in a pre-war place near 42nd street. "I've been here every night for two weeks," he said, "I've after a safe-cracker from New York."

Cagney Reel Blends Music With Comedy

Quite different from the run-of-the-mill type of screen musical is "Something to Sing About," in which James Cagney is starring currently at the Ritz Theater. Perhaps the aptest description of this latest Cagney picture would be "a comedy with music," for, primarily, it is an amusing and occasionally sentimental tale, well told and well acted.

There is music and dancing in the picture, but these elements, which are usually dominant in screen musicals, are subordinated to the story and serve mainly to carry out the clever plot. There has been no contention, however, between the author and the composer on this ground, because they happen to be the same person—Victor Schertzinger—who wrote the original story from which Austin Parker fashioned the screenplay. He also wrote the five new songs, which are introduced in the production.

The additional circumstance that Schertzinger directed the picture, accounts for the unusually successful integration of story, songs and dances, which has been achieved in "Something to Sing About." In no instance is a song or a dance introduced merely to entertain the audience or—as so often happens—to divert attention from an inadequate plot. Instead, the songs and dances have the definite function of aiding in the unfolding of the story and thus serve to heighten the impact of the scenes in which they occur.

The star's talents as a song and dance man are a revelation to most of his admirers who, however, would resent any sacrifice of his acting genius for the purpose of exploiting his abilities as a musical comedy entertainer.

Wilcox Condemns Federal Bill On Wages And Hours

amble says, why does it exempt those in administration and professional positions, employees of retail merchants, seamen, railroad workers, those in automotive transportation, workers and those employed by local utilities," he said.

"Why make a distinction between cotton spinners and cotton growers. Anyone who favors this bill is indicating himself, if he believes it is good, by discriminating against millions who do not come under its provisions," Mr. Wilcox continued. The Congressman then explained that the exemptions were made to fall into a sense of security those exempted. Mr. John L. Lewis has already said that this is only the beginning. I predict that within 10 years, and possibly within five, that if this bill becomes a law, all exemptions will be removed," he declared.

Labor, by favoring a bureaucratic law, "is selling itself down the river," was his assertion, and will forfeit the right to bargaining and the minimum wage will become the maximum wage.

A crowd that exceeded expectations of Chamber of Commerce officials greeted the speaker, who was introduced by Raymer Maguire of the organization's board of directors. Also introduced were Congressman Joe Hendricks, of DeLand, Representative of this district, Mayor-elect S. Y. Way, Mayor-elect Mrs. Wilcox, Mrs. Lex Green, wife of the Third District Congressman, and Mrs. Crosby, mother-in-law of the speaker.

Soviet Russia Celebrates 20th 'Red' Birthday

which is its industrial development, which has slowed down this year to such an extent that some foreign observers talk of industrial crisis.

This year the output of Soviet industry is estimated at 97,500,000,000 rubles (about $19,289,000,000 at the arbitrary official exchange rate), or nearly ten times the output in 1917. Coal mining has climbed from 29,000,000 tons to 138,000,000 tons, pig-iron production from 1,500,000 to 16,000,000 tons, steel from 2,000,000 to 15,500,000 tons.

The increase in production of manufactured goods is proportionate. The shoe, clothing and knitting industries have outputs four and one-half times what they were in 1917.

Five-year plans have industrialized Russia. Machine building has increased 10-fold since the revolution. The Soviets like to boast. Yet industry is found to be seriously lagging behind its schedules in this anniversary year.

For this 12, Soviet leaders mostly blame "wreckers" who were followers of Leon Trotsky, regarded as the arch-devil of communism, or spies in the pay of capitalist countries with war-like designs on Russia. This so-called wrecking in industry and agriculture appears to be one of the reasons, if not the chief reason, for the purge which has meant death, imprisonment or exile for thousands.

Persistent cutting and destruction of affected branches is one way of combatting borers of rose bushes. Spraying the bushes with bordeaux to which one pound of lead arsenate (to 50 gallons of bordeaux) has been added will deter the insects from cutting off the leaves.

For controlling Florida red scale on only a few citrus trees, a spray consisting of one pound of common laundry soap to eight gallons of soft or six gallons of hard water is effective. A second application will probably be necessary about six weeks after the first.

No first-rate literary Chinese book would be intelligible if read aloud exactly as it is written, for colloquial expressions of speech have no equivalent in Chinese characters.

How much of the wrecking was deliberate and how much was due to the inefficiency of the Russian, his carelessness, the bureaucracy, discontent with wages and conditions in poorly functioning plants and mass absences from work—the only equivalent of a strike in Russia—the foreigner can only guess.

The Soviet press, however, has been full of criticism of conditions under which machinery is damaged by accidents, or allowed to be idle because of lack of spare parts.

While executives in industry were fired for shirking responsibility in the slowing down, officials found guilty of unsatisfactory conditions in agriculture have been tried and shot.

Within three months more than 100 local officials in various Soviet republics have been executed for practices in collective farming that cut down the yields of hus-bandy. More than 125 employees of the grain trust were shot for mixing poor grain with good and allowing weevils to infest the stocks.

Soviet foremen who have watched the purge have reached the conclusion that if something goes wrong in industry or agriculture, the man with a Trotsky or other blunish on his political record had better watch out.

Collectivization of agriculture has been as important a point in Soviet economy as planned industrialization. The Soviet authorities are taking drastic steps now to stop the abuses by local officials that were driving thousands out of the collective farms.

A record crop of approximately 150,000,000 tons of grain this year is cited by the Soviet press as a victory for collectivization and mechanized farming. Before the revolution, the grain production was about 75,000,000 tons.

Before the war, Russia exported large quantities of agricultural products, the exports of grain alone attaining in some years as much as 12,000,000 tons. After the revolution, the Russians began eating more of their wheat, so that grain exports dropped sharply, but as late as 1933 Soviet Russia exported 731,000 tons of wheat.

Yet a Soviet authority told the writer recently that probably little wheat would be exported within the next year, despite the bumper harvest.

"Most of it probably will be kept in storage," he said.

Whether the Soviet Union is keeping its own breadbasket amply filled as a precaution in case of war was not disclosed.

The peasant's share in the crop is larger than in past years, the Soviet news says, and he now is able to buy manufactured goods, radios, shoes and clothing, if he can find them.

Cows On Track Wreck Train Of Illinois Central

BASESVILLE, Miss., Nov. 4.—(AP)—A train of the Illinois Central was wrecked here today and its fireman James White, of Memphis, was killed. Mangled body was found beneath the wreckage.

Engineer Charles Barnett of Memphis was seriously injured, his right arm and left leg being severed. None of the passengers was hurt.

The engine and two express cars carrying race horses to New Orleans overturned blocking rail traffic. Three of the horses were killed.

Other cars of the train, enroute from Chicago to New Orleans, remained on the rails with the exception of the buffet car which did not overturn. Conductor Joe F. Benson of Memphis said cows on the track caused the accident.

Members of the crew expressed fear the fireman might be pinned under the wreckage.

On Eve Of First Election Russians Told How To Vote

Election Is Cited As Showing Unparalleled Advantages Of New Constitution Given People By Dictator Joseph Stalin

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
MOSCOW, Nov. 4.—On the eve of their nation's 20th birthday, 100,000,000 soviet voters have been told how to cast their ballots in their first nationwide legislative election.

The election of the new supreme soviet, or bicameral council which is to replace the indirectly elected central executive committee that has been functioning all these years, is cited daily in the press as a great socialist event, fitting to commemorate the revolution of November 7, 1917.

It is cited also as showing the unparalleled advantages of the constitution given to the people by the chief of the communist party, Joseph Stalin.

Foreign observers regard the election as one of the few positive products of the constitution. As for such guarantees as freedom of speech, and of the press, they know that no Russian would dare to utter a word of criticism of the Stalin-regime within hearing of a policeman. They read in the official press that numerous editors have been removed because their papers seemed to deviate from the straight line of Stalinism.

The election campaign, which is not a campaign of issues and personalities, but one of instruction in voting for government-approved candidates, seems to have done much to take the minds of the people off the wave of executions, arrests, dismissals and stiles, which unspooled in one of the bloodiest years since the revolution.

Thousands of propagandists and agitators have been sent to factories, apartment houses and collective farms over one-sixth of the earth's surface—the area of the Soviet Union—to explain the election law and intensify the mass instruction in voting for "politically reliable" candidates.

Most observers believe the blood purge has strengthened Stalin's power for the election. Some believe the elections were delayed until the various republics which form the Soviet Union had purged of their enemies.

With many, if not most of the old Bolsheviks out of the way, Stalin and communism are (Continued on Page Five)

Labor Blames Duke For Use Of C. E. Bedaux

Inventor Of "Stretch-Out System" Called No Proper Person For Duke's Agent

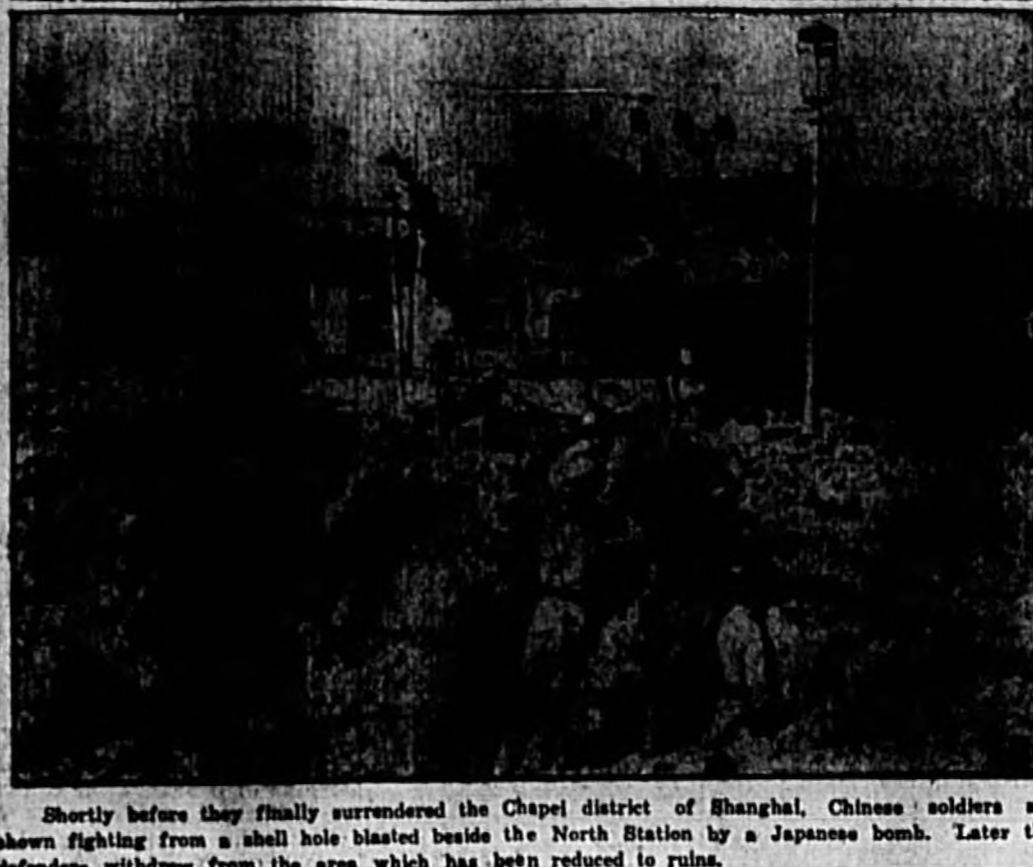

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Duke of Windsor will not change his designation of Charles E. Bedaux as his representative on his American tour despite American Federation of Labor criticism of Bedaux, the latter indicated today.

Bedaux said in a statement released through his press representative here that he talked with the Duke in Paris this morning by telephone and that England's abdicated king was "looking forward with all the enthusiasm of a young man to his visit to the United States."

Bedaux's statement was issued shortly after William Green, president of the A. F. of L., said he approved the action of the Baltimore Federation of Labor in criticizing the Duke for his selection of Bedaux to arrange the American itinerary of the Duke and Duchess.

Bedaux, a Frenchman, made a fortune in this country selling the so-called "stretch-out" system in American industry, and as such incurred the opposition of the American Federation of Labor as well as other labor groups. The "stretch-out" system is a means by which the production average of workmen is measured for the purpose of paying bonuses to those who produce above the average.

SHELL-HOLE A HAVEN FOR STUBBORN CHINESE

Shortly before they finally surrendered the Chapel district of Shanghai, Chinese soldiers are shown fighting from a shell hole blasted beside the North Station by a Japanese bomb. Later the defenders withdrew from the area which has been reduced to ruins.

EZEKIEL LIVED ONCE

By MELVIRA GARNER
In The Publishers' Weekly

When I was asked how I came to write about Ezekiel I had to think for a few minutes, and then I said, "Why Ezekiel is a sort of re-creation of Bud!" And that I told my questioner about Bud.

When my sister and I were very small and lived on a farm in Tennessee, there was a little colored boy always about the place whom everyone called "Bud". I do not know where he came from, why he went to night, he was just there, helping about the place, washing dishes, bringing baskets of chips from the woodpile, always happy and polite. He was the one to start the exciting games, to bear most of the blame if tragedy overtook us, to accept gratefully the list of candy or fruit no one else cared for. I do not know if he received any pay for being there, or simply came because he loved us. I know my mother kept him patched and clean, and he ate his meals in the kitchen.

We had a little cousin who lived in Nashville and spent the summer with us in the country. Each summer when the tiny headed fellow arrived Bud became, automatically, his private property: his guide, counselor, friend. Bud must be there first thing in the morning, must think of something to play, pick "stickers" out of small, grubby bare feet, stand by the highchair at

Britain Prepares To Trade Agents With Gen. Franco

Bombing Raids Kill 80 At Marbastro, And 225 At Lerida

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that the British government and the Spanish insurgents were negotiating for the appointment of commercial agents.

This did not mean, he declared, a de facto diplomatic recognition for insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

"These agents will have no diplomatic status," the Premier said.

HENDAYE, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Spanish insurgent troops in the southern Aragon offensive were reported today to have captured a strategic mountain position in the Puentes sector. Thousands of reinforcements were massed behind the insurgent lines to continue the push as soon as weather would permit.

Dispatches to Madrid from Marbastro, a Catalan city about 100 miles west of Barcelona, said it was estimated 80 persons were killed and an unidentified number injured in an insurgent air raid late yesterday. The death toll Tuesday was officially set at 225 with more than 700 injured.

Claude Howard Is Main Speaker At Lions Club Meet

Importance Of Preserving Game And Fish Is Emphasized

In an address to the Sanford Lions Club which met last night in the grill room of the Vaidet Hotel in regular session, Claude Howard, game and fish conservation officer, brought out many points of interest concerning the saving of game and fish which he characterized as one of the greatest assets to the community and the state.

Mr. Howard mentioned certain cases pertaining to the illegal use of seines which he said were endangering the fishing advantages of this section. He asked the Lions last night for their assistance in conserving both game and fish in Seminole County and in helping with the work.

Lottery Racket Is Number One Cause For Police Cases

Nineteen persons were tried before City Judge Frank L. Miller in a session of the Municipal Court in the local police station yesterday afternoon.

Selling lottery tickets headed the list of charges preferred against those arraigned before the judge.

The following 10 negroes were tried on charges of selling lottery tickets and were sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or serve 30 days in the city jail: Chris Lomas, George Hagan, Walter Johnson, R. B. Clark, Herman Rafos, Emma King, Horace Mitchell, Betty Stephens, Dan Sheffer and M. J. Griffin.

The cases of Helen Jackson and Leroy Bell, negroes, charged with disorderly conduct were continued to the next court session.

Claude White, negro, charged with loitering, was dismissed.

George Byrd, negro, charged with driving while intoxicated was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $200 or serve 60 days in the city jail. The case of Ed Jones, also charged with driving while intoxicated, was continued until the next court session.

Get Hunting Licenses Early, Urges Ware

It is only a few more days until the opening of hunting season and County Judge J. W. Ware today urged all local sportsmen to purchase their hunting licenses early in order to avoid the last minute stamp-ups.

Up to the present time only a few licenses have been issued, the judge said, and he feels that much trouble could be avoided if the hunters purchase their licenses early.

The license fee this year is $2.00 for that which has been issued in previous years; $1.25 for a County license, $2.25 for hunting in a County other than your home county and $5.50 for a State game license.

These fees apply only to residents of the State, non-residents are required to pay a much larger sum for the privilege of hunting.

In order that the sportsmen might be aware of the regulations governing hunting in the State and the various regulations of Game and Fresh Water Fish has issued a booklet entitled "Hunting regulations" which will be given with each license issued.

Geo. Gibbs Advocates St. Johns Canal

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 4.—(AP)—A short canal, cut from Sanford on the St. Johns River to Titusville on the Indian River, would bring Jacksonville an annual revenue of half a million dollars from yachters, George W. Gibbs, president of the St. Johns River Improvement Association, told members of the South-side Business Men's Club during a luncheon meeting yesterday.

His further suggestion that an advertising effort be made to interest yachts operators to visit Jacksonville and to cruise on the St. Johns was adopted as a club objective. The advertising committee, Carl M. Taylor, Robert O. Kay and Chalmers D. Horn, were instructed to appear before the advisory body, named to allocate the amount available for municipal advertising, at a meeting Monday afternoon in the Women's Club and to recommend that a sum be set aside for this purpose.

Speaking on the proposed canal the association leader stated that effort in its behalf on the part of Jacksonville would serve as a "good will" gesture tending to gain publicity favored locally through Central Florida support.

The route up the St. Johns to Sanford and then across to the Indian River, he brought out, would offer sportsmen scenic and economic opportunities to get acquainted with Jacksonville's diversified attractions.

Holiday Schedule Is Planned By School

The holiday schedule for the schools of the county for the remainder of the school year was adopted at the regular session of the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction in the office of County Superintendent T. W. Lawton in the Court House yesterday.

The schedule set for the coming year is as follows: Thursday, Nov. 11, Armistice Holiday; Thursday, Nov. 25, Thanksgiving holiday; Friday afternoon, Dec. 17 at the regular closing time; Christmas holidays begin and Monday morning, Jan. 3, schools re-open.

The bids which were scheduled to be opened for a car of fuel oil were not received and Mr. Lawton indicated that he believed the Board would purchase oil as needed for the schools.

Members of the School Board also visited the colored school in Midway which is under construction at the present time and Mr. Lawton indicated that the board was well pleased with the building and indicated that it would be ready for occupancy near the first of January.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

Friends of Mrs. E. D. Lazarus of Brookville, N. Y., formerly Miss Flossie Frank of Sanford, will regret to learn of the death of her husband, Dr. E. D. Lazarus, recently at their home in that city.

They tell one about a former Sanford Policeman who found a dead male on Mangrove Avenue. When he made out his report he found he couldn't spell Mangrove so he dragged the male to Pine Street; he could spell that.

Local firemen recently answered a call to the Robinsons counting down where a fire started in the oil cans of wood piled there. The fire was being investigated by Sanford Police.

Nine New Members Initiated By Antlers

The initiation of nine new members of the Sanford Antlers organization featured the regular meeting held at the Sanford Elks Home on East Union Avenue last night.

The meeting was opened by a short address to the new members by Jesse C. Lodge, Elks Antler, who told the group of the various topics and aims of the organization.

During the meeting a committee was appointed to take charge of the details and co-operate with the Elks for the Father and Son Banquet to be held at the club on Nov. 17. Also present at the meeting were Elk Brothers J. E. Terwilliger, Rex Packard, Peter Thurston and Father A. S. Peck.

The new members initiated last night were Robert Stinoff, Douglas Stenstrom, Fred Stith, M. A. Harkey, Henry Tomm, Robert Marlowe, L. M. Telford, John Morgan and George Wilkinson.

Gasoline Thieves Are At Work In Sanford

A gasoline thief, termed by Chief of Police Roy O. Williams the most aggressive of thieves, was arrested and lodged in the city jail early this morning through the aid of "Stoney" Nix.

Early this morning Mr. Nix was awakened and saw two persons tampering with his car parked in his yard. He fired a shot and both boys ran. Later, however, one of the boys who identified himself as Robert Bonham, returned to get his car parked nearby and Mr. Nix advised the police. Chief Williams reported, adding that the other youth had not been apprehended.

The boys were well equipped for their work. Two metal sections of garden hose, a five gallon can and two tank-wagon wheels, Chief Williams noted, were believed to have been used in the theft.

Home Agent Meet Will Be Attended By Gladys Kendall

Mrs. Gladys Kendall, home demonstration agent for Seminole County, left yesterday for Gainesville where she will attend the annual Instruction School for Home Demonstration Agents beginning this morning and continuing through the remainder of the week.

During the school instruction the productive phase of the program for the home demonstration agents will be particularly stressed, Mrs. Kendall said, including classes in gardening, poultry and dairying and also conservation of these products through canning.

Mrs. Kendall has been invited to give a radio address over Station WRUF in Gainesville sometime during the week on the Home Demonstration work in Seminole County. She will speak on the Farm and Home Hour program which is broadcast daily from the station.

Mrs. Kendall plans to remain in Gainesville at the conclusion of this school until the joint meeting of County Agents and Home Demonstration Agents which begins at the University City Monday and continues through Friday.

During the absence of the Home Demonstration Agent 4-H Club and Women's Home Demonstration meetings will be carried out in the county as scheduled under the supervision of the local leaders.

Supper Is Planned By Knights Templar

The Taylor Commandery of Knights Templar will hold an appetizer supper in the banquet room of the Masonic Temple Friday evening at 6:45 o'clock, according to Commandery Commander, Jas. D. Jenkins, who will preside over the meeting.

This gathering will be the first since the regular meetings of the Temple were discontinued for the summer, and Mr. Jenkins expects that members of the lodge and visiting Knights Templar to meet out of the region.
