Habit He Couldn't Break

Lake Mary Man Dies Sniffing Chemical

By Deane Jordan Herald Staff Writer

Lake Mary residents knew him as a kind and friendly young man who would give money from his pockets to old and poor people so they could have a hot meal. But caused Lebis to pass out and then he to the Orlando Pelice, he was a man with no home - a drifter on disability - who died alone in a rented room victim a chemical he started to abuse as a kid.

Jeffrey Lynn Lebis, 31, of 333 Pine Tree Road, died late Monday night in a Las Palmas Inn hotel room on International Drive, Orlando.

According to Orlando homicide investigator John Chisari, two maids found Lebis dead in bed Tuesday morning with a brown plastic bag over his head. He had been staying at the hotel for 10 days and at various motels for several months.

Inside the plastic bag next to Lebis' head, Chisari said, was a stocking drenched in toluene, a coal tar derivative found in paint thinner capable of inducing intoxication and, if in high enough concentration, a coma.

Chisarl said the fumes from the toluene

'All of the kids did it."

suffocated in the plastic bag.

Susan Feuerbacher, Lebis' sister, said she knew her brother had a problem with the chemical and that he had tried to break his addiction many times. She said a lot of money had been spent trying to get her brother to kick the habit.

'All of the kids did it," she said referring to when Lebis and friends would sniff toluene when they were school kids in "All of the kids were doing it. Most of the kids stopped. He just couldn't," she

Mrs. Feuerbacher, 25, of Apopka, said her brother, who she described as a highly intelligent man with an interest in music and electronics, was on a 100 percent medical disability from the Air Force where he worked in the medical branch.

She said he had been married twice and

She said that while she knew of his addiction, the way he died, alone, was strange. She said she could not remember him for one outstanding moment because he was an outstanding brother all of the

"He had a lot of deep rooted problems. maybe thats why he did it," she said.

The chemical Lebis abused, according to the fourth edition of Dangerous Properties of Industrial Materials, is a common base for a variety of materials including paint thinner and glue. In small vaporous amounts it impaires coordination and reaction time. Large doses affect the body quicker and in acute proportions induce a coma and long-term damage to the liver and bone marrow is possible.

Lebis was born in Cushing, Oklahoma, grew up in Miami and moved to Lake Mary in 1977. In addition to Mrs. Fueurbacher, survivors include his son Tremaine, Vero Beach; parents Mrs. and Mrs. Lowell B. Lebis and brother David, Lake Mary; and paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Lebis, Fern Park.

Survey

Hospital Stays Shorter, Staff Growth Curtailed In Response To Pressure From Medicare Rule

By Jane Casselberry Herald Staff Writer

A new Medicare plan that places more pressure on doctors and hospitals is being cited as the reason 75 percent of Florida's hospitals reduced or froze their work forces during the last half of 1983.

ministrator at Central Florida Regional Hospital said, "Unless the situation becomes considerably worse, we don't foresee any staff reductions." he said.

A survey conducted by Price Waterhouse shows that patients spent less time in Florida hospitals during the last six months of the year and forced the staffing policy changes. There were also fewer patients admitted to hospitals statewide. "It would appear very clearly that the doctors have heard for 12 months now that they're going to have to do some things differently under the new Medicare program, and all of a sudden they did it." said Ken McGee, vice president and health economist for the Florida Hospital

Association. Under the plan, Medicare tells hospitals up front what they will receive for treating patients with a certain ailment. The hospital loses money if treatment costs more than the original Medicare estimate.

Potter said even though the Medicare changes will not go into effect at Central Florida Regional until July 1, 1984, there has already been a decrease in the number of time spent in the hospital per admission. The average patient stay at CFRH in January was six days. The number of has increased. "The public and hospitals seem to be subconsciously reacting in anticipation of the Medicare changes by cutting costs," Potter said.

Larry Welch, administrator of West Volusia Hospital, DeLand, likes the new Medicare program.

"Under the old program, payment to hospitals was based on expenses and expenses at our hospital are 25 to 30 percent lower than the national average. Payments now are based on their calculations." he said. Welch said West Volusia Hospital is scheduled to receive a $200,000 bonus for efficiency during the fiscal year 1983 from

"That means we saved them $400,000 by keeping expenses low," he explained.

Welch said the average patient stay is 5.55 days this year as compared to 5.61 before the new Medicare program went into effect. The number of patients is down 25 percent, but Welch said this is not related to the Medicare changes, but to the fact that nine DeLand doctors bought Fish Hospital across town and are admitting their patients there instead of at West

Welch said when the hospital budget was made up last aummer the decision was made to freeze the number of employees on staff.

Don Bohannon, senior vice president of Florida Hospital, said the program went into effect at Florida Hospital in October, but the average length of stay for patients has been going down. The average patient stayed 7.3 days in November 1983 as compared to 7.6 in the same month in Bohannon said the number of admissions is virtually the same now as it was last year and that there has been no freeze of staff size.

"The reduction in patient days caused the reduction of the work force," said McGee. "Just a couple of years ago, the big stories were about the nursing shortage. Now, 75 percent of the hospitals are doing something to reduce their work force."

The association financed the survey that was released Tuesday.

Vocal Homeowners See Development Blocked

The plans of U.S. Homes Corp. to have rezoned a 25-acre parcel off U.S. Highway 17-92 near Lake Mary Boulevard to permit the construction of apartments and condominiums fell by the wayside earlier this week after nearby homeowners protested. The firm also must drop plans for commercial development on a 4.5 acre strip along the highway.

John Sundhelm of Post, Buckley, Schuh and Jernigan, a planning and engineering firm in Orlando, asked the Sanford City Commission to rezone the property after the city's Planning and Zoning Commission turned the proposal Sundhelm said the planning and zoning agency was concerned about the highway strip which U.S. Homes planned to sell at a later time.

The developers were asking that the 25 acre parcel be rezoned from multiresidential 1, which allows 15 units per acre, to MR 2 which permits construction of 20 units per acre.

For the highway strip, the firm was asking for a change from MR-2 to general

However, Paul Smith of 301 Lake Mary Boulevard warned the commission that since the development of the Village Market shopping center at Lake Mary Boulevard near its intersection with 17-92 adjacent Lake Minnie has deteriorated and a "scum" several inches thick can be seen on the lake from drainage from the shopping center.

"I know we can't stop development, but Lake Minnie will be dead within 10 years at this rate." Smith predicted.

And Alice Jarrell of 141 Lakeside Drive, noting that she is a county resident, presented a petition upposing the rezoning.

She said that with the shopping center and the drainage of other commercial developments plus the overflow from a city sewer lift station, the odors from near the lake are overwhelming.

. City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said there had been a problem with water overflowing a drainage ditch at the rear of the shopping center, but that ditch has now been cleaned.

Commissioner Milton Smith said he is concerned about what might be built on the highway frontage. Sundheim said U.S. Homes develops housing not commercial areas and the highway frontage would be rold off to another developer.

Commissioner David Farr objected to a motion made by Smith and seconded by Commissioner Ned Yancey to deny the Farr said in the interests of "fair play" U.S. Homes should be granted addition time to alleviate the concerns of the nearby homeowners.

'We might find ourselves still turning down the rezoning in two weeks," Farr

Smith said if the developer did find answers to the neighbors' concerns he could take the issue back before the Planning and Zoning Commission. Smith, Yancey and Commissioner Eddle Keith voted to deny the rezoning

Rebels Mass For Assault

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) - Druze mfittamen massed for an assault on the shattered Lebanese Army's last stronghold today amid reports that President Amin Gemayel would give in to rebel demands and cancel a peace pact with Israel. There was no confirmation from the Gemayel government on the abrogation of the May 17 accord, but the Christian Phalangist radio said Gemayel was about to make a "decision of destiny" in apparent reference to the agreement with Israel.

In Jerusalem, senior Israeli sources said the government had "not been informed" that Gemayel had signed an eight-point agreement that included cancellation of the accord with Israel. With the Syrian-backed Druze occupying positions that isolated Beirut from southern Lebanon, U.S. warplanes roared three times over the city on reconnaissance flights and there was sporadic fighting along the Green Line dividing the Moslem and Christian halves of the capital.

The Lebanese Army was routed late Wednesday in and around the coastal town of Damour and fell back to the Damour River after major defeats in the mountains overlooking Beirut and the nearby town of Khalde.

The defeat left the Moslem rebels in control of almost all the Shouf mountains and virtually isolated the Christian-led government of Gemayel in East Beirut and

Radio broadcusts in Beirut said the rebels were massing for an onslaught against Souk el Gharb, the last remaining army stronghold on a mountain ridge southeast of the capital. The Washington Post and The New York Times reported today Gemayel signed an eight-point agreement that included canceling the May 17 Israeli-Lebanese peace agreement, as demanded by Syria and the anti-government rebels seeking to topple his U.S.-backed government.

January Factory Production Excellent

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The nation's industries bounced back in January with a 1.1 percent increase in production, fueled by a surge in automobiles and construction supplies, Federal Reserve System economists said.

The strong showing in January followed weaker production figures in November and December. Factories, mines, oil wells and utility companies produced only 0.3 percent more in November and output moved 0.6 higher in

The January gain in overall production was the most since September's 1.3 percent increase and brought the Fed's industrial production index to almost 3 percent above its prerecession peak, reached in July 1981.

The increase was especially strong since it included a large 2.3 percent decline in electrical output by utilities.

The index was 158.1 in January, compared with 100 in 1967.

Personal Income Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The nation's personal income rose a healthy 1.1 percent in January. the most since October, while spending also joutpaced December's performance, the Commerce Department said today.

Income went up, at annual rates, by $30.8 billion to a scasonally adjusted $2.89 trillion. Income went up $24.1 billion or 0.8 percent in

Disposable income, after incomé taxes were subtracted, also rose 1.1 percent to $2.47

That was an increase of $104 in the average annual take-home pay of every American, the department said.

The report also measured personal spending on both goods and services during the month. showing a 1.2 percent increase, stronger than December's revised 1 percent gain.

Miners Hurt In Explosion

COOKPORT. Pa. (UPI) - Three miners were missing and four were severely burned early today in a methane gas explosion and fire at a coal mine near Cookport, officials said.

The explosion and fire occurred shortly before 5 a.m. at the Greenwich No. 1 mine about 60 miles northeast of Pittsburgh. The mine is owned by the Pennsylvania Mines Corp., officials said.

James Nadolsky. 26, of Galiltzin, Timothy Kline, 25, of Ebensburg, Paul Stafford, 36, of Spangler, and Fred Johnson, 40, of Clearfield. were listed in guarded condition at Miners Hospital in Spangler with first- and secondurns of the hands and face, the hospital said.

The U.S. Bureau of Mines in Arlington, Va., withheld the names of the missing miners and said it is not sure how many other miners may have been injured.

Sweetner Examined

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Federal reseachers are examining 200 allegations of adverse reactions to the popular low-calorie sweetener aspartame. which a consumer group wants taken off the market.

A spokesman for the Food and Drug Administration said a preliminary review last week of 50 complaints, which range from headaches to scizures, found no causal relationship between the problems and the sweetener.

The FDA last month told U.S. District Judge Barrington Parker it would decide by Feb. 21 whether to hold public hearings on the safety of aspartame, which it approved in July for use in carbonated drinks.

Timing Of County Offices Move Debated

Should we do it all at once or a little bit

That's the question facing members of the Seminole County Commission regarding the impending relocation of county offices from the courthouse to the old Seminole Memorial Hospital build-

Commissioners had planned on moving in phases over the next four months. leaving the courthouse strictly for court-related offices and personnel.

"But there's been a change in thinking." County Administrator T. Duncan Rose said. The contractor doing a $1 million renovation of the hospital building "doesn't want to be working around our staff if we move over there in phases so he has asked that we do it all at once after he's finished," Rose said.

At Tuesday's workshop session, commissioners Sandra Glenn and Bill Kirchhoff argued for going ahead with a phased-in move, Bob Sturm and Barbara Christensen sided with the contractor, and Robert G. "Bud" Feather, who never wanted to make the move to begin with. sat on the fence.

Commission members agreed to meet again on the matter Feb. 27 to decide which route to take.

Regardless of which method is chosen. the move should be completed by early July, Rose said.

The move will see the Clerk of the Court's office retain its existing space on the first and fourth floors of the courthouse, plus take over part of the annex into which the Public Defender's office will move from the Masonic building across the street from the courthouse. The judiciary will occupy the second and third floors with the State Attorney's Office moving from the annex into the Roumillat building on the corner of Park Avenue and First Street.

Remodeling of the courthouse will add two new courtrooms and three non-jury courtrooms. Rose said, adding that the work, plus some renovation of the Roumillat building will run about $1.3 million.

The work should begin around mid-September and take up to a year for completion, he said.

After the move, the courthouse will have some vacant space, but "we are anfleipating further growth in the Judi-ciary over the years," Rose said. "We're planning for the future, not just for

At least one of the new courtrooms, near future. he said, pointing out that the state has authorized, but not yet funded, an additional county judge. 'And another circuit judge has been requested."

Renovation of the hospital building. while priced at roughly $1 million, "has bought us just compliance with basic codes," Rose said. "We've redone the heating and cooling systems and done some painting, but very little major renovation.

"In the future, as funds become available, we'll cover up the medical things like oxygen outlets and pull cords. which are still right there in the walls, with drywall. But we want to preserve the basic nature of the building so that if the county ever wants to sell it, someone could come in and make it into a nursing home or something like that."

In other business, the commission approved a request from Centex Homes of Florida for the rezoning of 79 acres at Dean and McCulloch roads from agricultural to single-family residential for the construction of an undetermined number of 1,300-square foot homes.

However, the commission put certain conditions on its approval, among them and possibly another, will be filled in the an agreement for Centex officials to help pay the cost of a traffic signal at Dean Road and County Road 426, paving on McCulloch Road, and contribution of $300 per housing unit for future school needs in the area and $50 per unit to help pay the cost of a new fire station at CR 426 and Red Bug Road.

Consideration of a similar request from representatives of Olin American Homes to rezone 80 acres at the intersection of Dike and Dodd roads, north of Bear Gully Lake, from agricultural to Planned Unit Development for the construction of 320 housing units was postponed until March 6.

Also Tuesday, the commission:

Approved the purchase of $22,870 for computer equipment to help facilitate a transportation study, a part of which deals with the possible use of toll roads in Seminole County.

• Agreed to issue up to $1.25 million in industrial revenue bonds for Electone Inc., headquartered in Fern Park, which wants to use the money for land, acquisition and construction of a 35,000-square foot hearing aid manufacturing plant at the Florida Central Commerce Park on State Road 434 in Longwood. -Britt Smith

Casselberry Man Is Back In County Jail

A 47-year-old Casselberry man who was arrested along with his 50-year-old brother on charges of living off the earnings of prostitutes and keeping a house of ill n returned to the Semino lieu of $5,000 bond.

The pair were arrested at 10:08 p.m. Feb. 2 at the Seminole Referral Dating Service, Regency Square Plaza, Casselberry, which undercover Seminole County agents after an investigation that began in November. allege was a front for a prostitution ring that netted the brothers between $5,000 and $8,000 a week.

None of the 10 women who allegedly split their earnings with the two men were arrested because, according to sheriff's spokesman John Spolski, some of the women cooperated in the investigation, and the into. arrest of the brothers was determined to be more critical.

On Feb. 3 Judy Cox of Freedom Bail Bonds, 150 S. Eask Lake, Longwood, secured $1,500 bond for each of the two men and they were released from fail.

But Ms. Cox said she got a tip that the brothers were planning to leave town and she rescinded her bond. William Maxie Grainger of 241 Lake Griffin Circle and Alfred David Grainger of 1600 33rd. St., Orlando, were rearrested and booked back Into the Seminole County jail, William on Feb. 9 and Alfred on Feb. 10. Ms. Cox said that she accepted a pick-up truck as collateral from Alfred and reposted his $1,500 bond and secured his re-release from jail on Feb. 11.

William remains in jail because, Ms. Cox said, he had not offered her solid collateral to secure his bond. She was also unaware, she said, that his bond had been Increased to $5,000.

COW STOLEN

A 500-pound Brangus heifer worth $450 was taken from a pasture adjacent to the home of owner Daniel A., Bower, 35, of 601 Ferne Drive, Longwood.

Bower noticed his cow was missing at 2:30 p.m. Monday. The fence around the property had not been cut and Bower said tracks led from the pasture toward a church on the other side of the pasture. He reported that there was no indication that the cow was slaughtered in the field, a sheriff's report said.

POT ARREST

A Sanford policeman who stopped a Sanford man for a live. traffic check charged the suspect with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana.

After the officer allegedly found a small packet of pot in the the pocket of William Joseph Kelly. 23, of 115 S. Pine St., Apt-B. Kelly was arrested at 12:03 a.m. Saturday on Shepard Street at 13th Street, Sanford. He posted a $500 bond and was released from jail Saturday.

Sanford man is being sought in that case. Seminole County sheriff's deputy James W. Virgin reported that he spotted, in the parking lot of the 7-11 store on U.S. Highway 17-92 at Collins Drive, Sanford, two men who answered a sheriff's radio bulletin description of two men who had attempted to break into an occupied house at 211 Sunland Drive, Sanford.

The alleged break-in attempt occurred at about 11 p.m. Tuesday, and witnesses described and gave deputy Craig Magee, who arrived at 211 Sunland Drive, the names of the suspects who had run from that home. Virgin confronted the suspects in the store parking lot.

U.S. Head Of Peace-Keeping Force Killed

ROME (UPI) - Gunmen firing from a car Wednesday shot and killed Leamon R. Hunt, U.S. commander of the multinational peacekeeping force in Sinai, police said. A left-wing extremist group claimed responsibility.

Police said two or three gunmen fired bursts of automatic fire at Hunt as he stepped out of his chauffeur-driven car outside the gate of the small villa he shared with his wife and son in the Mussolini-built EUR suburb on the southern outskirts of Rome.

Less than half an hour after the shooting, a telephone call to the left-wing private radio station "Radio Popolare" in Milan claimed responsibility for an Italian left-wing extremist group called the Combatant Communist Proletariat.

Hunt, 56, of Mili Creek, Okla., a retired foreign service officer who was director general of the Multinational Force and Observers in Sinal, had left the organization's headquarters at 6:40 p.m. [12:40 EST] for the short drive to his residence. Doctors at the San Glovanni hospital, where Hunt was rushed with a bullet wound in the head, said he died in the emergency ward less than two hours after the shooting.

2 Hurt In Copter Crash

WALDO (UPI) - Two men who pulled themselves from the flaming wreckage of a helicopter that crashed were badly hurt and fighting for their lives.

Spencer Mann, a spokesman for the Alachua County Sheriff's Office, said the pilot, 43-yearold Marvin Moore, was in critical condition at Shands Teaching Hospital in Gainesville, suffering from burns and lacerations.

The passenger. Kevin Tenney. 20, was in guarded condition following surgery at Alachua General Hospital.

"I'm amazed they were even alive." Mann said. "The helicopter was totally destroyed. It was just burned ruins. Pieces of the helicopter were scattered all around."

Man said the helicopter was working in a forestry operation when it crashed into the woods and burst into flames.

Who Gets The Money?

By Deane Jordan Herald Staff Writer

An Altamonte Springs man had a tough decision to make.

If he claimed $55,000 taken during a Sept. 13 drug search as his, it could have prejudiced his drug-trafficking case not yet come virial.

But, if the money was his and he did not claim it, the city of Altamonte Springs could be $55,000 richer.

Jeffery Scott Lang. 34, of Apt. 40, 100 Douglas Road, accused of having at least $1.6 million worth of illegal drugs in his possession in a rented storage unit, may have opted for plan C - have the money declared illegally seized, inadmiss, ble as evidence, and perhaps when all is tried and recorded, his.

This morning a hearing was scheduled on the forfeiture of $55,000 taken by the Altamonte Springs police during a drug search in a storage unit at the Seminole Business and Storage Warehouse, 520 N. State Road 434. Lang was charged with trafficking cocaine and methaqualone after the search.

The city says in its civil suit that the money has not been claimed and under Florida forfeiture statutes, is legally property of the city. Lang, countering the city hall request, maintains the money was seized without a search warrant, which legally protects the money from forfeiture proceedings.

The story as to how the money and the drugs were discovered varies.

The police, in news reports, said it was good investigating. Lang, countering the forfeiture sult, indicates the drug find was a matter of luck and illegally conducted through a warrantless search.

According to the police, after 24 hours of police work, a team of investigators, led by two Altamonte Springs police charge against Lang had not been set.

officers, arrested Lang, a self-employed construction worker, and charged him with trafficking drugs.

News reports at the time said investigators acting on a tip obtained a search warrant for a mini-storage locker rented by Lang at the husiness and tound a large rifle safe containing the contraband drugs and wads of $100 bills. The safe when opened had two smaller safes in it containing three pounds of high quality cocaine, 5,000 Quaaludes, several bags of sensimilia me Iluana, and $55,000 in cash.

The locker was searched, according to reports, after a warrant had been obtained from County Judge Harold F. Johnson.

Lang states in a motion to supress evidence, that things did not happen quite that way indicating serendipity played a role.

Lang states in the complaint that an employee of the storage business was told by the firm's office to open all storage areas of delinquent accounts and inventory what was inside the areas.

The employee opened locker #158-B. rented by Lang, then discovered that he had opened the wrong one since Lang's was paid to date. The locker he was supposed to have opened, according to the complaint, was #158-A which was delinquent.

The employee - who, according to the complaint, saw nothing illegal or suspiclous - was afraid the tenant of the storage area (Lang) would be angry over the mistake and asked the firm's office what to do. He was told to call police.

Lang states in his complaint that the entire affair was illegal and that "good faith is no substitute for good practice."

A Slap On The Writs

The Founding Fathers considered the writ of habeas corpus to be important enough to be protected in the Constitution. The right of pricences to challenge the legality of their imprisonment may not be suspended except in time of rebellion or invasion, says Article 1 Section 9. No wonder that a proposed limitation on the right of habeas corpus is one of the more controversial reforms in criminal procedure to come before the Congress

Habeas corpus is a bulwark against the abuse of the power of the state. The trouble is, there is no bulwark against the abuse of habeas corpus as a legal maneuver in this writ-happy age.

The federal court system is being harassed by habeas corpus writs which are filed almost as a matter of routine on behalf of convicts who have exhausted avenues of appeal in the state courts. What was intended as a legal weapon for unusual circumstances has become the usual step, leading Chief Justice Warren Burger to complain that its abuse is giving a pernicious lack of "finality" to decisions in our criminal justice system.

A study has shown that the nearly 8,000 habeas corpus petitions filed in federal courts in 1980 had very little effect, except to consume the time of judges who had to consider them. Only 3.2 percent of the petitions led to any action in favor of the petitioner. Judges have complained that petitions which have no obvious merit are filed in such numbers that there is danger of overlooking those that are based on a valid issue.

Justice Lewis F. Powell has pointed out that an appeals process that drags on and on via the habeas corpus route interferes with the process of rehabilitating prisoners. They are encouraged to think that they are in prison because of some kind of judicial error, not because they did something wrong. Rehabilitation begins when prisoners stop looking backward to find excuses for their predicament and begin looking forward toward rehabilitation and life as constructive citizens.

Can habeas corpus be controlled without doing violence to the letter or the spirit of the Constitution? We think it can, with the sort of statute of limitations embodied in a bill that passed the Senate by a 67-9 vote. The bill provides that federal habeas corpus petitions must be filed within one year of the time that all state remedies are exhausted. This would introduce an element of finality into the appeals process, yet leave the door open for special circumstances. The one-year cutoff would be waived if a plea is based on new evidence or a newly defined constitutional right.

The Senate bill leaves habeas corpus in place as a legal avenue of last resort as the constitution intended, but it can help keep this gateway to the federal court system from being exploited by "jatihouse lawyers" and attorneys firing shots in

Junket Fever

The legendary House Speaker Sam Rayburn used to boast that he had never set foot outside the United States and saw no need to do so. Let it be sald that too few of the present members of Congress suffer such quaint reluctance to wander the globe at the taxpayers' expense.

A four-month investigation by United Press International and the Better Government Association turned up enough examples of shameless junketing to establish a deplorable pattern that is only getting worse. Congressional abuses of travel privileges are rampant. And the taxpayers are footing the bill to the tune of more than $21 million per year.

Many members of Congress will react to the latest spate of media reporting on junketing with resentment. Non-junketers will resent being tarred with the same brush, at least in the public mind. And those who only rarely waste public time and money on frivolous travel may also feel wrongly accused. Their course is clear. Vote for proper accounting procedures, and for enforceable guidelines on what is acceptable travel and what is not.

Until this is done, citizens are entitled to assume that too many in Congress are giving themselves paid vacations in exotic locales and then covering up the evidence. Anybody for "junketgate?"

Whatever else you may want to say about him, Ronald Reagan is a man of

He said he was not ready to surrender in the matter of Lebanon and he has

True, in deciding to get the Marines off the beach and onto the ships he may appear to be staying the course somewhat less resolutely than so frequently

But in his explanation of that decision there is no surrender of the misconceptions that have been misguiding him in Lebanon for more than a year.

He speaks of "forces of violence and intimidation" seeking to overthrow a "moderate government ... because it had the courage to turn in the direction

Government? Amin Gemayel represents one faction of a minority of the Lebanese population. It is the rejection of his rump regime's claim to rule that keeps the home-grown forces of violence fighting, whatever larger purposes their Syrian and Soviet backers may have.

Moderate? These are the leaders of a Falangist militia that murdered its way through the Palestinian refugee camps, who resist yielding anything of significance to the Moslem majority.

Peace? On terms, at least as the forces of violence see it, dictated by Israelis and Americans to serve primarily their own purposes, not accommodate the realities of Lebanon.

Reagan has been pursuing not a polley but a fantasy in Lebanon. believing that a show of sufficient force and determination can bring to heel "forces of violence and intimidation" that are in reality combatants in a multi-sided civil war.

He is not alone. The Israelis were there before him, but quickly learned the lesson he is so reluctant to face.

And that is that the problem of Lebanon is not susceptible to solution by outside force. The continued application of such force only exacerbates it.

In fact, it may not be susceptible to solution — period.

What can redeployment of the Marines be expected to accomplish? It will reduce casualties and take some domestic political heat off a president running for re-election.

For the Lebanese, it may mark another progression from bad to worse. There's supposed to be yet another message in this for the Syrians. It is that In removing the Marines as convenient targets, the United States is only positioning itself for more effective application of its available force.

Moslem forces in Syrian-controlled territory are now themselves targets for naval and air bombardment. No more sanctuary.

The Moslems responded to the first volleys from the New Jersey's guns by shelling Christian East Beirut.

It could be that the message, as deciphered, is that the United States is now prepared to stand and fight to the last Lebanese.

If so, it would appear to be at least one point on which the players in Damascus and Washington are in complete agreement.

Reagan Vacations Jinxed

By Helen Thomas

UPI White House Reporter WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan is beginning to believe there is no such thing as a vacation when you live in the White House.

"I was on the phone more than I was on a horse." Reagan complained to a visiting foreign leader who asked about his four-day California vacation at Rancho del Cielo near Santa Barbara.

"But I enjoyed the change of seenery," Reagan said with resignation.

Over the past three years, Reagan's vacation trips have been interrupted by crises. During an August vacation in California his first year in office, the United States shot down two Libyan planes in the Gulf of Sidra off Libya.

Reagan was in California when he first sent the Marines into Lebanon. He also was in California when the Soviets shot down the Korean airliner last Sept. 1. killing 269 persons.

Reagan was on a golfing weekend in Augusta, Ga., when terrorists blew up the Marine barracks in Beirut, killing 241. On the same weekend, he gave the go-ahead for the invasion of Grenada.

He was in Calfornia last week when he signed a statement redeploying the Marines from Beirut airport to the 6th

A couple of days later, he was awakened to learn that Soviet President

Yuri Andropov was dead. Reagan's aides, like their predecessors for the past several decades, have maintained that a president can operate just as well out of Washington as he can at the White House.

That is a dubious assumption, and most of the time ill founded. It is true that with the wonders of modern communication, the Signal Corps is prepared, and does in fact, wire the president's abode, wherever it be, for sound. He can be in touch with anyone in the world by picking up the tele-

His small villa on a mountaintop has adjuncts of trailers that can keep him in touch by computers and devices of modern science. But for all, the human quality is missing.

When crises occur. Reagan needs to consult with his advisers. He needs to get a variety of opinions. He needs to make sure he has touched all bases. In short, on the mountaintop he can enjoy the wonders of nature. But it does not keep him in close touch with officialdom or human events in a violent world.

Aides said Reagan has not been happy with some of the critical reportage that presidential spokesman Larry Speakes. and not the president, made the announcement on the troop withdrawal from Lebanon, particularly since Reagan had only a few days earlier accused House Speaker Thomas O'Neill of wanting to "surrender" for urging a pullout from Beirut.

Since it was a major policy pronouncement, some observers believe it would have behooved Reagan to make it

The aides also reported his chagrin at the long-lens photos taken by the television networks of Reagan riding on his sprawling ranch after the withdrawal announcement.

The same type of picture was made after the shooting-down of the Korean passenger Jet. At the same time, the United States was suffering new Marine casualties in Lebanon and major statements about the incidents were being made in Washington and the Santa Barbara press center.

Once the president on horseback was shown on television, image-conscious aides speedily suggested that Reagan head back to Washington. And he did. The excuse was that he had to consult with congressional leaders.

The Reagan White House has been more candid than others in the recent past. Other presidential aides have tried a massive camouflage when the presidents went to Palm Beach, the LBJ Ranch. San Clemente, and Vall. Colo. by issuing statements that the chief executive was hard at work, reading official papers, signing documents.

But as far as this White House is concerned, the president has a right to rest and relaxation, with no apologies necessary. And generally, that is the way his work-play retreat has been approached.

But he also has to know that anything can happen, and usually does.

Daydreams Are More Than Fluff

By Gino Del Guercio UPI Science Writer

BOSTON (UPI) - Most people think the Walter Mittys of this world are fools for wasting their time daydreaming about events that usually never come true. But psychiatrists say daydreams play in important role for everyone and in certain situations could save your life.

Dr. Owen S. Surman, a psychiatrist at Massachusetts General Hospital, said daydreams are fantasies that occur while we are awake. These temporary suspensions of reality often arise rather spontaneously and may last only a few seconds.

They are usually inspired or stimulated by some experience in one's active life, Surman sald.

"Psychiatrists and psychologists have always been interested in the patterns of conscious thought, including daydreams," sald Surman. "But of special interest is that we can use certain kinds of fantasies people typically have to help them feel more comfortable about themselves.

"What we normally do is have someone use a special kind of daydream, for example, relaxing on a beach. We ask someone to think about a pleasent scene. We teach patients to reproduce these fantasies on their own and therefore produce a feeling of being more relaxed whenever they need it.

"It's not terribly different from meditation," he said. Daydreams can also be used for a variety of other purposes, such as planning ahead, sharpening one's concentration for a competitive event. relieving boredom or tension, reducing anger, increasing potential for creativity and building self-esteem.

"Daydreams are particularly good in helping people to conquer their mild phobias," said Surman.

"There is usually a hierarchy of phobic situations," he said. "For a claustrophobic (someone afraid of enclosed spaces), a crowded elevator might produce the highest anxiety. A behavior therapist would start from the lower end of the strata and teach the phobic person to relax about mildly phobic situations, such as wearing a tight ring or collar." The therapist would then teach the patient to relax while wearing the ring or collar by having them daydream about something pleasant. Once mildly, distressing situations are conquered, the therapist works up to more stressful situations using the same techniques.

"This technique isn't particularly good for severely phobic people, but it works in many cases," said Surman.

Daydreams are also good for relieving anxiety about a future event, such as an exam.

"We work scrially backwards through the task," Surman said.

If a student is worried about an exam. the therapist would have the patient daydream about receiving an A. Then the student would daydream about successfully finishing the exam, breezing through the exam and on backwards until present time.

Surman said some people work out this sort of strategy for conquering fears on their own, but other people need to be taught the technique.

'Indian' Speaks With Forked Tongue?

WASHINGTON - One of the country's most celebrated Indians has fabricated much of the background that made him famous. In fact, some Indian leaders doubt that he is an Indian at all.

The name he goes by is Jamake Highwater. He has written several books and academic articles on Indian culture. detailing the pain of his life as an Indian.

With his dark hair, sculpted profile and majestic presence, he appears to be the very model of an Indian. And his credentials as an Indian have been accepted without question by TV personality Bill Moyers, Who's Who, The New York Times. The Christian Science Monitor and other leading newspapers.

Highwater has produced recordings and television programs: 30 years ago. he founded a dance troupe in San Francisco. The Corporation for Public Broadcasting has put up $250,000 for a TV show now being produced by his non-profit corporation. CPB and the Public Broadcasting System have offered him $600,000 more if he can find matching funds for another TV production that would cost more than $2

Yet under persistent questioning by my associate Les Whitten. Highwater finally admitted that he has lied repeatedly about many details of his life. Asked why someone of such genuine and extraordinary talent felt he had to concoct a spurious background. Highwater said he felt that doors would not have opened for him if he had relied on his talent alone.

"Society puts certain pressures on people," he explained. At one point, he said, "Maybe I should have been more forthright.

Although he still insists he is an Indian. Highwater has dropped any claim to Indianhood from his approved press release. "I'm not going to say I'm an Indian any more," he told Whitten.

"But (expletive deleted). I'm an Indian .... I've taken a lot of (expletive deleted) being an Indian." He has also made a pile of money as an Indian.

Here are the highlights, culled from various sources:

- Highwater gave Who's Who his birthdate as Feb. 14, 1942. But when confronted with an old newspaper elipping that named him as founder of a professional dance company in San Francisco in 1954 - when he would have been 12 - he said he had guessed at his birthdate, and could be as much as 10 years off.

- His place of birth has been listed variously as Los Angeles, Canada, South Dakota, Montana and Normandy. France - though he said he was misquoted on the last site. Told that the place he gave Who's Who - Glacier County, Mont. — has no record of his birth. Highwater said he picked it "right off the top of my head."

- He has claimed a bachelor's and master's degree from the University of California at Berkeley, and a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. In fact, he admitted he never got any such degrees.

- Highwater claims his mother was a Blackfeet and his father a Cherokee, But beyond an affidavit in 1974 from his adoptive mother and another from his foster sister, attesting their belief that he is an Indian, he has no proof. He is not on the official Blackfeet tribal rolls, and such respected Indian leaders as Vine DeLoria Jr. and Hank Adams say flatly that Highwater is not an Indian.

- Highwater's father was either an "illustrious motion picture director," an "alcoholic stunt man" or a rodeo clown. and died when the boy was 7 (or 9 or 10 or 13). His mother, according to Highwater's promotional materials and published interviews, either married a rich man or was destitute - or wasn't a Blackfeet at all. but a Cherokee who ran away at 15 to marry a Greek-born circus acrialist.

- He has claimed fluency in 11 languages - including Nahuatl, the Aztec tongue. Yet when questioned in rudimentary French, German and Italian - three of his supposed languages - he could reply only in bad French and finally admitted that he speaks only English fluently.

Footnote: One of Highwater's proudest moments, he said, came in 1979 when Ed Calf Rope, a Blackfeet elder. conferred on him the name Pittai Sahkomaapii, or Eagle Son. Highwater said the name's ceremonial meaning is "He soars highest and catches many truths, which he carries to many

Group Wants Warnings For Chewing Tobacco, Snuff

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A Ralph Nader-founded consumer group wants the government to require health warnings in all advertising and labeling for chewing tobacco and tobacco snuff.

in a letter to Federal Trade Commission Chairman James Miller, Public Citizen said consumers must be alerted to the "now well-established link between the use of such products and oral dancer."

Allen Greenberg, an attorney for the group, said his organization also plans to seek legislation in Congress to bar advertising for these product on television and radio.

The Smokeless Tobacco Council, an seriously proposes warning labels on snuff for a long time had a fourfold trade group based in Peckskill, N.Y., responded that there is no scientific proof its product is a health hazard, and

'In terms of a warning label, it is our view that the existence of a scientific controversy about the use of a particular product does not warrant instituting a warning." the council said in a state-

"There are lots of other controversial products without warnings," it said. "For example, dairy products have been linked to certain diseases, but no one milk containers."

In its FTC petition, Public Citizen said. "It is our belief that smokeless tobacco any effort to limit ads would be unwar- ads should be treated the same as elgarette ads.

> Health warnings have been required for eigarettes since a 1964 report by the U.S. Surgeon General's Office linked smoking with cancer and heart disease. Ads for eigarettes have been banned on radio and TV since 1971

Public Citizen cited a 1981 study by researchers at the National Cancer Institute and the University of North Carolina that found women who used increased risk of oral cancer.

For cancers specifically of the gum and cheek, the risk was increased 50 fold," the U.S. Public Health Service said in referring to the same study in an April statement.

Hugh Foley, a spokesman for the United States Tobacco Co. in Greenwich. Conn., said, "There are some statistical questions about the accuracy of that

Foley, whose company manufactures "Skoal Bandits," a tobacco snuff, sald. "As far as we know, there have been no ties established between smokeless tobacco and any human disease."

Raiders Charge Past Florida Junior

SCC forward Artis Johnson slips between Rod Kittles, left, and Bobby Esguerra for two points. Johnson came off the bench again with a strong effort as the Raiders moved into a first-place tie with Wednesday night's 78-71 victory over Florida Junior College.

Grace Hits Key Points As SCC Catches Stars

By Sam Cook Herald Sports Editor

Big-game pressure is nothing new to SCC's Linny Grace. As the key member of Boone's 4A statechampionship team last year he thrived on it.

So when it came time for Seminole Community College to move into a first place tie with Florida Junior Wednesday night, the Raiders put the 6-2 freshman swingman in charge of the opera-

With the scored tied at 58-58 and 7:38 to play, Grace picked his way along the baseline, slipped among several bodies and dropped in a three-point play for a lead the Raiders would not relinquish.

A minute later, Grace, alded by SCC's spread offense, went baseline again for two more points to propel the Raiders to a 78-71 victory over Florida Junior before 750 fans at the SCC Health Center.

"It was just like last year," said the unassuming Grace about his two key moves. "When we needed the points. (Tom) Hungerford and I wanted the ball. I wanted to go right at (Rod) Kittles because we wanted him in foul trouble. They don't have much of a bench."

Grace's drive accomplished both. Kittles, who was hit with the foul. eventually fouled out and when he whipped the ball at the referee in the waning minutes of the game, he was slapped with a technical. The 6.71/2 power forward led all boardmen with 10 rebounds and Unished with 14 points.

Technicals plagued the Stars all night. They were hit with three, one of which coach Buster Harvey deemed critical. "Kittles' technical didn't hurt us because the game was over by then," said Harvey. "But the one on (Danny) Devenny did because we still had a chance to

The Raiders improved to 21-9 for the year and 9.2 in the Mid-Florida Conference. FJC fell to 20-7 and 9-2. SCC plays at Lake City Saturday in J.C. Basketball the final conference game. Florida Junior hosts St. Johns River, a 46-43 winner over Daytona Beach Wednesday.

If both teams win or both lose, a playoff game at a neutral after (probably Daytona Beach or Palatka) will be played Monday to determine the conference winner and the automatic state-tournament berth. An SCC win and FJC loss give the Raiders the title - and vice-versa.

Along with the versatile Grace, SCC received strong efforts from 6-6 center Luis Phelps. 6-5 forward Delvin Everett and 6-3 super sub Artis Johnson, Grace totaled 18 points. Ten of 11 free throws were included among the output. Phelps hit 9 of 14 floor shots for 18 points. He also grabbed six boards as the Raiders enjoyed a 30-29 edge on the glass. Everett chipped in 10 points and nine rebounds. Johnson added nine points and seven boards.

After Grace's two buckets put SCC Up, 63-58, FJC called a timeout and tried to regroup. Robert Henry then fired in a jumper to pull the Stars within three with 6:05 to play.

Both teams traded possessions until Johnson came up with a big steal with 4:45 to play. SCC then wheeled the ball to Phelps on the right wing. The big center faked inside and then power-moved the baseline, pulling up to hit an eight-footer for a 65-60 lead with just 4:25 left to play.

"We went to our spread offense because we wanted to get them man-to-man," said sophomore guard Jimmy Payton. "The way we're playing right now, ain't nobody going to stop us."

Florida Junior wasn't Wednesday night. After the Stars converted a free throw, Payton dropped two free throws and Johnson picked up another pass to give SCC control with 3:29 to go.

10 seconds later, but Johnson came up with another steal to hand the ball back to SCC. Payton, though, missed a free throw and the Stars had another opportunity to pare the 67-61 lead.

Ronald Lucas missed from the wing, however, and when Kittles failed to convert the follow-up. Johnson grabbed the rebound with 2:20 to play. Esguerra then complained about a foul call and got his technical.

Johnson hit one free throw and Payton converted the technical for a 69-61 lead to put the game out of

SCC coach Bill Payne gave credit to assistant Terry Woods for Grace's vital baskets. "Terry finally convinced me to put Linny down on the baseline (on the spread) because he was a better penetrator," sald

Payne was also impressed with

Grace missed his only free throw Johnson and Phelps. "Johnson is so damn strong they just couldn't stop him inside," said Payne, "Phelps finally got his confidence back and had one of his better games.

"Lu has just got to stop listing to the coaches yelling at him and play ball. But the bench has been our saviour the last 16 games. We've won seven in a row and 11 out of

"We just need one more Saturday." Payne added. And maybe one more Monday.

Predictor Dreams Of County Sweep

To keep up with the latest fads. I went to the Central Florida 200 to have some of the inmates there help me oul with my predictions of the girls District 4A-9 Tournament which gets under way tonight at 7 at four

Unfortunately, one of the monkeys thought the paper on which he was to make his predictions was for a different use. So, due to circumstances beyond my, and the monkey's, control, the predictions are not available.

However, I had this dream Tuesday night about how the games will turn out, so that will have to replace the zoological predictions. Here's how it went:

Apopka at Seminole

Everyone who knows about the Seminole girls team could have had the same dream about this gaine. Only my dream had the Apopka and Spruce Creek teams combining to hold Seminole to just a 30-point victory. The final score - Seminole 65, Spruce Creek and Apopka 35. Serious, though, Apopka needed just four players in the last two minutes to top Spruce Creek. 48-46. Wednesday night. The Lady Blue Darters won't want to try that tonight.

Lake Brantley at DeLand

This was perhaps the most interesting portion of the dream. DeLand scoring machine Bridgette Gordon picks up four fouls in the first half and Lake Brantley takes a 15-point lead by halftime. Gordon comes back in the third quarter and starts pouring in the points and, with fust 10 seconds left in the game, and DeLand holding a one-point lead. Gordon is called for an offensive foul while going in for a layup. Lake Brantley has trouble getting the ball up the court and, with two seconds left Michelle Brown throws up a shot from halfcourt and it goes in. The final - Lake Brantley 42, DeLand 41. After the game DeLand coach Clifford Cox is taken away in an ambulance along with official Bobby Wyche who tried to pick a fight with the scorers table and lost (That was my

(avorite part). Mainland at Lake Howell

Mainland's Gall Hickley goes on a wild scoring binge as she scores 48 points. However, she is the only Mainland player to score and Lake Howell rolls to a 77-48 victory behind 35 points by Tammy Johnson and a national-record 45 rebounds by Christy Scott.

Lyman at Lake Mary

Laura (number 22) and Peggy Glass (number 23) scored their numbers in their final regular season game. Against Lyman, they do it again, and so do all five of Luke Mary's starters. Peggy scores 23, Laura 22, Kim Averill 24, Lisa Gregory 21 and Andrea Fenning (number 00) doesn't score but dishes out 30 assists. The final score - Lake Mary 90, Lyman 59.

The dream ended there, although I had this other strange dream where I wake up to find the United States Olympic Ice Hockey team defroating my freezer. One of them said they didn't mind because they weren't doing on a 10-footer by Ewing with 8:23 anything else at the time.

Ewing Blocks Villanova; UCF Keeps Pace

Georgetown decided to make sure its rematch with Villanova Wednesday night was not a repeat of their first encounter.

The No. 2 Hoyas, who lost to Villanova in double overtime Jan. 12. relied on a strong defense to hold the Wildcats to 26 percent shooting and to defeat their Big East rival 59-46.

"Obviously, they (the Hoyas) have an outstanding basketball team." said Villanova coach Rollie Massimino. "They deserve all the Patrick Ewing scored 18 points and blocked seven shots to anchor Georgetown's effort, even though the 7-foot center picked up a second foul with 4:18 left in the first half and was in foul trouble throughout the match.

"My assistants wanted me to take him out." said Georgetown coach John Thompson. "I said no. I don't feel as secure with Patrick at my side as I do when he's on the floor."

The Hoyas. 22-2 overall and 10-1 in the conference, recovered after blowing a 14-point first-half lead. They went ahead for good, 42-41.

Basketball

"The only good thing I can say about the way we played was that we didn't get discouraged and quit when we could have," said Thompson. "We were forced to play too much zone in the first half because of foul trouble and that's when they made a run at us."

Villanova's Massimino was more effusive in his praise of the Hoyas. They're the second-ranked team in the country," he said. "They can beat anybody in the United States. They can be national champions. I think they're terrifle, I really do." The Wildcats, 12-10 and 8-4, went 8:08 without a field goal and scored just 3 points while the Hoyas raised the score to 54-44 on two free throws by Gene Smith with 1:35 remaining. Villanova was led by 7-foot sophomore Chuck Everson with 13 points. In other Top 20 action, No. 3 DePaul drubbed Loyola 93-77, No. 9 Meniphis State beat Florida State 75-67. No. 10 Oklahoma edged Oklahoma State 57-55, No. 13 Arkansas downed Texas Christian 55-48. and No. 15 Wake Forest defeated Clemson 68-57.

ORLANDO - The University of Central Florida Knights won their sixth straight game Wednesday night by pounding Villanova Miami (formerly Biscayne), 75-44, at the UCF gym.

Issac McKinnon tossed in 19 points along with three slam dunks to lead all scorers. Dan Falson tossed in 14 points and Dave Murray notched 12.

UCF is tied for first place in the Sunshine State Conference with Tampa with an 8-3 record. The Knights, who had opened the scason with six losses, climbed to the .500 mark with a 12-12 record.

DELAND (UPI) - Mark Alarie and David Henderson scored 18 points each Wednesday night to lead the 19th ranked Duke Blue Devils to an 80-69 victory over Stetson. Three other Blue Devils scored in double figures to lead the balanced offense which gave Duke its 20th win of the season. Johnny Dawkins and Tommy Amaker each had 13 points while Dan Meager added 12.

Norton's FTs Hold Back Lake Howell

Eddie Norton made 3 of 4 free throws for the only. points in the overtime period to lift Oviedo's Lions to a 49-46 victory over Lake Howell's Silver Hawks in prep basketball action Wednesday night at Lake Howell High.

Oviedo improved to 9-12 overall and will end the regular season Saturday at Seminole High. The game was originally scheduled for last Saturday at Oviedo. The game had to be moved to Seminole High because of the girls district basketball tournament.

Lake Howell, which fell to 4-21 with the loss, travels to Spruce Creek Friday night for its last regular season game. That game also had to be moved from Lake Howell to Spruce Creek because the girls 4A districttourney will be at Lake Howell High Friday and Oviedo rode the 20 first-half points of Mike Schwab to a seven-point lead. 32-25, at halftime. But, the Silver Hawks reeled off the first three baskets of the secondhalf to pull within one, 32-31, and the two teams traded buckets the remainder of the quarter.

Oviedo took a 36-35 lead after three quarters, but Lake Howell outscored the Lions, 11-10, to tie the score ac 46-46 at the end of regulation. Lake Howell's Scott-Anderton had a chance to give the Hawks the victory in regulation, but his 15-foot jumper with 10 seconds leftwas off the mark.

The Lions won the tip in the overtime period and immediately went into the stall, looking for one good. shot. But. Norton was fouled with 28 seconds left and was sent to the line for a one-and-one. Norton made the first shot to give the Lions a 47-46 lead, but missed the second, giving the Hawks one last chance to pull out the

Lake Howell set up a play to go to hot-shooting junior Efrem Brooks, but he missed a jumper from the free throw line. Brooks got his own rebound, but missed the follow-up. Oviedo controlled the ball after Brooks. second miss and Norton was fouled with three seconds left. This time Norton hit both shots to give Oviedo the Schwab wound up with a game-high 28 points for the Lions while Norton added nine. Anderton led Lake Howell with 12 points and Crockett BoHannon and Keith Wooldridge added eight apiece. Brooks, who got into foul trouble and missed most of the second and third quarters, was held to just six points.

Johnson Charges To Gold M

Winter Olympics

SARAJEVO. Yugoslavia (UPI) - Bill Johnson backed up a week of boasting with a brazen charge down Mount Bjelasnica today to win the glamorous men's downhill and become the first United States skier to win a Winter Olympic Alpine event.

Earlier, Switzerland's 17-year-old wonder, Michela Figini, became the youngest person to win the gold medal in an Olympic Alpine event, capturing the women's downhill.

Johnson's historic victory kicked off what promised to be a spectacular day for the United States. Scott Hamilton entered the men's free skating competition at 1:30 p.m. EST as a virtual lock for the gold and Rosalynn Sumners of Edmonds. Wash. sat in gold medal position going into the short program at 8 a.m. EST. In following up the 1-2 finish of Debis Armstrong and Christin Cooper in the women's giant slalom, the Californian-born Johnson, who now lives in Portland, Ore., backed up a boast to "smoke them all.'

"I'm gonna smoke them tomorrow." Johnson said after his final training run. "I don't care who I race against, you can bring any of them along. I wish everybody had full team quotas here so I could beat 'em all." And Johnson backed it up, completing the course at 65 miles an hour, the fastest downhill speed in Olympic history. Peter Mueller of Switzerland won the silver, finishing 27-100ths of a second behind

Johnson, and Anton Steiner of Austria won the bronze.

"I think I did put some pressure on myself because if I had finished second. I would have been a real bum." Johnson said. The pressure had built to immense proportions on the men's downhillers when the race had to be postponed three times because of atrocious weather conditions. Johnson tried to stay loose by occupying himself with video games and other distractions, and when the originally was scheduled, he was ready. 'It didn't bother me at all," he said of the delay. "It's part of downhill ski racing and,"s obviously for a good reason. The visibility isn't too good and I really don't like to race in 200 kilometers (122 miles) per hour winds.

race finally was held exactly one week after it

"I was pretty relaxed at the starting gate after finally finding out we were going to race. I had a couple of good turns, then I came down to a section where I had been having a little trouble and I had a little trouble there

"I knew I was carrying good speed. I took a little bit of air on these last two bumps. I was probably pretty close at the medium time and at the bottom I guess I just smoked everybody."

for the 23-year-old Johnson, smooth and not super-demanding, with plenty of terrain for gliding.

Johnson, who had two firsts, two seconds and one seventh in the five training runs. ruffled a lot of European feathers with his boasting. What made it all the more irritating was the fact that the downhill has become almost exlusive property of the European

Johnson was a virtual unknown until only a month ago when he won at Wengen. Switzerland, thus becoming the first American ever to capture a World Cup race since the circuit began in 1966.

Figini handled the Jahorina course as if she were fiding a gentle pony and completed the track in 1:13.36 minutes for an average speed of 60 mph. Teammate Maria Walliser won the silver and Olga Charvatova of Czechoslovakia took the bronze, preventing a 1-2-3 sweep by Walliser was just 5-100ths of a second behind, posting a time of 1:13.41. Charvatova clocked 1:13.53 minutes, pushing Switzerland's Ariane Ehrat with 1:13.95 down into fourth spot. No team has ever finished 1-2-3 in the Olympic downhill.

The 1-2 Swiss victory matched the American performance in the women's giant slalom Monday when Armstrong and Cooper won the gold and silver in that event.

Lyman was held scoreless by Colonial pitcher Tom Ferrell until the bottom of the seventh inning. Paul Alegre took the loss for Lyman. Alegre and Robby Robinson had two hits each for Lyman while Byron Overstreet doubled home two runs in the seventh inning. Lyman also hurt its effort with four costly errors.

The Greyhounds, 1-1, are back in action next Thursday as they host the Lyman Invitational Tournament. The Greyhounds will face Leesburg on Thursday (7 p.m.). Brooksville Hernando on Friday (8 p.m.) and Lake Brantley on Saturday (5 p.m.).

In Wednesday's other game, West Orange pounded out a 14-2 victory over the Lake Howell Silver Hawks in a game which was stopped after five innings because of the slaughter rule at Lake Howell High.

Lake Howell, 1-3, travels to Winter Garden for a 3:30 p.m. rematch with West Orange on

Gracey Wins 2 Motos; Triple Crown At DeLand

In BMX (bicycle motocross), races are staged in different motos (races) according to age and class. Each class races three times, usually with a break between the second and third motos. Each time a rider races they receive points for each place they finish in the races. The points are totaled, and the rider who accumulates the least amount of points is awarded first place.

Most BMX tracks are set up with a timed gate that has enough starting positions for eight riders. If there are more than eight riders to a class, then the class is divided up into two motos. The best eight riders out of these two motos continue on to the main event. Then, the best rider of this race is declared overall winner.

After all the races are over, trophies and ribbons are awarded. "Nobody ever really loses, they all get a trophy or a ribbon, no matter what place they come in," said 11-year-old racer Susan Koch.

This past Saturday was a great day for racing at Barnett Park in Pine Hills. Most all of the Sanford, Lake Mary riders trophled. "The Bike Connection Race Team of Sanford brought back a lot of trophics, most of them either first or second place," said Dick Koch, owner of the Bicycle Connection.

W.L. Gracey, 11-year-old expert, of Sanford, raced the 10-11-year-old open class and crossed the finish line with a first, and then went back to win first place in the 11-year-old expert class.

In the beginner races, 12-year-old Brian Lane, of Lake Mary, placed second. This was Brian's last race as a beginner. next week he graduates to novice.

n the novice races. II-year-old Mike Davis finished sixth place.

Twelve-year-old John Connelly, of Lake Mary, raced his first novice race and finished off with fifth place. In the 13-year-old novice class, David "The Ripper" Sanborn placed first. "The Ripper" also raced the 13-open class and received a second place trophy. John "Avalanche" Boatwright placed second in the 13-year-old novice class. The 15-year-old novice class was the 'super trophy'' class of the day. Jimmy. Williams was the lucky dude who tookhome a 21/2 foot first place trophy. Jimmy, of Sanford, races a Mongooses Juhn Poole, of Lake Mary, also raced: 15-novice. John crashed and burned his: first two races (in style, of course) but dominated the class in the last race. John placed third.

Chris Brown, a newcomer from Fort Walton Beach, raced 11-year-old expert class and placed second.

Shane McFadden, of Sanford, raced both 15-cruiser and the cruiser open classes. Shane placed first in the 15-year-old cruiser class, and third in the cruiser open.

Mark "Coke-a-Rolo" Koch, 16-year-old-cruiser of Sanford, raced 16 cruiser and the cruiser open. "Coke-a-Rolo" placed first in 16-crulser, and second in the cruiser open.

In the powder puff class, 11-year-old Susan Koch had tough competition. Susan battled Michelle Carnes for firstplace, but to no avail. Susan placed second. "Michelle was small, but tough," stated Susan.

In NPSA (National Pedal Sport Association) action, Mark Koch, who races a Champion 24-inch cruiser in the 16-year-old cruiser class, defeated National number two, factory CW rider. Robby Reese, for a first place win.

An upcoming event in NPSA is a Triple Crown National race to be held this Saturday in DeLand. Pre-registration will begin about 8 a.m. until 9:30 a.m. Races begin at 11 a.m.

Five Babies In Five Years Leaves Wife Insensitive

DEAR ABBY: I am so glad I can write this because I certainly wouldn't be able to talk to anyone about it. 1 am 38 and had five bables in five years. The youngest is B months old. My husband and I have always had a wonderful sex life. My e roblem is bedon't feel anything anymore.

Lenjoy the intimacy and affection of just holding each other before and after, but as far as the actual act is concerned, I feel nothing. No excitement, no elimax nothing!

It's not my husband. He's as good as ever. I have never told him; he's such a dear sweet man, it would hurt him if he thought he wasn't satisfying me. What is wrong with me?

I suppose I should talk to my doctor about this, but if I can't even talk to my husband, how can I talk to a doctor? I went once, but when I got into his office I told him I just wanted my blood pressure checked. What should I do?

Dear Abby

If you can't talk to your doctor, talk to his nurse. and ask her to tell him.

My medical expert says that having had five bables in five years may have caused a temporary absence of sensitivity that will return in time, but the probability of a psychological involvement, which is treatable. is great. So don't accept this condition as permanent and hopeless. An honest dialogue with your husband as well as professionals is imperative. but start with your physi-

There is a problem that must be faced, but it hasn't even been mentioned. When Harry married Sylvia, her mother, 'Mrs. B.," who was then a young widow, moved in with Sylvia and Harry and has lived there ever since. Mrs. B. practically raised Sylvia's two daughters. who are now married.

She's a lovely woman and Thave nothing against her. but now that I am marrying Harry, I don't think she should live with us, do you? She's 70, not hurting financially, and she's ingood heath. Harry has not brought up the subject. and I dont think it's my place to bring it up. How should this be handled?

TOUCHY SUBJECT

DEAR TOUCHY: I understand your feelings and agree it's inappropriate for Mrs. B. to live with you and Harry. Since Harry has not mentioned the subject to you, I think you should mention it to him.

DEAR ABBY: I tried a suggestion someone sent in to solve the problem of a neighbor's dog who barked continuously. I am a night nurse who had been bothered by the yapping of the neighbors' dog while the owners were at work all day. I made a tape recording of the barking dog, then I played it under the dog owners' window while they were trying to sleep.

The policeman who came to my door told me that my actions were in violation of the law more so than the dog's, because I had intelligence and knew that my actions were Then he gave me a citation for disturbing the peace. Thanks for nothing.

Too Many Laxatives Hard On The Bowels

DEAR DR. LAMB - 1 read your column on too many laxatives, which used to be my problem. I was taking one third cup of Milk of Magnesia every other day. It got so that my kidneys would get me up almost every hour during the night. I would wake up more tired than when I went to bed and remained sleepy during the day.

I went to the hospital and they said it was the laxatives and to take tap-water enemas. In three days I felt like a new person.

Now I have prunes every morning and prune jules every night, but I still have problems. I'm all right for three or four days, but then I have to use an enema. I take Metamucil every other day.

I'm 73 and walk two miles a day.

DEAR READER - Constant use of salt laxatives is hard on the bowel system. A small amount of prunes and prune juice is probably all right, but you should know they contain a substance that behaves as a chemical laxative. This works fine for many people, but again excess gets you back into the excess cycle. Tap-water enemas are useful for many people. You might find you would get along better if you included more bulk in your diet or increased your bulk former. Metamucil la a good bulk former. You may need to take it on a daily basis, even twice a day. You can judge this on the basis of your response. The bulk formers don't contain chemicals or salt, problems.

To give you more in-formation about laxatives, 'm sending you The recently in mice. The SOD Health Letter 12-8, Lax- content of tissues was atives, Enemas and Suppositories. DEAR DR. LAMB - A group of women in our club take superoxide dismutase. Do you recommend these pills? What do they do for you?

DEAR READER -Superoxide dismutase -better known as SOD - is a popular plii usually sold in health-food stores. They're just another example of man's constant search for eternal youth. SOD is an enzyme in vital tissue which has an anti-aging effect on cells.

I hasten to add, however, that the SOD enzyme in cells must be manufactured by your body. Swallowing SOD will not help your cells. It's an enzyme, which means it's a protein. All proteins. whether in round steak. fish or SOD, are digested. First the protein is attacked by stomach acids and then attacked by all the enzymes in the same intestine, including those of the pancreas.

They break proteins down into their component parts, the amino acids. It's these amino acids that are passed through the intestinal wall into the circulation. The amino acids in SOD are no different from the same basic amino acids in many of our protein foods. After digestion it's no longer so eliminate the same SOD, but simply the amino-acid building blocks for SOD.

SOD has been evaluated measured before and after giving SOD orally, and in animals that didn't receive SOD. Giving the animal SOD had no effect

WIN AT BRIDGE

Vulnerable: Neither Dealer: South North East Pass Pass Pass Dbl Pass Pass

Opening lead: • K By Oswald Jacoby

and James Jacoby Oswald: "The essential feature of a good team is to quiet two-diamond contract and wrapped it around our necks. They got there after I had elected to pass my 11 high-card points.

'West opened one diamond, Edgar passed, East bid a spade, West two diamonds, and East, after long thought, passed. They made two diamonds on the nose, and I felt we had been fixed.

"Now let's watch Root and Pavlicek at work in the other room. The bidding in the box shows what happened. South elected to open my hand with one spade. Bill overcalled with two diamonds, and North made one of those modern negative doubles to show preparation for the unbid aults. South rebid two spades and, when it got back to Dick, he made an inspired double.

The defense was fair only, but they did set him one trick. They were plus 100. We were minus 90. In this board-a-match team event, that 10-point profit was as good as 1,000. We won a point. If Dick had passed, he and Bill would have had to beat it by two
