Worrying About The Heat

Are you one of those people who go about during summer months complaining all the time about the heat? If you are, you are probably a lot more uncomfortable than your neighbor who simply forgets it's summer and doesn't seem to mind how hot it gets.

Psychology works that way. There's something about the mind which makes you feel things more, the more you worry about them. It's like wanting a drink of water when you're thirsty.

The best way to keep cool in summer is to keep cool emotionally and mentally, to wear cool clothes, or clothes that look cool whether they are or not, and to eat cool foods.

But more important than anything else is to forget about the heat. Don't sit around fanning yourself, and saying over and over again, to yourself, or to anyone else who will listen: "Gosh, isn't it hot?"

As a matter of fact, the chances are ten to one that people like that just like to have something to kick about.

They Wanted A Raise... The overwhelming decision of Miami citizens not to give their city commissioners a raise in salary has attracted attention throughout the entire state.

"No mention was made of the promised increases for employees until a few weeks ago when employees signed a statement foregoing raises so that 20 employees—no one knew who—would not be dismissed for 'economy' reasons.

"This week Miami voters, turning out in greater number than for any previous special election, balloted 7087 to 2315 against the pay increase from $1800 to $3600 for the commissioners.

"In fairness to the commissioners, they may deserve a raise and it is to their credit that at least they gave voters a chance to express themselves on the increases. It is encouraging to know that the checks and ballot may still be used."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

Right or wrong, we are for the United States, first, last, and all the time. The man who can't subscribe to this belief is unworthy to wear the American or to claim citizenship in the greatest country the sun shines upon.

According to the London Daily News, some wounded American soldiers from the Western front have recently arrived at the hospital at Bath.

Reorganization Begun Of Pierce-Arrow Co.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. (AP)—Stockholders of the Pierce-Arrow Motor Corporation will be asked Sept. 2 to consider a reorganization plan calling for formation of a new corporation and the raising of $10,700,000 new capital.

The purpose of this action was described in a letter from the management to stockholders as being to provide new equipment, plant rearrangement, working capital and other requirements for the firm to enter the medium priced field with a line of cars selling from $700 to $1,000.

standing Floridian has participated in programs especially arranged to stress the varied resources and opportunities the state offers.

Altogether it is a gala week indeed and one that means much to Florida in an advertising way.

The day of my arrival at the Exposition the two millionth visitor passed thru the turnstiles for this year, bringing the total to over eight million who have attended the Exposition during the two seasons to date.

Now the advantage is Florida now has thousands of dollars worth of marvelous exhibit material ready for display at any point that affords an opportunity to tell Florida's story to large numbers of prospective tourists, home-seekers and investors.

No matter what form of advertising we may contemplate for the future, Florida National Exhibits should receive first consideration.

Congress Is Told Nation Needs 300 New Merchant Ships

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (AP)—Joseph P. Kennedy, chairman of the maritime commission, says the United States needs 300 to 350 new ships to enable the merchant marine to compete successfully with foreign fleets.

He so testified before the house appropriations committee at hearings on the ship deficiency bill. The committee refused to include in the bill a requested appropriation to the commission of $10,000,000 to start a 98-ship replacement program.

Jap Airplanes Bomb Chinese By Moonlight

Volley fired by Chinese riflemen whizzed over the decks of the Dollar Line President McKinley as she lay in the Yangtze. More than 200 Americans fell to the decks of the liner or her tender to escape the fusillades.

Earlier farther up the Whangpoo River during Chinese soldiers seized six moored Japanese steamers from the Pootung wharf, and then they way and scattered them in the channel to block Japanese warships from the upper reaches of the river. This was well south of the course of evacuation.

From 8:00 o'clock tonight to 8:40 the Japanese war fleet on the Whangpoo River was firing with gusto, then ceased firing for the time being.

Undisciplined mobs stole through the streets of Shanghai, beating, beating and killing natives they suspected of plotting to poison the city's water supply, while thousands of homeless refugees clamored for food at the barricaded gates of the International Settlement.

The bitter battle between Chinese and Japanese, with its toll of 1800 non-combatants Chinese and foreign dead, burst again to new heights along the wharfing, murky Whangpoo River that winds about Shanghai's famous waterfront and hence to the mighty Yangtze, on to the sea.

Japanese warships, led by the flagship Idzumi, began bombardment of Chinese positions along the river at early morning.

Chinese guns spoke in answer from a new position established during the night, in Pootung westward across the Whangpoo from Shanghai proper.

Native newspapers had carried news, unconfirmed, that Japanese tried to influence natives to poison the city's water supply.

Infuriated, menacing mobs acted upon the rumors and many natives were killed or beaten. Scores of Chinese were stopped and searched by the military police. If they possessed anything of value they were taken to a military camp. The military police were told to shoot to kill any natives who refused to be searched.

Soviet Leaders Plan New Purge Of Ranks

MOSCOW, Aug. 18. (AP)—A series of unexpected transfers, perhaps presaging the fall of several high Russian leaders, jolted Soviet officialdom Monday night.

The two most important figures replaced by others and transferred to "new work" were Innokenti Khalepsky, one time telegraph operator who rose to commissar of posts and telegraphs, and G. T. Grinko, veteran and well-known finance commissar.

HE MADE 'EM WEEP

ELYRIA, O., Aug. 18. (AP)—Police Chief E. J. Stankard, cleaning up his office in a mild way, found an empty tear gas bomb which, to his knowledge, had been on hand for 11 years.

Casually he tossed it out a window into a parking lot. The "empty" bomb exploded and sent a cloud of acid gas drifting back into the city hall.

Pat O'Brien Seen As Hot-Stick Linesman

Never again, studio executives have promised, will Pat O'Brien be called upon to play as dangerous a role as the one he did for their picture about high-tension linesman, "Slim," which opens at the Ritz Theater today.

The promise was given not only to the fast-talking Irish star, but to a large insurance company as well. As a consequence, O'Brien will be able to purchase a $75,000 ordinary life insurance policy for which he applied shortly before "Slim" went into production.

The role of Red Hays, linesman extraordinary, required O'Brien to do considerable climbing on 100-foot steel towers and 88-foot wooden posts. For doing this hazardous work, the studio took out $500,000 insurance policies on both O'Brien's and Henry Fonda's lives.

The insurance company to which O'Brien had applied for a personal policy heard of this and informed the actor that his application had been rejected as a consequence.

Barnes reported that he asked Martin if he had been in the woods and that he gave an off-hand reply and proceeded to remove all the tell-tale signs from the car.

BATTLEFIELD OF UNDECLARED FAR EAST WAR

This view of Shanghai's waterfront shows the "battlefield" of the Sino-Jap undeclared war where most of the severe fighting is in progress. The office of the NYK shipping company (13) was a badly damaged by a bomb during aerial warfare as was the Japanese consulate police station (2), target for Chinese fliers. Seeking to handicap the arrival of Japanese reinforcements, the Chinese bombarded the landing stage (3) where enemy soldiers would debark. Across the Whangpoo river in Pootung (4) Chinese artillery was pounding away at Shanghai. To provide protection for arriving Japanese soldiers three Nippon destroyers ranged in the area marked X.

Roosevelt Orders 1200 Marines To Leave For China

Application Of Neutrality Law Is Delayed Temporarily

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18. (AP)—President Roosevelt yesterday ordered 1200 Marines dispatched to Shanghai to guard Americans whose lives are endangered by the Sino-Japanese crisis as high administration officials revealed that the Chief Executive will delay application of the Neutrality Act in the Far East.

It was revealed that the situation with regard to the neutrality law is on a day-to-day basis but that the President may decide at any time that developments warrant application of the act. Administration sources emphasized that present circumstances do not warrant such action since there has been no severance of diplomatic relations, or formal declaration of war by either China or Japan.

The White House position was made known after the President, responding to appeals from Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic Fleet, ordered the Marine reinforcements to embark from San Diego for Shanghai as quickly as possible.

The order was issued through Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who said the Devil Dogs—the Sixth Regiment and Headquarters Company of the Second Marine Brigade—will reinforce the Fourth Marine Regiment and blue jackets, now on a continuous "alarm" basis in Shanghai and environs.

Simultaneously, Hull said that the administration would seek a $500,000 appropriation to finance relief work among and evacuation of Americans from the war zones, especially Shanghai. He said the Marines will sail aboard the transport Chautauque in about 10 days and should reach Shanghai in five weeks.

The Chautauque will be convoyed by the light cruiser Marched which will augment the United States battleships and destroyers now in Chinese waters.

The Chief Executive's major concern is for the safe removal or protection of the 4000 Americans in Shanghai and other beleaguered cities. Although hundreds have fled and others were boarding outbound ships today, the government has no authority to evacuate its citizens by mandatory order.

Big Sanford Moundsman Gives Leesburg But Five Bingles; Mayo Langston Get Two Hits

1,000 Leesburg And Sanford Fans See Both Clubs Battle In Tight Contest

Brainard Relieves Wright In Ninth Three Errors Costly To Gondoliers In Interesting Tilt

The Sanford Lookouts earned a hard fought game last night over the Leesburg Gondoliers in that city under the lights at Venetian Garden Park by a score of 4 to 1 before one of the largest crowds to see the Gondoliers play at home this season. During the hurrying for the winning combination was Owen Wright, although he was relieved in the ninth frame after walking the first two men to face him. Wright sent two of the Gondoliers down via the strike out route while he issued three bases on balls. Big Dan Brainard relieved Wright in the ninth and hurled the ball for the remainder of the inning in which he pitched to only three batters, retiring them all. The Gondoliers secured five hits off Wright's deliveries. On the mound for the home club was Jake Bunch who limited the Lookouts to six hits, while he sent three Lookouts down swinging and gave four free passes to the initial sack to the locals. Jake was in form as well as Wright and the game was satisfying to all the fans. Mayo Langston and Mel Arnold led the hitting for both clubs during the evening when they connected for a pair of blows apiece to take honors. The scoring hostilities began in the initial stanza when Sanford pushed across their first run. Ellis Clary worked Bunch for a base on balls and he advanced to third on Kingdon's infield out but on an error by Cox in trying to nab Clary on the hit he scored with the first run. Philadelphia Is Considering Its Camp At Daytona

Wilson Outfit Likes Set Up In Coastal City For Training

DAYTONA BEACH, Aug. 11.—(Special to the Herald)—The Philadelphia Phillies, National League representatives, yesterday wired the City of Daytona Beach about pitching a training camp here in the Spring of 1938, according to The Sun Record. Gerald P. Nugent, president of the Philly baseball corporation, informed The Sun Record by wire that he had asked offers from Daytona Beach, and "other points in Florida, Louisiana and California" in preparation for selecting their 1937 Spring quarters at Winter Haven, Fla. Nugent would not reveal the club's terms in asking bids from prospective camp sites, nor the sites considered in the three states. However, the Philadelphia magazine indicated Daytona Beach would have the inside rail because of "its expansive and expensive Spring plants"—meaning, of course, the $15,000 field on Cypress St. and the City Island Park in the heart of town. City Fathers last night had the Philly proposition under consideration. One official confirmed the Philadelphia negotiations and said immediate steps would be taken to land the major league club. This cheering dispatch from the "City of Brotherly Love" may fill the hole vacated by the St. Louis Cardinals, who transferred their 1938 camp from Daytona Beach to St. Petersburg. The "Gas House" baseball braintrusters moved to this city from Bradenton last Spring for a small fortune, including $5,000 cash bonus, free bus service, construction of the City press St. training asylum for 10 G's, and countless City compensations. Sam Bradson, wealthy owner of the Cardinals, said St. Louis moved to St. Pete "because City of Daytona Beach did not assure him of a 1938 contract equal to the 1937 terms." Just what terms the City will attempt to bait the Phils with is wide open to question. But one thing is certain. Manager Jimmy Wilson's Phils will not hook the City like the Cardinals did. A reasonable contract will be offered.

FLIPPER FEELS FINE. The Cleveland Indians "problem child," Bob Polien, hopes his troubles are over for a while. With his arm back in shape, Manager Steve O'Neill hopes to send the farm boy to the mound every five days if the arm will stand it.

Mrs. Ormsby Has To Take Care Of Her 12 Young Children

By Mary Elizabeth Plummer NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Emmett Ormsby, wife of the American league umpire, does her bit for baseball by caring for their 12 children, ranging from 6 months to 14 years old. Mrs. Ormsby hasn't had time to see a league game in four years. "That's my husband's business," she says. "Mine is at home." Caring for her flock means 15 hours' work a day for Mrs. Ormsby. She gets up at 6, cooks three meals daily, does the shopping. After breakfast she wheels out the family motor car and takes eight of the youngsters three miles to school. She keeps young with the children. There are no traces of gray in her black hair, no lines of weariness in her face. She has an Irish sense of humor, and an infectious smile. Mrs. Ormsby doesn't believe in minding her husband's business, but she made the spring training trip to Florida this year, taking six children with her, and she drove them back alone, covering the 1,300 miles in two and a half days. "Why should I tell Emmett what to do about baseball?" she asks. "He has a mind of his own and a good one, too." The Ormsbys are one of the great love stories of baseball. In his absence, they never have failed to write each other daily for 16 years, the length of their marriage. He telephones home at least twice a week while on the road. Another baseball "home girl" is Mrs. Charles Leo Hartnett, attractive young blonde wife of the Chicago Cubs' noted catcher, "Gabby." She sums up the Hartnetts' philosophy: "Charlie's job is baseball. Mine is running a home and rearing two children." She likes gardening, raising flowers, is an adept cook of the roasts, steak and chicken that her husband likes. Sheila Ames, their plump baby girl, is too young to be a baseball fan, but "Buddy," a curly-haired second-grader, already wears a baseball cap labeled "N. L." for the National league, and gets in many sand lot contests. One more "baseball widow" who says, "Baseball is my husband's job, and the house is mine"—Mrs. Stanley R. (Bucky) Harris, whose husband is manager of the Washington Senators. When Bucky is away, she plants petunias at their home in fashionable Spring Valley, plans birthday parties for their children, Stan, Sally and Dick, or spends an evening in Washington with her parents. Her father, Howard Sutherland, formerly was senator from West Virginia. A little more than a decade ago, Mrs. Harris was a capital debutante, in the thick of the social whirl. She met Bucky at a night club, and they were married, with President and Mrs. Coolidge attending the wedding. The honeymoon began with a trip to the world's record. She has big brown eyes, a lithe laugh and a trim, youthful figure. When she married, she wasn't even sure she knew first base from second. Now she knows all the jargon.

Lookouts To Wear New Uniforms In Tonight's Battle

The Sanford Lookouts will wear new uniforms tonight when they meet the St. Augustine Saints in a regular schedule Florida State League ball game. President Henry Watson of the Sanford Baseball Association announced today that they would be used tonight but their style and color has not been released by Mr. Watson to date, although it is known that the caps and socks are of bright yellow. It is understood that the shirt and pants are of a light grayish purple with Lookouts reading on the front. According to officials, the uniforms are stylish and good looking under the lights for night ball and so Sanford will have a classy-looking group of ball players.

Leesburg Fans Do Much Damage To The Sanford Lookout Bus

The Sanford Lookouts' bus was nearly wrecked by some Leesburg fans last evening in that city when during the game someone went out behind the club house where the bus was parked and let all the air out of the tires, emptied one of the gasoline tanks and destroyed the switch key. It was 12:30 A. M. this morning before the Lookouts were able to leave the island city. Jimmy Wright stated this morning that it was a dirty trick to play even though Sanford and Leesburg did have some trouble and Lee Meadows, manager of the Lookouts, also expresses his opinion. Lee said that things like that had been going on for sometime in Leesburg and it was the work of some young men.

Jimmy Dykes Swears Off League Umpires

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—(AP) Jimmy Dykes, White Sox manager, is so sore at American League umpires, especially Brick Owens who reversed a decision at Yankee Stadium when the Yanks complained, that he threatens to write President Will Harridge a letter of protest. "I don't suppose I'll get any place with it but I am tired of getting the worst of it against the Yanks," he said. "And I was put out of a game and what do you think for? Because an umpire says he thinks I used profanity. He wouldn't even take the trouble to find out who did the cursing."

Deadlock Over Sugar Bill Seems Broken

An improved type of de-ice for aircraft, to be used by commercial planes during the coming winter season, has been approved by the United States Bureau of air commerce.

Paul Dean May Never Hurl Another Game

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Paul Dean, sore-armed Cardinals pitcher called it a season yesterday and prepared to retire voluntarily for the remainder of the major league schedule. The Cardinals office announced his decision unexpectedly Sunday night as he and his brother Dixie, were supposedly leaving for an exhibition game in Charleston, W. Va. Dixie accompanied Paul, who voluntarily retired last season after hurting his shoulder in mid-June, but he had attempted to go to work into pitching shape this year. Recently he declined to go to Houston, Texas league Cardinals farm, and last week pitched two innings of an exhibition contest in Belleville, Ill., for the Cardinals.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Gula Dillard lost a suitcase and a pillow slip to a slight prowler recently, but the burglar paid no attention to cash, jewelry and valuable clothing in the same room. Police decided the burglar must have wanted the suitcase and pillow slip to carry away loot from another residence, but a check-up revealed it was the only burglary of the night.

France And England Unite In Effort To Get Truce In China

LISBON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The authoritarian Portuguese government announced formally today it had severed diplomatic relations with the Republic of Czechoslovakia over an unfilled order for machine guns.

At the same time Portugal accused Czechoslovakia of yielding to the "influence and pressure" of an unidentified "third party" in blocking the fulfillment of the arms order.

The newspaper Diario de Noticias promptly declared in an interpretation of the move that Czechoslovakia had received "instructions from an eastern power not to supply arms to a country which was a sure guarantee against a communist Berlin peninsula."

In the same comment the newspaper declared "Czechoslovakia is the Russian stronghold in central Europe and perhaps the Soviet's largest air base."

John Roosevelt Roughs Cannes Mayor

John Roosevelt (right), youngest son of the President, and his traveling companion, John Drayton (left) were reported August 18 to have departed for Paris after young Roosevelt reportedly squirted champagne on Mayor Pierre Nouvessat of Cannes and roughed him with a bouquet of flowers during the traditional "belle of the flowers" there August 15. The two are shown as Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt bid them bon voyage in New York. Roosevelt denied the incident.

Foes Of Court Plan Attacked By Roosevelt

President Says Opponents Are Trying To Place Control In Hands Of Few

FORT RALEIGH, ROANOKE ISLAND, N. C., Aug. 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt yesterday accused his foes of struggling to place control of the government in the hands of "a select class" and challenged them to stop using the Constitution as a cloak to hide "their real design."

Speaking to thousands gathered at this historic fort in commemoration of the birth of Virginia Dare, the first child of English parentage born on the American continent in 1587, Mr. Roosevelt emphasized his faith in democracy and said he seeks no change in the form of American government.

"Majority rule must be preserved as a safeguard of both liberty and civilization," he said. "Under it property can be secure; under it abuses can end; under it every citizen has a voice; and all this for the simple, obvious reason that to the average of our citizenship can be brought a life of greater opportunity, of greater security, of greater happiness."

Prayer for Pioneers

It was these worthy hopes, the President declared, that led the fathers and mothers of many nations to settle in America. It was called pioneering in the older days, Mr. Roosevelt said, "and pioneering it still is—pioneering for the preservation of our fundamental institutions against the ceaseless attack of those who have no faith in democracy."

"I fear very much that if certain modern Americans, who profess loyalty, but who are in reality, are suddenly to be given a comprehensive view of the earliest American colonists and their methods of life and government, they would promptly label them Socialists," Mr. Roosevelt said.

He then quoted extensively from a letter written by the British statesman and historian Lord Macaulay, in 1857 to an American friend in which he forecast that "institutions purify democracy, sooner or later, destroy liberty, or civilization, or both." Further quoting Macaulay, Mr. Roosevelt continued:

"In bad years there is plenty of grumbling here (in England) and sometimes a little rioting, but it matters little. For here the rulers are not the ruled. The supreme power is in the hands of a class numerous indeed, but select... an educated class... a class which is, and knows itself to be, deeply interested in the security of property and the maintenance of order."

"Accordingly the malcontents are firmly yet gently restrained. The bad time is got over without robbing the wealthy to relieve the indigent..."

The President said that this resembled recent resolutions of the United States Chamber of Commerce, the Liberty League, the National Association of Manufacturers or editorially written "at the behest of some well-known newspaper proprietors."

Turning again to Macaulay, Mr. Roosevelt recorded the gloomy picture the historian painted of the

Chinese Drive Japs Back To River Front

Hard Chinese Thrust Seeks To Isolate Japanese Holding To Hongkew Sector

Baptist Mission Is Hit By Bomb

Japs Continue Bombardment From Air Planes And Ships

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Masses of Chinese infantry struck hard at the heart of Japanese shore positions in eastern Shanghai late today and forced enemy lines back almost to Whangpoo River.

The Chinese drive came just as the vanguards of the Japanese army from home were reaching the Shanghai war zone. It threatened to disorganize the plans of the Japanese command for seeking a victory on a greatly extended front.

The advance of the Chinese was reported to have reached the Ward Road jail and the Yangtsipoo Road well within the eastern or Japanese held district of the International Settlement. Both points are within a few hundred yards of the Whangpoo riverfront where reinforcements and supplies for the Japanese forces ashore have been landed.

The attacking Chinese forces came from their own Kiangnan area on the northeast. Apparently they were trying to isolate several thousand Japanese warships holding the Hongkew sector.

The Chinese attacking forces braved a savage bombardment from the air and from Japanese warships on the river and batteries ashore as they drove their lines forward. The Japanese command, however, prepared to throw into the battle for Shanghai the new army arriving from Japan, greatly extending the field of operations, and to compel the Chinese to withdraw by flanking movements.

Japanese air bombs missed their mark and smashed at an American Southern Baptist mission hospital at Nantunghow on the Yangtze in Kiangsu province. The mission suffered heavily and the fate of its 20 Americans was not known. Bombs apparently were aimed at the power house.

American consular authorities took a firm stand against a Japanese naval plan to take complete control of River Whangpoo by which foreigners must be evacuated to sea.

Rebels Fight Local Officials To Within 20 Miles Of Goal

Southwestern Defenses Of Santander Melt Before Drive

HENDAYE, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Spanish insurgent high command asserted today that Santander's outlying defenses to the southwest of the Biscayan seaport had "melted away" while the insurgent attackers ploughed to within 20 miles of their goal.

The five-day push toward Santander, the government's last city stronghold on the Bay of Biscay, was estimated to have brought the capture of 10,000 of the stubborn defenders. The government's positions have been surrounded and robbed up by the relentless thrusts of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's infantry, artillery, tanks and planes.

The insurgent column on the Palencia Road to Santander, the twin of a force operating on the parallel Burgos Road to the east, alone has taken 4,700 prisoners.

The Spanish government asserted yesterday that a surprise sortie of crack Asturian and Santander troops from the mountains west of Reinos had crumpled the left flank of the crucial insurgent advance on Santander.

The government troops were said to have rushed from their rocky strongholds this morning and swept the insurgents from their trenches along the Palencia highway in a complete rout.

Insurgent artillery and aircraft tried to defend the positions, the government said, but the attackers finally drove out the insurgent forces to take command of several hills.

The government victory occurred within 40 miles of Santander, the last Biscayan seaport, which insurgent Generalissimo Francisco has been driving steadily.

If he captures it it may prove the most important conquest of the 13-month-old civil war. He will then control the northwest provinces of Spain and will be able to turn his full attention to the tenuous campaign against Madrid.

Local Officials Will Interview Duval Commission

Higgins And Wilson To Discuss Refunding Of City's Bonds

Mayor Edward Higgins and City Attorney Fred E. Wilson will meet with the Duval Board of County Commissioners in Jacksonville tomorrow to discuss participation of Duval County in Sanford's refunding program.

Duval county owns $10,000 in Sanford bonds on which the interest has been delinquent for several years, but the Duval Commission has declined to "accept the refunding bonds" which bear a low rate of interest and amortize in 40 years.

Duval county became owner of these bonds when the Peoples Bank of Jacksonville closed its doors several years ago. These bonds had been set up as collateral for the county funds deposited with the bank.

Up to the present time 96 percent of the city's bonded indebtedness has been refunded, and it is hoped that the greater part of the outstanding bonds will be refunded within a short time, including the amount held by Duval county.

At the session tomorrow, the fact that the city is not making an appropriation in its next year's budget for the payment of interest and retiring of bonds other than the refunding bonds will be pointed out to the Duval Commissioners in an effort to gain their acceptance of the refunding deal.

Federal Ban On Coloring Oranges Is Eliminated

Wallace Says Present State Law Provides Enough Protection

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Members of the Florida congressional delegation said today that Secretary Wallace had suspended indefinitely the effective date of the ban on the use of local tax dye process of artificially coloring oranges.

They said the order, pointed out that Florida had enacted legislation offering adequate protection to consumers. It had been the original purpose of the order when it was issued in 1935 they said, to fix more exacting standards for the industry.

"Observation during the past year," they quoted from the suspension order, "disclosed that these conditions have been satisfactorily met."

Under the old order which was extended for a year in 1936, the ban would have taken effect Sept. 1.

Martin Released From Jail Without Bond

J. A. Martin, Orlando Sign Painter, Released From Jail Without Bond

J. A. Martin, Orlando sign painter who has been held in jail here for more than a week pending investigations in the death of Eugene Gaffney, whose body was found last Friday south of Altamonte Springs, was given his freedom last night.

No charges had been placed against Martin but several witnesses at the coroner's inquest into Gaffney's death implicated him in the case.

Sheriff C. M. Hand indicated today that enough evidence had not been uncovered in the case to warrant charging the Orlandoan with murder and that he couldn't be held indefinitely otherwise.

With the release of Martin the investigation into the death of Gaffney was virtually at a collapse as Sheriff Hand admitted that nothing new had developed in the case. However, work is being continued in the case.

Tax Avoidance Bill Is Passed By The Senate

House Approves Half Billion Dollar Bill For Cheap Housing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Senate passed a bill today without a record vote the Administration's tax avoidance bill designed to plug loopholes through which the government has lost about $100,000,000 revenue annually.

Approved after a brief and almost perfunctory debate, non-controversial measure was sent back to the House for consideration of minor Senate amendments.

Chairman Harrison, Mississippi Democrat of the Senate Finance Committee, told his colleagues the legislation would check the use of personal holding companies, foreign corporations, multiple trusts and incorporation of personal talents, to avoid income tax liability.

The house last night passed and sent to conference with the senate its last major measure of this session—the $500,000,000 Wagner-Steagall housing bill designed to provide cheap, sanitary dwellings for families earning around $1000 or less a year.

The house put in a grueling, continuous session of more than eight hours to dispose of the final item on President Roosevelt's revised legislative program. Unless the abandoned wage-hour bill is revived by a democratic party caucus the lower chamber approaches the goal of Saturday night adjournment with only odds and ends.
