alternative.
The new wage agreement followed six weeks of negotiations, the last of which were held amid a welter of reports that just such a raise was in the offing.
Meanwhile in Detroit the Ford Motor Co. today raised the wages of 25,500 salaried employees by from $20 to $50 a month, an average of about nine percent.
At the same time, the company rejected for the present at least, any intervention by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in its wage deadlock with the CIO United Auto Workers.
The 116,000 production employees represented by the Union are seeking a wage increase and other benefits equivalent to about 21 cents an hour.
"The Ford Motor Co. stands ready to meet with union negotiators at any time," Henry Ford II, president of the firm said in a statement. "We appreciate the offer of the United States Conciliation Service but we always have been able to solve our differences with the union and we prefer to follow this policy until every possibility is exhausted between the union and ourselves."
The wage increase to salaried personnel will become effective immediately for the 35,500 employees now receiving up to $625 a month, Ford said.
Employees making more than $625 a month will be considered for wage boosts on an individual "merit basis," he said.

mally surrendered. Jewish forces were mopping up after wiping out or capturing the main force of 700 Iraqis who had been entrenched there since the British left, the dispatch said. Some Iraqis ran the Jewish blockade during the night and hid in the caves of nearby Mount Carmel, it added.
In Western Galilee heavy fighting was reported by a Lebanese communique issued in Beirut. The bulletin said the battle for Shajra Colony in the area north of Nazareth entered its final state, the village after throwing back violent Jewish attacks in which the colony changed hands three times. The Arabs admitted 26 killed and 37 wounded and said the Jews suffered hundreds killed in a Jewish attack on Nazareth.

Elsewhere, a full apparently prevailed in ground fighting in Palestine, but a Baghdad communique said Iraq planes raided Haifa and set a ship afire.
A Jerusalem dispatch quoted Jewish intelligence reports as saying "large numbers" of Arabs are fleeing from the Holy City. The reports said the latest Arab exodus was northward to Ramallah and eastward to Jericho.
An Egyptian communique did not specify where in Cairo the bombs fell, whether there were any casualties or the extent of the damage. It said merely that "an enemy plane" had dropped some bombs.

Cairo was the third Arab capital bombed by the Jews in the Arab-Jewish war. Jerusalem, previously had raided Damascus, Syria, and Amman, Trans-Jordan. Tel Aviv has been bombed repeatedly.

Adjournment Move

the House. He said today for adjournment of the Senate and his motion would be debatable. It would be subject only to Senate approval.

But, even if the Senate approved, the adjournment would be only temporary. The Senate would have to meet again in three days unless the House voted to quit.
Under the Constitution, neither chamber can adjourn for more than three days without approval of the other chamber.

Johnston could introduce a concurrent resolution calling for Congress to adjourn. Although it is subject to amendment and thus could be held up indefinitely. Even if that got through the Senate, the House also would have to approve it before the legislators could call off the session and go home.

Johnston did not say whether he had called to House members about his proposal.
There was no indication what response a quick adjournment move might get from House members, other anti-Union Democratic senators, or from Republicans in both houses.
Republicans have cried "cheap politics" at the call for Congress to meet July 26—a date styled as "Turnip Day" by Mr. Truman.

CINCINNATI, July 16 (AP)—Governor Ben L. M. of Arkansas indicated today that neither he nor the state's other delegates to the Democratic National Convention will attend a conference of some southern leaders in Birmingham tomorrow.

He told newsmen that the legal status of the delegation ended with the close of the convention in Philadelphia, and added: "I may return if invited, but not as a delegate from my state."
Laney made the statement at the union terminal, where the train on which he was returning home from Philadelphia, stopped for 15 minutes.

Adoption of a national platform containing a so-called civil rights plank caused some southern delegates to leave the convention. "The South has been severely hurt," Governor Laney said. "We were shamefully treated."
The Arkansas Governor called the plank "far more dangerous than you folks in the north realize."
"The plank covers far more than just racial issues," he declared. "It can be made to cover a lot of things and you folks in the north better realize that."

Opposition among some Western allies to the British and the Germans was that military action or retaliation only could smother the blockade. The Soviet Union was represented in Berlin as having killed international diplomacy.

The Russian aim is to establish a strong German government on the Russian model, dominated by Communists, and to secure a voice in the economic life of the Ruhr and the rest of Western Germany.
Possible retaliatory measures mentioned in Berlin were closing of the Panama Canal to Russian ships, quarantining Russian ships in U. S. harbors and forcing Russian representatives out of Japan for "technical" reasons.

Moscow newspapers were filled with the hooding of Tognatti, considered the Kremlin's best operative outside Russia.
The Communists called off their general strike at noon. A back to work movement had started yesterday. Police and troops moved quickly to put down rioting in which at least 13 persons were killed and more than 100 injured.

The announcement of Durocher's resignation and Shotton's return to the Dodgers was made by President Branch Rickey at Cincinnati. He flew there from Brooklyn after conferring with Durocher last night.

Ott, one of the best liked members of the baseball fraternity, will take a brief vacation and then return to the Giants staff in a capacity still not determined.
Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants said Durocher would take over the club tonight in Pittsburgh. Shotton is expected to take over direction of the Dodgers at once in Cincinnati.

The text of the announcement by the Giants:

"As of today, Mel Ott has resigned as manager of the New York Giants.
"Leo Durocher has been appointed to succeed him and will assume command of the Giants in Pittsburgh tonight.
"The negotiations leading to appointment of Durocher were conducted with the full consent of the Brooklyn club, and with the approval of Ford Frick, president of the National League.

"President Horace Stoneham wishes to express his deep personal regret at Ott's departure from the Polo Grounds. However, he is happy to announce that today's action does not sever an and Mel Ott that has already ex-association between the Giants ended over a quarter of a century. Upon his return from a vacation, Ott will take over a place in the club's office organization."

Impounded Planes Delayed On Return

HALIFAX, N.S., July 16 (AP)—Engine trouble has delayed the return to the United States of a Flying Fortress believed originally headed for Palestine.
The converted B-17 was impounded by customs after it landed here Sunday on what its pilot said was a routine navigation flight.

A Royal Canadian Air Force aircraft is scheduled to escort the plane to the border, where it would be picked up by an interceptor squadron of the U. S. Air Force.

Pershing Funeral

tried slowly up Pennsylvania Avenue—the "route of presidents"—to Arlington National Cemetery on Monday will include the customary and remembrance for a dead cavalryman—a rider on a horse.

The horse will be black, his trappings black, the saddle empty, the stirrups reversed. Thus Pershing, who began his army career as a cavalry officer, will end it with a token of the old time cavalry.
But above the six grey horses drawing the caisson bearing the coffin will thunder a token of military force—a fleet of Air Force planes saying farewell.

In the marching columns of men from all the military forces will be the Army band, the 3rd Mechanized Cavalry Reconnaissance Squadron from Fort Meade, Md.; the 45th Field Artillery Battalion from Fort Bragg, N. C.; the 50th Parachute Regiment from Fort Monmouth, N. J.; the 10th Engineers at Fort Belvoir, Va.; cadets from the West Point and Annapolis academies; and the crack troops from the 3rd Infantry Regiment, stationed at Fort Hyer.

A column of 19 guns will speak up as the funeral procession crosses the Potomac to enter the Arlington Cemetery grounds.

President Truman will be there with the cabinet and other high officials. But it is understood that at his request the Army will not fire the customary 21-gun salute usually denoting the arrival of the Commander-in-Chief on a military post.

Pershing's casket will be carried part of the way by the soldier and part by the Arlington amphitheatre, there to rest for a one-minute silence before the final ceremonies.
At the graveside, there will be the last salute for all soldiers—three rifle volleys and "taps."

Pending the hearing, a federal court order has reopened party enrollment books to negroes. The books normally are closed June 22.

Negro leaders in the state claim that several counties have not complied with this order and that others are still demanding that negroes possess the general election certificates.
Only Richmond county has not been cited to today's hearing. Five other counties say they have been enrolling negroes and are expected to ask that the action be dropped against their officials.
Democratic party leaders met in Columbia Tuesday to discuss the hearing, but declined comment.

MCGREGOR CONVICTED
JACKSONVILLE, July 16 (AP)—Mallory C. McGregor, 54, land attorney and dairyman, was convicted in Federal Court today of making false claims under the government dairy feed subsidy from 1943 to 1946.

Judge Devane sentenced McGregor to a year and a day in prison and fined him $5,000. The verdict found McGregor guilty on 17 counts of the indictment, which alleged that he had claimed for federal subsidies for milk that had been watered.

Anti-Inflation Bill Is Ready For Congress

Rising Living Costs To Be Fought In Legislation To Be Asked By President

WASHINGTON, July 19, (AP)—President Truman will hand the extra session opening Monday an administration bill to deal with rising living costs.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said the President is at work on a measure embracing virtually all of the ten-point anti-inflation program he recommended to Congress last November.

"There will be a concrete bill on high prices," Ross told reporters.

He said he does not know whether it will be submitted simultaneously with the President's special message to Congress on the President's call, or whether it will follow that message.

The President, he said, has not decided whether to deliver his message in person, and the date for its submission will be worked out in consultation with the public opinion leadership of the two houses. Under the circumstances, Ross said, he does not know whether the message will go up Monday or Tuesday.

He said that he is "unable to say" at the moment whether the President will include any foreign affairs recommendations in his message.

He conceded that there have been many queries along this line in view of what one reporter described as the increasing gravity of the situation in Berlin.

Ross said that the President conferred for an hour and a half yesterday with Sen. Barkley (D-Ky.), his running mate on the Democratic ticket.

After the conference, which dealt with the special session and plans for the Presidential campaign, Barkley left for his home in Paducah, Ky.

Ross said Mr. Truman is giving a great deal of thought and study to his message for the session he called as he challenged the Republicans to carry out the GOP platform.

Ross made it clear that Mr. Truman is planning an "inclusive message" embracing recommendations for price control, housing, civil rights, federal aid to education and other topics he cited as

Nelson Libby Found Not Guilty In Court

Nelson E. Libby, an elderly man, was found not guilty by a jury in County Court this morning of a charge of failing to yield the right of way while driving on Jan. 16, at Paola, resulting in an automobile accident. The jury, of which E. E. Batten was foreman, recommended that the drivers license of Mr. Libby be revoked. Judge E. W. Ware presided. State Highway Patrolman J. W. Wells testified in the case.

Other members of the jury were Herbert Benton, James Benton, J. L. Chapman, A. T. Carlsberg, and D. C. Howard.

Mr. B. Summerfield pleaded guilty to a charge of maliciously wounding a dog and was fined $25 and costs or 60 days.

Court was adjourned shortly after 11:00 o'clock by Judge Ware and ordered to re-convene at 1:30 P.M. The afternoon session was held at the home of George Lora, charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Shriners of Morocco Temple, Jacksonville, augmented by members from the Sanford Shrine Club and other clubs of the north and south Florida districts staged one of the most colorful and lively parades in the history of Sanford last Wednesday when more than 1,500 Nobles attended a Shrine ceremonial here. In the foreground, passing the intersection of Magnolia Avenue and First Street in the purple knickered Shrine band, which is followed by the drum corps. Warren Renews Pledge To Help Citrus Growers

Urges People To Let Legislature Know What They Want

Fuller Warren, Democratic nominee for governor, made a brief talk to more than a hundred listeners at First Street and Magnolia Avenue on Friday evening and thanked his Seminole County supporters for giving him a majority of 500 votes.

"I have had a warm place in my heart for Seminole County for more than 20 years," he declared, and suggested that supporters aid him further in his 25 plank program by letting their wishes be known to state senators and representatives. Urging that all political differences of the primary campaign be put behind and that he be given solid support in his program, he pledged to make state government "more of a blessing and less of a burden."

He re-affirmed his pledge to aid in getting Florida citrus on a paying basis, and revealed that as soon as his present tour in California he will go to California to make a first hand study of the citrus industry.

"I believe that with the co-operation of the people and the Legislature, I can put over a program that will make citrus in Florida more profitable," he declared.

Mr. Warren suggested that there will be something new and colorful in his inauguration, hinted at a big parade and said that he wanted Seminole County headquarters.

Methodists Urge Aid For Helping Homeless

BRISTOL, Eng., July 19, (AP)—The Methodist Church in England today urged churchmen throughout the world to give "high priority" to the problem of easing the plight of homeless refugees.

A resolution calling for collective church action was adopted by the Methodist Conference here. The Rev. Henry Carter, chairman of the Christian Council for Refugees, told the conference:

"It is the most serious human element in the troubles of our time. The awful thing about it is that the 22,000,000 people have been uprooted, not as an after effect of war, but because of the deliberate policy of victorious powers."

RENT REFUNDS

MIAMI, July 19, (AP)—Federal Judge John W. Holland today signed an order instructing Mrs. Eva I. Snider, Lake Worth, to refund $378 in rent overcharges to George A. Orem and $20 to Elmo Williams, both of Lake Worth. The order follows an agreement reached out of court.

Pershing Is Buried At Arlington In Impressive Military Funeral

WASHINGTON, July 19, (AP)—Tens of thousands stood bareheaded in the rain to pay their respects today as "Blackjack" Pershing went to his last resting place in Arlington National Cemetery.

His casket included all the symbols of the nation's military might and of the career to which John Joseph Pershing devoted a long lifetime. It took the General of the Armies through jammed streets and across the Potomac River to the Arlington Hills.

Behind the caisson carrying his flag-traped casket walked a riderless black horse. In front stretched a long line of motorized and foot units from every branch of the Armed Services.

A covered cover of jet planes shifted continuously back and forth above the long procession as it moved slowly from the Capitol to the cemetery.

Rain started to fall shortly after General Pershing's body was removed from the Capitol rotunda where it lay in state the last two days.

The caisson was carried down the broad steps while thousands of civilians and military and government dignitaries stood with bared heads.

Virtually every top-ranking Army general was present, and there was a sprinkling of old World War I uniforms in the crowd.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who directed the Allied Armies to victory in Europe in World War II, stood beside General Omar Bradley, the Army's present chief of staff. Eisenhower, who laid aside his uniform earlier this year to become President of Columbia University, wore it again today.

Secretary of State George Marshall in civilian blue, stood with members of Pershing's family, including Miss May Pershing, the general's sister, his son Warren and the latter's wife.

Stuffed drums tolled as the procession moved down Constitution Avenue.

General Bradley and Eisenhower were among those who fell into line to follow "Blackjack" to the foot.

The rain began in sharp, intermittent showers and soon it was a downpour.

It filled the grooves in the marble benches of Arlington Amphitheatre where scores of notables were gathered for the last services in the shadow of the tomb of the unknown soldier.

Every walk of life was represented among those who paid final tribute in the flower-banked rotunda of the Capitol.

There were simple flowers from the family. There was an immense red rose design from the French Government and "the people of France." Among almost countless floral pieces was a great flower box from "the Chinese refugees from Mexico, 1917, San Antonio."

President Truman sent a large wreath of gladioli and larkspur. The day brought Calvaryman Pershing to the end of a long trail in Arlington's green hills.

NEW STADIUM MANAGER

MOBILE, Ala., July 19, (AP)—Joe Mason, former city recreation director of Miami, was named manager of Mobile's new 40,000 capacity athletic stadium today.

FALEIGH, N. C., July 19, (AP)—North Carolina's polio outbreak will be its worst in history if the present incidence continues.

The 197 new cases reported last week brought the state's total to 878 for the year. There were 878 in 1944 epidemic.

Meanwhile, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis yesterday opened an emergency convalescent unit at Camp Sutton, 25 miles east of Charlotte. Seventy beds are available here and they can be increased to 350. The foundation has plans to open smaller units at Camp Butler, near Durham, and at Camp MacKall, in Scotland County.

Dr. J. W. R. Norton, state health officer, defined the epidemic area as being between Asheville, in the west, and Raleigh, in the east-central area.

City Hall Gets New Coating Of Waterproofing

Finish Of Cement Granite Predicted To Last 30 Years

SANFORD'S City Hall, built in 1924, has a brand new look with its new white cement finish, the work of which was completed Friday and approved by George Hennessy, operator of the Lumina Company, and by Gaudy Duncan, city building inspector. The building was designed by Elton L. Moughtin, local architect.

Mr. Hennessy predicted that the waterproof finish will last well over 30 years. It is compounded of white cement, fractured marble chips, and creates which provide for the waterproofing.

Well over 24,000 pounds of material was applied to the more than 22,000 square feet of surface of the building. It was applied at a 60 pound pressure to the square inch. This has the effect of closing every pore and crack of the masonry.

The process was invented 35 years ago in Holland, Mich.

Mr. Duncan, while conferring with Mr. Hennessy, pointed to the wall of his office in the City Hall where the plaster chipped away in spots when wind driven rain came through and formed puddles on the floor.

When the former paint surface was tested, it was found that the cement would not adhere to it. This necessitated a sand blast operation, and it took four men.

City firemen arrived at the scene after about a half-hour. While they sought to unjam the elevator, the power was turned back on and Mrs. Graves was rescued.

Although they proved futile, Mrs. Graves was "breathlessly grateful for the prisoners' attempts to rescue her."

Local National Guard Company Attends Camp

Unit Of One Officer And 57 Men Go To Fort Jackson, S. C.

Fifty-seven men of Sanford's National Guard Company led the 124th Infantry under the command of 1st Lieut. Richard Payne left the city Saturday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock on a special train to attend a summer encampment of two weeks duration at Fort Jackson, S. C.

An advance detail was sent to Ft. Jackson last Thursday to prepare for the arrival of the company, which was scheduled to open activities at the Columbia camp yesterday morning. The unit will return to Sanford on Aug. 1, Lieut. Payne announced.

The organization, under full battle equipment, will operate under war-time conditions, Tech. Sgt. C. O. Jones declared.

The training will be particularly beneficial for the men, since we are subject to call by Governor Millard Caldwell to assist in time of disorders, strikes, riots and the like," Lieut. Payne asserted.

"We have one officer and 57 men, but can increase our enrollment to 100 officers and men, bringing $140,000, annually into Sanford from the local National Guard unit. This amount of extra money would be of great assistance in the city of Sanford," Lieut. Payne said. "We are definitely in

Inmates Get Little Help From Citizens For Jailer's Wife

GALLATIN, Tenn., July 19, (AP)—Fifteen inmates of the Sumner County Jail did their best to get the jailer's wife out of a jam but they received little help from an unyielding citizenry.

Jailer Bud Graves, who was away from the jail last night, gave this account of what happened during his absence:

Mrs. Graves was between floors of the jail's elevator when a strong wind blew a tree across a power line and halted the elevator. The cage was almost airtight and in a short time she had trouble getting her breath.

She called to the prisoners and told them of her plight.

The prisoners lighted papers, candles, defective magazines and other means and threw the flaming missiles into the street in an attempt to attract attention. They yelled, screamed and pleaded for someone to rescue Mrs. Graves.

A crowd of passers by quickly gathered behind the jail, the spectators misunderstood the actions of the jail's occupants, however, and responded with jeers and such statements as "Tell it to the Maids."

City firemen arrived at the scene after about a half-hour. While they sought to unjam the elevator, the power was turned back on and Mrs. Graves was rescued.

Although they proved futile, Mrs. Graves was "breathlessly grateful for the prisoners' attempts to rescue her."

Report On Rio Convention Given Rotary By Lawton

More Than 8,000 Delegates Attended World's Largest

More than 8,000 delegates from 26 nations attended the Rotary International convention in Rio, Brazil, last month, Gun Lawton, prominent Orlando Rotarian, told the Rotary Club at its meeting today at the Tourist Center. This was the largest convention of any kind ever held outside the United States, he said.

Having prepared for only 4,000 visitors, the Rotarians were hard put to it to find accommodations for the more than 8,000 who showed up, Mr. Lawton added, and transportation facilities were taxed to the limit. However, the Rotary spirit, which he highly commended, was so generously in evidence that everyone was taken care of and had a good time.

Mr. Lawton said that everyone in Brazil would himself be to the visitors and added that if the spirit of Rotary could be spread among all people everywhere, there would be no fear for the peace of the world.

Calling attention to the serious inflation which exists in the South American countries, Mr. Lawton said that bank robberies are most unusual because a truck would be needed to carry away enough money to do any good. There are 250 banks in Rio, he said, almost entirely unprotected and unprotected, and robbery is widespread among the people.

Mr. Lawton was introduced by Dr. Orelle Touchton, the new program chairman. President George Stine presided and called attention to the Rotary Foundation campaign which is designed to raise funds to send students from one country to school in another. He also announced that S. G. Gray has been made chairman of the Student Loan committee.

Visitors were introduced by Dr. Charles Parsons as R. E. Kirkpatrick of Butler, Pa., Charles E. Marshall of Lakewood, N. J., and Charles Ramsey of Dayton.

Marshall And Forrestal Both Present As Plans Are Made To Counter Russia

WASHINGTON, July 19, (AP)—President Truman reviewed the tense Berlin situation today with top military and diplomatic advisers as the Russian blockade pushed the Western Allies toward grave new decisions. He talked a full half hour with Secretary of State Marshall. Then Secretary of Defense Forrestal came in with a group of high ranking Army and State Department experts. The White House acknowledged that Berlin was the topic of the second conference. Presumably the long conference with Secretary Marshall covered aspects of the Berlin developments.

By EDWIN SHANKS
BERLIN, July 19, (AP)—The three western military governors met for four hours in blockaded Berlin today discussing plans for the projected government in western Germany.

An American spokesman said the Russian land blockade, now in its second month, was not discussed.

In Washington, however, President Truman called top Army officers and diplomats to the White House to discuss the grave problem. Leading American officials regard the danger of war as extremely great. They were represented as being uncertain whether the Russians actually may want war or are trying to pull off a gigantic bluff.

There was open talk that the U. S. might, as a last resort, attempt by force to break the blockade.

Naval Officer Tells Of 3rd A-Bomb Sent To Pacific Theatre

NEW YORK, July 19, (AP)—Rear Admiral Ellis Zacharias, retired, former Navy intelligence officer, says the United States sent a third atomic bomb into the Pacific theater in the last weeks of the recent war but it disappeared.

Speaking last night on a mutual network program, "Secret Missions," Zacharias said the third bomb was aboard a Navy vessel which never reached its destination.

The vessel was en route to Tinian, an island in the Marianas used as an American air base, the Admiral said.

A mutual spokesman said today Zacharias was told his news of the third bomb was released previously by the Navy but that it was buried under the numerous stories about the explosion at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Zacharias identified the last vessel as a 4,000-ton transport.

The admiral announced he would tell the story of the third bomb in detail on his broadcast next Sunday.

A coroner's jury, called by Justice of the Peace W. E. Mr. Watson announced this morning.

Funeral services for Mr. Echols were held at 4:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. W. P. Brooks, Jr. officiating. Graveside services were conducted by the Masons at Evergreen Cemetery.

CIO Girds For Strike Against Ford Motor Co.

Spokesmen Say Sides Will Meet To Resume Negotiations

DETROIT, July 19, (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers agreed to resume negotiations today as the union girded for a strike.

Union spokesmen said the two sides would meet at UAW-CIO headquarters later in the day for the first time since the talks were broken off last Wednesday.

The last barrier to a strike was cleared today when the union's executive board approved a walk-out. No date was set.

The board left it to the union's Ford negotiating committee to call out 116,000 production workers in 46 plants across the nation whenever it chooses.

The 22-man executive board approved a strike unanimously at the request of Ken Harman, director of the UAW-CIO's Ford department.

William N. Cromwell Dies In New York

NEW YORK, July 19, (AP)—William Nelson Cromwell, 94, attorney who took a leading part in the organization of the United States Steel Corp., died at his home here today.

He was a senior member of the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell, and was connected with the transaction through which the United States purchased the Panama Canal Co., and the Panama Railroad Co., steps which preceded the building of the Panama Canal. He also was the president-founder and director of the American Bar Press, of New York and Paris.

Prize Money Is Refused Because "We're Worn Out"

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 19 (AP)—Mrs. Jack L. Adams, whose husband won $7,300 Saturday night on a radio quiz contest, said today they were turning down the prize because "we're just worn out."

The attractive housewife said she and her husband hadn't had a minute's rest since news of their good fortune got about.

"We don't figure it's worth the trouble," she said. "Our health won't stand it, so we've decided not to take the money."

Adams had indicated yesterday that he would use the money, which he won on a broadcasting contest "Three For the Money" show, to build a new home. But that started a flood of telephone calls which was continuing today. Adams, 27-year-old cable splicer for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company here, was out on a job and could not be reached for comment, but Mrs. Adams confirmed a report that the couple would pass up the $7,300.

Mrs. Charles Adams, the winner's mother, said the young couple, she and her husband, and all their neighbors, had been bothered so much they just couldn't take it. She did not know whether Jack would turn down the money or not.

She said the calls were from real estate agents, charity groups, and a dozen and one other people offering advice on how to spend the money.

My New York
By MEL HEIMER

Mel Heimer

NEW YORK—Just a couple of months ago they were living down in Twelfth street in the Village, living the nervous, hectic, sometimes hilarious and often melancholy life that residence in that foy sector brings—but now they were standing in the dark up at the end of the rocky path by the old house, swinging a flashlight from side to side to guide you as you drove up the hobbledly-gobbledly lane.

You finally got the car straightened out in the deep rut and you swung it up in front of the rough lawn and pulled the hand brake. You got out and said hello and they said, well, you finally got here, and the people in the car with you, who knew them, got out and introduced every-body all around.

You were 25 miles from the heart of Times Square and, for the first time in your life, you were on the scene of that deadly operation known as remodeling in old farm house.

"Remember," they said, "this place is 150 years old and we've got an awful lot to do to it. You smiled and said why, don't make apologies, from what we can see here in the dark you've done wonders, you really have. Why, you've—well, you've painted it, haven't you?"

They said they had, four coats worth, and using that as a starting place they began to go through the Clock's tour of the grounds methodically. He is a writer and she is an artist and they got the house last winter for six thousand, after waiting for it to drop slowly from ten.

When you were a child you may remember there always seemed to be a house in your neighborhood wherein was locked a madman—always behind bars and always in a room hidden away on the second floor—and if there wasn't, somebody always said there was. This was one of those houses, it seems.

PLAYING THE FLASHLIGHT CAREFULLY along the ground, they led you down a grassy, pebbly one. Two mosquitoes caught you on either ankle, halfway down, and as you wondered how they could bite through your trouser leg they played the flashlight on a little brook at the bottom of the bank, cool and dark and gurgling.

They explained how the property halfway up the bank on the other side was theirs and how they were going to drive up the little brook in the natural little valley and make a little swimming pool. In the dark woods, fireflies winked methodically. The air was fresh and damp, not smoky and yet as you watched the fireflies you couldn't help thinking of light night at Midway Square garden, with the cigarette lights in the dark of the trees.

There were soft little lanes leading off in several directions from the house and they explained that they had been dug for sewage disposal. Inside the kitchen, fire and little bags evidently had seeped in through the screen door, for they played around the ceiling light and edged their way along the cracked ceiling itself.

The rooms still were dusty and filled with assorted furniture and packing boxes and the single bulbs overhead, glowing and harsh, made you think of the times in your youth when you had waited in rooms that were lighted so—for working papers, maybe, or to see somebody about a job, or somewhere like that.

THERE WERE GREAT GRAY BLOTTO DESIGNS in the corners of most of the ceilings. "Rain," they said, explaining that they now had the elements under control. Upstairs on the second floor, the musty air of many years was hot and overpowering, hatboxes and towels and shoes still in their trees were crinkled around the bedroom. Remember, they had lived here only a couple of months, they had, as they said, an awful lot to do to it.

They had torn down a veranda in front, and the facade of the old house swept up sheer and white in the dark suburban night, with a pile of rubble and boards in front. The pungent-sweet odor of a stable drifted over from somewhere beyond the dark woods in the back.

He said rather testily that he was trying to take legal action to get rid of the darn smell; she stood by and looked at her shoes without saying anything. You stood there in front of the house, nobody saying anything by now, and finally he sighed and looked straight in front of him, at the headlights of cars slipping by on the highway, through the trees. "I can tell you one thing," he said, softly, "I wouldn't do it again."

Then you got into the car, jiggled slowly and haltingly down the path to the highway and turned in the direction of the big town. The tires went strap-strap on the concrete and you got moving pretty fast and you began thinking of the sofa in the refrigerator, and the cool, comfortable living room and the deep, fascinating city houses, and home.

SHREDSAmerican Shooting
Continues Abroad,
But With CamerasBy IRVING DESFOR

The Americans are shooting again in earnest in foreign countries. Snap-shooting, that is, in the good old tourist fashion for which our travelers have always been noted. The ocean liners and the available cruise ships are jam-packed. One big attraction, of course, is the Olympics in London starting July 30. The camera-toting universal travel equipment that it is, a few reminders may still be in order.

The No. 1 advice is: Take your own film, enough for all your personal needs during the trip as well as your stay. The film supply should be more plentiful and, if the film is obviously for personal use, there is no trouble with the customs men. England has on its statute books a heavy "import duty and tax on film coming from the country, but in actual practice it is not invoked except where an oversupply makes it look like resale of film is intended.

Breaking the seals of the packages is a simple way to show that the film is only for sight-seeing needs.

To prepare for any inclement weather, especially in England, a good part of the supply should be the faster films that let you shoot under poorer light conditions. And try to get all your reserve supply in tropical packing so that extreme weather changes will be less of a factor.

It's best to wait till you return home before processing the film. Especially for travelers on the go, foreign facilities for developing and printing may not be too dependable. Of course there's a good argument to be made for the first efforts to be processed immediately as a spot check on exposures. But the bulk should go along with you. Then you know you'll have them and that they will be developed under conditions with which you are familiar.

Don't forget full vacation picture coverage starts with your "family" at home and ends when you return. The trip itself, whether by train, auto, hitch-hiking or ocean luxury liner, recording informal natural poses. Snapshots along the route are good record shots at docks, decks or domiciles, with someone looking at or pointing to them.

Your own personal viewpoint of foreign scenes or interesting places should reveal the locale in an unobtrusive manner by local landmarks. For instance a close-up of your wife, or yourself, leaning against a tree trunk would never say by itself that it was taken in Hyde Park, England, or the Bois de Boulogne in France.

Take a lot of a good quality film and place it immediately in the camera upon getting it all the way. You may have to move further back till you get a full view of the subject while in motion is held level. Placing a picture is always in style, for roadways, leaves at the top of the sides and the suggestion seems to improve automatically.

Now to make most of these recommendations for the bulk of your vacation snapshots, the "family" at home and it'll do for you, and you.

Canning Kitchen To Be Re-Opened Aug. 11

The Sanford canning kitchen, located at Sanford Avenue and East Twenty-fifth Street, closed Thursday, and will be re-opened on or about Aug. 11. It was announced this morning by Mrs. Guida Wilson, county home that she will return from her demonstration agent, who stated vacation at about that time.

Mrs. Edith Colbert, who managed the canning kitchen, has done a "grand job" said Mrs. Wilson, and she explained that the closing, a month earlier than usual, was due to shortage of vegetables and fruits. There were very few peaches to can, and those received for canning were of very poor quality, she revealed.

Formula For Beauty Free In Summer

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Pleasant is the summer which is so kind to girls who seek charm. The formula for beauty is free for the taking during the warmer months. Air, sunshine, cleanliness and exercise are right at your doorstep.

Get your outdoor complexion by carefully acquiring a beautiful suntan without a single hair. Keep your figure lithe and lovely by swimming, hiking, golfing, tennis, bicycling and other exercise. Make your hair shine. Wash it every day if you like, set it in pin curls, dry it in a jiffy under the sun or sunlamp. Since hair is said to grow faster in summer than any other time, it will need more special care.

Brush it before you wash it. If you have a backyard, do your brushing outdoors and let the hair fly. A good method is to sit on the end of a chair and bend from the waist, then brush hair up and away from the scalp.

Two brushes can do a very efficient job. Use a pocket bristle comb brush for thoroughly cleaning your scalp. Roll the bristle comb through the hair, twist and describe a half circle with each brushing stroke to remove dust and dandruff.

A professional style hairbrush with widely spaced bristles will reach down to the scalp and cover a good-sized section of it with each stroke. Use it after your bristle comb.

During the summer your hair will need more frequent washing. You'll have to judge whether you can take it several times a week or twice a month. It all depends on how dusty, oily or how dry it is.

If you are blonde, don't hesitate to dry your hair in the sun. But if you are brunette, and want to avoid sun bleach, don't make a habit of drying it in the sun.

These Women

By ADELAIDE KIRK
AP Newsfeatures Writer

People who answer questions—or don't answer them—on radio quiz programs are currently reaping the scorn usually heaped on authors, spies and politicians. It's high time somebody defended them.

The housewife who opines, "Sing-along Lewis wrote 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' and the insurance salesman who identifies Jesse James as a former government official aren't dumb as they seem to the unaided ear. They are average citizens, in the middle of a nightmare.

It's easy to sit in front of a radio in the living room and sneer. Under those circumstances any basic and everyday knowledge that Sing-along Lewis or the insurance salesman has is an orchestra leader. Just the same, we who sneer in comfort and relaxation are also sneering languidly about how easy it would be to pick up a 17-year-old power lawn mower and a double-matted, non-flippable helicopter simply by answering an easy quiz like "Who was the first U.S. Minister to France?" John Hancock, maybe?—No, Winchett Button, Hutton Winchett.

I know a woman who suffered such ambitions. One fine day she found herself right up there on a platform, faced with a glib master of ceremonies, a howling jealous audience and a ticking clock. This lady is no underprivileged child who has spent her life barfing and giggling across. She's a daisy-chain lass, who buys—not rents—best-sellers, subscribes to magazines and reads two newspapers a day. She belongs to the League of Women Voters, too.

On the air she shuddered and figuratively slipped into a hair shirt.

"I suffered from that common American disease," was her explanation. "I wanted to get something for nothing. I was greedy and it seemed so easy. But never again."

"I suppose the grinning young man asked me a question. Suddenly I heard a strange, high voice coming from my mouth. Then my knees started to shake. The audience, for some unknown and frightening reason, started to whoop and clap."

"Every bit of sense drained out of my head. I don't know what I answered, but I was suddenly off the platform clutching a couple of loaves of the sponsor's product in my clammy hands."

Later she found she'd flunked the preliminary quiz question.

"I slammed 'England' when he asked me what nations were fighting in the Spanish-American War," she said. "My father was a Red Rider."

Her performance, it would seem, was a public case of stage fright. Heaven knows how many wrong answers stem from fear-frozen minds.

There are also the semi-pro, the hardy perennials who make a vocation of traveling from quiz program to quiz program. The Me's must love these characters—and each is a character—for they brighten a dull corner on the clock.

What with the frightened and the foolish, quiz shows have shown the Average American to be a tongue-tied goon who flounders hopelessly if asked any question other than his name and his home-town. Ladies and gents who are called up in front of the microphone don't even represent a fair sampling of Americans. Most of Miss Ethel Marie Nix whose engagement to Joseph H. Colley is being announced today. Miss Nix is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Nix of this city and Mr. Colley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Colley of Osteen.

Ethel Marie Nix To Wed Joseph Colley

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Nix announced today the engagement of their daughter, Ethel Marie, to Joseph H. Colley, S. C. E. son of Mr. and Mrs. William Colley of Osteen.

Miss Nix is a native of Sanford and received her education in the Sanford and Osteen schools. She is now employed by McCreary's Store. Mr. Colley attended schools in Osteen and Enterprise, and joined the United States Navy during the recent war where he served as a Ship Serviceman. He is now serving aboard the destroyer, Lloyd Thomas.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—High-powered American promotion methods will be used in a national savings drive aimed at the new republic of Burma in a program to launch shortly.

Two young Burmese gentlemen, natives of Burma's National Savings Commission, are returning to Rangoon after a four-month survey of the U.S. Security Savings program, fairly popping with enthusiasm.

They've already thought up a slogan: "Rangoon Daily Kyau Times—Newspaper Kyau." That, in English, which the two Rangoon University graduates speak fluently, means "Buy Bonds for Burma's Security."

The Burmese, U. Thain Maung and U. San Maung, say their savings drive will be modeled after ours—including a payroll savings plan—with certain modifications to suit the Burmese people.

Sent to this country by Burma's Ministry of Finance and Revenue, the two men say they are very much impressed by our advertising and promotion methods.

The purposes of their drive, they say, are: 1. To build up a strong financial reserve to provide capital for reconstruction and rehabilitation of their war-devastated country. 2. To fight inflation. 3. To inculcate the savings habit.

"The success of the program depends entirely on the way we approach the people," U. San Maung, a smiling, smoothly-tongued little man, told me. "You may have a good program, but we can't wait until the people are educated up to the point of putting out of their income into savings. We must have an intensive promotional campaign. Like you, to make them savine—conscious immediately." U. Thain Maung said they will suggest that their government make use of posters, car cards, billboards, radio and movie shorts, as the men don't even represent themselves.

There's a moral—two, in fact—in all this. Don't feel superior about your intellect until you've got that gratis washing machine in your own cellar. Secondly, wait until your friends tell you how you looked in that television quiz show.

KITTEN RETRIEVED

CHICAGO (AP)—A tiny kitten was returned in a tree 10 feet above the ground. The standard procedure would be to summon a small boy or call the fire department. But Mrs. Clarence Oden had more original idea. She put the mother cat, Pluffy, as far up the trunk as she could reach. Pluffy climbed the rest of the way, took a gentle jaw hold on the nape of the kitten's neck and backed down safely.

If fresh asparagus is needed before cooking, the needles plus the ends of the asparagus that are cut off may be used to make a cream soup.

frankly of the danger of war between Russia and the West. Cabinet ministers of the western European union—Britain, France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg—met at the Hague to discuss their common interests in the Berlin crisis.

C. P. Mayhew, British under-secretary of state for foreign affairs, rejected in Parliament a suggestion that Britain might seek a meeting of the U. S., Britain, France, Russia and China, under auspices of the United Nations, to preserve peace.

In Berlin the commanders-in-chief in Germany of the U. S., Britain and France discussed French objections and German counter proposals to plans for the western Germany government. The western powers' plans to establish a separate regime in the city of the underlying causes of Russian action in stopping rail, road and barge traffic to Berlin, which lies deep in the Russian occupation zone.

G. N. Pierre Koenig, French military governor, came from headquarters in Baden for the meeting. It was reported reliably that French objections to the proposals for a western German government had stiffened German in their attitude toward the plan. French objections were rooted in the old French fear of giving the Germans too much power through political and economic unification.

The counter proposals of German leaders were based on fears that they would be accused of "splitting Germany" by setting up a western German government. Their aim is to modify the London recommendations for the western state by substituting an organizational statute for the proposed constitution and eliminating characteristics of the plan which would label western Germany a state or a government.

The governors will meet again tomorrow.

American air operations officials said the blockade busting air lift is running smoothly in the fiercest weather. American and British pilots have experienced no recent days.

The Royal Air Force started flying in desperately needed coal from Fasselberg, near Hannover, in the first week of the month. The plane was carrying an estimated transport cost of $60 a ton.

The Russians warned American and British pilots as usual through the Berlin air safety center that "numerous" Soviet fighter planes were in the corridors of the 20-mile wide air corridors which are the lifelines to the west. The Russians said their planes would be operating from the Perleberg airfield in the British corridor, and from Schoenebe near Berlin in the American skyway. Both American and British officials said the Russian activity is not affecting the air lift.

The American Military Government announced that Ruhr steel production increased 71 per cent in June over June of 1947 to 377,750 metric tons. Ruhr coal production set a postwar record on June 28 at 308,768 tons.

President Truman in Washington called in William H. Draper, Jr., undersecretary of the Army. Draper was just returned from tours along the rim of the Russian dominated countries of eastern Europe. Secretary of the Army Royal and Undersecretary of State Lovett also were at the meeting.

The western powers are expected to agree this week on a plan to counter the Berlin blockade. The step may be a new note emphasizing the extreme danger of war, curbs on Russian ships in the Panama and Suez Canals, a clamp down on trade, an appeal to the United Nations, or the dispatch of an army-escorted train or truck convoy from western Germany to Berlin, despite Russian barriers. Should the Russians resist the last ditch measure the resulting clash could mean war.

Responsible authorities in Washington said privately they are convinced any show of weakness in meeting the Soviet challenge in Berlin would invite the Russians to exert similar pressure elsewhere, such as in Vienna, Trieste, western Germany or any place where interests are in direct contact.

nephew in his acceptance speech to the Democratic National Convention. It might even include others, he added.

At the same time, Ross asserted this doesn't foreclose the possibility of later messages on individual topics covered in the overall message.

The President's major concern, Ross said, is to pass price control and the Taft-Hartley-Wagner long-range housing bill.

As for the price bill, Ross asserted: "The ten-point program is still good, although it is being examined in the light of developments which have occurred since it was first submitted."

He said that it is possible that some of the points, such as one dealing with the conservation of grain, may not be needed at this time. He had no comment on the possibility of specific recommendations dealing with bank lending.

Among the ten points covered in the anti-inflation message Mr. Truman sent to congress last November were proposed authority to impose rationing and price and wage ceilings if necessary. Ross would not comment on whether the President's proposed bill would re-impose wartime price controls directly.

He said the President has not made up his mind on the exact terms of the bill.

Ross said that the Taft-Hartley-Wagner bill has passed the Senate and is now lodged in the House Rules Committee which could send it to the floor for immediate action.

"The President's position on housing is that if passage of the bill is delayed until the January session the start of the housing program will be delayed perhaps a year or more," Ross said.

Meanwhile, Ross said that telegrams and letters reaching the White House are still about "20 to 30" favorable towards the President's views as expressed in his acceptance speech.

He said that from 200 to 300 telegrams have been received and that telegrams and letters are still coming.

Top Ranking Czech Flees Red Sector To American Zone

WASHINGTON, July 19, (AP)—Czechoslovakia's top ranking army general was reported today to have fled to the American occupation zone of Germany.

Government officials said the general, Antonin Bohumil Hasal, escaped from Czechoslovakia several weeks ago after the Communists took over.

Hasal's last post in Czechoslovakia was military aide and adviser to Eduard Benes, who resigned as president last month and was succeeded by Clement Gottwald, Communist leader.

Officials said as presidential adviser he outanked even the minister of war. Earlier, Hasal was deputy chief of staff of the Czechoslovak army.

Hasal was described by officials as the most prominent of the hundreds of Czechs who eluded guards and crossed the border into the American zone after the Communists seized control of the government last February.

As one of the top Czech military men he was possessor of information presumably of importance to United States intelligence officers.

Meanwhile, whereabouts of the minister of war, General Ludwig Svoboda, remain a mystery.

Dispatches have reported, without confirmation, that he too may have crossed the border. The Czech News Agency announced Friday he was on a month's leave of absence.

The disclosure that General Hasal has fled closely followed a Czech government announcement in Prague that a group of Czech refugees has been rounded up and charged with plotting to murder high political and military officials, including the war minister.

The group was headed by an agent in the service of United States counter-intelligence corps, the interior and national defense ministries asserted.

Officials here said they did not know whether there is any connection between Hasal's flight and the "plot" roundup.

Increases In Prices For Autos Are Predicted For Coming Year

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT, July 19, (AP)—More automobile price increases are coming this year—even among makes given higher tags only a few weeks ago.

The car industry's steel is going to cost more. Part of the hike will result from the change in the steel industry's pricing policy and part of it from the wage increase to steel industry workers.

The change in pricing policy puts steel on an F.O.B. mill basis, instead of the traditional "basin point" system. Along with an increase in workers wages, United States Steel reported prices also would go up to steel users.

In putting steel on an F.O.B. mill basis instead of the "basin point" plan, the steel companies will add freight charges of varying amounts to the consumers' costs.

To the car makers this charge alone will add another $5 a ton to their steel costs. They will not be surprised if wage adjustments add as much more.

Many automobile industry analysts have been predicting no further car price increases until 1949 model introductions. The predictions were based on the theory such increases, especially by car makers who already have boosted prices at least once this year, would be easier to put through with what will be quite generally derisive as "the finest cars we've ever made."

The predictions were made, however, before recent developments in the steel industry and another early upward adjustment of automobile prices is regarded now as quite probable.

The auto industry this week will produce the 2,000,000th passenger car to be built in the United States this year. It should be among the cars that roll from the assembly lines Tuesday on Wednesday. Last year the 2,000,000th car was built on July 31.

So the assembly plants, despite numerous interruptions, are about

Astor Estate At Newport Is Sold

NEWPORT, R. I., July 19 (AP)—John Jacob Astor's 16-room French villa here today has been sold by a drug store magnate who has made a small fortune dabbling in real estate in this swank resort.

James O'Donnell, owner of a chain of drug stores around Washington, D. C., paid $70,000 for the Astor estate. At public auction after a Providence, R. I., ice man and liquor dealer withdrew a $72,000 bid.

O'Donnell, summer residents here for 40 years, showed a neat profit in two other estates he took over in the last 10 years.

First he paid $25,000 for "Whiteholm"—the Dr. Henry Barton Jacobs estate on Ochre Point.

O'Donnell sold the furniture for more than the purchase price, disposed of the main house for $60,000 and got another $50,000 for four cottages on the grounds.

About five years ago, he bought "By The Sea"—the August Belmont estate—for $18,000 and sold it the next year for $30,000.

O'Donnell hasn't announced what he plans to do with the Astor villa.

REDS CHECK AUSTRIANS. VIENNA (AP)—A high Austrian government source says Russian military authorities have made increasingly stiff demands upon local civil authorities in their zone of occupation for detailed reports on almost every phase of public life in certain sections.

Although Russian troops had been removed from some of the areas nearly two years ago, Russian officers recently approached local Austrian officials with verbal orders to list all former Nazis and all foreigners residing in the area, to report on all political parties and their activities and to report three days in advance on all public meetings to be held—even traditional religious processions.

The Russian officer also asked for complete police rosters and demanded that any change in personnel be reported immediately. They wanted lists of all hotels including details as to their capacity and the names of their owners. Post Offices were told to submit lists of newspapers coming into the area and the number of each distributed. All lectures and speeches by public officials had to be reported verbatim and they also demanded that each political party secretary give detailed account of the activities of his party on 10th and 20th of each month.

And local officials were told to turn over lists of all trucks and other vehicles, all garages and names of their owners.

The term "Siamese twins" was first applied to Chang and Eng, joined twins born in 1811 at Mekong, Siam.

Officials Of UN Confident Count Will End Fighting

BAGHDAD, Iraq, July 19—(AP)—Some of Iraq's newspapers, denouncing the Palestine truce, appeared with black borders today.

By MAX HARRISON LAKE SUCCESS, July 19, (AP)—United Nations officials expressed confidence today Count Folke Bernadotte would be able to stop the Palestine fighting.

Neither secretariat officials nor delegates appeared greatly concerned over the reports of continued clashes in the Holy Land. It was pointed out the U.N. mediator had warned the council he would not be able to have observers on the various fronts in time to supervise the beginning of the cease-fire and that this probably would lead to complications.

Delegates were reluctant to comment on the conditions laid down by the Arab league for a truce, but several of them agreed Bernadotte should have a free hand to settle any questions not already dealt with in the council's resolutions.

There appeared to be no inclination here to call another meeting of the security council, at least until Bernadotte has talked with both parties and reported their attitudes. During the previous four-week truce the council's policy was to keep hands-off unless a situation arose which the mediator was unable to handle.

Bernadotte, meanwhile, is expected to ask the U.N. within the next few days to begin recruiting an international police force for Jerusalem.

Israeli reports said Iraqi troops on the Jenin front were firing artillery at Jewish-held Zir'in, north of Jenin, and on Jewish positions at Lajjun.

The Jews said they were battling fiercely against both Syrians and Iraqis. A counterattack against a Syrian subsidiary action near the Mishmar Hayarden bridgehead was reported by Jewish sources in Haifa.

The only action reported outside of Northern Palestine was an attack by Arab irregulars on the Tel Aviv-Haifa highway. The Israeli government said it will be forced to undertake operations to insure the safety of highways for Jewish traffic.

The Syrian Army's communique late last night said the cease-fire order given to its forces at 5:30 P.M. Eastern Standard Time, and went into effect at 6 P.M. Count Bernadotte had set 10 A.M. as the deadline.

Count Bernadotte arrived at his headquarters on the island of Rhodes. Earlier his headquarters announced receipt of Arab League acceptance of the truce order.

The brief message from Abdul Rahman Azzam Ishaq, secretary general of the seven-nation league, said:

"I wish to notify your excellency that the Arab League members of the Arab League issued orders to cease fire in Palestine as from Sunday, July 18, at 5 P.M."

Three of the Arab states previously announced they had called separate cease-fire orders to Rhodes. They were Egypt, Trans-Jordan and Syria, whose armies have been the most active in the Holy Land fighting.

Berlin believes Westerners will stay.

BERLIN, (AP)—Despite strong Russian propaganda to the contrary, most Berliners believe the Western Powers will remain in Berlin, according to a poll taken by the American Military Government. The opinion sampling was conducted by AMG's information control division in the three western sectors of Berlin—occupied by the U.S., Britain and France—which contain two-thirds of the city's 3.4 million population.

In October, 1947, 75 per cent believed the Western Powers would not withdraw. Later a Russian propaganda barrage attempted to convince Berliners that the Western Powers were the "splitters" of Germany and had forfeited their right to remain here.

To test the effect of this propaganda, the American agency again asked Berliners this spring whether they believed the Western occupiers would withdraw. Seventy-six per cent of those ques-

Giants Win One Tilt And Drop Two Games Over Weekend

Locals Split Games With Saints And Lose To Azaleas; G's Push Sanford

By ARTHUR DECKWITH, JR.
Herald Sports Editor

The Sanford Giants won one game and dropped two contests over the past weekend.

The locals trimmed the Saints at the Municipal Park on Friday night in an 11 inning struggle by a 3 to 2 margin in which Buddy Lake went the route for the locals.

Saturday evening the Giants traveled to St. Augustine and dropped a 7 to 2 contest to the Ancient City nine.

Yesterday the Palatka Azaleas invaded the Municipal Park, and returned home with a 4 to 2 victory.

Art Dunham opened the contest in St. Augustine, but was pulled in favor of Joe Schultz, who completed the affair. Don Umscheid started the tilt yesterday at the local park, but was relieved by Lennie Wortham.

Yesterday's game was the fastest contest played here this season. The contest lasted 1 hour and 32 minutes.

A ninth inning uprising gave the Gainesville G-Men a 4 to 2 victory over the Orlando Senators in Gainesville yesterday afternoon. Lou Bevil, Orlando's skipper, was the losing pitcher as Tom O'Callaghan pitched eight hit ball for the G's.

The St. Augustine Saints opened a 21 hit attack on the Deland Red Hats in score a 14 to 1 victory as Bob Kondracki allowed but three hits. One hit was a home run by Manager Dave Hilde.

The Leesburg Pirates edged the Daytona Beach Islets in a 7 to 6 encounter at the resort city yesterday as Johnny Passok rapped a three run homer to assist the Pirates in their win.

Friday night Tommy Hyde pitched the Orlando Senators in a 3 to 1 victory over the Palatka Azaleas at Tinker Field. The Daytona Beach Islets continued their winning ways as they tripped the Gainesville G-Men by a 7 to 6 count and the Leesburg Pirates drubbed the Deland Red Hats by a 1 to 0 margin.

Outfielders Moses Salter, Johnny Patek and Bill McLaren of Leesburg rapped homers from the offerings of Vitto.

Sanford Giants Get Catcher From Erie

Augustus Cammeyer, a catcher, has been optioned to the Sanford Giants by the Erie Sailors. It was announced Saturday by Manager Hal Gruber.

Word was received from Jack Schwartz, secretary of the Giants farm organization, that Cammeyer should arrive in Sanford sometime today.

"I do not know a thing about the fellow, but I do know that we need him badly," Gruber declared.

Sylvia Pearson's "Sally" was selected as the most talented. The oldest doll was "Neal" owned by Peggy Thornley. Vivienne Morrison's doll, "Miss America," was chosen the most unusual.

Robert J. Stenstrom won top honors in the hobby show with his collection of stamps. Judge in this division was Mr. B. C. Steele.

Netchanta co-operating in the program were McNell, the Florist, Homer's Soda Shop, Kountz and Anderson's, Touchtons, Lawey's and the Ritz Theater.

Martine Drake And Jim Butler Win Top Recreation Honors

Martine Drake and Jimmy Butler were high point winners in the recreation activities sponsored for the children of Sanford last week by the Sanford Recreation Department. Points were based on attendance, conduct, sportsmanship, improvement in play and results of contest entered by each contestant.

During the "Recreation Highlights of the Week" program, Saturday morning the two high point winners selected Joan Forbes and Robert J. Stenstrom to be their guests for the day. The girls were presented beautiful gifts, the boys received candy and gum.

After leaving the radio station the four went to Roundhill and Andersons for refreshments. After a visit to the zoo, Desk Sergeant Frank Hockett conducted a brief tour of the City Jail. The most amusing thing proved to be the photographic and finger printing room. Next stop was the Fire Station. Chief M. N. Cleveland acted as guide for a very informative tour. Everyone was intrigued with the slide show.

Lunch was enjoyed at Touchtons. And then the group went to the movies. To end the day's activities, cake was enjoyed at Lawey's Drug Store.

Azaleas To Be Sold Today, Says President

Nelson Hardin, acting president of the Palatka Azaleas baseball club, attended yesterday's Sanford-Palatka game, and reported that the Palatka club would probably be sold sometime today.

"There are several persons trying to get the club, but the final answer is expected Monday afternoon," Hardin said yesterday.

When asked if Palatka would complete the 1938 season Hardin said, "Yes, I do not think there is any doubt about our finishing the season, but it is going to be a struggle to do it."

COMMENTS from the SIDELINES

League Meet

Whitley McMullen, social sports editor for the Gainesville Daily Sun, attended the meeting of the directors of the Florida State League held in Crescent City last week, and he has written a column about the activity.

"Whitley says, 'Earl Bussey, whose resignation as president of the state league, was the first matter of business on the program, freshly acquainted in the apostle of the other directors and withdrew his resignation but not before fusing a few firecrackers which spluttered out for the want of someone in fan them for air.'"

"Peter Schaal, the league's strong man, who was known as secretary-trustee, who was due to get a seat on the knuckles and nothing more."

"Schaal, who has probably pulled more behind the scenes maneuvers in the Florida State League than any single operator, remains supreme in his duties, beyond having the task of notifying clubs when one of their players is fired—that authority was dumped squarely and solely upon the league president—Judge Syd Herberg, in case you had forgotten."

"That matter, incidentally, was one of the grievances aired by Bussey in offering his resignation. He said that in the manner of a fine he (Bussey) assessed a player $15 for an offense, and that before he (Bussey) was notified, the fine was

Civil Rights Bill Is Expected To Be First Item For Congress

Senator Wherry Says That Is Only Measure That Is Ready For Consideration

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—Chairman Easton (R-N.J.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said today President Truman should tell Congress next Monday how close the United States is to war with Russia. Easton told newsmen Mr. Truman has mentioned only domestic matters in his reasons for calling Congress back for an extraordinary mid-summer session. He said:

"What we are now facing is the situation in Berlin. That is the supreme issue confronting not only the nation but also the world. It is a world conflict between Christ and the devil, between freedom and slavery."

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—A top Senate Republican leader hinted today that a legislative hot potato, the civil rights bill, might be thrown into the lap of Congress as soon as it meets Monday.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), acting majority floor leader, told reporters "the only legislation in the President's program that I know of that is ready is these civil rights bills." He said anything else would take time for processing by committees.

In the legislative back to back, Mr. Truman placed anti-Communist and housing bills at the top of a long list of measures he thinks Congress should deal with.

Today Mr. Truman added these two items to recommendations he will make to Congress: (1) Senate ratification of the Inter-American Treaty.

$208 Billion Is Personal Income Annually In U.S.

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—Personal income rose in May to an annual rate of $208,100,000,000, the Commerce Department reported today.

That was the highest since last January. Total income received by individuals then reached a record annual rate of $211,400,000,000.

The May increase over the April rate of $207,400,000,000 was credited to full work schedules in the soft coal mines.

Miners worked a full month in May against only two weeks in April, the department said. Railroad roads also helped workers who had been laid off when the strike partly disrupted rail operations.

Wages and salaries, largest single item of personal income, rose to an annual rate of $126,700,000 in May from $125,000,000 in April. This more than offset a sharp decline during May in veterans bonus payments as New York, one of several states currently paying bonuses, neared completion of its program.

There was little change in other items making up personal income—profits of farmers and business owners, dividends and interest, net rent received by landlords, relief payments, and so on.

Removal of Methodist Building Is Started

Work has been started on removal of the former First Methodist Sunday School building preparatory to moving it across Park Avenue to the Fifth Street corner next to the library where it will be converted into an apartment house. It was announced this morning by Grady Duncan, city building inspector.

The frame structure, which for a number of years was the home of M. and Mrs. V. A. Speer, has been purchased by Philip Kessler. Its removal will make way for the erection of a Methodist Church educational building, plans of which will be announced by the Rev. J. E. McKinley in the near future, he revealed today.

Truman Orders Registration To Begin Aug. 30

Proclamation Fixes Dates For Youths To Sign For Draft

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—President Truman today issued a proclamation calling for the draft registration to start Aug. 30.

On that date, persons born in 1922 after Aug. 30 will register. The proclamation also fixes the following dates for the registration of other youths between the ages of 18 and 26:

1. Persons born in the year 1923: Aug. 31, and Sept. 1.
2. Persons born in the year 1924: Sept. 2, and Sept. 3.
3. Persons born in the year 1925: Sept. 4, or Sept. 7.
4. Persons born in the year 1926: Sept. 8-9.
5. Persons born in the year 1927: Sept. 10-11.
6. Persons born in the year 1928: Sept. 12-14.
7. Persons born in the year 1929: Sept. 15-16.
8. Persons born in 1930 before Sept. 19: Sept. 17-18.

Boys born on or after Sept. 19, 1930, under the proclamation, will be their first draft call day they are 18 years old or within five days thereafter.

The President's proclamation called on the governors of each of the states and the territories of Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, and the Commissioners of the District of Columbia to comply with the drafting program to "accomplish effective and complete registration."

There was nothing in the proclamation to indicate when and where the new draft act would begin. By law, the draft can't start until Sept. 22. That is 90 days after Mr. Truman signed the Selective Service Act.

Selective Service officials may make their first draft call at 25-year-olds who otherwise would be ineligible after one more birthday.

Mal. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director during World War II, made that known yesterday as he was sworn in as the new draft act.

The draft law passed by Congress last month requires men 18 through 26 to register, although none can be drafted until Sept. 22.

Battles Rage In Palestine Despite Truce

Cairo Street Blast By Airplane Raid On Capital City

JEERUSALEM, July 20. (AP)—Jewish and Arab leaders are expected to sign the United Nations Armistice agreement at noon tomorrow. Then commanders will fight the second round with Col. Frank Beley, head of the U.N. observer team, to decide on front line positions. The U.N. is trying to arrange positions at least 100 yards apart. Some now are as close as 10 yards.

CAIRO, July 20. (AP)—Jewish forces in Haifa said today fighting still was going on in northern Palestine on the third day of the truce imposed by the United Nations.

A main Cairo thoroughfare was blasted last night when a single unidentified plane rained the Egyptian capital. Investigation of the Egyptian interior ministry and explosives experts said the plane dropped an "aerial mine" which damaged a motion picture theater and two department stores.

Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy Pasha left a cabinet meeting and rushed to the scene of the explosion. He told newsmen: "If this plane proves to have been a Zionist plane and such an action is repeated by the Zionists, we will reply immediately."

The Israeli government said it was not one of its planes. A spokesman in Tel Aviv said: "It is not one of our planes."

Earlier, the New York Sun said the grand jury was expected to indict at least a dozen Communist officials, charging them with operating a Moscow-directed move to overthrow the U.S. government.

Federal Judge Vincent J. Lee ordered bench warrants issued at the request of U.S. Attorney John F. X. McGohery. He received the jury "subject to call." The number of defendants indicted was not disclosed.

The Sun reported the following: A grand jury has been meeting here for more than a year, hearing witnesses on the basis of evidence gathered by the FBI. Hundreds of Communists have appeared before the grand jury.

Townsend Says He Is Not Decided On Wallace's 3rd Party

CLEVELAND, July 20. (AP)—In Francis E. Townsend, 81-year-old father of an old age pension movement which claims 2,000,000 members, said here today he hadn't made up his mind about supporting Henry A. Wallace's new party.

But the retired Los Angeles physician was on his way to Philadelphia to attend a pre-convention meeting of the new party's platform committee.

"They've got to give us something definite, or I'll turn around and come right home," he said. "They've been vague about just what they stand for at what they want. Maybe this platform committee meeting will answer those questions."

"If it's just a matter of wanting the Townsendites to build up the party, I'm against it. If the rest of their platform appears sound enough to fit in with a Townsend plank and they show some sincerity in hoping to put it into practice, I'll be for them."

Dr. Townsend stopped here to inspect his organization's national headquarters and to visit with his son.

Reds Propose Maurice Thorez Be Designated New French Premier

PARIS, July 20. (AP)—Communists proposed today that their leader, Maurice Thorez, be designated the new French premier to head a coalition government of Socialists and Communists.

Thorez was the first majority party leader to call on President Vincent Auriol, who is searching for a new premier. France's middle-of-the-road government, headed by Robert Schuman, toppled last night after a dispute over the army's budget.

There has no immediate prospect of Thorez being invited to place in the government. He called on Auriol first because the Communist party has the largest representation in the national assembly. They and affiliated groups have lost out of 418 deputies. They were not represented in the last cabinet.

Following Thorez was Andre Guesde, secretary general of the French Communist Party (MCP) group with 131 members in the assembly. Schuman is a member of the MCP and many believe he will be called upon to form a new cabinet.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, also a Popular Republican, was hurrying back to Paris from The Hague, where he attended the meeting of the five-power Western European union.

Socialists also called upon Auriol. They have 103 members in the assembly, and like the MCP were represented in the Schuman cabinet. Guy Mollet, Charles Lemaire and Alex Roubaud made up the Socialist delegation.

Auriol was expected to try to find a premier who could reunite the "third force" coalition of Popular Republicans, Socialists and Radical Socialists. Under Schuman's leadership they had opposed the Communists on the left, and General De Gaulle's French People's party on the right.

Thorez was mentioned as the candidate of the Radical Socialists. Former Premier Paul Reynaud, an Independent Republican, figured also in the speculation.

Indictments Of Reds Is Handed Down By Jury

Officials Said To Be Operating Moscow-Led Movement

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—State Department officials have told Congress that at least several hundred known or suspected subversive foreign agents have entered this country as employees of the United Nations and similar organizations. Robert C. Alexander, assistant chief of the department's visas commission, has testified in a Senate Judiciary subcommittee that nothing can be done about it under present laws.

NEW YORK, June 20. (AP)—A special federal grand jury which reportedly has been investigating Communist activities for more than a year today handed up sealed indictments.

Earlier, the New York Sun said the grand jury was expected to indict at least a dozen Communist officials, charging them with operating a Moscow-directed move to overthrow the U.S. government.

Federal Judge Vincent J. Lee ordered bench warrants issued at the request of U.S. Attorney John F. X. McGohery. He received the jury "subject to call." The number of defendants indicted was not disclosed.

Other developments in the battle for Berlin.

General Lucius D. Clay, U.S. military governor of Germany, was summoned to Washington to report.

Clay will fly from Frankfurt tonight to Moscow, accompanied by his political advisor, ambassador Robert D. Murphy.

The full nature of their talks in Washington was not disclosed. Officials said only the two men would report to the department of the army on the situation in Germany.

It was expected here, however, that the report of the two top policy makers in Germany may play a big part in deciding the next American step in the battle to break the Russian land blockade of Berlin.

Andrew Carraway Gives Report On Demo Convention

CITY COMMISSIONER Andrew Carraway, executive secretary of the Seminole County Democratic Committee, who with Mrs. Carraway attended the Democratic convention at Philadelphia in an unofficial capacity, declared today that most impressed him most at the convention was the complete ignorance of Southern Democrats and their states rights program by the northern Democrats.

He described President Truman's speech of acceptance of the nomination as fiery and a challenge to the Republicans.

On the first ballot, the Florida group voted for Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia almost unanimously, he said with the exception of one vote cast for McNutt. Mr. Carraway stated that he did not know what the future action of the Florida group would be in regard to the Democrat party recently formed at Birmingham, Ala.

It was very hot in the convention hall, which seats 35,000, and about 85 degrees outside, he revealed. Mr. Carraway, in addition to attending the convention, went to a meeting of the Florida delegation at the Robert Morris Hotel one afternoon. At that time, Governor Ben Laney of Arkansas was asked as a presidential nominee, and later pledged his votes to Senator Russell.

AP was not politics, however, for the Carraways. They reported that they enjoyed a sight seeing trip that included numerous historic places of interest, including Independence Hall, the original house where the first Congress met, old Christ Church where the Washingtons had pews, and the house where Betty Ross sewed the first Stars and Stripes to form the flag.

The Carraways also spent a few days in New York City and stated that they found very little enthusiasm for either Dewey or Truman as presidential candidates.
