

But Will Manufacturers Be Able To Build Them? Taxicabs Of Future Go On Display In Art Museum

NEW YORK (AP)—The Museum of Modern Art normally shows paintings by the likes of Picasso, Braque and Warhol. But this month it's showing taxicabs as well — by the likes of Volvo and Volkswagen.

The government sought bids along the lines of the museum's specifications and gave $1 million each to American Machine and Foundry and Steam Power Systems Inc. Their steam-driven models will be tested when the museum show ends.

William Rathel, of the Transportation Department. "What we're seeing here is something that can be done, and this is what it looks like."

There's a demand, we'll see about it," said Volvo spokesman. "The hybrid power concept and the forward-control body configuration will, it is hoped, demonstrate to the taxi industry that a totally new breed of cab is necessary. This, in turn, could lead, in the near future, to a demand that would make production feasible."

Plumber-Mayor Plays Two Roles

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—There's a plumber in City Hall, but the Democrats know all about it.

Alvin Perkins traded his denim overalls at the opening of 1976 for a business suit with a tiny Ohio flag in the lapel to become the city's first Democratic mayor in 18 years.

Perkins was the test and held it until he was elected mayor. "I was representing a group who hadn't previously been heard and maybe that group could be heard through me," he said.

County To Enter Lease Agreement With DOT Seminole To Take Over Boat Ramp, Picnic Area

The Seminole County Commission says it will enter into a lease agreement with the Department of Transportation (DOT) to maintain a boat ramp and picnic area on Lake Monroe to keep DOT from ripping out facilities like the department did at two picnic sites.

Commissioners were indignant at DOT's action three weeks ago when state workers ripped out picnic tables at two roadside facilities along Lake Monroe. DOT officials said the facilities were removed because the state couldn't afford maintenance costs.

But county commissioners, who say the DOT blitzkrieg caught them by surprise, labeled the state's action "irrational, idiotic" and a "complete waste" of taxpayer's money.

"That was no irrational act. After all who do they (state workers) have to report down here?" Kimbrough asked.

Youngsters participating in the Sanford Recreation Department's summer program held a 'Big Toe' contest at the Sanford Civic Center this morning and pictured above are three of the 'decorated digits'.

SHA Board Of Commissioners To Probe Director's Resume

By JACQUELINE DOWD Herald Staff Writer

Four years after Executive Director Thomas Wilson III was hired, the Sanford Housing Authority board of commissioners has voted to investigate his resume.

The investigation of Wilson's resume was proposed by Commissioner Samuel Wright Jr., after Blackshear ruled out-order a motion by Commissioner George Brown to suspend Wilson for 30 days.

Last month, members of the Joint Tenants Council picketed the housing authority offices for a week and presented a list of demands that included Wilson's firing or resignation.

Some Price Increases Are Expected

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

Consumers can expect to see some price increases for canned fruits and vegetables this summer despite abundant supplies remaining from last year's harvest.

July 4 Festival Shapes Up: Horner

The Seminole County Bicentennial celebration, slated for July 4 at Sanford's Fort Mellon Park, is shaping up nicely, according to Jack Horner, county Bicentennial chairman.

Horner said the committee, chaired by Blair Blair and co-chaired by Blair Kitter, was halfway to its goal of $1,647 needed to pay for the mammoth fireworks display which will cap the day's events.

Today Hiring Put Off -- At Least For Now

Indians? Here? Some people outside Seminole County's boundaries think maybe a tribe of Indians still lives here. But there are some folks who are trying to change that image.

LAKE MARY — The city council Thursday night put to rest — at least for the time being — the controversial question of hiring a full-time paid fire chief to head the volunteer fire department.

Lake Mary Won't Get Paid Fire Chief

LAKE MARY — The city council Thursday night put to rest — at least for the time being — the controversial question of hiring a full-time paid fire chief to head the volunteer fire department.

Fire Chief Ralph Abell, who is currently employed as a firefighter at the Kennedy Space Center, warned council several weeks ago that the city is paying more than $500 monthly to lease, that there is no place to house city equipment and that the volunteers could "set us out in the street. I can't see where we can afford this (the hiring of a fire chief) now."

Ford, Reagan To Meet In Iowa

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tonight, for the first time during their long Republican presidential campaign, President Ford and Ronald Reagan will sit down at the same table. That's how important Iowa is.

They are to attend a 425-plate testimonial dinner for Des Moines Mayor Louis Smith in her home town of Des Moines. Coincidentally, Iowa Republicans begin naming their 36 convention delegates tonight.

NATION IN BRIEF

Senate To Vote On Tax Reductions

WASHINGTON (AP) — After tentatively refusing to wipe out a series of tax breaks for wealthy investors, the Senate appears ready to extend all of last year's individual tax cuts for another 15 months.

A vote on continuing the tax reductions could come today.

The series of anti-inflation tax cuts enacted last year — amounting to about $100 a year for a typical family of four — are due to expire July 1. That would mean withholding rates would go up immediately.

There has never been any doubt in Congress that the reductions would be extended. The only question was for how long.

Auto Sales Boom May Fade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The auto industry, which emerged from recession with soaring new car sales, will have less impact on the nation's economic recovery as its sales boom fades, a Commerce Department economist says.

Maynard Comier said the nation's main manufacturing industry will continue at a high level of production throughout 1976 unless labor problems interfere or price increases stem car sales.

Comier, acting chief economist at Commerce, said in the department publication, "Commerce America," that auto sales shot up 44 per cent in the first three months of 1976 compared to the last quarter of 1974.

Guaranteed Income Studied

SEATTLE (AP) — A guaranteed annual income experiment doesn't prompt people who have jobs to quit them, says the director of a federal pilot project in Seattle.

For the past 4½ years, 2,100 Seattle-area welfare and middle-to-low-income families have been participating in a $30-million study aimed at evaluating the economic and social effects of a guaranteed annual income — or negative income tax.

About 20 per cent of the families participating in the Seattle study were on welfare when selected for the program, the project's director, Joe Bell, said. Families get an annual payment of $6,000, $4,200 or $5,400 for a family of four, for a period of three or five years.

Delegate Trends Analyzed

WASHINGTON (AP) — While pressure mounts on Republican convention delegates to choose between President Ford and Ronald Reagan, a survey shows the number of uncommitted conventioners is actually rising.

The Associated Press poll of delegates shows small groups in scattered states are shying from previously stated preferences and joining the ranks of the uncommitted. At the same time there is no apparent movement from the neutral camp to Reagan and only a trickle to Ford.

The poll shows 960 delegates are now pledged to Ford and 873 are pledged to Reagan with 1,130 needed for nomination.

Gasoline Supply 'Adequate'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gasoline supplies should be adequate this summer, even for the increased driving stimulated by the nation's Bicentennial observances, the Federal Energy Administration said Thursday.

But FEA Administrator Frank G. Zarb urged drivers to observe speed limits and avoid wasting gasoline.

The FEA said the national average retail price for gasoline is around $7.4 cents a gallon and that prices probably will rise about two cents per gallon during the summer, following their usual seasonal pattern.

Longet Describes Shooting

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Entertainer Claudine Longet told an investigator she "playfully" raised the gun and pointed it at her lover and said "boomboom" because she thought the safety device was on, court transcripts show.

The testimony by Mary F. Wiggin of the Pitkin County Sheriff's Department was in transcripts of a June 10 preliminary hearing for Miss Longet, who pleaded innocent to manslaughter in the shooting death of professional skier Vladimir "Spider" Sabich.

The trial is scheduled to begin Aug. 30.

Three Arrested On Prowling Charges

By KRIS NASH
 Herald Staff Writer

A brown 1974 Volkswagen was sitting in the parking area at Lake Jessup Park on South Sanford Avenue early today when Seminole County sheriff's officers cruised by on routine patrol.

Deputies Marion Matthews and Solomon Taylor reported that they briefly questioned two men sitting inside the car, then asked them to leave the park. The Volkswagen pulled onto Sanford Avenue and traveled about 2,000 yards north, then the driver suddenly switched the auto's lights out. Matthews reported.

The deputies said another man sprinted from the bushes lining the edge of road and leaped into the slowly moving vehicle.

Matthews pulled the small car over and arrested all three men for prowling. After a Miranda warning had been given, the officers said they began to inventory the contents of the Volkswagen and discovered 20 light blue pills in the glove compartment.

High-Speed Chase
 Another Orlando man, Phillip S. Miller, was arrested by Lake Mary police early today following a high-speed chase that ended when Miller lost control of his vehicle near the intersection of Crystal Lake Road and Old Lake Mary Boulevard in Lake Mary.

Miller was taken to Seminole County jail and placed under $16,250 bond on six separate charges, including fleeing and attempting to elude a police officer, carrying a concealed firearm, resisting arrest with violence and assaulting a police officer, according to Lake Mary Patrolman Sam Lee.

Lee said he found a .22-caliber revolver beneath some clothes on the front seat of Miller's vehicle. Miller fought Lee as the officer attempted to take him prisoner at the scene, then later attacked the patrolman while he sat filling out reports at the jail, authorities said.

Martin Fody of 5182 Lake Howell Drive, Tangewood, told sheriff's deputies that someone pried open a window screen in his garage early Thursday morning and stole a tool box and tools valued at $600.

 Bill Burns of Deltona, operator of Bill Burns Texas station, 2483 French Avenue, Sanford, reported the theft of a $500 U-haul trailer to city police. Burns told officers the trailer, bearing a 1975 Michigan license tag, was last seen on his lot July 12, 1975, and has recently been spotted in Mobile, Ala.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Informant's Death In Crash Hinders Florida Drug Probes

FORT LAUDERDALE (AP) — The fiery death of convicted drug smuggler-turned-informant Kenneth G. Burnette has ended, but hasn't cleared up, the state's case against a lawmaker accused of selling him phony police information.

And federal officials say it will hinder but not stop their prosecution of a pending narcotics conspiracy trial in Miami.

Burnette, 45, died Wednesday when his PSI Mustang, a World War II fighter converted into a racer, slammed into California's Mojave Desert.

The lawmaker, Rep. Randy Avon, D-Fort Lauderdale, said Thursday he will wait until a grand jury charge against him is officially dropped before clearing up any questions left hanging in the case.

Antitrust Bill Approved

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The state will have new weapons to wage war against antitrust violators under legislation passed this year, Asst. Atty. Gen. Charles Ranson says.

"That bill was one of the prime accomplishments of the session," said Ranson, head of the state's antitrust unit. "It certainly will benefit consumers as much as anything."

Ranson said that for the first time the bill spells out the powers of the attorney general to prosecute antitrust cases. The measure, which is awaiting Gov. Reubin Askew's signature, also requires that 10 per cent of all funds recovered go into a trust fund for further investigations.

Cocaine Seized In Tampa

TAMPA (AP) — "When they have that kind of reputation you watch them," a U.S. Customs official said after surveillance of a banana boat led to capture of $39-million worth of cocaine in one of the biggest seizures on record.

While Customs agents guarded the 170 pounds of uncut cocaine, federal Drug Enforcement Agents searched today for six to eight smugglers who escaped when the contraband was confiscated Thursday.

The Liberian-registered vessel Ea has been used three times in the past two years to smuggle cocaine, so the boat was placed under surveillance when it docked Tuesday from Colombia, a Customs agent said.

Psychiatric Exam Ordered

MIAMI (AP) — Former state Insurance Commissioner Thomas D. O'Malley was ordered to go to a Missouri medical center today for psychiatric evaluation despite protests by his attorneys that the flight could strain his weak heart.

In a surprise move, U.S. Dist. Judge William O. Mehtens of Miami issued the order Thursday, saying he wants to determine once and for all whether O'Malley can stand trial for extortion and tax-evasion charges.

"Mr. O'Malley's heart condition, between you and me, is not as bad as Mr. O'Malley, or you seem to think it is," Mehtens told defense lawyers.

Florida's Birth Rate Drops

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Health officials, citing the pill and abortions as possible causes, report a sharp decline in Florida's birth rate.

The number of births dropped from 114,500 in 1970 to 106,490 last year while the population was increasing from 6.8 million to 8.5 million, they said Thursday.

Officials of the Health and Rehabilitative Services Department speculated that the decline resulted from legalized abortion and the popularity of such family planning techniques such as the use of birth control pills.

Child Dies After Beating

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — An autopsy shows that 3-year-old Sandra Walker died of head and stomach injuries suffered when she was beaten by her mother's boyfriend, police say.

Daniel Anderson Nazworth, 22, was charged with the child's murder.

Homicide Lt. James L. Suber said investigators believe Nazworth was taking care of the girl while her mother, Frances Jenkins, was at work in a bar.

Booby Traps Found Operable

MERRITT ISLAND (AP) — For the second time this year, one of Donald Campbell's homemade booby trap has worked just as he designed it — blowing up in the face of an unwary rumpager in his tool shed.

Campbell says he's not even disturbed that he's been the victim both times.

Zeigler Trial Focuses On Bloody Footprint

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — A professor who is expert in identifying blood stains says he found a gallon of human blood on the floor at his college to study evidence for the murder trial of W. T. Zeigler Jr. of Winter Garden.

Dr. Herbert L. MacDonnell, director of the laboratory of forensic sciences at Cornell, N.Y., and professor of criminalistics at Elmira College, testified Thursday that a bloody footprint at the scene of four killings in Zeigler's furniture store could have been made by one of Zeigler's left shoes.

But MacDonnell said he couldn't be absolutely sure. He said the blood he used for study was volunteered by students.

A defense witness called out of turn disputed MacDonnell's finding.

LONGWOOD — Testimony was heard Thursday from representatives of the North Orlando Water and Sewer Co., and objecting Winter Springs residents, at the rate increase request hearing held by the Florida Public Service Commission at Quality Inn.

No members of the PSC were present at the hearing conducted by T. Michael Ruff, hearing examiner whose late arrival delayed the start of the meeting by 30 minutes. A final decision on the 12 1/2 per cent rate hike request will be made after PSC members have a chance to study transcripts of the hearing.

Less than half the 200 angry residents who attended the preliminary hearing conducted in March were present at Thursday's session. Only seven customers took the stand. Winter Springs Mayor Troy Piland said a rate hike over 10-15 per cent would be "economically disastrous for the citizens."

The company, which has not asked for a rate increase since 1965, claims a rate hike is needed because of inflationary costs and plant expansion. Serving 1,400 customers in the city, the firm proposed $3.25 would be an additional charge for water used and $8.40 would represent higher costs for sewer service. If the rate request is granted, a customer for used 10,000 gal. a month would find his monthly bill escalating from $9.55 to $21.20.

LONGWOOD — Wayne H. Rohlfing, president of American Wood Products, Inc. has been chosen as the Eagle Scoutmaster to lead Troop 4, made up of Eagle Scouts from Florida and Georgia, as it participates in the Bicentennial Celebration in Washington, D.C., June 18-July 1.

A 20-year Scouting veteran, Rohlfing said of greater honor and pleasure is the fact that 10 of the Eagle Scouts in the contingency troop are from his troop, Troop 205 of Maitland. "We will be representing the some 5.3 million members of the Boy Scouts of America (BSA) from this single troop we have the unprecedented honor of having 10 boys selected, or over one per cent of the entire contingency of the United States," he added.

In support of the Bicentennial, the BSA has selected 760 Eagle Scouts and leaders, to be formed in troops of 40 each, to take part in a 12-day period of Bicentennial activities and service, beginning June 6 and continuing through Aug. 30, with three troops in Washington at any given time.

Rohlfing's troop will be involved in manning the Scouting U.S.A. Center, located on the mall near the Festival of American Folklore and the Lincoln Memorial, for a period of four days, assisting the National Park Service for a period of four days and touring the capital for the remaining four days.

Prominski To Seek Court Seat

POMPANO BEACH — Former Broward County State Rep. Henry J. Prominski has announced his candidacy for the newly created seat on the Fourth District Court of Appeals.

In addition to having served two terms in the state legislature, Prominski is a member of the Tucker and Prominski law firm. He was an unsuccessful candidate in 1972 for the fourth district court.

The candidate holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Pennsylvania, a degree in Naval Justice, received his J.L.B. from the University of Miami, his LL.M. from McGill University, received training in Naval Air intelligence from Naval school and an MPA from Florida Atlantic University.

Presently he holds the rank of commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Prominski's legal career has consisted of civil trial and office practice of a general nature and has included prosecution in municipal courts, assistant city attorney, village attorney for Lazy Lakes and he was formerly a counsel to the Broward County Area Planning Board.

Lebanon War Is Arab Affair

The emergency meeting of the Arab League called in an effort to deal with the war in Lebanon is likely to dramatize divisions among the Arabs rather than unity. As the history of the last 30 years has shown, the Arab states rarely can sustain a common front on any issue unless it is inspired by a battle cry or racial hatred.

Indeed, the Palestine Liberation Organization may be recognizing this in trying to get the Arab League aroused about the Syrian intervention in Lebanon. The PLO has seen its own guerrilla forces in Lebanon come under the fire of Syrian guns in an advance on Beirut. Yasser Arafat called it a massacre. The Palestinians have reason to worry that the Arab confrontation of Israel will be weakened by this war which is pitting Arab vs. Arab in Lebanon and has led to a break in relations between Egypt and Syria.

Under some circumstances a breach in Arab unity could be taken as an augury for peace in the Middle East. The warring of Syria, Jordanian and Egyptian armies into a single force has always stood as the greatest threat to Israel, and the Israelis doubtless would view the Syrian intervention in Lebanon with more alarm if it were not accompanied by a falling out between the Syrians and the Egyptians.

While Israel has good reason, then, to be watching events in Lebanon with restraint, this does make the war in that country any less tragic for the Lebanese. Nor can it be taken for granted that the Syrian support of the Christians in the tangled political situation in Lebanon is going to lead to a workable formula for governing the country or greater stability in the Middle East as a whole.

Syrian President Hafez Assad's professed interest in being a peacemaker in Lebanon may have drawn him into a bigger political battle than he anticipated. If the PLO succeeds in painting him as an enemy of the Palestinian cause, it will be a major setback in his effort to take the mantle of Arab leadership away from Egypt's Anwar Sadat.

Often in the past the Arab states have expressed resentment against interference by the major powers in their affairs — except to supply them with weapons. The factions in Lebanon rebuffed an effort by the U.S. ambassador to mediate their dispute. An offer by France to send in a peacekeeping force fell on deaf ears. Even the Russians have kept a low profile, stymied by the fact that they cannot support the Syrian intervention without appearing to turn against the Palestinians and other leftists in Lebanon.

This has made the civil war in Lebanon largely an Arab affair — in terms of the people who are fighting and dying, and in terms of the statesmanship aimed at making peace. Whether a better brand of statesmanship can be brought to the fore by the Arab League or by a summit of the heads of Arab governments is questionable, given the historic rivalries and conflicting interests that animate those leaders.

Unfair Voting

Crossover voting in state primaries is an objectionable practice whose potential for political mischief has seldom been more plain than in this year's presidential primaries. Allowing members of one political party to participate in another's selection of nominees for public office can weaken, and even contradict, the whole basis for political primary systems.

Their purpose, after all, is to ensure that rank-and-file members of a party choose which candidates they want to represent them in the general election as the nominees of their party for president or governor or senator or whatever.

But we hope that the national Democratic and GOP organizations intensely whatever influence they have to get other states to bar crossovers. Surely Democrats and Republicans in each state with a primary ought to be permitted to choose their own candidates without distortion or veto by members of a rival party.

BERRY'S WORLD

WASHINGTON — Rep. John Fary, D-Ill., an aging, ailing veteran of Chicago politics, doesn't make any bones about the fact that he's Mayor Richard Daley's man in Washington.

The Chicago mayor resides in Fary's congressional district, tells him how to vote and whom to hire. As Fary cheerfully acknowledges, Daley asked him to serve out the unexpected term of the late Rep. John Kluczynski, D-Ill.

This would be of no great consequence to Americans at large, except that Fary has placed some of the mayor's henchmen on the public payroll. They are paid for Congress, but they appear to be doing political chores for Mayor Daley.

Gloria Johnson, for example, is carried on Fary's congressional payroll at $13,000 a year. Yet she can be found, not in Fary's office, but at Democratic Party headquarters in Chicago's 13th ward.

Mike Healy is also listed on the congressman's payroll at a $12,000-a-year aide. Yet he has seldom been seen in Fary's office but works as an attorney in the private law office of a Chicago alderman.

We traced another $3,000-a-year Fary aide, Raymond Anderson, to the Midway Funeral Home. Fary explained to our associate, Bob Owens, that the funeral director helps out by contacting "schools and clubs." But the "Why is everything 'Jim Dandy' — why isn't it 'JANE Dandy'?"

The Gospel According To Dayton

DAYTON, TENN. — "All people are descended from monkeys," the comics say, "only some people show it more."

And everyone laughs. Except in Dayton. "God created man in his own image," the story is told locally, "but man created God in his."

It's not that the citizens of Dayton are killjoys. It's just that for a half century the jokes about creation have been on them. Now they may be having the last laugh, or at least last smile.

This is the town where, in 1925, Clarence Darrow debated William Jennings Bryan at the legendary trial regarding the question of human origin. The subject was John T. Scopes, a high school biology teacher who purposely broke a Tennessee law forbidding the teaching of evolution. His guilt was never in question. The good purpose of the law was, in some eyes, Darrow humiliated the idea of Godly creation, and destroyed the supernatural hypothesis forever.

It turns out, however, that the faithful have never been swayed. And the resurgence of American religious interest has once again opened the discussion as to whether man is a fortunate mutation of accidental or a special and immutable blessing. Arguing articles are appearing in scholarly journals. Fundamentalist groups are dispatching believers to debate the masses in the universities. And, apparently, millions of people who were thinking anew about evolution vs. creation agree with Bryan: "The choice is between God and Bial."

Thus far the revolution has not come full circle. The nation that for so long believed the biblical version of creation is not yet ready to abandon the more recently acquired scientific explanation. Perhaps because too many people have been to the Grand Canyon. Fundamentally believe in the mile deep ditch was formed in about 14 months, during the flood of Noah. However, logic, as we know logic, insists it took billions of years of nature to form the cut.

Nevertheless, the creationists see the tide of theological confidence returning. "You can change a maple into an oak," Bryan proclaims. Science has broken the genetic code but the cell still has a fixity that man can't alter, at least not sufficiently to turn one kind of life — much less species — into another. Hence, and despite generations of contrary laboratory work, the faithful say the theory of divine selection remains as plausible as that of natural selection — and more and more people are adding it up.

According to some creationists, the mathematics may be coming just in time. They equate the decline of American morals with the institutionalization of Darwinism. If a nation does not believe the Bible on this point, it must wonder if there are other misrepresentations in the written word of God. Did the author of Genesis lie? Then how about Matthew, Mark, Luke and John? Creationists say people who seek earthly evidence against heavenly gospel have no good future.

JOHN CUNIFF Supermarket Book Sales

NEW YORK (AP) — Magazines and turnips might seem to be unrelated, except in the sense that one might be food for the body, the other for the mind, but your supermarket manager will tell you differently.

If trends continue, it won't be long before sales of printed materials in these traditional outlets for household products will reach $500 million, providing both publishers and retailers with a fat profit.

"Progressive Grocer" magazine estimates that sales of paperbacks and magazines in "grocery" outlets last year reached $45 million, "a good sized piece of a total market estimated at $2 billion."

Market managers reportedly are enthusiastic about the growth, since most of them feel they are in a profit squeeze on conventional items. And publishers, pressed by rising postal rates, are happy to have alternative outlets.

Some supermarkets now have developed what used to be a small rack near the checkout counter into an entire reading department, where shoppers can purchase the latest issues of the "Wall Street Journal" and "Time" magazine.

Some managers claim the publications outside grocery items, and they are appreciative because, unlike turnip distributors, magazine distributors take back unsold copies.

America's space program demonstrated that the search for perfection is a very costly endeavor and that perfection never can be achieved with certainty. Still, the quest goes on.

SCIDA board member, and Mooney, also a successful businessman and former state representative, is SCIDA chairman.

SCIDA board members who don't attend meetings should be replaced. The county commission should immediately conduct a survey and find out why some members can't seem to find time to make it to board meetings. Regardless of reasons board members guilty of consistent absenteeism should be replaced.

The time of St. Laurent or a Mooney is too valuable to spend at meetings like the one Wednesday where there was a lack of a quorum. We should get behind SCIDA and push for better and better results. I'm certain the 6,000 persons unable to find jobs would appreciate that.

RAY CROMLEY

Important Bargain Ignored

WASHINGTON — With the clamor of the presidential primaries occupying our attention these past few months, the signing of what may be the most significant agreement we've made with the Soviet Union has passed virtually unnoticed.

This is the agreement on peaceful nuclear testing. The crucial point here is that the Soviet Union, for the first time in its history, has agreed to on-the-spot inspection by U.S. government scientists to confirm whether or not the Soviets are in fact abiding by the rules of the game as outlined in the treaty. The United States, in turn, will allow inspection by Soviet scientists checking on our experiments.

This pact is far peaceful nuclear tests while weapons tests above permitted levels while claiming these as experiments aimed at developing peaceful uses.

What makes this treaty workable, if the U.S. government has the will, is that we now have sophisticated means of determining when and where significant tests have taken place, even when ingenious decoupling devices are used to hide the strength of an explosion. And we have the ability to distinguish between earthquakes and tests of a size that concern us.

The hope here is that with this Russian acceptance of partial on-site inspection by Americans, a proposal they've vigorously resisted for two decades, there may come a time when the USSR will agree to some mutual inspections in form of site inspection of nuclear weapons, possibly including intercontinental ballistic missile sites.

If such an agreement were reached, iron clad in wording and practice, it would be the first significant advance in the prevention of nuclear war since the United States and the Soviet Union began talking about these matters in the Eisenhower administration.

Some of the scientists beginning to have some hope in this matter have been among those objecting most strongly to the unequal provisions and loopholes of the strategic arms limitation agreements thus far signed, agreements which raise the cost to consumers by $8 million a year, the council said, and the essential problem will remain unsolved.

Matches burn and children are curious, and it isn't likely that any millions of dollars will change the facts.

As men close to the negotiations see it, the Russians are tough horse traders and will wrangle for years if necessary to get whatever advantages they can. But they're realistic. When after interminable stalling, they've exhausted their trading tactics and find their opposite numbers unmoved and unwilling to dish out a few free giveaways this country passed out with SALT I, then they'll come around if they want a treaty.

William Safire, who wrote many of Agnew's deposed Vice President, has quietly tried to make his peace with two former associates who were alienated by his recent attacks upon Jews in the media.

UNDERLIEKING: Agnew's crusade to persuade the American people that they are being brainwashed and manipulated by a cabal of Jews who sit astride most of the channels of communication, and thereby encouraging an irrational hatred of Jews — that makes you a bigot.

But Fary's most endearing quality to party leaders is his staunch loyalty to them. On a flight to Chicago, for instance, Fary spotted Sen. Adlai Stevenson, D-Ill. The congressman immediately proceeded to traveling companion Sen. Stevenson would be "the next President" and tried to get an announcement made on the public address system that he is on Fary's flight with him. Footnote: Stevenson said he had only one "vague" recollection of the incident. Fary denied that he has used his payroll for political purposes. Anderson, the funeral director, acknowledged that he is on Fary's congressional payroll although he operates a funeral home. Gloria Johnson and Mike Healy did not return our calls.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Ford Orders Evacuation Of Americans From Lebanon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford today ordered the U.S. Embassy in Beirut to evacuate by convoy any American citizens in war-torn Lebanon who want to leave. The convoy — expected to head for Damascus, Syria — would be without protection from U.S. military forces.

Reports from Beirut, meanwhile, said some Americans were expected to leave there Saturday with a British convoy for Damascus, but no mass exodus of the 1,400 American citizens still in the Lebanese capital was anticipated.

A Pentagon spokesman said today he did not know how the convoy — expected to consist of buses and cars — would be protected. State Department officials would not comment.

Death Penalty Demanded

LUANDA, Angola (AP) — To cries of "Death!" from courtroom spectators, a government prosecutor demanded the firing squad for 13 white mercenaries captured in the Angola civil war.

The 13 defendants, 10 of them British and three of them Americans, "invaded our territory in uniform with weapons for money. Where did the money come from? From the coffers of imperialism," People's Prosecutor Rui Monteiro declared in a three-hour summation Thursday.

Monteiro denounced Britain, the United States, "decadent Western society" and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in his speech before the Revolutionary People's tribunal.

Three Killed In Shootout

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A federal security agent and three persons identified as members of an urban guerrilla group were killed in a police raid in Culiacan, officials said today.

Police said the guerrillas were members of the "2nd of September Communist League," blamed for a recent rash of assassinations and kidnappings in Mexico. Residents of the coastal town about 400 miles southwest of the U.S. border and 600 miles northwest of Mexico City said federal security agents raided the house Thursday evening and were met with a hail of bullets from the occupants.

Bomb Kills Police Chief

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A bomb killed federal police chief Brig. Gen. Cesario Cardozo early today as he returned home with his wife, mother and a daughter, police said.

The three women were seriously injured. According to police, the 50-year-old Cardozo, named to office after the March 24 military coup against Isabel Peron, had just gone up in the elevator of his fashionable apartment in the residential district of Palermo.

Employees Union Supports Carter

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Presidential candidate Jimmy Carter has won the endorsement of the nation's largest public employees union.

The action was taken Thursday by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, holding its annual convention in Miami Beach.

It was the result of a move by the union's executive board to endorse the Democrat and recommend that the AFL-CIO's governing board do the same.

"It is running against the closing down of hospitals and the closing down of day-care centers," Gotham said of Carter.

Hays May Resign Committee Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wayne Hays, whose relationship with Elizabeth Ray touched off the Capitol Hill payroll scandal, will resign in the next several days as chairman of the House Administration Committee, according to sources close to the Democratic leadership.

Hays also has indicated to colleagues that he will soon announce plans not to run for reelection in November, the sources said Thursday night.

Hays is recovering in an Ohio hospital after taking an overdose of sleeping pills.

Rep. William Dickinson, R-Ia., ranking Republican on the Administration Committee, said Hays' decision will be made known in a letter and that reasons for leaving the committee post.

Hays previously stepped down as chairman of the House Democratic Campaign Committee, which channels campaign funds to candidates.

Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., ranking Democrat on the committee's senior Democrat behind Hays, was said to be the leading choice to succeed him as chairman.

It was Hays' relationship with former committee staffer Miss Ray that started a series of allegations about sex in Capitol Hill offices.

Miss Ray last month told the news media that she was paid $14,000 a year to do nothing but supply sex to Hays. She said she couldn't type, take dictation or even answer the telephone.

Hays at first denied any relationship with Miss Ray but later took the House floor to acknowledge that he had a "personal relationship" with her. Hays insisted she was a skilled office worker and that the taxpayers got their money's worth.

Hays, now finishing his 14th two-year term in Congress, went on to win the Democratic primary in his eastern Ohio district earlier this month and now faces a Republican and an independent in the November election.

Meanwhile, District of Columbia officials said they are reconsidering a policy that exempts members of Congress from arrest on misdemeanors.

The reassessment was prompted by published reports that Rep. Joe Waggoner, D-La., was detained earlier this year after soliciting a policeman disguised as a prostitute. Soliciting a prostitute is a misdemeanor punishable by a $250 fine or 90 days in jail, or both.

Waggoner said, however, that police were satisfied with his account of the incident and let him go. His story differed from that of police.

Police Chief Maurice J. Cullinan confirmed that Waggoner was detained and then released. He explained that under department policy members of Congress are immune from arrest in all misdemeanor cases.

Waggoner told reporters that he was not picked up for soliciting a decoy policeman. Instead, he said, after a woman tried and failed to entice him, an unmarked car pulled alongside, frightening him and causing him to flee the scene.

These also are among the proposals being considered by the Democratic task force named by House Speaker Carl Albert to assess the adequacy of the payroll system. That panel is badly split about what changes are needed, the chairman says.

Meanwhile, freshmen members of the House on Thursday called for trimming some benefits enjoyed by congressmen, closer scrutiny of their payrolls and a grievance procedure for their employes.

The executive committee of the first-year members' caucus proposed reforms that included elimination of cash payments to members for the unused portions of their $5,000 annual stationery and supply allowances; discontinuance of chauffeured limousines to House leaders; and monthly publication of the names and salaries of congressional employes.

District Tournament, which will be held in Ormond Beach. The District winner then goes on to the State Tournament in Pensacola.

Named to the Sanford American League All-star squad from Flagship of Seminole were Wesley Steele, Chip Saunders, Mike Rotundo, Larry Frederick, James Johnson and Neal Wellon. Representing Seminole Petroleum on the AL team will be Michael Towers, Bobby Bridges, John Poi and Patrick Harrison while Flagship of Sanford is represented by Brett Von Herbulis, Terry Griffin and Daryl Hubbard.

Atlantic National Bank of Sanford's representatives include David Johnson and Timothy Shephard.

Railroaders on the National League squad are Freddie Howard, Bob Graham, Jimmy Miller, Jimmy Williams and Gregory Church.

Medical Center placed three members of the all-star team, including Jeff Litton, David Sonberger and Chris Colton while Chase & Co., is represented by Scott Richardson, Milford Hayes and Eugene Rogero.

The All-Star teams of each league were picked by the coaches and announced by the Sanford Recreation Department.

Third And Fourth Positions Decided Church League Tournament Set

The Sanford Recreation Department's Church League Softball post-season tournament lineup is set, following action that decided the final two berths at Fort Mellon Park on Thursday night.

Pinecrest Baptist gained the third spot in the tournament lineup with a 2-1 decision over First Presbyterian after the Presbyterians had knocked Church of Nazarene out of the tournament with a 3-1 decision.

First Presbyterian's victory enabled that club to nail down the fourth and final tournament slot.

Bobby Gregory faced only 26 batters in the Presbyterian-Nazarene contest and got stellar defensive play from shortstop Buddy Burton. Meanwhile, Randy Kelly was three-for-three at the plate and Bruce Berger went two-for-three, including a triple, for the winners.

Dan Whitt paced Pinecrest Baptist in its victory over Presbyterians with a two-for-two performance while John Bryant chipped in with a double. Burton led the losers with a two-for-two effort in the plate while winning pitcher John Bryant fished very well for the winners.

Dwight Street of Pinecrest Baptist made a sensational catch that cut off a late inning rally by the Presbyterians.

The tournament will start at 9 a.m. at Fort Mellon Park on Saturday morning and will be a double elimination affair which is expected to last throughout most of the day.

First Baptist finished in the top tournament slot while First Presbyterian placed second, preceding Pinecrest Baptist and First Presbyterian.

The tournament will close out the regular season for Church League play.

Jeff Quinn says a nifty one-batter for Seminole Sporting Goods while his teammates scored most of their runs via nine bases on balls and some erratic play aided by the Medical Squad crew.

Jim Campos had the only two hits for the winners while David Someberger's first inning double was the only hit surrendered by Quinn.

Bowl America Blanks Crown 4-0

Bowl America blanked Crown Pwn Shop 4-0 and Kwanis Pwn Shop 4-0 in Lasso League action Thursday night.

Dee Dee Hogan checked the box on just three hits in posting the shutout win while her mates were collecting two runs in the first inning adding two more in the fifth.

Rolan Rogers had the big blow for Bowl America—a two-run homer in the bottom of the fifth.

Kwanis scored a come-from-behind victory over Civitan after falling behind 3-2 after just one inning of play.

However, the winners rallied for four runs in the fifth inning to post the win. Roselyn Ross belted a solo homer for the winning Kwanians while Charlie Water went three-for-three for the losers. Kim Edwards honored for Civitan.

His decision regarding Finley's action was expected some time today.

The maverick's owner had the explanation of his moves well prepared. "Chad's not what you'd call a ballplayer," he said after Thursday's hearing, referring to the fact that the three-year-old was among seven Oklahoma players who had not signed contracts for the current season.

Finley Says He Had To Sell 3 Players

NEW YORK (AP)—An owner Charles O. Finley, lashing out at a baseball system that has "no stability and no permanence," said he had no alternative but to sell three of his star ballplayers because he couldn't make a trade for them.

Finley appeared with representatives of the New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and player union head Marvin Miller at a hearing with Commissioner Bowie Kuhn Thursday, and said the current system of player-management behavior is "wrecking the sport."

In a matter of hours Tuesday, Finley sold Joe Hall and Rollie Fingers to the Boston Red Sox for $11 million each, then sent left-hander Vida Blue to the Yankees for $13 million after signing the pitcher to a three-year contract. Kuhn, pre-empting the purchased players from reporting to their new clubs, had ordered the hearing because of questions that arose in his mind over Finley's clearance sale.

Burger King, Outcasts Stopped

The Yankees surrendered six first-inning runs to the Rebels and could never catch up in the other Pee Wee encounter. Ed Behrens and Mike Cameron were the only members of the Rebels who played in the sixth inning while Cameron and Noy Rivers scattered two hits among the losers.

Gary Ross fired a two-hitter for the second complete game of his career and first since he was with the Chicago Cubs in 1968. He allowed singles by Darrell Porter in the sixth inning and Von Joshua in the ninth. Since 1968, Ross has been used primarily as a reliever in both the majors and the minor leagues.

Tigers Win Over Twins

Although checked on just two hits, the Tigers took advantage of 10 walks and numerous errors Thursday night to score a 9-7 victory over the Twins in their first game since the Detroit club's return to the city.

In other Pee Wee action, the Rebels tipped off a 14-5 verdict over the Yankees.

Lee Chartron and Scott Kriger were the only members of the Tigers to manage base hits, but the Tigers scored five runs in the first inning, added another three in the eighth inning to propel the Orioles to their third consecutive triumph following a nine-game losing streak. Unbeaten Wayne Garland pitched his sixth triumph with topinning relief from newly acquired Dave Pagen.

The three tie-breaking runs were unearned thanks to an error by Texas first baseman Mike Hargrave.

Angels 2, Brewers 0

Gary Ross fired a two-hitter for the second complete game of his career and first since he was with the Chicago Cubs in 1968. He allowed singles by Darrell Porter in the sixth inning and Von Joshua in the ninth. Since 1968, Ross has been used primarily as a reliever in both the majors and the minor leagues.

Phillies 3, Giants 2

Dave Cash's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the ninth inning carried Philadelphia over the San Francisco Giants in a game-winning RBI scored Gary Maddox with the winning run for relief pitcher Gene Garber, 1-1.

Question: I hear so much griping and complaining. It comes especially from the people I work with and from some of my family. I don't always know how to help people who are so negative.

Answer: I tell you, I really appreciate the person who can give a word of encouragement to someone who is down. I thank God for those who have given me hope and built up my faith when I've been discouraged.

When a person gets down and negative, nothing is better for him than an affirming attitude, and nothing is worse than a gloomy, pessimistic outlook. There's always somebody just waiting to tell him how bad it's going to be. He doesn't need open another one. I like to share this with a friend when a door has closed in his face.
