Highlights TV Time Previews

7:30-9 P.M. ABC. Special. Swing Ding Night with the Dave Clark Five at T.V. (Color). Any student of contemporary culture and white-ear-wearing-trendiness would find this show of great interest. Sal Mimeo is host to the English rock 'n' roll group, the Dave Clark Five, and in honor of the occasion the whole show has been transported for some fantastic reason to 17th century London, complete with Hogarth etchings as backdrop and Mimeo & Co. in appropriate restoration costumes — but rocking and rolling all the same. One of the highlights will be the Dave Clark Five performing a rock 'n' roll minuet accompanied by Phil Spector on the celeste. Spector is the first to bring to the fore that the brain from which sprang this fantasia.

8:30-9 P.M. CBS. Hogan's Heroes. (Color) The Gattuso has wind of Hogan's operations in the comic comedy, and sets a trap for him in the form of a group of underground fighters who are really infiltrated with Germans. Fairly suspenseful, but it is risky for this show to allow realism to intrude in any way into the festivities. Don't you remember that life in the Stalag in actual fact did not resemble the Sands Hotel?

8:30-9 P.M. M. NBC. The Sammy Davis Jr. Show. (Color) Sammy is still showing, and the show said about that the letter. Sean Connery (Agent 007) will be guest host rather heavily on James Bond, including film clips of Connery as Bond. Nancy Ames, Buddy Greco and Checkmate, they still provide no answer to the death question which was shot each happened with this show?

8:30-9 P.M. ABC. The Addams Family. "Ophelia Finds Romance." Poor Ophelia has found an ardent suitor in Houston Brahms (Robert Nichols), but Horatio is so cultivated and rich that Morticia smells a rat and convinced that he is a heartless bluebird intent on the ravishment of her sister, so she calls in Cousin Itt (Eliot Sillas) to resurrect his past romance with Ophelia.

10-11 P.M. CBS. The O'Brien. "A Horse Called Destiny." Polo (John J. Cannon) is a reputation of a dubious merit, whose predictions nonetheless seem to be very accurate. He meets O'Brien at a party and gives him a tip on a horse named Destiny, which promptly wins.

Michigan Eyes Model Traffic Safety Plan

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — The four major auto manufacturers have been asked by Gov. George Romney to become co-sponsors of a private foundation for a program to "push for traffic safety in Michigan."

Romney presented his invitation to the presidents of the companies Thursday night at a government-industry traffic safety conference here. The conference, which also was attended by Michigan legislators, was called as part of a continuing program to make Michigan a model state for traffic safety programs.

Romney spoke to the group after the auto executives, in their first combined appearance before a public gathering, discussed their product and called for increased controls over automobile drivers.

Ajay V. Mehta, president of Ford Motor Company, replied that his company would be willing to become a co-sponsor of the organization "if it is broad enough and includes persons outside the auto industry."

Miller earlier called upon the auto industry to increase its attention to automobile safety, suggesting it is more "to design and build safer vehicles."

But Miller added, "Education is the key to improved driving skills." He said a "substantial gain in the competence of the average driver is needed."

Roy Abernethy, of American Motors, keynoted the conference by defending the auto industry against the mounting pressure for safety features. "I don't believe any consumer product exists in a more carefully engineered, researched and tested than is the modern automobile," he said.

Fire Department Mails Stickers

Residents and property owners in Casselberry are receiving stickers listing local emergency numbers from the Volunteer Fire Department in a letter from Fire Chief Paul Bates.

Citizens were reminded that the rescue and emergency services are part of the fire department.

Bates made an appeal for additional volunteer firemen saying, "Anyone who wants to serve his community by giving a little time will find the satisfaction of being able to help others when they are in need of help. We meet every Wednesday at 7:30 a.m. We have a good reputation, and good equipment... we ask you to help us make this the best volunteer fire department in the area," he added.

Jury Appears Near In Candy Murder Trial

MIAMI (UPI) — Candace Mosler hoped to leave a sickbed today to return to her murder trial, where tempers were growing short and agreement on a jury appeared dim.

"She will be there if she possibly can, if her doctor says she can," said one of her attorneys, Clyde Woody, of Houston, Candy suffered a three-day headache attack Thursday.

At the outset of the trial's 50th day, defense attorneys for the 45-year-old widow and for Powers had only one prospective juror to interview. Agreement on a 12-man jury, however, still leaves alternatives to be chosen and opening statements to be presented to the jury.

LBJ Convinced Bombing 'Pause' Failed In Aim

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson, perhaps a step away from ordering resumption of the bombing of North Vietnam, is giving prime attention to the question of when to act and how far to go.

Intrusion Threat To States

MARIANNA (UPI) — Controller Fred O. Dickinson urged Florida to oppose the "creeping intrusion" of the federal government that threatens to "suffocate the breath from the freedom of the states."

Dickinson warned specifically about increased indications of federal control in the fields of law enforcement, traffic safety and tax collections "programs that up to now have been the sole province of the states."

He said every state in the nation must either face up to its own financial problems "or watch big brother in Washington pop the administration of its state financial formula into a cauldron which will brew red tape, lack of control and the absence of local government."

The controller said he was going to the nation's capital next week to protest against proposed legislation that would freeze the federal government's control over collection of state sales taxes on interstate business transactions.

Tribute To Father Lyons

Sanford has lost an outstanding religious leader and a good citizen with the departure of Rev. Richard Joseph Lyons from All Souls Catholic Church.

Father Lyons spent 13 years of his 40 years in the priesthood in Sanford and left a tremendous job of building the Catholic community.

He was an inspiration to those who knew him and his leaving has left a gap that will not easily be filled.

When Father Lyons came to Sanford there was no Catholic school and he was the only priest in the entire county. Only two masses were held weekly for those of the Catholic faith.

Not only did he serve as the only priest in Seminole County but he also devoted part of his time to holding masses at Sanford Naval Air Station.

Father Lyons was the guiding light behind the establishment of All Souls Parochial School which has grown to be one of the largest in our county.

The school now has more than 500 students in eight grades. There are six sisters and five lay teachers now on the faculty of the school.

In addition, All Souls furnishes his transport not only for some of its own students but runs bus service to Bishop Moore High School for 35 senior high school students.

Father Lyons also was instrumental in formation of a dynamic Knights of Columbus organization, a Catholic Youth Club and Boy and Girl Scout troops at the church.

Instead of the two Sunday masses formerly held at the church there are now four to take care of the growing Catholic community.

In his 13 years in Sanford, Father Lyons inspired hundreds of adults and young people. His sense of humor was famous throughout the county.

He is not only missed by those of the Catholic faith, he will be missed by all of us who knew him. We wish him continued success.

Thought For Today

"I am the vine, you are the branches. He who abides in me, and in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing." —John 15:5.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Haley brings out some salient points that every American should read. In fact, many of our college graduates are so naive that they show a kindergarten's ignorance in the field of business costs. This is the sad "wild age" of the 1950's.

He will ultimately destroy our "free enterprise" system, if it is not soundly rebuffed.

CASE Y-42: Haley Will, aged 35, is a dignified, successful business executive.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I have occasionally mentioned the general public's ignorance of business costs."

"That certainly applies to the general public, for many people think the mortician's charge is merely for the casket."

"Instead, it covers the use of the ambulance to and from the home or hospital, plus the anatomical and chemical cost of embalming the body. The funeral home's funeral chapel is made available for two or three days and nights. In fact, the funeral director may handle over 100 funerals at this time of bereavement, including getting the casket ready and arranged for the funeral, too, for many people who are not even present."

"Glen Griffin shows that the average cost of an American adult funeral is $1,000."

"And his report of over 98,000 funerals revealed that the average profit was only $11 per funeral, or over the national average of only $10.50."

"And that profit is modest when you consider that the funeral home ranges between $7,000 and $10,000."

"Eugene Firan, of Illinois, showed that 19 per cent of all funerals cost less than $200 apiece! They included those of children and welfare cases, as well as singers and organists."

"Glen Griffin shows that the average cost of an American adult funeral is $1,000."

"And that profit is modest when you consider that the funeral home ranges between $7,000 and $10,000."

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (SNA) — Barry Goldwater's Free Society Association, actively led by his friend Dr. Richard Nixon, is struggling with an old problem — how to shake off the negative image which handicaps conservative doctrine.

The dilemma is complicated by the fact that a considerable proportion of the leaders among the Republican party's traditional conservative view "Goldwater conservatism" are excessively rigid and hence foreign to the political process, with its stress on compromise.

Kitchel appears to regard this view as inconceivable. He sees "responsible conservatism" as all of a piece, and as fully understanding of the frailties of politics.

He says the Free Society Association accepts the idea that a broad left-right political spectrum exists, and that the Republican party itself is inevitably stretched across the span of varying liberal-to-conservative attitudes.

Yet politics of the non-partisan type.

Yet politicians who mount or still-loyal rank and file Goldwaters in their daily rounds contend that rigidity of outlook continues to be their hallmark. A good many talk the language of "old-time conservatism."

Kitchel recognizes how large an order this is for people who have spent much of their lives in the conservative position. He is likely to have the necessary impact. Conservatism will get onto the positive side when it offers a big, dramatic initiative that somehow represents the country's fancy and the rest of it, so it is argued, is that conservatives are forced into negative postures.

Dick West's The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — of my tax exemptions. Shortly before he was decorated with the Legion of Merit, this young man came to me for advice about his military career. It was only natural that he should ask me for advice about the close of World War II. I was probably the senior technician fifth grade in the S. Army, having held that rank for a period of about three years.

Anyone seeking a helpful hint on how to get ahead in the armed forces could hardly have come to a better source.

"The most important thing," I told him, "is to get off on the right foot. As soon as you reach the training center, ask the commanding officer to regard you as just another basic trainee."

"That's important!" — "Yes, indeed," I said. "Do the last thing you want to do is create the impression that you are not just another basic trainee."

"Actually," he said, "I am not too worried about basic training. I'm more concerned about where they send me when it's over."

"Do you think they would approve it?"

"It's not uncommon, particularly when the request is made by someone who was just another trainee."

"I still don't see what so important about that," he said.

"Only in exceptional circumstances do the armed forces designate a recruit as just another trainee," I explained. "It usually means the recruit is a movie star, a rock'n'roll singer, a baseball hero or a relative of an influential politician."

"I hope I make it," he said.

"So do I," I said. "It's even better than being a technician fifth grade."

When were kept these areas are inspected regularly by state officials and so far our ratings have been superior.

This prison was built with an extra reinforced base which allows for extension of two floors upward, if needed. This was especially good planning for crime in the increase and in the near future an additional floor may be needed.

I really enjoyed my trip through the Seminole County jail and hope that those who read this article now have a broader concept of what a prison of today actually consists of.

If you are one of those who still feel that some prisoners receive special treatment, please discontinue the idea. I was amazed at the quality and type of food served to the prisoners. They receive well balanced meals which include a variety of meats.

Most prison cells had beds in music, comfortable beds and a television set. There is an adjoining conference room to several of the cells. An individual commode every night they have what is called a "cok" call, when inmates may purchase cold drinks and candy bars, and socialize with others. Magazines may be read at any time.

One thing that particularly impressed me was how improved the cells and kitchen were kept. These areas are inspected regularly by state officials and so far our ratings have been superior.

The interior is attractive and has a very pleasant atmosphere, nothing like the prison of yesterday. It was indeed for me to leave in mind that I was actually in a jail, planning for crime in the increase and in the near future an additional floor may be needed.

All offenses committed in Seminole County are handled in a large rotating filing cabinet. This is quite unusual and elaborate.
