

YANKEE, TIGER FIGHT FOR FLAG FEATURES WEEK

Each Club Scores Six Wins Against Single Defeat In American League

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(AP)—There were a lot of things going on in major league baseball during the past week but none could compare with the battle between the Tigers and the Yankees for first place in the American League.

Separated by only one game in the pennant race, this pair of clubs battled through yesterday's games without giving an inch. Each won six games and suffered only one defeat against other opposition.

The Tigers, who picked on the last-place White Sox, established all the week's big league marks for effective hitting until they came to the home run column. There the Yanks took charge as Sox center, swinging at a record pace, swatted six and Babe Ruth contributed a pair to the club's total of 14.

Gehrig's final homer of the week yesterday with his thirty-sixth of the season and kept him ahead of the pace Ruth set in 1927 when he established the major league record of 60.

A couple of National League clubs outdid the Tigers, who collected 89 blows, but they couldn't beat their total of 61 runs. With that Detroit record the week's best fielding record—four errors in seven games, and limited their opponents to 22 tallies.

The Yankee pitchers, led by Lefty Gomez, made the week's best record by allowing their opponents only 17 runs. Gomez pitched a three-hit game last Tuesday and wound up with a no-hitter against the Athletics yesterday. New York also fielded well, making five errors.

NEW DEAL BASED ON FALSE NOTION, ECONOMIST SAYS

N. R. A. Study Ready, Calls Plenty For All Goal Mirage

United States, Mr. Doane declared, with the backing of Professor Charles W. Burkett, former director of the Kansas state agricultural station and chief of the survey's agricultural section, that there were actually 9,000,000 too few to supply the country even with the annual per capita production of milk called for in the Department of Agriculture standard.

Among the other more startling assertions of Mr. Doane was one that the country's agriculture, at its peak of production in 1929, was falling short of meeting the country's "adequate food requirements" by 100,000,000,000 pounds of food-stuffs. Another was that it would be necessary to build new homes at the rate of 2,000,000 a year for the next five years to "make up our current housing deficit," where as the total physical capacity for such production was the nation's building industry was only 200,000 homes annually. A third was that C's headquarters in New York.

The survey, financed by P. W. A. funds, was begun five months ago under the auspices of the Recovery Administration and the Labor Department, when the planners of the new deal decided that accurate information on the country's production capacities was needed.

An outline of its findings was made public by Robert R. Doane, director of research for the N. S. P. C. Mr. Doane, who was an expert on wealth, debt and taxation for the National Industrial Conference Board before he undertook the survey, was the only one of the N. S. P. C.'s numerous investigators not required to promise secrecy before undertaking the work. Although his colleagues had been thus required to promise to publish none of their findings before the government did so, he felt impelled, he explained, to make them known because of their importance.

The central conclusion of the survey, as described by Mr. Doane, is that the plenty for all under a planned economy so often promised by Stuart Chase and the New Deal economists is plain nonsense, since the country does not possess and is incapable of producing the quantity of goods and commodities necessary for such a plenty.

A case in point was Mr. Doane's refutation of the figures on the United States cattle surplus offered in a recent radio address by Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell, under-secretary of agriculture. Dr. Tugwell asserted that there were 7,000,000 too many cattle in the

Cut Size Of Crate, Make More Money Citrus Men Advised

LAKELAND, Aug. 6.—If the size of the Florida orange crate were changed to conform to the California orange box, Florida growers would save about 12 percent in the amount of fruit in each box, would get a differential of something like 15 cents a box on the freight rate to New York City, and would make a net profit of between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 a year, shippers have been informed in a trade letter sent out by Harry L. Askew, vice president of John S. Barnes, Inc.

Florida shippers are aware of the difference in the sizes of California and Florida orange boxes, but few growers and consumers know about it, Mr. Askew said yesterday. He suggested a study of the matter.

The consumer in the North and West gets about 25 cents more of fruit in every Florida box than he buys in a California box.

Diplomats Gasp At Swanson's Plan To Cut World's Navies

LONDON, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Many diplomats gasped yesterday at the suggestion of Secretary of the Navy Swanson for a cut in naval tonnage power.

Naval experts showed little apparent surprise, however, at the possibility America may propose a

Schwab Recovers

LORETTO, Pa., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Charles M. Schwab, retired steel magnate, has entirely recovered from an attack of indigestion which confined him to his bed several days last week.

"Mr. Schwab is as good as ever and is going about his duties," Dr. Daniel F. Rice, Ebenburg, his physician, said yesterday.

Two Women Blain

KESWICK, Iowa, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The bodies of Mrs. Stella Martin, 45, and her daughter, Maxine Abel, 15, were found in their farm home near here Saturday by neighbors. Both had been slain by blows about the head apparently with the butt of a gun.

Swanson's views were regarded in some quarters as an adroit way of giving the other powers something to think about during the summer as well as indicating that the United States will take the lead in fall conversations to bring about a reduction.

Tobacco is sold in open auctions. We buy the right kinds—mild and ripe—for Chesterfield—and pay the price.

...but even that's not all there is to it

AFTER you receive the tobacco from the farmers you have to dry it just right and then store it away for ageing for over two years. Then you take the different types of home-grown and Turkish tobacco and weld them together in such a way as to make a balanced blend.

The Chesterfield process of blending and cross-blending tobacco is different from others, and we believe it helps to make a milder and better tasting cigarette.

Doesn't seem they ever change — in our opinion Chesterfield is the largest cigarette concern.

WILLIAM VARE NATIONAL GOP OFFICIAL, DIES

Colorful Figurehead
Of Republican Party
In Philadelphia
Passes Suddenly

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 7. (A.P.)—William S. Vare, Republican National Committee member and for years a colorful leader of the Republican organization in Philadelphia, died suddenly today at his summer home here. He was 66 last December.

In ill health for the last six years, the former congressman suffered a relapse about a week ago from the heat.

This was revealed last night by his son-in-law, Dr. John J. Shaw, who said earlier today that he had shown improvement.

Vare suffered a heart attack and passed away in 20 minutes.

Vare, who was elected to the United States Senate in 1928 and was refused a seat after a three-year fight on charges of excessive campaign expenditures, was stricken with a paralytic stroke in 1928.

For many days his condition was critical but he rallied to continue his fight for a seat in the Senate.

Despite his illness he continued his political activities in Philadelphia until recently when he was deposed as the leader of the Republican organization in Philadelphia.

Vare was the last of three brothers who were active in Philadelphia politics.

The first was State Senator George H. Vare who controlled wards in South Philadelphia.

When he died, Edwin S. Vare succeeded to his seat in the state senate and became a political power in the city, and after the death of Senator Boise Penrose, his factional foe, Ed Vare became the undisputed leader of the city organization.

When he followed Penrose to the grave, William S. Vare became the leader. During his reign, Vare spent much of his time at his summer home here and some of the winters at St. Lucie.

OPENING UP OF ST. JOHNS FOR SEINING SOUGHT

County Commission
Commends Swope
For FERA Activity

By resolution now being drafted members of the Board of County Commissioners will appeal to the State Conservation Department for permission to declare the waters of the St. Johns River in Seminole County, with the exception of Lake Jesup, be opened for seining any fish except black bass, during the period, Sept. 1, 1934-Mar. 15, 1935.

The Commissioners authorized this resolution during their meeting at the Court House yesterday morning and afternoon. It will be sent to Tallahassee officials at once.

Deputy District Game and Fish Commissioner James A. Black had appeared before the board to recommend that the St. Johns be opened for seining during this period. He also recommended that nets not to exceed 400 yards in length and with four inch stretch mesh be used for seining purposes.

In another resolution, the Commissioners will express appreciation and thanks to O. P. Swope of Orlando, FERA administrator for Region Six, for his "capable and efficient handling of FERA activities in Seminole County."

The appointment of Mrs. James P. Ridge as director of the Seminole County Welfare Board, succeeding Mrs. Helen T. Morse, was approved by the Board. Mrs. Ridge is a case aid worker in the relief department for the past several months. She will receive a salary of $25 per month from the county.

L. E. Jordan of Oviedo was appointed to succeed V. H. Sley, resigned, as a member of the Black Hammock Drainage Committee.

The Commissioners granted two week vacations for each of the county convict guards. They are: Paul Biggers, captain of the guards, E. H. Elgin, J. R. Richards, Bob Lynch, and Rube Williams.

Acting on a complaint of H. H. Squires, the Commissioners named John Meich, Sr., W. B. Williams, and S. F. Long as a committee which is to inspect conditions resulting from overflow waters in the vicinity of Golden Lake.

Mr. Squires had presented a statement from Dr. S. Puleston, county physician, who stated that "in my opinion, the blocking up of a drainage ditch at Kirtley Lake (Continued On Page Three)

Creation Of Central Bank Is Proposed

Control Of Currency,
Credit Would Be Put Into Governmental
Hands Under Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(A.P.)—Creation of a central bank of issue, which would take over functions of the federal reserve system and "control of credit" and currency directly with the government, was said by officials yesterday to be a proposal under consideration for presentation to the next Congress.

The matter probably will be presented to President Roosevelt upon his return to the capital. The House Banking Committee last session was prepared to report a measure for a central monetary authority but the plan was dropped after a trip to the White House.

Secretary Morgenthau opposed similar measures last session, asking more time to determine treasury policy with regard to a central bank.

Curtailed of the federal reserve's authority long has been considered desirable by some administration elements but it was said presents on the calendar of other important financial and banking measures prevented any such legislation being enacted last session.

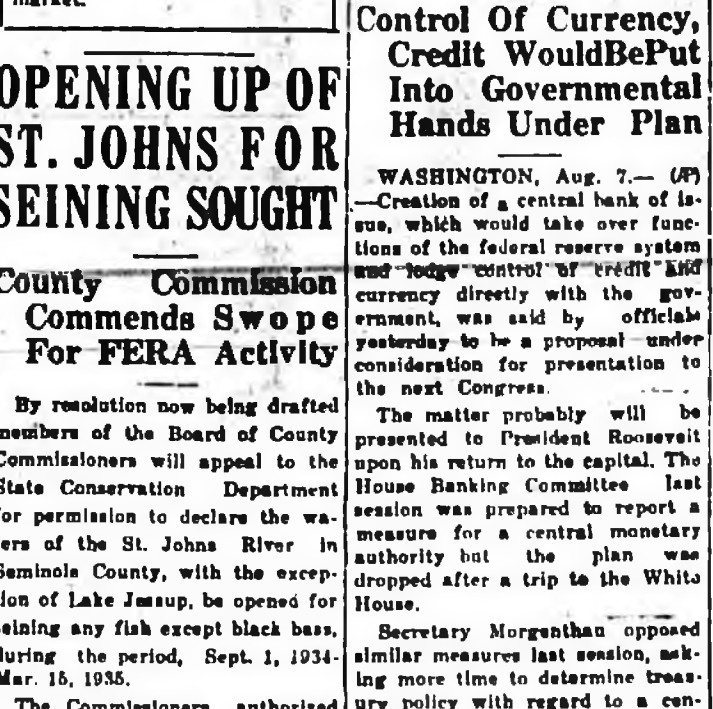

Some officials and many members of Congress take the position now that banking and monetary legislation already passed has been sufficiently "digested" for steps toward the central bank measure.

Whether the program as finally drawn will seek actually to abolish the mechanism within the nation's banking has functioned for two decades, officials said, may depend on developments between now and Jan. 1.

The proposed change is regarded as of particular importance because of the prospect of continued heavy government borrowing for refunding and emergency expenditures.

YOUNG MEN WILL ORGANIZE TRADE BODY TONIGHT

Prospect Is That Over
50 Persons Will Be
Present At Meeting

With the prospect that over 50 young residents of Sanford will attend the organization meeting of the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce at Sanford County Club tonight, starting at 8:00 o'clock interest in the city's newest civic organization and its aims and ideals was seen today as mounting hourly.

Elated over the fact that the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, through its president Harry M. Papworth, has offered support of the movement, Mr. Barnett will appear before his audience tonight to outline the steps which are needed to effect final organization and to invite every young man present to join at once.

Principal discussion is expected to revolve around the constitution and by-laws which probably will be adopted along with the election of permanent officers.

Copies of the Orlando constitution and by-laws have been studied during the past week by a committee which includes John Schieler, Jr., as chairman, Maxwell Stewart and Volle A. Williams. This committee will report its findings tonight.

It was indicated today that, in the interests of time, the program may be as follows:

Gordon Barnett as temporary chairman will welcome the men whose presence will be taken to indicate that they are desirous of joining the movement.

Presentation of signed cards and probably $1 as a membership fee which will be applied on the dues for the year when a decision is reached as to the amount of the dues.

Election of permanent officers, including a board of directors.

Discussion of constitution and by-laws, and adoption of both.

Discussion of projects which might be carried out within the next few weeks so that the organization will have embarked on its hoped-for active campaign aimed at the betterment of the city.

An announced yesterday, membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce is limited to persons between the ages of 21 and 35 under national rules. However, local organizations may waive the age limit requirement, and there is a possibility that the age limit for members will be extended to include persons 40 years of age or over. No officers may hold office if he is over 55 years of age, however.

Sanford Elks Will Sponsor Creation Of Junior Lodge

Institution of a local branch of the National Order of Antlers, or "Junior Elks" has been authorized by members of Sanford Elks Lodge No. 1211, and is now in process of formation. It was learned today in a report made by Rev. A. S. Ivick, chairman of an Antler Advisory Council.

Young men between the ages of 15 and 21 years, not necessarily members of any Elks lodge, are invited to join this organization, Father Peck stated.

"The cardinal reasons which this Order of Antlers teach and inculcate," he continued, "is a reverence for God; a deeper love and respect for parents and home; and a more real and abiding charity and patriotism for our Country."

Father Peck pointed out that Antler lodges have been instituted at Deland, New Smyrna, and Daytona Beach, while a lodge is in process of formation at Orlando.

Antler lodges, he added, have their own ritual and observances, and officers are elected from among the members.

The Antler Advisory Council as appointed by Exalted Ruler F. C. MacMahon is headed by Father Peck, and it includes C. E. Dawson, Rex Packard, Peter Thornton, and Andrew Caraway.

Application for membership can be made by any one of the above men. Father Peck stated, and announcement will be made of the date of the organization meeting.

Borah Says Roosevelt Will Change NRA Evil

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 7.—(A.P.)—Senator William E. Borah predicted yesterday that President Roosevelt would "give his immediate attention" to remedying what the Idahoan described as the price fixing "evil."

His statement came on the heels of his participation in an affair in Glens Falls, Idaho, where a baker protested he had been indicted by the code authority of his industry to raise the price of bread one cent a loaf. Senator Borah offered to supply counsel to protect the case and advised the baker to ignore the order.

Later, Idaho officials of the code authority denied having given the order, while NRA officials said no such program was possible under the administration authority.

Gordon Barnett as temporary chairman will welcome the men whose presence will be taken to indicate that they are desirous of joining the movement.

Presentation of signed cards and probably $1 as a membership fee which will be applied on the dues for the year when a decision is reached as to the amount of the dues.

Election of permanent officers, including a board of directors.

NEW ORLEANS 'REDS' PROTEST POLITICAL FUSS

Communists, Socialists
Dislike Expenditure
Of Public Funds On Military Displays

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 7.—(A.P.)—Meeting under the muzzle of machine guns manned by the opposing political factions of New Orleans, several hundred communists and socialists, claiming to voice the sentiment of "the masses," yesterday demonstrated against both Senator Huey P. Long and Mayor T. Semmes Whitney and condemned their expenditure of public funds for military display.

The demonstration was staged on the edge of Lafayette Square, directly across the street from city hall, held by hundreds of heavily armed city police, and from city hall annex, where Senator Long's steel helmeted national guardsmen are entrenched.

Police swarmed over the area and laughter swept the packed spectators when the city stationed a police sub-machine gun squad around the annex, apparently to protect their political antagonists, the militiamen, from the demonstrators.

During the flurry, the opposing Long and Whitney factions came to grips in a district court room across the city in one of a series of court actions involving their differences.

In yesterday's action, the court took under advisement the question whether public power in New Orleans shall continue in the hands of the mayor or be transferred to a public board decreed by the recent Long controlled legislature.

Today, the same court has summoned both Senator Long and Adjutant General Raymond H. Fleming before it to answer for the calling out of troops in a district political fight, but both Long and Fleming had dropped out of sight yesterday and their absence from Governor O. K. Allen's knowledge, professed to have no knowledge of their whereabouts. A court order for decommitment of the guard was served on Long several days ago, but Fleming thus far has evaded service.

23-Year-Old Florida Youth Confident Of Success In Venture

DAYTONA BEACH, Aug. 7.—(A.P.)—Alfred Lastinger, 23-year-old Florida youth, set sail from Daytona beach yesterday afternoon for Spain, hopeful of reaching its shores within 90 days.

Behind him he left a father who shook his head with scornful doubt. But only resolution and confidence showed in the face of the 23-year-old sailor, who declared his only fear was of being run down by a steamer.

The crowd which lined the shore to watch the beginning of what may be an epochal voyage gave a rousing cheer as the sturdy Miss Florida pushed out to sea, secured to the tow line of a tugboat.

Steam power was used, however, only to maneuver the red and silver sailboat to a spot about 10 miles at sea, safely beyond dangerous shore currents.

Plans Of New Farmers' Market Given Tentative Okey Of FERA Official

Plans for the new $75,000 State Farmers' Wholesale Distributing Market, placed in the hands of Jerome Connor in the Jacksonville office of the FERA yesterday by a local group, were virtually approved, it was stated today by F. F. Turner, president of the Seminole Agricultural Club.

Mr. Turner said that when a few "minor details" are corrected, "announcement will probably be made that bids are to be let, and we can expect that work on the building will start just as soon as bids are let."

As described by Mr. Turner, who said that the official plan of the project will be released at a later date, the Market will be composed of four different buildings covering a large portion of the 20 acre tract at French Avenue and Thirteenth Street.

Entrance to the grounds will be on the French Avenue side where a gateway 120 feet wide will be

Cuban Communists Demand Revolution

HAVANA, Aug. 7.—(A.P.)—Communist manifesto were circulated today, the anniversary of Cuba's "Day of Mourning," calling for a revolution and the establishment of a Soviet government. One year ago today 23 Cubans were killed when a force of Gerardo Machado, then president, fired on crowds prematurely celebrating Machado's downfall. Machado fled the palace five days later, Aug. 12, and Communist circulars call for an uprising on that date. Persistent but unconfirmed rumors of revolution are buzzing about the capital.

OLD PAUL LIES BURIED IN BASE OF MONUMENT

German Nation Halts
Activities As Body
Of Beloved Leader
Is Carried To Crypt

TANNENBERG, Aug. 7.—(A.P.)—Germany buried Paul von Hindenburg in a shrine it holds sacred today after Adolf Hitler, in an emotional eulogy at the ceremony, said the late president had "opened the door" to Nazism.

Brief and simple was the funeral as the old warrior-statesman had wished, but thousands of uniforms gave it a military atmosphere.

The body of the 86-year-old leader was placed to rest in one of the towers of the national war monument erected on the grave of von Hindenburg's great triumph over the Russian army in 1918.

Thousands of mourners were turned away. But the entire nation paused during the funeral hour in a farewell tribute to the revered leader.

Rooseveltian Deal At Stake In Voting In 2 States Today

By The Associated Press
Verdict on the Rooseveltian "New Deal" and on "Boschism" is into ballot boxes in West Virginia and Missouri today. Kansas picks nominees for governor and congress.

Proceeded Roosevelt's program is at issue in West Virginia where Senator Henry Hatfield outstages two of Administration policies is supported by four candidates.

Nips such the West Virginia Democratic nomination, for the Senate. Each has pledged support of the New Deal.

Charges of "Boschism" and "Machismo control" figure in Missouri's three-cornered senatorial fight.

"Big Tom" Pennington, former City Democratic "Boss" Henry S. Truman, The St. Louis Democratic organization, is for John J. Cochran. A third ballot, controlled by Jacob L. Milligan for whom Senator Bennett Champ Clark has campaigned.

Kansas interest centers in the gubernatorial derby. Governor Al Landon is opposed by Dr. John Strickley of "Good glass" fame.

Sanford Elks Will Sponsor Creation Of Junior Lodge

Institution of a local branch of the National Order of Antlers, or "Junior Elks" has been authorized by members of Sanford Elks Lodge No. 1211, and is now in process of formation. It was learned today in a report made by Rev. A. S. Ivick, chairman of an Antler Advisory Council.

Young men between the ages of 15 and 21 years, not necessarily members of any Elks lodge, are invited to join this organization, Father Peck stated.

"The cardinal reasons which this Order of Antlers teach and inculcate," he continued, "is a reverence for God; a deeper love and respect for parents and home; and a more real and abiding charity and patriotism for our Country."

Father Peck pointed out that Antler lodges have been instituted at Deland, New Smyrna, and Daytona Beach, while a lodge is in process of formation at Orlando.

Antler lodges, he added, have their own ritual and observances, and officers are elected from among the members.

The Antler Advisory Council as appointed by Exalted Ruler F. C. MacMahon is headed by Father Peck, and it includes C. E. Dawson, Rex Packard, Peter Thornton, and Andrew Caraway.

Application for membership can be made by any one of the above men. Father Peck stated, and announcement will be made of the date of the organization meeting.

YOUNG MEN WILL ORGANIZE TRADE BODY TONIGHT

Prospect Is That Over
50 Persons Will Be
Present At Meeting

With the prospect that over 50 young residents of Sanford will attend the organization meeting of the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce at Sanford County Club tonight, starting at 8:00 o'clock interest in the city's newest civic organization and its aims and ideals was seen today as mounting hourly.

Elated over the fact that the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, through its president Harry M. Papworth, has offered support of the movement, Mr. Barnett will appear before his audience tonight to outline the steps which are needed to effect final organization and to invite every young man present to join at once.

Principal discussion is expected to revolve around the constitution and by-laws which probably will be adopted along with the election of permanent officers.

Copies of the Orlando constitution and by-laws have been studied during the past week by a committee which includes John Schieler, Jr., as chairman, Maxwell Stewart and Volle A. Williams. This committee will report its findings tonight.

It was indicated today that, in the interests of time, the program may be as follows:

Gordon Barnett as temporary chairman will welcome the men whose presence will be taken to indicate that they are desirous of joining the movement.

Presentation of signed cards and probably $1 as a membership fee which will be applied on the dues for the year when a decision is reached as to the amount of the dues.

Election of permanent officers, including a board of directors.

Discussion of constitution and by-laws, and adoption of both.

Discussion of projects which might be carried out within the next few weeks so that the organization will have embarked on its hoped-for active campaign aimed at the betterment of the city.

An announced yesterday, membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce is limited to persons between the ages of 21 and 35 under national rules. However, local organizations may waive the age limit requirement, and there is a possibility that the age limit for members will be extended to include persons 40 years of age or over. No officers may hold office if he is over 55 years of age, however.

Press Gags

Tacked on the Constitution of the United States are these words: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; OF ABRIDGING THE FREEDOM OF SPEECH OR OF THE PRESS; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances." This is the First Amendment to the Constitution, the preamble of which reads as follows: "We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and SECURE THE BLESSINGS OF LIBERTY TO OURSELVES AND OUR POSTERITY, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

That freedom of the press is something which does not exist in many other countries of the world is something which is pretty well known today. Dictatorial governments such as prevail in Italy, Germany, Russia, and a steadily increasing number of other countries, can not exist where freedom of the press exists. Rigid censorship established in those countries control their newspapers, the news they publish, as well as their editorial expressions, as completely as if they were owned outright by the states, and their publishers were government employees. For a newspaper to criticize any act of the government or of government officials in any of these Soviet, Nazi, or Fascist states is unheard of. Newspapers which tried it in the beginning have been suppressed.

That freedom of the press is something which is in grave danger in this country is not as well known by many of us, particularly by those citizens who are inclined to accept freedom of the press largely as a matter of course, like the rising and setting of the sun, something which has gone on for centuries, and which will continue for centuries to come. And yet many changes are rapidly taking place in our form of government, in our economic ways of thinking, in our individual lives and occupations, and undoubtedly freedom of the press is one of them.

The other day the Governor of Minnesota, through his Adjutant General, issued the following military command: "To print, post or distribute by any means, publish or transmit within the said (martial law) area, notices, bills, documents, or newspapers, defaming the State of Minnesota or any member of the Minnesota National Guard in the field, shall be unlawful, and shall be construed as a violation of this proclamation, subjecting the offender to punishment." As martial law had already been declared in this area of Minnesota, any "violation of this proclamation" would subject the offender to a trial by court martial, and presumably, if found guilty, he could be shot at sunrise exactly as if he lived in Germany.

The matter could, of course, be appealed to the Supreme Court by his attorneys, where undoubtedly the entire proceeding would be declared unconstitutional, but little good that would do the alleged "offender," particularly if he had already been shot.

It is interesting to note that it became unlawful to "defame the State of Minnesota or any member of the National Guard," not as a result of an act of the Legislature, duly passed upon by the chosen representatives of the people, but by a proclamation of the Adjutant General of the State, an appointive officer, at the instigation of a single individual, the Governor. If it is possible for the governor of a state to make laws so vitally affecting the newspapers, might it not also be possible for him to make laws, similarly affecting every business and every individual in the state in whatever manner his every whim and prejudice might dictate?

It is further interesting to note that the Minnesota law does not define what is meant to "defame the State of Minnesota or any member of the National Guard," or what might be regarded as fair or unfair editorial comment? It leaves it to the Governor and his Adjutant General to decide, after the act has been committed, whether the state or National Guard has been defamed. We are inclined to wonder, if occasion should arise where the National Guard in a moment of excitement, should fire upon rioting strikers, for instance, and kill a lot of innocent women and children, and the newspapers should venture to denounce the action as uncalled for, whether the Governor would regard this comment as violating his law.

The only defense which the people have against the arbitrary acts of tyrannical and unscrupulous public officials is the freedom of the press to express the voice of public opinion in condemning such acts. If the time ever comes in America when the people cannot shout their protests to high heaven, against any or all the acts of government, then the people will no longer run the government, but the government will run the people.

Loyalty, Courage, Devotion

Although von Hindenburg, whose funeral services are being conducted today at Tannenberg, was the commander-in-chief of the German forces against whom our soldiers fought in 1917-18, and often was the victim at that time of gruesome "atrocity stories" which sometimes depicted French babies tossed on the bayonets of Prussian infantrymen, one cannot help but admire the rugged virtues and sturdy qualities of leadership which characterized his entire life.

Probably no other modern statesman, with the single exception of our own President, so completely combined the high moral principles, the fine personal characteristics, for which von Hindenburg was famous. He was intensely loyal and patriotic. He was devoted to his duty whether it be under the Kaiser or the Republic. His courage and trustworthiness were unexcelled. As a soldier he knew both how to give orders and how to take them. He was honest, intelligent, unselfish, and considerate of others.

He and the Kaiser had many differences both as to the conduct of the war and as to ordinary governmental policies, and it was said that von Hindenburg was the only officer on the general staff who dared to give voice to his differences. But although he was an old man when the war broke out and had been retired for two years, when the Kaiser called in 1914, Hindenburg's immediate response was, "I am ready." When the war was over, and General Foch demanded the surrender of the Kaiser, von Hindenburg accepted full responsibility for all the acts of war, declined to surrender the Kaiser.

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

FRANCE, RUSSIA AND ENGLAND TO ATTACK GERMANY AND AUSTRIA

LONDON, Aug. 7.—An Echoing Telegram dispatch from Paris today states that Germany has sent an ultimatum to Italy saying unless Italy supports her allies war on her will be declared.

The final financial adjustment between Orange and Hamilton counties has been made. At the July session of the county commissioners the clerk was instructed to draw a draft covering the balance due Seminole on county division settlement.

The Methodists of this city are rejoicing over the beginning of their elegant house of worship on their lot on the corner of Park Avenue and Fifth Street. Their lot was found to be too small to accommodate the building which they had planned to erect so with their accustomed aggressiveness they purchased 13 feet from the owner of the adjoining property at a good price and the building will soon be ready.

Charles Henry writes from Chimerock that he is on the land of the living and expects to be in Sanford in the early fall. Mrs. Henry and children are spending the summer at Wildwood Beach, near Philadelphia.

LASTINGER HITS SEA TRAIL FOR SPAIN'S SHORES

"Once I get offshore with no danger of being driven back, I'll be O. K. I haven't the least doubt my boat will stick by me. She'll weather any kind of going. Storms won't affect us. It's only big steamers at night that I fear at all."

He said he thought he would take a nap as soon as the Miss Florida was out from the tug. "I'll have to sleep in the daytime, you know, so I can watch out for steamers at night."

The youth, whose seven years on the sea have led him to every continent, estimated the journey would take about 30 days, perhaps less.

But in the hold were concentrated food and water enough to last four months.

Last-minute preparations took most of Lastinger's morning. Swinging from a crane on the bow of the tug, the Miss Florida was carried through the shallow Ponce de Leon inlet out to sea and brought back to the starting point of the municipal pier.

There it was let down into the water, riding low from the weight of its supplies. At the last minute the water tank began to leak and had to be repaired and refilled.

Sitting at the tiller of the tiny boat, the husky youth looked as if he were guiding a toy.

The clear Lastinger, who went to sea yesterday morning for the first time when he rode at the tugboat, said he did not know what changes his son would have. He helped Lastinger build the Miss Florida.

For navigating, Lastinger has only a compass and a clock. He plans to find his position from the stars.

The only boat for which previous space was made was the Bibb. A letter of introduction from Governor Shreve went along, too.

The young sailor carried plenty of fishing tackle, hoping to break the monotony of canned food with an occasional fish dinner. The only "spare parts" on the vessel were carpenter's and even dozen of them.

Treasury officials agree they have had the entire co-operation of the reserve and members banks. They point out, however, that if nevertheless, once he had taken the oath to defend the Republican constitution, remained almost to his death on the battlefield between it and the powerful forces seeking its overthrow.

One can hardly doubt that the history of Germany during the past year and a half, and during the years to come, would be decidedly different had von Hindenburg been at the prime of life instead of at its close. Remaining that death was at hand, he sought to complete the government in strong hands before his passing. It is one of the tragedies of the day that no stronger hands were available than those of Hitler.

PLANT WILL CAST NEW 200-INCH TELESCOPE EYE

Corning Glass Works To Have Mirror Twin As Substitute

CORNING, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(AP) Plans to cast soon a new 200-inch telescope mirror, twin of the world's greatest "eye" which was poured last March, have been announced by the Corning Glass Works.

Although the new mirror is planned as a substitute for the first, it means that astronomy will have available two of these Cyclopean "eyes," each capable of seeing four times farther into space than the present largest telescope, the 100-inch one at Mt. Wilson, California.

It was decided to cast the second "eye" because it has been found that it will take about as much work to complete the first mirror as to make an entirely new one.

Accordingly, the observatory council of the California Institute of Technology, which will build the mammoth telescope, and the research and development department of the Corning Glass Works, agreed that a new die be further processed, both to have an available mirror in reserve and to test procedure to assure success for the new die.

When the first "eye" was poured Mar. 25, some parts of the mold broke loose and floated to the surface of the 200 tons of molten borosilicate glass. They rested like paper boats on water, only slightly embedded in the glass.

With their "hulls" still embedded, the die was placed in the annealer and slowly cooled. On Memorial Day last it was cool enough to touch. Sand blasts then cleaned out the parts of the mold frozen in to the glass surface.

The result was to leave an "eye" rimmed with places resembling the ripples on a pool. Otherwise, the great mirror was clear, with no cracks, and none of the dreaded "strains" in glass which ruin telescope "eyes."

A few days ago these wrinkles on the mirror's face were completely lifted by placing it in a bell-shaped where gas jets heated the surface to 2,200 degrees Fahrenheit. The surface became liquid, much like water on top of ice. Allowed to harden again the surface of the 200-ton "eye" was perfectly smooth. It has again been placed in the annealing oven, to cool slowly, a technique that eliminates all except the smallest strains. It is expected to be removed early this fall.

Meanwhile, a new mold is under construction for the second "eye." It will have one difference from the first. The things which broke loose in the first mold were cups of white ceramic material, called cores. They were fastened to the bottom of the mold with steel rods.

Although no molten glass touched these rods, some of them broke. Whether they melted, or whether the intense heat simply crushed them almost in two in a few hours is unknown. Rusting is suspected.

In the new mold, to prevent this recurrence, the anchor rod material will be of alloy—more heat and rust resisting than steel. This is the only important change to be made.

Plans For Farmers' Market Are Given Tentative OK

(Continued from Page 1) of this structure, and paralleling it. Plans also call for the laying of a spur track about 1 1/2 miles from the northern boundary of the property.

Mr. Miller was accompanied to the Jacksonville meeting by Mr. Combs, Secretary of Agriculture; Nathan Mayo and State Marketable Commodities; Mr. Richard Frank Moore; Mr. E. Johnson, N. J. Mayor; and E. H. Houghton.

Details of the proposed market are expected to be discussed at what Mr. Dorner terms an "important" meeting of the Agriculture Club at Seminole High school Thursday night at 8:00 o'clock.

Nomination of officers for the reorganized and incorporated market will be a feature of the meeting. Election is scheduled for Wednesday night, Aug. 15 when Commissioner Rhodes and S. W. Pratt of the Board will address members of the Club.

A discussion on "Miscellaneous Crops" will also be a feature of Thursday's meeting.

Small Businesses In U. S. About Same

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. (AP) - The small, retail business was shown by department of Commerce figures yesterday to be maintained almost the same number of stores in 1933 as in 1929.

The report of the department of the census on its preliminary survey of retail trade disclosed that in 1933 there were 1,450,000 small businesses with a total value of $1,415,000.

Employment of full-time workers declined from 28,000,000 in 1929 to 24,000,000 in 1933, a drop of about 30 percent. Part-time employees, however, increased 50 percent to about 71,000,000 while store workers actually working in the stores increased to 1,572,000, a gain of four percent.

MATT MCGRATH TELLS BOYS HOW TO BE ATHLETES

Police Hammer Throwing Champ Reveals Secret Of Condition

NEW YORK CITY, Aug. 7.—Mighty Matt McGraith, the Police Department's great weight-throwing champion, who spoke recently to the children of the city in the third of a series of talks arranged by the Department of Health and Education to teach the children how to take full advantage of the recreational facilities provided for them, discussed the importance of keeping in good condition and the part that well-known athletes can follow in their footsteps.

"Every young athlete needs some one to follow when he starts out," he said, "and that's the idea of these broadcasts. The Health Department is arranging a series for the children of the city and they asked me if I would give one of them. They get athletes to tell how they train and how they keep in condition, and that teaches the kids how to get started."

Whatever his methods, the veteran hammer-thrower's own appearance is enough to vouch for their efficacy. He is spry and erect and light on his feet for all his 220 pounds.

Deputy Inspector Matthew J. McGraith, of the 1st Traffic District, as he is officially known, has a record in field athletics that has never been equaled. Competing in four successive Olympic games he has won two first places, one second and one fourth. The fourth place, at Antwerp in 1920, is explained by the fact that on his first trial throw he tore a cartilage in his right knee so badly that he had to go to a stretcher, but that single throw was good enough to win fourth place.

Now at fifty-eight, he is not even considering retiring from competition. "I won the last metropolitan championship in the 56-pound weight throw," he said, "and I expect to keep on taking part in meets for several years yet. A man's all right while he keeps in condition, but if he once lets down, he's through."

He has won twenty-four national championships and enough medals and other trophies to fill several large trunks.

"The way to stay on in a sport while other people burn themselves out and retire, he said, "is to vary your activity. Don't do just one thing. Keep in condition all the time; try your hand at other sports, and always keep up a little regular practice. A man who drops out even for a year or so will never be as good as he was before."

"I've always found time to keep in training," he said. "I'm no heavier now than when I came on the force in 1903, and I'm twenty pounds lighter than I was five years ago. That's what keeps me going. I don't have a lot of useless weight to carry around."

McGrath was born in Nenagh, Tipperary, Ireland, and came to New York at twenty. His administration for a local strong man of Tipperary, whose name he has not forgotten, first inspired him to want to be a weight thrower.

Each group met on Tuesday having a program of readings and games. Refreshments were served.

A picnic in honor of out-of-town guests was given by Mrs. B. J. Kell and Mrs. R. R. Gray at Sanlando Springs Monday night with the following present: Mrs. A. D. Blankenship, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Avant, Miss Esther Prosser, Mrs. Alma Parker, Mrs. W. J. Wells, Jr., Mrs. B. R. Gray and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Kell.

General Motors Split $20,000,000 Dividend

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Directors of General Motors Corporation yesterday cut a melon for stockholders of more than $20,000,000 in the form of a 50-cent share extra dividend.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president, said among considerations motivating the payment was that this sum "passing into the channels of active trade, will act as a worthwhile stimulant to business in general."

This is the second of the fruits of recovery for the owners of the approximately 43,500,000 common shares, the first having been a 25-cent share disbursement last December.

Shareholders, however, still see their regular annual disbursements maintained at the depression low of $1, since directors yesterday ordered another regular quarterly disbursement of only 25 cents.

The 50-cent extra is the largest extra since 1929, when 60 cents a share was ordered in addition to the regular payments at the rate of $3 a share annually then prevailing.

LOCAL WEATHER

The ex-Marine said he joined the Silver Shirts under instructions of the intelligence department of the Marine Corps at San Diego, to which he had reported the offer to purchase stolen arms.

Hayes named W. W. Kemp as the official who made the offer. He described him as commander of the San Diego Silver Shirts.

Dr. George Gysaling, German vice consul here, declined to appear before the sub-committee.

"The committee will have to get the consent of the German embassy in Washington," Dr. Gysaling said. He said he understood he was wanted "for questioning in regard to a $215 check made out to cash and endorsed by a person whose activities are under suspicion."

Hayes asserted he had seen Silver Shirts drilling with rifles presumably obtained from San Diego military sources, and that they had been arming themselves and drilling in a plot to take control of the United States government.

The Marine observer said he had been told of large caches of ammunition stored by the Silver Shirts, and said he had seen small amounts.

Asked by the committee attorney what the purpose of the Silver Shirts was, Hayes said: "To change the government."

William Dudley Peley, the national organizer, told me of the plan was to incorporate the nation, giving each adult a share of stock. This would be a monthly dividend of $80 a share, he said. He also planned to deport the Jews.

"Was force advocated to gain control of the government?" Hayes was asked.

"Yes, I was commissioned as an instructor in military tactics with the Silver Shirts. I taught them the use of small arms and street fighting."

One of the first witnesses to appear before the committee was Corporal Edward T. Gray of the United States Marines, stationed in San Diego. He was assigned by superior officers to investigate the activities of the Silver Shirts. The corporal gave an account of the
