

Drunk Driving Case City Prosecutor Charged

By BOB LLOYD
Seminole County Judge Harold Johnson attended a court order Tuesday in a drunk driving case involving the Longwood city prosecutor after a Herald probe questioned legality of the original order.

Special Report

The amended order in the case of James Craig Fisher, 30-year-old attorney with an office in Altamonte Springs, was read in the county clerk's office at 5 p.m. while a Herald reporter was trying to get a certified copy of a Monday order which Johnson said was inaccurate and didn't state what he intended to order in a chamber hearing Monday with Fisher and Longwood Municipal Judge Gene Stephenson.

There is no official transcript of the proceedings in Johnson's court order, saying it was inaccurate. However they said the original order will remain in the Fisher case file, along with the amended order.

Court files show Fisher was arrested April 10 at 11:05 p.m. on U.S. 17-92 at Five Points, south of Sanford, by Florida Highway Patrol Trooper P.C. Wright. Wright's report states he observed a 1973 blue Cadillac stop on Big Tree Road "with all four wheels locked up" then proceed north in the southbound lanes of the four-lane divided highway at speeds over 80 miles per hour. Wright said he was able to stop the car at Five Points.

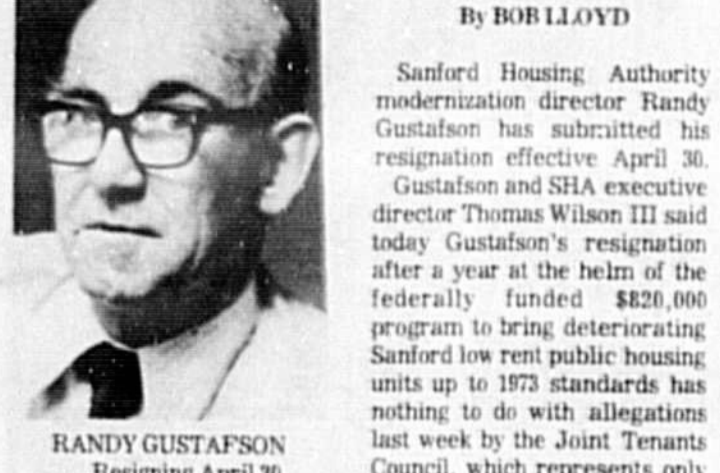

TWO CARS DESTROYED IN CRASH

SANFORD POLICE Patrolman Al Moore said Donald Ray Evans, 26, of 2001 Summerline Ave., Sanford, was driving a 1969 Pontiac (background) and apparently ran a stop sign on Palmetto Avenue at Ninth Street, when the car was struck by a 1968 Cadillac driven by Johnell Brevington, 25, of 1107 Willow Ave., Sanford. Drivers and passengers in the two cars were treated for injuries at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

SHA Executive Quits; Denies Funds Mishandled

By BOB LLOYD
Sanford Housing Authority modernization director Randy Gustafson has submitted his resignation effective April 30. Gustafson and SHA executive director Thomas Wilson III said today Gustafson's resignation after a year at the helm of the federally funded $20 million program to bring deteriorating Sanford low rent public housing units up to 1973 standards has nothing to do with allegations last week by the Joint Tenants Council, which represents only about seven per cent of the 480 public housing tenant families, that funds have been mishandled.

The SHA board denied any mishandling of funds but Gustafson said he had no recollection of any such charges. Gustafson said today he feels his commitment to SHA is completed in that planning and engineering is complete on modernization of four housing projects.

Assault Charges Hit Stable Owner

By GARY TAYLOR
Bill Q. Waters, 57, of Sanford, posted $5,000 bond Tuesday afternoon, following his arrest early in the day on charges of lewd assault on a female child, Deputy Jim Brantley arrested Waters at the Hillbilly Public Riding Stables, Oregon Avenue, west of Sanford, following an investigation by Sgt. Tony Calangelo, and involved an incident with a 13-year-old Sanford girl on April 8.

Calangelo said the man allegedly asked the girl to go on a horse with him and then fondled her.

The Springs Realty Co., Inc., SR, 434, Longwood, reported thefts at four homes, but all the items were found in a van after security police apparently surprised the thieves.

A THREE-CAR accident at U.S. 17-92 and Airport Boulevard Tuesday afternoon sent three people to the hospital. John Edward Carr, Charleston, W. Va., was driving a 1969 Chevrolet and was charged with violation of right-of-way and driving while intoxicated. He was reportedly south-bound on U.S. 17-92 and made a left turn in front of a 1972 Oldsmobile, driven by Suzanne Marie Fromme, Edgewater, Fla., who was north-bound on U.S. 17-92. Mary McRoberts Bowers, 50K Satsuma Drive, Sanford, was stopped for the traffic light on Airport Boulevard, and her car was hit by one of the cars. Patrolman Larry Payton is investigating. Miss Fromme, a passenger in her car, and Carr were taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Ma Bell Attracts Attention

By MARION BETHIA
WINTER SPRINGS—With the continued commercial and residential development in this area, city council has directed its attention to matters involving "Ma Bell."

It has only been a few years since toll free phone service was established between Sanford and the municipalities in the south end of the county. The issue, at the time, was approved after heated controversy from Sanford residents who opposed the measure upon the basis the increased rates which the measure would necessitate would be inequitable in cases where long distance calls were not made.

However, time has proven the opponents to be wrong and the growth of the south end of the county has indicated the need to keep in constant touch with those paying for a long distance call. Now a new spectre has arisen governing long distance calls between Sanford and Orlando, and City Atty. Tom Freeman was authorized to draft a resolution requesting the Public Service Commission to eliminate long distance rates between Sanford and Orlando.

$100,000 Federal Grant Elates Zoological Backer

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
The good news from Tallahassee Tuesday that the state cabinet has approved the Seminole County application for $100,000 federal matching funds for the proposed zoological and botanical park, Big Blake, president of Seminole Zoological Society, is optimistic that plans will be implemented within the next few months and actual groundbreaking set for mid-summer.

Director, Staff Of Six Recreation Plans Aired

By MARION BETHEA
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — With burgeoning growth in the city encompassing commercial development, Mayor Lawrence Swafford is not overlooking the recreational aspect for municipal residents.

City council, at a meeting Tuesday, was advised by the mayor that in the next fiscal year it is his plan to have a parks and recreation department with a staff of six. The city recently hired a recreation director, Jim Boston.

Discussion was held over the location of Boston's new office, whether it should be in the new city hall or civic center.

Councilman Dan Dorfman said all departmental heads should be located in the city hall, which, he said, is the proper place for administrative facilities.

Swafford said it is his intention to hire an assistant recreation director to plan women's and girl's activities as well as to perform secretarial duties and make reports upon activities to council.

Swafford said a parks department is also needed with a staff of three or four men for grounds upkeep of the new city facilities.

Boston told council that until his staff grows sufficiently requiring that he be in his office upon a full time basis. It would be a waste of time to provide an office for him in the city hall. All that is required, he said, is a "minor office" Swafford said Boston will be "set-up" in city hall.

In another issue involving recreation, an appearance of a woman opposing, filling of a "lake" in the new San Sebastian park failed to materialize, with the resident apparently having a change of mind.

Kazin Reza, a member of the civic association spearheading the park development, told council he had spoken with the woman, who, he said, was concerned that a spring fed lake was being filled.

Reza also commented that the woman was concerned that council had acted in a "totalitarian manner" without concern for the homeowners in approving the park, which she contended would deprecate her property. Reza said a recent meeting of the civic association decided the lake "will go." It was announced the park will be opened by June. Council, however, extended the date for opening of bids for work at the park site until May 8.

Blake is leaving his job as administrative assistant to Clerk of the Circuit Court Art Beckwith to devote full time on a volunteer basis during the coming year to getting the Zoological and Botanical Gardens underway.

"Plans are still rather sketchy at this point," Blake said, "because it has been impossible to walk and stake out the area for the zoo or park because of the density of the foliage."

In the park area 80-100 picnic tables and covered shelter with barbecue pits and restrooms. The animal habitats in the zoo will be as natural as possible incorporating many of the natural trees and shrubs in the area. A great deal of fill will be necessary to put in a road and parking area.

Blake hopes that the county will take an interest in the park, perhaps allowing use of trucks and heavy equipment on weekends. Every saving in road construction will save funds for the park.

The application still is subject to final review in Atlanta. These matching funds were granted strictly for use in developing the Riverside park and recreation section of the 18-acre site on Lake Monroe near I-4. The Zoological Society has set aside $150,000 for the purpose of developing the approximately 24 acre planned for the zoo.

A 30-year lease agreement for the park land is being negotiated with the county by the Zoological Society. The agreement that they will develop and maintain the entire park for public use.

Although a $100,000 budget is anticipated in operating park, Blake anticipates revenue from admissions to the zoo itself, concessions, and memberships will support the operation and he feels that it should not be a taxpayer responsibility through

The union spokesman said Eastern stewards and stewards had been working without a contract since last July. Negotiations on a new contract have been underway since last May.

The brief cancellation of flights affected most of the 34 airports served by Eastern, said James Ashlock, another public relations executive. He said the cancellation was made when it became clear that operations could not be continued with supervisory personnel.

Eastern said most of the passengers stranded when the flight attendants walked out made it to their destinations on later flights, some with other airlines.

"We did the best we could," said an Eastern spokesman. "One time I saw a nice president straggling down the terminal with an armload of baggage to get a passenger on a National flight."

The airline said it did not know the number of passengers who were stranded overnight, but among cancelled flights were those on the busy New York to Miami run and the shuttle service between Washington, New York and Boston.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—I don't like politics because there's sinners and there's losers," said Tim Robinson, 12, as he slumped in a visitor's chair in the House office building.

He was right: James Robinson was a loser Tuesday. But he battled for House passage of the Equal Rights Amendment on until the button-pushing which resulted in its 54-54 defeat.

Equal Rights Amendment on until the button-pushing which resulted in its 54-54 defeat.

Robinson said she is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, where she was a secretary girl and sports editor of her college paper.

But her upbringing was far from that of mythical, average American woman. The daughter of a news service reporter, she lived all over the world until her parents divorced after World War II.

"I was raised by a woman alone, so I'm very familiar with what it's like not ever having a new car or a new house because my mother couldn't get equality in a job," said Mrs. Robinson, 37, in a well-lit room in the House office building.

"I now have a 25-year-old daughter who chooses, at the moment, not to get married, who's having a ball at a job, and I understand why she doesn't want to get married right now," she said.

"I'm still enough now to know that marriage is not always what makes a woman happy," she said.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A Senate committee has proposed legislation to fund a major portion of the Florida Parole and Probation Commission to the Department of Health and Rehabilitation Services.

Sen. Richard Pettigrew, D-Miami, chairman of the Senate Criminal Justice Committee, said the proposal would give HRS virtually all inmate interview and presentence investigation functions now performed by the commission.

The commission would remain an autonomous quasi-judicial body with power over paroles.

The shift was part of a prison reform package Pettigrew said would "reorganize and redirect the entire correction system."

Freedom Of The Press

The Constitution Still States It Best

The First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America says: "Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom... of speech, or of the press."

What's left to say? Well, with the best of intentions, a lot of lawmakers from near and far have proposed to Congress "shield laws" — which would "shield" sources of news. Certainly, if a reporter cannot keep his sources confidential, free press will soon go down the drain.

We have a freedom of the press which is constitutionally guaranteed and hence too often taken for granted. It contrasts sharply with the situation in other nations, especially Latin America.

Argentina — Freedom of the press exists, but with trepidation following election of a Peronist government.

Chile — Freedom of expression, but President Salvador Allende's government controls production and distribution of newsprint.

Cuba — No freedom.

Dominican Republic — Free press, subject to legal provisions which may prove detrimental.

Haiti — Press is submissive to government.

Mexico — Free press, but newsprint is controlled by a government purchasing agency.

Panama — All newspapers are voices of the government dictatorship.

Paraguay — Criticism of President Alfredo Stroessner not allowed.

Clear Texas Air

Perhaps the air in Coahoma, Tex. — population 1,100 — is clearer, and the tower fathers can see farther than persons in larger cities.

That plus native sagacity — may explain why Coahoma Mayor Jack Caultle and his city council were able to see that the conditions attached to receipt of $1,899 in federal revenue sharing funds weren't really a benefit. They call for more governmental employees to administer the program and they increase taxes. So they declined the funds.

Reagan Defi Could Hamper Agnew '76

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some Republican analysts are saying that California's Gov. Ronald Reagan rather than John Connally will give Vice President Agnew his strongest conservative opposition should Agnew decide to seek the 1976 Republican presidential nomination.

Though Reagan will not run again for governor nor try to win a U.S. Senate seat, he is said to be planning to campaign heavily for others in 1974 in a Nixon-like attempt to build major political capital with the GOP.

Reagan's current status among party conservatives is high. He is already 62, but age seems no more of a handicap to him than it is to New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

The argument made by some Republicans is that if Connally hopes to earn position for 1976 by hitting the "absolute" shield law, "are we not creating a monster which by amendment, alteration or interpretative tampering could subvert its true goals?"

"Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom... of speech, or of the press."

As Americans, we concede that no right is "absolute." So, in the attempt to write an absolute "shield law," are we not creating a monster which by amendment, alteration or interpretative tampering could subvert its true goals?

"Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom... of speech, or of the press."

Can anybody say it better?

As for Agnew, the present judgment is that he is clearly the leading prospect (some fragmentary poll evidence supports this view) for a candidate-waterer. However, ever that his high office lays upon him the hard burden of never slipping from the front-runner position.

A vice-president making a serious bid for the presidency can't afford to trail anybody," says this source.

The word "serious" is loaded with special meanings as applied to Agnew. Me close to the top of the list of candidates for the presidency, but they confess they don't know how badly. And, like most politicians, they believe he must sooner or later exhibit a high level of desire to have a real chance.

This problem grades into another which already has been well publicized: The serious measurement of Agnew's fitness for the presidency. Tap almost any GOP state leader or top officeholder and he will tell you that Agnew's big task is to demonstrate forcefully his competence.

The irony for him, again something noted before, is that his earlier hatched work for Mr. Nixon, though widely approved by many party conservatives, is one of the reasons even they want strong proofs of his abilities.

His slashing assaults combined with his comic doings in golf and tennis, his much-criticized friendship with Frank Sinatra, and a certain suspicion he doesn't work hard, all add to a large question mark if it agreed he must run out.

High income is the subject of capital gains, under which income derived from the sale of such assets as stocks, bonds and real estate is taxed at a lower rate than income from wages and salaries.

The rate is about 28 percent of ordinary income, the object being to encourage and reward investment that will help develop the U.S. economy.

Yet it seems that almost nobody likes the special treatment accorded capital gains. A number of groups, such as Common Cause, Ralph Nader's Tax Reform Research Institute and the AFL-CIO, have mounted campaigns to revise the capital gains law.

"The most glaring inequity in the present tax code is its application of different rates to different kinds of income," says Fortune magazine editor Richard Armstrong.

"It's pretty hard to justify treating a capital gain differently from ordinary income," says Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. "I've never felt there is anything more sacrosanct about the profit from the sale of an asset than from the sweat of your brow."

But then the congressman proceeds to offer justification by adding, "If people had to pay regular tax rates on capital gains, they'd never sell their assets. You'd freeze them in their present assets."

At least one businessman suggests that rather than shrink or close the capital gain "loophole," it should be vastly widened.

In recent testimony before Mills' committee, Ross Perot, chairman of the board of Electronic Data Systems, Inc., proposed that every American be given the opportunity to accumulate a lifetime total of $100,000 in capital gains, tax free. Above the $100,000 threshold, capital gains income would be handled as it is now.

Perot likens the flow of capital in the United States to the Mississippi River. It seems inconceivable that the water in it could ever dry up.

In the same fashion, he says, if we should clog the springs and other tributaries of our capital market, it too, could turn into a dry and empty ditch at a time when we are going to need more money than has ever been raised before to modernize our industrial capacity to allow the working American, with his high standard of living, to compete effectively with his counterparts around the world.

He was confined to notorious Cabana, where food, medicine, clothes and "even my blind man's cane" were denied him.

When it rains the toilet facilities overflow into the gallery. The food is "scarce and without flavor," the prisoners never receive bread, meat or fresh vegetables. Medical attention is "practically nonexistent."

Why did Cuesta write the letter? "Not to better my conditions, not to save my life, but I hope that with my sacrifice there will be joined the most sensitive fibers of human hearts of all latitudes." Cuesta called for the release of "our women," many imprisoned for almost 14 years, and of the "aged and ill."

He called for a reduction of sentences for men who "rot by the thousands" in prisons all across the island.

As for himself, Cuesta said he is a result of his writing the letter the ultimate penalty will be levied against him—execution.

Herndon, Lincoln biographer and onetime law partner: "It is absurd to call him a modest man. No great man was ever modest." Hay wrote that it was Lincoln's "intellectual arrogance and unconscious assumption of authority" that made enemies of some members of his Cabinet.

In the beginning of the automobile age, most cars were painted black. Today only three per cent are. What the trade calls "earth tones" are popular now.

SKIP UMSTEAD LEADS BLUE ANGELS In Sanford air show Saturday

Umstead Leader Air Show Gets 'Angels'

The Navy Blue Angels expert flying team will be performing at the Rotary-Shrine clubs air show at the Sanford Airport on Saturday under the command of a new leader.

LI. Com. Skip Umstead has moved into the breach created by the illness of Lt. Don Bentley. The new officer-in-charge is well known in the crack flying team, for he was assigned to the squadron until December 1972. At that time he was moved to VF 2, a newly formed F-4 fighter squadron.

Umstead earned his wings in February, 1966, and in short order found himself aboard the USS Bon Homme Richard and headed for southeast Asia.

Another cruise in that area assigned him to the USS Hancock before being ordered "stateside" he had flown 202 combat missions and made 284 arrested carrier landings.

The newly detailed leader of "The Blues" has been awarded 13 Air Medals, the Navy Commendation Medal with combat V, the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry, the Navy Unit Citation, the Meritorious Unit Commendation, and the Vietnam Service and Campaign Medal.

The members of the Blue Angel team, though missing Bentley and bemouthing his illness, are delighted to have the capable and personable Umstead as his replacement.

The station carried three-minute broadcast-telephone calls from South Vietnam until all stations there were closed as troops were withdrawn.

More than 132,000 telephone calls have passed through the amateur radio transmitters operated by the Arizona Republic since the facility became a Military Affiliate Radio Station in August 1967.

Under the system, a serviceman places his call through an overseas transmitter. It is relayed through Goldwater's station into the telephone system.

Thirty-two amateur radio operators work in shifts at the station in the basement of Goldwater's home in northeast Phoenix. They are members of a club called "Bash Hat No Ace," Navajo for "metal that talks," Goldwater is president.

"He runs it himself, when he's available," said an operator about Goldwater, the unsuccessful Republican candidate for president in 1964.

"Goldwater pays for all Arizona calls, no matter where they are," said Robert Chamberlain, one of the operators.

Muskie wondered why U.S. automakers had not, over the past 20 years, developed new engines instead of hanging on to their old designs and adding pollution clean-up devices after adoption of the 1970 Clean Air Act amendments.

EPA and the National Academy of Sciences have found that three foreign engines can meet the U.S. law's original 1975 requirement for a 90 per cent reduction of carbon monoxide and hydrocarbon emissions.

EPA Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus last Wednesday suspended that standard for one year because U.S. automakers could not meet it.

One of the possible foreign engines is the German's Mercedes-Benz automobile diesel, which Ruckelshaus says needs additional study concerning noise and fumes.

The other two are Japanese.

Nixon To Ask Congress To Import Foreign Oil

By STAN BENJAMIN Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today sends Congress an energy policy message expected to stress measures encouraging more oil imports.

Informed sources indicated the President probably would adopt a system allowing bonus oil imports for refiners paying a tariff or fee on a graduated scale. The plan is designed to encourage domestic refining of crude oil from abroad.

It also was considered likely that Nixon would urge increased leasing of federal offshore areas for oil and gas development, and might ask Congress to end federal regulation over natural gas pricing. Also known to be under consideration was a plan to the states for implementation of tighter nationwide air quality standards. Such a delay would allow more coal to be burned, easing the demand on other fuels in short supply.

Bill's Future In Doubt Nixon Control Powers Agreed

By JOHN LENGELE Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees have agreed on a compromise bill extending presidential authority to impose wage-price controls but Republican opposition in the House and the impending recess leave the bill's future in doubt.

President Nixon's current authority to impose economic controls expires at midnight April 30 and Congress is due to quit today for its Easter recess, returning the morning of the 30th.

Members of the House conferees forecast a hard defeat for the compromise bill agreed upon Tuesday. Of the Republicans in the Senate-House conferees committee, only one, Sen. Bob Packwood of Oregon, signed the version finally approved. In the Senate, maneuvering over a voter-registration bill dominates the floor calendar with the bill's manager, Sen. Dale M. Lee, D-Wyo., threatening to hold up all other legislation until he has agreement to vote on his bill first.

Opponents of the President's approaches to controlling inflation and unemployment by imposition and cutbacks in approved programs.

But in each chamber, they lost on a lengthy list of amendments calling for everything from rolling back food prices and the price interest rate to six-month freezes across the board.

The major control items left and knocked out by the conferees—was a return to Phase 2 mandatory rent control in the most major metropolitan areas.

House Republicans refused to sign the compromise version, citing one provision that gives the president authority to allocate petroleum products. This is seen as working in favor of independent distributors against the big oil companies.

When we're running patchwork, the telephone company assigns an operator to us," Chamberlain said. "When one call is finished, the operator puts another on, so its continuous."

Chamberlain said most people are unaware that their messages are being relayed through Goldwater's equipment.

He said the senator has asked the operators not to publicize it. But he added that the word leaks out and the senator has received numerous letters of appreciation.

Goldwater's Broadcasts Still Aiding Servicemen

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Family voices with reassuring homelike news or excited birth announcements flowed to South Vietnam during the war through an amateur radio station operated by Sen. Barry Goldwater. Now the station links servicemen in Thailand and the Philippines with their homes.

The station carried three-minute broadcast-telephone calls from South Vietnam until all stations there were closed as troops were withdrawn.

More than 132,000 telephone calls have passed through the amateur radio transmitters operated by the Arizona Republic since the facility became a Military Affiliate Radio Station in August 1967.

Lonely Calls Drawing Attention

MIAMI—At a moment when the United States is celebrating the return of its prisoners of war from Vietnam, a lonely and pathetic call has been sounded in behalf of the thousands of prisoners being held in the prisons of Communist Cuba.

A letter written by Antonio "Tony" Cuesta, now serving a 30-year term in Cuba, has been received in Miami. Addressed to the Commission on Human Rights of the United Nations, the letter was smuggled out of La Cabana, a fortress and prison outside of Havana.

The letter calls on the commission to act in behalf of Cuban prisoners. It states: "Distinguished members of so praiseworthy a commission, do not defraud human suffering. Carry out your duty, for, to the only blind, mutilated and sick political prisoner in the world, have just done mine."

Cuesta is one of the legitimate heroes of the long struggle against Cuban Premier Fidel Castro. He captained several raids against shipping piers from Cuban ports.

On May 31, 1966, Cuesta's vessel was intercepted by one or more Castro patrol boats. The vessels fought and then, as Cuesta writes in his letter: "...Believing I was the only survivor, I preferred to blow up our craft rather than be made a prisoner. As a result of that action I was recovered unconscious from the water...completely blind, my left arm maimed and my ears destroyed, plus innumerable other injuries over my whole body."

Cuesta was cared for by his captors. After two years he was brought to trial, capes and to be sentenced to execution. Instead, perhaps because of his physical condition, he was given a 30-year term.

He was confined to notorious Cabana, where food, medicine, clothes and "even my blind man's cane" were denied him.

When it rains the toilet facilities overflow into the gallery. The food is "scarce and without flavor," the prisoners never receive bread, meat or fresh vegetables. Medical attention is "practically nonexistent."

Why did Cuesta write the letter? "Not to better my conditions, not to save my life, but I hope that with my sacrifice there will be joined the most sensitive fibers of human hearts of all latitudes." Cuesta called for the release of "our women," many imprisoned for almost 14 years, and of the "aged and ill."

He called for a reduction of sentences for men who "rot by the thousands" in prisons all across the island.

As for himself, Cuesta said he is a result of his writing the letter the ultimate penalty will be levied against him—execution.

Raising Birds Saves You Money

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't own his mail.

If you are having trouble balancing your budget, you might keep a bird for a pet instead of a dog, a cat—or a mistress. It costs only a penny a day to feed. Some 7,670,000 U.S. families do have pet birds—about 26 million of them.

Was Abraham Lincoln the model of humility he is sometimes pictured as having been? Not according to John Hay, a White House secretary, who said in a letter to William H.

Mr., Mrs. James Stowell Jr. Honored At Wedding Anniversary Reception

MR. AND MRS. JAMES V. STOWELL JR. AT RECEPTION Cheers on their silver wedding anniversary

In the Spring a young man's fancy turns toward thoughts of love, etc. And that's exactly what happened to James V. (Jim) Stowell Jr. when he took on a bride, Cathie, April 5, 1946, at Blessed Sacrament Church, Rochester, N.Y., with Monsignor Connors as the officiating clergyman.

It was that on their silver wedding anniversary this April that their children, Carin and James V. (Jayvee) Stowell III entertained at an elaborate reception for their parents at their Loch Arbor Court home.

One of the surprises of the celebration was the arrival of another son, Terry Christensen, whom Jayvee flew in from Mississippi for the occasion. Also joining the receiving line were Mrs. H.A. Simpson, Geneva, Jim's mother.

Cathie greeted the guests wearing an original design floor-length gown of champagne crystalline satin fashioned with a flowing accordion-pleated skirt with rhinestone buttons enhancing the front and wide cuffs of the dolman sleeves. A three-layered silk corded belt with a large rhinestone buckle highlighted the fitted waistline. The honoree, Carin and Mrs. Simpson all wore orchid corsages to complement their lovely long gowns.

Jim was attired in a pale champagne suit with wine accents. The men wore carol buttons, bouillonniers in their lapels.

Centering the elegantly appointed table, which was overlaid with a white heron liner cloth heavily embroidered with Italian cutwork designs, was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with purple-throated Cattleya orchids identical to the original wedding cake of the honoree.

Accompanying the cake were two three-branched sterling candleabra arranged with white China angel cupid, fern and baby's breath.

Silver trays were attractively arranged with breasts of turkey, ham slices, canapes, a variety of relishes and assorted breads.

Serving as bar hostess was Sandra Knox of Casselberry. Among the 125 guests who called during the evening which began at 4 p.m. were lifelong friends of Mrs. Stowell, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Ruff of Winter Park, who attended schools

National And State Awards Captured By DAR Chapter

Sallie Harrison Chapter, F543A, met Friday, April 13, at the home of Mrs. Raymond M. Ball, Lake Mary, with Mrs. R.E. True, co-hostess.

Mrs. T.K. Wiley, regent, president. Mrs. C.E. Butler, chairman of Americans and National Defense, gave an interesting talk.

Mrs. Wiley announced that at the DAR State Conference, held last month, in Tampa, Sallie Harrison Chapter yearbook won the blue ribbon from DAR.

Patricia E. Gum, K. W. Copeland Jr. Exchange Vows

Patricia E. Gum and Kenneth W. Copeland Jr. were united in marriage at Quittman, Ga., March 24, 1972. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gum, Miami, and the bridegroom is the son of Col. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Copeland 2405 S. Key Ave., Sanford.

Mrs. Gum is a freshman at Florida State U. He attended Jacksonville State U., Jacksonville, Ala. prior to serving five years in the Marine Corps. He is now a junior at Florida State U.

Miss Frances Elaine Hall, F.C. Westerfield To Marry

MISS FRANCES ELAINE HALL

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby W. Hall, 128 N. Sunland Drive, Sanford, are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Frances Elaine Hall, to Francis Clark Westerfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Westerfield, 406 Camellia Court, also of this city.

The bride-elect, who was born in San Diego, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Sidles, Estherville, Iowa, and Mrs. Ted Lodge, Graettinger, Iowa.

At Seminole High School, where she was graduated in 1971, Miss Hall was a member of the Latin Club. She is an April candidate for graduation from Seminole Junior College. She is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and will be a junior at Florida Technological University in September.

Her father, who was born in Owensboro, Ky. is a 1968 graduate of St. Joseph's Preparatory, Bardonia, N.Y., where he was a member of the National Honor Society. He attended Seminole Junior College and is employed as an engineering technician at Martin-Marietta, Orlando.

The wedding will be an event of June 2, at 3:30 p.m., at Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

Surprise Shower Fetes Bride-Elect

Miss Constance Taliaferro, Delary and bride-elect, Lester (Les) E. Bush, of Sanford, was complimented with a recent surprise bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Ethel Kenyon, in Sanford.

The refreshment table was decorated in a bridal theme with colorful ornaments and an umbrella suspended from the chandelier directly above the beautiful shower cake. Fruit punch with assorted favors of sherbert floating on the top, was served along with the cake, nuts and mints.

Honorees were Mrs. Kenyon and Lynn Machnik, of Orange City. Invited guests included: Mrs. Alvin Hornig, Delary, mother of the honor guest; Liz Nolan, Casselberry; Kathy Archer, Charlotte Hornig and Cynthia Taliaferro, all of Delary; Margaret Fleck, Casselberry; Betty Bird, Orange City; Lou Ball, Falconer, N.Y.

Also from Sanford, Mrs. Ellen Burt, mother of the future bridegroom; Pearl Smith, "Bunny" Johnson, Avery; Bryan and Marge Alumbaugh.

The bride-elect is employed at the Holiday Inn Restaurant and the couple plan to have the wedding and reception there.

Dear Abby

Afflicted? Try the power of the press

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Concerning that woman in Twin Falls, Idaho, who wrote complaining that no doctors in that town would deliver her baby without full payment in advance: she said a neighbor of hers who had been seeing a doctor all along suddenly found that he refused to deliver until he was paid in full.

It was a bit surprised that she hadn't gone to the newspaper. A newspaper is the public watchdog. It is the obligation of newsmen to bark when the general welfare of the public is endangered.

Sounds like a weak bunch of money-hungry newsmen there who are afraid to let anything in their paper that may make an advertiser unhappy. The advertisers then become the controlling element of the press.

This situation should be fully covered in stories and editorials. Each doctor in the town should be contacted by a reporter and his story put into print. In this action it is likely that one or more will turn up that do not subscribe to the mercenary policy described.

What is our society coming to if money, or the lack of it, determines if you have the right to live or die? Nowadays, the colleges that give these doctors their education and the hospitals in which they get their experience are largely supported by our tax dollars.

If the newsmen in that area lack the intestinal fortitude to get this story in and get it in accurately, they have no right to call themselves newsmen. They lack commitment to the profession and to the public they serve. They are an insult to the professionals in their own field.

That woman should camp on the managing editor's desk until she puts one or more competent reporters on the story and either proves her wrong or exposes the situation for what it is. It is the duty of the press to report to the community.

AN OLD SCHOOL MANAGING EDITOR DEAR ABBY: Hold 'em! THE TIMES-NEWS in Twin Falls did exactly that. With no prompting from me or anyone else.

Dummy Reversal, It's Called times and diamonds twice that he will be able to discard one of dummy's diamonds. Now comes a heart to dummy's king club with her ace of trumps.

Now she leads her last trump and overtakes in dummy. Dummy has three trumps left and as she cashes them she discards two diamonds and a heart from her hand. Then she takes dummy's queen of hearts and makes the last two tricks with her two red aces.

The spade slam is a fairly good one and on looking at dummy, South can count on three hearts, two diamonds and possibly one club. He sees that he will need six or seven trump tricks and after the queen of clubs is opened it appears that the club trick is not going to be there for him and he will definitely lose one or two tricks.

He ruffs the second club and notes that if he can get hearts to go around three Worry Clinic By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Jane's shocking idea may not seem so radical if you consider both sides of the question. Contrast her dad's death at 41, with the death of her mother, Martha in Monday's case. Which leads to the most happiness for everybody?

CASE W-381: Jane D., aged 27, may startle many readers. "Dr. Crane," she writes, "my father was a chain smoker."

"His blood pressure rose above the 200 mark, so my physician told him he'd either die of cancer or a coronary attack."

"Well, it was a coronary attack."

"It struck him in the middle of the night and he was unconscious almost instantly."

"He died before we got him to the hospital."

"Yet he was only 61, and had always been such a dynamic personality!"

MOUNTAIN OF JUNK CARS — This mountain of scrapped automobiles towers over a modest home in the Maekskens district of West Berlin. Thousands of the junked vehicles are piled high by a crane. They are destined for the steel furnaces of the Ruhr to be melted down and probably emerge as raw material for new cars.

Ellsberg, Defense Set To Present It's Side

By LINDA DEUTSCH Associated Press Writer LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cross-examination of Daniel Ellsberg in the Pentagon papers trial is expected to wind up today as the defense team prepares to rest its case. Ellsberg testified all day Tuesday, giving terse answers to government questions, and was to return to the witness stand today for an estimated hour of cross-examination. "I'm finding these questions very easy to answer," Ellsberg said after Tuesday's session. "I'm just saying what I did. I think we've been able to present a good case of what we did and why we did it. I think they [the jurors] will find that we did what we should have."

Cambodian Government Will Change

By LEE RUDAKIEWICZ Associated Press Writer PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — President Lon Nol has bowed to U.S. pressure and agreed to bring some of his opponents into the Cambodian government in an attempt to get cease-fire negotiations started with the Communists. "I will choose a new prime minister to lead the government with the participation of the opposition," the 56-year-old chief of the embattled Phnom Penh regime said in a broadcast Tuesday night. Lon Nol said he would appoint a new 11-man council of political advisers to include opposition Republicans and Democrats as well as members of his own Social Republican party.

Authoritative sources said Lon Nol agreed to broaden the government under pressure from President Nixon, who sent the vice chief of staff of the U.S. Army, Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., to Cambodia last week to assess the current Communist threat to Phnom Penh. U.S. officials in Washington were hopeful that Lon Nol would turn the government over to his former associate, Sihanouk Sirik Matak, who is a relative of the deposed king of state, Prince Norodon Sihanouk, and that Sirik Matak could get Sihanouk's supporters in the Khmer Rouge guerrilla army to the conference table. But political observers in Phnom Penh said no matter who Lon Nol brings in, the Khmer Rouge won't negotiate so long as Lon Nol and his younger brother and chief adviser, Brig. Gen. Lon Non, retain control of the government. Although Lon Non quit the cabinet earlier this month, his influence on the paralytic president is undiminished. Premier Hang Thun Hak submitted his cabinet's resignation Tuesday in accordance with a constitutional provision requiring reorganization of the government every six months. There was speculation in Phnom Penh that the new cabi-

SURGERY FOR A CHEETAH — A three-year-old cheetah at Lion Country Safari's African wildlife preserve near Grand Prairie, Tex., undergoes surgery for a broken hip. Veterinarian Dr. Joe Cannon, who performed the operation, adjusts the cast on the animal's leg. Cast will be removed in about two months.

Food For Americans Sweet-Sour Combination Is Basic To Hunan Style

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

The five distinct schools of Chinese cooking — Canton, Fukien, Shantung, Szechwan and Hunan — have a unifying principle. In all Chinese cooking a harmonious mixture is the goal. This means a perfect balance of sweet and sour, a moist and crunchy, hot and cold, salty and bland.

To the Chinese, food preparation is a highly developed art in which aroma, visual appeal and good taste play equal roles. Although Americans adapt Chinese recipes to suit our own palates and any food by what ingredients are available, the goal is similar. Hunan Pork Chops, for example, get the sweet and sour treatment indigenous to the Hunan school.

HUNAN PORK
1 1/2 lbs. slightly beaten
1/2 cup cornstarch
1/4 cup unsifted flour
3/4 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cups chicken broth or bouillon
6 pork chops, about 1-inch thick, trimmed of fat
1 bunch scallions, cut into 1/2-inch pieces (about 1 1/2 cups)
1 cup drained sweet mixed pickles
4 cups hot cooked rice

Prepare batter for chops by blending together rice, 1/2 cup cornstarch, flour, salt, and 1/4 cup chicken broth. Heat oil in large skillet. Dip

Stuffed vegetables can lend glamorous support to the entrée. Though easy to prepare, they lend a gourmet air to the menu star. And they can even take the star's place, when stuffed with a protein food.

Green peppers are stuffed with frozen Spanish rice, canned tomato soup and ground beef in an easy stuffed vegetable meal headliner. The peppers are topped with slices of American cheese, which melt to a golden topping.

Savory Stuffed Squash features sautéed squash with an unusual sweet-sour combination of creolons and mandarin orange sections seasoned with an ensemble of seasoning mix for Soppo Joes.

RICE STUFFED PEPPERS — OLE! 6 medium green peppers One 12-oz. package Spanish rice frozen in the stay-perfect packet 1 pound ground beef One 10-oz. can condensed tomato soup 1/2 cup water 1/2 cup chopped celery 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce 1 1/2 teaspoons chili powder 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon onion salt 1 slice American cheese, cut in half diagonally

Pecan Pralines Are Delicious And Store Well, Too

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Found: pralines that keep well for several weeks without "sugaring." We borrowed this recipe from a cook who grew up in Louisiana and married a Yankee. The tradition was deep, even though this cook now lives in the East she still makes pralines from a recipe esteemed in Acadian country. Here is our version of it.

ACADIAN PRALINES
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup heavy cream
3 tablespoons dark corn syrup
1/8 teaspoon baking soda
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 cup pecan halves
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

In a heavy 2-quart saucepan stir together the sugar, cream, syrup, baking soda and salt. Cook over medium heat, stirring a few times, until sugar dissolves and mixture comes to a boil. Continue boiling, without stirring, until mixture reaches 214 degrees on a candy thermometer or until syrup, when dropped into very cold water, forms a soft ball that flattens on removal from water. Remove from heat.

Add pecans and vanilla, stirring until creamy and mixture covers pecans with a slightly opaque coating.

Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls onto wax paper. Cool. Store between layers of wax paper in a tightly covered tin box.

Makes 20 to 24 two-inch pralines.
Note: Recipe may be doubled.

Four hundred recipes are given in the illustrated "Cecily Brownstone's Associated Press Cookbook" available by sending $4.95 to Cecily Brownstone, Associated Press, 1230 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10020.

Are High Meat Prices A Blessing?

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — "Meat prices must not go higher," President Nixon said in announcing the price ceiling on beef, pork and lamb.

It was a classic case of underlining the all too painfully obvious for consumers who had been trying to hold the price line on their own by every means from boycotts and co-op buying to the occasionally strange experiments with substitutes.

The one remaining horse-meat market in Portland, Ore., for example, recently developed such a thriving business that it presented the police with a crowd-control emergency. Budget-conscious shoppers were suddenly willing to line up for something less expensive than the meat line which most Americans long passed by as fit only for dogs.

As for dog food, two Oklahoma State University senators are nothing but for a week and wags his report on the product's not only expensive but reasonably tasty. It was a prank, but with a point.

Evermore — President consumers and even producers the farmers and ranchers themselves — can certainly agree that prices of all foods, not just meats, are up sharply.

But it is asking why and what to do about it, or whether anything should be done that can start arguments.

Demand of course is very much on the rise. If most supply increases in 1973, twenty years ago Americans annually consumed 34 pounds of beef per person. In 1973 per capita consumption had more than doubled — to 118 pounds a year.

As for pork, per capita consumption is now 40 pounds a year. Pork, as most shoppers are already well aware, is not a promising price-beating substitute for beef. The shorter shaft between grower and market for hogs than for cattle makes pork prices more volatile day-to-day week-to-week than beef.

The higher prices on beef and pork in markets as a response to the increasing demand of the carnivorous consumer for the favorite meat. The American Meat Institute reports a 10-pound supply increase in 1973 was needed to meet the demand. It actually amounted to only two pounds.

A bad growing season last year and a reduction in feed supply because of foreign sales added to the cost of leading animals for market. There also is a worldwide shortage of meat and an extremely high demand.

One solution to rising prices may come if the continued high demand and the high prices keep stimulating production. An oversupply may result, pressuring prices down.

If an expected 10 per cent increase in cattle slaughter in 1973 occurs, the meat prices may lower by five to 10 cents a pound. Ranchers then would benefit by cutting their herds and produce less beef, thus pushing prices upward again.

However, the American Meat Institute says it does not see a substantial enough increase in marketable beef to meet growing demand until 1975.

Consumer boycotts are no more a solution to rising meat prices than controls, but they could have beneficial long-run results.

A week of meatless meals can show many American families that it is possible to enjoy a variety of nutritious menus. The ingredients cost less than expensive cuts of beef, yet no one need feel deprived.

Nutritionists report Americans eat more meat protein each day than they need while skipping the healthful food sources such as fruits, vegetables, grains, dairy products, fish and poultry.

High meat prices that might bring about a reversal in American eating habits, what nutritionists and doctors have been preaching for more than 30 years.

Price controls at this time will ease the immediate pressure on the consumer, but may only delay the possibility that the meat industry will shake itself down and new buying and eating habits in which the long-term solution lies.

So it boils down to the ultimate question of whether the majority of Americans is willing to change eating habits in such a way that the country would avoid the inflationary situation which reflects the attitude of getting all the market will bear.

ARTICHOQUES WITH BROWN BUTTER
1/2 cup butter
4 artichokes, cooked and hot
In a small saucepan melt butter and cook over low heat until it turns medium brown, swirling pan occasionally. This may take 10 minutes or so, watch carefully so butter does not get too brown. Stir while pouring into small containers so artichoke part and sauce will be evenly distributed. Serve artichokes hot with browned butter for dipping. Makes 4 servings.
