24 Down In Plane Accident

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) — An Allegheny Airlines plane reported carrying 25 persons crashed into a mountain near here today in a driving snowstorm. First reports said one survivor had been picked up by helicopter.

The plane was carrying 22 passengers and a crew of three when it crashed while circling the Williamsport-Montourville airfield after being waved off by the control tower on its first approach.

The mountain is part of the Bald Eagle Range and is directly across the Susquehanna River from the airport.

The control tower at the airport reported the plane first made a bad approach and was ordered to "go around again" and make another approach. The plane circled out of visibility in the storm and failed to re-enter the approach pattern.

David L. Miller, vice president of the airline in Washington, said the twin-engine plane was bound from Philadelphia to Cleveland. The search for the wreckage was delayed by a snowstorm.

Equalization Board Hears 75 Complaints

Seventy-five county property owners formally protested the county equalization board at the opening of the tax equalization meeting yesterday.

The board of equalization called off the hearings today to meet as the board of county commissioners and will meet with property owners again tomorrow.

Chairman John Krider said the people in the county deserve to be complimented for the orderly fashion in which they conducted themselves at the hearings yesterday.

"We don't anticipate any problems to come out of these hearings," Krider added.

The rest of the board agreed with Krider on the way the property owners conducted themselves and said that people seem to be willing to pay their just taxes, just as long as they are on an equal basis.

Commissioner Vernon Dunn said "as a matter of fact, there were only three angry persons here yesterday."

Four Enter Races At Casselberry

Newly announced candidates for the Casselberry elections next Monday are Joseph Bryant for mayor, George Howard and Lester E. Britton for aldermen and Clint Whitehurst for town marshal.

Bryant, 321 Piney Ridge Rd., will oppose incumbent Mayor William M. Benson, who was appointed Oct. 31 when former Mayor Donald Willson became acting postmaster.

Howard, a contractor, is a lake shore Dr. resident.

Britton lives on Quotuplet Dr. He is a salesman.

Clint Whitehurst, 9 Lake Kathryn Circle, will run against Marshal Gus Sawyer.

Councilman Ray McCord will run for reelection, along with Town Clerk Lillian Bessel, who is unopposed.

Lyle E. Swowe of 330 S. Triplett Dr. will be another candidate for the town council.

The polls in the town hall will be open from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m., Mrs. Bessel announced today.

All Casselberry residents who have registered to vote are eligible to cast a ballot, she said.

November Taxes Total $196,067

Sanford property taxes collected during November total $196,067.12, City Tax Collector Miss Ellen Hoy said today. Monday and last Friday $26,319 in taxes came to City Hall.

Sanford property owners whose bills have a November postmark will get the November four percent discount, even though the bills reach City Hall during December.

Miss Hoy announced the 3,892 receipts collected during the past month compares favorably with the 3,544 receipts that came in during November 1954, the tax collector said.

The Bureau Has Its Own Weather

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Tallahassee Weather Bureau did without heat for eight hours Sunday when a stove inside the office exploded.

The misfortune occurred during the severe cold spell. No one was injured, but the fire department was summoned to extinguish the blaze caused by the stove.

A few weeks ago, the Weather Bureau roof sprung a leak when heavy rains hit the city.

Board Slates Hearing On New County Budget

The County Commission has set Dec. 18 for a public hearing and adoption of the 1959-60 supplemental budget.

The board hopes to approve the budget in time for the county tax bills to be mailed out Dec. 21.

The supplemental budget was set at $1,782,000, with the millage levy at 11 mills.

Funds for general operating was set at $304,500 with a 1.88 mill levy; and for health, $113,000 with a 2 mill levy; hospital, $105,300 with a 1.5 mill levy; health, $19,440 and levy of .12 and capital outlay, $105,300 with a .65 mill levy.

A comparison of the present 11 mill levy with last year shows quite a reduction, as the 1958-59 millage was 41.5.

The general operating levy last year was 18.5, hospital, 3 mills; schools, 20; and no levies for health, school and capital outlay.

Clerk David Gatchel presented the new budget for the board which set the Dec. 18 hearing for 10 a. m.

Florida Sun Due Back To Chase Cold Wave

MIAMI (UPI) — Shivering tourists and natives alike looked for a return to 70-degree weather today to take the frost out of the normally mild Florida climate.

The Weather Bureau expected temperatures to climb above 70 to dispel a cold wave that has gripped Florida and other southern states for the past several days.

Sun-seeking tourists were startled to find a reading of 42 Monday, a record low for Nov. 30 in Miami.

A general warmup throughout the South was predicted by the weather bureau. A six degree warmup in most states was expected for today and another six degrees Wednesday.

At least 26 persons died during the two-day cold wave in seven southern states, two of them in Florida. Most of the deaths came from fires caused by faulty heaters set up during the ions chilling cold.

The chill sent shoppers scurrying for heaters and blankets. Transformer fuses were blown out in scattered Miami sections because of the extra electricity load.

The state's valuable citrus crop escaped damage because of north-easterly winds which brought in warm air off the Gulfstream. But thousands of acres of pole beans, tomatoes and other tender vegetable crops were hard hit in South Florida.

Frost killed vegetables that remained in the ground in North Florida. Most of the North Florida vegetable crop had gone to market.

Matilda Nathan, an 84-year-old Negro woman, burned to death in a fire at her Tampa apartment Monday night as the cold wave began to lift. The blaze apparently started from a kerosene heater.

Henry C. Robinson of West Palm Beach perished in an icy swamp Sunday of a heart attack and exposure. Robinson was duck hunting with a companion when their boat swamped.

U. S., Russia Join Nations Signing Antarctic Treaty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, Russia and 10 other nations today signed an historic treaty to keep the vast frozen Antarctic continent free of military bases and open to peaceful scientific exploration.

The 12-article treaty, drafted in four different languages, was the product of seven weeks of negotiations. It represented the first time Russia has joined in such a pact with Western countries since the outbreak of the cold war.

The document bans all weapons testing and nuclear explosions on the South Pole except an area of five million square miles which is equal to the size of the United States and Europe combined.

The treaty automatically makes all member countries of the United Nations eligible to join. Non-members of the U.N. such as Communist China, could join only by unanimous consent of the 12 original signatory countries.

In addition to the United States and Russia, the treaty nations include Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, France, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, South Africa and the United Kingdom.

The treaty provides for a unique inspection system under which any member nation may send observers to "all areas of Antarctica" at any time in the interest of discharging or embarking of cargo or personnel of any other member country.

Pacific Searched For Jet Bomber

HONOLULU (UPI) — Twenty-four planes and eight ships patrolled a 91,000 square mile area today in a search for four crewmen of a jet attack bomber missing since Thanksgiving Day.

The Navy and Air Force intensified the search after a report that a dye marker and what might have been a life raft were spotted in the ocean southwest of Wake Island.

The A3D jet plane has been missing since Thursday, when the pilot, Cmdr. Francis J. Sulzer, Amarillo, Texas, advised that he was lost and out of fuel. He said the crew planned to bail out.

Also on the flight were Lt. (jg) Donald Schilling, Hayfield, Minn.; Aviator Machinist Mate 1st R. C. Taylor, Nampa, Idaho; and Aviation Metalsmith 1st J. D. Dulany, Fenton, Mo.

Oviedo Candidates Listed By Clerk

Oviedo City Clerk T. L. Lingo has announced the names of candidates for the Oviedo election Dec. 8.

Mayor M. L. Gary will be opposed by Homer D. Daniels. City councilmen running unopposed are W. R. Clonis, J. Y. Harris, Ben H. Jones, Ben F. Ward Jr. and W. H. Martin. The three incumbents are Lewis, Harris and Martin.

Altamonte Men To Run Unopposed

Altamonte Springs Mayor Lawrence Swafford and Councilmen Bill York and Homer Sewell were nominated and unopposed for reelection at a town nominating caucus last week. Newcomers to Altamonte Springs must register by Wednesday in order to vote in next Tuesday's election, according to Town Clerk Ilevy Hanson.

Board Says Courthouse Not Needed At This Time

The County Commission today unanimously adopted a resolution to build a new jail and agreed that there was no need for a new courthouse at the present time.

The board heard state and county officials cite the need for new jail facilities, calling the present jail "horrible and inadequate."

The resolution as adopted by the board states that the construction of a new jail is necessary to replace the obsolete and antiquated existing facilities and that appropriate action be started as soon as possible to obtain cost estimates and other essential information in order that the board can establish the amount of millage to be levied for a new jail.

In another resolution, the board said additions and repairs for the present courthouse are necessary because of the increased business, but said there was no need for new facilities.

At the public hearing this morning, proponents of a new jail included H. B. Gramling, deputy state director for inmate treatment; Sheriff J. L. Hobby, County Judge Wilson Alexander, County Prosecutor Karlyle Housholder and parole officer James Lee.

In citing the need for a new jail, Gramling said there is no room to house juveniles, women prisoners, sex offenders and drunks.

He said that the plumbing in the jail is in "horrible" condition and there are no adequate toilet facilities.

He told the board that the state department of corrections has a consulting architectural service which would be glad to cooperate with the board on how to design the jail.

Sheriff Hobby offered figures which showed that the bullpen capacity for white prisoners is only 18 but at times some 30 persons have been housed there.

He added that conditions in the Negro bullpen, with the same capacity, sometimes has to hold 40 prisoners.

He cited the poor plumbing conditions and said what it has cost the county in plumbing repairs over the last five years could have gone a long way in constructing a new jail.

Housholder described the jail as belonging to the "dark ages" and said that a new jail is a "must" for Seminole County.

Lee stressed the need for improved juvenile facilities, as sometimes juveniles are herded together with hardened criminals.

Judge Alexander, long a proponent of a new jail, said the problem is getting worse and worse every month.

He cited cases of incompetent persons being housed in the bullpen, but also stressed that the sheriff's office was not to be blamed for the poor facilities and said officers have done a wonderful job with what is available.

"We all can't bury our heads in the sand. This should be on the conscience of every citizen in the county," Judge Alexander said, adding, "we need a jail quick and must cut all the red tape."

After hearing all the testimony, the board unanimously agreed to adopt the resolution paving the way for the new jail.

Chairman John Krider indicated after the meeting that preliminary plans by James Gamble Rogers, Winter Park architect, may be used. The architect's firm was hired last fall at a cost of $2,000 to survey the possibility of a new jail and courthouse and come up with preliminary plans.

News Briefs

Civil Rights 'Must'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck put a "must" label today on passage of new civil rights legislation next year. "We've got to do something about a civil rights bill," the Indiana Republican told newsmen.

Law Includes Stands

LAKELAND (UPI) — All sales of citrus fruit by road stand operators in South Florida must now be regulated by the Florida Citrus Commission, Circuit Judge William K. Love ruled Monday. Love, ruling on an injunction obtained by Lake County Citrus Sales Inc., said it was discriminatory for the road stand operators to be exempt under a new citrus commission regulation.

Alabama To Play

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Alabama will play Penn State in the Liberty Bowl game at Philadelphia Stadium on Dec. 19, bowl officials announced today. Paul (Bear) Bryant, athletic director and head football coach of the Crimson Tide, announced Alabama's acceptance of the Liberty Bowl bid in Tuscaloosa after a vote by members of the team.

Liner Aground

GIBRALTAR (UPI) — Gale-whipped seas drove the 17,209-ton British cruise liner Braemar Castle aground near here today, but shifting sands made it appear it could safely be refloated in a matter of hours. Reports from the ship made it appear that the liner's 571 passengers and crew were in no danger. Three tugs were watching their chance to aid the stricken vessel.

Turnpike Is Topic

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Financial discussions involving proposed extension of the Florida Turnpike to Orlando and a proposed new state university at Boca Raton are on the governor's agenda during a four-day stay in New York this week and next, his office disclosed today.

Producer An Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission has questioned the "character qualifications" of TV producer Daniel Knight to hold half interest in a Florida radio station in view of his part in the TV quack scandals. The agency, which polices the radio-TV industry, raised the issue Monday in ordering station WGMA of Hollywood to submit a statement within 20 days as to whether Knight and co-owner Jack Barry are "qualified to own and operate a broadcast facility."

Mrs. McCarron Grid Final Champ

Final winners in The Herald's football contest are Mrs. Owen McCarron, 2614 S. Laurel Ave.; Bill Smith, P. O. Box 243, Delray, and Charles Lundquist of Country Club Rd.

Mrs. McCarron received $15 for predicting the most winners in Thursday's and Saturday's football games. Second place winner Smith received $10 and Lundquist got $5.

The Herald's first annual football contest ended with last week's games after nearly 1,200 fans joined in the 14 week football forecast. Twenty Sanford and Seminole County merchants joined in advertising the contest each week while The Herald gave $120 to the winners.

Woman Injured In Auto Mishap

Struck in the rear by a southbound auto shortly after noon today, a car driven by Abraham Rosenfield of New York City went out of control, careened across French Ave. and ran into a pile of wire hales at the corner of First St., according to Sanford police.

Firemen put out a fire in Rosenfield's car engine while the woman driver of the other auto was taken to the Seminole Memorial Hospital emergency room. Both cars were southbound. Rosenfield had stopped for a red light when the blow caused him to step on the gas and lose control of his car, police said.

Balloon Data Hints Life On Venus

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New evidence of water vapor in the atmosphere of Venus has raised the possibility that some form of life may exist on that planet.

Scientists reported Monday the evidence was uncovered by instruments carried 15 miles into the atmosphere last weekend by Navy balloonist Malcolm Ross and meteorologist Charles B. Moore of Cambridge, Mass.

Dr. John Strong of Johns Hopkins University, who designed the instruments, told newsmen "the experiment in our opinion indicates there is water vapor on Venus. How much there is will take some time to determine."

The discovery, a scientific first, could upset previous belief that Venus was a dead world.

Strong refused to give a personal estimate as to whether the findings indicated the possibility of life on Venus. But asked if he felt the possibility was ruled out, he said emphatically, "no."

Many scientists believe water must be present before living things can come into being. Dr. Harold C. Urey of the University of California, for example, has said water and not oxygen is the basic substance of life.

Figures Show It Pays To Work For Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Payroll figures showed today that the Senate, with its 100 members at $22,500 a year each, also has at least 80 employees making more than $10,000 annually.

The Senate made public information on office payrolls Monday for the first time in 11 years. The three-month breakdown, from July 1 to Sept. 30, was the most detailed disclosure in Senate history.

The 110-page booklet disclosed that at least 19 senators had either relatives or in-laws somewhere on the payroll during the three-month period. They included Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), who also was shown to have at least some say on Senate jobs totaling more than $200,000.

Johnson's brother, Sam Houston Johnson, received $3,908.34 during the three-month period as clerk to the conference of Democratic senators. He works throughout the year at the same salary.

Other senators who had relatives or in-laws on the Senate pay lists during the July-September period were:

John A. Carroll (D-Colo.), daughter; Dennis Chavez (D-N. M.), niece; John Sherman Cooper (R-Ind.), sister; Carl T. Curtis (R-Miss.), son; James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), daughter; Clair Engle (D-Calif.), nephew; J. Allen Frear Jr. (D-Ill.), nephew; Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), niece; Olin D. Johnston (D-S. C.), two nephews; cousin and a son-in-law; John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), brother; Pat McNamara (D-Mich.), wife and nephew; James E. Murray (D-Mont.), son; Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), two nephews; Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.), son; Andrew F. Schoepfle (R-Ill.), niece, brother-in-law; John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.), wife, and Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex.), son.

Kennedy's brother, Robert, counsel of the now-defunct Senate Labor Disputes Committee, and Curtis' son, a college student with a summer-time job, are no longer working for the Senate. Engle's nephew is a capital policeman.

The office payrolls failed to tell the full story of Senatorial expenses. The vast bulk of it lies in lower paid jobs, such as elevator operators and policemen, and in bulging subcommittee staffs. Almost every senator with any seniority has a subcommittee of some kind whose payroll he can influence if not dictate.

Senate Secretary Felton M. Johnston and Sergeant-at-Arms Joseph C. Duke receive the top salaries, a yearly rate of $29,548.32. Duke oversees the biggest patronage pasture — messengers, policemen, maintenance employees, etc., by the score.

Four other Senate officials were paid at the rate of $17,046.96 per year. They were Chief Clerk Emory L. Frasier, Parliamentarian Charles L. Watkins; Robert G. Baker, secretary for the Democratic majority, and J. Mark Trice, secretary for the Republican minority.

The other 74 top-bracket employees draw $4,004.26 for the three-month period — or $16,209.96 annually. That is the maximum for an employee of any individual senator or committee.

Air Force Bomber Sets Jet Endurance Record

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — An Air Force B47 bomber, testing a new aircraft seat and a high-pressure in-flight refueling system, set a jet plane endurance record Monday with a continuous flight of 30 hours, 36 minutes for a distance of 39,200 miles.

Flying a distance equal to one-and-three-fifths times around the world, although never actually leaving the continental United States, the six-engine plane was refueled in flight from a KC135 jet tanker.

The plane, commanded by Capt. Shelton J. Anthony Jr., broke the previous jet endurance flight, also by a B47, which covered 21,000 miles in 47 hours, 26 minutes in November 1955.

It was not a record for all types of aircraft, however. In February-March, 1949, the Air Force B50 bomber "Lucky Lady II" flew around the world in 94 hours, 56 minutes.

The piston engine plane, which was refueled four times, covered 25,432 miles, compared with the 39,200 covered by the jet in less time.

Accompanying Anthony, 24, were Capt. Frank D. Frasier, 30, and Clerk D. Smith, 26. All are assigned to the Wright Air Development Center here, where the bomber landed.

The three men were in good condition after the flight, the Air Force said. They suffered no circulatory problems although they were seated for three days, eight hours, 36 minutes.

The flight was aimed at testing and aircraft seat which tilts, has a pulsating cushion and pneumatic backrest. The center makes studies of minimum crew needs and techniques of keeping long-distance pilots efficient and comfortable.

Anthony is the son of Mrs. Nelly W. Anthony, Jacksonville, Fla.; Smith the son of Mrs. Annie B. Smith, Charlotte, N. C.; Frasier the son of Mrs. Louise W. Frasier, San Antonio, Texas.

Cuban Tribunals Of Death Resume

HAVANA (UPI) — The "revolutionary tribunals" which sent 600 Cubans to death early this year were back at work today, hearing charges which could mean the firing squad or long years of imprisonment for three Americans and 37 Cubans.

Austin Young, of Miami, and Peter J. Lambton, a British-born American from the Bahamas, have denied their guilt to a court martial sitting in an army-post theater in western Cuba.

Rafael Del Pino, a Cuban-born American from Miami, is scheduled to face a revolutionary tribunal in Havana at 5 p. m. today. His trial was to have begun Monday night, but it was postponed at the last moment.

The government has demanded the death penalty for Young and 30 years' imprisonment for Lambton, charging that they and 37 Cuban co-defendants were members of an anti-government band in Pinar del Rio province.

Del Pino was captured in July, when police in suburban Havana shot down the light plane he had flown over from Florida. He has been accused of trying to get in touch with "anti-government elements."

Mr. A. F. McHardy Dies At Age 83

Mr. Alexander F. McHardy, 83, died at his home on Orange Blvd. early today. A native of Brechin, Forfarshire, Scotland, he was a resident of Lake Monroe for 23 years. He left no survivors.

Funeral services will be held at the graveside in Sylvan Lake Cemetery, with the Rev. Robert O. Byrd, pastor of Lake Monroe Baptist Church, officiating. Burial services are in charge of arrangements.

L. W. Shutt Dies

L. W. Shutt of Salisbury, N. C. and brother of Mrs. T. R. Chandler of Sanford died yesterday afternoon at his home. Funeral services are scheduled in Salisbury tomorrow.

Area Navy Chief Is India Bound

Chief Kenneth S. Torbett and his family have a date in New Delhi, India.

Torbett, who has been at the Southern Naval Air Station since 1955 will sail for India Feb. 2. He will report for duty with the UNV Attache at the U. S. Embassy there.

The VAH-3 member is now at a special school of Naval Air Technical Training Command at Pensacola. Torbett will return to his Lock Airbase home about Dec. 20 for a visit with his family. He will then head for Washington, D. C. for two weeks special training.

Torbett, his wife and two sons will sail from New York to Naples, Italy, on the Independence. After two weeks in Naples they will sail for Bombay and then fly to New Delhi.

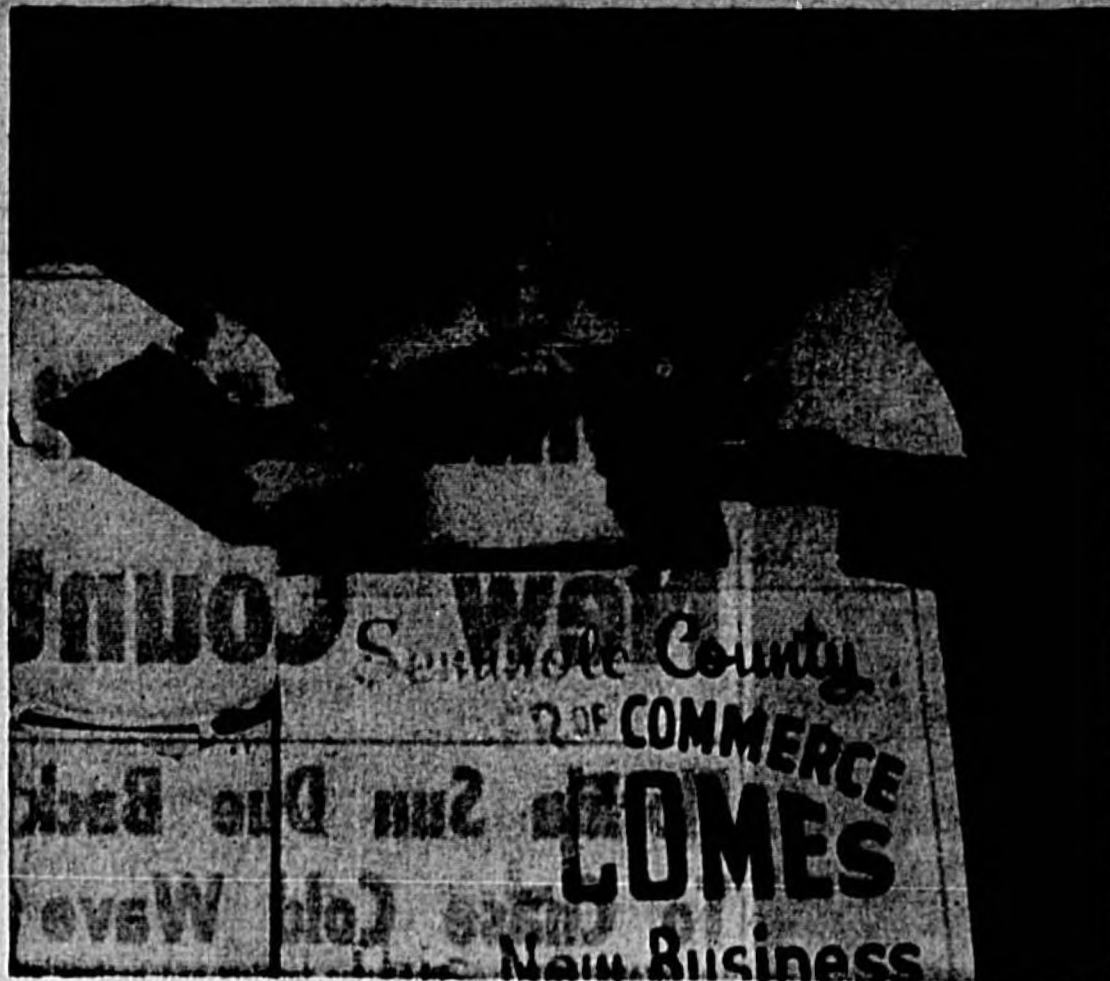

Since he came to the Naval Air Station from VJ 82 in Norfolk, Va., Torbett has been active in the Mayfair Men's Golf Association and has worked on the Stenstrom Realty Staff. After a two year tour of duty, he will return to Sanford and plans to retire here.

Crooms Principal Roy Allen Dies

Crooms Academy Principal Roy E. Allen was stricken with a heart attack last Thursday while watching a football game and died 30 minutes later at Semole Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Allen, who was born in 1892 in Tallahassee, had been principal of the Negro school for the past seven years.

Funeral services were held yesterday at St. James Church with Rev. B. H. Hodge officiating.

IT'S ALL WORK as Chamber of Commerce public relations man Charlie Morrison, right, gets a tasty welcome himself as he welcomes Ray's Pastry Shop to the Food Fair plaza on Park Ave. Doing the honors is store owner Ray Grooms, while saleslady Mrs. Florence Lewis looks on.

Farmers' Plight Becoming 'Hot' Political Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The plight of the farmer became a hot political issue today following a report by the Agriculture Department that his parity index skidded in November to a new 18-year low.

The department's parity formula in its monthly report stood at 77 per cent, compared with 79 per cent in mid-October. It meant the farmer was being squeezed between a smaller income and rising living costs.

It also meant the farmer was down to his lowest level in 19 years in terms of what his dollar would buy. Farm prices tumbled to the lowest level in more than 2 1/2 years in straight dollars-and-cents terms.

The report showed that prices received by farmers for crops and livestock fell 2 per cent in the month ended Nov. 15. Hog prices were at the lowest Nov. 15 point since 1935; cotton prices were the lowest for the month in a decade.

Prices paid by farmers for goods stood at a new high of 297 per cent of the base period, compared with 296 in mid-October and 294 in mid-November, 1958.

The report was interpreted as a new blow to Republican hopes in the farm belt, where Democrats have made sharp political gains in recent years.

Earning Her Pay

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Susan Cummings feels she earned her salary during the recent filming of an episode for Screen Gems' "Man from Blackhawk." She was dragged by a horse by her ankle, slapped into unconsciousness by a 300-pound man and then had to crawl 100 yards over rocks, cactus and mud.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

The 1959 Tax Roll has not as yet been completed and delivered to this office and in all probability the tax bills will not be mailed before about the middle of December. Taxpayers, however, will be allowed 4 percent discount for payment during the first 30 days the tax books are open for payment. After expiration of the first 30 day period discounts will be allowed as provided by the General Statutes.

Rockefeller Expected To Decide Whether To Challenge Nixon Soon

ALBANY (UPI) — Nelson A. Rockefeller is nearing the big decision — whether to oppose Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller, a reliable source said, will decide within the next five or six weeks if he intends to actively challenge Nixon in the New Hampshire "first in the nation" primary election.

So far the New York governor has been touring the country making speeches and talking with GOP leaders as an undeclared candidate.

The governor's trips from the Atlantic to the Pacific have been scouting ventures and an important sort of an overall campaign plan if he drops his hat in the presidential ring, but as of now he "has not decided" whether to make the fight.

Rockefeller has accepted the underlying rule and so the scouting tour is not to weigh his chances of winning, but to "feel out" the situation.

The governor met with a group of New Hampshire supporters Monday. The group of 14 was brought to Albany by Hugo Lyndahl, of Manchester, N. H., and included merchants, professional men and farmers.

They asked Rockefeller for his views on such issues as international, domestic, economic and Latin American problems, and competition with Europe. He answered their questions, but declined to say whether he would plunge into the New Hampshire primary in March.

An informed source said Rockefeller was well aware Nixon had the backing of a majority of national Republican leaders and that if he did officially make a bid he would stand little or no chance of directly winning them over. The way he would have to accomplish that feat is to win primaries, a mandate from the rank and file voters to the party leaders.

Golf Burglary Case Wrapped Up

The final arrest in last week's Rolling Hills Country Club robbery was made Saturday. Sheriff's Deputy Vernon Brewster reported today.

Eighteen-year-old Warren Cook of Casselberry gave himself up to Deputy Brewster Saturday. He was charged with breaking and entering on two counts. All the merchandise taken from the Country Club except some whiskey has now been recovered, Brewster said.

Miss Lightfoot Weds Harry Martin Boyer

The wedding of Miss Edna Earl Lightfoot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lightfoot, and Harry Martin Boyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Boyer, was solemnized Nov. 25 at 11 a. m. at All Souls Catholic Church.

The Rev. Richard J. Lyons officiated at the double ring, candle-light ceremony. Mrs. F. E. Roumiltal, organist, presented a program of wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and Mrs. J. L.

Blythe was matron of honor. John Ellsworth was best man and serving as usher was J. L. Blythe.

The Church was decorated with altar baskets of chrysanthemums and gladioli. The brides wore a princess style, ballroom length, dress of Chamilly type lace, over satin with matching jacket. Her veil of pure silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a white prayer book and white stephanotis.

The matron of honor wore a light blue, v-neck, short length dress, with full skirt and three-quarter length sleeves and matching satin shoes and feather hat. She carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride's mother wore a blue wool sheath dress, with matching jacket and accessories. The groom's mother chose a blue satin dress, with matching accessories and both wore corsages of yellow chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Decorations included white wedding bells, white chrysanthemums and red poinsettias.

Mrs. Raymond A. Grant and Mrs. S. J. Brooks, assisted with serving the three-tiered wedding cake and punch to the guests.

Mrs. Boyer chose for her going-away outfit, a gray two-piece suit, with black accessories. After a short wedding trip, the couple will reside at 4108 A Hydraulte, St. Louis 16, Mo.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Boyer and Miss Mary Ellen Boyer all of St. Louis.

Garden Gate

By ELSIE VENABLE
Homecraft Circle

It is quite easy to make your garden colorful, for here no landscaping is complete without azaleas. Any garden, no matter how modest, if well designed and planted with these shrubs, becomes a picture in color that is pleasing to the eye. During the winter months, these gorgeous flowers blaze with color and beauty.

Azaleas are not difficult to grow, but certain precautions must be taken to provide them with the growing conditions they demand. They prefer a well elevated or gently sloping ground, and because they require relatively large amounts of air in the soil, water must not stand about the roots but drain through, since air enters the soil as water passes through. Azaleas are acid loving plants, and will not tolerate alkaline soil conditions. In Florida it is necessary always to build up the soil by mixing in thoroughly about fifty percent peat with the topsoil from the bed area. It is customary to prepare the soil at least to twice the depth of the root system. Spacing in the bed depends on the rate of growth and the effect to be secured. If you want immediate mass effect you will have to plant them closer than will be best after they have given a bit.

Beds made with small plants widely spaced will look bare. With closer spacing you achieve an immediate effect that is pleasing, and you can thin them out and rearrange them later or permit them to develop into a thick bank of foliage.

Azaleas should be planted to the same depth as they grew originally and watered in well. If they are planted too deep they may die outright. If they recover, they do so by producing a new set of roots closer to the surface, and while they are putting on new roots they do not make satisfactory growth. It takes considerable time for them to recover from deep planting, so be sure to set them in correctly.

One of the most desirable traits of azaleas is that the greater mass of roots is found in the top few inches of soil. Therefore, cultivation is not advised, such weeding as may start to grow should be pulled out, and the plants of food and moisture. Cultivation is replaced with a bunch of one to three inches of oak leaves or pine straw. This much protects the shallow root system from the hot rays of sun, holds the moisture around the roots and it is decaying not only adds plant food to the soil but adds to the desired acidity.

Like all plants with profuse foliage and bloom, azaleas lose a lot of moisture. Since next season's bloom is dependent upon the summer care, strynging the foliage during hot, dry summer weather is beneficial. They require a moist atmosphere. In bloom they require twice as much water, but to prevent flower damage, large amounts should not be sprayed on the tops. Instead, they should be watered by letting the hose run on the soil around the roots.

Azaleas generally require very little pruning, a little pinching back to control long shoots will keep them shapely and is better than heavy pruning. However, should a plant become too tall for its location or become leggy, it may be cut back hard. This will result in vigorous upright growth from latent buds on the stems.

It is best to prune in the spring just before new growth starts. The new shoots should be pinched to induce much branching. Little pruning should be done in late summer or fall, for this would have insufficient time for lateral buds to push out and form flower buds on the tips before growth stops in the early fall.

To Lose Weight, Cut Calories And Push Away From The Table

MYRTIE WILSON
Home Demonstration Agent
Cutting calories is the only sure way to lose weight.

Pushing yourself away from the table at the right time is a sure way of controlling weight over a long time than trying fast diets.

Here are some suggestions about how to lose weight safely and yet gain the best results:

If you cut the number of calories your body needs by 500 each day, you should lose a pound a week. Activity, age and climate influence your calorie needs. Men sitting most of the day need 2,000-2,200 calories a day; women 1,600-1,800. For tense work while sitting, men require 2,200-2,700 and women 1,800-2,200.

Working while standing or walking requires 2,800-3,000 for men and 2,300-3,500 for women. Work using muscles 3,100-3,500 for men (such as digging, plowing or painting). What type are you? Cut calories by 300 and a gradual weight loss will occur.

Plan your family meals wisely to include the nutrients that will keep you and your family young and full of get-up-and-go. Plenty of milk, fruits and vegetables will supply needed nutrients and are low in calories.

If you eat the following foods daily, you will get the proteins, minerals, vitamins and energy food you need for vigor and vim, reports Miss Alice Cromaric, Extension Nutritionist.

1 pint milk. This might be skim-milk or buttermilk.

Wedding Plans Revealed

E. A. Rush, Paola, announces the engagement and approaching marriage of his daughter, Miss Rachel Rush, to James K. Wayda.

Miss Rush is a member of the 1936 graduating class of Seminole High School and at present is employed at the Transiron Electronics Corporation in Melrose, Mass.

Mr. Wayda, a native of Trenton, N. J. is also employed at the Transiron Electronics Corporation. He is attending classes in electrical engineering at Northeastern University in Boston. He has served in U. S. Air Force for the past four years.

The wedding will be an event of Dec. 19 and the couple will continue to live in Massachusetts.

Emergency Respiration

The "mouth-to-mouth" technique of artificial respiration — recently adopted by the American Red Cross as the preferred method of restoring breathing in an emergency — may also prove valuable first aid when the heart suddenly stops during surgery or under other conditions.

This was suggested today by the American Heart Association, who described several cases in which the technique was applied. They reported that immediate use of mouth-to-mouth breathing provided oxygen and even restored the heart beat before there was time to open the chest and massage the heart by hand. In some instances it helped the patient until the surgeon could reach the heart and restart it by massage.

Summer Garbage Problems, Anyone?

Chicken bones, ham bones, corn husks, melon rinds, fruit flies, mosquitoes — what a mess the summer garbage can create in the backyard! Gas smokeless and odorless incinerators are designed to eliminate all that. They get rid of everything from old shoes and cartons to vegetable skins and bones — anything except metal and glass. No flame, smoke or odors escape. They have a side backyard living infinitely more pleasant for many home owners by making disposal an easy indoor function.

The accent on cabinet styling, according to trade sources, reflects a growing conviction on the part of manufacturers that women influence a great percentage of TV and hi-fi sales.

Art Association Show Is Called Amazing

People just keep on hiding their talents under bushels, but the Sanford Art Association has put an end to this for some of them.

More than 150 entries were exhibited in the association's first art show and they were outstanding. One male visitor to the show, apparently brought by his wife, said "It's amazing."

And it was amazing. The Civic Center was lined with superior pieces of work and the hundreds of people who came from all over Central Florida to view them told members of the Sanford group that the whole show was a major work.

Members of art associations from Orlando and other cities said "frankly, we're envious."

Such wonderful artistic talent of the individuals must be admired and praised, but the staging of the show of the art association is also most impressive from a community standpoint as well.

Putting on a show with 150 works displayed took a lot of hard work and cooperation by the members of the association, which only recently began its organized efforts.

If the Sanford Art Association can amaze people with its first show, it probably will be completely dazzling them before too long.

Dream Boat Coming

Mr. Earl Toney of Lake Mary says he is planning a trip to Europe—he doesn't know just when, he's waiting on a new dream boat of an ocean liner which its builders have announced will take passengers across the Atlantic and back for as little as $175 per person.

Mr. Toney brought up an article about the plans of a Dutch-American company which is designing a fleet of four of the world's largest passenger ships designed "solely to provide low cost transport between the U. S. and Europe."

The article says the ships will carry 3,000 passengers. They will have eight dining rooms which can serve a total of 4,000 meals at the same time and theaters which can seat 1,300 people for stage productions and movie salons which can seat 800.

There'll be four night clubs aboard each of them and facilities for shipboard conventions.

Now, all of you civic clubs—the first ship will be ready in three years, so make your convention plans for the high seas—at low cost.

U. S., Russia Agriculture To Vie

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Thousands of Indian laborers are rushing to complete lavish pavilions that will house the Soviet and American exhibits at the biggest agricultural fair ever held in Asia.

The fair has taken on added significance because of President Eisenhower's forthcoming visit to New Delhi. He is expected to open the United States pavilion with what may be a major policy address.

The fair will emphasize the application of atomic energy to agricultural science. It will run until February, 1950, and is expected to draw 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 visitors.

Twenty nations from all over the world are expected to take part, but the American and Russian pavilions will be the center of interest. Both nations are bringing their best and latest equipment to show what progress they have achieved.

UNWELCOME SANTA CLAUS

Assignment Washington

By ED KOTERBA

WASHINGTON—When you try to solve a Soviet mystery, and you try to solve it through the Soviet Embassy, the plot only gets thicker.

Like the story of the portrait of Joseph V. Stalin.

The grand painting had hung there—triple life size—above the rich, red-carpeted hallway of the Embassy's second floor. More than six years passed since the Premier's death on March 5, 1953. It still hung there.

Each year in November, when the Communists celebrated their October Revolution, they held open house at the Embassy and members of the press would always go by to stare at the walrus face of Joe Stalin.

In 1953 we expected to find Premier Georgi Malenkov's frowny face up there. Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zorubini (who has since passed on suddenly) stood in the receiving line under the Stalin portrait. "Where is Mr. Malenkov's picture?" I asked Zorubini when he shook my hand. "Malenkov?" he said with a look of incredulity. "Oh, the picture is in my office."

The fact that it was never put up there should have been the tip-off that Malenkov didn't have long to serve.

In 1955, after Marshal Nikolai Bulganin became Premier, Joe Stalin was still there. "Where is Mr. Bulganin's picture?" I asked the Ambassador. "Bulganin?" he said with surprise. "It is in my office."

That should have told us that Bulganin didn't have long to serve. He was kicked out two years later.

Joe Stalin kept staring grimly across the Embassy hall through the years. And the strangest thing of all was when Nikita Khrushchev came along.

Back in Moscow, Khrushchev went into a tirade about old Joe, blaspheming the Red-revered name of the dead Premier. He called him such hate-mongering names as thief, crook and murderer, or words of reasonable facsimile.

And then that year, when the October Revolution celebration in November came around, there was Joe, still glaring from the honor spot on the wall. I think I then detected a sarcastic gleam in his eyes.

It wasn't until just before Khrushchev departed for the United States this year that the Soviet Embassy staff suddenly made the big switch and slipped a triple-size portrait of a benevolent-looking Nikita into the big golden frame.

So, the mystery: What happened to Stalin's old portrait? Was it shoved ignominiously into the incinerator in back of the Embassy? Just what happened to it? Over the phone, the hon-voiced Soviet receptionist suggested I call the press secretary at another number. The press secretary quite courteously suggested someone else back at the original number.

I called immediately and the sugar-chorded switchboard operator said, "Oh, yes, he is expecting your call." "Already?" "Phone him at the following number."

And when I asked him to undo the mystery he said: "I am very busy at the moment." And he added: "Please leave your number. Do not call me. I will call you."

He never did call back.

Sorry Girls, No Elvis Stamp Due Yet

By FRANK ELEAZER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Post Office Department lately has been explaining to people why it can't issue a Christmas stamp. Its stamp experts say they have to steer clear of subjects identified with religions.

For other equally good reasons Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has been advising that he also can't issue stamps commemorating Elvis Presley, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, and Marilyn Monroe, among others proposed for this immortalization.

According to post office standards for commemorative stamps, Elvis, Doug, and Marilyn suffer one crucial failing in common. They aren't dead. The late Dr. Ephraim McDowell, of Danville, Ky., qualified on this score. He also has other tests for exaltation by the post office, and a maroon four-cent stamp bearing his picture will go on first-day sale at Danville on Thursday.

In 1809, according to post office researchers, Dr. McDowell opened the abdomen of Jane Todd Crawford and cut out a tumor weighing 23½ pounds. In preparation for undoing the knife, without anesthetic, Jane had jogged 60 miles through the mountains on horseback. Any proposals to issue a stamp in her honor will be considered by the Post Office Department.

Dr. Crawford W. Long, reportedly a kinsman of Jane's, came along later with ether. He got his face on a stamp in 1919 as part of a "famous Americans" series. The McDowell four-center is another of this series and is the last of 26 postage stamps issued this year.

U. S. Navy Boasts Its Own Presley

TOKYO (UPI)—The U. S. Army may have its Elvis Presley in Germany, but look at what the Navy has come up with in Japan. Yeoman third class Charles Ketchum recently had his first disc cut by a Japanese record company. The two songs are "Orewanakita" and "Kuchibue Ga Fukuruku."

Yes, you read right. These are the correct titles.

Ketchum, a 22-year-old native of Rushville, Ind., speaks no Japanese, but when it comes to singing, that's a different song. He sings the language like a native.

Inez Robb Says

BY INEZ ROBB

There are days when it seems incredible to me that some persons still turn choleric at the idea of one world. It is uncomfortably so in one woman's opinion, with all of us shook up and suffering from the same malaise.

Now I read that oil deeded inflation and the high cost of living, under which our backs crack, have so affected 600 relatives of the opulent Nizam of Hyderabad that they have formed a union and are asking the Indian Government at New Delhi to force the Nizam to raise their allowances.

Obviously, there is no escalator class of cost-living bones in their contract with the Nizam. As a result, his kith and kin are finding it ever more difficult to live without working. No wonder they are hoarse; millions of Americans can testify that it is almost impossible nowadays to make both ends meet when one has a job and is even doing a little moonlighting on the side.

The Indian Government, despite a couple of petitions from the Nizam's near and dear, is keeping hands off, leaving it up to the Nizam to settle their back or collar. The Nizam, 73, enjoys a reputation as a hard man, McGee, in the financial department.

As long as I can remember, he has always been described as both the richest and the stingiest man in the world. But I should think that even the richest man in the world would have to line his pockets with fishbones if he had over-lovin' relatives like a g i n g around the palace, waiting to be supported in the style to which they had the relationship entitled them.

Well, like the Indian Government, I tend to be neutral in this affair. My experience with rich relatives is nil, and my past and present industry may be more a matter of necessity than virtue. I have often thought that a rich relative must be a very comforting thing, but obviously not if he is the saving link.

On at least one occasion, however, the Nizam did take the boots out of his purse strings. His gift to Queen Elizabeth II on the occasion of her wedding to Prince Philip in 1947 was fully as princely, if not more so, as all the rest of the royal loot.

His gift to the then Princess Elizabeth was a magnificent diamond and matching necklace of diamonds. When reporters were shown the gifts of St. James's Palace a few days before the wedding, I was all but blinded by the present, exquisitely made in a design of diamond roses.

The Nizam's wealth includes not only land and cash, but is also said to encompass the most sumptuous collection of jewels, both sea and mount, in the world. I was once told by an American visitor to Hyderabad that the Nizam's pearls were regularly taken out of the vaults in gallon pails (honestly!) and spread in the open air, so they could "breathe" and thus stay "alive". The diamonds, emeralds, rubies and sapphires didn't require such tender, loving care.

Of course, since India achieved independence and the Nizam ceased to be absolute monarch and tax collector in his 32,000-square-mile fief, he has been in relatively straitened circumstances. Under an agreement with the Indian Government, the Nizam's annual allowance is now a mere $1,500,000 annually. All things considered, including inflation, I suspect the Nizam's 600 relatives had better start moonlighting.

Ghost Reported Seen Near Tower Of London And Firing Old Cannon

LONDON (UPI)—A guardsman patrolling the Tower of London on a cold, winter night thought he saw one of the ancient cannon soundlessly fire a puff of smoke.

He pushed his bearskin helmet back off his startled eyes. Yes, there it was—a ball of smoke, hovering lightly above the ground, slowly changing shape into a square.

"As if nothing my movement with the bearskin, it began to move along the railings of the path in my direction," the guardsman later reported. "As it advanced it changed shape again. There was nothing human about it but I felt extremely frightened."

So he raced over to another sentry and together they moved, guns at the ready, toward the smoke which was now on some stone steps leading to the walls of the tower.

"It was quivering and moving and we were both afraid and rang the alarm bell," said the guardsman. "But by the time the guard turned out, there was nothing to be seen."

The curious case of the guardsman and the ghost, which occurred in 1954, is one of several hundred hitherto unpublished strange personal adventures gathered by psychical organizations in a worldwide search during the past four years.

These are being studied at the famous Society for Psychical Research here and by organizations in other countries to try to find the answer to an intriguing question:

"Why is it that most of the great ghost stories and cases of clairvoyance date back to the turn of the century and beyond?"

"In other words," said Colin Green, research secretary of the Society, "has there been a decline in psychic powers—assuming they ever existed?"

By JERRY COVINGTON

This week could prove to be the most important week for the coming year in baseball for some of the major league clubs. All of the officers and managers of the majors are in the thick of the trading business this week at St. Petersburg and each representative is using all the cunning of a fox to outwit the other. Several major trades are expected to take place and many players are to be fought for the wavier price from the draft list.

It was during last year's meetings that the Dodgers picked themselves a fellow from the multitudes that gave them a pennant and a world championship. Looking for left-handed bench strength, Walter O'Malley sent outfielder Gino Cimoli to the Cardinals for Wally Moon and this proved to be the deal of the year.

The season before Moon ended up with a .238 average and riding the bench. However, the Dodgers felt that he was far better than a .238 hitter and were willing to take a chance with him. Fighting back after being labeled a "has been" by the Cards, Wally literally stole the show at the huge Coliseum, ending the season with a .302 average, 74 RBI's and 19 home runs.

This may not happen but once in a season but it usually takes place. This year I think the key trades will be with the Braves, Giants, and Yanks.

The Giants will be seeking another top flight starter for their mound staff and if they are able to out-do somebody in a trade it could mean the 1960 World Series will be played in Candlestick Park. They were quite successful in securing Sad Sam Jones from the Cards and, with McCormick, Antonelli, and Jack Sanford, they should be able to slap them all if they get another regular. Jones, McCormick, and Antonelli were all tremendous last season but they were highly overworked. If the Giants trade it will be for pitchers.

It looks to me as though the Braves will be seeking help at second base to spell Red Schoendienst who has little time left. The best trade for them to make would be to come to the American League and pick up Gil McDougald from the Yanks. Gil had a very poor year last season and also rode the bench a great deal of the time. However, he is still comparatively young and is one of the greatest competitors in the game today, so the Braves might do well to get him. He should rebound and have one of his finest seasons in years.

Well, what Charles D. Stengel and his brass will do is a story in itself so I will devote a column to that subject. Ole Case says he will stand pat with what he has and win, but others have different ideas that are interesting to discuss.

Syracuse No. 1 In Grid Poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—Syracuse, which will try to complete the first perfect season in its 11-year football history when it visits UCLA Saturday, remained No. 1 today in United Press International's major college ratings.

Mississippi, Louisiana State and Texas remained 2-3-4 in the latest balloting by the 35 leading coaches who rate the teams weekly for UPI.

Clemson was the only newcomer in the top 10, advancing from 14th to 10th after ending its regular season last Saturday by walling Furman, 56-3. Southern California, beaten Saturday by Notre Dame, slipped from seventh to 12th.

Georgia, which has been moving up steadily in the ratings, moved from sixth to fifth in the wake of its triumph over Georgia Tech. Wisconsin, Washington, Texas Christian, Arkansas and Clemson rounded out the top 10 in that order.

Illinois headed the second 10 group. It was followed in order by Southern California, Alabama, Penn State, Oklahoma, Northwestern, Michigan State, Northwest Aurnum and Missouri.

Most of the leading teams now are warming up for post-season bowl games and UCLA and Navy were the only other schools mentioned on this week's ballots. They tied for 21st.

UCLA warmed up for its clash with top-ranked Syracuse by thumping Utah last Saturday, 21-7, while Navy upset Army, 43-12. Syracuse was idle last week.

Each coach on the rating board selects 10 teams in the order he ranks them nationally. Points are awarded on a 10-8-6-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first through 10th place.

Syracuse received 25 first-place votes and a total of 534 out of a possible 350 points. Coach Ben Schwartzwalder's team (8-0) was mentioned on every ballot and drew five votes for second, one for third and three for fourth. Mississippi drew six first-place votes and 201 points. Louisiana State received 201 points, Texas 229, Georgia 194, Wisconsin 150, Washington 115, Texas Christian 111, Arkansas 70 and Clemson 66. Texas, Washington and Illinois split the other three first-place votes.

All of the top 10 teams will appear in bowl games.

Orangemen Take Lambert Trophy

NEW YORK (UPI)—All-conquering Syracuse today was hailed as the winner of the 1959 Lambert Trophy, emblematic of Eastern college football supremacy, and also placed two players on the All-East team selected by the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

The Orangemen, who hope to close out a perfect regular season by defeating UCLA Saturday, were the unanimous choice of an eight-man selection committee in the final balloting for the Lambert Trophy. They will receive the trophy at a luncheon in New York Dec. 15.

Pittsburgh finished second in the voting and was followed in order by Penn State, Navy, Army, Boston College, Pennsylvania, Boston University, Holy Cross and Dartmouth.

The two Syracuse players named to the ECAC major college All-East team were c. halfback Gerhard Schwedes and guard Roger Davis. In addition, halfback Ernie Davis of Syracuse was voted the top Eastern sophomore of the year.

Others members of the team are ends Bill Carpenter of Army and Bob Simms of Rutgers, tackles Ronald Erchul of Navy and Harry Oliver of Yale, guard Vince Promite of Holy Cross, center Ronald Champion of Penn State, halfback Chet Bouris of Harvard, and fullback Paul Choquette of Brown.

Rams Grab Cannon In NFL Draft

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The National Football League, with two prizes sealed for delivery, reached today for the predicted money war with the American Football League for the cream of the 1960 college football crop.

The NFL grabbed two of the top-flight eligibles in its draft meeting Monday when the Los Angeles Rams took Billy Cannon, Louisiana State's brilliant triple threat who was the No. 1 selection of Houston of the new league, and the Chicago Cardinals snapped up George Igo, the Notre Dame quarterback who was the No. 1 choice of the New York Titans of the American league.

Los Angeles, with Cannon nodding in agreement, said the LSU star had agreed to play with them and the Cardinals announced that Igo was "signed already" seconds after they announced him as their first selection.

Cannon, looking on in the meeting after a Sunday night television appearance in New York, said he would sign with the Rams after the LSU-Mississippi Sugar Bowl game on New Year's Day. He had registered at another hotel under the name of "Bill Gunn."

Walter Wolfner, managing director of the Cardinals, explained the Igo grab before the order of the draft even was determined by saying "we signed him yesterday — if we didn't get him in the draft, we would have torn up the contract."

The NFL may have won the first two battles of the financial blitz, but there were plenty of hot skirmishes in the offering following its selection of 240 players in the earliest ever complete selection meeting.

The first 12 selected by the older league, and 21 of the first 24 NFL choices were named by the American League at its Minneapolis meeting 10 days ago. How many more similar conflicts exist, each a potential dollar search by the selectees, was strictly a guess.

In addition to Cannon and Igo, the National League reached out for the first choices of two other American teams. Washington took Willie Lucas, Penn State quarterback, the first selection of Buffalo, and San Francisco took Monte Sticksles, the big Notre Dame end and field goal specialist who was named by Los Angeles of the new league.

In other first round NFL choices, Detroit took John Robinson, Louisiana State back, and Green Bay took Tom Moore, Vanderbilt back, both previously chosen by Dallas of the new league. Pittsburgh selected Jack Spikes, Texas Christian back, and the Chicago Bears took Roger Davis, Syracuse guard, both earlier Denver choices, while Cleveland took John Houston, Ohio State end, and New York took Lou Cordileone, Clemson tackle, who with Lucas were Buffalo choices.

The Philadelphia Eagles took Ron Burton, Northwestern back and Baltimore took Ron Mir, Southern California tackle, both previously named by Boston.

Baltimore Trades O'Dell, Loes To Giants For Brandt, 2 Others

ST. PETERSBURG, (UPI) — Baltimore out-licked San Francisco, the consensus said today, because Paul Richards "always knows what he's doing any time he gets rid of a pitcher."

The Orioles manager, openly acknowledged as baseball's finest judge of pitchers, peddled two of them—southpaw Billy O'Dell and right-hander Billy Loes—to the Giants Monday night in the first major deal of the inter-league trading period.

In return, the Giants gave up outfielder Jackie Brandt, pitcher Gordon Jones and a third player, catcher Roger McCardell, who will be sold to Miami and brought up by the Orioles when they get under the 40-man limit.

Never Makes Mistakes

Most club officials here at the baseball meetings felt the Orioles wouldn't have dealt away the 26-year-old O'Dell, a 14-game winner in 1958 and a possible 20-game winner of the future, "unless Richards knew something."

"A man like Richards never makes mistakes when it comes to pitchers," said General Manager Bussy Bavant of the Dodgers. "I can never remember him giving a good one away. He just doesn't operate that way."

The Giants weren't especially worried, though.

"We hated to leave Brandt go," conceded Vice-President Chub Feneny. "The Orioles have got themselves an outfielder who can hit, run and throw, but we needed pitching and we think we got two men who will help us tremendously — O'Dell as a starter and Loes in relief."

And some of the other clubs were beginning to warm up. One of the deals said to be on the fire would bring shortstop Chico Fernandez from the Phillies to the Indians.

U. S. Senior Golf Tournament Opens

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — The third annual U. S. Senior Open golf championship gets underway here today with a pro-amateur event preliminary to the finals.

With more than $20,000 in cash and prizes posted by the sponsoring National Senior Open Golf Assn., the tournament drew most of the top pros in the country who are eligible because of being over 30 years of age.

Heading the field is famed Gene Sarazen, two-time National Open winner, twice PGA champion and winner of numerous other major tournaments.

Brown Predicts Title Victory

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Lightweight champion Joe Brown predicted flatly today he would knock out British boilermaker Dave Charley in a hurry Wednesday night in his eighth defense of the world 135 pound title.

The battle, scheduled for 15 rounds, will be the television feature on the weekly Wednesday night fight, and Brown, from Baton Rouge, La., was the 12 to 5 favorite.

To Honor Lucas

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Penn State quarterback Richie Lucas, who led his team to an 8-2 record this season, has been selected to receive the Maxwell Club award as the outstanding college football player of 1959. Lucas will receive the award at the club's annual dinner Feb. 1.

Just Not Talking

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — University of Florida President J. Wayne Reitz declined Monday to reveal what his recommendation will be concerning football coach Bob Woodruff.

Reitz is scheduled to submit a recommendation at the Dec. 11 meeting of the State Board of Control in Jacksonville.

Reitz previously has praised Woodruff, but he refused to say Monday if he would propose the veteran coach be rehired for another year.

There has been widespread reports Woodruff may be ousted despite Florida's 5-4-1 record, its fourth straight winning season. The Gators upset Miami 23-14 last week to complete the season.

450-Pound Bear Killed In Swamp

A large black bear was killed Saturday in the Wakiva Swamp by a party of hunters led by Gus Schmah of Lake Monroe.

The bear, judged to be about seven years old, weighed 450 pounds. It was trapped and found by Schmah's bear dogs. Maj. Joe Story of Mt. Plymouth shot it, but failed to kill it. A four-hour chase through the swamp ensued and the bear finally was killed by Bill Hoover of Mt. Dora.

The hunters were guests of Schmah, who has special hunting privileges in the Lake County area.

They included Marion Shelby, Charles Robinson, Jesse Reall, all of Sanford, Maj. Story, Bill Hoover, Bob Baumgardner, Sarasota and Jack Baumgardner, Tampa.

North Signs Two

Bejeman Doesn't Struggle To Exist; This Poet's On The Best Seller List

LONDON (UPI) — John Bejeman is a poet as he sings of common things. There must be something to his art: for poets, though a race apart, have always struggled to exist, yet Bejeman's on the best sellers list.

Today a shy and charming man, he spent in looking back along the years that made of him "a poet and a hack." The quote is not this writer's view — it's Bejeman's listing in Who's Who.

For such is his popularity, that though he's only 33, he's writing his biography, between appearing on TV.

"Miss J. Hunter Dunn, Miss J. Hunter Dunn
"Furnish'd and burnish'd by Al-derhot sun.
"What strenuous singles we played after tea
"We in the tournament — you against me..."

This isn't quite the poet's age, reality is all the rage, and U. S. novels, sex-obs sed, are still the books that sell the best. Yet Bejeman manages to get, such fans as Princess Margaret, with rhymes about the world that lies, before his sharp, observant eyes.

It won him his year's poetry prize.
"Love thirty, love forty, oh!
Weakness of Joy.

"The speed of a swallow, the grace of a boy.
"With carefullest carelessness, gaily you won.
"I am weak from your loveliness, Joan Hunter Dunn..."
How come, I asked, rhymes so demure, outsell the tortured and obscure, which modern poets try to write, as though they grope through a night, whose twisted psychiatric gloom leads only to an H-bomb doom?

"I have no theory," he said — of course he did not speak in rhyme — "why I should be so popular. Perhaps my verse is for the time. You see, I find my muses play with things that happen everyday, although I can be hard and gritty, have you read my verse 'The City' — 'business men with awkward hips and dirty jokes upon their lips!'"
"Some verse one reads unto one's self, and some of this stays on the shelf. The kind of meters that I write are meant to tempt one to recite..."

"We sat in the car park till twenty to one
"And now I'm engaged to Miss Joan Hunter Dunn."
Let others sing the soaring lark the Grecian urd, the woodland park, John Bejeman hymns the water tank and has a balance at the bank.

Anyone Can Act

By ROBERT MUSEL.
LONDON (UPI) — Raoul Levy, who made Brigitte Bardot famous by having her take off her clothes for movie cameras, now would like to make her keep them on.

But the French star seems to have more faith in her body than her other talents.

"What to do?"
"How would you like to see Brigitte?" the shrewd film producer asked over lunch.
"With as few impediments as possible," I replied truthfully.
"Anyone can undress," chided Levy, "but not anyone can set as this girl will be able to do if she gives herself a chance."
Levy lit a cigar and blew out the smoke.
"There it goes," he said. One million dollars more or less. Because I am definitely tearing up our contract which had until 1961 to run."

This seemed a high price to pay for principles in an industry which generally dispenses with such trifles.
"When they have a bit or a star they always try to repeat the same formula," Levy said. "They are chasing their own shadows. And in 'And God Created Woman' and other films Brigitte wore as little as possible.

Collector Questions TV Gunslingers

BANGOR, Mich. (UPI) — A prominent gun collector here takes sharp issue with television's portrayal of the gunslingers of the Old West as a bunch of "good guys."

To Louis E. Capek, an honorary editor of "The American Rifleman," monthly publication of the National Rifle Association, they were different from the neighborhood bully of today.

"The gunslinger was not always an expert shot, nor was he necessarily a man of great courage," Capek said. "But they were bold people, looking for excitement to break the monotony of life on the range."
"And their victims were most often ordinary men, not looking for a gun fight, with a natural reluctance to take another man's life."
Capek was spurred into investigating the history of the West, its lawmen and its badmen in the last third of the 19th century when he began collecting guns 30 years ago. Now he has more than 450 firearms, some dating back to the early 1700's. He also has an impressive array of swords, knives and other armament.

Headed presenting many numbers of the Old West in a light much different from what they really deserved, Capek says television also has been guilty of another major technical error.

Although most Western heroes are portrayed as dependent on the six-gun, he said, in reality the rifle or shotgun was more apt to be their favorite weapon.

Capek pointed out that one of the southwest's most famous outlaws, William H. Bonney, better known as "Billy the Kid," used a rifle to gun down most of his 21 victims.

Worry Clinic

Have you a poor memory? And do you make longer hours of study? Then get by in the latest methods for speeding up learning. Scrubbook this case and read for the helpful booklet below, for it can benefit you students as well as your parents, too. You can cut down study time by half and still win higher marks.

BY — GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D., M. D.

CASE C — 42: Dr. R. H. Wisheart is a Hoosier physician whose hobby is helping teen-agers learn how to study.

"Dr. Crane," he told me recently, "I have found that a large number of high schoolers don't know even the simple A-B-C's of studying."

HOW TO STUDY

So here are a few rules by which you can glean far more from your study hours:

(1) Skip read the textbook assignment before you actually go down to close study thereof. Just turn the pages and glance at all the headlines or sectional headings, for this gives you a rough outline of the scope of that chapter.

(2) Then go back to the start and begin reading for "meaty" items, such as dates or laws or tabulations of the three or four principles the author may list in (a), (b), (c) order.

(3) Underline the meaty items, preferably with red pencil, so they will stand out during a fast review later on.

(4) Make a running true-false or "multiple choice" exam on the chapter as you read it.

This jolts you out of your sleepy state and wakes you up, for the act of writing a fact as a "true" or a "false" item for your own quiz, prevents the nodding state where you turn pages but don't absorb the meanings. Note the sample:

T. F. (1) William James lists 3 primitive emotions (Page 78)

After you sift the meat from a chapter and put those facts into such true-false statements, you don't need to read the assignment again.

Instead, just test yourself on your own quiz. If you forget the proper answer, have the reference to it in the parentheses.

As soon as you turn to that page, it hits you between the eyes, for you should have it underlined in red pencil.

As a variation of the true-false, employ the 4-answer (Multiple choice) format, as:

William James says there are how many primitive emotions? TWO THREE FOUR FIVE

These types of quiz are called "objective" exams and permit you to review a lengthy chapter in the few minutes you are en route to class.

Indeed, you can review an entire textbook by such exams within an hour.

"After you have learned the facts, repeat them. This is called over-learning. Get into bull sessions with other classmates and help tutor the latter, for as you become their teacher, you learn much faster.

And send for the booklet "How to Improve Your Memory and Study Better," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20¢ (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20¢ for cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Pope John Closes Out Year Urging Peaceful World

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor

The man — of the week: Pope John XXIII.

The place: Vatican City.

The event: His 78th birthday.

"Look at the people, listen to their voices. What do they ask? What do they implore? Not monstrous arms but peace... but justice... but tranquility and concord."

Pope John observed his birthday (Nov. 25), his eyes firmly fixed on the future and two major objectives. As one of the world's great moral leaders, one objective is world peace.

It will be the top subject when President Eisenhower calls upon him next month.

As spiritual leader of more than 500 million Roman Catholics, his second objective is a reunion of the Roman Church with the Orthodox churches of the East and to win back other Christian groups now separated from Rome.

To this end he has called an Ecumenical Council, a meeting of all the world's Catholic church leaders. No exact date for the council has been set but it will be the first in around 90 years. It is among the highest of all church councils.

It was last month that Pope John rounded out the first busy year of his reign, a year which effectively killed the belief he would be an "interim" Pope whose accomplishments generally would be limited to a consolidation period after Pope Pius XII.

But even more than his accomplishments, the Pope's own personality has seized the imagination even of those outside his church.

This round peasant's son demonstrated early his genuine fondness for people and his impatience with tradition.

In the last year, the Pontiff has made some 40 visits outside the Vatican, one to the Rome central prison.

Exalted, entitled and humble have encountered the earthy warmth of Pope John in the last year.

He has received the Shah of Iran, King Hussein of Jordan, the king and queen of Greece and Princess Margaret of Britain. He also has seen the sick and blind in Rome, and exchanged the time of day with street cleaners.

The sweep of his interests has included languages, so that at 77 he began learning to speak English.

But while even the Communists have found it difficult to attack this new leader, he has demonstrated that for him there will be no compromise with Communism.

He told Catholics throughout the world they could not remain good Catholics if they cast their ballots for politicians or parties which cooperate with the Reds.

A survey by Auburn University showed that women make most trips up and down the stairs while carrying laundry, cleaning equipment or young children.

Historians Trace Origin Of Feast

NEW YORK (UPI) — Did you ever wonder who gave us the Thanksgiving bird?

Aztec Indians were feasting on turkey when the Spanish conquistadores invaded Mexico in the 16th century. Some historians say Columbus took Central American turkeys back to Spain to prove he had touched foreign soil. Others say Captain Hernando Cortez, in his conquest of Mexico, was the first white man to taste turkey meat, although he thought it was peacock. American Indians also served turkeys long before the white man landed on these shores.

Our present domestic turkey came from wild American ancestors which first were taken to Europe by invading forces, then re-introduced by early New England settlers.

The United States birth rate in 1958 was 24.5 per 1,000 population; Canada's was 27.3 per 1,000.

Tomb Of 'False' Pope Comes As Surprise To Sightseers
 FLORENCE, N.Y. (UPI)—Sightseers visiting the fabulous Renaissance treasures of Florence take a look at the beautiful work — then do a double-take at the inscription.
 For the inscription says it is the tomb of "Pope John XXIII." And Donatello, one of the greatest sculptors of all, did indeed depict a pontiff on his bier garbed in the robes of the living-in-state.
 Of course, it is not the Pope John XXIII who is the current supreme pontiff. This is the tomb of the "false" pope — not recognized by the Vatican.
 John XXIII, who was the world's and crafty Neopolitan Baldassare Cossa, took the post by bribery and intrigue at a time when the church was undergoing the crisis of the great occidental schism. He served as "pope" from 1410 to 1415.
 During that period as many as three men claimed to be pope at the same time.
 The pope now recognized by the church, as the rightful pontiff was Gregory XII, who served from Nov. 28, 1405, to July 4, 1415.

 However, the "false" John XXIII was recognized as pontiff during his reign by many great European countries, including France, Germany and England.
 Finally, the troubled times caught up with him and he was deposed in 1415 when the Council of Constance deposed him from the papal throne. He was thrown into jail.
 The false pope remained in jail in Florence until early in 1418 when Pope Martin V had him released. "John XXIII" vowed abediation and obedience to Martin V — vows which he kept until his death in December of that same year.

TV's Sunday Showcase Pulls Major Boo-Boo

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — Remember Alan Handley?

He's the fellow who ran the Academy Awards fiasco last spring. Well, he tried to make up for it as producer-director of another awards show Sunday night on NBC-TV's Sunday Showcase.

This time, it was the record industry's turn to hand out the hardware, called "Grammy," to its deserving performers. While Handley's one-hour colorcast ended on schedule — I suspect the use of tape helped — it still couldn't avoid a major boo-boo. This came when Van Cliburn made a shambles of the classical music awards by reading from the wrong cards. Serves them right, though, for hiring Cliburn merely to walk on and talk. He didn't perform.

After this gaffe, the show settled down to a smoother, matter-of-fact and duller presentation. Most of the numbers were below the production and excitement levels of Dick Clark's Saturday night rock-n-roll salvo on ABC-TV, although three of the 10 numbers were staged with unusual imagination. I refer to the ubiquitous Bobby Darin's "Mack the Knife," Duke Ellington's "Anatomy of a Murder," and Jimmy Driftwood's "Battle of New Orleans." Host Meredith Willson was handicapped by a static script and nothing to do.

Dialing and Filling: CBS-TV's filmed Small World show has the happy habit of leaving in remarks that poke fun at its format. Confronted by a middle commercial, Field Marshal Montgomery protested with: "We don't want any commercial stuff in this. I think it's much too good." As Ed Murray laughed, Monty added, "I think it's the cat's whiskers." But the Serosis House on Sunday Dec. 6. The first showcase rehearsal performance (in practice dress) of "L'Esprit de la Valce" will be danced at this time by ten girls of the company.

All members and friends of Civic Ballet Company are cordially invited to attend.

even Monty and his fellow soldiers — General Mark Clark and Fridolin Von Sneege. — couldn't halt that commercial blitz. The rest of the show was mostly sterile and trite. . . poor Army. First came Saturday's 43-12 loss to Navy on NBC-TV and on Sunday, four West Pointers lost to four Annapolis men on CBS-TV's GE College Bowl, 270-65. Of the two setbacks, I'll bet the quiz show pronouncing was the more humiliating. NBC-TV's syrupy, stodgy Friday night special, "The Miracle on 34th Street," was filled with Yuletide good will to all but psychologists. Ed Wynn's portrayal of Santa Claus contained too much Ed Wynn, Jack Benny and his guest, Jack Paar, missed a fine opportunity for high comedy Sunday night on the CBS-TV half-hour. Routine stuff.

The Channel Swim: The award-winning program Omnibus, which NBC-TV was unable to sell to sponsors for the current season, has caught the CBS-TV eye again and now is reported to be near a sale. Trade sources say the network is anxious to revive the program as part of its new effort to improve its public image.

Peter Lawford and Jerome Gingold have been added to Frank Sinatra's ABC-TV special on Sunday, Dec. 13. Hedda Hopper will preside over an NBC-TV Rexall special on Jan. 10. The format is based on Miss Hopper's 33 years in Hollywood. Singer Bobby Darin is the subject of Ralph Edwards' "This Is Your Life" show on NBC-TV Wednesday, Dec. 2. Arthur Godfrey's next CBS-TV special, set for Friday, Jan. 15, will feature segments taped in Jamaica, where Godfrey will spend a week starting Dec. 3. Sam Levenson subs for Godfrey on CBS radio during that time.

ANYBODY FOR LEMONADE says five-year-old Cheryl Shaw, of Tampa, Florida who could just about corner the kid's lemonade market. Cheryl has the basic ingredient in these four basketball sized lemons. A bit of sugar, some ice, and lots of water, would put her right in business. (UPI Telephoto)

All Music Yule Service Slated For Church Dec. 13

The annual all music Christmas service of the First Presbyterian Church will be held on Dec. 13 at 5 p. m., according to church officials.

The hour of worship will include ten anthems sung by the Chancel choir, with the participation of the Intermediate Girls choir and, will be under the direction of Mrs. George Touby, minister of music.

The instrumental music of the service will include three organ numbers, a violin solo and an organ-violin selection. Mrs. Robert Anderson, whose violin artistry has previously added to services of the church, will be the soloist. Twenty-seven members of the Chancel choir will take part in the telling in music of the Christmas story, while 15 of the girls Intermediate group will be heard in their portion of the musical narrative.

The vesper hour was chosen to permit members of other churches to attend this yuletide adoration and afford the Presbyterians opportunity to attend the services of some of the other churches.

Soviets May Reduce Red Troops In Hungary

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor

It may have nothing to do with United Nations debate on Hungary and a probable new indictment of Russia for its ruthless suppression of the 1956 Hungarian revolt, but Communist East Berlin hears that a reduction of Soviet troops in Hungary once more is being discussed. Soviet Defense Minister Rodion Mal'ovsky is supposed to have taken it up with Soviet commanders in Hungary.

Boon reports that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will rely on French President Charles DeGaulle to look out for West German interests in the coming western summit in eling. Adenauer is said to feel that among the Western Big Three, DeGaulle has the greatest personal and national stake in the critical German and Berlin issues. At the same time, he feels that President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan are too preoccupied by the atom, and arms race to be able to give full consideration to German interests.

Britain continues fearful that France and West Germany between them will squeeze Britain out of its former position of prestige in European affairs. The question of a bigger British say-so in Europe will be taken up in London during the visit of Premier Antonio Segni of Italy. The British hope to dust off the almost-forgotten West European Union (WEU), in which they are members along with France, West Germany, Italy and the three "Benelux" countries. The WEU first was set up to permit the staged rearming of West Germany.

Things are looking up in the long-drawn negotiations to establish relations between Japan and the Republic of Korea, as a result of effective behind-the-scenes work by U.S. officials. Incidentally, Tokyo hears that North Korean Foreign Minister Nam Il, long a Communist mouthpiece, lost his job because of the failure of the scheme to repatriate thousands of Koreans now in Japan to Communist North Korea. Only a small percentage of the 110,000 North Koreans in Japan wanted it.

Watch Out For Those Gyp Sleuths When Hunting For Yuletide Gifts

NEW YORK (UPI)—Watch for the Christmas gyp artist, who makes like a Santa elf, offering something for a mere nothing.

He operates through mail-order ads, on the street corners, or at counters loaded with phony price tags, says the Better Business Bureau.

He strums on your heartstrings, asking over the phone for a donation to a fake charity. He's been known to write to you, begging for money to support a worthwhile cause — his bank balance. The "gypped" raise a howl once they've been taken. Hugh R. Jackson, president of the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan New York said.

Yet the gypsters' Christmas haul runs into hundreds of million of dollars annually. In the war against the ruthless, Jackson said the best defense is to heed the slogan of the BBB — "If you don't know the merchandise—be sure you know the merchant."

Don't even bother to listen to a phone pitch for a handout unless you know who's calling.

Seek full identification from any solicitor. Stash away any merchandise and charity — of questionable character—sent to you. Make the sender come to pick it up, if he tries to twist your arm. Why waste YOUR money sending it back?

Resist the temptation to be impressed by "names" dropped over the telephone or by a door-to-door solicitor or when printed on a letter.

Jackson listed these typical Yuletide gyps: Imported perfumes, made in bath-tubs, and smelling like anything but perfume; watches that tick for a while — and then not at all; electric trains moved by elbow grease; silver that isn't.

The perfume pushers, Jackson said, usually confide—in a hushed voice—that they have French perfume that sells for $25 or $50 an ounce.

And—"because you're so nice," you can have it for $5 or $10.

Woodruff Quits As Gator Coach

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — Bob Woodruff resigned today as football coach and athletic director at the University of Florida, under heavy pressure from alumni and students.

Announcement of Woodruff's resignation was made by University President J. Wayne Reitz.

"In discussing his resignation with him," Reitz said, "it was mutually agreed that he will continue as coach and athletic director pending selection of his successor."

"I wish to express my appreciation for the fine job he had done as head football coach and athletic director," Reitz said. "The new coach at the University of Florida will be named as soon as possible."

Woodruff just completed 10 years at the Southeastern Conference school amid widespread criticism among Florida sports writers and alumni and fans. His team this season finished the season with a 4-1 mark, climaxed by a stunning upset victory over Miami Saturday, 23-14 which knocked the Hurricanes out of the Orange Bowl.

Woodruff is the second coach of a Florida university to quit in this football season. Perry Moss, twice banged in effigy by students at Florida State University, left there and moved—at twice the salary—to the professional Montreal Alouettes.

The Woodruff announcement came as a surprise in the face of his denial of such a move just last week. During the football season Woodruff was hanged, buried or drowned in effigy several times. He also was endorsed by the entire football team and given a vote of confidence by a majority of sports writers in a secret ballot taken during the Georgia game Nov. 7.

Sports columnists began slashing out at the former Tennessee tackle when his team had a 3-0 record. When the team was still undefeated, but once tied, Woodruff was accused of being too conservative, uninspirational and not using his players to best advantage.

Woodruff, 43, was lured to Florida from Baylor after three Gator coaches had been able to produce only one winning season in 14 years.

Architect Next Step In Plan For New Jail
Now that the county commission has agreed on the need for new jail facilities, the next step the board will take will be to hire an architect to draw up initial plans, Chairman John Kruter said today.

Kruter reported that the commission will name an architect sometime after the first of the year.

He did not rule out the firm of James Gamble Rogers, Winter Park architect, who conducted a preliminary study of a future jail site last fall.

Kruter also said that the new jail definitely will be located north of the present court house.

According to a study by Rogers, the jail should be a two-story building with a one-story wing to accommodate the Sheriff's office.

This will provide a total area for the jail building of 18,300 square feet, which according to state penal officials will meet the present needs.

The structure also will be designed to take care of the natural expansion in future years.

The tax to be levied to support the building program will be set after a study of the project early next year.

At yesterday's meeting, R. B. Gramling, the State Division of Correction's deputy director for inmate treatment, advised the commission on the need for a new jail and estimated an adequate structure would cost between $500,000 and $700,000.

Kruter had estimated the cost of a new jail at $700,000.

No one at yesterday's hearing opposed the project.

Board Reverses Tax Exemption Decision

The Board of Equalization today overrode a tax assessor's decision to deny home lead exemption to some 35 property owners in a Sanford subdivision.

The tax assessor's office had denied the request on the grounds that recording contracts were filed after Jan. 1 and that the property owners were renting at the time awaiting their FHA loan approvals to purchase the homes.

The property owners, all home owners in Country Club Manor were represented by Attorney Jim Rush, who said the assessor's office had no right to deny the request.

He cited an attorney general's ruling in 1939 which states that a record contract is not needed to be a property owner if a person is living in the home on the date homestead exemption is requested.

Rush said the majority of these property owners had filed for homestead exemption before the April 1, 1959, deadline.

He offered certified deed proof that they purchased homes by Jan. 1 and were living there at that time.

The board voted that the appeal be granted for all those who furnished proof when they purchased their homes.

All but two had recurred deeds that they had been homesteaded exemption before the April 1 deadline.

Indications this afternoon are that the Board should wrap-up the two-day proceedings and won't reconvene tomorrow.

Only a few complaints were on hand when the commission adjourned for lunch at noon.

Most of the complaints were not over payment of taxes but owners wanting taxes on an equal basis.

One motel owner told the board that he was paying more taxes for his 12 unit motel than another owner was for a motel that had 15 units.

The board pointed out to the owner that his property was on a main highway which raised his property value.

As of noon today, 110 persons had complained to the board of their tax burdons.

The board will investigate each case individually and notify the owner by letter of its decision.

Ike Opposes Birth Control Advice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today firmly opposed involving the federal government in any way with assisting other nations with birth control advice.

Eisenhower told his news conference he could not imagine a subject more improper as a matter of government responsibility or function than birth control.

The birth control controversy flared anew after the Roman Catholic bishops of the United States charged last week that "propaganda campaign" was being waged to pave the way for U. S. support of "artificial birth prevention" programs in underdeveloped countries which are experiencing population pressures.

Eisenhower, on the eve of his departure for Europe, the Middle East and Asia, also talked at some length about his trip with more than 260 reporters. He said that, above all, he hoped to convince the rest of the world that the United States is truly sincere in its quest for a durable, just peace.

He also said that unless steel management and labor can compose their differences in free collective bargaining, the government might be forced to some form of action which would be a sad day for the nation.

Man Kills Policeman, Woman In Winter Garden

WINTER GARDEN (UPI) — A floor installer with William B. Lamb, 34, and had been living at Lamb's house for about two weeks.

Lamb told officers he and Wagner parted about 11 p. m. Tuesday night after drinking together at a pool room. The sheriff said Wagner went to the Lamb home where he robbed Mrs. Lamb of approximately $100 and shot her in the head and breast.

Walking down the main street of Winter Garden, Wagner appeared suspicious to patrolman Fleming who gave chase. The outside stateway and Wagner shot at Fleming several times before throwing the small pistol under the railroad station.

Wagner surrendered to Harold L. Pruitt, a Winter Garden resident, near the station. A few seconds later, Fleming came running up and told Pruitt: "I ought to kill him, he shot me."

Pruitt said that when he asked the patrolman where he was shot, Fleming put his hand over his heart and slumped over dead.

Lamb found his wife dead when he returned home at about 12:30 a. m.

Starr said deputies found Mrs. Lamb's wallet when they searched Wagner and $150 hidden in the youth's clothing.

Collins Urges South To Drop Complex

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins urged the South Tuesday night to get rid of its "political inferiority complex" and indicated he felt a Southerner could be elected president.

He didn't mention the presidency specifically but said it was high time the South got over the idea that it couldn't put a man into high office.

Collins frequently has been mentioned as a possible contender for president or vice president in 1960, but he has denied such ambitions.

Speaking to the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Collins recalled that many of the greatest presidents came from the South, including Washington, Jefferson and Jackson.

The nation is just as eager to accept fine leadership without regard to geography, he declared.

John McCarty Enters Race, Pledges Reapportionment

FORT PIERCE (UPI) — Former Circuit Judge John McCarty formally announced as a candidate for governor Tuesday, pledging to fight for fair legislative reapportionment.

McCarty, 44, is the brother of the late Gov. Dan McCarty. He held the governor's office during his brother's last illness and said this experience acquainted him with the problems of the chief executive's post.

McCarty resigned from the circuit court bench this fall to make the race.

In announcing his candidacy, he appointed Miami accountant James Keller as his campaign treasurer and said he will officially kick off his campaign in January from his state headquarters here.

"I felt the duty to serve my state and reached the decision that my best efforts to help Florida can be as governor," McCarty said.

"The position is not one to be taken lightly, and I am willing to
