Suspects Innocent In Machete Case

Directed verdict of acquittal was returned by a six-man jury late yesterday afternoon in the trial of two men accused of the machete-beating last June of a youth near Altamonte Springs.

Gregory Burgess Stone and Howard Edward Warfield left the courtroom free men after less than one hour's testimony.

Assistant State Attorney Thomas Speer called only two witnesses in the trial, McNeil Simmons, victim of the beating, and former Deputy Sheriff Kenneth L. Brown before agreeing to the directed verdict.

Simmons, still carrying the scars of an attack, could recall none of the details of the beating but identified the defendants as the men who stopped him as he was walking along North Street on the evening of June 15. His next recollection was waking up at Winter Park Memorial Hospital.

Brown testified that on the evening of the beating, at about 9:30 p.m., he had examined the victim found lying in the weeds at the side of the road and then turned the matter over to the Highway Patrol. He said as a result of his investigation he arrested the two defendants. The former law officer was not asked to reveal any of the details of the investigation.

Upon Speer's announcement that his last witness would be Dr. David Ohliver, plastic surgeon, who would testify concerning the extent of Simmons' wounds, the defense attorneys requested a directed verdict on the grounds it had not been shown a crime had been committed or that Simmons had struck or received wounds.

CHOW TIME!
 Dear Abby, You are being real good about writing—it sure helps on my end to hear from home often.

Since we've been back off that 3 day R.E.L.—over been standing in line at the Delta section of an Ho—a the air field. The folks want it bad—Were set up all around it—and those are good folks to take us last night and the night before that—but of course they failed. Our fire power was far superior. We took 25 casualties altogether—5 killed, 20 wounded. I have no idea how many folks we got. The folks are operating in 2 to 4 man zapper teams—they attack highly doped up—on suicide missions. They have all kinds of explosives tied to their bodies and they intend to take as many Marines as possible with them. We do our best to spot and kill them before they get through our maze of barbed wire. They work at night and it's almost impossible to detect them—but we have ways—sometimes it works, and sometimes it fails—a few Marines usually get killed before it's all over.

I'll be glad if and when you go to Liberty Bridge for security. I saw that area when we passed it on the convoy to China Beach and I think I'll like it there—maybe there'll be a little more action too. I know the folks want that bridge more than anything.

I've enclosed a picture one of our buddies took here at the An Ho—a camp in the rear. You can see part of the surrounding mountains in the background, which are filled with folks, housing in the distance used to be occupied by well-to-do French, and then of course you can see our buddies and the printer, and bunkers. That's Joyce—my machinist—but this Joyce has a temper that won't quit if I look filthy in the picture, it's because I am—and my hair has been chopped to pieces.

I'm glad you and Joyce spent some time together—it makes me so happy to know you get along. I can hardly believe that Joyce ate twigs, bacon, fried potatoes, and toast all in one sitting—that's more than she used to eat in one day.

I've only met B's father once—and I don't even remember what he looks like.

I wish I could be in Florida right now for some in the 90's. Right now it's 105 degrees in the shade—it really cuts me up. Already there's a million things I want to do when I get back home—I can't hardly wait. Only 12 more months.

Time is flying at us now—but sometimes it's hell.

Well ma—gotta go—there's so much to do.

I'll write again soon—OK! You all take care too—miss ya lots,

Love,
 Dick

Governor Kirk Declares: Voc Schools, Roads Needed

Florida needs vocational training schools for its children and needs for its tourists. This was the core of the message brought to Sanford last night by Gov. Claude Kirk, who then departed leaving behind the feeling that "he's a jolly good fellow."

Kirk visited Sanford in 21 years — was the guest of "Governor's Appreciation Day" sponsored by the newly formed Sanford Business and Professional Committee.

Kirk's 20-minute talk to 125 civic leaders was given, in the main, in a spirit of levity, spoken in a humorous vein or as barbed wit.

After saying that on route to Sanford he stopped to visit his twin sons at McIntosh, "where they are working this summer tending watermelons," Kirk launched into his plea for more vocational training.

"Our high school graduates," Kirk pointed to a new Inter-Continental Motel-Machine plant in Palm Beach County "where for every 30 job interviews one person is hired."

The Governor, pointing to views one person is hired, said that "we are getting payrolls . . . not payrolls for our children but for the children of Ohio, Massachusetts, Alabama and the other states where they are vocationally trained."

He continued: "In Florida we have everything but trained children."

Referring to the recent session of the Legislature as "the 80 million fiasco in which the members approved my raise for themselves but provided no road program," Governor Kirk said the legislators approved the governor reorganization bill — "you know (Continued on Page 1B, Col. 1)

Health Classes Continue

The controversial color transparencies will be removed from the pilot program of health education but other than that there will be no major revisions in the program, said Mrs. Louise Smith, health education teacher at Lyman High School.

Fred Ganas, director of the Health Education Demonstration Project, and three education teachers, Doug Scott, South Seminole Junior High; Mrs. Carlissa Merckerson, English Station Elementary School, and Mrs. Ambrose, health education teacher at Lyman High School, attended an evaluation conference on the program.

Seminole, Duval and Broward county educators met in Duval earlier this week to evaluate the expanded health education program which was initiated in these counties last year. Their consultants were Ben Clifton, from the State department of health education, and Dr. Sara Louise Smith, a member of the advisory committee of the school health education study, with those tested at the completion of the first year of the program.

"The results were pleasing," said Mrs. Ambrose. In each instance the post-tests showed a great deal of improvement by those who had participated in the program. A control group, in each showed very little improvement.

The teachers attribute the success of the pilot program to the method of teaching, as well as the materials used.

The conceptual approach is applied to the first-year health program. The class, which meets daily, is directly involved in the presentation of the teaching of the lesson. They are not passive. They look up material, present it and discuss it, said Mrs. Ambrose.

Port Work 'Ready To Go'

Sanford finished by May 2, 1970, or face an assessment of $200 in liquidated damages for each consecutive calendar day past that date.

This statement was contained in the notice to proceed, signed yesterday during a pre-construction conference made up of W. F. Bach, area representative for U.S. Housing and Urban Development (HUD); James Evans, Civil Works Constructors foreman in charge of constructing the Port of Sanford; Tom Fridy, port engineer with Lockwood and Green engineering firm, and members of the Seminole County Port Authority.

Evans was authorized to proceed with building the $13,333,000 large port on the St. Johns River, northwest of Sanford, near Interstate 4, on or before July 7 and given 300 days to complete the project.

Evans was flooded with a voluminous amount of legal forms required by HUD for the handling of the construction. The port is being funded for the most part on a $800,000 EDA grant and a $47,000 loan from HUD. Because of the federal participation an immense amount of "red tape" was encountered by the port builders.

Bach spent over an hour just passing out forms and advice to Evans over how the construction was to be handled according to governmental regulations.

The foreman also will be required to get governmental clearance on all sub-contractors used by the builder.

These sub-contractors also will be required to abide by the same rigid federal requirements Bach said.

A certain percentage of non-whites will be employed on the project and, according to Bach, the builder will be "checked" periodically to see if non-whites are being given the opportunity to advance in construction ratings.

An equal opportunity employment sign is to be erected on the site and the contractor must abide by all rulings of the U.S. Labor Department, Bach added. These include time and one-half or more for work and fringe benefits. A monthly time over eight hours per day report on the work's progress will be made by Bach until the project is completed.

William Hutchinson, port attorney, informed the conference that financing for the project had been arranged with the Florida State Bank in Sanford. A resident engineer from Lockwood and Green engineers will be on the site to oversee the work, Fridy said.

Lobbyists Spent Small Amount

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Less than $14,000 was spent during the 1969 legislative session by about 340 lobbyists, according to reports filed under oath. Of the 340 lobbyists who have turned in their final, notarized reports to the House clerk as required for the first time this year, only 23 said they spent anything.

Rep. John Savage, R.-St. Petersburg, head of the House Standards and Conduct Committee, said the small amount of

Fatal Crash Probe Continues At Miami

Mechanics Tell Of Work On Plane

MIAMI (AP)—Two moonlighting mechanics who worked on a DC4 cargo plane that crashed on a Miami street killing 10 Monday, told the Miami Herald Wednesday all they did was adjust an oil pressure valve.

The Herald reported its conversation with Rodrigo Zapata, 42, and Narciso Camargo, 29, native Columbians now living in Hialeah, Fla., in a copyrighted article.

National Transportation Safety Board officials have been seeking the pair for questioning since the crash, but the Herald said investigators had not talked to the mechanics as of Wednesday night.

Zapata said Rafael Peralta, cargo manager for Dominicana Airlines, came to the Aerocanor (a Colombian airline) shop where he and Camargo worked

Merchants Ponder Sales Promotion

The Sanford Downtown Merchants Association voted to join with the Sanford Plaza Merchants Association in a get-together to decide sales promotion during a breakfast meeting, when it voted down a motion to keep downtown funds strictly for downtown promotions.

Harry Skop, of Piggy Bank store, moved to use downtown funds for downtown merchants only but the motion received only a "courtesy seconding" for discussion only and was defeated.

Alex Serrano, Downtown Merchants president, suggested a Labor Day sales event as next joint Sanford Plaza-Downtown promotion and said it could be worked in around the Labor Day Regatta festivities, but no decision was made.

Serrano said William Waldeck, a sales promotional

Name Change

By MELENDA CASSELLBERRY
 Christy M. Harp, principal, has announced that the name of South Seminole Elementary School will officially change to Casselberry Elementary on July 1. The change is due to the confusion of this school and South Seminole Junior High. The elementary school was chosen rather than the junior high because it serves mainly the Casselberry area whereas the junior high serves a much wider area and there will be less inventory work to change.

'Deltona Youth' Founded

All the papers necessary in the filing for official incorporation of "Deltona Youth, Inc." should be completed and ready for forwarding to Tallahassee within two weeks, according to Rev. H. Wight Kirtley, chairman of the bylaws committee. In making the announcement at the meeting of the organization on Monday, June 23 at the Methodist Fellowship Hall, Rev. Kirtley said that when the paperwork is complete, he will call a meeting of the adult committee, at which time Directors will be elected on the final requirements for the formation of the non-profit organization.

Guy Jackson, chairman of the organization, presided at the meeting when for the first time, the 27 teenagers present were shown the service book in the name of the Deltona Youth, already totaling several hundred dollars. Mr. Jackson stated that this balance included the color TV to be given away during the Deltona Fun Fest on July 4, paid for in full, with more proceeds from the sale of tickets yet to be turned in.

Dwight Hawkins, summer program chairman, and also Teen Club sponsor, made arrangements during the meeting for teen members to meet at the Shopping Plaza each day between now and July 4 for the selling of tickets and for soliciting advertising for the Fun Fest. All donations from the TV and half the proceeds from the Fun Fest will go to the Deltona Youth, Inc.

Mrs. Howard Ledgerwood, chairman of the Adults for Youth Committee, turned over to Mr. Jackson, for deposit, $54.50, proceeds from the bake sale held recently at the Shopping Plaza. She also discussed the public auction to be held August 8 at the Plaza at 7 p.m. and requested that anyone with articles to be donated for the auction to contact her.

Mrs. Paula Schuller, co-chairman of Adults for Youth, outlined plans for a public fashion show to be held in September. Models for the affair will be local teenagers, both boys and girls, and the project the enthusiasm of the teenagers present. Mrs. Henry St. Rock will assist Mrs. Schuller with fashions to be furnished by merchants in stores from the area.

Further plans for the project will be made at the next meeting of Adults for Youth on July 2 at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. John Roulter, 1401 S. Hartley Circle.

Winners of the essay contest for the teenagers on why Deltona should have a Youth Center will also be announced at the Fun Fest with the awarding of the $25.00 bond and the reading of the winning essay at that time.

Waterways Put Spotlight On Port And Canal

Waterways has always been an intriguing and challenging opportunity for communities where there are shorelines and where low-cost transport of people or goods needs attention.

Now we are witnessing in Sanford developments which are the culmination of years of persistent and vigorous championship of waterways as natural assets which could not be ignored.

What Mr. Roumillat has done is to give a very obvious demonstration of the devotion which he and other pioneer members of the drive for a barge port have shown. For these have been controversial years when the port project was under some pretty harsh criticism.

Two-way and not stop in Sanford where the present 15 ft. channel ends. Here, again, we have an early pioneer and a determined and persistent advocate of the waterways.

NEW YORK — Night dreamily brooms away day and through the batting cage each you watch Al Kaline, first baseman in full of light brown hair behind his right ear, head cocked, reddish neck a light cross-section of lines, but he looks with fingers gripping and uncaring.

His stroke is about the ball cracks away. Kaline tries to first and circles the bases with a soft, delicate grace, barely disturbing the soil underneath.

Al Kaline is 34 years old. This is his 17th season in the big leagues. He weighs 285 pounds now, some 15 over what he was when he came to the Detroit Tigers right out of high school in Baltimore at age 18. Nonetheless, he looks lean and hard-muscled.

This season he is batting around .300 again. He is one of the few active players with a lifetime average over that mark. He is an expert in his field, as Jonas Salk is in his. Richard Nixon in his. Werner von Braun in his. Picasso in his. Almost every day from spring to fall, since he was 12, Kaline has 1. a baseball. He's played a baseball, thrown a baseball. "Sometimes I wonder what I'm doing. If I've wasted my time all these years," said Kaline, now sitting on the dugout. "And sometimes I think I have."

"I would like to have done more to contribute to society. I don't know, maybe a doctor. Something where you really play an important part in people's lives."

"But I never had much education. I had always wanted to be in the big leagues, since I was a kid. And boom — I was there before I knew it."

"I've never been at an average at in the dugout and look out on the field and wonder what good is all this, thinking about me, me, me, my batting average, my fielding average. Oh, sure, you care about the team. You have to. But in the end you're worried about you."

"So I have to think of myself as an entertainer, really. Maybe kids can draw an inspiration from what I do. Maybe people who come out to the park can forget their problems for awhile by watching me play."

"The difference between ballplayers and entertainers — actors like Richard Burton or Marlon Brando — is that actors can do different things, comedy, drama, musicals, television, movies. A ballplayer just plays ball."

"But don't get me wrong. A ball game is never a bore to me. Oh, gee, it's great to love it. Every day there's something new around here you just beat out, the throw from the outfield to catch a runner, the different situations, the different pitches."

"And for me, as an entertainer, I'd have to be classified as a straight actor. I've always had it on ability zone. No gimmicks. A player like Norm Cash does funny things on the field, talking to fans, catching throws behind his back between innings. It relieves tension for him. I've never needed that kind of outlet."

"I'm there and I do the job. Nothing great. But there is no phase of the game I don't do well. People who know baseball will tell you that. I've never been a one-way player. I was a very good outfielder. I'm still a good outfielder. But I don't run as fast as I used to, and I don't throw as well. And I used to beat out 22 1/2 hits a season two a season. But even though I've been a one-way player, I don't think I was too much with the bat."

"I was coming out of the fans in Detroit on the all-time Tiger team, with the Cobbs and Helms and Cochrans and Greenbergs. Geez, that was some thrill. Like the home run I hit in the World Series in Detroit last year and everywhere in the park, most of the cheering was for me."

"I feel great for this season. But the hot weather is coming and that tires me out. I'll play next year for sure. After that, I don't know. I sure miss baseball. I think I would like for people to say, 'Al Kaline' and he is a real good outfielder."

Astros Blistering Pace Houston Noses Frisco, 3-2

By MURRAY CHASS
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 The Houston Astros got away better, they'll have to turn up the air conditioning at the Astrodome.

The Astros, playing at their home which is cooled by 1,000 tons of air conditioning, San Francisco 3-2. Oakland trimmed Kansas City 3-1. Boston stopped Cleveland 3-1. Minnesota edged California 3-2 and Seattle defeated Chicago 3-1.

The Astros' division is in fifth place but just 3 1/2 games behind the first place Braves. "Our pitching staff has done a great job," Wynn continued. "That's why we're winning. All they've got to do is keep us close, within one to three runs of the opposition, and we've got a good chance."

The Astros pitchers have been particularly brilliant in the nine-game winning streak, having allowed just 11 runs.

"The team never gave up itself, not even when we were 4-

0. Chicago defeated Pittsburgh 6-1. Atlanta topped Los Angeles 5-3. Philadelphia edged New York 4-3 in 10 innings and St. Louis swept Montreal 8-1 and 8-1.

George Culver was even tonight. He hit two home runs for the Reds in the sixth and seventh innings, holding the bases loaded twice. San Diego eventually got two hits but no runs. Alex Johnson pitched for the Reds in the sixth.

Ferguson, Jenkins pitched Pittsburgh on two hits and struck out 10 for his ninth victory. The Cubs were aided by Bob Veale's run-scoring wild pitch and errors by Jose Martinez and Fred Pate.

Philadelphia, without Richie Allen again, stopped the Mets' four-game winning string. Hankie Dave Workless tied the Mets' 8-5 in the eighth with his first major league homer, then tripled in the 10th and scored as John Bregar singled.

Tim McCarver collected four hits and drove in three runs as St. Louis whipped Montreal in the eighth of their doubleheader. The Cardinals' homer came on Lou Brock's homer and three on Mike Shannon's.

The Expos pulled off the upset by beating the Montreal Expos in the second inning of the nightcap. Dave Pinson lined into it.

Arnold Palmer is the star of the 39-year-old old of the galleries. He's the game's first millionaire. He's made more out of it than any other person. But he needs a victory in the worst way.

Associated Press Sports Writer
 "Well, Arnold Palmer said, "I'm not satisfied. You're not satisfied unless you're winning. But maybe, just maybe, I'm on the way to being satisfied. Maybe so. Maybe."

The muscular man with the putty face made the comments after shooting a six under par 65 in the amateur event preceding today's first round in the $10,000 Cleveland Open Golf tournament at the Green Golf and Country Club course.

The 39-year-old old of the galleries. He's the game's first millionaire. He's made more out of it than any other person. But he needs a victory in the worst way.

So he hit the back of the cup with an 18-foot bird on the third hole, retrieved the ball and said, "That's a little more like it."

He got another from 23 feet on the next hole and was off and running, finishing with eight birdies.

"It's better," he said. "But I'm not satisfied. I won't be satisfied until I'm winning."

SANFORD'S LAKE MONROE proved to be an obstacle for these two young Sanford-Seminole Jaycees as they attempted to swim its width from the Holiday Isle Marina to Florida Power Company's huge plant in Enterprise. The swimmers set out at 11 a.m. yesterday to conquer the six mile expanse of water. The two (l-r) are Bruce Dowlen and Wilson Gordon of Sanford. (Herald Staff)

Pictorial Report Of Gov. Kirk's Visit To Sanford

YOUNGSTERS were on hand at Sanford Airport to greet Governor Kirk when he landed in his Beechcraft for an evening meeting.

"IT WAS LIKE THIS," Gov. Kirk relates to John Krieger, Walter Gielow, John Spolski and Stafford Derly.

They didn't read it — they did away with the State Road Department and didn't know it — which will be "a shock to (Floyd) Christian when he reads the fine print. His job title was changed from superintendent of public instruction to commissioner of education. I was president of the department but couldn't even call a meeting. Now, when he reads the fine print he will find he works for me after July 1."

The Chief Executive did say that the blame for lack of education should not be "laid to Christian or to me but to our system."

It was during a question-and-answer period that Kirk replied the proposed training school for Sanford Airport "would not be a Job Corps Center — as you know it from the Johnson administration — but one to train the unskilled for industry."

It was in this period, too, that he spoke briefly on roads. Kirk laid the blame for the no-roads action in the last session of the Legislature on Sen. John Mathews, president of the Senate, and Rep. Fred Schultz, speaker of the House of Representatives, "both of whom aspire to state-wide positions but they will never make it."

The Governor charged: "Mathews and Schultz are from Jacksonville, headquarters for the railroads. They are owned by the railroads. The railroads do not want more highways. Even Mathews and Schultz saw to it no road program came before the Legislature."

He stated he will not call a special session of the Legislature unless "they (the Democratic leadership) put it in writing they will approve a road program."

He said he had offered alternatives to finance a $6.5 billion road program: One cent additional gasoline tax, two cents additional income tax, one cent additional house tax, two cents additional sales tax which would permit pay-as-you-go, or a plan of bonding and either the gas or tax tax.

Kirk opened his remarks by pointing to the presence of Mayor Carl Langford of Orlando, that suburb of Sanford.

He praised the assembly of civic leaders for its esprit de corps, saying that "you are really the government, telling us what to do." And he said he expects to be governor for next 20 years.

Hosting the party of 125 at the House of Steak were Carl W. Hooper, Walter A. Gielow, Howard H. Hodges, Harold H. Kastner, C. E. Merrill Jr., Warren A. Patrick, L. D. Plante Jr., W. Vincent Roberts, A. K. Shoemaker Jr., Harold L. Slama and A. J. Thomas Jr.

Jurist Declares 2 Men Innocent

By DONNA ESTES

"The evidence in the case is not sufficient legally to establish the identity of the defendants as the persons who committed the offense charged," Circuit Judge Dykes declared at 4:28 yesterday afternoon as he directed a six-man jury to return a verdict of acquittal.

The verdict came little more than one hour after the trial began in state's case against Gregory Burgess Stone and Howard Edward Warfield accused of the mace-beating of McNeil Simmons, a 38-year-old youth in the evening hours of June 15, 1968 near Altamonte Springs.

Assistant State Attorney Thomas Speer called as his first witness, Simmons. The youth, visibly nervous and carrying scars over much of his face, had difficulty in making himself heard. The defense attorneys, Assistant Public Defender Ned Julian, Frank Taylor and Tom Watson objected time and again that they could neither hear nor understand the words of the victim. Judge Dykes on two occasions asked that the men speak as loudly as they could.

Simmons also pointed to "the man with the black coat on" as the man who stepped from a car and asked his name on the night of the beating. He said he had seen Stone previously at the Trade Winds Cafeteria, pointing up his (Stone's) wife, Cheryl.

Simmons also pointed 410 Warfield as the man in the car with Stone.

Simmons then said he recognized the man with the black coat on "as the man who stepped from a car and asked his name on the night of the beating. He said he had seen Stone previously at the Trade Winds Cafeteria, pointing up his (Stone's) wife, Cheryl.

Less Than 5 Minutes

A six-member jury found it necessary to deliberate less than five minutes yesterday before returning a not guilty verdict in the trial of Earl Holtzclaw yesterday afternoon.

Holtzclaw had been charged with the breaking and entering of Monroe-Wilson School in December, 1967 and the theft of a typewriter, a mimeograph machine and other items from the school.

State Attorney Abbott Herring prosecuted the case. Major witness for the prosecution was Holtzclaw's nephew who testified he had entered the school with his uncle and stolen the items.

Defending Holtzclaw was Tom Freeman, Freeman during the nephew's testimony elicited the information that the young man had been involved in breaking and entering on two other occasions and both "take the rap" by turning state's evidence.

In addition, Freeman in cross-examination brought out the boy did not accuse his uncle of being an accomplice until four months after his (the youth's) arrest. Freeman further showed the youth, in his late teens, could not write his address and could not correctly spell his signature.

Nixon Disillusioned, VCs Say At Peace Talk

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong's provisional revolutionary government asserted today that President Nixon's hopes of maintaining the present Saigon regime and de-Americanizing the Vietnam war "are sheer illusions."

In a scathing attack on the Nixon administration, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, head of the delegation, told the 23rd full-scale session of the Paris peace talks that the United States is pursuing a "warlike and deceitful policy" that can lead only to prolonged fighting.

Mrs. Binh challenged Nixon's statement at his June 19 news conference and de-Americanizing the Vietnam war "are sheer illusions."

AT NORTH ORLANDO

Thomas Freeman, attorney for North Orlando, explained differences in terminology between a subdivision ordinance, which he said gave a legal description and divided land in legal form; and a zoning ordinance, which governed use of the land.

Freeman explained that the new Ordinance 177 based upon Florida statutes gives a municipality the authority to approve plans. The council approved adoption of a separate ordinance instead of an amendment to the present zoning ordinance.

A discussion ensued between Brown and Kelley that the changes in the ordinance should not have been referred to the zoning board until it was established whether to have a separate or amended zoning ordinance. Mayor Clifford Jordan then explained that he wished the council to ratify the work of the zoning board to expedite enactment of a protective ordinance.

Salary Hike Unlikely SIC Aide's Pact Eyed

By BILL SCOTT

Until the confusion over whether the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) can give the entire base to the city to operate an airport and lease for private industry is resolved, it is probable that no sales can be made to the private industry.

Rathel was informed in a June 10 letter from the Federal Aviation Agency that until the unknown status of the deed of conveyance from the General Services Administration to the City of Sanford is cleared up, a five-year limit on airport leases will be the maximum allowed.

Later information relates that title to the base is still being "examined" in the Justice Department's Washington office.

City is operating the airport and leasing property by a right-of-entry given by the FAA in March.

General Services Administration (GSA) has attempted to sell the containment area to the city for $700,000. This is the airport property that contains the buildings for industrial leasing.

The FAA has maintained its right to claim the entire portion, including the containment area, under the never-before-used Federal Act.

The legal determination of this action by the FAA is now being studied by the Justice Department.

SALE OF THE CITY

The contract renewal of Sanford Industrial Commission director Dan Rathel is expected to be among the several subjects to be discussed this afternoon during the 4:30 p.m. meeting of the SIC.

Rathel's present salary is $22,500 a year, and, according to informants on the SIC, a raise is unlikely this year. The director is on a yearly contract which expires Monday.

A number of leases are also expected to be discussed today. Rathel said that 21 leases had been signed or nearly signed which would bring $95,000 in revenue to the city and this would fund the cost of operating Sanford Airport without having to use money from the city's general fund.

"With money from the telephone and power lines which probably will be sold to private firms, we are hopeful that enough money to activate the airport's runway lights and update the utility system can be obtained," Rathel said.

The main problem encountered with the sale of the present Navy installed utilities is the city getting title to the 1,650-acre base.

New Ordinance Reading Slated

The North Orlando Village Council voted last night to place on the agenda of its regular meeting on July 7, the first reading of the new subdivision ordinance, which has been submitted. It is anticipated that the ordinance will come up for final consideration by July 18.

The Council met following extensive workshop sessions Monday and Tuesday nights by the zoning board to vote upon their recommendations.

Charles Kelley, zoning board chairman, presented recommendations for changes in the zoning ordinance as requested by Gulf American Corporation. Tracts to be rezoned are the ranch section 2 and 2A and 8 through 14 inclusive from R1A to R1A. This action encompasses only certain tracts which are owned by Gulf American. Mayor Clifford Jordan then explained that he wished the council to ratify the work of the zoning board to expedite enactment of a protective ordinance.

Patricia Omev And Charles E. Miller Exchange Vows In Double Ring Rites

MRS. CHARLES ELLIS MILLER

Miss Patricia Lynn Omev and Charles Ellis Miller were united in Holy Matrimony, June 14, at 2 p.m., at United Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary.

Miss Vickie Schmittler attended the bride as maid of honor, wearing a white tulle gown, overlaid with white and pink lace. She wore a pink headress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Ellen Omev and Kathy Augusto. Their veils carried a cascade of white roses centered with an orchid corsage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Omev of Lake Mary and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Miller.

Rev. A. F. Stevens was the officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony before the altar accented with branched candelabra and two stands of glads and mums.

Mrs. Frances Weston, organist, presented a pre-wedding recital of appropriate nuptial selections and accompanied soloist, Merritt Staley, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her veils a formal gown of bridal satin, fashioned with a round neck and long sheer sleeves, inset with lace. A sheer train, inset with lace, cascaded from the shoulders into a full chapel sweep. A cluster of lace and flowers secured her imported veil of silk flusion and she carried a cascade of white roses centered with an orchid corsage.

Bridesmaids were Ellen Omev and Kathy Augusto. Their veils carried a cascade of white roses centered with an orchid corsage.

David Ewan, of Oviedo, served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Hank Tulp of Oviedo and Jerry Byrd of Sanford. Groomsman, Omev, was flower girl and Arnie Higgins, Oviedo, served as ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Omev chose an accent dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Miller wore a melon dress enhanced with matching accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony, the church educational building was the reception site. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Anroby Truss, Mrs. Claire Evers, Mrs. Joan Dougherty, Mrs. Nell Jones and Miss Cleo Whitcomb.

For traveling the bride wore an allpink ensemble and the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

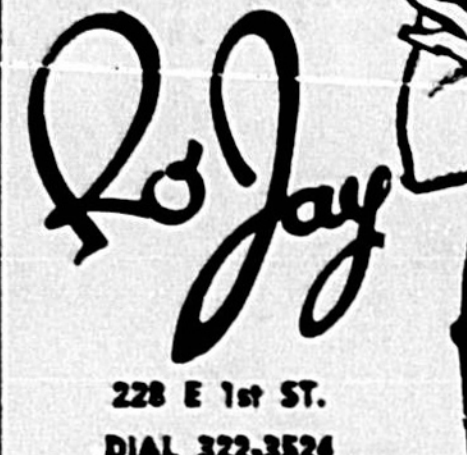

Following a wedding trip to Virginia and North Carolina, the newlyweds are at home at Spring Hammock Park.

An exquisite open lace long-sleeved shirt top (left) blends perfectly with a gored-pleated skirt. Both are in linen and Arnel and come in white and pastels. Flattering over-all lace dress in linen and Arnel knit (right) is in such color combinations as white and pink and accented with a pastel ribbon insert trim. These Dalton of America summer designs are right in tune with the current pretty-girl look.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

TO MY READERS: Bill Gargan, a handsome, veteran high actor, was saved from fatal cancer of the larynx by surgery. To warn and possibly save others from a similar fate, he has written a book, "WHY ME?" published by Doubleday.

Bill is a friend of mine, and has given me permission to quote from his eloquent testimony against smoking. And I thank him.

"That so many people smoke to me is incredible. That so many children smoke is sickening. By the 12th grade, fully half of our children smoke. Yet it ought not surprise us. We older people like to think we just didn't know what we were doing when we began to smoke in our youth.

"Today, we have the surgeon general's report. There is a definite link between cigarette smoking and lung cancer, a link between cigarette smoking and heart disease, between cigarette smoking and a dozen different ailments, any of which may kill someday.

"When we were young we kept saying we didn't have all the facts. Yet we called 'coca-fa' pills. We knew, we laughed and smoked a smoke ring in the sky.

"While talking to a group of teenagers in Anchorage, Alaska, I realized with

Jacoby On Bridge

We don't think much of South's seven-trump bid. His partner had shown one ace and one king but if that king turned out to be in spades instead of hearts, the chances are that a heart lead would hold South to 11 tricks.

On the other hand, most players would bid three hearts, overbid their good hands and South certainly held a good hand.

We think even less of West's double. West could be sure that South's bidding was based on a long diamond suit. Give South eight diamonds and West's high cards in the other suits would be useless.

Anyway, West doubled and opened the king of spades.

Jacoby and Son

The first four and started his discarding with the three of hearts. He had nothing but low cards and they all looked alike to him.

He couldn't have been more mistaken. The one thing of value in his hand was the eight of hearts and that would only be of value if he kept it protected.

Once East threw away the three of hearts, West's game was cooked. South kept on with diamonds and on the last diamond West had to come down to five cards. He had to hold a spade and three clubs. He couldn't guard hearts and diamonds. South cashed up 2,470 for game, rubber and doubled grand slam merely because East couldn't be bothered to play them. East followed to

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY—I want to tell Linda how to put the buttons in the back of her couch in place again. When upholstering, you remove the cover that is tacked across the back, leaving the springs exposed. After the rest of the couch is covered in the new material, use a large needle and very large thread to sew the buttons in place. Fasten the end of the heavy cord to the metal pieces that hold the springs. Stick the needle through to the top one, put the button on and push it to the back. It is really no big deal. When the back cover is

Beauty after Forty

Mature women should not "remember" by that I mean do not talk about what you remember. Forget it, you bring the question of age to the conversation. Just live in this day. Of course things are very different, and perhaps they were better when you were a girl or a young woman. But you are here, now, on the scene. Read, listen, gain all you can of this new era. It is a bit startling to mature people, but you must join in to some extent. Don't resist change. If you suddenly have to live in a new place, a new apartment, don't try to arrange things as they were in the apartment you have been living in. A remarkable mature woman of my acquaintance painted all of her furniture in lively colors and nothing looked as it had when she had lived for fifteen years. She did not wish to move, but the apartment house was sold for business affairs.

Anyone Speak American?

LANSHING, Mich. (AP) — Chief Little Sitting Bull-grandson of the Indian chief responsible for Custer's Last Stand—spoke in Indian last before the Michigan Legislature. His brief speech promoting tourism started in Sioux, then he switched to English. "Parson, me, do you ladies and gentlemen understand the American language?"

Reconstructing a home in a modern apartment is not possible, it is often a very sad mistake.

Doing that is rather like seeing again a man with whom you were once in love. It is not possible to reconstruct the romance. Oh! a few cases happen but so seldom. I am not in favor of a new apartment, but try to arrange things as they were in the apartment you have been living in. A remarkable mature woman of my acquaintance painted all of her furniture in lively colors and nothing looked as it had when she had lived for fifteen years. She did not wish to move, but the apartment house was sold for business affairs.

Not Outdone

CONYNGTON, AP) — Mrs. Edmund Hoffman, a former schoolteacher, recalls the time she asked her fourth-grade class to compare a theme on the subject "My Dog."

"My dog," wrote one little boy, "I do not go one."

Ludden Spends Time Developing Old Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWMY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Allen Ludden, who has been seen mostly in "Password" reruns since the long-playing game show went off the network air almost two years ago, has spent most of the intervening time developing what he says is "the logical extension of the old desk-and-sofa show."

The extension, called "Allen Ludden's Gallery," will have its premiere Monday on several dozen stations across the country.

"Jack Paar started it," Ludden said, "and people were amused and entertained by the guests who told about the funny things that happened to them on the way to the studio."

Carbons of the Paar show proliferated and prospered until now, the former game show host said, there are perhaps four or five shows with one or two stories and then get a couple of new stories and start out all over again."

"I started thinking about all that self-serving chit-chat that reveals nothing about the guests one night when Truman Capote appeared on the Johnny Carson show," Ludden said. "I thought about some of the people he countered when getting material for his 'In Cold Blood.' I thought about how Carson shut up — it was the first time I'd ever seen Carson really listening."

Ludden believes that there is something in the subject that interests everybody: people.

"When you can get one person to talk about another person they have covered and enthusiasm, you find out more about the one who is doing the talking than in any other way."

In his 30-minute daily shows, Ludden has a segment he calls "Portraits" in which reporters and writers talk about people they have covered and written about. Some of the subjects include Vanessa Redgrave, J. Paul Getty, Albert Schweitzer, Edridge Cleaver, Will Chamberlain and Mickey Mouse.

Ludden is launching the series when the television woods are full of such programs. And some have quietly dropped by the wayside—most recently "The Woody Woodbury Show" and "The Donald O'Connor Show."

North Vietnamese Boast Of Plans To Overrun Base

Allied Camp Pinned Down By Red Siege

By PETER ASHNETT
Associated Press Writer

BEIN HET, Vietnam (AP) — North Vietnamese gunners opened a new round of heavy shelling on Sunday against a Special Forces camp from surrounding ridges. Prisoners released by North Vietnamese troops bring in letters from the enemy, boasting they intend to overrun it.

Ben Het is cut off by road and its airstrip is closed. The 700 South Vietnamese defenders, a small team of Green Berets and two Amerasians' artillery batteries are reportedly supplied by air drops and an occasional helicopter.

"Saigon keeps asking why we don't lift the siege," said one American officer. "I tell them why we can't. The troops are being taken as many as 30 per cent casualties. We need more people, fresh people."

Ben Het, six miles from the Cambodian and Laotian borders and 280 miles northeast of Saigon, has become the focal point in a battle that began in May. Dak To early in May. Since June 6 the pressure on Ben Het has been severe.

"It is death to walk on the airstrip. They keep zapping it with a 12.7 mm machine gun in the trees," said one of the U.S. Special Forces advisers.

The 10-mile road to the camp from the main base at Dak To is littered with burned and abandoned trucks, evidence of recent unsuccessful attempts to run convoys to the camp. Two small convoys rushed through Monday and Tuesday, but no more are planned in the immediate future.

The camp itself has taken on the appearance of another siege location. The Sanh Wooden frame buildings sag with shrapnel holes, destroyed vehicles have been run into mud banks. The defenders have the looks of hunted men.

Americans at Ben Het say that if the camp is the main target of the enemy push, then only the constant bombing strikes and enormous artillery support has averted it so far.

The senior Green Beret officer in the area, Lt. Col. Andrew Margolis, commander of the 28th Detachment at Khe Sanh, said today the North Vietnamese have two full strength infantry regiments around Ben Het—the 28th and the 66th—plus the 4th Artillery Regiment and a sapper battalion.

Lyman Hi Stadium OK'd At $60,000

The first step to upgrade Seminole County high school athletic plants started yesterday during the meeting of the school board when the body approved the spending of $60,000 to construct a football stadium at Lyman High School.

Supt. John Angel recommended that a three-pronged plan to improve athletic facilities at Seminole, Lyman and Oviedo High Schools and the board decided to begin with the Lyman High problem of having no suitable field to play its 1969 schedule of home football games.

The board directed that a seating and lighting design be negotiated with Watson and Company, architect, for the Lyman High School plant now being constructed, and to look into the possible institution of a change order for installing a fence.

Board would fund the amount from expected increase in tax revenue, which came about as the result of an increase in property evaluations by the county.

Board wants to have all information on the new Lyman stadium by the July 8 meeting.

No action to affect any changes in the Seminole and Oviedo High Schools were taken because of several legal complications involving spending of school funds on private fields.

These problems are expected to be resolved at a later time and would lead to the ultimate leasing of Sanford Stadium and Oviedo property for athletic use.

$1 Million Needed For Buildings Schools Ponder 4-Mill Levy

By BILL SCOTT

Seminole County School Board may go to the county freeholders for approval of a four-mill additional property tax levy to fund capital outlay expenses, including new school construction in Seminole County.

This special act was passed by the recently concluded

Legislature but, according to information discussed during yesterday's board meeting, the measure allowing counties to hold a referendum for raising money for schools may not yet be law.

According to Walter Tague, county school finance officer, Gov. Claude Kirk's signature is the remaining obstacle before the act can become law.

It was not known if Kirk had approved the measure.

If local property owners approve at least $1 million in extra funds would be available for building new facilities for the ever-increasing county school population.

Supt. John Angel requested that an election be held soon to provide money for the 1969-70 budget.

'Public Officials In Disrepute' Judge Speaks On Ethics

By DONNA ESTES

Public officials are in such disrepute, one of the best image builders would be complete disclosure of financial investments and financial interests in any organization, Circuit Judge Volie Williams, Jr. suggested in an interview with the Sanford Herald.

Judge Williams was queried about the recent resignation of Supreme Court Justice A. B. Fortas and the public furor caused by the revelation that the justice had accepted and then returned a consultant's fee from the family foundation of a man later convicted of a stock market manipulation.

Seminole's resident circuit judge said he would have no objection to a law to require all elected public officials to disclose income and sources and indeed this would be a good idea. "I would object, however, to a law or rule enacted singling out the judiciary," he stated.

"In my experience there are a lot more crooked officials caught outside rather than in the court."

Judge Williams declared such a law would be more applicable to legislative bodies such as the Boards of County Commissioners and the Legislature.

At the same time, Seminole's judge said numbers of the judiciary not only must do no evil they may not even have the appearance of doing evil under their code of ethics.

Judges can be called before a committee, composed of a Supreme Court Justice, two appellate judges and a member of the County Chamber of Commerce.

Former Sheriff Asks County Aid In Damage Suit

Former Sheriff Peter D. Millot is the latest to file a law suit against Seminole County.

Millot, through his attorney, is suing the county in Circuit Court demanding the governmental unit "be responsible and pay for any and all damages, penalties, attorney's fees and court costs" in defense of the legal action brought against the former law officer by Mrs. Betty Prescott.

Mrs. Prescott, in a damage suit filed Jan. 14 charged negligence on the part of Millot in the apparent suicide-hanging death of her 14-year-old son, Robert Hollenback, while he was a prisoner in the county jail.

Hollenback died in mid-November, last year, in his cell at the county facility.

In his complaint, Millot states the county has "refused to assist . . . in the defense of the claim" and he "has found it necessary to retain the services of an attorney and therefore has become obligated for such service and cost in the defense" of himself.

The former county chief law enforcement officer, who served five months from the time Sheriff J. L. Hobbly resigned the office until Sheriff Peter John Polk took office on Jan. 7 of this year, states he requested the Board of County Commissioners to give approval to an authorization for hiring legal representation and "they have consistently and persistently refused to do so."

When officially notified of the pending suit against Millot, the Board of County Commissioners on Jan. 28 authorized County Attorney Harold

Another Catholic Church

By DONNA ESTES

Seminole County is about to have another new Roman Catholic Church.

Bishop William D. Borders of the Orlando Diocese has announced the formation of the parish of St. Augustine in Casselberry.

The new parish was formerly part of St. Mary Magdalene parish of Altamonte Springs and Nativity parish of Lake Mary.

The new church will bring five the number of Catholic Churches in Seminole County. Ground was broken for the fourth church, St. Peter and Paul in Goldenrod, just two weeks ago.

The other Catholic Church is All Souls of Sanford.

It is expected the facility will be constructed on church property on Seminola and Sunset Drive in Casselberry.

The northern boundary of the new parish begins at the junction of SR 427 and SR 434 to the junction of Clifton Avenue and Tusawilla Road. The eastern boundary begins at the junction of Clifton Avenue and Tusawilla Road, proceeding due south to Red Bug Lake Road. The southern boundary extends from the junction of the eastern boundary and Red Bug Lake Road, continuing due west on Red Bug Lake Road to SR 436 and continuing west northwest on SR 436 to Longwood Avenue. The western boundary begins at the junction of SR 427 and SR 434.

A pastor for the new St. Augustine parish is expected to be named early in July.

'John Young Day' Honors Astronaut

By JANE CASSELBERRY

Central Floridians welcome back their own space hero, John Young, today as "Orlando Young Day."

Astronaut Young piloted the Apollo 10 command module, known affectionately as "Charlie Brown," around the moon last month, while his fellow astronauts, Thomas Stafford and Eugene Cernan, took "Snoopy" in for a closer look.

His busy homecoming schedule began this morning at 9:45 a.m. at the Naval Training Center where he attended the graduation ceremony and reception.

A motorcycle through downtown Orlando ended at the Robert Meyer Motor Inn, where Young was guest of honor at a public luncheon at noon. He showed a film made during the Apollo 10 flight and spoke of his experiences on the historic mission.

Scheduled for this afternoon are a press conference at 2 p.m. at the hotel and a VIP party at the Orlando Area Chamber of Commerce Building at 5:15 p.m.

A public reception will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Lake Eola handsell, where Young will make his second speech of the day. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Young, of 525 West Yale Ave., Orlando, and his wife accompanied him during most of the day's events.

Born and raised in Orlando, he is a veteran of the Gemini space program.
