Some facing space travel. Rosny said "There seems to be only one way to find out what the effects of long duration space flights will be... and that is to make them."
A question and answer period following the speaker's formal address to the Rotary Club revealed that Rosny parried his questions, because of security reasons, by quoting newspapers.
Numerous questions were piled on the young design engineer. Among them "Do we have anything to worry about?" and "What about the development of our satellites and their number?"
Rosny's answer, carefully worded, was "I am hopeful that some of the scientific developments which I cannot disclose would result in maintaining the peace and security of our nation."
The speaker was introduced by John Kader who arranged the program.

Park Agreement Between Jaycees, City Is Completed

"You're in business now," representatives of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce were told last night as an agreement between the City of Sanford and the local Jaycee organization was completed for the use of a park on French Ave. between 4th and 5th Sts. for the use of a new Tourist Information Booth.
M. L. Raborn Jr., president of the Jaycees told the Board of Sanford City Commissioners that plans for the new building will be completed in the very near future.
One of the restrictions in the agreement was that the city would okay any plans for the proposed new Tourist Information Booth.
Balance of the park area not used for the building, the agreement cited, would be used for the construction of recreational facilities.
"There is a possibility that we might use one of the buildings already on the property," Raborn told the commissioners. However, "we will probably want them all removed," he said.
The agreement stated that the new building "will be under construction by Dec. 31, 1958."

NEW AIR FORCE RECORD — General Curtis Lemay (R) has hung up a new record for the Air Force. The Vice Chief of the Air Force flew a KC-135 jet tanker plane non-stop from Westover Field, Massachusetts to Buenos Aires, Argentina in 13 hours and 7 minutes. (UP Telephoto)

Missile Experts Called For Urgent Meet

WASHINGTON (UP)—Two top Army missile experts were summoned here for urgent conferences Thursday on the launching of an American-made satellite.

At the same time, the United States is promoting home that all key locations all over the world it has nuclear weapons ready on instant notice to deliver a massive counterblow should Russia launch a surprise attack with ballistic missiles.

The two developments put the nation further out in seizing the propaganda offensive from Russia as President Eisenhower prepared tonight to deliver a second "chess up" science and security speech at Oklahoma City, Okla.

Called to map plans with the Pentagon and the National Academy of Science on the satellite effort were German-born rocket scientist Dr. Werner Von Braun and Maj. Gen. John B. Mendaris, commander of the Army's Huntsville, Ala., ballistic missile center.

Reason Not Given

There was no indication whether their presence would mean a speed-up in the placing of a fully-instrumented satellite up with the Soviet Sputnik. That is scheduled under the Navy's non-military "Vanguard" project for next spring. Launchings of six-pound test satellites are set for next month.

Vanguard officials, who had to design their own propulsion equipment, said the United States could have beaten Russia in the satellite race if they had an Army Jupiter-C rocket from the start of the International Geophysical Year project in 1955.

Mendaris and Von Braun were expected to work out with officials here the size, shape and weight of the satellite they will put into space with their powerful Jupiter-C, a test rocket which has been used in atmosphere re-entry experiments.

Since last week, when the President acknowledged the Soviets were ahead in some areas of missile development, the United States has been trying to offset the threat by reassuring the world of its power to devastate Russia if the Kremlin launches an attack.

In Paris Tuesday U.S. Air Force Gen. Thomas S. Power indicated America has planes in the air around-the clock armed with hydrogen bombs. Although he did not specify what the bomb load was, Power said "they're not carrying bows and arrows."

His statement followed the record flight of a new jet KC-135 tanker plane from Westover Air Force Base, Mass., to Buenos Aires, Argentina, non-stop and no refueling.

Complementing the KC-135's flight was the non-stop flight of three B-47 jet bombers 8,100 miles. The three bombers were refueled on their dash from California to the Philippines Tuesday in 17 hours.

NATO Commander:

Russia Building Navy To Destroy Alliance

PARIS (UP)—A top American admiral warned the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today that the Russians are building their navy for the sole purpose of destroying the Western alliance.

Adm. Jerauld Wright, supreme Allied commander of NATO forces in the Atlantic, expressed his views in a speech before a gathering of 180 members of parliament from the 15 NATO countries.

The single aim of the Soviet navy, Wright said, is this: "The isolation of North America from Europe, the defeat of NATO at sea and therefore the destruction of our alliance."

The admiral delivered his blunt warning to the legislators, whose meeting here is simply that of an advisory group, just a day after they had been reassured by an American Air Force general about the ready retaliatory striking power of Allied nuclear air power.

"The Russians are building a navy which has risen from seventh place in 1945 to second place in number today, and first place in new construction," Wright said.

"It is a navy larger than all other navies of the world combined except of the U. S. Navy. It contains the largest submarine fleet the world has ever known in peacetime."

Wright did not cite any figures, but NATO sources said the Russians now have 500 submarines, a number that is increasing at the rate of 75 to 100 a year.

Wright said that as long as any war goes on, NATO must maintain control of the Atlantic.

"One sure way to bring an ultimate defeat would be to lose our sea communications and therefore our ability to support each other," he said.

"Airlift is important, but we must appreciate that for every ton of air cargo landed in Europe, there must be brought in one and one-half tons of fuel to return each plane for a second load."

The fact that all Seminoles County schools will benefit by the passing of a two million, 500 thousand dollar bond issue on Nov. 19 was emphasized by Stewart Gatchel in a talk to the Lake Monroe School Parent-Teacher Association. Each school plant will receive benefits either directly from bond monies or indirectly from state matching funds.

Mr. Gatchel pointed out that our present and growing needs cannot be met on a pay-as-you-go basis. At the present time the schools have approximately one thousand children more than they served at the corresponding time a year ago. To give our children the kind of facilities and the kind of instructional program they deserve, it will be necessary to validate this bond election.

To be valid the bond issue must be voted on by 4,500 qualified electors who are freeholders. The task of "getting out" this large vote is tremendous. Personal contacts by interested citizens are the best. Each and every vote is important.

Fortunately, the good financial status of the county school system will permit the retirement of the bonds for some years to come without the necessity of an increase in millage. Should conditions and trends remain substantially the same, no change in taxes will be brought about by these bonds, he said.

Team captains of the United Fund campaign met yesterday afternoon in the Board room of First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. to review the list of subscribers and outline a course of action to close the drive in the next ten days.

Treasurer Roy Mann reported that $17,200 in cash pledges had been turned in and said that several teams still had outstanding assignments. A. B. Peterson Jr. told the group that "in the next 24 hours we will have called on all professional men, doctors, dentists, lawyers and similar vocations. While some of these people have mailed in their contributions, we have not done the contact job we should. We'll get with it right now."

J. C. Davis commented in a similar vein regarding the court house and city hall. He is of the opinion that contact assignments in these areas were being carried out, but learned that practically no funds had come in from them. He assured the committee that calls would be made today.

The solicitation at the Naval Air Station has been completed, according to Mervin Crandall, but the funds have not been sent in. Chaplain William Fuller, who has spearheaded the effort, expects to have the check ready during the next day or so, it was said.

Chairman Harold Kastner presented lists of firms in the business district from whom no funds had been received and assigned these to various members of the team to be called on during the next week. When these reports are turned in, the drive will be considered concluded, although there are some subscription sources that probably will not make donations until the year end.

"People who have not sent in their subscriptions and who want to take part in this community activity in welfare work should mail their checks or money to United Fund, Sanford," said President George Touhy, who presided at the meeting yesterday. "We know that in spite of the long hours of hard work that have been put in by the solicitors, there are many homes and business houses that have not been contacted. We now just do not have the time to make the rounds in the city on call-backs and to follow up on the many cases where for one stated reason or another, the worker was not given a check on the one or more calls that were made in the interest of the fund."

FHA Will Finance Erection, Repair Of Farm Buildings

The construction and repair of farm houses and other farm buildings may be financed by Farmers Home Administration loans, Curtis J. Green, the agency's local county supervisor, said this week.

He said the same kind of farm housing loan program is available as last year when American farm owners borrowed $21,300,000 to construct, improve, or repair farm houses and other essential farm buildings, or to provide water for farmstead or household use.

Farmers Home Administration loans are provided only when a bank or other lender cannot adequately serve the farm owner's credit needs, at the present time. The agency does not compete with conventional or cooperative lenders, Curtis J. Green said, but does supplement the credit services supplied by other sources. Borrowers agree to repay the housing loans within the shortest time consistent

United Fund Reports $17,200 Turned In

City Refuses To Become State Collection Agency

The City of Sanford refused Monday night to become a collection agency for the State of Florida and its sales tax collection department.

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners refused to revoke the restaurant license of Cora Wynn 422 East Fourth St.

A field agent for the Office of the State Comptroller requested the city to revoke the license for failure to comply with the State Sales Tax Law.

At the same time the city also refused to install individual meters for each stall at the Sanford State Farmers Market. To comply with the request of the market manager would mean more than $1,500 cost for meters and added administrative bookkeeping, said the City Manager.

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners authorized the advertising of bids for a police car, three small trucks and office equipment. Commissioners were advised Monday night that the old warehouse on Lake Monroe had been removed except for pilings; the sidewalk on Rands Ave. from public St. to Commercial Ave. to provide a walkway to the Municipal Parking Lot is being constructed, reported the City Manager; and new street name signs of porcelain are being erected in the downtown area.

Band Candy Sale Is Progressing With Success

In eight days of sales the Seminole High School Band has sold 1,843 chocolate bars out of a total of 2,856 bars leaving 903 more to sell.

When this project is completed the uniform fund will amount to $3,000 including profits from a recent barbecue which amounted to $592.67. Also two donations of $50 have been received to date.

A complete uniform costs $45.10 and it is announced that any individual, club or business that contributes $45 will have their name sewn in the lining of the jacket. The inscription will read, "This uniform made available through the courtesy of—"

Anyone desiring to make such a contribution may send a check to the Seminole High School Band.

Nov. 19 School Bond Election Important

The Board of Public Instruction of Seminole County feels that the proposed School Bond Election on Nov. 19th, is one of the most important issues the citizens of this county have been asked to face in quite some time. A favorable vote will permit the construction of new schools as well as alterations, and unfavorable vote will lead to doubling of sessions and a greater number of overcrowded classrooms.

The Board also feels that its financial condition is such that for several years no additional taxes will be needed to retire the bonds. The last bonds on the original issue of many years ago have been paid off and there is no bonded school indebtedness against Seminole County. The 1957 legislature provided additional money through the School Sales Tax Fund which will assist in repaying the debt, should the Bond Election be successful.

As has been indicated in the Bond Resolution, each school will not benefit directly by the sale of these bonds. Those not included

14-Year-Old Youth Taken Into Custody

A 14-year-old youth was taken into custody and charged with breaking and entering.

The boy, whose name is not revealed, was turned over to Juvenile Court authorities.

Navy Man Hurt In Auto Wreck Monday Night

Oran Eugene Meyer, 37-year-old Navy man attached to VAIH-9 of the Sanford Naval Air Station lost three front teeth and received injuries to his face when his car went out of control on the Old Orlando Highway Monday night about 8 p. m.

Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway said the automobile skidded 125 feet before smashing into three fence posts, jumping the ditch and crashing into a tree.

Damage to the car was estimated at $150. Constable Galloway said that the front end rear bumpers took the brunt of the damage as the automobile swung from one side of the road to the other.

Meyer was charged with "speed too great for existing conditions."

Welfare Financial Aid Plan Revealed

The Sanford Lions Club yesterday was told of the financial aid programs of the State Welfare Department and the four divisions under which assistance is given.

Mrs. Troy Ray, Supervisor for the State Department of Public Welfare in Seminole County named the divisions under which assistance is given as Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Blind, Aid to the Disabled, and Aid to Dependent Children.

"Money for these programs," said Mrs. Ray, "is derived from state and federal funds." And she told the Lions Club members that the Sanford office is "responsible for administering the various types of aid in Seminole County."

Mrs. Ray emphasized the fact that all monetary aid approved for people must be "determined by a person's need for it rather than on a pension plan as so many seem to think."

The Seminole County Director for the Department of Public Welfare pointed out that it is the Welfare Department's belief that each individual is expected to help himself by making use of his own capacities and resources insofar as he is able.

By using this formula for administering assistance, Mrs. Ray told the Lions Club, receiving money aid becomes a constructive experience rather than a means to increase dependency and need.

Mrs. Ray was introduced by W. Hugh Duncan, president of the Sanford Lions Club.

Residents Warned Against 'Hearse Chasing' Schemes

John Krider, Manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, warned residents of the area today against so-called "hearse-chasing" schemes.

Citing a bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated, Krider stated that such schemes are conducted by individuals and organizations who usually secure names and addresses from obituary notices. Using these notices, promoters of "hearse-chasing" schemes attempt to victimize the family and relatives of recently deceased persons.

The Chamber executive cited the example of a firm which has been contacting members of families in which a death has recently occurred. The firm stated that the late family member had ordered a Bible from the firm before his or her death, and had made an advance payment of $5 or $10 on the Bible. In at least one instance, the firm alleged that the original correspondence had become lost, and the actual date of the order could therefore not be ascertained. The firm has stated that a sum of $30.50 is due on the Bible, and requests payment from the next-of-kin to whom the letters are addressed. Recipients of the letters stated that they are quite certain the recently deceased family member had never ordered the Bible.

Krider stated that, in other instances of "hearse-chasing" schemes, the promoter will send a C.O.D. package to the family of the deceased, again alleging that the merchandise was ordered by the person who recently passed away. Unsuspecting persons have frequently paid for such packages, although the merchandise had never really been ordered by the deceased.

The Chamber executive stated that unorder merchandise activities are also conducted on the basis of obituary notices. In some instances, firms have sent copies of the obituary notices encased in plastic to the family of the deceased, requesting that a certain amount of money be remitted for the encased clipping. Krider stated that recipients of this or any other type of unorder merchandise in the mail should be aware that they are under no obligation either to pay for it or to return it.

Expense Account Query Warning To Taxpayers

Internal Revenue is tightening its standing regulation that expense accounts must be declared.

Line 6A is aimed primarily at taxpayers with bulgingly-suspicious expense accounts. But it also is aimed at the little guy with a $200 annual expense account that he never bothered to report.

—Everyone receiving an expense account, no matter how small, will have to keep a record of it and report it as they should have in the past.

Revenue officials said failure of many taxpayers to comply with standing regulations on expense accounts brought on line 6A.

Instructions for old tax forms said: Expense accounts receipts from employers should be added to wages; legitimate expenses for which the payments were made should be subtracted from wages; and the result should be entered as the taxpayer's income.

Revenue officials said many taxpayers whose receipts and allowable expenses cancelled each other simply skipped the whole thing.

Other taxpayers omitted the "detailed statements" or submitted sketchy ones.

Now at line 6A there is a blank space for entering allowable expenses. A "detailed explanation" must be attached. Money from expense accounts as usual is to be added to wages.

They said the average taxpayer has nothing to worry about, it is the man with the yacht for his personal use on his expense account that has to do the worrying.

Editor's Note: There have been conflicting reports for a week about a new question on income tax forms dealing with expense accounts. The United Press has investigated the situation and interviewed top officials of the Internal Revenue Service. The facts are contained in the following dispatch.

By JAMES BARR
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service said today a new expense account question on income tax forms is a warning to all taxpayers.

It amounts to this: The government wants without fail detailed information on all expense accounts.

The Internal Revenue disclosed last week it has inserted the expense account item—line 6A—in the 1957 personal income tax plans—the ones that are due by next April 15.

It calls for stating in the front of the blank the size of any taxpayer's expense account—the amount if any he received from his employer for such diverse items as taxi fares and convention trips. A full itemized explanation must be attached as a separate sheet.

Confusion resulted from early interpretations. Whom does line 6A affect? Is the government opening an attack on expense accounts—considered by some as an escape loophole from high income taxes? Here, from top revenue official, is the meaning of 6A:

Toleration Good Way To Treat Misbehavior

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third and last of a series of articles on misbehavior. Today Dr. Frits Redl gives parents some pointers on discipline.

By LOUIS CASSELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Do you always think of discipline as a system of rewards and punishments? Do you "drag the kitchen sink" into every conflict you have with your child? Do you find it hard to give a child "a clean yes" or "a clean no"?

These, according to Dr. Frits Redl, are three of the most common mistakes that parents make in disciplining their children. Redl is chief of the Laboratory for Child Research at the National Institute of Mental Health. Here are some of his views on discipline, based on 30 years of research on childhood behavior problems.

Try "Toleration"
Parents should not always go to one extreme or the other in reacting to a child's conduct. There are occasions "when a child should be praised or rewarded, and times when he should be scolded or punished. But there are a great many instances in which behavior should be neither approved nor disapproved, but simply tolerated."

"Toleration" is a good way to treat misbehavior that is part of a child's normal growing pains, or is "symptomatic" of inner stress or worry. A child won't "get his values confused" if you fail to crack down hard on each act of misbehavior. Every child, even one who is seriously disturbed, "is capable of distinguishing between toleration and approval."

The fact that you tolerate a certain kind of behavior doesn't mean that you never intervene to control it. On the contrary, it frequently is necessary to "set and enforce clear limits" to let a child know that you will put up with "so much and no more" on its "are-typical" or "steam-releasing" antics.

Stick To The Subject
"Kitchen-sinkism is Redl's term for the tendency of parents to recount all of a child's sins and shortcomings each time he gets into trouble, instead of focusing disapproval on the "single clear issue" involved in the immediate misbehavior.

A daughter who comes home later for supper is violating family rules and "ought to be bawled out for it." But it is not the time "to revive that old wrangle about too much lipstick, or her choice of girl friends, or has she done her homework."

"Every time you broaden an issue unnecessarily, you lay yourself open to an alibi that begs that question. Kids are much better at this type of argument than you are, so stay out of it."

The Clean Yes And Clean No
"If your child wants to do something, and you are a little dubious about it but have decided to let him do it, give your permission graciously and keep your reservations to yourself. If you hedge your 'yes' about with all sorts of grumbling and dire warnings, he

Golden Apricot Bars
1/2 cup dried apricots
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups sifted all purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 egg whites
1/2 cup light brown sugar
2 eggs well beaten
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Naturally, you'll want to serve something sweet for the occasion, and here's a marvelous suggestion: delicious Golden Apricot Bars. These homemade confections are a little more than cookies, but lighter than cake—just right for an afternoon gathering. You can imagine how good they are by simply reading the ingredients—lots of butter, vanilla, brassy flavoring and, of course, tangy apricots. The end result is moist and chewy, heavenly to taste, and a perfect coffee-companion.

As a matter of fact, be sure to make plenty of your best coffee to go with your sweets—there's bound to be a big demand for both. Once you've served Apricot Bars with coffee, you'll want a repeat performance for every occasion that comes along. They're that good!

Although housing loans go only to farm owners, an owner may borrow to repair or build a house or other farm buildings for his tenants or farm laborers. A borrower must be an American citizen. Any farm involved must be big enough and operated in such a way as to be considered an actual farm, and it must produce a substantial part of the operator's annual cash income. Farmers cannot use farm housing loans to buy land or refinance debts.

Good Times Due To Stay In State

Good times are due to stay in Florida even though minor business setbacks crop up in some other parts of the country. The two main ingredients of prosperity—people and money—continue to pour into the Sunshine State at a phenomenal rate, according to a study by the Florida Business Letter.

Most significant is the fact that Florida stood number three in the nation in the 1950-52 percentage gain in both population and per capita income. No other state ranked as high in both of these growth factors," says the October 10 issue of this Miami-edited newsletter.

The study shows that only Nevada and Arizona grew at a faster rate than Florida's 33.7 per cent—but the number of people moving to these western states was far less than the six-year gain of 951,000 reported for Florida, which now ranks 13th in size. Only five other states acquired more new residents than Florida, which actually gained more people than such important states as Illinois, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The nation's total population increased 10.6 per cent during this same period.

Florida's per capita income jumped 37 per cent from 1950 to 1952, as compared with 30 per cent for the entire United States. Only Connecticut and New Hampshire exceeded this record, which boosted Florida to 24th place in the nation and first place in the southeast.

Figures listed by the Florida Business Letter also show the rapid gain in wages paid by the construction industry, as builders strive to meet the demands of new residents and new companies moving into the state. Tourism holds on to its top spot in the Florida economy, as total service industry wages continued to increase half again as fast as the national average. Manufacturing still contributes only a third as much in wages to the Florida economy as it does to the nation as a whole. However, the Florida Business Letter goes on to point out that industry is expanding rapidly in Florida, and new factories recently announced will substantially increase its relative importance in the state.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE LATE FLORENZ ZIEGFELD once talked a group of distinguished gentes, including Mayor Jimmy Walker, the witty Harry Hershfield, a Vanderbilt, and seven others, into acting as judges for a beauty contest. Walker insisted on a unanimous decision. He knew well that he could outlast the others in a protracted symposium on pulchritude.

Sure enough, Beau James sank all the other judges but Hershfield under the table. Then the two of them solemnly declared Walker's cute favorite the winner.

The Mayor barely had time to take a cold shower and rush down to City Hall, where the Crown Prince of Sweden was due at 3 a. m. to receive the keys to the city. At the conclusion of Walker's welcoming speech, the Crown Prince shook Jimmy's hand warmly, murmuring, "Your poor, tired, red eyes! Undoubtedly you've sat up all night doing research!"

The project for the year was discussed and Mrs. Audrey Patterson, Mrs. T. N. Stafford, and Mrs. Ben Davis were appointed to investigate the suggestions and find out where best to spend the money.

Mrs. Joe Ruth was appointed chairman of the West Side float committee for the Christmas parade on Dec. 4.

The P. T. A. also discussed the dire need of police protection and proper signals at the French Ave. and Third St. crossing. A committee was appointed to look into the matter immediately.

Mrs. Joe Garrett received the door prize of a 10 lb. turkey.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Eliz. Sharon introduced Walter Teague, asst. to the County Supt., who spoke about the school bond election on Nov. 19th. Mr. Teague pointed out that the last bonds were bought before 1924 and paid off in 1954. He stated that a careful survey was made by the Univ. of Fla. & State Dept. to decide what schools we need and how much it will take to build them. The school population of Seminole Co. has increased 83 per cent in the last 10 yrs. over 50 per cent of all freeholders must vote for this to be a valid election. Mr. Teague explained that anyone who is in the process of buying property or already owns property is a freeholder. If you aren't sure you are registered as a freeholder, you can call Mrs. Camilla Bruce, Supervisor of Registration to find out. If you are not registered, you can still vote by showing a tax receipt, a deed, or a sworn affidavit showing that you are a freeholder.

The Westside P. T. A. requests all freeholders to vote. We need 1 over 50 per cent of the freeholders for this election. Don't be that one person over 50 per cent who didn't vote.

Miami Beach Hotel Owners Redecorate With Originality

MIAMI BEACH, FLA.—The little woman doesn't have to take a trip to Miami Beach to find out how to decorate her home—but it helps.

Resort hotels in this area, vying with each other in beauty and charm, hire the world's finest interior decorators. The results are sure to send vacationing housewives home with some brand new ideas on transforming their own backyards.

Consider, for instance, the decorating ideas worked out by Kenneth Hull for the $20 million Carillon Hotel which opens here December 21.

One bedroom color scheme used in the hotel includes walls finished in pink pearl; ceilings in white; and carpeting in tweed-effect tones of green and beige. The bedspreads are of pink pearl antique satin, and the easy chairs covered in a deeper green fabric.

An alternate color scheme employed by Mr. Hull makes use of very pale green walls, with bedspreads and easy chairs in gold. All the bedroom furniture is French Provincial, antique white, dry brushed with gold.

A new and interesting drapery treatment employed by Mr. Hull in the Carillon bedrooms is an over-drapery, almost the full width of the window, with high tie-backs stationary over a brass mesh. The under-drapery moves freely in the opposite direction, giving a beautiful effect whether opened or closed.

Looking for dining room ideas? Try the blue scheme worked out in the Silver Chimes dining room of the hotel. Here the decorator used deft blue carpeting, high-lighted with a design in Dutch blue and royal blue. The dining linens are light blue, and the service plates carry a blue and white crest, a blue rim, and gold trim. The draperies are white, and red tufted chair seats and backs provide the contrast.

Some other choice color schemes worked out by Mr. Hull include: Floors of yellow, black and white Vinyl tile; curtains in a provincial print in yellow, citron and melon shades; wrought-iron chairs with seat coverings of lustrous cal-hide. This decor is used in the Carillon's "Sugar 'n Spice" dining room, and would be adaptable to an informal dining room or delightful kitchen.

If the home decorator wants to do a really elegant room, she might borrow some of Mr. Hull's ideas for the hotel's supper club, which will be done in pink. The carpeting will be Persian rose, touched with black and tones of blue. The elaborately gathered draperies are in Persian pink, with the chairs also in pink.

For a den or TV room, the Carillon's TV and Lounge room decor could easily be copied in toto: walls of burnt-sugar-maple paneling; carpeting in marigold tweed, with coarse woven drapes in muted tones of salmon, gold, bronze, citron, marigold and melon.

Bell Collector Speaks To D.A.R. Chapter Recently

Denotes leader in each Dept.

Last Friday's tilt against Leesburg tended to improve the entire teams averages. The Seminoles continue to roll up the yardage against their opponents with 1285 yards for Cecil Dandridge, Ed die Barbour, and Bob Johnson have led in this attack. Speedy Al Collins continues to sport the best per carry average with a nifty 6.8.

In the scoring department Barbour tended to break this wide open by scoring twelve more points giving him a total of 48 for the season.

In passing, "The Little General", Cecil Dandridge, has done a very outstanding job and has maintained a .400 average for the year. He improved considerably since the opening game and hit three for five last Friday. Cecil also leads in the punting department with a 28.9 average.

Billy Tyre hit two out of three extra point attempts last Friday and now has an even .500 average. Don Carter made his first attempt last week and failed only by inches.

In the individual tackles and assists Dave Stanley racked up eight tackles and two assists to maintain his lead in this department. He now has 22-11 but is closely followed by Billy Tyre who has 25-7, Tom Brown who has 21-10, and Harold Stone who has 21-5. As anyone can plainly see, these boys in this forward wall are all leaders in this department. Big Claude Hittell, Allan Swalm, Teddy Walker, and Jack Stotky all remain just a few behind the leaders.

Sports Parade

NEW YORK (AP)—Versatile defenses have made college football a throwback to the game as it was played 50 years ago, veteran Ossie Solem of Springfield College contended today.

Solem should know. Because Ossie currently is in his 38th season of collegiate coaching with an overall record of 190 wins against 119 losses and 20 ties.

That makes the tall, silent, white-haired man the active dean of college grid coaches.

"The big trend has been toward ball control," he explained as he prepared to send his Springfield team against undefeated Hofstra. "The main reason is that the defense has become so versatile and most of the time you're facing a nine-man line. It's a throwback to 30 years ago because now you can throw only enough to maintain the ball."

Has Lost Twice
Ossie's team isn't unbeaten this year, having lost two of seven games, but the pre-World War I Minnesota end can look back on last season's unbeaten record without any qualms or superstitions.

"They cured me of superstitions when I was at Drake University," he grins. "We weren't doing too well at Drake in 1921 and were trailing 7 to 0 in one game when one of the boys found a penny on the field and flipped it to me."

The boy said happily:
"Here's a lucky penny. Watch us go now."

Drake did, too, scoring 15 points in the next few minutes to win the game. After that, before every game the players would "find" a "lucky" penny for Ossie. They didn't lose another game that year and the following season went unbeaten.

"I was kind of relieved when we finally lost a game late the following season," Solem recalls. "My coat pocket was bulging with 'lucky pennies' the kids had found and they were getting to be quite a nuisance."

Wen Captainscy
Before coaching at Drake, Ossie had taken a brief whack at practicing law with his brothers in Minneapolis and then enlisted in the Army at the outbreak of World War I, emerging two years later with the rank of captain. After one year at Luther College, he took over at Drake and subsequently moved on to Iowa, Syracuse and Springfield.

There is something spiritual in Ossie's facial serenity and the soft-spoken Solem has had a profound effect on his players. His credo is to "leave no regrets on the field" and his players admire cleanliness and control.

He hasn't done too badly with his philosophy, either. In 1937 two of his Syracuse assistants were a couple of fellows named Bud Wilkinson and Biggie Munn. A few years later one of the best players he turned out at Syracuse was a guy named Duffy Daugherty.

If those names sound familiar, they should. They were named coach of the year respectively in 1940, 1953 and 1955. An honor which Ossie never won but, then, he's been too busy being one of the coaches of the last half century.

Uoff, Vanderbilt Clash Saturday

GAINESVILLE—One of the newer rivalries in the Southeastern Conference finds Florida and Vanderbilt squaring off with each other at Florida Field this Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m.

This youthful series between the Gators and Commodores began only in 1945, with Vandy claiming five victories and Florida three over that period. Last year Florida defeated Vanderbilt, 21-7.

The Gators, finding that they can win and look good doing it when all things fall at once, have gained a new confidence this week after smashing down Georgia, 22-0 last Saturday.

Florida's machinery ran smoothly while passing, running, kicking and defending against the Bulldogs. The victory leaves the Gators with four wins and two losses, along with a 3-2 SEC record.

Vandy, with a record of 4-1-2 overall and 3-1-1 in conference play, is still considered a good possibility for a post-season bowl bid and will have this fact in mind when taunting with Florida.

The Gators have a new rushing leader this week in Jim Rountree, halfback who added to his lustre by picking up 73 yards in ten rushing plays against the Bulldogs. He now has 271 yards in 55 carries, compared to 264 yards in 66 rushes by Fullback Ed Sears and 235 yards on 41 runs by Right Half Bernie Parrish.

While Rountree moved into the team's top spot in rushing, Parrish nudged back Rountree for the scoring leadership by posting one touchdown and two extra points for a total of 28. Rountree has 24 points and Jimmy Dunn, quarterback, 18.

Halfback Bill Newbern is the new pass receiving leader with seven catches for 98 yards and one touchdown, although Rountree has gained 113 yards and scored two touchdowns on five receptions.

The Gators came out of the Georgia game with the usual game bruises, except for Center Joel Wahlberg, who is being sidelined for most practices this week with an injured knee. He is a doubtful starter in the Vandy game, and it remained to be seen if he would get a chance to play at all.

11 College Teams Suffer 1st Loss Last Weekend

NEW YORK (AP)—Eleven college football teams suffered their first loss of the season during the weekend, cutting the ranks of the nation's perfect record teams to 23, four of whom have completed their schedule.

The list is topped by Texas A&M, Oklahoma, Auburn and Tempe, Ariz. State among the major teams. The Aggies have a clean slate after eight games, while the other three have won all seven starts.

St. Norbert's Wis., Idaho State, Fairmont, W. Va., and Jamestown, N. D. have completed their season's work with Jamestown sporting the enviable record of having played through six games without being scored on.

Pittsburg Kan. tops the list with nine wins. Eastern New Mexico fell from the ranks by playing a 14-14 tie with Southwest Oklahoma after winning eight in a row.

Marshall Holds Seven-Point Lead in Hockey League

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Marshall of Hershey, although held to one goal and an assist last week, maintained his seven-point lead in the American Hockey League scoring race.

Marshall, according to official league statistics, also led in goals scored and assists for the fourth consecutive week. The 25-year-old center has compiled 3 points on 13 goals and 14 assists.

Dunc Fisher, right wing on Marshall's high-scoring line, is second in total points with 20. Bill Sweeney of Providence gained six points in last week's action to boost his total to 19, good for third place. Tied for fourth place with 17 points each are Gerry Egan of Springfield, Jimmy Moore of Cleveland and Bruce Carmichael of Providence.

Eddie Shack, a rookie with Providence, upped his penalty minutes to 58 to retain his league lead in this department.

Hershey's Gil Mayer, out with the flu all week, remains the leading goaltender with a 2.00 average. He has yielded 14 goals in seven games. However, Johnny Bower of Cleveland leads in shutouts with two.

UP Grid Poll

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Texas A&M, Oklahoma and Auburn, the nation's three perfect-record college football powers, retained the 1-0 ratings of the United Press board of coaches today in the extremely close race for the national championship.

Michigan State, Iowa and Ohio State, the three titans from the Big Ten Conference, remained in contention right behind the top three following a weekend in which the leaders won as expected. The first six rankings were unchanged from last week.

Tennessee advanced three notches to No. 7, followed in order by the service academies, Navy and Army, with Duke this week's newcomer among the top 10 in the 10th ranking.

Texas Aggies No. 1
Only 37 points separated the first four teams this week. Texas A&M was the No. 1 choice of 16 members of the 35-man United Press rating board; Oklahoma received eight first-place votes, Auburn six and Michigan State five.

Rarely have four teams been in such close contention for the top rating as such a late stage of the season. In points, distributed on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first to 10th places, the Texas Aggies led with 307 out of a possible 350; Oklahoma had 287, Auburn 256 and Michigan State 250.

Iowa and Ohio State, each with one first-place vote, followed with 228 and 194 points, respectively. Tennessee had 116, Navy 82, Army 79 and Duke 44.

Shakeup On Top
A shakeup in the top 10 may be expected next week following battles between some of the ranking powers. Texas A&M, best bet for the Cotton Bowl, takes on Rice tied for the 15th ranking this week. Oklahoma, which has clinched an Orange Bowl berth, plays Notre Dame tied for No. 20 in Saturday's nationally-televised game.

Auburn faces a "breather" in unranked Georgia, but Michigan State plays tough Minnesota and Ohio State has a chance to qualify for the Rose Bowl by beating Iowa.

Mississippi, another leading bowl prospect, headed the second 10 group, followed in order by Arizona Tempe State, Wisconsin and Clemson. There was a five-team tie for 15th place among Arkansas, Dartmouth, Oregon, Rice and Stanford. Tied for 20th place were Notre Dame, Penn State and UCLA. Holy Cross, Illinois and North Carolina each received one point this week.

By UNITED PRESS
Tennessee and Mississippi are getting ready this week for what should be a bowl-elimination contest Saturday at Memphis.

Auburn's ineligibility for post-season honors brought about this state of affairs — presuming of course, that the Tigers win their last three and take the Southeastern Conference crown.

The Vols and Rebels, each with a single loss this year, got back onto the practice field Monday and have scheduled hard sessions. The Mississippi variety began lining up defenses for that Tennessee specialty, the single wing.

Some bad news was confirmed at Georgia Tech. Coach Bobby Dodd announcing that right halfback Joe Delaney is almost certain to miss the Alabama game this week because of a shoulder injury. Reserve halfback James Brantley also was on the sidelines Monday.

Next scheduled matches are: Gene's Seminoles Dry Cleaners vs. Burnett Painters; Celery City Printing Co. vs. Bukur's Music Shop with 628.

Five high average are: M. Steele, 1.09; W. Webber, 1.08; G. Kenis, 1.05; O. Touchton, 1.03; and P. Huhn, 1.04.

Next scheduled matches are: Gene's Seminoles Dry Cleaners vs. Burnett Painters; Celery City Printing Co. vs. Bukur's Music Shop; and New York Life Insurance vs. Mather Furniture.

Alabama Coach J. B. Whitworth said two tackles and a halfback who were out last week may be back on hand Saturday.

Bukur's, Celery City Tie For First

Celery City Printing Co. and Bukur's Music Shop are tied for first place in the City Bowling League with 21 wins and 13 losses.

Gator Bowl Group To Watch Weekend Games Closely

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The Gator Bowl selection committee expects to have a better idea following games this weekend which teams are potential contenders for the earliest of the major post-season bowl games.

Committee Chairman Sam Wolfson disclosed that the number of teams under consideration has already been narrowed to nine.

They are Texas A&M, Mississippi, Tennessee, Texas Christian, Texas, Arkansas, Vanderbilt, Miami, Fla. and Mississippi State.

George Olsen, business manager of the Gator Bowl Assn., added that officials hope for "a top inter-sectional contest" for the Dec. 28 Gator Bowl, which would probably pit a Southeastern Conference team against one from the Southwest.

Last year, the Gator Bowl matched Pittsburgh and Georgia Tech in what was generally conceded one of the year's best bowl games.

Conning The News

Several items are taking the spotlight this week—this is American Education Week, as you may have heard from your children, your T. V., your radio, and perhaps most of all, your newspaper.

During this week, every year, communities take a good long look at their schools. They visit them to become acquainted with the teachers, with teaching methods, and with the equipment used by the students. This is in Sanford this special week. It is most important. On November 19, next Tuesday, the freeholders in Seminole County go to the polls to vote on the school bond issue.

The Board of Public Instruction is using this week of American Education to acquaint the voter with the necessity for new school buildings and additions. When the board has done this, they must tackle the far more difficult job of getting the voters to the polls. Over fifty percent of the freeholders (anyone owning property) must vote to pass the bond. This means that even if everyone who goes to the polls voted for the bond, it will not pass unless over half of the landowners in Seminole County have voted.

The statistics are alarming in the school situation. There has been an increase of 31.68 per cent in the enrollment of white children during the past five years. It has been predicted that the percentage will be even higher in the next five years. If industry is attracted to Seminole County, the companies must consider schooling before they can move families into the school.

The school board has stated that there will be no anticipated increase in taxes. There is no indebtedness in school bonds in Seminole County at this time.

The projects have been listed many times. It is my opinion that nearly every parent in Seminole County is aware of the situation. Now it is up to them to get to the polls, and to take their neighboring freeholders who may not have children attending school. The school board is fighting lethargy, not disapproval. There are many Seminole County teachers and parents telephoning, walking from house to house—contacting by mail—trying to get as many as possible out to vote. If you own land, and are a registered voter, we hope that you feel duty bound to go to the polls next Tuesday.

I don't want my children to have double sessions, sit two in a desk, crowded into tiny classrooms, taught by tired, overworked and distraught teachers—do you? Good schools mean good business, and now is the time to do something about them. Remember to vote!

Now that the school bond issue has been baragued for today, it wonders me (to quote a favorite Pennsylvania) whether I should tackle the other things on my mind, or let them slide for the day.

Pattern Makers Confused About Chemise Silhouette

NEW YORK — If you're confused about how you feel about the chemise silhouette, you're not alone. The nation's pattern makers are too.

They're betting the woman who makes her own clothes will like the tapered shift, and they're gambling their designs on it.

But they're not altogether sure of themselves, women en masse being as unpredictable as any one woman can be, and the cost of putting new patterns on the market ranging up to $10,000 a throw.

Not since Christian Dior came out with his post-war "new look" has so revolutionary a style change hit the American fashion scene with such impact. At the same time, never before in the history of pattern making has "being on top of the fashion" been so important in the industry.

NOT BEHIND TIMES

For the past five or six years, the American woman who sews for herself has shown she is becoming less and less willing to dress behind the times of the woman who buys her clothes.

The post-war "new look" showed up in patterns a year after the fashion caught on in ready-to-wear, and at that, was too early for the mass-buying pattern market.

A check with the fourth largest pattern houses in New York which supply most of the 100-million patterns bought across the country each year, shows they all frantically are wondering how far women will go for the chemise silhouette.

"It will give the pattern industry a shot in the arm," said McCall's patterns' Albert Chaiken, the most definitely optimistic of the designers. "The chemise silhouette already is definitely catching on in the ready-to-wear lines, and it is a natural for home sewing where the greatest problem is fitting."

Simpler's fashion director, Florence Pullman said, "The chemise look will be big."

BOON TO WOMEN

Butterick's chief designer, D. Rabineau said, "It is a boon to the woman who wants to whip something together quickly."

"I like it, but not too many women seem absolutely sold on it," said Eleanor Williams, design director of Vogue. "I think it will catch on, especially with the young people who want to be smart."

All four pattern houses said they are including increasing numbers of chemise silhouettes in their late winter and early spring magazines and catalogues. But with reservations.

Their designers all agree the "all-out" chemise will not sell as well in quantity as modified variations on the look: the introduction of some kind of waistline indicator, bloused tops, draped bodices or a low-waisted two piece look.

They also say it probably never will take over a wardrobe.

"It won't ever be the volume dress," said Chaiken. "Most women will limit themselves to one or two outfits."

"American women won't want to give up their figures altogether," said Rabineau. "They'll mix chemise silhouettes with the fitted look."

The designers generally agree the chemise silhouette is easier to see slender women, and that with improper design and fitting it can become a "sexless sack."

"I don't know what will happen to the Marilyn Monroes of the country," is how Vogue's Eleanor Williams puts it.

BLONDE CASHMERE COAT WITH OFF-THE-NECK COLLAR AND SLASH POCKETS IS FEATURED IN ORIGINAL'S FALL AND WINTER COLLECTION. THE BACK HAS A SINGLE INVERTED PLEAT.

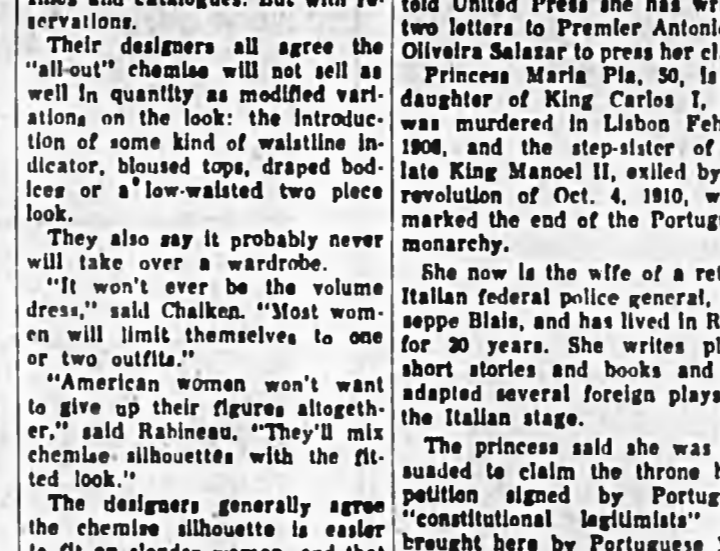

Queen of the dinner plate for holiday meals is fluffy, flavorful, light-as-a-cloud Mashed Potatoes. Here's how to have this dish perfect every time:

1. Start with a really good potato; choose a variety that will cook up mealy and dry, and will whip to a fluff. "Idaho", world-famous for baking, will do just that. This variety is an all-purpose potato, excellent for boiling, mashing, frying, scalloping, baking—any style you've a mind to use. You'll recognize these potatoes by their oval shape and net-surfaced, russet-brown skins with few and shallow eyes.
2. Preparation: allow one large (about 6 inches long) potato for each person. Pare as thinly as possible (a lot of goodness lies under the skin). Cut in uniform pieces. Do not allow to stand over-long in water. Place in kettle with cold water 1 inch up on sides of pan. Cover lightly. Bring water to boiling point quickly. Reduce heat so that potatoes will simmer until fork-tender. Time will depend upon size of pieces.
3. Mashing: drain well, reserving liquid to use in gravy, soups, stews. Shake kettle over low heat until potatoes are dry. Mash well, or put potatoes through ricer or food mill, or whip in electric mixer. All lumps must be out now or they'll never be! Allow 1 tablespoon butter for each potato, melted in hot milk or light cream—enough to make potatoes of desired consistency. Whip into the potatoes, adding salt and pepper. When "dusy", serve at once in a heated dish, with plenty of butter atop, and a flick of paprika, a dusting of chopped parsley or snipped chives or sliced almonds. If mashed potatoes must wait, place kettle in pan of boiling water, using a folded dish towel between kettle and cover to absorb the steam.
4. Day before potato dishes: prepare Mashed Potatoes, Idaho. Fold in drained, slightly-cooked carrots, about 1 cup for 8 potatoes. Heap in baking dish. Refrigerate. To serve, top with shredded Cheddar cheese and dots of butter. Bake in a moderate oven until heated through. Serve very hot. OR prepare mashed potatoes using 1 egg beaten with 2 or 3 tablespoons cream instead of the hot milk. Potatoes should be very thick. Chill. Roll in floured hands to form desired shapes. Place on buttered cookie sheet. Brush with egg mixed with 1 tablespoon water. Sprinkle with sliced almonds. Bake in moderately-hot oven (375 degrees F.) 10 to 15 minutes or until piping hot and toasty-brown. A good idea to use up leftover mashed potatoes.

President, Miami Hoping To Visit Europe Next Year

WASHINGTON (UP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower hope to visit London and other European capitals next year.

Sources close to the White House disclosed the first family is trying to make arrangements for the trip.

Such a tour would be in line with the President's desire to draw the United States and the European nations closer together to meet the onrush of Russian science and military power.

Eisenhower will go to Paris next month to attend a conference of North Atlantic Treaty nations to tackle ways of achieving greater Western unity.

The British have been particularly anxious to have the President come to their country. Queen Elizabeth and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan visited the United States last month and met with the President.

In meeting with them, Eisenhower stressed the need for greater Anglo-American cooperation to meet Russia's challenge in the new space-missile age.

Disclosure that arrangements were under way to try to set up what was brought out that Eisenhower probably would not go to London following the Paris NATO meeting.

The British touched off a transatlantic exchange with an announcement that the President had been forced to defer a proposed December visit because of Mrs. Eisenhower's health.

Acting White House Press Secretary Anne Wheaton, asked if there was any basis for the London Statements, said flatly: "None whatever."

Asked whether Mrs. Eisenhower was ill, Mrs. Wheaton replied: "No." The first lady, who underwent an operation Aug. 6, has been more active in recent days than in a long time.

BRANELLE, famous for their costume ensembles, combines luxurious ranch mink and red wool for this dress and jacket combination. The dress, with exquisitely simple lines, has a flattering shaped neckline and brief sleeves.

U.S. Put On Notice To Prepare For Higher Federal Spending

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—President Eisenhower put America on notice today to prepare for considerably higher federal spending if this country is to keep abreast of the space age—and Russia.

Whether the substantially higher price tag on national security would mean higher taxes was the billion dollar question before the nation.

The President, in his nationally broadcast and televised speech Wednesday night in the Municipal Auditorium here, did not once mention the possibility of higher taxes. But at seven different points in his speech he stressed that substantial additional costs would be involved in bringing America's arsenal up to scientific date with Russia, raising military pay, increasing the educational production of scientists and keeping foreign aid at about its present level.

Immediately after his speech in the auditorium to an audience of more than 6,000 persons, the President raced back to Washington during the night by air to preside this morning at his second meeting of the National Security Council this week.

Pledged Economy

The President, while forecasting markedly higher spending for defense in his Oklahoma City speech, pledged his administration to every possible economy in current federal costs in areas less important than security and scientific achievement.

He said, however, that he had come to the "clear conclusion" that some civilian programs of the government, "while desirable, are not absolutely essential" and probably would have to go, under the weight of satellites, missiles, dispersing the Strategic Air Command to additional bases and other mounting security costs.

The President refrained from telling Congress where to cut domestically, but he was specific on where cuts should not be made.

He said the answer to economic demands did not lie in cutting his mutual security program of economic and military foreign aid.

Agrees Cost Cuts

Eisenhower said it also would be a mistake to cut costs by "any misguided attempt" to eliminate conventional military forces and rely solely on retaliation.

"This course would be completely self-defeating," he said.

The Chief Executive expressed the hope that Russia ultimately would cooperate with the West in seeking "peace with justice." Until there is concrete evidence of such cooperation and a cessation of threats from the Communist orbit, he said this country would have to maintain a mighty nuclear retaliatory power "as a primary deterrent to war."

The President announced a four-part plan for increasing the retaliatory power of the Strategic Air Command:

—A speedup in dispersal of SAC to other bases.

—A speedup in improving warning systems protecting the nation, because "with missiles and faster bombers, warning times will grow shorter."

—Development of an active missile defense against missiles through "intensive research and development."

Should Add Missiles

—The addition of long-range missiles to American forces on land and sea.

He said additional sums will be provided for the plan "where needed. Moreover, it is clear that production, deployment and installation of missiles over the period ahead will be costly."

The President said his scientists advised him "above all immediate tasks" is increasing the production of scientists. The problem will be in its most critical phase for the next 10 years, he said.

He said the federal government cannot take on the full load of stepping up education of scientists and engineers, but must cooperate with state and local governments.

The President discounted Soviet claims of an accurate intercontinental ballistic missile. He said it will be "some time" before either the United States or Russia has a long-range missile to equal "even a small fraction of the total destructive power of our present bomber force."

1,200 Witness SR-415 Dedication Yesterday

The new Campbell Thornal Highway was officially opened and dedicated yesterday amid the applause of at least 1,200 Central Floridians who gathered at Osteen for the ceremonies shortly after 2:30.

The ceremonies were interrupted briefly during the afternoon by a shower that drove spectators under cover.

Supreme Court Justice Campbell Thornal, for whom the highway was named, turned the ribbon-cutting ceremonies over to his mother, Mrs. B. C. Thornal of New Smyrna Beach, who smiled broadly throughout the afternoon as she watched her son take part in the dedication event.

Justice Thornal, flanked by dignitaries from many surrounding counties, members of the State Road Board, State Senators and representatives told the huge crowd who listened intently "When a man does the job expected of him he deserves no special recognition."

He said "We see here community cooperation in action," and speaking of two plaques erected at each end of the newly constructed highway bearing his name and the date of the dedication, he said "... rather I would construct there a plaque listing the names of community leaders, public spirited citizens, and other officials. And along with them the names of instrument men, designers and planners, roadmen, and the engineering men of the State Road Department."

Turning to members of the State Road Board nearby, Justice Thornal told the audience that if you work with them they will give you one of the best planned road programs our state could enjoy.

He concluded "I accept with great humility the honor you have bestowed upon me."

Senator Bill Gautier introduced Justice Thornal, immediately following the brief address by Justice Thornal, Senator Gautier presented him with a copy of the bill naming State Road 415 the Campbell-Thornal Highway.

A pair of gleaming scissors was presented Justice Thornal's mother with which she cut the ribbon officially opening the new highway linking New Smyrna Beach and Sanford.

Kiwanis Speaker Reminds Club Of Education Week

Members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club were reminded at their noon luncheon meeting yesterday that this is American Education Week.

Prior to introducing a large group of youthful singers from Seminole High School R. T. Mill, vice Superintendent of Public Instruction for Seminole County invited Kiwanians to visit schools here. As you see them, he said, "I hope you will do everything possible to make your schools stronger and better."

More than fifty members of the Seminole High School Glee Club sang for Sanford Kiwanians yesterday. In the direction of Miss Dilla H. White, the Triple Trio, double Quartet and The Melownones rendered musical numbers for the noon luncheon group.

Emceeding the program was Peggy Lundquist, vice president of the local high school glee club.

The Triple Trio chose for its numbers "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair" from South Pacific and "June Is Bustin' Out All Over" from Carousel.

The Double Quartet, for its musical numbers, chose to sing "We Ain't Got Dames" and "Whale of a Tale."

The Seminole High School Melownones did themselves proud with more melody a second than anywhere else songs were being sung. Doing three numbers "Do Lord", "A Bushel And A Peck" and "Oklahoma" their biggest applause came on the first number when two solos were featured.

School Board Considers Financial Aid Requests

Requests for financial assistance in four projects at Seminole County schools were taken under consideration this morning at a meeting of the Board of Education.

The Seminole High School P-TA requested assistance in providing a paved area for recreational and other uses. The area, R. T. Millwee, Seminole County Superintendent of Public Instruction, said, would be 100 by 100 and of concrete construction.

Other requests included a 30 by 30 recreational area at Southside School which was submitted by the Southside School P-TA. Another Southside School request was for sidewalk areas on the Palmetto side of the school.

The band masters of Seminole County Schools requested financial assistance of approximately $2,000 a year in order to purchase equipment. "The present situation is below standard," a letter to the Board of Education said.

Millwee requested that the Board of Education give him an opportunity to study the financial situation before "committing ourselves for any definite amount."

The Board of Education members stated "We are willing to assist but we are in no position now to say for how much."

Deputy Sheriff H. H. DeWitt said that the drivers of the two cars were Howard Arthur Miller of Pinecrest Dr. and Richard Kermit Escudier of South Sanford Ave.

The cars were traveling east when Miller stopped for a school bus. According to Deputy Sheriff DeWitt's report, Escudier's brakes failed and he smashed into the rear end of Miller's car.

Approximately $100 damage was estimated to Miller's Chrysler and $150 damage to Escudier's Jaguar coupe.

Sanford Mayor Endorses Sale Of Christmas Seals

The high cost of tuberculosis was emphasized by Mayor David Gatchel in his official proclamation approving the 51st annual Christmas Seal Sale which will open here tomorrow.

"Since the first Christmas Seal was sold in 1907, more than seven million lives have been saved from this tragic disease," he said, "but it still costs this nation over $600,000,000 a year."

Tuberculosis costs this nation and this community much more than money, he pointed out. "The cost in worry and heartache, in families separated, in lives crippled by this debilitating disease cannot be measured."

"Christmas Seal dollars spent now are an investment in human lives. They will also mean tax dollars saved in the future," the Mayor said.

Mayor David Gatchel's official proclamation reads:

Construction To Start Monday On New Industry

Construction will begin Monday on the building to house Allen and Company, a new industry locating in the Sanford area, on Nov. 18, according to H. W. Kane, attorney for the firm.

The building will be located just off the Highway 17-92 on a site acquired from the City of Sanford about one mile south of the city limits.

Kane said this morning that construction will take about 90 days and the firm hoped to start production in about 120 days.

Allen and Company will use their facilities for the hardening of metals to be used in the construction of missiles and other government materials.

Seminole County Chamber of Commerce manager John Kridler has been negotiating with the firm to locate in this area for several months.

Offices of the firm are now located in Ravenna, O.

The building will be constructed in two parts. One portion of the structure will be used to house heavy equipment used in the process of hardening metals. The other building will be used for administrative offices, packing, shipping and assembly.

Franco-American Relations Tense

PARIS (AP)—Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said today he would fly to Washington Wednesday to try to straighten out a crisis in Franco-American relations over U. S. arms to Tunisia.

Pineau warned that the supply of American arms to the one-time French protectorate would amount to a breach of Atlantic solidarity.

His statement underlined the gravity of a situation which sent U. S. Ambassador Amory Houghton calling on Premier Felix Gaillard at 2 a. m. today and again at 7 a. m.

Pineau told the National Assembly Foreign Affairs Committee the French government formally requested the United States and Britain not to give arms to Tunisia.

France is afraid any arms received by Tunisia will be used to support the nationalist rebellion in neighboring Algeria. Tunisia said it needs arms to protect itself against French border incidents and said it would go to the Soviet Union if the West does not provide the arms.

A member of the foreign affairs committee said Pineau told the committee the United States had not yet sent arms to Tunisia. Other sources said Houghton informed Gaillard a Russian ship was now en route to Tunisia with a shipment of arms.

So far, Pineau said today, the United States has only the intention of arming Tunisia.

"But if the United States did send Tunisia arms against our protestations then we would consider it a gesture running counter to the principle of Atlantic solidarity."

He then told the committee he would leave for Washington Friday to inform the State Department in person of the storm that blew up in France over Houghton's information that Tunisia soon would receive western arms.

City, County Delegation Will Discuss Docks Project Tonight

The City of Sanford begins looking in earnest tonight for an answer to its problem of securing funds with which to construct the Docks and Terminals project.

Heralded as possibly the most important project in the history of Sanford and Seminole County by most civic and business leaders of the Community, the actual interest in getting the project underway has lagged somewhat over the past decade.

In a recently completed feasibility report prepared for the city by Geo and Jensen of West Palm Beach, the engineers pointed out that possible funds for the project's construction could be made available from the state's Internal Improvement Fund.

Several commissioners who refused to budge from their stand of "no action until complete reports have been received" have now been furnished with a rate analysis from the engineering firm employed by the City of Sanford to study the project's feasibility.

Tonight, members of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners will meet with the Seminole County delegation to talk over possibilities of the commission's next move.

Commissioner Merle Warner suggested the meeting with the delegation in order that the board of commissioners might arrange a meeting with the Cabinet of the State to talk over possibilities of financing the project with state funds said to be available for such improvements.

Invited to the meeting tonight are Senator Douglas Stenstrom, Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., Representative Gordon V. Frederick and J. Braley Odham.

Commissioners meeting with the delegation are Mayor David Gatchel, Commissioner Merle Warner, Commissioner A. L. Wilson, Commissioner F. D. Scott, Commissioner Earl Higginbotham, and Commissioner-elect Robert Brown. Also at the meeting will be City Manager Warren F. Knowles and the City's Finance Director H. N. Sayer.
