North was a trifle weak for his Stayman two club response, but he had fallen in love with his spade sequence. He might well have passed at two diamonds, but North believed in bidding South had no problem about going to game. He only held 16 high-card points, but his three ace appeared to be worth their weight in gold.

Aging Monkeys Get TLC

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer. CASSELBERRY — Just how long will a monkey live in captivity? According to Howard J. Poe of 1501 Carlisle Drive, they'll live a long time if they are given good food, good care and lots of love.

Poe died, Poe brought them to Florida when he retired in 1960. "Both are in good health," Poe said. "Sometimes Joy is a little listless, but she snaps back. Pebo has always been a little fat. She is a little fat, but she is a little fat."

So, even though the monkeys live in adjacent twin cages and in a carefully separated heated wooden house, their relationship has remained platonic. Children from the Duck Pond area visit the two monkeys daily, bringing small gifts of candy, cookies, beans, crackers, bread, celery. They also like dried onions.

Count Dracula Is Alive (?) In Sanford

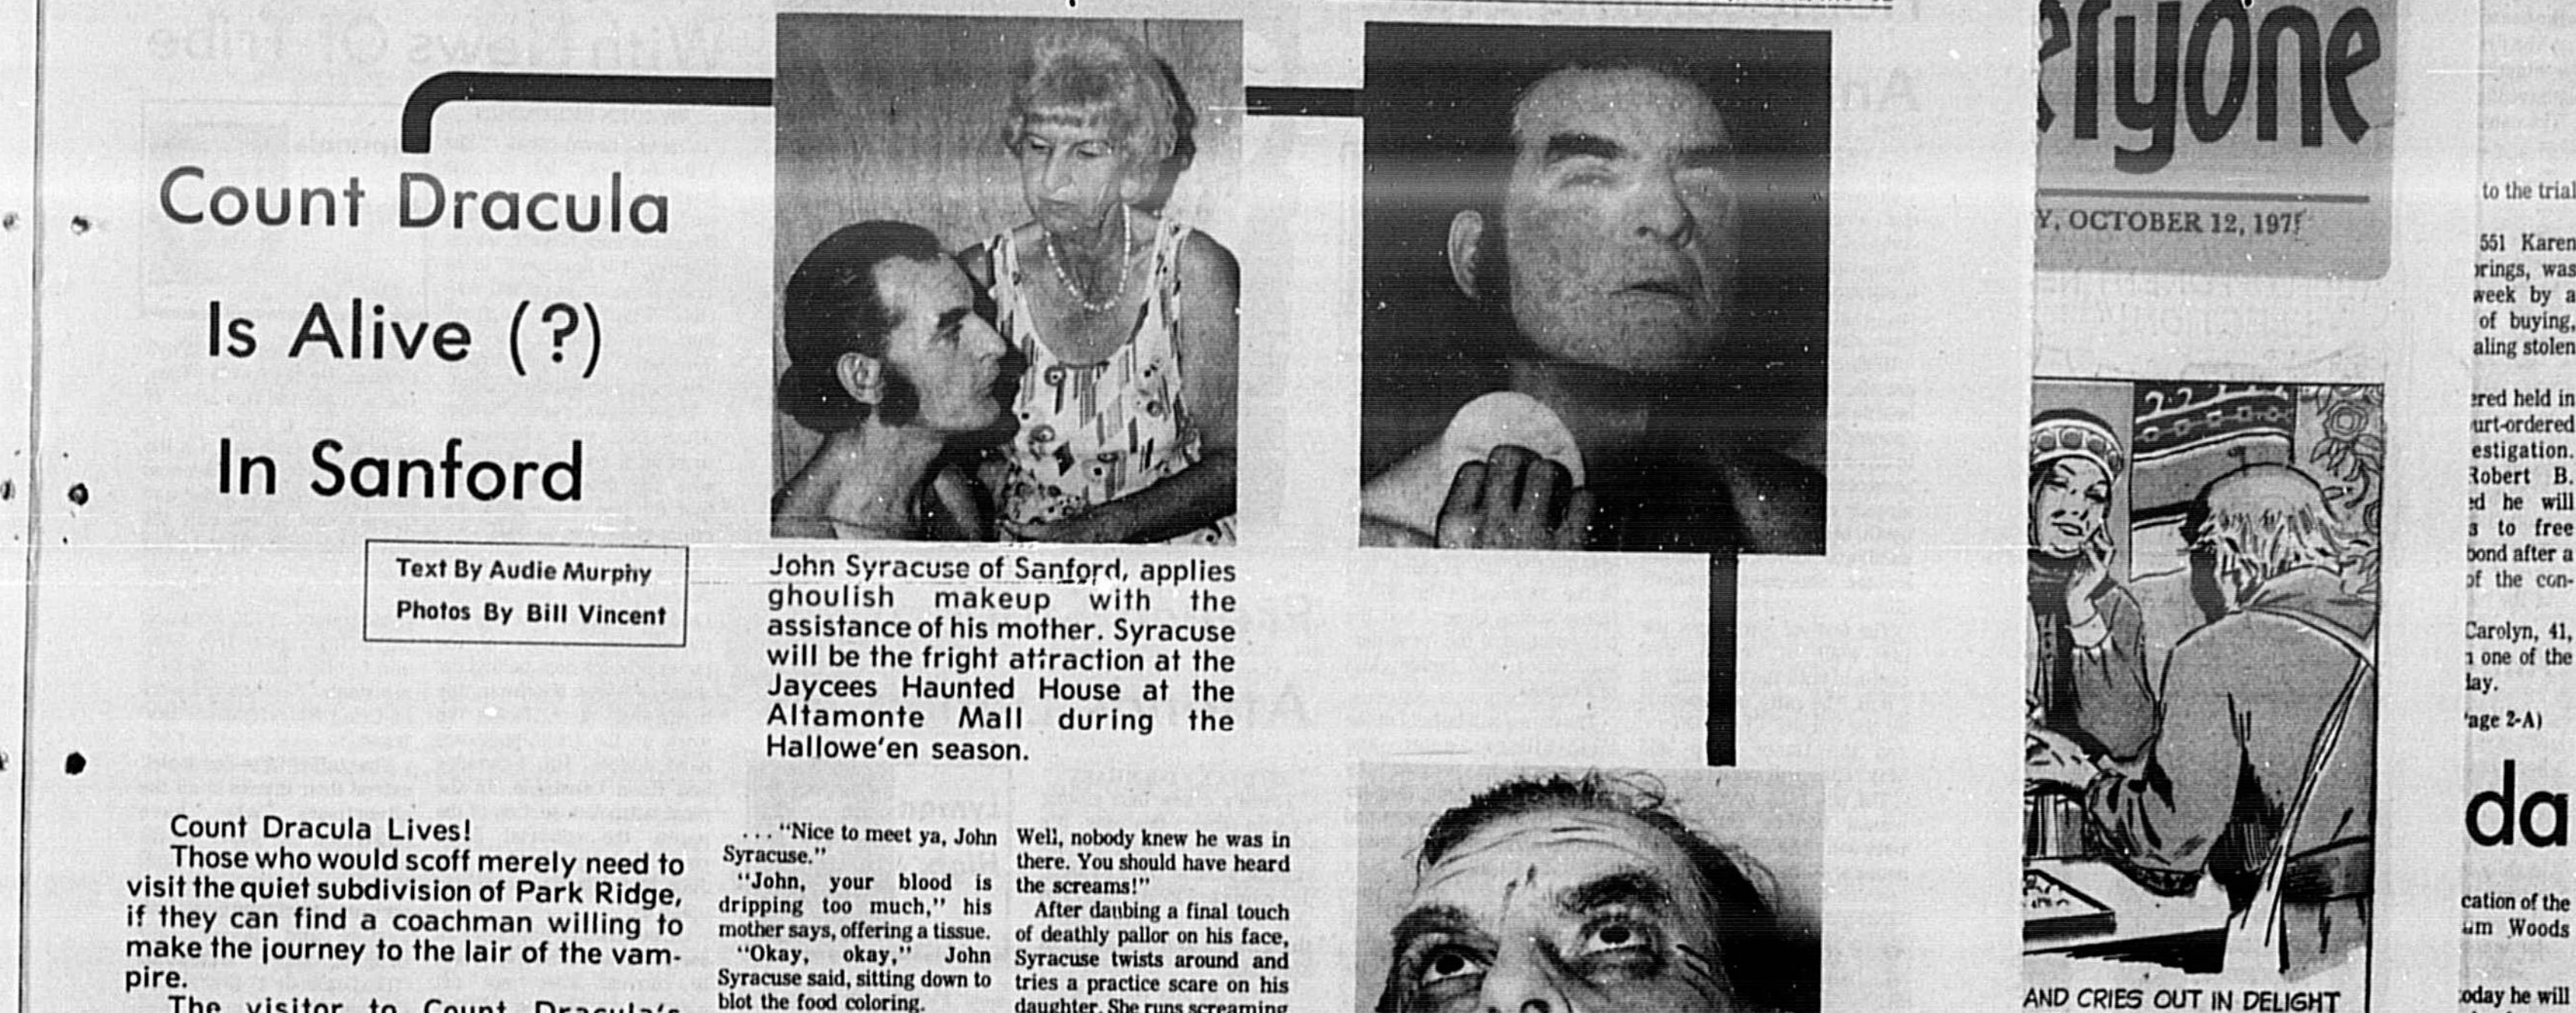

Text by Audie Murphy, Photos by Bill Vincent

Count Dracula Lives! Those who would scoff merely need to visit the quiet subdivision of Park Ridge, if they can find a coachman willing to make the journey to the lair of the vampire.

Yes, there are clues that one is not visiting a mere mortal. Notice the blue Chevrolet parked in the driveway, for instance. Nothing unusual, you say? Then look closely. On the trunk, a hideous spider's web. In the middle of it, a bat, arch-symbol of the Transylvanian count who refuses to die.

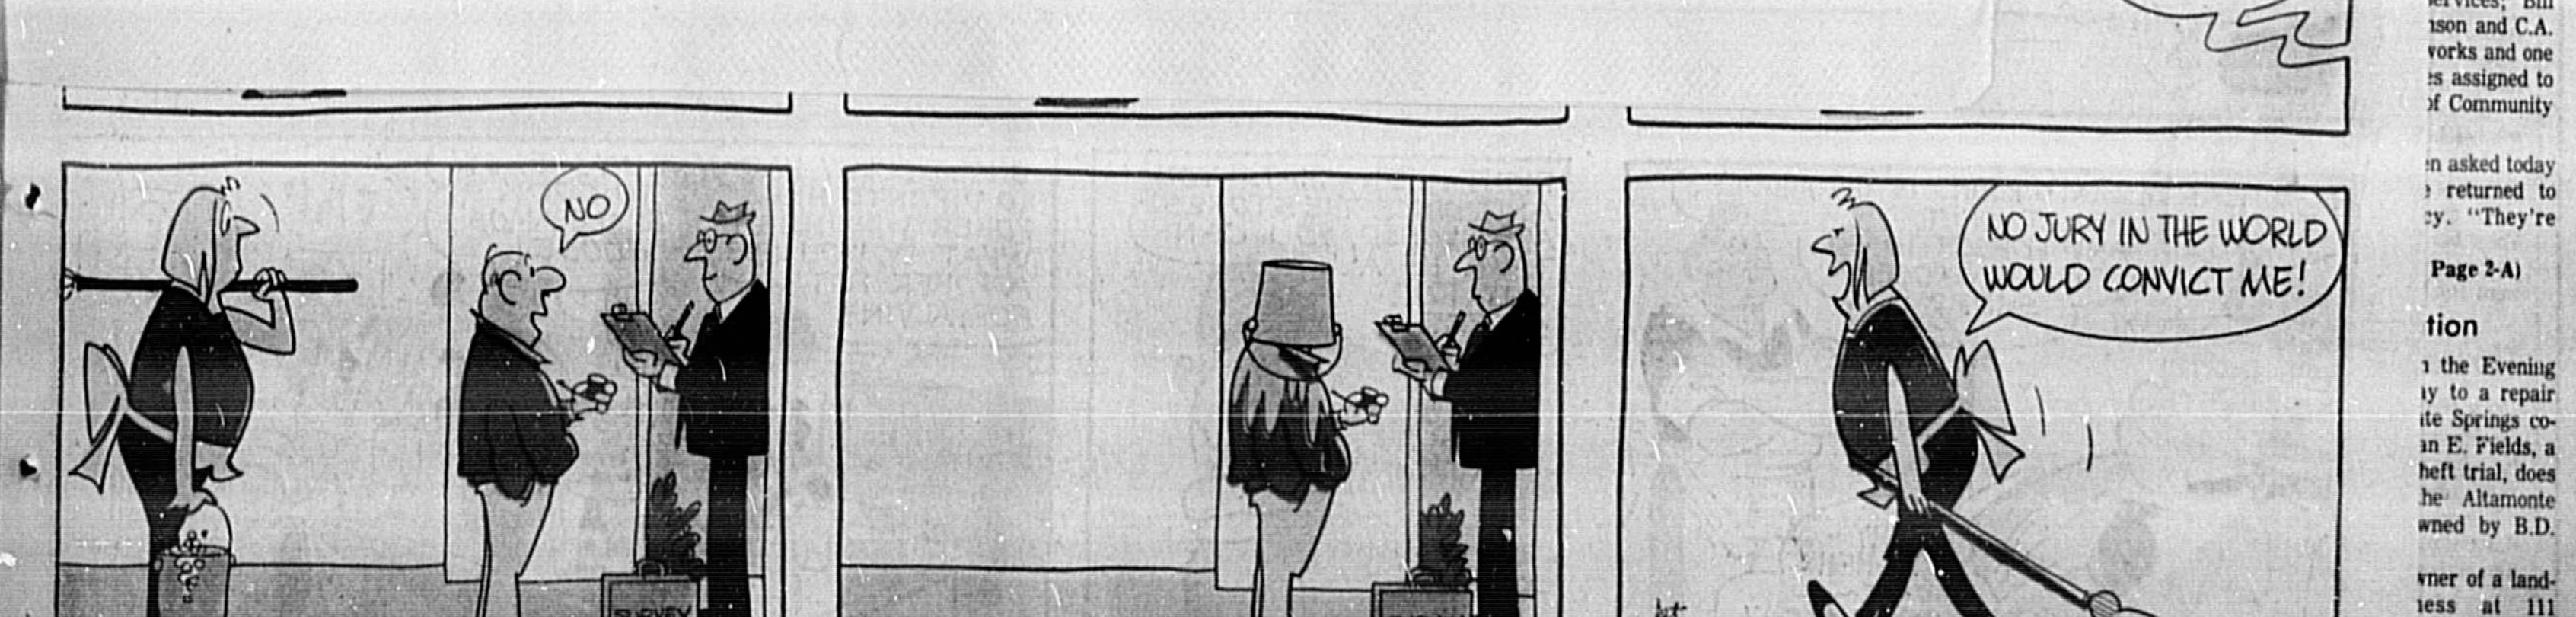

There is a moment of profound silence. Then the dark figure turns in his chair. Dracula! Your worst fears have come true. All those Saturday afternoons at the neighborhood theatre flash before your eyes.

My kingdom for a crucifix! But it is too late. Count Dracula has seen you, and is rising from his chair. Nostrils quivering, eyes glowing with unspeakable evil, blood dripping from his fangs, Dracula approaches you. And offers his hand...

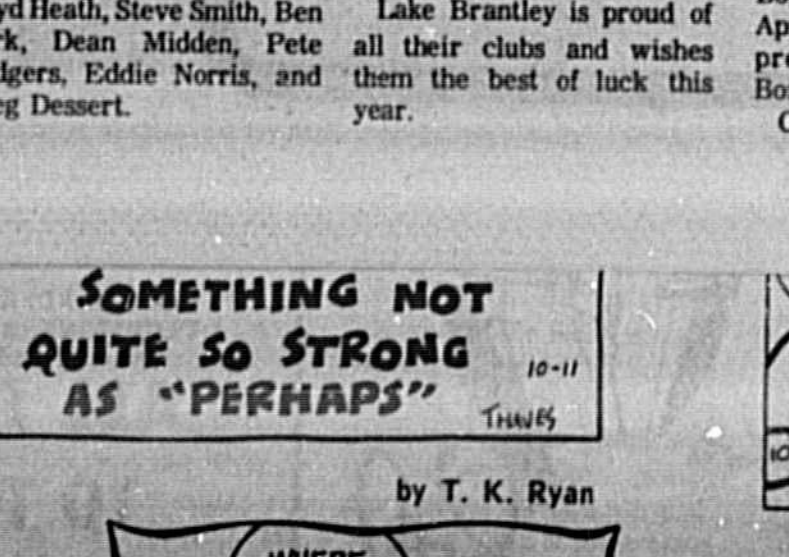

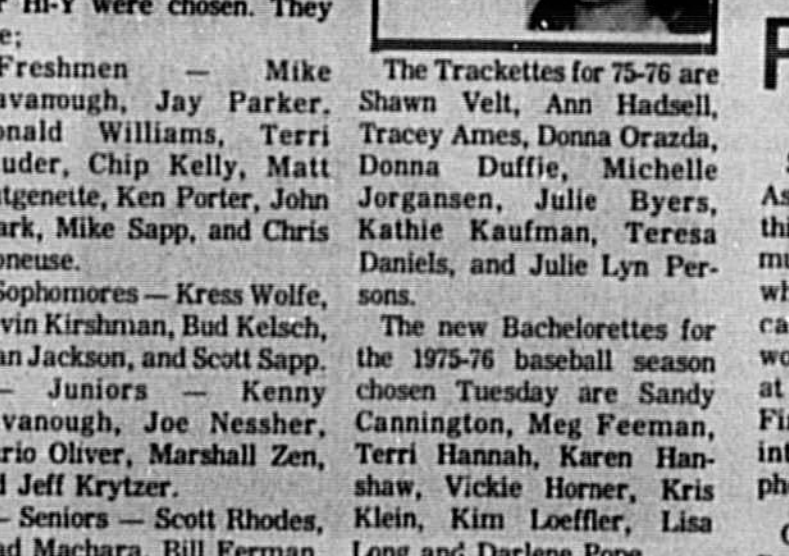

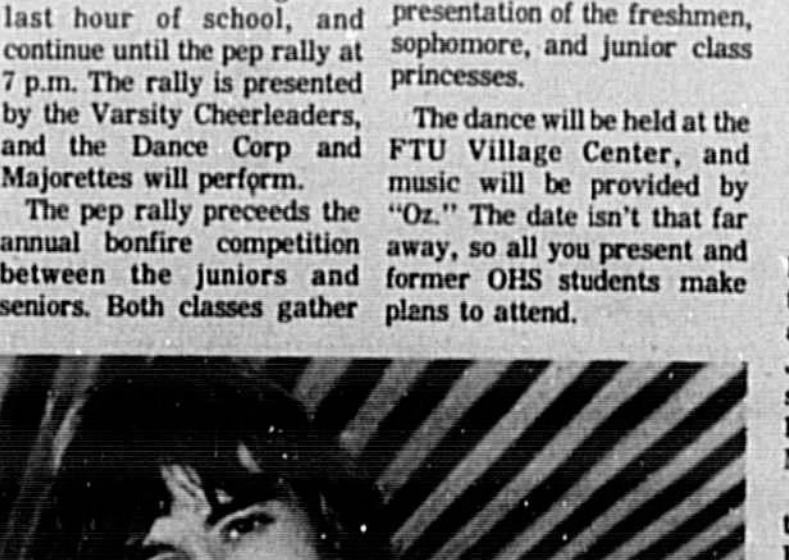

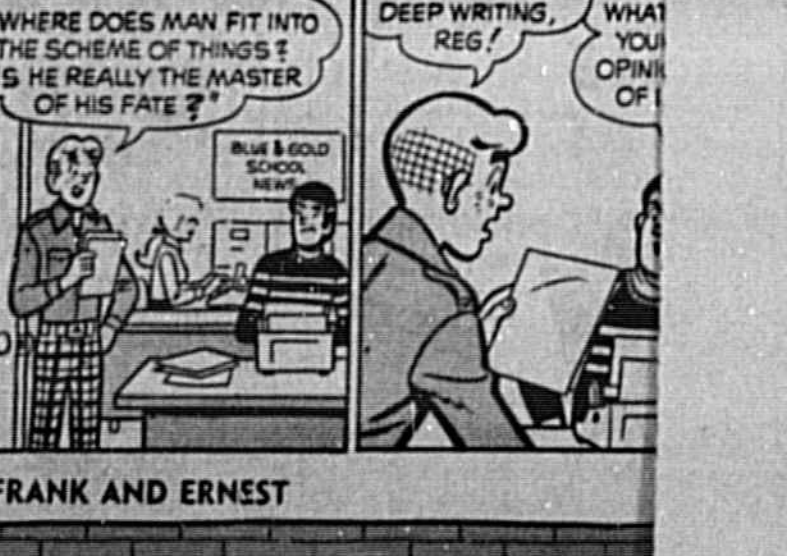

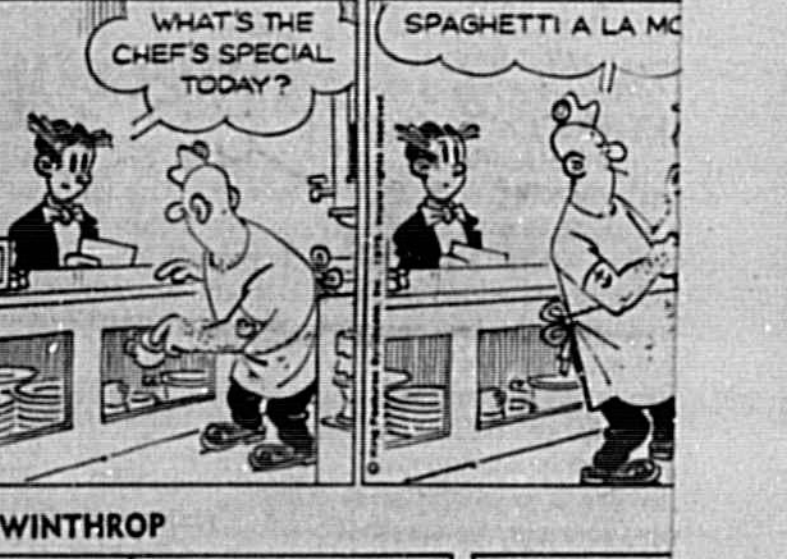

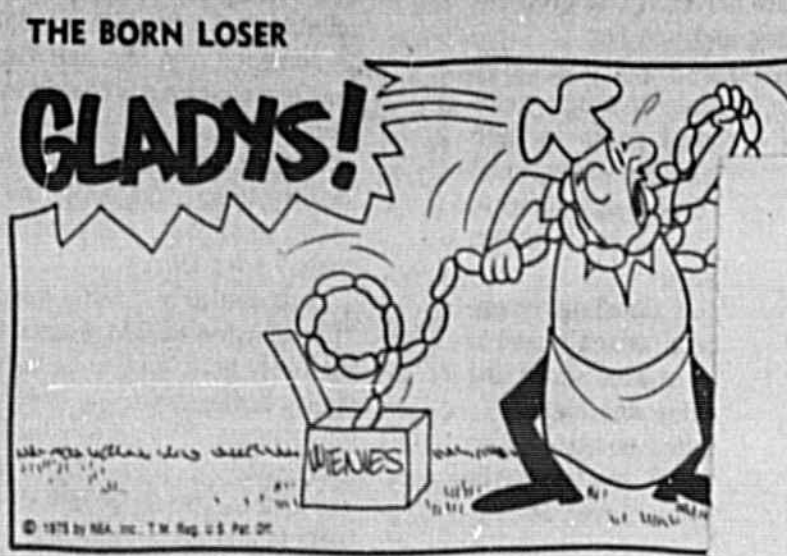

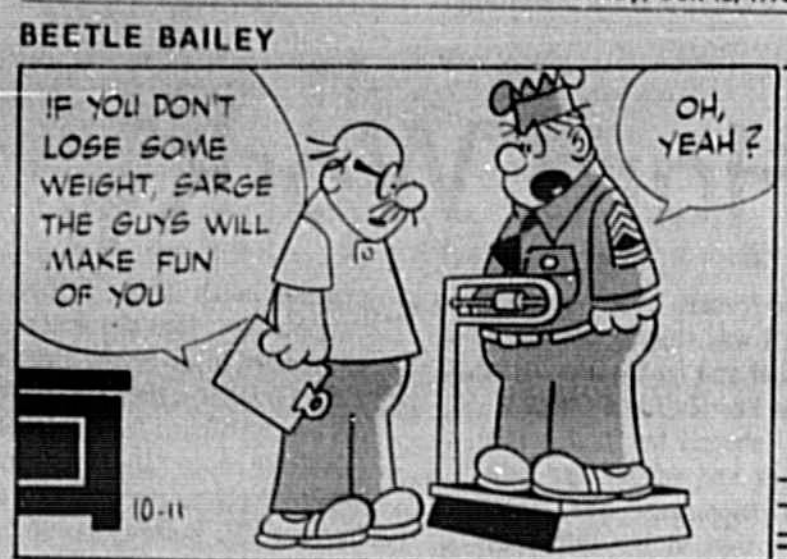

John Syracuse of Sanford, applies ghoulish makeup with the assistance of his mother. Syracuse will be the fright attraction at the Jaycees Haunted House at the Altamonte Mall during the Halloween season.

Well, nobody knew he was in there. You should have heard the screams! "John, your blood is dripping too much," his mother says, offering a tissue.

The Seminole's Back With News Of Tribe

By JOHN FERGUSON You've heard that "The Seminole" is back, too? Confused? Aren't they the same thing? Well, let me clarify. "The Seminole" is the Tribe's mouth, eyes and war-club. What? More confused than ever? Straight out, "The Seminole" is the student newspaper at Seminole High. Big let-down, right? Wrong! After five year's absence, there is a roomful of people who are determined to see that it's one of the most exciting returns to SHS. Now about this roomful of people. At the top is Mrs. Lark Antonie, the prime mover and sponsor of the paper. The big boss behind the scene is Aaron Kaufman, the managing editor. Doing the work on the front page are news editors, Jim Lawrence and Rena Constable. In the most outspoken section of the paper, the editorial page, you'll find Liz Harrison and John Ferguson's express and opinions. On our feature pages are all sorts of news items from club to comics. They are put together by feature editors.

Student Center Fun For Pinball Wizards

By MARTHA McDONALD Walk in front of Trinity's classroom No. 5 and you will hear all sorts of strange sounds - funny bells, excited talk, irregular ball bounces and career laughing. What kind of class is it? It is a Student Center. It occurred to the Headmaster that some sort of recreation room would be an excellent way for the students to find relaxation. The Headmaster, Canon Rees Hay, believes that school should not be all work and no play! The Center is open during third, fifth and sixth periods and after school. During these times the students may come and enjoy ping-pong, football, pin-ball, miniature bowling or just friendly talk. The faculty and administration are taking no part in the center, leaving everything to the committee of interested students. Chairman of the committee is George Taylor, and on it are Bill Schmidt, Julie Corey, Brock Magruder, and Grover Carrier. They will enforce the rules which they set up. The money made will go back into the center for improvements. This idea is a first. Its success will depend entirely upon the students, but they must accept the responsibility.

Bill Ruland, DCT coordinator, said the club will soon be busy raising funds for a trip to Miami Beach, in April, for the State Leadership Convention. One fund raising activity on the agenda will be a Bike Marathon, on Nov. 7. That is also the date of Lake Brantley's Homecoming game, and the Marathon will commence immediately following the game. There will be 26 participants who will be riding bikes on the stadium field for a full 24 hours. Students in the DCT Club attend school in the morning and work in the afternoon.

Jobs Concern Students

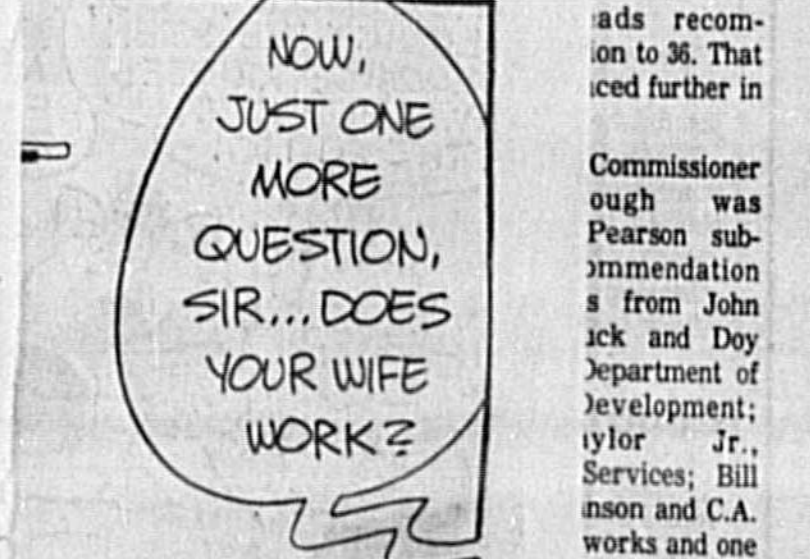

Even more than sports and Saturday night dates, the job market has taken over as the chief topic of conversation among youth today - especially since unemployment for 16 to 19 year olds has topped 19 per cent, more than double the national rate. One of the problems is that high schoolers simply don't plan for careers, according to officials at the U.S. Department of Labor, who cite the lack of knowledge about various career opportunities and inadequate education as major factors. Neal Rosenthal of the Labor Department's Division of Manpower and Occupational Outlook suggests that youths get as much information as possible about careers they would enjoy, including job outlook, duties involved, and educational requirements. Where a high school diploma was once an automatic passport into the work world, today about 80 per cent of jobs require specialized vocational education. The unskilled will have the worst time job hunting since many occupations are becoming increasingly complicated and technical. The discouraging fact is that one out of every three high school graduates leaves school without definite career plans, and as a result is threatened to be left behind in the race for over 50 million job openings expected in the next decade. While a lack of training is a major stumbling block, there isn't a lack of information. The Department of Labor recently published a thick "Occupational Outlook Handbook," an economic crystal ball of sorts since it predicts future opportunities in over 800 occupations. The picture for teachers, realtors, boatwains, for example, is cloudy, while rapid growth is forecast for white collar positions and in the service producing industries such as computers, health care, the trades, repair and maintenance, banking and others. Considerable growth is expected in the area of computers, the world's third largest industry. Computers are produced, used, outmoded and replaced with technical age speed. The need for qualified men and women to operate, maintain and repair them is staggering. There are 150,000 computer operators in 1972, and 175,000 programmers. Both occupations will undergo rapid growth through the mid-1980's requiring an additional 200,000 workers. And, as banks, insurance companies, credit card companies and state and local governments increase their use, not only will the need for people to run them increase, but also for those capable of keeping them in good repair. The need for computer maintenance men will increase from 175,000 to 250,000 by 1985, according to the U. S. Department of Labor. In fact, the Handbook predicts that replacement of just about anything from toasters to airplanes is one of the fastest growing occupations there. Demand is expected to increase rapidly due to many factors including a growing population and an American to buy more labor saving devices, which inevitably have to be fixed. A well-paid field, salary ranges between $44 per hour - and every community needs its share of repairmen. While the trade may be learned on the job in about three years, vocational school courses will teach a trainee more quickly, usually in 4 to 9 months. But the home is not the only place where gadgets are liable to break down. The Labor Department predicts that office machines are also going to need increasing attention as businesses and state and local governments buy and use more equipment to handle a growing volume of paper work which has to be typed, tabulated, copied, and perhaps even shredded. At least one year of training is required in this repair field due to the complicated and ever-changing technology involved. High schoolers and others about to plan careers would do well to consider the rapidly growing medical field. Employing over 3.5 million people, the outlook is excellent for qualified job seekers due to an increasing health consciousness among Americans made possible by more widespread insurance coverage, either private or through federal programs of health care. Besides physicians and nurses, millions of paramedics - medical assistants, operating room technicians, medical secretaries, nurses aides, dieticians, dental assistants, and many others - carry out the work of administering health care; and all are expected to be in very great demand over the next decade! Because of the maze of specialties, each requiring equally specialized training, many good jobs are passed over by young people. After all, how many children grow up wanting to be an optometric assistant? - Only about 11,000 as of 1972, yet this field offers a secure and interesting career. An equally little known field of respiratory therapy - is in much demand, with good chances of advancement; yet only 1,800 respiratory therapists are available for the many thousands of hospitals and clinics. While B.A. may be obtained in respiratory therapy, shorter concentrated courses are given at vocational schools, reducing the time for training from four years to 18 months. There are literally hundreds of similar careers going unnoticed by many Americans. To sum up the advice given by U.S. Labor Department officials - look before you leap into the job market.

ALETA ARRIVES AT THE BOOTH AND CRIES OUT IN DELIGHT AT THE JEWELLED ORNAMENTS AND FABRICS OF MANY COLORS. 'BUT THAT IS NOT ALL,' CONFIDES THE SHOPKEEPER, 'THE BEST TREASURES ARE IN THE BACK ROOM.'

IN THAT ROOM STANDS HASHIDA, SUAVE, SMILING, HIS BRIGHT JEWEL SWINGING RHYTHMICALLY. 'BE SEATED, MY LADY, FOR SHOPPING IS TIRING. THE HOT SUN HAS MADE YOU SLEEPY. YES, YOU ARE SLEEPY.'

HE EXERTS THE FULL POWER OF HIS WILL: 'SLEEP!' ALETA'S EYES ARE BLANK. SHE MAKES ONE EFFORT TO REGAIN HER COMPOSURE, BUT THE GLITTERING JEWEL DISTRACTS HER.

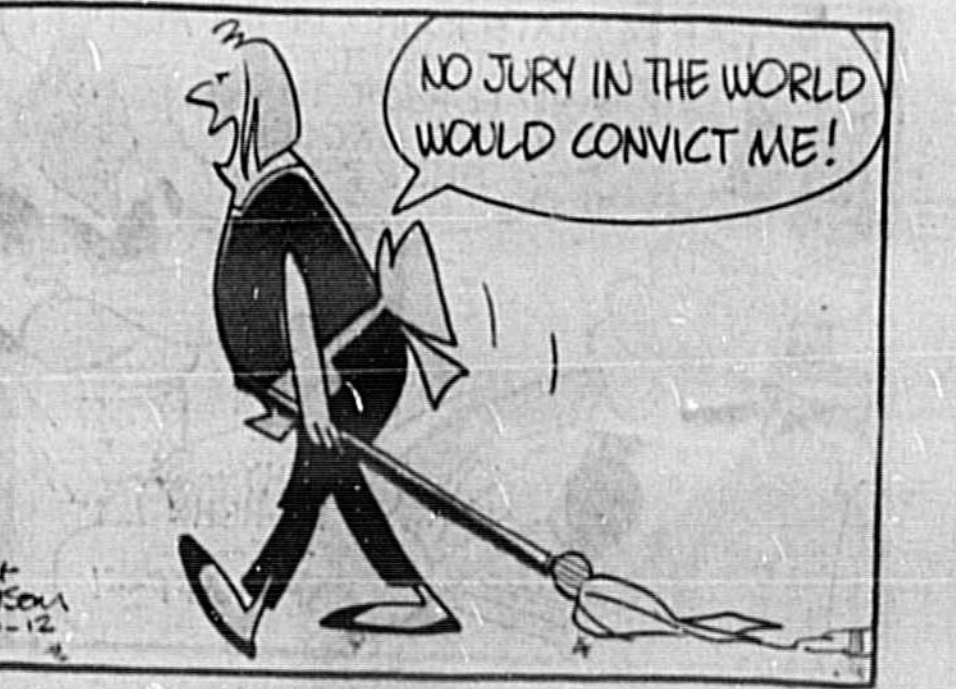

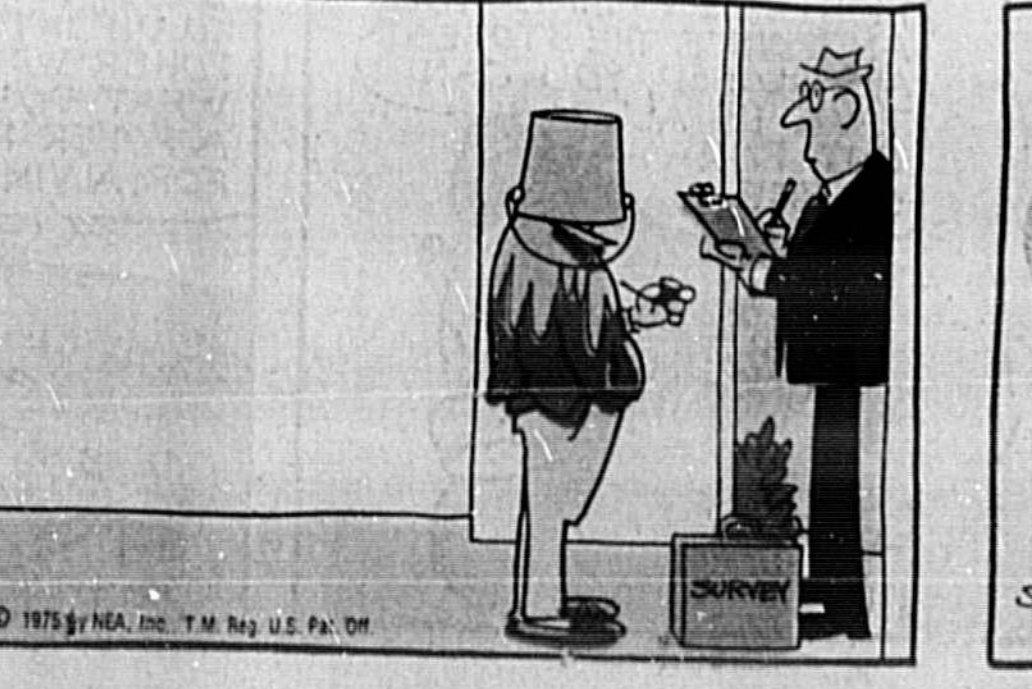

'THIS WINE WILL REFRESH YOU.' HE FILLS TWO GOBLETS. SHE DRINKS HERS, HE PUTS HIS DOWN, UNTOUCHED.

To keep them matched properly after washing, I fold each pair in the middle and then put a rubber band around them. DEAR POLLY — When my cancelled personalized checks are returned, I cut off the corners with my name and address and they are used instead of name and address labels. A FIRE NEEDS FUEL, HEAT AND AIR TO BURN. TAKE AWAY ANY ONE OF THESE, AND THE FIRE WILL GO OUT. WHEN A FIREMAN SOLIFIES WATER ON THE BURNING WALL OF A BUILDING, THE WATER DOES SOMETHING MUCH MORE IMPORTANT THAN DROWNING THE FLAMES. IT COOLS THE BURNING WALL, BY COOLING THE WALL BELOW ITS KINDLING POINT--THE TEMPERATURE BELOW WHICH IT WILL NOT BURN--THE FIRE DIES OUT.

Review Could Cut Tax

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

Land taxes could have been reduced this year by more than $1-million if the Seminole County Commission had control of all budgets, Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski said today.

Miffed that certain county agencies' budgets were not subject to review, Kwiatkowski believes a local agency should be set up to review all budgets, or else the commission should do it.

In a letter to homeowners, he said that "probably the most irritating factor of the entire budget process was the inequality of the budget review process."

Kwiatkowski listed budgets which were not subject to review by the county's "professional budget analysis staff, or the county commission, or the citizens of Seminole County at a public hearing."

"In other words," he said, "the listed entities can just about set their own budget level without direct Seminole County citizen review or knowledge, and then, include it (hide it) in the overall commission budget."

The Board of County Commissioners is then obligated by law to fund that entity at its chosen budget level," he said.

"It became evident to the board that a substantial tax decrease (up to one mill) could have been possible if a local agency, responsible to the mandate of local citizens, were involved and had control of the budget review process," he added.

One mill equals $1,000,000. In a series of budget cutting sessions, the commission reduced $23-million requests to slightly more than $18-million. Thus, the tax at present is 5.40 mills, or landowners will pay $5.40 per $1,000 of taxable property. Last year's budget was $18-million.

Kwiatkowski listed the following agencies he would like to see reviewed by the commission.

— Seminole Memorial Hospital, 1974-75 budget was $47,775 compared to $417,225 for fiscal 75-76. Increase, Kwiatkowski says, was 664 per cent.

— Property appraiser. Went up from $514,735 last year to $579,438 this year.

— Tax collector, went from $153,468 to $227,000 for a 35.2 per cent increase.

— Clerk of Circuit Court, went from $45,000 to $185,000 for a 260 per cent increase.

— Sheriff, went from $1,915,618 to $2,496,868 for a 12.7 per cent increase. (The sheriff's budget has been appealed and a decision is expected later this month).

— Circuit Court Judges, went from $20,000 to $85,000 for a 272.2 per cent increase.

Rail Crossing Ordinance On Commission Agenda

The Seminole County Commission will consider an ordinance on Tuesday that prohibits trains from blocking railroad crossings longer than five minutes.

The measure, as presently drawn by County Attorney Tom Freeman, holds railroad personnel liable for any blockage longer than the five minutes specified in the ordinance.

The penalty is a $500 fine and/or 40 days in jail. Sheriff John Polk has expressed some reservations about his department being able to enforce the ordinance.

The ordinance, that comes up in response to complaints about trains blocking the SR 46 crossing, is the main artery into Sanford and Seminole Memorial Hospital from the interstate highway.

If railroad officials wish to block a crossing longer than five minutes, they must appear before the commission and state the reason, the ordinance states. Then, at the next regularly scheduled meeting, the commission will rule on the request.

If the reason is deemed valid, the railroad would be required to take out an advertisement in a local newspaper advising citizens of the crossing to be blocked, the exact reason and the length of time the crossing will be blocked.

In other business, Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. is scheduled to poll the commission this week for a response as to when negotiations should begin with Lester Mandell for purchase of a clay pit site near Markham Woods Road.

Vihlen said last week he will seek some direction this week.

The commission approved a $517,000 bond issue to pay for

Crowder Hires New Attorneys, Trial Delayed

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

Three trials scheduled for this week for Altamonte Springs bar owner Donald R. Crowder have been delayed until the week of Nov. 17.

Circuit Court Judge J. William Woodson today granted continuances in the buying, receiving and concealing stolen property cases after Orlando attorneys Robert James Buonanno and James M. Powers entered the cases as defense counsel.

Crowder previously had been represented by Tom Freeman and Ned Woolfolk.

Buonanno told the court he cases, did not object to the trial delays.

Crowder, 44, of 561 Karen Ave., Altamonte Springs, was found guilty last week by a circuit court jury of buying, receiving and concealing stolen property.

Crowder was ordered held in jail pending a court-ordered pre-sentence investigation. Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor indicated he will consider requests to free Crowder on appeal bond after a notice of appeal of the conviction is filed.

Crowder's wife, Carolyn, 41, is a co-defendant in one of the cases continued today.

Sanford Water Treatment Facing New Requirements

By JOE ASKREN Herald Staff Writer

In a letter to be read to City Commissioners at their 7 p.m. meeting today, B.C. Conklin, with Clark, Dittz and Associates Engineers Inc., said in part:

"Sanford is not in too bad shape, even if they had to add surface water-type treatment because your water supplies are rather consolidated and we did look at such possibility when the original plant at the Country Club was designed.

"Obviously what I think is gradually coming is a lot more treatment and a tendency to regionalization and consolidation; with the way it's starting off it will be somewhat gradual, especially because of the current economic situation and some of the lessons learned from the basic sewage treatment law." Conklin said in his letter to City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles.

Conklin explained that the state has gradually been increasing water treatment requirements on a number of counties and much of South Florida is under orders to go to complete "surface water-type treatment" rather than "our very minimal aeratin and settling and chlorination."

Regular agenda items include a public hearing to consider rezoning part of property between Inwood Ave. and Mohawk Ave. and between Santa Barbara Drive and DeSoto Drive to S.R. 1.

A public hearing is also set to consider closing, vacating and abandoning alleys between Holly Ave. and Cedar Ave. and between West First St. and Commercial St.

20 Lose County Vehicles

The Seminole County Commission today reduced the number of county vehicles used by departmental employees 24 hours a day from 31 to 31.

The reductions were decided on at a work session attended by Commissioners Sid Vihlen Jr., Mike Hattaway and Dick Williams.

The 20 less cars which will be used around the clock were a result of a study by the county's Office of Management, Analysis and Evaluation (OMAE). The reductions were recommended by OMAE chief Sig Pearson.

Initially, 51 vehicles were on 24-hour assignment. Then department heads recommended reduction to 36. That number was reduced further in today's session.

Though liaison Commissioner John Kimbrough was absent today, Pearson submitted his recommendation which took cars from John Percy, John Buck and Doy Presley of the Department of Community Development; Emmett Taylor Jr., Environmental Services; Bill Bush, Julian Johnson and C.A. Scott Jr., public works and one of the two vehicles assigned to the Department of Community Services.

However, Vihlen asked today that vehicles be returned to Bush and Percy. "They're WINTER SPRINGS—Qualifying papers for the Group 4 City Council set race were picked up Friday by City Councilman John Daniels for his wife, Mary. Qualifying period begins Wednesday and will close Nov. 1.

Group 4 incumbent in the Dec. 2 municipal election, Councilman Irene Van Eppeh, has said she intends to run for reelection.

Last year, Daniels was appointed to the Group II seat and instead of running for the one year remaining in the term chose to try for the Group 3 seat, thus unseating the incumbent, John Booth, and winning a two-year term.

Daniels said last week he had not yet decided whether to serve out the term on council or run for the office of mayor currently held by Troy Piland, but with the interest of Mrs. Daniels in the council race it is expected Daniels will now file for mayor.

Also up for election is the remaining year in the Group 2 seat currently held by Ernest Hendricks. Hendricks was appointed May to the vacancy left by the resignation of first term Frank Durrance, Jr.

City Clerk Mrs. Mary Norton will serve as clerk of the election and Helen Green, Louise Owens, Norma Lang and Ruth Mewes will be inspectors.
