Querying Alleged Triggerman On Lake Wales Probe Agenda

Strolling In Sanford

The Sanford Duplicate Bridge Club will have its first afternoon of play Monday at 1:30 o'clock at the Valdez Hotel. Director for the afternoon will be Mrs. W. H. Clifton. The public is invited. Playing fee is 50 cents. Further information may be secured by calling Mrs. Earl Higginbotham at 1443-W.

Brownie and Girl Scouts will be the guests in swimming Tuesday at 11 a. m. More than 200 children are expected to attend the camping facility.

The Morris M.Q. Ranch will open Sunday at 11 a. m. More than 200 children are expected to attend the camping facility.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary met yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. Elpin, with Mrs. M. Smith, president, conducting the meeting. General business and projects were the main items of discussion. Those present were Mrs. W. Elder, Mrs. E. Lavy, Mrs. R. Riggs, Mrs. L. Mealk, Mrs. M. Smith, Mrs. H. Elpin, Mrs. T. M. Dillard, Mrs. H. Webster, Mrs. H. Doolittle, Mrs. B. Brady, Mrs. M. Smith, and Mrs. J. Jandula. Mrs. B. Kingsley, Department Chief of Staff, and two members from the Deland auxiliary were guests of the evening. Anyone who is eligible to join the Auxiliary may contact any of the members. The next meeting will be held June 21 at 800 E. 20th Street.

Grand Jury Indicts Ex-Volusia Sheriff

JACKSONVILLE — A Federal Grand Jury yesterday indicted Alex B. Littlefield, former Volusia County sheriff and state legislator, on charges of cheating the government out of more than $10,000 in income taxes in 1947-48.

One count says he reported $10,489 income in 1947 but should have reported $21,018 and $4,150. A second count accuses him of reporting $2,008 income and $732 taxes due for 1948 when he should have reported $29,555 income and $6,683 taxes due.

The first count implicated a complaint filed last month by the U. S. district attorney's office to halt expiration of the six-year statute of limitations for the alleged free-look on $1,000 bond.

Hearing On Action To Remove Judge Blocked By Court

MIAMI — Hearing of removal charges against Municipal Judge Cecil C. Curry on June 21 by the city commission was blocked by a Circuit Court injunction.

Circuit Judge Grady L. Crawford yesterday enjoined the commission from the hearing pending a Circuit Court ruling on Curry's injunction move against the commission and its effort to cut him on charges of misconduct in office.

Dulles Says Efforts At Thrift Sometimes Have Backfired

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles conceded that his efforts to save a dollar here and a dollar there have sometimes backfired.

"I personally scratch out words here and there to save a few dollars on every cable," Dulles told the Senate Appropriations Committee in secret testimony May 17 and made public.

Dulles acknowledged that editing cables to save money would seem like a job that could be performed by someone whose time was less valuable than the Secretary of State's, but he added:

"I think I have to do that not only for the actual savings itself, but to set an example along the line."

Dulles took no far Eastern exception to the Berlin conference in January, he said, fearing this might "look like a waste of money" and then when Far Eastern problems arose "we were embarrassed because I did not have YOLANDE GRAFO, 22, tells a weird tale in the office of her attorney in New York of her romance with John Francis Roche, confessed killer of four persons. When the couple became engaged in March, Roche phoned Yolande after Marion Brown, blonde waitress, had been slain nearby, and walked her home for protection. The Brown slaying is one of the four Roche admits.

Sheriff's Deputies Capture Kidnap Suspects In Fight

TAMPA — Sheriff's deputies captured two Negroes amid gunfire yesterday after the son of a kidnap victim arranged a rendezvous under the guise of paying ransom.

Cyrus Schiro, 60, Tampa wholesale banana man, had been taken on a six-hour drive Wednesday night by the two who released him when he promised to pay $1,000.

On the ride, he reported, his abductors robbed him, then tied and gagged him in the trunk of his car and threatened to pour gasoline over the vehicle and set fire to it with him inside.

Thursday afternoon the 19 Steve Schiro, received a telephone call demanding the $1,000. He called officers and 10 deputies stationed themselves about the meeting place.

Chief Criminal Deputy Ross Anderson said Roosevelt Williams, 20, and Ois Adams, 20, tried to flee and were caught after several shots were fired.

Anderson reported Williams admitted having part in the kidnap but claimed that Adams had nothing to do with it. Both men are being held on charges of various crimes until investigations are completed, the officer said.

Delivery Of Bonds Set For Wednesday

City manager Warren Knowles today stated that the date for delivery of the City's $1,175,000 bond issue to the New York bonding house of Shields & Co., has definitely been set for next Wednesday.

City officials will journey to New York with the bonds June 15 and are expected to return with the money, to be deposited in both local banks.

At a called meeting last week, the commission was advised by a fiscal agent, William Holt, to complete the transaction immediately and to accept the New York company offer to purchase the bonds at a little under 3.48 per cent interest.

The City manager was notified by the phone from New York that the company had decided on June 16 as the date to complete the transaction.

The people who knew the China situation.

"Sometimes we make a saving which obviously is detrimental to the interests of the United States," he said.

Dulles conceded that in trying to hold State Department expenses to a "very austere basis," he cut too many words out of a cable to Moscow carrying parts of President Eisenhower's Dec. 8 speech to the United Nations proposing a peace-time atomic pool.

"In order to save money I decided we better cable parts of it," he said, rather than send the full text.

The Communists printed the "full reply which was made by Malenkov a few days later," Dulles said, "and when we objected to them that they only published part of the speech of Eisenhower, and all the speech of the other fellow, they said this is the only part you sent us."

Dulles said that as a result "much of the most effective propaganda stuff was left off."

Arrest Pensacola Millhand, Charge With Conspiracy

BARTOW (AP) — Questioning of a new alleged triggerman was the big order of business today in the investigation of the Lake Wales murder for profit plot.

This man, Raymond James, 32, a Pensacola millhand, was arrested there yesterday on a charge of conspiring to murder K. H. Gerlach, and was brought here during the night.

Sheriff Pat Gordon said he had information that James agreed to kill Gerlach, wealthy Lake Wales calendar manufacturer, for $5,000 but balked when principals would pay only $2,500 in advance.

In this case James is accused of conspiring with Willard Durden, Orlando building contractor, and Emmett Donnelly, Lake Wales lawyer who killed himself Tuesday after being released on bond in three other murder conspiracy cases.

Durden and Donnelly were arrested Monday and charged with a second conspiracy against Gerlach's life and plots to kill two wealthy widows, Mrs. Byrd Roach of Lake Wales and Mrs. Louise Hawley of Orlando.

Sheriff Gordon said Durden conspired to these three conspiracies with Donnelly alone, and that Durden tagged the lawyer the master mind.

"There is no doubt" that Donnelly was the guiding figure, County Special Investigator Hamp Gandy said today.

Special Investigator Hamp Gandy said today Raymond James, Pensacola millhand, admitted being hired "to do a job" by a man accused of murder conspiracy but backed out when he realized what the job was.

Solicitor Clifton Kelly asked Kelly said he was not convinced Durden told all he knew about the cases.

Donnelly handled the financial affairs of all three and stood to profit by $5,000 each handling of their funds when they died. An investigator said Durden admitted he was to get $25,000 for arranging the deaths of each one, Gordon said.

But Durden, rearrested after James was brought into the case, denied knowing anything about a plot with James. He was jailed in default of $15,000 bond. After he confessed in the earlier cases, he had been freed under bond of only $5,000.

Sheriff Gordon reported James first came into the case in January through a telephone conversation from a Tampa restaurant during which an operator heard a reference to a killing. Later there was a second conversation about the same matter.

The sheriff said these calls were made to the numbers for Donnelly's home and his office in Lake Wales.

Board Will Sell School At Auction

At yesterday's meeting of the County board of public instruction, a delegation of Chuluota residents lodged objections to the possibility of the board selling the old Chuluota school house to a church.

Two opposing factions clashed at the meeting when Walter H. Routh pastor of the area's Baptist Church, armed with a petition containing 27 signatures, requested the board to honor its agreement to sell the school to the church for $650.

R. T. Milwee, County superintendent of public instruction, today stated that when the board considered the agreement, it had been informed that 95 per cent of the people wanted it that way.

Yesterday's statement stated that most of the people wanted it for a community house, and demanded if it were to be sold, that the board do so at public auction.

Milwee ordered that the building be returned to its original status for the present. The church had already moved into it.

"It will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder," Milwee stated today. No date of the sale has yet been set.

One Street Remains In Repair Project

Barring rain today, the City's 10-man road crew will begin laying a primary coat on Willow Ave. in Wynnewood, according to Warren Knowles, City manager.

Knowles said that the job would be completed in approximately one day. However, a delay of from five to six days will be necessary before the final coat can be laid. "It will take that long for the primary coat to settle," according to the manager. Resurfacing of the street will complete extensive road and street repairs in Wynnewood.

Leaders Appear At Battle Scene In Indochina

HANOI, Indochina — French and Vietnamese leaders called the area of the imperiled Red River Delta in person today against Vietnam forces threatening the capital area from three sides and from within.

Paul Ely, French military and political chief in Indochina, arrived here last night with the promise he would lead the fight against the Communist-led rebels.

U. S. Officials Are Deeply Concerned Over French Crisis

WASHINGTON — U. S. officials are deeply concerned over the political crisis developing in the French government. They fear it will have a further paralyzing effect on Allied efforts to halt the Communist in Southeast Asia.

The fact which stands out in connection with the diplomatic military campaign which the Communists are relentlessly pressing in Paris and generally debate the limit from for action on Indochina.

The Western diplomat put it this way: "There has been a lot of discussion between the United States and France about framing Vietnam troops but by the time they get it all settled the Vietnam may not be there to train its men."

French authorities here reported that they can be sure when the Communist forces of Ho Chi Minh following up their triumph at Dien Bien Phu a few weeks ago, will launch a big attack to take the Red River Delta, the key city of Hanoi and its port, Haiphong.

Both American and French leaders agree the Reds can make the drive pretty much on their own terms. The French assert they will run up a terrific fight.

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday that the French and native forces could have some outside help in fighting for Hanoi but offered no sign that the United States was going to provide such help in the way of combat support. It is already providing arms and equipment.

All the evidence indicates there is no American plan to intervene with military forces in behalf of the efforts of Hanoi.

Resignation Of 12 Teachers Of Public Schools Accepted

Resignations of 12 Seminole County public school teachers were accepted at yesterday's meeting of the County board of public instruction, according to R. T. Milwee, County superintendent.

Reasons given by the resigning teachers ranged from ill health to pressing family circumstances. "Several of the teachers are married to service personnel who have received transfer orders," commented the superintendent.

Four other teachers have retired making a total of 16 vacancies in the school system. This, however, has been somewhat alleviated.

The board yesterday appointed 12 new teachers. All but three of these have been appointed to Southside Primary School, while the remaining teachers were from schools over the county.

Those who resigned are R. B. Collette, Seminole High School; L. R. Frick, Junior High School; F. H. Thacher, R. E. Elise, M. G. Chamer, Maxwell Parkland, R. L. Grimes, and Gordon Self, all of Southside.

USDA Revises Its Estimate Of Crop

LAKELAND — The U. S. Department of Agriculture today announced that this season's orange crop would come to 200,000 boxes, an increase of 1 million boxes over the last estimate.

The additional, however, should make little difference because the crop is now estimated to be 200,000 boxes, the figure for 1953 was 199,000 boxes.

The forecast in October was 199,000 boxes. The figure later was raised to 200,000.

The forecast for grapefruit was 12 million boxes, an increase of 3 million boxes over the last estimate.

Longwood

By BEVERLY EATON

Plans for a gala Fourth of July holiday are under way in Longwood. Delegates from various clubs will attend the Chamber of Commerce meeting, June 19, for discussion of ideas that will help to make a stay-at-home, safe and sound Fourth.

A parade, baby contest, fireworks, and games of all sorts, including a baseball game between fathers and sons, are among the items to come under discussion.

Graduation exercises for the Longwood kindergarten were held Sunday afternoon, May 30, at the American Legion Home on Francis Lake.

Among those participating in the ceremonies were Robert Moley, Kent Fuller, Paul Lambert, Bobby Joe Fry and Diana Fuller. Graduates of this school, headed by Mrs. Ralph Stevens, will attend first grade at Lyman School next fall.

Commencement exercises were held at Lyman School Wednesday, June 2. The graduating class included Jack Swearingen, Ellis King, Barbara Godbee, Alfred Stuckey, Jack Matzinger, Bobby Widdie, Robert Zorette, Alan Moran, Walter Miller, Jack McLellan, Bobby Hattaway, Edward Thomas, and Tony Holley.

Highlights of the evening were the invocation given by the Rev. H. Lytle Zimmerman of Sanford, which was followed by the salutatory address given by Miss H. T. Milver. County superintendent of public instruction, introduced the speaker of the evening, Seminole County Judge Douglas Stearns.

Walter Miller gave the valedictory address and presented the members of the senior class to Principal E. S. Douglas, who gave the graduates their diplomas.

The benediction was given by the Rev. M. D. Jackson of Longwood. Musical numbers during the evening were presented by the school glee club, directed by Mrs. Bennett Land.

The Longwood town council voted at its regular monthly meeting to buy a 74-horsepower fire siren to replace the present one.

Several complaints have been brought before the council that the present one is not powerful enough to be heard by the volunteer firemen.

The new siren which will be placed 75 feet above the present one on the water tower can be heard for several miles and will enable the firemen to answer a call more rapidly.

Hearings for violations of ordinance No. 124 concerning the removal of all trailers being used as permanent living quarters from the town of Longwood were postponed Tuesday night by Mayor Jesse Cottingham.

Trials for the violators will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Town Hall and all interested parties are urged to attend.

A summer vacation schedule has been set up for the children of Longwood by the various organizations in the area.

The Longwood Chamber of Commerce recently held a playday which included a marble tournament, a net show, foot races and a basketball shoot, and it is now working on the formation of a baseball team and a Boy Scout troop.

In conjunction with the Longwood Civic League, the Longwood Chamber is sponsoring a Saturday afternoon reading session.

As a special event last Saturday, these two organizations sponsored a costume parade in which the boys and girls dressed as their parents. Prizes for this contest were donated by Mrs. J. G. Cartwright, owner of a notions store here.

All children in this area are urged to attend these sessions which will continue through the summer.

Police Chief Claude Lavo has issued a statement that during these sessions and all other activities for the children, speed and traffic regulations will be strictly enforced for the children's protection.

The Home Demonstration Club met Thursday, June 10, at 7:45 a. m. Hostesses for the covered dish dinner were Mrs. Irving Towery, Mrs. B. C. Greene, Mrs. Ralph Hammond and Mrs. Halie La Vigne.

The club appointed Mrs. Maud Tupper and Mrs. Lewis Rockett as delegates to the Senior Executive Council to be held at Gainesville July 12 through 16th.

It was agreed no meetings would be held during the summer, with meetings commencing again in September.

Mrs. R. H. Stevens presented Walter Miller, president of the Lyman School, to the club on behalf of the Florida Power Company, for its winning essay in the commemorative development program contest, sponsored by the company.

All twelve seniors at Lyman entered the local contest. The presentation was made at Lyman class night exercises.

A summer schedule for the Christ Church Episcopal Mission of Longwood has been formulated. Services will be held at 8 a. m. on the first and third Sundays of the month, and at 11 a. m. on the second and fourth Sundays.

The church is open for the month of Monday will be in charge.

The following graduated from Seminole High School Friday, June 4th: Misses Eloise Snyder, Frances Lawson and Jo Ann Filipe and Mr. David Hosack. After the graduation exercises, Misses Eloise Snyder and Frances Lawson and Mr. David Hosack attended the reception at Mrs. and Mrs. Martin Simpson's, a show and the dance and breakfast at the country club.

Miss Jo Ann Filipe attended dinner party at the home of Miss Rose Schwaninger after the graduation exercises.

Miss Eloise Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Snyder received an award for a perfect record during her 15 years in Seminole High School. She was neither absent nor tardy and was on the honor roll.

Miss Frances Lawson participated in Miss Margaret Davy's piano recital Wednesday night.

The Osteen public school held its commencement exercises, Tuesday, June 8th. The program was as follows: Invocation—graduating class; Star Spangled Banner—audience; Pledge to American flag—audience; Invocation—Lloyd H. Anderson; Salutatory—Richard Brooke; Song—Elementary chorus; God Bless America—Seventh Grade; Class Will and Class Officers—John Cohen; Class Prophecy—Beverly Brooke; Address—Rev. Donald Wilson of Ft. Christmas presentation of diploma—Lloyd H. Anderson; Valedictory—Larry Ground Observer Corps, take notice! The next exercises will be held in this district on June 11, from 6 p. m. to midnight. It is called "Operation Night Watch". James Romney, Post Director, reminds members that they are expected to report promptly at the time assigned to them. It is encouraging to note that since the last meeting, four new members have been added. They are Mrs. Ray E. Peck, William Williams, Robert Stroud and William MacKenzie.

The Holy Baptist Chapel will hold regular service on Sunday morning in Community House at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Mrs. Hubert Thomas will conduct the service and preach the sermon. A delegation of members of this church met on Thursday evening with the Rev. Mr. Siegel of the First Baptist Church of DeLand to discuss plans for the new church building to be built in DeBary.

The final meeting of the season of the DeBary Civic Association was held at the Community House at 7:30 p. m. on Tuesday. It was preceded by a covered dish supper and followed by a most interesting talk on Ceramics given by Mrs. James Smith of Fifth Street. She showed some of the work done by herself and also some done by students who were just starting to learn. She graciously invited any who were interested to come to her home to see and learn more of this fascinating art.

We hope soon to be able to report that Mrs. John Korman of Madera Road has been taken off the sick list where she has been for three weeks.

H. Hudson Myers left for New York late Monday night after having been notified of the death of his mother.

Mrs. Henry F. Kern of Bidsboro, Pa. left for home on Thursday after three weeks of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Mager in their home on Madera Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Mulcahy and their three sons, Tim, Eddie and Bobbie, of New Rochelle, N. Y. are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Healy. They expect to be here about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Dungan had their visitors this week. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Lehmann, their son, Edward, and Miss Eileen McCombie. They are neighbors of Mrs. Dungan's sister in Philadelphia.

Our heartiest congratulations to Mary Ann Lederhaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lederhaus, who was graduated from the Enterprise school on Wednesday evening with the highest honors. She was valedictorian of her class.

Joan Foster, Bride

CHAPTER TWENTY

"I've sometimes wondered whether I was married to you—or to your mother!" Joan balanced carefully her story of the conflict that had arisen with Todd's mother. "And I've a right to go on this way, Todd. It's changing me. It's making me feel ugly. And I don't know what to do. I can't seem to—to get free."

He said, a trifle grimly, "I'll speak to her."

"Oh, Todd! No, you mustn't!"

"No, I tell you! She set upright again and looked at him with troubled eyes. "You simply mustn't. That would be too terrible. Don't you see it would? It would be both of us hurting her, repudiating her. Now it's just me. And I'm not as important as you because I'm not a really big daughter. She can always say you don't make a very good choice of a wife. But you really are her son. She can't disown you or not be proud of you. She wouldn't want to. No, Joan knows her husband positively. Better let the bands that I've thought so all along. That's why I've kept still. I'll find a way."

"No, you won't. You're too gentle. You're too soft. Don't you realize that with a person like Mother—well, you just have to draw a thin line and say, 'This far and no farther.' Believe me, I know."

"Yes, I know you know."

There was a little silence. Then she said slowly, "I think I'll speak to Father."

"Your father? Oh! Well, perhaps. You mean let my father in on this? Let him tell her how I feel? Yes, but she hates to him. And she never knew we saved him. If he can persuade her to let us alone, she can do it as if it were all her own idea. She won't be humiliated. I mean—or hurt—or anything. That's a wonderful idea! And he would understand the need, too, I think."

"Yes, he would. I imagine he already does. He knows Mother. He has probably been waiting to see if you two could work things out without him. It would be like him."

Joan heaved a great sigh of relief. "Well, he's exactly the right one to settle this miserable mess," she said.

"Honey—"

"Don't ever keep your troubles from me again."

"But I didn't think it was nice to come complaining—"

"I know, you were sweet. But two heads are always better than one, remember?"

"Yes, I've found that out."

"So—promise?"

"Promise never to keep anything from me again. Your troubles are my troubles."

She looked up. "Okay," she said softly. "I promise. You know why? Because I've just learned that when I tell them to you, they stop being troubles."

He kissed her. "And now I'll go down and see Dad," he said.

Joan never knew what Todd's father said to Mrs. Hunter, but whatever it was proved extremely effective, for she did not come up to the apartment the next morning at all, and when Joan went down later, the most extraordinary conversation took place between them.

"Good morning, Mother Hunter!"

"Good morning, Joan."

"I wondered if I could help you in any way?"

"Oh, thank you, no. I've finished my makeup. But I'm glad you stopped in because I want to talk to you. Will you do for a moment."

It was ridiculous to feel like a guilty child expecting punishment, but Joan couldn't help it.

"I've been thinking," Mrs. Hunter began, her voice holding a deep note of regret, "and I've decided that I've been pampering you too much."

"Pampering?"

"Yes, I mean with the help I've been giving you. It never occurred to me until yesterday when you went off and left me all your cleaning up to do."

"Wait. Let me finish, please, dear. I am thirty, Joan. I have had to be on a minister's salary. I cannot bear waste in any form. I knew, when you dashed out as such an early comer, that you could not possibly have done your housework properly. The thought nagged me until I went up to see. And, sure enough, there was your food, spoiling. A good quart of a pound of margarine—and at least half a pint of milk. To say nothing of nearly a loaf of bread that you left drying out there on your table. I believe I am not exaggerating."

"No, I'm afraid not," Joan murmured.

"Well—"

And here a note of faint righteousness crept into Mrs. Hunter's tone. "Well, I took care of things for you. But I realize now I shouldn't have because now are you ever going to learn except the hard way?" By your mistakes?"

"I—don't know."

Mrs. Hunter stooped her head slowly. "I don't fail to see you for me to save you and help you the way I have been. You won't always have me around to watch over you, you see?"

"Oh, Mother Hunter!"

"But it's true. The doctor and I won't live forever. And while my natural instinct is to give you all possible assistance while I can, still that isn't being fair to myself, either. I ought not to tax my strength, when you are well aware, is limited."

"I know. I've told all along you were being too nice."

Mrs. Hunter waved away Joan's words with a small, pudgy hand. "Therefore I have decided, she west on, with a new decision in her voice. "To let you work out your own salvation. Please don't expect me, in the future, to climb up those stairs to your apartment every day. I cannot do it. I will take care of my own quarters—the way I always have but you must not count on me to come to yours."

"Very well, Mother Hunter. I've certainly appreciated your generosity and—"

"And thoughtfulness but I can appreciate, too, how you feel about it now."

Mrs. Hunter nodded. "You young people have much to learn. And we older ones can only stand by and watch while you learn it. I don't know who suffers most in the process." She smiled an uncertain, wavering smile. "But I'm sure I'm right on this."

"Yes, I guess you are."

"I want you to understand, top, say dear, that I can't be willing to help you select your antiques, either. You'll have to make your own decisions there, also. And if you spend too much—well—"

"Yes, I mean with the help I've been giving you. It never occurred to me until yesterday when you went off and left me all your cleaning up to do."

"Wait. Let me finish, please, dear. I am thirty, Joan. I have had to be on a minister's salary. I cannot bear waste in any form. I knew, when you dashed out as such an early comer, that you could not possibly have done your housework properly. The thought nagged me until I went up to see. And, sure enough, there was your food, spoiling. A good quart of a pound of margarine—and at least half a pint of milk. To say nothing of nearly a loaf of bread that you left drying out there on your table. I believe I am not exaggerating."

"No, I'm afraid not," Joan murmured.

"Well—"

And here a note of faint righteousness crept into Mrs. Hunter's tone. "Well, I took care of things for you. But I realize now I shouldn't have because now are you ever going to learn except the hard way?" By your mistakes?"

"I—don't know."

"I know. I've told all along you were being too nice."

Mrs. Hunter waved away Joan's words with a small, pudgy hand. "Therefore I have decided, she

"Of course I see. And I think you're absolutely wonderful," she said sincerely. "And I'm sure, she was your friend then ever. Don't worry about that! You know, she won't on. I read once somewhere that members of families should always treat each other as they would strangers—giving them the same courtesy and consideration—the same civility. I think maybe there's a lot in that. And I guess you do, too. Anyway, it's safe, isn't it?" She smiled. "And now I'm going shopping in the car. Wouldn't you like to come along?"

For a second Mrs. Hunter hesitated, but only for a second. "No, my dear. Not now. I have a good deal to do."

"All right. Any time, though—"

Mrs. Hunter nodded, and Joan left her. Safely outdoors in the clear daylight, she drew a long breath.

"Thank you, God," she said. (To Be Continued)

Big-Car Luxury and Performance at the Lowest Price of all

The class you compare values the more certainly you'll see that Pontiac is far and away the standard buy on automobile row.

In size and weight alone Pontiac offers you more car per dollar than a like amount ever bought before. And that's important, because that long wheelbase is the reason for comfort, riding ease and roadability unapproached within hundreds of dollars of its modest price. On the road a Pontiac is always restfully smooth, steady and quiet. Your hands on the wheel are free of jarring road shocks. You round corners on an even keel... equip without tiring for hours on end.

And along with these big-car features you get remarkable savings. Economy is, of course, exceptional. First cost is the least for any big, luxury automobile—within a few dollars of the lowest-priced cars. Our trade-in appraisals are notably large and Pontiac's resale value ranks with the highest in the industry. Come in for the facts about today's most startling value.

Methodist Church's Vacation Bible School To Start

Completed plans for the annual daily vacation church school of the First Methodist Church indicate that the two weeks school beginning next Monday will find every minute completely filled with varied recreation and activities.

There will be periods of singing and worship, and throughout the entire school there will be religious instruction centered around the theme of "Our church—at home and abroad." The school is open to children, 4 through 11 years old, and the church feels it has been most fortunate this year in securing a fine and able group of volunteer workers.

Mrs. H. B. McCall will be superintendent of the kindergarten and will be assisted by Mrs. William Colbert, Mrs. James Board, Miss Marianne Strickland and Miss Betty Bryant. Mrs. Ashby Jones is superintendent of the Primary Department and will be assisted by Mrs. E. C. Williams, Mrs. P. H. Colbert, and Mrs. F. A. Harvey. Mrs. J. H. St. John will head the Junior department, with Mrs. J. Ross Adams in charge of music, and Mrs. L. B. Clark, recreation, with Mrs. Ray Herron, Mrs. C. R. Jones and Mrs. E. G. Olson serving as teachers.

The sessions will begin each morning at 9 o'clock and close at 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Grady Herpman, who is director of the school, is urging parents to take advantage of this opportunity to help boys and girls grow religiously. "What we do for children must be done now for children do not wait," it was said by a church spokesman.

News of Men In Service

HAD KREUZNACH, Germany—Pfc. William D. Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cain, Route 1, recently joined the 24th Armored Division in Germany as a member of a four-man "buddy" team.

Cain and three of his buddies, together since basic training, have been assigned to the division's 4th Infantry Battalion. Under the new replacement system, the team will remain together as a unit until relieved from active duty.

KARLSRUHE, Germany—Eunice P. Williams Jr., whose parents live in Sanford, was recently promoted to corporal while serving with the 25th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion in Karlsruhe, Germany.

Units of the Seventh Army form a major part of the strong cordons of American defense forces stretching across the U. S. zone of Germany.

Corporal Williams, a radio operator in Battery B of the 25th AAA, entered the Army in January 1953, and arrived overseas the following August.

THE 48-FOOT TRAIN on her wedding veil poses a problem for Eleanor Pompeo and her husband, Salvatore Cleva, as they stand on the altar of the Holy Rosary Church in Jersey City, N. J., trying to figure out how to make their way around it. Said to be one of the longest on record, the Chantilly lace train was made by the bride's cousin. (International)

Lake Monroe Grandmother To Get Degree

By SAMIE SODERBLOM
The Sunbeams of the Lake Monroe Baptist Church met Monday afternoon at 3:45 p. m. for their program. After the program they were served refreshments by Mrs. Ed Oglesby Jr.

Mrs. S. B. Tallman and Mr. and Mrs. J. Stillwell, of Lake Helen were the guests of Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Martin Tuesday afternoon. Friends of Mrs. J. Nettles of Lake Monroe Corner are sorry to know that she is ill.

Mrs. Lula Bell Thomas, who has been visiting relatives in Tallahassee, has returned to her home at Lake Monroe Corner.

PRESS ROUNDUP
BUENOS AIRES, P.—Police pressed their roundup yesterday of suspects in bloody riot acts that have claimed four lives. Fifty persons—many identified as Communists—were reported in custody.

Author Says Fox Won't Catch Rabbit
SAN JOHNS N. H.—Thornton W. Burgess let the world in on a literary secret recently—Neddy Fox isn't ever going to catch up with Peter Rabbit.

The 80-year-old author, naturalist, whose fictional animals have delighted children for 12 years, said in an interview he plans to keep writing to their joy ahead of his hungry, crafty pursuer.

Parliamentarian Accuses Officials

TEHRAN, Iran.—An Iranian Parliament member has accused government officials of widespread corruption, including the peddling of 16 million dollars worth of rationed sugar to black marketers.

Speaking in the Majlis (lower house of Parliament) recently Deputy Mahdi Mirsharafi also charged customs officials with 14 million dollars worth of goods from a warehouse here. Mrs. M. said a fire which demolished the giant shed was set to escape the theft.

Sanfly, Honor NAAS Publication, Observing Its First Anniversary

L. R. W. Sherman, public information officer at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station and officer advisor for the Sanfly station publication, surely will miss the personnel which has been so efficiently working with the publication and who helped to bring to the base the honor of having the best service paper in its class.

Dave Huesche, associate editor of the paper, is bidding adieu to active service with the Navy tomorrow and is returning to an inactive status and a life in Long Island, N. Y. Bob Anthony, editor, is leaving next week for sea duty.

Ralph Gussman, sports editor, when the paper was chosen for then honor, already is back in civilian life. Others, including Ray Siebert, W. H. Yost, W. J. Brennan and J. K. Jones, also, are already gone.

Today is being observed as the first anniversary of the paper. Those who have worked so diligently with making the paper a success and who, also, have been most cooperative with The Herald, deserve a lot of credit for a job well done. Best wishes on your anniversary, good fortune to you, and thanks.

Broken Bottle

Tuesday night, a group of teenagers apparently were playing a game, which for lack of a better name could be called "bet-trail."

In this game, one group of youngsters leaves a trail of arrows chalked on sidewalks and streets, and another group attempts to find the first one by following this trail.

This pastime was evidenced by the passing of two groups and a chalked arrow in the street. The game can be a lot of fun.

Teen-agers can be noisy, which seems to be in the nature of youngsters in this category, but the second group seemed to be especially so.

Perhaps this extra noisiness was spurred by something new which had been introduced to the game. One of the boys hurled a bottle to the street, shattering it. The bottle had contained liquor.

These youngsters who are not quite dry behind the ears have no business getting wet inside.

Reciprocal Trade

Half a loaf may be better than no bread, but when people have looked forward to a full loaf, the substitute is apt to be disappointing. Ever since President Eisenhower took office, an important part of his program has been the extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for three years, with broader authority for the President in the adjustment of tariff rates.

Last year he recommended this, but settled for renewal for one year, the idea being that in the meantime Congress could have studied the whole situation thoroughly. Many thought he would have been wiser to stand by his original position, especially since he was fresh from his election triumph of 1952.

This thought is justified by the fact that again the three-year extension has bogged down in Congress, and the administration finds it necessary to ask again for one more year. The hope is again expressed that in 1955 something will really happen.

It may and it may not. Meanwhile valuable time has been lost and only stop-gap legislation has been enacted. It looks more and more as if the advisers who told the President last year not to fight gave him poor advice.

HAL BOYLE

Division Trains On Old Site

GRAEFWODER, Germany (from the deserts of Tunisia to the beaches of Normandy), Field Marshal Rommel's battle plans were met by "The Big Red" — the U.S. 1st Infantry Division.

It halted his breakout blow at Kasserine Gap, then helped crush and capture his famed Afrika Korps. It was in the forefront of the forces that ten years ago landed and breached his West Wall defenses.

If the ghost of the brilliant "Desert Fox" could come back this way once more, he would find reason for a dry smile over the antics time plays with the dreams of corporals and field marshals.

For here on the great sprawling German military reservation where Rommel himself once trained his feared panzer legions, his old foe — "The Big Red" — is practicing the new arts of possible new wars to come.

On rolling Bavarian hills only 15 miles from the Czech border, the 1st Infantry Division is going through its most intensive maneuvers ever. The U.S. 1st Infantry Division is now in the hands of the Communist over the West Wall.

It was a battle of the 1944-45 campaign, partly staged, that the 1st Infantry Division was the only American unit to break through the West Wall.

The only foulup in the maneuver came in the field of air support. Eight F-47s, strafing and swooping down to knock out a strong point with napalm and 100-pound bombs. They hit the target exactly, but the bombs were duds because some of the napalm containers were empty after the first round.

Some of the ground soldiers, however, the nearest Czech air defense unit, only about three minutes flying time away, scattered about.

The air station officer looked unhappy. An aerial standing by

UN And Korea

The United States has taken the firm position that the only way to conduct free elections to unify Korea is under supervision of the United Nations. The Communist powers, led by Red China, contend that the UN is not fitted for such supervision.

This is a strange attitude to take. One of the purposes for which UN was established was to deal with just such disputes. It is odd that a nation such as Red China, which seeks admittance to the UN, should deny that that organization has the right and duty to fulfill one of its functions.

The truth is the Communists want the elections conducted by some "neutral" commission—a commission on which one or more Communist countries could serve. Such a body could cause delays, wrangles, and generally keep Korea from ever having free elections.

No American wants to see his country take a position which precludes the possibility of unifying Korea through free elections. On the other hand if we were to agree to bypass the UN we would seriously weaken the prestige of that organization and set a precedent which would allow it to be by-passed at any time. We cannot afford to do that.

County Agent's Column Way Down South In Sanford, Florida

By C. R. DAWSON, R.S.A., M.S.A.
LAND OF FLOWERS — Florida at last seems destined to become the land of flowers implied in its name. Industry organizations estimate that the state receives about 40 million dollars annually from ornamental horticulture products. The income may well become larger in future years.

WATER — Alachua County farmers are showing increased interest in irrigating tobacco, and several additional growers have installed systems this year. Highest production records and best quality in the county were on irrigated farms.

BEAUTY — For years garden clubs throughout the state have stimulated interest in ornamentals and have been a potent influence aiding the development of beautification of home grounds and public places.

EGGS — There is need for the location of suitable space and facilities in egg producing centers of Central Florida for the systematized and effective marketing of fresh eggs. The production of commercial eggs is increasing and it might be possible to dry up the tremendous imports of cold storage and low quality eggs now coming in from outside the state. This will be advantageous to the local egg producer and the housewife who must buy eggs for family use. Eggs being one of the principal and essential foods. It is highly important that we have a supply of good fresh eggs for our tables.

HOPEFUL EXCAVATOR IN THE POLITICAL PYRAMIDS

District Engineer Says South Florida Wet, Not Bad State

WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—South Florida is in a wet condition generally but "we are not in a flood emergency," says Lamar Johnson, chief engineer of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District.

"There is a possibility of a flood emergency this year, not a flood emergency," Johnson told the FCD at its meeting here yesterday.

He recommended bringing the level of Lake Okechobee down from its present 13.05 feet to 13 feet.

A delegation from Miami Springs and Hialeah said the water level at one and a half feet higher than at the same period in 1947—the worst flood year—and Board Member F. Klein Bayless of Solon said rainfall records in his area show 10 inches more than normal and that "a flood situation is impending."

The FCD offered a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons guilty of hoisting up part of levee 30 Sunday night.

A budget of $1,960,650 for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, 1954, was adopted by 1953-54 and $4,219,990 for 1952-53.

Milk Is Economical Source Of Calcium

Milk and whole milk products are the only practical source of calcium in the American diet. Thus, drinking at least three glasses of milk a day is one of the best and cheapest health habits because of the value of milk, for its calcium content, far outweighs its cost, says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent. Calcium is the nutritive essential most lacking in our diet. Yet everyone needs calcium throughout life for building and maintaining teeth and bones and for proper body functioning.

Some calcium is excreted daily. Hence, a continuous supply is required. This is obvious in the care of infants and growing youngsters. The human infant comes into the world with a skeleton composed largely of cartilage instead of calcified bones and must store up an enormous amount of calcium in hardening its bone structure before it can stand or even sit up. But in the bones and teeth represent the greatest need for calcium, this mineral has other extremely important functions in the body. Among these are a critical role in regulating heart action, in the tractability of muscular tissue, and in forestalling irritability of the nervous system. Thus adults require a great deal more calcium than was formerly realized.

One author has stated that all calcium in the human body is replaced every few years, and goes on to say: "If there is insufficient intake, the body tries to make adjustments but is never completely successful. The body goes on excreting, taking it from the bones and teeth. If calcium deficiency continues for long periods, the attempted adjustment evidences itself in serious ill health of various sorts, and if the shortage is really severe, premature death is almost certain. Calcium deficiency may explain a great deal of 'poor to middle' health, and might be related in some of the lack of vitality displayed by people who have been dead on the job for twenty years and never realized it."

Thus calcium is not permanently fixed in the body. It moves in and moves out. Hence, the necessity for daily consumption of sufficient amounts to maintain the balance. The amount contained in three glasses of milk a day suffices for adults—for children four glasses are recommended. Sometimes the argument is heard, "I don't care for milk so I get enough calcium in fruits and vegetables"—but this is impossible according to Miss Wilson.

A glass measuring cup that is graduated below the rim is fine for liquids to avoid spilling.

MISS MARY LOUISE GASQUE
Late Summer Wedding Planned By Miss Gasque, Pete Brock

Of widespread interest is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Louise Gasque, daughter of E. J. Gasque, Jr., of Dale City, and the late Mrs. E. J. Gasque, Jr., to Pete Brock, son of Mrs. Alva Brock of Dale City, who was born and reared in Dale City, is a graduate of Mason High School here, and attended Florida State University. She holds a position in the office of Pason County Division of the Tampa Electric Company.

Mr. Brock, a native of Columbia, S. C., attended schools in Charlotte, N. C., and later in Sanford, where he was graduated from Seminole High School. After serving two years in the United States Navy, he entered the University of Florida, where he was graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree and also a Master of Science degree in Agriculture. While at the University, he became a member of Phi Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Florida Blue Key, was chosen in the Hall of Fame, and was awarded a graduate scholarship by the Florida Citrus Exchange. He is employed in the sales department of Pason Parking Company of Dale City.

The wedding will be an event of the late summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Overstreet left today for Cleveland, Tenn., and where they will spend a week visiting friends.

Friends of J. O. Elliot Gallo will be glad to learn that he is home from the Fernald Lighthouse Memorial Hospital following and recuperating.

Little Miss Donna Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Peters, underwent a tonsillectomy yesterday morning at the Fernald Lighthouse Memorial Hospital and is now at home doing fine.

Little Wesley Hamel is expected to arrive home Sunday from Charleston, S. C., where he is a student at the Citadel.

Iced-Tea-Menu-of-the-Month Features Low-Calorie Food and Drink

THE iced tea menu of the month features a variety of low-calorie foods which can be combined to provide low-calorie meals. For example, you can combine tuna fish, sliced mushrooms and pineapple in a delightful casserole with pre-cooked, packaged rice which can be cooked in beef consommé instead of water. For a low-calorie, low-calorie luncheon dessert, try orange or grapefruit cups filled with a combination of fresh and canned fruits such as orange sections, sliced peaches and grapes. Garnish with a sprig of mint. Shredded whole wheat wafers add variety in texture and flavor. And, for a refreshing mealtime beverage, serve lead tea. Combined, these foods contain approximately 257 calories per serving for four people at a cost of about 42 cents each.

Lead tea leads the parade in low-calorie beverages. Because it's non-sweet, non-fattening and leaves no sweet, cloying after-taste, it's most refreshing and thirst-quenching. A quick glance at the following chart will convince you it's a good idea to keep plenty of lead tea on hand to serve the family any time of day.

Beverage	Approx. calories per 8 oz. fluid ounce
Lead tea (unsweetened)	0
Lead tea (unsweetened) - without cream	11.0
Ragar-free carbonated beverages	13.0
Beer	13.0
Cola beverages	27.0
Lemonade, fruit-flavored	36.0
Carbonated, fruit-flavored beverages	51.0
Grape juice	111.0

To make 10 glasses of lead tea, pre-measure 5 tablespoons loose tea (or 1 1/2 tea bags). Bring 2 quarts fresh water to full rolling boil. Remove from heat. Immediately add tea. Brew, uncovered 5 minutes. Strain into pitcher. Serve in ice-filled glasses with lemon—and a non-calorie sweetener.

Tommy Wyatt Plays Piano Selections For Woman's Group

The members of the Woman's Bible Class reported having a pleasant time when they met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. E. E. Holz.

The business meeting opened with the devotional, "Friends," based on quotations from the Bible which was given by Mrs. G. S. Selman.

A short business session was then conducted by the president, Mrs. Eunice Dann. Old and new matters were discussed and the meeting closed with prayer offered by Mrs. W. P. Vesley.

A social hour, with Mrs. J. B. Fields in charge, was held during which time Tommy Wyatt was introduced by Mrs. Holz and he rendered two beautiful piano selections, "Clair de Lune" by Debussy, and "Altilio," by Grieg.

Contests were held with Mrs. O. G. Gibbs winning the prize, a lovely house plant. Delicious refreshments were later served by the hostesses.

Those present were: Mrs. Eunice Dann, Mrs. B. C. Moore, Mrs. E. M. Raley, Mrs. G. J. Garrison, Mrs. F. E. Holz, Mrs. J. T. Newby, Mrs. H. B. Odham, Mrs. B. R. Beck, Mrs. A. C. Benson, Mrs. A. B. Loveloy, Mrs. O. C. Gibbs, Mrs. W. P. Vesley, Mrs. B. Wilkinson, and Mrs. J. B. Fields.

Mrs. Thomas Boyce Samba, Bridge Party Is Given To Attend Reunion Held At Wellesley

Mrs. Thomas C. Boyce, 204 Amelia Ave., is among the more than 1000 Wellesley College alumnae who plan to return to the college campus from June 17 to 20 for the fourth annual "Wellesley Weekend."

Beginning a few days after commencement, alumnae will hold reunions which will combine traditional reunion events with a "Back to Class" program of lectures by several members of the faculty. Alumnae will have the opportunity to discuss former classes offered by Edward E. Curtis, Ralph Emerson Professor of North American History, Miss Sarah J. Hill, assistant professor of astronomy, and Diether Thumme, assistant professor of art, and Miss Evelyn K. Wells, professor of English.

Among the other speakers during the weekend will be Mrs. De Palfrey Perkins, Minister Emerita of King's Chapel Boston, and Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Wellesley College, who will conduct the Sunday morning chapel service.

A special event of this year's weekend will be a program honoring Mrs. Lois Wilson, Dean of Students and professor of physics, who is retiring this month. An alumna of the Class of 1901, Miss Wilson has been a member of the Wellesley faculty since 1917.

Another unusual event will be a pre-reunion performance of "Midsummer Night's Dream" by the Group at Players, a professional theater company organized by Wellesley alumnae that again this summer will present plays in the Lyceum Theatre on the campus.

A reception at the home of Mrs. Margaret Clapp, president of Wellesley, class supporters, the annual meeting and luncheon of the Alumnae Association, step singing on the chapel steps, and informal social events will round out the four-day program.

Miss B. Hayman Warren Bishop Are Honored

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hayman recently honored their daughter, Miss Betty Hayman, and her fiance, Warren Bishop, with a cocktail and supper party held on the patio of the Hayman residence.

The table at which the honor guests were seated was covered with a white cloth and held a miniature wedding cake. The guests enjoyed the delicious meal of barbecued pork and turkey along with all the trimmings.

Those invited in addition to Miss Hayman and Mr. Bishop were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vihlen, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Whitehead Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Higginsham, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Todd, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dean, Mr. and Mrs. John Higgins.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Symes, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Pell, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Ross R. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Grayson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Heard, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith, Miss Creole Heard, Miss Ellen Heard, Miss Ed. Frazier, Miss Jo Hayman, and Mr. and Mrs. Hayman.

Miss Patrick Given Luncheon At Restaurant

Miss F. G. Harper, Jr. and her mother, Mrs. A. E. Collins entertained Thursday afternoon at Jim Spencer's Restaurant with a luncheon honoring Miss Carolyn Patrick, who is to be married tomorrow afternoon to Herbert Stenstrom.

Bridal place cards marked the seating arrangement and centering the table was a piece of driftwood banked with pink, gladioli, hibiscus and caladium leaves.

Miss Patrick was presented with a corsage consisting of a beautiful white hibiscus and each guest was given a pink hibiscus corsage. The two hostesses then gave the honoree a gift which is now presented to her attendants with a gift.

On the occasion Miss Patrick wore a silk tulle and black dress with a matching jacket and black accessories.

Those attending with Miss Patrick were her mother, Mrs. W. A. Patrick, the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. John W. Stenstrom, Mrs. Douglas Stenstrom, Mrs. E. E. Stenstrom, Mrs. Donald A. Macdonald, Jr. of Gainesville, Miss Donna Lou Harper, Miss Patricia Stenstrom, Mrs. Harper, and Mrs. Collins.

ALL about FLORIDA

By ASH WONG
"Mayor of Haggston Creek"

Tom "Mr. Florida" Moore, whose state-sponsored radio show from Winter Haven advertises Florida five days a week in 48 states for the next year, has brought nine new families to the state.

And among them, he adds, are 18 children and two grandchildren.

"Mr. Florida" Moore set the example of bringing big-time radio and TV production to Florida for Arthur Godfrey and Tom Bartlett. Godfrey's Miami Beach TV shows are famous and Bartlett flies his own plane into Ocala every weekend from his "Welcome Traveler" NBC-TV spot in Chicago to oversee his Silver Springs deer ranch. Godfrey is a landowner in Miami Beach and Moore, of course, owns a motel and other real estate in Winter Haven.

"Mr. Florida" told me recently that people can have more fun in Florida for less money than any other place in the world.

There's a little seven-year-old girl in Winter Park whose bravery should not go untold. She's Kathy O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neill O'Brien.

Our boating with the family one Sunday a few weeks ago, Kathy's three-year-old brother, Johnny, reached over the side of the boat to pick a water lily. Johnny lost his balance and fell in. There was no hysterical screaming from little Kathy. She

12-FOOT SAILBOAT

By DONALD R. BRANN

How would you like to start your summer vacation right now? You can, by starting to build this 12-foot sailboat in your spare time. Constructing this boat is lots of fun, particularly when you discover how easily you can become a boat builder in one easy lesson.

When those hot days arrive, you not only fulfill vacation plans but you also will be ready to enjoy every sunny weekend. So you'd better start your hammer and saw work now.

Being built of plywood, the boat is still light enough to handle with a pair of oars, if you're becalmed—also it's sturdy enough to take up to a 10-h.p. outboard motor.

You can build this in your backyard or basement providing your cellar door is wide enough. All you need is the Build-It-Yourself Pattern No. 194, and the materials the pattern specifies. As you read the simplified, non-technical instructions which outline construction procedure, you will realize that the boat is definitely within your sphere of understanding. Directions are clear, concise and further explained by illustrations and full-size patterns for the parts mentioned.

As you read the directions for building this boat, you visualize each step of construction. There are no mysterious nautical terms, or special joints that require experienced wood-working skills.

To insure accurate work, almost all the materials specified (in the detailed list on the pattern) are stock-size items that can be purchased locally. Anything that needs to be bought on "special order" such as the calmly jumped in after him before her parents realized what happened.

Kathy caught her brother before he went under and when her father reached them, she had a good firm hold on the lad. With father's help, Johnny was brought safely in.

Kathy is a first grade pupil and only this year began taking swimming lessons!

ASH'S NASH—How many people agree with me that such current popular juke organ records as "The Man Upstairs," and "Satisfied," should not be "jived"?

marine hardware, sails and center board, can be purchased from readily accessible sources.

By using the full-size panels of exterior plywood where specified, the boat goes together amazingly fast. Measuring a full 12 feet long, it makes an ideal sailing dinghy.

The complete step-by-step directions, assembly illustrations and full-size patterns for transom, framing and all other parts do a great deal toward making a professional boat builder out of anyone who knows the difference between a hammer and a saw.

Since the cost of most boats is above the means of the average family, it makes sense to make it yourself. By building it yourself you not only enjoy many hours of complete relaxation but you also convert spare time into something you will be proud to own and even prouder to use. Your fun starts with the tracing of the first pattern and it doesn't stop until the boat's launched. Then the pride of accomplishment mixed with an equal portion of sailing pleasure makes your vacation complete.

Send $2 for the full-size 12-foot Sailing Boat, Pattern 194, to Pattern Dept., All Florida Magazine, P. O. Box 215, Pleasantville, N. Y. Enclose an additional 35 cents for an illustrated Pattern Book with more than 200 assorted projects. (Allow two weeks for delivery.)

... Alfred S. Arnstam, 3555 NW 11th St., Miami, lost a pet last month. It was a Tegu—a four-and-a-half-foot South American lizard. He warned that if the pet was found not to pick it up by its tail. The Tegu has a peculiar trick of snapping off its own tail, leaving you looking silly.

Who complained about fishing in Florida? Night policeman Ralph Hendrix of Fort Walton heard a noise in the water at the Yacht Club recently and went to investigate. He waded in and scooped out 60 mullet with his hands.

"I Don't Get It Dept."—At Miami Beach a few Sundays ago it started raining. Fifty bathers in the water ran like mad to get out of the rain!... Far be it from me to take credit, but on a trip north last winter by Eastern Air Lines I noted the hostess spent a lot of time tucking in her short skirttail. I wrote a column about it and now Eastern's given the gals new uniforms with blouses that go way, way down. Now if manufacturers would make longer skirttails on men's sport shirts, I'd be happy, too.

The Silver King

By BOB BALFE
All Florida Sports Editor

Reign of the Silver King, one of the world's fightingest game fish, will start here next Saturday as excited anglers open competition in the seventh annual Tampa Tarpon Tournament. Now grown to a $10,000 prize event it is one of the richest fishing tournaments in Southern waters open to the general public.

Anglers will come from far and near to enjoy the thrill of battle with tarpon and the chance to win the grand prize, a new station wagon, or one of the other awards.

The tournament will start at 9 p.m. on June 19, following a fish fry at which several thousand persons are expected. The contest will run until Aug. 15, after which the weekly winners will get together on Aug. 22 for a "Derby Day" fish-off.

To advance to the finals, an angler must be a weekly winner or a special division winner. This year both the man and woman from out-of-state catching the largest tarpon by weight during the weekly rounds will be given a place in the "Derby." And for the fifth consecutive year the Tarpon Tourney Committee will pay the expenses to fly any weekly winner or out-of-state men's or women's division winner back to Tampa for the fish-off. Last year Emerson Masters, of Harveysburg, Ohio, was brought back for the finals and caught an 88-pound tarpon to win the station wagon and approximately $2,500 in other prizes.

In the years the tourney has been running, the largest tarpon caught weighed 150 pounds and was brought in by Mark Ryan of Tampa. Ryan landed his tarpon with a fresh-water casting rod and reel on 18-pound test line. The 150-pounder, taken in 1952, was only a pound short of the world's record for tarpon taken on 18-pound test line.

"Derby Day" winners in recent years include Emerson Masters of Harveysburg, Ohio, 1953; Mrs. David E. Smith Jr., of Tampa, 1952; David E. Smith Sr., of Tampa, 1951, and E. W. Heller of Philadelphia, 1950.

Only requirement to enter the contest is that the fisherman be a member of the Tampa Anglers Association, which is open to everyone for a membership fee of one dollar.

One of the features of the Tampa Tarpon Tournament is that good fishing is available in such close proximity to downtown Tampa. Within a 10-minute walk from the business section anglers can find both fresh and salt-water fishing. Within an hour's drive are hundreds of fishing spots in the Gulf of Mexico. On three sides of Tampa are 26-mile-long Tampa Bay and Hillsborough Bay, plus many bayous, inlets and channels.

Many varieties of fish are to be taken in the area, but from June 19 to Aug. 15 the tarpon will truly be the Silver King. They can be caught on trolling plugs, feathers and flies, but anglers prefer still fishing with live bait.

Last year 2,957 persons entered the tournament. This year officials expect nearly 5,000 entries, adding further stature to this classic of the waterways as one of Florida's big-time summer sports attractions.

Results of our Poll on his Favorite Gifts

By CHESTER PALM

In preparing this edition, All Florida Magazine polled fathers in each of the 29 cities reached through its pages, to provide an extra service for its many readers.

Now, Mr. Gallop probably won't lose any sleep over our little bling into the field of cross-section research, but we found out things we've guessed all the time—now we're convinced fathers are pretty much the same all over the Sunshine State.

We called 50 Pops in each of 29 cities—almost 1,500 telephone calls—and here are some of the things he has in his secret thoughts (in case someone happens to be eavesdropping on those thoughts).

Ranking high with Pops in his sporting equipment—fishing tackle, plugs and spinners, rifles and shotguns, pistols, to name only a very few.

In Central Florida a surprising number of fathers were thinking about water skis. Wonder if those cuties at Cypress Gardens have anything to do with that?

Photographic equipment was high on the list, from box cameras to those 1/1000-of-a-second shutter-speed jobs. And don't forget the dark-room supplies—contact printers, enlargers, and the miscellaneous trays, lights, etc.

If Pops like to tinker around in a home workshop, there are sure to be some tools he's been wanting—and a little subtle pumping should find out just what they are. Maybe it's a new handsaw, or perhaps it's a jigsaw so he can cut out those intricate designs in the "do-it-yourself" diagrams.

These are just a few of the hundreds of items mentioned in our survey—space prohibits mentioning them all, so do a little detective work of your own. Watch the way his eyes light up when a particular item is mentioned, or when he sees a picture of what's been hatching in his thoughts.

That's the way to find out what YOUR Pop's favorite gifts are!

WASH medium size ham, cross cut skin and stud with cloves; cover with cold water. Add 1 tspn whole allspice, 3 bay leaves, and 1 can mushroom buttons. Simmer. Allow about 25 minutes per pound. Remove ham and cook the dumplings in ham liquid.

DUMPLINGS

2 cups flour      4 tsp baking powder
1/2 tsp salt      Scent cup of milk

Drop spoonfuls of butter on boiling ham liquid, cover and boil for 12 minutes. Sprinkle with chopped parsley.

GRAVY

Chop 1 orange and 1 lemon. Cook until soft. Put through sieve or food mill. Add to ham liquid.

BRING TO BOIL 3 cups shelled fresh butterbeans and medium ham hock in 2 quarts water. Add 1 cup finely chopped onions, carrot, celery mixture, 2 cloves, dash thyme, 2 bay leaves. Cover pot, cook gently 2 hours. Lift out ham and chop. Skim off floating fat. Add water if needed; add chopped ham. Add 3 tsp sherry and reheat. Serve with slivers of lemon floating on top.

BACON - BISCUITS

SIFT 2 cups flour, 3 tspns baking powder, 1/2 tspns salt. Cut in 1/2 cup chilled bacon drippings, stir in 1/2 cup milk and 1 cup crisp bacon crumbs. Mix to soft dough. Turn out on floured board and pat to 1/4" thickness. Cut into rounds. Place on baking sheet, bake in hot (450 degrees) oven, 15 minutes. Serve with fresh churned country butter and honey.

MAKE a cheese sauce by melting 1 pound processed sharp cheese in the top of a double boiler and adding 3/4 cup milk. Stir smooth. Cook 3 minutes in boiling water. 1/2 cup minced green onions and 2 seeded green peppers, sliced into thin strips. Drain. Add to the cheese sauce with 1 cup canned button mushrooms and 2 cups peeled, cooked shrimp. Stir in 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Check the seasoning. On salad dish place slice of toast with 3 stalks cooked asparagus, cover with the sauce mixture and top with another buttered-toast round if you like. Garnish with radish roses and a deviled egg. Served cold.

One half cup granulated sugar
One eighth cup cream of tartar
Three egg whites
One third cup (1/2) cuped pineapple
One dried small mango
One of strawberries
Half of whipped cream

Start heating oven to 275 degrees F. Sift sugar and cream of tartar together. With egg beater or electric mixer, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Add sifted ingredients slowly, beating continuously until smooth and glossy. Use mixture to line bottom and sides of well-greased 9" pie plate, keeping center hollowed out to 1/2" thickness (do not spread mixture on rim). Sprinkle with nuts. Bake about 1 hr. or until lightly browned and crisp to touch. Cool. Just before serving fill with sliced, sweetened strawberries, top with whipped cream.

Pipe Rack

This wall-mounted pipe rack will provide a place for Pops to keep his precious smokers where they'll be out of the way.

Mahogany, cherry, birch, or other high-grade cabinet wood should be used for all parts.

The individual notches are laid out to accommodate the needs of particular pipes. The notches are cut with a jigsaw.

All parts are assembled — dadoed and glued — then clamped until thoroughly dry. Drill two holes in the cross-piece for screw-mounting to the wall.

Angler's FOOT STOOL

This foot stool is a real quickie, but simple for Pops to put together. A jigsaw, if available, can be used for cutting out the design; otherwise use hand tools. Uncut wood dimensions of top are 8 1/2" x 12 1/4". Legs are 6" long. Use natural maple wood.

Pops Is Tops. But Here's Another Candidate For "FATHER OF THE YEAR"

By MRS. H. L. KING

Everybody's "Pops"—including yours and mine—is the best old dad in the world, barring none, and there's no way anyone can get us to vote differently.

But when All Florida gave us the assignment of finding a candidate for Father of The Year honors, we put aside our prejudice and eliminated "pop" from the ballot (although he's the king at our house) and started looking around.

We've read about a lot of different Florida dads, their work with groups of youngsters in all parts of the state, and the things that have been done to make Florida a better state than any other for our youth—your kids and mine.

We finally settled on a neighbor of ours here in Orlando—George Stuart—a dad who has earned the right of recognition for his unselfish good deeds. Maybe we did let prejudice sneak in a little here, but we knew more about George and his traits than some of the other outstanding fathers who have been in the news.

George has five good reasons for being a swell Pops—five young Stuarts who think he is tops. There's George L., 8, and Jacob, 5. Charles Samuel (Charlie Sam he's called) is in the middle, while the twins, Georgia Lee (yes, one is a girl) and Robert Franklin are the youngest at four months.

He's a marvelous combination of businessman and father—a busy executive through the day, but always looking forward to the hours he can be with "the kids." The best time of the day for the Stuart family is when "pop" arrives home from his busy affairs downtown. Then everyone joins forces, including "mom" (the former Georgia Lee Vickers of Madison) for fishing in nearby Lake Ivanhoe, gardening, "fixing things" as fathers must do when there are young boys in the family, and informal good times.

His deep regard for youth and family life is reflected in his endeavors with the Young Men's Christian Assn. This interest had early roots. As a high school boy in Georgia he became associated with the local YMCA. Later he took a business course at the "Y" night school in Jacksonville.

George Stuart has been an active member of the board of directors for the Orange County YMCA and in 1949 served as its president. His term as chief official of the local "Y" was marked as one of its very best.

High on the priority list is George Stuart's keen enthusiasm for his religious life—a prime qualification for any good father. He has been connected with the First Baptist Church in Orlando for many years, is a member of the Board of Deacons and has been on the Board of Ushers for several years.

And lastly, George sets a good example—with his own character and the art of living happily among his fellowmen—for his own children and the youth he contacts.

Maybe he will be overshadowed by each of our own personal "pops" on Father's Day, next Sunday, but he is a dad deserving recognition when "Father of The Year" honors are passed around.

By "DAD" GLADE

Sure—you heard me right! Relax! Oh, I know you have worries—the price of everything is sky-high, the finance company is breathing down your neck for the next payment on the jalopy, Junior's tonsils have to come out, and every time you turn around someone in the family needs a new pair of shoes. "Hummmmp!" you reply.

Now, wait a minute! If you keep your ear to the grindstone (or whatever that cliché is) you haven't time to take care of yourself, and the first thing you know there won't be anybody around to buy those shoes. Did you ever think of that? Sure, you have insurance—just like everyone else has—but the Little Lady and the kids would rather have you around than a monthly check from someone they don't even know.

If you're like I am, by the time you've reached 35, you've decided that sports are for the youngsters and you'd rather confine yourself to sitting in a box seat back of first base in some ball park. That's fine for the game of baseball—economics-wise—but it doesn't do one thing for your health.

Here's something else to think about, too, before you think up any more excuses. What's the use of living in a state where there are 30,000 lakes, and hundreds and hundreds of miles of beautiful rivers, streams, and salt water coasts, where fish of every variety literally fight for the privilege of being the main course on your dinner table—yes, what's the use of living in such a paradise if you aren't going to take advantage of it? Can you answer me that?

And here's another—how long has it been since you had the old tackle box out of the garage, that reel well oiled, and that bass plug plopping out among the hyacinths in quest of our world-famous largemouths?

I thought so! Well, if you want to stay around a while longer and deprive the insurance company of the privilege of taking care of the Little Woman and the kids, why not make some plans right now to get off for a few days to one of those fine, quiet fishing camps, or one of those swank beach hotels (they don't cost as much as you think they do!—and not nearly as much as the hospital bill for a nervous breakdown!) where all you have to do, when you're not out fishing, is to swim in that invigorating salt water, or maybe try a little water-skiing.

Take your pick—the opportunities in Florida are practically unlimited. But, whatever you do—relax, man—relax!

What Father should know about Pipes & Tobacco

By JULIUS STURM

Pipe smokers may be broadly classified into two groups—the "purists" and the "barbarians."

To understand the implications of each classification, it may be said that the barbarian is one who clamps his pipe firmly in his left hand, crams it full of tobacco of one sort or another, rams it down firmly with his thumb, applies a kitchen match, and sits back, drawing on the stem contentedly regardless of the taste.

Contrast this with the so-called "purist." He'll convince you no pipe is fit to smoke until it's been carefully treated, until it's had a caker applied to the bowl—and, of course, nothing so crude as filling it with tobacco until said tobacco has been processed with equal care to add to, detract from, disguise, or emphasize the flavor, depending upon the particular taste of the individual smoker.

Which class does Pops fall into?

If he's a barbarian, right now is the time to initiate him into the ranks of the sophisticates. It may take a bit of doing, but he'll probably thank you in later months—or else he'll forever regard you with a jaundiced eye whenever he fires up after supper.

There are several points from which Pops may launch his campaign to improve the taste of his pipe, but the most logical one will be when he unwraps the box containing a new one that's caught his eye at the corner cigar store.

Now, at this point, it's "old jazz" to break it in by burning honey in the bowl to build up a carbonization which will forever after effect the taste. Lots of men do use this method, but one hears about a wife who takes over the task of breaking in her hubby's new ones. She's added the refinements of a teaspoonful of lemon juice and a dash of nutmeg to the honey, claiming it makes even the first mouthful delicious.

If these particular ingredients don't hit your taste buds just right, try other combinations from the kitchen—cinnamon, tarragon, cloves, etc.

Now, there are extremists who feel that the breaking-in process is number two in the natural order of affairs. Primal, they contend, is a pre-cutting for up to 24 hours by some sort of immersion—taking pains that the outside of the bowl is covered with a generous coating of wax to protect the finish.

The ingredients in these baths read like a bartender's guide—whiskies, cordials, wines, rum, to mention only the more conventional concoctions. One pipe smoker, with more than his share of discriminating taste, uses nothing but the finest Madeira.

Another, a famous smoker, certifies his recipe as containing only "black coffee and strong tea." A third brews a strong tea, using his favorite tobacco instead of tea leaves.

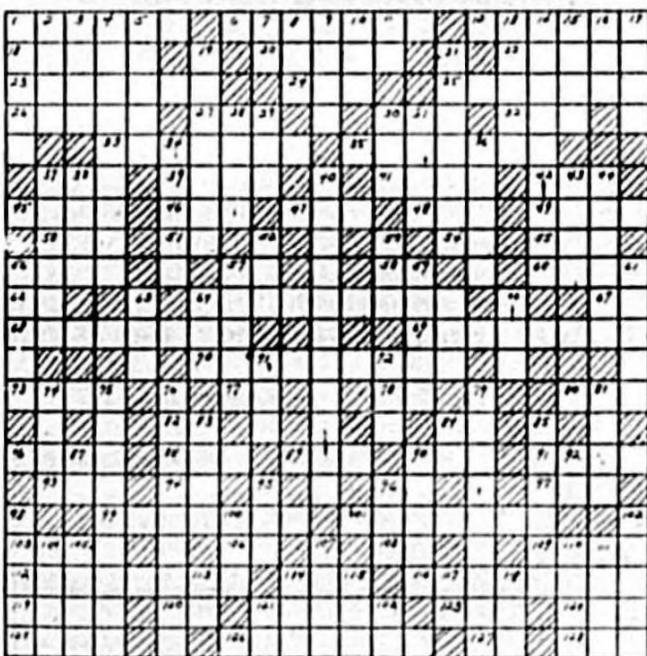

Into a bowl so treated, the tobacco-gourmet would not think of placing a single leaf until it had been as carefully treated as the pipe itself.

The market presently has many ready-made products for this purpose, but the best results will be obtained by spraying, or "casing." This involves the use of an atomizer which allows the solution to be sprayed evenly over the tobacco in a fine mist, instead of being placed into the mixture in bulk. No amount of stirring and mixing will ever apply an even coating from a bulk application of the casing solution. Some parts will have a heavy flavor, while others will have none at all.

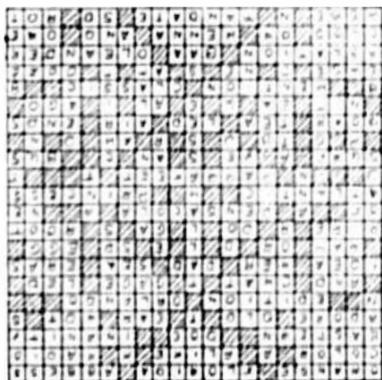

If Pops is now smoking some common butley tobacco, lift him out of the barbarian class with a concoction of Kentucky-style Orange-Pekoe. You'll be amazed at the thanks you'll get!

BRITISH FLORIDA

By JOHN R. HABERMAN

The sweat was soaking through the red coats of the soldiers of the British Ninth Regiment as they stood at rigid attention in the hot August sun. Their sergeants had seen to it that every buckle, every button was polished to perfection and that every uniform was immaculate. For this was an important inspection. The Governor was reviewing them—James Grant, the first governor of British East Florida, lately arrived at St. Augustine aboard the sloop Ferret.

"A fine looking body of men, Major," commented Governor Grant to Major Ogilvie, who had been in temporary command of East Florida for more than a year. "And now, where are the leading gentlemen of the colony? Civilian gentlemen, I mean."

"There are none, Your Excellency," replied Ogilvie.

"What? By jove, no gentlemen! How am I to form a government?"

"I'm sorry, sir," Ogilvie said. "But so far no one has arrived here of any importance—excepting yourself, sir. No one but speculators come to buy up cheap Spanish property. You surely wouldn't want them."

"No, by gad! I'll have only men of integrity." The Governor stood thinking for a moment. Then he said, "There are such men in South Carolina, Major. Surely they will be interested in Florida, a virgin field of opportunity."

Governor Grant proceeded to write letters to men of administrative caliber in Charleston, inviting them to come to Florida and accept executive posts in his government.

However, lack of qualified men was not Grant's only difficulty. On his second day in St. Augustine friction developed over who should command the troops. Grant had previously held military rank, and therefore he assumed that as governor he should be in complete charge of the military.

"I am qualified to command here," he told Major Ogilvie. "You and your men will take orders from me."

Ogilvie insisted that the Governor's office was separate from the military, but when Grant pressed the point he gave in, for the time being. Meanwhile Ogilvie sent a letter to General Gage in New York, asking for a decision.

General Gage, the same who was to command the British troops at Bunker Hill, was the commander-in-chief of all the imperial military forces in North America. He replied with a terse order that he was the one to give decisive orders to the troops in Florida, or anywhere else in America. The Governor, he said, had best attend to his civil duties and leave the military alone. The Governor had the right to request, Gage specified, but not to command.

In that way the garrisons of both East and West Florida were set up as military establishments independent of the governor's office. In West Florida too, Governor George Johnstone ran into even greater conflict with the military commander there, Brigdier General Haldimand. But finally Johnstone was put in his place by the British government in London.

The Floridas were looked upon as a good place in which to garrison troops, along with some of the newer colonies to the north. The older, more firmly established American colonies resented the quartering of British troops in their midst.

Already the sinister shadows of the Revolution were creeping over the land. Unrest was growing day by day in the American colonies. Before another year was out, a fiery, red-headed young orator would stand up in the Virginia assembly and declaim for all America to hear:

"Caesar had his Brutus, Charles I his Cromwell, and George III may profit by their example. If that be treason, make the most of it!" And the words of Patrick Henry lit the flaming torch of liberty.

But down in St. Augustine, in 1764, Governor James Grant had little inkling of what was transpiring to the north. He was too deeply concerned with getting the government of East Florida organized.

At length the men he had sent for came from Charleston. Among them were James and John Moultrie, destined to be as prominent in East Florida as their Scottish father had been in South Carolina. Another notable was John Stuart, superintendent of Indian affairs for the Southern District, which included Florida. And Oct. 31, 1764, saw the official inauguration of Governor Grant and "His Majesty's Council for East Florida."

The government of East Florida was set up much like that of a British crown colony—government by edict of the Governor and his Council, without the ordinary folk having much to say about it. There would be no legislature in East Florida until 1780, although in West Florida one was held as early as 1766.

This sort of government was natural, for as yet the settlers were too few either to elect a legislative assembly or to furnish financial support of one.

The acquiring of settlers to populate Florida now became the chief objective. To forward that purpose, Governor Grant, soon after his arrival, had issued a proclamation setting forth the many opportunities to be found in East Florida. Besides that, circulars and gazetteers were published in England describing the advantages of climate, virgin soil, timber resources, and natural beauty to be found in both East and West Florida.

Regarding West Florida, Governor Johnstone became most enthusiastic in his descriptions. He extolled his province as a veritable paradise—a land which, when settled and fully developed, would rival such classically famous places as Tyre and Carthage, Venice and Genoa. He called West Florida "the emporium of the New World."

Thus the "promoters" of the two rival provinces of Florida advertised their real estate. Florida was now open to "subdivision" and "development."

qualities of the mango, claiming that it will cure advanced cases of scurvy where other fruits have failed. It is rich in vitamin A, particularly. It has one retarding quality against making it a favorite with just everyone for, belonging to the poison ivy family, it too affects some people. Many of these unfortunate people, however, insist on eating their fill of the mango, the "Feast of the Gods." After their feast they clean their exposed skin with alcohol or similar cleaner and then scrub with lots of soap and water. It works for most of them.

There is the lowly (to many) guava which furnishes such great quantities of vitamin C. To the early sailors the guava was eagerly sought, and Florida's early settlers also found it a great help, for they had little fruit. They used it for jelly, a splendid wine, then dried the residue, ground it and pressed it into cakes, calling it guava cheese. The guava, of course grew wild and the clumps of trees were popular places for the cattle to linger and eat the fruit.

Guava wine is a matter of history unless someone back in the hinterlands remembers its goodness.

Figs and persimmons are grown in limited quantities. The persimmon's high sugar content is due almost entirely to glucose and has not a trace of cane sugar. The persimmon and sapodilla are a fine source of sugar for folks who are denied the man-made product.

Strolling In Sanford

Applications are being accepted for the 1954 Sanford Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. The next pre-entrance testing date will be June 18 and 19.

On a weekend fishing trip to Samsel Island with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Epps, Jr., Wayne, eight years old, caught an 18-pound snook without any assistance. Also on the fishing trip were Dr. and Mrs. Epps Sr., Mr. and Mrs. John Epps and Marilyn Epps. They stayed at the Island Inn while there.

The Sanford Tourist and Shuffleboard Club will have a covered dish supper tomorrow evening at the club at 6 o'clock. The members will meet at the club Thursday at 6:30 p. m. to go to Orange City for a shuffleboard match.

According to a report received here today from Michigan State College, Dorothy Vollbrecht, 618 Park Ave. has recently received her master's degree in elementary education.

The Seminole High School Band will hold rehearsals throughout the summer months every Tuesday evening from 8 until 9:30 o'clock in the band hall. Navy men, townships and members of the junior high and senior high bands are invited to attend the practices with S.H.S. band Capt. Mickey Durak in charge.

Men and women of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer yesterday were clearing the site of their new church on W. First St. in the rain.

Ernest Cowley, Seminole High School bandmaster, is one of the instructors at the annual band camp held at the University of Miami.

Suspect Is Held In Kidnap Case

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Daniel J. Marsin, 41, charged with kidnaping the wife of a wealthy industrialist for $75,000, sat silently in jail while officers resumed a search today for the missing ransom money.

Police here in the Superstition Mountains, police believed, were hidden the marked bills paid for Mrs. Evelyn Ann Smith's release by her husband Herbert.

Where in the Superstition foothills were combed by a small force of officers. They worked doggedly, moving small boulders, brush and dirt in the belief the loot had been hidden there.

Two days of hunting failed to turn up any clue. The search today was extended into abandoned mine shafts.

Police also were hunting a rifle, pistol and a pair of binoculars, which the Smiths said they had seen the kidnaper use.

There were other unanswered questions. Mrs. Smith said she overheard a second man after being locked in the trunk of her car. She said he discussed killing her. When she arrived at the Superstition late Wednesday night, she said only one masked kidnaper was with her.

Investigating officers, who had hidden along the road to the payoff spot to which Smith had been ordered, asked openly why Smith drove his wife back to Phoenix without stopping to report that she was safe.

He delayed the search for the kidnaper by more than two hours, one officer said.

A. P. Kyle, 67, Dies In Orlando Hospital

A. P. Kyle, 67, died early yesterday morning in an Orlando hospital following a lingering illness.

Born July 15, 1886, in Springfield, Ohio, he came to Sanford about a year ago and made his home with Mrs. Kyle at 2209 Magnolia Ave. They came here from Canton, Ohio.

Survivors include the widow and a stepdaughter, Mrs. H. L. Moore of Sanford; and one stepson, W. K. Hoyt, of West Palm Beach. Services will be held at the Brisbane Funeral Home tomorrow at 10:00 a. m. with Rev. A. G. McInnis officiating and burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery. The family has asked that flowers be omitted.

Youth Seriously Hurt In Truck-Car Crash

Vehicles Catch Fire Following Collision Saturday West Of City

A 19-year-old Sanford resident was in "fair" condition early this afternoon at the Orange Memorial Hospital, Orlando, according to a hospital spokesman, after suffering serious injuries in a flaming truck-automobile wreck Saturday afternoon.

According to trooper R. D. Harrison of the Highway Patrol who covered the accident, the youth, Robert James Ingram Jr., 19, 2416 Palmetto Ave., suffered a shattered right thigh, second degree burns over his entire right arm and lacerations about the head, and a lacerated right elbow, as results of the crash.

Ingram ran into a tractor-trailer rig driven by Louis James Harrison, 27, Sorrento, on State Road 46, three miles west of Sanford, at 4 p. m.

Harrison, the trooper said, was attempting to make a left turn into the old Lake Monroe road after having driven east on State Road 46, when Ingram, driving a 1949 Chevrolet coupe, crashed into the truck at the saddle, gasoline tanks. A fire resulted, which was pulled from his flaming car by the truck driver.

Previously, according to the state trooper, Ingram had been following behind a car driven by Charles Holland, Paola, which was behind the truck.

Ingram was taken to the Fernald Loughton Memorial Hospital where he was given emergency treatment before being taken to the Orlando hospital. The truck driver was not injured.

Charges will be filed against the injured motorist, Trooper Harrison said. Damage to the truck was set at $2,500 and to the car, $600, which was designated as a total loss, according to Trooper Harrison.

Mendes-France Agrees To Try Forming Cabinet

PARIS (AP) — Mendes-France agreed today to try to form France's 20th postwar Cabinet.

Many political figures doubted whether the 47-year-old economic and financial expert could get a majority in the divided National Assembly to go along with his policy, which calls for cutting down expenditures in Indochina and slowing down France's military buildup in Europe.

Mendes-France was nominated last night by President Rene Coty to succeed retiring Premier Joseph Laniel, defeated Saturday in a National Assembly confidence vote. The President also accepted Laniel's resignation.

Mendes-France is a leader of the Assembly's Radical Socialist (moderate) bloc, which was credited with bringing down the Laniel government. Following a normal procedure, he was the first person called on to try to form a replacement.

Coty delayed accepting Laniel's resignation for a day. It was believed he did not want France to be without a government over the weekend in the event of a crisis. Mendes-France's acceptance was announced a few minutes after he called on the President today at the Elysee Palace (France's White House). He had conferred with Coty at length last night on the political situation.

The new Premier designate now must consult various party leaders in an attempt to rally sufficient support to ensure his confirmation by the Assembly. He failed by 13 votes to gain confirmation as premier during last summer's 37-day government crisis. That crisis was finally resolved by the selection of Laniel, who served just two weeks short of a year.

Two More Added To Teachers' List

The names of two more teachers have been added to the list of vacancies appointed Friday to fill vacancies in the County schools, according to R. T. Milwee, County superintendent of public instruction.

Doris Schaeffer will teach at Seminole High School next semester. Mary H. Ratliff was appointed to a vacancy at Sanford Grammar school, according to the report.

Friday, it was reported that 14 teachers' resignations had been accepted by the County Board of Education. Superintendent Milwee stated that he does not believe the school system will have much trouble filling the vacancies by next semester.

It was also reported that Miss Henna G. Nunnally had moved from her position as a teacher at Sanford Grammar School to that of itinerant music instructor.

Lightning Cause Of Small Blaze

The Sanford fire department reported a small fire in a residence at 701 Willow Ave. Sunday.

According to Fire Chief Mark Cleveland, the fire was caused by lightning striking wires leading to an electric stove in the residence. A short circuit caused the small blaze, which was extinguished in a matter of seconds after arrival of the fire department, according to the chief.

Damages are considered light.

FROM SEA TO SHINING SEA

The flag of our country, where lightnings weeped, We dedicate the nation with apples of gold, And the flag waves for us living, or sleep or for dead— The flag of our country forever.

—Frank K. Stauber

First Official American Flag Displayed On Jan. 1, 1776

The first official American flag, the Continental or Grand Union flag, was displayed on Prospect Hill Jan. 1, 1776, in the American lines besieging Boston. It had thirteen alternate red and white stripes, with the British Union Jack in the upper left corner.

On June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted the design for a new flag, which actually was the Continental flag with the red cross of St. Andrew replaced on the blue field by thirteen stars, one for each state. No rule was made as to the arrangement of the stars, and while they were usually shown in a circle, there were various other designs. It is uncertain when the new flag was first flown, but its first official announcement is believed to have been on Sept. 3, 1777.

The first public assertion that Betsy Ross made the first Stars and Stripes appeared in a paper read before the Historical Society of Pennsylvania on March 14, 1776, by William J. Canby, a grandson. However, Mr. Canby no later in the year found no official documents of any action by Congress on the flag before June 14, 1777. Betsy Ross' own story, according to her daughter, was that Washington, Robert Morris and George Ross, as representatives of Congress, visited her in Philadelphia in June 1776, showing her a rough draft of the flag and asking her if she could make one. However, the only actual record of the manufacture of flags by Betsy Ross is a voucher in Harrisburg, Pa., for 14 pounds and some shillings for flags for the Pennsylvania navy.

On Jan. 13, 1794, Congress voted to add two stars and two stripes to the flag in recognition of the admission of Vermont and Kentucky to the Union. By 1816, there were twenty stars, in the Union, and as it was obvious that the flag would soon become unwieldy, Congress voted April 18 to return to the original thirteen stripes and to indicate the admission of a new state simply by the addition of a star the following July 4. The last two stars were added July 4, 1912, for New Mexico and Arizona.

Collins Spends $371,624 To Win

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — State Sen. Lefley Collins spent $371,624 to win the Democratic nomination for governor of Florida, a final report on his primary campaign spending showed today.

Spencer Burgess, state campaign treasurer for the Democratic nominee, listed final expenditures of $17,126 to the secretary of state to wind up reports of Collins' campaign spending.

New contributions of $1,765 were reported to bring the total received by Collins from his supporters to $39,891.

The unexpended balance of $4,961 in the Collins campaign fund has been transferred to a headquarters account, Burgess reported. The Democratic nominee must face the formality of a November general election first against Republican nominee J. Tom Watson of Tampa but no Republican has been elected governor since Reconstruction days.

JOHNS SPENDS $364,213 Acting Gov. Charles J. Johns, whom Collins defeated by 62,000 votes in the Democratic runoff primary May 25, reported campaign expenditures of $364,213 and total contributions of $375,972.

Early Reports Show Success

Tampa Resident Held In Probe Of Old Slaying

BARTOW (AP) — A Tampa Negro was held today for questioning about his activities in the 22-year-old Joe H. Deal slaying.

John Peoples, 44, was arrested in Tampa Saturday and brought to Polk County jail. Sheriff Pat Gordon said Peoples was employed at the time of the Deal slaying by Emmett Donnelly, a Lake Wales lawyer who figured prominently in that case.

Donnelly and Deal, a former mayor of Lake Wales, were law associates. Donnelly had a $250,000 double indemnity life insurance policy on Deal's life.

After Deal was shot to death, Donnelly was charged with being an accessory before the fact but the charge was dropped when a state jury refused to indict him. The insurance company paid the claim.

Last week Donnelly said he was charged with comparing to murder three wealthy clients to get a free hand in handling their estates and shot himself to death.

Sheriff Gordon said Donnelly reportedly made some remarks about the unsolved Deal case recently which might have referred to Peoples and that Peoples had seemed unduly disturbed about developments in the new investigation.

Permits Rise To About 142

Three building permits were given at the City Hall over the weekend bringing the city total to approximately 142 for this fiscal year.

F. R. Ashburn of 407 Summerlin Ave. received a permit to repair the front porch of his home. Approximate cost of the work was placed at $200, according to the report. He will do the work himself.

H. F. Seaburg received a permit to replace the roof of his home. An approximate cost of $150 was set for the project. Seaburg, who lives at 804 Magnolia Ave., will also do his own work.

Mrs. G. H. Carlton of 615 Park Ave. was given a permit to repair her porch. Costs for the repairs were approximated at $100.

Two Hurt When Vehicle Overturns

An automobile driven by a Sanford laborer overturned Saturday night and slid on its side for approximately 72 feet before coming to a stop, according to police account.

The car, a 1947 Chevrolet, was driven by Zeke Southward, a 32-year-old Negro, who was arrested on a charge of "drunk while driving."

Two passengers were injured when the car flipped over on Melbourne Ave. Stonewall Jackson and Eddie Black were taken to Fernald Loughton Memorial Hospital for treatment of superficial injuries, according to the report.

1954 Hurricane Season To Open

MIAMI (AP) — The hurricane season opens officially tomorrow.

Twenty-eight Navy "Hurricane Hunter" pilots are ready to start patrolling hurricane breeding places in the Atlantic Ocean and the Caribbean Sea for the Miami Weather Bureau is prepared to begin its round-the-clock watch for the tropical storms.

The "season" will last until Nov. 15.

All but six of the 28 pilots are veterans of the 1953 season during which the planes flew into six full-fledged hurricanes and eight smaller storms.

They have been going through intensive training in Jackson ville, using one-way radio Neptune planes, the Neptune planes used previously but has replaced by newer equipment for tracking hurricanes.

Two tropical storms hit Florida in 1953 but neither was big enough to cause much damage. One crossed the state from Palm Beach to Melbourne and the other moved toward the Panama City area. Miami hasn't seen a hurricane since 1940.

Assailant Of Oviedo Persons Sentenced In Circuit Court

Willie Caraway, a 25-year-old Oviedo orange picker who shot two residents of Oviedo last April, Friday afternoon was sentenced to 40 years in prison on two counts of assault, one specified as being with intent to murder. Each count carried the maximum penalty of 20 years.

Judge M. B. Smith was on the bench Friday in circuit court.

The Negro, who was captured after a short, but intensive search involving city, county and state law enforcement officers, and civilians, was accused of having shot his estranged wife, and John Courier, 39-year-old sales manager of the Eyles Vegetable Co., Oviedo.

The attacker shot Courier in the home of their former neighbor, chief of police Robert Miller, where he had gone with a letter addressed to Courier's wife.

The killer, who today reported to work at his home in Oviedo, but Courier is paralyzed from the neck down.

Break In Occurs At Bus Station

According to police reports, the Sanford Greyhound bus station was broken into Saturday night.

An investigation today revealed that the station was broken into and taken two rolls of pictures. Police reported that entry had been gained through a broken window and unlatched door.

The window was watched apparently by a dog, according to police.

BANK DEPOSITS RISE JACKSONVILLE (AP) Bank deposits of the National Monetary Council were 11 per cent higher in May than in May 1953. The Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, Jacksonville branch, said today.

'Booster' Pages To Appear Weekly In Sanford Herald

The first in a series of 11 "booster" pages will start in the Sanford Herald on Wednesday. It is made possible through the support of the Sanford Merchants Association and the Chamber of Commerce because they realize that money spent in Sanford works for you in Sanford.

These pages which were prepared by Joe Ledford of Clearwater, representing Hallmark Associates, are not mere signature pages. Each week the theme and pictures are changed with the small picture of business in Sanford presented in a different manner.

Citizens of Sanford are interested in the growth and success of the community. The payroll in Sanford to which it is spent with the town which it is spent with the merchants and business people.

The Herald believes that if local buyers will look at home they will be confirmed "buyers at home."

Merchants and business people participating include the following: Sanford Bowling Alley; Winn TV and Radio; Randall Electric Co.; Ray-Fields Lincoln Mercury Co.; Bob's Home Bakery; Florida State Bank of Sanford; Sanford Atlantic Bank; Swan's Battery Service; Harriett's Beauty Shop; No-Hi Bottling Co.; Sanford Boat Works; H. ## 19-Year-Old Boy Waits In Vain For Rifle Duel

ELGIN, Ill. (AP) — A 19-year-old boy waiting in vain for two days for another youth to show up for a duel with 22 rifles was seized yesterday by a posse formed in the belief the duel was on.

The challenger, the South Elgin police chief, Cliff Fahey, said took a few potatoes at encircled officers, in William Frenchack. Fahey said Frenchack gave up meekly when the posse closed in. He hadn't slept or slept during his vigil.

Police said Frenchack told of quarreling with Larry Snow, 20, over the Elgin Thursday night and issuing a challenge for a duel with rifles at a gravel pit at South Elgin.

"You stand at one end and I'll stand at the other and only one will leave," Frenchack was quoted.

Frenchack went to the pit with rifle and ammunition Friday night.

Police got into the case when they found Frenchack's car near the gravel pit and read a note attached to the windshield advising Snow to fire three shots when he reached the pit and was ready to duel.

Snow? He told police he thought it was just a joke and went swimming instead.
