

PRESIDENT VETOES BONUS AND GIVES HIS REASONS STATEMENT TO CONGRESS

WAS IN ACCORD WITH PROVISIONS BUT NOT ALL

MEANS NO BONUS

For Long Time to Come as Senate Will Probably Sustain His Action

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The house passed the soldiers bonus bill over the president's veto. The vote was 258 to 54, fifty more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The soldiers bonus, vetoed yesterday by President Harding will be started today on its second voyage through congress. Favorable action by the house is looked for generally but friends of the measure doubted if they could muster in the senate the necessary two-thirds majority to override the veto. A plan was to call up the bill in the house this afternoon and have a roll call after an hour or two of debate. The time of the senate action is indefinite. Some favored final test of strength immediately after the house voted, but others counselled for a delay till tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—President Harding vetoed the soldiers bonus bill, informing congress in a written message that while he was in accord with "the avowed purposes of the measure," he did not subscribe to its provisions.

The executive's action was regarded generally in Washington as making improbable a bonus for the world war veterans, at least for some time to come as it appeared to be almost certain that the veto would be sustained by the senate. A vote in the house was planned for today with senate action to follow later in the day or on Thursday.

Mr. Harding set forth a number of reasons for returning the bill to the house without his approval. These included:

Failure of congress to provide a means of financing.

That inevitably the bonus would mean increased taxation.

That the legislation would wipe everything thus far accomplished to reduce governmental expenditures wherever possible.

That a bonus bestowal in which the government was a "provision of public funds" suggested "that future defense is to be inspired by compensation rather than consciousness of duty to flag and country."

That to add one-sixth of the total sum of the public debt for distribution among less than 5,000,000 of 110,000,000 people would undermine confidence on which the nation's credit was based, and "establish the precedent of distributing public funds whenever the proposal and the numbers affected make it seem politically appealing to do so."

That the $10,000,000,000 of maturing public debt in the next six years would be difficult to meet without adding the complication of added borrowings on account of a bonus.

That the adjusted certificate plan of payment with its bank and government loans was little less than a certified inability of the government to pay and a "practice of sacrificial barter" by the veterans.

That the bonus would not diminish the later obligation in the way of pensions to the world war veterans.

Asserting that this obligation would "cost more billions than I venture to suggest," the president declared that "a rational financial policy today is necessary to make the nation ready for the expenditure which is certain to be required in the coming years."

Mr. Harding also called attention to the sums now being expended for the care of the disabled, disabled or dependent and asserted that the total cost of this work, with the increased liability added, would probably exceed 25 billion dollars.

As to the immediate and ultimate cost of the bonus, Mr. Harding said this was not definitely known. Treasury estimates, based on what seem-

ROTARY CLUB HAD MEETING LAST NIGHT WAS ONE OF THE BEST MEETINGS OF THE ENTIRE YEAR

The Sanford Rotary Club had their regular monthly night meeting at the Valdez Hotel last night where Catano served a fine fish supper with all the trimmings. Being a night meeting and having more time to discuss various things for the good of the club and the public generally there were more good things put over than have been in some time as the noon meetings are a rush and a roar with but little time for constructive building.

It was decided last night that the Sanford Rotary and Orlando Rotary would play a ball game in Orlando some time in the near future. Judge Housholder outlined a scheme for getting the members out to every meeting and the Reds and the Blues were organized for a contest to see who can get out the most for a certain period, the losers to pay for the supper.

Each member will bring an idea to the next meeting—said idea to be something that Rotary should put over this year. It was decided to invite the Southern Utilities Company to move their main office to Sanford.

Good talks were made by many of the members on membership and it was also decided that at every meeting one member must give a five minute talk on his business thus giving the other members an insight into something that they know nothing about but should learn in order that a broader view of the business life of Sanford can be obtained.

"Boys work and other parts of the service" program and with songs and good fellowship the meeting passed off in a manner that made all those present feel that they had attended one of the best meetings in the history of the club.

ed the most likely exercise of the options, he continued, figured the direct cost at $795,000,000 for the first four years and a total cost in excess of four billion dollars. He added that no estimate of the larger index cost had ever been made.

JEWELL ANSWERS INJUNCTION CHARGES FOR RESPONSIBILITY FOR STRIKE ON RAIL CHIEFS

Details History of the Strike Before the Peace Agreements

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Responsibility for the railroad shop crafts strike was charged to the Association of Railway Executives by Bert M. Jewell, head of the strikers, in answering Attorney General Daugherty's injunction bill yesterday.

Mr. Jewell did not appear before Judge Wilkerson in person, but his attorneys read into the record a 28 page affidavit in which Mr. Jewell recited the causes which he maintains brought on the strike, detailed the history of the various unsuccessful peace conferences which preceded the agreement reached with some roads here last week, and declared the union leaders had never countenanced violence.

He declared that since August 2nd when the strikers accepted President Harding's second peace proposal, the railway executives have maintained a lockout against them.

"To all intents and purposes" Donald R. Richberg, attorney for the defense said, interrupting the reading of the affidavit, "the strike ended August 2nd when the men told the president they accepted his plan of settlement. After that it was a lock-out."

Mr. Jewell said he had been advised by counsel that the railroads had no legal right under the laws of the United States railroad labor board to deny his men their former seniority rights when they resume work.

The defense attorneys preceded the Jewell affidavit with the introduction of 89 injunctions obtained by various railroads against strikers on their lines. They contended that these local injunctions gave sufficient guarantee against violence and that a nation-wide restraining order was unnecessary.

Assistant Attorney General Crum objected that the government had the right to ask injunctions to prevent the destruction of interstate commerce and interruption in the delivery of the mails.

The causes leading up to the strike as the strikers see them date back to 1920, according to the Jewell affidavit. At that time the labor committee of the railway executives' association, headed by President Gray, of the Union Pacific, adopted a report favoring steps to organize regional adjustment boards, as provided by the transportation act. W. W. Atterbury, vice-president of the Pennsylvania railroad, preached a minority report opposing such boards.

The majority report was rejected by the association, and T. DeWitt Cuyler, president of the executives, appointed Mr. Atterbury to succeed Mr. Gray as chairman of the labor committee.

FINAL LEGISLATIVE ACTION TAKEN TARIFF QUESTION ADOPTION OF CONFERENCE

Measure Has Been Given to President Harding for His Signature

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Final legislative action on the tariff of 1922 was taken today with the adoption of the conference reports by the senate. The measure now goes to President Harding and will become effective the day after he signs it. Under the law, he has ten days in which to attach his signature.

The senate vote was 43 to 28 and came exactly one year, eight months and thirteen days after work was started on what will be the first Republican protective tariff law in nearly ten years. Five Republicans voted against the conference report and two Democrats supported it. Three Republicans, Cameron, Cummins and Lenroot, who voted for the bill as amended in the senate, opposed it in the form it came from conference.

The roll call follows:

For adoption, Republicans: Ball, Brandegee, Bursum, Capper, Colt, Curtis, Dillingham, Dupont, Edge, Ernest, France, Frelinghuysen, Gopping, Hale, Harold, Jones (of Washington), Kellogg, McCambeck, McCumber, McLean, McNary, Moses, Nelson; New

BODIES BEING TAKEN OUT OF THE ARGONAUT

NINE BROUGHT TO THE SURFACE; CORONER'S JURY TO BE SWORN IN TODAY

(By The Associated Press) JACKSON, Calif., Sept. 20.—Five bodies of miners, entombed 22 days by a fire in the Argonaut gold mine were brought to the surface yesterday. The United States bureau of mines crew wrapped the bodies in canvases where they were found the night before in the 1,350 foot level of the Argonaut and carried them thru the Kennedy mine adjoining. Three of the dead were identified. The work of bringing out the 47 victims of the fire and the poisonous gases will continue until all have been recovered.

A coroner's jury will be sworn in today by Mrs. Lola Potter, the coroner, to view the ill-fated miners. An inquest probably will be held tomorrow. It is not expected the responsibility for the disaster will be fixed. The bodies were conveyed to a building on the Argonaut property, a mile from the Kennedy shaft, and placed in coffins.

Persons without passes or business at the Kennedy mine were ordered off the property and there was no demonstration when the rescue crews appeared at the collar of the Kennedy shaft with their human burdens. Red Cross workers remained at the homes of the widows and orphans of the dead, making arrangements for their immediate care and funerals.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The Jugo-Slavs legation, in a statement today, declared "the Belgrade government intends to act in complete agreement with the allies" in the near eastern situation.

a year in revenue, one half from these four sources:

Joseph S. McCarty, actuary of the treasury, figures that the effective equivalent ad valorem will average slightly below those in the Payne-Adrich act. The average of the rates, however, is declared to be slightly above those in the 1909 act.

OF THE NEAR EASTERN TANGLE WHICH BIDS FAIR TO BE SOME TANGLE MEETING PLACE

Will Be Decided Upon This Afternoon and Balkans Will Come In

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Sept. 20.—Representatives of France, Great Britain, and Italy today put their heads together to seek adjustment of the near Eastern tangle. It was arranged this morning that Marquis Curzon, British foreign secretary see Premier Poincare and prepare the ground for a meeting this afternoon. Italy and Jugo-Slavia will also be represented.

GENEVA, Sept. 20.—Relations between Bolivia, and Chile are such that "grave difficulties" threaten unless mediation of friendly power or arbitration of League of Nations can be secured. This declaration was made in a letter received by the League assembly from Bolivian delegate to the assembly.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20.—The American torpedo boat destroyer Simpson arrived today bringing more American eye witnesses of the Smyrna fire, all agree that the flames originated in the Armenian quarter of the city and assert evidence strongly indicates the Turks wilfully started the fire.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Official confirmation was received here from Constantinople stating that the French had withdrawn its troops from Chanak and Italian apparently were doing the same thing. The British force is remaining alone at this point.

PARIS, Sept. 20.—A blood settlement of the crisis in the Near East with the British troops shortly withdrawing from the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles was predicted by Amed Ferid Bey, principal spokesman for Mustafa Kemal Pasha in Europe, in the course of a statement to the Associated Press tonight.

SMYRNA, Sept. 20.—Fire has accomplished for the Turks what the sword failed to do. Asia Minor, the cradle of Christianity soon will be depopulated of Christians. Many of those in Smyrna who were not snatched from death by American and other rescuers, are disappearing into the hills, some voluntarily, many by force. Others are dying of exhaustion, fright, or exposure on the shattered stone wall in front of the belighted city.

The only cry American correspondents hear is: "Won't America come and save us?"

Mustapha Kemal's order permits American and Allied ships to enter the harbor to evacuate the victims and to relieve the anguish of both refugees and relief workers, but every day's delay in the arrival of the vessels means the death of many.

Less than 60,000 Christians remained huddled on the quay or in concentration camps out of the original 250,000 and the first are those who were taken forcibly into the interior. The Turkish edict has gone forth: "Christianity must be stamped out in Asia."

The lack of food and clothing and the unspeakable sanitary conditions are adding horrors and the people are obliged to eat the flesh of animals killed in the fire days ago. The American bluejackets have ransacked the ships in the harbor for condensed milk for the famished babies and have given up their overcoats to women.

The nights are bitterly cold and the shivering fugitives take refuge in the cellars of smoldering ruins; others have burrowed into the earth like animals of the wild. Mothers in bitter anguish and despair are thrusting their babies into the sea.

The combination of war, massacre, fire, drowning and famine disease has visited scourge and havoc upon innocent and defenseless Christian women and children. One must go back to pagan times to find a counterpart to the reign of fury, fire and famine which laid this great abode of Christianity in ashes.

Mrs. Geo. Swift, Miss Margaret and Master George are expected to arrive some time this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Tice and children returned to their home in Formosa after spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Chaffer.

Work has been begun on the sidewalks.

The convicts have been working on the county road through here for the past several weeks, which is making a big improvement in Seminole county's main thoroughfare.

Ben Henk of California, arrived on Saturday to spend some time with his brother, Mayor Henk.

Friends of Louis Entzinger and Miss Lillian Watts will be surprised to hear of their marriage which took place September 12th at Dunedin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Entzinger were visitors in Sanford Saturday.

EAST SANFORD

Miss Marion Deiterick went to Philadelphia, Pa., last week to enter St. Timothy's hospital at Roxboro for training as a nurse. This is the same hospital Miss Gladys Deiterick graduated from last year.

W. W. Gibson arrived here from Washington, D. C., recently to spend some time at his place on Richmond avenue.

Miss Mattie Dowan and party of Winter Park were callers at the Ellsworth home Sunday.

Mrs. L. A. Brumley was hostess to the Celery avenue circle of Presbyterian ladies last Thursday.

Mrs. B. E. Squire's home on Lake Onoro was the meeting place for the East Sanford Ladies Aid Meeting of the M. E. Church in town, on Monday.

At the conclusion of the meeting delicious cake and iced lemonade was served.

J. C. Ellsworth is very ill with an attack of kidney stone trouble, Dr. Tolar attending him.

C. E. Charpening is out again after a ten days' siege of dengue fever.

George Steele celebrated his 8th birthday anniversary on Monday and was the happy little host to a number of his young friends, which included Alys Charpening, Buster Prevatt, Charles and Archie Ward, Clifford Bell, Jr., Eugene Estridge, Wallace Phillips and Robert Steele. All had a great time playing games before the treat of angel food cake and ice cream was served. Mrs. Steele was assisted by Mrs. Corpany in entertaining the little people.

It seems such a pity that people will let the sides of the road in front of their property look like junk piles. Beardall avenue in spots is a good example; great mounds of trash thrown into the streets, refuse off the farm land and any old thing they want to dispose of is thrown into the street. Wouldn't it be fine if every one would clean up? Please get after them, commissioners.

Chicken thieves got away with a dozen of Mrs. B. Steele's fine Rhode Island Red hens and pullets Sunday night. Mrs. Steele at home alone heard them but had no way of doing anything. This is the second visit within a few months.

It looks like rain.

That is it will rain if the clouds continue.

But yet Florida is a dry state most of the time according to reports.

Henry Peabody says it only rains in Texas about ten times a year and who in the world wants to live in Texas?

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bowman have returned to Sanford. Mr. Bowman has accepted a position with the Southern Utilities.

J. C. Haines of the American Type Founders Co., with headquarters in Atlanta, was in the city today on business connected with the Herald Printing Co.

Again the Chamber of Commerce demonstrated what an active body of business men can do in entertaining a visiting delegation. Were it not for the Chamber of Commerce there would be no glad handing done.

Capt. M. W. Lovell of Orange Bend, Lake county, is at home for a few days' visit with his family here. He reports much rain in Lake county and the lakes are filled up and many of the low spots are under water. The Rivers and Harbors bill goes to the president today. We hope he forgets about that veto business when he gets to our bills.

Florida may be the new home of silk culture says press dispatch. We hope so. In looking over our bills—yes, we know it is so.

The only way to relieve the Near East from the Turks is by Christian bayonets. Food is not sufficient. The Turks get it in the end.

A peanut politician is one that demands newspaper support in order that he can get a steady job and buy more peanuts.

Food costs have decreased during August despite the rail strike and the coal strike and other calamities. This shows that a most prosperous season is just ahead of all of us.

Philipp Shore, the Tampa Inter-Ocean Steamship man in a talk to the Tampa Rotarians said we must fight for trade. Old story, Philipp, old story.

No settlement will be made in the Near East except by war says the Turkish statesmen. Then give the scoundrels war. A few British and some American marines could do the job.

The Herald wishes to call attention to the fact that Sanford needs at least one hundred more houses for people to live here this winter. They can be built and sold on the installment plan making money for the builders and those that buy them.

The Herald Printing Company is going ahead despite strikes, and depressions and buying material that will make the Herald one of the best equipped offices in the state. Our friends have made this possible—friends and the fact that we give them something for their money.

Another fine school house just started yesterday for Sanford. This city undoubtedly has the finest school system in the state and with all our new buildings and improvements we will have the proper equipment to supplement our fine teachers and new buildings.

On account of high rents the Greenwich villagers will leave their old hangouts and get the roofs of skyscrapers along the Hudson and East rivers. This is much better. The villagers will now get a bath and behave themselves or fall off the big buildings.

They are still talking about the injunction when half of the strikers have gone back to work. Why don't they take this valuable time for discussing the various points of controversy? There will never be another strike and the rules are not needed now.

With the end of the strike in sight the railroads will now enter into a period of prosperity. They will haul twice as much freight as before and will build new terminals and new shops and buy new equipment. We can look for the period of prosperity recently spoken of by Roger Babson in the Daily Herald.

The people of Jacksonville favor a $50,000 publicity tax. We hope the city commissioners of Sanford will note this and be more liberal with their publicity tax here. Make it large enough to take in all the many needs of the city and stop these drives that take place every winter and drive the business men crazy.

If all the money that is sent out of Sanford in wildcat schemes could be invested in the building and loan association this city would have a building boom that would beat anything heretofore staged in this part of the state. We need the houses and the building associations needs the money. Why not invest some of it here where it will be safe?

It seems strange how a grown man can get disgruntled over a trifle and decide he will have nothing to do with the business organizations of his city and nothing to do with certain ones against whom he imagines he has a grievance. Some people never grow up and they fail to see the beam in their own eye.

The High School needs Home Economics department and needs equipment. Not having an appropriation for this department it devolves upon the good people of the community to assist in raising the necessary funds. This will be done by a series of entertainments during the year—the first to be given in the High School Auditorium September 26th. Come out and help along the good cause by your presence.

Sanford is the place for the main offices of the Southern Utilities Co. This was apparent when they moved to Palatka. Sanford is the center and the hub of the state and the real headquarters for railroad shops, ship yards, wholesale business, warehouses, big office forces and big business of all kinds. They are coming every day and every day they are learning that Sanford is the real business center of Florida.

Bradentown if off the fake advertising schemes for life and have recently appointed a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce to look after all such schemes and keep the fakirs from bothering the business men. The Sanford Chamber of Commerce has been doing this for the past year or more and if every business man was an active member of the Chamber of Commerce and would let them take this worry off their minds they would save money and worry during the year. Try it!

TRAINMEN ARE RIGHT

When the trainmen of a western road a few weeks ago left the train in the desert and the passengers to their fate because they chose to go on an independent strike, they forfeited their rights as citizens and as members of the union. The public took away their rights as citizens and the Railroad Trainmen Brotherhood took away their memberships as trainmen and members of the union. The men and their officers lost their union cards and rights because they had disobeyed their superior officers and were rank insurrectionists in striking before they were even called out and they were barbarians to leave a train load of passengers in the desert when they could just as well have carried them to some town. Now they have suffered for it and the heads of the union have proved their real character by letting them out of the union.

The Jacksonville Journal in speaking of the incident says: "One general chairman, three local chairmen and eight officers of subordinate lodges of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen of California have lost their offices as a result of the recent desertion of several train loads of passengers in the southwestern desert. The officers concerned were charged with having authorized the walkout in defiance of national headquarters and were removed accordingly, after an inquiry, by their national president."

"This action is good. It tends to restore public confidence in the leadership of the railroad trainmen and to strengthen the central authority of all the railroad unions over their members."

"No one but wants to see full and just punishment meted out to those guilty of such and similar acts of violence in the course of strikes. Until a better way than a cessation of labor can be found to settle industrial differences, both sides, capital and labor, must enforce their no-violence orders. Irresponsible hired guards who are too ready with a gun, or defiant officers and members of the striking unions should be treated as the criminals they are."

"The Chicago inquiry into acts of violence should go to the bottom of the thing, establish responsibility and punish the guilty. It should not stop with the individual guilt. He is guilty, but he may be working under orders. Very effort should be made to learn the forces behind and directing the crimes. Then will justice be done."

TIMELY WARNING TO CRATE BUYERS

The Southern Lumber Journal in a recent issue voices a timely warning against what it terms "a serious condition that confronts the growers and shippers of fruits and vegetables, in an alarming shortage of equipment available for service and the time necessary to put it in condition." Assuming that the railroad strike might be continued indefinitely, and that the rail transportation might be greatly hindered, or even entirely suspended, the Journal stressed the importance of the motor truck, and the further utilization of the waterways in transportation.

It is unquestionable that a much greater use of these methods would prove advantageous to the growers and truckers, not only in the greater cheapness of getting their products to market, but in reducing the chances of delay and congestion, which are, so often incidental to rail shipments. But a greatly extended use of heavy trucks demands not only "good" roads, but the very best of roads. Experience has shown us that roads which are entirely adequate for the passage of comparatively light passenger travel, will not stand up under the pounding of heavy trucks carrying big loads at a high rate of speed. It is evident that our future building of roads, must keep in view all these essential requirements. The roads must have better foundations and be more solidly and substantially built than we have heretofore thought necessary. They must be wider in order to better the distribution of the traffic and wear. The narrow roads may suffice in remote districts where the travel is light, but they are neither economical nor safe where it is heavy and continuous. They furnished a great object lesson in the early days of road building, of the advantages of paved roads over the sand trails, but the days of their usefulness in that respect have long since gone by. No sensible person in Florida, but concedes the advantages of hard roads over the deep sand that our fathers wallowed through. But with the hard paved roads comes the obligation to make them permanent, and capable of bearing any strain that may be put on them, and they must be kept in good repair, all the time. We cannot afford to "renew" our roads, at least during the lifetime of the bonds which we issue to build them. Better build less mileage, and make them more substantial and lasting. It may be that additional legislation on the subject is necessary.

Returning to the matter of the supply of crate material, which is of vast importance to the people of Florida, the Lumber Journal estimates that 10 per cent of the crate mills have gone out of business in the past year and the stock, both in the mills and the packing houses is lower than ever before at this season of the year. Some of the mills have exhausted the available supply of timber, others have found lumber more profitable and have turned their attention to that, but a majority, it is claimed, have become bankrupt through a lack of knowledge of the cost of production, and poor business judgment in marketing their product.

The Journal concludes that such material must be higher since the iron workers have had an advance of 20 per cent in wages, which will be reflected in an advance of nearly 40 per cent in the cost of nails and wire, adding to the already heavy burden of timber, labor and delivery. The moral is obvious. Those shippers who use large quantities of crates should get their supply early, and avoid a possible shortage and delay. Tampa Times.

CORNER STONE OF NEW SCHOOL LAID YESTERDAY

ON ACCOUNT OF THREATENING WEATHER EXERCISES WERE CUT SHORT

The corner stone of the new school building that will hereafter be known as the South Side school was laid yesterday with appropriate ceremonies although the regular program was cut short on account of the threatening weather. The corner stone was laid by Sanford Lodge, No. 762 F. & A. M., with Master W. T. Wheelless in charge of the ceremony, and under the jurisdiction and by the authority of Grand Master Chas. H. Ketcham of Florida. The exercises took place at the South Side grounds at four o'clock and followed the usual custom of corner stone laying of the Masonic order. A copy of the Sanford Herald and coins and names of the school board and faculty of the schools were placed under the corner stone. The corner stone was of white marble and bore the names of the local school board, the county school board, Superintendent of Schools T. W. Lawton, Contractor W. T. Hadlow and Architect Elton Moughton. The laying of the corner stone of the South Side School marks another mile stone in the progress of Sanford schools and demonstrates that her people are alive to the advantages of more schools and better equipment. The new school building will be ready for the pupils about the first of January or sooner if possible and will give much better facilities in the lower grades that are greatly crowded now. The entire county will take pride in the fact that the new school building has been started and will soon be completed thus adding another link to Sanford's splendid school system.

RENTS FLY HIGH IN GREENWICH VILLAGE; RESIDENTS ARE SORE

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Greenwich village is about to lose its Bohemian residents. Rents have been forced sky high, the artists complain, by the competition of idle rich who know nothing of art but like to wear flowing ties and live in the midst of temptation. Judan Bowes, chairman of the rent committee of the league of American Artists, has called a meeting of artists and real estate men to arrange for wholesale studio buildings on the tops of commercial buildings along the Hudson and East rivers.

Bright colored zinnias and red roses adorned the rooms, and the afternoon was pleasantly spent with sewing.

Late in the afternoon the hostess served ice cream and cake topped with cherries.

After the meeting the members went to the home of Mrs. Peabody where they gave a shower to the little Misses Mildred and Elizabeth Peabody.

Among the members enjoying this afternoon were Mrs. Archie Betts, Mrs. J. B. Coleman, Mrs. C. J. Marshall, Mrs. Wm. Belding, Mrs. Paul Biggers, Mrs. Chris Matthews, Miss Mildred Jackson and Mrs. Frederick S. Daiger, Jr.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Yesterday being his sixth birthday anniversary, Frederick Daiger entertained a number of his little friends very informally at his home on Fourth street.

Yellow lilies and ferns were effectively used in the rooms. In the dining room the table was centered with the pink and white birthday cake topped with six tiny lighted tapers.

Games of all kinds were played and later the hunt for the candy bags proved interesting. The prizes for this were won by Dorothea Lawson and Carlyle Housholder.

After the games refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Each guest was given an attractive favor.

Frederick was assisted in entertaining his guests by his mother, Mrs. J. B. Lawson and Mrs. Archie Betts.
