

Fall Plantings In Florida Reach Record Proportions

 way during the next few days.
 Throughout the rich Everglades territory there are ample indications of plans for large-scale production of the various crops produced there in such abundance in normal seasons. The over-all picture for the State as a whole, as I have indicated, is that acreage devoted to fall crops will probably set new records. The final results in vegetable production naturally cannot be known until the harvest. Bad seasons, plant diseases, insects — in fact a variety of disasters — may wipe out a picture of prosperity, almost overnight. This fear however, for the fall of 1946, the production outlook appears excellent.

SWORDS INTO — ?
SYDNEY, (AP) — Surplus war material is being put to unusual uses in Australia. A man who bought a captured Japanese tank planned to exhibit it and then use it to tow his pie-stand. A breakfast food firm is said to be using obsolete ack-ack guns for puffing wheat.

THE BUILDING BEAUTIFUL — Florida Military Academy, St. Petersburg, one of the 10 most beautiful buildings in the United States, is a picturesque re-creation of a Spanish walled settlement of the feudal ages. Through the portals of the main entrance to the Plaza, shown above, pass more than 260 cadets every year. Steeped in tradition, the academy, to re-open on Sept. 5, is one of the outstanding military schools in the United States and is among the few military schools in the nation to hold a War Department honor rating.

Formula For Ink Is Really A Sticker

NEW YORK, (AP) — Walter Lindenthal, a chemist, began experimenting to develop a new printing ink, but the formula he tried proved instead to be a cure for loose trol handles and wobbly chair legs.

The substance is a liquid compound that first makes wood fibers expand and then prevents them from shrinking in the drying-out process.

Lindenthal gave up his ink research and formed a partnership with Jule von S.enberg to put the compound on the retail market.

NEIGHBORS SEE JOB THROUGH

ARMINGTON, Ill., (AP) — The people of this agricultural community joined in an impressive and extraordinary memorial service for Don Heining a few days after he died. Neighbors mobilized 33 men and boys and 16 tractors and spent a day disking, harrowing and drilling 195 acres of Heining's land.

KNEW WHAT SHE WANTED

GREAT FALLS, Mont., (AP) — One pair of nylon, one pair of rayons, three alips and six items loosely catalogued as "unmentionables" disappeared from a clothesline recently and a woman's footprints were found at the scene.

88th Division Parades Near Morgan Line

Observers Say Yugo- slavs Could View American Military Show With Glasses

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson has denounced the Yugoslav attack on an American plane as an outrageous performance. Acheson made the statement as the United States handed Yugoslavia a new and emphatic protest, the third that has been disclosed in two days.

By Associated Press
A Yugoslav government spokesman has defended the shooting down of two American planes, saying Yugoslav pilots' planes did the right thing.

The United States and Britain again have let Marshall Tito know that it is not taking Yugoslav actions in the Balkans lying down. About 10,000 troops of the American 88th Division which with British forces occupy the tempestuous Venezia Giulia area staged a meaningful parade today in Gorizia. The announced purpose was to honor the members of the Second Battalion of the 351st Infantry for its part in the Italian campaign. But observers found these significant overtones:

The parade of military strength came at a time when Anglo-American relations with Yugoslavia were under a new strain from incidents. It was held close enough to the so-called Morgan line so that Yugoslav soldiers could watch it through field glasses. Ranking American and British officers reviewed the troops, who were parading for the first time in the 33 months they have been overseas. Commanding the absence was Col. Genic, commander of the Yugoslav detachment in the occupation zone. Coinciding with this, the British War Office issued a brilliant denunciation by Lieutenant General Sir William Morgan, the Allied commander in the Adriatic, of Yugoslav press dispatches. Morgan said that the Yugoslav newspaper accusations that American troops fired first in a Venezia Giulia border incident last month were entirely false.

In Belgrade, foreign circles are looking forward to a statement by the Yugoslav government on the machine-gunning of an American transport plane which was forced down 11 days ago. There still is no word from the Yugoslav side about the plane which disappeared yesterday on a flight from Austria to Italy. According to an eye-witness, a large transport—believed to be the American ship—was shot down in flames by two Yugoslav fighters over the Julian Alps yesterday. This is said to have taken place near the Yugoslav summer resort town of Bled where Marshal Tito is understood to be vacationing.

The person who saw the attack on the unarmed transport plane cannot not be heard from the ground. He said the fighter planes attacked, and then the transport spiraled down in a column of smoke, disappearing into the mountains. Then came a big column of black smoke, indicating that the plane had broken up.

Fighting Breaks Out Again In Calcutta

CALCUTTA, Aug. 20. (AP)—The violence and the Hindu-Muslim rioting in Calcutta today will be shooting it out in the middle of Calcutta. British dispatches say fighting broke out here today in some sections of India's largest city, although by and large the situation appears to be quieting. Thousands of refugees, however, are not taking any chances of being caught in another general outbreak.

They are jamming the railway stations in an attempt to get out of the city.

Government officials are estimating the toll of the last four days, saying that only about 500 persons were killed. A Bombay newspaper, however, claims that more than 2500 were killed and 5000 injured.

The words of "Annie Laurie" were first printed in 1824 and set to music in 1825.

Great Lake Ships Tied Up By Maritime Strike

In Washington, negotiators for the NMU and the shippers broke off attempts to settle the dispute.

Nation Awaits Announcement By Decontrol Board

Group Will Reveal Price Ceiling Decisions This Evening

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—The nation is waiting for an important announcement tonight on whether price ceilings will be restored for such major items as meat, milk and butter.

The new Price Decontrol Board will announce its decision about 8:00 P. M. Eastern Daylight Time. At 10:00 P. M. the three board members will explain their decision to the nation in an all-network broadcast.

The board plans to say whether ceilings will be restored on livestock, dairy products, grains, cottonseed, soy beans and hundreds of products derived from those basic commodities.

There is no indication whatsoever as to what the board has decided. OPA Administrator Paul Porter says that any new ceilings which the board decides to re-establish can not become effective until Friday. Porter explains that it will take that much time for business to readjust itself to new controls and for the OPA to work out the specific changes that may be required.

Legion Plans Meet On Thursday Evening

Due to small attendance at the American Legion meeting last evening, which was distributed by Post Commander Henry Wolcott to the fact that there was a ball game going on at Municipal Park, no action was taken to elect a vice-commander to replace L. R. Tew, who recently resigned this office because of business reasons.

It was proposed that a special meeting be held for this purpose next Thursday evening, at which time a vote on new members will be taken.

Friday night at 8:00 o'clock at the Legion Hut there will be a meeting of the 60 and 6 Society which already holds a charter. Officers will be elected. Those who have been members of the American Legion for more than one year are eligible to join.

Three Golden Spider Female Monkeys Placed On Island At Municipal Zoo

Three golden spider female monkeys of South American origin arrived from New York yesterday afternoon and were placed in the east wing and cage at Municipal Zoo.

As James Moughton, the caretaker explained, the new arrivals were housed separately due to the fact that established monkeys do not take kindly to newcomers and would attempt to drown them. There is one exception, however, to this inhospitable tendency on the part of the monkeys and that is the kindly attitude shown to new monkeys by Preacher, female spider monkey, who was named by spectators due to her tendency to walk about with hands upraised. Accordingly, Preacher has been placed in the cage as chaperone to the newcomers until such time as they are socially acceptable to the other monkeys who spend a lot of time screaming insults at them.

The new monkeys came from the same farm in New York which supplied the late Sisy-Q, who was described by Mr. Moughton as the fiercest and most intelligent monkey ever put on the island. Sisy-Q was killed by too much kindness on the part of spectators who fed her a surplus of cornstarch candy. She also swallowed broken glass from a mirror that someone threw on the island. There are now 12 monkeys on the island.

Ware Says Licenses For 1946 Must Be Renewed By Oct. 1

Drivers' licenses for 1947 will go on sale at 9:00 A. M. on Tuesday, Sept. 3. It was announced today by County Judge R. W. Ware. The permits will be issued for the same dollar fee as last year, $1 for operators and $2 for chauffeurs' licenses. During the period of sale up to Oct. 1, which period includes the day after tomorrow, operators' licenses may be renewed on Saturday until noon. The 1946 licenses may be renewed either by the owner or by any member of the family. Wednesday hours will be 9:00 A. M. until noon and 1:00 P. M. to 3:00 P. M. for applications.

People in the State of Florida must renew their licenses by Oct. 1. Failure to do so will result in a $5 fine. Ware said that he would appreciate the endorsement of a well addressed envelope to insure proper delivery of the license.

Drivers' examination must be made in the county where the applicant resides, said Judge Ware. If other ward a resident of that county must take his examination at Deland. Renewal of licenses may, however, be made in any county. Local examination will be conducted by State Highway patrolmen at the Army, Navy, and Air Force bases at 1:00 P. M. This year, for the first time, the Department of Public Safety requires those changing from an operator's license to a chauffeur's license to take an examination.

Violators of laws pertaining to winter license drivers on out-of-state licenses, however, if they are not fully employed or have not been in the state must possess Florida tag and driver's license.

It is unlawful to drive without a driver's license, but also to permit someone to drive a car who does not have one. Driving by persons under 14 is prohibited, and those from 14 to 18 may drive only after passing an examination and furnishing a written consent signed by a parent or employer. Persons not holding a valid license to drive a motor vehicle are prohibited from operating a motor vehicle which has a valid driver's license.

Judge Ware has requested all drivers to possess and read carefully "The Driver's Handbook," issued by the Department of Public Safety.

Florida State Guard Company Here Disbanded

Sanford, Aug. 20. (AP)—The 4th Battalion of the Florida State Guard was disbanded here today. The company was disbanded on June 30, 1946. The company was disbanded on June 30, 1946. The company was disbanded on June 30, 1946.

When the war cloud passed in 1945, the National Guard was called into Federal service. There was a bit of military organization, but of serious disturbances, such as strikes and other disorders.

Many states, cognizant of this fact, passed laws for the organization of state military units to replace the National Guard.

Under the laws of Florida, Company "D", Fourth Battalion of the Florida State Guard was mustered into service at Sanford on June 9, 1941. The company continued to function throughout the emergency. All of the men served on a strictly voluntary basis, and received no compensation whatever for their services.

The emergency being now over and the National Guard being in the process of reorganization, the members of the State Guard command felt that their services no longer were needed and requested that the organization be disbanded and the members be discharged.

Any of the men who are entitled to service ribbons or service stars, may receive them by sending upon Capt. Galloway who said that they had been received and he would be glad to confer them.

The fastest pace in the harvest was being set in the Ukraine, Kuban, Crimea and Don areas—Europe's most important wheat growing regions where four-fifths of the grain crops already have been reaped.

Projectiles Racing Over French Town

PARIS, Aug. 20. (AP)—Remnants of a town in Burgundy, France today declared that they have been seeing what they described as enormous long projectiles racing across the sky every night for the past week. The projectiles were said to trail orange-red lights and to emit piercing whistles.

Newspapers in Paris are speculating whether the missiles are similar to those that have been seen over Sweden in recent weeks, or whether they are simply meteors. The town over which the projectiles have been observed is called Cailillon Sur Seine, and lies northwest of Dijon.

Morgan Relieved Of Duty As UNRRA Official

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—The War Relocation Authority today announced that it had been informed by General Lathrop, director general of UNRRA, that in view of the changing situation and the reorganization of the agency's displaced persons work in Germany, it is now possible to reassign General Morgan from his duties in the organization.

Morgan's release came after Lathrop had challenged an unusual "high authority" charge. A press statement that Soviet Russia was using UNRRA to gather information in western Allied territory. BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THERE IS NO USE WALKING

hope for that which we see not,
then we wait with patience for it.
Romans 8:25

it sure can raise 'em.

in favor of a square deal for the

The U. S. State Department warns that the nation is facing an oil shortage in the next 20 years.
If new sources of supply are not discovered, the power politics that cause Britain to send troops into the Near East to protect British and American oil interests.
It is big business that seeks control of oil properties there. But 20 years from now, if rationing of gasoline is ordered in peace time, it will be Tom, Dick and Harry who will gripe about it.

The Tampa Tribune quotes some figures, not as a matter of pride, but for general information. During the month of July, it says, Floridians drank 381,881 gallons of whiskey, and a few odd hundred thousand gallons of wine and beer, and smoked in 31 days 24,435,000 packages of cigarettes, for the privilege of which they paid to the State a mere $2,688,770. Now if there had been no liquor drinking, no smoking, the people of Florida
might not have been so happy, but they would have been several million dollars better off.

Dr. Harold Urey, winner of the Nobel peace prize, says it may be necessary for the United States to wage a war of world conquest in order to prevent the use of the atomic bomb against itself. If it is impossible to establish peacefully a world organization which can control atomic energy and prevent wars in which atomic bombs will be used, there would seem to be no other way of avoiding atomic war—than a war of prevention in which the United States uses the bomb before others learn its secrets.
Yet, we feel quite sure this will not be done.

With all the big shot engineers, cattle and shipping interests in Florida, represented at a meeting in Sanford today, some real progress on the long proposed St.
Johns-Indian River Canal may soon be forthcoming. Proper flood control, as could be possible if this canal were dug, would open up thousands of fertile acres to cattle grazing, might make the Upper St. Johns the greatest cattle producing country east of the Mississippi River. And the number of yachts which would stop in Sanford en route to Miami via the St. Johns River would bring new life to this whole section.

"The world is surely going to the dogs," a friend of ours writes.
"Look at the rising in Calcutta, the trouble in Palestine, the massing of troops around the borders of Iran, the Paris Peace conference which should be called the 'Paris War Conference,' the political impotence in this country, the management-labor strife, the crime wave. Yes, the world is surely going to the dogs." But the world has always been going to the dogs. They had trouble in Palestine long before Christ was born. And ever since then there have been wars and rumors of war. But without the human race has managed to survive, and many fine children have been born in every generation to grow up into happy, useful, intelligent men and women.

Britain's Government

Today all signs indicate that the British Labor Government may not be re-elected, and may not even last out its full five-year term. So says B. C. Forbes, who is now in Europe investigating economic conditions.

He says it is generally admitted in England that it was the servicemen, both with their own votes and through their influence upon others, who defeated the Churchill government, and many people feel that economic recovery will be long-drawn-out, if not impossible, under the present regime. Much discontent is felt over widespread unemployment, lack of housing and the high income tax. This amounts to 50 per cent on all but the poorest wages, and goes against the grain with British working people. Many of them work only three or four days a week, to avoid the tax.

One cause of high government expense is the subsidy system, under which huge bonuses are paid to farmers for raising potatoes. These subsidies result in low food prices, to which the government points with pride. But even the less thoughtful among the people are beginning to realize that this sort of thing goes around in a circle, and in the end the cost comes out of their pockets.

While business men and industrialists are trying to make the best of things, a good many of them seem to feel that conditions are likely to grow worse for two or three years, and that by the end of that time there may be a change in government.

College Housing

Unless some miracle of construction occurs between now and the opening of college terms in September, a good many veterans will not be attending classes for lack of a roof. So far only 11,000 of the 103,000 temporary housing units authorized for student veterans by the government have been completed. Another 18,000 may be finished this month, and the same number in September, but the most optimistic total is far from the number of homes needed.

This type of housing, according to the Federal Public Housing Authority, consists of war housing projects or barracks which are moved to college campuses. The college is to take care of the preliminary work of having plumbing, electricity and telephone lines installed. In many cases the college has been slow in achieving these preparations, because of the usual material and labor shortages.

Besides these units provided by the government are all sorts of homes for veterans devised by desperate college officials who have combed the countryside. But the situation is so strained, ex-GI's bound for study had better make doubly sure of a place to live before they disrupt their families and start for the campus.

Ancient Autos

The little flock of ancient automobiles from New York City taking part in the Glidden Tour is making one concession to life in 1946. Included with the collection of museum pieces taking to the road is one modern car, a 1942 Ford to be driven by Mrs. Ivy Finn.

The New York contingent is joining other participants in a junket to Buffalo, Detroit and Cleveland. The expedition, sponsored by the Veteran Motor Club of America, is a revival of the old Glidden Tours last held 33 years ago.

Mrs. Finn will act as shepherd to 15 more venerable vehicles and their drivers. As tour treasurer and chief marshal she will see that no one falls behind the 20-mile minimum speed set for the trip, she will dash ahead to warn city policemen of the procession about to wind into their midst, and, perchance, it will be her duty to call a tow car, if needed.

As a simple precaution, Mrs. Finn will carry with her a tire pump, two hydraulic jacks and a fire extinguisher. How embarrassing it would be if, perchance, a Stanley Steamer should have to tow the 1942 model to a garage.

U. S. Hopes to Speed Exit of Foreign Agents
Of Foreign Purchase Missions | Irksome to State Department

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Look for further United States moves to hasten the removal of the war-time foreign purchasing missions which still are operating.

The operating reason given is that the space is needed for other purposes, with housing shortages cropping up in all centers where the missions are located, and the recognized United States policy of returning trade to private channels as rapidly as possible.

The first contention certainly is valid in Washington, where both British and Russians have used valuable downtown apartment houses for war-time offices.

It is also true of many office buildings, for stillbulging Washington is so pressed for office space that some law firms are buying ancient mansions and restoring them for use as offices.

Beyond all this, the state department is anxious not to have too many foreign agents roaming at large through the country and the task of maintaining close watch on their operations would place too heavy a load on government agents.

Not all countries are suspected of using commercial agents for intelligence purposes, but to put pressure on those who are suspected probably would be protested as discrimination.

Incidentally, it is now understood that Earl Browder, former United States Communist leader, will not have to register with the department of justice as the agent of a foreign principal. Browder's contract to promote the sale of Russian literature in the United States is regarded as a strictly commercial transaction.

THE VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION thinks an incipient scandal which would have boiled over into a congressional investigation has been stifled both by VA Chief Gen. Omar N. Bradley and some timely legislation.

Bradley gave undercurrent reports front page prominence when he revealed that all was not well in the veterans' job-training program.

He nipped the scandal before any VA detractors could get started,
and even recommended that something be done before the training program bogged down too deeply.

VA believes that Congress, in approving two measures, will help to remedy the situation. VA would be permitted to compensate state and local agencies for their expenses under the program.

In addition, Congress set up ceilings of $175 a month for single men and $200 for married men for the job-training period. This would weed out such cases as a company president's son who is "training" to succeed his father.

SENATOR JOSEPH C. MAHONEY (R) of Wyoming, who pulled no punches when he headed the monopoly study a decade ago, will be chairman of the new joint congressional committee on economic policy. Already he has made it clear that the group will be a real force in this direction.

Others on the committee include Senators Robert Taft (R) of Ohio and Robert La Follette (R) of Wisconsin.

SAFE WATER SUPPLY AND SEWAGE SYSTEM
IMPORTANT ON FARM

Safe and sound water supplies and modern, efficient sewage disposal systems may be found on a large number of Florida farms, but these safeguards of good health are lacking on some farms.

It is to those farm families who are not certain of the safety of their water supplies and who do not have facilities for sanitary disposal of sewage that this message is particularly addressed.

Health authorities say that an unprotected surface well which is open to surface inflow is risky as a source of drinking water, as disease-producing bacteria may be introduced by the millions by surface seepage into
it. A well that may become contaminated in this way is a very dangerous menace to all who drink from it.

As water is the primary necessity, it would seem that the farmer's first concern would be his water supply. If moving on to a place, he must provide for water first—before he plants, before he does anything in the way of crop production, he must have water. It should be safe water—water that will not make him and his family sick. Yet, some farmers have not been as concerned about their water supplies as they should be and will drink from a well that might be far below the minimum standards of purity for good health.

A protective wall and a cover for the top are needed to protect the well from contamination, and regular testing by competent health workers is important to insure the family's health against disease. The State Board of Health laboratories will make such tests free and county or state health workers will be glad to make suggestions for protecting the water supply.

Marked progress has been made against hookworm in Florida, but much more remains to be done before this disease is eliminated from our state. Sanitary sewage disposal is the most powerful weapon we have against it.

Farmers who do not have safe water supplies and sanitary sewage will do well to obtain these health safeguards as soon as they can. A large number of farmers are installing or planning to install modern safe water and sewage systems for their homes; others will not be making a mistake by doing likewise.

Copts May Break With Egypt Primate

CAIRO, (AP)—Leaders of Ethiopia's 4,500,000 Coptic Christians are threatening to sever their affiliation with Egypt's Patriarch of Alexandria in a dispute over appointment of bishops.

The Patriarch agreed to appoint an Ethiopian as the next Metropolitan of Ethiopia and also to consecrate six more Ethiopian bishops.

But the Ethiopians want their next Metropolitan to have the power to appoint and consecrate his own Ethiopian bishops. To this the Patriarch would not agree.

Polish Population Tops 23 Million

WARSAW, (AP)—A new census shows Poland to have a population of 23,622,334. Lodz is the largest city, with 496,000 inhabitants. Warsaw has 476,000, Cracow 300,000 and Poznan 268,000.

Poland's pre-war population was 33,100,000.

Out of the total population, 16, 210,000 people are peasants, and 7,412,000 live in towns and cities.
A total of 5,012,000 now inhabit
Poland's new western territories.

UNBALANCED FEDERAL BUDGET

THIS CHART shows the state of the Federal budget since 1940. During the war, military expenditures increased tremendously each year as the United States pushed more and more men and equipment into the struggle. At the same time, non-military expenditures were kept at a fairly constant level. The end of the war brought a swift reduction in military expenditures and an upswing in non-military costs as agencies, such as the Veterans Administration, took over duties previously handled by the military. Although receipts grew larger, they never equalled expenditures. The figures used in the chart were taken from statistics which were supplied by the Federal Reserve Board. (International)

Electrifying News For Hayfever Victims

NEW YORK, (AP) — Hay fever victims, and people who suffer from a smoky, dusty atmosphere, may use a new device of the General Electric Co. to purify living rooms. Then the air passes between plates that have given a negative charge of electricity, and the result is that all electrified particles, such as pollen, are attracted to the plates. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Pickles Add Pep To Party Fare

By CHARLOTTE KUBAN. A sweet Pickle Salad. Pickles can add pizzazz to any picnic or buffet supper spread. If the variety of your food is limited by current shortages, try some of these pickle recipes. It's to avoid monotony. Pickle Salad: In the Middle Ages, bread and cheese were the staple of the diet. Pickle salad is a variation on this theme. It's a simple, but delicious, and easy to make. Pickle Salad: Break up cream cheese with a fork. Form into balls. Roll in finely diced pickle or in pickle relish. Pickle Sandwiches: Spread pickles on a sweet pickle relish. Cover with another slice of bread to make a tiny sandwich. Man-of-the-Moon Eggs: Hard cook eggs. Remove shells and slice each egg in half. Remove yolks and mix with mayonnaise and pickle relish. Stuff whites and slice in wedges. Meat Sandwiches: Mix round steak with pickle relish. Place mixture on a slice of bread and roll up. Chill. Slice in half-inch lengths. Shrimp Specials: Cook and shell shrimp. Form into circles and fasten ends with small piece of a toothpick. Put an oblong piece of dill pickle through the center. Stuffed Pickle: Hollow out the center of a dill pickle. Broil small cocktail wieners. Stuff the pickles with the sausages. Slice. Take a large white cabbage and slice the top off. Make a hollow, leaving a ridge through the middle, so that you can put a different kind of "dunking sauce" in each side—as though they were dishes. Now you stick your stuffed pickle snacks into the cabbage sides by means of toothpicks. Your guests will want coolers. Make in go with these snacks. Try this! Pineapple-Lime Punch: 1 cup currant jelly 1 cup boiling water 1 cup pineapple juice 1/2 cup orange juice

Wyoming Town Has Rational Rationing

WORLDLAND, Wyo. (AP) — Worldland, don't claim their information rationing system would work everywhere but do report that so far it has resulted in relative plenty here. Bureaucratic bookers, personally acquainted with almost all their customers, limit sales in accordance with the size of the patron's family and the distance he may live from the farming town of 2,000 population. So far, the customers have accepted the restrictions cheerfully and the merchants claim there has been no hoarding or wasteful overbuying and nobody has been forced to go without bread or meat.

Don't Fondle Fawns Mother Knows Best

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — "Please don't" is the Wyoming Game Department's plea to travelers who see apparently lost little deer and fawns. In almost all cases the deer will return and claim their young, provided the fawns haven't been handled by humans. Because Game Warden Dick Adams explained, these animals are shy and easily startled. They aren't lost at all but have been left temporarily by their mothers with a "stay put" sign. In almost all cases the deer will return and claim their young, provided the fawns haven't been handled by humans.

Crowd Of 50,000 To 75,000 Expected To See Miami Seahawks Play Cleveland

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 16, (Special)—The eighth and final organization meeting of the All-America Football Conference will be held in Chicago next Tuesday and Wednesday. One of the most significant features of the organization has been moved from the Blackstone hotel to the Stevens hotel, Commissioner James D. Crowley said today.

The new major professional football loop will open play the night of September 7 when the Miami Seahawks at Cleveland. A crowd of between 50,000 and 75,000 is expected, far beyond the expectations of the group which met at St. Louis, June 1, 1944, for the first meeting of the new loop. Crowley said.

CAN YOU PUT THIS PUZZLE TOGETHER?

It forms the first letter of a Big Bargain for your Business

Here's a fascinating little puzzle. When properly assembled it forms the letter T—for telephone.

More telephones—more business for you. Not only in value and usefulness, but in cost, the telephone stands out as a real bargain. Consider that your telephone rate is no more today than it was years ago. This record, this genuine achievement, is becoming more and more difficult to maintain. That's because the trend of rising costs confronting all businesses is increasing the cost of everything going into the furnishing of telephone service to you.

SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY, INCORPORATED

Now there's an instrument of progress which has grown so in value that the only puzzling thing about the telephone is how business ever managed to get along without it. Today there are twice as many telephones as there were 20 years ago—five times as many as there were 30 years ago! As telephone service has grown, so has your own business.

City Garbage Now Is Going Underground

CHICAGO, (AP)—Several cities, saving money by adoption of a method used in Army camps, now get rid of their garbage in sanitary landfills, says the International City Managers' Association.

The association said burying refuse under a thick layer of fresh earth had proved faster, cheaper and more sanitary than burning the stuff in incinerators or feeding it to hogs.

In that way, Fort Worth, Texas, cut garbage disposal costs from $1.11 to 37.6 cents a ton and Columbus, Ga., on an experimental basis, from $1 to 40 cents a ton, the association reported. Tulsa, Okla., and Pensacola, Fla., also use landfills.

Sneed said that he was wined and dined by Fields after he (Sneed) made an inspection trip to Richmond, Va., with an associate of Fields. Flood Control Needs Are Told At Hearing

Damages To Cattle Industry By Flood Waters Totalled $537,589 In 1941

Heavy losses, amounting in 1941 to $537,589, were suffered by the cattle industry as a result of floods in the St. Johns River, W. J. (Funie) Steed of Orlando and Kissimmee told U. S. Engineers when he spoke at the hearing in regard to a St. Johns River (river) canal, held yesterday afternoon in the United States Engineers at the Mayfair Inn.

Mayor H. James Gut reported that according to his estimate, flood waters during the past 20 years had cost the City of Sanford in excess of $500,000.

More than 50 representatives of Chambers of Commerce, waterway improvement groups, communities, citrus and cattle interests, navigation and pleasure craft organizations from Jacksonville to Kissimmee and representing practically the entire St. Johns River Valley, presented briefs or gave talks, favoring the proposed canal from both the standpoint of navigation and flood control and stabilization.

Opposition to the project was voiced by Maxwell Wells, attorney for the Indian River Citrus League composed of growers, who cautioned that such a project should not be undertaken until full consideration be given from an engineering standpoint, upon its effect on citrus groves in the Indian River vicinity.

W. A. Leffler, sales manager of Chase and Company, also opposed the project.

U.S. Opposes Red Plan For Dardanelles

Formal Statement Issued By State Department After Talks With Britain

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—The United States formally has declared its outright opposition to Russian demands for a share in the military control of the Dardanelles. The note to Moscow bore the signature of Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson. It stated that it is the policy of the United States government that Turkey should continue to be primarily responsible for the defense of the straits which link the Black Sea to the Mediterranean.

The American communication also pointedly noted that the Russian proposal contained no reference to the United Nations—a clear-cut reminder that an international organization had been set up to handle all such security problems.

Acheson made it clear that the United States would not lily stand by if Russia made an effort to put herself in a favored position in the straits. He further put forth the American government's view that the affairs of the Dardanelles at a matter of concern not only to the Black Sea powers, but to others, including the United States.

The note to Moscow, which was drafted after consultations with the British, was one of two for which the United States and Russia in a new post-war law. The other, was Washington's angry protest to Russia-dominated Yugoslavia over a Yugoslav attack on an unarmed American transport plane.

Typical Turkish cables expressed satisfaction with the American statement in Paris. British delegates at the peace conference said they were pleased with the stand taken by Washington. These sources indicated that Britain would continue to oppose the Russian demand for French delegates at the conference said that their position was similar to Britain's.

Albania Tells Conference Nation Will Never Consent To Changing Its Borders

Gen. McNarney Denies Army Has Opposed UNRRA

PARIS, Aug. 21 (AP)—General Joseph H. McNarney today denied UNRRA Director LaGuardia's making unfounded charges that American occupation forces have opposed UNRRA's aims.

The General's accusation against LaGuardia came as a surprise because the two men had done together last week before LaGuardia left for Warsaw. LaGuardia said afterward that from now on he would work hand in glove with the American and British occupation forces.

The American commander in Europe said in his surprise statement that a member of the UNRRA Council in Switzerland and LaGuardia had criticized UNRRA. McNarney declared that he intended to clarify the situation because of charges attacking the good faith of the Army which he said came from the UNRRA meeting.

In the same statement, McNarney also disclosed that a Russian agent has been known to operate under the cloak of the United States government in an effort to publish reports that UNRRA was being used as an umbrella covering widespread activity of Russian secret agents. This assertion was attributed to an unidentified British source.

McNarney said the former New York mayor incorrectly accused the Army of seeking aid efforts to aid displaced Poles with food rations. The General says that at the time food rations had been drastically reduced.

No comment from LaGuardia has come to date. He is scheduled to spend two days in Warsaw where he will consult with Polish authorities on the flight of Jews from Poland. Russia is next on his itinerary.

Bridges Says U. S. Should Not Refrain From Using Force Against Yugoslavia

PARIS, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Prime Minister of Albania, Enver Hoxha, today demanded that the delegates at the Paris Peace Conference should not refrain from using force against Yugoslavia as an equal. He attacked both Italy and Greece, with reference to imperialism and aggression. Hoxha asserted that his country never would consent to any changes in its borders, for, he said, those frontiers are sacred. Most of his remarks against Italy and Greece followed the nation's protest against the conference by the Russians and other slave states.

On the subject of Bulgaria, Hoxha said in a statement that the country should be treated as a free nation. He said that the country should be treated as a free nation. He said that the country should be treated as a free nation.

Football Equipment Displayed, Explained At Kiwanis Luncheon

Kiwanians today were given a first hand idea of the quantity and quality of equipment required for the playing season by each of the 26 Seminoles High School football players, when Coach F. L. Kettles, assisted by players, Willie Anderson, Gwynn Reel and Nellie Trapp dumped a huge load of playing equipment on the table in front of Kiwanis President J. W. Hall.

Coach Kettles then explained the use of each item, starting with leather helmets lined with sponge rubber and costing $12.50 each and when he had finished it was estimated that it took about $5 worth of equipment for each player. Before the war, this amount totaled about $60 per player.

Shortage In Polish Wheat Crop Looms

WARSAW, Aug. 21 (AP)—United Nations relief officials in Poland declare that Poland's probable harvest will be at least 400,000 tons short of requirements in bread grains to supply the country until the next crop.

In a report prepared for Director General Florillo LaGuardia, the UNRRA officials blame the shortage on lack of proper seed and fertilizer, and on crop damage by field mice and hailstorms. LaGuardia is expected to arrive in Warsaw today.

Dehn, a London lawyer who addressed the association. He suggested that the Red Cross might form part of the public service of the United Nations, just as it now forms virtually part of the public service of its own country.

Dehn also pointed out that the United Nations might grant the Red Cross permanent permission to carry on its work in combat. At present the Red Cross must get permission from the combatants.

Vanderbilt Mansion Soon To Be Razed To Make Room For Office Structure

By ALLEN FISHER AP Newfeatures

NEW YORK—A venerable brownstone mansion, its Victorian dignity now in sharp contrast to the crowded commercialism of busy Fifth Ave., will be razed soon to make room for a $4,000,000 office building. Thereby will end another chapter in the story of one of America's great family dynasties, the Vanderbilts.

Kings and presidents, the tycoons of a bygone era and the social arbiters of a day-long past once walked through the marble vestibule of the fabulous house at Fifth Ave. and Fifty-first St., now overshadowed by the towers of Rockefeller Center.

Built in the 1880's, it was opulently furnished by William H. Vanderbilt, son of stern-visaged Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, who pyramided a moneyed empire on railroads and real estate.

The house soon will be reduced to rubble and on its site will grow a 19-story building, to be built by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for occupancy by the Crowell-Collier Publishing Company and a bank.

And so will pass the last of seven imposing Vanderbilt mansions that once were on fashionable Fifth Ave.

Curious tourists even now stop and gaze at the $20,000,000 bronze doors which were copied from Ghiberti's in the Baptistery in Florence.

The mansion once contained $1,500,000 worth of art treasures.

No two rooms were alike. There was a Japanese parlor, a boudoir of ebony inlaid with ivory, a bath-room of silver and mahogany—but interiors and furnishings were auctioned off some years ago for $35,000.

Among the great visitors who once were entertained there were Winston Churchill, Theodore Roosevelt, Gen. John J. Pershing, Herbert Hoover, the king and queen of the Belgians and the present Duke of Windsor.

It was originally a twin-house. The northern house was demolished years ago and a department store stands there now. The late Brig. Gen. Cornelius Vanderbilt sold the remaining portion in 1940 to the English branch of the family and the site is being leased from the William Waldorf Astor Estate.

The place reputedly cost William Vanderbilt $4,000,000. A brilliant reception for 2,000 guests was given in the Mauve Decade—and the sledgehammers and bulldozers of a wrecking crew will erase it from the Manhattan scene before this year ends.

Commodity Marts Slow In Reacting To Decontrol Board's Decisions

By Associated Press

Commodity markets are reacting slowly today in reacting to the government's decontrol board's decisions on meats, grains and dairy products. Under the orders of the three-man board, OPA ceiling tags will go back on meats with prices pegged at, or close to, June 30 levels. The date controls on meats were dropped.

Livestock and meat subsidies have been authorized again at the old rates to make the cost of beef pork and veal the subject of decision on lamb still is on the line. The decontrol board also slapped ceilings back on soybeans and cotton seed products which include salad and cooking oils. The board, however, decided to keep the lid off nearly all grains and all dairy products, although it warned that if prices on milk butter and cheese go any higher the ceilings will be stamped on again.

It still too early to tell exactly what effect these rulings will have on commodity markets. The first report on the Chicago market today had been opening along with few sales. Cattle and sheep were lower. Grain prices at Chicago were down and the market was slightly confused when it first opened. There was no trading in wheat or rye, although ceilings are off those products along with corn, oats and barley. These futures are all selling below former maximum.

Reaction from men in the meat industry was almost entirely unfavorable, with dire predictions from many about the black market.

One official, however, Jack Kranis, president of the National Meat Industry Council, said the board's decision was a courageous one. Yet all meat men agreed that the government will have to take strict enforcement measures to make the controls stick and still keep the black market at bay.

A labor spokesman—Ralph Helstein—president of the CIO Packing House Workers—described talk of a revived black market by saying—"It's strictly phoney. The black market never was large enough to make a noticeable dent on our resources of livestock. It was ballyhooed by the big packers to place the blame for artificial scarcity on little men who weren't there."

McKeever Says Army Is In For Beatings

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP)—Coach Ed McKeever of the Cornell University football team says that Army is in for a couple of beatings on the gridiron this fall.

McKeever, who is tutoring at the Oklahoma Coaches Association, has been quick to declare that his team isn't one to beat the Cadets. He added, "But Army won't be running and throwing at 17-year-old kids and I'll be this season. There are going to be men across the scrimmage line from Doc Blanchard and Glen Davis."

McKeever went on to say, "I don't believe any team in the country playing a major schedule this year will go through undefeated. This is a year you can lose every game you play if you're not careful."

359 Veterans To Be Removed From Subsistence Rolls

PASS-A-GRIFFLE, Aug. 21 (Special)—Of the 4,781 veterans in the Pass-A-Griille Veterans Administration Regional Office area who are taking on-the-job training under Public Law 340, only 359 will be removed from the subsistence rolls under provisions of the new law which restricts payments made to veterans taking on-the-job training or attending school, it was announced today by H. F. Dickensheets, manager of the Pass-A-Griille Regional Office.

An additional 2,968 will receive reductions in subsistence payments in varying amounts, which 1,454 will not be affected by the law, which also will not affect veterans taking training under Public Law 16.

Under the law, veterans with dependents taking on-the-job training cannot collect subsistence payments if their incomes exceed $200. Those without dependents cannot collect subsistence if their income exceeds $175. Veterans whose incomes are over $110, but less than the maximum, will collect subsistence sufficient to bring their incomes to the maximum of $175 or $200, whichever applies. Veterans whose incomes are $110 or less will receive full subsistence payments.

Veterans taking on-the-job training will continue to receive their checks on schedule, but those who are liable for reduction or loss of subsistence allowances have been warned that they will be expected to refund overpayments "within a reasonable period of time."

Negro Physicians Sign Petition To Unseat Sen. Bilbo

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 21 (AP)—Several hundred doctors attending the National Negro Medical Association Convention in Louisville have signed petitions to unseat Senator Theodore Bilbo of Mississippi.

The petition criticizes Bilbo's recent radio broadcast in which he called for Mississippians to resort to any means to keep negroes from voting in primary elections.

Other petitions signed by the negro doctors call for the outlawing of the Ku Klux Klan and the passage of a federal anti-lynching law.

One petition asks that federal troops be sent to Georgia and Mississippi to guarantee peace. The director of the National Negro Council—Edgar G. Brown—says that use of federal troops would cause another civil war, but he declared that a civil war is coming anyway, and that sending troops to Georgia and Mississippi would simply make it official.

Mr. Rivers has reported that progress is being made with the application but that the Federal Communication Commission in Washington has so many applications on file that it may be a month or two before a decision is reached.
