GOING HOME

You've heard of heredity and environment. You know that the latter usually exercises the stronger influence upon the development of a child.

Then you are face to face with the dilemma of the Church.

The Church can give to every child who comes within its influence the heritage of the Christian faith. It can teach him the truth about God; it can show him the Christian way of life.

But what happens when a child goes home? Will the lesson "stay learned?" Or will it be destroyed by language, attitude and example contrary to all the Church has taught?

It isn't enough to send your child to church school. Become a church-going family! Let Christian truth mold the life of your home and it will mold the life of your child.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Citizens Should Respond To Efforts Of Board On Fire Protection Problem

One of the biggest problems to face the City of Sanford is that of fire protection to both the City, to which it is obligated through taxation to furnish, and morally to those outside of the City limits when calls are received that fire protection is needed.

At the most, equipment of the Sanford Fire Department can serve only the City in which it is located. Because of the geographical location of Sanford, relative to other sections of the county in which the City is located, access to other sections is limited due to distance.

However, in cooperation with volunteer fire departments throughout the county and with the citizens of Seminole County, the Board of Sanford City Commissioners is attempting to reach a basis on which protection can be furnished residents outside of the corporate limits.

A survey has been made by City Officials of other cities who face similar problems. It revealed that 70 percent of the communities answering questionnaires sent to them do not furnish service outside of their corporate limits or are reimbursed for them.

Again, the survey found that 74 percent of the communities do go beyond the city limits.

The method most frequently used to assure collection for fire protection outside of the city limits is by means of insurance riders.

Of the communities listing, on the questionnaires, numerical limits of their fire protection service outside of the city limits, the average distance is 5.6 miles.

The survey found that the fees charged vary, with few being alike or even on the same basis. And most of the fees have not been revised to cope with present day costs of operation.

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners feel that reasons from citizens outside of the corporate limits of the City of Sanford could help them in solving the problem with which they are faced.

Recommendations placed before the commissioners suggested that a limit of 7 miles be placed on alarms answered by the Sanford Fire Department. This limit, according to the marked zone on a Seminole County map, would reach the important areas of the county now without some fire protection.

and especially would the zone reach the heavily populated areas.

The recommendations suggested that fire protection service be discontinued immediately to all areas beyond the areas shown on the proposed fire zone map.

Those homeowners and citizens living within the proposed zone, wishing to receive fire service, would have until July 1, 1956 to register for the service and pay the fee required. During the interim, the fire service would continue to be furnished free of charge within the specific areas.

The recommendations to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners included the requirement that those wishing the service should apply in writing on forms furnished by the City of Sanford which would be an agreement that the first commitment of the Sanford Fire Department would be to the City of Sanford and that at least two pieces of fire fighting equipment and necessary personnel would remain inside the City at all times.

The Seminole County Tax Assessor's certified statement as to the assessed value of real estate would be accepted.

And, it is proposed, that a certificate of insurance for $100 to the City of Sanford for fire calls or a cash deposit of the same amount whichever the applicant desires, be furnished.

An additional proposal would be the payment, at the time of application of a fee equal to $1.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation of real estate for Zone A with each succeeding zone at the rate of an additional 50c over the preceding zone. This would be a fee paid annually prior to July 1 of each year.

There are five zones indicated on the proposed fire zone map.

In order that fire protection be furnished homeowners and property owners outside of the City of Sanford on a fair and equitable basis, citizens should respond to the efforts of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners in their attempt to solve a trying and acute problem.

We are sure that the commissioners would like to hear from those who are affected in the various zones set up in Seminole County.

April 15

Although there are more pleasant things to talk and write about it might be a good idea to bear in mind the date April 15. If you have not already done so, you must file your income tax return by that date. Now that you've been properly irritated we may as well continue talking about taxes for a bit.

They're annoying and painful. Nothing you can say can change that. It would be very pleasant indeed to keep more of what we earn. And it is distressing to reflect that not all of our tax money is always spent wisely. Yet we cannot afford to take the attitude that taxes are "taken" from us.

The fact is that we get a lot for our money. The dollars that go to run government are the dollars that go to run our lives. Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, the price we pay for civilization.

Car manufacturers are emphasizing the safety features of their cars. But there still hasn't been a safety device patented that can prevent accidents as well as a careful, considerate driver.

This entitlement?
A. Yes. Even though you may have unused entitlement, the law provides that you may not train beyond the termination date of July 25, 1956.

Q. I am drawing a VA pension. I have recently received a small inheritance of several shares of stock. Must I include these shares as income, for pension purposes?
A. Your shares of stock need not be considered as income until they are converted into cash. Dividends you receive from the stocks, however, are considered as income.

Q. I applied for disability compensation from VA and my claim was disallowed. I've been told I have one year to appeal, if I wish to do so. Are there any circumstances under which that one-year limit could be extended?
A. No. The law allows veterans only one year to appeal VA decisions.

Q. I am a disabled Korean veteran, eligible for permanent plans of Korean GI insurance. Will I be able to wish further information get dividends from this permanent insurance?
A. No. Under the law, dividends may not be paid on Korean GI insurance, regardless of whether it's term or permanent.

Veterans living in Central Florida who wish further information about their benefits should write the VA office at 48 E. Central Ave. Orlando.

President's Power Often Forgotten

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Most of the 155 to 170 million Americans do not quite realize that one man among them can by one word plunge them all into war.

The word is "Attack!" The one man who can lawfully say the word is the President of the United States.

The power of the president as commander in chief of the nation's armed forces is sometimes forgotten or overlooked by the voters who elect a president.

The U. S. Senate may have to approve a foreign treaty to make it legal, and only Congress can declare war. But it is the president who can order at any time when the Navy, the Army or the Air Force should go into action—naturally on an emergency basis. This means you can have a war before it's voted.

All big wars usually start from military pimple. There is a border. Each side complains the other violates the border. There is a period of mutual blame and mutual hollers of innocence. It's the other fellow who is wrong.

Finally one of the fellows crosses the border in real power—and doesn't stop. The reaction has to come, at once, or later, when he is stretched out and more vulnerable. But he has lit a small match and set a big world on fire, and in time the flames at great cost will consume him, his empire and his dreams. Sometimes even his relatives.

This is the history of war. No man in history could be more aware of the effect of a military decision than a former artillery captain called Harry Truman tary decision in the long story of the human race.

In the year 1945 by his orders an atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima on Aug. 6 and—by a quick of fate and weather—another was dropped over Nagasaki on Aug. 9.

The immortal statistics remain. Without the shedding of one more drop of American blood a stunned Japan, then an enemy, ceased fighting.

No other man since the morning of time had shouldered the responsibility of creating so many deaths in two crisp days.

As architect of the first entrance of American arms into Korea, Truman first won U. S. and then half the world's applause. But, though Congress quickly backed him up, it was he alone who said when the first planes should fly.

The other night, in addressing the Overseas Press Club here Truman made an interesting off the cuff addition to his prepared text.

"Only the President of the United States," he said, "can give us the facts about foreign policy because the President of the United States makes the foreign policy and no one else does."

While such a remark has current political overtones, of course, and reflects perhaps what his critics often say is a tendency by

Dulles Seldom Pays Truman Tribute

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—If Secretary of State Dulles, in talking about the "Russian" switch to a softer line, sometimes sounds as if he had just been reading George Kennan, it is an oblique tribute to former President Truman.

Dulles seldom pays any direct tribute to Truman. He almost never mentions him. But he says the Russians have been forced to change their tactics by the U.S. policy of foreign aid and military alliances.

This policy was laid down by Truman. It is largely followed by the Eisenhower administration. This is flattering to Truman, as he acknowledged this week, and it might seem enough to make him content.

But it doesn't. What he prefers, he said, is for the Eisenhower administration to come up with some new program to meet changing conditions because the times call for it.

Kennan was the State Department's top expert on Russia and director of its policy planning staff when the cold war was starting in 1947. That was the year Truman began the foreign aid program which President Eisenhower continues.

Kennan has been credited with thinking up the idea which became U.S. policy. It's been called "containment." The idea was simple enough: stop Russian expansion by building a ring of military alliances around the Soviets. Eisenhower and Dulles have continued and increased the military alliances begun by Truman.

Writing in the magazine Foreign Affairs in 1947, Kennan stated the policy:

"The main element of any United States policy toward the

Women's Army Recruiting Officer In Orlando Monday

Lieutenant Alpha R. Styles, Women's Army Corps Recruiting Officer for this area is scheduled to visit Orlando Monday April 9. She will be at the recruiting office at 42 East Central Ave., the local recruiter reported.

A veteran of eight years WAC service, Lieutenant Styles, received her commission after completing the WAC officer candidate course in 1952. Prior to that she was a WAC Recruiting Sergeant at the Los Angeles, California, Recruiting Station.

The Women's Army Corps offers today's modern woman the opportunity to train for the highly specialized careers that are now open to women, both in civilian and military life. Never before in the history of the Armed Forces have so many responsible and exacting duties been assigned women. Through experience, it has been found by the Regular Army that certain jobs can be performed better by females — jobs that require agility and feminine foresight.

The Army was the first service to realize the capabilities of women in service, and through the past years has trained and utilized them to such a degree that they have now become indispensable. With the expansion of the Army there has come an increasing need for more skilled women. To meet this need the Army has established a training program that actually allows the new WAC to choose the course of training she desires. Not only does she choose her course but she receives a written guarantee of assignment to the school before she enlists.

In addition to the "Reserved For You" school program, WAC's are offered many job opportunities that include assignment to the unique Women's Army Corps band and to exciting fields such as photography, intelligence, communications and all phases of medical and dental work. Travel, a not to be overlooked advantage of military service, is available to WAC's all around the world, wherever our troops are serving, in Japan, Germany, Italy, Japan, Panama Canal Zone and Hawaii.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

TOURISTS JUST BACK from Mexico rave about the sights and hospitality there but often complain about the ailments they suffered en route. Author Joel Sayre (remember his hilarious football satire, "Rackety Rax?") has a tale to tell about his first foray south of the border. "I never bothered with a single inoculation or vaccination beforehand," he maintains. "Nor did I pay the slightest attention to all that folderol about peeling all vegetables and fruits and drinking only boiled water. And what was the result? Man, oh man, was I sick!"

Canny Kalamazoo merchant has his window full of saxophones and pistols. He explains, "One day a customer buys a saxophone. Next day two of his neighbors buy pistols."

Daring Scheme To Make Heart Operation Easier

By HERMAN H. SUNDSTEIN, M.D.

CARDIAC surgeons are constantly seeking better ways of performing heart operations. For example, a team of British doctors has come up with the idea of stopping the heart—deliberately—to permit safer and easier surgery. And American doctors have developed a variety of ingenious procedures which permit operations under direct vision inside the heart!

However, none has come into regular use.

Circulatory System
There's a danger of introducing air into the circulatory system through the bloodless but still beating heart. And with some other techniques there is a danger of the heart stopping.

One of the most frequent causes of cardiac arrest is ventricular fibrillation, a disorganized beating of the heart. While this can occur during a variety of operations, it is most likely to happen in hypothermia, an artificial lowering of the body temperature to aid in surgery.

Dr. D. G. Malrose and colleagues at the Post Graduate Medical School of London and Charing Cross Hospital Medical School hope to eliminate this danger by halting the heartbeat.

If their plan is feasible, this daring scheme would give the doctor a heart that remains bloodless, open and quiet throughout the operation.

Using potassium citrate to stop the heartbeat, the British surgeons have performed experiments on dogs and with isolated heart preparations from dogs, cats, rabbits and guinea pigs.

For best results in restarting the heart, they used fresh potassium citrate-free blood. An electric shock was needed to renew the heartbeat in only one instance.

While the heart was stopped, the brain and other vital centers were protected by blood circulated by a heart-lung machine. Even after the heart had been stopped as long as 45 minutes, the doctors report good recoveries.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Mr. R. A.: Can a man get a trichomonas infection?
Answer: Yes, very definitely. In fact, it has been reported quite frequently in man. Usually the infection is transmitted from the female.

A BUSY SCENE: Shown above are several of the women who are taking the modeling course started recently in Sanford. The school is a branch of the Winter Park Modeling and Finishing School and dwells on three things: POISE, POSTURE and PERSONALITY. Weight and measurements are carefully recorded to show progress. (Photo by Jameson)

Word 'Model' May Suggest More Than Fashion Shows Or Glamor

BY SANDRA BERG
Herald Society Editor

A model is a model is a model is a model. . . doesn't necessarily come under the same slogan as "a rose is a rose is a rose."

To gather the best of what I am saying I will reveal to you interested women, who would like to be a model whether it be a model housewife, a model mother or a model mother-in-law.

Tuesday night a modeling school is being held right here in Sanford for the "betterment of you and I."

The school is a branch of the Winter Park Modeling and Finishing School conducted by Mrs. Robert F. Fletcher and Mrs. Nell M. Michael. Mrs. Robert Stone, SNAAS officer's wife, who has had much previous experience in teaching classes. She also travels to Winter Park every Thursday night for a class there.

Two courses are given: one in eight weeks and the big one in 16 weeks. Such things would be learned as (1) posture which includes taking the measurements, correct walking, correct hand movements, etc. (2) posture (gait), this is the before and after kind which I guarantee will show results. (3) Fashion. How to remove a coat and put it on again. (4) Social graces (5) cosmetics under which come hair styles, and, of course, makeup instructions.

I could go on and on with the many things a person would profit by taking the course. I understand they even dwell on how to talk properly along with the care of garments.

A book of "things learned" is kept for each pupil and is given to her at the end of the course. In the pages will be found everything taught, plus a few extras. (Are you one of those persons who can leave a group quarrelously and be missed?) But you'll know at the end of the course.

As I watched the girls who are now taking the course, I perceived a few pointers, mostly. For example, did you know that most people have a tendency to lift their feet out when they walk?

Ladies should keep their feet pointed and walk on the balls of the feet, sort of a tip-toe across the room effect.

When going up stairs the step foot should be placed on the step.

The class will teach the average women (like you and me) three things: PERSONALITY, POISE, AND POSTURE. Since it is spring wouldn't it be fun to let your hair down and do your self over, interior and exterior?

I understand that your weight along with the measurements is taken each time and it is stressed that the exercises you have been instructed to do MUST be done EVERY day in order for progress to be made.

These enrolled now in the course are Mrs. H. A. Hall, rector (Self Improvement); Mrs. J. W. Holt, (Self Improvement); Mrs. J. M. Taylor, (Spring surprise and self improvement); and Mrs. P. H. Spetz, (Self Improvement and Poise).

If you are interested why not give Mrs. Stone a ring? A spring uplift will do us all good and the results will overwhelm even you.

Torch Blazes for Safety

By Jeanne Smith
Dodge Safety Consultant

OTHER CITIES can encourage safe driving by adopting a clever safety program similar to that initiated in Birmingham, Ala. There, Vulcan, mythical god of fire and metal, has assumed a new and important role.

The city's outstanding landmark, a statue symbol of the mighty Greek and Roman god, is now a symbol of safety to Birmingham's thousands of citizens and visitors. Looking down on the city from his lofty perch atop Red Mountain, Vulcan holds a neon torch which burns green if there has been no traffic fatality during the preceding 24 hours. A red torch signifies a fatal accident.

The iron statue, 85 feet high on a 120 foot pedestal, was originally constructed to symbolize Birmingham's principal industry, the production of steel and pig iron. Seen in size only to the Statue of Liberty, it is easily viewed everywhere in the city.

Community spirited citizens of a kindred interest in safety by lighting Vulcan's torch which glows day and night — a blazing reminder that safe driving is everyone's responsibility.

Safety programs, emphasizing Vulcan's role, are sponsored by local high schools, the police department and civic organizations. Newspapers, radio and television encourage and support these activities.

"The torch is only one phase of a continuous safety program in our city," says Paul Moon, chairman of traffic safety. A parade of boats, staged annually by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and high school students, depicts causes and results of careless motoring. Safety-conscious civic groups campaign for reduction of speed limits, increased legislation against reckless and careless drivers, and for a crackdown on unsafe and improperly lighted vehicles.

Vulcan's gleaming torch, and its supporting safety projects, have focused international attention on Birmingham. A national award "for conspicuous achievement in traffic accident prevention in cities over 100,000 population" was bestowed on this important industrial center when it turned the duty of fire into a symbol of safety.

Williams' Lumber Yard Ablaze Early Today

The Bob Williams Lumber Yard and sawmill near Oviedo was on fire this morning shortly after 1 o'clock.

The Sanford Fire Department answered the alarm and was at the scene to aid in the control of the blaze.

De Bary Takes Look At Proposed New Route Across Lake

Picture an azure lake spanned by a gracefully curving causeway, from the city of Sanford, its lights twinkling in the distance, to the town of Enterprise where the power plant's huge tower flames a beacon light throughout the night. This conception of the proposed new route-way is beautifully envisioned by the artist who did the attractive cover for U. S. Steel's annual report, just issued.

Discussions engendered by the timely art work include pros and cons of where this engineer's dream would land the people of De Bary. Some fear that if it becomes a reality it might injure business in our town. Rebuttal asks who shops in De Bary and the answer is, the residents. So the arguments proceed to explain that if trucks and through traffic of tourists rushing to reach their destination should be shunted away from our town it would make the center of De Bary and its hoped for new business block a safer place for Senior citizens to enjoy shopping.

As it now stands, trailer trucks and vacationers' cars whizzing madly through our village pose many traffic snarls and problems for those who could otherwise shop in safety and peace. Then, too, some fear that the present highway would be neglected in favor of the new route, but the Long Range planning committee says that would not be so; the present highway would be properly maintained, with less wear and tear it would offer a better road surface. Also, since De Bary Drive and High Banks road both would connect with this route, it would bring Sanford 4.1 miles nearer for the convenience of those who now drive often to Sanford.

Christian Church Choir Will Sing 'Gloria' Sunday

The choir of the First Christian Church will sing "Gloria" from Mozart's Twelfth Mass at morning worship Sunday. It is reported to be a difficult and beautiful piece of music. Jay M. Walter is the choir director and Mrs. N. V. Farmer is the organist. As a prelude the organist will play "Hymn of Peace" (Nolte).

In keeping with the theme "Christ in Gethsemane" at the evening worship Mrs. James L. Anderson and Mrs. J. C. Dietz will sing "Ninth the Old Olive Trees" (McKinney).

"The necessity of putting chairs in the aisle Sunday was thrilling," said Pastor Perry L. Stone today. "But that true strength of the church is shown by the attendance on the Sunday after Easter."

Groundbreaking Plans Complete

3rd Demo Rally Is Set In Lake Mary Tomorrow Night

The third in the series of Democratic Rallies to be held in Seminole County will be in Lake Mary tomorrow night at the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce.

Slated to speak are the 32 candidates for public office which include the four candidates for House of Representatives and the two candidates for the State Senate.

It is expected that a large turnout will greet the office seekers at tomorrow night's Rally which will begin at 8 o'clock.

Speakers are limited to five minutes. Tension is mounting in all of the races and platforms are being placed before the people for consideration.

James Lee, chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee is slated to introduce each of the candidates.

Deeply Rutted Road May Prove Hazard To Drivers, Buses

A deeply rutted road in Seminole County could prove to be a hazard to automobile drivers and school buses.

With as many as 12 deep, sandy holes along the edge of the road and extending in one place as far as eight feet into the clay road itself, motorists are forced to dodge the sand and deep ruts to safely negotiate the 1.5 miles just outside of Casselberry.

There are 17 homes and 19 home trailers located on the road that extends from the main artery known as Seminole Boulevard.

A school bus driver who must travel the road twice each day said recently, "It is in terrible condition. The worst road I have to travel." She said, "I've already signed a petition to have it paved."

The bus driver admitted that she must carry as many as 50 school children as passengers over the "washboard" road as she picks them up in the morning on the way to school and returns them in the afternoon. "I have to travel at least 35 to 40 miles an hour to keep from tearing the bus to pieces. Why, I've lost my signal lights three times because of the condition," she said.

One hole, measured, was on a sharp curve with poor visibility. The deep rut and sand was eight feet wide, 25 feet long, and left a clearance for two cars of only 18 feet.

Residents along the sand-shouldered, rutted road, and "washboard" road have appealed to the Seminole County Board of Commissioners to do something about the road, which in their words, "is the most dangerous piece of road in the county."

However, Commissioner B. C. Doid, at the last meeting of the Board of Commissioners, said "It is as good as any road in my district."

The ceremonies will take place tomorrow morning at 11:30 with Mrs. Mario Pansa, granddaughter of General Henry Shelton Sanford turning the first spade of dirt.

Everyone in Sanford is invited to attend the important ceremony.

Fund Is Started For Steve Peters

A fund has been started for Steve Peters whose home was recently destroyed by fire.

The fund has now reached $394 and is on deposit at the Florida State Bank where contributions may be taken or mailed.

Peters has lost his home by fire twice and the last fire destroyed his home, furnishings and all clothing for himself, his wife, and ten children.

The fire, starting in the lower floor of his block constructed home last Thursday night shortly after 10 o'clock was out of control when the Sanford Fire Department reached the scene.

Big Crowd Attends First Federal Open House Friday Night

Scores of visitors streamed through the office of the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. Friday night at the thrift organization observed the 125th anniversary of the founding of the industry in the United States and that now has assets of over $40 billion.

Mrs. C. L. Powell and Miss Barbara Flynn demonstrated some of the modern equipment that is used for fast accurate service and the photographing, for storage purposes of essential records.

With Mrs. B. E. Chapman, association secretary-treasurer presiding, refreshments were served and Mrs. J. S. Ekern welcomed the visitors to the directors' room that also is available, she said, for five-club committee meetings that might be scheduled during the day.

There were favors for the adults and balloons for the youngsters as they stroll through the flower-bedecked office.

Howard Evans, president, and George Touhy, executive vice president assisted in welcoming the guests.

Mayor F. D. Scott complimented the firm and said that the city was fortunate to count among its progressive businesses one that assisted in the purchase and construction of homes that were so essential in the growth of the city and wished for the association continuing progress in the years ahead.

Manager Forrest Breckenridge of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce extended the greetings of the trade body and expressed the hope that "helping hand given" might be expanded in the future.

Roy Mann, 317 North Atlantic National Bank, and Willis Peacock, cashier, First State Bank, extended the congratulations of their organizations.

The first loan transaction was made in April of 1831 in Philadelphia, and the house financed then $375 is now a shrine. Nationally there are presently in excess of 5,000 such loan associations that are celebrating during this year as did the local First Federal.

Housholder Is Speaker At Shrine Dedication

The Sanford Shrine Club Building was officially opened and dedicated Friday night at a gigantic ladies night affair with over 250 Nobles and their ladies, along with guests and visitors, attending.

Harold Kestner, president of the local Shrine club, in opening the ceremonies told the audience, "This does not represent my work, it represents the work of the club."

Mayor F. D. Scott, welcoming the visitors and speaking at the dedication ceremony said "You people here tonight are rewarding me for my service to the City. Our City is progressing, it is an honor to have a part in dedicating this building."

Illustrious Potentate A. J. Thomas, with his Divan in Sanford for the event, pointed to the progress of both the Sanford Shrine Club and the Bahia Temple. "This is Shrine in action," he said, "and it takes this for growth. To help somebody is what we are living for."

Principal speaker for the dedication was Seminole County Judge Ernest Housholder.

"Today, we are enjoying the many things of prosperity for people with a faithful hope," he said. "As I dedicate this building I could mention the names of many who have sacrificed much when I think of this building and what it means. ### Head-On Collision Yesterday Morning Puts 2 In Hospital

A two-car head-on collision approximately one mile south of Sanford on 17-92 early Sunday morning resulted in the total loss of the two automobiles and the hospitalization of the driver and passenger of one car.

The accident involved a 1954 Hudson, owned by Christine H. Burnett, 620 Park Lake Ave., Orlando, driven by Warren Leland Fulton, 37-year-old Orlando Air Force Base man, whose address was given as Higgins Terrace, Apt. 15, Sanford, Fulton said he operated a body repair shop at 2018 French Ave. here.

Also in the collision was a 1950 Chevrolet owned by Helen Smith and driven by Reginald Durward Irvin, of Rt. 1, Box 107, Maitland.

The Hudson was traveling north, the Chevrolet south.

According to an investigation conducted by Florida Highway Patrolman Carl Williams at the scene, the car driven by Fulton was traveling on the "wrong side of the road."

The smashup occurred yesterday morning shortly before 6 o'clock. The woman, Helen Smith, is reported to be suffering from a possible skull fracture and a fractured right knee. Irvin is said to have possible chest and internal injuries.

Fulton was taken to the Seminole County Jail where he was charged with "driving on the wrong side of the road."

Assistant Patrolman Williams in his investigation was aided by Sheriff's Deputies and Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway.

Local Church Has Successful Drive

The Christian and Missionary Alliance Church has had remarkable success in a campaign to sell $15,000 in Church Building Bonds. The sale was concentrated in a drive beginning last Monday night.

Tommy Stringer, the general chairman for the sale reports that in only four days the entire amount of the issue was subscribed.

The proceeds from the bond sale will be used immediately in the church building program. Furniture for the sanctuary will probably be the first expenditure. Within the next week or two, bids will be received for the work on the south wing of the building which will be used for Sunday School facilities.

The debt incurred through the sale of the bonds will be repaid through the Florida State Bank. The church will deposit in a special sinking fund account $30 each week. Over a 14 year period this will pay all the interest semi-annually and liquidate the bonds as they mature.

Pay Lee and Manning Harriott were the leaders in sales. Two spectacular sales on Friday put the drive over the top.

The largest single purchase was for $2,500 in $500 bonds. The second highest was for $1,800. Most of the 70 bonds were sold separately to individuals who wanted to put their savings to work for the church while receiving five per cent interest on their investment.
